Recruiter

Capt. Eugenia B. Bishop has recently been assigned as the Hartford area representative for the Women's Army Corps recruiting service.

She is a 1957 graduate of Rhode Island, Kingston, Montclair, (N.J.) High School, and she received her B.A. degree in 1961 from the College of Wooster (Ohio).

She was employed in institutional research at the University of Rhode Island, Kingston.

The captain entered the Army in February 1963, on direct commission as a second lieutenant. She has been an instructor of general military subjects, and platoon officer at the Women's Army Corps Training Center, Ft. McClellan, Ala. Her last duty assignment was as commanding officer of the Women's Army Corps detachment at Ft. Devens, Mass.

Young women interested in learning more about the enlistment program or the commission program in the Women's Army Corps may contact her at the U.S. Army Recruiting Station at the Army and Navy Club, 1088 Main St., Manchester or at the Recruiting Station, 63 Allyn St., Hartford.

Final and certificates will be awarded to drivers of town vehicles on a yearly basis. The program will include drivers of heavy equipment as well as passenger cars, station wagons and light trucks. No private cars will be included.

Turck has appointed an Accident Review Board, consisting of Police Capt. George McCaughy, Rec. Department Superintendent Lawrence Whitehouse.

The board will evaluate accidents, to determine whether they are chargeable to the operators.

The yearly program will run from July 1 to June 30.

Police are investigating a shoplifting case at Sears' store at the Parade in which someone apparently scooped $280 worth of gloves off a counter and escaped.

The incident occurred Saturday between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. and while a clerk was out to lunch, spruce should never be planted.

When the employee returned he noticed that the counter maps, elms, willows and poplars were stripped clean, according to police.

Pilgrims' Holiday Feast Would Be Expensive Today

NEW YORK (AP)—All that talk about the good old days, forget it. If you ate like the Pilgrims, Thursday's Thanksgiving dinner would cost you about three times as much.

And you would have to skip the cranberries and pumpkin pie. Once wild turkeys were plentiful near Plymouth Plantation in Massachusetts, and bear and venison were mainstays for dinner.

But now wild turkey is $2.35 a pound, native black bear roast $3.50, and venison back roast $2.55.

If you wanted to throw a little 17th century Thanksgiving dinner for 142—53 colonials and 90 Indians—it would cost you $67.76, or $4.78 a person.

Wild turkey adds 94 cents, wild turkeys, eels, fish, corn and venison $1.14, bread and wine, but no potatoes, and probably no onions, cranberries, pie or sugar.

Bradford Smith, a descendant of the governor, says there were wild turkeys, eels, fish, corn and venison were mainstays for dinner.

Other historians talk about roast turkey, venison, bear, veal, duck, fish, corn bread, nuts, cranberry cake, pumpkin and pumpkins and honey.

The Associated Press took this shopping list to a supermarket chain and a New York store that sells gourmet foods to per person back in 1951.

SNETCo, Union Renewing Talks After Pact Veto

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Contract negotiations were scheduled to begin again today after union employees of the Southern New England Telephone Co. rejected a contract hammered out by labor and management negotiators.

The proposed three-year contract was turned down by a membership vote of nearly two to one.

Members of the Connecticut Union of Telephone Workers, which represents 8,900 employees in a wide range of jobs, voted 4-1 to reject the contract.

The rejected contract would have provided wage increases ranging from 8.5 to 10 a week, and 20 days' vacation after 20 years of service.

It also would have provided for a 40-hour work week, a 15-minute rest period, and a 15-minute rest period.

HOW SHOULD YOU CHOOSE BETWEEN KING AND JACK? BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Hundreds of times each year you will lead a suit in which your highest cards are the king and jack.

Imagine that you are playing the North-South cards and you have the king and jack.

You win the first trick in dummy with the king of spades and lead a low trump. East plays low, and you must choose between the king and the jack.

What do you do? Answer: Bid two diamonds. You count 4 points for the ace, 3 points for the king and 1 point for the jack.

What do you do? Answer: Bid two diamonds. You count 4 points for the ace, 3 points for the king and 1 point for the jack.

Coe to Join Bolton Staff at MCC Community Thanksgiving Offered at St. Maurice

William C. Coe of 463 E. Center St., education reporter for The Herald, is one of three persons newly appointed to the staff at Manchester Community College.

Also appointed by the Regional Board for Community Colleges are Mrs. Harold Williamson of Springfield, Mass., and David Gidman of New Britain.

Coe's appointment, to do public relations work for the college and to teach English, will become effective Jan. 1, 1967.

At the same time, the Rev. Hugh Gillis of United Methodist Church and the Rev. Douglas Theuner of St. George's Episcopal Church will give the readings from the Scriptures.

The Rev. Robert Cronin of the host church will read the Gospel and give the sermon.

During the service, the combined choirs of the four churches will sing, followed by an offertory hymn by the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Cronin will give the offertory prayer, and the Rev. Robert Cronin, the host church, will give the benediction.

Refreshments will be served by the ladies of St. Maurice downstairs in the church hall after the service.

Any rugged Boltonites ready for dinner to be ready to go to the game will watch a football game following the service.

Because the trail is not brushed out at all, just being with bits of plastic ribbon tied to trees, the walk is not recommended to anyone not dressed for hiking.

For anyone who wants to see the new park in its most pristine state, now is the time. The game will be held on the new park in its most pristine state, now is the time.

