Police Hold Nearly 100, Quell March

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police quashed a demonstration for an open housing ordinance by holding every one of about 100 marchers to jail Wednesday night.

The arrests apparently removed doubts about the city's action on its temporary ban against night marches by the demonstrators.

Police twice fired tear gas pellets into a crowd of more than 700 hecklers, at times forcing them two blocks away from demonstrations.

A police captain said the hecklers appeared angrier than during other of the almost nightly demonstrations. Police included a total of 113 persons including some hecklers for throwing rocks, scuffling with police or failing to obey orders to move out.

Moments after marchers arrived in the South End, Police Chief William Blodner helped clear away the first of the rights advocates who sat down to sing freedom songs.

Some of the Negroes cried "police brutality!" as officers put them into patrol wagons and took them to the station.

The Rev. A. D. Williams King said he and others on the committee on open housing were considering a drive. This he said, involved having about 200 autos drive through many intersections at a maximum speed of 10 miles an hour.

Evidence at the scene indicated the plane hit a hangar in the ground, then bounced a few hundred yards into the slope of a hillside less than 100 feet high. It was watching the plane of the first persons on the scene. "There are bodies all over the place, some of them in pieces." The survivors were in the plane's tail section, the only part which remained somewhat intact.

"We kept looking but all we could find apart from those bodies was the tail section of the plane. The rest had been crushed and burned into flames." Greek and Cypriot policemen and soldiers, British airman and U.S. Peace Force members worked in a downpour under spotlights beamed down by hovering U.N. helicopters.

water pollution, solid waste disposal, traffic and storm sewer drainage.

Weiss recommended a study of the town's long-range needs over the next six years.

He said, "We can't continue not facing our problems."

He started the group when he cited one problem.

"Only 21 weeks of capacity remains in our landfill disposal area and we must find an immediate remedy," he said.

That remedy, he said, could be digging, acquisition of more land, or some other method of disposal.

Weiss said that the town's full-time staff may come up with the answers to the town's problems, but that those answers still would require citizen assistance.

He said that some of the solutions will require bond issues and that citizen aid will be needed for passage.

Congressman Robbed Leaving Bar in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich., Freedom of Information Committee, was robbed of $10,000 while leaving a bar in Miami Tuesday.

An advance was made on "the traditional battlefront against bureaucrats," said ANNE's committee, but the gain was more than offset by losses in free press-fair trial controversy.

The setbacks, described in a report addressed to the more than 500 newspaper editors opening ANNE's annual meeting today, were summarized in these terms by the committee headed by J. Edward Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, Phoenix:

"These (losses) resulted from actions by the Supreme Court and the American Bar Association which, intentionally or not, scared a lot of policemen, prosecutors, defense counsel and the especially judges into suppressing legitimate news of the criminal process."

One of the major developments, said the committee, was the Supreme Court's ruling that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard had been denied a fair trial because of prejudicial pretrial publicity.

KEEP TIGHT REIN ON BRIDGE GIFTS

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Boys often celebrate April 1 by tying a string to a wallet placed on the sidewalk. Not original, but very satisfactory. A handful of students felt this satisfaction when they found the right play in today's hand during the annual Intercollegiate Bridge Championships.

Opening lead—two of hearts. East won the first trick with the queen of hearts, noting that West had led from a four-card suit. This meant that South also had started with four worthless hearts. A trump return was clearly called for.

In all but a handful of cases a heart with the jack of diamonds at the second trick, this allowed East to win a trump trick with a good idea, but not good enough.

South can save the trump since South had no doubt about the location of the queen dummy's lack after he has cashed diamonds he let the low diamond ride around to dummy's East will eventually get two Jack. Declarer got to his hand with the ace of spades, ruffed a heart in dummy and discarded a heart on the king of spades. Declarer then ruffed a club, drew trumps with the ace and king, and then connected the heart trick. It was astonishing, but South made five diamonds doubled against East's 21 points in high cards.

Best Return

East can defeat the contract by returning the king of diamonds instead of a low diamond which will raise your suit; if he denies at the second trick, South is delighted to capture the queen notrump, you will bid four clubs with the king, but Game at a black suit should be his joy is short lived.

