ATTENTION PROPERTY OWNERS!

The recent property re-valuation makes it necessary that Manchester Property Owners have an association to protect their interests. Every other pressure group in Manchester has an organization to represent them: Teachers; Manchester Chamber of Commerce; Town Employes and Regional development agencies, to name just a few.

There Has Been Formed An Organization Known as...

"THE MANCHESTER PROPERTY OWNERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION"

UNITE TO PROTECT:

Thousands of property owners feel that their assessments are too high but as individuals do not know what action to take. In unity there is strength and by a joint effort Manchester's Property owners can control the tax cost!

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION:

Manchester has needed an organization to protect the property owners' interests for a long period of time. While this association has been formed primarily to help property owners during this critical re-valuation, the organization will be of untold value in controlling the tax dollars in years to come. This organization will be the watchdog of the property owners!

TOWN OFFICIALS STATE:

"Your tax bill will be approximately the same as last year." Basic arithmetic dictates that the tax rate would have to be reduced 9 mills to accomplish this. Do you believe this? Four years after the 1956 re-valuation the tax rate was increased 10 MILLS. This is what you can expect to be repeated!

Please Fill Out This Coupon and JOIN NOW!

NOTE TO OUR SENIOR CITIZENS:

Twenty per cent or 3,000 of Manchester's Property owners are 65 years or older. Hundreds of these people have had their assessments increased based on "fair market value" theory. This theory is inflation at it's worst. These senior citizens do not own their homes for speculation purposes therefore, they should join M.P.O.P.A. as their only hope for tax relief!

Support the MANCHESTER PROPERTY OWNERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION by filling out this membership coupon. Join this non-profit organization NOW by enclosing $5.00 or more. Make checks payable to Mr. Herman Schendel, Treas. c/o P.O. Box 428, Manchester, Connecticut.

NOTE TO THE YOUNGER PROPERTY OWNERS:

Many of you have not had increase in valuation during this reassessment. Do not become complacent or indifferent about this. We repeat that four years after the 1956 reassessment the tax rate was increased 10 MILLS. Join M.P.O.P.A. to protect yourselves and families in the future!

Boy Scout Banquet The annual charter banquet for members of Boy Scout Troop 223 and their parents was held recently in St. John's Episcopal Church parish center. The 1967 Charter was presented to the Rev. James L. Leonard, rector, representing the sponsoring institution. A special award was presented to Scoutmaster Raymond Hallowell in recognition of three years of continuous service. The Life Scout award was presented to Craig Melend; Scout awards were made to First Class awards were made to David Sodano, Robert Swartz and James Aceto.

Church Awards Charles Leonard of Tolland received the Union Distinguished Service Award and Leonard DeCarli received the Man of the Year Award presented to an annual church fund-raiser. The Distinguished Service Award was presented to a man of the church who has made an outstanding contribution to the church over a period of years. Leonard has served as president of the Men's Union for several terms and is on the business committee and the board of deacons. His long service has resulted in his being named honorary deacon. DeCarli is chairman of the business committee, on which he has served four years, and has served as chairman of the annual church fund-raiser. He is a teacher in the church school and is active in other church organizations.

DeCarli's award was accepted by his father-in-law, the Rev. Alison Ray Heaps, as DeCarli is vacationing in Barbados. Rousing Dogs Dog Warden Mrs. Florence Madden has requested residents to keep their dogs on their own property, as the new regulations are being received many complaints about roaming dogs from throughout town. Many problems are being caused by the roaming dogs, she said, including the tipping over of garbage cans, the falls to fire joints with you but is claimed as an exemption on your return. If you have doubts about which to use, try them both before deciding. Here are some examples of benefits and disadvantages:

Jones has a wife, four children, and his 1966 income was $4,000. Under the 10 per cent standard deduction he could knock $400 off his income for personal expenses. But suppose he used the minimum standard. He'd take $300 for himself, $100 for each of his four dependent children, and $100 for his wife who had no income but was filing jointly with him. This gave him a total deduction of $600, which was $300 more than the 10 per cent standard and gave him. Now take Smith, with a wife, one child. He also had $4,000 income. He'd get a $400 deduction under the 10 per cent standard arrangement, which would be better for him because if he took the minimum standard. This is why. Under the minimum standard he'd get $300 for himself, $100 for his wife who had no income but, like Mrs. Jones, was filing jointly with him; and $100 for his child, or a total deduction of only $500. Schedule No. 1 is for single persons and married persons filing separately; No. 2 is for married couples filing jointly and those qualifying as "surviving spouse"; and No. 3 is for the unmarried or legally separated who can qualify as "head of household."