The trail has been laid out by the conservation committee member Stanley Bates. If one enters the park from Hebron rd., in a cleared parking area, the red ribbons begin some-where in the underbrush to the right of the paved field and lead the walker through dry grass and into the dry woods.

There is a grove of birch trees in the woods, especially near a stream, but the path leads through woods with oak and hickory and elm leaves, relieved by the winter greens of pine and spruce which should not be picked.

No injuries were reported, and both cars were driven away. Yesterday afternoon a car driven by Rodolfo J. Barville Jr., 50, of 180 Chestnut St. hit a soft shoulder and went over a lawn at 104 Chestnut St., police say. Minor damage was done to the car, and there was some damage done to the lawn, police say. No injuries were reported.

NEW NIGHT AIR SERVICE WASHINGTON (AP)—A new night service between Washington National Airport and Boston will be started Dec. 1 by Allegheny Airlines.

The airline announced Tuesday that the flight will leave Washington at 10:40 p.m. EST and arrive in Boston at 12:30 a.m. Stops will be made at Philadelphia, N.Y., and Providence, R.I.

Allegheny flights will also leave Washington at 12:35 p.m. and 8:05 p.m. EST nonstop for Providence and continuing to Hartford, Conn.

27 Earn Honors At Assumption A total of 27 students in Grades 6, 7 and 8 at Assumption Junior High School were named to the honor roll for the first quarter, school officials announced today.

The board last night instructed General Manager Robert Weiss to proceed with appraisal-estimated to cost $500 to $1,000.

The appraisal, plus recommendations on the proposed sale from interested town agencies, will be ready for the Dec. 6 public hearing.

The board, in scheduling the hearing, agreed that it may not take action until a later date. College president Frederick Weiss, asked for some action prior to Dec. 6, the date on which the Regional College Board will act on site recommendations.

He has asked the directors to consider the sale of all of the unused Globe Hollow land, west of S. Main St., and not limited to the original 150-acre request.

The Town Planning Commission and the Town Development Commission, both of which will be asked for recommendations on the sale, have scheduled meetings to discuss the proposal.

The TDC will meet Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. in the general manager's office. The meeting will be held in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

In addition to discussing the proposed sale, the TDC will be briefed on Weiss' proposal for a town policy for contributing to the outback.

Home Demand Off BONN—West German construction has slackened in the past few years, much as has the U. S. building industry. Only 592,000 houses were built in 1965 compared with 624,000 in 1964. The 1966 total is expected to be under 600,000. Credit restrictions are blamed for the outback.

YMI BOYCOTT OVER LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Virginia Military Institute students will attend Thursday's YMI-Virginia Tech football game in Knoxville, after all.

The game was the weapon chosen by the 1,200-man cadet corps last week to dramatize discontent over "grievances"—among them a shorter-than-usual Christmas vacation.

A series of conferences between cadet representatives and the YMI administration apparently reached a meeting of minds Tuesday.

What, if any, concessions were made were not disclosed, but a spokesman for Gen. George R.E. Shell, YMI superintendent, said there would be no change in the Christmas vacation schedule.

Hearing Set on Proposal To Sell Land to College

The Board of Directors will conduct a public hearing Dec. 6 on the proposed sale of 160 or more acres of Globe Hollow land to the state for Manchester Community College use.

Sunny Skies, Mild For Thanksgiving

With the weatherman promising sunny skies and mild temperatures reaching the 50s tomorrow, all appears set for Manchester to enjoy ideal conditions for Thanksgiving, rooted in tradition as a time for turkey and pigskin. . . but above all, for nearly 300 years, as a time to express gratitude for earth's bounty.

It is usual that it will be for most a quiet day at home in the company of family and friends, presided by traditional church services, and perhaps punctuated by attendance at a football game of Manchester's leading Turkey Day attraction, the Five Mile Road Race.

Most local and area churches have scheduled services either tonight or tomorrow morning. A complete listing of the services is published in the Herald today's Herald Thanksgiving message.

Local business activity will be practically at a standstill. All town, state and government offices will close for the day, as will the majority of stores and industrial plants. There will be no garbage or refuse pickup tomorrow.

Public and parochial schools recessed today for the long weekend after half-day sessions, during which many held Thanksgiving assemblies. Community Center will also recess after tonight's classes. For all, it will be business as usual on Monday.

Town recreation centers and libraries will close tomorrow only, resuming regular hours Friday.

The lobby of the main post office will remain open tomorrow from 7 to 11 a.m. and 5 to 7 p.m., but there will be no window service and no home delivery.

The major event on the local sports scene will again be the 50th running of the Five Mile Road Race, sponsored by Nutmeg Forest of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon. Slated to get under way from Main and Center Sts. at 10:30 a.m., the race this year has attracted a field of 106 and will probably draw a crowd of more than 30,000.

Both Manchester and East Catholic High Schools will field traditional rivals in morning football contests.

MEER, in a series dating back to 1950, will meet Winton High School on the opponent's territory at Guild Field, Williams St., at 10:30 a.m.

East Catholic will play its third Thanksgiving Day tilt against South Catholic High at St. Nino starting at 11.

Details of all local sports events are listed on the sports pages of today's Herald.

For those fans still in a football mood after dinner and all the trimmings, there will be choice of several pro and college games to watch on afternoon television.

Friday, it will be back to the job for many, but some workers will have a four-day holiday. Perkin-Elmer, for one, the committee of which John will shut down until Monday. Driscoll, president of the Connecticut State Labor Council, Christmas mark will begin in AFL-CIO.

