Plan Decorations for Project 67

Robert Barnett of 30 Millford St. and Walter R. Stetson of 142 Janet Dr., East Hartford, are co-chairmen of the decorations committee for Project 67, a fund-raising project for the Brotherhood of Action. The decorations will be displayed at the annual dinner to be held at the Hartford Convention Center on Saturday, September 23.

Members of the various organizations now have general admission tickets. Mrs. Robert D. Housley represents the BPAW on the ticket committee and is in charge of patron tickets.

These organizations are the B'nai B'rith, Knights of Columbus and the Masons. The decorations committee consists of officers of two of these groups.

Barnett is executive vice president of Charter Oak Chapter of B'nai B'rith. He is also on the board of Temple Beth Shalom and vice president of its Mt. Zion Chapter. He has been a member of the club since 1945.

Bids Open On Trucks And Paver

Cherokee Motors of Manchester is the sponsor of bids for supplying the town with two dump trucks, complete with body and hoist and Cooke's Equipment Co. of Wallingford is the apparent low bidder for furnishing a tarmac paver. The items are for the Town Highway Department.

Cherokee's bid price on the two dump trucks is $12,970, for Dodge models. The price includes the trade-in of a 1969 Ford truck and of a 1960 GMC truck.

Other truck bids received today and the net prices are: Soulen Trucks of Hartford, $18,970 for GMC models; Hart, $18,970 for GMC models; Hart, $18,970 for GMC models; and Brainerd Ford of Hartford, $19,236 for Ford models.

Cooke's net price for a tarmac paver is $936. It includes the trade-in of a 1960 paver. Others who bid on the item are: H. F. Davis, of Boston, $1,860; R. W. Thompson of Newton, $1,860; Eastern Equipment and Sales of Rocky Hill, $2,444; Casey & Dupuis of Newton, $2,500; and Bieler Equipment Co. of West Hartford, $2,870.

A tarmac paver is a paving receptacle which rides on short-coupled trucks. It is towed by a dump truck.

The three lowest bids for the item will be studied for specifications. Some pavers are known in the trade as "skid boxes" without tracks.

Project 67's success will provide a significant step toward the rehabilitation program at the school, officials say, because it will develop their ability to make clothing selections.

The project is being sponsored by the Brotherhood of Action, a group of several committees of the Brotherhood in Action are in the final stages of preparation for the event that is six weeks away.

Stetson is deputy grand knight of the local lodge of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers.

All Apprehended, One Shot 3 Escapees Kill Officer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A Lincoln detective was shot fatally in a gun fight today with three Indiana State Prison escapees, one of whom was wounded.

All three escapees were taken into custody and Lancaster County attorney Paul Whitehead said they would be charged with first degree murder.

Killed as he and his partner investigated the possibility of a stolen car was Detective Paul Whitehead, 30, Douglas St.

Douglas said the exchange of gunfire occurred after the three men were ordered from the car. He said Whitehead was able to fire one shot before collapsing.

Detective Paul Whitehead, 30, Douglas St. Whitehead's partner, also reported today by police.

Other injuries were reported. A two-car collision occurred in the Parade near Sears Roebuck & Co. at 11 p.m. yesterday.

Danish Trains Collide; Scores Remain Trapped

ODENSE, Denmark (AP) — The other train was speeding at 70 miles an hour when it hit the first.

Fire squads, civil defense units and nearly 100 ambulances rushed to the scene.

The crash occurred at a railway overpass. Passengers had to be lifted down from the wreckage by crane.

Rescue operations were hampered by 500 gallons of diesel oil that spilled over the tracks, making it impossible for rescue workers to use blow torches.

The first coach of the second train was virtually torn apart. Both sides and roofs were completely ripped and two cars crumpled up like a giant accordion.

Officials said the girl was 17 years old and was the daughter of a provincial commander of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

She was described as a "long time Communist underground fighter," who has been a leader in military and political operations against the South Vietnamese government since 1966.

There was no indication he was heading Matt's place.

2 MIGs Downed By Navy Bombers

SAIGON (AP) — The 17-year-old daughter of a Viet Cong province official—a guerrilla nurse herself for four years—has defected to the government and appealed to her father to return to his family, U.S. officials said today.

