Referendum Set Saturday On the Kindergarten Issue

By BETTE QUATRALE
Tolland and property owners will have the opportunity to express their opinions on the controversial kindergarten issue at a referendum next Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Town Hall.

The date and time of the referendum was set by last night's special town meeting attended by about 100 persons. Voters will register their opinions on starting kindergartens in September.

The atmosphere of the meeting was best described by School Superintendent Robert Brinson, who pointed out the controversy appears not to be over whether public kindergartens are a valuable educational experience, but rather whether the town can afford it.

"My job is to speak from the educational standpoint, and I will not get involved in what you feel you can afford to pay," he stated.

Public kindergartens are a very important part of a child's education. I am sure everyone in town, including those who oppose it, would agree that it is a valuable experience for the child.

Brinson received numerous letters from both opponents and advocates of the conclusion of his remarks. A report from the fire marshal's office regarding the fire at the new Religious Education Building of the Unitarian Congregational Church was read on request of David Millard of Virginia Lane, executor of the will of the late night's meeting.

Building Violator Code
The report termed the building to be of a two-story combustible nature in violation of the state fire code and state statutes for public schools. The building, however, has been approved by the fire marshal's office for use as a church school building and for the co-operative kindergarten.

The basis of the ruling appears to be the description of the building as a two-story building with a basement. Each room of the building has its own outside exit, and the classrooms in the lower level, which are included in the kindergarten are enclosed in brick and sheet rock.

Millard stated he will ask the major of the fire marshal's office to hold a hearing on the report, seeking a revision of the findings. The report cited a state statute that no school house made of wood and built after 1911, can be more than one-story above ground.

Several residents attending the meeting found it difficult to understand why the building can be used by the co-operative for the same period of time and by the same children that would be housed in a public kindergarten.

TV Emmys To Be Given Tomorrow

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Television Academy awards ceremony will be held tomorrow night at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. The ceremony will be broadcast on ABC-9 at 8 p.m. EDT.

The Emmy awards, at least in the Los Angeles and New York, will be telecast in color by ABC-9 at 8 p.m. EDT. Winners in 23 categories will receive about 40 gold-plated statuettes for excellence in the past TV season.

Nominations for outstanding comedy series are the Andy Griffith show, "Beverly Hills Cop," "Hogan's Heroes," and "The Monkees." For outstanding variety series: "The Dean Martin show," "Holly Woodburn show," and "Johnny Carson Tonight" show.

Other categories include dramatic series, children's programs, musical one-time acts, variety performances, etc. Besides the 23 categories there is "craft" category, the Jackie Gleason comedy hour, and Johnny Carson Tonight show.

Neither group could accept the award. The award will be presented to the winner of the comedy series, which will be decided at the end of the ceremony.

Ethics of Petition
The ethics of the circulation of the referendum petition by William Swaback of Gehring Rd. was questioned by the Board of Education. The board stated that it has a right to tax-payers to circulate it.

Swaback questioned who initiated the request for the fire marshal's report. He stated that he had a question on whether the building was a school building.

A.J. Foyt wins "Indy" 500 on Goodyear Tires

New speed record... no tire change

A.J. Foyt rolled his Goodyear tires to victory at an average speed of 151.207 miles per hour. A new track record. Some people consider the Indianapolis 500 the toughest race in the world. For man, for his machine. And for his tires. It takes a lot of tire to take the "500"... Goodyear's "Blue Streak Speedway Specials." Goodyear developed this ultra-wide-tread racing tire. This year's triumph at Indy proves its success as A.J. Foyt sped all the way without a tire change.

Wilson Ends Visit, Warns of Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — An assertion of the right of free passage through the Strait of Tiran by ships through the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea, which Israel's Prime Minister Harold Wilson passed up today in a brief visit to Washington, is a "very, very dangerous" step, Wilson said.