Also on Friday, the committee will be formally organized this week. Driscoll said money raised by the committee will be used in helping Italians who lost their homes or otherwise suffered in avoiding the recent disastrous floods.

The committee's campaign, he said, is not intended to supplant the Municipal Building. They believe that also may have been organized locally.

12th Circuit Court Cases

ROCKVILLE SESSION
A local 16-year-old, arrested for intoxication and breach of the peace, was sentenced to an indefinite term at Chester with execution suspended and placed on probation for two years by Judge Max Fischer in Rockville Circuit Court 12 yesterday.

Manchester Men Indicted In Rockville Bank Holdup

Two Manchester men, being held in other states as fugitives, have been indicted by a federal grand jury in Hartford on charges of robbing the Rockville branch of the Vernon National Bank of $24,971 at 11:30 p.m. on Oct. 11, 1965.

Named in the four-count indictments are William Baldwin and Ronald Nourie, both 24. Baldwin was captured Nov. 11 in Bowling Green, Ky., and Nourie was apprehended in a New York City hotel room three days later.

U.S. District Judge T. Emmet Claire set bond for Baldwin at $50,000 and bond for Nourie at $25,000. The indictments were returned yesterday. Asst. U.S. District Attorney David Marjolis requested the higher bond for Baldwin, saying he had threatened to kill someone in Connecticut. Marjolis didn't say when the alleged threat was made or who was threatened.

Both suspects will be returned to Connecticut soon, Marjolis said.

The bank was robbed by two men only minutes after it opened for business at 9:30 a.m. One of the men, armed with a pistol, held three bank employees in a back room while the other filled a flowered t-shirt with the money.

Neither was masked during the holdup, witnesses reported. There were no customers in the bank at the time.

Police said Nourie escaped Oct. 24 from a work detail at the Hartford State Jail, where he was serving a 90-day sentence for shoplifting, larceny and theft. He was a trusty there.

Baldwin was released from the jail a short time prior to the holdup, police reported. He also faces charges in Hartford County Superior Court stemming from a similar holdup at the bank at the time.

South Windsor School Board Told Aims of Guidance

The aims of the school guidance program and students' needs are being explained to the board of education by the guidance staff member, said Raymond Rondini, guidance counselor, today.

Noting that elementary school guidance is concerned with the emotional, social and educational needs of all children in relation to their educational experiences, Rondini explained the program is aimed at being preventative rather than remedial.

The program on this level is designed, he said, to assist boys and girls of elementary school age toward the "optimum" psychological, social and physical maturity for their own good and for the good of society.

The need for this type of counseling exists due to a rapidly changing world in which many children find it difficult to obtain the necessary understanding and confidence in the student first before guidance can effectively be given.

Martin cited as contributing causes for this situation the industrial society which predates that some 20 per cent of the total population moves to a new location each year.

Other contributing factors are: Thirty per cent of working mothers have children under the age of six; thirteen per cent of children under 18 years of age live in broken homes.

There are over one million mentally retarded children of school age in the country, including siblings.

Problems Start Early
Authorities in guidance have stated that emotional disorders have their basic roots in infancy and early childhood and early school situations, Martin said.

He noted the behavior of a child of six to ten is highly predictable of adult behavior.

Classroom teachers noted that the psychological and emotional problems children have are often the result of a guidance counselor who is trained extensively in the field, to decide whether or not the child requires testing, he said.

Under this procedure, Martin pointed out, the child's testing would not be done until the child has had the benefit of the counseling procedure.

An additional benefit would be that the psychological and emotional work load would be lessened so that more time could be spent with individual children in these services.

The guidance counselor could then work with the problem child and the teacher to help develop the child to his fullest capability.

Martin noted that all children exhibiting problems do not require testing but counseling. The objectives of the program on the elementary level include the development of a "self concept" through which the child helped to understand himself through self-evaluation. This includes his limitations in respect to his personality, attitudes, Martin said.

Other aims are to help children to develop a feeling of belonging in respect to their school life and to understand how they can best fulfill their lives in the early years.

Children on the seventh and eighth grade level should include an orientation program for students leaving sixth grade and information on these subjects to provide a working relationship between parents and teachers for the students benefit.

Teachers and counselors are encouraged to visit industrial concerns, business, schools and colleges to gain a better insight into diverse occupations and institutions of higher learning.

A resume of the testing programs used in the guidance program, presented by William Farmer, noted that IQ tests are given in the schools to determine the degree of maturity of students' minds. These tests are beneficial in determining bright students who are "under-achievers," and those who are engaged in doing work beyond their capabilities. These tests are given to members of the junior class in the spring and testing time required is 30 minutes.

National Educational Development Tests are given to test proficiency in English, Math, Social Studies, and word.

Richard Kelly, a new member of the guidance staff, said that students in Grades 8 and 9 is of primary importance. He noted that it is necessary to build up student confidence in the student first before guidance can effectively be given.

He commented that it is the aim of this section of the department to see the majority of students three or four times during the course of the school year.

An additional benefit of the program is the assistance offered to the administration in scheduling of students in classes by providing information on the student's interests, groups, teachers and other facets of the school world.

While no limit is specified on the number of students that may be taken, members of the junior class are given the tests in May while the senior class members are tested in December.

Drop-out Rate 8%
Only three per cent of local students leave school before high school graduation, Farmer noted. This figure compares with a state average of 12 per cent.

