UN Bans Advances By Israel and Syria

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council early today banned any forward military movements by Israel or Syrian forces and called for a rollback of any that may have taken place since the cease-fire between them was supposed to become effective at 12:30 p.m. EDT Saturday.

U.N. officials said the council had been called into another session at 8 p.m. today.

The 15-nation council acted unanimously on an overnight emergency meeting on Syrian charges that an Israeli armored column had advanced inside Syria in a drive to capture the Yarmuk River feeding the Jordan. Israel denied the charge.

The resolution was the fourth the council has adopted since Israel, Egypt, Jordan and Syria locked in war last Monday.

It called for full cooperation with Norwegian Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, head of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization for Palestine, in implementing the cease-fire, "including freedom of movement and adequate communications facilities."

That provision was taken to mean Israel should give Bull back his headquarters south of Jerusalem which fell to Jordan-troops and then to Israeli troops.

Syrian Ambassador George J. Tomeh telephoned Council President Hans R. Tabor of Denmark at 5 p.m. Sunday and asked for "an urgent emergency meeting." He said he had word from Damascus that "a column of Israeli armored cars and tanks supported by military helicopters and other forces" had moved eastward and southward from Ramat.

Tomeh said Israeli paratroops had occupied Rafid Saturday three hours and 17 minutes after the cease-fire was supposed to have gone into effect. That was the time Bull got a complaint of the paratroop action from a Syrian official.

The meeting started just before 11 p.m., and Secretary-General U. Thant read a message from Bull saying U.N. observers had reported that near Jankada village, below Rafid, a column of Israeli tanks had headed east and then south.

The key question in connection with observance of the cease-fire, Thant said, "was whether the Israeli troops were in Rafid and environs before the cease-fire hour or whether they had advanced to there after that."

Tomeh told the council the movement out of Rafid was part of a new Israeli drive "aiming at the Yarmuk River and the headwaters of the Jordan," long a source of Arab-Israeli dispute. He called it "a systematic invasion in accordance with plans fully drawn." He said it violated the cease-fire and the council should condemn the violation and call the violator back to where he started "his conquest."

Israeli Ambassador Gideon Rafael conceded there had been "a movement of some military vehicles but this movement took place within the truce lines established by the cease-fire."

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko accused Rafael of "denying the facts" that Israeli forces were violating the cease-fire and "trying with the support of Washington to enable the Israeli army to take as much as it can." He said he had information that Israeli forces were carrying out a "systematic invasion" of the Yarmuk River and the headwaters of the Jordan, long a source of Arab-Israeli dispute. He called it "a systematic invasion in accordance with plans fully drawn." He said it violated the cease-fire and the council should condemn the violation and call the violator back to where he started "his conquest."

48 Families Homeless in 'Set' Blaze

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—Authorities investigated today a fire, described as deliberately set, which made 48 families temporarily homeless.

No one was hurt in the Sunday blaze at the three-story apartment building at 1240-1250 Fairfield Ave.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Carlson said the fire originated in the basement and spread quickly in that area of the building. Heavy smoke rose to upper hallways, forcing occupants into the street and yard.

"We aided some families in getting out of the place through heavy smoke," Carlson said.

Firemen said they have been called to the building in the past as the result of "set" fires.

Officials said newspapers, rags, rugs and barrels filled with a variety of items were ablaze in the basement when firemen responded to a telephoned alarm at about 3:25 p.m.

Israel Denies Charge Of Thrusts into Syria

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel has denied Syrian charges that its tanks invaded deeper into Syria after a cease-fire but says it intends to keep some of the land it won from Syria, Egypt and Jordan in the six-day Middle East war.

Cheering crowds in the Israeli port of Elath Sunday night greeted the first Israeli freighter to enter the Gulf of Aqaba since Egypt's proclaimed blockade of the gulf led the Middle East to the brink of war.

The Jewish nation had assured reopening of the gulf by capturing Sharm el Sheikh, from which Egyptian guns overlooked the gulf entrance at the Strait of Tiran.

An Israeli army spokesman said the war against the Arabs killed 679 Israeli soldiers and wounded 2,583. Jordan has announced that 15,000 Jordanians were killed. Egypt and Syria have not announced any casualty figures.

Estimates of the number of prisoners taken by Israel, mostly Egyptian, range from 13,000 to 15,000. They still are being counted.

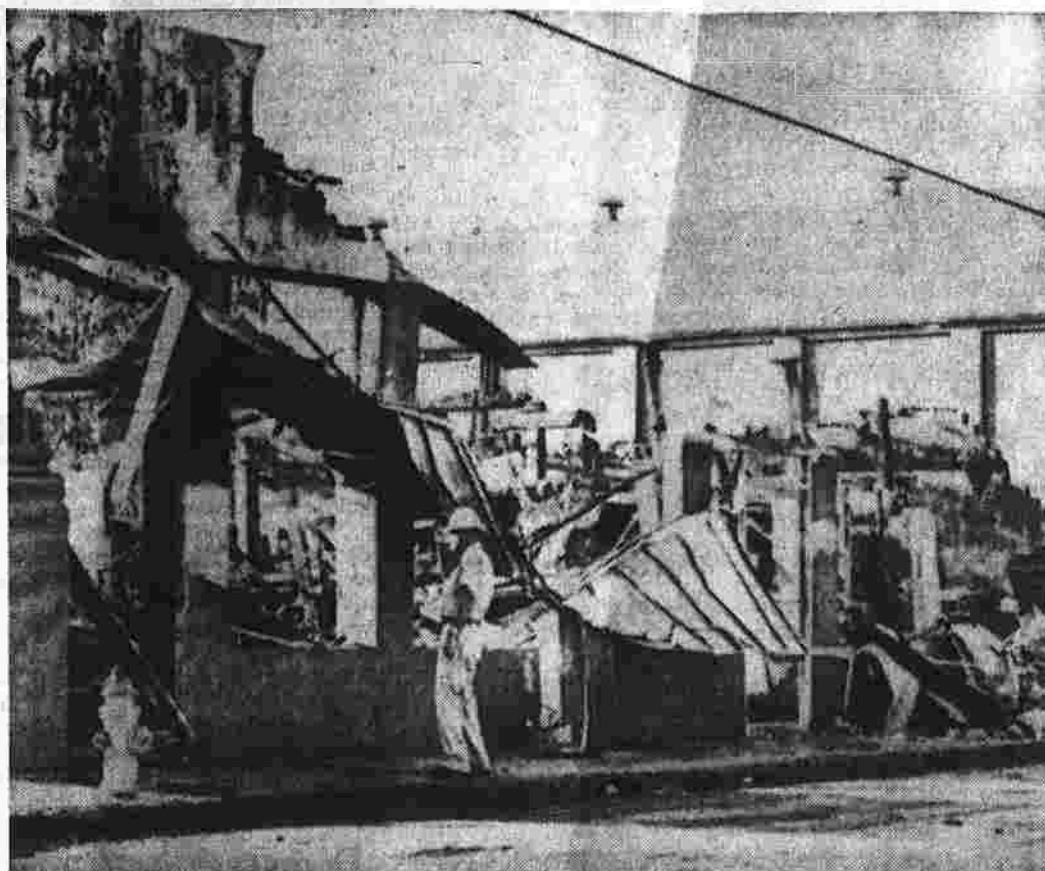

The U.N. Security Council, meeting past 2:30 a.m. for the second straight day, adopted a new resolution demanding that Israel and Syria avoid any forward movement of troops and withdraw any units that have crossed cease-fire lines established Saturday.

Syria said Israel moved armored units forward Sunday. Israel said its tank movements were entirely behind the cease-fire line. U.N. truce observers confirmed movement of tanks in the area.

Tampa Negroes Run Amuck After Officer Shoots Youth

12 Injured, Sheriff Dies During Riot

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A mob of 400 Negroes, spurred to violence when a patrolman shot a Negro youth, went on a rampage in two slum areas today. They beat whites and sacked and burned an entire block of white-owned stores.

At least a dozen persons, including 10 whites, were injured. A deputy sheriff died of an apparent heart attack during the melee.

Armed with guns stolen from a smashed pawnshop, the Negroes exchanged shots with police, hurled bricks through automobile windows and went on a wild looting spree.