South clears the ace of spades out of the hand and then can ruff

MRS. JAMES CUNNINGHAM

By DORIS BELDING

Mrs. James (Helen) Cunningham of 159 Bradford St. loves to bake and cook and often treats her family and friends to Anadama Bread. She has also included a recipe for Dieter's Meat Loaf for those, she said, who cannot resist the high calorie bread. According to Mrs. Cunningham, there is a legend about how the bread got its name. "Many years ago," she said, "there was a Cape Ann fisherman whose wife, Anna, was too lazy to bake bread, and as a substitute she served cornmeal mush. One day her husband stirred some flour into the mush, added yeast, stirred the batter and put it in the oven to bake. As he slammed the oven door shut he said 'there Anna, damn her.' Neighbor's asked for the recipe of his creation which he called Anadama Bread to shame his slovenly spouse."

Anadama Bread
 1/2 cup cornmeal
 2 tablespoons shortening
 1/2 cup molasses
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 cups boiling water
 2 yeast cakes
 5 to 6 cups sifted flour

Combine cornmeal, shortening, molasses and salt in bowl. Pour boiling water over ingredients and stir until shortening dissolves. Let stand until lukewarm. Crumble yeast cakes into lukewarm mixture; stir until softened and well blended. Add five or six cups sifted flour, or enough to make stiff dough. Knead lightly and let rise until double in bulk. Knead again, divide in half. Place in greased bread pans and let rise until about double in bulk. Bake 45 minutes in 375-degree oven. This recipe makes two large loaves of bread.

Dieter's Meat Loaf
 2 pounds lean ground chuck
 1 envelope dry onion soup mix
 1 can (18-ounce) tomato sauce
 2 eggs

Mix all ingredients in bowl. Place in pan and bake about one hour in 350-degree oven. Mrs. Cunningham is a native of Hartford, and attended

The students blocked vehicles in front of the building as they paraded on both sides of the street. They circled around an automobile which was parked in the middle of the street.

Many students sat on lawns and cars watching the others picket.

Barry Criticizes Facilities For Disturbed Teen-agers

HARTFORD (AP) — "The state has failed to provide adequate facilities for emotionally disturbed teen-agers," Sen. David M. Barry, D-Manchester, said today.

Barry spoke before the legislature's Public Welfare Committee on a bill to amend the state's mental health code that would set up a $500,000 pilot project aimed at treating and caring for the state's 16 to 21 year olds.

Admissions of teen-agers to mental institutions throughout the country are increasing at a higher rate than any other age group, Barry said. "Essentially the same way we're treating older people."

"If you had occasion to visit the Institute of Living in private mental hospital in Hartford, it looks like a college campus. It does like a college campus because of the youth of the patients," Barry said.

Bloomfield said the problem of mentally disturbed adolescents tends to be especially difficult to treat and are often of a type about which relatively little is known.

He said the state mental hospitals are handling young people over the age of 16, Bloomfield said, "essentially the same way we're treating older people."

The interior of the service station, blackened by fire.

Oil Drum Explodes At Service Station

A drum containing about 25 gallons of kerosene exploded early this morning inside Mullin's Sales & Service Autos, at 176 Tolland Tpk., blowing out several bay door windows and burning the inside of the wooden and brick structure.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined, 8th District Fire Chief Francis Limerick said today.

No one was inside the station when the explosion occurred, the chief said.

Limerick said the blaze caused "quite a lot" of damage to the sides of the building and wiring near the oil drum, located near a furnace in the southwest corner of the garage.

