One-Bomb Missiles Set for Conversion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most U.S. single-bomb nuclear missiles will be converted to five-year life expectancy by converting their warheads to solid-fuel warheads capable of striking several enemy cities simultaneously, Pentagon sources said today. By 1972, according to a breakdown outlined by Pentagon sources, 1,710 missiles will be packing up to 7,500 or more deliverable nuclear warheads.

This huge increase of atomic power was ordered by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to counter the Soviet Union's antimissile system and to insure that its accelerated offensive missile production is more than matched.

The move toward huge numbers of nuclear warheads reflects the McNamara philosophy that the best defense is a good offense.

The $5 billion antimissile system announced by the Pentagon chief last week is designed to thwart any attack by Red China in the early 1970s.

McNamara considers it virtually impossible to establish a missile shield good enough to stop the swarms of enemy-ridden warheads which a technologically sophisticated enemy could unleash.

Dr. John S. Foster, the Pentagon's chief scientist, said in testimony before Congress last week that the U.S. strategy for countering a Soviet missile defense would be to overwhelm it by sheer numbers of warheads.

McNamara did not describe how many warheads would form the deadly assault over U.S. rockets, but he told Congress a new missile math is in order.

Numbers of individual missiles, he said in January, are no longer the proper way to measure strategic strength.

Without publicly detailing their capabilities, McNamara ordered into production the Air Force Minuteman III, which will be built in concrete, hardened firing silos, and the Navy's Poseidon—successor to the Polaris—which can be launched by submarine beneath the sea.

Sources have told The Associated Press the Minuteman III, a 6,300-mile-range missile, will carry three nuclear warheads. The Poseidon will haul more than 10 warheads.

The latest Air Force missile will eventually comprise 40 percent of the land ICBM force. Thirty-one of the Navy's 41 Polaris subs are being converted to Poseidon, which requires a larger launch tube.

These numbers make possible an adequate, if unofficial, projection of what the U.S. strategic missile force of the early 1970s will be. Sources say this is a fair picture:

—Air Force Minuteman III: 600 missiles, three warheads each, plus special packages of decoy warheads and penetration aids. Total 1,800 warheads.

—Air Force Minuteman II: 600 missiles, one warhead each, plus "pen-aids." Total 600 warheads.

—Navy Poseidon: 31 submarines with 18 2,500-mile range Poseidons each, at least 10 warheads per missile. Total 1,500 warheads.

—Navy Polaris: 10 subs with 160 warheads.

—Grand total of land-based and submarine-launched warheads: 7,300.

Sources regard this figure as conservative.

According to this tabulation, more than 5,000 warheads will be Navy-owned.

Good Old Days?

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The new president of Mills College for Women reminded the girls at their convocation this fall what the good old days really were like.

Among the rules confronting President Susan Mills when she attended Mills College was that she was to be no more than 100 years old, said Dr. Robert J. Wert, was then.

"No student may have male acquaintances unless they are related unless: ten or agents of benevolent societies."

12 Persons Arrested in Dope Raids

WESTON (AP)—At least a dozen persons—most of them teen-agers—were arrested in narcotics raids by state and local police in Weston, Stamford and Danbury Thursday night and early today.

State Police Commissioner J. Mulcahy said today the raids on alleged narcotics pushers and users in Weston, Stamford and Danbury were the result of an investigation of several months.

What police described as one of the largest caches of narcotics in recent years was seized at a home occupied by two men in Weston. Those arrested in Weston were Jonathan Shea, 20, and Sean Phillips, 18. They were taken into custody by undercover troops of the narcotics squad of the State Police Criminal Intelligence Division.

Four state troopers and two local detectives raided the seven-room home in an exclusive area on Route 87 before midnight. Police said the raiders also found several handguns, rifles and pistols in their search.

Police said Shea, who identified himself as a landscape gardener who took care of several homes of wealthy persons in the area, leased the house five months ago. They said Phillips was a short-term tenant who had lived there for about four weeks.

Shea was charged with possession of narcotics and Phillips with sale of narcotics.

Four other persons were arrested in Stamford, two in Norwalk, and one in Danbury.

State police said the investigation was "extensive and continuing."

Those arrested in the other raids were booked on an assortment of narcotics charges.

Booked in Stamford late Thursday were Mrs. Michelle Harris O'Brien, 22, Joseph T. Brennan, 20, and Ronald A. Crowell, 19, all of Stamford; and Barry W. Koslow, 17, of New York City.

Arrested later in Danbury were...

Air, Ground Action Growing in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Command reported today fresh air raids on the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and a significant shelling along the demilitarized border with North Vietnam, where U.S. Marines are dug in across possible Communist invasion routes.

But heavy fighting was listed in the northernmost 1st Corps area and 72 Communist soldiers were reported killed.

Smaller fights dotted the nation. In the Mekong delta south of Saigon, guerrillas ambushed and burned a U.S. Navy patrol boat—the first loss of one of the river boats.

Despite marginal weather over North Vietnam, Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 150 combat missions. With the exception of the Haiphong raid, most hit at supply targets on routes leading south from Hanoi to the DMZ. Flares reported hitting 14 river barges and a number of trucks, rail cars and locomotives.

