White Priest Snared In Raid on Marchers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Police engulfed a line of 400 civil rights marchers Thursday night backing a 30-day ban on street demonstrations. At least 125 persons were arrested, including a white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. James Groppi.

Two persons were injured. There were indications that another march might be staged tonight.

"They can never get all of us," said one Negro nearly in tears after police scattered the marchers.

"Let's fill up the whole jail," said another. It was the second straight night in which police cracked down on an attempted demonstration by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Fifty-eight persons were arrested Wednesday night.

A police car was burned and its windshield smashed soon after the dispersal of Thursday night's march. Also among those arrested was Mrs. Vel Phillips, Milwaukee's only Negro member of the Milwaukee Common Council.

Virtually all those arrested were charged with violating Mayor Henry Maier's edict against street demonstrations. The ban was imposed Wednesday in an emergency proclamation prompted by open housing marches by the youth council into the predominantly white South Side.

Father Groppi was also charged with resisting arrest and battery. He was released in $1,000 bond. The priest said another march might be attempted tonight after a rally at St. Boniface church where he is assistant pastor.

A rally on the predominantly Negro north side was directed by Father Groppi at St. Boniface Thursday night as a prelude to a march that met police resistance within 10 minutes after it began.

"If there are," Father Groppi, his voice becoming hoarse with strain, "you should not be here tonight." The marchers lined up arm in arm in rows of three and headed toward downtown about a short while before.

Test Case

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy has become the focus of a test case over whether he has the right to wear a yarmulke, or religious skull cap, to class. The case involves Bernard P. White, an Orthodox Jewish youngster, who was barred from a summer typing course at Hillside High School for wearing a skull cap.

Russians Expel U.S. Diplomats

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today ordered the expulsion of the U.S. Embassy press attache and refused to allow the agricultural attache to return to his assignment here. The embassy said: "Neither of these men has done anything wrong." Americans suggested unofficially that the expulsion was in retaliation for the recent cancellation of visas for two Soviet diplomats in the United States in connection with a spy case.

Girl Repels Attacker, Crowd Just Watches

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Miss Ann Marie Davenport, 20, a red-haired practical nurse, was walking home from St. Francis Xavier Cabrini Hospital when it happened. She was only a block from her home. Half a dozen people were close by and countless motorists were passing, despite the midnight hour.

Chrysler Again Bars Contract Extension Bid

A ballot box in a Da Nang polling place is shown to North Dakota Gov. William Guy by a group of children today. Gov. Guy, one of the 22 U.S. election observers for Sunday's national elections in South Vietnam, was winding up a two-day inspection of preparations for the election in Da Nang and Hue.

But Implies No Lockout Is Planned

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. today declined for a second time to give the United Auto Workers Union a contract extension pledge which the UAW said would remove Chrysler as a possible strike target in new contract negotiations.

Chrysler, however, implied in a statement to the UAW that there would be no lockout of workers in its plants if there is no new contract by a Wednesday midnight deadline.

The development heightened speculation that UAW President Walter P. Reuther is left little alternative but to challenge one of the two biggest U.S. automakers, General Motors or Ford, in search of a new contract.

Final Rally Fails to Rouse Vietnamese Voter Interest

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnam's presidential candidates held their final joint campaign rally here today, but it appeared to generate only scant public interest with the voting just two days away.

It was estimated the crowd reached 3,000 persons at its peak. The numbers were hard to judge because of the normal dinner hour traffic moving around the main traffic circle at the site in front of the U.S. Joint Public Affairs Office in downtown Saigon.

LBJ Denies Division Over Viet Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today there are "no deep divisions" within the administration on Vietnam bombing policy. In fact, he said, he thinks there's more harmony and general agreement now than he has seen in the past.

Johnson, holding a news conference in his office on short notice, said he has authorized hitting six out of every seven bombing targets in North Vietnam that have been proposed by the military authorities.

Of 350 potential targets, the chief executive said, about 300 have been authorized. He said

Oregon's largest forest fire is endangering the Hoodoo Ski Bowl on the Santiam Pass in the central part of the state. The flames have been stopped short of the lodge so far but the fate of two lifts is still in doubt. Nasser Cites Need For Army Buildup

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)—Gamal Abdel Nasser told the final working session of the Arab summit conference today it was essential to rebuild the shattered Arab armies while seeking a political solution to the Middle East's problems.

In a 90-minute address, the Egyptian President said the Arabs may be compelled to resort to force to regain territories conquered by Israel in the June war if political means fail.

He stressed a military buildup was necessary so that the Arabs should speak from a position of strength. Thus Egypt joined Jordan as a dove—they lost most heavily in the war—while Syria remains the most hawklike of the Arab states, having boycotted the summit meeting. Syria lost only a sliver of land in the war.

In return for its stand, Egypt will benefit from a huge relief fund to be financed chiefly by the Arab oil states to help recover from the economic consequences of the war.

Kuwait will give $154 million Saudi Arabia. $140 million dollars, and Libya $84 million. Other Arab states will contribute a total of $14 million. The Arab heads of state denounced any Israeli plan to incorporate the Gaza Strip and the west bank of The River Jordan permanently in their territory. They heard a plea by the Palestine Liberation Organization leader, Ahmed Shukairy for support for guerrilla war in the area.

Teacher Problems Upset Back-to-School Routine

NEW YORK (AP)—Routine back-to-school days loom for most of the nation's youngsters, but in some cities local school disputes that have been quietly simmering through the summer may mar the opening of classes.

The discord centers variously on teachers' salaries, desegregation, the omnipresent teacher shortage of simply overcrowding. One Delaware high school principal says even his school's rest rooms are going to be jammed.

In New York City Thursday the teachers union rejected the Board of Education's latest salary offer but submitted a new proposal of its own as negotiations on a new contract moved to the critical stage.

More than 30,000 of the city's 50,000 classroom teachers have signed resignations which the United Federation of Teachers threatens to submit to the board next Monday.

Pinellas schools were the first in Florida to be closed since In Clearwater, Fla., school officials and Pinellas County teachers agreed Thursday on a 14-point program calling for higher salaries to clear the way for resumption of classes in public schools.

Nearly 2,000 teachers had submitted resignations late Wednesday on the first day of the new school year. The agreement calls for salary increases ranging from $440 a year for new teachers with a bachelor's degree to more than $1,000 for beginning teachers with doctorates.

