15 Rescuers Drown Helping Storm Victims

TAMPIO, Mexico (AP) — Fifteen members of a rescue team helping victims of Hurricane Ines were reported drowned Wednesday when their boat overturned in the turbulent Tames River north of Tampico, Tex. The rescue team, including doctors, nurses and soldiers, was crossing the swollen river in the Alamitos district 18 miles north of Tampico. The area was hard hit when the storm struck the mainland Sunday. The rescue team was in a small fishing village 30 miles north of Tampico. An airlift from Mexico City has brought in 100 tons of clothing, food and medicine in the last 36 hours. Damage throughout the area covered an area of $160 million, unofficial sources said.

Democrats Plan Costume Capers

Manchester Democrats will hold their annual Costume Capers Dance and Party on Oct. 29 at the Village Lantern Barn on Toland Tpk.

The affair will serve a dual purpose — as a good, old-fashioned Halloween Party and as a pep-up for the Nov. 8 election. All town Democratic candidates for state posts will be on hand and plans are being made for the appearance of some of the candidates on the state ticket.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of John Mulcahey Orchestra, and prizes will be awarded for the most attractive costume. Proceeds will be used to defray Democratic Party election expenses.

Tickets may be obtained from Clarence Foley, chairman of the dance; Ted Cummings, Pat Connors, Janet Byles, Robert Stander, Edward Tomkiet, and from each of the seven voting district chairmen.

Just as I was about to make the winning shot, I got beaten by the Unkley Expert who pulled the wrong card out of his hand by accident. The idea was to finance with funny's ten as a safety play, the suit would be good. If it won, he would be sure of at least four diamond tricks. Four diamond tricks were enough to assure the contract. Just as the Unkley Expert was on the point of making his cheapest response, I put in a bid of 3. He has had, he can bid one spade very comfortably. Two Pilots Die In Crash of Thunderbolts

(Continued from Page One) the crash — but maybe with five planes instead of six because there was nobody trained to replace Morgan. James Brooks of Indian Springs says the planes crashed "right then, there was smoke. I saw the pilot eject. I looked back to see the pilot and all he was doing was falling." Investigators began shifting through the wreckage. The Air Force said a special board would meet to determine the cause. The dead men's teammates, in mourning, would not talk to outsiders. Their commander, Lt. Col. Ralph J. Magione, Akron, Ohio, spent the day with the pilots' families. Each of the pilots left a widow and four children. Only two months ago two other Thunderbolts solidified over an auxiliary airfield here, 60 miles northwest of Las Vegas. Both pilots ejected safely. The planes crashed. The Thunderbolts, based at Nellis Air Force Base, practice over this less-populated area. On Sept. 2, a Navy jet of the Blue Angels aerial acrobatic team, performing at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, crashed and burned, killing the pilot.

For Jordan's King Hussein, Anything with Wheels Fine

Rolls for about six years, "Raynor" says, "and all we've had to do is replace the plugs. The other cars we have to replace completely in about two years." "I'm not in favor of half the things he does," Hussein admits, "is a very fast and good driver at all times. But to a nervous passenger, he is sometimes too fast." "When he is not flying planes or water-skiing, King Hussein generally does his own driving. Whenever a Jordanian sees a chauffeur, sitting in the back seat, "Raynor says, "he knows the king is at the wheel." ***** SPINOFFS: All those nasty (but funny) jokes about the Volkswagen have been collected and published ("The Jokes" by Bernard Geis, Publisher, RLB) and some of them are great. Excerpt: "Stand by for a radical change being forecast for next year's Volkswagen. It's the wing of the cigarette lighter." "Prospective customer to Volkswagen: "Oh, I'll admit a Volkswagen is cheap to buy, inexpensive to operate, easy to handle and practical, but what good is it otherwise?" "Honest Harry, used car salesman, is showing a possible customer a used Volkswagen, saying: "I've got a confession to make about this one. One of the spark plugs needs replacing." "Apparently the Volkswagen people don't mind these jokes at all. My copy was given to us by Doyle Dane Bernbach, VW's advertising agency. *****

Events In Capital

Seon Song Speech WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maurine Neuberger says she's looking forward in retirement to a time to reflect, to read and to think. Mrs. Neuberger, D-ore, who is not seeking re-election, delivered what in effect was her swan-song speech to the Women's National Press Club Wednesday. She described the Senate as "the most hectic, frenzied, pressure-ridden spot in the country." "Preliminary to the session before a big bout, she said, while senators face an onslaught of vote influences, "Many times I wished I could vote 'maybe,'" she added. Mrs. Neuberger declared that more women are not seeking public office. She noted women outnumber men in the United States by two million, but that only one woman is running for the Senate in addition to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. "One reason women do not like running for office is that, like herself, they consider it "meaningless to go out and ask people to give money," she said. "But for women who might want to run for public office, she has some advice: become informed on public matters. "Male legislators will be happy to open a door for a lady, she said, but "they will not hesitate to embarrass a woman who takes first and thinks last." "Close to Censorship WASHINGTON (AP) — Raymond L. Spangler, president of Sigma Delta Chi, says a proposal by an American Bar Association study group to limit what police and other law enforcement officials can say about pending cases is "a thrust toward censorship." Spangler, publisher of the Redwood City (Calif.) Tribune, addressed a meeting of the Washington professional chapter of the journalistic society Wednesday. "I've got a confession to make about this one. One of the spark plugs needs replacing." "Apparently the Volkswagen people don't mind these jokes at all. My copy was given to us by Doyle Dane Bernbach, VW's advertising agency. *****

Divorce Sought By Mrs. Hebert

In an action stemming from divorce proceedings, Annette Belanger Hebert of Manchester has placed a $7,500 attachment against the 32 Salem Rd. property of her husband, Guy J. Hebert. Mrs. Hebert, in papers filed in the town clerk's office, charges her husband with intolerable cruelty and seeks custody and support of two minor children. The couple was married Oct. 30, 1964 in Hartford. Mrs. Hebert is being represented by the Manchester law firm of Lassar, Rother, Karp and Pieper.

Columbia Three Democratic Nominees Guests of Honor at Buffet

Three of the nominees running for office on the Democratic ticket in the November state elections were honored as guests at a buffet supper Sunday given by Mrs. Paul Merrick, Rt. 87.

Merrick is the local Democratic town committee chairman. Attending were: Charles Tarpinian, nominated for senator from the 35th district (opposed by Andrew Repko); William O'Neill, nominated as representative from the 52nd district (opposed by Douglas Felton); and Nicholas Pawlik, running for the post of Sheriff for Tolland County. (He is opposed by incumbent Paul Swasey).

All three men were in complete accord with the statement that Governor John Dempsey would be re-elected "strongly." All three expressed a desire "to serve the people of Connecticut, especially in Tolland County."