In a letter addressed to her father, she said his family needs him and is "looking forward to your return every hour, every minute," the official account said.

The girl was identified as Nguyen Thi Mai, who joined the Viet Cong when she was 13 and was given months of training as a nurse. She was said to have turned herself in to national police two months ago about 20 miles north of Saigon.

Officials said her father is Nguyen Van Hai, a deputy province commander of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

She was described as a "long time Communist underground fighter," who has been a leader in military and political operations against the South Vietnamese government since 1966.

40 Civilians Killed by US Copter Fire

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers shot down two MIG-17 jets over North Vietnam today in two weeks, the U.S. Command announced.

The command also announced that 40 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 36 were wounded when U.S. Army helicopters returned enemy ground fire in a "large group" which was firing at the helicopters.

The Soviet-designed MIG-17, the most advanced plane in North Vietnam's air force, were brought down by air-to-air missiles fired by F-4C Phantom II fighters.

Pilots spotted a third MIG-17 but said it was out of reach of their missiles. The pilots reported the third jet was "diving for the deck" and heading for Hanoi.

Field reports said the civilians killed and wounded by the American helicopter gun crews returned from the rice fields and were mingled with them as it withdrew after overrunning a government post.

The U.S. Command said a "U.S. Army helicopter fire team" believed to number three or four helicopters were supporting the militia outpost 70 miles south of Saigon and "received permission to return enemy fire being received from a large group."

The announcement continued, "a report was received stating that a number of civilians were killed and wounded from which the fire had originated. Forty Vietnamese civilians were killed and 36 wounded."

The ground war today, significant fighting subsided again after the fierce battle Wednesday between troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division and North Vietnamese forces in the Bong He Valley of the central lowlands, 330 miles north of Saigon.

LBJ Seeks Tax Votes Through Sales Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is seeking Democratic votes for his proposed tax increase with the face-to-face political selling techniques he mastered long before he became chief executive.

His making a good fiscal case for his tax—showing the real seriousness of the situation—and also giving us some hard political arguments to justify a vote for it," was a typical comment.

Dulski Probe Suggested by Rep. Scott

WASHINGTON (AP) — A freshman congressman has suggested a House ethics committee probe the personal use by Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski of $11,000 raised at a testimonial dinner.

"Certainly this is a proper matter to be considered by the new committee set up for standards of conduct," said Rep. William L. Scott, R-Va. He said Wednesday he thought Dulski, for whom "I have nothing but the highest regard," would welcome such an investigation.

Scott was the only Post Office Committee member to suggest such a probe.

Dulski, a New York Democrat and chairman of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said he would stand before a tribunal of any sort "to defend his use of the money raised at a September 1966 dinner."

The Wall Street Journal reported many of the contributors to the Dulski testimonial were leaders of political unions, lobbyists and big-volume matters, all directly affected by legislation drafted by the committee.

FINISHING QUEENS IN SPORT OF KINGS BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When you're a young man you cannot resist them, but after a lifetime of indulging you can even do without. I'm talking about finesse, of course, and about the mature man who played today's hand.

Opening lead—Jack of hearts. West led the Jack of hearts, and East declared (eventually) by taking the contract (eventually) returning a diamond, but he was afraid that South had played today's hand.

South led a club and East returned the eight of diamonds, but South refused to take the dummy with the king of clubs and returned the eight of diamonds to discard the last diamond on dummy's fifth club.

Board to Weigh Twin Sessions

Board of Education members are expected to discuss the possibility of double sessions at their meeting tonight at 8 in the Hebron Elementary School. The possibility exists because the new elementary school will not be completed in time for opening of the school year.

Some parents have expressed opposition to a double-session solution and are expected to present their views at the meeting.

The Sound Waves and The Squares will play at a team dance tomorrow night from 8-11 at St. Maurice Church in Bolton. There will be a small admission charge.

Tolland 5th-Grade Teacher Needed To Complete School Staffs

Except for a fifth-grade teacher at the Tolland school system is "all set" with its teaching staff for the fall, Robert Britton, school superintendent, told the Board of Education last night. The average class size will be about 24 students, he added. Grades one and a half and two and a half will have 12 each. Britton said registrations are not complete and his figures were guesses.