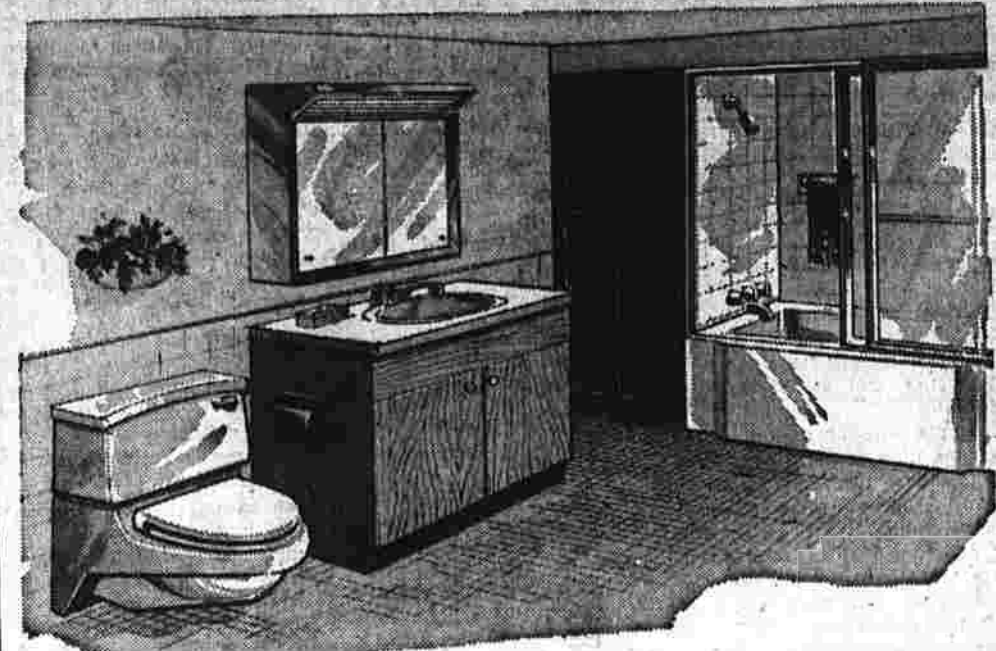

One and a half inch hoses from two trucks were used to quell the fire and wash away the kerosene, he said.

The chief said firemen returned to the firehouse shortly before 2 a.m.

Illing Students Hear String Group

These musicians found time for a little "shop talk" after a performance this morning at Illing Junior High School by a string quartet from the Hartford Symphony Orchestra. Eighth grader Patty O'Neil, gingerly accepting Bernard Lurie's violin, and Kathy Paulid, bowing Dorothy Fildars' cello, play the instruments in Illing's orchestra. Other performers in the string group were Golda Shour and Abe Minkind. The program, sponsored by the school music department, was a follow-up to the 7th and 8th grades' study of the history and evolution of stringed instruments. The program included the performance of Anton Dvorak's "American" String Quartet, written during his stay in the United States in the late 1890's. (Herald photo by Orlana.)

None Arrested In 3 Crashes

Two separate rear-end crashes and a five-car crash in MacDonald's parking lot off W. Center St. were reported today by police.

No injuries were reported and no arrests made.

In the parking lot crash, Eoba P. Steele of Glastonbury stopped her car at 8 p.m. yesterday to pick up groceries at the First National Store across from MacDonald's when, police said, the car took off at a fast speed, crossing W. Center St.

The Steele car continued on striking a car owned by Charles E. Griffin Jr., 19, of 92 Donah St. The woman's car then smashed into a trash can before bounding over an embankment, police said.

They said as a result of the impact with the first car, the Crawford vehicle hit Griffin's which was shoved into a car owned by Wilbert W. Nead, 24, of 115 Hemlock St. The Nead car then struck a car owned by Herbert J. Lillibridge, 25, of 21 Seaman Circle which was pushed into a fence post, police reported.

In the other accident, a car driven by Sandra J. Pattishall, of East Hartford rammed the rear of another at 9:20 p.m. yesterday at Main and Birch Sts., police reported.

Police said Karen M. Parsiak of 67 Comstock Rd. had stopped her car for a traffic light at the intersection when her car was hit by Pattishall's.

The other rear-end crash occurred at 3:48 p.m. yesterday at Adams St. and New State Rd., police reported. They said Carolyn C. Santucci of East Hartford had stopped her car for a stop sign at the intersection and then drove forward slightly and stopped for traffic. A car behind her driven by John T. Warren couldn't stop in time and struck the rear of the woman's car, police said.