At daybreak, the shooting had ceased and the fires had been extinguished. Smoke from fire-damaged buildings curled over a dingy area of bars, liquor stores, pool halls and one-story business houses.

Deputy Chief A. H. Winwright said the riot erupted in the middle of a muggy night at Nebraska Avenue and Twiggs Street when a 19-year-old youth was shot and killed as he ran from a patrolman.

The officer said he shot after spotting the youth and two others running from the scene of a burglary and Negro leaders did not question that the shooting was in the line of duty.

Walker Suit Against AP Upset by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court threw out today a $500,000 libel judgment won by Edwin A. Walker against The Associated Press.

It also set aside state laws that bar interracial marriages, upheld a contempt of court decision against Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and upheld a libel judgment won by Wallace Butts against the Saturday Evening Post.

All nine judges voted to set aside the judgment, won by Walker, a former U.S. Army major general, in a Fort Worth, Tex., state court in 1964. They entered four separate opinions to state their views.

In the controlling opinion, Justice John M. Harlan said there wasn't "the slightest hint of a severe departure from accepted publishing standards" in the way The Associated Press the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford in 1962.

"We therefore conclude that Gen. Walker should not be entitled to damages from The Associated Press."

Riots swept the Mississippi campus the night of Sept. 30, occasioned by the admission of a Negro, James H. Meredith, into the university. The AP reported Oct. 2 and 3 that Walker had "Assumed command of the crowd" and had "led a charge of students against federal marshals."

Harlan said there was no evidence of "personal prejudice or incompetency" on the part of the AP's reporter, Van Savell.

Harlan noted that Walker had "denied categorically taking part in any charge against the federal marshals." However, Harlan also noted that Savell "was actually present during the events described and had reported them almost immediately to The Associated Press office in Atlanta."

The justice said "a discrepancy" was shown between an oral account given the office and a later written dispatch. But he said it related solely to whether Walker had spoken to a group of students on campus "before or after approaching the marshals."

Harlan referred to this as a "minor discrepancy" and said:

Duke Gets Award

Mood Isn't Indigo Despite Yale Blue

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Duke Ellington, one of the most creative and durable of jazz composers, donned an academic robe today to receive an honorary degree from Yale University.

Ellington's citation credited him with "an important generalization—'It Don't Mean a Thing If It Ain't Got That Swing.'"

Employing variations on the titles of several Ellington songs, the citation said: "Your musical compositions and performances have set our hearts singing, our spirits soaring and our feet tapping. We hope that today your mood is not indigo and that your 'Caravan' will continue to 'Take the A Train' in the direction of more 'Sentimental Mood.' It might be said 'You've got it good and that ain't bad!'"

The Duke was awarded a degree of Doctor of Music.

Freshmen in the Assembly

Newcomers Find Monstrous Wastes

Editors Note:
The 1967 General Assembly was noteworthy in having a high percentage of young freshmen—one of the side effects of reapportionment.

For an expression of how the freshmen reacted to their first session, The Associated Press turned to two young men who won the respect of party veterans on both sides of the aisle in the House.

Reps. Francis J. Collins, R-Brookfield, and John F. Papandrea, D-Meriden, are both 22 years old, and are in substantial agreement on the subject of what could be done to make the legislature a more effective lawmaking body.

Their article was written shortly before the end of the General Assembly session.

By Francis J. Collins and John F. Papandrea
For THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARTFORD (AP)—An advantage of being freshmen in the first reapportioned Connecticut legislature is the opportunity to look at some of the traditional practices from a fresh and, we hope, an unbiased perspective.

The first matter which begs criticism is the lack of organization in framing the scope and function of the legislative committees. The undisciplined flood of bills, many duplicating each other, is almost as wasteful as the practice of having a public hearing on every measure.

Surely, in this computer age, a better method can and should be found to avoid this monstrous waste of time, money and talent.

NEW YORK (AP) — A young woman has been crushed to death when a 15-foot-high iron gate guarding the tomb of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt fell on her as she was closing it.

The woman, Patricia Kishloch, 24, of Staten Island, had gone with two sisters to the mausoleum in Staten Island Memorial Cemetery, Sunday after visiting the grave of a relative.

It took seven men to lift the gate, which weighs several hundred pounds, from the body. Police said the gate hinges gave way.

Vanderbilt, born in 1794 on Staten Island and the first president of the New York Central Railroad, was buried in the mausoleum in 1877.

The Red Cross PTA-sponsored swimming program will be held again this year at Amston Lakes with lessons beginning on July 8 through August 2. Registrations for the program will be taken through from 7:30 to 9 a.m. on Wednesday from 1:30 p.m. to 3 and 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Hebron Elementary School. There will be no registration fee but each child is required to carry liability insurance. The cost will be 75 cents for children 12 and under, $1.25 to 15 and $1.25 for 16 and up. This reduced rate was given to the group for having no accidents the previous two years. To be eligible to take lessons, a child must be at least old enough to enter Grade 1 this fall.

Each family, mother and daughter, will be asked to donate one dollar. On Wednesday there will be a rehearsal at the close of school for this program. All Girl Scouts will need permission slips to attend the rehearsal. Brownies do not need permission slips as much as Wednesday is their regular meeting day. This rehearsal replaces all regular troop meetings during the week. The body was taken first to Burke Funeral Home in Rockville and later transferred to the Henderson Funeral Home in Springfield.

134 from State Die in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department says its latest compilations show that 134 Connecticut soldiers have died in Vietnam. Connecticut is second on the list for New England states with 288 listed for Massachusetts and 286 for Rhode Island. California tops the list with 877 fatalities of the total 10,823 reported by January 31, the date that has been set for the Vietnam War to end.

Cemetery Ruined

WINSTED (AP) — About 500 marble and granite headstones in a cemetery here were smashed or upset by vandals who desecrated a cemetery in rural Winchester Center. Residents went through the cemetery Sunday to see if graves of their ancestors had been damaged in the Saturday night vandalism. Police said American flags and veterans' grave markers were ripped up and strewn about. The vandals were identified as early as 1816.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Do you recall how "hope" John fathered an improved fraternal feeling between people of all faiths? Recall how, for the first time in history, he — a Roman Catholic — was embraced by leaders of religions: Catholics, Jews and Protestants alike? Ever since, we have seen growing evidence that his hopes for religious unity may, some day, become a fact. For example, a white back, a news report told how 2000 Christian clergymen joined Jewish leaders in writing a letter to Soviet authorities. Signers of the letter included leaders of seven large Protestant denominations and three Roman Catholic cardinals. The letter condemned Soviet anti-Semitism. Even while their own religions were being restricted, they said, "We must not mind up group pleading for Jewish freedom of worship. And not too long ago, Catholic, Protestant, Orthodox and Jewish clergymen addressed a throng of 10,000 people of all faiths in Washington in a demonstration of protest against Soviet anti-Semitism. This sort of mutual action offers hopes for all God loving people everywhere."

Recreation Board to Open Crandall Pond on Weekend

Crandall's Pond will open for use next weekend and daily after June 24. Board of Recreation Chairman William Holley announced yesterday. The hours will be daily 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and noon to 7:30 p.m. on Sundays. A picnic area has been added to the facilities this year. Girl Scout members of the Cadette troop help on the Recreation Board paint the six picnic tables yesterday. They will be located in the pine grove and the neighboring field. Holley explained. Fireplaces will also be provided. A load of sand will be dropped off Sunday morning to fill in the beach area. Some of the sand will be plowed into the water near the shore. Most of the rocks previously in the water have been removed and the area inspected by members of the Rec Board. This is the second year the pond site has been operated by the Board of Recreation and with its opening in the first year in which it has been owned by the town. Townspeople last fall agreed to purchase the property under the state and federal open space program. Additional improvements to the site, include the driveway and an angled parking area which will accommodate more cars. Holley explained. Jack McCoy will again serve as swimming instructor and director of the pond. Applicants are being sought for the positions of part-time lifeguard and gate attendants at the pond. The lifeguard should be at least 18 years of age and gate attendants at least 16. Interested persons may write either William Holley, Loch Rd., Rockville, or William Baker, Peter Green Rd., Stafford Springs. The Board of Recreation will meet Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the High School Health office to discuss the possibilities of providing a temporary refreshment stand and drinking water at Crandall's for the year. The annual town meeting in April knocked out a request for funds to construct a bathroom at Crandall's. The proposed facility would have contained toilet facilities, dressing room, and a refreshment area. Post cards will be mailed shortly to all those who registered for the swimming instruction program, stating the dates and hours for the lessons. Daily swimming charges at Crandall's are 15 cents swimming and 25 cents to park. Children under six years are admitted free. Season memberships are available for families at $5, and for individuals at $3. The Tolland Junior High Bette Quinlan, etc. 815-2848.

