Bobby Kennedy Silent On Gubernatorial Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., remained silent today rather than assume the role of king maker — even after the man believed to have been his favorite — quit the race for the Democratic nomination to run against New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Eugene H. Nicholson, executive of Nassau County on Long Island, withdrew Monday night saying "It is now apparent that I will not have the necessary delegate votes to win the nomination."

The withdrawal appeared to make Frank D. O'Connor, president of the New York City Council, aware of a front-runner nomination at the Democratic State Convention in Buffalo next month.

Nicholson had been considered the candidate likely to win Kennedy's backing if the senator decided to back anyone at all. But, with Kennedy silent, the failure of Nicholson's bid to win widespread support led to the withdrawal.

A spokesman for Kennedy said O'Connor would meet with the senator today or Wednesday. The spokesman said "Some people are saying we're trying to duck him. Well, it just ain't so." O'Connor made a telephone request last Thursday that Kennedy make public his thoughts on the nomination.

Most observers feel that only active opposition by Kennedy could now prevent O'Connor from winning the nomination to represent the Republican governor's bid for a third four-year term.

Pioneer 7 Set To Investigate 'Solar Winds'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Pioneer 7 is scheduled to be launched Wednesday into orbit around the sun to investigate "solar wind" radiation that sweeps through interplanetary space posing a potential threat to astronauts.

The 140-pound spacecraft is to be launched at 11:38 a.m. EDT by a Delta rocket. It is to cruise around the sun on a path between the earth and Mars, investigating a vast expanse of solar winds.

People In The News Luci and Pat NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Where did honeymooning Pat and Luci Johnson Nugent go Saturday night? Plenty of newsmen parked outside their swank Bahamas honeymoon villa tried to find out. But Nick Kelly, a reporter for the Nassau Tribune, found out. She was dining with a friend at the Emerald Beach Hotel when the media go-to asked her to accept an alternative table at two important and unexpected guests in the back of the hotel. The reporter accepted the other table, then looked around and saw the newsmen. She said the Nugents appeared the acrobatic limbo dancers chatted with American guests who stopped at their table — and eventually left by a back entrance to avoid newsmen who had gathered at the front of the hotel.

Chief Justice Warren DRIBOG, Idaho (AP) — U.S. Chief Justice Warren found out of his fishing clothes today on southeast Idaho's "Pole Fish." The chief justice and a group of friends arrived at a guest lodge on the western shore of the Grand Teton near Diggins Monday to try their luck at fly-fishing for trout. Lyle Kuz, owner of Almay's Lodge, where the party is staying, said Warren and his back were on the river shortly after arrival and were out until midnight. Kuz said Warren's party planned to stay in Idaho only briefly before continuing an ocean vacation in Montana.

Taves was battling a 46-pound, 86-inch marlin that jumped from the boat 24 times. After 25 minutes, the governor landed the fish. But Taves was visibly crestfallen Monday when he returned to the Ocean City dock and found out that one of his guests, Gov. Charles L. Terry of Delaware, had also landed a marlin. Terry's fish was bigger, 103 inches long and 170 pounds.

Victim of Sniper GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — day, Janet says she has been running around taking care of details for what she hopes will be a quiet, simple wedding in Dallas' First Unitarian church. Her mother has been searching most of her telephone calls but Janet says friends and relatives she hasn't heard from in years have called to see how she is. After their marriage, Janet and Abdul will live in Austin while she completes her year in history and he finishes writing his dissertation for a doctorate in organic chemistry. They plan to live eventually in Baghdad. Janet, 20, and Abdul Kasab, 26, of Baghdad, Iraq, postponed the wedding from Aug. 20 until Aug. 27, but they'll walk down the aisle without assistance and with no bandages showing. The couple was walking toward a snack shop on Austin's main street by the University of Texas Aug. 1 when they were knocked down by Charlie Whitman's bullets from the tower. Janet was hospitalized 10 days and her fiancé 11 days. Since her return home last Wednesday.

District Officers Oppose Moderate Rental Housing

Eight district directors voting on second last night in opposition to the North End redevelopment area. But they advocate housing for the elderly there.

Redevelopment area housing was proposed last month by the Manchester church representatives who indicated interest in forming a sponsor corporation for the housing.