He announced the filling of three more positions for the fall at St. Maurice in good shape. "The new teachers are Allen C. Enright for grade six, Miss Carol Maturro for high school social studies and Mrs. Marjorie Simmons for physical education."

The Herald's temporary Hebron correspondent is Katherine Sibon, tel. 238-3216.

Truck Ruins Old Bridge, Town Wonders Who'll Pay

SOUTHURY (AP) — Old Southury Bridge, a one-lane span over the Pomperaug River, was crumpled on the river bed today after being struck by a 25-ton tractor-trailer rig.

The 70-year-old bridge, posted at both ends for a maximum load capacity of four tons, splashed into the river Wednesday as the tractor and flat-bed trailer were leaving the Heritage Village housing complex. The truck driver and his passenger were not hurt in the 15-foot drop.

The five-day club meets at the park an hour a day.

Four other clubs also are meeting in Tolland County this week.

A winter program of the Child Evangelism Fellowship consists of "good news clubs" that meet once a week in a home.

Mrs. Lewis Bach was designated pre-school enumerator at a remuneration of 15 cents per child.

David Cook, Board chairman, noted that a town meeting will have to be arranged soon to authorize the middle school building committee to spend the $1,000 already in the town budget for studying the school.

Kenneth Kaynor, board member, said he attended the Vernon Board meeting in July when William Pope, resigning Vernon guidance head, criticized curriculum and guidance policies in a letter that he had written.

Republican Says DelMastro Pressured into Mayor Race

Republican town chairman Roy E. Cowles today commented on a recent statement that by retiring Mayor James E. Throve.

Cowles said on Aug. 6, Mayor Throve stated in a press release that "expected to lead the party ticket will be Deputy Mayor Umberto DelMastro, a former star in the Democratic sports in both high school and college."

Commenting that the word "expected" was an appropriate choice by the retiring mayor, Cowles said "DelMastro was not going to run for office this year until the political bosses of mayors who haven't filled the hour decision. Now Throve is labeling him our next mayor."

Cowles said, "The political bosses are making the decision before the campaign even begins into full swing. As I recall, DelMastro polled more votes than the incumbent mayor in 1965 and had already accomplished his triple threat athletic achievement."

Questioning why DelMastro was not mayor, Cowles noted that DelMastro had served on the council for four years, the same length of time that Mayor Throve has served.

"Now we are told by the leader of a do-nothing administration,"

The Second Target At Hiroshima
 The city of Hiroshima observed the 22nd anniversary of the first atomic bomb dropped on man by man in an atmosphere and with circumstances which were as sad as ever, but which gave no outward sign of any increase in bitterness.
 And it would be natural that the passage of time should bring some easing of the feeling of hurt. Some day, there will be no close relatives surviving to ring the great bell for the Hiroshima dead. Some day, the annual toll of new people dying as a possible result of exposure in 1945 will have dwindled out of existence. Some day, the prospect for the tender stomachs of people who weren't alive when the horrible thing happened, they may cover up that mute etching some unknown body made on the concrete steps of a bank where it was sitting in the micro-second in which it was incinerated by the bomb.
 This was the natural trend of memory and observation. It could even be that, some day, the Japanese can forget that it was the white American who loaded the first bomb. It could even be that, some day, Americans ourselves will finally feel ourselves free to move and think in the world without carrying in our spirit the shadowy imprint of guilt Hiroshima left on the national conscience, something like that shadow on the concrete bank step in Hiroshima itself.
 All this would be natural, and possible. It might be the work of time.
 But there is something more than time at work on the story of the bombing of Hiroshima.
 Time, even when it puts distance between the 1945 deed and present emotions, is also making possible historical research and analysis, and some of the potential result of this research and analysis could make the heritage of Hiroshima last longer and grow more instead of less bitter.
 There is a growing theory that we knew we did not need the atomic bombing of Hiroshima to win our war with Japan, but that we did calculate that we needed such a fearsome display of our newly developed and secret atomic power in order to be sure we held the whip hand over the Russian line.
 This theory, the Japanese died so that the Russians might be more afraid of the United States.
 By this theory, the Japanese died so that the Russians might be more afraid of the United States.
 This theory, the Japanese died so that the Russians might be more afraid of the United States.