Area Weather WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau says light snow which spread over Connecticut last night will continue until this morning with little accumulation. Skies will remain cloudy most of today, with some squalls and times from breaks in the cloud deck. Temperatures will be milder than Monday. Along the coast high readings will reach about 40 degrees while inland mid and upper levels will be more common. A low pressure system is moving across southern Canada this morning with a warm front extending through Central New England, co-publisher of The Herald and Town Manager Robert Weiss. A native of St. Louis, Brock received his bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration from Washington University.

He came to Manchester in 1962 and has played an important role in the redevelopment program, removal of parking meters from Main St., and relocating Pioneer Parachute Co. in Manchester. In addition to serving as executive vice president of the Chamber, he is a member of the Kiwanis Club and American New England and Connecticut Association of Chambers of Commerce executives. He has received certificates of appreciation from the Kiwanis Club (twice) and the Lions Club. The quiet, unassuming outstanding young man of Manchester for 1966 is quite active in community activities, which have included his being chairman of the Manchester Scholarship Foundation. He has been public chairman of the Cancer Drive and the United Fund Drive and serves on the advisory committee for the Kennedy Day Camp.

recipient of the DSA award was between 21 and 25 years of age. Brock is 33. Jaycee membership is immaterial for qualification. Recognition is given to unusual personal or business achievement, exhibition of leadership ability and unselfish contribution to the community.

BLONDE DEBATER LOSES PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — A blonde debater from Vassar told an audience of 100 at the university here Monday night that co-eduction might be harmful to Princeton. But the debater, Penny Green of Pennsylvania, was not in defeat as she was the Student Senate voted to establish a woman's coordinate college at Princeton. They apparently were in agreement with the arguments of Miss Green's opponent, Penny Lee of New York City. "Harvard has succeeded; Columbia has failed; Yale will soon have Vassar; but Princeton has only Playboy Magazine."

But, of course, the differences between them are already provided for in the table without any work on your part. The only time you'd have to work out the differences is when, and if, you decided to figure your own tax, using form 1000. Also note this: The three tax-rate schedules, used by those figuring their own tax, do not parallel the three tax tables. For example: Schedule No. 1 is for single persons and married persons filing separately; No. 2 is for married couples filing jointly and those qualifying as "surviving spouse"; and No. 3 is for the unmarried or legally separated who can qualify as "head of household."

Green Eggs? So What!

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP) — A report of a Kentucky hen that lays green eggs with normal insides has drawn a couple of snail-like responses from Missouri raisers. Mrs. Reuben Smith of Blue Lick, Mo., near Marshall, reports she has a little black hen that lays blue eggs, also edible. Mrs. Leonard Lewis of Independence, Mo., near Kansas City, said she has a black hen that also lays green eggs.

Senior Basketball Once again using a fast-break attack to good advantage, Zolner's Men's Shop raced to a 60-30 victory over American Legion last night at Rockville High School to take over undisputed possession of first place in the district competition. League. In the second game of the night, National Guard easily topped The Pines, 68-55. Frank Jondrow, captain on the scoring end of Zolner's fast break, scored 18 points to pace the winners. Jim Morley added 14 more but tall Dick Able of the Legion took game honors with 22. The Legion kept pace for a half, trailing by only five at the break, then Zolner's broke the game open and won handsly. Dick Leonard's 23 points paced the Guard's triumph. They led 17-4 after the first period and pretty much coasted in from there. Ernie D'Ungeran had 27 for the losers.

Bob Brock Receives Jaycee DSA Honors

Robert L. Brock of 68 Leland Dr., executive vice president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, last night became the eighth recipient of the Manchester Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award. Brock was honored for his achievements at a banquet held at Cavey's Restaurant, E. Center St. He was named DSA winner for 1966 for his outstanding contributions to his community and nation. The award is the highest presented by the Jaycees.