Pilots said their bombs dropped at least one span of Haiphong's southwestern rail and highway bridge, one of four main bridges leading from the north's biggest port. All have been previously hit and all but one are known to have been severed.

The fourth, a rail bridge on the northwestern edge of the city has been heavily damaged. Heavy raids on Haiphong, however, have been carried on whenever the weather permitted since...

Six Area Towns Hold Elections on Monday

BY BETTE QUATRALE
Approximately 10,000 voters in the Tolland County towns of Coventry, Tolland, Bolton, Columbia and Hebron will be eligible to vote in Monday's local elections, an increase of 740 over last year at the same time. Voters in South Windsor will also turn out to vote for a new town council and Board of Education as well as other offices.

Republicans traditionally have the edge in local elections in this area, and this year seems no different. A possible exception is in Hebron, where a strong independent candidate for First Selectman, Richard Grant, is given a referendum of defeating both his Republican and Democratic opponents.

All the elections with the exception of South Windsor will be for a board of selectmen-town meeting form of government. This may be the last such election for Coventry, if a proposed charter referendum question on the Ballot Monday is passed.

The charter would create a seven man council—chief administrator form of government, replacing the town Board of Selectmen. It is the third of Selectmen. It is the third of Selectmen.

Top FBI Man Gives Ex-Agents Literary Tips

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has some tips for ex-agents with a literary bent—and for those suffering middle-age spread.

Hoover told some 1,700 former agents Thursday that if they decide to write about the FBI, they should note that he rarely insists on agents wiping their hands before speaking to him and he seldom stands on a platform during such conversations.

Finally, said Hoover, "only two men shot and killed John Dillinger, not 1700."

The remarks, addressed to a meeting of the Society for Former Special Agents of the FBI, referred to what Hoover called "myths that have appeared in books about the bureau."

The FBI director, head of the agency since 1935, chided over-weight ex-agents.

"While I recognize many of the faces, I don't recognize the size of the bodies," he quipped.

"The weight control program has obviously not been observed since you gentlemen left the bureau."

Among the former agents at the meeting were...

Harlem 'Screening' Mars Teacher Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Teachers who struck the nation's largest public school system for 14 days returned to the classroom today, but those at an East Harlem school were subjected to a community group's "screening process."

One was turned away. Four others asked to be transferred.

At the city's other schools, however, there was little or no trouble, according to Thomas F. Nevins, assistant superintendent of schools. Police were at all schools when teachers reported for work, he said.

A careful survey of all districts in New York showed everything to be calm and normal except in the East Harlem incident at Intermediate School 201.

A union chapter chairman at Intermediate School 201 was met at the door by Ralph Beas, a Negro member of the school's planning board, who blocked his path and said: "Not over my dead body!"

The union official, John Marsh, 33, turned away and left, telling newsmen: "The teachers who have been out on strike will not submit to the screening the planning board said they will give."

"It's deplorable, but I certainly don't want to see any dead body around, especially my own," Marsh added. He is white.

Community leaders and some parents in underprivileged areas of the city had called for a screening board to be composed of parents and leaders of the East Harlem community. The board would be made up of parents and school officials in matters dealing with curriculum, personnel and school problems.

Members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers had voted by more than 4 to 2 Thursday to accept a $18-million contract with the Board of Education.

But warnings of possible violence against teachers who had stayed off their jobs continued to come from Harlem and the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, and an aura of crisis was still in the air as this school day dawned rainy and misty.

Because of the weather and because it was a Friday, pupil attendance was expected to be well below normal.

A group of concerned teachers...

LBJ Tours South Texas; $2.5 Million Aid Offered

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson, touring the flooded lower Rio Grande Valley Thursday, declared 24 southern Texas counties to be a major disaster area.

He allocated $2.5 million of special federal aid as a start—only half the amount, the White House said, that Gov. John Connally requested.

As Johnson exited, Rio Grande floodwaters ravaged villages and pushed toward the village of Brownsville and Matamoros. Houses and buildings in Arroyo City, a tiny fishing village 10 miles from Harlingen, were one by one into the swirling waters. Residents left the village before the danger.

Convening an impromptu news conference here to announce the federal grant, which will be used to rebuild roads, bridges and other public facilities, Johnson said, "There wasn't a great deal I could do by personally coming here."

He said he made the trip "to let these people know that their government cares for them."

Johnson added he wanted victims of Hurricane Beulah and her ensuing floods to know "that we are a compassionate and understanding government and that in an hour of need we are there."

Some those Johnson greeted were moved to tears by the amount of the moment.

The President rode around Harlingen—where many of the streets looked like canals—in a yellow school bus.

Then he boarded a jet.

With Rep. Eligio de la Garza, D-Tex., acting as interpreter, he asked one Spanish-speaking woman: "Are you getting enough to eat?"

"Si, si," she responded.

Pope Starts World Synod Of Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI inaugurated today Roman Catholicism's first synod of bishops from around the world and told them their main task was to preserve and strengthen the Catholic faith.

