Censure of Israel Due in UN Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. The vote in the 15-member Security Council was 14 to one with New Zealand abstaining. The U.N. Security Council today censured Israel for its reprisal raid on three Jordan villages Nov. 13. It also warned that it would consider punitive steps if the attacks are repeated. The vote came after almost two weeks of debate. The council had recently had before it an Israeli complaint charging Syria with permitting its territory to be used as a base for territorial raids on Israeli territory. The Soviet Union vetoed a resolution calling on Syria to strengthen measures to halt the raids. Mail and Nigeria submitted a resolution which described the Israeli action as a "large-scale military action" in violation of the U.N. charter and of the general armistice agreement between Israel and Jordan. The resolution demanded that military action be stopped and that the council would have to consider "harsh and more effective steps to enforce against the violator." The resolution also demanded that the council should take steps to ensure against the repetition of such acts. The resolution recalled also that the council had previously demanded that an end to border incidents. This was the first time that the council had taken such a strong action against a member state. Smog Alert

HARTFORD (AP)—The Connecticut State Health Department issued today a smog alert for Connecticut. A stagnant air mass over Connecticut for the past three or four days, State Health Commissioner Franklin M. Foote said, has caused a buildup in air pollution over larger cities. He said nose throat and lung are affected. Foote noted that weather forecast a marked change in conditions within 24 hours. The smog alert was issued when this occurs, he said. American artillery and air strikes had pounded the Communist troops in the action, in Tay Ninh Province nine miles northeast of Tay Ninh City and about 45 miles northwest of Saigon. North Vietnamese troops wiped out a similar Viet Cong force in the same region a month ago. The Tay Ninh action was the most spectacular ground combat in a decade since U.S. Cavalry Division troops chased the Viet Cong up river valleys of the central coast while 25th Infantrymen scoured caves in the highlands and found numerous graves. Air Force and Navy planes were active in South Viet Nam, flying a record 287 sorties against Viet Cong targets, mainly in support of ground operations in the vicinity of the border with Laos and Cambodia. Air Strikes, Artillery Hit Red Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two Vietnamese irregular companies and their U.S. Green Beret Special Forces advisers came out on top tonight in heavy combat with a Communist force in the tangled jungles of War Zone C, an American command spokesman announced. U.S. Army company linked up with the 240 or so irregulars, he said and the Viet Cong fled. "There was no final reported casualties on either side, though initial reports said that allied losses were light. Rock Smashes Car Windshield, Couple Injured

NAUGATUCK (AP)—A Bristol man and his wife suffered minor injuries when a rock crashed through the windshield of their car Thanksgiving night. Treated and released from a hospital were George Goggi and his wife Josephine, who was in the back seat of the car with their four-year-old son as they rode on Route 8. The rock weighed between two and three pounds, police said. Police said they received reports earlier in the day of damage to a car on Route 8 that was thrown from a nearby overpass by three small boys. Last September, Marc Verillo, a supermarket owner in New Britain, was killed when a rock dropped from an overpass west through the windshield of his car on Interstate Route 84 at Southington. Wounded Man Is Sought on Bad Check Count

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today all available evidence indicates that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. "We are sure," Hoover said in a statement, "that Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy." A number of books, articles and statements recently have raised questions about the validity of the findings of the Warren Commission, which named Oswald as the assassin and said he acted alone. The FBI turned down a request for a warrant for Oswald as the assassin and said he acted alone. The FBI turned down a request for a warrant for Oswald as the assassin and said he acted alone. Polluted Air Blanket Covers New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York metropolitan area today under a blanket of polluted air, again today and officials warned persons with heart and respiratory ailments to stay indoors. A forecast of wind and possible rain promised relief, however. The index of air pollution was about 3 1/2 times the normal level as the sun rose through a dismal haze today. The measurement showed a drop from the critical level reached Thursday night. Heavy pollution was reported for a few days. A 10-day period of stagnant air in November 1965 was blamed for from 170 to 250 deaths. The pollution, which began to increase Wednesday night, was attributed to a massive temperature inversion hanging over the middle Atlantic coast. The French Journalist, a Soviet air-trucking Association for earlier acts of helplessness and is a partner in the company. "I just don't pass anybody up who needs help," Martin said, noting that he had asked police at the scene not to give out any details of his deeds. "As I came up I saw the reflection of the license plate on the car," Martini said. "Then I saw a form on the ground next to the passenger side and a man standing on the other side. I stopped almost in the intersection and ran over to him. Inside were a young lady and a boy about two. They were covered with blood. I helped them out. "My thoughts were only how badly they were hurt, and how sorry I felt for them. "Then, I heard the train coming. I had a light in my hand and I saw the train. I had enough time to flag down the train. Later, the engineer told me he never saw me. Let's get these people moved over to the other side of the road! I don't think he was aware that a freight train was coming down the track." At Martin and the driver of the car, Carlos Kichen, 21, of Chicago, carried Mary Alice Evans of Williamsport, N. Y., across the road, the train struck the car. Police said the car apparently ran off the end of a dead-end road and landed on the tracks. "It all happened so fast I don't think I have time to be afraid. But now that I look back, the whole thing has me shook up. "I've never been close to that kind of flying metal - cars (See Page Twelve)

Bulgarian Air Crash Toll Still in Doubt

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Reports today said three passengers disembarked at the last stop of a Bulgarian airliner that crashed in bad weather following a 40-minute stop at Bratislava, capital of Slovakia near its border with Austria and Hungary. Czechoslovak sources said the plane, a Soviet air transport, crashed in the mountains near Bratislava. The official East German news agency ADN said one of the crash victims was the Bulgarian ambassador to East Germany, Ivan Balasov. A Yank's Ordeal Light Bulb Is Enemy In Red Prison Cell

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — In the State Department, but the stark, stone prison cell behind the Iron Curtain, a light bulb was the enemy.

"They try to keep you tense," remembers John Van Altena. "At night the light is turned on every 10 minutes. Even after you learn to sleep with it, it bothers you."

Van Altena, a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin, spent 17 months in prison in East Germany for trying to smuggle a mother and child through the Berlin wall.

"It would have been very easy to let myself go," he said. "At night you could hear prisoners scream and yell and beat their heads against the doors."

"You realize it could happen to you in two minutes if you let yourself go," he said.

Van Altena, 23, a dairy farmer's son from Milton Junction, is back at the university. He won't talk about how or why he became involved in the short-circuited escape but in an interview he described his prison ordeal for the first time.

He was working as an airlines interpreter in West Berlin in October 1966 when he was jailed.

East German security police, waiting with triple the normal guards as he approached the wall from the Communist side, found an East German passport and her child hidden in his car. Van Altena was armed with an automatic pistol. He was sentenced to eight years.

In prison, he said, survival hinged on mental discipline. "You have time to do a lot of thinking," he said. "You learn to control your thoughts. I spent days mentally pursuing a single subject."

Van Altena was in solitary confinement for one year. Many of the guards were women, burly and coarse. They complained, he said, when the screams disturbed their card games.

The prison where he spent most of his time was in East Berlin. He was interrogated almost daily. Guards were everywhere. Signal lights prevented the transfer of more than one prisoner at a time in the hallway.