Directors will send letters to Edward Rybeck, director of the Manchester Redevelopment Agency, and Atty. Arnold Klau, originator of the plan to build moderate rental housing in Manchester, informing them of the district's stand.

District president Victor E. Swanson, commenting on newspaper story concerning the church representatives' proposal, said it disturbed him that if the plan was approved, housing would be advertised in Hartford.

"I would prefer to have housing for the elderly in that area," Swanson said.

Director Clinton E. O'Brien agreed saying the redevelopment area is an "ideal spot for the elderly." He noted elderly residents could use nearby Robertson Park.

Interest in sponsoring moderate rental housing came at a meeting sponsored by the Manchester Interfaith Social Action Council (MISAC) last month during which William R. Hirschon, executive director of the Greater Hartford Housing Development Fund, outlined and explained steps which the church, as sponsoring agency would have to take.

Representatives from seven local churches were to have discussed the proposal with their church officials.

Swanson, commenting on newspaper story concerning the church representatives' proposal, said it disturbed him that if the plan was approved, housing would be advertised in Hartford.

"I would prefer to have housing for the elderly in that area," Swanson said.

Hydrogen Bomb Caught Navy Gets Payment For 'Fishing' Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has paid off the Navy for that splendid bit of fishing for a hydrogen bomb off Spain last April.

A Pentagon spokesman said today the settlement came in the amount of $2.4 million, which the Air Force paid the Navy by check.

"This may be a decent wage for hauling up a supervaluable hydrogen bomb from 2,500 feet deep in the Mediterranean Sea. It comes out to around $60,000 a day, considering that the nuclear device was missing for 80 days after it was dropped from a disintegrating B52.

The approved billing isn't a great deal more than the $6 million claim posted against the U.S. government by lawyers for Spanish fisherman Simo Orts, proclaimed as "the hero of the recovery" by U.S. Ambassador Angus Biddle Duke.

Orts was the parachute float on the bomb after the B52 and a KC135 tanker collided. He told authorities it went watery.

It remained for the Navy to haul it up after an extensive seabottom search.

By MIT service agreement, the Air Force was obliged to pay for the cost of recovery, after all, it was an Air Force bomb, signed for by the pilot of the B52 before he took off on whatever decision Congress eventually will make in this matter," Monrosey said.

"The Senate subcommittee recognizes the need for restoring and strengthening the west front, but did not believe the matter should be considered along with other supplemental appropriations during the current fiscal year," he said.

The compromise was reached as the conferees agreed on a $2.4 million bill to finance congressional costs for the current fiscal year that began July 1, and retail sales continued to increase. The board reported the unemployment rate last month changed little.

Lund Food Closes
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill designed to loosen the tight home financing market by adding more than $7.76 billion to funds now available for home loans.

Handlers of the House bill adopted Monday by a 314-1 vote predicted that the Senate will accept their version. The Senate has passed a bill with the same purpose, but substantially different provisions.

Both versions would lease funds for new mortgages by increasing the financial ability of the Federal National Mortgage Association to buy up existing housing mortgages.

More Production
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board says the nation's mines, mills and factories increased their production during July for the 10th straight month.

Despite a sharp setback in automobile production, the board reported Monday, industrial output rose to a record 157.5 per cent of the 1957-59 average of 100.

The board said this was 1.3 points higher than the revised June figure of 156.2 per cent and 9 per cent above that of July 1965.

The board said nonfarm employment continued to expand.

Expansion Delayed
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, facing an upsurge of protest against a proposal to extend the west front of the Capitol, have agreed to postpone the project estimated to cost $34 million.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okl., said Monday the conferees voted to block any spending this year for the extension, but to permit preliminary planning to continue.

A commission composed of party leaders of both House and Senate had recommended the project to replace the crumbling sandstone walls of the west front end, at the same time, provide numerous new offices and at least three dining rooms.

The Senate previously had voted to block all expenditures on the proposal which would extend the wall from 44 to 88 feet toward the Washington Monument.

"This is a reasonable compromise that will enable both advocates and opponents of the proposed under addition to the

New Clash Threatened In Near East

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria and Israel threatened to clash anew today after Monday's three-hour battle at the Sea of Galilee. The situation along their border was described as tense.