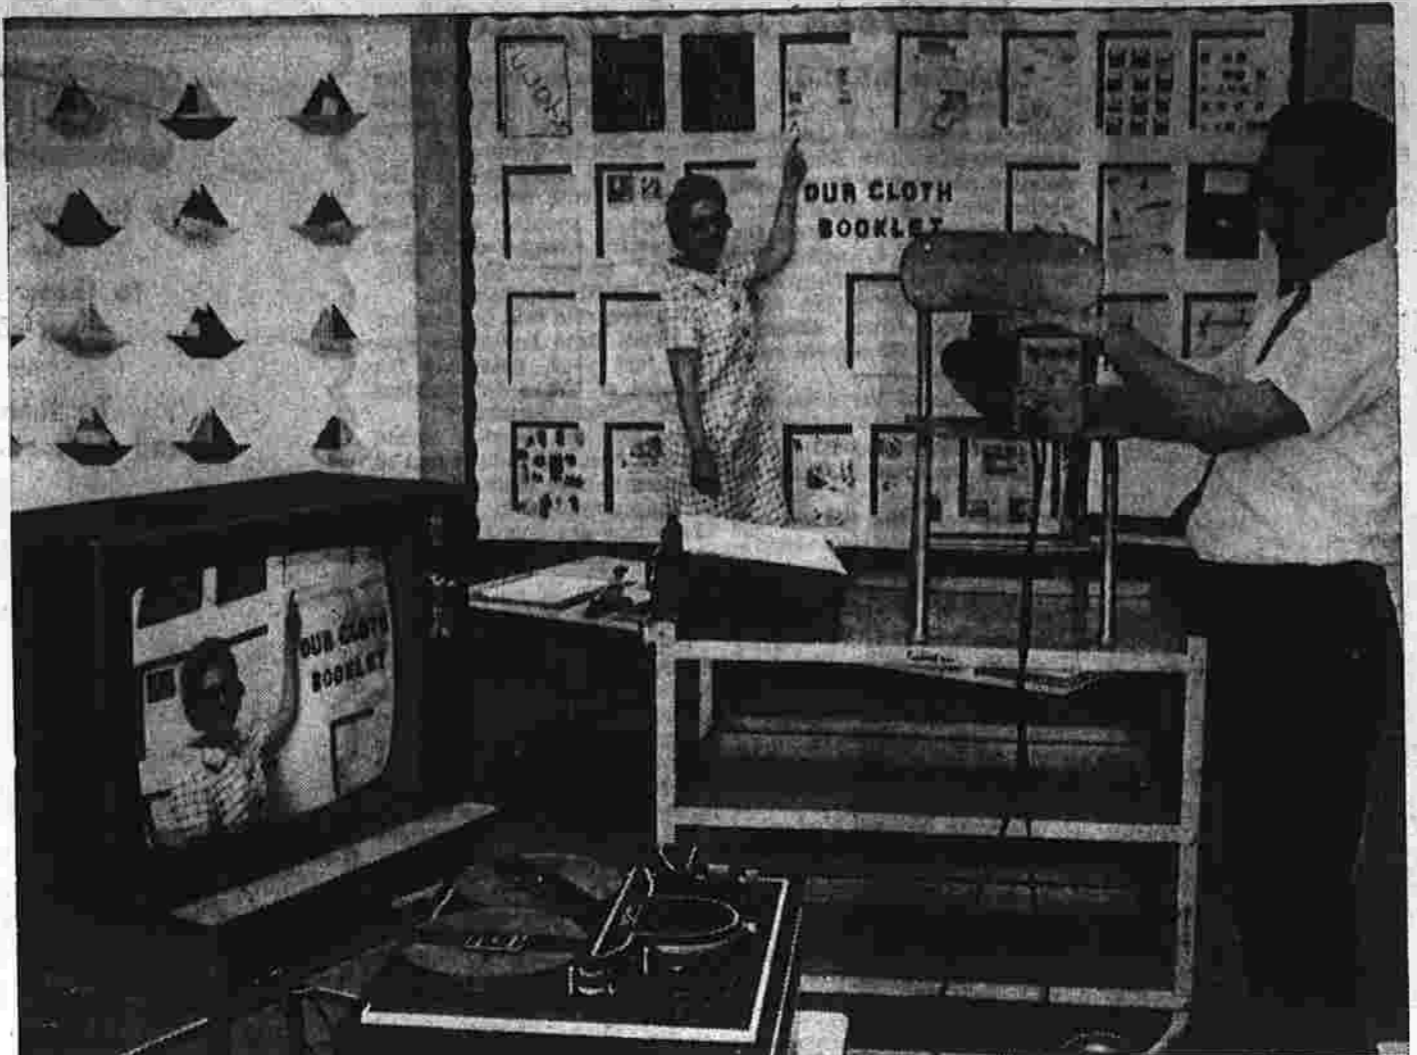

The general aim of the visit, Wilson said, was to bring about a settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute. He said that the United States would support a settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute which would allow the free passage of ships through the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea.

