Town and Employees Reach Agreement After Talks

"We have an agreement," according to Chairman John Dalgio of the Board of Representatives, three sub-committees, dealing with the town members of the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees.

The union demands the town was most strongly against representatives and a vote of all town union members in the Public Works Department.

The state business agent working with the union, Donald Budakoff of New Britain, said Sunday, "We have resolved our differences."

Other union points were: A 3-day probationary period for new employees instead of 90 days as now; minimum of four hours overtime; no employees have more than 25 hours overtime per month; weekly instead of bi-weekly pay; and a 10 percent cost of living increase.

Also asked for were a new town leaders on changing the town contract. Both agreed to recommend it to their members.

The next meeting of the Board of Representatives July 17, Dalgio said the sub-committee will continue a council secretary during the coming school year.

Area Grows Tense Foreign Soldiers Arrive in Congo

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP)—Two unidentified planes landed a group of foreign soldiers today at the airport of Kinshasa in the north-east Congo, President Joseph D. Mobutu said.

The Congo radio D. Mobutu said Tuesday night that 200 Belgian mercenaries were ready to fly to the Congo and Free Mobutu said he would not allow them to land here while Algeria decides whether to grant extradition.

March 13 in absentia to death for treason by a military court in Kinshasa. He has been in exile since he was dismissed as premier in October, 1965, and has been living in exile in Kinshasa.

Mobutu said the commandos did not give their number—landed at 6:30 a.m. and occupied Kinshasa Airport. Earlier the Congo radio said foreign mercenaries had been dropped by parachute both at Kinshasa and Bukavu.

The president said that at Bukavu, Congolese national army troops had been ordered to defend the city from attacks by foreign soldiers.

The Congo has appealed to the U.N. Security Council and to the secretary of the Organization of African Unity against "this traffic deaths soared to a record high for an Independence Day celebration during the long holiday weekend."

The total reached 894, far beyond the previous mark of 379 set during last year's three-day observance of the July 4.

The four-day weekend toll came close to the low of the National Safety Council's advance estimate of 700 to 800, and exceeded the 320 toll made by the Associated Press during a month-long weekend of equal duration.

The nonholiday period was from 8 p.m. Friday June 16, to midnight Monday, June 19. The holiday tabulation period began at 8 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

During this year's Memorial Day holiday, also a four-day observance, 468 Americans lost their lives in traffic accidents.

The large number of traffic fatalities over the Fourth of July weekend once again points up the urgent necessity for strong public support to gain speedy adoption by the states of badly needed traffic safety programs.

Comments by the crowd, as it was leaving, attested to the fact that the display was one of the best ever seen in the area.

Because of the rain threat, the show was started 20 minutes early, at 8:58 p.m. It ended at 9:30 and Mt. Nebo and Charter Oak Fields were emptied of cars and people less than 45 minutes after the start of the later heavy and steady rain.

At about 9:15, light showers were felt and part of the crowd started for home. Most remained in the area until 9:30, however.

The crowd was unusually orderly throughout. No children were reported lost and the families were well supervised.

Romney, looking comfortable in a great sport shirt and gray checked jacket, began a four-day working vacation in New Hampshire's lake country, during which he will meet with top Republican leaders and with supporters of his possible presidential bid.

He said that he did not think a lake-front home ever would be built there.

Marine Outposts Hit By Communist Shells

SAIGON (AP)—Heavy Communist rocket and artillery fire pounded U.S. Marine outposts and sweeping forces today just below the demilitarized zone where ground fighting or gun duels have raged for four days.

The U.S. command said 15 Marines were killed and 11 wounded in eight enemy barrages in the past 24 hours. This brought the unofficial four-day casualty toll to 106 killed, 321 wounded and 6 missing.

The Marines have reported 148 North Vietnamese killed but believe the actual enemy casualties are far higher.

Each North Vietnamese barrage was answered by the Marine guns, but the Viet forces were evidently well dug in and ready to take the bait. One correspondent reported that the force of the Marines since Sunday, had pulled back at least temporarily.

Sheinwold on Bridge

TAKE LOTS OF TIME FOR CRITICAL PLAY. By ALFRED SHEINWOLD. Even if you are a careful player you can make four or five decisions in a few seconds. Perhaps once a year, especially on the fifth day of a world championship, you may find that even three or four minutes are not long enough to solve your problem.

When Henri Byars opened the door of diamonds, Norman Kay rightly assumed that the lead would not be from the ace. He played the jack from dummy and was able to ruff out East's ace. So far, so good.

Since the best chance was to find the king of hearts in the West hand, Kay led a low heart and tried a finesse with dummy's queen. Jean-Michel Boulenger, of the French team, won with the king of hearts and took several minutes to think about his return. It was a crucial position since both teams were trying to qualify for the final in the world championships.

There was no chance to beat the contract if South had five trumps. The only hope was that South had four trumps and five clubs and that South was missing either the jack of hearts or the jack of clubs. Any return would work if the clubs were not solid but only the spade return would work if the trumps were shaky.

Boulenger took his time, but failed to return it. He returned a trump, and now Kay managed to bring the slam home. It didn't matter that the trump, return put West's jack in the middle; South would have to take the trump finesse in any case. What did matter was that the low spade was still in the dummy.