In Damascus army and government spokesmen said Syrian forces were poised to hit beyond the armistice line "in retaliation for any new Israeli aggression."

A government announcement said Syria "will never again complain to the United Nations or be in a defensive position."

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli army chief of staff, Gen. Dvora Rabin, already had declared "the border will not act as a protective wall for attacking planes."

The Syrian defense minister, Gen. Hafez Assad, said he would send 50 and 100 Israeli soldiers were killed when Syrian MIGs struck Israeli gunboats in the Sea of Galilee. Israel said five soldiers were injured in the clash.

An Israeli spokesman said that two Syrian jets were shot down.

Syria complained to the U.N. Security Council last month of an alleged attack by Israeli planes on Syrian border positions.

A Syrian Foreign Ministry spokesman said if the council failed to condemn Israel, Syria would not resort to the United Nations again.

The spokesman said any further Israeli attack — such as the one which Syria claims occurred Monday when the gunboats shelled Syrian shore positions — "would definitely lead to war."

An Israeli spokesman said he was accused of selling fuel to Syria. He said he was a four-year employee of the mint, was allowed to sign his own $100 bill Monday after a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Tullio G. Leomporra.

Secret Service agents testified at the hearing that they began an investigation after getting complaints from coin collectors that the market was being flooded with mis-stamped coins from the Philadelphia Mint. Normally such coins are destroyed. As a result, any reaching collectors, command high prices.

Agents testified that Shaw turned over $15 of faulty coins to the Philadelphia Mint, which had not been sold and said he had been selling such coins for about 18 months. They said he was selling them for practically nothing, compared with market prices.

Shaw was charged with embezzlement of coins from the Mint.

Concord Farm Changes Borrowed Cash Key To Successful Dairy

CARLETON, Mass. (AP) — Repeatedly visit the broad-acre Concord farm, where Richard B. Bates and his sons are waging a successful fight to keep a dairy business operating in a metropolitan area, their principal tool is borrowed money.

The Bates farm is on Route 225, near Concord that once rang with the shots of the farmer-patriots and now hums with the prosperity of the emerging electronics industry.

The senior Bates and his sons, Richard Jr., and Herbert, have sided up the square that empties farms across New England and come up with ways to make capital take the place of labor.

They have 82 cows, most of them black and white Holsteins. They produce and process and deliver their own dairy products in an area that's becoming more metropolitan day by day.

The side effect of expanding city living is higher wages for help, and yet the Bates farm of 250 acres supports five families, three of them on the pay and route salesman.

Bates started dairy farming in Carleton in 1922. There were 15 dairy farms there then, and there are four now. "You have to change with the times," he says, "or go into house lots."

Changing with the times in the Bates' efforts to make 1.7 degrees for three hours to as much as 14 days at 200 degrees. The purpose of the heat treatment is to eliminate the chance that earth microorganisms might reach another heavenly body.

Trib Staffers Mourn As Obit Is Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Sports columnist Red Smith cried openly. Columnist Jimmy Breslin muttered in his beer. Another columnist, Dick Schaap, said he felt like a ghoulish. The Herald Tribune, a newspaper with a history dating back to 1856, was dead.

The three columnists, with about 100 other Herald Tribune employees, had listened minutes before as the Herald Tribune's owner, John Hay Whitney, in a huge room that was to have been the Herald Tribune's new city room.

Robert Siner, who had been with the Herald Tribune two years, was finishing the last story of the day for the newspaper's European edition.

"I guess they're still going over there," Siner said. "It'd be ironic, wouldn't it, if I were sending all this copy from one empty city room to another?"

The European edition is still being published in Paris.

He turned off the news service machines and covered his typewriter.

"A hundred and fourteen days ago, when they struck the World Journal Tribune, I was the last one out of the city room up at the Tribune building," he said.

"I turned out the lights that day, and I'm turning them out today. And I don't like it."

Then he looked around him at the room's newly painted sky blue walls.

"It's like a light blue morgue," he said, and went home.

College Faces Crisis

State Can't Accept Conditions on Road

A warning was sounded by the president of Manchester Community College last night that the access road to its proposed campus off Keeneville St. "could be delayed forever" because of stipulations the town has attached to the transfer of property for the road.

