Through These Doors

Child Guidance Center

The door at 317 N. Main St. to the Community Child Guidance Center opened 2,888 times last year and through it passed many troubled children and their parents.

The team of workers at the Guidance Clinic discovered that John's main task in the home was to care for his mother. Typical of these disturbed children is Johnny X.

His mother had developed a guilt complex, feeling that it was her fault that Johnny and his two sisters were without a father. This guilt complex made her a very inadequate parent.

Soon thereafter, Johnny's mother remarried. Unfortunately, her new husband himself was a product of a broken home.

Approximately 66 per cent of the cases referred by the clinic are referred by physicians (44 per cent), psychiatrists (21 per cent), and clergy (3.2 per cent).

The receipt of a state grant under the State of Connecticut Department of Mental Health enabled the clinic to open for business on Jan. 1, 1967.

The clinic handles cases of children through the high school age. Most children come on an average of twice a week for approximately six weeks.

At the present time there is a waiting list for treatment, however, emergency cases are always given immediate attention.

Charges for services rendered by the clinic are on a graduated basis with the formula taking into account the family size and family income.

Douglas Stanish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanish of West Willington, has been elected master of the Junior Order of United Mothers Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

Bishops Dismayed At Speech

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Dismayed was reported today among progressive clergies gathered for the world synod of Roman Catholic bishops after Pope Paul VI opened the morning meeting Friday by denouncing "insidious dangers" to the faith.

The focus of the first working session today was the Pope's main task in the coming months. The Pope mentioned only the Church launched by the Second Vatican Council began under Pope John XXIII and continued under Pope Paul VI.

He told the bishops that more watchfulness by the United States and other nations was required and spoke of danger within the Church from those who try to change its doctrine.

World Awaits Hanoi Reply To Latest LBJ Peace Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's latest peace bid to end the Vietnam war is being watched with interest by the world.

Ever before the President spoke Friday night, offering to halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam in return for prompt, "productive" discussions.

Vice Premier Le Thanh Nghi said in Peking that the United States "must unconditionally halt its bombing and other acts against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam once and for all."

Speaking to newsmen in Lancaster, Ohio, where he was attending a testimonial, Ford said he hoped Johnson was telling the public "the absolute truth about the many efforts the administration has made in seeking peace."

Red Mortars Shell U.S. Base in Delta

CON THIEN (AP)—The Communists opened up mortars in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon today, shelling the U.S. 9th Infantry Division headquarters—the main American base in the area.

Shells of the district headquarters town of Hai Lang, about 25 miles below the demilitarized zone, were fired on Tuesday.

Communist infantrymen then tried to storm through wire barricades but were held back and lost 17 dead, military spokesmen said.

The U.S. command said one mortar was destroyed and 300,000 pounds of bombs on Red positions above Con Thien were damaged and Air Force and Marine jets continued to hit suspected gun positions.

Wonders of the Universe—Space Station Has Commercial Promise

By DR. I. M. LEVITT, DIRECTOR, The Franklin Institute

The reluctance of Congress to undertake costly space ventures as follows-up to the Apollo program has provided an incentive to get on with the development of space stations. The first of these—the Orbital Workshop—is scheduled to be launched in 1969. Designs are also evolving for the highly versatile space stations of the future.

Many scientists and engineers in both the aerospace companies and government are presently busy trying to picture the demands and the potential of a large space station. They hope that commercial application make it more palatable. A gradual evolution may result in a 400-man commercial space station.

The remaining 12 men would be in the basic space station but work in the large corporations who finance research and development. These men would represent the large corporations who finance research and development. They would be in the basic space station but work in the large corporations who finance research and development.

The Shelling of Con Thien

The special significance of the shelling of the advance marine post at Con Thien by North Vietnamese artillery is that this is the first time in the war in Vietnam that our enemy has been able to mount something like a normal military operation against us.

Up to this point, we had exclusive advantages from all the traditional weapons of modern war. We had, and still have, undisputed command of the air. We had, and still have, the offshore fire power of our Navy's gunboats. We had, and still have, the missile supply of artillery in all ranges and capabilities.

Scoffing May Be Ignorance

There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy.

This was Hamlet to his friend, and it would be the truth in our time. The people of Greece haven't suffered the foreign conflict and civil war and political strains of the past 20 years just because they are so stupid as to believe that a normal military operation against us is impossible.