Presentation of the award was made by Andrew T. Suhle, and the principal speaker for the occasion was the Rev. James L. Leonard, rector, representing the sponsoring institution.

The panel of judges for this year's award were George T. LaBonte Jr., winner of the DSA award last year; Thomas F. Herick and Town Manager Robert Weiss.

Help for Taxpayers II Make Sure to Pick Correct Tax Form

(Continued from Page One) $200, plus $100 for each dependent can be rightfully claimed. That instruction sheet which the IRS sends taxpayers has three tax tables for those under-30 who are married and have children. The table and three tax-rate schedules for those who are single, widowed, divorced, or separated. Take the tables first.

Table A is for single persons, Table B for married persons filing jointly, and using table C, usually get the same or a lower tax than married couples filing jointly. But in table C there is a choice for those using it between the 10 per cent standard deduction and the minimum standard deduction.

But, of course, the differences between them are already provided for in the table without any work on your part. The only time you'd have to work out the differences is when, and if, you decided to figure your own tax, using form 1000. Downtown, meanwhile, parking has been made free, and the amount of it available has been substantially increased, and it has become a little easier to get parking within easy range of any particular store about to be visited.

As the evolution continues, the eventual rating of downtowns and shopping centers will depend on many factors, including the nature of the stores themselves.

But one crucial question, after parking has been made free and plentiful for both, will come down to something like this: Which kind of shopping requires more actual walking to and from the parked car?

A tentative present conclusion would be that it is getting so one has to do just about as-much walking, in some shopping centers, as one would have to do to visit a comparable number and variety of stores downtown. In fact, if shopping centers get much larger, their next feature will have to be the provision of moving sidewalks or motorized shopping carts on which people can be eased on their long journeys from one end of the panorama to the other, or from the outer fringes of the parking area on a busy night or afternoon into the center of the center.

The nonagenarian Valentine

The Parkinson law of Valentines, one discovers as one gradually advances in years, is that the more mature and sedate one becomes, the more explicit is the taunt transmitted by a designing younger generation.

The closer one comes to the estate of nonagenarian, the more important the anonymous misanthrope becomes.

"Be My Tiger!" they may implore one. "You're My Kind of Man - WILD!" may be the disconcerting message the next.

The nonagenarian is mystified, but not too much so, if he understands that, according to the law of relationship between age and taunt, such Valentines are more a salute to the might-have-been than a direct invitation to adventurous future dalliance.

The nonagenarian also understands, a little unwillingly, something else. There does come a time when it is not pleasant to be just a paper tiger, and to have the wildness confined to that of a roving eye.

Tin Can Reminiscing

Among the failures of my generation is one: that the philosophers generally overlook: Our inability to inform our children of the usefulness of empty tin cans.

The knowledge of what to do with them seems to have vanished, along with such skills as banking a coal furnace or cranking a Model T. There are plenty of tin cans around, as anyone who has visited a picnic site can testify, but once they're emptied their usefulness is over. In the old days, it had often just begun.

The simplest use for an empty container then was a game called kick the can. One boy would kick the can as far as he could, and the other would try to catch it with his hands. It was called "kick the can" because the can was kicked.

Peace threatened, as it had never threatened since the first bombing of North Vietnam was ordered two years ago in the same week.

Judging by its record, the Johnson Administration will take care not to expose itself to any such danger again. One need not again expect any pause in bombing, for any reason or reason; one need not fear that the Johnson Administration will again let any door stand carelessly ajar even for a moment; even such international practitioners of eternal peace as Pope Paul and Secretary General Thant must realize that they have now been told, once and for all, to mind their own business.

It is to be hoped they will not heed the warning. And it is to be hoped that American opinion and world opinion will not allow themselves, by this harsh rebuff, to be made to feel hard and cruel and despairing and powerless, and thus surrender the whole cause of civilization. The cause of honorable, merciful, sensible peace in Vietnam may today be faced with greater handicaps than ever, but to cease to believe in it, to cease to advocate it would be to abandon all meaningful destiny for man. We must not allow ourselves all to become hard-boiled sophisticated animals.

