Six in State Die In Road Accidents

Six persons were killed in Connecticut highway accidents over the long Labor Day weekend, compared to nine during the same holiday weekend last year.

One drowning was reported, and two Connecticut residents were killed in out-of-state traffic mishaps. A Connecticut boy drowned in Massachusetts.

State police were investigating the possibility that someone may have thrown or dropped the rock that smashed through the windshield of Mark Verrillo's car on Interstate Route 84 in Southington Monday.

Verrillo, an 18-year-old sailor from New Britain who was home on leave, was struck in the chest by the rock as his car was passing beneath a bridge, state police said.

There had been a report a short time before that another car had been hit by a rock at the same spot.

Verrillo's pregnant wife Sharon, 36, got control of the car and escaped injury.

The other victims of highway accidents in Connecticut were: Michael Johnston, 21, of Putnam, killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding crashed into some trees off Route 193 in Thompson.

Mrs. Anna Micale, 40, of Middletown, a passenger in a car involved in a collision on West Middle Turnpike in Manchester Sunday.

Mrs. Marie Cottfield, 26, of Stamford, killed in a collision at North State and Canal Streets in Stamford that injured six other persons.

Mary Dubowski, 15, of New Britain, struck and killed by a car Saturday night on Osgood Avenue near her home.

The driver, Ronald Robinson, 26, of New Britain, was charged with negligent homicide, driving while his license was under suspension, and taking a car without the owner's permission.

Charles St. Onge, 23, of Taunton, Mass., killed Saturday when his tractor-trailer veered off the Connecticut Turnpike in Old Lyme, hit several trees, and burned.

The drowning victim was 14-year-old Christopher Neff of Oyster Bay, N. Y., who was sailing off Island Beach in Greenwich when the boat capsized. Christopher's companion, 14-year-old Richard Grace of Oyster Bay, was rescued by Greenwich police.

Killed in out-of-state traffic accidents were: George H. Carlson, 21, of Marlborough, on leave from the Coast Guard base at Woods Hole, Mass., killed Sunday when his car struck a tree off Route 15 in Jackman, Maine.

Miss Mary C. Whitmore, 20, of Lakeville, killed when the car she was riding in hit a utility pole off the Taconic State Parkway in Putnam Valley, N.Y.

A 14-year-old Shelton boy, Erskine Stevenson, drowned in a swimming pool at a West Springfield, Mass., motel Saturday. The boy was in Massachusetts for a drum and bugle corps competition.

Wage Control Assailed as a 'Strait-jacket'

HAMDEN (AP)—Labor is not the cause, but the victim of inflation, says John J. Driscoll, president of the Connecticut State Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

The national administration's proposal to hold wage increases to 3.2 per cent "would leave labor in a strait-jacket," Driscoll said in a Labor Day statement.

He said the cost of living is rising at an annual rate of 3.5 per cent, based on figures for the first six months of 1966. Thus a 3.2 annual increase in wages would actually mean a loss in buying power, he said.

On the other hand, corporate profits rose 11 per cent—after taxes—last year, he said, while stock dividends rose 13.5 per cent.

"The imbalance in favor of upper-income people, who comprise the majority of stockholders and management executives, stands out clearly," he said.

Evidence that "wage-earners are on the short end of the wage-price-profit stick" is played down or omitted by the news media," Driscoll said.

The labor leader said news media handling of reports on the newspaper strike in New York and the airline machinists' strike was unfair to labor.

"The news media did more than their share of sensationalizing a dispute (the airline strike) that had less effect on the economy than the two months Greyhound-bus strike earlier in the year," he said.

Unlike air travelers, people who ride buses, he said, are "mainly poor people with no publishing or political connections."

Deaths Hit Record High For Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's traffic deaths over the Labor Day weekend hit an all-time high for any summer holiday.

The 506 deaths reported at the end of the 78-hour holiday period by midnight (local time) Monday topped the previous record of 463 set in last year's three-day Labor Day weekend. The number also exceeded the previous record traffic toll of 476 for any summer holiday period, which was set during the three-day Independence Day observance this year.

The grim total marked the fourth straight major holiday of this year in which traffic fatalities

News of Schools

Six pages of news and information on schools in Manchester and surrounding towns appear in today's Herald.