Contract Offer Is Rejected by State Teamsters

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A contract offer made by the Connecticut construction industry has been rejected by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, thereby ensuring the continuation of a strike which has stopped most construction work in the state. The contract rejected Saturday by the union, which represents more than 10,000 workers in Connecticut, offered wage increases and fringe benefits which the industry said would be worth $1.62 per hour over the next five years. The union has proposed a contract totaling about $2.36 an hour more than present wages and benefits. Industry spokesman Clifford R. Oviatt Jr. of Bridgeport said the offer was "substantially" progress had been made by contract negotiators in the past. He said that they remained "partly deadlocked" on the union's demand that seniority be allowed to "bump" fellow employees on other projects a firm when they are left without work at the end of a project. MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION Monday, June 12

ning, fortunately lighted by a full moon, in November, 1965. This late New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware found out that, when utilities are linked together to make one great powerful inter-connected power system, electricity can be just as fast in some one-way surge producing blackout as it can be instantaneous in rushing forward with light and service.

This is a year and a half after the 1965 blackout, and many months after the considerable assurance that the problem involved had been analyzed and solved as well there need be no great fear of the grid system backing up again. But it did backfire, and it took only an instant to do so, and the damage had it come at some more critical time of day or season, could have been tremendously serious. It couldn't happen again and it did. The Federal Power Commission stands basically responsible for seeing that the next set of assurances given the public prove more reliable.

A Bit Of Castle. After All

Take a look at that home of yours. It does have a few towers, after all. Some baronial parapets have been put back in place.

There is, once again, something of a castle in the air.

It has been restored to something of a status, over the paternalistic bureaucracy of the administrative arm of the federal government and the usually consultant bureaucracies of the cities and towns of the nation, by a decision of the United States Supreme Court. That Court sometimes extends what some people feel is too much liberty to some segments of the population, particularly the criminal.

But it has its moments, too, when it reaches out and gives back to ordinary people something bureaucracy should never have been allowed to take away from them—the freedom to travel, for instance, or, as in this case, the freedom to be lord and master in one's own home.

What the Supreme Court struck the other day was a blow in the defense of those American householders who are being harassed by the city of New York, which has been ordered to pay for the cost of the city's sewage treatment plant.

As part of the same naive approach to world realities, there had also been a hope that the nation of Israel, flushed and mighty in its victory, might be quick and first to realize that the greatest advantage it could possibly win by such military prowess would be that of contributing to its own future peace and security, and that of all its region and all its world, by strokes and moods of magnanimity and by gestures of law.

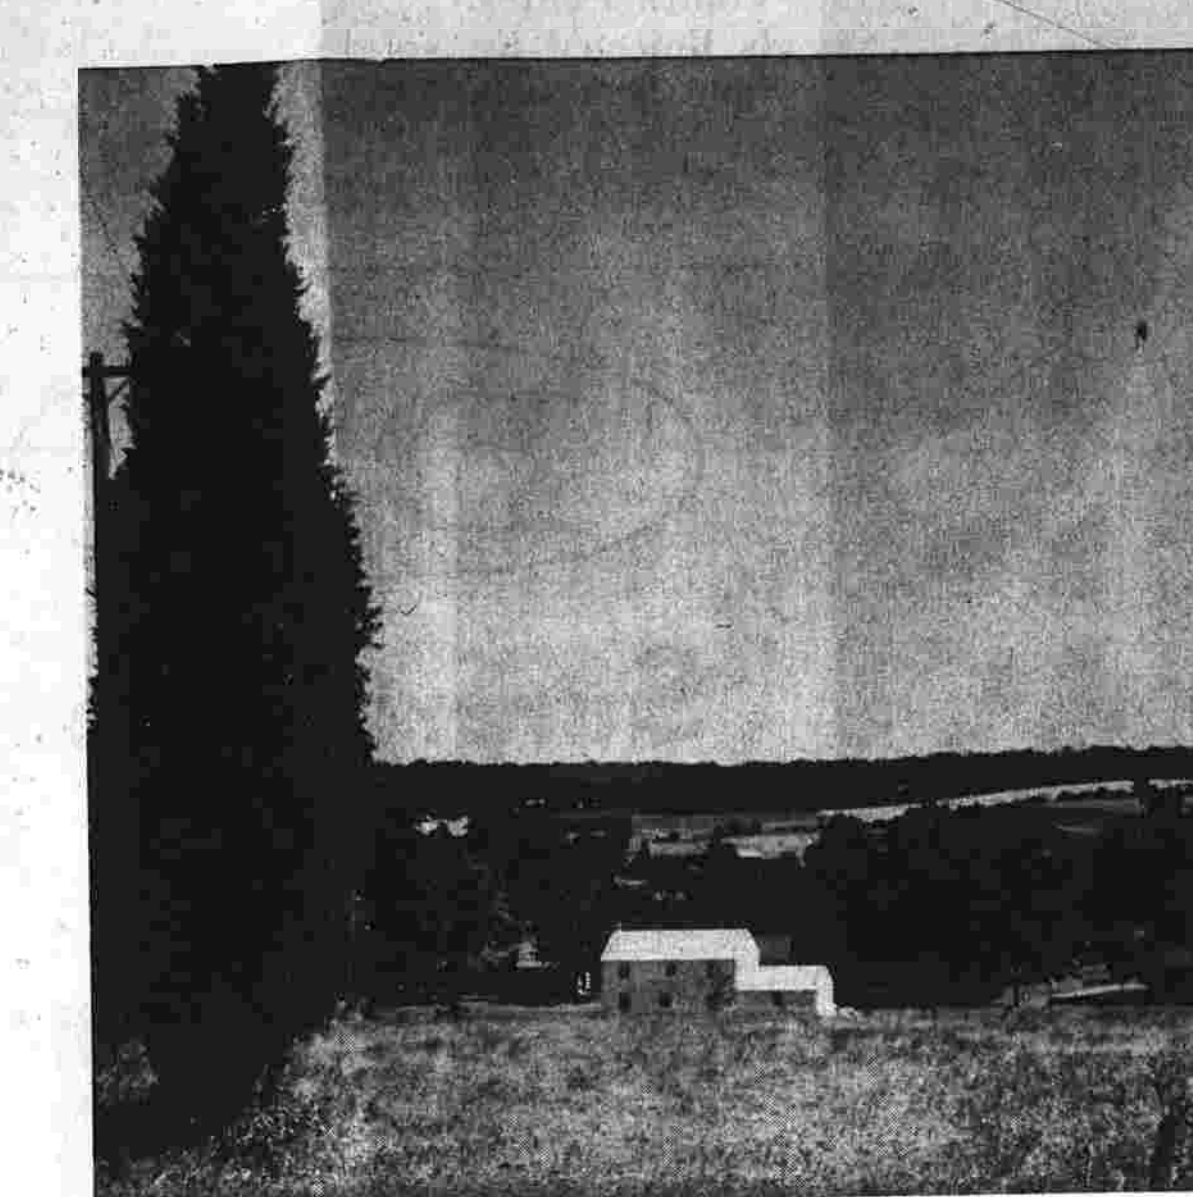

What is interesting, however, is not just the presence of missiles in North Vietnam, but the range estimated at upwards of 400 miles. The more significant element in the equation, as viewed by these U.S. officials, is the Soviet determination to match U.S. escalation with escalation of their own in the Far East.

Because Of Drew Pearson

The legislation that rules out the Doolittle testimonial dinner for Connecticut does not go quite as far as we wish it did. There are still too many loopholes in the corrupt Practices Act, and these should be matter for more study and more legislation. But it is a tribute to the 1967 General Assembly that it dealt as firmly as it did with the subject of money-raising and campaign treasuries. It is not politically easy to write laws to cover this area of public life. The experience course is to leave the subject alone and hope that the voters do not notice or object.