The Length Of The Walk

It has begun to occur to more than one exemplar of the comparative conveniences of the modern new shopping centers and the old downtowns of the world that something of an equalization of one of the crucial advantages is now setting in.

The original basic convenience of the shopping center was, first, its possession of an over-generous supply of free parking space.

It was an elemental part of the attraction that, with such free and easy parking, the parking was also located close to the prospective shopping to be done.

At that early stage of the competition, the disadvantage of the typical downtown was that parking was not free, not unlimited, not convenient, not easily within reach of the shopping that was about to be done.

There has, however, been a double evolution.

The shopping centers, elated by their own success, have expanded and grown larger. They still feature an infinity of free parking, but there is no longer any guarantee the parking can be obtained close to the store about to be visited.

The downtowns, meanwhile, parking has been made free, and the amount of it available has been substantially increased, and it has become a little easier to get parking within easy range of any particular store about to be visited.

As the evolution continues, the eventual rating of downtowns and shopping centers will depend on many factors, including the nature of the stores themselves.

But one crucial question, after parking has been made free and plentiful for both, will come down to something like this: Which kind of shopping requires more actual walking to and from the parked car?

A tentative present conclusion would be that it is getting so one has to do just about as-much walking, in some shopping centers, as one would have to do to visit a comparable number and variety of stores downtown. In fact, if shopping centers get much larger, their next feature will have to be the provision of moving sidewalks or motorized shopping carts on which people can be eased on their long journeys from one end of the panorama to the other, or from the outer fringes of the parking area on a busy night or afternoon into the center of the center.

If there ever was a wretched moment when the worthy but now departing Republican Screening Committee might have showed a fair degree of unanimity for any one candidate for the post of Republican State Chairman, it was, we venture to guess, while the members of the committee still had their minds and their political antennae tuned strictly to the single problem of the state chairmanship.

Reports from within the committee, during this comparatively hazy phase of its operation, were amazed that it seemed to be managing its discussions and consultations with so little evidence of feeling and dispute between the factions representing on the committee.

There was, during this phase of the operation, rather a widespread expectation that there might be such a thing as a general consensus of opinion, the recommendation of former Mayor Howard Houston of the "Open Forum" letters on the subject of wild life.

In 1960, Booth was selected for inclusion in "The Blue Book of Magazine Writers", a national directory of the major features writers of the United States. In 1963, Austin Phelps, Incorporated, New York Book Publishers, awarded him one of the ten honorable mentions in a literary contest sponsored by that company and entered by several hundred free-lance writers from all over the country.

Booth writes for children. Booth contributes to several adult magazines and has had his work published in the "Encyclopedia of Organic Gardening" and in several magazine sections of various leading newspapers. He is looking forward to entering the juvenile book field in the near future.

Whether this expectation was ever proved, but if the assumptions involved in it were correct, there was no obvious reason why they might not also have applied to Ted LaBonne, when he became the Pinner camp's overnight substitute for Houston. There, seen on the surface, no reason why LaBonne should not obtain at least as many votes as Houston, and perhaps more.

At this point, however, a prospectively mild and relatively unexciting contest suddenly turned toward the complete party storm which is now raging.

Our analysis of the reason for this change suggests that the screening committee and both party hierarchies had suddenly stopped thinking just about the state chairmanship, and had begun to mix other matters into the chairmanship contest.

As for what these other matters could be, to make the business of choosing a new state chairman seem a troublesome task it had seemed likely to be, we suggest that everybody suddenly began entertaining schemes about the post of Republican National Commitment, now held by Ted Ryan of Sharon, who reportedly would retire in favor of an acceptable successor. And it would be our further guess that by this time the question of a rivalry between two most worthy aspirants for the post of Republican State Auditor has also found its way into the Republican cauldron of trouble, boil, and bubble. We believe there may also be a few doorknocker posts still open at the current session of the General Assembly, and we wouldn't be surprised to find the final outcome of the battle turning on some other ancillary consideration which not even the warring camps themselves have noticed yet. After all, why not have one big battle for everything?