Wilson also warned against any closure of the Suez Canal, which would be a "very, very dangerous" step, he said.

Wilson had a breakfast meeting with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as the last item in his two-day visit to Washington. Then he planned to fly to New York for a business lunch with Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations.

Wilson said the canal is controlled by a convention making it an international waterway. He said that the United States would support a settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute which would allow the free passage of ships through the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea.

Wilson also warned against any closure of the Suez Canal, which would be a "very, very dangerous" step, he said.

Auto Sales Show Spurt During May

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto makers after four months of slow sales, showed a sharp increase in May. Sales were up 18 percent from the same month last year.

General Motors, with all five divisions showing sharp increases, led the surge with 471,530 vehicles sold, up 18 percent from 400,000 in May 1966.

Chrysler sales hit 121,247, up six percent from May 1966 and American Motors had sales of 22,602, a 5.4 percent increase.

Only Ford Motor Co., second largest of the U.S. auto builders, had sales still lagging behind last year's May rate. Ford sales of 208,117 were down 14 percent, or 28,928 cars, compared to May 1966.

From the high point reached 14 months ago, U.S. auto sales began a steady decline to a low point of 501,431 last September.

The 1967 models boosted October sales to 782,530, but sales slumped again to 584,000 in January and 568,000 in February.

Despite the dark sales picture, which the industry blames on fear of war, inflation, taxes and claims that cars weren't needed, auto makers predicted a spring upturn.

March sales climbed to 600,000, then slipped to 570,000, and the boom came fully alive in May. For the first time in eight months, a 10-day sales report exceeded 1966 sales.

Chrysler's Dodge and Pontiac divisions had more sales last month than in any other May. The Oldsmobile, Buick and Chevrolet divisions had sales better than in May 1966, but not all-time highs.

Ford's Lincoln-Mercury division sales shot 24 percent ahead of last year's May sales.

The big headache at Ford was the Ford Division, itself, where sales of 238,117 last month were 28,928 below sales of May last year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Philadelphia girls who slowed away aboard a Norwegian freighter apparently to be with their sailor boy friends have returned to New York from Brussels.

Linda Weister, 21, and Pauline Gregory, 21, were met Friday night by Linda's mother, who refused to talk to newsmen except to say her address was 639 Randolph St.

They spent the night in jail after the ship docked in New York.

They showed away aboard the freighter Para when it left New York.

The U.S. Embassy issued temporary passports on request of the shipping firm which owns the Para and which offered to pay the girls' fares back home.

The pair were questioned for more than an hour by immigration and customs men and were given smallpox vaccinations by the Public Health Service.

Try Fish Sandwich

Does it seem a bit odd that the biggest seller of hamburgers in the United States is going to have a fishing boat named after it? Well that is just what is in the works. For Gorton's of Gloucester, Mass., one of the major fish companies in the United States, is going to name one of its trawlers after McDonald's, the hamburger giant.

The children love McDonald's and he has given up hamburgers but it is now also emerged as the nation's biggest seller of fish sandwiches, Mr. Walsh explained.

"This all took place back in 1965 when McDonald's added fried spotfish sandwiches—all at fish sandwiches to its menu—the first change in the chain's history. During the first year alone, McDonald's sold 60 million fish sandwiches and fish accounted for $15 million in sales. Today, McDonald's accounts for 10 percent of the total market of fish portions for sandwiches.

"Fish was originally introduced as a convenience to customers but sales outstripped all expectations and not just on Fridays, either. While Friday has been the biggest day, the demand has been unexpectedly heavy throughout the week.

"Interestingly enough," Mr. Walsh said, "even though Catholics are no longer required to abstain from eating fish on Fridays, fish sales have been just as high as ever."

