South Windsor Panel Make-up Announced For Sex Education Study

The board of education last week announced the formation of a study group on the inclusion of sex education in the school curriculum. After discussion of the composition of a study group, the board asked the ad hoc subcommittee on public information to report at the Jan. 17 meeting with final recommendations and more specific objectives for the group.

The composition of the study group will include two members of the board, Charles E. Lyons and James Arnold; two members of the school administration, one from the elementary schools and one from the high school and five members of the teaching staff consisting of two physical education teachers, an elementary school teacher, a high school teacher and a nurse.

Also on the panel will be one member from each of the town's PTA units for a total of six representatives, two boys and two girls.

The town religious council will be asked to appoint three representatives, one from each major religious faith to the study group.

Additional spaces are open on the committee for members of the general public who would be interested in serving on the committee. The board stressed that all points of view are to be considered by the group. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the group is asked to call the superintendent of schools' office at the high school.

Memorial Group Named

A committee was named by the board as an ad hoc memorial committee for the late Paul Paul, a former Windsor teacher and former chairman of the board.

Appointed were Mrs. Jerry Sheper, Miss Josephine Zocco, Mrs. Winifred Kenny, Mrs. Pauline Williams, all town teachers, William Perry, assistant superintendent of schools, and Charles Warner, superintendent of schools.

Also, Mrs. Jane Romney, member of the board and Ralph Rennie, a resident who expressed interest in joining the committee.

A meeting of the group will be held Jan. 26 at 7:30 p.m. at a high school.

Report on School Building

Carlo Prestileo, a member of the public building commission, attended the board meeting as a representative of the PBC at the board's request.

Prestileo said while the contract date for the new middle school is January 1968, a decision of September 1966 would seem more realistic at this time for the school to be fully completed. The earliest date the school could be ready would be June 1967, Prestileo commented.

He noted that it is difficult to state exact completion dates in construction because of variables including availability of construction materials and possible strikes.

Board member Harry Anderson questioned if a work schedule exists on the project, and to what the status of the schedule is to date.

Prestileo replied that he did not know if a work schedule was being used. He noted that some 30 per cent of the steel to be used for the entire project is now present on the job site and that all base plates are in and foundation poured.

The high school addition was brought into the discussion when board member Tracy Hartnett questioned if the addition to the gymnasium had been finished with regard to the acoustics.

Prestileo commented that he was under the impression that this problem had been solved. Supt. Warner said drapes to be hung on one of the walls to deaden sound and provide better musical resonance were not yet installed.

Leaks in Roof

Supt. Warner said that some weeks ago he had received a letter from the Corning Fibers Co. asking for return of a bond on the roofing material supplied for the high school building. But a leak was found over the girls locker room area of the gymnasium yesterday.

Prestileo said when the material was accepted from the company some time ago to repair a leak in roof of the building, the company was then relieved of any responsibility on the roof problem. The roofing material to repair the entire roof was delivered, but the

MAKE RESOLUTION TO PLAY GENEROUSLY
 BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

There is still time to make a resolution for the New Year: Be generous to your opponent. Give them a trick they don't expect to win.

Opening lead—club of diamonds. If you played this sort of hand last year you ruffed the second club, drew trumps and tried to win. The defenders got one club, one spade and two diamonds, defeating your contract.

By this time diamonds are trump because the opponents could have made a slam in diamonds or clubs if you hadn't shut them out by bidding four hearts.

This year give yourself a real chance to glory by making your contract. Let West lead the ace of trumps and the ace of clubs. Throw away a spade instead of trumping the second round of clubs.

Only Exchange

This looks very generous, but it is really just an exchange of tricks. You have given up a club trick for a spade. A high card string is tied to your gift.

If West leads a trump at the third trick (his best defense), if you win, take the ace of spades and ruff a spade. You lead a trump to dummy's nine to ruff.

Another spade and lead another trump to dummy's ten to ruff. Still another spade.

By this time diamonds are trumps and you are in a good position. You lead a trump to dummy's ace and throw a diamond on the good spade. Now you lose only one diamond trick and you therefore make four for five. A good way to start an auction.

Daily Questions

As a reader, you hold: Spades: J-10-9-8; Hearts: A-K-9-4; Clubs: A-K-8-4.

What do you do?

One diamond. You have 10 points in high cards and 2 points for the singleton. You are in a good position to take the ace of spades and ruff a spade. You lead a trump to dummy's nine to ruff.

1966 in Review Busing Controversy Dominates Eventful Year in Education

By BILL COE

Events yet to come may modify the view that 1966 was one of the most significant chapters in the history of education in Manchester. The year was dominated by the busing controversy, which threatened earlier during the school's construction.

But today one can claim with some assurance that no previous year has the town's education been so eventful. The year was dominated by the busing controversy, which threatened earlier during the school's construction.

Hebron New School Construction Pact Signed

Charles Wallace, school building committee chairman, reports that the contract for the new elementary school in Hebron was signed Saturday in the office of Town Counsel Charles S. Turpin.

The contract was awarded to J. S. Nash of Williamstown, Conn., and a letter of intent was sent to the contractor. The bid was for $1,075,000.

These present at the signing were Wallace, Turpin, Joseph Nash, Edward Nash and Benjamin Palmer, architect.

The contract calls for completion of six classrooms by Sept. 7, 1967, with liquidated damages in the amount of $50 per day for each day after Sept. 7, 1967. If the classrooms have not been completed by the specified date, the 15-day delay agreed upon before the liquidated damages clause was included in the contract. Dec. 10 as stated in the bid specifications.

British Act Attacked Marriage Law Repeal Urged by Newspapers

LONDON (AP)—Three London newspapers today urged Parliament to repeal George IV's royal marriage law of 1772, which forbids a man to marry his first cousin.

The newspapers, the Daily Mail, the Daily Telegraph and the Evening Standard, all urged the repeal of the law, which is now 194 years old.

The Daily Mail said the law is "outdated and unjust" and that it is "time to repeal it." The Daily Telegraph said the law is "anachronistic" and that it is "time to repeal it." The Evening Standard said the law is "outdated and unjust" and that it is "time to repeal it."

