LaBonne Charges Issue Unsettled

George (Ted) LaBonne of Glastonbury took strong issue today with reports that Howard Hausman of New Britain has enough votes in the 72-member State Central Committee to elect him new state chairman.

LaBonne charged that the reports are being circulated "to create a band-wagon atmosphere" and predicted that his supporters "will not allow themselves to be influenced in this manner."

His statement is in answer to one made yesterday by J. Brian Gaffney, New Britain's GOP town chairman, Gaffney said Hausman "is assured" of being elected to the new state chairmanship.

LaBonne released the following statement today: "As far as I am concerned, I disagree with reports that Howard Hausman is over the top, inasmuch as there has been no vote in the State Central Committee since the vote in the 32nd Senatorial District, two weeks ago."

"There has been a vigorous effort on the part of those supporting my opponent to create a psychological bandwagon today," LaBonne said.

"I firmly believe that the solid thinking members of the State Central Committee will not allow themselves to be influenced in this manner."

"As far as I can determine, I have more State Central Committee support today, committed to my candidacy, than at any prior time."

A 24-member Republican screening committee on Jan. 27 gave LaBonne 14 votes for state chairman to succeed A. Bruce Pinney, 9 for Hausman. One member abstained. The screening committee sent its vote to the State Central Committee as a report, not a recommendation.

The state committee will meet Feb. 28 to elect a chairman. In the interim, Pinney has called a meeting for 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Hartford Hilton to give exposure to LaBonne and Hausman. Invited are the 72 members of the State Central Committee, the 71 GOP members of the State Assembly, and the chairmen and vice chairmen of all GOP town committees. A turnout of over 500 is anticipated.

The meeting will be open to the press, radio and television. The Feb. 28 meeting of the State Central Committee will be held at the Hartford Hilton.

Correction A zero can make a big difference. A Herald story yesterday about the proposed new Lincoln School in Center Springs Park, stated — due to a typographical error — that 25 residents of the Lincoln district had signed a petition favoring the proposal. Actually more than 250 persons signed the petition.

Virginia Cellini pointed out today she is the chairman of a Lincoln parents' group which sponsored the petition, presented Wednesday night to the Town Planning Commission.

Chemical Plant Explodes 2 Risk Death To Save Girl

HAWTHORNE, N.J. (AP) — treating temperatures waiting for news. At Paterson General Hospital, a pretty 18-year-old laboratory worker pinned in the debris from a series of explosions that ripped a chemical plant.

Two workers, despite the possibility of another explosion at any moment, freed the girl in workroom who helped free Miss Kante, from the apparent center of the explosion, the blocking and presumed by authorities to be buried in the ruins.

Eighteen persons were injured, two seriously. Sifting through the rubble under floodlights and knocking down foot-long icicles that had formed during the day, nearly 300 volunteer firemen searched for the girl.

He said that it is not, and he emphasizes "not," the purpose of the meeting to generate any sentiment in either direction.

Firemen Quell Blaze in Car Eighth District firemen this morning extinguished an apartment electrical fire in a car at 107 Woodland St.

A fire official said the insulation between the motor and car body caught fire.

Firemen were shooting up the side of the building as it from a fire. The flames were only four feet above the girl's head.

"Don't leave me! Please don't leave me!" she pleaded. Decker said he knew there were other workers in the building who could not find it in time to get out.

Decker made his way through the dust and rubble to the exit, fractured ankles at the same time. He raced back into the flaming building with several other workers and police.

He found Miss Kante pinned by a cabinet and a pile of bricks and debris.

Mao 'Nearly Controls' All Inner Mongolia

Red Guards' Effort Fails In Two Areas

TOKYO (AP) — Radio Moscow said Saturday that after a series of bloody clashes opponents of Mao Tse-tung had seized "nearly full control" of Inner Mongolia.

The Japanese-language broadcast said leaders loyal to Mao had ordered three divisions of the People's Liberation Army from Peking to support Maoist revolutionary rebels.

The broadcast added that Maoist Red Guards had failed in efforts to take control in Shanxi and Sichuan Provinces and said a tense situation still persisted in the Dairen-Fort Arthur area of Liaoning Province.

In these areas, the broadcast said, peasants have joined anti-Maoist army soldiers.

Other reports told of continued opposition to Mao's "great cultural revolution" in Tibet and Fukien Province opposite Formosa.

An aide to the Communist party chairman was quoted as saying the influence of Mao's chief foes remained strong.