Tarpinian advocates aid to education on the basis of equalized grant laws throughout the state to insure that the small towns receive adequate grants "to maintain the margin of excellence associated with Connecticut education."

Assortment of Minor Ills Add to Marines' Hardships

Property owners are reminded that a tax list must be filed with the board of assessors on or before Nov. 1.

Medical men at an advanced field hospital near the demilitarized zone say an average of five Marines a day are evacuated with scrapes, breaks and malaises either aggravated by the tropical climate or caused by carelessness.

After five to seven days of treatment the men are usually well enough to return to combat, the doctors say.

He described the duties of the place in the National Future Farmers of America public speaking contest was awarded Wednesday night to 19-year-old Charles J. Zieminski of Wallingford, Conn.

Bolton High School Group Hears Talk on Teen-age Drinking

The junior-senior high school Morgan, Bolton director of guidance, will be held at the school on Oct. 13. The speaker will be Dr. Ernest Shephard, chief of the alcoholism division of the State Department of Health, who will discuss the course of the disease, its effects on the individual and society, and the treatment available.

Shephard called his talk an "informal review of what we know and don't know about alcohol and drugs and teenagers." He said that since 1963, there has been a marked increase in the number of teenagers who are drinking.

Shephard said that it is possible to study teenagers who are drinking, since they are in the same type of situation as adult drinkers: the escapist, who drinks either in groups or by himself and considers it a "problematic drinker; the facilitator, who drinks to facilitate communication; the social drinker, who drinks to please; the "rinker" who drinks to "adorn" occasions, such as family celebrations, and would never be problematic.

Shephard said that alcohol and tobacco should be treated with drugs, except that tobacco is universally approved, and alcohol almost. He said researchers would like to determine to what extent "we use chemical substances to change our states of mind" and, among teenagers, how many experiment with drugs to what extent, and how many go on to become addicts.

He pointed out that scientists are then listed three types of teenagers who are drinking: the escapist, who drinks either in groups or by himself and considers it a "problematic drinker; the facilitator, who drinks to facilitate communication; the social drinker, who drinks to please; the "rinker" who drinks to "adorn" occasions, such as family celebrations, and would never be problematic.

shifting from the dead and scowl to the beginning of the friendly smile.

And as for the real Russians themselves, they are delighted over getting some kind of notice in the American entertainment product.

But mainly the great change takes place inside the casting studio, and the picture clarifies.

One hopes—but one cannot be very sure—that the actual course of history is based on something more real and less spurious than our entertainment attitudes. But we are not sure there was not an attitude between the United States and Russia, for instance, before there was any overt development of the cold war. It is pretty difficult to be one of the two most powerful nations on earth and not think of the other in measuring terms, unless, of course, a third power of sufficient stature to be a threat comes along and draws the attention of both original nations to itself.

History may, in any really ruthless analysis, actually be that simple, and a thing to be chronicled by change of lens, or makeup.

Only one action is forever barred from playing the revolving role of villain—one's own.

Depot Square Enslaved Again

One happy week of traffic control on the Depot Square area proved too much for the authorities, and they have succeeded in restoring the operation of the traffic light system there to the usual alternations of red and green. We don't blame them; excess traffic lights are like parking meters once were on Main St. and like all the excess regulations and controls which are the chains of modern society, authorities have to be careful the public doesn't get the real taste of common sense or freedom, or it will abolish them, as it has abolished parking meters in Manchester, to everybody's subsequent benefit, convenience, and pleasure.

What do we seriously have against the operation of traffic lights at Depot Square—and, by the same token, against the ridiculous new traffic lights at the South end of Main St.?

Simply that there are some situations where it seems to us that the contribution a traffic light system makes to safety is too slight to be calculated, if it is to be worth the cost of the system. It has on traffic lights is merely to create the most inefficient use of time and space at the intersection in question. Both at the North and the South ends of Main St., the traffic light systems now operating hold up traffic more than they ease it; create more needless tie-ups than they relieve; and are continually holding back traffic one way at times when there is no traffic from other directions seeking use of this space.

The most efficient possible use of the time and space available at such intersections is that which comes from the natural progress of the motorist themselves under the restraining influence of the yellow caution blinker system which was in effect at Depot Square for one week after the town election.

If the authorities could ever be persuaded into making an honest test of systems, we would recommend, for their first experiment at both ends of Main St., the yellow blinker system with either a total red cycle, or a push-button red, for pedestrians.

Why yield ourselves permanently to a worship of controls for controls' sake?

But although we concede the justice of the outcome, we still find it difficult to acclimate ourselves to the idea that the courts can overrule a direct vote of the people. What troubles us is a lingering theory that it was the people themselves who created all three branches of government, the legislative, the executive and the judicial, and who themselves, somehow, still retain a little more sovereignty than any instrument they themselves have created. We can see that this might be regarded as a quaint idea, and that to demand that it be held real might lead, in the end, toward mass anarchy rather than toward more preservation of pure democracy. But we can't wash it quite out of our mind that the people are sovereign, and that, therefore, they have a right to be right even when they are wrong.

Facing History

Come to think of it, there's some truth in what the Wall Street Journal says about the shift in the facial characteristics of the international villains in the movies and on television. The Caucasian Communist threat to our way of life is on the way out, and he is being replaced by the Oriental.

This is causing not only minor script trouble, but major casting difficulty for the supply of actors who can manage to look Chinese Communist without looking Formosa Chinese or Ky South-east Asian or friendly Japanese. It is quite limited.

Given the basic kind of face, there is, of course, a lot of camera and developing process can do. There has never been much difficulty since 1960, in distinguishing between Chinese soldiers on Formosa and those on the mainland. Those on Formosa are always clean-shaven, handsome, high-pitched characters, and those on the mainland are sullen, dirty cheeks, baleful eyes, and animal-like motivation.

As for the actor who used to play the Russian villains, they are getting in a work for the order of their talent for shifting from the dead and scowl to the beginning of the friendly smile.

And as for the real Russians themselves, they are delighted over getting some kind of notice in the American entertainment product.

But mainly the great change takes place inside the casting studio, and the picture clarifies.

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

This column has an unfortunate habit of forgetting that it has somehow arrived into the age of the polls, and that, therefore, many of the pointed exclamations of ancient elections are no longer necessary.

We spent a lot of time, the other day, wondering just how the two gubernatorial candidates were standing as they entered their last full month of campaigning. We spent more time, even before that, wondering how the vote in New Haven, in particular, was going to come out and how it was going to be analyzed.

The state goes this way and that. That eases the tension and leaves only the relatively scholastic kind of question, which is that of why the voters are voting the way they are.

There is something the polls will answer, in the normal course of events, after the formality of real voting, in the booths, has taken place on Nov. 8.

That determination, when it comes, will complete their service to the Connecticut political process, in which they have first determined the issues, second recorded the decision, and then have recorded it, and, finally, provided expert analysis.

