UAC Donates River Land For Studies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scenic easement on two miles of wooded land along the Connecticut River in Middletown, Conn., was donated to the government today by United Aircraft Corp. Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., had suggested this be done to insure preservation of the 50-foot wide strip in its near natural condition during a two-year study of the potential of the entire river length to be a national recreation area.

Joseph M. Barr, vice president of United, presented the six-year easement to Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall at a ceremony in Udall's office attended by Ribicoff.

Udall commended Ribicoff and H. M. Ewener, chairman of the board of United Aircraft. "I know of no more public-spirited example than is manifest in the desire of these two leaders to assure that residents and visitors of the Connecticut Valley will have the opportunity of enjoying this great river for all the years to come," Udall said. Ribicoff issued a statement urging that all property owners along the river consider the proposal. (See Page Thirteen)

B52s Bomb Suspected VC Center

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marines, South Koreans and government forces have killed 509 Viet Cong in a 19-day hunt - and - kill operation near South Viet Nam's central coast, it was reported today.

The U.S. Command reported U.S. B52 bombers pounded the suspected central headquarters of the Viet Cong northwest of Saigon while enemy mortar crews fired against U.S. troops in the central highlands but without effect.

Fighting on the ground elsewhere slackened.

The allied coastal operation in Quang Ngai Province, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon, began Nov. 7. Associated Press correspondent Bob Gassaway reported from operational headquarters in the 1st Corps area north of the combat zone that up to Sunday the Koreans and South Vietnamese forces reported they had killed 498 Communist guerrillas while the U.S. Marines reported killing 51.

The enemy mortar attacks were aimed at troops of the U.S. 4th and 25th Divisions in positions around the Plei Djereng Special Forces - Green Beret - camp in the central highlands about 240 miles north of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said in the first attack, North Vietnamese army regulars lobbed 25 mortar rounds at 4th Division troops about 16 miles from the Green Beret camp but all fell short. No U.S. casualties were reported.

The second enemy mortar attack came after sundown against troops of the 25th and 4th Divisions about four miles south of the camp. A spokesman

Holiday Road Deaths Set Weekend Record

CHICAGO (AP) — A record holiday traffic death toll was set when 730 persons were killed in highway accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Victims under 18 years of age numbered 125.

This compared with a non-holiday weekend two weeks ago when 546 died in traffic. Eighty-one were under 18.

Both 102-hour periods covered the span from 6 p.m. local time, Wednesday, to midnight Sunday.

The record toll outstripped the former Thanksgiving holiday death record of 616 set during the four-day period last year, and the all-time traffic death record for a holiday, set during the 1966 Christmas period when 720 died in a 78-hour count.

Many accidents resulted in multiple fatalities, with two to five persons killed in a single crash. Five persons, including two married couples, died in one head-on collision near Dryden, N.Y., Saturday. Several four-car smashups were reported.

Sunday was by far the deadliest day with nearly 250 deaths.

Apparently the unusually mild, pleasant weather over most of the nation during the holiday lured unprecedented numbers of persons onto the highways. Millions crowded the roads going home on the last day of the weekend, many running into untoward weather conditions of widespread rain in the central section of the country, and some snow and freezing in the northern states.

The record Thanksgiving death toll emphasizes a general increase in traffic deaths. Fatalities have risen 29 per cent in the last five years.

The National Safety Council reports that 49,000 persons died in traffic accidents last year. The count through September of this year reached 38,190 — about 20 per cent more than for the first nine months of 1965.

This year the nation has about 95 million drivers, and they are expected to travel considerably more than the 880 billion traffic miles estimated last year.

The safety council says the Thanksgiving period is not usually regarded as a heavy traffic period. But it pointed out that at the beginning of the Thanksgiving weekend roads were dry and temperatures mild through much of the nation.

The Thanksgiving toll is the highest for any holiday so far this year. Earlier holiday periods were three-day weekends. The number killed included 666 during the New Year period, 542 on Memorial Day, 576 on Independence Day and 636 on Labor Day.

An all-time high in traffic deaths was set during the Christmas period last year when 720 persons died.

Pinschers Too Smart To Be Reliable Cops

LONDON (AP) — Britain's police have decided to stop using pinschers, the fierce-looking German guard dogs, for police work.

After using Dobermans experimentally with a number of British police forces, they said today the dogs are too smart.

One dog handler commented: "An Akasian will go for an armed man if I tell him to but a Doberman is likely to spot the gun and the potential danger and just sit down."

The Lancashire police force, which has used dogs since 1906, has disposed of its Dobermans. All its 80 police dogs are now Akasians. The metropolitan

Foreign Relations Split Seen in Republican Hands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hold the cards which could divide the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee equally between critics and supporters of President John son's Viet Nam policies in the new Congress.

Their Senate ranks increased by three in the Nov. 8 election, Republican leaders are expected to demand greater party representation on foreign relations and other important committees.

Democrats now outnumber the GOP 13 to 6 on the Foreign Relations group headed by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark. Under the new party division of 84 to 36, the Democrats would be entitled to only 12 members.

There are no vacancies on the committee, however, and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have a way of compromising such matters.

An increase in membership to add one more Republican could open the way under the seniority system for Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a former ambassador to India, to claim the new spot if he chooses to do so. Most of the GOP members who outrank Cooper in length of Senate service seem already set with the committees of their choices.

As the committee now stands, it has 10 members who have given general support to Johnson's Viet Nam course and 9 who have been critical at times of the President's actions. Cooper falls in the latter category.

Republicans also probably will be asking for larger representation on the Armed Services Committee, headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., where they now are outnumbered 12 to 5 by the Democrats.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., retires in January and thus there might be two spots open if that committee were enlarged also.

Saltonstall's retirement opens a Republican place on the powerful Appropriations Committee, now controlled by the Democrats 18 to 9. Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, leads in seniority among those who might be interested in this choice spot.

The defeat of Sens. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and the retirement of Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., open three places on the Banking and Currency Committee. The Republicans

Court Continues Organist's Trial In Mate Slaying

NEW LONDON (AP) — The case of a blonde church organist charged with murder in the death of her Navy officer husband was put off today for one week.

Circuit Court Judge Alfred Tesesco continued the case to Dec. 5 at the request of defense counsel for Mrs. Antoinette Foster.

Chief Prosecutor Harold B. Dean said the state had no objection to the continuance because the coroner's report on Lt. Cmdr. John Foster's death has not yet been completed.

5th Quint Wages Fight to Survive

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Another of the Aranson quintuplets died today, leaving only one of the tiny girls still struggling to survive.

The same ailment that killed three of her sisters claimed the life of Marcel Jill, last born of the quint, delivered 2 1/2 months prematurely Saturday to Mrs. Michael Aranson, 22, former kindergarten teacher.

The surviving child, Roni Sue, was reported in good condition. "She is kicking and crying and we are very hopeful," said one physician.