Area Weather WINDSONG LOOKS (AP)

The U.S. Weather Bureau says cloudy skies will be the rule across Connecticut today with periods of light drizzle or snow. High temperatures will be in the 30s.

The forecast for Thursday morning shows a more general snow over the region with some rain in the north.

Today's weather map shows a low pressure system moving over eastern third of the nation. A weak disturbance is centered over the state.

A mixture of light rain and snow may occur over most of Connecticut during the night with temperatures generally above freezing. Reports of snow are few spots where temperatures early today were just below freezing and some slippery conditions were reported. An advisory was issued to motorists to drive carefully.

HELCO Masons To Visit Lodge

The George H. Allen Masonic Lodge No. 1008 of the Grand Lodge of Connecticut will visit the Manchester High School tomorrow night and portray the Master Mason degree.

A smorgasbord dinner at 6:30 precedes the degree work. Dr. Hume is chairman. More than 100 will dine together.

The HELCO team has had previous visits in the past in Manchester, and some Manchester Masons belong to the club.

There will be refreshments and a social program. Friendship officers will wear tuxedos.

Triple Tragedy ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)

Daniel W. Davis' wife, Katherine, 57, and only child had died last Friday after a short illness.

A few hours later a Marine Corps officer arrived at the home of the family with word that the couple's son, Pfc. Edward Davis, 19, had been killed Dec. 28 by an enemy explosive device in Vietnam.

Davis was in Decatur, Ill. for the funeral of his wife Tuesday night. The officer who brought the news to Davis was his brother-in-law, Lt. Col. L. B. Davis, who was in Manila, Philippines, returned to Seattle after visiting her parents in California.

A Seattle Peace Corps volunteer who protested being pulled out of the Philippines for the draft is scheduled to be inducted Tuesday.

The volunteer, Fred Lowder, was drafted by the military after receiving his induction notice and said it was a waste of time and money to train Peace Corps volunteers and then draft them.

He also termed the Peace Corps a "scam" and said he was being drafted to fight in Vietnam.

He joined the Peace Corps after he was classified IA in the draft.

The contents of Pat Graves' black leather handbag differ from most women's—her pink lipstick, jogs along next to a 38 caliber Colt revolver and a pair of steel knucklers.

But to Miss Graves, squeezing off a few rounds in a pistol range comes just as naturally as blotting her lipstick in the ladies room.

The experience Pat has had in her eight months as Manchester police department's only policewoman, however, are not as easily blotted from her memory.

"Some of the things are pretty disturbing, but I guess you get used to them. I feel as if my hands are lid sometimes, and there's nothing I can do about it," she said sitting in the dining room of her 38 Bruce Rd. residence.

Pat, who says she's been accused of slouching to one side from the weight of her handgun, drives her own car when going out on cases. The only indication that the car is owned by a policewoman is the spot light on the left side.

A native of Ohio, Pat, 29, was hired as a policewoman last May 8 after working four years as a store detective for G. Fox and Co. in Hartford.

Before that she attended Finley (Ohio) College and managed a 76-seat restaurant for two years in her hometown of Dresden, Ohio (population: 1300).

"To Pat, her former job and her college training were ways of preparing herself for police work.

Being a store manager taught her "how to get along with the public." Finley College gave her the chance to earn credits toward BA in police science; and working as a store detective was "excellent background" for police work—something she became interested in during her junior year in high school.

"Police work was something I always wanted to do, but never thought I'd do it. It was kind of a dream."

As a policewoman, she investigates crimes and complains involving women or minors. These include protecting their property and investigating cases of juvenile delinquency. Also, she assists courts and other public and private agencies to promote wholesome conditions in the community.

Miss Graves, who speaks in a sincere, easy going manner, came to Manchester from Ohio in July, 1962, to help a friend and her friend's mother move to Connecticut.

"I spied an ad in the paper that same night," she remembered. "It was an ad for a detective at G. Fox."

Pat was hired and took a six month training course in the afternoons and nights. In the mornings she studied English, political science, psychology, and anthropology at the University of Connecticut.

"Teen-agers and housewives are the biggest offenders," she said leaning back in a Windsor chair. She recalled a bold shoplifter who needed some clothes for a wedding.

"The woman stole a dress, then went to the shoe department and matched the dress with a pair of shoes, which she stole also. By the time she was finished," said Pat, "she had the family outfit."

Another shoplifter came to mind. "One guy had to buy narcotics daily which cost him $80. He had to steal $200 or $250 worth of merchandise every day to pay for the narcotics."

Though Pat enjoyed working as a store detective, she favors police work. "I like it because it's more of a career, you work with people."

After four weeks' training at Bethany State Police Troop and five weeks working with state policewomen, she qualified as a law woman.

1966 in Review New Shopping Areas Flourished in Town

By JOHN STARNIS

"Silent" Calvin Coolidge said in a speech to newsmen in 1925 that "The business of America is business." How has the business of America fared in Manchester in 1966, and what of its future?

Some industrial expansion took place, especially in those industries supplying defense materials. Shopping areas have flourished, with dozens of new ones to come, adding to competition for the consumer dollar. And new construction in certain areas has been staggered by the noose of tight money.

One of the most significant developments in manufacturing expansion has been the building of the $1 million plant by Pomper Parachute Co. at Rt. 15. Bids on it went out in March, and Conyers Construction Co. is now going the building.

Pomper over the years has had a great increase in orders for aerodynamic retardation devices, particularly from the government.

Pratt and Whitney Aircraft is doing its usual colossal business and has been beset by a labor shortage in trying to fill government and commercial orders. A shortage of skilled workers, particularly in the machine trades, has been seen.

The large orders for aircraft parts has reverberated right along, with the big companies having to subcontract more and more work to the small, private tool companies, which have flourished. Paragon Tool Co., a 16-worker outfit, has recently secured a building permit for new quarters on Adams St.

The Manchester branch of Reg-Ed Empire Tool Co. as its first tenant. But Empire ultimately purchased land from the town on Olcott St.