If it had not been for the exposure by Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson of Sen. Dodd's way of finance and if it had not been for Dodd's vigorous defense of private profits from political testimonials, the Connecticut law probably would have gone unchanged and unimproved. But reform has come. And once again, it was brought about by the investigation and disclosure of newspaper men who were not to be intimidated.

The daily column by Mr. Pearson and Mr. Anderson is not carried by many Connecticut newspapers. The Republicans and the Willimantic Chronicle are the only ones which run the columns on Sen. Dodd's life and testimony. But we are proud and glad that there were at least two Connecticut papers that printed these disclosures. The Legislature was a duplicate of the massive power failure blackout which hit New England and New York last on that evening.

SOUTH WINDSOR LANDSCAPE

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — Worrisome evidence is building up that the Soviet Union has decided to escalate the Vietnam war by introducing medium-range missiles, possibly triggering a Vietnamese missile crisis.

Officials at the highest level in the United States are reporting out of their way to warn the U.S. informally of Soviet intentions. These officials—usually talking from knowledge—say North Vietnamese technicians are now being trained in Russia to handle and fire the medium-range ground-to-ground ballistic missile.

Furthermore, U.S. intelligence, using highly sensitive airborne cameras, all but convinced that recent Soviet cargoes into North Vietnam contained the missile.

Expert photo-analysts make this judgment by scrutinizing blowups of the configuration of the viable part of the cargo—just as they accurately identify missiles on Soviet vessels during the Cuban missile crisis of 1962.

What is fascinating, however, is not just the presence of missiles in North Vietnam, but the range estimated at upwards of 400 miles. The more significant element in the equation, as viewed by these U.S. officials, is the Soviet determination to match U.S. escalation with escalation of their own in the Far East.

As one high U.S. official recently put it to a U.S. Senator: "The assured, dear Sir, the soundest of their wing, for the moment on your side it will be matched by an escalation on theirs."

When fully operable, the intermediate missiles could be fired from north of the 17th parallel, the North-South Vietnam border, into Saigon itself. No one, however, knows when that time will come. It depends on whether the Soviet Union would permit Russians to handle the monstrous weapons or insist on waiting until the North Vietnamese became trained for the work themselves.

"Beyond the Pressures of Life" Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that in due time he may exalt you. Cast all your anxieties on him, for he cares about you. 1 Peter 5: 6, 7

Our age has been labeled "the century of fear" and "the generation of anxiety," and the apostle provides the only remedy: "Humble yourselves and give up your claims to the Lord, and cast your cares upon him." Recognize your limitations, but use your God-given abilities in His service. If we are busy serving the Lord we don't have time to worry about keeping up with the Joneses. We will realize we are not alone with our problems and, as many others have done through the years, if we care our burdens on God, we will find the quiet assurance, the strength and the confidence of the Father going and to live a victorious and meaningful life.

The unexpectedly strong stand against Israel by Poland's Communists in the recent General Assembly that it dealt as firmly as it did with the subject of money-raising and campaign treasuries. It is not politically easy to write laws to cover this area of public life. The experience course is to leave the subject alone and hope that the voters do not notice or object.

"How To Win A War"

What is the main reason that we have defense Secretary McNamara in his present position? Months ago this man who claims to know "defense," stated that there was no reason to bomb this, or that, as they were more or less minding their own business. As an example, "There wasn't any reason to bomb various airfields; supply depots etc. We fought a stupid war in Korea going only to the 38th Parallel, and now in Vietnam, we're doing and have been doing the same thing. This mighty nation of close to 200 million can't knock the block off the enemy, for some political reason, no doubt."

Mr. McNamara, our President, and anyone else concerned with the Vietnam war, especially those 10,000 parents and wives of all the Americans killed so far, should write the Department of Defense and tell them a thing or two.

Anyone following the present crisis in the Middle East has found out to win a war and how to make your enemy think twice before he tries to let you again. The Israelis that addressed the Security Council stated in plain language what happened over there and what they did about it. Anyone who has seen a map of the Middle East knows that territory—where the Jews are small in area and only, and I emphasize only, 2,300,000 strong; whereas the Arab Republic is 100,000,000 strong or so strong. He stated very plainly the following: "Did Israel surround all of the Arab Nations or did all the Arab Nations surround Israel? ? ?" According to him, it is immaterial, whether it is true or not; Israel nader men saw planes crossing the border and they met the challenge and they did about it. Anyone who has done, and done well. The reason I say it is immaterial as to the truth, is that it is fact that the Arabs had moved troops to all the borders of Israel.

Tolland Kindergartens Lose By Vote of 650-307

The public kindergarten proposal went down to defeat in Tolland on Monday by a 650 to 307 vote, as opponents of the controversial issue outnumbered the advocates by a two to one ratio at the polls.

Approximately 54 per cent of the town's 2,826 voters turned out for the town's first referendum over 12 years. A total of 975 votes were cast, 657 of which were recorded. The turnout created a steady flow of voters throughout the day, according to Registrar of Voters Mrs. John Burrows.

Tolland youngsters will now have to wait until September 1968 for public kindergartens. The town will then be required by state law to provide public kindergartens for all eligible children.

Some have been disappointed that the town will not qualify for a hardship appeal on the kindergarten question next year.

To qualify for the extra year's delay until 1969 the town would have to prove that state it could not rent portable classrooms, could not build or reconstruct classrooms, could not merge or have expanded facilities. Registration however has been closed after two sessions were held. This has been necessitated by the school board's decision to establish the program, hire teachers and purchase supplies.

Enrollment in Tolland kindergartens is now on a first come, first served basis after the school board has approved the plan for kindergartens in Tolland for the year.

Parents who gambled on public kindergartens in Tolland for their youngsters, may find themselves disappointed when they send their children this coming year.

The two co-operatives have merged and have expanded facilities. Registration however has been closed after two sessions were held. This has been necessitated by the school board's decision to establish the program, hire teachers and purchase supplies.

Yale, UConn Ceremonies Highlight Commencements

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Where older generations sought conformity as a substitute for purpose, the Yale and UConn commencements reached their peak today with traditional pomp and pageantry at Yale University's 150th anniversary in New Haven and at the much newer campus of the rapidly growing University of Connecticut in Storrs.

UConn has passed up Yale in enrollment and conferred about 2700 degrees this year to 2,400 by Old Eli. The state university's degree total is more than 10% of over last year, while Yale's is about the same.

This is Yale's 56th commencement and UConn's 84th. Yale does not have commencement speeches, but does give its graduating class a taste of oratory at the baccalaureate service the day before commencement.

The speaker this year was Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr., who warned the seniors against the "militant apathy" of the day before commencement.

UConn's president, Homer D. Babidge, was the commencement speaker at Southern Connecticut State College in New Britain Saturday night.

Commencement exercises were also held Sunday at the University of Bridgeport.

"We have it within our grasp to make our pattern of public higher education a model for the nation. But to do so, each of us must in his own way seek a balance between his loyalties to our several institutions on the one hand, and his common good on the other."

Speaking at UConn's commencement today was Peace Corps Director Jack Hood. Two retiring college presidents presided for the last time Sunday over commencements at WASHINGTON (AP) — A small interior group removed from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, says his office.

The growth, called a papilloma, was removed Saturday through a cystoscope while Humphrey was undergoing an examination at Bethesda Naval Hospital for a mild bladder infection.

Humphrey's infection had been scheduled to leave the hospital about midweek and resume normal activities, said his office.

In a statement Saturday following the removal, Humphrey's office said an unharmed examination under anesthesia revealed the infection to be associated with a benign papilloma which was completely removed through the cystoscope.

Humphrey's infection had been scheduled to leave the hospital about midweek and resume normal activities, said his office.

Following the annual meeting to appoint a special town meeting to approve the kindergarten proposal without transportation for $44,676 was circulated by David Moulton of Virginia Lane. The petition was presented a week later to the Board of Selection with over 200 signatures.

First Selectionman Carmelo Langhi and Selectionman Frank Kalas countered with a petition last in this area Bolton is far down the list because of its lack of business and industry.

I am sure the people of Bolton are aware of the fact that the Board of Selection is not the only source of true insight into the operation of the town's affairs.