Trees Distributed to Sixth Grade Students

Dr. Howard Baldwin, chairman of Chamber of Commerce's Arbor Day Program, presents a Black Hill Spruce seedling to Bentley School sixth grade student Joan Donovan during ceremonies yesterday morning at the school. Other Bentley students are Nancy Donlon, a fifth grader, and Thomas Neuman, in sixth grade. Miss Donlon is chairman of the program at Bentley, arranged by the fifth grade. Flanking Dr. Baldwin on the right are Donald C. Mathews, director of Connecticut's Park and Forest Commission, and Town Mayor Nathan Agostinelli, respectively. On the doctor's left is William Curtis, Manchester school superintendent, who accepted the trees on behalf of the board of education. Agostinelli represented the town. Under the program, each public and parochial elementary school will be given a Kwanzaa cherry tree, and each sixth grade student a seedling. The trees and seedlings are being donated by the Women's Relief Corps. (Herald photo by Saterina.)

Refuse Volume Rise Shortens Dump Life

In October of 1965, former Town Manager Richard Martin and former Director of Public Works Walter Fuses estimated that 15 years of use remained in Manchester's Olcott St. Disposal Area.

On Tuesday night, 18 months later, present Town Manager Robert Weiss started the Board of Directors by announcing that only 2 1/2 weeks of use remains.

The estimate by Martin and Fuses had been predicted on definition of the disposal area. By diluting Hop Brook, it would be channeled to run straight into the Hoeknum River, instead of meandering through the entire area.

By town, eventually, will have to find more land for disposal, wherever proposal is followed.

As to why there is such a disparity between the estimates by Martin and Fuses and those of Weiss, he may be blamed for modern eating habits. The public has become educated to use more and more canned goods and frozen foods, and other method of disposal. The town has two representative siting in as observers at the South Windsor meetings of the North Central Refuse Disposal District. Director Wayne Wainwright said that the two-week refuse pickup, although every household sets out trash, including paper.

The situation in Manchester is not unique; it is being faced by almost all of the country's communities.

Several years ago a suggestion was made that all of Manchester's homes be provided with individual disposal units, with the cost to be shared by the homeowner and the town. The problem of cans would remain, however.

Other solutions for disposal problems include incineration, combustion and a still-to-be-developed method stemming from nuclear energy.

South Windsor Reduced Budget Okayed for Schools

The board of education today approved a $2,000,000 budget for the coming fiscal year by a vote of 10-0.

The figure represents an additional reduction of $13,258 over the council's original budget. The council's original budget was $3,097,753 which was presented at a public hearing last week.

The council reduced the request of the board by a total of $1,097,753. The original request was $3,200,000.

Mayor James Throve said no line cuts on specific items had been made by the council. However, the council agreed reductions could be made in the following categories:

Custodians salaries, cut $2,000; custodial supplies, cut $200; maintenance supplies, cut $1,000; supplies for activities, cut $3,170; supplies for out-of-town instruction, cut $4,000.

Councilman John Egan commented that the passage of the budget is the most responsible act the council performs. He noted that it was not possible to meet with approval from everyone in the budget adoption. However, he said he would vote for this amount.

Egan said the council had cut a substantial amount from the board request with the purpose in mind of fiscal responsibility to the town.

Councilman Howard Fitts said the additional cuts of $1,097,753 reflect the responsibility of the public hearing vote. Some $24 residents voted at the hearing that the council should not reduce the budget sufficiently.

Councilman Daniel P. Cavagnone said he would support the budget by approving two personal services cuts—keeping the school hours and keeping the per pupil costs in the budget in line with the state.

Cavagnone expressed his preference for returning the budget to the board and requesting them to reduce the total before the council made any cuts. However, he said he would not make any reductions in the total figure, so the council made the request for the council to do.

Bill Opposed

The council also passed a resolution in opposition to a bill under consideration in the state legislature on the establishment of a regional housing authority.

Rep. Edwin A. Lussman said the bill is to establish a public housing authority for towns abutting Hartford, including South Windsor.

Lussman commented that reports of a substitute bill being introduced that would delete South Windsor from the proposed area were incorrect.

He commented that the hearing was held by the committee considering the bill yesterday and no substitute bill has been filed.