Colonial Board and its subsidiaries have been expanding since June. The process is still in progress. Company officials say over a half a million dollars have been invested partly on addition of a 40,000 square foot building at Colonial Board, and the rest on machinery changes at the Lyall-Fonda Division. The expansion process will be completed by next June, according to a company official.

Several other industrial parks have been planned, but not much has materialized. Industry has expanded in Manchester, but internally. No significant new industries have chosen the immediate Manchester area to produce goods.

Apparently the town is aware of this, and General Manager Robert Weiss recently proposed to the Board of Directors that it adopt a definite policy for assisting industrial developers.

Some expansion of business, particularly in the retail field, has been evident throughout the year, and the town is now called by some in the shopping center of Eastern Connecticut.

The expansion of retail business, though, has hurt some shops, particularly along Main St., and one merchant said that "the competition takes a little piece out of everybody."

The Parkade celebrated its 10th anniversary this year. New additions have been built, and it boasts 100 per cent occupancy. King's relocated in the Parkade, and the new building addition Anderson-Little opened a new factory outlet. Burton's of Main St. will soon be opening a branch store there.

Also this year, Burr's Corners in Bushland opened, with many new tenants there to provide more competition for the shoppers dollar.

Along Main Street, vacancies are apparent. Long-term leases are being signed for the Parkade, space, while on Main Street some stores are rented on short-term basis to keep the places filled.

Downtown Renewal, a 16-million dollar venture to revitalize downtown, was rejected by the voters of Manchester by an extremely thin margin — 345 votes. Plans to have a Constitution Plaza type of shopping center went awry.

One Main Street merchant insists that Main Street is not dead. Regal's has expanded its quarters. The many Music Man, catering to the wild tastes of the teen-ager, opened a music store.

Up and down Main Street other shops have come. Tweed's linen dollar venture to revitalize downtown, was rejected by the voters of Manchester by an extremely thin margin — 345 votes. Plans to have a Constitution Plaza type of shopping center went awry.

President Joins 2 GOP Leaders As Best Dressed

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson, a Democrat, and two Republicans, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, have been selected on an annual list of best-dressed men.

Johnson was selected Monday for the fourth time by the Fashion Foundation of America under the category of statesman. Romney and Lindsay were chosen under the respective designations of government and civic affairs.

Comedian Jackie Gleason was named best-dressed in the field of television. They have not disclosed whose name the checks carried.

VAULT SALE DELAYED

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A man shopping for a used bank vault was shown one at the Pickety Safe Co.

John Rice Jr. led his customer to a vault that had been stored for at least three years. They opened it and found about $30,000 in uncashed travelers' checks.

Police are investigating Tuesday's discovery. They have not disclosed whose name the checks carried.

Two "firsts" for Manchester's oldest bank... On-Line Computer Service and 4.50 interest on regular accounts!

George S. Parsons of 944 Tolland Turnpike was the first person to ever receive On-Line Computer Service in Manchester when he visited Savings & Loan yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Gloria Baluk, teller, registers the deposit as Robert J. Boyce, president, and John A. Hedlund, assistant treasurer, look on.

The instant a register is punched in the Manchester Savings & Loan Office, it is recorded in the Burrough's Computer Center in Hamden, Conn. This modern, up-to-the-minute computer system provides faster service with absolute accuracy. Another Manchester Savings & Loan "first"!

4.50 interest on regular accounts

There are new and better things for you in Manchester for the New Year! First, your Savings & Loan's new On-Line Computer Service... the first of its kind in Manchester... and, Second, new 4.50% earnings on regular accounts... the highest in Manchester!

With On-Line Computer Service you will receive faster teller service. Your account can be checked in seconds. In fact in split seconds! This automatic service eliminates the necessity for the teller to locate a ledger card and insert it in the register. Only your bank book is inserted. If you have not had dividends recorded recently, your dividends are recorded automatically, and then your deposit... in split seconds! On-Line Computer Service also eliminates manual bookkeeping and human errors.

This is just another feature your Savings & Loan Association provides first... for better banking... along with insurance on accounts up to $15,000, and instant 4.50% earnings paid from day of deposit four times a year... Manchester's highest interest rate on regular accounts!

bumper grain crop, by far its greatest in history.

Khrushchev, who made a great to-do about concentrating on Russian farm problems had to suffer the consequences of grain crops which were disastrously low.

His successors claim they are responsible for the difference, with their introduction of new methods. Perhaps, indeed, their particular policies have encouraged Russian agriculture, whereas Khrushchev frightened it. But there can be considerable doubt that if Khrushchev had had big harvests in 1963 and 1964, he could have been quoted from power.

But it didn't rain for Khrushchev as this year for his successors. In fact, the "circadian" clock of the earth itself rotates in a 24-hour cycle, brings certain predictable states or conditions of being to predictable times of the day.

This research into the operation of what is called the "biological clock" is the very latest thing in science. It is so very modern that it is using words—like "circadian"—which haven't had time to make even the latest dictionaries.

The rhythms which follow the dictates of the "biological clock" to the enzyme systems are called "circadian rhythms."

As for one of the first great and sweeping pronouncements to come from this research, it has discovered nothing less than that the circadian clock of susceptibility for houseflies and cockroaches occurs daily at 4 p.m., which means that this is the recommended housecleaning time for these insects.

One notes that there is a difference in the kind of biological clock nature runs inside of different living things. The circadian clock of man is vulnerable at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in which the normal human being feels least tired.

One notes that there is a difference in the kind of biological clock nature runs inside of different living things. The circadian clock of man is vulnerable at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in which the normal human being feels least tired.

As for one of the first great and sweeping pronouncements to come from this research, it has discovered nothing less than that the circadian clock of susceptibility for houseflies and cockroaches occurs daily at 4 p.m., which means that this is the recommended housecleaning time for these insects.

At The Ballet With Striklan Olfers. "IN THE KINGDOM OF SWEETS": Hartford Ballet Company's "Nutcracker" At The Bushnell, December 29

When Princes Disagree. The United Auto Workers' Union, which is led by Walter Reuther, has unveiled a long letter to its 1,500 local unions, setting forth the elements in an obvious disagreement between the UAW and the Reuther and the present leadership of the national labor organization, the AFL-CIO, which leadership is George Meany.

