Grandfathers Get Together

At least half of their preliminary conversation focused on the somewhat folksy discussion of the kind of money, he said. He said he could not afford to hire an attorney. "I'm barely making ends meet in the suburbs."

Sunday Talk Unexpected, Experts Say

GLASSBORO, N.J. (AP) - American diplomats in Glassboro will open the way toward solving major international issues. The fact that President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met for five hours Friday, including three hours with Premier Kosygin, was in itself regarded as a good omen.

South Windsor 2 Town Officials Blasted By Local Democrat Group

The Democrats for Better Government has issued a statement demanding the immediate discharge of Vergilio Bronzi, in a significant action in the town of South Windsor.

The group has also requested the discharge of George Stone, Democratic town committee chairman and chairman of the selectmen's Safety Committee.

Both of these men have accepted the responsibility to see that our streets are maintained in a safe condition, and they both have done a miserable job," the group said.

Sheinwold on Bridge

USE SPECIAL SIGNAL TO SHOW YOUR ENTRY. The suit preference signal is used chiefly when you lead a card for your partner to ruff.

West led the three of spades to the ace, and East returned the six of hearts to a finesse to the king, and West returned a spade to force out the king.

West actually returned the ace of spades at the third trick, and the high card called for a high suit. East therefore returned a heart after taking the king of clubs.

This Is a House Where Art Lives

Mrs. Hinchin takes a brief respite from her hobbies to read in her spacious living room. The artist and Mrs. Hinchin's mother, Mrs. George von Borstel, came to Manchester from Scotia, N.Y., weekly for the second of her husband's collection of antiques which she has in the house.

Other paintings are done by Eliden Rowland, whose work is represented in the permanent collections of several art museums and universities, and who is listed in "Who's Who in America."

57 Local Students Awarded Diplomas by Ellington High

The last class of Tolland students to graduate from Ellington High School received their diplomas in ceremonies Thursday night.

The 165-member class included 57 Tolland students, several of whom received scholarships and awards.

The students marched into the gym to the strains of the "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell, and the invocation was given by the Rev. J. Clifford Curtin of St. Matthew's Church, Tolland.

The salutatory address was given by David Inglis of Ellington, followed by the presentation of the class gift by class president Robert Strout of Tolland. The gift was accepted by school board chairman Rudolph Luginbuhl.

Miss Emmalyn Kauffman of Ellington delivered the valedictory address, which was followed by the presentation of special awards by principal Gordon Getchell and assistant principal Robert C. Healey.

Scholarships and awards presented to Tolland students included the Citizens of Tolland and Ellington Community Scholarship Fund, Irene Blinn, $100; John Lojmin, $100; Ellington Education Association, Rene Blanche, $100 and Class of 1967, Irene Blinn, $150.

Rotary Awards presented to Tolland students include Judith Jachim, math; Andrew Geel, industrial arts; Rene Blanche, social studies; Lucille Gullette, girls physical education; Andrew Geel, boys physical education and Gloria McLaughlin, outstanding achievement in home economics.

found him in the crowd Friday that he didn't wish to comment on any subject.

Leopold was paroled from an Illinois prison in 1958, after serving 33 years. He later was granted a pardon.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Singer Vic Damone filed a $4 million damage suit Friday against producers of a new motion picture, "Sprees," which he claims shows him without his consent.

Superior Court Judge Edward J. O'Connor issued a temporary order halting the showing of the film. A hearing is set for July 7.

Area Weather WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — The frontal system associated with the cloudy, showery weather across much of New England Friday is moving offshore and weakening, paving the way for summer weather, says the U.S. Weather Bureau.

A weak cold front is moving slowly southward over southern Canada and may bring somewhat cooler weather to northern New England tomorrow.

19 Million Over 65 WASHINGTON—The one person in 10 who is over 65 accounts for more than 19 million of the U.S. population.

Summit Meeting Reaction Shows Cautious Optimism
ley, Johnson hailed "the spirit of Hollybush." He told a Democratic group in Los Angeles that this is the spirit of "reasoning together."

Johnson declared that he and Koyagin had agreed they both want "a world of peace for our grandchildren."

"But the President added a note of caution that 'deep and serious differences' remain. 'One meeting does not make a peace,' he said.

