Scouts Tell of Sea Crossing, London Visit

Members of Manchester Girl Scout Troop 1 who are on a European tour have written two letters telling about their experiences aboard the S.S. Statendam and their arrival in England.

On Friday, June 30, the 22 Manchester Girl Scouts and their three advisors from Troop 1 headed in Southampton, England, after a seven-day voyage across the Atlantic on the Statendam.

First glimpses of the English countryside were taken during the train ride which brought them into the city of London where they stayed for four days, they said. Accommodations at the two YWCA's were not quite as luxurious as on the boat, they explained, but they quickly adapted to the change.

Aboard the Statendam, there were approximately 800 passengers, 800 of which are in the tourist class, they reported. Most of the rooms accommodated three people with a bunk and a single bed along with plenty of closet space, they said.

While aboard the ship, they had an impromptu ceremony in which they made a few of the crew members, who had been helpful to them, honorary Girl Scouts. They presented these crew members with the green Girl Scout pin.

Meals were very formal and often lasted more than two hours. Since parts of the menus are in French and Dutch, the girls said that they were always surprised to see what they had to eat.

Their days aboard the ship gave them the opportunity to engage in a variety of activities, they said. In the morning, there were Dutch lessons and exercises.

Most of the girls went back to the afternoon, along with complementary dance lessons. At night, there was bingo, dancing, movies, and variety shows.

"Touring London was quite an experience," said one of the girls, "and we were very exhausted from trying to see in three days all the sights that London has to offer."

In touring Westminster Abbey, they were most impressed by the poets' corner where such men as Alfred Tennyson and Geoffrey Chaucer are buried. Many of the girls went back to the afternoon, along with complementary dance lessons.

Museums Vie with Colleges For Trained Art Teachers

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a developing dilemma in the world of the visual arts.

The problem is that there is a great shortage of trained, capable teaching art history or working in a museum as a curator or director.

The university art departments need more teachers. The museums need more people educated in art, whom they can train as administrators.

It is ironic that the campus and universities have been forced into increasing competition for young talent, for there has been, and still is, a coolness and mistrust between the two camps.

In this competition the academicians have several advantages. And looking to the future, the museums will be increasing.

One aspect of the problem is that graduate students in art history tend to be in the ivory-colored halls of learning. At least 90 per cent of graduating Ph.D.s stay in the teaching profession.

Why do universities have the upper hand? Money is the biggest factor. Job security and time for writing and research are others.

The situation is described this way by Lloyd Goodrich, veteran director of the Whitney Museum of American Art here:

"The trouble is that the museums are all local institutions, with no paying body of students, no alumni. Their support has to come from a relatively small part of the art-conscious public within the community, the city, within the community, the city.

"What it comes down to is that museums cannot afford to pay the salaries that universities pay to their state, federal, and foundation bodies."

Goodrich succinctly describes another factor: "The museums can't match the universities in job security."

SOME MISFORTUNES ARE SELF-CREATED

By ALBERT SHEINWOOD — The talented SHEINWOOD recently won their tenth world championship in 13 years by superior bidding.

If their play had been as good as their bidding, Pietro Forquet would have made his contract in the hand he played today.

Opening lead—three of diamonds. West opened the three of diamonds, and dummy's jack lost to the ace. Back came a heart to the ace and then another heart to dummy's queen.

Then came a club to dummy's ace of spades. This would protect him against Q-10-x on either side. (In this case the "wrong" play of leading the low spade to the king would have worked better.)

When East showed out of trumps, Forquet had to reach his hand to draw the last trump. Daily Question

Partner opens with 2NT (22 to 24 points in high cards), and the next player passes. You hold: Spades, 10-8-5; Hearts, A-8-4; Diamonds, 10-8-4-3; Clubs, Q-9.

What do you say? Answer: Bid three clubs (the Stayman Convention). This asks partner to show a major suit of four or more cards if he has one. Otherwise he bids three diamonds. If partner bids three spades, you will raise to four or five spades (depending on how ambitious you are); if partner bids any other suit, you will simply bid three no-trumps.

Lost, Captured in Jungle Marine Reaches Home After Viet Nightmare

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Marine Cpl. Domingo Trevino was thousands of miles from the Vietnam war today but he will never forget the jungle ambush last Sunday near Con Thien.

The 20-year-old San Marcos native, a radio operator, was struck in the left leg by sniper fire. That was only the beginning of a nightmare.