South drew two more rounds of trumps and cleared dummy's top clubs out of the way. Then he could get to his hand with a spade to run the rest of the clubs.

If East returned a spade, South would have won and led the ten of hearts. West would play low, and South would be unable to get to his hand after clearing dummy's clubs out of the way.

Daily Question
As dealer, you hold: Spades.

Answers:
1. 4-3-4; Hearts, 10-9-7-8; Diamonds, None; Clubs, K-J-8-5-4.
2. What do you say?
Answer: Bid one club. This is a borderline bid, but you have no problem with a rebid. If partner responds in a major suit you can raise; and if he bids one diamond you can bid one spade (or even one heart if you are fanatical about showing all four-card suits).

Vernon Spinning Mule of 1890's Calls It a Day

BY MALCOLM BARLOW

A large spinning mule in Talcoctville after more than half a century.

The skilled craftsmen needed to run it are dying off and new, simpler machines do the spinning better, according to G. Robert Cavedon, secretary of the mule and son of the owner and president, Alfred W. Cavedon.

The mule removal represents just another step ahead by the more than 100-year-old mill. It has prospered along the Tuckers River since long before the Civil War.

Just how old the plant is the Cavedons cannot say.

But Cavedon's 51 m o p e r s 111, former Talcoctville postmaster, and his wife, Alice, filled in many details.

John W. Burton, an English spinning machine parts maker and started a small factory on the Tuckers River about 1805. The mill is now buried in the tiny graveyard at Rt. 83 and Dexter St.

A man named Kellogg then bought it. He later sold it to the "Throat busters" in the 1850's.

Wool for caps

The Talcoct family won a name for themselves as they built the plant up. They made overcoat material and the wool that went into much of America's wool caps, no longer in style.

Talcoct cloth was famous the country over," Simonsell said. Their cloth "compared with the English" he added.

"The plant was large enough to support a 'shopplace' in New York's garment district.

In 1943 the Talcoct sold to the Cavedons.

The plant now specializes in spinning fine yarn from rare fibers and turns out about two million pounds of the yarn each year.

Fibers include Australian lamb's wool, angora rabbit hair, cashmere, vicuna, camel hair, mohair and alpaca. Included are synthetics such as dacron, nylon and acetate.

The finished yarns go to sweater-makers such as Garland Ltd. of Hartford, the younger Cavedon said.

The Davis & Furber mule being dismantled by a junk dealer, Charles Hawkins of William, was among seven used since about the beginning of the 20th century.

Other spinning firms have long ago given up running them. But they make an especially soft and fluffy yarn, and Aldon tried to keep them in operation, the younger Cavedon said.

Aldon hired people far beyond normal retirement ages in order to have proper handling of the complicated, 360-spindle machines, he explained.

Hardly any of the now 180 employees at Aldon know how to handle them.

Operation Sounds Simple

Its operation sounds simple. Mule spindles are placed on a movable carriage extending the length of the machine. Spinning takes place as the carriage moves outward drawing off a length from the spools, and the spun yarn winds onto the bobbins as the carriage moves inward.

But it becomes complicated

It is looking for more room. It has the money and the know-how to keep the plant looking good in the small village of Talcoctville in the southwestern corner of Vernon.

More up-to-date ring spinners are now Aldon's standbys.

"With the mules Aldon has 'done quite well,'" Cavedon noted.

Zoning Application Filed To Cut Building Lot Size

An application for making town clerk's office on Park building lot size smaller in the northern part of the old city section of Vernon along Vernon Ave. will be presented to the Zoning Commission for public hearing tomorrow night.

James D'Agata, president of the Rockville Sheet Metal firm on 18 Vernon Ave., is making the application.

The large section of land is on the east side of the avenue and is now zoned R-15. This residential and means the lots can be only 15,000 square feet with 100 feet of road frontage.

The change would make the land R-10. This means lots of only 10,000 square feet with 80 feet frontage.

The hearing is at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building on West Main St.

Other matters to be heard concern the application of Roche M. Passero and Joseph Tarizzo for zone changes on an 11-acre section just south of Rt. 30 near the Vernon Methodist Church.

Also applying for commercial zone changes on three plots of land is Frederick C. Annulli. The plots are on the north side of Reagan Rd. and the east side of the carriage moves inward.

In baseball 14 boys received certificates.

Directors to Consider Pay Contract, Spending

The Board of Directors tonight will consider approval of a working contract with Local 801, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, as negotiated by Town Manager Robert Wetas.

Tonight's regular meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. Wetas will not be on hand. He is in Medford, Mass., observing memorial week in the Monday death of his mother. Wetas will be back at his desk on Monday. Town Counsel John Ellis is acting manager in his absence.

As negotiated by Wetas, the union contract calls for a 20-cent-an-hour, one-hour raise, retroactive to July 1.

The directors, when they adopted the 1967-68 Fiscal Fund budget, made provision for a 15-cent raise.

In other business of a lengthy agenda tonight, the board will discuss which items to include in a proposed Capital Improvement Bond Issue, and will consider a $20,000 allocation for preparation of plans for an Oakland-Parker St. connector, will consider a $20,000 allocation for improvements to the Olcott St. Disposal Area, and will consider a $20,000 allocation for topographical mappings for the proposed North-east Sewer Interceptor Project.