Robert Stumvoll, Manchester's State Representative, said he had been a frequent target of Red Guard criticism.

Japanese newsmen reported that Chi Pen-yu, a member of Mao's purge committee, said Communist General Teng Hsiao-ping and Deputy Premier Tso Chu have "failed to blow their heads and admit their crimes."

Their influence after six months of the purge was described as still "very deep-rooted."

Chi reportedly also told a discussion group that President Liu Shao-chi still refuses to admit that he opposed Mao and has "only admitted proposing a 'reactionary line.'"

Based on wall posters in Peking, the Japanese dispatches indicated that Liu, Teng and Tso remained defiant as recently as nine days ago. Wall posters said that they report to have reservations about handing over this important post to a man who is relatively new or completely unknown to them."

Before the meeting got under way at 10:30, Rep. Elmer Morrison of Newington said he had secured signatures of 54 of the 71 Republican representatives and senators on a petition supporting Hausman.

Among those who signed were Robert Stumvoll of Manchester, District 19. The other Republican representative from Manchester is Vincent Genovese, who has been ill since his election.

With LaBonne today were his wife, Nancy, a daughter, Lynn, and a sister, Mrs. Lois Hanlon. Associates distributed literature supporting him for the position.

The meeting was open to press, radio and television so that, as Pinney put it, "all Republicans can receive an accurate picture of the party and its platform for the post."

LaBonne said that when his name was first proposed for the post, he consulted State Central Committee member John P. Shea of Manchester, who in turn spoke with Edwin May, John Alsop, leaders of arms of the party, and with Pinney.

LaBonne said all four agreed that he should seek the position. In his prepared address, LaBonne said, "I am not thinking of myself as a candidate for the post. I am thinking of myself as a man who is willing to do anything to help the party and the state."

Australians Kill 70 Kong

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Australian troops bypassed an enemy ambush and killed 70 Viet Cong in a six-hour battle Friday, spokesman for the 1st Australian Task Force announced today.

It was the fourth straight day allied units — South Vietnamese, Koreans, Americans and Australians — have clashed with guerrillas in the zone.

The clashes erupted in the area of the Mekong Delta to the north of Quang Ngai Province, although the action tapered off today, allied troops continued hunting for their fleeing adversaries.

There was no pattern to the week's attacks, which were the heaviest so far this year. Several battalions were initiated by Communist troops.

The action capped three days of fighting that started Tuesday and continued through Thursday.

Bargains Saved From Pirate Trap

By JOHN STARKIS

The U.S.S. Savings Sail bunched gaily over the waves of Long Island Sound, guided by a false light which would lead it to disaster on the rocks of Plum Island.

The sneaky sounders of the Birthday Sale values for themselves. They had set up a false light on the rocky shore of the island to bring the ship in. Then the bids planned to grab the values after they washed ashore in the wreckage.

The wind slowly changed direction. "We must bring the ship to stop on course," announced General George (Jed) Clark of Core, Conn. Washington to Brig. Gen. Bernard Apter (Royal Men's Shop) who was dealing himself a hand of double solitaire while sitting on the deck.

General George Joe knew he had to give an order to change position of the sails. But he didn't know what to say. He searched for his new book, "The Dictionary of Nautical Terms."

Here alection appeal is formal to the search. "You're Apter," he said. "Find it!"

But they could not find it and were sailing off course.

"Drop the anchor," Gen. George Joe shouted. (They had the anchor aboard and had given up, to leave it behind. Before they left port a little girl in a woolly yellow dress came aboard dragging the anchor behind her. She told them her brother had taken the anchor from the ship as a prank the night before, and she had told them she was sorry.)

The anchor chain clanged and the anchor splashed into the water. The sails came down. A ship-wreck search for the book began.

Latest Budgets Ask More Than the 5%

The latest departmental budget requests to be filed in the general manager's office reveal that most ask increases above the 5 per cent guideline set by the manager.

The Pension Board is asking for $211,600 in town contributions for the 1967-68 year—92 per cent above the current appropriation. In addition, the board is requesting $6,000 for administration expenses. It was allocated $3,000 for the current year and received an additional $2,000 appropriation for that purpose last month.

The Highway Department is seeking $531,040 for next year against a current appropriation of $486,162, for a 22 per cent increase; $36,000 of the rise is for salary increments, the rest for service contracts and new equipment.

In addition, the Highway Department recommends a Capital Improvement item for a $100,000 addition to its Olcott St. garage.