"The North Vietnamese were in the jungle all around us — dug in," Trevino said. "We were pinned down in an open area along a trail. I thought they had killed everybody."

Trevino lost consciousness but awoke as the enemy fired a machine gun nearby. Instead of playing dead, Trevino opened up with his M16 rifle and fired a magazine of 17 bullets.

The return fire struck him in the right shoulder. His flak jacket slowed one bullet.

Then the North Vietnamese pounced on him and tied his hands.

"I don't know how far they dragged me" through the jungle, Trevino said. "I passed out several times."

Finally his captors dropped him by a large tree and disappeared in the jungle. American soldiers found him and he was loaded aboard a tank. It struck a land mine and lost a tread. Infantrymen carried him to a clearing.

Artillery rounds landed nearby. Trevino was finally put aboard a helicopter that carried him to a hospital. The next day he was on his way to the United States. The reunion came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Trevino Sr. of San Marcos, Thursday at San Antonio.

Friday he arrived at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi.

It was there he told of the ambush of Bravo Company, 9th Marines, on a steamy hot day along the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

Gov. Connally
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Gov. John B. Connally says he will spend about a month hunting in East Africa as the guest of the American Broadcasting Co.

The governor said Friday the hunt — for leopards, lions, elephants, rhinoceros and cape buffalo — will be filmed for the ABC "American Sportsman" program.

Connally said he never had been on safari and the biggest game he has killed was a mule deer.

He said he will leave Texas July 19 and return "approximately at the end of August."

Mrs. Charles Bonini
MOUNT JEWETT, Pa. (AP) — A big black bear and her two cubs took a stroll Friday through this western Pennsylvania town, frightening a number of residents.

Mrs. Charles Bonini was in her garden when her 12-year-old daughter, shouted, "Mother, there's a bear in our yard!"

"And sure enough," said Mrs. Bonini, "there was this big bear standing there."

She called to her husband, and he came out and saw the animal for himself.

"I've been hunting for years," he said, "but this is the first time I ever saw one."

The three bears wandered about the streets until finally disappearing into the woods.

Meredith MacRae
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Meredith MacRae, daughter of entertainers Gordon and Sheila MacRae, filed suit Friday to divorce Richard Berger, whom she married Feb. 27, 1965.

Miss MacRae, 22, is a star of the "Peticoat Junction" television series. Berger, 27, is a production executive with 20th Century-Fox Studios.

Miss MacRae's mother divorced her singer husband last April in Juarez, Mexico.

Earl of Harewood
LONDON (AP) — The Earl of Harewood, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, petitioned Friday to have a divorce decree against him made final perhaps by Monday.

Harewood, 44, was divorced by his 39-year-old wife April 6 after 18 years of marriage. He has said he intends to marry former model Patricia Tuckwell, 36, named by his wife in divorce proceedings.

Under British law Harewood, who is 18th in line to the throne, must have the sovereign's consent before he can remarry.

As soon as the queen grants permission, the couple expect to go abroad and marry in a civil ceremony.

Adm. T. H. Moorer
SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Admiral Thomas H. Moorer, newly designated U.S. chief of naval operations, left here today ending a three-day visit at the invitation of the South Korean navy.

In Seoul, the admiral met with President Chung Hee Park, Defense Minister Kim Sung Eun, Vice Admiral Kim Yongwan, chief of naval operations, and other American and Korean officials.

Two Coventry Men Treated After Crash on Center St.

Two Coventry men were treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital about 7:30 this morning after the car they were in rammed a utility pole off Center St. at Edgerton St. A third person had no visible sign of injury.

Don Sewell, a passenger, was brought to the hospital by ambulance, but was discharged after treatment. He had a head injury. There was a bulge in the upper right hand corner of the windshield of the late model car where apparently Sewell's head hit. The window did not shatter.

The driver of the car, David V. Samuel, Jr., 21, of Stonehouse Rd., was taken to the hospital by patrolman Joseph Brooks in a police cruiser. He was treated for a cut lip. A second passenger, Charles Poppie, 47, of Flanders Rd., had no visible sign of injury, but complained of pain in his leg. He was treated.

The car was heavily damaged on its right front, with the fender crumpled where it dug into the utility pole, leaving deep gashes in the pole.

"The curb saved us," Poppie said. "It there was no curb we would have hit the pole head on."