Have you seen the new landscaping around McDonald's at 78 W. Center St.? It makes this popular place an even nicer place to eat for the plantings are done with an eye to color and attractiveness.

McDonald's Newly Landscaped
Particularly popular are the Filet-O-Fish Sandwiches which were introduced by McDonald's, the only change or addition they have made in their menu. These sandwiches are popular every day of the week and once you have tasted one you will agree with everyone else, they are really delicious. These were introduced in 1965 and since that time their popularity has increased by leaps and bounds.

Coin Shop a Family Business
Connecticut Valley Coin Co., at 97 Center St., is owned and operated by Edwin Blow, who is assisted by his wife, Charlotte. Unjustified Booring by Fans
Two birds at Fenway Park last Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon were operating in all sections when their fanlings, the Boston Red Sox, were falling flat on their faces against the second division Cleveland Indians. The Tribe came into Boston and swept the two-game set and practically knocked the Sox out of the American League race. Only some unexpected help from California against Minnesota and Kansas City against Chicago kept the Red Sox still breathing in the closest race in all baseball history today.

Red Sox Hope to Reverse Situation Of Nearly 20 Years Ago in AL Race
BOSTON (AP)—Nearly two decades ago the Boston Red Sox were the New York Yankees' only rival in the pennant race. Today the Sox hope to reverse the situation of nearly 20 years ago in the American League by one game and needing only a split of a game to win the pennant. Hebron Town Voters Choose from 3 Candidates
For the first time in Hebron's history, voters will have an opportunity to choose between three candidates for first selectman. The candidates are: William W. Williams, who has been in the town for 20 years; Donald C. Carman, who has been in the town for 10 years; and John P. Perham, who has been in the town for 5 years. The election will be held on Monday, October 2, at 8 p.m. in the town hall.

Greetings, friends! The Hoople System has done it again! Watch for this week's forecast, one more of your favorite correspondents has proved his title as the Upset Champ. He is not a sports nut, he is a horse man. Last week I gave you not one but "three" upsets of prop. favorites—Oklahoma State over Arkansas, Northwestern over Michigan, and Houston to surprise mighty Michigan State. And that—last week—is exactly what happened!

THE Herald Angle

NEW YORK (AP) — The coffin slammed shut on the Walking Dead and then there were three. Eddie Stanky's tenacious Zombies, the Chicago White Sox, dropped out of the American League pennant struggle Friday night, succumbing 1-0 to Washington 1-0 on Bill Ortega's four-hitter.

Short Puffs
This month's matter of concentration, says Green Bay kicker Don Chandler, who has made good on both of his attempts in six pre-season and two regular season games after being relieved of his punting duties in favor of Donny Anderson. The only two he has missed were in the pre-season. His seven in the regular season were 24, 26, 28, 24, 22 and 23 yards. He missed on tries of 46 and 50 yards. The kick against the Bears was blocked by the Bears' last 10 yards, including three for three in regular season games against Detroit and Chicago. His 28-yard field goal with 88 seconds left gained the lead 10 times on the day. Jim Bakken of St. Louis kicked the ball 10 times on the day. The NFL record is held by Tom Mack of the Oakland Raiders, who kicked 11 times in a game.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Out-of-control Atlanta Braves manager Bill Wirtz, who has been suspended for 30 days, is still in the clubhouse. The Braves are looking for a new skipper. The Braves are looking for a new skipper. The Braves are looking for a new skipper.

Hoople Forecast System Looks Better All the Time
By MAJOR A. B. HOOPLE
Maker of Upsets
Greetings, friends! The Hoople System has done it again! Watch for this week's forecast, one more of your favorite correspondents has proved his title as the Upset Champ. He is not a sports nut, he is a horse man. Last week I gave you not one but "three" upsets of prop. favorites—Oklahoma State over Arkansas, Northwestern over Michigan, and Houston to surprise mighty Michigan State. And that—last week—is exactly what happened!

Tolland Large Truck Jack-Knives

A large, loaded trailer truck was one of five vehicles involved in a series of accidents on the Wilbur Cross Highway in Tolland during a three-hour period of rain and wet pavement yesterday.

Thirty smashed fence posts, two arrests, teen-age girls's socks and hours of jammed traffic into the evening were some of the results, police said.