In the keynote speech opening the historic assembly of 20 bishops, the pontiff decreed "insidious dangers" both inside and outside the half-billion-member church.

Characterizing these dangers as "unprecedented changes in Church dogma, the Pope warned that "more watchfulness was required on the part of those who, in the Church of God, have from Christ the mandate to teach, to spread His message and to guard the deposit of faith."

The synod represents an experiment to help the Pope govern the church more democratically. It is expected to take on many of the basic conflicts within the Church following the second Vatican Council that closed in 1965.

Working sessions of the synod, which will last at least a month, begin Saturday in a refurbished assembly hall in the apostolic palace adjacent to St. Peter's.

The Pope and 14 prelates chosen to celebrate the opening Mass were dressed in white and wore high ceremonial miters.

The rest of the nearly 200 bishops convened for the synod wore scarlet robes and sat in rows of seats in the central nave of St. Peter's basilica before the main altar.

The 70-year-old Pope's participation in the hour-long Mass...

Coe Award Winner For Herald Story

William Coe, The Herald's education reporter, has won arrived at the wrong school first prize in New England for the best news story written in the New England Associated Press News Executives Association. Coe and his wife Inez will travel to Portsmouth, N.H., tomorrow to attend the event.

Coe's story was about Manchester's participation in "Project Concern," a two-year experiment in busing Hartford's disadvantaged children to local and other area schools. Coe's account of the children's first day in Manchester schools drew the particular interest of the judges.

He told of the mixups and the confusion — of the children who...

Probe Finds Pesticide in Baked Goods

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—A pesticide, possibly used to kill rats in a wheat field somewhere in Mexico, has been found in bread seized from an unlicensed bakery, authorities said today.

Poisoned bread was blamed for the deaths of 17 children since Monday. An autopsy was pending to determine if 61-year-old woman who died Thursday was an 18th victim of the poisoning.

Laboratory tests by the California Department of Agriculture in Sacramento found the deadly pesticide parathion in bread. But further tests were planned to determine which ingredient in the bread contained the poison.

Brulio Gomez Veronesi, a deputy district attorney, said poison was found in bread baked in an unlicensed home bakery in an eastern suburb of this border city of 285,000. The baker was not charged.

Veronesi said it was believed that the ingredient—possibly flour—was contaminated before it arrived in Tijuana because parathion was found in the city, "not even in stores that sell flour."

Flour for Tijuana comes mainly from Mexico and Guatemala, where parathion is used against boll weevils in cotton and, one official said, possibly to kill rats in grain fields.

About 25 Tijuana bakeries were expected to remain closed today, and bakers scheduled a meeting to discuss the problem.

Bolton Candidates in Town Election

Polls will open Monday at 6 a.m. for Bolton's biennial town election. Polls will be open at the Community Hall until 8 p.m.

Biographies of the various candidates have been appearing in the Herald this week. A continuation follows: The list of candidates will be concluded in tomorrow's Herald.

Incumbent Board of Appeals—Incumbent John Mortenson is listed on the ballot as opposing Republican candidate Morris Silverstein. It has since been discovered that Mortenson's present term on the board is not up until 1970 and that his name was listed in error.

The secretary of state's office has ruled that, if Mortenson votes over Silverstein, he will resign from one term and take the new one, which runs from 1967 to 1972. In either event, he will remain on the board, and be the lone Democrat, at least until next year.

Democrat Ronald Ferris is opposing Republican incumbent Herbert Hutchinson for the 1968-73 term.

Mortenson has been on the zoning board of appeals for two years and is serving as its chairman. He was born and raised in Manchester and has lived in Bolton for seven years. He is manager of the town's restaurant. He has served on the board of directors of the Manchester Lion's Club and is a past president. He and his family live on South Rd.

Silverstein is a lifelong resident of Bolton. He graduated from the University of Connecticut with a B.S. in business administration and now works with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. He has completed courses of study toward a Chartered Life Underwriter, which is comparable to a master's degree under the auspices of UConn. He has been an alternate on the zoning board of appeals. He lives with his wife on Hillcrest Rd.

Ferris moved from Manchester to Bolton six years ago. He is a native of New Brunswick and studied at the University of New Brunswick. He is an agent for the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. In Bolton he is chairman of the Boy Scout department and on the board of deacons of the Congregational Church. He lives with his family on Vernon Rd.

Hutchinson was born and raised in Bolton, and has had his own construction work company for about 34 years. He is a charter member of the fire department and the manager of the firehouse. He lives on Bolton Center Rd.

Town Meeting on Monday To Take Action on 4 Items

The annual town meeting will take place Monday, starting at 6 a.m., adjourning at 8 p.m., and reconvening at 8:30 p.m., all at the Community Hall.

The election of officers is the part of the meeting that goes on all day. At 8:30 the town will take action on four items.

Three items are left over from a meeting which didn't quite meet legal requirements Sept. 18. They are the acceptance of Green Hill Rd., authorization of the selectmen to apply for a public building commission, and building a new elementary school (a legal formality over-looked earlier), and appropriation of an additional $25,000 for the installation of a new heating system in the Community Hall.