Viet Elections Pledge Most Democracy Yet

Saigon (AP) — Despite pressures, next Sunday's elections in South Vietnam promise to be the most democratic this war-ravaged nation has ever known.

It will not be a completely free election. Parts of the country are under Communist control and voting there is impossible. In sections that are under government control but where Communist terrorists are trying to keep voters away, the process is not free.

Some of the candidates are government officials who are pushing the ticket of Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Even so, the campaign has evidence of fairness that are bright spots in South Vietnam's record to democracy.

For campaign expenses the government divided $400,000 among the 11 presidential tickets. It is spending $300,000 on a massive, nonpartisan get-out-the-vote campaign. Hardly a city tree lacks its posters and "Go Vote" signs.

About 80 per cent of South Vietnam's 700,000 men in uniform and a large portion of the 314,000 allied troops will attempt to keep Viet Cong terrorism to a minimum and secure as many of the 6,800 polling places as possible.

Most observers see the Thieu-Ky ticket as sure winners. Both say they expect to get 55 to 65 per cent of the vote and Ky speculates that this military ticket may get more than all the civilian candidates combined.

But others see a noticeable trend among voters for former Premier Tran Van Huong's ticket to a minimum and secure as many of the 6,800 polling places as possible.

Most observers see the Thieu-Ky ticket as sure winners. Both say they expect to get 55 to 65 per cent of the vote and Ky speculates that this military ticket may get more than all the civilian candidates combined.

Coventry Democrats Give Pledges

The Oct. 2 town election campaign is now well under way with release this week of the Democratic platform. Key plank in the platform is the pledge to fully support the charter, which also comes before voters next month.

Opening lead — four of clubs who may not like South's jump to four seats on the weak four-card suit, but the final contract was perfectly sound. When you're playing in a Mix 60 Team Championship, as South was on this occasion, you may have to scramble to keep your partner from playing the hand.

South's ruffed the second round of clubs in dummy. Reached his hand with the ace of spades and ruffed another club in dummy. Then he led the ace of hearts. The fall of the queen was ominous and was speedily confirmed when the dealer reportedly led a trump to his own king.

West's partner kept two trump tricks. South tried a diamond finesse. Unfortunately, South tried the wrong direction, losing to East's queen of diamonds. South was out.

South could have taken 10 tricks without a finesse. After leading a heart to the king, South should lead a spade to dummy's king and ruff a spade. He next leads a diamond to dummy's last spade and ruff a diamond. South is out.

West follows suit to all of these tricks, and South next leads the king of diamonds to collect his tenth trick. He gives up the last two tricks very easily.

South would be safe even if West had only three spades. West would overtrick declarer, and cash another trump trick, but then he would have only diamonds left and would have to give the last two tricks to South's king of diamonds.

Daily Question: As a dealer, you hold: Spades, K-3-2; Hearts, A-10-4; Diamonds, 8-4-3-2; Clubs, 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond. If partner bids a major suit, you can raise. If he bids one

LBJ Observers Hear Viet Fraud Charges

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson's observers toured polling places and interviewed candidates again today, then switched to the last rally of the campaign for South Vietnam's election Sunday.

Two of the observers, John A. Knight, publisher of Knight Newspapers, and Dave Sullivan, vice president of the AFL-CIO, interviewed candidates in Saigon and were presented what was described as evidence of fraud on the part of the government.

Another observer, Edward Munro, county commissioner of Seattle, Wash., went in an armed U.S. Army helicopter to the provincial capital of Bien Hoa, 10 miles north of Saigon. With him were two political experts, Walter R. Hjelte, North Dakota commissioner of highways, and Howard Proulx, professor of political science at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Five observers wound up a two-day inspection of preparations for the election in Da Nang and the old imperial capital of Hue in North Vietnam. This group included Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., North

Izvestia Analysis Right, California Hippie Says

Artman said American society has become corrupted by its riches and the Soviets could have hippies of their own because "they may become corrupted in the future when they become richer."

Izvestia's article praised the hippies for their "disinterested sharing due to a feeling of sympathy for their idea of fraternalism and the community."

Artman noted Sunday happenings sponsored by the Park Department in Berkeley had become "loyal family outings, turning the community into a 'new age' city."

"Protest means anger, anger means battles," Artman said. "We're trying to bring peace and a money tree from her eight children and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Beaulieu Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cormier of San Luis Obispo, Calif., Mrs. Grace Cormier of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. James M.C. Fisher of Arlington, Va. and Mrs. Ollie Theriault of Woodbridge.

Mike and I try to do up here."

Another welcome byproduct of such lobbying was, he suggested, confusion and the history of the handling of the same route already covered dome.

Family Together For Mom's 80th

For the first time in 33 years, the family of Mrs. Agnes Theriault of Madawaska, Maine, was reunited recently to celebrate her 80th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Beaulieu of 78 Niles Dr.

She received a mother's ring and a money tree from her eight children and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Beaulieu Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cormier of San Luis Obispo, Calif., Mrs. Grace Cormier of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. James M.C. Fisher of Arlington, Va. and Mrs. Ollie Theriault of Woodbridge.

LBJ Asked to Clear Senate Of Government Lobbyists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield has privately passed the word to President Johnson, other Senate members to "keep their people and senators don't distance" from the Senate.

Mansfield is understood to have acted after intense lobbying efforts by officials of the Pentagon and the Agency for International Development were sources say it was principally blamed for losing rather than due to the activities of people gaining votes in critical battleground states.

Mansfield said in an interview that he was scurrying around with the Senate, to advise the President. Mansfield "didn't want people from the agencies to lobby here. In other words, to keep their distance."

The problem, Mansfield suggested, was that officials concerned with legislation, dealing with their agencies' authority or where they were crawling out of the woodwork.

When lobbyists set up shop in the Capitol itself, Sen. Wayne Morse D-Ore., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, raged: "In room 104 of such lobbying was, he suggested, confusion and the history of the handling of the same route already covered dome."

Churches' Attitude on Sex Stems from So-Called Revolt

NEW YORK (AP) — In some devout households a leader's other's day, the Bible that rested on the living room shelf had certain sections of pages glued firmly together to protect the innocent from blasphemous passages.

