More Troops Needed To Win in Viet: Thieu

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, congratulates Brig. Gen. John F. Freund after presenting him with a Purple Heart at the 3rd Field Hospital in Saigon. Gen. Freund was wounded when he ordered his own chopper down in effort to rescue troops from a damaged helicopter. (AP Photofax)

Says 50,000 U.S. Boost Not Enough

SAIGON (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu said today more allied soldiers are needed in South Vietnam to win the war. He indicated he believes the 45,000 to 50,000 additional U.S. troops President Johnson intends to send by next June 30 will not be enough. "We have to accept that," Thieu said. "But if we have more it's better. We still need more troops. We have not enough troops to clear all the Viet Cong bases at the same time... to occupy the whole (South Vietnamese) territory and to stay long enough with the people in the villages to provide them with enough security to support our pacification program. "If we have more troops we can shorten the war." Thieu said that the present allied troop strength of 2 million was enough to prevent any major attacks by the Communists, but he should realize that the Viet Cong still have the capability to disturb us. We need a big amount of troops to be everywhere and to do many jobs at the same time. If troop strength is not increased, he said, "we will lose again what we have captured from the Viet Cong." Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky met with newsmen for the first time as candidates in the Sept. 3 national election, in which Thieu seeks the presidency with Ky his running mate. (See Page Ten)

Ribicoff, Percy Propose Billion to Ease Race Ills

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move to head off further racial disturbances, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff and Charles E. Percy proposed today the creation of a $1 billion fund that would permit President Johnson to make grants, aimed at lessening tension, to states, communities and local organizations. The fund, as the senators said, would be used to finance a program of "racial dialogue" between the National Guardmen called into Milwaukee and Chicago to leave today and a curfew in the city because of violence in his city because "there is still enough in the air to bring further violence to keep us on the alert." The proposal by Ribicoff, D-Conn., and Percy, R-Ill., requires no new spending, they said, because it would authorize the President to create a neighborhood emergency fund by the transfer of up to two per cent of budgeted, nondefense spending. The fund, as the senators said, would permit the President to act rapidly in response to local racial initiatives. Brawling erupted in two galleries of the House of Representatives Monday as a group of Negroes from New York's Harlem, demanding federal rat-control legislation, fought with police. Fifteen minor injuries and several arrests were reported. Eight of the estimated 60 demonstrators were arrested. "Rats cause riots," the group chanted as they entered the public galleries shortly after the "Gip" Rover. (See Page Ten)

The Long Way Home Three European Girls On 45,000-Mile Trip

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Three European girls are taking the long way back to their native lands—a 45,000-mile trip and sea journey into 18 countries. Inspired by Britain's Sir Francis Chichester who sailed the globe alone in his sloop Gipsy Rover, the girls have nicknamed the station wagon they bought for the journey the "Gip-psy Rover." Refugees in Jordan Urged to 'Go Home'

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Jordanian government is putting pressure on Arab refugees to return to their homes in Israeli-occupied territory as Jordan's shaky economy won't be burdened with them. King Hussein's government officials said it was the "national and sacred duty" of refugees from the June war to return to their homes by August, but they were given permission to stay in Jordan until then. The Jordanian refugee committee warned that it would cut off aid to any refugees who did not return. The committee also plans to contribute to the rebuilding of homes in the occupied areas damaged by the war. Life meanwhile returned to normal in the Arab sector of Jerusalem after a one-day bus, trolley and transportation strike protesting Israel's unification of the West Bank. (See Page Ten)

Truck Driver Burns to Death in Darien Crash

DARIEN (AP) — The driver of a trailer truck burned to death today when the vehicle swerved off the Connecticut Turnpike and crashed. The victim was identified as Samuel Winograd, 46, of Yonkers, N.Y. State police said the truck crashed and caught fire at a construction site where the east-bound section of the turnpike had been reduced to two lanes. Traffic was snarled for a time after the 3:25 a.m. accident, and state police moved cars through a single lane around the crash scene. Police reported that traffic was back to two lanes at 10 a.m. The truck, en route from Newark, N.J., to Orange, Conn., belonged to the M and M Transportation Co., which has headquarters in Cambridge, Mass. Winograd's address was listed as 247 Parkview Ave., Yonkers. (See Page Ten)