A Thought for Today

(Selection from First Issue)
 Communism
 The oracle concerning Communism:
 O nation of the hammer and sickle!
 Would you use the hammer to pound propaganda into the minds of your people?
 And the sickle to cut down all who will not conform to the Communist line?
 When your five-year plan fails, you convert it to a seven-year plan.
 When that fails, you shift to a twenty-year plan.
 When will your people be aware, and respond not to Stalin's stick, or Khrushchev's elusive carrot? O virgin lands of Siberia! When will the sower overtake the reaper?
 Since the reaper cannot keep up with the sower?
 Why is the government going ahead with this risky, expensive, and not very urgently needed plan? Several reasons are apparent. The aviation industry hopes to make money out of manufacturing and operating the planes, and the aviation industry has proved to be a powerful pressure group in the halls of government. The Federal Aviation Agency is dominated by "wild blue yonder" types who believe that the sky is no limit. Prestige is involved since the Russians are building a similar plane. If all the people in the rest of the world are not already dazzled by our space program, however, they are not going to be impressed by a plane that flies a little faster. Balance of payment considerations have been advanced, but some economists have shown that if the SST flies too many free-spending, rich Americans to Europe, it could worsen our balance of payments faster than the sale of SST's to foreign airlines would help it.
 The deepest and most powerful reason is the mystique of technology. If we can go faster and higher, we as a people, or rather, President Johnson and other decision-makers in our society, seem to feel a compulsion to do so whether or not it is necessary, useful, or economically desirable. Technology is still regarded by the mountains are regarded by mountain climbers. Technology's own logic has to be obeyed simply "because it is there." The United States can never become a truly humane, civilized society until it learns to impose moral and social judgments upon the mindless momentum of technology. Until higher, self-conscious values are brought to bear, the United States is on an escalator headed it knows not where.—WILLIAM V. SHANNON IN COMMONWEALTH

Connecticut Yankee
 By A.H.O.

We have ventured to describe the 1967 General Assembly's passage of new legislation governing the state's relationship to drug addiction as a venture into the 20th century. It took the "civilized" view of the victim of the drug problem, classifying them as a patient in need of help rather than criminals in need of punishment. But we noted that the passage of such legislation was resisted by that 17th century part of us which thinks the law ought to be stern and whip people into the right kind of behavior for their own good.
 The same kind of division of sentiment, with the modernist "do-gooders" favoring policies of intelligent tolerance and understanding on the part of the law, but with the believers in old-fashioned moralities and punitive justice resenting every step toward softness, applied to a number of other bills in this 1967 session.
 What particularly distinguished this session was that the modern liberal view had the controlling majorities most of the time.
 Drug addicts are not the only state unfortunate who are to find that as a result of the 1967 session, the hand the state raises to them is less harsh and severe.
 Murderers are going to find this a different kind of state—a state in which their chance of getting the ultimate penalty through use of the insanity defense has been liberalized and broadened.
 Defense lawyers, doctors, psychiatrists, sociologists, and other professionals hold the opinion that one of the most enlightened things this session has done is to abolish the 19th century McNaghton Rule, with its one-way street question of whether a defendant could, at the time of commission of his crime, distinguish right from wrong. With that narrow limitation gone, the kind and variety of testimony, evidence and argument that can be made by the defense and its psychiatrist has been thrown wide open.
 The result is almost certain to be an increased use of the insanity defense in murder cases. This particular layman will reserve judgment on how good or bad the result will be for the state and for its society until he sees whether the new liberalization of law and procedure produces more uniformity of result than has been the history under the old code.
 This layman confesses that he considers there has to be some portion of insanity in almost every crime of violence. The disturbing thing, in the past, has been that the more obvious the insanity, the more likely the chair, while the insanity plea has seemed to work best for those least severely afflicted with mental illness. Perhaps, under the new rule, or lack of rule, the results will come out more evenly. We have an idea some prosecutors and judges, who believe in old-fashioned justice, have the despairing idea that the new rule may make it almost impossible for them to get any tougher verdict, than that of insanity.
 But whatever laymen, state attorneys, judges, or sociologists think, the change in the law is a softening of the hand of the state against murder. Like the other measures this session adopted in the sociological field, it was one which went forward into the 20th century, while raising some bitter nostalgia for the 17th.