Apparently the car was deflected from hitting the pole squarely by a six-inch curb, glancing, and hitting the pole with the fender. No skid marks were apparent.

The three men were on their way home from work at Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, Poppie said.

Poppie said he had been sleeping in the back seat of the car and did not know what happened. He said Sewell did not lose consciousness, was the first one to get out of the car and sat down on the curb, holding his hand over the right side of his head, trying to hold the blood back, Poppie said.

The street at the corner of the pole was littered with broken glass, bent metal, and water from the car radiator ran down the curb.

After the crash, Poppie said, the car began to smoke, and it was Sewell who told Samuel to turn the motor off. Poppie said Samuel cut his face when his head went into the steering wheel.

Charles L. Saunders, 22, of 165 Summit St., was charged with failure to drive a reasonable distance apart after the motorcycle he was driving hit the rear of a car driven by Francis T. Filloramo, 21, of 29 Butternut Rd. at East Center and Brookfield Sts. at 1:14 a.m. yesterday, police report.

He was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital with abrasions and lacerations but was not admitted, a hospital official said.

Saunders is scheduled for court appearance July 24.

A car driven by John Weiss, 46, of 166 N. School St. was struck in the rear on E. Center St. near Pitkin St. shortly after nine last night by a car belonging to William R. Petteway of 13 Vine St., police report. Police say it is not known yet who the driver of the Petteway vehicle was, and the incident is still under investigation.

Gets AF Medal

Staff Sgt. Elmore G. Vincent Jr., son of Mrs. Elmore G. Vincent Sr. of 54 Chestnut St. and the late Elmore Vincent Sr., has recently been awarded the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at James Connally Air Force Base, Tex.

Sgt. Vincent was decorated for meritorious service as an air policeman at Da Nang Air Base, Vietnam. He was cited for his outstanding professional skill and initiative which contributed to the success of the Air Force mission in Southeast Asia.

Sniper Identified

Meek Air Force Veteran Charged in Two Murders

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A gaunt, 35-year-old Canadian Air Force veteran stood meek and silent in Magistrate Court, charged with the murder of a young couple and the wounding of two others during a wild shooting spree.

Arthur John Towell said only that he would like time to get a lawyer before entering a plea on two counts of first degree murder and two of attempted murder.

Magistrate James Bartman Friday ordered Towell held without bail and said the plea would be heard July 14.

Police said the shooting with a high-powered rifle, broke out near the University of British Columbia about 9 p.m. Thursday.

The quiet evening was shattered by more than a dozen shots from the two-story West 11th Avenue house where Towell, a bachelor, lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Towell.

Neighbors ducked for cover in their homes as bullets shattered their windows. Others dived behind parked automobiles while more bullets howled wildly as they ricocheted off empty vehicles.

Some 20 minutes later, when Towell walked out of his house with his hands in the air, a young couple lay dead in the back yard of their home next to the Towell residence and two women were seriously wounded.

Police said the 5-foot, 10-inch, 140-pound Towell collected guns and made his own ammunition as a hobby. They said they found 13 guns, several hundred rounds of homemade ammunition, army ammunition pouches, a bayonet and two army knives in his home.

Deputy Police Chief John Fisk said Towell spent about 15 years in the Canadian Air Force and was discharged about two years ago on medical grounds.

No motive was found for the slayings. Police Staff Sgt. William Porteous said: "The man just went berserk."

Obituary

Mrs. Harold May

SOUTH WINDSOR—Mrs. Josephine Beze May of Farmington, daughter of Mrs. Peter Mankovich of South Windsor, died yesterday at Hartford Hospital after a long illness. She was the wife of Harold May.

Survivors also include a daughter, a brother, her stepfather and two grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Monday at 8:15 a.m. from the Richard W. Sheehan Funeral Home, 1094 New Britain Ave., Hartford, with a Mass of requiem at St. Patrick's Church, Farmington at 9. Burial will be in Mt. St. Benedict's Cemetery, Bloomfield.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 and tomorrow from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Howard C. West
TOLLAND — Howard C. West, 90, of Eaton Rd., died yesterday at his home. He had conducted an ice business for 24 years in Rockville, and at the time of his latest ice dealer in Rockville, but the oldest active business man.