Public hearings will be held and possible action taken on four additional appropriations to the Board of Education, totaling $66,866. All are equal state, to be funded by equal state and federal grants.

On other business tonight, the board will consider the appointment of Public Works Director William O'Neill to fill a vacancy on the Administration Council for Economic Opportunity, acceptance of two proposed amendments to the Pension Ordinance, authorizing the installation of sanitary sewers on

Kremlin Empty Handed Soviet Union Seen Loser As U.N. Fails in Mideast

By MAX BARRELLSON An AP News Analysis UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union emerges as the obvious loser in the failure of the U.N. General Assembly to find a formula for dealing with the explosive situation left in the wake of the Arab-Israeli war.

There were other losers, including the Arabs and the United Nations itself. But as the initiator of the move for the emergency session, the Kremlin came out empty handed.

The session was intended as a propaganda project to divert attention from the Soviet setback in the Middle East, as some have said. It proved to be a boomerang.

To measure the extent of the Soviet setback, it is necessary to recall that the emergency assembly was convened because the Russians said the Security Council was unable to cope with the situation.

The implication was that the Soviet Union expected to get the council to endorse its position. It refused to do so. Condemning Israel and calling for unconditional withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory.

The United States opposed the move, contending that the council had not exhausted all possibilities for action. The Russians looked even worse because they brought Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and the heads of a number of allied governments to New York to lend prestige to the session.

The assembly not only refused to condemn Israel, it refused to endorse any proposal calling for the withdrawal of Israeli forces. If the Arabs felt the Russians had let them down by failing to send them military aid during the war with Israel, they must have felt similar frustration when Moscow proved unable to muster any action in the assembly.

Long before the Soviet Union began soft-pedaling its demands for condemnation of Israel, the Arabs were lining up behind the nonaligned resolution which made no mention of condemnation. In the end, both the Russians and the Arabs would have been happy to settle for a simple call for withdrawal of Israeli forces, but they were unable to get even that.

The United Nations suffered because the voting demonstrated that the emergence of the new Asian and African nations had created a split that could block effective action on the Middle East—a problem which had been handled successfully by the assembly in the past. Thus the Middle East was left in a state of stalemate.

Danger Lessens At Soaked Dam

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn. (AP) — A danger still exists at the water-damaged Laurel Hill Dam, but officials of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission say it is less today.

Two valves were opened Tuesday, increasing to nearly 150 million gallons a day the water output through a sluice tunnel, and thus reducing water pressure which threatens to break the earthen dam.

The 24-inch valves, along with another valve which has been partially open since Friday, will lower the water to a safe level within two weeks, let him a commission engineer, predicted.

Bob Galloway, manager of the lake which is operated by the Game and Fish Commission, noticed increased seepage at the base of the 840-foot-long dam a week ago. Engineers began working Friday to lower pressure on the structure to prevent its collapse.

The lake has been closed to all activities. About 270 residents of three communities below the dam have been alerted to evacuate in event of a break.

The lake held about three billion gallons of water.

"The status of the dam is still as it was last Wednesday," Ham said after the valves were opened. "But we feel a little safer as the water level lowers a bit at a time."

Tax Relief Due

HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. John Dempsey has signed a bill to provide tax relief for elderly homeowners.

The law allows an assessment of $1,000 and provides a tax freeze for those participating if their income remains below the maximum limit—$3,000 for an individual or $5,000 for a couple.

The bill, signed Monday, will be effective during the next tax period of each community.

Meredith Ends March, 'Fear Not Eliminated'

CANTON, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith characteristically said "No crowds greeted Meredith as he walked into Canton on the end of fear and injustice."

The last steps of the 185-mile walk brought the 34-year-old house square here on Independence Day.

Meredith said the completion of his 11-day march "does not signal a victory. It is a greater manifestation of the black world's historical, traditional and more fundamental defeat."

He said he had failed in one of his primary purposes because "the fear that permeates the life of the Negro in the United States has not been eliminated."

But he said his exposed "it Negroes no longer fear." He told about 40 Negroes who gathered as he spoke, "then the whites have only two choices: to kill them or let them live."

Meredith didn't comment directly on the small turnout. He said only that "these people do what they want to do. The Negro has been putting on a show for the white people for years. There ain't no more show."

He said his march proved Mississippi and its cities can afford protection for any and all citizens, including Negroes.

He said he hoped such protection would become a matter of policy.

Meredith said he would "be back last year. Other civil rights leaders took up the walk and, after he recovered, he rejoined them at Canton for a march to Jackson."

He had planned originally to walk to Jackson, 26 miles south, again this year but has been bothered by a sore ankle and blistered feet.

An aide said he would return to his home in New York by car.

Tolland UConn Expert Preparing Tree Program for Green

A plan of suggested tree plantings for the Tolland Green property is being prepared by Rudy Fabretti, nursery and landscaping specialist for the University of Connecticut.

Included in the plan will be a recommendation to plant new trees while the present elms are still standing. The trees should be allowed several years to mature, assuring the continued tree-shaded appearance of the Green, Fabretti suggested.