"We reached no new agreements—that does not happen in a single conversation—but I think we understand each other better," he said.

Moscow radio carried only a brief comment for Russian listeners. It simply said that the two leaders met "in Glasboro, N.J., near New York" and that "the meeting was suggested by President Johnson."

Glasboro, a small town near Philadelphia, is about halfway between New York and Washington—which is how it came to be the compromise site in the dispute between Johnson and Koyagin over who should come to whom.

The Moscow version omitted Christian's statement that the second Glasboro conference Sunday had been suggested by Koyagin.

Radio Peking lost no time in accusing both powers of directly planning "a great conspiracy on a worldwide basis."

While Koyagin ostensibly went to the United States for the U.N. session, Red China declared, the Soviet premier's real purpose was to "confer secretly with Johnson on criminally selling the rights of the revolution of the Vietnam people, Arabs, as well as planning 'a great conspiracy American peoples to U.S. imperialists.'

Saudi Arabia's ambassador to the United Nations, Jamil M. Baroudy, seemed little impressed with the Big Two summit, no matter what the outcome.

"If they agree or don't agree," the Arab diplomat said, "there will be no solution if it is not a solution that satisfies the Arab world."

Elsewhere at the United Nations the reaction to the news from Glasboro was generally favorable.

Diplomats took the continuation of the talks as an encouraging sign. They speculated that at least one concrete result might be agreement by the two nuclear superpowers on the proposed pact to outlaw the spread of atomic arms.

Rusk and Gromyko are expected to try to complete wording on a treaty draft to present to the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

Glasboro was spending the day cleaning up after the first flood of visitors and bracing for the second.

With the publicity from the first meeting and virtually an open presidential invitation to onlookers to come again Sunday, prospects are that Glasboro's normal population of about 12,000 will soar to unprecedented heights for the second summit.

Johnson told the crowd: "Those of you who have Sunday afternoon off will be glad to have you come too."

Andover Estonians Set Festival

A formal opening of the recreation area, recently acquired by the Connecticut Estonian Society on Times Farm Rd. will be held today at 8 p.m.

Later in the evening, the society and the Legion of Estonian Liberation Connecticut Post, Inc. will jointly sponsor the Midsummer Night's Festival and Victory Day program.

The festival has been celebrated for centuries by Estonians and other nationality groups of northern Europe to note the beginning of the summer season. Victory Day coincides with this event and signifies an important victory by the Estonians in their way of independence over German and Russian forces in 1918-20.

Invitations to join the festival activities have been extended to Andover town officials, Rep. Walter Thornp, as well as to Estonian and Lithuanian organizations in the area. Featured speaker will be Harold Miles of New York City who is chairman of the Estonian Boy Scout Association in the United States.

Helen Leeson of New York and Anne Fleer of New Jersey will present Estonian folk songs and folk dancers directed by Erich Silamets of Andover will perform. Mrs. Ylo Anson, Boston Hill Rd., will be a member of the group. The society orchestra will present musical selections.

Ylo Anson is currently chairman of the Estonians veterans organizations. Matt Koiva of Columbia is president of the Society, an organization which aims to preserve the Estonian cultural heritage, provide assistance to the needy or elderly people of Estonian descent, and to provide recreational activities for the young and the old alike.

Group Discussions Play
A new study group in the Congregational Church meets tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Anderson, Long Hill Rd. at 7:30 p.m. to discuss "The American Dream" a play by Edward Albee. The play is being produced by the Little Theater in Manchester for their fall showcase presentation.

David Munson of Andover, one of the actors, and Jack Fogarty, director, will meet with the group to present the religious implications of our day as brought out in the play.

Dodd Vows to Run Again Despite Senate Censure

gallery, I do not think I could have carried on these 18 months." Mrs. Dodd occupied a front-row gallery seat throughout the prolonged debate.

"I love the Senate, and I like all its members," Dodd said. "I hope my honor is not diminished in your sight. I hope to be able to work among you as long as the people of my state permit me to do so. Thus I bid you farewell for today, and thank you for your kindness."

With that he strode from the Senate chamber.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the ethics panel said after the vote, "There is no victory here for anyone, and no victory against anyone."

Adoption of the censure resolution marks "a new start for the Senate," Stennis said. "I hope it is a new start for Sen. Dodd," who, he said, "is really liked by all of us."