An Indonesian, beaten during questioning, slipped Van Altena cigarette papers covered with handwriting. Van Altena said he smuggled them out of prison on his body and turned them over to

Memorial Fund For Pearson at Halfway Mark

The memorial fund established at Emanuel Lutheran Church to honor the late G. Albert Pearson, its former director of music, has reached the halfway mark of its goal, reports Mrs. Herman Pearson, fund chairman.

Church members and friends of Mr. Pearson inaugurated the fund last summer. They hope to raise enough to purchase a navy-foot grand piano which will be marked with a memorial plaque and placed in the sanctuary at Emanuel Pearson home church, where he served as organist and choir director for many years before his death in March 1966.

He was a leader among music educators in Connecticut and taught at Manchester High School for 36 years, heading the music department and leading the choir, the Round Table Singers and the orchestra and giving instruction in theory and voice. He retired from the schools in June 1964.

The memorial, said Mrs. Pearson, should prove "a fitting tribute to a great man who left a legacy in music with everyone who came in contact with him."

Love's ending for a dinner party: Chocolate ice cream served with coffee liqueur.

'Is Paris Burning?' New Movie Reproduces Best-Seller

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — New movie: Paramount-Seven Arts has produced the latest chronicle of a World War II epoch, "Is Paris Burning?" which details events leading up to the recapture of the French capital with a cost of thousands — perhaps millions, thanks to news reel shots — the film captures the drama, sweep and horror of war.

This is one of those multistar projects in which high-priced players take roles that ordinarily would be cast with bit players. Thus watching the movie becomes something of a game — "Why, that's Charles Boyer!" — rather than an emotional experience.

Yet "Is Paris Burning?" does play on the emotions, often deftly. The scene in which prisoners are shipped by train to concentration camps is a chilling reminder of what the war was all about. The entrance of Free French and American troops to the city brings an exhilaration of feeling, although some viewers may find their joy tempered by a realization of present-day French attitudes toward their onetime liberators.

The logistics of the film were obviously enormous. Darryl Zanuck could produce "The Longest Day" on deserted beaches and quiet villages. But "Is Paris Burning?" could be made only on one set: the City of Light itself.

The streets, monuments and parks were placed at the disposal of the film makers, and the recreations of skirmishes are exceptionally realistic.

The late Paul Graetz, a German-born American who produced films in France, and French director Rene Clement accomplished their organizational work with skill. The screenplay of Gore Vidal and Francis Ford Coppola contains more cohesion than most of the episodic war films.

The film is in black and white, necessarily so to match modern scenes with news reel photography — a final panorama in color shows today's Paris in all its glory. The matching is imperfect. Although some attempt is made to capture the grainy quality of old film, the contrast between real and staged action is obvious.

The biggest drawback to reality is the dubbing, the worst I can recall in an important film. Apparently it was necessary to provide voices for Jean-Paul Belmondo and others who speak no English. But their lines, as well as those of some of the American actors, are usually "out of sync."

Acting honors go unquestionably to Gert Frobe ("Goldfinger"), a mountain of strength as Dietrich von Choltitz, the German general who spared Paris from destruction — he died last week. Another heavy-weight, Owen Welles, performs ably as the Swedish consul-general who deals with him for a time.

Kirk Douglas, Glenn Ford, Leslie Caron, Alain Delon, Anthony Perkins, Yves Montand and Simone Signoret are among those who play fragmentary roles. Prize for the briefest goes to George Chakiris who pops out of a tank before Notre Dame and delivers two lines.

Auto Racket Probed
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is permitting automakers to sell cars to U.S. servicemen through overseas post exchanges as one step in a crackdown on unscrupulous auto dealers.

Festivals sponsored by servicemen have paid out nearly $100,000 this year for cars they never received.

The overseas GI is also prey for auto insurance and auto financing racketeers, says the government. These steps are being taken to foil racketeers.

The U.S. automakers can sell cars through post exchanges, with the PX clearing about $25 to $50 per deal; about 1,000 cars have been sold this way this year.

Auto sales firms with records of illegal dealing are being banned from military installations, and their names are being made public.

Servicemen are being urged to buy from the PX. A booklet of general information is being circulated, including tables so the GI can figure out how much credit is really costing.

New stiff requirements are being imposed on auto dealers who must sell to military men.

Youthful Math Expert
WASHINGTON (AP) — Stephen M. Boldz wants to be a math professor. He sells other books to buy math texts and he's getting part of his schooling in a Georgetown University graduate course.

It's not unusual. Except Stephen is 14 years old.

He's mostly in the ninth grade in suburban Fairfax, Va., but within a year, he'll have gone through all of his school's science and math courses.

So he's taking a twice-a-week night course in "point set topology" at Georgetown. His professor says he "completes very well."

Stephen raises a few guinea pigs, plays some chess and reads an occasional mystery story. But usually he reads about math — including the books he bought with proceeds from the sale of encyclopedias he won twice in a northern Virginia science fair.

He's slender, dark-haired, wears glasses and has a bent for math that resulted from an interest in astronomy.

His eventual aim: being a university professor so he can work with "the pure theory" of math.

Networks Accused
WASHINGTON (AP) — A conservative organization says "the three networks will have to police themselves and provide responsible election coverage, or they will have to be policed by some agency representing the interests of the American public."

The Free Society Association, whose honorary chairman is Barry Goldwater, accused the networks of distorting and perhaps influencing results through its early projections of winners and margins in the Nov. 8 election.

"Before a single ballot was officially counted," said the organization, "all three networks were 'electing' and 'declaring' winners. They were 'projecting' victory margins that turned out to be, almost unanimously, wrong — anywhere from two to three percentage points to an incredible 19."

CAPITAL FOOTNOTES
Czechoslovakia, reverting to its position, is permitting a U.S. official to see Vladimir J. Kasan-Komarek, a U.S. citizen arrested in Prague last week on espionage charges.

The Auto Industries Safety Committee says nearly 15 percent of the autos and trucks it inspected this year flunked the test.

The Lani Bird Satellite will carry an exchange of live news and public affairs programs between the United States and Japan Sunday and Monday, and with the Army-Navy football game to Hawaii Saturday.

A branch of the National Academy of Sciences wants the government to support computer research into the nature of languages.

CAPITAL QUOTE
"We're trying to get jobs for the people in the ghetto." Ross D. Davis, assistant secretary of commerce, discussing a plan to encourage government contractors to train for employment the unemployed in their areas.

Power Needs Assured
GULF, VENEZUELA — The largest hydroelectric power plant in the world is under construction in the southeastern part of Venezuela. The immense Guri dam on the Caroni River will permit the generation of 6 million kilowatts.

The local governments study a standard of measurement for future services in relation to the needs.

The local governments study aims for a detailed plan for a central information center for the 50 towns and cities of the Capital Planning Region.

FINDS FATHER DEAD
GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — Max Glavick went to his parents' rural home for a Thanksgiving Day visit and found his father dead. His invalid mother had been without food or water for six days, state police said.