The letter presents many areas of divergent views, but the long lettering Reuther-Meany feud is contained in the paragraphs which head directly into the area of foreign policy.

"There is the UAW letter asserts, 'no basic difference between the UAW and the AFL-CIO' in determination to resist 'Communist aggression and to struggle against all forms of tyranny that would destroy human freedom and enslave the human spirit. We in the UAW can be proud of our record of Communism and all other forms of totalitarianism.'

We share the view, however, that the most effective way to fight Communism is to make democracy work. We believe that anti-Communist people should not be afraid to take the positive steps to abolish poverty and hunger and to eliminate social and economic injustices which are the ingredients of Communist exploitation and attempts to forge into political power.

Together with many others in the labor movement, in church, civic and educational groups, and in the field of international affairs, we have felt that the attitude of the AFL-CIO on most foreign policy questions has been narrow and negative and has not strengthened but rather weakened the free world's efforts to resist Communism and all forms of tyranny."

This is the precise nub of the Reuther-Meany warfare. It is the question of the possibility of coexistence: Reuther considers it necessary. Meany is a hawk; Reuther more nearly a dove. The one probably despises the other. Meany, the other believes in strengthening it until it is a world government.

These divisions between two princes of the labor movement happen to be almost exactly parallel to the divisions of the church, with Pope Paul expressing the views that would probably make taking the kind of stand which pleases Meany.

What makes a Reuther or a Meany, a Pope Paul or a Cardinal Spellman? We suspect there is a certain quotient of intelligence involved. We cannot but believe that certain dispositions of the human heart are also influential.

But no one must make judgments which are too arbitrary. Let us content ourselves with being thankful that a Reuther, a Pope Paul or a Spellman appear on the scene, to illumine those possibilities and potentials which suggest the dignity and nobility of man.

Man, Weather, And History. Now we have no way of knowing or proving that the history of the world during the past two years would have been influenced one way or another by the personal position of any one individual world leader. Whether the individual faces of supposed power direct history, or merely ride tides that are coming along anyway, is a question for fascinating and eternal dispute.

But if there is any real possibility that the personal fate of important leaders has anything to do with the course of history, then it can also be argued that weather makes history.

Nikita Khrushchev might very well be the active leader of Russia today, could he have obtained, either in 1963 or 1964, a combination of mild weather and general summer rainfall which has blessed Russia in 1965.

What Russia has, this year, is a bumper grain crop, by far its greatest in history.

Khrushchev, who made a great to-do about concentrating on Russian farm problems had to suffer the consequences of grain crops which were disastrously low.

His successors claim they are responsible for the difference, with their introduction of new methods. Perhaps, indeed, their particular policies have encouraged Russian agriculture, whereas Khrushchev frightened it. But there can be considerable doubt that if Khrushchev had had big harvests in 1963 and 1964, he could have been quoted from power.

But it didn't rain for Khrushchev as this year for his successors. In fact, the "circadian" clock of the earth itself rotates in a 24-hour cycle, brings certain predictable states or conditions of being to predictable times of the day.

This research into the operation of what is called the "biological clock" is the very latest thing in science. It is so very modern that it is using words—like "circadian"—which haven't had time to make even the latest dictionaries.

The rhythms which follow the dictates of the "biological clock" to the enzyme systems are called "circadian rhythms."

As for one of the first great and sweeping pronouncements to come from this research, it has discovered nothing less than that the circadian clock of susceptibility for houseflies and cockroaches occurs daily at 4 p.m., which means that this is the recommended housecleaning time for these insects.

"That Kind of Man" - other call in a different section of town. As daylight ascended over Manchester our fire and police department were again called to the scene of the first fire, where it had smoldered and raked during the night. This can happen, it may have been due to a human error. I cannot say, but I do know that I and my family can be thankful for our fire and police protection, and with God's help may we never through an act of carelessness endanger those of our family. We appreciate and are thankful for these public services, who will work every day, twenty-four hours of every day. It wasn't long before he made his presence felt; he was very strong arm approach, but by his quiet determination, his knowledge and ability, his honesty and his complete devotion to his town. He started work early in the morning and late in the night, many times with a briefcase to continue work at home. Walter was a public spirited, very ordinary. He earned and received the respect of his associates, his superiors and his employees—the townspeople of Manchester. He has done more than just spend six years of his life in Manchester, he has produced, and the products of his work will be evident for some time to come. Walter will be missed by those who know him and by those who don't as well. I would like to join with all the others in wishing all the best to the family in their new hometown. I would hope that Walter will not have to work quite as hard as I do, he will anyway—he is that kind of man.

By the Associated Press Today is Wednesday, Jan. 4, the fourth day of 1967. Are there 361 days in the year. Today's highlight in History is that on this date in 1780, George Washington delivered the first annual presidential message.

Ten Years Ago President Dwight D. Eisenhower announced the appointment of former Sen. Walter George, D-Ga., to a $20,000-a-year post created for him as the president's assistant with the rank of ambassador.

Five Years Ago The outlawed rightist French secret army organization, led by a former French army general, issued an open call for insurrection in Algeria in an attempt to thwart the efforts of French President DeGaulle who was trying to negotiate an end to the seven year Algerian Moslem revolt.

One Year Ago Actor Ronald Reagan entered the political arena with the announcement of his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California.

Today's Birthdays: Actress Jane Wyman is 88; Sen. Republican Leader Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois is 71.

Our tendency is to want to tie ourselves to the mountain tops, to the great "religious experiences" of our lives as did Peter. We want to build as we can keep living here. The real Jesus one evening, Peter was quite inspired. He responded to Jesus and his disciples is that not that is our misfortune, "Let's build some tents here."

I suppose that we all have at one time or another had a very moving experience which caused us to feel much closer to life and its meaning. If we have not, that is our misfortune, "Let's build some tents here."

Car Safety Standard Modifications Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stage is set for some give-and-take between the automobile industry and the federal government over safety features to be included in 1968 model cars.