The outlook as the school year starts, schools bus routes, new programs, new teachers and administrators and new schools are featured in the Herald's annual report on area education. The news is on pages 16 through 21.

One chance aspect on education is the construction part of it. Schools are not always ready when school begins. One such is the Anderson Elementary school, which was scheduled, and is reported in the school pages, to open tomorrow. Unfinished work on the addition has postponed the opening to next Monday.

Senate Tilt Faces Mixed Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate heads into debate—and an expected filibuster—on the House-passed 1966 civil rights bill today amid mixed views on its fate.

Sponsors said they are confident the bill will be passed containing some form of open housing provision.

But a sizable number of senators said privately they believed that, after a period of frustrating debate, the measure would be shunted aside until next year.

Others said they saw a good chance it would be passed with the housing section removed, leaving this issue to be fought out in a Senate-House conference.

Length of the debate will be the key to whether Congress can meet a mid-October adjournment target.

The unofficial word was that the leaders were prepared to go along with two weeks of talk. Then, if it appears the Southerners have mounted a filibuster against it, they were understood to be planning an attempt to shut down the debate with a cloture vote.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield would only say publicly, however, that he had no idea how long it might take to settle the issue.

The bill would ban discrimination in about 40 per cent of the nation's housing units, mostly apartments and new single home developments. Individual homeowners would not be covered.

Mansfield planned to move to bring up the bill for debate today as soon as the Senate completes a brief period set aside for routine business such as introduction of bills.

The motion is debatable and Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said Southern senators plan to talk about it, at least for a while.

In consideration of the 1964 civil rights bill, the Dixie senators delayed a vote on such a motion for 17 days.

HENDRICK F. VERWOERD

U.N. Stunned

The assassination came as the U.N. General Assembly prepared to handle at least three issues involving South Africa at its session opening in two weeks.

They are the World Court decision on South-West Africa, failure of U.N. sanctions to topple the white minority regime in Rhodesia, and the issue of apartheid, the official policy of the South African government.

The death of Verwoerd was not expected to halt the pressure by African members to try to force a change in its official policy of apartheid—or to make gains on the other African issues.

Lodge Imposes Curfew On Americans in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge declared a curfew today for all American civilian personnel in the Saigon area next weekend to protect them from Viet Cong terrorism and Communist charges of interference in the national election Sunday.

While the South Vietnamese government took measures to assure an orderly vote and a big turnout, the leadership of the Viet Cong announced it would begin a three-day protest fast Thursday.

The monk Thich Phap Tri told a news conference that the gesture was in support of the Buddhist extremist Thich Tri Quang, who has called on his followers to boycott the election. Tri

Legality of Vietnam War Court Issue

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—The question of whether a U.S. soldier can be ordered legally to fight in Viet Nam raised complications today in the court martial of a soldier charged with refusing to obey travel orders to the Asian conflict.

Before Pvt. Dennis Mora, 26, New York City, could enter a plea at the opening of his general court martial the court of 10 officers was excused so opposing counsel could argue points of law.

Stanley Faulkner of New York, Mora's civilian lawyer, raised the argument that the Viet Nam War is illegal because it has not been declared by Congress.

He challenged Col. Robert F. Maguire, who as law officer determines points of law, on whether he had any "preconceived conviction of the legality of the war in Viet Nam."

Maguire ruled the question improper. When Faulkner maintained that a question of international law was involved, Maguire said the military tribunal

Democrats Fear House Seats in Peril

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic strategists said today they think that more than 36 of the 48 first-term House Democrats serving in previously Republican districts are in varying degrees of political danger two months before the Nov. 8 balloting.

A few of the other 24 Democratic freshmen also may have close races, they said.

But the Democrats are not writing off any seats at this point.

The Democratic class of 1964, which rode the crest of President Johnson's landslide victory, has given him a working majority in the House for the past two years. The loss of as many as 24 of the 48 from previously GOP districts would seriously erode the President's chances of getting major domestic legislation through the House.

However, the Democrats expect to retain numerical control of the House. They now have 294 seats to 139 Republicans and two vacancies.