The St. Matthew Church census will be conducted this week on Merrow Rd., Baxter St., Meadowwood Rd., Old Furnas Rd. and Anderson Rd. Women of the parish have been urged to begin making objects for sale at the annual bazaar prior to the completion of final plans in the fall.

The Ladies Guild of the church will conduct a cake and bake sale after all Masses Sunday.

Consent over the cutting down of several large elms on the Green last year by the State Highway Department prompted formation of a committee to preserve the Green, and the continuing interest of the historical society.

The elms which were cut down were diseased, but removal of the trees without any notification to abutting landowners the Green pointed out the vulnerability of the scene.

The Green is partially owned by the town, and partially by the state. The state granted easement privileges several years ago when the road through the Green became a state route.

Residents of the Green traditionally have assumed responsibility for upkeep of the Green and feeding of the elms, although they don't own the property.

Street Lighting Fabretti's plan will include a recommendation for installation of old-type street lighting, more in keeping with the atmosphere of the historic Green.

The recommended lighting will be similar to that used at the University of Connecticut.

The suggestion that modern, mercury-vapor street lighting be installed on the Green, raised a cry of protest from residents of the area and interested townpeople last month.

A meeting called by First Selectman Carmelo Zangilli, resulted in a 14-0 vote against the mercury lights.

Curbing Proposed The possibility of installing berms or curbing around the grassed area of the Green also is being studied.

Mrs. Garry, chairman of the historical society, has met with state officials, who reportedly are agreeable to the suggestions.

The curbing would be installed to prevent further erosion of the Green by cars parking on it. Zangilli Appeals Granted Two requests for variances have been approved by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

William Stetger was given permission to build a garage two feet from the sidewalk and

South Windsor GOP Terms Democrats Do Nothing

South Windsor Republican Town Chairman Royal E. Cressel has labeled the incumbent Democratic administration as the 'do-nothing' whose favorite word was 'wait' for two years.

"Come September and October, they'll be telling you what a great job they did holding down the tax rate," Cressel stated, "only because they did not improve anything in the way of services or facilities in town for you, the taxpayer. Anything of significance accomplished during the past two years was initiated by the previous Republican administration."

He added, "the people of South Windsor should receive more services for their tax dollars and a preventative maintenance program to preserve and maintain what we have, by proper care at the right time, our roads would be in much better shape than they are today. For two years, Bond Hill Rd. has been a mess—now the present administration blames it on a labor strike of short duration. This kind of double talk we can do without!"

He continued, "in the various developments we constantly have cave-ins in the streets. All that is done is to fill the hole with gravel—bar it and keep your fingers crossed. When the next heavy rain comes, they're doing the same thing again. Wouldn't it make sense to find out why the continual cave-ins in the same places at the end of the road? Why not fix it right the first time rather than pour the taxpayer's money 'down the drain'?"

"The Republican Party in South Windsor is the party for action," he said. "We are concerned and feel the taxpayer deserves more for his dollar. We feel that we should properly maintain, develop and use what we have. Our concern is for the taxpayers and their families, not for control of a political party. The incumbents, even though they had an edge in registration of better than eight hundred, won by only four votes in 1964. Had three of the four voted Republican, the 'in-also' could have been avoided."

Her fiancée is a son of Mrs. Barbara Bablin of Bayberry Rd. and Paul Arnold of Glastonbury.

Cole Porter Story Told In New Book

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cole Porter was a curious figure—Midwesterner whose songs bespoke the sophistication of his city, an immediate success who treated because critics were always saying his scores were "not up to his standard."

The Porter story is told with painstaking detail in a new biography, "The Life That Late He Led" by George Dela, a magazine writer and friend of the composer in his later years.

Like all official biographies, this one suffers from a loss of objectivity. But this is offset by the wealth of detail which would not be available to unofficial biographers.

I had only one encounter with Porter, who was not fond of interviews. While MGM was filming "Miss Marmelade," he was committed to talk a bit about his life and work. He seemed sardonic and rueful as he went through the series of operations on his legs, and the intimacy with pain seemed to have stolen his gaiety.

"Can-Can" had recently opened on Broadway, and Porter was still smarting over the reviews.

"The critics said the score was not up to my usual standard," he said. "They have been saying that since my second show. 'Time has proved how wrong critics can be. Since 'Can-Can' produced such great songs as 'C-C', 'Magnifique,' 'All-You-Can-Get,' 'I Love Paris' and 'It's All Right with Me.'"

Even when Porter wrote his greatest score—"Miss Marmelade," he did not win universal acclaim.

Most of the reviews were, but Harold Clurman in the Saturday Review of Literature declared these were not Porter's best songs "by a long shot."

Although he was wealthy through his own family and his wife's fortune, Porter learned the capacity for hard work. His output was prolific, and a listing of his shows and songs occupies a 40-page appendix in "The Life That Late He Led." They range from "The Song of the Birds," written in 1901 when he was 10, to a television special called "Aladdin" in 1964, five years before his death.

For "Gay Divorce" he wrote the music to a love song for Fred Astaire but couldn't lick the lyrics. The inspiration came on a weekend in the Catskills when his hostess, Mrs. Vincent Astor, complained the "drip, drip, drip" of the raindrops was driving her crazy.