Roni Sue was the first-born and the largest at one pound 12 ounces.

The lung ailment first claimed Susan, the third-born, who died at 2:15 a.m., Sunday just short of 24 hours after birth. The second-born, Amy Beth, died at 2:15 p.m. and the fourth-born, Kimberly Ann, at 3:40 p.m.

Dr. Lee Bass, chief of pediatrics at Magee-Womens Hospital, said there also was a possibility that Marcel Jill's brain had been damaged by lack of oxygen.

infant's windpipe — trachea — through her mouth and a medical respirator was breathing for her.

Roni Sue was in a heated and glass-enclosed incubator. Her breathing was somewhat labored but not artificially aided.

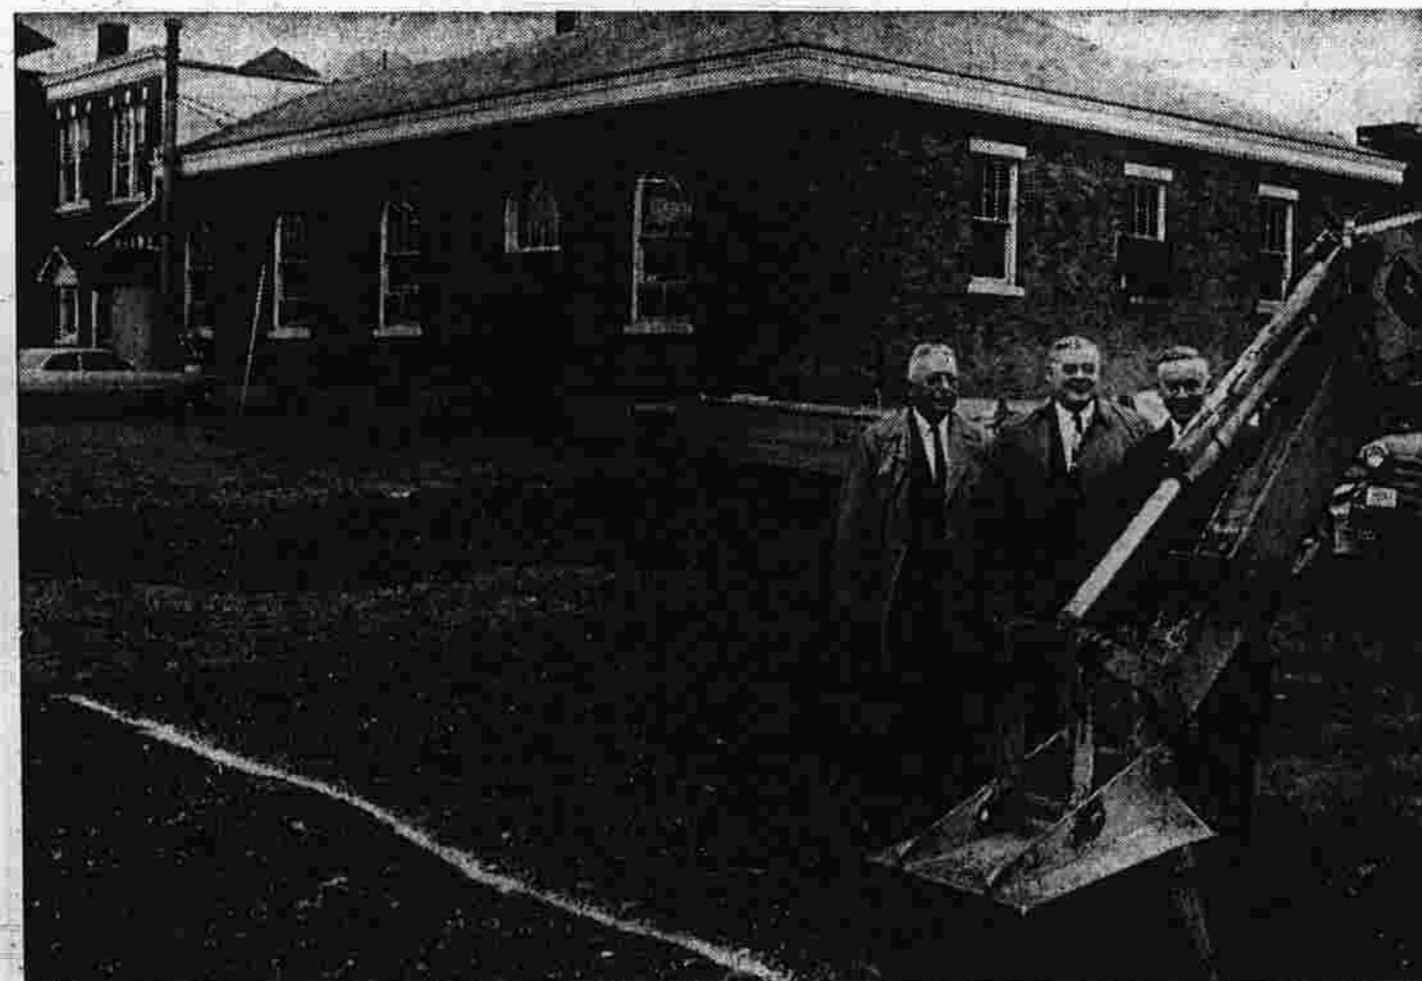

"Roni Sue continues to look very good," Bass said. "There's still the crucial 72-hour period to get through for the respiratory problem, but if she gets through that there is a good chance she can be a healthy baby."

Aranson and his wife, Patti, "are very anxious to get one live baby and are praying," the doctor said.

Bass said preliminary autopsy reports indicated the three deaths were due to hyaline membrane disease, a common cause of death among premature infants, but that this would have to be confirmed by more detailed studies.

The disease causes a glassy film to form over the inner lining of the lungs, preventing the delivery of oxygen to the blood. The quintuplets were delivered.

Mold Newest Danger To Florentine Art

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — A leading Italian art restorer said today mold has started to attack Florence's flood-damaged masterpieces.

The walls were completely repastered, the ceiling lowered and packed with insulation, windows sealed and a system of metal conduits installed, along with air heaters and blowers.

Firms from Florence and Milan contributed the equipment. Italian Nostra, an organization dedicated to preserving the national patrimony, has agreed to pay the bills. There is no firm estimate of what the "hospital" will cost. Urbani estimates it at about $48,000.

He added that even before the long drying process can begin, however, the hospital—a huge single room nearly 500 feet long—would have to be filled with a special gas to kill the mold. After that the furnaces and blowers will be put in operation to control the degree of humidity and regulate the rate of drying.

"Without this," said Urbani, who came to Florence to assist local art authorities, "the damage in the paintings would be truly fatal."