The last item on the agenda concerns a piece of property located to the town on Birch Mt. Rd. by Lawrence Hill. It is ready for purchase under town vote legislation, and the commission hopes to get a town vote soon on whether or not it will authorize application for funds.

School Menu—Monday, American chop suey, wax and green beans, raisin cookies; Tuesday, cold cut, corn, glazed sweet potatoes, nutmeg fluff cake; Wednesday, baked corned beef hash, pickled beets, spinach, raisin-chocolate chip cup; Thursday, pizza casserole, cold slaw, strawberry gelatin; Friday, creamed tuna on buscuit, sliced tomatoes, carrot sticks, applesauce.

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP)—Windy and mild weather with periods of rain will continue across southwestern New England today, the U.S. Weather Bureau reports.

A deepening storm which brought heavy rains to many sections of the middle and north Atlantic states will move to a position just north of Lake Ontario this evening. This storm is importing warm moisture-laden tropical air over all of Connecticut this morning. Somewhat cooler and drier air will gradually work around the storm center, arriving in New England Saturday.

In the meantime unseasonably chilly air prevails through the middle of the nation. Frequent frosts are being reported in the Midwest to the Deep South.

It is a good idea, but our good South rain into a better West. The play of the first three tricks told West exactly what was going on. Since South's plan was going to work West had to steer deftly in a different direction.

After some thought West led the three of spades. Now South saw that an unsuccessful club finesse would give West two clubs and three spades and was therefore just as dangerous as an unsuccessful diamond finesse. Instead of having a line of play South had to choose a finesse.

It is easy to see with our 20-20 hindsight that South should have stuck to his original plan and taken a second club finesse. Actually, South tried the diamond finesse and went down. Don't blame South. Give West credit for misdirecting a declarer who was headed right.

Columbia Registrars of Voters, Grace Friggle and Laura Stanga, announce there are 1,452 eligible voters. Last year's registry listed 1,423. 85 new voters were added; 66 were removed—a gain of 29 voters from last year. There are 585 registered Republicans, 424 Democrats and 453 non-affiliated.

The hours of the election Monday will be from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. in Yeomans Hall on the lower level.

Air, Ground Action Growing in Vietnam

Sept. 11 in an effort to strangle routes leading from the north back up supplies.

Plois reported that the normally heavily defended city threw up only light to moderate anti-aircraft fire. Headquarters made no mention of plane losses.

Over the demilitarized zone, B-52s and waves of tactical jets struck at suspected Communist bivouacs and the gunpits from which mortars and long-range guns have been firing Marine positions to the south a month-long pounding.

The high-altitude B-52s swept over the area three times today, unleashing an estimated 450,000 pounds of bombs. Two of the raids were just inside North Vietnam and the third was just above the shell-starred Marine camp at Con Thien.

The high-altitude B-52s swept over the area three times today, unleashing an estimated 450,000 pounds of bombs. Two of the raids were just inside North Vietnam and the third was just above the shell-starred Marine camp at Con Thien.

Headquarters reported that the Con Thien area received only 50 incoming rounds Thursday and that four Marines were wounded—the lightest day in a month.

Asked whether the slackened shelling signaled a respite for people put in the area by the Marines, a headquarters spokesman said, "You will have to ask that to the North Vietnamese army commander."

There was no slackening just to the southernmost and most guerrilla infested part of the thinly held 1st Corps area. The American Division weapons officer reported that a Laotian border reported 72 enemy dead.

Seat Belts the Key

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Public Health Service has asked all state and local law enforcement officers reporting accidents to ask that to the North Vietnamese army commander.

There was no slackening just to the southernmost and most guerrilla infested part of the thinly held 1st Corps area. The American Division weapons officer reported that a Laotian border reported 72 enemy dead.

Wheel Chair Protest

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen persons in wheel chairs showed up Wednesday to urge the City Council that ramps for easy access to public buildings be required in a proposed new building code.

City Hall has no such ramps, and the council chamber is on the second floor. So the hearing was moved to the ground floor of a building behind City Hall.

$50 in Change Taken from Car

A bag containing $50 in change was taken from the car of Charles Mistki of 7 Rosemary Parkade yesterday morning.

Mistki told police he got the change at a bank in the Parkade, put the bag on the seat of the car, and went into the Grand Way store "for a minute." The money was gone when he came out.

Police yesterday morning investigated a break at Manchester Pipe and Supply, 160 Hartford Rd. Taken in the break were various small tools—screwdrivers, wrenches, blades and hammers, police say.

Morton's goal is a Republican campaign plan offering voters what he terms a workable alternative to the Johnson policies on Vietnam.

Morton, of Kentucky, was a GOP national chairman and State Department official under President Dwight D. Eisenhower and is considered one of the party's most influential senators.

He proposed in a major speech Wednesday that a United States halt the bombing of North Vietnam, and search for peace and destroy missions by ground forces and concentrate on demilitarization of the peninsula.

At the same time, he proposed increased efforts to bring about negotiations with Hanoi.

Dirksen commented that these steps would not cause the Communists to stop fighting and that previous U.S. attempts to bring about negotiations had been rebuffed.

