Tourists Ignore Warnings

Cuddly, Begging Grizzly Is Still a Wild Animal

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP) — The beggar beside the road in Yellowstone National Park may have a pink ribbon in one ear, a pink ribbon in the other and a pink spot on his rump. He may look cuddly, adorable and fun-loving.

But he isn't. He's a wild animal—capable of chewing off a chunk of arm or taking a swipe at a face, with his long, sharp claws. But thousands of tourists each year ignore warnings and feed and tease the bears which line the park highways seeking handouts. And each year about 50 to 100 tourists wind up with bear claw scratches or bear teeth marks on their face and hands.

It's best several years since any tourist has been mauled sufficiently to require hospitalization, but just south of the park near Ashton, Idaho, a man was severely mauled last spring. Two girl employees were attacked and killed by grizzly bears in Glacier National Park in Montana this summer. But Yellowstone rangers said the tourists still aren't heeding their constant warning to stay away from the 400 to 450 black bears which roam the park.

Sept. 25 Is Set For Hearing on NRR's Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hearing on how best to keep the New Haven Railroad running until it becomes part of the merged Penn-Central system has been set for Sept. 25 by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The ICC wants to hear the pros and cons of a proposed $25 million loan by the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads and of a leasing arrangement which the commission itself proposed.

The Pennsylvania and the Central have expressed opposition to the lease idea, saying it would not be practical. The loan was proposed by the Pennsylvania and the Central on Sept. 1 as an alternative to the ICC's lease proposal, which the commission had put forward on Aug. 1.

Other ways to keep the bankrupt New Haven going will also be discussed at the Sept. 25 hearing, the ICC said Tuesday. Meanwhile, another federal court hearing on the Penn-Central merger is set for next Monday before a three-judge panel in New York City. A number of smaller Eastern railroads have been fighting the merger, claiming that the plan approved last year by the ICC does not sufficiently protect them from the competitive advantages that a merged Penn-Central system would have.

There's not much association between Yellowstone's 175 to 225 grizzlies and the black bear population, estimated at 400 to 450. The grizzlies have a few camp grounds staked out which they periodically raid, but generally stay in the back country. The black bears—most of which are either brown or cinnamon in color despite their name—spend most of the summer around the highways and campgrounds.

But when the first flakes of snow fall in early September, and the tourists head for home, they disperse into the upper reaches of the park. William Barmore, wildlife biologist for the U.S. Park Service, said there is no apparent truth to rumors that the bear's summer diet of crackers, cookies and bread from the rule-breaking tourists is harmful. Barmore explained that bears—like humans—eat a variety of food and that their natural diet in the fall "builds up their weight to withstand the rigorous winter."

Powell Given Choice Suite

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a senior member of the House, Adam Clayton Powell was given a choice office in the new Rayburn Office Building, a lavish corner suite coveted by many other congressmen.

Adorning the walls were autographed photographs from presidents who expressed gratitude for his work as chairman of the House, Education and Labor Committee. There were big mounted marlin and sailfish he hooked himself and a lot of plaques citing his achievements.

But the House refused to seat Powell last March, citing alleged financial misconduct, and he is seeking court action to be readmitted. Powell, a veteran of 31 terms, visited the office Monday while in town to appear before a federal grand jury investigating his affairs.

The Boston Strangler

DeSalvo Seen Likely Escaping Prosecution

BOSTON (AP) — Albert DeSalvo, 38, the subject of a nationwide manhunt for the Boston Strangler, is likely to escape prosecution in the slaying of 18 women in the East-Massachusetts area around Boston.

Richardson said Tuesday he has collected evidence in the deaths of 15 women. Eleven of them died of strangulation, the others from other causes.

Richardson said he was satisfied that statements made by DeSalvo "would not support an indictment."

"Such evidence as does exist," he said, "does not foreclose the possibility that more than one individual was involved. This is the possibility that has to be kept open before the evidence is conclusive."

On the other hand, Richardson added, such evidence as the state has gathered would not allow prosecution of anyone but DeSalvo.

Richardson had opened the special office with six assistants, Donald E. Conn, in charge.

It was Conn who prosecuted DeSalvo last winter on indictments charging him with sexual assaults and robbery of four greater Boston women. These charges were not connected with the stranglings.

DeSalvo was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. His counsel, F. Lee Bailey, has an appeal pending and expects a hearing next month.

DeSalvo meanwhile is facing another trial in Plymouth Superior Court on charges of escape from the Bridgewater State Hospital where he was confined.

He and two other men escaped last February. The other two were recaptured the same day, and DeSalvo a day later.

Off-the-Screen Glamour 'In' Again in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Edith Piaf at a cocktail party in black leather pants, jacket, boots and cap. But that sort of thing, Edith says, is now out.

To honor Hollywood's best dressed actors and actresses the Costume Designers Guild, of which Miss Head is president, holds its second annual awards ball Sept. 29. Proceeds at $100 per person—and last year's event attracted 2,000—benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

In her bungalow office at Universal Studios, Miss Head, who hangs and horn-rimmed spectacles are almost a Holly-wood trademark, was asked if "It has been decades that the proverbial doorman, except for a small group of extraordinarily well-dressed women, not all of them actresses."

"Now the glamour look of Hollywood has become impor- tant, again. Why? Because of a renaissance of glamour and beauty in many of our new motion pictures for the first time in a decade. Year after year, we've had documentary, stark dresses on clothes hangers. I'll bet you 100-to-1 I could guess whose they were."