For it was a public opinion survey, it must be recalled, which first informed the campaigners themselves what the issues should be.

Next—such is the magic omnipotence of the polls—comes the results of the election. They were able to do this in gressional District. We don't need any more rubber stamps. On Nov. 8 you won't regret your vote for Goldberg.

Sincerely, George D. Maharjan

"Difficult to Believe" To the Editor, It was difficult to believe the results of last week's election. It was astonishing that the people of this town should have elected Joe Goldberg, by example, has shown that he can be elected and that the voters approve of his service and rely on him to do the job expected. He was elected to the Norwich city council at the top vote-getter.

When he was elected and served as State Senator, the Democratic Governor cited this young man as an outstanding legislator. Mr. Goldberg is still this young, dynamic man who can and will serve you and me 12 months of the year, not occasionally.

We need Joe Goldberg in Washington to represent us. We need Joe Goldberg in Washington to bring a halt to the mass confusion being thrown to the people by the Democratic administration on the way in Viet Nam. We need Joe Goldberg in Washington to return true representation for our Connecticut.

Sincerely, John Vichi

"We Need Goldberg"

Thoughtfulness and great courage are the qualities which are the motivating force behind the GOP candidates.

The 2nd Congressional District is indeed fortunate to have a candidate who has against the liberal label on his tall, youthful opponent, a 1964 Goldwater Republican.

Bush's credentials as a conservative were suspect, and he had worked against Birchite Republicans in Harris County (Houston) in a vicious intra-party battle over control of the party.

"My views are more conservative than his," Briscoe pleaded during the debate before voters of the new Seventh District.

Bush came back with an attack on his own. If Democrat Briscoe is elected, he pointed out, his first vote will be for "what life-time liberal Democrat," John McCormack of Massachusetts, as speaker in the opening daily routine of the House next January.

In microcosm, the Bush-Briscoe race is symbolic of the political phenomenon sweeping much of the South today. Republican candidates from such states as Maryland, Arkansas, Georgia, Alabama and here in Texas are being elected to the Great Society, defeated their moderate Democratic opponents in primary elections. Now they claim to be the only true defenders of the conservative faith.

Bush ought to win this race on form, but he doesn't stand a chance against Briscoe in a contest for "most conservative." Lined up behind Briscoe, who made his reputation as a tough district attorney in Harris County, is the right-wing element of both parties. When Briscoe appears before the Conservative Action Committee, a far-right group aligned with neither party but with links to the John Birch Society, about half of those present (according to a Republican spy) were Republicans. The CAC voted to endorse Briscoe.

Furthermore, Bush has certain Democratic leanings. For example, he has been attacked by Briscoe for having sponsored a Negro soft-ball baseball team for teenage girls. Noting that Bush has special aptitude as an "athletic supporter," Briscoe asked how come Bush did not organize a white girls' soft ball team in Briscoe's part of town, a comfortable middle-class area.

Still another weapon in Briscoe's arsenal is the fact that Bush has been endorsed by the local chapter of the AFL-CIO.

It is not surprising that the campaign has been so heated. So some of the questions this column has been asking itself—how would the double-trouble machine really lie inside the voting machines—how would the state as a whole go on Nov. 8—have already been answered.

New Haven goes thus and so. The state goes this way and that. That eases the tension and leaves only the relatively scholastic kind of question, which is that of why the voters are voting the way they are.

There is something the polls will answer, in the normal course of events, after the formality of real voting, in the booths, has taken place on Nov. 8.

Coventry

Those Who Left After May 7 May Still Vote Here Nov. 8

Persons who moved from Coventry after May 7 will be eligible to vote in the Nov. 8 election, reports the registrar of voters.

The affair is being sponsored by the local party town committee with John Raymond H. Bradley, Jr. in charge, and that they wish to be retained on the voting list. This must be received by the local officials by Saturday.

4-8 Night Sea Coventry 4-H Achievement Night will be held at 7:15 p.m. Oct. 27 at Coventry High School. The planning committee is Mrs. Clara Hildick, Mrs. Owen B. Traak and William A. Miller.

State Troopers Cut Subduing Mental Patient

PRESTON (AP)—A mental patient cut two state troopers with a knife Wednesday when they tried to take the knife from him, state police said.

State Trooper Robert Guher went to the home of the patient, Ronald Gromko, 28, when called by Gromko's father. He found Gromko on leave from the Norwich State Hospital, wielding a seas knife.

Guher was cut on the ear when he tried to get the knife from Gromko.

Two more officers were called, and the three of them managed to disarm Gromko, but in the process Trooper William Sidenham was cut on the face.

The troopers' cuts were not serious. Gromko was returned to the hospital with an assault charge pending against him.

Clowning Elis Burn Map In Columbus Day Spoof

NEW HAVEN (AP)—A group of Yale Law School students has added the clowning touch to the controversy over an old map which indicates that Leif Ericson discovered America.

Outside Yale's Bettsche Hall, a group of students, on Oct. 9, 1965 — Leif Ericson Day — unveiled its own map. But the next day was Sunday and by the time the map was put on display at the Bettsche, it was Oct. 11, the eve of Columbus Day. Thomas E. Marston and Alexander O. Victor, the Yale scholars who worked on the map, were surprised at the controversy that ensued.

The scholars were careful to point out that most historians had already believed that Ericson had preceded Columbus to the shores of America by about 500 years, and the map only provided the first "cartographic evidence."

The scholars figured the date of the map at around 1440, half a century before Columbus set sail from Spain. Since the map portrayed what appeared to be parts of Newfoundland and possibly Labrador, it followed that Columbus was far from being the first European to touch American shores.

However, partisans of Columbus questioned the accuracy of the date of the map; others said the American mainland was not depicted on the map, and Icelanders objected to Ericson's name.

A couple of pickets were also on hand, one of them a student from Sweden, Roger Anderson, who displayed a sign saying in Swedish "We Were Here First."

Also in evidence was a placard saying, "The Welsh Discovered America in the 12th Century."

What appeared to be a serious note cropped up in a speech by Michael Liberman, head of the group that sponsored the demonstration. Liberman proposed establishment of a "National Explorers Day" on which Americans could "honor all explorers without regard to race or national origin."

But Liberman quickly made it clear when his sentiments were broadcast said. Foodstuffs, clothing and shoes have been rationed since 1962.

Coffee Limited In Cuba Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cubans, who like their coffee black and sweet and lots of it — have been told they must go through another year of rationing.

Havana, Radio said Wednesday coffee rationing will end in 1967.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said coffee production will increase to about 30 million pounds this year. It added that about 20 million pounds will have to be exported because of the country's need for agricultural equipment, fertilizer and other goods.

Cubans now are rationed only 1 1/2 ounces of coffee a week, the broadcast said. Foodstuffs, clothing and shoes have been rationed since 1962.