The first accident happened at 10 a.m. when a car driven by Leonard Arcine, 20, of New Britain ran off the right side of the Wilbur Cross highway heading east.

Rosemary Blacker of New Britain, Arcine's passenger, reported a sore knee from the accident. Police reported no arrests.

The big tractor-trailer truck came on the scene heading east right after the Arcine car crashed, police said.

Police said the truck then went off the left side of the road, knocked away 12 posts, jack-knifed and forced the truck's rear traction wheels deep into the ground.

At 11:50 a.m. another truck, not a trailer type, driven by Paul Ousback, 27, of Portland, Maine approached the scene of the first two accidents.

Ousback was charged with speeding too fast for conditions and failure to stay in the established lane.

Traffic began to pile up behind the three accidents.

"I am ready to have Secretary Rusk meet with their foreign minister tomorrow."

"I am ready to send a trusted representative to any spot on this earth to talk in public or private with any spokesman for Hanoi."

While emphasizing peace efforts in his address—delivered before 1,600 delegates to the National Legislative Conference of State Officials—Johnson put approximately equal stress on U.S. determination to persevere in Vietnam.

Rogers Union Asks Authority to Strike

A strike against the Rogers Corporation by more than 600 employees in its Manchester, Williamstown and Rogers plants may be in the offing if company officials fail to meet union demands for a new contract.

Union locals in the three plants have tentatively called a meeting Oct. 8, at which members will be asked to authorize a strike vote, according to George Fratus, recording secretary for the Manchester local.

The existing contract at all three plants expires Monday. The workers are represented by the national United Paperworkers and CIO Paperworkers Union, AFL-CIO.

There are about 120 members at the three plants. Fratus said the possibility of a strike looms because management has not yet replied to a list of demands for a new contract currently being negotiated.

The existing two-year contract was signed in November, 1965, after some two and one-half months of negotiations.

The union's demands are mainly concerned with increased wages and fringe benefits, Fratus said. It is seeking an additional 25 cents per hour in wages, plus fringe benefits costing about 37 cents per employee.

As for management, the proposed strike authorization "came as complete news," said

Woman Is Hurt In 2-Car Crash

A rear-end collision early yesterday morning sent Mrs. Clara D. Zagura of 27 Ellington Ave. to Rockville General Hospital with minor injuries, police said today.

Police said she stopped her car at the intersection of East Main St. and Prospect St. when the car driven by Lawrence Godin, 34, of Staffordville skidded into the rear of her car. Godin was given a written warning for following too closely.

Mrs. Zagura was treated and discharged from the hospital. Antonio Aulet, 33, of Abbot Rd., Ellington was arrested at 1:45 a.m. today and charged with operation in violation of limited license. Police said the license restricted him to driving only at work.

Aulet is scheduled to appear in Rockville Circuit Court 12 Oct. 10.

Ninzio S. Larosa Jr., 24, of 100 West St. was arrested yesterday morning and charged with operating an unregistered motor vehicle and misuse of registration plates. Police said the car he was driving had plates from a car junked previously.

He is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 17.

Riley Replies To Mrs. Morgan

William Riley, Republican member of the Board of Finance has taken issue with the statement in the newspapers yesterday by Mrs. Mary Morgan, Democratic registrar of voters.

Riley said Mrs. Morgan had charged he and First Selectman Richard Morra "changed the rules and regulations of the town at will."

Riley referred to Mrs. Morgan's complaints about a change in payment for moderators of primaries.

He said, "Everyone should be well aware Mr. Morra is a member of a three-man board and I am a member of a six-man board. These boards, not one man, make the decisions."

He added election salaries are set by the board for admissions of electors.

Riley also charged Democratic Candidate for the Board of Education Aloysius Ahearn with some "irresponsible comments."

He cited Ahearn's letter to the editor of a newspaper stating polls were only open from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. last year or one hour.

"Jumping to conclusions, Mr. Ahearn did not take the time to find out that the polls were open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.," Riley said.

Riley also cited Ahearn's public charge that the town did not have a flag available with 50 stars for display in the town hall. He noted there were two of these flags available at the town offices and Ahearn should have taken time to find that out.

Police Arrests

Robert Lee McCain, 16, of 124 Spruce St. was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The arrest was made on a warrant yesterday morning. He was released on a no cash bail compact, and is scheduled for court appearance on Oct. 16.