But things have changed. Today, sex is an open subject in the churches, as it is in Scripture, with greatly increased attention being given to it in an effort to provide sound guidance in an age of warring sex influences and attitudes.

Modern culture has flooded youth "with sexual symbols and erotic stimuli that give a distorted view of sexuality in the meaning of a person's life," says the Rev. Dr. Richard E. Emerson, of Minneapolis, parish education director of the American Lutheran Church.

Outlining new sex education materials being issued by the denomination for use by the people, he said that present-day conditions have put an urgent obligation on churches to provide forthright teaching in that field.

American Roman Catholicism, through its Family Life Bureau of Washington, D.C., also recently disclosed plans for a wide-scale program of sex education.

"We have a particularly challenging, responsibility facing us," said the Rev. James McHugh, the bureau's director.

The Second Vatican Council strongly urged that every child be given a positive education in sexuality as part of the formative process by which he becomes increasingly aware of his personal identity and Christian responsibility," he added.

As major religious bodies, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, shift from the "hush-hush" to a plain spoken handling of the subject, many scholars say the old negative approach may have added to present-day chaos on the matter.

This was the conclusion of a World Council of Churches consultation three years ago. It said positive teaching about "the sexual dimension of life as part of God's creation" is a pressing duty of the churches.

That also was the direct approach of the Bible.

Scriptures are not "prayer or creative on sex," writes the Rev. William Luther White, Methodist chaplain at Illinois Wesleyan University, even though churches as times have tended to treat bodily functions as a degrading necessity.

"But this view comes not from the Bible, but from the Greek world," he added in the Methodist monthly, Together.

"In Biblical thought, the whole physical life of man is basically good. It is a gift of God to be used for His glory."

The move toward more forthright teaching about sex, under way in numerous Catholic dioceses and in Protestant publications and courses, was spurred by widespread indications of a crumbling of sexual standards—the so-called "sex revolution."

Dr. Gibson Winter, professor of ethics at the University of Chicago's Divinity School, has

South Windsor Afghanistan Official Views School's Data Equipment

South Windsor High School's automated bookkeeping program and an inspection of its data processing equipment was the occasion of a recent visit by Enayattullah Kargar, vocational educational director for the ministry of education of Afghanistan.

Kargar was accompanied by Dr. William Clynes, consultant for the Connecticut State Department of Education.

Dr. Clynes selected the town high school as part of Kargar's itinerary because of its modern bookkeeper training program. The school's pilot program in bookkeeper training was discussed by the visitors with Gordon Small, program coordinator, and Fred J. Caruso, principal of the high school.

Kargar noted that he was quite impressed with the physical facilities, the equipment used for instruction and the program in bookkeeper training which is offered to students at the high school.

The program in bookkeeper training is made possible through a continuing vocational education grant to the high school under the vocational educational act of 1963.

GOP Fireworks Display

South Windsor first fireworks display will be held by the Republican town committee Monday night. The event will coincide with the campaign "kick-off" for the Oct. 2 town elections.

The Hartford Police Athletic League (PAL) and Dymat Corp., town twirler and a color guard will also be present at the Labor Day celebration to be held at the Little League Field, Ayers and Nevins Rd., Wapping.

Both aerial and ground displays of fireworks will be used. Starting time is set for 7 p.m. Refreshments will be available.

Kindergarten Cards

William Perry, assistant superintendent of schools, said today the postal cards being mailed to all kindergarten children in South Windsor will be attending kindergarten classes starting Sept. 7.

The cards give the name of the school the child will be attending the name of the teacher for their class and bus number and session they will attend morning or afternoon.

All kindergarten students should bring the card with them

The laur of classical literature is an evergreen tree, laurus nobilis, native to Mediterranean region. Also known as bay and sweet bay, its leaves are sold as "bay leaves" for flavoring pickles, soups and meats.

Of course it can. So can you cut off a head or an arm or a hand and take it by itself. That's what happens to the dismemberment part.

The dismemberment will not, at once, harm any but you—gradually converting you into a selfish animal, incapable of loyalty and affection for another.

Church teaching materials, although dealing more openly with sex, stick consistently to the idea that intercourse outside wedlock is wrong and a violation of fidelity to future marriage partners.

Even a controversial study report last year to the British Council of Churches upheld that general view, although its sympathetic treatment of exceptions to it drew a rebuke from the council.

The council reaffirmed "as Christian the rule that sexual intercourse should be confined within the married state."

With the clamor of ideas on the subject from many sources, however, the churches have moved to teach its profounder impact and value.

Ahearn Repeats Proposals: A New Flag, Hike in Poll Pay

Alroyus Ahearn has made a selection in reply to First Selectman Richard Morris, re-asserting his suggestion that an up-to-date flag should be the selection to consider this recommendation.

Answering the first selectman's statement that no number was made of decreased pay for poll workers by the register, Ahearn says that Mrs. Mary Morgan, Democratic registrar, told him that she was the only registrar present at a meeting with the board of finance and that she had "informed both Morris and his secretary on numerous occasions that election officials were underpaid."

Ahearn moderated the Democratic primary held last week and subsequently wrote a letter to the press stating that election laws require the display of the American flag, and that the flag in the Community Hall contains only 48 stars, which he hoped was not an indication of that town government was also behind the times.

Morris replied that a flag was not legally necessary at local elections, but that the town office was available in the town office had anyone asked, and that Fair Sept. 4 and 5 had belonged to the George.

In answer to Ahearn's suggestion that election officials be paid more, he said that the suggestion should have been made when the board of finance was reviewing salaries, and that the registration of voters has not been completed.

Ahearn also stated that he would express his desire of publicity, that Ahearn should have come to the selectman and discussed the matter with him.

Both seek office

Ahearn, who lives on Lynnwood Dr. is seeking a two-year term on the board of education and is the publicity man on the Democratic Town Committee. Morris is up for re-election to a third term.

Ahearn says that "if Selectman Morris's newspaper reply to my letter to the Board of Selectmen is an indication of his ability as a town leader, I am afraid the people of Bolton are being shortchanged."

"One of the basic requirements of a responsible political leadership is an awareness of the needs of his community, and an open mind to suggestions from individual citizens. It is regrettable that Mr. Morris did not take my suggestions in the light they were given."