President Frederick W. Lowe told members of the college's advisory council that the stipulations attached to the proposed deed quieting land for a road from S. Main St. to the campus may make it impossible for the state to accept the deed.

He said the state's assistant attorney general had advised him that state officials could not accept a deed with the stipulations because they have no authority to meet the conditions contained in them.

But Lowe said he doubted whether the town would grant the deed without the stipulations. "I am seriously worried that a deed to the road may be delayed forever," said the president.

The stipulations are part of the proposed deed by which the town would quiet some four acres of Globe Hollow land off S. Main St. to the state for access to the yet undeveloped college campus at the site of a former Nike missile installation.

The deed proposal has been pending for several months, surrounded by controversy among the directors and townpeople over the best route for the road and an attendant request from the college for rights to purchase some 350 acres of town-owned land in the area.

The directors are slated to act on the access road at a special meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building hearing room.

Council members, meeting at Manchester High School last night, discussed the issue for more than an hour after hearing from Lowe and Theodore Powell, chief executive officer of the State Board of Regional Community Colleges.

Both men recommended that the council oppose the stipulations of the deed with the stipulations attached.

And, in the end, the council acceded to the recommendations. Members unanimously passed a two-part resolution calling on the directors to execute the deed without stipulations.

At the same time, they resolved the college would "do all in its power" to get the state to meet, "insofar as possible," the prescribed conditions.

In another, separate motion, the council said it would empower its development committee to search for alternate campus sites should the directors refuse its recommendations.

The deed stipulation apparently designed to protect the interests of the town, call for a guarantee—part of the deed—of details of the road construction and drainage, walkways, traffic lights, and the like.

In addition they provide for areas to be designated for town use for a water storage tank and a ski slope.

Powell, head of the state board which holds authority over the regional community colleges, told the council his position gives him no authority to sign a deed with such stipulations attached.

"It is the responsibility of the state's director of public works to determine how a state road should be built," Powell said. "All we (college officials) can do is appeal, recommend and urge."

Backing him up, President Lowe said the state "is in no position in advance of the deed signing" to commit itself on such items as land for a water storage tank or a ski slope.

Both Lowe and Powell charged the town with purposefully stalling on the access route. "The ranking of everything they could think of into the deed makes me think perhaps the college isn't wanted here," said Lowe.

He suggested council members try to persuade townpeople that the college should remain in Manchester.

"If they don't want it, we should look elsewhere," he said. "The matter boils down to whether the town will cooperate with us, or whether roadblocks will be continually thrown at us every time we want to make a move."

Earlier in the session, Lowe claimed that the college is already suffering because of delays over moving into the campus site.

As an example, Lowe said he directed library services resigned yesterday because he had expected the college this year would operate full-time day sessions.

Stipulations

Barry Names Sullivan as His Manager

A list of 12 stipulations is attached to the deed instrument by which Manchester Community College would be granted an access road over town land to its proposed campus off Keeneville St.

College officials last night called the stipulations "unacceptable" and the state and the college council voted to request that the deed be granted without the prerequisite conditions.

The stipulations are as follows: 1. A sitting basin shall be installed and according to town specifications and requirements to protect the town's water supply.

2. The drainage system to be installed to provide road drainage shall be approved by the Director of Public Works of the Town of Manchester.

3. The road should be constructed so that at minimum it should have a hot mix bituminous concrete surface at least 1 1/2" thick with curbing.

4. All grass areas demarcated by the construction of the road should be promptly reseeded and covered with tobacco cloth or mulch.

5. In order to protect the town reservoir, road construction shall not begin before the spring of 1967, unless an earlier scheduled start is approved by the Director of Public Works of the Town of Manchester.

6. Fencing of the type, height, material and location shall be approved by the Director of Public Works of the Town of Manchester.

7. Walkways for the protection of the golfers located on the east and west sides of S. Main St. should be relocated to the Nike site, call for a budget of $1.1 million in 1967-68 and $1.3 million the following year.

8. With enrollments for next month already set at 800 students—up 300 from last year—the college is growing by leaps and bounds. The budget for the current year is set at $348,484.

9. The said new road shall be a state public highway to be maintained open at all times by the town of Manchester.

10. An area for the construction and maintenance of a water storage tank and a ski slope, should be designated as such installations affect college property.