The bill under consideration would provide for suburban areas to be part of a capital region authority which would have complete control of all existing public housing and also of all new public housing.

The housing authority would be governed by a 24-member board of directors, based on General Assembly districts. East Hartford would have 10 members, East Hartford three and West Hartford three. South Windsor would only be entitled to one-half of a vote, however.

The authority would also have the power of eminent domain. The only control individual towns would have on the location of public housing within a town would be the zoning regulations.

"Forced" Housing

Lussman noted that the town would be forced to accept public housing although the election might vote against the bill in a referendum which would be held in all the towns in November 1968. If a majority of voters in the district approved the bill it would become law although individual towns disapproved it.

Councilman Cavagnone questioned the advantages of the bill in possibly securing federal funds. Lussman replied that no advantage would be gained in this area by approval of the bill.

Councilman Egan said the bill would impose a tremendous burden on the taxpayers in the towns, if it is approved.

Egan commented that the matter seemed to be one of urban versus suburban interests and noted that it was in agreement with the opposition of Rep. Lussman on the question.

In answer to a question by Egan on any bills that are un-

Post Office Is Approved

Mayor James Throve has announced that the Post Office Department in Washington has approved plans for a new central post office in South Windsor.

The mayor said Congressmen Emilio Daddario had informed him of the move. The post office will handle all postal services for the town. The new building is expected to be located near the new town hall in the Wapping Center area.

The site must be approved by the regional office of the post office department in Boston. Building plans must also be approved by this office.

The South Windsor Post Office located on Main St. will be closed when the school is expected to be ready, with 1,000 representing a 90 per cent use of the facilities.

The mayor said he expected to hear from the Boston regional office in the near future on the plans, specifications and design of the new building.

When the new facility is completed the mailing address for the entire town will be South Windsor rather than the present division between Wapping and South Windsor.

Manchester Man Heads Committee for Festival

The Connecticut River will be the theme of the Manchester Festival on and near Constitution Plaza in Hartford June 16 through 28.

The river, which has played so large a part in the history and development of Greater Hartford, will provide the inspiration for many of the festival's exhibits. It will be the theme of a museum show being created by Ellsworth Grant of West Hartford, a river historian whose research on the Connecticut has resulted in a recent article in "American Heritage" as well as the film "The Long Road to the River."

His film will be shown in the Plaza/Little Film Theatre along with many prize winning films from the Connecticut River Film Library Assn. The Connecticut River will also be featured in the festival's historical, literary, photography and art exhibits.

The festival, sponsored by the Coordinating Council of the Arts for Greater Hartford, is devoted to the lively arts.

General chairman of the festival is N. William Knight of Manchester and The Connecticut Bank and Trust Company. Staff in a complex of joined buildings.

Bennet Students Meet Dr. Cho

Among the audience attending a musical program on Korean and Japanese theater and dance Tuesday evening at Manchester High School were 30 seventh grade pupils from Bennett Junior High and their teachers, East Hartford three and West Hartford three. South Windsor would only be entitled to one-half of a vote, however.

The authority would also have the power of eminent domain. The only control individual towns would have on the location of public housing within a town would be the zoning regulations.

"Forced" Housing

Lussman noted that the town would be forced to accept public housing although the election might vote against the bill in a referendum which would be held in all the towns in November 1968. If a majority of voters in the district approved the bill it would become law although individual towns disapproved it.

Councilman Cavagnone questioned the advantages of the bill in possibly securing federal funds. Lussman replied that no advantage would be gained in this area by approval of the bill.

Councilman Egan said the bill would impose a tremendous burden on the taxpayers in the towns, if it is approved.

Egan commented that the matter seemed to be one of urban versus suburban interests and noted that it was in agreement with the opposition of Rep. Lussman on the question.

In answer to a question by Egan on any bills that are un-factory until the Jan. 27 Apollo tragedy in which three astronauts were killed.

NASA's information channels were not equal to the Apollo emergency, the report said. No official word came until 1 hour and 30 minutes after the fire started, and "although the agency knew within five minutes, it took two hours to learn that all three astronauts were dead."