Congress Asked To Review U.S. Stand in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas J. Meekill, R-Conn., asked today for a Congressional review of American's military commitment in South Vietnam.
 Meekill offered a resolution calling for a review of Congress' Gulf of Tonkin resolution of 1964, which endorsed President Johnson's actions in responding to North Vietnamese attacks on U.S. Naval vessels in the Gulf.
 It has been cited by the Administration as congressional endorsement for its policy in conducting the war.
 "Substantial doubt exists among members of Congress and the American public," Meekill said in a statement, "as to whether the Gulf of Tonkin resolution empowers the President to carry forward military operations in the current scope and magnitude in Southeast Asia, whether it requires modification in light of changing political and military conditions, and whether alternative legislative action is necessary."
 Meekill said he supports "all measures necessary for the United States to remain in Vietnam." But he said that America is involved in a "war of gradualism which, despite all the power we have brought to bear, has not succeeded in compelling the Communists to respect the territorial and national integrity of South Vietnam."

 Since this program started in 1948, for example, fully 40 per cent of the low-income families displaced by urban renewal programs have not been relocated in the rehabilitated area. They have been swept out, to other ghettos, and the places where they used to live now gleam with glass skyscrapers, shopping centers and, in many cases, new luxury housing.
 The trend, moreover, is distinctly unhealthy. From 1948 to 1964, 45.2 per cent of all urban renewal projects were residential. The balance commercial. For the last two years, the residential share has dropped to 38.3 per cent of the total—at the very time of desperate need for slum clearance.

Pat Bolduc Dead, Athlete, Newsman

Patrik J. Bolduc, 43, of 153 Brookfield St., a sports writer and former athlete, died last night at Manchester Memorial Hospital after an illness of eight months.

At the time of his death, he was the sports editor for the Hartford Courant. He served six years as assistant sports editor for The Herald, 1954-1960, before joining the Courant staff. Before his newspaper career, he had been employed at Hamilton Standard.

In athletics, Bolduc was outstanding as a player in baseball, softball and football, and also was an official in basketball and basketball.

In the sports writing field, he held several offices and was the past president of the Connecticut Sports Writers Alliance.

During World War II, Bolduc was a Navy gunner and received a citation for bravery under enemy fire.

Further details can be found on today's sports pages, where Herald Sports Editor Earl York has devoted a column in tribute to Bolduc.

He was born in Portland, Maine, July 17, 1924, a son of Alfred Bolduc and the late Cecelia Conroy Bolduc.

A resident of Manchester since 1941, he was a member of the Army & Navy Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and was a communicant of St. James Church.

He is survived by his father; his wife, Mrs. Catherine Kelen; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth, at home; three sisters, Mrs. Shirley Mazzotta and Mrs. Wanda, both of Manchester, and Mrs. Alvin White of Meriden; and three brothers, Robert, and three of Manchester and Albert of Lebanon.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 8:15 from the Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., at 9 o'clock at St. James Church. Burial will be in St. James Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tomorrow from 7 to 9 p.m.

WRC to Set Hearing Date On Lake Pollution Charge

The State Water Resources Commission has notified Bolton of a hearing on a charge that the town is allowing the discharge of polluted household wastes into Bolton Lake.

Previously, the commission had given Bolton a 60-day grace period to clean up the lake property. Warren Sumok, a deadline of Sept. 30 by which the problem should be corrected. This deadline will be postponed until sometime after the hearing.

According to Lawrence Schulman, senior sanitary engineer of the commission, when the hearing date is set both Sumok and Bolton will be notified.

Roson also is being prosecuted by the state under the Public Health Code in the Circuit Court in East Hartford.

He has entered a plea of guilty and asked for a jury trial.

The trial first was set for July 18, but was rescheduled for Aug. 24.

Charter Changes Considered Freer Borrowing Power Proposed for Directors

The Charter Revision Commission (CRC) is considering a charter change which would establish a $100,000 cut-off point at which the Board of Directors could issue bonds and notes without the voters' approval.

The proposal was submitted last night to the Board of Directors of the law firm of Day, Berry & Howard, the town's bond counsel. It was backed by Town Manager Robert Welts.