McDonald's now runs more than 850 hamburger restaurants all over the country, and along with those fish sandwiches, keeps right on selling hamburgers at the rate of a million a half a day.

McDonald's Fish Sandwich is of the highest quality obtainable. It is made only of choice deep ocean North Atlantic Filets. Each plump filet is firm, moist and pure white in color.

McDonald's exclusive tartar sauce was formulated by the head chef of the Conrad Hilton Hotels, and the reason McDonald's prepares the tartar sauce daily is to protect its delicate mouth-watering flavor. If you want a real taste treat, one that will please every member of your family, do try a McDonald's Filet-O-Fish Sandwich, the fish that catches people.

"When you have a McDonald's Filet-O-Fish Sandwich, why not add a fresh potato, a crisp golden brown, cooked to perfection, and a perfect accompaniment to this popular fish sandwich. Then add a delicious milk shake and you have a complete meal."

Pickett told the Senate that the move for reorganization had gained "widespread notoriety" and that everyone understood the issues as he moved for a vote.

Democratic majority leader Edward L. Marcus of New Haven said he was for the "reaching" bill because it was "in the best interests of the state."

Anthropologists believe that before man began cooking he must have spent most of his waking hours chewing food. One—having learned to cook and then break down the tough fibers of meats and roots, he was able to cut his eating time to about two hours a day.

Coin Suppliers

Inc. This is a service offered for the convenience of the shop's customers. A complete line of coin supplies is also carried.

You haven't found anything good in circulation lately? Don't get discouraged; there are still good coin finds. A customer was in the shop less than a month ago and said he had recently found two 1865 Double Eagle coins, which were quite a coin find. Good finds in circulation are becoming rarer because there are so many more collectors and the number increases each year along with the exploding population. Ten years ago there were less than 2,000,000 coin collectors; today the figure exceeds 10,000,000 collectors.

A rough guess would indicate that over 2,500 people in Manchester alone are fairly serious collectors of coins.

Why not start your youngster or yourself in the fascinating hobby of coin collecting? You can put as much as a little money into it as you can afford and coin make a wonderful gift. Stop in and talk with the buyers; both will be happy to advise you and serve you.

Rep. Genovesi Dies, Ill Since Election

team, "The Smoke Eaters," and he gave of his time to youth activities unsparringly.

He was a committee member of the St. Bridget School Fund Drive and was an active worker for the United Fund and for the March of Dimes.

After graduating from Manchester High School in 1946, he served in the U.S. Army for 18 months and was a mess sergeant with the 24th Infantry Division. He spent a year in Japan with the U.S. Occupying Forces.

Upon his discharge, he attended Bryant College in Providence, R.I., where he majored in business administration. He was graduated in 1951 with a bachelor of science degree.

Upon graduating, he went to work for Hamilton Standard in its accounting department. He later was promoted to the position of buyer in the purchasing department.

He was a charter member of the Manchester Lodge of Elks; a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Army-Navy Club and the Manchester Improvement Association; and was a member and a former officer of the Society Maglanses. He was a communicant of St. Bridget Church and had been parish chairman of the Holy Retreat League.

He personally supervised the construction of his home on Eschwin Rd., built with the help of several of his countless friends from the North End.

During his campaign for the State Legislature he stressed the needs for improvements in his district and pledged to work for their fulfillment if elected.

When he was elected, he thanked all who voted for him—Republicans, Democrats and unaffiliated, and praised those who voted for his opponent for exercising their privilege to vote.

He promised to serve everyone in his district, in Manchester and in the state, regardless of party affiliation.

He revealed plans to keep his constituents informed of the work of the State Legislature and of plans to hold information sessions, to learn the views of the public.

He never had the chance to fulfill those plans.

Mayor Nathan Agostinelli paid tribute to Mr. Genovesi today with the following words:

"It's always a tragic loss when one of our elected officials passes on, and especially so when he is an individual who has held in such high esteem as Vincent Genovesi.

"He led an exemplary life and was a fine example to our youth. He leaves a void in Manchester that may be impossible to replace."

State statutes require an election to fill the vacancy in the State Assembly. The eligible voters at the special election will be only those who were on the town's voting lists for last November's state election.