"As First Selectman, he must know that he is responsible for overall operation of the town government. Perhaps Mr. Morris considers that the display of an obsolete flag at Community Hall is a minor matter. I don't. The Community Hall is the central building for town functions and elections. Its flag should be up to date. I suggest that Mr. Morris find those four flags he says he purchased some years ago and display one of them in the Community Hall."

Ahearn says he also disagreed about the display of a flag at elections, that a flag should be displayed whether it is a legal requirement or not.

He continued that his "suggestion that future election officials be paid at a fair rate of compensation was also distorted out of all recognition by Mr. Morris. I resent the implication that I personally was seeking more money. I am interested in good government. I asked that future election officials be paid

Woman is Hurt In 2-Car Crash

Late yesterday afternoon, a two-car collision on Rt. 44A sent a woman to Manchester Memorial Hospital and will send a man to court.

Mrs. Blanche F. Goodchilde of Keeney Dr. was heading east on Rt. 44A when she stopped for a left turn into Keeney Dr. Anthony Jurvaty, 51, of Storrs Falls, stopped behind her and struck her car, police said.

Mrs. Goodchilde was taken to Manchester hospital complaining of whitish, police said. A hospital spokesman said she was X-rayed and treated.

Jurvaty was charged with reckless driving and is scheduled to appear in Manchester Circuit Court Sept. 25. Minor damage was done to both vehicles.

Russia Blocks Arctic Of U.S. Icebreakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union, possibly fearing the United States seeks to spy on a major Soviet nuclear test site, has touched off a diplomatic battle by banning passage of two American icebreakers through an Arctic strait.

The Soviet action drew a strong U.S. protest Thursday. But Washington canceled the planned Arctic excursion while claiming the Soviet blockade violated international sea law.

A State Department spokesman said the icebreakers Edisto and East Wind, ostensibly on the first leg of a scientific mission to circle the Arctic, were denied Soviet permission to pass through Villitsky Straits.

The ships originally had planned to travel through the straits, said State Department press officer Carl Barth, but were forced to seek an alternate route when blocked by massive ice jams. The area involved is within 500 miles of the North Pole.

Barth told newsmen the U.S. Embassy in Moscow notified the Soviets Aug. 24 of the planned change in course. He said the Soviet foreign ministry said then and again Aug. 28 that passage of the ships through the straits would be considered a violation of Soviet frontiers.

Observers noted that one of the islands in the area is Novaya Zemlya, a major Soviet atomic test site.

The issue is similar to that raised by Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, an incident that triggered the Israeli-Arab war.

The United States maintained that it is a right of innocent passage through straits linking high seas, even when the connecting channel is through national waters.

The strait, separating the Soviet mainland from the Soviet Severnaya Zemlya Islands, is about 24 miles wide at its narrowest point.

Said Barth: "Clearly the Soviet government by denying which respect from and abel U.S. vessels their rights under international law has acted to frustrate a useful scientific endeavor and thus to deprive the international scientific community of research data of considerable significance."

The two 268-foot Coast Guard icebreakers originally were scheduled to complete an 8,000-mile circumnavigation of the Arctic Ocean to gather oceanographic information unimpeded to date.

Vending machines of the present which accept silver and steel coins will be required which will refuse all "big" coins, except new nickel coinage — and still accept the old silver coins.

Tollard Town Road Aid Unchanged Under New State Formula

Tollard will receive $23,000 in state aid road funds for 1967, the same as last year, and $17,000 for 1968, according to a report from the state highway department.

The town's allotment stayed the same because of a change in the method of computing grants. The new method, based on road grants mainly for the cities, a provision of the change is that no town receive less than last year.

This year's grant is based on local population in the last census (1960) as well as road mileage. A town is allowed 400 a mile for the first 22 miles of improved roads with the remaining amount allotted on the basis of population rather than road mileage.

The new method of computation is the latest example of the state's growth problems. Although Ellington has about the same population as Tollard, it received more money under the new formula because its 1960 population was 5,580.

The statistics are included in a recent study by the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council.

The new regulations allow a town to draw its aid in cash, as well as in materials and advance as previously.

School Lunches

School lunches for all Tollard schools next week are: Wednesday - Tomato and rice soup, meat and lettuce sandwich, fruit cup; Thursday - orange juice, ravioli with meat sauce, buttered apple crisp; Friday - Tuna slaw on roll, cheese stick, tomato slice, potato chips, buttered carrots, meat cup; Saturday - Cost of the children's lunch is 30 cents. Milk is four cents. Adult lunches are 30 cents and milk is eight cents. School lunch director Evelyn Ostien has requested that children bring money for lunches the first three days of school.

School lunch tickets will be sold weekly, beginning Sept. 11. Tollard is one of the few towns in the state with a school lunch program that shows a profit at the end of the year. Its lunch prices, which have remained unchanged for many years, are among the lowest in area towns.

Mrs. Ostien has completed a six-week credit course in food and nutrition at the University of Connecticut branch in Hartford. The course covered the organization and administration of school lunch programs.

Town Considers Vacant Lot Law

Town Councilman John F. Shea is considering a proposed ordinance regarding the maintenance of vacant lots.

Shea said that he has reviewed the ordinance adopted by the Town of East Hartford which has two basic provisions - one, consisting of keeping the growth of vacant lots to a minimum, and the other, concerning the removal of rubbish.

The rubbish removal portion of the ordinance is quite reasonable and proper, but the provision may be somewhat stringent, said Shea.

Shea suggested that Town Manager Robert Wesel and a welcome from school board chairman David Cook.

An introduction of new teachers will be given by school principals Donald Parker of Meadowbrook, Vene Harding of Hicks and Howard Harvey of the superintendent's secretary, Mrs. Frances Emmick, will familiarize teachers with office procedures, followed by comments from Miss Geraldine Burke, president of the Tollard state "read grants."

Richard Olson, a data processing consultant, will describe attendance procedures which the teachers will report to their assigned schools for meetings with the principals.

Tollard Civil Defense Management Subject of 10-Town Course

A 10-week Civil Defense Management course will be held in Tollard for all area towns, CD Director David Cabanis announced yesterday.

The course will be a cooperative venture of the State office of Civil Defense, the University of Connecticut and the Tollard CD unit.