Atty. Russell and Welts said that the change would provide flexibility and would permit the town to borrow for projects which it thought were desirable without going to the expense of a referendum.

Welts said that designation of needed projects is a Board of Directors' policy decision and that the decision should be made by the assurance that the needed funds would be appropriated.

CRC member Harlan Taylor said that the proposed charter change would be re-revised by the voters.

Under the proposal, he said, the Board of Directors would be able to borrow in amounts of up to $100,000 several times a year without going to the voters, yet producing a total of no limit.

This proposal, and several others discussed last night, will be voted upon by the CRC at its next meeting, to be held in two weeks or less.

Among other charter changes proposed by Atty. Russell was one for clarifying a state ruling which prohibits out-of-town taxpayers from voting on financial referendum questions at times when officials are being elected.

Secretary of the Board of Directors, Robert Welts, said that the CRC has ruled that those taxpayers may vote only when the referendum is held at the same time as a special election.

A charter provision stating that the town regulations follow those recommended by the Board of Directors.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

The best way Mrs. Richard (Andrea) Marshall of 240 Lyndon St. knows of "to use up stale bread" is to make it into Bread Pudding Extraordinary, a recipe by her mother, a dietitian in the Providence (R.I.) School Lunch Department, developed.

Bread Pudding Extraordinary

1 cup brown sugar, loosely packed

4 slices buttered bread

3 eggs, slightly beaten

2 1/2 cups milk

nutmeg

Place loosely packed brown sugar in top of double boiler, which has water in the lower part of the boiler. Add the eggs, milk, and salt, and mix. Add the bread, mix the eggs, milk and a dash of salt and pour over bread cubes. Be especially careful not to disturb the brown sugar under the bread cubes. Make sure the bread is thoroughly soaked with egg mixture. Sprinkle generously with nutmeg until top is covered.

Cover pan and bring water in the lower half to boil. Boil slowly for 45 minutes, or until silver knife blade comes out clean when inserted in the pudding.

Serve pudding in dessert dishes, alternating brown sugar. Be especially careful not to disturb the brown sugar under the bread cubes. Make sure the bread is thoroughly soaked with egg mixture. Sprinkle generously with nutmeg until top is covered.

Mrs. Marshall says this is a "delicious and different bread pudding" which is rich and custardy.

She and her family came to Manchester last September from Warwick, R. I. Her husband is a member of the engineering firm of Automatic Sprinkler Corp. of America, and a member of NEPA. The couple has two children, Ann-Marie, 6, and Peter, 2.

Before coming to Manchester, Mrs. Marshall, who is interested in cosmetology, demonstrated cosmetics. She is employed part-time at the D and B store at the Manchester Shopping Park.

She is a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church and its St. Vincent's Guild, a member of the Newcomer's Club of the YWCA and Buckley School, P.T.A., and the Manchester Bowling, square dancing, sewing and quilting.

Now, if the vacancy is not filled, the Board of Directors itself, the Board of Selectmen must choose a replacement.

Wells recommended a charter change which would require a Board of Directors to set the salaries of selectmen and officials appointed by the Board.

At present, those recommendations are contained in the Board's tentative budget. Wells said that it should be a Board policy and not a manager's function.

Atty. Sheen said last night that a recommendation for a charter provision for a designated mill-rate for Capital Improvements is not needed.

The charter permits the action now, he said.

Placing it in the charter with a mandatory, fixed-rate would remove the flexibility, he said.

The Charter Revision Commission must report all of its recommendations at the October meeting of the Board of Directors.

The board then must hold a public hearing on the proposals within 30 days.

Following the public hearing, a maximum interval of almost five months is permitted by the State's Home Rule Act for changes in acceptance, rejection and again acceptance by the board and commission of each of the other recommendations.

Finally, the board may designate a referendum within a year with the election of the questions on the voting machines at a regular or special meeting.

In the event of a referendum at a regular election, a simple majority of the voters is needed for passage.

In the event of a referendum at a special election, a simple majority of the voters is required for passage.

Purses Stolen, Auto Raided

The thefts of three girls' pocketbooks containing about $15 and equipment from a car owned by Paul Dodge Pontiac Inc. were reported today by police.