Bulletin

STATE MAN FOUND GREENVILLE, Maine (AP) — A Connecticut man lost since Sunday in woods east of Moosehead Lake was found today. First reports relayed from game wardens searching were that Peter Balzano, 51 of East Haven was not harmed by his two nights in the forest. Game warden Charles Howe and John Lenthers, who found Balzano, said he was hungry, tired and mosquito bitten but otherwise in good condition. (See Page Ten)

Crippled Jetliner Lands OK

NEW YORK (AP) — An American Airlines jet carrying 85 persons, its front landing gear stuck in a closed position, set down on its wing wheels and nose at New York's Kennedy International Airport today. No one was injured, and one passenger said the landing was "fantastic." "It was rough but smooth for the situation," said Sam Emme, 46, of Syracuse, N.Y., where the flight originated. "Fantastic!" The twin-engine, British-made BAC111 had been due to land at Newark, N.J., at 7:35 a.m., but was diverted to Kennedy because of that airport's longer runway. Another passenger, Robert Block, 57, of Syracuse, said that midway in the trip the plane had experienced a "severe jolt" that sent breakfast plates and coffee cups flying about. However, an American spokesman said later the jolt was unrelated to the landing gear trouble. The jet swept back and forth over Kennedy for about half an hour, clearly visible to spectators and emergency crews quickly strung out along the runway. The city sent in fire engines from the Queens Borough area. Then, after passengers had been instructed to brace themselves, the airliner glided down onto the runway, touched down on its wing wheels and rolled along until it tipped onto its nose and stopped. The time was 9:01 a.m. Firemen said they had not felt it necessary to spread foam on the runway, and there was no fire. Passengers were removed quickly from the crippled aircraft, and it was towed away. The 81 passengers were high in praise for the four-man crew. "I've been on planes where the landing was rougher than this one," said one passenger. He hurried to a waiting emergency vehicle without identifying himself. The longest runway at New York Airport, about 30 miles west of Kennedy, is 7,000 feet. The longest at Kennedy is 14,752 feet. U.S. Civilian Jobs Rise Despite Slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rising number of federal civilian employees probably will pass 3 million this month despite half the 74,811 increase over May resulted from temporary summer jobs under the President's Youth Opportunity program. There also were seasonal hiring rises at the Interior, Agriculture and Post Office departments. Administration officials conceded privately there is little possibility of any significant job cutback even though Johnson has announced efforts to curtail spending by as much as $4 billion under the "cut, tax and borrow" program he sent Congress last week. The outlook is for rising employment, officials said, because only a relatively small portion of federal spending is controlled by the administration and because Johnson will not cut anti-poverty programs, controllable or not. Summer jobs for slum dwellers, youth activities, work training programs and other efforts to alleviate poverty are viewed officially as top-priority measures this summer because of racial tensions in the cities. "It's a political impossibility to cut the anti-poverty programs," one source explained. Mayors and governors want more, not less, federal spending on measures that may prevent riots, looting and burning. The civilian pay roll topped $20 billion in the fiscal year ended June 30. The congressional joint committee reported that civilian agency wages and salaries totaled $11.8 billion while the Defense Department paid $10.2 billion. (See Page Ten)

Blasts Rock Oil Refinery in Louisiana

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Two powerful explosions and 13 smaller blasts shattered portions of the Cities Service Co. oil refinery today, injuring 14 men and causing extensive property damage in downtown Lake Charles. Four workmen were reported missing. An estimated 50 heavy plate glass store windows were blown out when the first blast erupted at 4:45 a.m., touching off a fierce fire amid the complex of refining towers and storage tanks. The area was quickly evacuated and sealed off for fear of additional blasts at the sprawling plant on the west bank of the Calcasieu River in extreme southwest Louisiana. The hazard of continuing explosions was made worse by the lack of power during the early morning hours. The company powerhouse was rendered inoperative by the force of the major blasts, and firefighters lacked sufficient water to cool off neighboring high pressure storage tanks and refining units. For safety reasons, reinforcements of firemen from Lake Charles and surrounding areas temporarily were kept back one-half mile from the gates of the refinery. (See Page Nineteen)

Missing Girl Found Murdered in Pennsylvania

GIRARD, Pa. (AP) — The partially clothed body of little Connie Rae Carstater, missing since Sunday in swamplands near her home, was found today, and a deputy coroner said she was murdered. Minutes later state police took one of the searchers into custody for questioning. The girl was found face down in about a foot of water. It had been covered with leaves and branches in a dense thicket about 100 yards from a highway. The body was taken to an Erie hospital for an autopsy. The child had pedaled her bicycle to a grocery store three miles from her home Sunday. She was given a check for $2 Saturday for her 12th birthday, purchased some candy and fish. (See Page Eight)