Classes will be held one evening a week in Town Hall beginning Sept. 28 from 7 to 10 p.m.

There will be no charge for the course. All materials will be provided by the university.

The course will be of interest to persons wishing to find out what CD is about at all levels, according to Cabanis. It will also be attended by area CD directors, deputy directors, department heads, staff members and persons having direct supervising of a segment of CD in government, industry, institutions or military service.

The course will offer instruction beneficial in everyday life and at the same time help the community to establish greater capabilities for CD and handling of problems relating to natural and other disasters, Cabanis said.

Those interested in attending were requested to contact Cabanis, who lives on Sherry Circle.

Co-Op Kindergartens

Parents of children enrolled in the Tollard Co-Operative Kindergarten will meet Wednesday night from 8 to 8:30 in the Congregational Church parlors.

The first tuition payment of $20 may be made at this time or mailed to the Tollard Co-Operative Kindergarten, P.O. Box 88, Tollard.

The kindergarten will open Sept. 11 and 12 with an orientation program. Classes will be held in the Religious Education Building of the Congregational church.

The first 11 names on the membership list for each session will attend the Sept. 11 orientation session, with the second 11 names on each list attending the Sept. 12 meeting.

Each child should be accompanied by a parent or guardian. The orientation fee is $2.00.

Record Low

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) - Connecticut got a preview of summer today as the temperature dipped to 48 degrees, a record low for the date.

The U.S. Weather Bureau recorded the low at 6 a.m. The previous low for Sept. 1 was 47 in 1963.

Reagan Loses Tuition Bid For California Universities

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Gov. Ronald Reagan has lost by a 2-1 margin his long battle to have the state board of regents impose tuition at California's universities.

Reagan proposed a general "charge" to be paid by all students other than nonresident students. Also specified is that funds will be used partly for student loans and grants and to secure new professors.

The amount of the charge and when it goes into effect were left blank to be filled in at subsequent regent meetings.

Reagan told a news conference that he anticipates the charge will be more than taken up and will begin in the 1968-69 fiscal year. He said it would be up to the committee to determine the exact amount.

He said his administration next would press the legislature for an increase in student charges at the 19-campus state college system.

And, in what the antiunion forces led by Unruh termed "sheer total hypocrisy," the regents voted to call the projected new assessment on students a "charge" rather than "tuition."

The regents adopted a policy Wednesday that a special regent committee shall determine a "charge" to be paid by all students other than nonresident students. Also specified is that funds will be used partly for student loans and grants and to secure new professors.

3 Seized Barb Idea

DEKALB, Ill. - The three developers of modern barb wire got the idea from a primitive form of cattle-raiding wire they saw at a county fair here in 1872. Within a decade the wire was in widespread use throughout the cattle country of the West and Southwest.

SOUNDS FISHY

Back in Biblical days, fishermen on the Sea of Galilee used torches to attract fish to their boats at night. Today commercial fishermen use the same technique using mercury lamps - the type that illuminates many American streets.

Because herring sleep on the bottom of the sea in daylight, commercial fishing is done after dark when they rise to the surface to feed. One fisherman increased his catch ten-fold with the help of the lamps.

U.S. Steel Rejects LBJ Bid; Orders Third Monthly Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp., rejecting a Johnson administration plea for price restraints, has ordered its third steel price increase within a month.

Just hours after Gardner Ackley, the President's top economic advisor, sent telegrams Thursday to steel producers asking them to hold off on further price boosts, U. S. Steel raised the price of its bar products 1.8 per cent.

The firm is the nation's top steel producer.

The increase, effective next Thursday, was identical to one announced Wednesday by Republic Steel, the nation's second producer. The increases, covering 16 per cent of industry-wide shipments, total $3 and $4 a ton on various bar products.

Steel bars are used in a variety of end products, ranging from industrial fasteners to railroad car axles. Other major steel products had no comment on Ackley's telegram, but said they were studying the new price hikes.

Ackley's bid statement, said that with price increases already made, with expanding volumes and with new and modern plants and equipment there is every reason to expect improved earnings.

The attack was the first by the council on any industrial price increase since last Jan. 12 when it said the national interest was "poorly served" by an aluminum price hike.

Since then the council has worked behind the scenes in its attempt to hold the price line.

But the council chairman said steel is the nation's most important industrial material and a general stability of industrial prices is difficult to achieve if steel prices increase.

Commenting on other industries, he said the recent wage settlement in the rubber industry "clearly out of line" but said tire producers' requests for price increases were more than the added cost of the wage settlement.

"Only if business and labor exercise unusual restraint in price decisions and wage settlements can we have any hope of pursuing a price stability in the year ahead," Ackley said.

THE TIES THAT BIND TOKYO (AP)—The president of Japan Uniform Center says people who wear neckties don't like to work. He claims they wear them to conform to society.

A major Japanese newspaper, the Yomiuri Shimbun, interviewed Wajiro Kon on neckties and their introduction to Japan from the west.

Kon was quoted as explaining: "The necktie is worn by those who have no desire to work. The tie is a joke that restricts freedom of movement and causes labor efficiency to drop."

He did not elaborate on how a tie for work was linked to the tie.

Church Official Says No Constitutional Issue Involved in Busing Plan

HARTFORD (AP)—The constitutional separation of church and state is not jeopardized by participation of Roman Catholic schools in Hartford's busing program, a church official said Thursday.

The Very Rev. James A. Connelly, superintendent of schools in the Archdiocese of Hartford, said there is no constitutional issue involved.

"We want to help—that's all," said Monsignor Connelly.

The church proposed to accept some 80 public school children from Hartford's predominantly Negro North End at five parochial schools in the suburbs as an adjunct to the state-sponsored "Project Concern," which last

Expert Says Los Angeles Faces Pollution Catastrophe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An air pollution expert says Los Angeles residents, choking and blinking after the worst smog in the city's history, face "a major catastrophe."

To help prevent complete air contamination, he said, car emissions must be greatly reduced and anti-smog laws more rigidly enforced.

A fire-stage alert is recorded when the smog reaches 50. On County air pollution control officials said the smog on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday was the worst concentration of smog in more than a decade.