Mr. West was born Nov. 11, 1876 in Tolland on a farm at the head of Snipsic Lake, a son of Julius and Martha Charter West, and it was his home most of his life. For many years he cut his ice on Snipsic Lake, and when this became impractical, he dealt in manufactured ice. In later years he sold fuel oil as well as ice. His business property was in the urban renewal area of Rockville and when this was sold to a redevelopment agency in 1964, he decided to retire. Up to that time, he had gone to his office every day.

He was a member of the Union Congregational Church, Rockville, the Rockville Lodge of Elks and the Odd Fellows.

Survivors include three sons, Arthur J. West of Hartford, Horace E. West of Tolland and Willis W. West of Rockville; a daughter, Mrs. Chester Gronski of Tolland; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funerals

A memorial Mass of requiem for Michael Bellantoni of Rome, Italy, brother of Mrs. A. Michael Eccellente of 181 McKee St., will be held Monday at 7:45 a.m. at the Church of the Assumption.

Mr. Bellantoni is also survived by a mother and father in Rome.

Hospital Notes

Visiting hours are 2 to 8 p.m. in all areas excepting maternity where they are 2:30 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. and private rooms where they are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Visitors are requested not to smoke in patients' rooms. No more than two visitors at one time per patient.

About Town

Residents at Crestfield Convalescent Home had an annual picnic Thursday at the home.

Miss Elaine Verberg and Miss Carol Verberg, both of 26 Virginia Rd., and Miss Anita Nadeau of Hartford left Friday, June 30, for a month's tour of Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Miss Kathleen Vennart of 70 Weaver Rd., a student at Southern Connecticut State College, New Haven, will be a guest story-teller at a Story Hour for children from 4 to 8 years of age Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at Mary Cheney Library.

Four Manchester area residents returned yesterday from the Hemlocks, an Easter Seal Camp, in Nichols, where they have vacationed for the past two weeks. They are Miss Joyce Baker of 286 Porter St. and Mrs. Alice M. Henry of 385 W. Center St., both of Manchester; Mrs. Yolande Young of Terrace Dr., Rockville; and Lionel Kearney of the Vernon Nursing Home, Vernon.

Donald E. Romano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Romano of 90 Wells St., has recently completed a large backlog of such cases as has been allowed to build up during the past year because of the time of the judges was devoted primarily to jury cases and actions, such as requests for injunctions and special writs, which required prompt attention.

It is expected that the new procedure will be used soon to clear out backlogs.

The WCTU will have a potluck picnic Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Susannah Wesley Campus of South Methodist Church. Members are reminded to bring holiday envelopes.

Members of the Polish American Club, 106 Clinton St., will meet tomorrow at 1 p.m. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Superior Court Conducts 'Blitz' Against Backlog

HARTFORD (AP) — Success was predicted Friday for a "blitz" being conducted by a special team of eight judges against a backlog of some 300 pending suits in Hartford Superior Court.

Chief Judge Louis Shapiro said results of the experimental program have been "surprisingly good" and he predicted that the docket of non-jury cases would be current by late July.

A key element of this special program is the expanded use of pre-trial conferences to settle legal disputes without the necessity of initiating a full dress trial. As a result of this technique, said Shapiro, less than 10 per cent of the non-jury cases coming before the court are being tried.

The eight judges are disposing of the non-jury cases at the rate of 40 a day, he said.

The large backlog of such cases has been allowed to build up during the past year because of the time of the judges was devoted primarily to jury cases and actions, such as requests for injunctions and special writs, which required prompt attention.

It is expected that the new procedure will be used soon to clear out backlogs.

Sisters United After 70 Years

we both laughed and we're laughing yet."

Mrs. Aherne was reunited with her sister, Katie Harrington, 87, of Cincinnati, Ohio, at the home of Mrs. Harrington's daughter, Mrs. Frank Toomey. The sisters are widows and the last of a family of nine children.

"Well, we're both older and age does make a difference," said Mrs. Aherne, "but I knew her as soon as I saw her. We've seen lots of pictures of each other."

The idea of a reunion came after their niece, Kathleen Wrenn, New York, got a letter from her Aunt Ellen saying, "I'm getting old, have you seen Katie?"

Miss Wrenn said, "I wrote her and told her she could come, and she wrote back and said she was coming."

The reunion is slated to last three weeks.

Police Arrests

William Clark, 45, of 89 Lockwood St. was charged with resisting arrest, breach of peace and intoxication shortly after midnight this morning. Police say they were trying to arrange transportation for him from Stanley Green's Restaurant in the Parkade because he was intoxicated, when he became abusive and began to fight with the patrolmen.