Massive Manhunt Begins For Cincinnati Strangler

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The most massive manhunt in the city's history is under way as authorities seek a rapist-strangler who struck Wednesday for the fourth time in 10 months. In addition, this city of half-a-million persons is concerned about six other unsolved slayings — including the murders three weeks ago of a suburban couple and their small daughter. City Manager William C. Wolman ordered Wednesday an unlimited overtime on an emergency basis for the city's 900 policemen. He also pressed firemen into police duty. The latest victim was Mrs. Alice Hochhauser, 51, wife of a surgeon and mother of nine children. Her body was found in the Hochhauser garage. Police said Mrs. Hochhauser had gone to Good Samaritan Hospital Tuesday night to drive her daughter, Elizabeth, 23, home after she got off work. Mrs. Hochhauser had said she was afraid for her daughter, a nurse, who lives alone in an apartment, to be out at night by herself. When Mrs. Hochhauser arrived back at her own home about midnight, she was attacked, police said. Mrs. Hochhauser was raped and strangled with a cord from her bedsheet, which she had worn to the hospital, officials said. The body was discovered by her husband, Dr. Carl J. Hochhauser, who had gone to the hospital to see his wife. The body was found at 11 p.m. and did not know his wife was missing until he awoke Wednesday morning.

Diocese Accepts Pike Resignation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Episcopal Diocese of California has accepted James A. Pike's resignation as auxiliary bishop as the controversial clergyman prepares to face heresy charges. Bishop Pike in the past has been the target of repeated accusations by some of his critics, including 14 Arizona clergymen whose accusations were rejected last year by the House of Bishops. He has not previously faced a formal heresy charge, as regulated by church canon. The most outspoken of Pike's critics, Episcopal Bishop Henry I. Louth of South Florida, says that the resignation is only "a step in the right direction." "What we want is for him to resign the episcopate. The common word is unrocked," Bishop Louth added. Assistant Press Secretary Robert H. Fleming said the conference would be held at 3:30 p.m. EDT in the White House East Room. He said the President would discuss more details with Pike in response to a "heavy flow of requests," particularly from foreign news representatives.

With Governor Dempsey's leadership—

Realistic aid for our aged

Bristol Senior Citizens Club has membership of over 2,500 and lively recreational, vocational and community service programs. Governor presents award to Mrs. James D. McCusker in honor of her late husband who started club in 1960 with 25 people.

Public Act 608, signed into law on June 13, '61 by Governor Dempsey, provides for the state's present and continuing support of low rental housing designed for the elderly. Nearly $19 million of housing construction has been authorized for about 1,500 units. By the end of 1966, almost 1,000 units will have been completed in 18 communities. John Dempsey has also proposed a program of state aid for elderly home owners with low, fixed incomes. Many of these retired citizens would prefer to remain in their own homes but cannot meet constantly rising property taxes. Under consideration is a state grant in such cases to towns of a substantial portion of the real property tax due, and with no lien requirement. In addition, the Governor will continue to help the development of educational, vocational, artistic and recreational opportunities for the elderly through centers of service.

12th Circuit Court Cases

ROCKVILLE SESSION
Two men in related, but not companion cases, had different requests in Circuit Court 12 Tuesday. Joseph P. Obrenski, 15, of 206 Vernon Ave. charged with two counts of breaking and entering with criminal intent, waived examination and was bound over to Superior Court. A charge of larceny over $200 was nolle. Walter J. Bychalski, 25, of 31 Barbara Rd. charged with breaking and entering with criminal intent, larceny, and causing delinquency in a minor, asked for a hearing on probable cause. A bond which was set for Oct. 25 by Judge Yale Matzkin. The arrests followed an investigation by State Police into a series of breaks in area towns. When arrested in Pittsfield, Mass., on Thursday, he was taken to appear the judge ordered a $500 bond forfeited, with a stay of forfeiture to Thursday at Manchester. However, she appeared before court closed and her bond was ordered reinstated and the case continued to Oct. 25. She is charged with larceny of a television set and failure to carry registration. # Drakos Firm to Assist MHA In Senior Housing Planning

The Hartford architectural firm of Louis Drakos and Associates Inc. has been selected to assist the Manchester Housing Authority (MHA) in drawing plans for a 40 to 60 new units of housing for the elderly. The firm will assist the MHA in planning, drawing and construction of the housing. The first 100 units, opened in 1962, were planned by town North End and all close to architects Arnold Lawrence, shopping centers. However, and Soule and Manley. The North End Renewal Project, month was planned by Peter and Tinney of New Haven. Whatever land will be available there will be reserved for moderate-income housing, possibly under a plan to be sponsored by the Manchester Interfaith Social Action Council. MHA chairman a Theodore Brindamour said that whatever site is chosen will be close to shopping centers in ways that since have assisted to take advantage of its retail end non-pumpier industries. This "spin-off" was of benefit to the petroleum refining, general chemical and processing land Park School addition, and industries.

Town Firemen Drop Starting Age to 18

The town volunteer department has amended its bylaws to allow 18-year-olds as regular members of the department.

The fire department has had increasing difficulty in recruiting new firemen due to the growth rate of the town.

Local fire chief Philip Crombie notes that it is somewhat incongruous that 25 years ago when the population of the town was only 2,500 and most people worked a forty-eight hour week, the fire department had an active force of 50 men.

Today with a population of some 16,000 and a 38-hour work-week the normal, the department is hard pressed to maintain a 60-man force.

"The problem seems to be one of too many activities. There are church groups, PTA's, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies, League, Pony League, dance clubs, bowling leagues etc. Everyone loads their leisure time with fun activities and neglects those which would be a service to their fellow townpeople," Crombie said.

Commenting that too many of our citizens move into town but do not become a part of it, Crombie said this type of individual is quick to call the fire chief or fire marshal with a complaint but very slow to volunteer his time to implement an improvement in the service.

He continued that one of the biggest problems is how to overcome this apathy on the part of the general populace.

An first step towards increasing its membership, the department voted to lower its age minimum from 21 to 18.

Men in this age group are well qualified physically to become firemen and in general they have more spare time than the older men, Crombie said.

The fire department investigating committee will carefully screen all applicants to eliminate the "thrill seekers." The age limit to become an apparatus driver will remain at 21 and strict driving rules for personal cars will be enforced.

Any male between 18 to 21 who would like to become a member of the volunteer fire department is asked to contact Raymond M. Ellison, deputy chief, 239 Foster Rd., or Allan Harbick, deputy chief, 133 Foster Rd. Applications may also be obtained at fire station No. 3 on Sullivan Ave. at five to six p.m. Tuesday night from 7 to 9 p.m.

Crombie emphasized that the department will not become an organization of "teen-age firemen." Although the department is filling manpower requirements with younger men, it still needs and is actively recruiting the candidate said it is his older men. Several of the town firemen are charter members who joined the department at its inception in 1934.