Police said George Glavick, 84, apparently died of a heart attack six days ago while putting license plates on his car. His body was found in the yard.

His wife, Frances, also, 84, was found on a floor. Officers theorized she had tried to crawl to a telephone or to the door to summon help.

Mrs. Glavick was hospitalized. Her condition was listed as fair to poor.

The younger Glavick had just returned from a hunting trip.

Grants Awarded For Aid Center, Welfare Studies

HARTFORD (AP) — The Connecticut Research Commission announced today its award of grants totaling $48,000 for two research projects.

The University of Connecticut's Public Service Institute received $24,970 to study the feasibility of an information-bank service for occupational planning and management needs of local governments in the Capitol Planning Region.

An award of $13,000 went to the University Research Institute of Connecticut for a study on child welfare needs and resources in the state.

The commission said the child welfare study is aimed at formulating a broad plan for providing a standard of measurement for future services in relation to the needs.

The local governments study aims for a detailed plan for a central information center for the 50 towns and cities of the Capital Planning Region.

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Police were searching this morning for two masked burglars who looted the home of restaurant owner Frank Pepe Thursday and made off with cash and checks valued at several thousand dollars.

Pepe, owner of Pepe's Restaurant, surprised the burglars as they were emptying the safe in his apartment. Pepe told police they scooped up the money and escaped before he could catch them.

Paris Stresses Fluid Lines Dazzling New Prints Mark Spring Fashions

PARIS (AP) — Winter hasn't begun, but Paris ready-to-wear designers have already shown spring collections of lovely sunshiny colors, dazzling new prints and a floating, mobile silhouette line.

The coat dress has displaced the shirtwaist dress. The biggest thing in silk prints is the Fucci-inspired all-over kinetic design in bright, colorful del arte pastels.

Jersey knits have taken hold to meet the needs of speed, travel and comfort. Motynaux and Matle models for after dark are treated to touches of glitter, or knights' chain armor. Tricorns are pretty, carefully detailed and well made.

Colors are all the sunshine shades, orange in several tones, soft Bengal rose and hot pink, and escaped before he could catch them.

Three in State Die in Crashes; Fatal Fire Too

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Thanksgiving weekend brought death to three persons involved in traffic accidents on Connecticut roads and to a Hartford woman who died in a fire in her apartment.

Albert H. Joler, 49, of Hartford, was killed early Thursday when he was hit by a car while crossing Main Street. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Barley's that day. Zachary Scott, three-year-old son of Mrs. Cornelia Kuber of Short Hill, N.J., was killed when a car driven by his mother left Interstate 91 in North Haven, overturned and hit a post.

Also, the Air Force announced Wednesday that Airman 2.C. Richard F. Kolan of Danbury, Conn., was killed Tuesday in a traffic accident in down town Anchorage, Alaska.

Area Weather
WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — Considerable cloudiness and mild today is the word from the weatherman for Connecticut.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says moisture and wind flow from the southwest has been on the increase and should continue through the day.

By nightfall and into part of Saturday, cloudy conditions and a threat of showers will be general throughout New England, the weather bureau says.

High pressure over Georgia will continue to push slowly southward and release its hold on the northeast. A weak disturbance over Lake Michigan is moving northward and will be responsible for the possible snow activity tonight and early Saturday.

A frontal system associated with the low trails southward into Texas. The northern half of the cold front is expected to pass Connecticut very late tonight or early Saturday morning. The result will be a change of wind direction from southwest to northwest, a break-up of cloudiness, and cooler after-noon temperatures.

Five Day Forecast
Temperatures in Connecticut Saturday through Wednesday are expected to average above normal.

The normal high and low in the Hartford area is 44 and 27, in Bridgeport 48 and 32, and in New Haven 47 and 31.

Cool at the beginning of the period with a moderating trend thereafter.

Precipitation may total less than one-tenth of an inch. Falling mainly toward the end of the period.

Granny in Tizzy over Talk Of Electric Auto Comeback

DETROIT, (AP) — Grandmother Lilian Reynolds was far from ready for the rocking chair she has that new car fever again — ever since she heard the news about electric cars...

Her claim as the nation's first auto salesman was backed up by the Automotive Old Timers Association, which gave her one of their national awards. She was delighted to be listed with such award winners as George Romney of Michigan...

Mr. Wagner recalled that the electric car of her day had a battery range of about 100 miles on a battery charge. Among them was Clara Ford, wife of industrialist Henry Ford...

Mr. Wagner recalled that one of the toughest parts of her original sales business was the final bargaining days that she had to teach practically all the women customers how to drive...

Pvt. Alvin C. York, third cousin of the World War I hero of the same name, waits for a command with his platoon at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Army Has New Alvin York; Never Met His Hero Cousin

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Nam, "I'll do my job," he says. A young man named Alvin C. York joined the Army nearly 50 years ago.

The Army now has another Alvin C. York, a third cousin to the most decorated enlisted man in World War I.

The original York grew up in Tennessee where he hunted fox and sold the pelts for $35 each.

The present-day York grew up in Illinois where he works with his father and two brothers in the family landscaping business.

The two men never met. "I always wanted to write my cousin, but I never did," says Pvt. York, stationed at Ft. Campbell, for basic training.

World War I's Sgt. York entered the service in 1917. On Oct. 8, 1918, then Cpl. York killed 137 enemy and took 128 enlisted men and four officers prisoner.

Pvt. York, 21, was born and brought up in Spring Bay, Ill., has had the nickname "Sarge" since he was a child. He jokes that he didn't learn his real name until "about six years ago."

"I've always wanted to be in the Army," he says. "I guess something inside of me wanted to become a soldier."

York's drill instructor, S. Sgt. Marion Ridge, said, "One thing he does have over the other trainees is outstanding drive and enthusiasm. He'll make a fine soldier some day."

York, admitting he would like to rival his cousin's feats, doesn't believe his famous name has set him apart from the other trainees. But, he says, "It comes as a shock to them to find out they're with a relative of a hero."

If York is assigned to Viet tended to recognize vaguely Israel's contention that the raid was made necessary because of Arab sabotage attacks across the border prior to Nov. 13.

The U. N. General Assembly's main Political Committee launched a new appeal Thursday for a ban of all nuclear testing everywhere in the world.

Spurred by Red China's recent atomic tests, the committee approved 72-0 a resolution that tests are being held in the atmosphere despite the 1963 limited test ban treaty.

France abstained. It has not signed the treaty and does not take part in the 17-nation disarmament talks in Geneva, where an over-all test ban treaty has been under consideration.

The resolution is certain to be approved by even a larger vote in the General Assembly. Many members were absent Thursday because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Services at the Center Congregational Church, 111 Main St., will be at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Emmons is a graduate of Middlebury (Vt.) College, served in the U. S. Army, and was a businessman seven years before entering the ministry. He received a B. D. degree at Andover Newton Theological Seminary, Newton Centre, Mass. He served as youth minister and director of religious education while going to seminary, and later was pastor of a Massachusetts church, and Protestant chaplain at Danvers (Mass.) State Hospital.