Last year's winners of the costume designers' awards for projecting a star image off-screen included: Rex Harrison—"His clothes look casual, elegant but like a dress of screen. Miss Head said, mentioning Steve McQueen."

Among others well dressed off stage, she listed Richard Crom- well, James Garner, Rock Hudson and Paul Burke.

Actresses: Yvette Mimieux, Barbara Felton, Candice Bergen, Mia Farrow, Barbara Bush, Donna Reed.

None is necessarily a nominee for this year's designer awards. "For man or woman," said Miss Head, "the secret is to appear so that people say, 'Doesn't she-and-so look well dressed?' not: 'Hey, get a load of that dress' or 'Wow, look at L. Sullivan. Some $50,000 more in state inheritance taxes was collected in August than had been collected in the same month last year."

A $467,822 increase was reported in corporation taxes. Cigarette taxes were $2.50 billion down from August, 1966. Sales taxes—Connecticut's biggest revenue raiser—could not be included in the monthly report because they are collected on a quarterly basis.

356 DEATHS IN POOLS ARLINGTON, Va. — About 250 of the swimming pool fatalities predicted by the Public Health Service this year will be in backyard pools; another 100 will occur in motel, hotel and apartment pools.

State Taxes Show Hike In August

HARTFORD (AP) — State taxes collected last month totaled $15,461,508 — not counting sales taxes. This was an increase of $22,138 over August, 1966.

A drop of over $1 million in inheritance taxes was largely offset by the penny-per-gallon increase in the gasoline tax, according to a report issued Tuesday by Tax Commissioner John L. Sullivan.

Some $50,000 more in state inheritance taxes was collected in August than had been collected in the same month last year.

29 Mail Sacks Fall from Plane

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In the 200 miles between here and Harrisburg lie rugged mountains, farms, villages—and 29 mail sacks.

U.S. mail officials said Tuesday the sacks, containing first-class mail, fell through an open door of an airplane Friday. They said nothing was turned up in a search around the air- port in the two cities, and indicated helicopters may be used to search the entire distance.

The 30-inch nylon bags are green and will blend with the foliage.

What Every City Needs—Helena's Walter Marshall

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Every city in America should have a man like Walter Marshall. You know the kind of guy who forgets about accumulating money and turns to the bank-less jobs that put a city on wheels; the guy whose personality gets into the foundations of a town.

Walter Marshall is a chunky, genial little man who finds more than 24 hours in a day. He wears a half-tie that looks like it was dunked in soup and had to be cut off. He has a gravelly voice, and, yes, sometimes he bugs people. But he gets the job done, any job, wherever the town can use him.

Walter took charge of a de-caying old brewery on Helena's Last Chance Gulch and, with the help of his teacher wife, Doris, turned it into one of the finest summer theaters in the Northwest.

He built a stage, an auditorium and dormitories for the actors. The result is stumped the city for support and signed college talent from all over the country. The result is standing room only virtually every night of the summer. Walter and Doris are always in the wings, though there is no cash in it for them.

When John F. Kennedy came to Helena campaigning in 1960, Walter had the job of driving him back to the airport. "You've got to see our theater, Jack," he said, and promptly drove there.

Kennedy enjoyed the tour, standing, impatiently at his watch, but what he didn't enjoy was Walter's two large dogs which rode with them in the touring wagon.

It seems the dogs liked the senator and spent most of the trip licking the back of his neck. A couple of years later, Kennedy came back as president. When he stepped off the plane he spotted Walter in the welcoming committee and said: "Hello, Walter. Do you still have those damned dogs?"

The Montana Centennial Commission sent a special train around the country to promote the state. Walter went, of course. They wound up in Wash-

The Wakening Congress
There is in the Congress, and particularly in the Senate, a growing atmosphere of almost pellucid resolve to try to recover for the elective branch of the government some of the power and prerogative Congress itself has bartered away over the years.

It weakens itself—this resolve—when it becomes so pellucid it fails to honor the laws of logic and consistency.

But, generally speaking, as a trend, it is a supremely healthy thing.

The latest sample of it contains elements which apply to other instances of similar behavior. At the moment, the Senate is engaged in a dispute with the CIA as to whether the CIA should enjoy the same immunity from the disclosure of its activities as the executive branch of the government.

The CIA, of course, is, among other things, the agency which has participated in a few foreign revolutions, toppled a few governments, subsidized the National Student Association, and taken over management of our vital interests in the Congo.

Another thing Congress is quizzical about currently is foreign aid. There, too, it has been finding out that the executive branch and the administrative bureaucracy which run foreign aid have been building a sort of policy empire for themselves, accomplishing things—like the hidden loans by which we have helped other countries finance their arms purchases from us—which are news to Congress when they are disclosed. So Congress has a petulant but also a perceptive sense of the need to see that the government body which is supposed to hold the purse strings does hold them, and know something about what is being done with the money it provides.

The war in Vietnam falls into the same category. Whatever it is, whether it is justified or not, it is certainly a thousand fold bigger and more serious than any thing that was in the minds of the Senators who, in August of 1964, voted for the Tonkin Gulf Resolution.

That resolution has turned out, in experience, to be the biggest blank check Congress has ever written.