Morton had supported Johnson on the war but moved away from that position the past several months.

Morton's speech was one of several in recent days in which Republican Senate moderates have intensified their opposition to the Johnson war policies.

Other critics have been Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, Jacob K. Javits of New York, Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts.

Morton said there was time before the convention next August to reach an agreement on a Vietnam platform position.

"I'll be doing my best before then to persuade Sen. Dirksen" to support a GOP Vietnam policy in competition with that of Johnson, Morton said.

"I don't give up very easily," he commented, then added, "And Ev doesn't give up very easily."

Morton declined to speculate on the possibility of a head-on collision between Dirksen and the war critics.

As he has in the past to inquiries about whether he is challenging Dirksen's leadership, Morton pressed the minority leader as "one of the great legislative leaders in history."

"We agree on 85 per cent of the issues," Morton said, adding he would oppose any move to challenge Dirksen's position.

Morton Supporting Dirksen Despite Differences on Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thorton B. Morton says he's supporting Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen for chairman of the 1968 Republican platform committee despite their growing differences on Vietnam.

Between now and the convention, Morton said in an interview, he'll do his best to persuade Dirksen to withdraw the platform support the minority leader has been giving President Johnson on the war issue.

Morton's goal is a Republican campaign plan offering voters what he terms a workable alternative to the Johnson policies on Vietnam.

Morton, of Kentucky, was a GOP national chairman and State Department official under President Dwight D. Eisenhower and is considered one of the party's most influential senators.

He proposed in a major speech Wednesday that a United States halt the bombing of North Vietnam, and search for peace and destroy missions by ground forces and concentrate on demilitarization of the peninsula.

Bolton Democrat Voter Registrar Replies to Charges by Morra

Mrs. Mary Morgan, Democratic voter, has a reply to charges by Republican Registrar Richard Morra and William Ripley, member of the board of finance.

Both men are Republicans and Morra is seeking re-election Monday. But Mrs. Morgan says her letter is not a matter of politics but of charges made at a meeting's meeting when she was on vacation, Mrs. Morgan says.

A meeting of enumerators has been set for 9:30 a.m. Monday in the Bolton Center school cafeteria, when supplies and directions for completing the enumeration will be distributed.

HARTFORD (AP)—Seven tobacco companies have reached an out-of-court settlement with a Winsted farmer who said they were responsible for the deaths of his pigs.

The farmer, Fred Masow, filed a $150,000 civil suit in Superior Court against the insecticide sprayed by a plane they hired in Mr. Morra's group in their tobacco fields also killed his pigs.

The insecticide, Masow said, has a parathion gas base, deadly nerve gas developed by the Nazis for use in World War II.

The settlement between Masow and the tobacco companies was announced Thursday in Superior Court.

Neither side would disclose the amount of cash involved in the settlement.

It was Ahearn who, after moderating a democratic primary in August, brought up the question of pay for election officials. Ahearn himself did not question the moderator's salary, but suggested that election officials at least be paid the minimum wage. Mrs. Morra pointed, claiming that she says is a lowering of moderator's pay. "It has been away three weeks," Mrs. Morgan continues, "and upon my return I have been amazed to discover that Mr. Morra and Mr. Ripley at a selectmen's meeting have been talking about me. I would like to ask these two responsible Republican Officials why the Moderators in the Primaries of April and May 1966 were paid $20 per day but the Moderators of the 1966 and 1967 Primaries are paid at the rate of $12.25 per day, totaling $11.25 per day."

"When did the town officials reduce the pay of the Moderator? Where is the record? If one exists, I have requested seeing it and was unsuccessful. Apparently our Republican town officials under the leadership of Mr. Morra and Mr. Ripley can change rules and regulations at will."

"I suggest that these Republican town officials put their own home in order instead of criticizing me when I am not there to defend myself."

School enumeration

From the office of the superintendent of schools comes an announcement of school enumeration plans, and a request for volunteers.

The annual enumeration of all children under 21 years of age residing in the town of Bolton will be conducted during the first two weeks of October. In addition to the annual census, additional information relative to out of school youths will be collected by the enumerators.

This annual enumeration required by state statute is done to assure that each child is receiving the educational opportunities required by law and also to assist local boards of education in determining future class loads, personnel and school facility needs.

Mrs. William Cavanaugh and Mrs. Abilio Santos, representing the Center School PTA, have been appointed chief enumerators. Mrs. Cavanaugh will be responsible for the area north

Castro Calls OAS Sanctions Against Cuba, 'Ridiculous'

HAVANA (AP) — Premier Fidel Castro, wearing the red beret of Cuba's guerrillas, denounced today sanctions voted against his nation by the Organization of American States as "ridiculous farce."

U.S. "mercenary green berets"—Special Forces troops—with repressing Latin America's liberation movement.

"Not a million mercenaries can defeat this country," Castro told tens of thousands of Cuban gathered at Revolutionary Plaza. He spoke for three hours, 17 and in the registrars' voters minutes.