He has also been associate director of a Christian Rehabilitation Center in Brantford, Ont., Can., while serving as pastor of the United Church of Canada in that town. He has worked in evangelistic and leadership programs and came to Ingraham House in 1965. The house was a gift to the conference from Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Ingraham of Bristol.

The guest minister will also conduct two sessions of a School of Prayer at the church. The first session will be Sunday from 7 to 8 in the Federation Room of the church. The topic will be "When People Pray." The second session, Sunday, Dec. 4, at the same time and place, will have for its theme "The Hidden Spring of Prayer." Both sessions are open to the public.

Increase Noted In Idle Claims Opens on Monday Nation's Newest Zoo Ready in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A concrete compound or glassed-in cages. It has acquired new and rare animals by birth, barter, and purchase.

There is Herman the Rhino, a $24,000 purchase from India. Its journey to Los Angeles last spring was interrupted by a stop at Saigon. The South Viet Nam harbor was so clogged with war materiel that Herman's ship was delayed a month. When the ship was finally able to leave, it was short of food.

Princess Lolipop, a 14-year-old chimpanzee, was born in the old zoo. Keepers held a contest to name her. The reward—a certificate naming the winner's child—was won by a child named Lolipop.

It has children's zoo has a nursery for baby wild animals and domesticated animals which children can pet and feed.

A commissary prepares special diets for animals whose wild feeding can't be duplicated in a zoo. The commissary also prepares birthday cards to the animals.

"I used to feel sorry for the animals at the old zoo," says one of its officials. "There were the elephants, for instance, crowded together they couldn't have been happy."

"The old zoo was built for 300 animals back in 1912 and there were 2,500 animals there when we closed it last August."

Three hundred animals from the old zoo will be used for training other zoos.

The new zoo, designed by Charles Lockman & Associates, has eliminated bars and placed animals in most-enclosed breed, which once roamed the steppes of central Asia by the hundreds of thousands.

Another rare equine is the Tarpan, the last of which was believed to have died in captivity in 1916. Two European zoo directors recently succeeded in "reconstructing" the breed, through controlled breeding to a 100 per cent of re-establishing the species.

Foreign Words Invading 'New' Italian Language

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The without word, widespread Italian language has opened its vocabulary to an invasion of English and American words after another.

OSLO—In olden days Norway had a strange monetary unit that represented a month's pay of a man, called the "mandamer." It was equivalent in value to a basket of butter. Only 300 remain of this

Wounded Man Is Sought on Bad Check Count

Dukes was found in a North Main Street apartment with two bullets in his chest. He refused to identify his assailant, who still is sought.

The four women arrested Wednesday were charged with passing stolen checks.

The checks were stolen from a Farmington pharmacy and a private home in Southington last month.

The girls were provided with fake driver licenses, birth certificates and social security cards and specialized in cashing the checks in large stores, police said.

Home said today the gang would at times cash as much as $200 a day.

He said several girls, ranging in age from 16 to 20, were employed by the ring. They received $25 a day for their services.

Teams of detectives were armed today with warrants for at least five more persons.

Home described the girls working for the ring as "victims of a Fagin." Fagin was the mastermind who trained children in crime in Charles Dickens' novel, "Oliver Twist."

Catholic Prelate Dances Irish Jig At Holiday Party

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, 71, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, danced an Irish jig at an annual Thanksgiving dinner for some 1,500 elderly persons.

The cardinal, who has had to cancel some recent engagements because of illness, acted as master of ceremonies at an outdoor luncheon — then joined in.

In nearby Plymouth, where the Pilgrims held the first Thanksgiving 346 years ago, thousands visited the historic sites.

The occasion was marked by the theft of a two-foot-long bronze model of the Mayflower from a column in front of Pilgrim Hall. It was donated in 1930 by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Tourists flocked to Plymouth Rock, Pilgrim Monument, a reconstructed Pilgrim village, Pilgrim Hall, a museum of Pilgrim lore, and the Mayflower II, replica of the ship which brought the first Pilgrims to these shores.

Thousands of visitors lined the streets at mid-afternoon to watch the re-enactment of the Pilgrim procession from Plymouth Rock to the top of Burial Hill where those who died in the first hard winter are interred.

Most of the members in the procession were descendants of those who made the first march to pay respects to the dead on the first Thanksgiving.

Teen Gangs Rob, Beat Pedestrians In Boston Melees

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Gangs of youths roamed through Harvard Square Thursday after Thanksgiving football games, beating and robbing several persons.

Police arrested three youths as off-duty Cambridge police, reinforced by Metropolitan District Police and Harvard campus police, broke up the gangs and drove them away. The youths, all juveniles, were charged with assault and battery.

Police officials estimated that more than a thousand youths were in the roving gangs.

Cambridge City Hospital treated 18 persons, including five policemen, for injuries suffered when they were attacked

By the Gangs. All were released and none of the injuries were believed serious.

Police reported finding six wallets, empty of cash, on the ground in the area after the gangs were dispersed.

HELD ON AUTO CHARGE — PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Robert Edward Bunker, 41, has been arrested on a U.S. warrant charging him with interstate transportation of a car reported stolen last Sunday in Westport, Conn.

Tomkiel Will Tell Clerks Herald Expands Building For New Printing Process

The Town Clerks of Hartford County will meet Dec. 1 and Edward Tomkiel, town clerk of Manchester and chairman of the Town Clerks' Legislative Committee, will report on bills presently being drafted for submission to the General Assembly.

There are close to 60 such bills being prepared now, dealing with general laws of election procedure, absentee voting, voter making seasons, the keeping of records at a town office, fees and many other various matters.

Tomkiel added that before the meeting of the Town Clerks of Hartford County at the Podunk Mill in South Windsor, he will meet with Mrs. Ella T. Grasso, the earth is, gets less than half the solar energy the earth does.

The first stages of construction have begun on an addition to The Herald building designed primarily to house a new photo-offset press with a 48-page capacity.

The expansion is being undertaken, according to Thomas and Walter Ferguson, co-publishers, by a photo-engraving process rather than being cast in metal.

For the reader, the result is a clearer imprint generally and particularly better reproduction of photographs.

Besides housing the press, which can be expanded to 64-page capacity, and the facilities which are necessary to the press, the addition to the building will provide a new newsroom and offices for the circulation department.

It will also free space in the existing building for expansion of the advertising and administrative departments and the photography departments which are badly crowded.

Alterations to the existing building will be a second phase of the expansion project.