Of the 1,300 masterpieces counted damaged, more than 900 were on canvas or wood. The building is normally used to protect potted lemon trees during the winter. The trees have been moved to another building, and for a week a crew of 40 men — carpenters, plasterers, and heating technicians — has worked day and night to transform the building.

"THE WAY I HEARD IT"

By John Cruber

I had a call again about an Orleans, so then began a hunt for supposed Stradivarius violins. As usual the instrument if it had a first among turned out to be a high class one.

When, as and if it brought the instrument to America, he still knew what he had and that it was valuable, so if it is here in this country, it is undoubtedly one of the known Stradivari and its ownership can be traced right back to the maker.

I know of only one authentic Strad discovered in this country. The discoverer planned to give the instrument to Benjamin Franklin who was quite mutually inclined and performs read all of Franklin's letters he could find.

Still the letter was dated (it was to his brother Peter, by the way) and by hunting through Philadelphia newspapers of the period, the discoverer and the artist was determined with a reasonable degree of accuracy when they were in New France which settled in New York, as and if it brought the instrument to America, he still knew what he had and that it was valuable, so if it is here in this country, it is undoubtedly one of the known Stradivari and its ownership can be traced right back to the maker.

Passion Play Will Go On Despite Jewish Protest

LONDON (AP)—Britain will get a chance to see an English-language version of the famed Oberammergau passion play next year despite a row over the fact that a Jewish impresario is presenting it.

Philip Solomon, of Duneid Theatrical Productions Ltd., who also is executive director of the pirate radio station, Radio Caroline, obtained rights for presenting a shortened version of the play in Britain, Ireland and the United States, along with Vic Lewis and Brian Epstein of Nem Enterprises. All three are Jews. The firm manages Britain's famed pop singing group, the Beatles.

Immediately upon learning of the deal, the Board of Deputies of British Jews strongly condemned any Jew for taking part in such a promotion. The board also echoed the condemnation of Jews in Germany who had assailed the passion play on the ground it has an anti-Semitic tone.

Lewis and Epstein promptly withdrew. Epstein said: "I have withdrawn because I will not give offense to Jewish communities here or anywhere else."

Solomon said he would go ahead with plans to bring the play to England but intended to see there was nothing anti-Jewish in it. There is a clause in his contract with the Germans, he pointed out, "completely ruling out anything anti-Semitic."

But he said he was distressed by the board's reaction.

The producer of the play over open next February at the Hammer and the new text of the shortened version, lasting 2 1/2 hours instead of eight, will be compiled in German by Jochem Blume, a German stage and television director. Music will be composed by Herman Dublin.

A translator for putting the German text into English has play was first performed 332 years ago in thanksgiving for the Bavarian village's preservation from plague. It is performed every 10 years and usually religious leaders for approval. John Cardinal Heenan is expected to appoint someone to read the script for him.

Twelve actors will be brought over from Oberammergau, mainly young men who have not previously played leading roles in the play. The part of Christ will be played by an actor from Thiersee, an Austrian town that produces a similar but smaller passion play. The actors will mime to a script taped by English actors.

According to the Roman Catholic weekly, the Universe, negotiations are going forward for later presentation of the English-language version in America.

It originally was planned to open next February at the Hammer and the new text of the shortened version, lasting 2 1/2 hours instead of eight, will be compiled in German by Jochem Blume, a German stage and television director. Music will be composed by Herman Dublin.

Seven Traffic Deaths Mar State's Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven auto deaths, three in Glastonbury, marred the long Thanksgiving weekend in Connecticut.

Five of the victims were pedestrians.

A Glastonbury police cruiser driven by David Furan, a 22-year-old patrolman, struck and killed two boys on Route 17 in Glastonbury Saturday night.

The boys were identified as Mark Levy, 13, and Joseph Wehrly, 12, both of Glastonbury. One of the boys was carrying the other piggy-back fashion, police said.

Furan was treated at Hartford Hospital for cuts and bruises. No charges were filed against him.

A 32-year-old Zachary man, Earl N. McLean, was killed Wednesday night in North Haven when his mother, Mrs. Cornelia Kubler, lost control of her car and hit a post.

A fire in Hartford claimed the life of Mrs. Sarah Johnson, 67, in her second-floor apartment Thanksgiving Day. The medical examiner said Mrs. Johnson suffocated.

Ralph Calder, 44, of New Canaan, was killed in an out-of-state auto accident.

Calder's car crossed Route 35 in Lewisboro, N.Y. Saturday night and collided head-on with a taxi, police said. The cab driver and his two passengers escaped serious injury.

Demand Mounts Steadily

Vets, Legislators Protesting National Cemetery Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 10 million persons—more than one-sixth of the U.S. population—are eligible for burial in a national cemetery. These are military personnel, widows, their wives and minor children, and their names have been listed steadily each year. Yet, there are only about one million gravesites available in the Army's national cemeteries. A controversy had arisen about them on what to do—or whether to do anything at all. It is a government responsibility to provide the gravesites. The question arises recently when the families of certain young men killed in Viet Nam wanted to bury them in national cemeteries near their homes. But there were no available gravesites in those cemeteries. In Congress, some members urged an extension of the present system of enlargement of a specific cemetery. Various veterans organizations campaigned to get an enlarged system. They have promised to juggle the fight in Congress next year. A man who gives his life on the battlefield in Viet Nam has a right to be buried in a national cemetery. Rep. Henry J. Brown, Jr., D-Del., told the house. "It is inconceivable that a man who is known as a 44 million fighter plane in which to fight but denied a plot of ground in a national cemetery should be given his life in combat," Leslie H. Fry, Reno, Nev., said. The commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said in a statement. Of course, not all those eligible will choose to be buried in a national cemetery. Most veterans are buried in private cemeteries that they or their survivors have chosen. An official of the American

Head World War I Vets Units

Robert J. Doggart of St. West was installed as commander of the new available gravesites in Arlington will be depleted by the year 1968. But the cemetery has a special significance for this nation, and many studies now are being made as to what can be done about Arlington. There are no national cemeteries in New England, for instance, or near large cities such as Chicago, Los Angeles, Detroit and Dallas, so that often the burial enticement has turned, not on the veteran's status, but on the accident of geography. Government spokesmen have said the fair and effective way for the government to participate in the burial of veterans is through the payment of cash burial allowances, rather than attempting to provide a government-operated cemetery system. Most Veterans are eligible for a $200 burial allowance through the Veterans Administration. In addition, most are eligible for burial in a national cemetery ranging up to $250. So the burial allowance could be $450. The Department of State has said that a money allowance could be a substitute for the privilege of burial in a national cemetery. The cost to the government of a burial in a national cemetery, exclusive of the cost of the land involved, has been given as $94.40, plus $4.95 a year for perpetual care. The government also provides a headstone or marker, on request, for burials, whether in public or private cemeteries, costing from $22 to $34. Congress decided who was eligible for burial in a national cemetery. There are three principal groups: 1. Any member or former member of the armed forces of the United States whose service was terminated honorably, by death or otherwise. 2. The widows of members of the United States who served in the armed forces of any government allied with the United States during the war and whose last active service terminated honorably by death or otherwise. 3. The wife, husband, widow, widower and minor child of any of the persons in the first two categories.