Town Author Writes Piece For Children

The February issue of Golden Magazine, now on sale features an article by Charles E. Booth, Manchester free-lance writer.

The article, "Mother Goose Is For Real," points out the fact that many of the towns, villages and backdrops mentioned in the famous Mother Goose tales still exist and can be seen in Great Britain today.

This is the first in a series of "Stories for children by Booth which will appear in the Golden Magazine. Other of his children's stories appear regularly in several monthly and weekly magazines.

Booth, who lives at 57 Starkweather St., has been an occasional writer for the past 18 years. During the thirties, The Herald printed his columns on wild life. Called, "Through the Field Glass," a weekly commentary on local happenings in field and forest. At that time, also, he gave many talks on birds and animals at elementary schools in town.

Booth has been an examiner in ornithology for the Boy Scouts of America in Manchester for 30 years. In the past, the Herald has carried many of his "Open Forum" letters on the subject of wild life.

In 1960, Booth was selected for inclusion in "The Blue Book of Magazine Writers", a national directory of the major features writers of the United States. Walker's 56th Pint A 'Gift from Heart'

Valentine's Day 1967 had special significance for a 58-year-old woman patient in Hartford Hospital and 20 persons from the Manchester-Bolton area. The woman was slated to undergo open heart surgery this morning.

The operation was provided by the local donors at a special drawing at the hospital yesterday.

Among those who took time and trouble to journey to Hartford and donate "a gift from the heart" was Everett Walker, 45, of 3 Walnut St., who with the drawing marked the completion of his 56th pint, or 7th gallon, of blood.

Walker, a long-time donor in the Manchester Blood on E. Center St. from 1:45 to 4:30 p.m.

Those who wish to donate but are unable to make advance appointments may just walk in during the scheduled hours.

Arrangements for the special drawing were made by Mrs. Elaine Sweet, director of the Manchester Red Cross office, who lined up the donors and made arrangements for transportation and scheduling.

The others who responded to the request and helped provide the needed supply of O-positive blood were:

Fred Backsten, Charles Reid, David Donovan, Mrs. Lucy Orangi, Mrs. Barbara Baker, Mrs. Joyce Graham, Alfred L. Hunter, Mrs. Mildred Olmsted, Mrs. Mary Gray, Mrs. Betty Barocco, Mrs. Joan Hulser, Mrs. Mary Boehner, the Rev. Eric Goldberg, Mrs. Veronica Avery, Mrs. Elizabeth Blodgett, Mrs. Rena Enderlin, Mrs. Elsie Crockett, Mrs. Helen Anzelina and Mrs. Betty Norris.

Mrs. Sweet said Manchester was asked to supply donors because Hartford Red Cross officials have had pressed astronomical landing spots.

The pictures - to be taken at a low angle to reveal the space astronaut's - will be taken with the 80-point space station's twin-lens camera system, then radiated to earth.

The shiny craft was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Feb. 2, and is in an orbit around the moon ranging from 80 to 1,146 miles above the surface.

The 12 sites to be photographed were selected as the areas where American astronauts may land before 1970.

Student Unit Admits Long Subsidy by CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) - Officials of the National Student Association say the organization has been subsidized since the early 1950s by the Central Intelligence Agency, the Washington Post reported today.

The Post quoted W. Eugene Ramparts, president of the NSA, as saying that no officers or employees of NSA "to our knowledge" had carried out intelligence functions for the CIA. In the same edition, the Post carried a full-page advertisement from Ramparts magazine saying that in its March issue, Ramparts "will document how the CIA has infiltrated and subverted the world of American student leaders... (and) has interfered, in a most shocking manner, in the internal working of the nation's oldest and largest student organization."

The Post quoted "independent sources" as saying the CIA subsidy to the student organization was started at a time when Communist governments were sponsoring youth congresses and the CIA felt a need to have the American student position represented at such gatherings.

The CIA had no immediate comment, said the Post.

The Post said it also learned that CIA subsidies to the student group were handled mainly through private foundations and in the past exceeded $100,000 a year. In recent years, the newspaper added, the subsidy has been reduced to less than $50,000 annually.