Employment Hits Highest U.S. Peak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment increased more than usual in July, reaching 78.2 million, the highest level ever in the United States, the Labor Department said today. The unemployment rate for July was 3.8 per cent, practically unchanged from 4 per cent last month and from the July 1966 rate. Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, summed up the job picture this way: "Some strength in employment, no big change in unemployment from June to July." Goldstein explained that July traditionally is a high employment month, but the total for July 1967 was a new high even on a seasonally adjusted basis. Total unemployment in July was 2.9 million, an increase of 200,000 from the July 1966 level. All the rise in joblessness over the year took place among teenagers and adult women, the department said. Employment, which had declined earlier in 1967, has recovered steadily in the last two months, more than regaining the earlier losses, the department said. Nonfarm payroll employment, seasonally adjusted, rose by 200,000 in July, following an increase of 200,000 in June. In a separate section on the summer job situation for youths, the department said total of 12.5 million youths 16 to 21 years of age were working or seeking work last month, an increase of 500,000 over 1964 summer level. The department said population expansion in this age group— youngsters born in the years following World War II—accounts for a large part of the growth. Also, it said, more youths are seeking work. SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco homeless service has received $1250 from the estate of a German courtesan to settle a 25-year-old account. Jack Cohen, president of the Gray Line, said Kelly's Estates provided limousine service for Countess Natalie Herzog von Mecklenburg when she visited San Francisco in 1934. The countess died soon after returning to Germany. The Gray Line has since purchased Kelly's Estates. (See Page Ten)

Ike's Spirits Good; Views Hospital TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 78, thought all hospitalized in good spirits, gets out of bed at intervals, and watches television—and his doctors reiterate that "prolonged hospitalization is not anticipated." These and other news details of the five-star general's progress since he entered the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital last Saturday were obtained from hospital doctors in response to written questions submitted by the Associated Press. The questions brought out, for example, that doctors see nothing unusual in the fact that Eisenhower has experienced two gastrointestinal upsets within three months. And they also cleared up the matter of why the word "minor" was dropped yesterday from medical bulletins that had previously described his condition as a "minor gastrointestinal ailment." "His symptoms have been relatively minor," the answer to a question concerning the deletion of the word "minor." In answer to a query as to what Eisenhower had been doing in his room and how he was feeling, the reply was: "He is resting in bed but is up at intervals. He has been on (predominantly) liquid diet. He is in good spirits, watching television and reading." The doctors also reported that Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower had been staying nearby, but did not say whether she was staying overnight in the VIP suite with her. Here's how the rest of the Q-and-A went: Q. Is there anything unusual about the general having two attacks of a gastrointestinal ailment within two months? A. Gastrointestinal symptoms of this nature may occur relatively frequently in patients, particularly of his age group. However, in view of his previous illnesses, more detailed and continuing evaluation is required. (The doctors were presumably referring here to Eisenhower's history of two major coronary heart attacks; a minor stroke; a gall bladder operation; and his heart attack on the Defense Department paid tour.) the luckies

They live by a gas line on Regency Drive

Everyone living on Regency Drive is a "lucky." They can all take advantage of and enjoy the cleanliness, comfort and convenience of modern, low-cost GAS living.

Take Jim Holtgrieve on the left here for example... he lives at 11 Regency Drive with his wife Ruth and their son Rick. Ruth's a great cook, and why not... she has all the GAS cooking advantages of the Hotel America, the Hartford Hilton and the Corner House in Farmington.

And Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton Boyd standing next to him never have to worry about enough heat or hot water for their beautiful home at 34 Regency Drive. It's a home that stays beautifully clean, thanks to the friendly blue flame operation of their GAS heating system.

The Freedman's standing behind them live a few doors away at 24. Needless to say those two little boys require a lot of bathing and fresh clean clothes. With fast, dependable GAS, Mrs. Freedman gets all the hot water she needs... whenever she needs it. And her GAS dryer gives her a steady supply of fluffy clothes and fresh blankets for David.

Maybe you're a "lucky" and don't know it. Why not call us today and find out if there's a GAS line near you.

West Coast Subway to Run In Huge Underwater Tube

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three men in a control room maneuver the tube into work...