In the Way' Crockery Sold For $70,560

LONDON (AP) — A piece of crockery that a housemaid complained interfered with her cleaning was sold today for $70,560. A spokesman for the auctioneer said: "For years it has been in the possession of a certain York-shire family. It sat on the dining room floor beside a sideboard. In her daily cleaning the maid often complained it got in the way of the woccan cleaner." Several weeks ago, Anthony du Boulay, an expert on porcelain and Oriental ceramics, spotted it and identified it as a magnificent early Ming blue and white flask from the first quarter of the 15th century. Only two other copies are known to exist, said the spokesman. One is in a Peking museum, the other in the Percival David Collection at London University. "It's just about the most important piece of porcelain discovered since World War II," said the spokesman. The owner insisted on remaining anonymous. The buyer was a London dealer. The owner was unable to say when the flask came into his family's possession.

Passenger Train Canceled Famed Phoebe Snow Making Final Runs

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP) — The Phoebe Snow, a passenger train with a legacy of speed and comfort, dinged back more than 60 years, rolling toward oblivion today. When its eastbound and westbound trips are completed today in Chicago and Hoboken, N.J., the Erie-Lackawanna train will become a memory. Railroad officials said the train was canceled because of rising costs and declining passenger numbers. The last westbound train left the Hoboken yard Sunday morning, pulled by the blast of train whistles and the wail of railroad workers. The train's eastbound version began its final journey in Chicago Sunday evening. The westbound Phoebe Snow was pulled to sidings, an unusual sight in recent years. Railroad officials said many passengers appeared glad to see the train go. The trip out of a feeling of nostalgia. One of those aboard, Bernice Yackis, 21, a customer from Bound Brook, N.J., was dressed in white, the color worn by the fictional girl for whom the train was named. The Phoebe Snow name was chosen to emphasize the cleanliness of the ride in the days when train passengers commonly were begrimed with soot from burning engines. The Doloware, Lackawanna & Western used hard anthracite coal, which produced little soot or smoke.

1967 World Has Much To Be Thankful For

NEW YORK (AP) — Things to be thankful for in an anxious time: The happy sounds of childhood echoing from another room. Oyster dressing and pumpkin pie. The brown and steaming turkey. The sweet and thought for ones no longer at the table. All remembrances of April. Bells that tinkle and people who don't. The excited barking of frolicking dogs. The rush of the wind in spring. The white thrill of responding sail. The resonance of man's best hopes and dreams. All causes worth sacrifice. The mystery of the power that thrills the universe through every twilight and the majesty of every new-born morning. For all this and more, thanks.

Rockets Help Remote Village Become Modern

ROME (AP) — A village in a remote Sardinian mountainside so bleak it doesn't even have a school — thanks to modern rockets and missiles. The village's improbable name of Penedagoga, which has been an orphan in Sardinia since the 19th century, has been chosen as the site for Italy's missile study center, with test launching made nearby. About 2000 old-time residents can hardly recognize the place. Its population has doubled. Rocky wood and steep slopes have been replaced by stone residences. There are shops and a hotel. The influx of new residents working at the center has made the old water system inadequate. A new aqueduct is planned and a new road will link the growing village to Cagliari in the south and Nuoro to the north. The town is fast growing away from one of the main roads. The area is fertile and the region was so remote that there were almost no dwellings in the barren hills nearby that might be endangered if missiles misfired or went out of control. Now building is booming.

Smithsonian Venture Training Program Set In Small Town Museums

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution, a treasure house of relics, is embarking on a new venture which is intended to have impact on cities and small towns throughout the nation. The program is keyed to museums and how they can pay off the immediate benefits of stimulating educational growth and the immediate benefits of producing income for towns and cities. Frank A. Taylor, director of the United States National Museum of the Smithsonian Institution, says the Smithsonian is interested in cooperation with more than 5,000 existing museums, and also is engaged in training curators and other museum workers. The 86th Congress passed, and President Johnson signed, legislation providing for a million-dollar, four-year start on the program. The underlying aim is to help improve present museums and to encourage opportunities in the places seeking them, to start now on setting them up. The Smithsonian, top Washington attraction for tourists and scholars, is a center of the nation's attention. It is a center of the nation's attention. It is a center of the nation's attention. It is a center of the nation's attention. It is a center of the nation's attention.

Barbara Stanwyck Epitome Of Criteria for Guild Award

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Starwyck. To the crewmen who produced her last western, she is always "Missy," and they treat her like royalty. Younger performers view her but not the actors. They give their award for excellence as a human being. The actual phrasing of the award is: "For outstanding achievement in her profession, she is the epitome of the finest ideals of the acting profession." As Ronald Reagan when I made "Golden Boy" with her (and she pulled me through it." Because she is such a professional, she expects others to have the same respect for the movie business. We unto any young actor who shows up late or is inattentive in giving his services to worthy causes. Last week California Gov. Ronald Reagan presented the award to Barbara Stanwyck, and guild members thundered their approval with a standing ovation. Said Reagan: "This girl has given of herself in unselfish ways of charity and good citizenship. I think there are few among us of fellow performers who are in the public who have any comprehension of the extent of this actress' devotion to those less fortunate than herself. Now starting in the television Western, "The Big Valley," she devotes her life to her acting career — and her good works, and an exponent of our art and craft of the best." Miss Stanwyck, who had been tricked into attending the guild meeting on the pretense that she was presenting the award to Reagan, dissolved in tears. "It is a long road," she said after accepting the statuette. "There are a lot of bumps and potholes in it, but this kind of event it all out, when an event like this happens in your life." No star in films is better liked by her fellow workers than Miss Stanwyck.

WHAT COMMON WORD HAS THREE LETTERS IN SUCCESSION?

Less well known is Miss Stanwyck's work for charity. She likes it that way. Once she threatened to sue her legitimate press agent if news of a certain beneficence reached print. The "bumps and potholes" of her life are well known. She was married from 1928 to 1930 to an actor, and then to a producer. She was married to the public who have any comprehension of the extent of this actress' devotion to those less fortunate than herself. Now starting in the television Western, "The Big Valley," she devotes her life to her acting career — and her good works, and an exponent of our art and craft of the best." Meat Cutters OK 3-Year Contract

NORWALK (AP) — With but a dozen dissenting votes, union meat-cutters have approved a new three-year contract with Shop Markets in three New England states. The agreement ratified 500 raters at a meeting of the United Meat Cutters of America in Norwalk, Conn., Monday. Three Railroads Urge ICC To Safeguard Stockholders

WASHINGTON (AP) - Three eastern railroads urged the Interstate Commerce Commission today to approve a unique form of protection for their stockholders.