Just as in songwriter movies, Porter seized the idea for the opening lines of "Night and Day." When the song was finished, Astaire feared he couldn't sing it, and others in the show felt it should be discarded. Even after Porter won out and the show opened, musicians scorned "Night and Day" for its length and called it a "tapeworm" song.

It became Porter's greatest number and title for his highly fictionalized film in biography starring Cary Grant in 1964. "Night and Day" was also a hit number for Frank Sinatra, who was once rebuked by Porter for his habit of altering song lyrics.

In the late 1950s the composer sent a telegram to Sinatra asking why he sang the Porter songs if he didn't like the way they were written.

You Should Know...

Anthony Pietrantonio

To Anthony Pietrantonio, 35, a Democrat and a town director for only four months, being a member of the minority party is a definite advantage to a town official hearing the ropes. He says that the role gives him an opportunity to study all of the problems facing the town, to sit in on discussions, and to participate, even though all of the decisions are made by the Republicans, the majority party.

Best of all, he says, he can prepare for the day when his party will be the majority—by studying the mistakes of the Republicans and by making certain they will not be repeated later by the Democrats.

Pietrantonio was elected a director on March 7, succeeding Democrat Raymond Ellis, who had resigned on Feb. 1. He had never been actively involved in politics and had never held elective or appointive office.

He says, "I came in green, but I'm picking up fast."

He states that he had read newspaper stories of party disputes and intrigues and that he has been forewarned and partially prepared.

"However," he says now, "reading about it and actually being a part of it are two entirely different things."

Pietrantonio, a youth in Iron Mountain, Mich., saw much of the workings of politicians. His father is active in Michigan politics and is in his 20th year as chairman of the Dickinson County Democratic Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pietrantonio, Anthony's parents, still live in Iron Mountain.

Pietrantonio believes that the duty of a town director, be he of the majority or the minority, is to represent all of the people of Manchester, and not merely those who voted for him.

He insists, "Both parties should not for the best interests of all and should not get involved in political cynicism that may hurt and hinder, rather than aid, the whole town."

As to the greatest problem facing the town, he thinks it is the schools.

"We must resolve the school problem in the core districts," he says, "the school problem involving Leeson, Nathan Hale, Bradley and, possibly, Westington Schools."

"And," he concludes, "we must determine the disposition of a bond issue, to repair and to improve all of our other town, a town of about 10,000 people."

population, 500 miles north of Chicago. They were married in 1952.

He was educated in Iron Mountain schools and then served in the U.S. Coast Guard from 1951 to 1964.

In 1964 he enrolled in Michigan Technological University at Houghton, Mich., graduating in June 1966 with a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering.

He then accepted a position with Fruit and Whitney as a test engineer in its Experimental Department, and moved his family to Manchester.

They reside at 226 Parker St. There are two Pietrantonio sons, Larry, 13, and Gary, 12. Pietrantonio is now an assistant project engineer at the Aircraft.

The four Pietrantonios are communicants of St. Bartholomew's Church.

Pietrantonio says that he has no political ambitions. He is interested in the town, he explains, because he was civic-minded enough to listen to arguments that every citizen should become involved in some way in public activities.

As for the greatest problem facing the town, he thinks it is the schools.

"We must resolve the school problem in the core districts," he says, "the school problem involving Leeson, Nathan Hale, Bradley and, possibly, Westington Schools."

"And," he concludes, "we must determine the disposition of a bond issue, to repair and to improve all of our other town, a town of about 10,000 people."

He calls it "a healthy situation" for them to take an active interest in town affairs, "whatever side they are on and whoever they are."

Pietrantonio and his wife, the former Dolores DeFlora, are both natives of Iron Mountain, a town of about 10,000 people.

Israeli Train Men

Singapore Builds Defense For Unannounced 'Enemy'

SINGAPORE (AP) — The island Republic of Singapore is busily building an Israeli-style defense force—and using Israeli officers to train it.

Although this has long been known by some close observers of the Singapore scene and suspected by others, the government did not acknowledge it until this month.

One day Singapore plans to have the largest readily available supply of trained military men, and women, in Southeast Asia, aside from South Vietnam.

Who is "the enemy" that this force may be expected to fight some day? Singapore leaders do not define it, but 80 per cent of the population is of Chinese extraction, and Singapore is surrounded by Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines, all dominated by Malay peoples who are mostly Moslems.

"We are like Israel," says Culture Minister Othman Wok. "We are surrounded by hostile nations."

Singapore more or less likes to think of itself as "the Israel of Southeast Asia."

"We have similar populations with similar minority situations and similar problems," Othman says.

The "minority group in Singapore is the Malay Moslems, about 120,000 of them. In adjoining Malaysia, Prime Minister Tunks Abdul Rahman says, "Whenever there are Malays, these are our subjects."

Malayians point out to their Malay cousins living in Singapore that Malaysia across the causeway joining the two countries enjoy preferential treatment in many ways, some off-cial and some not.

Malay, for instance, is the national language in Malaysia while Singapore has four: Malay, Chinese, English and Indian.