The low rate is attributed to the development of the curriculum which offers a variety of subjects and homogeneous groups.

Approval was also granted for the extension of personal days for school personnel by three days at the discretion of the superintendent.

At the present time, a period of five days is allocated as personal days, which may be used $18,344.00 for the elementary for any personal use by members of the system. Under the administration—were approved by the board.

Meeting on the board and the capital improvements committee will be set at a later date.

Thanksgiving—1966

Our forefathers felt the necessity to give thanks to God for their very existence. They did not thank God for material things only. Their thanks was in response to life itself. Every age is an age of complexity. Every generation faces its own ultimate concern. The one truth that seems to burn its way through the cold, impersonal, modern society is that man is created in the image of God to communicate with his fellow being. In true fellowship he is able to understand and to know the very God who has given him existence.

This Thanksgiving Season let us give thanks not for what we have, but for what we may become. Let us not look back at the successful harvest in food, social justice, or standard of living, but let us look forward to the day when the harvest will be measured in man's ability to love his neighbor as God has loved man.

This day we should remember that "the way we treat people, is the way we treat God."

tain kinds of information about the citizens of this country.

It was inevitable that this proposal should be greeted with cries of outrage from members of Congress, and that they should attack it as a great potential monster designed to obliterate the last shred of privacy in American life.

And one more thing is inevitable. It is that this data center, however rough the welcome it got in this, its initial formal appearance, will eventually be established.

And it is also guaranteed that, when it is established, it will enable our government to push one button for each of us and get, by pushing that one button, the whole story of our lives, how much we make, the location of our bank accounts and insurance policies, our holdings of stocks, our fingerprints, the organizations to which we have belonged or made contributions, the hotels we have stayed at, the telephone calls we have made, our marital history, and the grades we got in school.

It is guaranteed that some of us are going to howl about this, and it is guaranteed that it is going to happen.

These are the real guarantees. One of the first guarantees that will be made to us all about the time the thing is becoming a reality, will be to the effect that all this computer data on the individual citizen will never be opened to anybody who doesn't have a legitimate reason for needing to see or use it.

There is not going to be any escape from this, either.

One might as well prepare to live with it.

One could think of going to live in some other, poorer country, which couldn't afford so much computer.

But that would only be postponing the inevitable. Already, by testimony already developed before Congress, we are sending abroad, to less fortunate nations, equipment and instructions for eavesdropping on their own citizens.

No, this is something which is coming to us, in our own country, in our own way of life. Since it is possible, it cannot be resisted.

What it is going to compel, for those who will still insist on some touch of freedom and privacy, is a further retreat into values and considerations which our body can keep the data on, or touch, or report statistically, or correlate, or tie to a code number.

One may not know, yet, just what this is going to be, except that it obviously isn't going to be anything related to money, or property, or physical movement, or relationship to titled movements, or issues or philosophies.

Somewhere inside each of us there still has to be a sacred self, too intangible for the computers, but as self-identifying as a birth mark or a social security number; to the individual who is loyal to it. This could be, to put it one way, what is left to each of us once all the dross that can be computerized has indeed been computerized away from us into the public domain. It could be, to put it another way, the real prize and the real glory of existence, and it is conceivable that some day it will be a valuable commodity in a bitter internal struggle between liberals and conservatives as soon as they return to Washington in January. Challenge an incumbent governor in his own state or forget about Wisconsin as a battleground. The latter alternative would shatter Romney's hopes of challenging and defeating Richard M. Nixon in a midwestern state carried comfortably by Nixon in the 1960 election. Moreover, the Unity delegation led by Knowles would be composed largely of party regulars, presumably more favorable to Nixon than Romney.

This brings back memories of 1964 when a Wisconsin down ballot by Barry Goldwater and Nelson Rockefeller was averted by Rep. John Byrne's support of Romney's candidacy at the head of a Unity delegation. Predictably, the Byrne delegation unanimously voted for Goldwater at San Francisco.

Although Gov. Romney said he would not be a candidate for the Republican nomination, he is not ruling out the possibility of being nominated by the party's regulars, presumably more favorable to Nixon than Romney.

That makes sense enough. There could yet be a split between various noise abatement societies, but these will be easily subdued by the more numerous and more powerful of the music of the pipes' shrill chanter and buzzing drones.

Killed pipe bands belong in every parade, wafting out the same blood-boiling sound that spurred British fighting men into battle all around the world in the golden days of empire. There should be more and bigger pipe bands, complete with throbbing drums and bright costumes.

The bagpipes are associated with Scotland, but they came a long way before establishing their rich identity with the Highlands. Among their ancestors was the saccus of the Greeks and Romans, and the lineage goes back even to ancient Persia. The bagpipes were introduced to Britain by the Romans. They were played by minstrels who toured the courts of Europe as well as the Isles. But they took root in Scotland, and to some extent in Ireland, and have flourished there ever since.

Their reputation now is largely that of a military instrument. They are part of the British Regimental Band. The esteem in which they are held stems from the tunes of glory they have played in wars past, and from the tradition that they flourish each time they sound those tunes again.

The pipes are a mainly instrument. It takes a man with spirit in his lungs and lightning in his fingers to play them. And they're headed best by a heart that's vigorously alive and stirring. As hobbies go, piping may be a disturbing one now, and then for the neighbors but it's healthy for the musician. Once that 15 per cent duty goes off, more men may seek the benefits of a great breathing exercise involved in keeping that sheepskin bag up to the proper pressure. Connecticut Yankee

By A.B.O.