Donald Roberts Jr., 19, of Wapping was charged with breach of peace at 9:15 last night in connection with a can of burning sterno being thrown onto a car, police said.

Louis J. Sullivan, 58, of 89 Summer St. was charged with intoxication and breach of peace at 9 p.m. yesterday. He was arrested after he was found lying in the hallway at 89 Summer St. and swore at police, police say. Police went to the address after receiving a call from a woman that a man was banging on the door of her residence.

The accused are all scheduled to appear in court July 24.

Rifleman Stalls Police, Tear Gas Ends Long Siege

A short time later he again shouted: "I'm not coming out, you'll have to kill me. I've got a gun pointed right at my throat."

But minutes later Wright walked from the house, holding the weapon to his throat. Three of the policemen, patrolmen Deveau, Robert Ematruda and William McMahon, grabbed him at the same time. As they did Wright's rifle discharged.

He was taken to Yale-New Haven Hospital, and later ordered committed to Connecticut Valley State Hospital in Middletown.

New Haven Police Chief Francis V. McMahon said Wright previously had been in a mental institution for at least 30 days.

The police chief also said of Friday night's events: "It is amazing that no one was injured. This man was subdued, after firing at police officers, without our officers having to fire their guns. They did an excellent job and are to be highly commended."

Vandalism Act, Break Probed

Police this morning were investigating a break at the Silkstone Flyer office at the Parkade and vandalism at 264 W. Center St.

They said that entry at the Silkstone Flyer office was made through a front door, which had a defective lock on it from a previous attempted break-in. He said an unsuccessful attempt was made to get into a locked desk, and that $50 in the drawer of the desk was untouched. The break, he said, took place sometime between 10 last night and 9 this morning.

Vandals cut up a garden hose and trampled some garden plants at 264 W. Center St. sometime last night or early this morning, said police.

Town, State Meetings Need Public Notice

HARTFORD (AP) — Governmental bodies in Connecticut will no longer be able to meet without public notice.

A bill signed Friday by Gov. John Dempsey requires all state and local boards, commissions, agencies, committees and other governmental units to file schedules of all meetings with the secretary of state after Oct. 1.

No meetings will be permitted until 30 days after a schedule is filed. Such a schedule will be due annually prior to Jan. 31. State bodies will file them with the state and local bodies with their town or city clerks.

A loophole in the measure permits emergency sessions after a 24-hour notice filed with the proper official, but such meetings must be followed within 72 hours by a copy of the minutes and an explanation of the reason for the lack of notice.

The law will also make it somewhat easier for the public to sit in on meetings. A majority of the voting members of the governmental body will have to vote in favor of excluding the public if they wish to close a meeting.

Previously, a majority vote was required to permit the public to attend such a session.

REPEAT WINNER
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., trounced England's veteran Ann Haydon Jones 6-3, 6-4 Saturday for her second straight women's singles crown in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships. She became the first repeat winner since Maria Bueno of Brazil in 1959-60.

Althea Gibson, the Negro star from New York, came consecutively in 1957-58. A capacity crowd of 15,000 watched the women's final on the hallowed center court in bright, sunny weather.

Court Refuses Continuance for Prison Escapee

HARTFORD (AP) — A Superior Court judge has refused to grant a long continuance in the trial of Francis C. Smith, a convicted slayer who reportedly escaped from the minimum security prison at Somers May 18 and was caught 12 days later in Boston.

Judge Parasyk ordered Smith to return to court next Friday to report on his success at finding a lawyer.

Art Collection Of Dr. Friend Put on Display

A collection of art objects, loaned by Dr. Amos E. Friend, are on display this month in the Anna C. French Room of Mary Cheney Library.

Dr. Friend collected the articles during his extensive travels throughout the world. Many are from Africa, and include an African witch doctor's diagnostic computer.

The display also includes carved animals from Uganda, an ironwood figure from Zambia, Zulu and Bantu dolls, a necklace of wooden beads from Bantu, a beaded collar from Kenya.

Also, a carved Buddha from Thailand, a hut from the Philippines, a small stuffed Liama from Peru, a yak from Tibet, dolls from India, a Maori carved figure from New Zealand, and a tam pole from the Talmahian Indians of British Columbia.