The railroads are the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad. They are asking the ICC to require the merger of the Penn-Central to pay one penny on its common stock.

The three railroads are seeking a so-called "lock-up" provision that would prevent the stockholders from selling their shares until the merger is completed.

Under the proposal - which has been rejected before two ICC hearings - the Penn-Central would have to pay one penny on its common stock for each share held by a stockholder.

Shepherd Rout Would-be Thief

Even though he has invented modern burglar detection devices, it sometimes takes his own invention to catch a thief.

The thief managed to pry a garage door on the west side of the building, but was met with bared teeth and a growl at the office door.

The burglar device was a German shepherd. Nothing was stolen. Two other breaks, and a theft in which sign letters valued at about $175 were stolen.

'Army' Following GIs Throughout Viet Nam

DAU TIENG, South Viet Nam (AP) — There's an army in Viet Nam that never makes the lists of statistics, the table of organization or the battle reports — but it's everywhere. It's the army of camp followers — mostly children and women — that has made big business of going where the American GI's go. A recent bonanza was at Dau Tieng, northwest of Saigon on the edge of the big Michelin rubber plantation where the U.S. 1st Infantry Division made its forward headquarters for Operation Attleboro. From camp to sundown, regiments of youngsters from near-by villages scampered among the tents and rubber trees to scrounge whatever they could. While they cadged cigarettes, C rations and old tin cans nobody seemed to know exactly what the cans were for — their older sisters and mothers went to work. Laundries were established behind houses and each morning's two dozen bears against six great future for bears in the million people and as Lester G. MacNamara, director of the State Division of Fish and Game, "there is no great future for bears in the state."

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK BY ORM WEST

Some people say, "The church is always asking for money." Even if this was 100% true, the expression should be squelched because church people, places and purposes face a constantly growing need for money to carry on the work that needs to be done. The world is topsy turvy enough as it is but stop and think how ghastly unlivable it would be without churches.

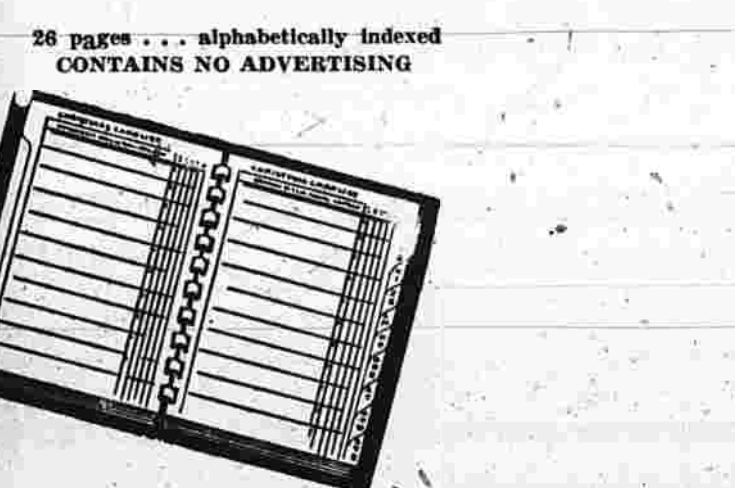

This brings to mind the meaningful words of Peter Marshall, the revered former chaplain of the U.S. Senate. "Surely there is something wrong with our lives and standards of values, when we compare what we spend for amusements and what we give to the church. There are gifts made at a cost and some are willing to do without personal comforts in order to have a real part in the Kingdom of God. But there are others whose contributions are more casual and their gifts are more like tips; less than the annual dues in the club; less than the amount they spend on non-essentials."

The thought may be worth thinking about...