The tube is lowered to about three feet from the last section in place. Then four railway cutters, mounted at the end of each section, draw the two sections tight with the aid of a ton hydraulic jack on each.

This partly compressed a thick neoprene rubber gasket around the rim of the new tube. Now water trapped in the bulkheads between the two sections is bled out. Pressure of the bay water then drives the new tube home, sealing it tighter than a jam preserve jar.

Men inside the old section open a hatchway and go to work cleaning out the muck and scraping fish and crabs. Welders further seal the linked tubes from the inside.

The bulkheads will be filled with concrete to hold the tube in place. The concrete will be laid in sections, with the first section laid in the middle of the bay in mid-1969.

There are service walkways to be built, rails to be laid and ventilation system to be hooked up.

The first tube on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge will be laid off the Ferry Building, sometime next winter. By then a ventilation tower will have been sunk on the San Francisco side and another at the Oakland end.

The $80-million tube will lie 130 feet below the surface at its deepest point. The tube is being fabricated in a shipyard on an assembly-line basis in 87 numbered segments.

It is being laid on an undersea roadway precisely graded to within a quarter of an inch. Tube sections are lowered into place, with the aid of sonar and laser beam, and linked water-tight.

Sections vary—from 275 to 366 feet long. They are towed by dredges across open waters, some up or down, some in two directions. Each is 24 feet high and 47 feet wide. A biocular-shaped cross-section provides the shell for two train tubes with a service corridor in between.

Woman 'Psychs' Troops In Bolivian Rebellion

CAMIRI, Bolivia (AP) — A woman guerrilla named Tania has brought psychological warfare to Bolivia's Marxist rebel front in the mountains.

A jungle version of World War II's Tokyo Rose, she uses a bull-horn during combat to encourage Bolivian troops to lay down their arms.

Her "surrender, little soldier, you're surrounded," she will cry, yammers in the dark green fog of the mountainside.

On July 7, in the most daring stab since fighting began in late March, the guerrilla took over the small town of Beni, 100 miles west of Santa Cruz, for a few hours. They killed one soldier and captured an officer and nine men but released them in an unharmed later.

This raid put the guerrillas within 100 miles of a military base where 16 Green Berets are putting specially selected Bolivian troops through a tough four-month course in counter guerrilla tactics. The objective is to create three special Ranger battalions.

The training program was established by a U.S. military assistance agreement under which Bolivia is to receive some military equipment. The Bolivia also receives some military equipment, but some will be used for propaganda purposes.

Washington has U.S. military and official personnel in the guerrilla operation zone. The zone now is confined to an area of 3,600 square miles in the southeast, although there have been guerrilla sightings elsewhere in the country. Some of these guerrilla reports have turned out to be something else.

An armed man claiming to be a guerrilla captured a bus near Santa Cruz and ordered the driver to head in a direction away from its normal destination. The man was identified as a member of the National Revolutionary Front, a group of House-to-house installment companies.

Door-to-door salesmen sold goods at credit value at more than $1 billion last year, according to the National Association of House-to-house installment companies.

Seepage Testing Requested Again At School Tract

The Public Building Commission decided at its meeting last night to ask the State Department of Health again to conduct seepage tests for approval of a sewage disposal system at the site of the proposed elementary school.

The department has conducted tests in and over the ground was unusually wet. Last week a 12-foot trench was dug in the area and, according to Douglas Cheney, PBC chairman, the results were "much more hopeful."

The PBC also discussed the possibility of putting in a curbside drain to take off surface water and relieve some of the problem of drainage.

In other business, the PBC voted to ask the Board of Public Works for $300 to purchase a new truck for the school.

They hope to buy one like that now being used by the town office conference room. They will, thereby, save $20,000 in the cost of a new truck.

Plenty of Maske Wave and their special guests, the squares, will be the feature of the annual "Maske Wave" parade in the basement of St. Maurice Church from 8:15 to 10:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 14.

Groundhog Day Sales?

There is a potential incidental gain, which should not be overlooked, in the proposal to have Congress legislate five major national holidays to a Monday date, thus guaranteeing at least three days vacation for every one.

This might lead to an incidental kindness to the memory of President George Washington.

Under the proposal being strongly supported at Washington by the United States Chamber of Commerce, and the travel and vacation industries, Memorial Day would be shifted from May 30 to the last Monday in May, Independence Day from July 4 to the first Monday in July, Veterans Day from Nov. 11 to the last Monday in October, and Thanksgiving Day from the fourth Thursday in November to the fourth Monday in November.

