Atlanta was doing well, with its voluntary, native approaches to the problems of race. So Atlanta had to have its face mussed.

There was, in Harlem, a school which had a principal whose example and leadership in the problem of racial relationships was notable. But the skin of this Harlem principal happened to be white. So the same leadership which had mussed the fair civil rights progress face of Atlanta appeared in Harlem, in demonstration efforts to drive this white principal out of his school in Harlem. After all, in the cult which believes in the necessity of going all the way, no good could come from a white

There's a sad political story out in and just west of the Lane Construction some of the Congressional House districts of the mid west, a story of liberal members of Congress who are in trouble with their constituents. These Congressmen have records of support for civil rights legislation. They are in trouble as they head toward the November elections because their white constituents have begun to exhibit instincts toward "white backlash." This is a result of the resentment and fear they developed after extremist Negro demonstrations in and around Chicago this summer. This "white backlash" is threatening to defeat these liberal Con-

YES to urban renewal.

A Thought for Today Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

Finding God Few people today take seriously the claim that "God is Dead." A great majority of our people believe in God, or so they say. But if you were to ask what God means to them, and Manchester Water Co. in North how they are responding to the End progresses rapidly. claims that faith in God makes upon them, we would be answered by a long silence or an evasive response. And honesty compels us to admit that there is much about our knowledge of God predicted on Faith and based on Biblical revelation. But we may also know God through the experiences of life, through the richness of human fellowship, and Directors air views at "meetthrough the divine revelation in the-candidates" program, mod-Jesus Christ. FIVE PORTRAITS OF PUBLIC LIFE The Democratic Candidates For The Board of Education

FOR THE TERM BEGINNING

NOVEMBER 1, 1967

Current Chairman of the Board of Education, Bel's job is the big one of conducting the meetings and overseeing all the work of the Board. He is presently serving his second term on the Manchester Board of Education; he was finance director for the town of West Hartford and now heads the Institute of Public Service at the University of Connecticut.

DR. WALTER SCHARDT

Walt's experience as a physician and a father of nine children make him an especially sympathetic member of the Board. He serves as chairman of the Educational Policies Committee, a job requiring research and soulsearch. He has been a leader of the Great Books Discussion Group for many years and has also been seen cheering at Little League playing fields,

EONARD SEADER

FOR TERM BEGINNING NOVEMBER 1, 1967

> Len is now the Chairman of the Personnel Committee. He was instrumental in the mature settlement reached this year between the teachers and the Board, Mediation is well within his field, as he has done graduate work in Education and Vocational Guidance. Len is a candidate for a second term on the Board. During his first term he also served as Liaison Chairman between the Board and the Community College when it was a town-operated

> > ALFRED R. CAMPBELL FOR TERM BEGINNING NOVEMBER 1, 1966

Al is as familiar to the Town of Manchester as the town is to him. He too is a candidate for a second term on the Board and is now Chairman of its Building Committee. The Board has recently seen the completion of three school additions under his chairmanship and the initial steps have been taken toward the building of two new schools. In addition to all this, Al is a daims representative for the AEtna Insurance Company.

CHARLES BOGGINI PORTION OF UNEXPIRED TERM BEGINNING

NOVEMBER 1, 1966

Charlie is the newest Democratic member of the Board of Education. He is a member of its Finance Committee, a position which makes good use of his business abilities. This man wears many hats-he has been a social worker, a vice-president of the Little League and a past president of the Connecticut Service Club and the Soft Drink Bottlers' Association

M. J. L. L. L. HILLALD, LIANCHESTER, CONN., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1966 Heralding Homes Refurbished Furniture in Harmonious Blend

DORIS BELDING SYLVIAN OFIARA

David R. Murphy of 52 Bolton St. is a charming house, with much of its furniture found it second-hand shops. It illustrates the pleasant harmony which can result from the de velopment of a talent. Mrs Murphy's in this case, for refinishing and redecorating.

Her "re-creations" made possible to furnish the home atractively with the least possible expense. "About four years ago," Mrs. Murphy said, "We did not have a stick of furniture. I had made a mental picture of what I would like for my home, but my husband was at school and it was impossible to fulfill my wishes. One day as we were riding through the country I noticed a rocker outside a farmhouse, looking as if it were to be discarded. stopped and inquired and ended up being presented with the chair. It was the first thing I ever refinished and it came out so well that I began to search for more pieces to restore."

"real bargains" and each of the seven rooms in the house show the results of her labors, together with some very fine pieces of furniture the couple is gradnally acquiring.

Besides refinishing furniture, Mrs. Murphy is an expert at making Flemish floral arrangements, not only for her own enjoyment, but as examples for a class she teaches in the art.

White walls and drapes give the living room, at the front of the house, a light and airy look. The room is carpeted in aqua, and the upholstered furniture is brown. Mrs. Murphy cut down a high parlor table and it now serves as a coffee table near the sofa. A deep antique mahogany frame, edged in gold, is on the fireplace mantle, near a clock almost 100 years old. The endulum of the clock is callbrated and has a single hand, but the purpose of this has not been discovered by the Mur-that name in front of me, and I sighed, fell to my knees. I had never tion." known anybody that didn't love her on the screen, and I was a long-time fan myself.

"Also, television presented a challenge. Like a lot of people, I have been stupified by what I saw on the home screen. I felt compelled to see if I could do any better.'

The results on "The Jean Arthur Show" are not in yet. The reviews are what you might call the actress's return, some reporting that the vehicle was not up to her talents.

I can understand how some of them felt. If I had been merely watching the show at home I might have been of the same opinion," said Quine, "But they posite Gary Cooper, Jimmy Stewart and Ronald Colman."

Quine is a former MGM juvenile who still looks youthful in his mid-40s despite a recession of his blond locks. He retains a boyish enthusiasm for his work, but he admitted that he didn't know what he was getting into when he tackled television.

"It is a terrifying kind of involvement," he remarked. "It takes me a year to make a movie, from the start of the script to son's production," he said, "we the final cutting and scoring. But in television we put out 23 minutes and 30 seconds of entertainment every week.

"I think we've done rather well. You can't accomplish what you can in features, but we have tried to maintain a standard. The only way to do it is by total dedication, and that is an ex-neighbors don't know she's different and she takes good care of the children, who cares?"

York said he thought that a real-life counterpart to being married to a witch is a wife "who is very successful at some mixed, some critics applauding career, like a theatrical star, and who makes more money than her husband.

"That wouldn't be a real problem as long as the career was not more important to her than the marriage," he continued.

"But that's a hard combinawere comparing her with the tion for women to handle. Most Jean Arthur who appeared op- men -and I'm one of them can do their work here and then go home and have a different, 5:55 unrelated life."

York and his wife Joan have been married for 14 years and have five children -three girls and two boys with ages between 11 and 3. And, from the way they crop up constantly in his conversation, it is easy to see his home life is of transcendent importance to him.

"When we finished last seatook the kids on a leisurely vacation -to Disneyland and ripped and roared around there, then visited the grandparents. Then mommy and daddy put them in good hands and took off for a rest in Acapulco. The way I figure it, I spend too much time at the studio away from my wife and family. After all, hausting process of belaboring I only work here and I live with them."