Anti-Singapore sentiments are frequent in the Malaysian Parliament. Recently it was suggested on the floor that the causeway be severed and Malaysia develop a port in the city of Johore Bahru, across the Johore Strait from Singapore. At one time both Singapore and Malaysia were part of the Federation of Malaysia.

Singapore and Israel early last year signed a secret agreement to employ Israelis as military trainers.

The first of the Israeli veterans were installed at the Singapore Armed Forces Training Institute.

Last August Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew started talking of a "rugged society," and the following month Parliament passed a national registration bill calling for virtually every able-bodied young person on the island for compulsory military training.

Plans call for at least 15,000 trainees a year and a force of 200,000 trained in the Israeli style by 1983.

Arming the first group of trainees was said to cost $1.5 million, used by American troops in Vietnam and created by the opposing Communist forces.

Recently the first group, government workers ranging from clerks and messenger boys to department heads, finished their training.

Lake Geneva Quiet Again After Riots

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (AP)—This resort city in southern Wisconsin looked like its pleasant self this morning, instead of the armed camp it had been since being invaded Saturday by restless, rock-throwing youngsters. Sheriff Alex Johnson said the weekend was "the worst Lake Geneva has ever experienced. It was the first time we had to call out the National Guard."

Genève has ever experienced. It was the first time we had to call out the National Guard. Sheriff's deputies and 800 Guardsmen—added by chills—left Tuesday evening. Olson said a meeting involving Gov. Warren P. Knowles, himself, shortly after midnight which closed the city to all but residents.

Today law-enforcement officials began assessing the damage and the cause of the outbreaks which sent about 900 youngsters of high school and college age to jail during the weekend. Most were bailed out by parents but some 50 were still in the county jail at Watrous. Officials estimated 3,000 to 5,000 young people began arriving for the holiday Saturday evening. Adjutant General Ralph Olson said National Guardsmen began leaving Tuesday evening. Olson said a meeting involving Gov. Warren P. Knowles, himself, shortly after midnight which closed the city to all but residents.

Disturbances and destruction continued Monday and other guard units were brought in plus beefed-up squads of deputies from nearby counties. After a curfew was imposed Monday, nearby Fontana, Delaware and Williams Bay also reported window breaking, rock throwing and other vandalism. Taverns and cafes in the area closed voluntarily. Lake Geneva Mayor Emil Johnsjack said a group of Marines wounded in Vietnam raised an American flag in his city Tuesday morning after hearing of a flag burning incident during the weekend.

The Marines, recovering at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital near Chicago, wore civilian clothing; the mayor said an investigation into the flag burning was continuing.

GM Plans to Fight Guaranteed Wage

DETROIT (AP)—Five days before contract talks open, General Motors already given to auto-labor negotiations have as "longest and most ambitious list that it will fight guaranteed annual income, the 1st demand of United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther.

The UAW has no immediate comment. Contract talks on new three-year contracts with GM, Ford and Chrysler open Monday. The released Tuesday a 19-page "scheme to pay people for not working."

"We can't guarantee any-what his base pay will be for the body's income until somebody next 12 months—and that the can guarantee us a market," worker must draw this pay even one said. "If a guy can draw his if laid off."

The development gave strength to fears that this year's for innovation in the UAW's list more than those who are not working," the booklet said. The UAW had no immediate comment.

Refreshed circus wagons from the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, Wis., were the feature attraction in the parade, which consisted of 9,000 persons.

Hope to Save UN 'Face' Soviets Wooing Latin Americans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The Soviet Union began wooing Latin American members of the United Nations today in an effort to salvage some of the U.N. credit lost in the Assembly session on the Middle East when it failed to pass a resolution on the future of the strip.

Informed sources said Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov was urging the Latin American members of the U.N. to support a resolution on the future of the strip. The U.N. members split almost evenly over the resolution, which demanded that Israel pull its troops out of Egypt, Jordan and Syria, and the Latin American proposal coupling a withdrawal demand with a demand that the Arabs and the state of Israel accept the 1948 armistice line.

The Russians and the Arabs backed the nonaligned resolution, while the United States and Israel supported the Latin American draft.

Defeat of the nonaligned resolution was another setback for the Soviet Union, which had asked for the emergency assembly session and sent Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to press the Arab case.

There was considerable speculation that a resolution which would be adopted by the assembly would be no more than a general expression of hope for a peaceful resolution of the crisis and that the matter would revert to the Security Council.

Assistant White House press secretary Tom Sawyer said the U.S. government believes the Security Council is "the best place to deal with the Middle East issue."

"We are looking forward to that," he said.

Dayan sent Arab envoys to the assembly to tell a "newer" story in Gaza that "the Gaza Strip is Israel" and steps would be taken soon to make it a part of his country. Dayan said his thoughts on the strip also applied to the Jordanian territory on the west bank of the Jordan River occupied by Israel in the war.

Somali Ambassador Abdullahi Abdi Farah told the assembly Dayan's remarks created a "very serious situation" which "set the spark for a renewal of hostilities."

Shortly after the Israeli delegation left the assembly.

Youth Riots Will Grow, Expert Says

CHICAGO (AP) — The student and teen-ager riots that have become annual events at some of America's best summer and winter resorts will continue and perhaps grow larger and spread to more places, a sociologist predicted today.