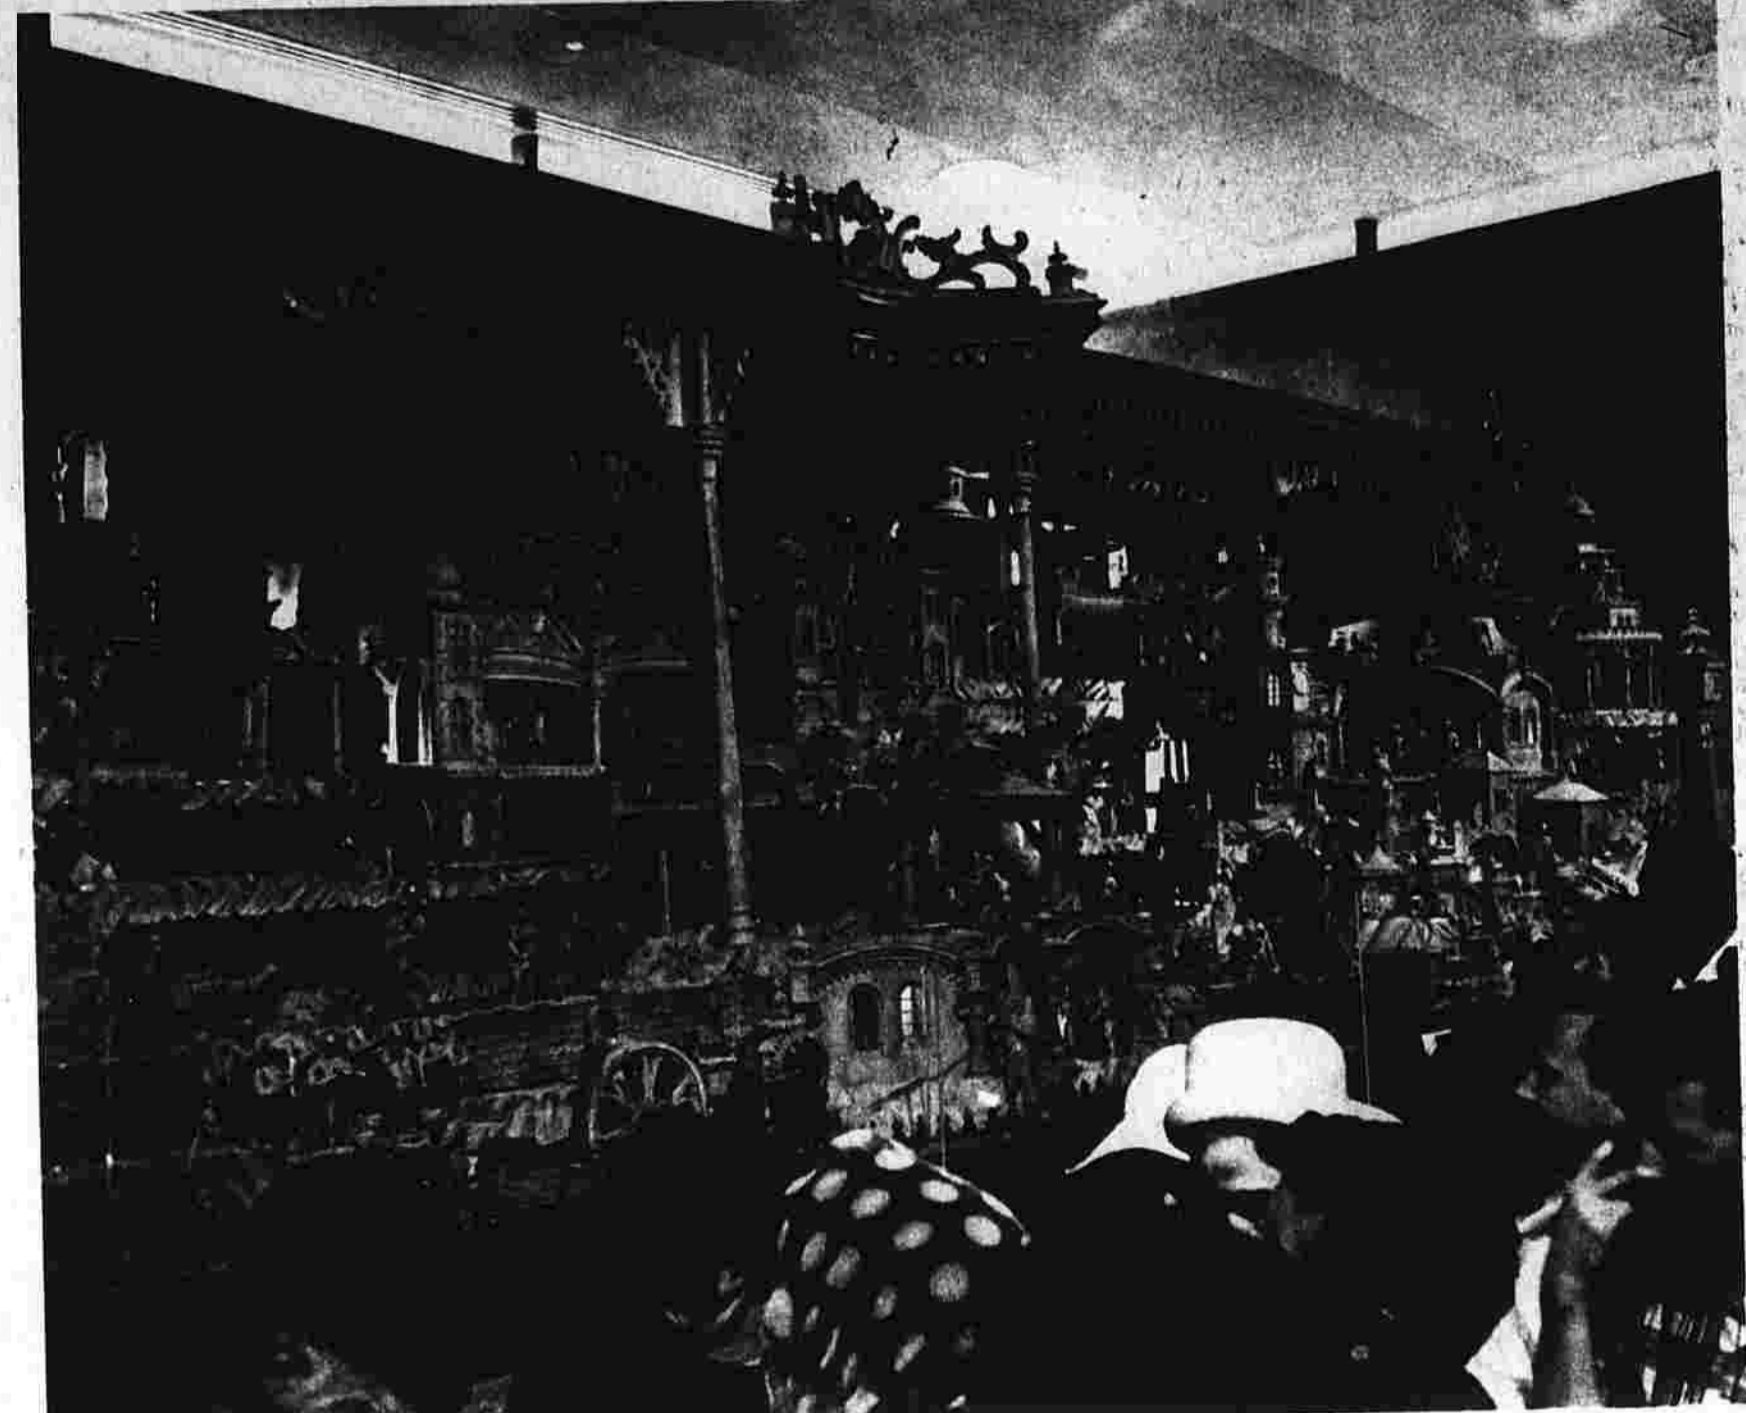

In addition, Washington's Birthday would be eliminated as a legal holiday and be changed to President's Day, which would honor all the nation's Presidents, and which would be observed on the first Monday in February rather than on Feb. 22.

The incidental benefit possible from this change concerns the widespread national practice of honoring the memory of the nation's first President by special bargain sales apparently founded on the legend that Washington three dollars away across the Potomac.

Some of us have for a long time thought it would be a very nice thing to have the festive sales we all like to see in February tied to something more important and less solemn than the memory of the Father of the Country.

There could be Valentine's Day sales, or to mention our idea of a really fun substitute for the present Washington's Birthday circus—a Groundhog Day Sale. If Groundhog Day now comes too early in the month for the consumer pocketbooks or the merchant's schedule, let Congress move it to a more appropriate date, like the third Thursday in the month.