He renewed a promise that the committee will move as quickly as possible to draft code of conduct for the Senate's approval.

This was the first such case since 1954, when Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., was censured by a 67-22 vote for abuse of two Senate committees that investigated his financial and official conduct. Democrats voted solidly to condemn McCarthy, but Republicans split evenly, 23 to 23.

There was no similar division along party lines in the 92-5 vote to censure Dodd for personal use of political funds.

Aside from Dodd himself, the senators voting against censure were two Democrats, Long of Louisiana and Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, and two Republicans, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and John Tower of Texas.

Sens. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., and Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, were absent because of illness and Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was excused on undisclosed business.

The amendment to strike the double-billing charge from the censure resolution was offered by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. He said it hadn't been shown Dodd intended to defraud the government.

Voting for Ellender's amendment were 25 Democrats and 19 Republicans, while 26 Democrats and 20 Republicans dissented.

Both party leaders, Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., voted to sustain the double-billing charge.

Talk by Reagan Captures Young GOP National Group

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) - The Young Republican National Federation has a new darling in the person of California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

There was little doubt Friday night that Reagan had won the Young Republicans as he addressed the closing session of the national convention.

The conservative-controlled group found Reagan and his philosophy right down their alley—as they did Barry Goldwater four years ago.

Reagan tore into President Johnson's policies on everything from the war on poverty to the war in Vietnam. He brought down the house at least a dozen times.

Reagan had said before to his speech that he would not be a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968. But his listeners wouldn't believe him and chanted, "We want Reagan!"

The California governor drew his first prolonged applause from the crowd estimated at more than 1,500 when he charged that federal bureaucracy has grown 2 1/2 times as fast as the national population.

He criticized national spending and claimed that the implementation of business-like programs in California had reduced the state's spending and could do the same with the federal government.

Earlier Friday, the admitted conservative candidate for Young Republican national chairman, Jack McDonald of Nashville, Tenn., handily defeated two moderates, Jim Betts of Ohio and Ray Cooper of Arkansas, to continue the control the conservatives won in 1963.

Dotter Fancher, from Arizona and who had Goldwater's endorsement, won the co-chairmanship without opposition.

Communists Split Over Middle East

Maurer demanded "the elimination of all foreign interference in the affairs of Middle Eastern states. He said, 'No effort from outside can take the place of a real settlement adopted by the countries of the region themselves in dealing with their common problems.'"

The Israelis themselves have demanded that the Arab states recognize Israel's right to exist and negotiate a peace settlement with her free of foreign interference. The Arabs have refused.

Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu is the unopposed candidate for president of next fall's regular General Assembly session. One Arab ambassador, asked if he thought the Arabs would vote for Manescu after Maurer's speech, replied, "I don't think so. They were all pretty furious."

A Palestinian spokesman, Omar Azoun of the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine, said the Romanians were "an Arab for better trade relations" with the United States by trying to please American Jews.

King Hussein of Jordan will arrive in New York tonight to address the assembly Monday or Tuesday. His government has accused Israel of expelling thousands of Arabs from occupied parts of Jordan.

At a news conference Friday, Israeli Col. Mordecai Gur said

Hussein was even "more stupid" to enter the war than the Egyptians were to start it, because if he had not, "Jerusalem today wouldn't be Israel."

Hussein has been arguing an Arab summit meeting on strategy for dealing with Israel, but the Arab press quoted Jordan's prime minister, Saad Jumaa, as saying the expected presence of Arab leaders at the General Assembly did not permit the proposed summit to be held immediately.

Lebanese newspapers reported Friday that the Socialist Arab nations probably will block the proposed Arab summit. They speculated that Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Algeria and Yemen believe they might be outnumbered by more moderate Arab leaders.

Sabotage Probed In Jetliner Crash

in trouble as it flew over.

"It sounded like the engine kept cutting out," one man said. Blossburg postmaster Louis Schultz said he saw the plane's left wing on fire and pieces of debris falling off.

"It was making a noise like a whistle," he said. "It was just like a toy going down — going down sideways."

Schultz later visited the crash scene and said the fuselage was gone, "just as if someone had stuck some dynamite in the center and blew it to pieces."

Witnesses said the plane came down on a flat area of the town. A temporary morgue was established in the Blossburg fire hall, but some observers said identification would be an "almost impossible job." In addition to the FBI crew, pathologists and dentists were called to aid in identification.

