Huge U.S. Attack Launched in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — A massive American force backed by planes, armor and artillery has launched the biggest offensive of the Vietnam war in an attempt to sweep the Viet Cong out of the jungled "Iron Triangle" 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon.

The objective is to capture a major headquarters complex of the Communists and to clear enemy troops from the tangled forests from which they menace the South Vietnamese capital.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's command announced the multivillage operation was launched at dawn Sunday. It was the first in three days of Viet Cong have been killed and 16 taken prisoner.

The operation includes evacuation of up to 60,000 Vietnamese peasants living in the long-time Viet Cong bastion and their resettlement in other localities.

Westmoreland told newsmen that the enemy had changed his military strategy in 1966, but that his objective remains the same: "To unify Vietnam by force."

Other than the drive in the Iron Triangle, no major engagements were reported by the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands.

U.S. headquarters said American Marines and armor fire in their sweep of Thanh Phu Peninsula 50 miles south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta. But there has been no contact of any size since the Leatherneck landed last Friday, and so far only four enemy have been reported killed and five taken prisoner.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 40 Viet Cong killed by government troops in repulsing two attacks on military posts 340 and 348 miles northeast of Saigon.

South Korea's Tiger Division reported 26 Viet Cong killed, 212 captured and 221 suspects pulled in during operation Maeng Ho 6, which has been going on since Jan. 3 about 12 miles north of Saigon.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and Prince Bernhard today saw the third of their four daughters, Princess Margriet, 24, married to a Dutch commoner.

The wedding was not a political issue and was unmarred by the controversy and incidents that accompanied the 1964 wedding of Crown Princess Beatrix to German diplomat Claus von Amsberg.

However, as the bridegroom procession drove away from the church some three or four more smoke bombs. Most of the smoke had cleared away when the bride and groom were seen to leave.

Street crowds were smaller than expected, probably due to freezing temperatures. The two ceremonies — a civic wedding at the Town Hall and a Protestant blessing at the 13th century Ma factory workers in which St. James church — and the dramatic bridegroom procession were broadcast over television and radio.

Schoolchildren were on holiday since the day was not proclaimed a national holiday. Margriet's white silk wedding gown had marguerite flower patterns after her name. Her bridegroom was also of Margriet's name.

The bridegroom wore his air force uniform. Among those in the huge crowd were all dead. They had been seen dead. They had been seen dead. They had been seen dead.

Blue Knees

LONDON (AP) — Girls wearing miniskirts are getting blue knees in Britain's first big freeze of 1967. More than 100 in high-high skirts walked out of classes at Reading College of Technology near London yesterday.

"It's not so bad for the girls in their warm trousers," explained one fashionable but freezing young lady. "But the girls in miniskirts found our knees and legs turning blue."

College authorities said a shortage of stokers in the boiler rooms cut the central heating system to quarter power. Lack of heat in the college's printing works.

Court Bans Cuba Visit Prosecution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that a citizen who holds a generally valid passport cannot criminally prosecute for traveling to Cuba without government authorization.

At the same time the court upheld the government's right to declare certain foreign countries out of bounds.

But travel to these countries without specific authorization may not lead to criminal prosecution, Justice Felix Frankfurter said for the high court.

The ruling in two Cuba travel cases overruled the government's claim that Congress had made it a crime to travel to Cuba without a passport.

Justice William Brennan said the relevant statute forbids "entry and regulation."

"In short," the justice wrote, "relevant State Department promulgations are not only void of a suggestion that travel to Cuba without a specifically valid passport is criminal, but also contain positive suggestions that the purpose and effect of the restriction were merely to make clear that the passport was to be regarded by the traveler in Cuba as a voucher on the production of which the traveler would be admitted to the country."

Last May the court ruled 6 to 3 that the secretary of state may refuse to grant passports to American citizens for travel to Cuba. At that time the court left open the question whether it is a crime to violate the travel restrictions.

In one case Helen Maxine Lovel Travis of Los Angeles was convicted under a section of the Espionage Act.