The pocketbooks, owned by girls who work at Friendly Ice Cream at 435 Main St., were stolen from the restaurant sometime yesterday.

The owners were identified as Miss C. Jenack of Tyler Circle, Miss C. Selick of Stafford Springs and Miss Susan Mahoney of 19 Hamlin St., police said.

Victor Peterson, an employee of Friendly's told police they were in a room at the restaurant in the rear of the store about 5:30 p.m. when they started work and discovered their missing when they left about 11 p.m.

In the equipment theft, a tire and rim, four hubcaps and a side mirror were stolen from a 1967 Pontiac, parked in a lot on the north side of the car dealer, police said.

Police said the tire and rim and hubcaps were taken from a locked trunk.

Work Started On Weiss House

A $20,000 building permit was issued today to Town Manager Robert Welts, for an eight-room dwelling of colonial design at 71 N. Lakewood Circle.

The house will be built by the U & T Construction Co. of Manchester and work already has started on the foundation. The plans were drawn by U&T officials and Mr. and Mrs. Welts.

The manager said today that he expects to move his family to Manchester from Windsor within 90 days.

The 1 1/2-story frame dwelling will have 150 feet frontage on N. Lakewood Circle and will be on a lot 47 feet deep.

Welts bought the land in January from C. Elmore Watkins.

The ragged police count in the Hartford area has remained at zero for the past 10 days, according to a spokesman for the Connecticut State Police.

A count of seven or more is likely to produce any fever symptoms in a person sensitive to ragweed pollen, the spokesman explained.

Mrs. Marshall says this is a "delicious and different bread pudding" which is rich and custardy.

She and her family came to Manchester last September from Warwick, R. I. Her husband is a member of the engineering firm of Automatic Sprinkler Corp. of America, and a member of NEPA. The couple has two children, Ann-Marie, 6, and Peter, 2.

Before coming to Manchester, Mrs. Marshall, who is interested in cosmetology, demonstrated cosmetics. She is employed part-time at the D and B store at the Manchester Shopping Park.

She is a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church and its St. Vincent's Guild, a member of the Newcomer's Club of the YWCA and Buckley School, P.T.A., and the Manchester Bowling, square dancing, sewing and quilting.

Now, if the vacancy is not filled, the Board of Directors itself, the Board of Selectmen must choose a replacement.

Wells recommended a charter change which would require a Board of Directors to set the salaries of selectmen and officials appointed by the Board.

At present, those recommendations are contained in the Board's tentative budget. Wells said that it should be a Board policy and not a manager's function.

Atty. Sheen said last night that a recommendation for a charter provision for a designated mill-rate for Capital Improvements is not needed.

The charter permits the action now, he said.

Placing it in the charter with a mandatory, fixed-rate would remove the flexibility, he said.

The Charter Revision Commission must report all of its recommendations at the October meeting of the Board of Directors.

The board then must hold a public hearing on the proposals within 30 days.

Following the public hearing, a maximum interval of almost five months is permitted by the State's Home Rule Act for changes in acceptance, rejection and again acceptance by the board and commission of each of the other recommendations.

Finally, the board may designate a referendum within a year with the election of the questions on the voting machines at a regular or special meeting.

In the event of a referendum at a regular election, a simple majority of the voters is needed for passage.

In the event of a referendum at a special election, a simple majority of the voters is required for passage.

OUR FIRST RECORD IS "BLAST ME A COOL!"

BUZZ SAWYER

I... I WAS AFRAID OF IT, SON.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO?

I DON'T KNOW, PEPPER. I'D HOPE TO SEE YOU BACK IN MY MEMORY... I'M AT MY WITS' END.

THAT POOR BOY... SO NERVOUS... SO FULL OF LOVE... HOW CAN I EVER FORGET THE LOOK IN HIS EYES WHEN I SAID "I DON'T REMEMBER?"

MICKY FINN

CALAMINNE'S HAPPY TO GO, TOO?

YEAH, QUEENIE. SHE'S GOING TO FIND ALL HIS STILLS!

I SEE ONLY ONE BETTY-A BANK FAILURE AND THE LOSS OF ALL YOUR MONEY.