The Republican and Democratic nominees for the vacant seat will be chosen by the two town committees.

Survivors, besides his wife and parents are four sons, Mark, Paul, John and Peter, and a daughter, Gina, all at home; and two brothers, Donald G. Genovesi of Manchester and Louis V. Genovesi of Ellington.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 8:15 a.m. at the W.P. Quish Funeral Home, 225 Main St., followed by a solemn high Mass of requiem at St. Bridget Church at 9. Burial will be in St. Bridget Cemetery, Manchester.

Friends may call at the funeral home tomorrow from 7 to 9 p.m. and Monday from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

About Town

Friendship Circle of the Salvation Army will meet Monday at 7:45 p.m. at the church. Mrs. Brig. Lawrence Pickering of Hartford will conduct a worship program. Mrs. William Johnson is hostess.

Miss Liv Andersen of Arnot, Norway, and Miss Luella Muncie of Madrid, Spain, Manchester's two American Field Exchange Students for the past year, will be honored at an Open House tomorrow from 3 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde of 11 Meadow Lane. Miss Jill Horton, president of the American Field Service Club and exchange student to Japan last year, will also be honored at the event.

Members of the Eighth District Fire Department will meet tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the W.P. Quish Funeral Home, 225 Main St. to pay respects to the late Vincent A. Genovesi, a member.

Driver Charged, Hit Parked Car

Clifford L. Brinson, 26, of Hartford was arrested last night as a result of a crash with a parked car on School St., police reported.

"He was charged with failure to drive in the proper lane, they said.

Police quoted him as saying he took his eyes off the road

AETNA PROMOTION

Frank S. Burnham of Glastonbury has been elected assistant secretary in his present underwriting capacities with the Aetna Insurance Co.

Frank S. Burnham

Born in South Windsor, Burnham received his B.S. and M.A. degrees at Trinity College. He entered Aetna's fire underwriting department in 1948 and later served as examiner for various Southern states. In January 1962, he was advanced to supervisor and in March 1963, was promoted to assistant manager. He was appointed manager of fire and allied lines underwriting in December 1965. Burnham is a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve.

CREDIT TO EASE

Businessmen seeking mortgage loans for commercial, warehouse or industrial properties will, in the coming months, find credit somewhat more accessible and, in some instances, less costly than now, according to Richard B. Morris, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Morris' remarks on the outlook for this segment of the mortgage market were based on the spring mortgage market survey prepared by the NAREB department of research. The study was based on data from 114 Realtors representing market areas throughout the country.

He said that lenders will be "increasingly receptive to applications for prime quality business loans," but that the outlook for less well-qualified borrowers "is not particularly bright." Morris doubted, though, if the availability of mortgage money will reach the proportions experienced in 1965. In Connecticut, 1965 was a record year for mortgage loans.

He explained also that interest rates for choice mortgages have declined one-fourth to one-half percentage point since the research department's fall survey. The most frequently reported charge is 6 1/2 per cent, reported in 39 per cent of the nation. A charge of 6 1/4 per cent is now common in a fourth of the country, and a 6 or 6 1/4 per cent rate is reported prevalent in another fourth of the country. "In the remaining areas, borrowers, despite high quality of the security, are paying 7 per cent or better," he said.

BRIEFS

Miss Faye M. Ferris of 16 Elro St. has been promoted to supervisor in the group pension division of the group department at the Travelers Insurance Companies. Miss Ferris, who attended the University of Washington, joined the company in 1950 and was named assistant supervisor in 1958.

Robert G. Widham, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Widham of 31 Santina Dr., has been appointed manager of the Plainville branch of Stanley Tools, division of the Stanley Works. Before his appointment, Widham was manufacturing superintendent at the division's branch plant in Newark, N.J.

John I. Olson Jr. of Westwood, Mass., son of Mrs. and the late John I. Olson of 74 Henry St., has been appointed assistant treasurer of the Norton Co. and Norton International, Inc. in Worcester, Mass. He had been treasurer with the National Research Corp. of Boston. Olson assumed his new duties this week.