11. No parking on the above described premises shall be permitted for a distance of three hundred (300) feet from the intersection of said road with South Main Street, or to a point fifty (50) feet beyond the town reservoir, whichever is the greater distance.

12. If the road to be constructed on the above described premises is ever abandoned by the State of Connecticut, it is no longer used as a public highway, the fee to the above named parties shall revert to the Town of Manchester.

13. The program for members and invited guests includes lunch, games, swimming, boating and a buffet supper, also a water ski outing to which Columbia Lake residents are invited to gather in boats around the dock to hear the group's chorus under the direction of Vincent Zito.

Those attending are reminded to bring lawn chairs. The Northeastern Region of the Sweet Adelines, Inc. will sponsor a chorus and quartet competition in March 1967 at the Hartford Hotel.

8 States Exempt Sales CHICAGO—By this fall, 85 per cent of American consumers will be paying state sales taxes. Only 10 million will make purchases free of such taxation, eight states do not tax sales.

Whatever action the directors take tonight, the question of amendments to the Manchester Country Club's lease should be resolved.

The directors are expected to consider amendments to the club's lease since some land now used for golf course purposes will be taken by the access road.

Cost of High School Wing Estimated at $346,105

Architect Arnold Lawrence said the public building commission (PBC) last night gave estimates on the cost of a proposed cafeteria-auditorium addition to the high school and to comment on suggested changes to the plans.

The total estimated cost of the wing is $346,105. The state will allow a possible $137,500 in aid at the rate of $1,100 for each of 125 students in each of five teaching stations. The total is equal to $50.35 per square foot.

Lawrence explained this is higher than the state average of $41.82 per square foot, because only the most expensive part of the school is now being built.

The construction cost of the present building, constructed in 1962, was $11,600 for 41,283 square feet. Adding the estimated construction cost of the addition, at present cost, of $118,500, would bring the total to $129,100 for 53,283 square feet.

Lawrence also read reports to the PBC showing the rise in building costs. McGraw Hill reported a rise of 7 per cent from the second quarter in 1965 to the second quarter in 1966, the greatest 12-month increase in 16 years.

Since 1962, when the school project was started, building costs have increased 19.8 per cent. Labor costs since 1962 have risen 25 1/2 per cent, and managerial and supervisory income has risen 22 per cent.

Most of the changes suggested by town boards for the addition have been incorporated by Lawrence in the drawings.

The large proposed music and drama storage room was extended to include the dressing room with the dressing room.

Lawrence pointed out that ice would be melted in the auditorium. Outdoor screens will cover the terrace and kitchen windows.

Storage space under the stage, make the house this permanent for a standard chair dolly to be placed sideways. The dolly will hold 30 to 50 stacked chairs from the cafeteria.

Additional storage will be freed by using unit ventilators. The problem of ice on the roof will be solved by a mat, thermally controlled to anticipate snow. The snow would melt and run into a gutter.

YOUTH HANGS HIMSELF SUFFOLD (AP) — A 14-year-old youth used his shirt to hang himself in his cell at the police station lockup Monday, police said.

Precher B. Jurgens, 18, had been arrested Sunday on a charge of manhandling a woman. He was held in the jail overnight and was charged with being a fugitive.

Lawrence reminded the members that the area was originally planned to make up for the death of space in the junior-senior high school building.

The new hours of the library, which is open to town and area residents, were approved by the library's board of trustees to recognize patron requests.

From now until Sept. 13, the library hours will be as in the past: Tuesday and Thursday from 12:30 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.; Friday from 12:30 to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A children's story hour on Saturdays from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. will continue until the new schedule goes into effect in September.

Mrs. Peter O'Brien is the librarian; Mrs. Gilbert Swanson, assistant librarian; Mrs. Philip Bellingham, typist; and Mrs. John Cummins, substitute.

Several of the 150 new books purchased in the past two months include "The Ninety and the Nine," by Brantley; "I, the King," by Francis Parkinson Keyes; "Churchill: The Struggle and the Survival," by Lowry; "The Pedestal," by Lanning; "Prometheus," by Maurus; and "Rulers of Dark Ages," by Brantley. The library has also been given about 20 new mystery books, Mrs. O'Brien reports.