The pilot was identified as a blue-eyed youth about 35 as he was dragged away.

Back at the park, Cassius Clay drove up in a Rolls-Royce after flying in from Chicago and got a roaring reception.

The heavy-duty boxing champion, whose refusal to be drafted cost him his title in some states and led to a prison sentence, under appeal, said: "Anything designed for peace and to stop the killing of people, I'm for 1,000 per cent."

Pedestrian Dies In City Mishap
A Hartford man, David McKennis, was killed yesterday in Hartford when he wandered out in front of a truck driven by Elton A. Solomonson, 47, of 39 Oliver Rd.

According to police, McKennis, 32, of 39 Spring St., was crossing the intersection at Albany Ave. and Woodland St. against the traffic signal shortly before 3 p.m. when the tractor-trailer hit him. Police found him pinned under the rear wheels of the trailer and said he was still breathing. The truck was jacked up to free the victim and he was rushed to St. Francis Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Police said Solomonson would not be charged. The truck, they said, left skidmarks of about 30 feet on Woodland St.

Flower vendors in Vienna are known in the local dialect as lavenderlender. Bearing clusters of fragrant lavender, they sing as they walk along the streets.

We're Sorry

The Herald wishes to apologize for the lateness of yesterday's newspaper and for the inconvenience caused to newsmen and readers.

Minor difficulties in adapting to the new photo-offset process and the changes in procedures it calls for have caused unavoidable delays.

The management and staff are making a concerted effort to keep such delays to a minimum during this period of adjustment to the new processes which have resulted in superior pictures and more readable type.

Tolland Car Overtakes After Skidding

A Wabogue woman escaped injury yesterday morning when the car she was driving skidded on Rt. 105, careened up an embankment and overturned on the road, state police said.

The woman, Ruth Reid, was charged with failure to drive in the established lane, police said. She is scheduled to appear in Manchester Circuit Court 13 July 17.

Police said the mishap occurred about 9:40 during heavy fog.

Hydrant Struck By Stolen Car

Lyman G. Kelley of 22 Tyler Circle was too late. Mrs. Kelley of 22 Tyler Circle told police her husband of 2 Tyler Circle drove their car to 59 Wadwell Rd. and put the ignition key under the seat. She said her husband was going to get the car later.

A thief however, discovered the car on Wadwell Rd. and drove it a short distance before smashing it into a hydrant, police reported. Police are investigating the incident.

Power Mower, Tires Stolen

A power lawnmower and two tires were reported stolen today. Police quoted Clara R. Allen of 29 Dover Rd. as saying her son left the mower in front of the Parkway Restaurant at 937 Center St. about 6 p.m. Wednesday. When he returned about two hours later, he discovered it missing, police said.

Two tires were stolen some time Thursday from two parked cars at Church Motors at 80 Oakland St., police said.

One tire was taken from a 1967 Dodge, the other from a 1967 Chrysler, police said.

They said blocks were left under the cars.

Real Hard Times At 'Peyton Place'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) "Peyton Place" entered a fourth year of production last week, its fictional agonies rivaled by real woes: —George Macready, who plays crusty old Martin Peyton, was hospitalized with lung congestion. Wilfred Hyde-White replaces him temporarily.

—Bosomy Barbara Parkins spent Peyton's eight-week production shutdown filming a feature, "Valley of the Dolls." Though ready to collapse from exhaustion, she bravely carried on.

—Then there is the perpetual hand-holding needed by some actors swept from obscurity to series stardom.

"The first year they can't do enough for you," says producer Everett Chambers, who'll name no names. "Then suddenly they're a star, and you can't do enough for them."

"We have to cajole, lie, feed their psychological needs with love. But Paul and I"—Paul Monash is executive producer—"don't have enough love to go around."

"Peyton Place" has dealt with incest, illegitimacy, murder, fraud, Freud, adultery and premarital sex. Chambers claims it has nothing to do with the late Grace Metalious' novel —"We took the title and three character names."

Soap opera? "sure," he says, "the best of its ilk. Continuing TV dramas have always been soap operas, although we have no soap sponsors."

Peyton's 20 sponsors include hair tint, cigarettes, breath tablets, deodorants—products aimed at its chiefly over-35 audience estimated at 30 million both Monday and Tuesday nights.