The Post quoted Groves as saying he met last month with Douglas Cater, a special assistant to President Johnson, to explain the link between the NSA and the intelligence agency. Groves said Cater had no previous knowledge of CIA ties to the student group.

He is scheduled to appear in Manchester Circuit Court 12 Feb. 27.

A Thought For Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

"Obey your rulers and respect their authority... they have great responsibility. Try to make their work a pleasure and not a burden." Hebrews 13:17

Mr. Johnson ought to be taking a good look at the Republican success last November and see the handwriting on the wall.

"We also believe," they wrote, "that the philosophy of the Republican Party is at this time perhaps more closely aligned to the views of you and your associates than that of our opponent."

The letters ask $500 dollars from each President's Club member. That fee buys a seat at the Republican "victory gala" on March 1 in Washington.

What brings a grinning sense of fear to California party leaders is the probability that without Lyndon Johnson's name being on the presidential primary ballot, Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, the immensely popular right-wing Democrat, would run himself - and probably win.

Such a victory by Yorty over the man who would carry the Johnson banner if Mr. Johnson himself refused to enter the primary-State Attorney General Thomas Lynch - is a nightmare in the anti-Yorty party leadership. The California delegation at the national convention then would consist solely of Yorty men.

The President has been made fully aware of all this, but it will be months before he tips his hand. And judging from 1964, he may ignore the advice of the California politician.

In that year, he showed his antipathy to entering primaries, refusing to run against George Wallace of Alabama, in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland. Wallace's spectacular showing (even though he lost) largely resulted from the absence of the Johnson name on the ballot.

A footnote: While urging Mr. Johnson to enter the primary, the California leaders are deeply concerned about the President's personal standing with California voters today. If the election were held tomorrow, they believe, the President would lose to any of the Republican contenders: Richard M. Nixon, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and Illinois Freshman Sen. Charles Percy.

In a whimsical turnabout, the Republicans are now soliciting political contributions from - hold your hat - the controversial President's Club.

Signed by those prestigious Republicans, Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, "Dear Mr. (Blank)," letters went out this week to all 2,500 members of President Johnson's club. Membership is limited to those who fork over at least 1,000 dollars to the Democrats.

Dirksen and Ford admit in their letters they may seem "presumptuous," but go on to say that the fat-cat contribu-

The $400,000 point is reached in the $1,770,000 drive of the Manchester Memorial Hospital building campaign.

Emmet O'Brien, an official of the State Department of Education, warns local residents that they had better work fast and hard if they want the state to provide Manchester with the long-promised new regional technical school within the next two years.

When Dirksen informed the meeting last night that a prominent Democrat - Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana, the majority whip - would sponsor a motion recommitting the bill to committee, Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, a conservative Republican, said he would support the bill and long time Dirksen ally, immediately objected. Mundt was joined by an overwhelming majority of the other Republicans. In fact, a few hours later on the Senate floor, a mere six Republicans joined Dirksen in voting for the Long motion (which failed 70 to 18).

Republican senators hope the incident will show Dirksen they simply won't swallow a steady diet of negativity this year. If not, more serious rebellions on more important issues are inevitable.

Writers Express Selves Via Check

Nice gesture on the part of the Connecticut Sports Writers' Alliance who look ahead yesterday and voted unanimously to present Pat Bolduc with a check for $1,000, part of the profit from the recent Gold Key Dinner. Bolduc is hospitalized at Sloan-Kettering Hospital, 444 East 68th Street, New York and is due for discharge this weekend.

The Hartford Courant sportswriter, who makes his home in Manchester, has been making rapid strides in his recovery.

Charitable institutions in Connecticut will also be beneficiaries of the dinner profits as has been the case in the past.

The 1968 Gold Key Dinner will be staged at the new Park Plaza Hotel in New York on Jan. 29. Mitt Northrop, sports editor of the Waterbury Republican, will head the scribers in 1967.

Villanova Track Stars Are Threatened With Loss of Scholarships in Rhubarb

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Villanova athletes say they have been threatened with the loss of their scholarships and at least three foreign athletes have been barred from the New York Athletic Club games scheduled for this Friday in the latest flare-up of the war between the AAU and NCAA.

Practically all agree they are mystified, worried and angry.