The Rev. Kenneth L. Guastafson, pastor of the church, is in charge of reservations.

One at Large Yard Arrests New Suspect

LONDON (AP)—John Duddy, 37, a tattooed Scotsman wanted in the killings of three London detectives, was captured today. The arrest left only one of the three hunted men still at large. He is Harry Maurice Roberts, 30. The slain detectives, members of the undercover squad against big time crime, were shot down outside the walls of London's Wormwood Scrubs prison last Friday. Scotland Yard had alerted the nation to help track down the wanted men but cautioned they might be shot on sight. The hunt for Roberts went on without letup.

More 'Nos' Urged To Loan Seekers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman said today that the Federal Reserve Board is urging banks to curb credit expansion by saying "no" to more prospective borrowers. This could apply to the little fellow who wants a loan for a car, a house or other purposes as well as a big business firm seeking a major loan. In rapid fire order Tuesday, commercial banks in several cities increased their prime lending rates for the fourth time in a year, this time to 6 per cent. Other banks across the country were expected to follow suit today. There was no solid word from President Johnson would try to roll back the boost or talk the bankers out of it. The prime lending rate—that charged the largest and most creditworthy customers like big corporations—for the commercial interest rate structure. Thus, when a bank's best customer is charged 6 per cent, other borrowers must be charged 6.5 per cent, 7 per cent or more. Experts said pressure will be placed on installment and other small loans, but supplies of money for personal or consumer loans will tend to be available, though at higher rates. Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler issued the plea for restraint after the First National City Bank of New York initiated the increase by raising one-fourth of 1 per cent its lowest interest rate for business loans of 90 days or more. A bank spokesman said the move was designed "to moderate the continuing extraordinary loan demand."

When Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co. of Chicago quickly followed suit, Chairman William H. Moore said, "We think in view of the pressure on interest rates this increase is amply justified." Fowler contended, "There is a wild shouting match with credit money to limit credit that is simply raising its price." "When demands exceed a bank's resources, credit expansion is inevitable," he said. The lawyers, who represented all of the witnesses involved in groups denouncing U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war, said they no longer could represent their clients after Arthur A. Kinoy, chief counsel for two witnesses who have challenged the constitutional basis of the passenger tickets, corporation dues and other charges levied on the Union members, was removed at the order of Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., the acting committee chairman. "I'm not prepared to take any more of these charges," Kinoy said after a brief recess. Kinoy and half a dozen other lawyers were withdrawing, leaving their clients unrepresented before the committee. Genras, in New York, Says Campaign Funds Law Needs Strengthening

NEW YORK (AP)—Connecticut's Republican candidate for Governor, Clayton Genras, requested by Dodd that he called today for strengthening of laws dealing with disclosure and use of funds in campaigns for and Jack Anderson. Genras took the occasion of a visit to New York—a lunch occasion to which he invited newsmen from the city—to bring up the issue of campaign funds. "The need for strengthened campaign fund spending during a campaign and not after the election," he said, "becomes more pressing as candidates are given more and more immediate access to the national media. It is time to play 'hide and seek' with the public, because the public has a right to know what their candidates for public office spend in a campaign and where the money came from." Genras made no reference by name to Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., whose conduct he is under investigation by the Senate Ethics Committee in Washington. State OK's Ridgetop Purchase

HARTFORD (AP)—The state agreed today to purchase an extensive ridgetop acreage on Talcott Mountain in three towns for $500,000. The land will be reserved for recreational use. The agreement was announced by State Finance Commissioner George J. Conking and Charles M. Rice of Simsbury, treasurer of Times Tower Estates, the owner. The transaction depends on the raising of some $500,000 in private funds by the State Ridgetop-Mountain Committee, and the use of $230,000 in a federal open-space grant. The state had already allocated $100,000 toward the purchase. The federal money will be released by the Housing and Urban Affairs Department. The state will buy 26.13 acres and the Times Tower, a landmark which the state had tried to exclude from the deal during about a year of negotiating. Conking said the state will probably have to spend $150,000 to develop the land and put an access road through the heavily wooded land to the lower. The ridgetop covers 3 1/2 miles in Avon, Simsbury and Bloomfield.