But the present day Congress is suddenly aware of all its blank checks of the past—the blank check to the CIA, the blank check to foreign aid—and, in such a mood, Congress is almost as objectionable and sometimes as unreasonable as one of those husbands who suddenly decides not to hand out any more blank checks, either. Like the injured wife, the CIA is so shocked and insulted it can barely speak. The foreign aid lobby thinks the world has come to an end. The authors and spenders of the Tonkin Gulf Resolution reportedly have crashed the White House air blue.

In such instances, there is some truth in the assertion that Congress has itself to blame, for writing such blank checks in the first place. And, as a practical matter, in no instance is Congress going to stop payment on any checks already cashed. But when it comes to the future, and to the reassertion of at least a right to know what it is doing for the elective branch, we find the new mood in Congress very healthy.

Tollitis Again
The toll and ambitions of the state of New Jersey—in their last state election—has been enough to cause the people had enough sense to vote down a proposal which would have fastened tolls on their paid-up roads permanently in order to raise more money for state expenses—continue to provide news.

way Authority to get tolls slapped on a 14 mile section of the Garden State Parkway which happened to be built originally with federal funds, a condition which forbids the imposition of tolls.

It takes a special act of Congress to permit such a thing, and Senator Clifford Case, Republican, has been blocking that because he insists that the state should provide alternate free routes before it slaps tolls on the present stretch of free Parkway.

The state is willing to do this, but says it can do so only if it gets federal money to help pay for the other highways it has currently planned.

The current upshot of this perpetual New Jersey hunger to soak its motorists through tolls is that Senator Case has introduced a bill in Congress to expand the federal interstate highway program from its present goal of 41,000 miles—almost being attained now—to a new limit of 50,000 miles, which would provide a few more miles of free federal highway, naturally, for New Jersey, and thus enable New Jersey to reach, eventually, its goal of putting tolls on those 14 miles of Parkway.

This looks like a rather expensive, roundabout way to get tolls on 14 miles of New Jersey Parkway, but that, of course, is supposed to be part of its charm. The additional 9,000 miles of free federal highway thus authorized could eventually be almost every state in the Union. That should help get votes for Senator Case's bill, and make the solution of New Jersey's 14 mile problem a sort of cooperative effort worth an investment from all the nation's federal taxpayers, since they would have some chance of getting some free road for themselves also.

A Free Year In Office
The recently enacted law that will require all municipalities to hold their local elections in the odd-numbered years biennially is apt to raise some intriguing questions, at least one of them on concerning the effect of putting the election being pondered by Republican Town Chairman Salvatore LaBella of Middletown.

LaBella's objection relates to the statutory provision that terms of presiding officers holders in municipalities which elect in the even-numbered years (there are six such towns) be extended one year to put the next election in an odd-numbered year, 1968. The reason for his objection is that the voters of Middletown, in 1966 elected incumbent of the town, for three. His question: By what right does the state legislative branch encroach on the prerogative of the town of increasing the term of office?

On the two occasions when by special act in 1959 and 1962 the city changed from even- to odd-numbered years and then back to the even years, necessitating a special act, the voters of Middletown were asked to vote on the question: "What is this powerful, defiant, autonomous monster we ourselves have helped create?"

The CIA, of course, is, among other things, the agency which has participated in a few foreign revolutions, toppled a few governments, subsidized the National Student Association, and taken over management of our vital interests in the Congo.

Another thing Congress is quizzical about currently is foreign aid. There, too, it has been finding out that the executive branch and the administrative bureaucracy which run foreign aid have been building a sort of policy empire for themselves, accomplishing things—like the hidden loans by which we have helped other countries finance their arms purchases from us—which are news to Congress when they are disclosed. So Congress has a petulant but also a perceptive sense of the need to see that the government body which is supposed to hold the purse strings does hold them, and know something about what is being done with the money it provides.

The war in Vietnam falls into the same category. Whatever it is, whether it is justified or not, it is certainly a thousand fold bigger and more serious than any thing that was in the minds of the Senators who, in August of 1964, voted for the Tonkin Gulf Resolution.

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans Jr. Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—One clue to why President Johnson's program for expanded East-West trade is dying can be found in the monumental bureaucratic bungling in processing just one application for an export license.

The license would have permitted export to Communist Poland of a Worden-type gravity meter used for geologic measurements. Arguing that such a meter could help Soviet Russia's guided missile trajectory, foes of East-West trade display the fact that the Commerce Department is not obtainable.

Contrary to Commerce Department denial, the Worden-type meter is not obtainable in the United States. It is a Soviet-made device that has been used in the past to help build commercial bridges with Eastern Europe. The city is in desperate financial straits.

The gravity meter story began Dec. 6, 1966, when an exporter (his identity shielded by Federal regulations) requested a license to export $10,000 worth of the meter to the Institute of Geodesy and Cartography in Warsaw for the purpose of charting Poland's Karst Mountains.

Although a routine case that did not attract the attention of Commerce Department policymakers, the application inexplicably languished in the department's Export Control Office. Not until Feb. 1, 1967, was it approved.

Two weeks later, on Feb. 16, West's Export Control Office suspended its action of Feb. 1 and asked for the "return" of the license. In explanation, Commerce Department bureaucrats told us that certain mysterious "intelligence data" had reached the department.

Actually, that "intelligence data" amounted to merely a report from sources elsewhere in the Administration that the Warsaw Institute might not freely distribute throughout the West the geologic information obtained by using the meter.

Although the Export Control Office had spent four months studying the application, it immediately suspended its decision. Once again, high-level officials in the Commerce Department were not consulted.