Johnson's Words on War Draw Midwest Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has begun his official pre-election politicking with an 18-speech Midwest tour that drew big crowds and enthusiastic cheers for his Viet Nam policy.

There were a few faring notes during Monday's swing through Michigan and Ohio. But from Johnson's standpoint, the "yeahs" clearly were in the majority.

One presidential speech, at a packed fairgrounds in racially tense Dayton, Ohio, was interrupted twice when some of his supporters scuffled with antiwar demonstrators.

The shoving and pushing matches, about 50 yards in front of Johnson's platform, did not in themselves interrupt the chief executive's words. Instead, he had to pause when many in the crowd cheered as antiwar banners were pulled down and ripped apart.

Ironically, all this happened as Johnson was discussing the plight of restive youth, asking, "Is the right to demonstrate all a society can offer the restless, surging spirit of a generation that asks where the action is?"

The President later ad-libbed a reference to the young demonstrators, saying it is those who wear the green beret of the Special Forces "who make it possible for you to dissent, who give you the liberty and the freedom that you so freely exercise."

Traveling for the first time this election season at the expense of the Democratic party, Johnson visited Detroit and Battle Creek, Mich., Dayton and Lancaster, Ohio. The crowds got bigger at every stop and, if official estimates were halfway accurate, totaled more than 250,000 people.

Johnson got one of his loudest ovations from a rain-sprinkled, after-dark throng at the Lancaster fairgrounds. This came

Gaming Issue In Primary At Nevada

Contestants in the primary are William G. Murray, professor of agricultural economics at Iowa State, and Robert K. Beck, publisher of the Centerville, Iowa Citizen.

In a second gubernatorial primary, Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada is seeking Democratic renomination amidst a considerable hue and cry over federal eyeing—and listening in on—the legalized gambling in his state. He has five primary opponents.

North Dakota also is holding its primary but national interest is chiefly on a bid by Martin Vaaler, a John Birch Society member, for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 2nd district.

Mets Rehire Wes Westrum

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Westrum, who is leading the New York Mets to the most successful season in their five-year history, was rehired today as manager of the National League team for 1967.

Terms were not disclosed.

Although the Mets have lost their last five games, their record is 59-81. They are in ninth place, 10 games ahead of the Chicago Cubs. The Mets finish the "Musical Beriolets." Mrs. Westrum, 43-year-old resident of Phoenix, Ariz., served as the club's interim manager after Casey Stengel suffered a leg injury in July, 1965. Stengel retired after the season and Westrum was given a one-year contract as manager.

The Mets won three out of four games against pennant-contending Los Angeles and San Francisco last week, sweeping two from the Dodgers and splitting a pair with the Giants. They defeated 20-game winners Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers and the Giants' Gaylord Perry.

The club established a season home attendance record of 1,400,170 Labor Day. This put it within 7,356 admissions of the National League record for a New York team.

Ever since 1930 the Bushnell Memorial has been bringing some of the world's greatest orchestras to Hartford, and this season is no exception. In fact I should not be at all surprised if this were the first season yet.

The Chicago achieved a technical perfection under the baton of Fritz Reiner, who was New York's conductor for many years. It is really a separate concert, not included in the price of the regular series.

Mr. Bernstein has a host of admirers from his many television appearances, and there is no question but that he has done it in the price of the concert to the people who had never before given serious consideration. Despite his popularity, he is not one of the world's greatest conductors, but he is nevertheless a self-made man, and a man who has made his name in the field of music.

A notable concert will be the appearance of the National Orchestra of Belgium with Andre Cluytens on the podium. Ranked among the top five or six orchestras of Europe, it will bring with it Francis Clerinx, a young Belgian pianist of whom little or nothing is known in this country.

Mr. Cluytens has been heard here before as a guest conductor of the Vienna Philharmonic, but the Belgian orchestra is

Summer Theaters

Although the Labor Day weekend normally signals the end of summer activities, summer musical theaters still have several offerings left on their schedules. Both Stratford Music Fair in West Springfield and Oakdale Musical Theater in Wallingford will continue to have shows through the week of Sept. 19.

Starting tonight Stratford will be Jimmy Dean, Jody Miller and an all-star company of the world's greatest orchestras to Hartford, and this season is no exception. In fact I should not be at all surprised if this were the first season yet.