The Connecticut landscape is no longer, in any season, quite the working landscape it used to be when we were growing up in it as a boy on a farm. The land isn't quite as honest as it used to be. Much of it has fallen into the hands, and the wiles, and disguises, of city slickers. Not very much of it carries its own way in the society any more. The thing has been reversed; people are working it.

But, although much of the use, and much of the spirit, of the land has changed, there are still certain constants in it that are still true. One of these is that we think Connecticut does a better job at present than it does of any other holiday or season of the year.

Everywhere without the shadows of corn which once used to wig-wag their way across the sky, there is still a beautiful magic about the expanses of stubble where corn has grown, and proved, once more, how good the earth is.

There are no longer the pasture clearings on the hillsides, where the cattle used to graze, and the amateur apples by the wayside have yielded to professional apples on the stand, and no loutish fruit ever looks so fine as fine as fruit pure and just, and yet, for all that, there is no stretch of slope more beautiful than one precisely manicured trees of the modern orchard.

There are a few brooks that there used to be before it became fashionable to hide running water under concrete, and, strangely enough, thanks to the busy beavers of governmental conservation programs, more ponds than ever before, and they set their surprise mirrors to cloud and trees, their planetariums to the night sky, in many places to delight the passing human eye.

But what feels best, and most to look at, in the Connecticut November is the clean, spare, Partisan bareness of it all, the first dressing down, the trees stripped down, the infinitely tangled geometry of the limbs woven across the near horizon, the cold lines of these same barren trunks in the wood, the brownian reaches of the unkempt fields, all very sober, and all luminous with their very lack of ornament, and all representing, in that honesty in which artifice and distraction have been abandoned, the true, basic test of one's affections for his countryside.

Hope, Confusion Greet Plan To Ease Spain Dictatorship

MADRID (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's proposal to put Spain on the road to limited democratic monarchy gave hope today to the monarchists, confusion to Franco's Falange party and nothing to the 75-year-old dictator's opposition.

Some critics charged Franco's proposed new organic laws were only a subtle means to assure continuation of his regime.

Others looked forward to the change as a liberalization after 27 years of dictatorship.

The country's 22 million people still do not know who their next chief of state will be—or when he will take over from Franco. But they know he is scheduled to be a king and how he will be chosen.

The leading contenders are Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, 28-year-old grandson of the late king who is considered Franco's choice, and the prince's father, Don Juan, a 54-year-old exile in Portugal.

Francisco made his proposals Tuesday in a long-awaited address to the Cortes, which immediately approved the laws by acclamation. They will be submitted to a national referendum.

Spain's second in 30 years is expected to be Dec. 14. Approval is considered certain.

Appointed and cheered repeatedly by the Cortes, Franco offered to step out of some of his autocratic powers but kept his decision on when to fill the throne was left to Franco. Spain has not had a king since Alfonso XIII left in 1931 and a republic was established. Franco led an army revolt in 1936 and after two and a half years of bloody civil war, triumphed in 1939.

With its genuine, orderly and effective democracy excludes political parties, but this in no way implies the abolition of the legitimate contrast of opinions.

Opposition sources said this decision, not included in the new laws, could drive some moderate groups in the Socialist and Christian Democrats under ground. Oppositionists who had hoped to work in cooperation with the ruling regime said Franco's declaration ruled out "legitimate opposition."

Among the major changes, Franco proposed:—When Franco dies or he comes incapacitated, he will be succeeded by a king nominated by the Council of the Realm and the Cabinet and ratified by the Cortes. Nominees must be 30, Catholics of royal blood and if not approved, a regent would reign until a suitable ruler appears. The king's powers would be limited by legislative and advisory bodies, and he would be succeeded by his first male heir.

The new post of premier or chief of government is to be created apart from the Council of the Realm to a five-year term. The council also would assume important advisory duties.

The ban on public worship by Spain's 35,000 Protestants and 3,000 Jews would be removed.

Neustadt was informed of the appointment in a preliminary call from the White House aide, who told Neustadt flatly that the announcement was being made in Washington. Neustadt was notified and has made no secret of that fact to his colleagues.

Muscular Dystrophy Fund Biggest Winner

By EARL YOST

Stage is set for the 30th edition of the Five Mile Road Race in Manchester Thanksgiving morning with the greatest field in quality since the race was revived in 1945 set to answer the starter's gun at 10:30. The 1966 holiday sports feature will be sponsored for the 16th consecutive year by Nutmeg Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon. All proceeds from the voluntary street collection will be turned over to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund, national objective of the Tall Cedars.

The top 10 finishers of a year ago will all be back seeking new glory in the Five Mile history. The field will include practically a Who's Who among the leading scholastic, collegiate and club runners in New England. The entry list stood at 147 this morning, marking the 11th straight year the century mark was passed.

With receipt of Art Dulong's entry, the cream of New England collegiate cross country runners was complete. Dulong, New England schoolboy king in 1964 when he finished eighth in the local event, is fresh from a fantastic season with the Holy Cross freshman which includes a win in record time in the ICAA freshman race a week ago in New York.

The men to watch are well-known to Manchester racing fans, the grouping of pre-race favorites is headed by Johnny Kelley, the little Boston A.A. schoolteacher who gets better with age and has already won six Five Miles here in between two United States Olympic appearances.