Sky Diver Practices Safety

Pioneer 7 Launched, Outlook 'Excellent'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States today launched the Pioneer 7 space craft toward an orbit around the sun, aiming to reach "solar wind"—clouds of radiation that blow through space as a potential threat to astronauts. A three-stage Delta rocket, spurring a serpentine trail of white smoke, blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 11:30 a.m. to start the 16-pound scientific package on a marathon journey. The flight control center reported early phases of the mission appeared excellent as the sun every 800 days at distances ranging from 92 million to 102 million miles. The combination of Pioneer 7 and Pioneer 6, launched into sun orbit last December, would provide scientists with comprehensive data about a wide area of the solar system. Pioneer 6, still sending strong signals, is orbiting the sun on a path between the earth and Venus and presently is nearly 90 million miles from earth.

Administration Drops Proposal For Hike in Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration has dropped its proposal for a one percentage point increase in the tax on air travel. The proposal was announced by the House Ways and Means committee today. Kinoy, chief counsel for two witnesses who have challenged the constitutional basis of the passenger tickets, corporation dues and other charges levied on the Union members, was removed at the order of Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., the acting committee chairman. "I'm not prepared to take any more of these charges," Kinoy said after a brief recess. Open Housing Discussed at Closed Hearing

Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago (right foreground) and Dr. Martin Luther King (top left) met today with other leaders to discuss demands for open housing in the city. Cong Suicide Squad Attacks Motor Pool

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Shells fired by a Viet Cong suicide squad killed one Vietnamese and wounded six tonight at a U.S. motor pool a mile from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. A U.S. spokesman said he knew of no American casualties. Material damage was reported to be light from the bombardment, which killed one U.S. Marine jet fighter heavily laden with bombs and fuel, crashed into a Vietnamese village shortly after taking off from the base and at least 20 villagers were killed. The pilot, identified as Lt. Walter J. Doherty, 22, of Gold Hill, Ore., escaped serious injury. His parachute failed to open after he ejected, but the fall of his ejection seat was broken by a tree. The Tan Son Nhut airport itself was the target of a heavier shelling with Communist mortar and recoilless rifles April 14. That attack killed eight U.S. soldiers, including seven U.S. Marines, injured 20 and inflicted heavy damage on ground vehicles and helicopters from seven U.S. Navy ships, including the assault carrier USS Iwo Jima, from which the helicopters were launched. The landing was preceded by a saturation bombardment of the shore by cruisers, destroyers and rocket ships. (See Page Twenty)

Soviet-Built MIG In Israeli Hands

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An Israeli air force captain has defected to Israel in a MIG-21, a Soviet-built delta-wing airplane and escorted it to a safe landing that can fly twice the speed of sound. It was the first time the Soviet's top military aircraft had been put in Israel's possession and Brig. Mordchai Hod, air commander, told newsmen Tuesday, "It is a comfortable feeling to have your enemy's top plane in your possession." Hod was referring not to the move his family out of Iraq before sending his letter notifying Israel of his intention to defect. The pilot told newsmen he had taken off from Ramhad air base and flown over Jordan before crossing into Israel. He said that shortly after crossing the border he dipped his wings and lowered his undercarriage when he sighted the Israeli MIGs. The pilot said he spent 19 1/2 years in the Iraqi air force and four months in the Soviet Union learning to fly the MIG21. Nevertheless, Hod issued or

Economic Integration Called for by Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson called today for the economic integration of Latin America and a united drive to raise living standards. In what was described by officials as an attempt to apply "a second-stage booster" to the Alliance for Progress program, Johnson declared "the alliance must set new sights," and "first among these," is the economic integration of Latin America. Several months ago, in a visit to Mexico, Johnson proposed a meeting of hemisphere chiefs of state. He gave no clue on a possible meeting date in his prepared speech today on the fifth anniversary of the alliance, though the target date is understood to be early December. Officials described the President's speech as a major one, aimed at helping prepare a possible agenda for the hemisphere summit. In it, Johnson listed some priorities to consider in the years ahead. "The question is whether progress lies ahead in unity or isolation. Our sister republics in Latin America must decide that question for themselves. For our part, we believe that effective unity is vital to the needs of expanding populations," Johnson said. "To my fellow presidents, I wish Avenue.