Frederick A. Conti of 83 Overlook Dr., has been recently elected a member of the Connecticut Society of Certified Public Accountants. Conti is employed by Price Waterhouse and Co., Hartford.

LAUNDRY FEATURED

The success pattern of the 76-year-old New England Laundry, which has a branch at 260 Broad St., is featured in the current issue of American Drycleaner, a business magazine published in Chicago.

The article traces developments from the horse and delivery cart era to the present day organization. Including the store in Manchester and the main plant at Hartford, the chain now totals 17 stores with 3.5 coin-ops, five of which have both self service laundry and self service drycleaning coin-operated machines.

"It's gratifying to have our company sought out for national recognition," says president Arthur C. Stevens who describes the pattern for his company's progress as a continuing cycle of "investigation, evaluation, decision."

William Sleith, president and founder of Iona Mfg. Co., holds one of the first portable electric hand mixers produced in the United States. This is a 1947 model and was manufactured by Iona. As the other models indicate, the basic mixer has been improved and streamlined over the years. The company has flourished since making the first mixer, and has added other related items to its line. Jobless Claims Reported Same Claims filed statewide last week increased by 993 to an 18,645 total. During the corresponding period last year statewide claims totaled 12,488.

New Haven led the state last week with 2,854 claims and was followed by Bridgeport with 2,350, Hartford with 2,215, and Waterbury with 1,528.

Manchester retained its 18th position among the state's 20 offices. Only Milford with 359 and Thompsonville with 235 reported less claims.

The gift is a map showing the two former Manchester locations of the company and shows the routes Miss Kingbaum used in walking to work in her 47 years with the company. Olgerts Klavins of 81 Ludlow Rd. (left), president of Paragon Tool Co., checks an aircraft part with employee Loren Lamont in the new plant quarters. The company, which Klavins said was now doing "close to one million dollars gross in work," moved into its new plant at 121 Adams St. about a month ago. The company's expansion has been quite rapid since it was established by Klavins in 1961. In the past six months the output of machine parts and orders has nearly doubled, Klavins said, and the number of employees has increased almost 100 per cent—from a dozen last year to 22 at present. Klavins said he had no trouble getting employees in this tight labor market. "We take extra good care of our people," he said. The expansion will continue and more machines and personnel will be added in the near future, Klavins said. "We hope to double our production again in the next four to six months," he added. On Late Night TV By the Forerunner

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now that there is much ado about late night television variety shows, it might be well to listen to the man who started it all: Steve Allen.

John Carson, Mervyn Griffin, Joseph Bishop and William Dana could perhaps learn a thing or two from Allen, who initiated the art form with the original "Tonight" show on NBC. Later came Jack Paar, and then Carson, for whom Steve has no advice except:

"Don't change a thing. Johnny is superb at what he does, and there's no reason to tamper with success. It's like the Ed Sullivan show; it's a locomotive coming down the track and it's best to stand aside and let it pass."

"The 'Tonight' show was a success with me, a bigger success with Paar and an even bigger one with Carson."

Others have come along to challenge the Carson realm. But not Steve Allen. Instead of going for the insomniac crowd he once played to, Allen is aiming at the prime time audience, filling in the Danny Kaye time period on CBS Wednesdays this summer. Steve will be assisted by his wife, Jayne Meadows, plus appearances by Louis Nye ("Hi-Ho, Steverino"), Dayton Allen ("Why not?") and other Allen regulars of seasons past.

The summer series begins

June 14 and CBS executives have advised Steve to "stay loose" in case a spot opens up in the fall or winter programming.

"Way back in the early 1950s, Steve Allen began the whole concept for the late-night show that would include offbeat entertainment and provocative conversation."

"At that time our only competition was Charlie Chan movies, so it was easy to experiment with different things," Allen recalled.

After his comments on Carson, Allen had this to say about his competitors:

"Merv Griffin is an excellent interviewer. He seems to establish an empathy with his guests, and this is very important."

Allen added: "The prime element is the man who heads the show. Most of us—Carson, Paar, Merv and myself—have come out of radio; we are not comedians of the New York night club type. It seems to be easier for those who are accustomed to the ease of talking casually on radio."