Smogging temperatures accompanied the smog—up to 113 in and lung congestion poured into the fairgrounds section and the second highest alert of all Thursday in Los Angeles broke this week as the smog reached 50. Smog alerts were issued the record of 101 for the date, the county health department Air conditioner, sprinkler

Renewal Project Contract Signed

With some anxiety but little fanfare, the contract for the redevelopment project in Rockville Center was signed last night by Val Frevedini, president of the Alco Development Co. of Meriden, and Lester J. Baum, chairman of the Vernon Redevelopment Commission.

Last night was the last day the commission gave Frevedini the contract before the bidders for the project would be considered. Lawyers for Alco and the commission have been ironing out details in the contract for the past month.

Robert DuBeau, commission chairman, said the major changes included more reasonable building plans and the requirement that the project be completed by the end of the year.

The signing of the contract appears to mean the commission has finally completed its work on the project. The contract will be signed by the commission members, Mrs. Ruth Ventura, Joseph Novak, Richard Schotta and James McCarthy.

Also present were Mrs. Betty Lutz, executive director and Atty. Charles Karantam, counsel for Alco. Samuel DeCicco and Joseph Stanio accompanied Frevedini and are associated with Alco.

Mansfield Disagrees

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of investigating senators pressed for a major intensification of the air war against North Vietnam—but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the bombing already is "close to the point of saturation in terms of rational purpose."

"There is a strong suggestion, moreover," said Mansfield, "that to go much further would be meaningless except in the context of the barbarism of total war on the entire civilian population—a bombing back into the stone age."

The demand of the Senate military preparatory subcommittee for a bombing step-up would include air raids on Communist port of Haiphong added an angry new dimension to congressional debate on the Vietnam war.

Mansfield answered the Thursday report in advance with a strongly worded defense of the policy pursued by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and President Johnson.

He said later in an interview he stood by that Senate speech as his answer to the pressure for more bombing—and to criticism of McNamara studding the subcommittee report.

The Pentagon said it would have no comment on the report hastened into print by the three-week investigation of administration policy in the air war.

One of its key passages: "The subcommittee is of the opinion that we cannot, in good conscience, ask our ground forces to continue their fight in South Vietnam unless we are prepared to press the air war in the North in the most effective way possible. This requires closing the Port of Haiphong, isolating it from the rest of the country, striking all meaningful targets with a military significance, and increasing the interdiction of the lines of communication from Red China."

"What is needed now is the hard decision to do whatever is necessary, take the risks that have to be taken, and apply the force that is required to see the job through," the report said.

It acknowledged these risks include the possibility of conflict with Communist China or the Soviet Union.

But the panel, advocating action against Haiphong, said that possibility "does not justify the Secretary (McNamara) in taking the position that closing or neutralizing this vital port is unimportant from a military standpoint, a position which is entirely at odds with the unanimous judgment of all of our military experts."

Mansfield praised McNamara and said "attacks on the integrity of the Pentagon chief are in reality attacks on President Johnson."

Through These Doors . . .

The Red Cross

Through the door at 237 E. Center St. the telephone could be heard ringing in the first hours of a day early in the recent month of May. The Manchester office of the Red Cross was being notified of a fire in a large frame building on the north side of town. All nine of the families residing on the second and third floors were told to escape with only those clothes which they could quickly don.

The Red Cross responded immediately with offers of shelter, clothing and food and later needed with additional emergency needs. Throughout the year two other fires created a similar need for the Red Cross Emergency Relief Program.

The work of the Red Cross here as well as everywhere is based on concern for the health, safety and well-being of all peoples. The Red Cross is the officially designated channel of most of the nation's Red Cross chapters and their families at home. Last year, 291 cases involved assistance to servicemen or to veterans were handled. Currently, there are an estimated 376 cases involving women in our Armed Forces from this community.

The Red Cross Blood Program provides blood for the sick and injured at Manchester Hospital and in all Connecticut hospitals—without charge for the blood used in service. Its Motor Corps makes emergency deliveries of blood from nearby hospitals to Manchester's hospital even if the call happens in the middle of the night.

In 1966, an urgent wire from the National American Red Cross to the residents of Manchester requesting help for the victims of the great California earthquake was the catalyst in establishing a branch here of the Hartford Chapter of the Red Cross. When World War I broke out, and 1,200 men and women of that area were in need of medical attention, the need for a Manchester chapter became apparent, and this chapter was formed on Oct. 9.

The Red Cross is one of the 13 agencies depending on the success of the united appeal of the Manchester United Fund whose campaign will start on Oct. 9.

Two Railroads Assist NHRR By Lending $25 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—An offer of help to the New Haven Railroad—in the form of a loan of up to $25 million—has come from the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads.

The two big railroads, whose proposed merger would include the New Haven, proposed the loan Thursday in a brief they filed with the U.S. District Court. The loan would be used to sustain the New Haven's cash position pending the bankruptcy railroad's inclusion in a merged Penn-Central system.

The Penn and New York Central said the loan proposed would be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is being suggested in lieu of a lease arrangement ordered by the ICC to be carried out by Aug. 31. The lease between the New Haven and the Penn and Central would guarantee continued service until the merger is consummated.

The brief says the lease is "only a stop-gap measure."

"Penn and Central, believing that a lease is impractical and not possible of accomplishment in time to save New Haven, will suggest an alternative to the commission whereby the Penn-Central will extend financial assistance to the New Haven to the extent of $25 million or such portion of that amount as may be necessary to sustain its cash position pending inclusion."

"This proposal, which requires the apprehension of Judge Robert P. Anderson and the commission that the New Haven may not be able to survive its approaching critical cash problem and should accomplish the inclusion sought by the commission's Aug. 1 order of the lease arrangement."

The commission has found that it is in the public interest to continue the passenger and freight operations of the New Haven. The loan contemplated, in lieu of the lease suggested, is reasonably calculated to accomplish this purpose," it brief declared.

Spokesmen for the Connecticut Transportation Authority who retained copies of the brief, said they were "rejoiced" by the new proposal.

Neither Executive Director Samuel Kanell nor his deputy William Lynch, provided details of the loan proposal—where the repayment money would come from and who would pay. They said they awaited with interest a full explanation from the Penn and Central.

The CTA would be in a position to provide some of the money under existing legislation.

The New Haven was expected to file its answer to the ICC plan Friday.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania industrialist Milton Shapp is calling for a full-scale investigation into the New Haven's financial condition.