Mrs. Levine said the board of education is cutting down on the number of busses. She said she would be getting dark budget was cut at the annual meeting in the early part of the summer. She said that the town would rather have had the townwide trash collection eliminated.

Mrs. Levine further pointed out that even though the development is not a large one, there are many children living there who attend the Vernon elementary school. ### BJ's Jaunts Hit Areas Of Thin Democratic Wins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three states where the President's popularity is high are expected to vote for a Republican in the 1968 election, according to a new poll by the Gallup Organization.

However, in each state, the margin of Democratic support is narrow. In North Carolina, the margin is only 10 percent. In Illinois, it is 12 percent. In New York, it is 15 percent.

The poll was conducted by telephone from August 25 to September 2. It included 1,000 voters in each state.

The poll also found that the President's popularity is high in all three states. In North Carolina, 78 percent of voters approve of his performance. In Illinois, 76 percent approve. In New York, 74 percent approve.

Despite the high approval ratings, the poll suggests that the President's support is fragile. In each state, the margin of Democratic support is narrow, and the President's popularity is high.

Events in World Plot Crushed

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria's Baath Socialist government announced today it had crushed a plot to overthrow it. The plot was backed by King Faisal of Saudi Arabia and Jordan and Iraq.

Weslin Offered Post

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Joaquin Balaguer has offered ex-Gen. Elias Weslin a post as an ambassador to keep him from becoming a rallying point for right-wing dissidents.

He turned down an appointment as consul general in Miami last month. He is a professional organizer of President Hector Garcia-Godoy.

Martians in Flying Saucers Add Spice to Earthly Lives

EDITORS NOTE — Not even the little people for all their antics, spirits who used to keep things lively and fun.

It is not as if the flying saucers were new. They have been around since the days of the Wright brothers.

They are making a horrible mistake by investing money in university contracts to try to unlock the mystery of flying saucers.

If there is one lovable, totally harmless addition to life in the 20th century, it is the flying saucer. These bright, fast-moving objects from outer space have turned up by the thousands since they made their debut almost 20 years ago.

At no time has one caused the slightest harm to a living soul. They make no menacing gestures. They are usually noiseless. On the few occasions when the sounds have been heard from them, the locale was remote, and the sounds were unlikely to be heard by anyone's ears.

They are not advertising anything. They are not advertising money. They do not try to borrow money, tout horses, sell insurance or even cash a check. They do not call on the telephone or on a car on the highway and add to the traffic jams.

They have the innocence of babies, completely void of malice or guile. They fit through the air, or hover over woodlands, winking at us all cheerfully, slightly mischievous but never bad.

Once, in simpler, happier days, the world was heading west but was by all kinds of apes and gobs, hippos, and polar bears. A few remain. We still have the Loch Ness monster but he is as harried by tourists that he stays beneath the surface longer than ever, cooked snap-beans, best any nuclear submarine, popping alicia or peas, providing an in up to recharge his batteries, ferreting flavor that is diff about once in five years.

Losses Feared By Democrats

The Democrats are expected to lose several seats in the upcoming primary election in Nevada. The Republican Party is expected to gain several seats.

The Democrats are concerned about the issue of gaming. They believe that gaming will harm the state's reputation and bring in less revenue than they expect.

The Republicans are confident that they will win the primary election. They believe that gaming will bring in much-needed revenue and create jobs.

Obuchowski Resigns As Chairman of HRC

Chester W. Obuchowski, chairman of the Manchester Human Relations Commission, has resigned his post and his membership, effective Sept. 1, to prepare for a February to September 1967 sabbatical leave in France.

In his letter of resignation to Mayor Francis Mahoney and General Manager Robert Weiss, Obuchowski explained that the myriad preparations needed, to prepare for the trip by himself and his family, plus the usual demands of his profession, and added to extensive research for his sabbatical project, moved him to resign now.

of independence or transfer to some other sovereignty — seems immediately possible.

But, although the closing of the office was accomplished with a minimum of public notice, the moment was one crowded with history, with sentiment, with memories, with judgments.

The British Empire was founded in much the same confusion and alternation of aims and instincts as other famous empires.

There were always liberals who wanted to lead the subject peoples toward self government, and conservatives who wanted to keep them in their proper place as subservient and inferior peoples.