The Garbage Collection and Disposal Account request is $283,133 for 1967-68, compared to a current appropriation of $244,018. The 12 per cent hike includes a $15,000 item for cover material for the disposal area and $18,000 for a new bulldozer, to replace a 1962 model.

A request is in for $100,000 for sidewalks and curbs 1967-68, up almost 140 per cent from the current year.

The street-lighting request for next year is $181,425, or 13 per cent higher than the current appropriation.

The Engineering Department is seeking $81,650 for 1967-68—up 32 per cent from the present year. The increase, in addition

Students Take President Roles

To the familiar strains of "Hail to the Chief," 23 Presidents of the United States and their wives, portrayed by students, marched into the auditorium of Bentley School yesterday. They told interesting facts about themselves—some familiar and others not so well known.

A chorus of thirteen girls sang several songs associated with some of the presidents. This program was planned by pupils of Grade 4 as a result of an English assignment. Several weeks ago, each pupil wrote an article about the life of a president or his wife.

Parents and pupils of Bentley School were in the audience. Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. Simmers were in charge of the program.

Deadline Nears On State Tests

The State department of Education has issued a reminder to take the first of Connecticut's revised high school equivalency tests is Monday.

The test will be given in two parts, March 4 and March 11. Tentative test sites are Bridgeport, Manchester, Meriden, Norwich, Stamford and Waterbury. Final decisions on test sites each month will be made on the basis of numbers of applications from the test site area.

Patrick J. Whalen, the department's high school equivalency consultant, urged adults who never graduated from high school but who now wish to earn a diploma to file an application with their local school authorities if they want to take the March test.

Applications can be made in Manchester by visiting the placement office at Manchester High School.

To be eligible to apply a person must be at least 18 years old, a Connecticut resident for six months, out of full-time day secondary school at least one academic year and a former member of a class which already has graduated.

Quinn's Pharmacy and Weldon Drug, Main St. this week received special awards from the Charles Pfizer Pharmaceutical Co. for having filled one million or more prescriptions from the company.

The awards were presented to the owners of the drug stores by William Prindle, sales representative for Pfizer. The co-owners of Quinn's, Acle F. Johnson and Glen C. Rivard, are both members of the Connecticut Pharmaceutical Association, as are Jack and George Sandals, co-owners of Weldon Drug. In addition, the Sandals are members of the American Pharmaceutical Association and the American College of Apothecaries.

The awards are in the form of plaques which bear on it a barometer, a thermometer, and as a symbol of the pharmaceutical profession, the "Eye of Horus" believed to be the oldest existing pharmacy symbol and the origin of the "Rx" prescription mark.

The raised bronze "Eye of Horus" on the plaques is a replica of one designed for the story-line medicine and pharmacy mural in the Pfizer World Headquarters building in New York City.

Fourth in Lutz Series

"The Living Wildness," the fourth in the series of Audubon film lectures being presented this winter by Lutz Junior Museum and the Manchester Jaycees, will be presented Saturday, Feb. 25 at 3 p.m. in Manchester High School's Bailey Auditorium by naturalist Walter H. Berlet.

His film-lecture will give local nature enthusiasts an unusual opportunity to view close-up the wild mammals of the American Rockies. More than eight years in preparation, "The Living Wildness" centers on mammals native to Wyoming, Montana and Idaho which are threatened with extinction.

A highlight of the film is the stalking of a cougar. The camera follows the big cat as Berlet explains its important role in wildlife management and how it actually strengthens the species of animals on which it preys.

The lecturer is a member of the Photographic Society of America, the Sierra Club, the Wilderness Society and the Lutz Wildlife League. He has photographed extensively in Mexico, Canada, Africa and Europe in addition to trails throughout the U.S.

The inventor and developer of the Super Lens attachment, Berlet has also worked with several different manufacturers on special telephoto lenses.

Three years ago, he launched his own weekly television show, and he recently completed the film, "Wildlife of the 49th State," which is currently being shown nationally on TV.

Tickets for the Manchester lecture will be available at the door the night of the performance.

20 Shows May Get The Ax

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — First moves in network television's annual program maneuvers have been made. In what the show business journal "Variety" calls a $300 million chess game it appears that more than 20 current programs will be dropped at season's end, while another 10 or so are in precarious situations.

Each network, preparing a schedule of programs for next September insists that its plans are still incomplete, but because they all deal with studios, sponsors, advertising agencies and independent show packagers, their walls of silence are as thin as tissue paper.