Bernard Beck, Ph.D., assistant professor of sociology at Northwestern University, said in an interview that these youths gather at places where they are unknown with the avowed purpose of breaking out of their ordinary routine.

"A lot of the public concern is that college students were once looked upon as special kinds of people who were expected to act in a special way," Beck said.

"All that is changing," he added. "Teen-agers are coming to regard themselves as ordinary people and they want the same autonomy and freedom that is allowed others."

Although he said there is considerable difference in scale, he compared the student uprisings with the antics of some convention delegates who block traffic and play practical jokes on spectators, usually without interference from the police.

"What these kids are doing is like an outdoor sport for them," Beck said. "But they know the eyes are more watchful and intense sooner, resentment is triggered once that intervention occurs."

Beck said permanent residents in such resort areas as Lake Geneva, Wis., and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and the youths who flock there for vacations have completely different viewpoints on what constitutes "having fun."

He said some "heightening" of the youthful escapades might be avoided if there were a closer meeting of minds or if special resort areas were established to cater to the special desires of young people.

National Guardsmen and augmented police patrols were sent into Lake Geneva earlier this week after three days of turbulence by thousands of young holiday celebrators. About 400 youths were arrested.

The demonstrations marked the fifth straight year of holiday uprisings there.

Thousands of college students from all parts of the country have flocked to Florida resorts during Easter vacations in the past decade and hundreds are arrested each year.

In 1961, 50,000 youths rioted at Fort Lauderdale, and the National Guard was called out to quell the trouble.

She Didn't Wait for Protocol

Sandra Dobler, 5, wanted to see the queen and when she had the chance she didn't wait for protocol, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip were being presented with an Indian sari on their arrival at Kingston, Ont., yesterday. Sandra scampered through police lines, held the queen's hand for a moment and they raced back to her mother.

Five Arrested In Disturbance At Music Show

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — Five persons, three of them policemen, were arrested in a riotous disturbance at a rock 'n' roll show at Seaside Park.

Police said several youths left the audience to dance on the stage during one of the performances. Fighting broke out on the stage as police ordered them off.

Two girls and two young men were arrested.

Detective Andrew Alexy went to Bridgeport Hospital to treat a man who had injuries to the head and neck.

Richard A. Kapitaneck, 30, and Michael L. Paglia, 27, received face and head injuries. They were charged with assault on a police officer, breach of peace in the city.

Newspaper Economic Study Set Next Week in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate antitrust subcommittee will open hearings next week that seem likely to become the first in-depth congressional study of newspaper business economics.

The hearings will center on a bill to permit an antitrust exemption for mergers or joint business and communication relations of newspapers, both dailies and weeklies, in order to save "failing newspapers."

Subcommittee aides report being flooded with requests to testify and with letters from strong stands for and against the bill. Some objections have been directed to wording of the measure rather than its basic purpose.

Labor unions were listed as leading the opposition. Newspaper publishers were described as split, with the strongest support from multiple-paper operators and with owners of suburban papers among the bill's fiercest opponents.

The hearings begin Wednesday. Nine additional days of hearings have been scheduled for July and six or seven more are planned in August. Further testimony will be taken in November or December.

For the opening hearing the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., is likely to call William Small Jr., publisher of the Tucson Citizen; Eugene C. Dever, editor and publisher of the Rocky Mountain Journal; and Arthur B. Hanson, general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Altogether, 26 witnesses are listed for the hearings scheduled in July. They include several publishers as well as representatives of the International Typographical Union and the American Newspaper Guild and professors of economics and journalism.

Staff aides said comments already received indicate the bill will cover all aspects of newspaper publishing economics.

The bill was introduced by Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., on March 16 with 14 other senators. It was amended by T. Roosevelt in May. It is called the "Failing Newspaper Act."

It stems from an antitrust suit brought by the Justice Department in 1960 against the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Reds' Jungle Routes Blanketed by Bombs

$41 Billion
Owned to US
From WW I

WASHINGTON (AP) — Other nations now owe the United States more than $41 billion—about half in principal and interest from World War I debt.

Officials estimated today that foreign governments and organizations owe Uncle Sam about $20.8 billion as of last March 31 exclusive of interest and World War I debt.

Principal and interest from World War I added another $21 billion to the bill.

If past experience is any guide, the figures will go even higher.

Sixteen nations still owe money from World War I. At last listing 96 nations and 5 international organizations owed the other debt.

As of June 30, 1966, Israel's outstanding debt was $47 million compared with $60 million for the United Arab Republic which broke diplomatic relations with the United States during the recent Middle East war.

Israel owed $15 million as of the same date, Jordan $16 million, Syria $11 million, Lebanon $6 million and Saudi Arabia $2 million.

More than 90 per cent of the World War I debt now due is being repaid on time but the story is much different for World War I. Only Finland makes timely payments and is the only country not in arrears.

It's all legal, however. The United States in 1923 agreed that no further payments need be made on World War I debt until final settlement of German reparations. Payments actually stopped, except for Finland, until the right of the South Vietnamese people to work out their own future, under a government of their own choice has been secured.

As Rusk prepared to speak to delegates attending the Golden Anniversary Convention of Lions International, a handful of demonstrators in the Chicago Stadium unfolded anti-Vietnam war banners and began screaming. "Mr. Rusk, you are a murderer."