Past real-life difficulties have included a benign lung tumor that kept Ed Nelson out a month for surgery last fall, and blood clots that nearly killed Dorothy Malone in late 1965. Lola Albright took her place for eight weeks.

Chambers claims you can get the drift of Peyton's continuing drama in two weeks' watching. This I question, so here is a handy guide for the casual viewer:

Miss Malone plays Constance McKenzie Carson, bookstore operator and mother of—

Allison McKenzie who, learning her father had spent 18 years in jail, suffered a nervous breakdown and vanished. In real life that was Mia Farrow

Esther Ofarim, a singer from Israel, will be a guest on CBS' "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" Sunday evening at 9 o'clock.

'Aunt Bee,' the Eccentric

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "In other words," said "Aunt Bee" of the Andy Griffith Show, "I think I'm eccentric." For example—squarely in front of a hot rod that roared toward her recently —and smiled sweetly at the young driver.

"He had to put on his brakes and go around me. He was mad. I expressed my anger by standing there smiling at him."

"Aunt Bee"—which is the way CBS spells it and she signs autographs, although the character is Beatrice Taylor—is, as the show's fans already know, Frances Bavier.

The French name, originally Baviere, means Bavaria, and she thinks some of her ancestors must have been from there.

She won an Emmy, her first, at the June 4 awards after seven years' playing the fussy-but-apple-pie-sweet housekeeper in Sheriff Andy Taylor's small-town home.

"I wasn't moved as deeply as I could have been," she admits, "because I've never had an opportunity to know the people in the profession. We meet on the sound stage, say hello and goodbye—it's all passing, anonymous."

Miss Bavier—pronounced Bahv-yay—in 65, a veteran of 42 years' acting, the last 17 in films and television. Never married, she hints there have been proposals—"But I was always starting a stage tour or going overseas with USO shows in World War II."

She lives alone in a pink-stucco apartment with cellar and fireplace, five minutes in her car from work.

She described her off-screen life: "I read. I put gold leaf on picture frames. I'd love to be a decorator, but my mind is too fragmentary."

"The apartment gateman smokes cigars and saves me the boxes. I take off the inside label, spray the box with clear lacquer and cover it handsomely with pictures from magazines. I have eight of these boxes, in which I keep thread, but have to go through them all to find the spool I want.

"I have stacks of old National Geographic and subscribe to the French magazine Realites; to Forestry, a conservationist magazine, and Horizons for its fine art reproductions.

"Aunt Bee is only a facet of me. I have the inherent qualities of a New Yorker. I lead a very lonely life. I am overweight. I took off 25 pounds, but as you can see I am putting it back on."

She spooned into a cup of rice pudding.

Of being "eccentric" she said: "It's awfully nice. I'd get very angry if I were not allowed to be. It's one of the things I can enjoy about being older."

Profile of a Loser

By GENE HANDBAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lately

we've been profiling the recent Television Academy, Emmy winners. Today: a lower—Robert Culp.

A two-time loser, in fact. A born loser, he says, but as for that:

"You and I may have different definitions. Losers are people who commit easily and quickly to things they believe in and then, like fools, hang in there till the last dog is killed."

What is he committed to? Long pause. "I don't want to go into that." He is against racial prejudice, isn't he? Explosively: "I don't know what more to say about that. I just don't understand it!"

Culp, 36, tall and athletic, with gray-flecked temples and offscreen spectacles, is Bill Cosby's sleuthing partner and costar on "I Spy."