"Only two firemen are presently under the age of 25. Most of the firemen fall in the 30 to 40 age group and are mature, of the South Windsor Bank and Trust Company are five paintings by Irene Skinner Magee of 786 Ellington Rd.

Mrs. Magee is a native of the town and a graduate of the Hartford Art School. She is a member of the Hartford Society of Women Painters and a charter member of the local art league.

The paintings include a seascape, a landscape and two flower studies in oil and water colors. Titles are: "Distant Hills," "Hermil Isle," "Sine Cranne," "Rocky Coast," and "Millwicks."

Any male resident who would like to learn more about the department is invited to call one of the deputy chiefs or contact any fireman for information and details.

Paul Britt, Republican candidate for a seat in the state senate from the third district, has issued a statement alluding to "disenchantment" of the voters with the present political structure.

Noting that this disenchantment is in the air and growing, Britt said in his day to day talks with the people in the district he had no doubt that this feeling is present.

"It is not surprising that voters are displeased with the actions of the present administration - how happy are you with what has been happening or not happening in Washington?" he asked.

Britt commented that at the state level, people are asking "What is really being done to Connecticut? Do we want power and party first, the public interest second?"

In the third district, according to Britt's statement, voters are asking what the Rally '66-Gerald combination is accomplishing for the electorate.

"Obviously, their first interest is to preserve and increase their own power control. It is alleged that they have picked my opponent because he will take orders on Capitol Hill."

"Nothing must happen to disrupt the machine's objectives or Jim Fitz's job as deputy tax commissioner. With sustained confidence he has a good shot at tax commissioner in the near future."

Britt said Fitzgerald had contributed $300 to the present governor's campaign, and noted that this is probably a new high for East Hartford "folks." A small sample of what exclusive control of patronage does for the Democratic war chest.

Britt termed the statement. He continued that the "disenchantment of the people is spreading to the local scene where the Fitzgerald-Shanahan team applies the power of political expediency is the order of the day at the moment. They have control and no intention of listening or compromising, when the issue is a significant degree suggests that they are not always 100 per cent right."

Someone has been so unkind, or realistic as to label the act "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," he said.

The candidate said it is his pledge that the people of the district and the state will come first. "No boss will force me to change my mind or my vote," he said.

Reynolds Dies After Walking Into Propeller

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — R. Roland Reynolds, unconscious since Monday when he walked into a whirling airplane propeller, has died. He was 29.

Reynolds, a member of the Reynolds Metals family, had been inspecting a two-engine airplane he was considering buying.

The Federal Aviation Agency said Reynolds a licensed pilot, had started the plane's motors and then climbed out to remove wheel chocks. He was hit by the right propeller.

Doctors had indicated that the young executive's injuries were such that had he lived he never would have fully recovered.

Reynolds, unmarried, was a director of the Esimo Pie Corp., a subsidiary of Reynolds Metals. His father, J. Louis Reynolds, is executive vice president of the Reynolds and chairman of Reynolds International.

Lincoln School Group Objects To Proposal to Abandon District

The Lincoln School Improvement Committee, through its chairman, Mrs. Virginia Cellinaki, has taken issue with Town Planner Joseph Tamny's study of the Lincoln School problem.

Completed Oct. 6 and published in the Herald on Oct. 7, Tamny's report to the Town Planning Commission called for abandoning the Lincoln District entirely and transferring Lincoln children to modernized and enlarged schools in the adjoining Bentley, Nathan Hale and Washington School Districts.

Mrs. Cellinaki charges Tamny with "handing down wrong information" on enrollment trends at Lincoln, maintains there are "legitimate reasons" for retaining the district, and challenges his contention that Center Springs Park—proposed by the Board of Education as a site for a new school—should be left untouched by the encroachment of an educational facility.

In backing the school board's position on the park as a school site, Mrs. Cellinaki says, "The use of this (park) land is badly needed now and I think no future need could be more important than that for the use of our children who are the future."

Copies of the statement have been delivered to Tamny, the Board of Education, General Manager Robert Weis, the Town Planning Commission, and the Board of Directors.

The full text of the statement follows:

There is a debate going on and as yet only one side has really voiced an opinion. I'd like the opportunity to state what I consider wrong information handed down by our Town Planner, Mr. Tamny on the subject of Lincoln School.

Lincoln School was built in 1911 and has served a large number of children for half a century. At this point Lincoln School is in very bad need of costly repairs. Its play yard is too small for the amount of children attending and its facilities are crowded. We feel our old Lincoln School should be retained, not abandoned. Our School has a parent-teacher organization, Brownies, Junior Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts. We are loyal to our school and it belongs to us. We would like to see our District remain and we have legitimate reasons for wanting it to stay.

Over the years Lincoln School has taken in additional children from other districts and for that reason in 1965 we had more than 600 children with the building of Bowers and Verplanck Schools in 1950 our enrollment dropped that year to a reasonable 340. In over 15 years our enrollment has been varied, but today we have more than 360. An increase for our District.

Recently our town made application to acquire Case Mt., a piece of property that will remain as open land. This is very logical because Case Mountain is simply a large rock on top of a large rock. This property is unusable unless the town acquires mountain goats. Indication has been made that if we our children who must cross a portion of Center Springs Park to Lincoln District at the same time we plan to acquire veal the precarious financial condition of the bank, they charged.

"The whole procedure is cockeyed," said Emil Massey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers Union, which owns 12,000 shares of Public Bank stock.

In all, there are 462,000 shares. The par value of $10 could mean a loss of $4,620,000 to shareholders. The stock two years ago sold for $24 a share, meaning a loss of more than $15 million.

Slay said the FDIC-Commonwealth transaction could not be completed for about 15 months, because of all the checking required, and stockholders' losses won't be clear until then.

He said, however, that Public Bank's capital account was $1.3 million in the red. Public Bank said its anticipated losses were $4.8 million.

Elliott is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 31.

A tractor-trailer driven by John Donaldson, 55, of Williamsville, N.Y. and a car driven by Alexander Wajda, 42, of 44 Center St. collided on Broad St. yesterday morning, police report. No damage was reported to the tractor, and the Wajda car was damaged on the left side, police say.

Hospital Chief Rebukes Gengras

HARTFORD (AP)—The chairman of the Fairfield Hills Hospital has said that "reasonable" mental hospitals are not "the product of the usual politicians playing the game of politics as usual."

William A. Tamburri of Fairfield Hills Hospital, a Republican, said in a statement that "Governor (John) Dempsey has deep concern for the mentally ill and has given real leadership in this field."

"Under the governor's direction, we have made great strides and put Connecticut in the leadership of the 50 states in the mental health field."

"Speaking for the trustees of Fairfield Hills Hospital," Tamburri said, "I want to say that I have never seen more dedicated or loyal public employees, whose actions are only dictated by what is best for the patients."