These rival views of foreign policy would alternate in holding power back in Britain itself, so that sometimes it seemed that there were two Britains in the world.

Between these alternating instincts at home, the foreign service, the colonial office, managed some career type consistency abroad. But the stiff upper lip of the career servant abroad, and that of the nucleus of British colonialists in every territory, led to a warped and unnatural view of the British character.

Verwoerd Slain By Assassin

His normal duties were in the press gallery offices. Ordinarily he was not authorized to enter the debating chamber.

The attack, the second on Verwoerd since he became prime minister in 1964, came just two days before his 68th birthday.

Verwoerd looked up as if he expected the messenger was going to speak to him. The assassin then plunged the knife into Verwoerd's neck.

Verwoerd was stabbed at least three times. His assailant was armed with three knives, one of which looked like a dagger.

Verwoerd slumped at his desk, his head down, his face white. One doctor tried to revive him by giving him the mouth-to-mouth 'kiss of life' resuscitation.

Verwoerd's assailant was charged with fatally shooting his estranged wife, hanging himself in his cell at Fairfield State Jail, early Saturday, officials have reported.

George H. Conway, supervisor of the guard, said Montgomery had fashioned a noose out of his bedsheet.

WASHINGTON — In the inter-continental battle for reelection, top California Democrats have submitted this urgent — and still unheeded — plea to national party officials.

Please return $2,000 received as contributions to the President's Club from a California Democrat who has been elected to the California State Assembly.

For Kohler, U.S. ambassador in Moscow, is now a leading prospect for the number four job in the State Department.

That's why Democrats were so upset last week when we reported that Los Angeles architect-engineer J. Edward Martin, a Birch Society member, had resigned from the California Republican Party.

Instead of judiciously selecting plants of all sort of non-resident plants and jumpers, of flowering shrubs and such, many who live in and love Truro might actually prefer the pitch pine, wild rose and cranberry cover that is there already.

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

In his functioning off the cuff, relying on his own wit and sense to take him extemporaneously through any situation, Republican gubernatorial candidate Clayton Gregras is making the biggest single and probably the most profitable gamble of his campaign.

It is a very fine thing to do if you do it measurably well, and Gregras does it quite well indeed for an amateur who really is something of an amateur, and not merely a shy old professional pretending to be innocent and natural.

If such a performance has intelligence and mental capacity in back of it, as it does with Gregras, it runs two kinds of risks, both of which were exemplified in the rather extended interview Gregras gave the other day down in New York.

First, the candidate runs the risk of making some statement or using some phrasing which strikes an unfortunate, unnecessary, and un diplomatic note which happens to make someone's private life.

In this instance, the free-wheeling, off-the-cuff candidate fluffed one. If he fluffs too many, and each time solidifies some unfriendly feeling toward himself, he could talk himself into trouble instead of into the Governor's chair.

Yanks Eliminated from Race, Earliest Since 1925 Glovemen Spark Baltimore

NEW YORK (AP)— Baltimore's power structure may be crumbling, but a couple of glovemen have the situation in hand. Defensive stars Paul Blair and Dave Johnson, who usually perform in the shadow of Orioles' Frank Robinson-Brooks Robinson-Bog Powell striking crew, supplied the big punch Monday in a 5-4, 7-4 doubleheader sweep over the skidding New York Yankees.

Powell is nursing a hand injury, Brooks Robinson is battling a prolonged hitting slump and Frank Robinson hasn't hit a homer in six games—but the Orioles are still winning toward their first modern-era pennant.

The Robinsons settled for three singles between them in Monday's twin bill and Powell watched from the bench, but Blair and Johnson enjoyed two days as the American League leaders officially ousted the Yankees from the race.

Centerfielder Blair, a normally light-lighting speedster who plays only against left-handed pitching, numbered a homer among his four hits and knocked in five runs, including the game-winning run in the opener.

Second baseman Johnson, making his first appearance since suffering a broken toe and ankle wound in an Aug. 26 doubleheader, broke even by including a homer and two doubles, while driving in three runs.

The sweep stretched Baltimore's lead to 10½ games over the second-place Detroit Tigers, who bowed to Washington 6-4 before beating the Braves 7-4 in the second game of the doubleheader.