Budding Actors Play Charades

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Want to be an actor? Play charades. The suggestion comes from Ross Martin, "Wild, Wild West," co-star and a virtuoso at the old parlor pastime. "It's marvelous practice for an actor because you must learn to go from your initial impulse — work close to your instincts," he reports. Before his acting days the emigrant from an East Side New York tenement played charades with friends — in lean, early years simply because it was cheap diversion. He got so good he once was a regular on TV's now defunct "Stump the Stars." Two teams of participants acted out gag sayings sent in by viewers. The toughest one Martin ever had to get across to teammates in his allotted two minute was a pun using his name. Polish-born, Martin has flexible features helpful at either charades or acting. Head erect, tongue flicking, he's an iguana. Or sleepy-eyed and chewing slowly sideways he's a camel. His two years on "Stump the Stars" created a public awareness of himself as Ross Martin. Previously, autograph seekers often addressed him as Andamo, the character he had played on the "Mr. Lucky" TV series. Also, rendering immediate characterizations on the charade show provided unforeseen training for his "Wild, Wild West" assignment. As Artemus Gordon, U.S. secret agent, he has disguised himself in two seasons as 87 characters, as many as five a show. Martin studies the script, draws sketches of the characters' costume and features and works out details with makeup and wardrobe men. He has played a 90-year-old clergyman, a scarred Mexican gunfighter, even an Indian squaw. Apple segments in his cheeks helped him portray a paunchy under-secretary of state. "I regret the decline of participation, or amusing ourselves," he remarked, then added cautiously: "Of course, if people went back to playing charades, it might cut down on their TV viewing."

Joey Bishop Will Stay On

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A vice president of the American Broadcasting Corp. says the network will retain its late-night Joey Bishop Show despite its poor showing against the Johnny Carson Show. Leonard Goldberg told ABC affiliate station owners Monday that the Bishop show is off to a better start than that of Jack Paar, Carson's predecessor on NBC. "We can't forget that Jack Paar premiered in late-night TV in August 1957 with 11 per cent of audience, and for several months his audience remained at that level," Goldberg said. An ABC spokesman said that Bishop's show currently nets a 16 per cent share, while Carson is rated in the high 30s. ABC reportedly has a 30-week contract with Bishop. The comedian has been on the air for 11 weeks.

Motorists Needed Friends to Negotiate W. Middle Tpke. and Dover Rd. Yesterday

Storm Downs Tree, Flooding Reported

By BILL COE
A large tree was uprooted and power lines were downed on Main St. near Washington at the height of a brief but violent thunderstorm that struck Manchester, accompanied by strong winds about 5 p.m. yesterday. In addition, power was partially knocked out at Manchester Memorial Hospital and numerous instances of minor flooding were reported. The section of Main St. for a block north of Washington was reminiscent, in miniature, of scenes after the great New England hurricane of 1938 when scores of trees fell and powerlines for the entire area were knocked out, making Main St. impassable for days.

Marvin Osterling, Manchester branch manager for the Hartford Electric Light Co., reported wires from three or four poles in the section were brought down when the tree toppled. This caused power outages to approximately 565 customers for periods of from two to eight and one-half hours.

Teamster Unions Vote Tomorrow; Accord Reached

NEW HAVEN (AP) — The Teamsters Union announced today that it has reached agreement with industry on a new contract offer that would end a dispute that has crippled construction projects throughout the state for some six weeks.

The announcement said outstanding problems have been resolved to the "mutual satisfaction" of both sides, and that the union committee is prepared to recommend that the rank and file accept the agreement.

Meetings of Teamster locals to vote on the agreement were set for Tuesday at 7 p.m. The announcement said the Teamster-construction industry negotiating committee, "after extensive discussions initiated last night by the employers' committee," were able to "resolve their outstanding problems to their mutual satisfaction."

Fred J. Roberto, co-chairman of the joint committee, said both committees "explored many of the labor relations problems of the industry during these negotiations, including sen-

tion — was reminiscent, in miniature, of scenes after the great New England hurricane of 1938 when scores of trees fell and powerlines for the entire area were knocked out, making Main St. impassable for days.

Manchesters Memorial Hospital lost one-third of its power for about two and one half hours, but Osterling said the trouble was "internal" and not related to the outage in the Main-Washington Sts. area.

Edward Kenney, acting MMH administrator, said this morning he would confer with Curtis Wilson, hospital engineer, to learn exactly why the failure occurred.

Although the north wing reported they had rerouted traffic by way of Washington and Summit Sts. for several hours while State Highway Department crews were cutting up the tree and removing debris.

But they reported not one traffic accident occurred during the half-hour rain, whipped by wind gusts estimated by the Weather Bureau at Windsor Locks at 30 miles per hour. No official records of wind velocities are kept in Manchester. An unofficial Weather Department report said the rain total was .85 inches.

Who's Worried?

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you are a 19- or 20-year-old girl concerned about your chances for marriage — you may be justified in worrying.