TRUCK ACCIDENT FATAL

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A Thompsonville, Conn., man died in a hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in a truck accident Tuesday night.

The victim, Ronald Gavey, 55, was the driver of a tractor-trailer which left the embankment, plunged down a steep ditch, and struck some trees, New York state police said.

Future Members Shake Hands Before Start of Practice Tip

Manchesterville Square Dancers Mark 10th Year

Little did the five couples that founded the Manchester Square Dance Club in 1957 ever realize that a decade later the group would be still going strong, having grown from an initial membership of 30 couples to nearly 300 couples. The club started at the Waddell School as part of the Manchester Recreation Department program.

The 10th anniversary will be marked by a special dinner-dance Saturday night, Oct. 15 at the Clarke Arena at Manchester High. The callers will be Earl Johnston, the regular club caller, and Dick Jones of Long Island, N. Y., two of the best in their profession in the country.

No longer active is the quintet of couples that came down from the Vernon Club and stimulated enough interest to lay the groundwork for what has developed into one of the biggest, and best, square dance clubs in the East.

The originators were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick, Mr. Paul and Lucille Bourque, 1965, and Mrs. Harold Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Howies and Mr. and Mrs. William Allen.

Of the first "graduating class" 10 years ago, three couples are still active — Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Heck, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Melles and Mr. and Mrs. William Garrison.

Most members have held membership cards for at least five years.

Dances are held the first, third and fifth Saturdays of every month at the Waddell School, 12 months a year.

Much of the success enjoyed by the Silk City Club over the years has been due to dedicated members and excellent leadership.

The presidents and their year of office have been: Al and Helen Ayers, 1967; Selden and Beverly Richardson and Ed and Billie Carlson, 1968; Earl and Magee Wallace, 1969; Dick and Eric Thomas, 1965; Ralph and Olga Cowell, 1961; Alan and Dorothy Legard, 1962; Nelson and Alice Richmond, 1963; Paul retires; John and Gerry Dym, treasurer; Fran and Edith Boucher, program; Paul and Lucille Bourque, hospitality, and Bob and Madeline Dietzle, publicity.

Each fall a new series of lessons starts for prospective members. Those successfully "passing" the course graduate with special ceremonies at a regular scheduled dance. There are 26 couples in the current class with diploma night Feb. 18. Spectators — likely future members — are invited to watch the new class perform each Tuesday night at the Waddell School.

Membership is open to all Manchester residents. Once a couple has graduated, it is eligible to participate in any club dance anywhere. The goal of the more enthusiastic members is to get a Century Club badge, available after a dancer has performed before 100 different callers. There are square dances seven nights a week within reasonable driving distance.

Square dancing offers one a chance to get out and make new friends and acquaintances.

Square dancing is more than fun and it's a relatively inexpensive evening (unless the lady wants a new dress every other dance) and it's strictly a dry occasion, avoiding the strongest drink available. The usual dance runs three hours, 8 to 11 p.m., with one coffee break.

Round dances are part of every square dance program and this type, more intricate than square dancing, is offered following every two calls, or tips in square dancing. Russ and Anita White capably teach the rounds in the Manchester club.

All is in readiness for the 10th birthday party. The arena will be elaborately decorated and club members feel it will be a night to remember.

See you in a square!

Square Dancers Mark 10th Year

Story by EARL YOST
Photos by SYLVIAN OFIARA

Little did the five couples that founded the Manchester Square Dance Club in 1957 ever realize that a decade later the group would be still going strong, having grown from an initial membership of 30 couples to nearly 300 couples. The club started at the Waddell School as part of the Manchester Recreation Department program.

The 10th anniversary will be marked by a special dinner-dance Saturday night, Oct. 15 at the Clarke Arena at Manchester High. The callers will be Earl Johnston, the regular club caller, and Dick Jones of Long Island, N. Y., two of the best in their profession in the country.

No longer active is the quintet of couples that came down from the Vernon Club and stimulated enough interest to lay the groundwork for what has developed into one of the biggest, and best, square dance clubs in the East.

The originators were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick, Mr. Paul and Lucille Bourque, 1965, and Mrs. Harold Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Howies and Mr. and Mrs. William Allen.

Of the first "graduating class" 10 years ago, three couples are still active — Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Heck, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Melles and Mr. and Mrs. William Garrison.

Most members have held membership cards for at least five years.

Dances are held the first, third and fifth Saturdays of every month at the Waddell School, 12 months a year.

Much of the success enjoyed by the Silk City Club over the years has been due to dedicated members and excellent leadership.

The presidents and their year of office have been: Al and Helen Ayers, 1967; Selden and Beverly Richardson and Ed and Billie Carlson, 1968; Earl and Magee Wallace, 1969; Dick and Eric Thomas, 1965; Ralph and Olga Cowell, 1961; Alan and Dorothy Legard, 1962; Nelson and Alice Richmond, 1963; Paul retires; John and Gerry Dym, treasurer; Fran and Edith Boucher, program; Paul and Lucille Bourque, hospitality, and Bob and Madeline Dietzle, publicity.

Each fall a new series of lessons starts for prospective members. Those successfully "passing" the course graduate with special ceremonies at a regular scheduled dance. There are 26 couples in the current class with diploma night Feb. 18. Spectators — likely future members — are invited to watch the new class perform each Tuesday night at the Waddell School.

Membership is open to all Manchester residents. Once a couple has graduated, it is eligible to participate in any club dance anywhere. The goal of the more enthusiastic members is to get a Century Club badge, available after a dancer has performed before 100 different callers. There are square dances seven nights a week within reasonable driving distance.

Square dancing offers one a chance to get out and make new friends and acquaintances.

Square dancing is more than fun and it's a relatively inexpensive evening (unless the lady wants a new dress every other dance) and it's strictly a dry occasion, avoiding the strongest drink available. The usual dance runs three hours, 8 to 11 p.m., with one coffee break.

Round dances are part of every square dance program and this type, more intricate than square dancing, is offered following every two calls, or tips in square dancing. Russ and Anita White capably teach the rounds in the Manchester club.

All is in readiness for the 10th birthday party. The arena will be elaborately decorated and club members feel it will be a night to remember.

See you in a square!

Tolland Panel to Study Need For a Grade School

The board of education last night agreed to form an eight-member study committee to investigate the need for an additional elementary school by September 1968.

The committee was suggested by board chairman David Cook as an outgrowth of a report submitted to the board by Superintendent of Schools Robert Briarton.

The board voted to request "extremely well" according to Cook who indicated that the inclusion on the call of a town meeting authorization for the board of education to appoint an eight-member study committee, to include at least one member of each of the four selectmen and the board of education.