What followed was an unexplained, interminable period of stalling during which the Export Control Office neither killed nor reinstated the license but kept it suspended in a state of bureaucratic limbo. That in June 1967, when an aide in the office of South Dakota's Senator Karl Mundt, checking export license requests, spotted the gravity meter approval of Feb. 1.

A Thought for Today

In these days of apparently gross secularism, even though people in many instances are quite indifferent to the Church and its appeal, many people have at least a suspicion that there may be a God, even though they may find it difficult to describe Him.

There are some obstacles that stand in the way of our understanding of God as having meaning for their particular lives. Sometimes they have confused their terms. They may mistake credulity for faith. They think that when they talk about "faith" they mean acceptance of anything so long as it is called by the name "religion."

And because they have seen many trawlers on faith, they have much difficulty in believing in God at all. Another obstacle that stands in the way of our understanding of God as having meaning for their particular lives.

South Windsor Pleasant Valley Residents Oppose Street Work in Poll

Town manager Terry V. Sprinkel announced today that the poll taken of residents residing on the proposed reconstruction of Pleasant Valley Rd. indicated an opposition to the project as presented.

Sprinkel said 51 property owners were opposed to the project and 19 in favor. Opposition to the proposed reconstruction and widening program is based on varied reasons. The manager said.

These reasons include opposition to the taking of additional traffic and the possibility of sewer extensions in the area, the possibility of additional traffic flow and increased speed within the area.

Manager Sprinkel said he has received a petition from residents of Northview Dr. supporting the installation of a capped sewer in the Pleasant Valley project in an effort to permit future expansion into the Northview Dr. subdivision at an early date.

Northview Dr. is located one block from Pleasant Valley Rd. during the past week. This work is being done to establish proper drainage arrangements at the intersection in conjunction with the town proposal, Sprinkel said.

In answer to a question on whether the state was going to undertake reconstruction of the segment of road between Ellington Rd. and Long Hill Rd. Sprinkel said he could not speak for the State Highway Department but assumed the department would undertake some responsibility since highway crews were working in the area collecting data.

Sprinkel said he was in two public meetings held last month that the town hopes to have the highway department undertake a large share of the expense of the work on Pleasant Valley Rd. to Long Hill Rd. because of the intersection and the runoff from the state highway.

The second in series of GOP "Ask the Candidates" meetings will be held tonight at 8:15 at the Ellington Club on Main St. The meetings are sponsored by the South Windsor Republican town committee and designed to bring the candidates to the voters in an informal basis.

Also, Mrs. Phyllis Mann, gift certificate from the Ellington Club, a box of candy, and David Corcoran of Manchester and other sections of town are invited to attend.

The Episcopal Women of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will hold their first meeting of the year tonight at 8 p.m. The Rev. Stanley Ely, Lord Bishop of Gibraltar, will be guest speaker and members of the ECCW and guests from neighboring churches.

The bishop and his wife are on a holiday in the United States, their sixth visit in 15 years.

Prior to his consecration as Ordinary of a diocese which covers Southern Europe, parts of Asia Minor and North Africa, the bishop was vicar of St. Mary's Church in London, London, in 1948. He was chaplain to the now retired Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Jurgels and Officers Alfred Ruffner.

The association has 11 members and was organized primarily as a social and benevolent group. However, it could become a bargaining agent for the department in negotiations with the town involving wages and working conditions.

In addition to the officers, the membership includes Sgt. William J. Ryan, Sgt. Charles J. Jurgels and Officers Alfred Ruffner.

INVITATION TO BID Building(s) and/or Structure(s) to be Removed Sealed bids for the removal of the following building(s) and/or structure(s) as more fully described in Form No. CON 1108 will be received by the State Highway Commissioner, 100 Newfield Avenue, Hartford, Connecticut, until 11:00 A.M., September 19, 1967 then at said office or at such place as that officer may designate, publicly opened and read at 1:00 P.M., September 19, 1967.

Zoners Hear Bids Monday

The Connecticut State Highway Department, on Monday night, will ask the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) to improve variances for eight-Manchester parcels, all adjacent to the relocated Rt. 6, and all scheduled to lose some area to the road.

The variance requests are for diminishing the lot sizes below the minimum requirements of the town's zoning laws.

Monday's meeting will be at 8 in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

State statutes require the highway department to seek the variances at public hearings before the ZBA.

The eight parcels are owned by Rachel R. Moses, 45 Farm Dr., Residence A.A.; Walter J. Curwies, 31 McCann Dr., Residence B.; Wilson H. Miller, 21 Overland St., Residence B.; Robert O. Martin, 15 Overland St., Residence B.; Gerald Smith, 21 Overland St., Residence B.; George T. Riecke, 25 Overland St., Residence B.; Vernon Herter, 17 Kennerly St., Rural Residence one; and Charles H. Covey, 5 Frances Dr., Rural Residence Zone.

The ZBA, which last met in July, will conduct public hearings on 12 other requests Monday. They are from:

1. Frank S. Valluzzi Jr., a variance to erect a detached garage at 12 Schaller Dr. in Residence A, to be closer to the 400 line than regulations permit.

2. Nicholas-Manchester Tire Inc., a variance to erect a 200 Broad St. in Industrial Zone, to be closer to the street line than regulations permit.