Others in this category are Amrose Burfoot, the string-bender Wesleyan star, who holds the New England Cross Country Championship and the ICAA College Division individual honor and was undefeated in regular season meets, setting no less than five records in seven outings; Ralph Buschmann, who paced a record field of 141 starters in 1964, ranks with Kelley as the top club runner in New England; Edmond McGovern, a former ICAA and defending champion Ray Crothers; and Jim Keefe, both of Central Conn. A.A. Crothers set a record last year, covering the course in 23:02.

General chairman for the Tall Cedars, Wilbert (Red) Hadden, is serving his 12th year in that capacity with Bill Irwin his title. Veteran Charlie Dyon, a winner in 1956, who placed fifth last season; Jeff Galloway, the Georgia Peach from Wesleyan University; George Starks of Boston University, second to Burfoot in the New England; and a trio from St. John's University in Brooklyn, Tom Gazzo, Phil Tobin and Tom Mulligan.

All eyes on Kelley. Most eyes will no doubt be on Kelley. He's still Mr. Big in road racing circles. The 25-year-old Groton schoolteacher, and the man who has passed along valuable tips as an adviser.

By PETE ZANARDI

Final tops on the scholastic express at East Catholic and Manchester High appear tomorrow. The Eagles (5-0) seek a record sixth win and a second place HCC finish. The Indians will be after the second leg of the Army & Navy Club trophy, Windham retired the first trophy with his fourth win in 1964. While never having a losing season, East has never been able to post six wins in a row. Coach Don Robert hopes to do that on a good show.

South could salvage in seven other conference standouts, half-games this season. A victory back Jim Darman, who excels over East could do a lot to sweeten the year for Coach Pat McChu and his squad. South averages 185 pounds up front with a height a keynote. They're six feet or better all the way across the line. Robert should get the starting nod. Quarterback, Rick Roberts and Bill Lacy should also see plenty of offensive duty while Jim Leber's defensive ability and kicking prowess will be made use of.

Manchester Coach Dave Wignin, Quarterback Jim Nelson has thrown for better than 1,000 yards already and Paul Vian along with center Tom Dwyer will lead the line.

Local Gridders Ready for Finales Thanksgiving Day

East Catholic Hosts South Indians Trek to Windham

South could salvage in seven other conference standouts, half-games this season. A victory back Jim Darman, who excels over East could do a lot to sweeten the year for Coach Pat McChu and his squad. South averages 185 pounds up front with a height a keynote. They're six feet or better all the way across the line. Robert should get the starting nod. Quarterback, Rick Roberts and Bill Lacy should also see plenty of offensive duty while Jim Leber's defensive ability and kicking prowess will be made use of.

Manchester Coach Dave Wignin, Quarterback Jim Nelson has thrown for better than 1,000 yards already and Paul Vian along with center Tom Dwyer will lead the line.

Records Set

Last Saturday's Michigan State - Notre Dame game and several traditional rivalries helped set several college football attendance records at the NCAA Service Bureau said today.

It was the first time that four games drew more than 80,000 fans. Leader was the Ohio State-Michigan contest which attracted 84,668 fans. The Tulane-Louisiana State game had 82,567 spectators. UCLA-Southern California had 81,890 and Michigan State-Notre Dame had 80,011.

Poll, Bowl Chances at Stake

Nebraska and Texas In Holiday Features

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska's poll chances and Texas' bowl chances will be at stake Thursday when both clubs close out their regular college football seasons with traditional Thanksgiving Day contests.

The Cornhuskers, 4 in this week's Associated Press college football poll, could conceivably improve on their position with a Big Ten win if it is offered. Texas in only 5-4, but it beats the Aggies it will have won its last three in a row, including a 28-14 victory over Baylor.

Schoolboy Picks by Hoopie

Nebraska is 5-0 this season and will play Alabama, 80 and the No. 3 team, in the Sugar Bowl. The Crimson Tide appears to be a sure thing against Southern Mississippi on Saturday, but could have a little rougher time against Auburn the following week.

Notre Dame, No. 1, takes on rugged Southern California Saturday and an upset or close contest in that game, coupled with a strong Nebraska showing Thursday, could pave the way for a Cornhusker advance in the poll. Michigan State, No. 2, is 4-0 for the season. Oklahoma, however, may be a no pushover for Nebraska. The Sooners won their first four games of the season before succumbing to Notre Dame. They are 4-3 overall now after a close 10-7 loss to Missouri last week.

As for Texas, their bowl chances were revealed by the Austin American Tuesday and Coach Darrell Royal confirmed Saturday that "we have been talking with some people."

Big Thrill for Spurrier

Winning Heisman Trophy

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Steve Spurrier was on the practice field Tuesday doing callisthenics with his Florida teammates less than two hours after he learned he won the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1966.

"There's not much chance to celebrate," Spurrier told newsmen at a hastily arranged press conference.

"We've got Miami to think about and you can't let up before a game like that," he said.

Spurrier was as poised before the cameras and floodlights and endless questions as he has been on the Saturdays he has led the Gators from behind to nearly unblemished victories.

"It was certainly a thrill," he admitted.

"The margin I won it by shocked me a little, though," he said. "Florida didn't play on television this season and we were not seen over the coast."

He got 483 of the 809 first-place votes from the nation's 679 voters. Second-place Bob Griese of Purdue had 194 first-place votes.

Next in points were Nick Eddy of Notre Dame 486, Gary Anderson of North Carolina, Hickey of Syracuse 286 and Clint Jones of Michigan State 284.