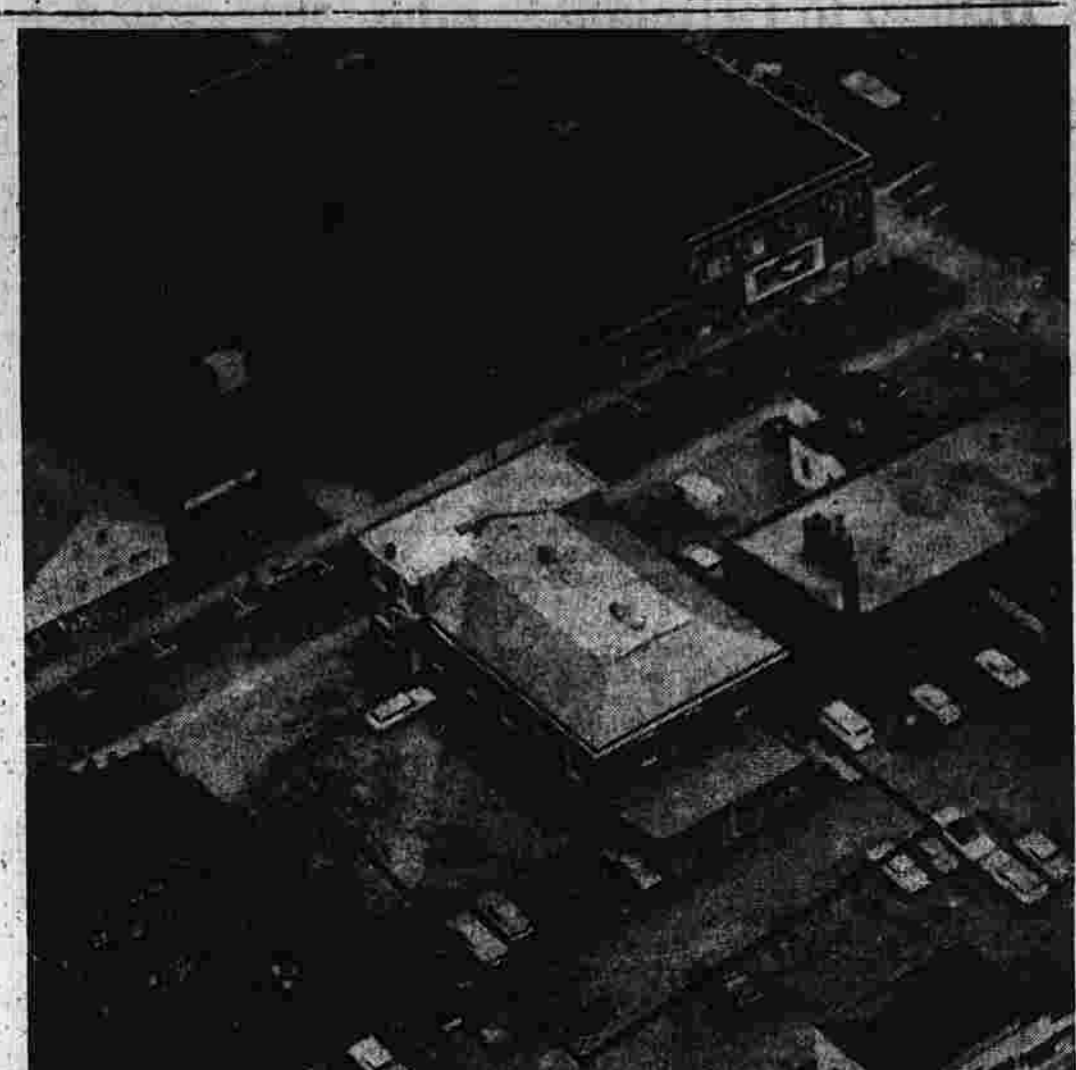

The new structure is being built by Jack R. Hunter, Inc. Building contractors of 104 Hilliard St. It will be a one-floor

Thus, it is necessary to build a new newsroom and the existing press with a consequent interruption in publication, the publishers said.

Photo-offset presses differ from traditional letterpress presses in that the plates which print the newspaper are made by a photo-engraving process rather than being cast in metal.

The switch from the old to the new press and the move from the old to the new newsroom will be made gradually, however, according to construction and newspaper production schedules.

The Hunter company is tailoring its construction methods to prevent any disruption in daily publication.

This aerial photograph, showing The Herald building, has been altered to indicate the shape of an addition which is now under construction. The east section of the addition will take up most of The Herald's present parking lot. The north section, in the foreground to the rear of the building, is being built on newly purchased land. Parking space will be provided east of the new wing, behind the large house there. (Photo by Joseph G. Sateris)

Flies Made Sterile

LOS ANGELES—Bridication of insects through the sterility concept, using either chemicals or irradiation against other insect pests, has helped wipe out the mason fly on the Pacific island of Rota and the oriental fruit fly on Guam. It is in use along the California-Mexico border against the Mexican fruit fly. And researchers in Egypt, Israel and Central America are trying it against the Mediterranean fruit fly. In Africa, scientists are testing the sterility concept against the tsetse fly, which spreads sleeping sickness.

30 Arrested After Fighting On Dance Floor

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Police arrested about 30 persons at the Municipal Auditorium Thanksgiving night after a five-hour riot — first termed a riot — broke out at a rock 'n' roll dance.

"We need help down here bad," one police officer radioed. Within minutes more than 65 policemen surrounded the block square building in downtown Kansas City. Officers entered the auditorium carrying shotguns and nightsticks.

"I wouldn't call this a riot," said Police Lt. Robert McMeachin.

"Several fights broke out on the dance floor," McMeachin said. "As we stopped one, another would start on the opposite side of the floor."

"When they started throwing bottles, we stopped the dance and emptied the building because of the danger of flying glass."

Six persons — including three policemen, were treated for cuts. One officer had a broken finger and one was cut on the wrist.

The Whirlways Square Dance Club's open dance from 8 to 11 p.m. tomorrow will be in Coventry Grammar school. Spectators were invited.

Australian Role in Viet War Key National Election Issue

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — In campaign speeches, the commitment of 4,600 Australian troops to the American war effort in Vietnam has become a key issue in Saturday's Australian national elections. Prime Minister Harold Holt's government, which sent the troops to Vietnam, is heavily favored to survive.

"Foreign policy is the very core of this election and that's consultation with our allies and how it has been, if foreign policy is taken to mean the wisdom of being involved in Vietnam," Holt declared early in the campaign.

Despite a rash of anti-Viet Nam demonstrations, political circles say that feeling does not appear strong enough to give victory to the Labor party of Arthur A. Calwell.

Labor has 52 of the 124 seats in the retiring Parliament and needs a big vote to swing to win a majority and unseat Holt. The ruling Liberal-Conservative coalition has 71 seats. There is one independent.

On the eve of the election, Holt continued to get strong press support. The Melbourne Age said he seemed certain to win. The Daily Telegraph viewed the Viet Nam issue as "the preservation of Australia's alliance with America," an argument advanced repeatedly by Holt.

Much of the dispute is over the first cars to include a return he sent along a half can of paint.

His final campaign expenses soared to 32 cents. With the 7-cent contribution: $1. The rest: 7 cents.

Jueling said he spent 67 cents in the primary campaign for paint to change the number of his district on his old signs from 29 to 28 — the new number used redistricting.

McMeachin said those great-ed were charged with one or more of four counts — drunk disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and creating a public disturbance. He said some were freed after posting bond.

Police estimated that 2,000 persons attended the dance. Officers said there was no racial overtones.

Tractor Parts Scarce
NEW DELHI — For lack of spare parts, half of the 40,000 tractors in India are underutilized, a government official estimates. Small tractors and farm implements are badly needed throughout the country, but production of this type of machinery requires special high carbon and alloy steels that India does not manufacture in quantity.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSE LOW
TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Republican State Rep. Helmut Jueling, who won re-election to the legislature, tried to keep general election campaign expenses as low as those in his primary campaign — but failed.