The remaining vacancies would be filled by the use of the board of education. The committee would be asked to study the future housing needs of the school system, including the number of classrooms which will be needed and projections of town growth, based on kindergarten through eighth grade. The committee will be asked to report back to the board by January 1967.

Officers of the committee would be a chairman, secretary, and vice chairman-treasurer, and would be elected by a majority vote of the members of the committee.

Cook stated that the formation of the committee would give residents of the community an opportunity to have their views on the need for a new school expressed in the study of the needs of the town.

Briarton's report listed the number of children currently in the system and included, according to last year's enumeration) who would be entering the system next year.

"It is apparent that another elementary school will be needed by September, 1968," Briarton stated, recommending that the board of education "initiate procedures to investigate building sites and to begin planning for an additional elementary school."

Briarton warned that his figures are based on the present enrollment of children currently enrolled in the schools and that no provision was made to predict any influx in the school population from the growth of the town.

He pointed out that the school enrollment in 1964-65, was 1,039 pupils; it is currently 1,540 or an increase over the two-year period of 501 pupils.

Briarton predicted an elementary enrollment of 1,641 high school students in the next two years. This would be a natural increase of 602 students within a four-year period.

All Classrooms in Use

All available classrooms in the Hicks Memorial and Meadowbrook schools are now in use. Next September will find the necessity of increasing the number of first grades from nine to eleven, while providing nine classrooms for the second grade. This would result in the Meadowbrook school being used solely for first and second grades.

Next year's third grade class will be increased from 151 students to 217. The third grade would have to house at Hicks Memorial school.

The board felt it was a commercial enterprise and was reluctant to permit such activity on its property. If the classes were sponsored by the recreation board they would agree to pay for the use of the building.

Board member Barbara Kalas was appointed as a delegate to the Connecticut Association of Boards of Education convention and will attend with Briarton. Kaynor was reappointed to serve as representative to the Library Association at Willimantic.

A detention bus will be provided for students attending Rockville High School, on Mondays when detention is held. The bus will transport the students from Rockville High to Hicks Memorial School.

Mrs. Louis Bach was reappointed to serve as school nurse.

The Fire Extinguisher Check

The Tolland Volunteer Fire Department will check and fill fire extinguishers tonight from 7:30 to 8:30 at the Hicks Memorial School.

Residents having either soda- acid or foam extinguishers may bring them to the school and leave them with the firemen who will be at the rear of the building.

The Fire Department will observe Fire Prevention Week with an Open House at both the Leonard's Corner and Merrow Rd. Firehouses Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Merrow Rd. Firehouse houses a pumper and a rescue truck which is owned by the state. Also at the firehouse is the Leonard's Corner Firehouse has a pumper and a tank-truck.

A new tanker truck is on order.

Police Specialist Reports Many Production Workers Using Illegal 'Pep Pills'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fast-spinning wheels of today's industry are often oiled, a police narcotics specialist says, by workers who are hooked on illegal drugs.

The problem of illegal pep pills — used primarily by production line workers — is not actually condoned so much as that backs are turned on it," said Sgt. F. E. Sweeney of the Vernon Police Department. Vernon, a Los Angeles suburb, has many industries.

Stopping the drug traffic — by arresting those who use the drugs and those who sell them — would mean industrial firms would have to hire whole new shifts of employees, Sweeney said. That, he explained, is how deep the problem runs.

Small Pig Research Aid

RICHLAND, Wash. — A miniature pig has been developed at the Atomic Energy Commission's Pacific Northwest Laboratory. The pig weighs 160 to 180 pounds and is similar in size to a man.

Pigs have a gastrointestinal tract, dental structure, bone and body mass and skin composition strikingly similar to man's.

The drugs most in use, he said, are amphetamine, for instance, which are habit-forming.

The danger increases for workers who labor with machines, he said, since they may not be in full control of their actions when under the influence of drugs.

The danger, however, is in the use of amphetamines, for instance, which are habit-forming.

"Portuguese Clam Bake," Mrs. Richard E. Niese (Alma) of 218 Vernon St., says, "may be prepared indoors or outdoors and would be a fine feast for one last outing on a bright fall day." She also includes recipes for Frosty Mandarin Dessert and for two easy beef and chicken dishes, for, she said, "those days when you don't have much time to spend in the kitchen."

Portuguese Clam Bake
2 medium heads lettuce or salad greens to make 2 1/2 quarts when coarsely shredded with:
1 bunch celery, including leaves. Divide this into four parts
3 tablespoons salad oil or melted margarine
Poultry seasoning
Ground black pepper
1/2 cup fresh parsley, finely chopped
12 white onions, peeled
6 new potatoes, washed but not peeled
6 lobster tails, individually wrapped in foil (optional)
18 ears corn, husked
Steamer clams to serve six
Melted butter for individual servings

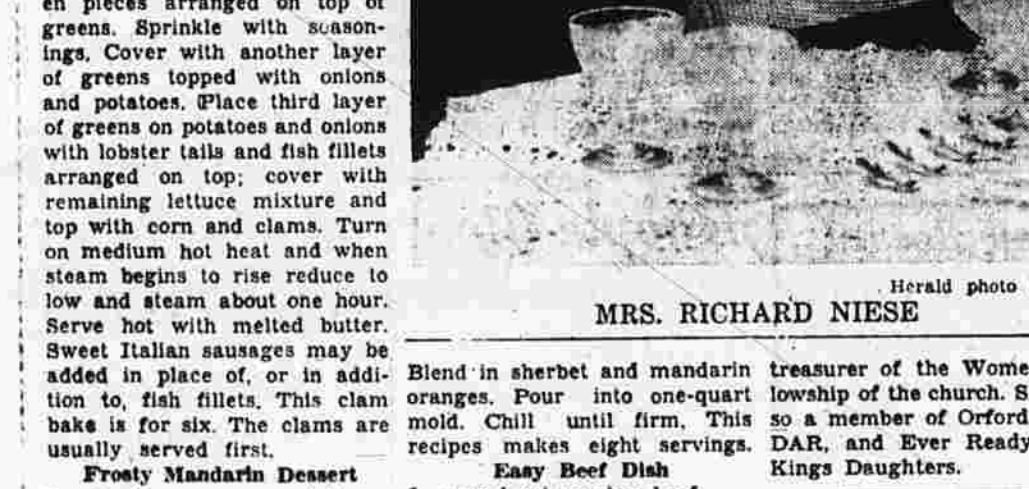

Place oil or margarine in bottom of 18 quart or larger pot. Cover bottom with one part of lettuce mixture and with chicken pieces arranged on top of green. Sprinkle with seasonings. Cover with another layer of greens topped with onions and potatoes. Place third layer of greens on potatoes and onions with lobster tails and fish. Turn on medium hot heat. When steam begins to rise reduce to low and steam about one hour. Serve hot with melted butter. Sweet Italian sausage may be added in place of, or in addition to, fish fillets. This clam bake is for six. The clams are usually served first.