Although chants of "Hit the Yankees hard" came from a group of red berets before him, Castro wasted more than two hours before launching his attack on the United States and the OAS, which adopted a 15-point resolution in Washington Monday to confine Cuba.

The resolution denies to non-Communist vessels going to Cuba fueling facilities in Latin America ports, appeals to "friendly states" to curb their commercial transactions with Cuba, and touches on the possibility of taking charges of Cuban guerrilla infiltration in Venezuela before the United Nations.

Castro predicted any attempt to produre West European nations to cut their Cuban trade would fail. He termed OAS moves to bring Socialist countries indirectly into the plan the "worst of failures."

He said he would confront the

ability for running the town in the hands of an elected seven man council. The council would select one of its members to serve as chairman and would be responsible for hiring a chief administrator. The council members would all be elected for two-year terms.

The charter does away with the Board of Finance, placing fiscal responsibility on the shoulders of the council. The annual budget meeting will be retained and provisions are made for petitioning for a town meeting within 20 days of publication of an ordinance.

The 1,800 unaffiliated voters in Coventry will control the outcome of the election, Democrats and Republicans are almost equal, with 1,540 Democrats and 1,260 Republicans.

A total of 82 new voters were registered since last year raising the total enrollment to 3,800. Unaffiliated voters were the largest gainers, while Democrats gained 14 and Republicans lost 17.

HEBRON The three-way first selectman race in Hebron has been described as a "personality contest," with Independent Richard Grant given a good chance to defeat the party-endorsed candidates Democrat Carlman Frankel and Republican P. John Perham. Grant reportedly has bipartisan support.

Neither of the parties has come out with strong platforms, and voter registration is fairly evenly divided between the Democrats, Republicans and unaffiliated voters. Registration figures increased by 48 over last year now totaling 1,286. Democrats lost nine voters now totaling 490, while Republicans gained 12, numbering 476.

SOUTH WINDSOR South Windsor Democrats, who presently control the government, have pledged improved services coupled with controlled spending in their platform. The Republicans are pledging to keep South Windsor moving, stressing "principles, rather than platform planks."

The incumbent Democrat First Selectman Joseph Szegda is seeking re-election in this predominantly Republican stronghold. He is being opposed by incumbent Republican Selectman Edward Fox. Selectman candidates are incumbent Republican Edward Tuttle and Democrat newcomer George Palera. Republicans are standing on their past record, while the Democrats are making an issue of the present controversy involving the Planning and Zoning Commission and the owners of the Landmark.

with the Democratic first selectman candidate pushing for "economy in town government to create progressive growth within the town." He claims the tax rate is "sky-rocketing." Republicans claim the tax rate is "fair—one of the lowest in the country."

Rapid growth of the town, far surpassing that of other area towns has caused a burden on the taxpayers attempting to keep up with the costs of constantly needed new schools. The town which has grown from 2,900 in 1960 to over 7,000 at present faces several problems in the coming years.

Democrats are economically minded, while the Republicans have pledged to continue the present administration modernizing it where progress seems necessary. Both parties are stressing better relations and communications between town boards and commissions.

An unopposed Board of Education race in which both candidates will be automatically elected. Incumbent school board chairman David Cook and newcomer James Corbett are the candidates.

Voter registration figures show a 202-voter increase over the year ago with a total of 2,868 voters registered. Unaffiliated voters will control the outcome of the election Democrats gained 87 voters for a total enrollment of 901, while Republicans gained 88 new voters for a total enrollment of 954.

Republicans currently hold the balance of power in four of the six area towns. Whether the Democrats can buck tradition and capture control of the majority of area towns depends mostly on the unaffiliated voter.

Saigon Police Seize Critic Of Military in South Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Plainclothes police today seized and held for questioning Truong Dinh Tien, a sharp critic of South Vietnam's military rulers whose campaign on a white dove of peace ticket gained him second place in the presidential election last month.

A member of Dan's antigovernment front said police forced their way into Dan's car in downtown Saigon, then ordered the driver to proceed to police headquarters. Vu Hong Khanh, another defeated civilian candidate who was in the car with Dan, was taken to the headquarters but released.

Eight days ago, police entered the home of another major civilian politician, former Economic Minister Au Truong Thanh, and later handcuffed him. He was released after the United States brought pressure on the South Vietnamese government.

Thanh was denied permission to run for the presidency because of what the military government called his pro-Communist views. Thanh said he wanted to question Thanh about alleged Communist connections and his interest in traveling to the United States with his family.

Dau, a 30-year-old lawyer who has called the Sept. 3 election a "nationwide fraud," failed to show up Thursday at police headquarters for questioning about allegations that he defamed the Vietnamese judiciary.

On Sept. 15, Dau was sentenced to six months in prison and fined $27,000 on charges he wrote a bad check and illegally transferred money to America. He called the conviction political harassment and said he would appeal.

Dau has declared himself "the leader of the opposition" to the government of Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu. The military leader defeated Dau by about 800,000 votes in the presidential election.

Huge Gas Tank Being Destroyed

The huge gas storage tank of the Hartford Gas Co., located off Hartford Rd. near Gossie Dr., is being demolished.