FATALITY ON 'PIKE'

EAST HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An early-morning car crash on the Connecticut Turnpike took the life today of Robert Samble, 43, of Longmeadow, Mass.

Police said that Samble, who was alone in the car, was pronounced dead on arrival at Yale-New Haven Hospital shortly after his car plowed into an overpass abutment on the divided highway.

Samble and his wife were vacationing in Niantic, police said.

"OH—forget about how much money Johnny Carson makes, and enjoy the show!"

Bringing Back 'The Avengers'

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Keep those letters and post cards coming, folks, and it may be that 'The Avengers' won't disappear after all.

Seems Mr. Steed, nee Patrick Macnee, and Mrs. Peel, nee Diana Rigg, came to New York to be presenters at the Emmy Awards (she was also a nominee) and in the course of a conversation it was revealed that the series, set to be dropped by ABC-TV, is still in production and is being held in reverse for a "Second Season" return next January.

"All these things, however, are in the laps of the gods," the urbane Macnee said. He's a seven-year veteran of the series, while the lissome, lovely Diana has been playing

Mrs. Peel for three years. Macnee likes to recall the first three months of the series, when they were done live. "Things always went wrong. We would have a transmitter on the wall, urgently trying to reach Moscow and the whole thing would come off in your hand. But we had to continue trying to reach Moscow, even though the transmitter was obviously not connected to anything. Then we went to tape, with a lot of the fight and action scenes done as inserts. Then we finally went to film, which sort of illustrates the English attitude, which is not too up-to-date."

When the attractive couple was introduced at the Emmy Awards, they received a nice ovation. "We were touched,"

Macnee said. "We didn't know we were so popular here. We walked past Johnny Carson's table, and he shook our hands and said, 'It's a lovely show.' That's a lovely feeling!"

"Yet when we walked into that room," Diana said, "If we could have retreated onto that plane back to London, I think we would have done so. It was a bit overpowering."

Macnee has a theory that there is very little difference between London and New York ("except it's nice to walk in the sunshine here"), because actors are known on both sides of the Atlantic, and the very nature of the business makes it an international one.

It turns out public acceptance (See Page Three)

Ron Ely: He Never Watches 'Tarzan' on TV

By RON ELY
EDITOR'S NOTE—Ron Ely is the latest in a long line of actors and athletes who have won fame and fortune swinging from vines and making jungle calls as "Tarzan." A lot of viewers regard the NBC series as amusing and in the camp category, but Ely is a serious young actor and treats his assignment as if it were Shakespeare. And besides, that's blood, not ketchup he's been spilling for his art.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—I have been asked if I set out to prove something when I accepted the television role of Tarzan.

Yes, that "Tarzan" is a role an actor can play.

We work six and often seven days a week and have been keeping this pace up since January 1965 when we started filming in Brazil.

What I'm doing taxes me and challenges me. The day-after-day work is hard but if you have a pride in the business and are hammering out a product frequently from your own blood, sometimes it is very satisfying.

I've never seen one of the shows and don't know when I will. There just isn't time. We're moving constantly from Mexico City to Acapulco, Guatemala, then back to Mexico City.

It has become a way of life with me. Like a football professional I must stay in shape. You can't film 12 hours daily, fight two lions, make six swings on vines, swim a river and then go out on the town. I don't drink or smoke. What few minutes I have alone I spend sleeping. It doesn't sound glamorous and it isn't.

The injuries have been frequent but I absolutely refuse a stuntman. There are many reasons and most of them involve a little ego.

But there is another factor—the way this character moves. I've developed my own style for the fights with the animals, the swings through the trees, and the audience would pick up the difference in a second if I used a stuntman.

There's a special pleasure, too, to be able to do the stunts but certainly there is some apprehension from time to time.

Sure I've been hurt. I can count 17 times I needed attention and this doesn't count minor cuts and scratches. I recently ran down a hill near Acapulco and cut the bottom of my foot badly but kept on going—this was not ego. My reasons for continuing are very simple.

More
If I am injured and I know it, and no one else does, I keep quiet. People are concerned, excited and some even get sick. If I keep going it keeps the crew working under very difficult conditions. Once we are finished shooting, then I let the doctor do his work.

There are just no ends of the hazards in this role. There are many enemies of the body when you wear only a loincloth. My feet are hard as leather on the bottom but sharp coral will cut through like a knife.

The animals can be dangerous. When I look at 400 pounds of lion which I'm going to fight I know he can kill me. I've been bitten in the head, legs and feet in animal fights.