The four major U.S. producers and many foreign manufacturers notified the Commerce Department Tuesday of their inability to meet all 23 safety standards proposed for next year's cars.

They indicated some could be met immediately, but requested a delay in putting others into effect to allow for design and production changes.

Dr. William Haddon Jr., administrator of the National Highway Safety Agency, withheld judgment on the thousands of pages of comments received from manufacturers and suppliers.

But there already were indications the differences would be negotiated.

Haddon said it will take two weeks just to evaluate the industry comments. He said he won't know until that time whether negotiations will be held on possible modification of the 23 proposed standards.

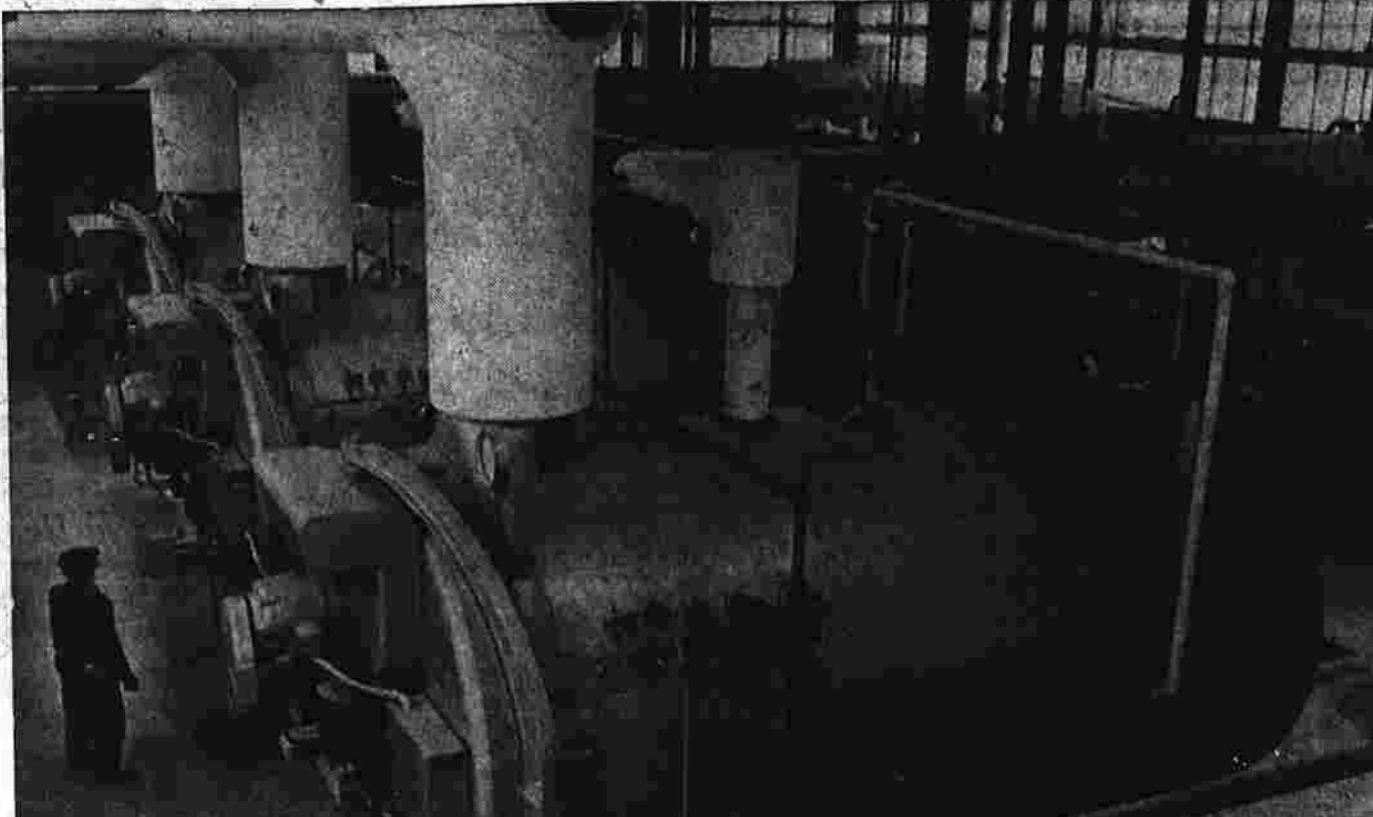

Under law, his agency must publish by Jan. 31 its final standards for 1968 model cars, a shock and if finally adopted would mean an end to its U.S. market.

Volvo, the Swedish firm, said it could meet 10 standards immediately, but incorporating 23 of them into 1968 cars now would disrupt production because of the need to redesign and retool for them.

The "domestic manufacturers" said they would like to see the standards lowered but never got it built, died eye's policy to keep an open door.

Hospital's New Steam Boiler Heating Plant

Roland Belanger, maintenance mechanic at Manchester Memorial Hospital, checks the operation of a high-pressure steam boiler in the hospital's newly completed heating plant. Each of the three old-fired boilers has a 400 horsepower capacity and by itself is capable of heating the entire hospital, according to C.E. Wilson, chief engineer. The total capacity of the unit is three times that of the old plant which it replaces, and should prove more than adequate for the hospital's needs into the foreseeable future, Wilson says. The heating plant is a two-story structure of concrete blocks, steel and large expanses of glass, which stands on a slope west of the hospital. It has its own emergency generator system. Construction, begun last February, was by the Conyers Const. Co. of Manchester. The architects were F.W. Ferguson and Mahaffey of Hartford. The cost of the new unit is being financed through the hospital's development fund. Conyers' base bid of $414,000 was substantially lower through economies made during construction, hospital authorities said. (Herald photo by Saterina.)

Full Computer Check Due on Tax Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says its computers will be used this year to verify completely all 1966 income tax returns.

The IRS reported Tuesday the computers verified only 10 percent of the 1966 returns. This alone, it added, turned up about $19.1 million from 9,000 delinquent returns on which $2.6 million in taxes had already been paid through withholding from paychecks and mailing of estimated tax payments. Of these, another $600,000 in taxes were bill due, but other taxpayers had $400,000 in refunds coming to them.