Shapp, in a petition to the ICC,

Better Songs Being Sought For Carnival

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Antonio Carlos Jobim and Vinícius de Moraes composers of "The Girl from Ipanema," are leading a movement of Brazilian bossa nova musicians towards what they call revival of a "true Carnival."

The movement aims to renew the style of compositions to be sung during the four-day festival. The composers also want to better the song quality, very poor during the last few years.

Carnival is Brazil's most popular party, and thousands of light songs are composed every year specifically to be sung by merry-makers during the street dancing and ballads.

"But the so-called Carnival composers, reasoning that Carnival songs should be easy for people to sing, have been simplifying them too much and making them totally worthless," says Vinícius de Moraes.

"Some of them are even having their songs in obscenities as a way of attracting attention," he continues. "This is exactly what we are trying to avoid," he adds.

After the "clear" writers had carried on a long struggle against Carnival disc jockeys, some of them partners of dirty-song composers, they created the movement, recruiting some of the most important names in modern Brazilian music.

Ilya G. Ehrenburg Dies; Prominent Soviet Writer

MOSCOW (AP)—Ilya G. Ehrenburg, for years one of the Soviet Union's most prominent and most controversial writers, died Thursday night of a heart attack, the Soviet Union's Writers' Union announced.

Ehrenburg, 76, had suffered a heart attack about 10 days ago. His condition deteriorated steadily.

He died at his home in Moscow, friends reported.

The funeral was expected to be held Monday.

At the time of his death, Ehrenburg generally was regarded as a liberal in the constant struggle between Stalinists and Liberals over the degree of realism permitted in Soviet writings.

But earlier, the Jewish writer helped rally Soviet Jews to support Stalin during World War II. Then he survived Stalin's last round of purges, which virtually wiped out the Jewish cultural leader were killed.

Ehrenburg's 1961 novel "The Thaw" was one of the first public signs that Stalin's system was breaking up after the dictator's death.

Some critics have suggested that Ehrenburg had a talent for moving just ahead of trends, and this novel was the forerunner of many post-Stalinist works criticizing the old system.

Ehrenburg recently published six volumes of memoirs. In one he contended that many prominent people knew of Stalin's crimes as they were being committed. This stirred angry denials.

Early this year Ehrenburg said he was working on a seventh volume of memoirs covering the years 1938-44.

Ehrenburg was one of 63 writers who petitioned the Soviet Communist party last year to release imprisoned writers Andrei D. Sinyavsky and Yuli M. Daniel.

The 63 writers, who signed as the "Sixty-three" for the two artists who had published abroad works found by a Soviet court to be "anti-Soviet."

When the writers' union held a Congress last May in an atmosphere of stern party control of culture and efforts to avoid public controversy, Ehrenburg ducked out to Italy.

For this he was attacked at the congress by standard-bearer of Stalinist attitudes among Soviet writers, Nobel Prize winner Mikhail Sholokhov.

As a young poet and prose writer, Ehrenburg moved to Paris before the Bolshevik Revolution. He was a war correspondent in France during World

Daisy Harriman Dies; Top-Level Democrat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. J. Bordley (Daisy) Harriman, who died last night of a heart attack, was a well-known figure in the Democratic Party and was the wife of a prominent diplomat.

Mrs. Harriman died in her sleep Thursday night in her Georgetown home, surrounded by the members of a crowded life as socialite, campaign worker, crusader for social rights and pioneer woman diplomat.

"I hope," she once told an interviewer after detailing her life story, "I made it sound electric, for it was."

Born Florence Jaffray Hurst, the daughter of a wealthy British ship owner, she dubbed herself "Daisy" as a child because of her fondness for a daisy-trimmed hat.

Her marriage at 19 to a New York banker who was second cousin to W. Averell Harriman, now deputy secretary of state, she helped establish the Colony Club, New York City's first social club devoted exclusively to women.

Her life was soon to take a different course.

She met Franklin D. Roosevelt when a group of New Yorkers set up milk stations for the poor. Soon she was campaigning for certified milk, against child labor and helping to establish a rest farm for tubercular patients.

In 1937, President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed her minister to Norway. She was the second woman to reach that rank.

Alameda. And the airport reported to the San Mateo County sheriff's office.

The two official reports didn't get together until 11 days after Mrs. Harriman's death.

Three years later, war again came to Europe and Mrs. Harriman accompanied the world with her husband to the State Department that Germans had invaded Nor-

Pollen a Tool In Archaeology

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Pollen, the tiny "seeds" produced by all flowering plants, has become an important tool for archaeological research in the Museum of New Mexico's research laboratory.

Sometimes 100 million years old, pollen is found in archaeological digs on just about every level.

After treating these microscopic specks, the researcher can identify the parent plant and the climate it grew in.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that although record low temperatures were set in many cities during August, a change to warmer weather appeared in sight at least for the first few days of September.

There is a chance of showers in the Pacific Northwest, scorched by abnormally high temperatures and virtually no rain along the coast. In many sections, there appeared a possibility of some relief from the heat. But the outlook for re-orientation is one of an array of methods for fixing the age of artifacts and ruins.

There also may come a time when the study of climatic patterns will let man chart future climatic conditions.

Tank Full of Steer

TANK FULL OF STEER
SEBOKONK, Mass. (AP)—The water in Edward J. McMahon's house stopped running Thursday so he went out to his backwater tank to investigate.

He found a 200-pound steer looking in from an 8-foot hole next to the tank.

The steer had wandered off from a neighbor's property, fallen through wooden boards covering the excavation. The fall broke off a pressure regulator, regulating the flow of water to the house.

Four firefighters worked for an hour and a half to pull out the steer with heavy ropes.

The steer was uninjured. "He's in fine health," he's eating with several fires out of control. The dry conditions have led to

RETURN OF JEWELS
REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—A jewelry case containing $125,000 in family heirlooms was lost, found and turned in at the San Francisco International Airport Aug. 17.

The owner didn't get it back until last Monday.

The trouble was that Mrs. Dora J. Mallet, 28, reported the loss to police in her home city of Alameda. And the airport reported to the San Mateo County sheriff's office.