It also set the Orioles' magic number clinching the flag at 34 while mathematically eliminating New York on the earliest date since 1925.

Elsewhere, Boston beat Cleveland 6-1 after dropping a doubleheader opener 5-1; Chicago downed Minnesota 7-4 and Kansas City defeated California 6-1.

UNSUCCESSFUL PICKOFF—Sliding back safely into first base is Roger Maris of the Yanks. Tag by Curt Blefary of Baltimore is too late.

Other runs across in the second inning of the nightcap and capped a four-run burst in the fifth with a sacrifice fly.

Johnson drilled his seventh home run in the opener and double-batted Blair's fifth homer. In the second game he drove in two runs, stroking a double and two singles.

TIRED SENATORS—The Tigers bounced back against Washington in the nightcap and finished with a five-inning slug string in the nightcap against Boston. Successive third-inning homers by Tony Conigliaro and George Scott backed the Red Sox's four-hit pitching to a 6-2 victory.

ORIOLES-YANKS—Blair slugged a two-run homer in the seventh inning of the first game and delivered the winning run in the ninth with a two-out single off left-hander Peter Senneker. He singled an

Pirates' Theme Song Ends with the Blues

NEW YORK (AP)— Pittsburgh's theme song started out as Happy Birthday to You, but Pirates ended up singing the blues.

Bill Mazeroski celebrated his 30th birthday Monday with a grand-slam homer in the third inning of Pittsburgh's 15-5 blitz of Atlanta in the first game of a doubleheader. Max came back with a bases-empty shot in the sixth inning and he also drove in a run in the first with an infield out.

In the nightcap, Braves pitcher Tony Cloninger bussed into the ninth inning, with a six-run margin, having allowed the heavy-hitting Pirates just three hits.

The Pirates' offense put up a ferocious fight, scoring four runs in the final frame, but Cloninger held on and the Braves won 7-5.

With the split, the Pittsburgh margin dwindled to a game and a half over second-place Los Angeles, which beat San Francisco 4-1. The Giants fell 2½ games off the pace in third place.

REDS-METS— Gordy Coleman's pinch-hit second game broke the tie and he also drove in the winning run as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Mets 2-1.

Cardenas and Tommy Harmon homered for the Reds in the eighth and ninth innings. Harmon's homer in the ninth inning was his 15th.

PHILS-CUBS— Rich Allen's 37th homer and a four-run ninth inning gave Philadelphia all the runs it needed in the final after Cincinnati's two-run, two-out single gave the Cubs the edge. Beckley homered in the eighth and drove in two runs.

DOGGERS-GIANTS— The Dodgers snapped a 1½ game losing streak by beating the Giants 2-1 in the seventh inning with bases on balls and wrapped it up with a run-scoring single by Willie Davis in the ninth.

Future Not Black For Yanks--Houk

BALTIMORE (AP)—It may be a new twist on an old cliché, but manager Ralph Houk thinks the Yankees will rise again.

"I'm not facing the future with a black outlook," Houk said Monday after the Yanks had dropped a doubleheader to the Baltimore Orioles, 5-4 and 7-4.

The twin defeat not only mathematically eliminated New York from the pennant race for the earliest date since 1925 but also dropped them into a ninth-place, one-out-of-five position in the American League cellar.

"I certainly thought we would finish higher," Houk said. "In fact, I thought we had a chance to win the pennant."

That's what Houk said soon after he stepped down from the general manager's post to replace Johnny Keane as the Yankees skipper in mid-season. And Houk said, that was his honest belief.

The first attraction will be an added "Family Night" for the Yankee game Saturday.

Wearry Boston Sox Hope to Move Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, weary after doubleheader splits in two straight days, resume their bid to move up in the American League's second division tonight in a meeting with the Cleveland Indians.

Right-hander Hank Fischer, who had a 1-1 record and scored on the Indians in his first start, was named to oppose the Indians' Gary Bell, holder of a 2-11 record in the third meeting of a four-game series.

The Red Sox, entertaining hopes of grabbing seventh place in the final month of the season, followed up Sunday's doubleheader split with a 2-1 victory in the final game of the doubleheader.