Congress Resents Rail Union Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees still trying to agree on legislation to prevent a nationwide rail strike indicate they're displeased about increased pressure from the six rail unions involved. The unions told congressmen Tuesday they will withdraw their tentative pledge against a nationwide strike unless Congress agrees soon on the legislation. The conferees planned a series of meetings today after reaching no agreement Tuesday. Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., of the House Commerce Committee said he only hopes we can reach an agreement. But he said he questioned the timing of the unions' statement "a little bit." Several conferees said privately that the unions' negotiating committee offered a 6 per cent general pay increase for 18 months and a 5 per cent extra increase for skilled strike pending congressional work. Skilled workers now strike after the Senate and average $3.05, others $2.94.

Warrant Officer Robert S. Davies, 77 Virginia Lane, Toland, is the new unit personnel technician in the Connecticut Army National Guard's Headquarters Detachment, 166th Military Police Battalion at Manchester. WO Davies, formerly a criminal investigator with the Manchester unit, was awarded the Bronze Star in World War II for meritorious achievement during ground operations against the enemy in the European Theatre of Operations during the Rhine and Campaign. He was also awarded the Combat Infantry Badge and has been designated an expert with the 45 caliber pistol and a sharpshooter with the M1 rifle. A native of Hartford, WO Davies was graduated from Hartford Public High School in 1946. His first military service was with the Army in World War II. After his discharge he joined Hartford's Guard unit, 16th Infantry. After serving in the Korean War, he continued in the regular Army until 1955 when he rejoined his former Guard unit in Hartford with the rank of master sergeant. In 1957 he was named administrative supply technician in the 166th Military Police Battalion at Rockville. More Yanks Needed, Too Viet Chief Vows Expanded, More Effective Army Role ABOARD USS CONSTELLATION (AP) — Chief State Negotiator Van Thieu said today South Vietnam's 350,000-man regular army will have to be increased and made more efficient to repel the war against the communists. But this cautioned that any increase in the armed forces would have to be weighed against the effect on the nation's economy, the availability of equipment and the time it would take to train the new soldiers. Because of this, he said, a substantial increase in American troops was needed as soon as possible in South Vietnam to "exploit the successes we already have." He would make no estimate of how many Americans he believed were needed, but said that with equipment and financial help from the United States, he will have more troops ready to meet any situation, said Thieu, a lieutenant general who is running the Royal Ballet's performance of "Romeo and Juliet." "We're just having a good time, man, we do our dancing outside," one bell-jingling hippie told a reporter. There was no word that the dance had anything to do with the arrests in hippieville early Tuesday of Game Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev of the Royal Ballet. Charges against Dame Margot and Nureyev were dropped for lack of evidence.

Therefore, we are not in favor of the Republican party charter should provide for party representation on town boards according to the state statutes. This would allow five members of one party on a seven-man board, rather than the current method of four-three. The town committee also recommended for endorsement of William E. Hall for the post of judge of probate, re-elected by the resignation of Lucas Pettigill Jr. Town Chairman Raymond Bradley Sr. said last night that according to a letter he received from the secretary of the state's office, this position is eligible for a municipal election, because the probate district of Co. 2, 2d Batt., at the town of Coventry, Bradley said this is within the definition of section 8-372 of the 1965 Election Laws pamphlet.

The Democrats will caucus at 8 p.m. Friday night at the Robertson School on Cross St. to endorse the entire slate of registered Democrats are invited to attend.

Coventry Democrats 'Young Turks' Bid to Unseat Old Guard NAACP Regime For Election

The Democratic Town Committee last night came out in favor of the proposed charter and against an earlier Republican party campaign, recommendation that the board of selectmen choose a town administrator before the charter, if passed, goes into effect. The resolution, adopted unanimously by the Democratic Town Committee, reads, "The Democratic Town Committee assesses the proposed charter for Coventry, especially in regard to having a chief administrator under the guidance and control of a seven-man town council. However, we feel that any appointment and service of a chief administrative officer under the board of selectmen as presently constituted would be a continuation of our present form of government and would only cause difficulties for newly-elected town council members. Therefore, we are not in favor of the Republican party charter should provide for party representation on town boards according to the state statutes. This would allow five members of one party on a seven-man board, rather than the current method of four-three. The town committee also recommended for endorsement of William E. Charges Are Dropped Against Dance Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Each of the 18, including the dance stars Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev, ballet's foremost partners who escaped Hippie-die's fascinations, escaped today the embarrassment of court arraignment on charges of disrupting the peace. A group of hippies visited the baller stars backstage after Monday night's performance at the San Francisco Opera House. Dancers crowded around the hippies, who were long-haired and dressed in "hippie" attire. They asked if they were hippies and we said we were," said Martin, ant district attorney, said Tuesday the decision to drop all charges "has nothing to do with the identity of any of the persons involved and I feel there was reasonable cause for the arrests."

But he said, the evidence was not enough to determine who was the 18 arrested had marijuana or disrupted the mar-

Brooke Sees Race Violence Blow to Civil Rights Cause

BOSTON (AP) — The first Negro popularly elected to the U.S. Senate says this summer's racial violence is causing what appears to be a "punitive reaction" to the civil rights movement. "A congressman's willingness to face his responsibility to all Americans people is inhibited when he finds the majority of his constituents frightened and angered by riots or the threat of violence in his community," he said.

"Today," said Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., "alarmed by riots and cries of black power, which have often meant violence, the mood of the nation is resistant to progress in civil rights."

Brooke received the Spingarn Medal for outstanding achievement by a Negro Tuesday night, continues to choose the path for the advancement of colored people during the organization's annual convention. "The new civil rights legislation enacted in the Congress of the United States will not only better it is for the Negro or colored man, but it is for the white man as well. It is for the nation as a whole."

First Income Tax

Although the U.S. personal income tax became law by congressional act in 1913, the first income tax was imposed in 1862 to meet Civil War expenditures. Congress allowed it to expire in 1872, according to the Encyclopedia Britanica.

UAW's Demands Are Presented to Chrysler Corp.

(Continued from Page One) He presented his demands to Chrysler. These include profit sharing. Reuther's Chrysler visit is his third in as many days to members of automotive's Big Three, where current three-year pact runs out Sept. 6. He previously dropped on bargaining tables at General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. similar sets of what he describes as the union's "longest and most ambitious" list of demands.

The profit-sharing goal came as a surprise Monday at General Motors. Reuther emphasized this as "essential" to a peaceful settlement at Ford Tuesday. A guaranteed annual income plan, Reuther says, is a long-term goal. He said the UAW president disclosed as new bargaining issues that the union wants bonuses based on profits at the home end of the fiscal year, just as company executives get bonuses.

Other officers elected include Howard Pitkin, vice president; William Tierney, secretary; and William Warner, treasurer. Reuther must know the work of a year what the president of the Federation was in the next 12 months. He spoke about legislative measures pertaining to pay raises and employee benefits which are now before Congress. After the formal meeting, the group had a picnic at the home of Kenneth Phillips, 110 Diane company executives get bonuses.

Military Space — What's Ahead?

LBJ Sees Photo Satellites Worth Entire Program Cost

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Last March, during a visit to Tennessee, President Johnson said he often had been criticized for spending too much money on space exploration.

Answering these critics, he said: "If we got nothing else from the space program than the photographic satellites, it is worth 10 times over the money we've spent. Without the satellites, I'd be operating by guess and by God. But I know exactly how many missiles the enemy has got."

To date, the United States has spent nearly $40 billion on military and civilian space programs. Even Johnson's reckoning, that the photographic satellites alone have been worth nearly $400 billion, might be low. Because thanks to knowing how many missiles a potential enemy has and where they are, defense department officials say the United States will not be caught in another scare like the so-called missile gap of the 1960s.

Then there was a grave fear that the Soviet Union had a tremendous lead in long-range missiles, and the United States poured billions into a program to catch up. Later it was learned that there had been no gap.

The development of reconnaissance and surveillance satellites has been one of the most significant achievements of the space age. Details about them are a tightly kept secret, but it is known that several times Administrator's Easa and Nimsy satellite makes photographic passes over the Soviet Union, Red China and other countries. Soviet observation satellites also fly regularly over the United States.

Both nations place strong emphasis on a military space program. Of 485 U.S. satellites sent into orbit through June 1, 246 had military assignments such as reconnaissance, missile detection, navigation, mapping and weather.

Additional information comes from instruments that scan nearly the entire electromagnetic spectrum, from radio waves, through radar and microwaves, the entire infrared spectrum, up to ultraviolet and X-rays.

