Housemembers Suggest

Look at Viet Policy Needed by Congress

gress needs to take a formal look at U.S. policy in the Vietnam war, 50 House members. suggested today.

The 46 Republicans and 4 Democrats proposed a resolution asking Congress to decide "whether further Congressional action is desirable in respect to policies in Southeast Asia."

As they prepared their move: -Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said Sunday he does not believe Soviet rejection of his bid for help in getting North Vietnam to the conference table has wrecked peace hopes.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., said Saturday night the United States indirectly told Red China several years ago it would face massive retaliation, including nuclear firepower, if it entered the war in Vietnam. The State Department said no one has been threatened and the White House declined comment on Mundt's remarks.

-Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said Sunday night the Soviet Un-ion might send pilots to fly the MIGs it is supplying North Viet-

-Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, advocated a pause in bombing of North Vietnam "for a period until I think that we have done everything reasonably possible to exhaust the possibilities of new initiatives that might lead to the conference ta-

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., said: "This resolution arises, in my opinion, from deep-seated conviction that the congress itself should deal at this time with questions of basic policy in regard to the Vietnam war. It provides the means through which the Congress can discharge responsibilities in foreign policy clearly placed upon it by the Constitution.' The resolution, if approved by the House and Senate, would call upon congressional committees to consider the questions and report their findings to the Connecticut's new election law, callng for town elections in the odd-numbered years, starting with 1969, will auomatically freeze into office for an extra year those of Manchester's elected town officials whose terms were to expire in 1968.

But, it will do even more than that. It will affect Board of Director appointments to town commissions and agencies. The GOP-controlled board, when it makes appointments this November and next, will fill terms which will overlap into the next two, three, and even five

Thus, Manchester Republicans may retain control over almost all town commissions and agencies for an extended period even if they lose the 1969 town

Two appointments which may require clarification, both political plums, are for town counsel and town auditor. The two-year terms of each, both Republicans, expire in November 1968. If both are reappointed, as appears likely, their new, two-year terms will extend to No-

In that event, should the Democrats regain control of the board in 1969, they will be working, for at least one whole year, with a Republican town counsel and a Republican town auditor.

And, again if the Democrats win in could be contending with litical actions by town commissions and agencies, exactly opposite to the policies of the Board of Directors.

But, of course, none of the potential problems would result if the ruling party etains power in 1969.

One can't help but believe that the state's lawmakers knew exactly what they were doing when they amended the election laws.

The State Assembly which voted the changes was "Democratic - controlled and, quite naturally, was Democratic-

Ironically, in Manchester it is the Republicans who will reap the benefits of a law apparently intended to benefit the party in power in towns under Democratic rule.

Political Decisions

Despite the efforts of administration spokesmen to reconcile the bombing of North Vietnam seaports with opposition to that move on the part of top advisers to President Johnson, the thing remains

The bombings took place Sept. 12, one day after McGeorge Bundy publicly spoke out against such bombings. This was perhaps the only time McBundy, whose views are generally highly regarded by the President, took his case to the public in an attempt to influence the President's decision. Secretary of Defense Robert McNa mara went on public record Aug. 25 in

It is disturbing in itself to contemplate the idea of the President's disregarding the advice of these two close advisers, neither one of whom can be properly classified as "doves." What is even more disturbing is the difficulty of accepting any real military or diplomatic explanation for the deci-What remains, as Joseph C. Harsch, writing in the Christian Science Monitor

How much more of this sort of thing can be expected before the election? Too much of it, and when the blame is assessed, if ever, it will probably fall equally on Republicans and Democrats. A case in point is McNamara's opposition to building up a vast and expensive system of antibaliistic missile defense against the Soviet Union's increasing arsenal of missiles. He regards such a move as ineffective militarily. On Monday McNamara announced plans for a modest $5 billion program of Nike-X antimissile defenses which he proposed as a defense against possible micidal nuclear attack by Red China sometime in the 1970s. The defenses would have the further benefit, McNamara observed, of protecting against the possible accidental launch of a missile by any nuclear power.

Might it also be designed to protect the administration from some of the pressure which will build up in Congress and on the campaign trail for the vast missile defense system which is being supported by the military-industry

The wonder is that there still is a tremendous amount of non-Governmental giving of all sorts-the average man's gifts to church and United Fund or whatever, the corporate endowments, the indirect corporate largess through such institutions as the Ford Foundation. For higher education alone, private contributions are three and a half times what they were 15 years ago. Mr. Bundy believes the sum should be far bigger than it now is, and perhaps he is right. good idea and one of the easiest ways to save a tidy yearly sum is in the matter of fuel oil. With plenty of time on his hands, the man of the house finds it a pleasant chore to check his fuel oil tank. When it gets down to 1/4 full he phones his order for 200 gallions or more to Cooperative Oil Company for delivery the following day. He pays for his order on delivery. That's all he has to do. And he saves up to 3c a gallon on Cooperative fuel oil.

Cooperative's truck first assures him of quick service. When anything goes wrong with his burner, Cooperative's experienced repair men are JOHNNY-ON-THE-SPOT WITH THE LATEST EQUIPMENT TO REPAIR IT ... AND KEEP HIS BURNER GOING AT MAXIMUM EFFICIENCY. If you're retired (or not) don't pass up this chance to save up to $50 yearly on fuel oil. Switch to Cooperative Oil today!

How come John Podgorski switched to the Aircraft?

> John found out that Aircraft jobs are better jobs for plenty of reasons. Jobs are steady because the Aircraft keeps growing. The pay is high and there are excellent chances for advancement. For example, John has had five promotions and eleven pay raises in two and one half years, and he is now a quality assurance technician.

> Compare some of the other reasons, too . . . like training courses with pay, the challenge of working on new jet age products, good working excellent medical and life insurance plans, a fine retirement program, paid sick leave, nine paid holidays, up to four weeks vacation with pay, the biggest credit union in the U.S. and many after hours social and