The Population Reference Bureau says 80,000 of you had better depart from tradition in husband-hunting or you may not make a catch.

The problem is that there are 3.6 million girls in those age brackets but only 2.8 million 21- and 22-year-old men, the traditional targets of the younger girls.

Suggestions for overcoming the marriage gap? Try someone your own age or considerably older, wait a few years and see what happens, or find a career you'll really like — permanently.

Aching Feet May Reduce Rights March

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Civil rights figure James H. Meredith limped onward in his Mississippi "walk against fear" today, but aching feet slowed the pace and may shorten the 200-mile march first planned.

With 37 miles behind him, Meredith started the third day by switching from his yellow hiking boots to a pair of shoes slit along the toes.

"I've been pushing it too fast," he said. "I hate to slow down, but it doesn't look like I've got any choice."

In Sardis Sunday, as he celebrated his 34th birthday, Meredith said he might stop his walk along U.S. 51 at Canton, 25 miles short of the Capitol at Jackson.

A year ago at Ranton, Meredith resumed his march toward Jackson after recovering from wounds from an ambush shotgun blast on the second day of his trek. Canton is about 25 miles north of Jackson.

Meredith resumed the march Saturday at the place where he was shot.

Meredith, whose enrollment at the all-white University of Mississippi nearly five years ago touched off a night of rioting which left two dead and several hundred injured, also said he had another reason for not marching all the way to Jackson this year.

"I don't want to be embarrassed that way again," said Meredith, recalling that the state Capitol had been sealed off last year to civil rights

UN Meeting Seen Cover For 'Plot'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Albania, the U.N. voice of Red China, charged today that the Soviet Union had called the emergency session of the General Assembly to hide its "treachery" against the Arabs and as a plot to negotiate with President Johnson "at the expense of the peoples of the world."

The attack was delivered as Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin already was headed back to Moscow by way of Havana. Albanian Foreign Minister Nesti Nasi told the 122-nation assembly the Kosygin government had stabbed the Arab countries in the back.

He declared the "progressive peoples" of the world were "profoundly indignant" at the "friendly meetings" of Kosygin and Johnson. He called the Soviet position on the Middle East "hypocritical" and added that Soviet aid to the Arabs "is a vast fraud."

"Down with the Kosygin-Johnson plot," he said. The Russians, he added, not only failed to come to the aid of the Arabs "but they reached an understanding with the United States to coordinate their actions both inside and outside the United Nations."

Nasi declared: "We would like to make this clear to you, the American imperialists and the Soviet revisionists — you will never conquer us, you will never take us by surprise."

"Do not imagine, you Americans, that Albania is alone and isolated. Albania has powerful friends."

To the Soviet "revisionists" he said: "We repulse your friendship. We are eternally faithful friends of our Soviet brothers. The Soviet people will punish you implacably and irretrievably."

"We can say with satisfaction that you have lost forever the monopoly over atomic arms, and you will not be able to frighten us as you have done before."

"I am not speaking in a wilderness. It is you who are alone and isolated. It is you who are trembling and not us. We will beat you; you will not beat us."

Nasi asserted that the U.S. resolution, calling for a negotiated settlement of the Middle East problem, was entirely unacceptable.

He also assailed the Soviet "I believe it is fair to say"

Summit Conferences Over

Johnson, Kosygin Agree They Will 'Keep in Touch'

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin have failed to resolve any of their differences over such major world issues as Vietnam and the Middle East, but they intend to keep in direct contact on these and other problems they debated in their Glassboro summit conference.

The conference ended Sunday night after the two men had spent almost 10 hours together in two days at the small New Jersey town south of Philadelphia. Both told a cheering rain-drenched crowd of their desire to promote peace in the world.

Kosygin returned to New York in a helicopter provided by the President and held a news conference at the United Nations. There he abandoned the smiling countenance displayed at Glassboro and reverted to familiar Soviet attacks on Israel in the Middle East and the United States in Vietnam.

Johnson returned to Washington and said in a broadcast statement that "no agreement is readily in sight on the Middle Eastern crisis, and our well known differences over Vietnam continue."

But he added: "I believe it is fair to say" intention to keep their conflicts in bounds and thus reduce the risk of nuclear war.