3. Douglas Dumas, an extension of permission to have a sign and advertising sign at 345 Main St. in Business Zone III. Permission has been granted for one- and two-year periods from 1966 to 1968.

4. William R. Schaller, a variance to divide a parcel of land into two lots at 32 Hill St. in Residence B. The two lots would have less area and frontage than regulations require.

5. Kenneth Pelletier, extension of permission to have a free-standing ground sign for his car repair garage at 185 Main St. in Residence C. Permission has been granted for a two-year period since 1965.

6. Atty. W. David Keith, a variance to convert a beauty parlor into an efficiency apartment at 35 Main St. in Business Zone II. The apartment would have less floor area and less land area than regulations require. The beauty parlor, closed on July 1, had existed for 22 years at that location.

7. Woodrow Trotter, a variance to erect a detached garage at 816 Gardner St. in Rural Residence Zone. The garage would be at the side of the dwelling instead of to the rear, as regulations require.

8. Nicholas R. Jackson, a special exception to convert a one-family dwelling to two-family at 45 Goodwin St. in Residence A.

9. Robert Gorman, a variance to erect a free-standing ground sign on his gasoline station at 770 Main St. in Business Zone III. The sign would be closer to the street line than regulations permit. Gorman, in his application, stated that the present sign is poorly located and is too small to attract customers.

10. Silver Lane Bus Co. Inc., a special exception to use the premises at 316 Hartford Rd. in Industrial Zone for installing a gasoline pump and for the servicing, repairing and storing of school buses. The location would be auxiliary to the company's operation on the main Rd. The Hartford Rd. premises would be leased from the Purcell Realty Co. of Cambridge, Mass.

11. Eli Danikow, a variance to divide a parcel of land into two lots at Bolton Center Rd. and Finley St. in Rural Residence Zone. One of the two lots would have less area and less frontage than regulations require.

12. Chester and Mary Ossoli, a variance to erect a free-standing ground sign at 285 St. in Business II. The sign would be closer to the street line than regulations permit. The applicants, who operate a clock shop in the rear of the property, state that they require a suitable advertising sign.

SELF-SERVICE, PRE-PACKAGED MEATS CAN BE A PROBLEM!

You can see the top side of the meat but not the bottom. So you wonder. The steak looks good, but is the bottom all bone and fat?

It's a problem... a problem we've given a lot of thought. We think we have the answer. We have a policy.

We put the best side down. The side you don't see is guaranteed to be equal to or better than the side you can see.

Tolland Should Be Run As Business, Wanat Says

The town of Tolland should be run as a business, according to Democratic First Selectman Eugene I. Wanat. "Everything possible should be done to economically run the town, without sacrificing the essential services needed in this rapidly growing community," he said. Wanat's comments are included in the Democratic platform released last night by the Democratic Town Committee. The town committee and state of candidates have pledged themselves to a nine plank platform, which they propose to carry out when elected. The town elections will be held Oct. 2 at the Hicks Memorial School gym. The Democrats pledge to immediately eliminate dangerous road and traffic hazards presently existing in Tolland to protect the safety of local residents. They further pledge to improve snow removal operations at a reduced cost. They will immediately prepare a report to the townpeople showing the prospective tax rate, as of the Oct. 1, 1967 grand list, including items already committed by the present administration. Meetings with all town boards and commissions will be called the next fiscal year. We will work with the Economic (Industrial) Development Commission for more industrial and commercial growth within these zoned areas to stabilize the town's tax rate. A plank calls for the study of the feasibility of establishing a revenue producing, smoke-

Grand Jury Hearing Heroin Ring Witness

HARTFORD (AP)—A federal grand jury heard testimony by Lucien Rivard, a grand jury witness, Monday in a hearing on the case of James Mario Natalio, a former Miami, Fla., resident who had allegedly implicated himself in a multimillion dollar heroin smuggling ring.

Six persons have been tried and convicted of taking part in the ring, reportedly master-last week that his 40-year-old client repudiated an alleged confession — apparently the "new evidence" referred to by Miller's lawyers — particularly the way in which it was obtained.

Natalio, who has a residence in North Miami Beach, Fla., was taken into custody in New York City Sept. 1 and held in lieu of $100,000 bond as a material witness.

Miller unsuccessfully appealed his conviction to the U.S. Court of Appeals, 2nd Circuit.

Miller's attorneys asked for a new trial, then, on Aug. 21, asked the court to delay its decision on the rehearing plea until Oct. 1.

"There has been a series of developments within the past 30 days," he said, "that will result in the filing of a petition for a new trial."

Despite the efforts of the famed lawyer Percy Foreman, Miller was convicted last summer — largely on the testimony of Joseph (Mike) Caron, one of the five Canadians found guilty of helping smuggle large amounts of heroin into the United States.

Caron testified that Miller was his contact in the United States and that he delivered shipments of heroin to Miller in the Bridgeport area on two occasions.

Miller was convicted and sentenced to 12 years in prison.

At a recent meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals new officers were elected. Theodore Moberg, formerly Secretary for the board, was elected chairman, and Erich Stelmets was chosen as secretary.

VC Bargaining Hints Seen in Propaganda

By WILLIAM RYAN

There are vague hints these days in propaganda of the Viet Cong and North Vietnam that the Communist side in the Vietnam war is arming itself with the tools of tough bargaining.

The Viet Cong's political leadership, which calls itself the National Liberation Front, professes to have concluded that a "new situation" exists, and claims to have tailored a new political program to meet the change.