"NASA information not only was late and sparse, but some of it was deliberately misleading, some of it inaccurate."

"President Johnson continues to be naive in his credulity by consistently trying to make the news sound or seem better than it is."

Little Man Big Killer In Marathon Victory

BOSTON (AP) — Little man Dave McKenzie of New Zealand was hailed as a "big killer" and a "top Olympic contender" today after a 26.2-mile race in which he swept the first four places with a record-setting performance.

The 5-foot-4, 120-pound McKenzie, who finished the race in 2:17.1, was very cold and his legs were "too far off to think about right now." However, he obviously is looking forward to a crack at Japan's best, including Shigematsu, now in training for the gold medal test in Mexico City.

"I was very cold and my legs were very stiff, but I was for a third straight BAA not overly tired at the finish," McKenzie said. "The hills didn't bother me. I just wanted to stay out in front."

"We didn't expect to be so fast," McKenzie said. "We had hoped to be in the top five, but we were pulled away as we headed into the first three hills. Yutaka was the third, known as Heartbreak Hill, and actually closed to within 10 yards of McKenzie at the finish."

McKenzie pulled away from the pack on the third hill and won by his sixth straight margin of 18 minutes and 45 seconds. He had won the Boston Marathon in 1966 and 1967.

Two Girls Snighed Up Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Two members of the fair sex and another long-haired runner who had spectators fooled all the way spiced the 71st running of the traditionally all-male Boston A.A. Marathon.

Roberta Gibb of Winchester, Mass., jumped out of the brush to join the field about 300 yards from the starting line and completed the 26-mile, 385-yard race in 3:57.42.

Miss Gibb, a freckle-faced 23-year-old redhead, was greeted with a roar of approval by the spectators as she crossed the finish line with an unofficial clocking of 3 hours, 57 minutes, 42 seconds. She was about an hour behind the winner and about midway in the field of runners.

"I'm terribly disappointed with my time," Gibb said. "I had hoped to do better, but I was out of sync from the start."

Another female runner, Kay Switzer of Syracuse, N.Y., also finished the race in 4:15. She was the only woman to complete the marathon in 1967.

Rocky Took Advice from Little Man

Advice from Willie Pep was followed to a tee by Rocky Marciano 20 years ago, and as a result the Brockton, Mass., bull went on to match Pep's world championship status, but in a different division, as a heavyweight.

This was brought out by Marciano at the 19th annual dinner of the Connecticut Boxing Guild Tuesday night at Valley's Marciano topped an excellent speaking program while Pep was honored as the Guild's Man-of-the-Year.

Many athletes can't speak and are virtually helpless before an audience, except to hold a question and answer period, but Rocky Marciano, all former champion, added much to the program, said to be the best ever by the Guild, and there would be few dissenters. Saddler is the man who lifted the 128-pound crown from Pep's head, then lost it only to regain it again, the only fighter ever to hold an edge over the Hartford will 'o' the wap, winning three of four bouts.

Pound for Pound

"The greatest fighter pound for pound in the history of boxing," was the tribute paid Pep by the cigar-smoking LaMotta, who was the winner when he ruled the roost in the middleweight division.

Bill Lee, the boxing expert at the Hartford Courant, labeled Pep "the greatest boxer I've ever seen in 42 years on the beat." Tributes were all poured on the battle-crowded little man who gave the State of Connecticut three featherweight kings when he defeated Chalky Wright in 1941 and won the world title by defeating Rocky Marciano in 1952.

Cautioner ears and broken noses were a dime a dozen among the daisies at the dinner, said to be a big help in the fight.

It was quite a night for the little biter who won 228 fights in 341 appearances and netted $1,000,000 in prize money.

Soft Touch

While charming the capacity audience, which had started to stir around a little as the hour of 11 approached, Marciano added:

"Willie is the softest touch in boxing, he'll help anybody. I'll be his helper for the rest of my life."

Today, Willie helps. The big pay nights are all in the past. A purse, realized from the dinner, should be a big help in the fight.

It was quite a night for the little biter who won 228 fights in 341 appearances and netted $1,000,000 in prize money.