But Jueling was able to return part of the campaign contribution from the Republican State Central Committee.

The contribution: $1. The rest: 7 cents.

Jueling said he spent 67 cents in the primary campaign for paint to change the number of his district on his old signs from 29 to 28 — the new number used redistricting.

New Flood Crests Mount in Tuscany

ROME (AP) — Low-lying out-skirts of Grosseto were evacuated today as two new flood crests rolled down rivers of devastated Tuscany.

Loudspeaker trucks cruised the endangered lowlands starting at dawn, urging residents to get to higher ground.

Fears were expressed that the Ombrone River, already inundating thousands of acres of farmland between Grosseto and the coast, would overflow its damaged dikes through the city late today.

The endangered area represents almost one third of the southern Tuscany city which already had been gravely damaged in Italy's great floods three weeks ago. Grosseto's population is 50,000.

Throughout the night volunteers worked by floodlights piling tons of rock into breaks in the dike which had been broken by the Nov. 4 floods.

The new Tuscany flood threats were caused by heavy down-pours Tuesday and the day before in the Siena area between Grosseto and Florence.

The rains also sent floodwaters surging down the Elbe River which flows north into the Arno just downstream from mid-mirrored Florence, but there was no new threat to Florence as waters up the Arno returned steadily to normal.

The Elbe overflowed its banks near Empoli, flooding large tracts of farm and vineyard lands.

Grosseto officials estimated that six miles of streets in low-lying outskirts of the city were flooded Thursday when the first crest hit. Water in some streets was three feet deep.

Most homes were empty. Few residents who were driven out by the Nov. 4 flooding had returned.

Italy's main north-south coastal highway, the Aurelia, was broken by the flood over a wide area south of Grosseto. Traffic stopped for inland.

Magic and Fantasy Enhance 'Over the Rainbow'

About MHS
George Bradlan called the third meeting of the Student Council to order during X period, Tuesday, Nov. 15. He announced the main purpose of the meeting, which was to hear committee reports and to have the sophomores elect five representatives to the Executive Committee.

The Social Committee reported on the alumni dance and assigned representatives who will help out. They announced the dress code they had agreed upon for sports dances. There was much discussion and the representatives finally decided not to accept these rules but to draw up a new list. The Scholarship Committee asked the representatives to remind their homerooms to sign up for tutoring.

George then presented the projects he would like to see carried out during his term. These included a charity project for the hospital ship, HOPES, a workday and car wash, a town-wide big show, slave day, Berneville day, and the re-establishment of the Varley M. Club.

The junior and senior representatives left, and the remaining sophomores voted for their Executive Committee members. Those elected were: Justin Bonham, Tom Cone, Sue Moyer, Marsha Vennart and Lora Zaglio.

Girls' Leaders
The Girls Leaders' Club Welfare Committee under the direction of Sandy Gusmano is making plans for the annual welfare project. Each Christmas the Girls Leaders club supports a needy family, supplying them with all the necessities for making their Christmas a happy one.

As is true every year, the girls were allowed to choose the family they wanted to support from three families suggested by the Welfare Department. This year the girls chose a family of seven. Each girl will bring a toy or clothes that are in good condition. They can also bring canned food for the family.

With a bake sale to be held on Nov. 30 outside the cafeteria during the lunch period, the girls hope to raise enough money to defray the cost of a Christmas tree and ornaments for the family and to make the final arrangements for their project.

Students See U.S. Mission, UN Assembly
On few mornings can one see 44 students assembled in the parking lot in front of the school at 6:45 a.m. But last Tuesday morning was one of those exceptions as members of the Current Affairs Club could be found waiting there for the bus that took them to New York City and the United Nations.

Mid-morning found the eager group at their destination, the UN Building. After their arrival, CA Club members picked up tickets for a session of the General Assembly which they attended at 10:30.

Following the General Assembly Session, the group was free to either tour the U.N. or to visit any of the bookshops and souvenir shops in the building. Lunch was next on the agenda, after which many of the students visited art museums in the area.

Three o'clock found them assembled across from the U.N. Building at the U.S. Mission. There the group was fortunate enough to hear an expert on Chinese affairs speak on U.S.-China relations. When the lecture concluded, the students were free to ask questions regarding the talk.

Around 4:15 p.m. the group boarded the bus for the return trip. One stop was made for supper on the way. At 8:30 p.m. the bus pulled into the MHS parking lot with three students aboard, after a very rewarding day.

Debaters Attend Model Congress

The United States Congress may have been elected just last Nov. 19, but the Manchester High School Debate Team participated in the morning session of the meeting, which were broken up into committees, which then proceeded to consider the propositions submitted by students. After discussion, these were reported either favorably or unfavorably to the whole body.

High schools were notified in the afternoon, the president advised to bring with them proposals to be presented to the body, and each had the right to nominate their own candidate as President of Senate and Speaker of the House. Each school was allowed two representatives in each of the two chambers. Manchester High's participation in the National Model Congress was held at Storrs, Conn. on Saturday, Nov. 12. This year, the school was allowed two representatives in each of the two chambers. Manchester High's participation in the National Model Congress was held at Storrs, Conn. on Saturday, Nov. 12. Junior Prom Set in Dream, Land of Oz

On the enchanted evening of Nov. 19, 1966, couples being ushered through the receiving line found themselves welcomed to a transformed land of dreams and Oz, to the Junior Prom of 1966, "Over the Rainbow".

As the orchestra began to play the first strains "somebody" to the rainbow. "The night was filled with the soft strains of the orchestra. The couples were ushered through the receiving line and found themselves welcomed to a transformed land of dreams and Oz, to the Junior Prom of 1966, "Over the Rainbow".

Legion of Honor

It has been said that, "Frolic and laughter are the keys to happiness." If such be the case, this week's female legionnaires undoubtedly possess the secret other long day, these are some of the good fortune. Frances Larina, better known as Fran, enjoys a life of laughter and will readily admit it. Perhaps it is her ability to impart even the smallest amount of happiness to others or her unselfishness in helping a handicapped child that bring her happiness. Each week Fran shares part of her time with deaf mute children tutoring in the fundamentals of the manual language. Because of her deep interest in this field, it is not unusual that one of her favorite persons is Anne Sullivan, whom she admires for her "complete devotion and inexhaustible patience." Fran feels that working with the deaf has had a great influence on her, and she intends to pursue this interest after college.

In preparation for that college education, our legionnaire is presently carrying a schedule which includes: English IV, Honors Latin IV, Chemistry, Modern Problems and Physics. During her leisure hours she is equally content attending a live performance of the MHS teams in action, or listening to jazz and eating an elegant lunch at the Red Skelton. Fran has top rating on Fran's list of public persons, as an Eagle Scout, a swim instructor at the school is evidenced by her participation in AFS, Aridian, Soccer, Buskin and Intramurals.