Others in the audience ripped the banners away from the demonstrators and threw them to the ground. Others boldly removed two of the demonstrators from the stadium, dragged them out while they struggled.

The convention delegates booed when the demonstrators broke out their banners and cheered when they were ejected.

Even 1,000 obsolete police badges were dumped into the secret ocean site 2,500 to 3,000 feet deep.

B52s Drop 500 Tons in Single Day

SAIGON (AP) — High-flying American B52 bombers blanketed the Communist infiltration route through the jungled A Shau valley with about 500 tons of bombs in the past 24 hours, the U.S. Command said today.

The giant Stratofortresses made a record number of eight raids during the period, six of them Wednesday night and one this morning against A Shau, due west of the big U.S. base at Da Nang.

The 20-mile-long valley enters South Vietnam from Laos about 30 miles below the demilitarized zone and has long been a vital infiltration route. It funnels supplies from the major Communist units operating in the northernmost area of South Vietnam. The sector where U.S. forces have recently been under heavy attack.

The heavy rain that blanketed the valley was ordered after tactical bombers hitting the area Wednesday night and caused several landslides in areas where heavy rains had loosened the soil. The landslides caused Red supply convoys to bunch up at narrow points on the valley.

A U.S. spokesman said immediate assessment of the bomb damage was not available. The heaviest 24 hours previously for the B52s was on Feb. 16, when 500 tons were dropped.

While the B52s rained west of Da Nang, the U.S. Marines (See Page Twelve)

Fighting Reported In Eastern Congo

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) — The government radio reported hard fighting between Congolese forces and foreign mercenaries at Bukavu today and described the situation in the eastern Congo as grave.

The mercenaries were reported Wednesday to have been airlifted to Bukavu and Kiangani (Stanleyville), two major eastern cities. Quoting Congolese sources, the Belgian radio in Kinshasa said the foreign mercenaries had taken several important eastern points and that Congolese troops had counter-attacked in Kiangani.

President Joseph D. Mobutu decreed a state of emergency throughout the country Wednesday and complained to the United Nations Security Council of aggression by invaders, sent from "Western Countries."

It was widely believed that the mercenaries were acting on behalf of ex-Premier Moise Tshombe, kidnapped and taken to Tshombe. The report said they were taken by surprise.

Mobutu's message to the Security Council said the Belgian invaders were of the Belgian Congo.

Mobutu said foreign fighters had attacked the Congolese army in Bukavu and fighting was in progress.

The U. S. consul in Bukavu, Triston F. Crittler, reported to Washington that the town was under the control of mercenaries and that the Congolese army had parachuted into Bukavu.

Mobutu reported two plane-loads of foreign commandos had seized the airport at Kiangani, formerly Stanleyville and the biggest city in the northeast Congo, while the government radio claimed foreign mercenaries had parachuted into Bukavu.

Mobutu did not mention Tshombe, but the government radio said Tuesday that 200

Rusk Renews U.S. To Full Viet Aid

CHICAGO (AP) — In a speech that was delayed by demonstrators against the war in Vietnam, Secretary of State Dean Rusk pledged today that the United States would stay in that country "until the right of the South Vietnamese people to work out their own future, under a government of their own choice has been secured."

Rusk entered the stadium through a rear door and did not see a group of about 40 pickets at the main entrance.

After Edward M. Lindsay, Secretary of State Dean Rusk pledged today that the United States would stay in that country "until the right of the South Vietnamese people to work out their own future, under a government of their own choice has been secured."

Rusk surveyed a wide range of foreign-policy issues from Vietnam to the Middle East and to relations with the Communist world.

On the Middle East situation, he said the United States could not impose a blueprint for peace, declaring that the primary responsibility rests upon those who live there and upon their governments.

Viet Casualties Drop, but Many Aren't Included

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war dropped markedly last week, but the report Thursday by the U.S. Command did not include the number of intense fighting along the demilitarized zone. Casualties in that action will not show up until next week's official summary.

The number of enemy reported killed also decreased last week, while the total of South Vietnamese government troops in action in the northern part of the country was reported to be 1,829.

A week earlier 274 Americans were reported killed in action, 1,288 wounded and 14 missing.

There were 1,821 enemy reported killed in action.

Apollo 1 Wreckage Headed for Storage

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The wreckage of Apollo 1, the first manned lunar mission, is being packed in cardboard boxes and plastic bags today for transport by slow barge to Virginia.

The remains are being placed in a silver container the size of a two house trailers which will be transported to a site in the center of the container project the spacecraft components for 10 years should either the section and removable lead clad decide at a later date to reinvestigate the Apollo 1 fire.

The more than 1,000 packages as the cause of the fire is inspected by plastic covering.

At each end of the container is a small three-foot-square hatch where inspectors can enter and leave if NASA should ever decide any portion of the fire investigation needs to be re-opened.

"Anyone who wants to get in there had better have a pretty good reason," NASA officials remain under the custody of Dr. Floyd L. Thompson, director of Langley and head of the review or would need to wear a face mask which investigated the Apollo 1 fire that killed Astronauts Forde, La. Cola, Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H.