WELL, CAN YOU TRY TRYING FOR TRYINGS?

MR. ABERNATHY

I'M HAVING SUCH A GREAT TIME AT MR. ABERNATHY'S HOUSE I MAY STAY ON ANOTHER MONTH OR SO.

ON HELLO, QUEEN CHADWICK, NO, DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE KING... YES, HE'S JUST FINE... HE'S PLAYING GOLF SWANSEAHS... WHAT? JUST A MINUTE, I'LL CALL HIM TO THE PHONE...

TELL HER I JUST LEFT!

PRISCILLA'S POP

PRISCILLA'S REAL TALENT SCULPTURE!

DOES YOUR POP THINK ABOUT THIS?

NOT YET!

BLITZ! HE WINKS HE WAKES UP!

ROBIN MALONE

TINKY BRINGS HER CAR TO A SCREECHING HALT!

OH, MRS. A, I'Z-I'M SCORCHING HOT!

BUT IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR YOU, I-I MIGHT HAVE BEEN HURT... OUT THERE IN THE HIGHWAY?

IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR ME YOU HURT NOT HAVE BEEN HURT IN THERE... AT THE CRACKS!

DADDY DO THAT, MRS. A... HE'S ALWAYS DOING THAT THIS TIME HIS WEAPON HAPPENED TO BE YOU!

IT'S ALL NOW, TINKY.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE

WE GOTTA BE FAST! FATSO LOOKS LIKE HE'D BE CHAMP-ION HOOP CALLER, EVEN FROM THE BOTTOM OF A POOL.

OH, OH! THOSE CATS MAY WANT TO MAKE STATISTICS, BUT I'LL UNPLUG THEIR AMPLIFIER IF THEY TRY TO TAKE A BIT AT THE PARTY.

WELL, GOOD GOSH, PA, TOLD ME TO GET THE DRIVEWAY PATCHED UP TODAY. WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL ME YOU WERE GOING OUT TO THE EXTENT OF A "MAMA GOOD" ANY GOOD DRIVER COULD DO IT—LH—2 MEAL, BE—LH, GET TO TRY CAN I'LL TRY TO DIRECT YOU OUT!

HERES ARE MADE—NOT BORN

CARNIVAL

"And if you don't do something about my bill I'll bust you back to corporal!"

SHORT RIBS

I'M COMING IN TOO FAST!

PULL HER UP!

WHEN THAT WAS A CLOSE ONE.

THE WILLETS

YOU MEN ARE AT THE END OF YOUR ROPE! ONE DAY SOON, WOMANKIND WILL RULL THE EARTH!

SWELL! YOU CAN KEEP HOUSE WHILE US MEN-KIND GO OUT AND ORGANIZE THE SOLAR SYSTEM!

HANG ON TO THE END OF THE ROPE UNTIL WE GET ORGANIZED!

MORTY MEEKLE

I WONDER WHO'S DOING ALL THAT BARKING?

I KNOW IT ISN'T ME BECAUSE I'M OVER HERE...

AND THE BARKING IS OVER THERE, ON THE OTHER HAND, IF I'M REALLY OVER THERE...

FORGET IT! PAL—THAT WAY, LES MADNESS!

CAPTAIN EASY

BYOND THOSE BUTTES MUST BE THE LONG LAKE FORMED BY DAMMING THE COLORADO ABOVE GRAND CANYON.

YES, IN THIS VALLEY, I THOUGHT I HAD FOUND THE HIDE AWAY.

LATER, AS THEY ROSE ABOVE THE RIDGE VALLEY, I REALIZED I HAD BEEN FOUND.

NOW FANT WHIP OF THE WHIP, I'M GETTING CLOSER!

WELL, TRY TO TAKE THEM, BUT I'M GETTING CLOSER!

Shy of Quorum, Group Fails To Cut Quorum

The 21-member Citizens Advisory Committee could not conduct official business last night at its meeting at the Municipal Building because of the lack of a quorum. This presented a special anomaly because the committee usually has a quorum of 21 members present and they needed at least eleven for a majority vote. The first amendment to its by-laws would allow for official business to be conducted by a simple quorum of five of the 21 members. The second would permit the adoption of official actions by a majority vote of those present. Because the committee has