The way Envoys Clifford and Taylor report on their mission has been impressive, too. They have come back telling the President and the American people that our allies "are agreed on the need for increased pressure" in the war in Vietnam, that they support the bombing of North Vietnam, that they think now is a very important and crucial time to step up our pressure.

Frustrations of U Thant
U Thant is a wise man and a frustrated one. He has labored long and hard for peace, not least in Vietnam and the Middle East, but his efforts have been frustrated, just two months after the war, is the introduction of Israeli currency into the economy of the west bank of the Jordan River.

That fertile land belonged to the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan when the war started. In the six-day conflict, it fell intact to Israel and thereafter he refused to consider returning it to Jordan, along with other occupied lands, until the Arab countries and their state of belligerency with Israel and acceptance of Israel's independence.

Now, however, the unannounced decision to make Israeli currency legal tender in the west bank region is the strongest indication yet that Israel will never return to the west bank to Jordan, just as Israel has publicly said it will never return Jerusalem.

The obvious implication of the currency decision is that Israel wants to integrate the economy there with its own. It means that the Israelis have already been taken by Jerusalem. The Soviet Union continues to replace Egypt's lost military equipment. Almost 400 new MIG fighter planes, equal to 100 per cent of the losses suffered by Egypt in the war, have now

Alcohol + Gasoline = Blood
(Selection from Amos)
We urge people in Vietnam who tolerate TV beer commercials to sponsor your national spirit, yet you are pushed when teenagers turn for enjoyment from baseball to beer-drinking. You clutter your highways with taverns, though when alcohol and gasoline are mixed, too often they turn to blood. You proudly proclaim, "What's the harm in a little drink?" Yet you shake your fist against the sidewalk ripple of millions of dead-end alcoholics.

Everything is comparative, and this is something one has to keep in mind in evaluating the status of Connecticut with regard to this or that kind of legislation.

Look one way, from one angle, and you find Connecticut a laggard. In the opinion of this particular correspondent, it took Connecticut until the 1967 session of the General Assembly to move out of the dark ages with respect to its official legal position for handling of the problem of drug addiction.

The fair weather high pressure system that moved across Connecticut Monday was off the coast this morning.

Famous Hawaii Landmark Center of Growing Fight

That, said opponents of the plan, is exactly what they're afraid of. The construction is permitted, Diamond Head will soon look exactly like Waikiki, lined with a seemingly endless row of tall buildings.

On one side is the Diamond Head Improvement Association. It wants to dot the lower slopes of the 761-foot extinct volcano with luxury, high-rise apartment buildings and hotels.

On the other side is the Save Diamond Head Association and the Oahu Development Conference, an organization of business and industrial leaders, came out for restricting construction on the mountain to a single-family residential area.

On land valued at $15 a square foot, asked Houghtaling, "What is the purpose of this? The Save Diamond Head Association urged that the entire park be converted into a public park.

The land is too costly for that, countered the improvement association. Furthermore, it said, good planning of its development would create a park-like effect.

Arguing for high-rise development, the Honolulu Planning Commission said that expansion of Hawaii's tourist industry, already booming, is inevitable and that high-rise buildings—on 8.3 acres of Diamond Head.

George K. Houghtaling, former director of the Department of Public Works and now spokesman for the improvement association, said the buildings would be 10 or 12 stories, but none would rise more than 100 feet above sea level.

He said, "Construction is our bread and butter," said Jack C. Ray, vice president of the AFL-CIO Building Trades Council, "but employment is no justification for bad planning."

He accused opponents of the development of trying to hold back progress.

"The students turned out to be both kinds, those who were willing to discuss, meet, and those who weren't," Segalovitz said.

Author Sues To Clear Sale Of Probate Book

NEW YORK (AP)—Norman Deacy, who has sold 700,000 copies of his book "How to Avoid Probate," has gone to court himself — to stop an injunction that could halt sales of the book in New York State.

Deacy, of Bridgeport, Conn., complained to the U.S. District Court that an opinion by Justice Charles Marks of the State Supreme Court approving the injunction was a "unconscionable infringement of the right to free speech and press."

Deacy followed the lead of General Motors, which last month voiced strong opposition to the profit-sharing plan.

The union Monday presented a position paper on the demand, Ernest R. Breach, former Ford board chairman, to $168 profit sharing program on the grounds that it is "subversive."