The report also said tax collections during the last fiscal year totaled a record $128.9 billion from 104 million returns of all types filed. This compared with the previous year's collections of $114.5 billion.

The IRS said about half of the last fiscal year's collections came from individual income taxes, one-fourth from corporate taxes, and the remainder from other sources including excise, employment, estate and gift taxes.

The report also said 82 percent of the 5,273 moonshine stills seized during fiscal 1966 were in the Southeast, along an area of entrenched moonshining.

Already Tops $50,000 'Big Red One' Raises Fund To Educate Sons of Heroes

DI AN, South Vietnam (AP) — True to the motto "The Big Red One takes care of its own," those who served in the U.S. 1st Division have raised more than $50,000 from poker, dice and beer blasts to help send sons of fallen comrades to college.

A dozen scholarships already have been awarded with money collected in the past four months and 50 more are being processed.

The scholarship fund was inspired by the heroism of Sgt. Ralph Nunes of San Pedro, Cal. whose reconnaissance patrol was ambushed by the Viet Cong in the jungles of War Zone C.

Before he died, Nunes saved the lives of his comrades by leading the forward air controller to call in an air strike.

"My husband was very proud of his outfit, he loved the Big Red One," his widow wrote Gen. William E. DePuy, the division commander. "Like her young men and many others in Vietnam, he did not die in vain. My heart aches for my three young sons. Eric, the oldest, who is four, one day will be told why his father did not return to us."

DePuy and his aides decided to do something for survivors of the more than 900 1st Division men who have been killed since the outfit arrived in Vietnam a year and a half ago. They were in 1730—was useful for "For once in the 196-year his rubing out manuscript history of the Army, we're doing taxes."

Britain Named Rubber

LONDON—Joseph Priestley gave the name of Britannia and Peru to the more than 900 1st Division men who have been killed since the outfit arrived in Vietnam a year and a half ago. They were in 1730—was useful for "For once in the 196-year his rubing out manuscript history of the Army, we're doing taxes."

DOWNTOWN MANCHESTER AT 958 MAIN STREET

Many Agenda Items Tabled by Board

A cautious Board of Directors did a lot of tabling of items last night, and wound up postponing important actions to future dates.

It tabbed action on a tougher ordinance for snow and ice control on the nine-member town-owned parcels to Allied Casting Co. It tabled a new policy of sick leave credit for town employees. It tabled approval of a request from former Collector of Revenue Paul Cervini, who retired in 1963 and is not covered by the existing policy.

The consensus of the board last night was that when the off dates are established, they should be adhered to.

The board, in its discussion, tabled action on the sale of the Kennedy St. School.

The state now leaves the school to the town to step in and do the work and charge the home-owners the cost of the work.

The existing ordinance provides 24 hours for the removal of snow and ice from the streets to do the work and to charge for it.

Weiss, pressing for approval of the ordinance, said it was needed to reduce the number of sidewalk claims filed against the town.

However, Town Counsel John Shea revealed that the greatest incidence of claims result from falls on ice, and not snow-covered sidewalks.

The proposed ordinance was opposed by Wilbur Bennett, Charles Morrison, Frank L. Pagan, Franklin Parker and Barbara Pagan.

All agreed that the existing ordinance was not being enforced and all questioned the need for a stronger ordinance.

Bennett complained that the ordinance would provide reimbursement for the town and 50 percent for the property owner. In addition, the developer would be reimbursed his 50 percent cost at the end of 10 years.

Discussion of the ordinance was held at 8:15 at its first concert this season at the Paolin Auditorium, Manchester High School.

An art exhibit by Jane Gutt and Ruth Krantz will also be held in the small auditorium of the school tonight. Doors will open at 7. Tickets will be available at the door. Students will be admitted free.

Raymond Hanson of Hartford, pianist, will be guest soloist at the concert.

He is widely known throughout North America and Europe for his concert performances. He has appeared with many orchestras, including the Chicago, Boston and Hartford Symphonies.

He is also a recording artist with Telefunken, Heliodor and CML, and an adjudicator in Canada's annual piano competition. He is chairman of the piano department at Hart College of Music of the University of Hartford, director and conductor of the Paolin and Fugate by Hanshanes played by the string orchestra. The full orchestra will then present Symphony No. 2 "Romantic," by Howard Hanson.

The guest pianist will be featured in the Concerto No. 2 in G Minor by Saint-Saen, accompanied by the full orchestra.

Three Sites Suggested New Pool Unlikely For This Summer

It is highly unlikely that Robertson Park Swimming Pool will be built by this summer.

That is the consensus of the Board of Directors and Town Engineer Walter S. Fuss.

In a report to General Manager Robert Weiss, Fuss proposed three possible sites for the pool, all of which would cost more than the previously estimated cost of $80,000. Fuss pointed out, however, that the $80,000 estimate was made before a location was established. The extra cost is needed because of peculiar site conditions.

Fuss proposed that the pool, located at Robertson Park, be built at one of the following sites:

- East of future North School St. realigned, and south of Robertson School, at an estimated cost of $92,000.
- South of Edward St. near the existing Park and Recreation Department site, at an estimated cost of $100,000.
- South of North School St., at an estimated cost of $100,000.

Another advantage, Fuss explained, is that the school parking field could be used. The other sites would require parking facilities.

Other advantages are that the site would be exposed, cutting the chances of vandalism and that water, sanitary sewer and storm sewer would be available.

The disadvantage, Fuss explained, is that the park would be near a residential development.

Site 2, Fuss said, would require the demolition of the existing storage building. Fuss said that Park Superintendent Horace Murphy told him that since the storage in the building is necessary, a bathhouse might be desirable with a basement for storage.

Fuss said the bathhouse could possibly be built at the level of the baseball field, but said that toilet facilities could be installed in the basement because of a grade problem.

Initially, vandalism may be high in that area because of its concealed location, he said.