Organizing the Viewers

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The man who was founding chairman of the Emmy-awarding Television Academy 21 years ago now has a new idea:

A "National Academy of Television Receiver Owners of America."

Syd Cassyd sees it as a service organization comparable to an automobile club. But instead of promoting better highways for motorists, it would, he says:

"Try to implement the laws of Congress that say television shall be in the public interest, convenience and necessity, and — 'Provide a viewers' voice directed toward sponsors and programming.'"

Cassyd, smiling, graying and 58, is a Hollywood trade-magazine writer who in 1950 was president of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

In his cluttered office a block from Hollywood and Vine he argued: "Receiver manufacturers are organized, service technicians are organized, broadcasters are organized. Why shouldn't owners of the 55 million receivers be organized?"

"The question is, is the public getting the maximum benefit out of its investment of $200 to $1,000 in a set? How can it best express itself as to what it wants?"

"Supposedly it is represented by the seven federal communications commissioners. But with 200,000 stations to police—Short-wave, fire, police, airplane, ship, ham—the commissioners are overworked.

"And with 50 per cent of our senators and even our President having an interest in broadcasting, it has become private interest, not public."

If the 700 U.S. TV stations grossing $2 billion a year were operated fully in public interest, convenience and necessity, Cassyd claimed, "there would be no need for educational TG channels. A broadcasting channel is no different in U.S. laws from the Grand Canyon or Yosemite National Park, which are operated for the public."

He sees the proposed set-owners' academy participating in FCC hearings on station license renewals and taking a Better Business Bureau approach to color-TV servicing. "And why should we be locked into a 525-line-per-inch TV system? The French have 625 lines. Maybe 1,000 lines would be better."

As for programming: "Thirteen thousand movie features have been on the air, some as many as 30 times a year. Is this in the public interest?"

Cassyd said his plan "does not presuppose broadcasters are not doing a wonderful job. But is it the maximum job?"

He said incorporation papers, with himself as one of four incorporators, will be filed in Washington within a month.

How to Improve Programs on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What single thing can television do to improve itself most?

A visiting delegation of television editors and critics from U. S. newspapers offered some answers.

Wade Mosby, Milwaukee Journal: "Find better stories. So many things are like what you saw yesterday."

Jennie Lea Bird, Baltimore News-American: "Bring back some of the dramas from earlier days. Studio One. Playhouse 90."

Millie Budd, Houston Post: "Get out of the merry-go-round, the follow-the-leader rut. Strike out on new paths."

Jerry Coffey, Fort Worth Star-Telegram: "Get away from audience ratings as the judge of programming. Judge programs on a basis of quality."

Bob Tweedell, Denver Post: "Sure, the guy who's selling soap or toothpaste needs to reach a mass audience. But the man who sells Cadillacs, or even Chevies, doesn't have to reach all the kids."

Coffey: "Is it better to have an audience of 30 million with no buying power — or an audience of 10 million who can really do a sponsor some good?"

Turner Jordan, Birmingham News: "If there are three shows, with audiences of 30, 20 and 16 million, they kill the lowest-rated one. But what do you do about those 16 million viewers?"

Bevo Baker, Dallas News: "TV should forget the numbers completely. Find sponsors who are willing to go ahead whether they have 30 million or 16 million viewers. Bell Telephone and Xerox do."

Coffey: "A lot of sponsors who'd like to have better programs can't get air time. The networks don't want shows that will drag down the ratings."

Harry Harris, Philadelphia Inquirer: "TV should do the things that creative people in the medium will take pride in. There are people of taste and ability who are not doing things they themselves would look at."

Bill Irvin, Chicago's American: "Give some shows more of a chance when they're on the borderline in ratings. People are unhappy when a show is taken off, especially when it's replaced with one that's worse."

Louise Sweeney, Christian Science Monitor: "The thing that will most improve commercial TV will be public TV"—proposed in a Senate-approved bill now in the House. "That will stimulate competition for excellence, not just for ratings."

Francis Murphy, Portland Oregonian: "One thing the networks are doing is putting on more specials. And there's a trend away from horrible situation comedies."

Eleanor Roberts, Boston Traveler, said TV should "not presume we are morons, not aim completely at the juvenile set, should take a gamble once in a while and do a quality program." She agreed there are quality specials, "but 'I'm speaking of series.'"