Coventry St. Mary's Dedicated

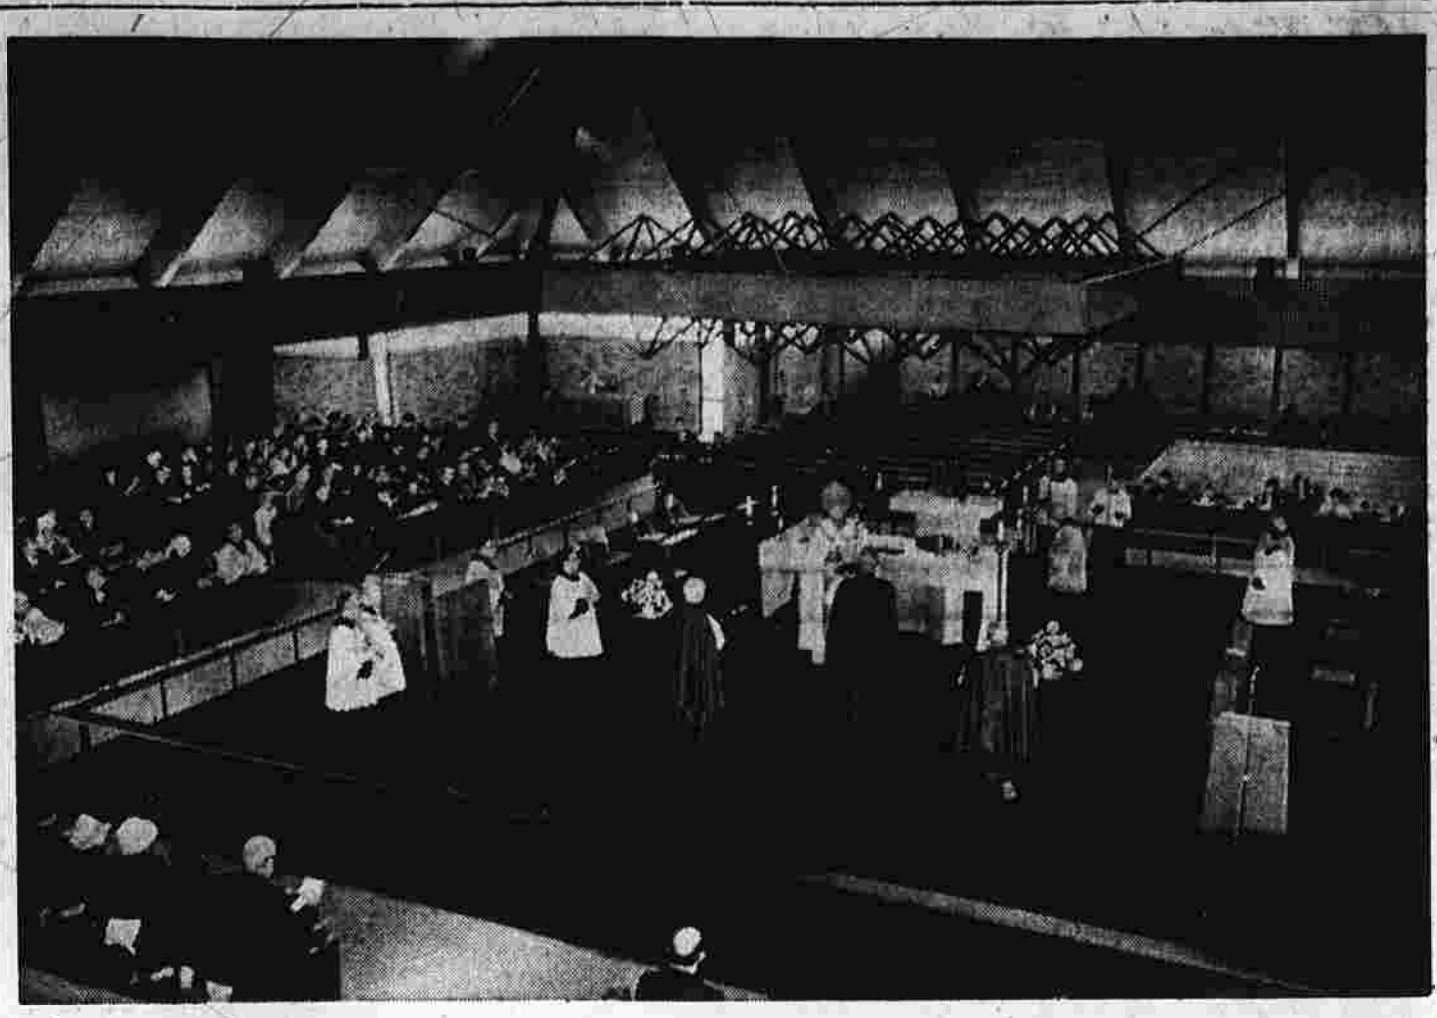

Modern-styled church uses beige bricks and has pyramid-shaped roof.

Bishop Vincent J. Hines, in the center, officiates. Pews are on all sides of the altar.

Coventry's new St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church was formally dedicated yesterday at a pontifical low Mass, celebrated by the Most Rev. Vincent J. Hines, Bishop of Norwich. The church was filled almost to its capacity of 700 with parishioners, friends, town officials and other invited guests, on an unusually warm day. In his sermon, Rev. J. Clifford Curtin of Tolland congratulated the parishioners on "this noble task, the building of this church to the honor and glory of God. It will stand for ages as a memorial to God and his people." Rev. Curtin also read a congratulatory message from Governor John Dempsey, who was invited but who was unable to attend the service. In his dedication address, Bishop Hines noted especially the efforts of St. Mary's Pastor, Rev. Bernard Foster, "who has worked many long weeks, months and years toward the completion of this magnificent church." Father Foster has been pastor at St. Mary's for 22 years. The church, of contemporary design, is located off Rt. 31 on one of the highest points in the area. The exterior is of beige brick with a band of high windows separating the walls from a roof of red cedar wood shingles. The pyramid-shaped roof is topped by a 24-foot spire and a silver cross. The interior of the church, which was designed by architect Russell, Gibson and VonDohlen, is beige brick, oak plywood and glass. The ceiling is exposed wood deck supported by timber beams and arches. The altar is situated in the center of the church and is clearly visible from any angle. It is made of Perito royal marble, imported from Italy. The side walls of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph were made from the beams used in the construction of the sanctuary and were hand-carved by one of the parishioners, Albert Rossi. The pews are of the same wood with a hickory stain. The choir is located in a balcony above the narthex. The church is carpeted throughout the sanctuary and aisles. Lighting comes from a 25-foot square multi-dome skylight 50 feet above the church floor, as well as from artificial lighting suspended in the skylight area. The new St. Mary's replaces the church formerly used by the congregation in South Coventry, which was in use for nearly 90 years. Preparations for the new church were begun in June, 1963 with the purchase of land, and a groundbreaking ceremony was held in August 1965. The church was designed to be functional, adequate and economical, with the total cost about $560,000.

U.S. Broadens Surveillance Of Viet Aid, Supply Cash

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The head of a U.S. government watchdog team said today his group soon will have on its surveillance of the way American agencies handle a $25-million effort in Viet Nam.

"We're going to look into anything and everything here," said Homer Anderson, manager of the two-month-old Saigon office of the General Accounting Office.

The GAO has 12 staff investigators in Saigon. Seven have been on special assignments since August, checking particularly on more than $200 million with newsmen at Da Nang Sunday. Young spoke then of an increase in the GAO staff in Viet Nam.

Young completed a three-day inspection tour in Viet Nam today and flew to Bangkok for a look at U.S. military activities there.

Just before leaving, Young flew by helicopter to headquarters of the 1st Infantry Division at Da An, 15 miles northeast of Saigon. Maj. Gen. William DeLoach said the division has been hearing down on the auditing practices of the Agency for International Development and other U.S. bodies here. Now, said Anderson in an interview, the GAO team will broaden the scope of its surveillance.

Sen. Milton E. Young, R-N.D., referred to this in talking send him copies of a recent Asst. Dir. series reporting extensive graft corruption and improper diversion of goods supplied by the United States.

Young told newsmen in Da Nang he thought a lot of the misuse of American supplies "has disappeared since the AP stories."

"The black markets are being cleaned up," he said, "and there are other signs of improvement. I think exposure always helps this sort of thing. It did in this case because they've already disappeared."

Colossal Temples Moved, Sun Lights Crown Again

CAIRO (AP)—As dawn spread over the desert, rays of the sun shined across the ceiling of the sun temple at Abydos, exactly that the sun's rays passed through the temple's structure on that morning last month, the first rays of the sun brought the temple on that morning.

Archaeologists say the temple was designed and their site selected by means of precise calculations by engineers of the Pharaohs so that the sun would illuminate the hour sanctuary twice a year—in late February and early October.

Only then did the light pass from the main hall of King Ramses' temple, dedicated to the worship of four gods, into the queen's temple, where Pharaohs once worshipped the goddess Hathor, and on into the morning and try to secure an important success.

Lands with GI on Lap Pilot Slams Crippled Plane Into Trees to End Viet Panic

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Air Force captain told today how he slammed his crippled transport into trees to knock down passengers who panicked when liquid flames poured from the plane's ceiling.

Nagel was making his fifth bailout of the day (Army and Navy) at the end of Operation Attleboro, the largest U.S. operation of the war. The two-engine C-23 Provider was hit by intense ground fire just after taking off from the airstrip.

"We had been warned of possible ground fire," said Nagel. "We fly with our windows open so we can hear it. This sounded like it was coming from four locations. Then we heard the wings ripping into the plane down closed to keep the spread of flames.

Some, in their panic, dove into the cockpit and tried to stop the engine. From the cockpit and tried to stop the engine. From the cockpit and tried to stop the engine.