In comparison to Fran's list of likes, which could go on forever, her dislikes are few. Only one thing about MHS that she would like to see changed is the materialistic people, eggs, and spelling tests are found in this category. A determined and spirited person by nature, there is one thing about MHS that she would like to see changed is the materialistic people, eggs, and spelling tests are found in this category.

Majorettes Win in Competition

Majorettes from New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and surrounding New England states gathered at Ocean Beach, New London on Sunday, Nov. 13, for competition sponsored by the National Band Twirling Association.

The Manchester High Majorettes led by Beverly Bergamini and Mr. William Paradis, faculty advisor, won first place in the military twirling competition and second place for the dance and twirl routine. Trophies were awarded for both places. Participating teams include: Michigan, Montana, Linda Bruce, Barbara Koehler, Nancy Flaster, Cynld Gahano, Laurie Lambert and Vivian Parkman.

The military routine is usually accompanied by drums and marching music, but because of limited conditions, only music was allowed. "Bitter-sweet Bomb" by the Tijuana Brass was the background music to which the girls, dressed in evening gowns, performed their dance and twirl routine.

Starting early in the morning with solo and number one competition lasted most of the day. Two team members, Beverly Bergamini and Cynld Gahano, did very well, taking first and second places respectively in this contest.

Manchester Majorettes traveled to New York, Massachusetts and Rhode Island to participate in competition. Lettie Lambert and Vivian Parkman represented the state of Connecticut in the Seaboard Majorette Association and returned from competition with seven trophies between them.

Earlier in the year, the whole team took second place in competition at Mountain Park in Holyoke, Mass.

AFS Hears About Spain

Did you know that for fifty cents in American coin, women can have their hair washed, cut and set in Spain? Or did you know that in metropolitan areas in Spain, glass and screens are uncommon for windows, and circulation is controlled by slatted wooden blinds similar to venetian blinds? And do you realize that rural areas have dirt roads and that cars travel to the south on Spanish highways.

These facts and more were woven into the story of Barbara Rayburn's summer in Spain which she presented to the AFS Club last Wednesday. The American Field Service of Spain is an opportunity to learn about a country, and to meet people from other countries and of other cultures than our own. This past summer Barbara went to Spain with a group of students from the University of California. Once in Spain she lived with a family for three weeks, and learned Spanish and the language.

Barbara showed slides of her Spanish home, historical sites, points of interest, and a real Spanish senorita in full native costume.