Using this collection of instruments, NASA is developing a satellite capable of measuring temperatures and density anywhere in the atmosphere and down to a depth of 200 feet in the oceans. The satellite will report on water resources including the location of underground rivers, the movement of schools of fish, an inventory of forests including the health of individual trees, soil fertility, and the location of minerals.

It's easy to see how the Defense Department could use such a satellite to spot submerged submarines, to sight enemy soldiers in deep foliage, or to identify a missile site buried underground.

The possibility that the Russians will develop a satellite is causing concern about the security of the Navy's Polaris submarine program and about the Air Force Minuteman ICBM silos. Defense experts are re-examining a plan, once junked as unneeded, to mount Minuteman missiles on trucks and trains that constantly move about the country so they would not be "sitting ducks."

A major problem to be solved before a multispectral satellite system can be deployed operationally is to calibrate and coordinate the information received by the various instruments and to return it to earth as swiftly as it is assembled. Officials are confident this can be done. The Defense Department also has made rapid strides in developing satellites which are proving valuable navigation beacons for ships and planes, which are mapping the earth with extreme accuracy to provide targeting data for missiles, which are intercepting radio signals from ground, air and space-based facilities of potential enemies, and which are capable of detecting if any nation violates the lunar nuclear test ban treaty.

After years of problems, industry finally has produced a satellite sensor that can detect the launching of missiles aboard the hospital's department of medicine, described the dental work as routine.

Col. Loren Parnley, chief of the hospital's department of medicine, described the dental work as routine.

Forrest, an inflammation of the gums and tooth-surrounding membranes that can cause teeth to become loose, affects both the young and the old.

Parnley said gum specialists felt prophylactic work was necessary for Eisenhower and, since he was due for a physical examination, it was decided to do the dental work at the same time.

An Eisenhower aide said last Friday the five-star general is not expected to remain in the hospital for more than two days. Eisenhower was taken to the hospital from his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa. He was met at the hospital by more than 100 persons, including newsmen and some soldier casualties of the Vietnam war clad in blue and white robes.

He advised against pessimism over world affairs. "We always think we have more serious problems than people have ever had. But I sometimes wonder what people's thoughts were when Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek fled to Taipei and the Hunns began sweeping into Italy. "These people worried as we have been just as worried as we are," Eisenhower said, adding: "We have problems but too

Eisenhower's Dental Work Is 'Routine'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The dental work former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is to have done this week at Walter Reed Army Hospital is described as routine and designed to reduce the possibility of pyorrhea, a gum disease.

John Herder, an assistant vice president of the Southern New England Telephone Co., said Tuesday that police are "a major unappreciated source of knowledge about the inner city" and should be given something constructive to do with their knowledge.

"They have offered things to the city and have been refused," Herder said in an interview. "The cops have been completely ignored."

There is racial prejudice on the New Haven police force, but it is an accurate reflection of the attitude of the so-called "white power structure"—businessmen, politicians, and residents, he said.

Herder said his research indicated that many Negroes' claims of harassment and unfair treatment by the police may well be justified.

"Of course," said Dr. A. L. Gray after a pause, "I don't include Rita Hayworth, Ferns Ellen, Judy Garland, Leslie Caron, Audrey Hepburn and Cyd Charisse, well as Ginger Rogers. "Pinina's Rainbow" is the first musical in which he does not dance with a glamorous partner.

"This role is playing: Pinina is a real character, a salty old Irishman. All of the dancers come out of the character and the situations; I don't have any real roles as such. And I like it that way."

Idealism Quickly Gone Study Is Completed On New Haven Police

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Young men go into police work with "a tremendous amount of idealism," but soon become bitterly resigned to being "second or third rate civil servants" according to a man who has studied the New Haven police department.

John Herder, an assistant vice president of the Southern New England Telephone Co., said Tuesday that police are "a major unappreciated source of knowledge about the inner city" and should be given something constructive to do with their knowledge.

"They have offered things to the city and have been refused," Herder said in an interview. "The cops have been completely ignored."

Guest Speaker

The Rev. Nathan B. Burton, retired Methodist minister, will be guest speaker Sunday at the 9 a.m. service at North Methodist Church. His topic: "Being a Christian Today."

The Rev. Mr. Burton has received degrees from Brown University, Providence, R.I., and the School of Theology at Boston (Mass.) University. He served parishes for 40 years in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island before retiring from the full-time ministry in 1959.

The guest preacher serves as interim pastor on a part-time basis, both in Connecticut and Florida. He and his wife spend time in the state of Florida.

HEALTH FOODS DIFFICULT WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretary of the Mississippi State Board of Health told a Senate subcommittee Tuesday it's difficult to get some people off healthful foods such as yellow cornmeal and oatmeal.

"Of course," said Dr. A. L. Gray after a pause, "I don't include Rita Hayworth, Ferns Ellen, Judy Garland, Leslie Caron, Audrey Hepburn and Cyd Charisse, well as Ginger Rogers. "Pinina's Rainbow" is the first musical in which he does not dance with a glamorous partner.

Terribly Hard Fred Astaire Happy Over Roles' End

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Thank heaven," said the ageless Fred Astaire, "I don't have to get those romantic numbers any more. I've done so many of them and they're terribly hard work."

The century's most celebrated dancer clumped in a chair in his dressing room at Warner Bros. "First time I ever worked here, although I knew Jack Warner before. He knew any other studio boss."

Astaire is a sensitive, even tender man and the interviewee learns to shift certain areas. For instance, he is bored by references to his age, which happens to be 67. He is oblivious to the passage of time and couldn't tell you that it had been 11 years since he filmed his last screen musical, "Silk Stockings."

He has done three straight roles in "On the Beach," "Notorious Landlady," "The Pleasure of His Company."

Terribly Hard Fred Astaire Happy Over Roles' End

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Thank heaven," said the ageless Fred Astaire, "I don't have to get those romantic numbers any more. I've done so many of them and they're terribly hard work."

The century's most celebrated dancer clumped in a chair in his dressing room at Warner Bros. "First time I ever worked here, although I knew Jack Warner before. He knew any other studio boss."

Astaire is a sensitive, even tender man and the interviewee learns to shift certain areas. For instance, he is bored by references to his age, which happens to be 67. He is oblivious to the passage of time and couldn't tell you that it had been 11 years since he filmed his last screen musical, "Silk Stockings."

He has done three straight roles in "On the Beach," "Notorious Landlady," "The Pleasure of His Company."

we always have the duty to try to guide and influence in the character and degree of such United States involvement. The fact that we have intervened in Vietnam in the wrong way and to the wrong degree does not constitute any automatic justification of any pretense that we are or can be completely isolated from interest and responsibility elsewhere. One thing quite clear is that we ought always to aim to keep our functioning as far from being unilateral, and as far from being military, as possible.

Our Legion Is The Finest
 As this page has observed before, the American Legion provides something more than handsome night sky spectacle when, each year, it stages its Fourth of July fireworks display for Manchester and its neighbors. The display itself is an indispensable and responsible community service, for which everybody is grateful.

But more than that, it is one of the few remaining examples of the ability of volunteer public initiative to function in an area which would otherwise fall into the responsibility of government.

How easy it would be, in actuality, to have done with this volunteer effort on the part of that good civic organization, the American Legion, and not to render everything to the town, with the money for the fireworks appropriated from everybody's taxes, and the display itself handled by town employees being paid overtime. There would be no more need for appeals for donations from the public, no more need for initiative and work on the part of individuals who, in the past, have been so generous and kindhearted by town employees being paid overtime. There would be no more need for appeals for donations from the public, no more need for initiative and work on the part of individuals who, in the past, have been so generous and kindhearted by town employees being paid overtime.

It would, in fact, be much simpler, much easier to handle the whole matter, just as so many other features of life which used to depend upon private initiative and public spirit are now financed by tax dollars and administered by some bureaucracy.

But the thing that is easiest, even though that is most efficient, is not always necessarily best. There is a flavor about the Fourth of July in Manchester when it is the Legion doing it which will never be if — as we hope never does happen — the Legion runs out of public service energy and the town itself has to take over.

Meanwhile, once again, the community's gratitude to our Legion Post, the finest we often think, in the country.