Yankees Regain First Place In Stick Pitching of Ford

NEW YORK (AP) — There was an old combination back at work in the American League standings today.

The New York Yankees were in first place again, just three spots, by a sliver, over the Boston Red Sox.

It's been 2 1/2 years — if you don't count opening day when nobody else played — since the Yankees had nine teams below them.

Last season, when they finished 10th, the Yanks never made it over the 500 mark and Ford, plagued with a circulation problem in his left shoulder, managed just two victories.

But he was the oddtime White Sox Wednesday, allowing just seven singles for a 5-0 victory. It was his 40th career shutout and his first since Aug. 8, 1964, when the victims were, ironically, the White Sox and Wednesday's loser, Tommy John.

When he retired the last man, Ford, attempting a comeback after his second shoulder operation, jumped off the mound in joy. It was like those pictures of pitchers who've just won World Series games. You can't see the World Series game. Ford used to bring them in the good old days.

Yankees in the American League Wednesday, rookie Red Carew drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single as Minnesota and Dean Chance defeated Baltimore 2-2. Three home runs powered Cleveland to a 4-1 victory over Kansas City. Washington's doubleheader at Boston was rained out.

YANKS-WHITE SOX — Ford was delighted with his performance. "It's been a long time hasn't it?" he said, grinning. "It's been a long time hasn't it?" he said, grinning.

The ace left-hander, who ran the Boston rookie Red Sox one-hitter in his first start this season, said he was bothered around by Chicago's 49-degree temperature.

"My fingers began to feel the cold after six innings and I couldn't use my breaking stuff. I went mostly to the fast ball and the slider."

The Yankees picked up a run off John in the second on Charley Smith's single, two walks and a sacrifice by John Kennedy. Smith's sacrifice fly and a single by Joe Pepitone drove in two more in the third following an error by Chicago's Tom McCraw.

TWINS-ORIOLOS — The Twins knocked off the Orioles with a strong pitching performance by Chuck Johnson, allowed just five hits and struck out 10.

Carew, a rookie second baseman, broke the game up with a one-out, bases-loaded single against Stu Miller in the ninth. The hit scored Ted Uhlander, running for Harmon Killebrew and a sacrifice by John Kennedy. Killebrew also hit his first home run of the year earlier in the game.

INDIANS-9'S — Max Alvis, Duke Sims and Chuck Hillen all hit home runs for the Indians against Kansas City and Sonny Seibert, with late-inning help from Bob Adams, picked up his first victory.

Ken Suarez, Kansas City's catcher, homered for the Sox, threw out three runners trying to steal and picked another off base.

Changes Continue in Starting Red Sox Lineup Ace Pitchers Paired Friday Night

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Rohr and Ed Stasiwsky were two of the most talked about pitchers of the young American League season, and they were scheduled to meet head-on Friday night as the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees open a three-game series at Fenway Park.

For Rohr it will be only his second major league start, and the rookie left-hander will face the same team against which he came without an pitch of immediately last Friday. That was the 3-0 masterpiece in which the 24-year-old southpaw had a no-hitter until Elton Howard singled with two out in the ninth inning.

Stasiwsky, ace of the Yankees' 1964 pennant drive and a 20-game winner in 1966, has been reassignment this spring as he tries to regain that form after a 30-game losing season last year.

The right-handed slinker last season pitched a two-hitter in the opener against Washington and a four-hitter to defeat the Red Sox 1-0 last Saturday. Manager Dick Williams, disappointed by a slow start which has left the Red Sox mired, ninth place with a 2-4 record, plans to field a revamped lineup with two new starters and one shift in position.

Williams announced after an indoor workout at Harvard Wednesday that Dalton Jones would be at third base instead of Joe Judge, who has hit only .083 in the first six games and has committed some damaging errors in the field.

The experiment of playing Reggie Smith at second base is also being abandoned, at least for the present, with the rookie moving back to his normal centerfield position in place of Jose Tartabull. Mike Andrews, another rookie, moves into the second base spot.

Williams also said he intends to keep Tom Horton at first base instead of George Scott, who was benched for the team's last game.