The front failed to define clearly just what it found new in the situation. But the tone of its pronouncements suggests a conviction, that American popular support for the war has been seriously weakened. There are "great possibilities" ahead for the Viet Cong, said the front's president, lawyer Nguyen Han Tho.

Many factors could contribute to an impression that some sort of break in the situation is possible within the not distant future.

—Red China, which insists that Vietnam must face up to "people's war" to the bitter end, has been toning out what way out of the Southeast Asia struggle is the only correct one.

Pham Van Dong has repeated the American side real-ly wants to talk, it must first of all stop unconditionally the bombing and other acts of war" against the North. In the context of his Aug. 31 remarks, this was the condition for talks. He stated the familiar all-or-nothing demands of Hanoi separately, as a "basis" for settlement.

—President Charles de Gaulle of France has gone to Poland to propagate the message that French efforts might help find a way out of the Southeast Asia impasse.

—North Vietnam's Premier to almost anybody in a war-torn nation. It could be the teaser to bring more world pressure on the United States, while the Viet Cong struggled to improve its position prior to any real break in the stalemate. Thus the determined new Viet Cong assault on the northern provinces of South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong political leadership long ago appeared to have concluded it could not hope to win a military victory over U.S. power. Perhaps it is re-estimating the possibility of a long-range political victory.

Two new stamps will be issued by West Germany, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. A 90-pennig issue will commemorate the Radio-Television Exhibition in Berlin.

Elre has just issued special postage in two denominations to mark the Centenary of Canadian confederation.

Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalog is now its 100th year of publication. The 1968 edition of Volume 1 is a far cry from the first one, which was little more than a one-page price list.

Japan highlighted its Philatelic Week in honor of that country's No. 1 hobby by issuing a new 10-yen stamp.

Italy has issued a special set of four new stamps honoring its national parks.

Steps on New School Are Termed Illegal

The first strong court case on the proposed new school in Vernon Center came last night from the Planning Commission.

The commission, members voted to inform the Board of Representatives it agreed with the location of the school, that it is all agreed with.

The procedures taken to bring the school to a referendum Sept. 25 were wrong from the beginning, they said. In fact, they were unlawful, they said.

The size of the 39-room school in three floors is far more than is needed, they said, and the 83 parking spots are not enough.

James J. Roche, commission member, quoted state statute 8-24 on municipal planning commissions to explain why procedures taken to date are unlawful. All new buildings proposed for a town, including schools, must be first referred to the commission for its recommendation and vote, he said.

A "no" vote from the commission can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Representatives or a majority vote in a public referendum or ball team.

The school proposal for the Vernon Center was never referred to the commission, according to Mrs. Marie Herbert, member of both the commission and the Board of Education.

Court Challenge Feared

Roche said he is afraid any citizen could bring the school building's existence to court at any time, before or after construction, and legally call for its end. It was not planned properly, he explained.

"Anybody can stop it," he said.

The five commissioners agreed to explain to the Board of Representatives their position beyond the legal existence of the school, he said.

Two Weiss Sons In Town Schools

Among the many new pupils who were enrolled in Manchester schools last week were the two sons of Town Manager Robert Weiss.

Peter, 12, is in the seventh grade at Bennett Junior High School and Jay, 9, is in the fourth grade at Washington School.

The two boys are driven to Manchester by their father each morning and ride home with him when his work day ends.

Pollen Count

Today's ragweed pollen count in the Hartford area is 2.5, the Connecticut Diverchology and Health Association announced.

A count of seven or more is likely to produce hay fever symptoms in a person sensitive to ragweed pollen.

Columbia Bloodmobile Here Monday

Mrs. Carl Gosline, Columbia Chapter recruitment chairman for the Red Cross, and her telephone committee are contacting donors for the next visit of the bloodmobile. The operation will be set up in the Andover Congregational Church, Monday from 1:45 to 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Gosline urged that anyone not contacted make an effort to appear as blood supplies dwindled considerably during the summer months. Walk-in donors are welcomed.

The committee includes Mrs. Richard Curdson, Mrs. Walter Drew, Mrs. Richard Kriofski, Mrs. Richard Kitchell, Mrs. Arnold Hanna, Mrs. Charles G. Mrs. Mrs. Jack Vining and Mrs. John Tettebach.

New Voters

Republicans and Democrats came out even in the latest new voter registration held last week. Each party signed 14 voters while 11 remained unaffiliated.

The board of assessors reminds voters eligible for the $1,000 exemption established by the last session of legislature to file discharge papers or certificates proving active duty, with the town clerk before Oct. 1. This applies to a veteran who has served during the Vietnam period beginning Jan. 1, 1964, or who is on active duty.

Officers Chosen

The West St. Burying Ground Association has re-elected the following officers: Marshall Nuher, president; Arthur Cobb, vice president; Mrs. Gerald Dunack, secretary and Mrs. Rachael Buell, treasurer. Homer Jaham succeeds Wilber Little of Manchester on the board of trustees which also includes Philip Jaham and Guy Beck. Adolph German is secretary and anyone interested in purchasing a lot may contact Mrs. Edward Rathbun.

College News

Miss Cheryl Philier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Albert, Pine St., has reported for her third year at Vermont College with a major in psychology. Miss Leslie Lauges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lauges, Lakeview Park, has entered that college as a freshman.