The two leaders took sharply different lines in their post-conference statements. Johnson conceded the persistence of disagreements but emphasized his hopes for the future. Kosygin

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, both now in New York, were left with the hard task of trying to negotiate some concrete accords out of what Johnson called "the spirit of Hollybush."

They are expected to begin a series of talks in a day or so.

Hollybush is the name of the home of President Thomas E. Robinson of Glassboro State College where Johnson and Kosygin met on Friday and Sunday.

The major impression left by the conference was that the two leaders, while failing to resolve any of their major differences, had at least demonstrated the

Gains Seen Diminishing

Some Top U.S. Officials Question Viet Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top U. S. officials are beginning to think the air war against North Vietnam is yielding diminishing gains while toughened ground defenses are raising the price in U. S. warplanes.

Certain of them believe it might be a good idea to limit the bombing essentially to the supply routes running south through the narrow neck of North Vietnam and to cut down strikes against heavily defended industrial-type targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas.

But other authorities argue that to do so would result in swelling the volume of supplies and equipment to Communist forces in South Vietnam.

Those holding this general view say the Communists have been replacing many more anti-aircraft guns in the 150-mile long North Vietnamese panhandle, and that concentrating attacks there would not likely reduce the toll of U. S. planes.

Moreover, they contend that the movement of material should be interdicted not only at the lower end of the funnel but at the top where it enters the infiltration pipeline. Officials inclined toward a slowdown in the air war are not all civilians. Some military men also have doubts about the effectiveness of the bombing.

And those favor at least continuing the present level of air strikes — and possibly an intensification — are not all military.

It is known, however, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously and vigorously oppose any easing off of the air attacks on Communist military targets in North Vietnam.

The Air Force and Navy were authorized last Feb. 22 to start hitting what one military source called "more lucrative targets" of an industrial and economic nature.

Now there are not many major targets left untouched. Yet the North Vietnamese continue to push their war effort in South Vietnam without any apparent letup.

returns to hit them again.

North Vietnam's biggest iron and steel complex, the Thai Nguyen steel mill 38 miles north of Hanoi, is reported to be completely out of production. But it took at least 10 raids to achieve this.

One of three major MIG jet fields has been bombed and strafed at least nine times. But military officers do not claim that the Kep base, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, is out of action. They have seen too many examples of North Vietnamese ability to make quick repairs.

The most important targets still untouched are Haiphong harbor and three MIG fields in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

It is U. S. policy to spare Haiphong harbor and its approaches from attack for fear that raids might force the Soviet Union into a confrontation with the United States.

Helen Keller 87 Tomorrow

EASTON: Conn. (AP)—Helen Keller, one of the world's most admired and beloved women, will observe her 87th birthday Tuesday.

"It will be a very quiet birthday," says her companion, Mrs. Winifred Corbally. "She is living in retirement. She is living very quietly. She's put an awful lot into those 87 years."

Miss Keller, blind and deaf since infancy, carved a brilliant career in a world she can neither see nor hear, and in doing so became an inspiration to millions.

"The advancing years have taken their toll," says her companion. "But she is up and about every day."

Miss Keller for several years has allowed visits from only her closest friends and family. She lives a peaceful life with her household staff and her dog, Tinker. She has given up just

27 New Cardinals; Four Are Americans

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI created 27 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today, deplored the plight of Palestine refugees, and appealed for the internationalization of Jerusalem.

The new princes of the church included four Americans.

The Pope also called on all Vietnamese—North and South to "once again love each other as brothers" and to work to rebuild their country into a free and independent land.

Pope Paul spoke in a closed consistory he held with 35 members of the Sacred College of Cardinals to confirm the 27 prelates he nominated May 29 to join them.

Speaking of the Middle East crisis, the Pope said the fighting between Israel and the Arab states had worsened the problem of Palestine refugees and "made evident the overly precarious and inadequate situation of the holy places in Jerusalem, which are dear and sacred for every Christian heart."

"The Holy City of Jerusalem," he declared, "must be for always what it represents — a city of God, a free oasis of peace and prayer, a place of encounter, of elevation and of concord for all, with its own internationally guaranteed statute."

Wednesday, at a semipublic consistory, the Pope will present the red biretta — the three-ridged pillbox hat — to 24 of the new cardinals. Thursday, they will join him in celebrating Mass in St. Peter's Square, a public ceremony being held outdoors for the first time so that more people may attend.