Nagel was sitting in the cockpit's seat checking out a Thai air force officer an aircraft command of the damaged craft and saving back toward the field.

A signal light showed the Provider's landing gear was unable to land, Nagel said. It was determined later that the right wheel was properly down and locked, the nose gear was partially down and the left wheel remained in its well.

There also was a language barrier between Nagel and the Thai pilot.

"Effective communication

standing they would have been thrown all over the aircraft. Intentionally, I moved it down and dragged it through the trees. The first jolt put every body, including Houck, on the floor.

"We scraped over a rice paddy approaching the strip and I just kept flying it until we ran out of air speed. We hit right on the edge of the runway, the nose gear collapsed and we skidded to a stop about 200 feet down the blacktop.

"It wasn't until we stopped and I started climbing out of my side window exit that I realized I had a passenger sprawled across my lap the whole time we were landing."

Fifteen passengers were treated for severe lacerations and two for smoke inhalation.

From takeoff to turnback and crash landing the whole incident took "just a couple of minutes" of Nagel's 7000+ combat missions. Nagel's wife is living in Chantilly, Va. Houck has been in Viet Nam less than two months but was on his 100th combat mission.

Whacky Sunday Afternoon, TD Feast, Famine in NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League on a whacky Sunday afternoon. The Washington Redskins won the first game in the NFL's history, 17-16, in a replay of the game played last year. Then there was St. Louis' 47-10 field goal victory over Pittsburgh's fitness victory at Washington. Coach Otto Graham pushed his Redskins into the NFL record book with three touchdowns when he sent in Charlie Gogolak for a 29-yard field goal to tie the game. The 47-year-old Gogolak, who is in his 10th year, recorded 10 touchdowns in a single game. "It's a crazy game like this," shrugged Graham, "what's another three points?"

For the Cardinals, three more points can mean the difference between a victory and a defeat. St. Louis moved into a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference despite the fact that they went without a touchdown for the second straight week.

In other games Sunday, Green Bay opened a two-game lead in the Western Conference with only three games to play by beating Minnesota 28-16 while the Packers scored 28-16. Chicago defeated Atlanta 24-8.

CARDS-STEELERS—Jim Bakken kicked field goals from 26 and 15 yards out for the Cardinals, who won three of their last four games by a total of 13 points. Mike Clark booted one from 47 yards for the Steelers.

REDSKINS-GIANTS—Defensive back Brig Owens scored two touchdowns and set up two others as the Redskins won a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference.

Bell Told, Bull Charged, Chiefs Whooped It Up San Diego Sinks in West

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bell tolled, the Bull charged, the Chiefs whooped it up and San Diego sank in the West. And that, football fans, is how Kansas City became the new Chiefs of the Western Division of the American League.

The story began Sunday when Bobby Bell, Kansas City's premier linebacker, charged into the New York Jets' backfield in the second quarter and blocked a field goal attempt from the yard line. Bell retrieved the ball and raced to the New York 47.

Mike Mercer scored a 47-yard field goal and Kansas City had a 16-10 lead, instead of a 13-10 tie, and the Chiefs went on to a 23-0 victory.

Several chapters and time zones later, another linebacker, John (the Bull) Bramlett of Denver, stamped into the San Diego backfield and blocked a field goal attempt from the yard line. Bramlett's charge gave the Chiefs the lead at the time of the game.

Otto Wasn't Aware He Says-of Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington Coach Otto Graham says he wasn't aware he was the first to break the National Football League's team scoring record when he called on place kicker Charlie Gogolak to boot a field goal against the New York Giants Sunday with only three seconds remaining.

"I just wanted to give him some practice," said Graham. "Before the game and I wanted to kick a field goal during the entire game and we thought this would be a good time to let him try a field goal under game conditions."

"And besides, in a crazy game like this, what's another three points?"

The Redskins were leading the Giants 16-11 when Gogolak went into the game to attempt the 29-yard field goal. Colts Getting Old, Reach Season Low

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts are showing signs of age.

The one-enced Colt offense which had sputtered in the two previous National Football League seasons, is now on a new low Sunday as the Los Angeles Rams handed Baltimore 23-7.

The Colts netted only 140 yards for 16 offensive plays, 69 of which were on a pass from Gary Cozzio to Willie Richardson with about five minutes left in the game.

Cozzio and injured veteran Johnny Unitas completed 9 of 32 passes for 164 yards, but 57 of those were wiped out by the awesome Los Angeles line which smothered Colt quarterbacks for losses six times.

In addition to having their usually potent passing game smothered, the Colts picked up only 33 yards on 18 rushing attempts—14 by Unitas and Cozzio—so after pass patterns broke down.

By comparison, fullback Dick Bass of Los Angeles gained 128 yards—14 less than the entire Colt offense.

Unitas, who underwent knee surgery during the 1966 season, had been bothered by a sore shoulder the past two weeks. He threw five interceptions last week and didn't start Sunday night when he was replaced by the Colts' backup coach, Vanderbilt.

But Baltimore's trouble is more far-reaching than an injured Unitas.

The Colt offensive team includes guard Alex Spadisky with 13 years of NFL experience, and Raymond Berry, 22 years; Unitas, halfback Lenny

Chiefs Celebrate En Route Home

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Chiefs were on a triumphant parade in a 13,000-foot over Woodlark City, Pa., Sunday night when they learned that they were the Western Division champions of the American Football League.

"I think we've just bought a DOD," said Coach Jack Strydom at Kansas City, 1,500 fans met the plane at Municipal Airport to greet the squad.

Barney Ross Still Swinging In Battle Against Cancer

CHICAGO (AP)—A priestly figure who heard the roar of thousands of fans as he led the Chicago Cubs to victory over the New York Mets, Barney Ross fatefully never let him put down his dukes or fighting heart.

Ross, 57, was a ring terror at the world lightweight and welterweight champion in the mid-1930s.

However, boxing retirement in 1938 marked only the beginning of a fantastically grim struggle against the cancer which has now taken its toll on the American League slugger.

Ross, who has been in New York City since he was hospitalized in 1954, lost a leg in their third boxing match.

And when Barney was being treated at the hospital, he was told the cancer was in his lungs.

"I've had 10 weeks of cancer treatments and the doctors have arrested its spread."

Ross is a man who wouldn't tell you about a nightmare if his life was full of them. And it has been.

There was the hellish night in 1942, when Marine Corp. Ross killed 22 Japanese soldiers while standing guard over three wounded buddies in a Guadalcanal battle.

Then there were four turbulent months in a government hospital when Ross conquered the narcotic habit which had taken its toll on him.

And now it's still another kind of desperate battle—with no referee, no gloves and no rules.

Split Personality

NEW YORK (AP)—It appears as if Alabama, the only major unbeaten and untied team, will shoot the works against Auburn at Birmingham, Ala., on Saturday in an effort to regain the national collegiate football championship.