Because site 2 dictates a different pool layout than would site 1, the cost would probably be increased, he reported. Moreover, Fuss said, it would be necessary to provide pool apron area and parking. "The amount of parking space created would be small and entrance conditions from Edward St. are not ideal," he noted. Water and sewer facilities would be available from Edward St., he said.

Site 3 poses many construction problems, Fuss explained. Subsurface water, he said, would present problems in installing the pool. There would be need for deep foundations. He suggested borings be made soon to determine subsurface conditions. Fuss said construction difficulties may be encountered because the site is near a residential area (RCA) reinforced concrete pipe. He said before making final check of the future Lydall Brook branch of the northeast trunk sewer would be needed.

"It has been thought that the Lydall Brook branch would be installed east of the existing 72-inch RCP, Fuss said, but if the pool is to be located there, other locations should be investigated for the sewer."

Other problems stressed by Fuss are the following: A dust-trap on the site would be needed to eliminate a dust ceremony look place before needed.

The area is now used as a snow storage area.

Another storage area would be needed.

Odors from Union Pond may present discomfort to pool users.

Democrats Outmaneuvered Lose First Choices On Charter Group

The board of directors last night appointed a nine-member Charter Revision Commission, composed of five Republicans and four Democrats, as had been expected.

However, although the Republicans were happy with their appointments, the Democrats were not, for they were politically maneuvered into making two hurried and substitute appointments, leaving off the commission two original choices.

Under the state Home Rule Law, only one third, or three, of the appointees may be members of other town agencies. The Republicans took the full quota.

The commission, required to report to the board of directors later than October 1967, consists of Republicans Atty. Thomas A. Bailey, temporary chairman; Harold Taylor, N. Adler Dobkin; Miss Eleanor Hashim and Donald Conrad; and Democrats Neil H. Ellis, Olof Anderson, Raymond Mahoney and Anthony Pietranonzo.

Atty. Bailey is a member of the school board. He is a former town director and was a member of the 1964 Charter Revision Commission.

Taylor is a member of the Manchester Redevelopment Agency. Taylor also is former town director.

Dobkin is a member of the Town Planning Commission. He is a Republican District leader.

Miss Hashim is a member of the Republican Town Committee.

Conrad is a former town director and was a member of the 1964 Charter Revision Commission.

Ellis is president of the Green Manor Construction Co. This is his first appointment to a town board.

Mahoney is a former town director and was on the 1964 Charter Revision Commission.

Mahoney is a retired foreman of the State Highway Department.

The latter two are substitutes for the original Democratic choices—Belden Schafner, member of the school board, director of UConn's Institute of Public Services, and a member in connection with the fatal shooting of her Navy officer husband on Nov. 13.

The charge was changed late Tuesday night by Superior Court Judge Joseph P. Longo. The charge was changed to manslaughter.

Mrs. Foster, 35, a church organist and graduate student in music at fashionable Connecticut College, is accused of shooting her husband, Lt. Cmdr. John Foster, in their New London home.

Foster, who was based in Washington but who visited home on weekends, was assigned to Pentagon at the time of his death.

CRF GETS CONTRIBUTION WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has approved a $25,000 contribution toward a $283,300 Neighborhood Youth Corps project sponsored by the Commerce Dept. in Greater Hartford, Conn.

The money, granted Tuesday, is for use in providing work experience opportunities for 120 school enrollees.

Lions' Gifts Total $2,155

The Manchester Lion's Club last night presented gifts totaling $2,155 to several funds and organizations at a dinner meeting at Willie's Steak House.

Donations were realized from a recent Art Show sponsored by the Manchester Lion's Club in conjunction with the Manchester Fine Art Association.

Recipients are the Manchester Lion's Club Scholarship Fund, $750; Lutz Junior Museum, $750; Manchester Club Special Account, $250.

Two Bolivian exchange students were guests at the dinner. They were Miss Cecilia Cuellar, and Miss Alicia Kavalin, whose father is district governor of Lion's Clubs in Bolivia.

Charge Reduced Against Wife in Officer Slaying

NORWICH (AP)—The charge against Mrs. Antonette Foster has been lowered from first degree to second degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of her Navy officer husband on Nov. 13.

The charge was changed late Tuesday night by Superior Court Judge Joseph P. Longo. The charge was changed to manslaughter.

Glenn Ford

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Glenn Ford is packing his baggage for a 30-day hitch in Vietnam.

The Marine Corps announced Tuesday that Navel Reserve Cmdr. Ford had been ordered to active duty for 30 days.

When the actor expressed a preference to serve his active duty obligation in Vietnam, the Corps assigned him to the 3rd Marine Amphibious Force there.

Ford served as an enlisted man in the Marine Corps from 1942-1946 and joined the Naval Reserve as an officer after World War II.

Madeline Webb

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — One-time showgirl Madeline Webb will go free next Monday after 24 years in prison.

An Oklahoma girl who sought a Broadway career, she landed behind bars for conspiring in the killing of a wealthy New York woman.

Miss Webb, now 53, was convicted in 1942 and sentenced to life imprisonment.

In a traditional gesture of clemency, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller commuted the sentence before Christmas.

On Tuesday, the State Parole Board decided she would be freed Monday.

Scott Romney

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. (AP) — Scott Romney, son of Michigan Gov. and Mrs. George Romney, will be married next December to Donna, Eileen Stern.

Miss Stern is a senior at Oakland University and her fiancé is in his first year at Harvard Law School. The wedding announcement was made Tuesday.

Bishop Sheen

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, newly appointed bishop of the Rochester Roman Catholic Diocese, has formed what he believes is the first diocesan office in the country to deal with in-city problems.

The bishop also announced Tuesday that a 30-year-old priest and member of a militant civil rights group will head the office beginning Jan. 25.

He is the Rev. P. David Finks, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception church here, and a member of "CRIC," a civil rights group.

Father Finks will bear the title of episcopal vicar of urban ministry for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester.

The appointment was the first to be made by Bishop Sheen since he took charge of the diocese Dec. 16.

Man Is Indicted In Canada Flight To Avoid Draft

HARTFORD (AP) — A 23-year-old Hartford man who was featured in a recent Life magazine article on Americans who flee to Canada to avoid the draft has been charged by a federal grand jury with draft evasion.