Fenway Not Friendly In Red Sox Return

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, still clinging precariously to first place despite being stymied for the second time in a row by rookie Cisco Carlos, hoped to regain their hitting touch tonight in the second game of their four-game series with Chicago.

Carlos' brilliant pitching for the first six innings, some top-notch relief work, and the home run power of Tommie Agee and Pete Ward combined to give the Sox a 4-2 victory in the first game Thursday night.

The decision coupled with the Sox's 10-9 victory over Baltimore yesterday tightened the American League race. Boston now leads the Twins by only two percentage points and half a game, with the third place Detroit Tigers only one game and the fourth place White Sox now just 1 1/2 games away.

Rookie Pitcher in One-Hitter Lifted 'Quick Hook' Stanky Wastes Little Time

NEW YORK (AP)—The way Eddie Stanky has been putting his "quick hook" into operation, the only way Francisco Carpio is going to complete a game is by throwing a no-hitter.

Stanky allowed three runs, White Sox rookie Carlos set Boston down with a hit, but then Carpio pitched a no-hitter for the rest of the game.

Stanky, who retired six batters in a row to nail down the victory, pitched for more than 30 years following the fortunes of the Boston Red Sox, he now works for all 14 A.L. clubs.

Stanky, who has been a coach since 1954, said he was "in" in the National League race.

Bob Hollock is a former baseball writer who now turns out occasional copy in a former position as director of publicity for the American League. White Hollock for more than 30 years followed the fortunes of the Boston Red Sox, he now works for all 14 A.L. clubs.

Colts Nip Redskins, Pro Slate

NEW YORK (AP)—They were the Washington Redskins, and they were going for a perfect record, winners of three preseason games for the first time in 17 years, and on their home field, D.C. Stadium, with 47,000 spectators looking on.

It happened—the head-on collision with that seemingly ridiculous preseason jinx that Baltimore holds over the Redskins, the Colts 17-16.

"That made it nine years in a row that the Redskins have won the National Football League championship a year ago. Most of the time, it's the Colts who win, but the Redskins have won the last two years, the count is Colts 13, Redskins 2.

Record 60 Leagues At Holiday Lanes

All set and ready for the greatest play in its eighth season with a record number of leagues all signed in the Holiday Lanes. Paul Correnti, lane manager, reported yesterday that 60 leagues, new and old-time high, would start during Tuesday night.

The first league to sign was the 1967-68 league season at the 32-bed house.

The best previous high league figure was 57 in 1965-66.

All the leagues have been insured and reconducted by American Machine and Foundry staffers and the building has undergone a complete new paint job, both inside and out. New wall to wall carpeting has also been installed to brighten up the atmosphere.

Operating hours will remain the same from 9 a.m. to 1 a.m., Monday through Saturday and from 2 p.m. to midnight on Sunday.

Bam Was Enough for Houston Astros Dragging Cepeda Responds

NEW YORK (AP)—It's a good thing for the rest of the National League that St. Louis' Orlando Cepeda isn't feeling very chipper.

"I'm dragging," Cepeda complained. "You get tired about now. You can't keep going bam, bam, bam."

The Cepeda bam was enough for the Houston Astros Thursday night.

The first slugger smashed his 24th homer, walked twice, stole a base and hit a sacrifice fly in the Cardinals' 5-1 victory over the Astros.

Cepeda scored two runs and drove two more, running his major league leading RBI total to 194. He is batting .344, six points less than Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, who lagged three hits in the Pirates' 6-4 victory over Philadelphia.

Record $2,800 Purse For Manchester Open

By EARL YOST

Aim of the professional golfers in the 21st annual Tournament Sunday and Manchester Country Club will be a top prize of $750.

The prize list for the $2,800, the largest ever, with the pros competing for two out of $1,000 for the merchandise. Sunday play will be limited to amateurs while Monday is for pros.

Among the flag contenders, California's Miltie Rojas and Illinois' and Chicago's Bob Locker have been the busiest among the freshmen. Rojas is the favorite for the Freeman's Year title. After his first appearance, he showed a record of nine wins and 18 losses. He also has a shot at the American League record for the most games in one season by a gravy.

Life Savers

Besides the aforementioned relief acts of today, the Red Sox wouldn't be where they are today if it wasn't for John Wyatt and Jose Santiago in particular.

When Sparky Laine came along to join Wyatt, Santiago went back as a starting pitcher in Manager Dick Williams' plan. Wyatt had a dozen saves and six wins in his first 41 appearances and Santiago showed an average of almost one save every two games the start of the season.

At this point, Baltimore still hasn't given up a knockout since March 12. Emerson said Thursday after opening his drive for a third U.S. title with a straight set victory over France, "I'd like to settle down, most likely back home in Britain. It's the 21st in November and I've played a lot of tournament tennis."

Emerson Trophy Hunting

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Roy Emerson is a trophy hunting again at the U.S. National Singles Championships, but the Australian's days as a professional are over.

Three field goals by Lou M. Boros, the world-wide top-ranked player, were the only ones in the second round.

At this point, Emerson still hasn't given up a knockout since March 12. Emerson said Thursday after opening his drive for a third U.S. title with a straight set victory over France, "I'd like to settle down, most likely back home in Britain. It's the 21st in November and I've played a lot of tournament tennis."

WOODBRIDGE, Ont. (AP)—The North American golf tour, not many men can earn up to $120,000 a year, have plenty of time to spend with their family and enjoy a hobby, but Emerson, seeded second in the tournament he won in 1961 and 1964, whipped Governor Franco's 19-year-old prodigy, 6-4, 7-5 to lead a quartet of seeded players into the second round.

There are a few openings, Correnti said, both teams and individuals. Anyone interested may contact the control desk for further information.

Ray Washburn won his ninth game for the Cardinals with late-inning heroics on Monday night.

Jiminy Glick accounted for Houston's only run with his 32nd homer.

Cepeda's homer came in the third inning, against loser Bob Brinkley, 5-3. The big slugger hit his sacrifice fly in the two-run wrapup eighth.

Mets, Cubs Start First Of Two Bills

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Mets and Chicago Cubs will play the first of two consecutive games at the Polo Grounds in New York City on Monday.

The game drew only 5,448 spectators, some of whom maintained that the Yankees are a better buy than the Mets.

However, the attendance lifted the club over the million mark.