The Crimson Set, which trailed behind Notre Dame and Michigan State in last week's Associated Press poll, the Sugar Bowl-bound Tide has a 9-0 record to 9-1 for Notre Dame and Michigan State.

"I just wish the players and I knew what the people who voted wanted and we'd do it," Bear Bryant, Alabama coach, said Saturday.

Alabama coach, said Saturday after Alabama crushed Southern Mississippi 34-0 at Mobile and Notre Dame routed Southern California 51-0 at Los Angeles.

"This is by far the best college football team I've ever had and it's the best college team I've ever seen," Bryant said Saturday.

Undefeated Alabama After No. 1 Ranking

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the UCLA Bruins overcome the jinx of being selected to win the national collegiate basketball championship in the pre-season Associated Press poll?

Not a single pre-season choice has made good in the six years since the pre-season AP poll was started in 1961.

Now the Bruins are the choice to beat out Texas Western for the national crown in the 1967 season that opens Thursday.

The long-awaited variety debut of UCLA's varsity basketball team, coached by John Wooden, was cut out of the eye and the bout was stopped.

"I know I can beat Ortiz," said Elorde. "I was beating him the last time before I was cut. I want to win the title now, then I'll keep it two years and retire. If I lose this time, the chances are I'll retire because I'll have nothing left to fight for."

Robinson on Mend
BALTIMORE (AP)—Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, recuperating from a knee operation, leaves for his Los Angeles home today with a detailed list of exercises designed to strengthen his leg.

"This is our most important victory," Partridge said. "I know our team demonstrated it in No. 1."

Now harken to Bryant: "Back in January when we were voted No. 1, our players started preparing to win it again this year. In September we were voted No. 1 in the pre-season poll and we thought that meant they expected us to win."

"If the voters want something besides winning," the Alabama coach said, "I'll try to give them lateral forwards, deep-doodles and a few more backfield smokes on third down and nine."

This indicates the Auburn Tigers are in a tight race with the Bruins for the national title.

It's Official: Hickey Accepts UConn Post

HARTFORD (AP)—Jim Hickey leaving the University of North Carolina after eight years as head football coach came to Connecticut today as the University of Connecticut's choice for athletic director.

Hickey was scheduled to arrive at the University of Connecticut sports writers at a noon luncheon in Hartford.

On Dec. 1, Hickey officially accepted the job of athletic director at the University of Connecticut.

The formal announcement of Hickey's appointment was made Saturday night. It had been rumored for weeks before.

The announcement was held off until the end of the '66 football season. It was Hickey's worst season there; Saturday's 21-14 loss to Virginia Tech ended his record of eight defeats and two victories.

Hickey had a year left on his $18,000-a-year contract. UNC Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson had accepted Hickey's resignation with "regret" and praised the coach as "a fine representative of the university."

Cubs to Get First Choice In Annual Baseball Draft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Chicago Cubs will be best first choice when the major league baseball clubs conduct their annual player draft today, and it's just possible that Manager Leo Durocher will be tempted to dip into the Los Angeles Dodgers organization.

Durocher, a longtime coach with the Dodgers before taking over at Chicago, figures the talent that can be drafted off the Los Angeles farm clubs, particularly by the Spokane team of the Pacific Coast League.

There are at least five players on the Spokane roster who have had shots with the Dodgers and might be what Durocher is looking for.

Bob Stanley, outfielder Jim Burdette, pitcher John Furdick and catcher Bob Feller.

Following the Cubs in the draft order will be the New York Yankees, who last year drafted the American League slugger from McLain in 1964, losing a rematch before 30,000 in New York.

Training at High Altitudes Soviet, and French Athletes Getting Edge on U.S. Stars

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Soviet and French athletes may be getting an edge on U.S. competitors in the 1968 Mexico City Olympics by constantly training at high altitudes, says an American physician.

"This adjustment period can be reduced with periodic training at low altitudes," he said.

Dr. Roy F. Goddard of Albuquerque, N.M., gave this opinion in an interview at the American Medical Association annual clinical convention Sunday.

"The thin air at Mexico City is about the same as that at 10,000 feet," he said. "There probably will be long records set in maximum endurance events such as swimming and running," Goddard said.

"The Olympic Committee has sponsored research at the Lovelock station in the 1960s games. It was found that athletes who trained at high altitudes elsewhere before the games—up to 12,000 feet—were better prepared for the 1968 games."

"Competitors will be in no greater danger than they would be competing with an equivalent number of athletes at sea level," he said.

He agreed, however, that personal bests will not be as good as at sea level.

Goddard said he foresees no danger in running events up to 10,000 meters or swimming events up to 1,000 meters.

"The marathon race of 26 miles is another matter," he said. "The marathon race of 26 miles is another matter," he said. "The marathon race of 26 miles is another matter," he said.

Jack Cupit Unemotional Both Ways

BOSTON (AP)—Holy Cross quarterback Jack Leitz was hailed today as the best two-time winner of the O'Malley Award given annually to the outstanding player in the Ivy League Boston College football game.

Leitz, a senior from Baltimore, Md., capped his collegiate career Saturday by scoring two touchdowns and passing for two others, including a 39-yard pass to Pete Kinneser with 70 seconds left, leading Holy Cross to a 23-8 victory over Dartmouth.

Leitz, winner of the O'Malley award as a sophomore despite the "Crosstender" loss to Yale, was an overwhelming choice for the award. He was selected with a knee injury last season when BC romped to a 35-0 victory.

"The victory gave the Crusaders a 6-1 record. Holy Cross finished with a 4-6 mark."

"Delsy, I won. Yeah. Yeah. I know you'll be glad."

"I'm glad you weren't here. You'd have users and everything by now."

Cupit, youngest of five golfing brothers, started out Sunday with a three-stroke lead. Rodriguez, the capricious Puerto Rican swinger, was his closest rival in the tournament-final official spot for 1966, on the PGA tour.

Both finished the 27 holes in 371 under par at the 4,555-yard, 18-hole Country Club course, which plays to a regulation figure of 368-72.

Rodriguez, who earned $1,100 for second place, Dan Sikes, the golfing lawyer from Florida, earned $2,000 and Dave Hill picked up $3,000 for his fourth place finish at 274.

Rather Fight Than Switch, That's Tough Reg Flemming

Reg Fleming has hooked up with a winning combination of sports writers. Ever since he joined the National Football League's penalty kick, supplied one-third of the points behind league-leader Chicago. Fleming and his fellow writers, including Tom Curran and Bill Winters, have been working hard to get the job done. What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in? An ordinary car? Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and Le Mans. You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course. That's why it'll keep running and running until somebody turns it off. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

We even offer a 215-hp version that makes a lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a 6 like this who needs an 8? Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in all Tempests and Le Mans.