New Methods in Vietnam
 The United States is at another of its periodic and major decision points on Vietnam. Washington must decide whether to grant the military's request to send heavy reinforcements (estimated at 150,000 men) during the next 12 months. The reason for this request is obvious: The allied forces are not at present winning the military war and Gen. William C. Westmoreland deems that a major step-up in American power is needed if a satisfactory initiative is to be regained.

We believe that, whatever report Defense Secretary McNamara brings back from his forthcoming visit to Vietnam, there should be no decision on new troops until a number of questions have been asked, studied and, if possible, answered. In view of the fact that previous troop reinforcements have been dispersed to areas where they would be unwise to send still more until certain outstanding issues have been disposed of.

The first is the question of a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam. This newspaper, like many others, strongly urges that this expedient be tried, that the bombing be halted and that a major campaign be launched to seek to bring all sides to a conference table. The halt must be long enough to constitute a genuine effort for peace. If Hanoi refuses to respond to this lead, the world may have a clearer view of who it is that persists in fighting.

A second point which needs clarifying is whether the United States has made an adequate effort and used sufficient resources in the North and Communist areas. We have long felt that this was not the case. Although we put no faith in Buck Rogers' invention, we do believe that a nation of America's resources could and should have found new ways of controlling infiltration from the North and combating guerrillas in the bush. We strongly urge that more thought and imagination be given to new ways of achieving these ends.

Still another unanswered question is the effect which a 15 to 20 per cent increase in American strength would have in many directions. Would it not further weaken the South Vietnamese? Would it not increase the danger of further Russian and Chinese steps designed to balance off this jump in American power?

But, most important of all, would it actually do what the military must hope it will do — permit the allies to regain the initiative sufficiently to give some hope of a military victory? Frankly, we doubt it. We cannot see how, under present conditions, even 150,000 additional men could afford any guarantee of success. We realize that it is not easy, once a government has committed itself to a military goal, for that government to refuse to meet the challenge, and it is not easy to see how, under present conditions, even 150,000 additional men could afford any guarantee of success.

WALDEN POND: Lived Upon And Written About by Henry David Thoreau, Who Was Born in Concord 150 Years Ago Today

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — The formal protest issued by 40 Republican Congressmen when President Johnson signed the bill extending the military draft for four years was really directed more against their own party leaders than against the White House.

In fact, those 40 House Republicans and probably many more have been seething mad since May 25 when Minority Leader Gerald Ford and the House Republican hierarchy cooperated with the Democrats in passing the draft extension.

That was a Congressional defeat for Mr. Johnson, whose own commission's recommendations for draft reform (including a lottery system) were swept aside. But even more important to backbench Republicans was the acquiescence of GOP House leaders in maintaining the draft status quo.

What's more, an increasing number of House Republicans believe that this is just another in a series of Ford fumbles since the 1966 election expanded the House Republican ranks. They believe the leadership's alternative on Federal aid to education inactivity is a good friend of Rivers and perhaps all schools. Now there is deep concern over the party's alternative to the Johnson crime bill.

Moreover, the criticism is not limited to a fringe of liberal Republicans. The 40 signatories of the June 30 anti-draft statement include not only members of the liberal-leaning Wednesday group but such hard-shell conservatives as Ohio's Delbert Latta and California's Don Clausen. The prime movers inside House Republican ranks for an all-out, unceasing army instead of the draft were Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois and Thomas Curtis of Missouri, both with generally conservative voting records.

A Thought for Today Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

"A True Leader" To the Editor: To have known Tom Coran for the past eight years has been an honor and a pleasure. If we violate his rights, then forgiveness is seen as his pardoning us and thereby releasing us from any further responsibility for what has happened. As an example of this would be if we were to drive our car through our neighbor's fence and he were to respond to our apology by saying that he could repair it with little difficulty and for us to not concern ourselves with it any further. Many times we try to act Christianly in this way to get away from responsibility for our actions. In this way, we are more conversions than in any church you can find. Most of these are based on an idea that this will somehow solve the problems these fellows have become involved in. It is seen as a sort of magic cure-all.

Clerks' School Opens Riot Guns and Job Offers Are Both Rushed in Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — As the City Council put in a rush order for riot guns, Tampa's business men launched a program Tuesday to give jobs to hundreds of the city's native Negroes.

"We couldn't have talked this way five years ago," said R. B. Kinton, a downtown East End businessman. "We must open our minds and hearts and give these people a chance to make a living."

As an investment in racial peace, the Merchants' Association is sponsoring a school to turn out sales clerks, maintenance personnel and typists.

The council said its action was precautionary. The merchants said they hoped to lubricate Tampa's racial friction by fighting unemployment.

Merchants will sponsor classes two nights a week for a month, including a grooming course and "how much is two cans for 30 cents."

In addition, applicants will be taught how to pass simple aptitude tests which major chains require, and they will be encouraged to overcome a seeming reluctance to talk.

As the merchants voluntarily opened their doors to Negro job applicants, the City Council ordered an emergency shipment of weapons and gave Mayor Rich Handrad powers to invoke curfew.

Airman Has Head in Clouds Oging Miss Universe Field

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — can't date, but at least I get to see what other guys dream about. The 21-year-old airman Singsler is spending the second anniversary of his entry into the Air Force by ogling 66 beauties at the Miss Universe pageant.

"I don't believe it. I just don't believe it. The guys back home are never going to believe it unless I tell them."

Singsler, a native of Youngstown, Ohio, will celebrate his 21st birthday on Tuesday when he is 21. He is a member of the Air Force anniversary band at the Miami Beach Auditorium, where the Miss Universe pageant will be held.

He had cautiously asked for the commitment to give Negroes work, he said.

Gene Reynolds, manager of a downtown East End business, said he would have 200 openings.

Edward Martino, owner of a grocery in the Negro section, told fellow merchants he had plans to offer one of his workers a permanent job.

He said he would retire soon and, to reward a Negro employee of 20 years, he planned to give him the store.

Doves Predict Dark Future if Vietnam War Is Escalated

WASHINGTON (AP) — States take the initiative for Congressional critics paint a dark picture of increased taxes, price-wage controls and mobilization of reserves if President Johnson intensifies the Vietnam war.

The doves are telling Johnson through Senate and House speeches that he also will be risking World War II if he pours in a huge complement of military or economic aid to South Vietnam.

The hawk, directed at the moment by the alarms of possible American involvement in African conflicts, are otherwise relatively silent while awaiting Johnson's decision after he confers with Gen. William C. Westmoreland and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen seemed to voice the general view of hawks that if Westmoreland wants more troops, he could have what he needs.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who wants renewed effort to reduce the present level of U.S. involvement in the Asian war, cited the possible domestic effects of expanding the conflict.

"Before we take another significant step deeper in Vietnam," he said, "it is to be hoped that we will have asked ourselves at what point we intend to increase taxes, apply the wage and price controls, tighten the draft, and so on."

"The government can provide free milk to kindergartners, who, after all, have yet to do a thing for their country, why can't it buy a luncheon martini once a week for a worn-out white-collar factory worker of 50 who has been meeting his tax bills for more than a quarter century?"

Why not government subsidized love nests for middle-aged husbands, free parking spaces for anyone over 45, and government-paid annual vacations to all housewives who've publicly confessed they are older than 39?

Being middle-aged has been a crime long enough. Maybe it's time for the government to give these people what they need: a man or woman who can organize them and lead them out of their serfdom.

we care do pennies make a difference in your food bill?

You bet they do. And we should know. We built our business by saving pennies for generations of folks like you.

For instance, take our policy on multiple-priced items. If an item is priced 3 for 25¢, the price for one is obviously 9¢.

But what happens if you want two? Do you pay 2 times 9¢ or 18¢? Not at A&P.

We sell it at 2 for 17¢. That's the fair way—the A&P way.

Yes, in the food business... in food budgeting, pennies make a difference.

We watch them for you and for us.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Two Collisions In Foggy Ocean
 By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Heavy fog along the New England coast accounted for at least two ship accidents Tuesday.
 In Hull, Mass., the 225-foot excursion boat Martha's Vineyard with 98 passengers aboard, ran aground off Pt. Allerton while returning to Boston from a trip to Provincetown. The Coast Guard helped float the boat at high tide. There was no danger to the boat or its passengers.
 In New Bedford, Mass., the freighter Fauskanger, loading her way through the fog, struck the concrete abutments of the hurricane barrier gate in New Bedford Harbor.
 The collision drove in a section of the concrete wall near the top, and caused some damage farther down on the wall. The freighter, apparently not badly damaged, continued to the State Pier to unload cargo after the accident.