If the consensus is correct a lot of old programs are now on their last legs. Among those for which little hope is held are such long-playing favorites as 17-year-old "What's My Line?," 14-year-old "I've Got a Secret," 11-year-old "To Tell the Truth" — as an evening show — and 7-year-old "Candid Camera," all on CBS.

Other ailing programs not expected back include ABC's "Combat," NBC's "Flipper," "Laredo" and "Please Don't Eat the Daisies."

Programs starting this season but not expected to see another include ABC's "The Monroes," "The Green Hornet," "The Phyllis Diller Show" and "Rango."

NBC's "Girl From U.N.C.L.E.," "Hey Landlord," "The Road West" and "T.H.E. Cat" are considered to be out of the new schedule.

CBS's "Pistols 'N' Petticoats" will certainly not return, nor in all probability "It's About Time" or "Coliseum."

Neither "Captain Nice" on NBC nor "Mr. Terrific" on CBS, twin midseason replacements seem to have won another season.

CBS's Danny Kaye has formally announced his retirement from weekly television, and Yaphet Kotto and Gloria Calomes in "Losers Weepers," the premiere presentation on "NBC Experiment in Television" Sunday at 4 p.m. The drama, about a Negro family, was written by a resident of Watts and is set there.

Something Good in TV Ads

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The perennial problem in show business: Where to find new talent. Here's one answer: Television commercials.

The decline of such proving grounds as repertory, vaudeville, night clubs and B movies make it ever more difficult for newcomers to train themselves and be discovered for the big time. Lately the much-maligned television commercial has produced a clutch of young, imaginative film directors in London and New York.

Barbara Feldon is further evidence that something good can come out of commercials.

She is a Pittsburgh, Pa., girl who studied drama at Carnegie Tech, later graduated from the Copacabana line to perform in commercials. She became famous as the tiger girl with her sultry pitch for a men's hair cream. "Sic 'em, tiger," she murmured, and sales mounted.

Her fame led to an offer to costar as Don Adams' loyal sidekick, Agent 99, in the NBC series, "Get Smart." That in turn led to a costarring role with Dick Van Dyke in a new film, "Garden of Cucumbers."

Only now is she earning as much as she did as the tiger girl.

Says she: "I made more money working three days a year for Revlon than I did working 30 weeks at 13 hours a day during the first season of 'Get Smart.'"

"Once I reported for a commercial in which they wanted me to use only one of my eyes," she recalled. "All I had to do was close the eye and open it. I worked a half-hour and for a whole year I collected $200 a week as the commercial was played."

The big money in commercials, she observed, comes when a girl is signed to a contract as spokeswoman or symbol for a certain product. Only a few have been so fortunate, among them: Eddie Adams, Betty Furness, Barbara Britton and Barbara Feldon.

If the work was so lucrative, why did she turn to acting? "You have to be well-adjusted to handle a commercial contract," she said. "You work so little that you must find ways to occupy your time. I managed pretty well, but sometimes the inactivity became wearing. Besides, I felt that I needed to progress in my career. I couldn't be the tiger girl forever."

NBC has let it be known that the Bob Hope Wednesday night theatre will wind up this spring although the comedian will continue with his popular comedy specials next season as usual.

Andy Williams wants — and will probably get — occasional specials instead of his weekly NBC series. ABC's "Batman" will be shrunk from two to one half-hour weekly show.

All of these programs have done poorly in the national Nielsen ratings.

CRUCIBLE DATE

NBC has announced that "The Crucible," Arthur Miller's drama of the Salem witchcraft trials, will be broadcast May 4 from 9 to 11:15 p.m. George C. Scott, Colleen Dewhurst and Fritz Weaver are in the cast.

Maurice Chevalier and Diahann Carroll mix song in French and English in "C'est La Vie." The show, filmed in Paris, will be shown on "ABC Stage 67" Thursday at 10 p.m.

'What's My Line?' Iffy

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS says it is still weighing decisions on its fall programs and final decisions on individual programs were still to be made, including the fate of "What's My Line?"

"We have made no decision on our fall program schedule as yet," said Charles S. Steinberg, CBS vice president in charge of public information. "It is still iffy. The schedule is still being put together."

The New York Times stated this week the program, now 17 years old, would be dropped next fall.

None of the top CBS executives immediately in charge of setting up program schedules was available for comment. But Mark Goodson, who produces the weekly panel show for its owner, CBS said that he had received no word of a pending cancellation.

If CBS drops the program — the second oldest on the networks today — it would not come as a great surprise. The half-