According to the company, the super-sized drum is obsolete. It was built in 1921 for the storage of manufactured gas. With the coming of safe and dependable natural gas, transmitted through pipelines from the south, the tank is no longer useful.

This is only one of a number of these tanks that the Hartford Gas Co. will demolish in the future in the greater Hartford area.

The Hartford Rd. site of the tank will be used for a modern metering station and distribution center.

'Rich' Nations Spared

DEMOLITION ANTHONY NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP) — For almost three years, town officials tried to get the owner of a two-story building to spruce up his place.

The city finally informed owner Stanley Combs the building would be leveled. Wrecking crews were supposed to start the job but then it developed that Combs had quietly deeded the property to the mayor and other city officials.

Mayor Gerald Inman said that despite the gift, raising of the building would proceed.

Barber Says More Sit-ins Will Be Held

HARTFORD (AP) — More marches and more sit-ins will be conducted to make "Whitey" responsive to what he has done to black people, a Black Caucus leader predicted.

Caucus leader John Barber led a peaceful march Thursday night through drizzling rain down Hartford streets to Constitution Plaza where he spoke.

One reason given for halting the first march was that city officials wanted to prevent any possible violence which might have occurred had the marchers continued into Hartford's predominantly white South End.

A bottle and brick throwing melee in the North End broke out a night after the first march and the disturbances ended only when police used tear gas.

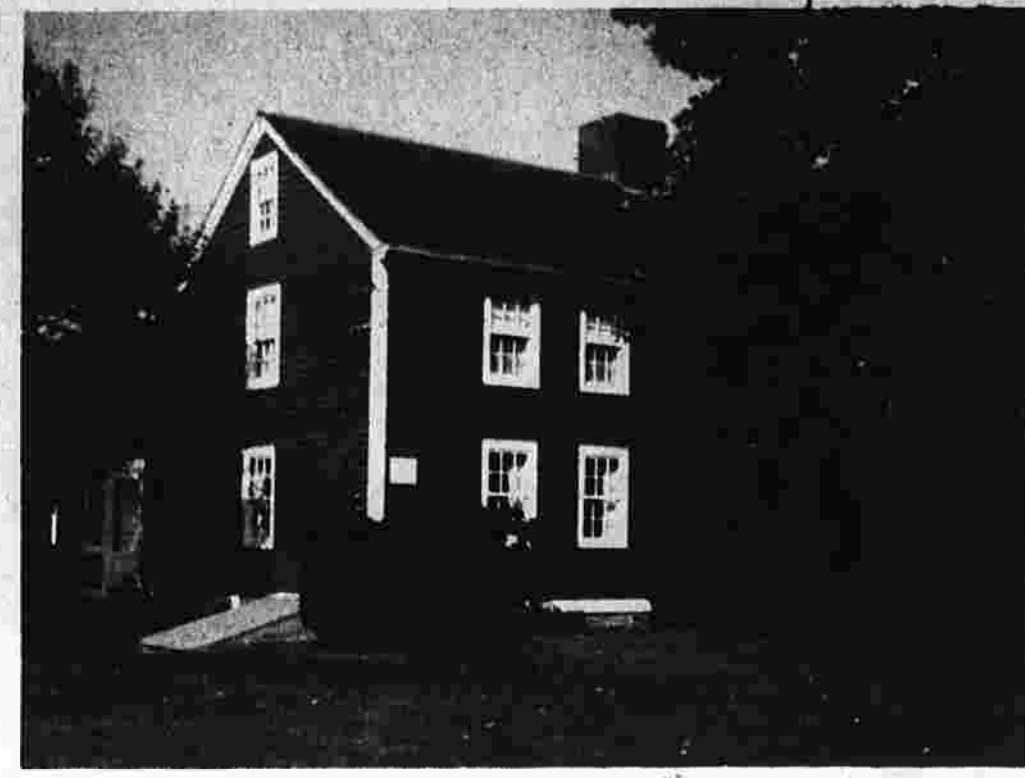

Thursday's march, however, was without incident. The marchers—about 50 persons, adults and children, Negro and Puerto Rican—stopped briefly in front of the police station and then proceeded to a confrontation of police as ordinary citizens.

Barber said the police station had been the "place of our pain." Parade marshals agreed to help police in any bottle throwers joined the march.

Between the police station and the plaza, the marchers dove in his fiery talk, Barber said Constitution Plaza was "the symbol of Mammon, the white power structure's god."

"We stand on holy ground," Barber said. "This is what the Hartford fathers and their descendants did to us. The spirit here is the spirit of the sweat of our labor and of poor whites. That spirit rises as a result of your exploitation."

Barber said it was important the marchers had arrived at their destination without incident. "We'll go farther than this," he said.

South Windsor Cowles Says GOP Campaign Shows Party's Initiative

Royal E. Cowles, Republican town chairman, today praised the most dramatic, exciting and vertical expansion in its 350-year history and referred to proposed industrial expansion.

"In recent months, we have seen the announcement of Savin Brothers' Parkcenter, of Fretz Reilly's industrial complex between Ellington Rd. and Long Hill Rd., the selection of a site for the new town hall and the beginning of a final phase of the town wide rezoning study."