Frosty Mandarin Dessert
2 packages orange gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 can 11-ounces, mandarin oranges
1 pint orange sherbet, softened
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain oranges and measure up water to 2 cups. Add to gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened.

Easy Chicken Dish
1 stick margarine or butter
1 whole onion, peeled, or several small onions
chicken breasts and legs for four
1/2 cup margarine and whole onion in bean pot. Top with chicken cut in serving pieces. Cover and bake in 350-degree oven for three hours.

Easy Beef Dish
Mrs. Niese is a bookkeeper at the Vernon Motor and Tool, Inc., and her husband is president of the company. They have a son, Richard E. Niese, in his second year at Wentworth Institute, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Niese is a member and deaconess of Second Congregational Church, and assistant

Area Weather

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — Skies will be mostly sunny in Connecticut today, providing milder afternoon temperatures and gentle winds.

It was a generally frosty morning in the state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says the temperature dipped to an unofficial 28 degrees at Litchfield.

Temperatures will climb into the sixties this afternoon, but weather changes are expected to take place tonight.

The weather bureau says a little light rain should arrive late tonight and Friday.

It will be warmer tonight as a cloud blanket spreads over the area. Considerable cloudiness is expected to prevail throughout Friday, but the occasional light rain should end by midday.

Prices Dropped On Butter, Eggs

NEW YORK (AP)—The price of the housewife is being heard in the supermarket.

Butter prices dropped this week. They had started climbing during the summer as milk production fell, and a week ago were the highest in 14 years.

Now wholesale prices in New York have dropped about 7 cents a pound. Prices are down 5 cents a pound in the Pacific Northwest and 4 cents in California.

Dealers say it is because of consumer resistance to high prices.

Egg prices also are down this week, 1 to 2 cents a dozen on the West Coast and in New York City. They also are lower in the Southwest.

There is good news, too, in the meat department.

Bacon is down 2 to 4 cents a pound on the West Coast, and spareribs 2 to 6 cents.

The price of ready-to-cook poultry appears headed up on the West Coast, but in most areas prices will be considerably lower than they were this summer. One reason: Increased competition among pork, chicken and turkeys.

Lettuce, squash, cauliflower, garlic and other prices headed higher, along with canned sausage, purple plums and black pepper.

Celery, cucumber, green onion, broccoli and apple prices generally are lower, reflecting increased supplies.

School Menus

The Manchester public school menu for the week of Oct. 17 is as follows:

Monday: Veal cutlet, tomato sauce, mashed potato, wax beans, bread, butter, milk, applesauce.

Tuesday: Chicken vegetable soup, Bologna and lettuce sandwich, vegetable sticks, milk, pineapple upside down cake.

High School only: Ravioli with meat sauce, tossed salad, roll, butter, milk.

Wednesday: Hamburg patty on roll, potato chips, tossed salad, milk, ice cream.

Thursday: Baked meat loaf, parsley potato, whole kernel corn, bread, butter, milk, mixed fruit.

Friday: Tuna-noodle casserole, peas and carrots, bread, butter, milk, peanut butter, applesauce.

The gambling stamps cost $50 and are supposed to be purchased by anyone who accepts wages. The constitutionality of the law, which has been in effect since 1902, may soon be tested before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The most gambling stamps ever sold in one year in Connecticut was $7,189,760. The few days, but the occasional light rain should end by midday.

States' Compact On Education Confab Topic

Dr. W. Henry Cone, a staff member of the Education Commission for the States, was scheduled to be the luncheon speaker today at the annual conference of the Connecticut Association of Boards of Education in Meriden.

His topic, "The Compact for Education," was to be heard by Superintendent of Schools William H. Curtis, today's conference delegate from Manchester.

The three days of professional sessions for school board delegates from throughout the state began yesterday and will end tomorrow. Manchester's board chairman, Beldon Schaffer, attended yesterday.

The idea for a Compact for Education, which would include representatives from all 50 states, was first advanced by Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, in a sales representative with an executive office in North Carolina.

At the first annual meeting of the Education Commission of the States earlier this year, 36 states became members of the compact by legislative or executive action.

The Commission has no power to enforce its objectives but can recommend to the states findings for action. It will serve to bring the states in greater focus in unifying educational objectives.

If Connecticut is to become a member of the Commission, the Assembly will have to authorize such action.

Members of the 110 educational publishers and school supply firms will maintain exhibits at the sessions.

Teachers of Grades 1-4 will attend the institute Tuesday, while Wednesday will be set aside for teachers of Grades 7-12. Children in the archdiocese will have a day off from school on the day their teachers attend St. Bridget's church will be guests at the meeting.

Mr. Hyde will explain the function and purposes of the organization which she heads. Mrs. Horton, a senior at Manchester High School, recently returned from spending the summer in Japan and living with a Japanese family as a participant in the American Field Service program. She will show slides and tell of her experiences.

Mom Jumps After Killing 2 Children

NEW YORK (AP)—An African diplomat's screaming wife threw her two children from an 18-foot window today and then followed them to death in a courtyard below.

Police identified the victim as Olive M. Mwalimu, 24, and her children, Kotoko, a 7-year-old boy, and Janet, a girl 3 months old.

The woman's husband is an official of the Malawi delegation to the United Nations, police said.

Her husband is G.T.K. Mwalimu, a second secretary of Malawi's mission to the U.N.

The incident occurred at 335 E. 88th St.

A telephone antenna installer, Gerald Cristodoro, working on a nearby roof told police he saw the woman throw the children to their death, then follow them.

Cristodoro, 24, said the woman stood at the top of her voice, screaming at the top of her voice. She threw something out.

He said he could not tell what was thrown, but a few seconds later the woman was coughing and screaming.

Police said the family had moved into the 21-story apartment building last week.

The father, accompanied by another Malawi official, was brought to the scene by police.

U.S. Threatens to Resume Bombing Viet Buffer Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. Military Command today reported a record number of bombing missions against North Viet Nam and threatened to resume bombing of the eastern end of the demilitarized zone unless the Communists stop infiltrating there.

U.S. planes flew 176 bombing missions over the Communist North Thursday, two more than the previous record on Sept. 11. No planes were reported last Thursday but an Air Force F105 Thunderbolt was shot down today 70 miles northwest of Vinh, the 39th loss reported for the air war against the Viet.

A U.S. spokesman charged the Communists with military activity in the 30 square miles at the eastern end of the buffer zone between North and South Viet Nam and said South Vietnamese government "will be obliged to respond to this."

The spokesman did not spell out what the response would be, but air attacks have been the only U.S. action against the zone.

Bombing of the eastern end was suspended two weeks ago to allow field teams of the International Control Commission to investigate charges that the zone's neutral zone was being violated.

The spokesman did not spell out what the response would be, but air attacks have been the only U.S. action against the zone.