Gregory R. Garach was pictured with another young American in the magazine's Dec. 9 edition. The magazine article said they were among 400 to 1,000 Americans now in Canada to avoid compulsory military service.

The federal grand jury said Tuesday that Garach had used the name Gregory Roman in slipping across the border. He was described by the magazine as a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Life quoted Garach as saying, "I don't dig patriotism, or nationalism, or even to war. It's all an accident of birth who you fight for. If I was born in Russia, I wouldn't fight for the Russians either."

A bench warrant was issued for his arrest and his bond was set at $5,000. However, the warrant can not be served in Canada, which has no draft laws and no extradition for draft offenses.

Also indicted was Allan W. Solomonow, 29, a former Voluntown resident now living in New York City. Solomonow was accused of destroying his draft card during a demonstration outside the U.S. Navy Submarine base at Groton on Aug. 21, 1966.

The demonstration by the New England Committee for Non-Violent Action protested the launching of the nuclear submarine Henry L. Stimson.

Solomonow was reportedly living at the CIA's farm headquarters in Voluntown at the time.

Eagles Survive Late Spurge to Win in Sixth

Northwest Five Falls, South Next

By RICH DYER

Making vital use of some heavy but sporadic foul shooting, the East Catholic Eagles fended off a last ditch effort by the school Northwest Catholic of Hartford last night to win 71-66, before a home crowd of 1,000.

It was the sixth win in seven games and the HOC debut for East, which made up for a 26-24 loss to Northwest in the field goal department with a 22-16 showing at the free throw stripe.

The Indians now are 2-5. East must now ready for Saturday's meeting with HOC arch-rival, South Catholic of Hartford. The two teams, conference co-champs last season, are scheduled to clash at 8 o'clock at Central Connecticut's Kaiser Gym.

Eagle starters had little trouble for the greater portion of the game, pushing quarter marks of 21-33, 36-28, 49-37 and running the clock as high as 63-45 in the first four minutes of the closing canto. But the reserve onslaught of several going as an invader comeback closed the gap to three points in the closing moments.

Burns Pleased — "Northwest made a gallant effort in the final minutes and in to stop them," Coach Don Burns said. "We had too many turnovers and our foul shooting needs work. However, I was very pleased with the individual performance of several of our boys, particularly the offensive work of Jim Reynolds and Tom Lombardo."

Reynolds, a 26-point performer against Hartford, had an eighth night with 14 points and 10 rebounds, sharing game honors with the youngest man on the court, Northwest's freshman starter Dick Furbur.

Duke Suspends Stars But Blue Devils Roll

Bolton Wins Third, Knights, Rams Bow

By RICH DYER

NEW YORK (AP)—"A position of leadership," said Vic Bubas, Duke's basketball coach, "is a lonely one and I have been lonely for the last couple of days."

That was after he had to temporarily suspend nine players. The regular MVC officials, including four starters, were suspended for the game.

That was after he had to temporarily suspend nine players. The regular MVC officials, including four starters, were suspended for the game.

Fortunately for Duke, one of first half and finished with 27, the clean sweep survivors were Westley Unsel led the Cardinals sharp shooting Bob Verga. He made with 24 points and 24 rebounds.

Tulane set a school scoring record and New York, Princeton's hot-shooting Mal Graham established an individual mark in other games.

Tulane shot 66 per cent from the floor and ripped 118-106 only the second year in more than the school record set against Northwestern earlier in this season.

Pride Before Pocketbooks For Green Bay NFL Kings

Shaking Him Up

By EARL YOST

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers were putting their pride before their pocketbooks today as they began getting ready for the Jan. 15 Super Bowl clash with the Kansas City Chiefs.

The five meetings between the champions of the National and American football leagues should earn each member of the winners team $150,000 of the lions having to settle for a mere $7,500.

The money is nothing to sneeze at even for the proper-thing, of course," said halfback Earl Edwards, who has collected $150,000 in prize money.

The Packers are already in the Super Bowl and representing the National Football League. It's an exciting thing for me."

Killing Manchester High threats with scoring streaks in the second and fourth quarters, lefty Platt, 16, scored 22 points in 34 minutes. The Indians are now 2-4 overall and 2-2 in OCCC play.

Platt jumped back out to a 60-47 final quarter lead that Manchester cut to 61-54 on four shooting by Ostrout and Chuck Carson and shots by Reynolds, Lombardo and Willet provided the home crew's eight-point opening quarter lead and the momentum that carried them to 12 entering the final frame.

Northwest didn't start its comeback until midway through the final eight minutes, but made three quick baskets. The Indians were 28 points behind at the end of the game.

The Panthers, coming off a 67-61 win over the Indians in their first game, were 22-19 in the second quarter, but Platt again pumped in 22 points in a row to open the final quarter, taking a 60-47 lead in the seventh straight win for Coach Stan Slaton.

"Their height killed us," said Manchester Coach Phil Lofgren of the visitors who averaged 63.3 points per game. "They used an effective double team on our perimeter and once again our inexperience showed," the Indian mentor continued. "We tried to run and shoot and you can't do that against a club like this."

Platt became the first player to crack 20 points in a game in 21 years. He finished with 21 tallies while Dale Ostrout chipped in 10 points. The Indians were 22-19 in the second quarter, but Platt again pumped in 22 points in a row to open the final quarter, taking a 60-47 lead in the seventh straight win for Coach Stan Slaton.

Weiss Pledges 'Tightly Drawn' Fund Proposals

Town Manager Robert B. Weiss last night promised that this year's town budget would be "tightly drawn."

In a prepared statement to the Board of Directors, Weiss singled out five lower proposals last year and noted they were accomplished "without a penny more."

Weiss stressed that Manchester must develop a "long-range capital improvement program designed to take care of our needs in the areas of school maintenance, water and sewer facilities, traffic control and highways within our ability to pay."

Recalling his first year as general manager, Weiss voiced his appreciation of the "fine attitude and cooperation" of town employees and members of the two boards of directors.