"It also helps if you are not a show business type. Now I grew up in a show business family, got my schooling in vaudeville and have been an entertainer all my life. Yet many of my interviews portray me as a high school teacher kind of a guy. That sort of an atmosphere helps when you are doing a late night show."

Viewers' Letters Have a So-So Effect

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—So you sat down and wrote an angry letter suggesting changes in the television program. Did it have any effect?

Probably not.

Testimony from producers at all three major networks indicates viewers' letters rarely influence program content.

Says Paul Monash of ABC's "Peyton Place": "We get an average of 1,000 letters a week, about 20 of them with story suggestions and ideas about characters: 'If anything happens to so-and-so I'll never watch the show again. Let Rodney and Betty get married.' 'They give us an idea of what some people in the audience are thinking, but basically I have to rely on my own instincts.'"

Has Monash ever followed a viewer's suggestion?

"Not really. For one thing, the shows are planned and written 15 weeks ahead of the air date. What the audience is responding to is something that already has been determined."

"Secondly, we're not allowed to adopt ideas for nothing. We could possibly be open to a lawsuit."

Next is Perry Lafferty, CBS-TV programming chief in Hollywood:

"If you get a number of comments along the same line—like 50 letters a week, or 150 or 200—and if the producer thinks it's a good suggestion, they may have some effect."

"The first time we used a little girl on the Danny Kaye show we got a lot of mail, which probably stepped up our use of her. 'Generally we're not influenced by derogatory mail, because we expect it anyway. With a sketch involving drinking, or with beautiful but low-cut costumes, you know you'll get mail."

Gene Roddenberry, producer of NBC's "Star Trek," recalls: "At pickup time we were in danger of not being renewed, and NBC got a flood of mail. It was bound to have some effect, but I don't think the network could be pushed into anything."

The show, filming for next season, draws about 4,000 letters a week, a surprising number, Roddenberry says, from school teachers, professors and scientists. They offer compliments, challenge scientific slip-ups or seek information.

An apartment builder in Santa Barbara, Calif., wrote that he wanted to install electrically operated, sliding doors like that on the show's space ship. "How," he asked, "do you get the damn door to open and close so fast?"

"I had to write him," Roddenberry admits, "that ours is a fake."

Drama's Hard Times

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some questions — and answers:

— In this season of tired reruns, can drama lovers look for more first-time specials like CBS' splendid "Ivanov" last Tuesday night?

No. The airwaves are barren of fresh drama until fall.

An ABC aide says: "Drama is nearly out of style. 'Stage 67' took a terrible beating in the ratings and will be on only intermittently in the fall, under another title."

Serious emoting does indeed have a hard time in TV-land. Anton Chekhov's grim to giddy "Ivanov" offered moving performances by Sir John Gielgud, Claire Bloom and others.

But an overnight audience survey indicated it played a weak third to "Peyton Place" and a Debbie Reynolds movie.

Speaking of specials, CBS' next, June 12, is "Charlie Brown Falls in Love," the Peanuts cartoon crowd which was twice nominated for Emmy awards for past performances. "The Anderson Platoon," filmed in Vietnam, is a CBS news documentary for July 4. "I Leonardo da Vinci," on the "Summer Focus" series tonight, is a two-year-old repeat of an ABC news documentary.

— Will "Gunsmoke" have less violence in the fall? For

Dino's Country Club: You Need Character

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If you like to play golf, are young and vigorous and happen to have $25,000 handy, you might be able to join the Dean Martin Country Club.

Then again, you might not. There are only 600 memberships available, and you also have to come equipped with good character. That is also going to be the criterion at the Dean Martin C.C.

Having a golf-and-tennis club named after him is the latest development in the amazing saga of Martin, born Dino Crocetti 50 years ago June 17, son of a Steubenville, Ohio, barber.

He talked about it at the Bel Air Hotel as he sipped martinis and watched old movies on television between location shots for his latest film, "The Ambushers."

"Well, this here club is going to be the greatest," he explained.

"No, I'm not putting any money into it; just lending my name. The money is coming from some very good sources which I can't divulge at this time. Later I will.

"The setup is this: We're selling 600 memberships at $25,000 apiece. That's $15 million, which is what it will take to build the course. We'll also have 10 tennis courts, and those memberships will go for $5,000.