"We cannot allow uncontrolled industrial expansion to create an environment that is not adjacent residential areas. We must begin at once to formulate and activate a program to foster the growth of the entire town."

Nicholas continued that the town council should be organized to stimulate and accelerate industrial growth. "It has been and will continue to be a Republican who provide the initiative and sound planning for South Windsor, as evidenced by the fact that every major program in town has been initiated by a Republican," he said.

"The people are still trying to find out what the issues of the program are, have then read the numerous articles the GOP has printed since the mid-August," Nicholas concluded.

School Testimonials The board of education and the South Windsor Education Association have approved a joint program to honor retiring employees of the school system at an annual testimonial affair.

A joint committee will be organized to plan the affair. It will include representatives of the board, the teachers' union and the school system.

Long-time incumbent Republican First Selectman Carmichael has endorsed the entire Republican slate of candidates.

Several collections showing the support of the town for the candidates will be held during the campaign.

Twin Stamp Issued for Space Work

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Post Office Department salutes America's "inspired space flight accomplishments" by issuing today the first "twin" stamp.

First-day sales of the double stamp—actually two five-cent stamps separated by a perforation—were scheduled between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's visitors information center.

One segment of the double stamp shows an astronaut walking in space, pushing himself around with a hand-held gas jet. The other five-cent segment shows a two-man Gemini craft circling around earth.

A lifeline connecting the astronaut to the postmaster, Orlando, Fla. 32802. Mailed-in requests must be postmarked no later than today, they said.

Players Select Own All-Stars

Yastrzemski No. 1

NEW YORK (NEA) — The naming of the most valuable players in baseball is a simple formula. Just fill in the names — Carl Yastrzemski for the American League, Orlando Cepeda for the National League.

Their peers, the players on the 20 teams in the major leagues, voted everybody to the punch when they voted overwhelmingly for the two sluggers in a special poll conducted by Newspaper Enterprise Association to choose the first annual All-Player All-Star baseball team.

Yastrzemski, gaining a position in the outfield, outdistanced every other player in the poll with minimal competition at first base, was second at 377. Roberto Clemente, the rife-armed Pittsburgh Pirate right-fielder who is gunning for his eighth consecutive season and his fourth National League batting title, was an impressive third in the tally with 207 votes, followed by outfielder Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves with 205.

The first of this star-studded lineup filled Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh at second base, Jim Freese of the California Angels at shortstop, Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs at third base, Tim Lincecum of the St. Louis Cardinals behind the plate, Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox as the starting pitcher and Ted Abernathy of the Cincinnati Reds as the relief specialist.

A testimonial and review of the team will be presented by Sandy Koufax in his program show preceding the nationally televised game between the Boston Red Sox on the NBC television network.

Deayed Spitter Weatherman

NEW YORK (AP)—The weatherman, throwing his delaying spitter at Detroit, has raised the distinct possibility that you or I will wind up pitching for the Tigers in their last game of the regular season.

The opening game of Detroit's regular season with California was raised out Thursday night and the game was delayed today and Sunday.

Joe Sparna was to pitch Thursday and with Earl Wilson scheduled today and Mickey Lolich on Saturday, Sparna could have come back with two days' rest for the final Sunday.

Sparna's turn moved up to today's first game, he's out of the picture after today's game, which also could be a couple of tests later, says he's ready, but Manager Mayo Smith is skeptical.

The forecast in Detroit today, by the way, was for rain, setting up the intriguing possibility of consecutive doubleheaders on Saturday and Sunday.

The only other game involving the Twins and the Red Sox tonight, Chicago is at home in Washington. The White Sox are right down at the end of the stick; one more defeat and their chances of even trying for the pennant are gone.

Minnesota, in first place by a game and a half, tied with Detroit for second, get a second Wednesday when he tried to pitch with two to go in the Twins game named Jim Kat and Dean Chance to hurl the windup series.

The Red Sox, who trail Minnesota by a full game, must win both games to have a chance for the pennant or a playoff berth. Things aren't quite that bleak, still stand a chance of at least a playoff berth if they win at least one game.

Less than a week ago things looked a lot brighter for the Red Sox. They were tied for first place and were coming home to finish the season with two straight games on home runs.

Williams said Thursday he would use Jose Santiago as his pitcher on Saturday and then back with Jim Lonborg on Sunday.

Williams has pitched only three innings in the past week so he should be well rested, Williams said as he contemplated taking the mound for the first time since he was hurt.

With the left-handed Kat scheduled to work on Saturday, the Red Sox have a chance to win both games.

Stanky's pitching plan for Tommy John (10-11) to make tonight's start followed by Peter and Joe Horlen. The Red Sox will send Phil Ortega, 9-10, against John White.

Although Washington is deep in the American League's second division, the Senators have been tough this season for White Sox. Chicago leads only 8-7 on the season thus far and now is in a tight race.

Red Sox Now Have Backs to Wall

BOSTON (AP) — The sudden snitching of Boston Red Sox may spell several lineup-up changes for their back-to-back games with the regular season American League pennant race.