Miss Susan Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carlson, Collins Rd., is attending Orientation Week at Endicott College, Beverly, Mass. She will major in Advertising and Radio-TV.

Club Needs 20-Game Winner to Win And Red Sox Boast One in Lonborg

BOSTON (AP)—Most baseball observers are convinced that club needs at least one 20-game winner to win a pennant—and the Boston Red Sox have theirs in Jim Lonborg.

Lonborg posted his 20th victory as the Red Sox moved back into a first place tie with Minnesota in the American League play chase with a 3-1 victory over Kansas City before a crowd of 27,978 Tuesday night at Fenway Park.

The 26-year-old right-hander wasn't quite as sharp as in his three-hit victory over the New York Yankees last week, but he upheld the old cliché, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going."

He worked his way out of serious jams in each inning from the second through the fifth before being asked to lead off on Reggie Smith's 14th homer, a lone shot into the Kansas City bullpen right with two out in the fifth. It was Boston's first hit off A's starter Jim (Catfish) Lonborg got through the sixth

One to Remember, 20th for Jim Lonborg

Reds Swing From Heels

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds may be going down for the count, but they're still swinging from the heels.

While Cardinals continued their National League stretch drive Tuesday night with a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia, the third-place Reds punched out 23 hits and fanned Pittsburgh 15-7 for their fourth straight victory.

"Just getting by, that's all," chuckled Vada Pinson, who cracked three hits, including a two-run homer, in the pitchers' duel between the Reds and the Phillies.

Despite their hit parade, the Reds still trail the Cardinals by 11 games and are 2 1/2 games behind runner-up San Francisco with 16 games to play.

The Giants whipped Los Angeles 4-2; Atlanta edged the New York Mets 4-3 and Houston took the Texas Rangers 5-4 in 12 innings in other NL games.

REDS-FIGHT

The Reds jumped Pittsburgh ace Bob Veale for four runs and six hits in the first inning, but were held to one run in the second. The two-run homer by Tony Perez in the fourth inning completed the assault against Billy O'Dell and Dennis Ribant.

Pete Rose hit a three-run homer and scored four times; Tony Perez lashed a single, double and triple, good for three RBIs; Leo Cardenas went 4-for-4; Tommy Helms and Lee May walked three hits before losing pitcher Don Lee got into the act with a pair of singles.

The Reds' 23 hits fell nine short of the NL record set in 1907 by the New York Giants with one out in the 12th to break a 4-4 deadlock.

This Is the One I Wanted Defense Outstanding in Latest RSox Win

BOSTON (AP)—Jim Lonborg gratefully accepted all the help he can get from the Boston Red Sox, but he realizes that at times a fella has to do things for himself.

Lonborg survived a hectic struggle with the aid of a brilliant defense in the early innings before turning to his personal heroism in the eighth and ninth to lead the Sox to a 2-1 victory Tuesday night in the 20th victory.

With the score tied 1-1 in the eighth inning against the Kansas City Athletics, Lonborg D. Eckert threw the Major League Player's Association dropped its unfair labor practice charges filed against the controversial Finley.

In a prepared statement, Commissioner Eckert said the parties agreed to settle future differences by mutual discussion rather than by resorting to the grievance procedure.

Finley, Players Agree to Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles O. Finley and his Kansas City Athletics players have buried the hatchet and restored, at least temporarily, the serenity of baseball's player-owner relationship.

The feud ended Tuesday after 20 hours of unprecedented meetings with Commissioner William D. Eckert when the Major League Player's Association dropped its unfair labor practice charges filed against the controversial Finley.

In a prepared statement, Commissioner Eckert said the parties agreed to settle future differences by mutual discussion rather than by resorting to the grievance procedure.

Ed Stanky's Cry Sounds Like Plea

CHICAGO (AP)—Manager Eddie Stanky's cry of "don't bury us, yet" suddenly sounds more like a plea than a threat.

It's been Stanky's statement every time things have gone bad since mid-August when his Chicago Cubs were knocked out of first place following a two-month tenure.

The double defeat in Cleveland had put the Cubs 4-3 and 7-1 behind the Yankees in the fourth place, three games behind Minnesota and Boston, the co-leaders, and two games behind Detroit.

With only 16 games to play, Stanky's cry of "don't bury us, yet" suddenly sounds more like a plea than a threat.

Bob Cousy Overwhelmed By Support From Friends

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Cousy, cheered by overwhelming support of friends and fans in the darkest hour of his 21-year basketball career, is looking forward to his fifth season as head coach at Boston College.

The support has been tremendous through his first year, the 28-year-old Cousy said in an interview Tuesday.

"I'm feeling better about it," Cousy, who became known as "Mr. Basketball" as an All-American at Holy Cross and 13 years as a pro star with the Boston Celtics, gradually is regaining his composure after a nerve-wracking period.

Only a week ago, he tearfully confessed his resignation and news conference he called after a national magazine linked him with a alleged gambling habit.

Cousy admitted a close friendship developed over 12 years with the man, Andrew D. Fiedler, of Springfield, Mass., but denied any wrongdoing. He said he was never involved in any gambling, but he was not guilty of anything else.

Base Running Vital For Twins, Tigers

NEW YORK (AP)—Zolo Veralles and Jerry Lumpe never stopped running but Jim Lonborg was the only one who really got where he was going.

The base running of Minnesota and Detroit's offense was vital in the Twins' 5-4 loss to Washington and the Tigers' 4-0 triumph over Baltimore Tuesday night.