"It's an old story, this fight between the national and international organizations," Hamilton said.

Not Hearing Any Footsteps

Rugged Slate Ahead For Hannum's Club

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Alex Hannum says his Philadelphia 76ers aren't hearing any footsteps.

"I expect to win the Eastern Division by at least five games," Hannum said Monday night after the team's 107-95 victory over the Cincinnati 131-125 in a National Basketball Association game as Will Chamberlain led the way with 58 points.

Hannum refused to even worry about the schedule which has Chamberlain, who most of the season has sacrificed his scores in order to concentrate on team play.

"The schedule," Hannum exclaimed, "We have worked all season long to get six Royals Monday night, driving us to the floor. That's the way we stay there. I don't care when his pro career ends, he can go home or on the road. We'll win regular season play."

In defeating Cincinnati for the sixth time in seven meetings this season, Philadelphia took the lead with 27 seconds left in a 134-133 game, as compared to a 144-138 record when the slide began.

Jerry Lucas drilled in a 22-point performance to pace the Cincinnati attack. Adrian Smith added 22 points and Oscar Robertson 23.

In the only other game Monday night, Zelmo Beaty scored 22 points and set a new 1966-67 record for St. Louis post New 139-109 at Memphis, Tenn. Willis Reed led New York with 18 points.

Career Just Adequate at Best

Darling of Angel Fandom, Pearson Hangs Up Spikes

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — "My career was just adequate at best. I'm just glad to get out of here every day, and we have to go out and look for a job," said Jim Pearson, the darling of California Angel fans, as he announced his retirement from baseball Monday because of a back injury.

"I don't have any special plans," he added. "I haven't had any special offers of any sort that have been significant."

Pearson, 32, was a star pitcher for the Angels in 1965 and 1966, finishing with a 12-10 record and a 2.44 ERA in 1966. He was also named to the All-Star team in 1966.

UConn's Make Hay With Maine Five

The University of Connecticut basketball team overcame Maine 114-88 Monday night to gain its seventh consecutive Yankee Conference victory. The Huskies have not lost a conference game all season.

Starshooter Wes Blalowski scored 38 points for Connecticut, which can be for the conference championship in the last three league games. Two wins would put UConn in the lead.

UConn plays the second place team, Massachusetts, on Saturday. The Huskies have a home date against New Hampshire and a tough one at Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Rhode Island each have two league games.

Stephen Jim Stephenson led Maine with 30 points in the game, which was played at Orange, Maine.

The Huskies are now 14-4 overall, while Maine is 6-9 overall and only 1-6 in conference play.

In other action Monday night, Bridgeport dropped a 22-point game to the Huskies in Long Island University in New York, 87-74.

Bob Weisner scored 22 points and Bobby Britt 21 for Bridgeport in the losing effort. Bridgeport is now 10-13 overall and 4-9 in the Tri-State League. LIU is at 8-9.

Four Ranking Clubs Escape Being Upset

NEW YORK (AP) — Louisville, Princeton, Western Kentucky and Kansas, four among the ranking teams which climbed an active list of 25 in the latest Associated Press major-college basketball poll.

Unbeaten UCLA, the only other team in the Top Ten to emerge without a loss last weekend, remained the poll's unchanged leader. The Bruins, 17-0, were the unanimous choice for first place for the fifth straight week.

Vanderbilt, a top contender in the Southeastern Conference and Syracuse, 17-2, including the Hilltoppers to fifth and Kansas to sixth, Western Kentucky and Princeton to seventh.

Notre Dame, Greg Willett and Tom Reynolds, both in the scoring and rebounding departments.

East 75, Xavier 65.

Elington should have no trouble with the Bulldogs, but after a 64-47 win over Butler, despite giving away the home advantage, he picked up the ball again in double figures including one of the area's most prolific scorers, Elington, who has also been a steady performer.

A win will enable the Knights to gain tournament qualification with spots in the 1967-68 NCAA men's in the East for the NCCC crown with East Windsor High, Ellington, 66, Butler 50.