Tempo's Flare

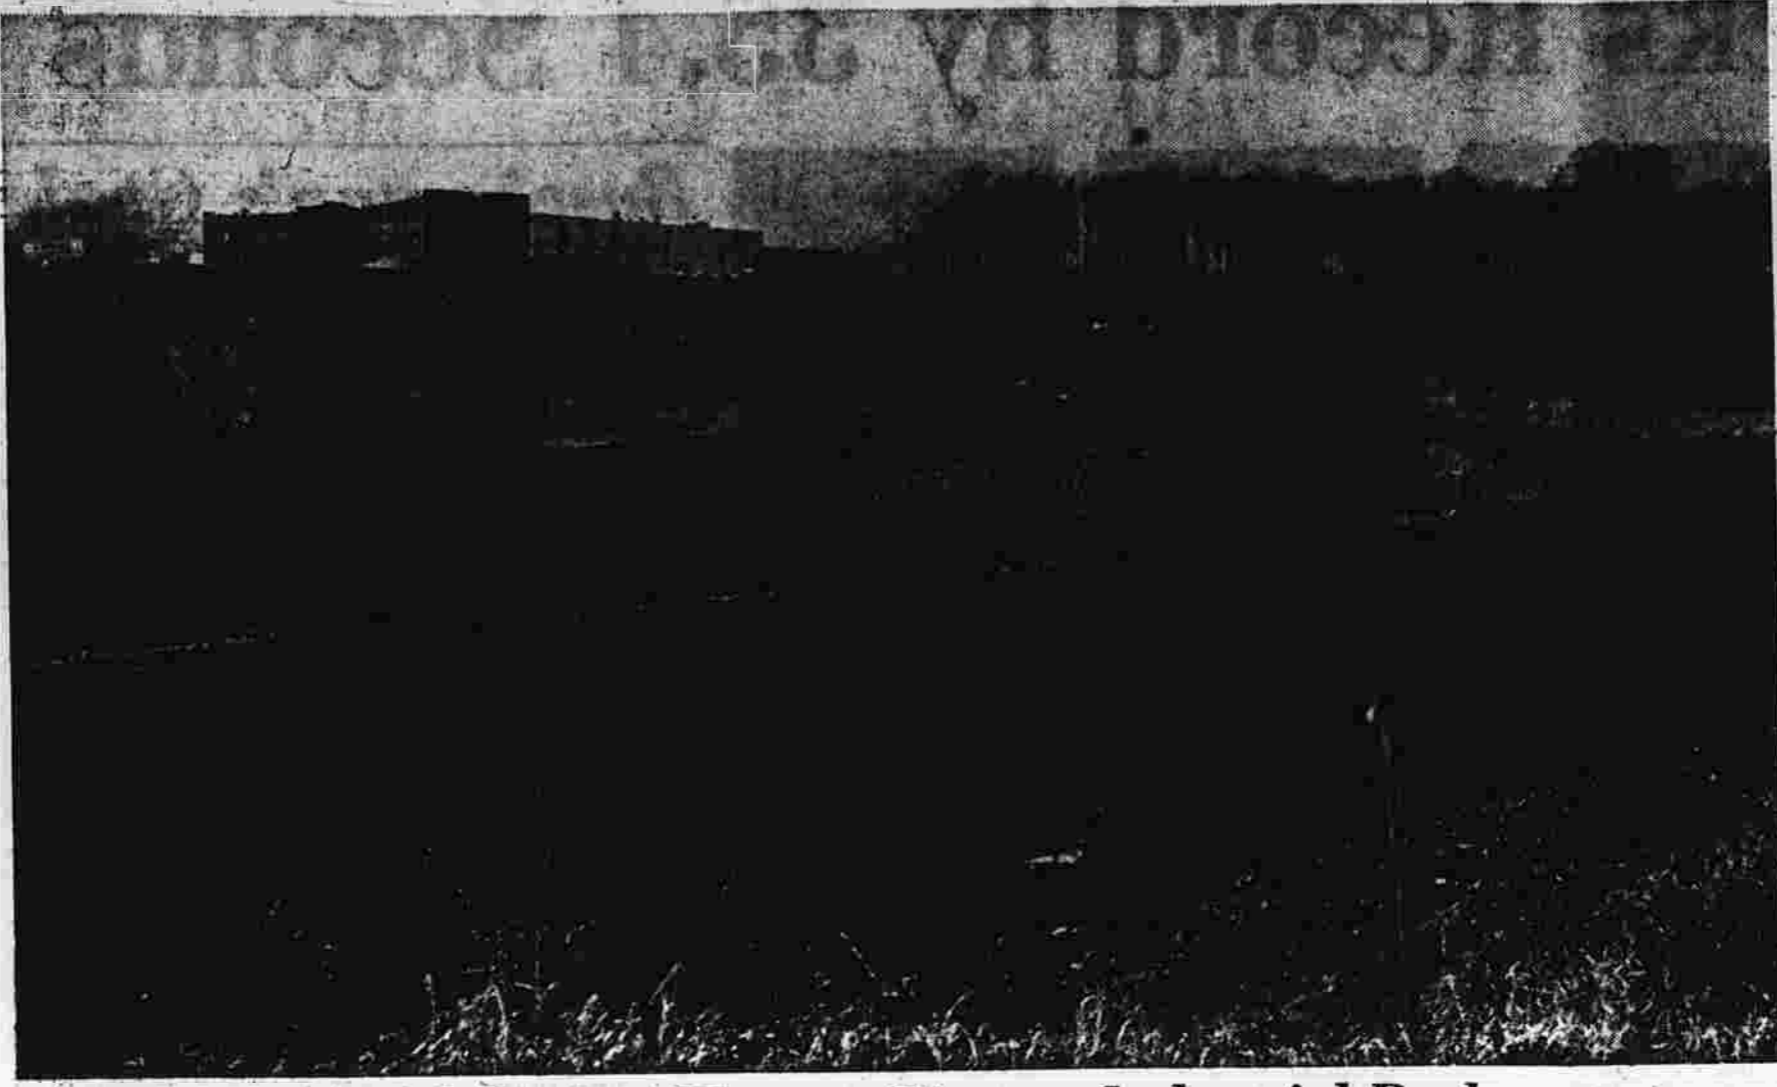

NEW YORK (AP) — General of the year when he plans to be Manager Rudolph Bing says of the Metropolitan Opera's glittering new house which he has brought about the layout of the Met's would-be grave-diggers." Road Snakes Way to Pioneer Industrial Park
The 2,000-foot-long, 50-foot-wide Hale Road snakes its way in Pioneer Industrial Park from McNeil St., out of picture at left, to a 110-foot-high water storage tank, on right and then to the $1 million new Pioneer Parachute Co. plant, now nearing construction. The town has contributed $85,000 for construction of the road and water tank and for bringing water lines into the industrial park—about $24,000 for the road and about $61,000 for the water lines and tank. The 440,000-gallon tank, owned by and filled with water of the village of Samaná, is considered to be the highest structure in Manchester. The Pioneer plant and the storage tank overlook the Wilbur Cross Highway and can be seen for miles in both directions. (Herald photo by Pinto).

Arab Legion Protests in Ramallah

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—Troops of Jordan's Arab Legion drove through the streets of Ramallah today firing in the air above slogan-chanting demonstrators demanding arms to fight Israel.

As in Thursday's troubles, the army fired over the heads of the crowd. There appeared to be no casualties.

Ramallah, scene of anti-government demonstrations for the past three days, was placed under curfew again by mid-morning.

A curfew imposed Thursday night had been lifted earlier, but the curfew was lifted and the army rode back in to restore order.

Soldiers took positions on the village of Samaná. The town of Nablus, 40 miles north of Jerusalem, was cut off from the outside world for the fifth day. Authorities have cut off water, electricity and phone lines to the city. Residents were an up when troops in military vehicles with mounted machine guns drove back into town, warning residents to get indoors.

They fired random shots in the air, sending the demonstrators and pedestrians scuttling for shelter, and then opened up with a few bursts from the machine guns, firing over the heads of the people.

The roads leading into Jerusalem have been periodically closed during the past few days by rambunctious oil drums and rocks placed there by the demonstrators.

Buschmann Cracks Record by 35.4 Seconds

Bests Record Field To Cop Five Miler

By EARL YOST
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR
Records are made to be broken and it will probably be a very long time before anyone will come close to Ralph Buschmann's phenomenal record shattering second triumph in three years in the 5th edition of the Five Mile Road Race yesterday morning. The largest starting field in history, 153 runners, attracted the largest crowd ever, an estimated 15,000, and saw the 27-year-old Buschmann win the annual five mile course in Manchester by 35.4 seconds, having an almost unbelievable 35.4 seconds off the previous standard set in 1965 by Ray Crothers.

From all points, the latest five miler, sponsored by Mustang Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, was the greatest. The weather was perfect and the race in the 21 years since the race was revived in 1945. It was sunny and warm, with a steady breeze reaching 50 degrees with no wind before the record field started down Main Street. Runners shed heavy winter clothing and few wore gloves or hats.

Buschmann, 5-8 and 137 pounds, research chemist in Wilmington, Mass., took the lead at the one mile mark and never looked back in what developed into a two-man race after the half-mile mark was reached. Long-striding Ambrose Burfoot, the six-foot-135-pound sprinter from Wesleyan University, running for the Central Connecticut A.C., was the only man able to stay any longer than the five miler.

Buschmann's Goal, Spot in Olympics

By EARL YOST
Goal for Ralph Buschmann, the little man who literally ran away from the field in the 5th Five Mile Road Race in Manchester yesterday morning in record time, is a berth on the 1968 United States Olympic team.

Winning the race was a disappointment after fifth a year ago. For twice, it was a disappointment after three place finishes in as many years.

The first 25 finishers were awarded prizes by the Tall Cedars of Lebanon. The race was won by the Tall Cedars of Lebanon's Ralph Buschmann. Mayor Nate Agostinelli handling the honors.

There was no one would disagree as far as the weather. Buschmann proved to be not only the fastest runner ever to compete in Manchester but also the fastest in getting off his running form and into stride.

Doc Still Rolling Along, Gets Boot Out of Running

By EARL YOST
Just like Old Man River, Doc Robbins just keeps rolling along. Charles Robbins, M.D., gave his 21st appearance in the Five Mile Road Race in Manchester yesterday morning.

Perhaps the biggest surprise next to Buschmann's extraordinary winning pace was Kelley's finish. The six-time champion of the five-mile road race, who was twice a member of the United States Olympic team and holder of a world record in the mile.

Looking back at 20 years of running, Kelley figured that he won here for the third time in a lifetime. He has been in about 500 since he first competed for Bulkeley High in New Britain.

Win, or lose, Kelley's name is still magic and responsible for hundreds, even thousands, turning out to watch the 5-6, 121-pounder.

Tommye Agee of the Chicago White Sox was an overwhelming favorite to win the 1966 World Series.

Red-haired Crothers was third in 1965, but this year he was 10 seconds slower than the pace he set in 1965.

When credit is passed out for the success of the Five Mile Road Race, it goes to the Helms Track and Field club of the University of Connecticut.

It's been a long time since Robbins, a UConn grad, won in fact it was in 1954-46. He has been the best of the best since he was 16, but this year he was 60th in the race.

Among those watching from the Manchester side were Bob Hamilton, Dick Bomberger, John Dunlap, Bob Dwyer, Sam Adams, Mark Heller, all members of last fall's co-ed basketball team.

Human Interest Touch Sat Down and Cried-Lynch, Race Fans Called Fabulous

Human interest touched the 5th Five Mile Road Race as Jim Lynch, age 44, from the Bank Bay section of Boston, sat down and cried when he saw his son, Jim Lynch, Jr., running in the race.