Allen struck out pinch hitters Tom Crow and Wayne Causey, leaving the tying and lead-inning runners in the eighth.

When Howard hit his 34th homer in the eighth, it gave Washington the cushion it needed to stand off a ninth-inning Minnesota rally.

TIGERS-ORIOLES

Lumpie beat out an infield hit on a close play opening the fifth inning against the Orioles and before the inning was over, Tigers had rallied for two runs, ruined the shutout and put a run home in the next inning.

The Orioles pitched 20-game winner Earl Wilson with early game help by Luis Aparicio and Dave Johnson.

EC Harriers Open Slate At Wickham

Only one runner back and a high loss due to graduation, O'Donnell is in a "cutting edge" position.

Indians Impress In Scrimmage With Windsor

Let's hope that the future Saturdays will be the same as last Saturday for the Manchester Indians except that you will be there.

Watching the Tribe perform last Saturday in a scrimmage game with Windsor, one is sure the Indians will be high on top when the season begins.

In the first opening minutes of the game, Manchester scored four touchdowns. Windsor scored twice.

Sparking defensively the Indians had Windsor at less than mid-field for considerable losses.

Sparking offensively the Indians had Windsor at less than mid-field for considerable losses.

Ellington To Host PGA Golf

Converging on the Ellington Ridge Country Club tomorrow morning for the start of the 54-hole Connecticut Section, PGA Tourney will be the state's best prize as well as a number from Western Massachusetts.

Twenty-seven holes will be played on Thursday and a like number on Friday.

Les Becker, Golf Committee Chairman, reports the course is "absolutely fabulous" a tribute to Course Capt. Mike O'Brien.

The winner will automatically qualify for the National PGA Tourney at the end of the season.

Pro Wally Clonch likes 216 Becker said it will be the Bob Schaefer, his assistant, pro, thinks 219 will be good enough to prevail.

Matches Played In Net Tourney

Two matches were played in the Town Doubles Tournament last weekend. Earl Custer and Thayer Browne defeated Bill Dow and Harry Becker 8-1, 6-2. In the other match, Martin Duke and Phil Hyde defeated Custer and Browne, 5-3, 6-1.

Other matches will be played Wednesday and the finals are scheduled Sunday. Today Jim LaShure Sr. and Ted Bailey faced Marvin Horowitz and David Warren. The winners will play Fred Nelson and John Mather Saturday and Sunday and the finals will be played.

Only six teams registered and with this lack of interest it could spell the cancellation of a doubles tournament in the future.

Great Group of Boys at East

By BARRY COWLES

"I've got the greatest group of boys to work with and wouldn't trade them for anything," Coach Cliff Demers said.

Demers is coaching the East Catholic High school football team in Middletown with South Catholic, North Catholic and Middletown High.

Demers expressed that it had from Seaside High School in a "balanced team in all respects."

East will meet Rockville at Middletown on Sept. 22 to start the regular state rolling.

With 13 lettermen returning, Demers is looking for their experience to guide the newcomers.

John Albrecht is in the quarterback position. Halfback Bill Lacey is in excellent shape.

Demers, himself a former player, is sure to help the boys in just that.

Demers expressed that it had from Seaside High School in a "balanced team in all respects."

Softball Champs Receive Awards

Trophies were presented to championship teams in Recreation Department Softball play at the annual banquet Monday night at the Army & Navy Club.

Champion was the Center Billiards, Ducky and town champs. Don Fitzgerald, captain.

Second place was the Center Congo in the Church League and the Spruce Tavern in the Rock League.

Earl Goodwood of the New York Athletic Association was the speaker and he regaled the audience of over 100 for more than an hour with inside baseball stories.

He also showed a film, "The Mole Are Coming."

A very good beef dinner was prepared and served by Pinsky Park and the staff.

Life Good for Yepremian In U.S. Thanks to Football

DETROIT (AP)—Life in the one 82-year-old. Two of them United States has been good to missed.

"But I keep trying to improve Yepremian, a sturdy little Armenian-Cypriot immigrant to these shores by way of England. He said, "I should never miss under 80 yards. I had a little trouble for a while, but the last couple of days I'm getting better. I'm doing well out to 90 yards."

The streets aren't exactly paved with gold for Garo, but he's done right well in the unlikely trade of a pluckier for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

Yepremian never saw a pro football game until he kicked off to open the 10.16 game at Baltimore last year.

He's been leading the team in scoring with 50 points on 11 conversions and 10 field goals.

He's set two NFL records with six field goals against Minnesota Nov. 13, including four in one quarter.

The Lions went 8-2 in the exhibition season and open the regular season against the champion Packers at Green Bay Sunday.

"I'd like to kick a lot of field goals, against them," Yepremian said today. "Or, better than that, I'd like to kick a lot of extra points."

During the exhibition season, he kicked seven extra points and had one blocked, but he's never missed a conversion.

"I made four field goals," he said, "and I missed three, one from 45 yards out, one 18-yarder and the Jay Calabrese."

LaPointe Dies

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Ralph LaPointe, 65, baseb 11 coach at University of Vermont for 16 years, died today of cancer after a long illness.

A graduate of Vermont, he played two seasons of major league baseball. He was with the Philadelphia 1947 as a shortstop and the Cardinals 1948 as an outfielder. He served three years in the Army Air Force.

During his coaching career, he coached over 216, 127 and tied two.