Other predictions:

Bolton 77, East Hampton 60, Phil Dearden 210-582, Hank Williams 141-73, Max Berman 228, Max Smole 224, Harry Eich 224-402, Harry Baskind 223, Joe Hill 221, Cy Perkins 212-202-574, Fred Towle 206, Phil Dearden 210-582, Hank Williams 141-73, Max Berman 228, Max Smole 224, Harry Eich 224-402, Harry Baskind 223, Joe Hill 221, Cy Perkins 212-202-574, Fred Towle 206.

Warriors Hurling But Not Mr. Barry

NEW YORK (AP) — With big Nate Thurmond unable to lend a hand, the San Francisco Warriors are hurting and Rick Barry is on his own.

But Thurmond's broken hand hasn't stopped Barry from making his point.

Barry scored 16 points, including a season-high 11 in the first half, to help the Warriors escape a 107-97 defeat by the Los Angeles Lakers.

Barry's performance was a stark contrast to his play in the previous game, when he scored only 10 points in a 107-97 loss to the Lakers.

NIT Theory Sounds Good But Some Fives Like NCAA

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Invitation Basketball play in a tournament you can win. Last year we went to the NIT and we were the only team to win it.

The NIT didn't expect the Bruins. It simply figured some of the major independents would decide there was little sense in struggling through the tough-ness of UCLA and Lew Alcindor waiting in the final.

There are a few problems with that theory. Some of the major independents don't consider UCLA a threat and they select you, you pretty much have to go. I think the team would prefer the NCAA.

Lou Casarrese of St. John's has one of the stronger independent teams in the country and being a New York school, St. John's figures to be produced.

"Either tournament," Lou said, "would be fine. But we've got a big front line, the kind you need against UCLA."

"I don't think UCLA will keep teams out of one tournament," said Fred Lewis, the Syracuse University coach.

David Takes Job As Lions Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jim David, defensive backfield coach at San Francisco State, 49ers since 1964, will be in Detroit next season, coaching his old team.

David, who played defensive back with the Lions for eight years, will be coaching the 49ers' defense.

Western Kentucky on Move After First Game Setback

Western Kentucky might be a wiped out of some of the tarnish by beating Creighton 75-60 at Omaha.

The Hilltoppers started the season with a losing streak of one straight and have been in a slump ever since.

Even the top-ranked Bruins can't top that string with their 100 record.

Two other top teams, Kansas and Houston, also ran well. Kansas protected its narrow lead over the Bruins in the Big Eight lead and ran its last half and stopped Oklahoma record to 163 overall with a 10-0 record in the Big Eight.

Houston, which dropped to seventh after losing Saturday, Heritage game.

Cincinnati 'Inside' For AFL Franchise

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The American Football League will expand to 10 teams by June, and Cincinnati reportedly has the inside track for the next franchise. League owners meeting here also have discussed moving the annual Super Bowl to Miami.

Tech Victim Of Windham

Breaking into the win column after 17 straight defeats, Windham Tech grouped four scores in double figures to defeat Cheney Tech, 68-35 yesterday in Willimantic. It was the 14th loss in 18 starts for the Rangers and the seventh in a row.

Cheney brings down the curtain on the campaign Wednesday afternoon at 2 against the Tech of Hartford in Manchester.

Many owners were concerned about the relatively poor turnout at the initial Super Bowl game at Los Angeles, only 63,000 fans turned out for the game in the mammoth 100,000-seat Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle was present as the owners discussed the possibility of moving the Super Bowl game to Miami, where the Orange Bowl is being expanded to seat 75,000.

The owners later turned their attention to a combined draft. Woodard says they cannot set a date until the NFL examines his recommendations in a Honolulu meeting. He said the draft will be held in New York as soon as possible after the NFL season.

Woodard added there was a possibility of an AFL-NFL All-Star game next January to replace the present arrangement of separate league All-Star contests.

Kennedy Medallions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miami Patterson is an aging player in double figures, but he has a chin that occasionally succumbs to occasional fortune.

Patterson's left outkicked his club at Miami Beach Sunday night as he connected in the third round and set out little-known and even less-regarded Willie Johnson of Miami. Johnson took a 12-10 decision over Patterson.

But Patterson wasn't carried away by his performance.

"I don't think I deserve a shot at the championship," he said. "I've had a bad run of luck, but I'm still a contender."