Williams plans to pinch J. J. Lumborg against the Yankees Saturday and Darrell Brundson Sunday. The New Yorkers, away to a quick 4-2 start this season in contrast to their 10th place finish a year ago, will counter with Fred Talbot and Bill Souhan.

Both Souhan have open dates.

Shorts from the Ticker

Basketball — The Boston Celtics called a major news conference for early afternoon today without giving any formal hint about his subject.

Speculation ranged that club owner Marvin Kratter would announce sale of the club or place the team in the hands of a new owner. More important he has won $81,285, of which $73,272 is official money.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Having demolished the specter of a shutout, the San Francisco Giants tonight battle to square accounts with the Philadelphia Phillies in their first National Basketball Association playoff series.

"It was a personal thing for us to fight back," declared 6-foot-11-inch Nate Thurmond. "Boston took only one game from the '66 and as a matter of pride we want to do better than the Celtics, perhaps even win the championship, which is possible now."

Golf — Dallas, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer is on the high (0-1) at Portland in golf, money-wise at least, which explains why he has been even more generous in his first $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

The tournament, which Palmer entered for the first time in six years, started today over the

Torrid Braves Paced by Aaron

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Aaron has a hard time breaking the old home run habit, he'll have no trouble keeping his new friends.

The Atlanta slugger, who led the National League with 44 home runs last year but dipped to a 27th batting mark, powered the Braves Wednesday night, doubling, tripling and scoring the torrid Braves to a 4-1 victory over Houston.

"I'm going back to my old style of hitting, to get a better batting average," the 318-time letter said before signing a two-year contract last winter at $100,000 per-season. "I wasn't too concerned about batting for an average last year because I had made up my mind to lead the league in homers."

There's no better way of making friends when you move into new territory than hitting the ball over the fence," Aaron added, explaining he went for the long ball in 1966 to help boost fan interest during the Braves first year at Atlanta.

Aaron didn't disappoint the Atlanta backers Wednesday night. He slammed a 400-foot, bases-empty drive over the center field fence in the first inning and hammered a 420-foot solo shot into the left field stands in the fourth.

The 30-year-old outfielder's career total to 444. He is on the all-time list, while sending his early-season batting average up to .321.

The homers also provided the Braves' victory over the St. Louis Cardinals to their fifth straight victory after an opening start of three losses.

St. Louis' streaking Cardinal Davey Lile pitched 6 1/3 innings, overpowered San Francisco 7-4 for their sixth victory in six starts and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 3-2 on Ron Hunt's run-scoring double in the 10th. The Pittsburgh Pirates' win-scoring double in the 10th. The Pittsburgh Pirates' win-scoring double in the 10th.

Windham Tops Tech Nine, East Granby Blunks Bolton

Spotting Cheney Tech's 1967 baseball debut, Windham Tech made the most of loose defensive work to gain a 10-6 win in Manchester yesterday. The Thread City nine spotted the Rangers a 4-0 lead before scoring their first run.

The game was played despite cold winds.

Skip Dehaese allowed only six hits in picking up the win for the visitors. The new Windham's opening game John Goodbody who allowed 10 hits, suffered the loss.

The Rangers are now idle until May 5 when they host Bolton.

Bud Clark paced the Windham offense with three hits, including a triple. Hopkins and Yette also had two hits.

Tom Richani and Jeff Powell were Cheney batting stars, against Pennsy High of East Hartford and again Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, with Xavier High of Middletown in a game that lost to the rains last Tuesday.

Tomerrey Manchester will visit Concord High of West Hartford.

Today's area state listed Bolton is on the high (0-1) at Portland in golf, money-wise at least, which explains why he has been even more generous in his first $100,000 Greater Dallas Open.

The Rangers are now idle until May 5 when they host Bolton.

Bud Clark paced the Windham offense with three hits, including a triple. Hopkins and Yette also had two hits.

Tom Richani and Jeff Powell were Cheney batting stars, against Pennsy High of East Hartford and again Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, with Xavier High of Middletown in a game that lost to the rains last Tuesday.

Tomerrey Manchester will visit Concord High of West Hartford.