Florida and Spurrier will be seen on television in the Orange Bowl game against Georgia Tech on Jan. 8. He is a Heisman 46, who still has one year remaining on his $18,000-a-year contract, also maintained all interested.

President Denies Report Hickey Will Come to UConn

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — He has not been offered the Connecticut job. The president of the University of North Carolina, Hickey, said today that he has been offered the job of athletic director at North Carolina. Coach Jim Hickey, who won the Heisman Trophy last year, is expected to leave the job after Saturday's game against Virginia.

Dr. Homer D. Babidge Jr., Hickey said, "definitely will not decline the position. He is going to learn about it from me and not from the newspapers because I've got some things I want to clear away."

In eight seasons as head coach at North Carolina, Hickey has compiled a 34-44 record with 10 bowl appearances.

Hickey is a good man," J. O. Christian retired as athletic director of Connecticut Oct. 15. Hickey was named coach of the team in 1965. He is a Heisman 46, who still has one year remaining on his $18,000-a-year contract, also maintained all interested.

Irish Hold Lead For Defense Play

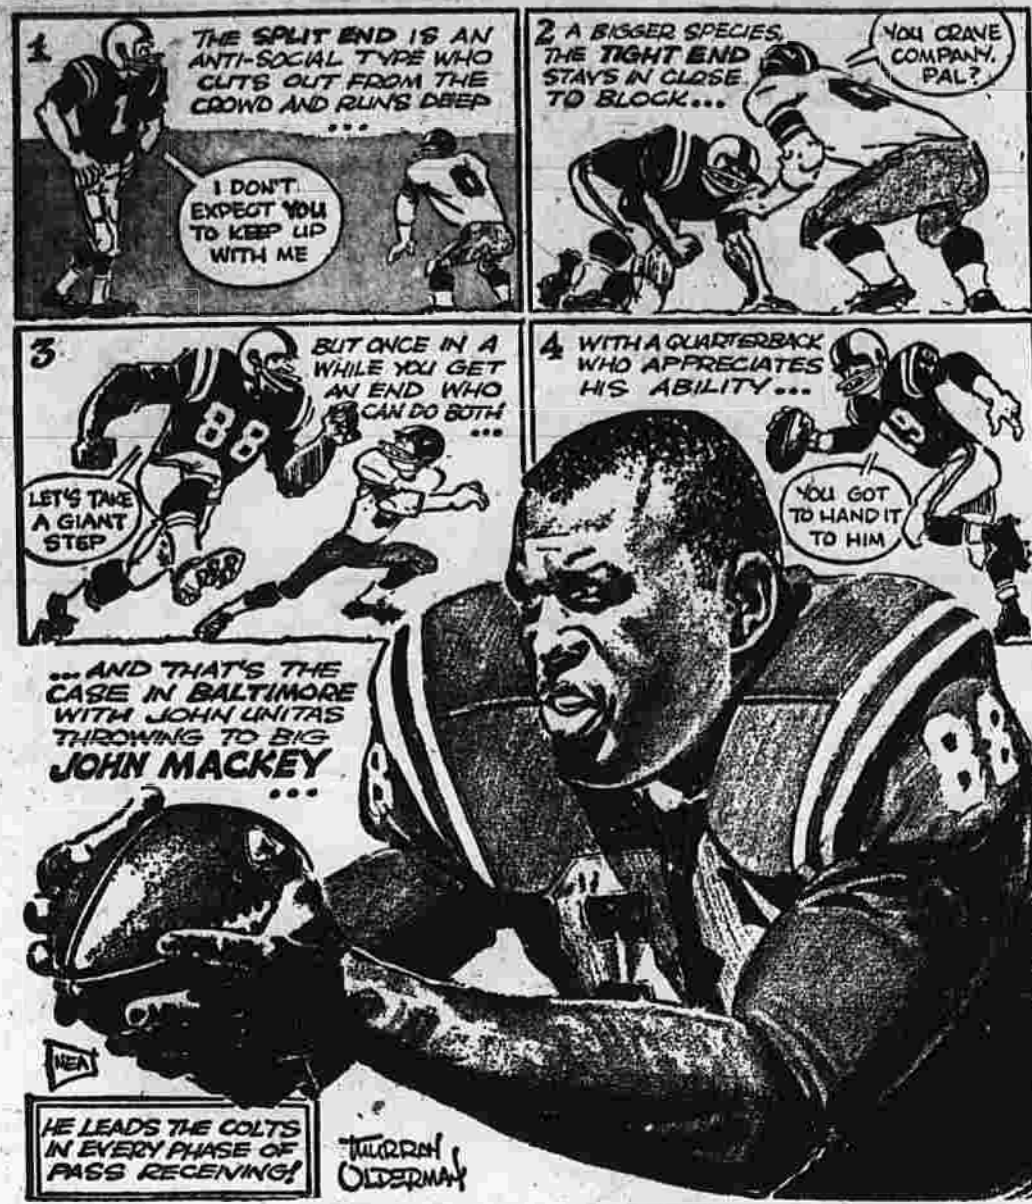

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame lost its college football scoring lead but retained its statistical lead, according to statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The Irish, tied by Michigan State 10-10 Saturday, 4-1-0 dropped from second to fourth in total offense and slipped out of the top 15 in rushing although after being ninth last week.

In scoring defense, the Irish have yielded an average of just 4.2 points per game. Alabama is second, having allowed 10.7 points per game.

Boston leads in total offense, Tulsa leads the passing offense and Harvard is tops in rushing.