Violence in Hong Kong Causes Capital Concern
 WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials concerned United States to defend Hong Kong in Hong Kong will not there may be a private understand- ing, exist between the State Department press offi- cer Robert J. McCluskey was asked if there is a U.S. policy in the event Hong Kong is at- tacked by the Chinese mainland. He said there is such a policy but the situation has not arisen and he would not discuss it further.
 There are approximately 6,000 Americans who are residents of Hong Kong and there is a so-called "floating population" of 1,000 to 1,500 more Americans visiting there.
 McCluskey advised U.S. tourists Tuesday that it would be prudent to take into account the present turmoil before visiting the island. At this point there is no ban on travel there.
 Legal experts said that while the United States has no written understand- ing between the United States and Britain comparable to the defense treaty between the United States and Nationalist China, Hong Kong has been dis- cussed on a confidential basis. It is believed there was an un- derstanding between the United States and the Peacemakers in the event of a Chinese Com- munist attack.
 The United States has an agreement with Hong Kong au- thorities which covers U.S. mili- tary men on leave there from the war in Vietnam. But per- mits for the troops to visit Hong Kong could be curtailed by an order from Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, U.S. commander in the Pacific.
 Military rest and recreation privileges were curtailed in late April, however, at the same time the U.S. counsel general in Hong Kong advised Americans not to visit the island.

Strike Riot Rocks Virginia Shipyard

 National Labor Relations Board in Baltimore.
 The union also has a hearing today in the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Alexandria on its attempt to transfer legal proceedings from state to federal courts.
 The manager of the association, R. M. Bryant Jr., de- clined to outline future union plans except to say pickets "are still on the gates in an orderly, nonviolent manner as they al- ways have been."
 Assaults on nonstriking work- ers, tire slashings and wind- shield shatterings outside gate plants began Monday night. Nearly 20 persons have been arrested.
 Union officials have pleaded for those marching in picket lines to "remain law-abiding citizens and continue picketing in an orderly, nonviolent man- ner."
 About six hours after the 4 p.m. shift of nonstrikers report- ed for work Tuesday a crowd near the shipyard gates began throwing bottles and bricks at the shipyard fence, said a strike- er, Andy Lingier, 25, of Hamp- ton.

 Children have more fun playing indoors with their modeling clay if you give each child a handful of toothpicks. They will keep them busy for hours. By using them they can add legs, arms, or a neck to hold the head of a figure they model. This makes their play more realistic, because with the aid of the toothpicks their clay creations will also stand.

Reserved Seat Movies Seen Economic Fixture

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That grand old movie tradition, the road show, now appears to be a permanent fixture in film industry economics.
 The road show, also known as the two-day or hard-ticket picture, dates back as far as "Birth of a Nation." The policy of selling reserved seats at advanced prices for special attractions has been attempted over the years with varying success. Only in recent years has the device been embraced by all film companies.
 "It's a sign of the times," says a theater owner. "People don't mind paying more for the assurance of a reserved seat and the prestige of seeing an important new movie."
 Some movie goers are shocked by the price. The top ticket for "The Young Man with the Millie" in Hollywood is $4. But there are still enough consumers to assure a year's run or longer for a hit film in a metropolitan area. And a hit doesn't have to be a critical success. "The Sound of Music" was the biggest attraction there, blasted by high-circulation critics.

How to buy a bra

1. Spend five minutes in the fitting room of a good store with several bras—not just a Bali.
2. Try each one on. It's the only way to tell if a bra fits—provided you understand that "proper" means "comfortable."
3. Clip out this test and take it with you for a life fitting. It will probably mean a better figure for life.

How to buy a bra

1. Can you feel the shoulder straps?
 2. Does the bra gap in the cleavage?
 3. Does the back hike up?
 4. Do you have to wear the straps short to get the uplift you like?
 5. Does the bra feel tight? Or loose?
 6. Do you ever feel the cups? Or not quite fill them?
- If you had any Yes's—you have the wrong bra.
1. Does the lift come from under the cups?
 2. Does the back lie low?
 3. Do the straps lie over on your shoulders, supporting no weight?
 4. Do the cups mesh as freely as you move?
 5. Does the bra cling at the cleavage—leaving no gap?
- If the bra does these things, it's the right bra.

Presidential Suite Occupied by Perez Before Game-Winning Homer Record Five Straight Victories for Nationals

ANAHEIM (AP) — Tony Perez started his California trip as a king and climaxed it by keeping the National League on the throne in All-Star competition.

Perez, the Cincinnati Red who replaced starter Rich Allen at third base in the 10th inning, ended the longest All-Star game ever played when he hit an 83-pitch home run from Kansas City's Jim Hunter into the left field bleachers in the 12th inning.

That gave the National League a 2-1 decision Tuesday and a record five straight victories over the American League.

Alton, however, felt no more joy than Perez, the 28-year-old Cuban who brought his wife, Pituka, and their 14-month-old son, Victor, to see him play in his first All-Star game.

They arrived in Anaheim late Monday night, unaware they pitched a record 30 strikeout game with a record 30 strikeouts.

"I don't know what happened," Perez related in his acceptance of congratulations from Alton, President Warren E. Giles of the National League and Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

"But when we got to the hotel we had a lot of trouble because we have no more rooms left. So they give me the presidential suite. I felt just like a king."

Even at the 58-4-day rate, the National League probably would be willing to keep Perez in the suite the rest of the week.

His home run, the third of the game—the others also were third basemen, Philadelphia's Allen in the second inning and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore in the sixth—broke up a drought that was punctuated more by strikeouts than by hitting.

Allen connected for his homer in the second off Alton's first at-bat.

Former Chicago of Minnesota, a former Angel who was booted by the fans before the game, Robinson tied the game with his drive off Ferguson Jenkins in the sixth.

Alton, however, felt no more joy than Perez, the 28-year-

Boos for Winning Pitcher Alton Used 25 Men, New Time Mark Set

ANAHEIM (AP) — Walter Alton of Los Angeles used all of his 25-man National League squad in the All-Star Game with the exception of pitcher Claude Osteen.

Alton, who pitched for the Baltimore Orioles last season, had five men left over on his American League squad, including the three pitchers who worked Sunday and were not expected to see action. They were Jim Lincecum, Joe Horlen of Chicago and Steve Hargan of Cleveland.

The others who didn't see action were catcher Paul Casanova of Washington and Andy Etcheberry of Baltimore. Starter Bill Freehan of Detroit was one of 19 players who played in the entire game.

Super Stars — Mickey Mantle, left, and Willie Mays had the same fate when they pinch hit last night. Both were called out on strikes. Each received a tremendous ovation, a standing one for Mantle. (AP Photos)

30 Strikeouts in 15-Inning Thriller Pitching Dominated

ANAHEIM (AP) — "You've gotta credit the pitching. That's still the name of the game," said Manager Walter Alton, a man eminently qualified to discuss the fruits of good pitching.

Alton's Los Angeles Dodgers put Championship Series participants with the National League's best pitching, and Sunday his All-Star team outlasted the American League, 2-1, in a 15-inning marathon.

The marathon game in baseball amassed 30 strikeouts, with the winners Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh setting an All-Star record for fully by fanning four times.

Hammer runs accounted for all runs as Cincinnati's Tony Perez snapped a 1-1 tie with a drive, fast ball, but the breaking over the left field fence in the staff, well...

Bench Warmer Turned Hero

ANAHEIM (AP) — Magical transformations occur in Anaheim Stadium as well as in adjacent Disneyland.

Tony Perez proved it as he turned from bench warmer to hero in baseball's 1967 All-Star game Tuesday.

The Cincinnati third baseman didn't see action in the first nine innings as Philadelphia's Richie Allen had won the vote for starter.

Red Sox Representatives Played Well for All-Stars

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The game at the time, American Boston Red Sox members of the American League All-Star team gave quite an account of themselves Tuesday night even as played the entire game.

Though their club dropped a 15-11 game to the Yankees in the 10th inning, 21 decision to the National League.

Red Sox representative Carl Yastrzemski three innings, but left after one inning as Philadelphia's Jim Hunter, the victim of Perez's homer, three.