Houston leads in total offense, Tulsa leads the passing offense and Harvard is tops in rushing.

Harvard Near Unanimous As New England's Best

BOSTON (AP)—It's almost unanimous: Harvard's football team, with powerful defenses, skilled passing and a blitzkrieg ground attack has won the rating as New England's top college football power this year.

The Crimson shut out Yale, 27-0, in their final game last week for a share of the Ivy League crown.

In the final Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters, Harvard took all but one first place vote plus one second place vote to top the list.

Harvard was powered by the rushing of Bobby Leo and Vic Zito on the ground, and Ric Zimmerman's passing. Art Chism won eight of his nine games this year—the best season since 1950—losing only to Princeton.

The only other first place vote went to Dartmouth along with 18 other schools.

Harvard bumped Dartmouth out of first place with a 19-14 victory over the Indians. But Dartmouth finished strong beating Penn 40-21 last week for a share of the Ivy crown with Harvard and Princeton.

Holy Cross, headed for the traditional showdown against Boston College this weekend, dominated Connecticut 16-0 and consolidated a hold on third place.

Boston College knocked Massachusetts out of a fourth place by edging the Redmen 24-7 with the aid of stout defensive line and a field goal.

Others receiving points: Art Chism won eight of his nine games this year—the best season since 1950—losing only to Princeton.

Long Holiday for Pro Grid Fans

NEW YORK (AP)—Francisco at Detroit at 12:30 p.m. EST, over CBS, moves to Buffalo at Oakland at 3 p.m., and Cleveland get the points at 3:30 p.m. EST, over CBS.

Here's how Thursday's games will be broadcast:

Buffalo 20, Oakland 17 — Bills drive toward another title despite spurring offense.

Detroit 27, San Francisco 10 — Detroit must do the job against the Lions. The 49ers pulled it out against Houston and San Diego Oct. 23 game at Kear. Both clubs playing second game five days. Lions defense should collapse.

Dallas 24, Cleveland 24 — A real toughie. This could decide the title. In Browns, Pauline Nourie 128.

Cleveland, showing him five times for losses and intercepts if they want to maintain any hope of catching Kansas City. The day starts off with San Francisco at Detroit at 12:30 p.m. EST, over CBS, moves to Buffalo at Oakland at 3 p.m., and Cleveland get the points at 3:30 p.m. EST, over CBS.

NEW YORK (AP)—While most of the country sits back and digests that big Thanksgiving Day turkey, Bob Lilly and the rest of the Dallas Cowboys' defensive line will try to gobble up Cleveland's twin running errors: Leroy Kelly and Eric Green.

Dallas, tied for the National Football League's Eastern Conference lead with St. Louis, hosts the third-place Browns in the key clash of a three-game holiday pro football schedule. In Chicago, Green Bay visits Minnesota, Los Angeles takes on Baltimore, New York is at Washington and Pittsburgh takes on St. Louis.

Lilly is the 6-foot-8, 255-pound tackle who anchors the Cowboys' defensive line. Last Sunday he led the team to a 27-10 victory over the Redskins in the NFL's newest place Washington last week and took the NFL lead. He has gained 303 yards in 17 attempts and scored 10 touchdowns. Green is fourth in rushing with 640 yards in 117 attempts.

San Francisco will try to bounce back from a tough 35-34 loss to Philadelphia but the 49ers will have to find a defense for the NFL's newest place Washington last week and took the NFL lead.

Kelly in Front Among Rushers

NEW YORK (AP)—Leroy Kelly of Cleveland has regained the rushing lead in the National Football League with a total of 499 yards in 17 attempts and scored 10 touchdowns. Green is fourth in rushing with 640 yards in 117 attempts.

San Francisco will try to bounce back from a tough 35-34 loss to Philadelphia but the 49ers will have to find a defense for the NFL's newest place Washington last week and took the NFL lead.

Explorers Play

Gene Reilly, last year's star guard for Central Connecticut, will make his debut in the New England Basketball Association Saturday night at 8:15 at Hartford High School at 8:15.

Reilly, 6-7, 175, is a senior at Hartford High School at 8:15.

Norm Crosby To Appear in Temple Show

Comedian Norm Crosby will appear Sunday, Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. at Bailey Auditorium, Manchester High School, at a program sponsored by the Student Body of Temple Beth Shalom. The Bitter End Singers, a young folk-instrument-rock group, will also appear.

Originally an advertising executive for a Boston shoe chain, Crosby is a malaprop comic whose stock-in-trade is a studied misuse of words. He broke into show business by working as a summer master-of-ceremonies and then branching out into the benefit circuit.

Five years ago he was playing the Latin Quarter, New York City, when the producer of the Garry Moore television show saw him and signed him for television. He is a close friend of Robert Goulet and often accompanies him on concert tours, appearing as show emcee. He has played most of the top night spots and television shows in the country.

'Berets,' Vietnamese Win Zone C Struggle

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. The vote in the 15-member (AP) The U.N. Security Council was 14-0 with New Zealand abstaining. The council today censured Israel for its reprisal raid on three Arab villages Nov. 21. It also warned that it would consider punitive steps if the attacks are repeated.

Censure of Israel Due in UN Council

The vote came after almost two weeks of debate. The council had considered an Israeli complaint charging Syria with permitting its territory to be used as a base for terrorist raids on Israeli territory. The Soviet Union vetoed a resolution calling on Syria to strengthen measures to halt the raids.