McCain's arrest stems from an alleged trip to Virginia with a 15-year old girl, authorities say.

Robert L. Ranking, 23, of Wall St., Coventry, was served a warrant for breach of peace when he came to police headquarters yesterday evening. Police say he was charged as a result of a domestic disturbance at 66 Birch St. recently.

He is scheduled to appear in court on Oct. 9.

Patricia A. Flanagan of 48 N. Elm St. was charged with allowing a dog to roam. The arrest was made last night after a complaint was lodged that the dog did damage to a seed bed lawn at 39 N. Elm St.

Mrs. Flanagan is scheduled to appear in court on Oct. 16.

Coventry 3,295 Voters Are Eligible To Go to the Polls Monday eligible to go to the polls on Monday to cast their votes during the special and town election.

The program is classified as a special election since a normally state post of judge of probate will have to be filled due to the resignation of the former official. Appearing on the ticket for this post are William A. Hall (D), and David C. Rappe (R), both attorneys at law.

The town election is in two parts: On Question 1 "For the adoption of the proposed Charter for the Town of Coventry" for which the voters will indicate either a "yes" or a "no" vote. Both local political party town committees and campaign platforms favor the adoption of this proposed document.

The second part involves the voting for town officials and boards. Seeking office are for first selectman: Michael J. Pease (D), and D. William Sleeper (R), and as selectmen, Richard M. Hawley (D), and J. Richard Nicola (R), both incumbents.

Running for town clerk and town treasurer: Elizabeth R. Rychling (D), and Ruth W. Smith (R); tax collector, F. Pauline Little (R), incumbent, who has also been endorsed by the Democrats for this post, and Agent of Town Deposit Fund, Michael J. Pease (D), and D. William Sleeper (R).

Pope Pleads For UN Action In Viet War

Vietnam is not on the assembly's agenda but it has dominated the general policy debate, which on Friday completed its second week. The message from the spiritual leader of the world's more than 500 million Roman Catholics was believed certain to give a boost to the pressure for a U.N. role in Vietnam peace moves.

Sgt. Friday Still On the Right Side

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was Tuesday, August 15. It was hot in Los Angeles. We were watching the day's work at "Dragnet." The boss was Jack Webb. There was no doubt about that.

The set was a teen-aged boy's bedroom. Webb in his familiar role of Sgt. Joe Friday, and Harry Morgan, playing his partner, were running through a scene.

Webb, in shirt sleeves, walked through his part in a preoccupied way and then stepped out of character to become the director. He moved Morgan a step closer to the camera, rearranged a blanket on the bed that concealed a rifle and then, still not satisfied, worked out with Morgan a little extra emphasis around their discovery that a "souvenir hand grenade" was missing with the boy.

Then, shrugging into a jacket, Webb followed Morgan out of the camera's eye. He called "Action," and the two men went through their paces. It was very professional, fast and apparently easy. Webb paused briefly and then ordered "Cut and save it," removed his jacket and returned to his director's role to prepare the next scene.

The 47-year-old star, who for almost two decades of radio and television as crew cut, sober-faced Friday has created the image of a good, hard-working police officer, is a member of a very small Hollywood group: the quadruple hyphenates. A hyphenate, in current movie-TV jargon, is a man with more than one job in a show. But where most hyphenates can merely put writer-director or producer-director after their names, Webb is "Dragnet's" star-producer-creator-director — and he has a hand in turning out the final scripts and casting his shows as well.

"Dragnet" had been retired to profitable syndication reruns in 1960, but bounced back on the NBC screens as a midyear replacement last season. Unchanged in format and viewpoint ("We're on the side of the law and order and our policemen are, for the most part, good guys"), the show jumped right back to a comfortable high spot in the Nielsen list.

The series is unusual because it has an identifiable style of its own—laconic dialogue building to the snapper. A typical bit was in the scene Webb and Morgan were playing. Morgan finds a hand grenade in a small box, and passes it on to Webb, who cautiously removes the primer as the boy's stepfather explains

Desi Arnaz is a bullfighter on NBC's "The Mothers-in-law" Sunday 8:30 p.m.

The Return of Desi Arnaz

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) — Desi Arnaz, in the period following his divorce from Lucille Ball, sold his stock in Desilu, quit show business and retired to his horse farm, his boat, the track and golf course. He stood it for three years, but now he's back with both feet—and seems a little surprised.

"Things that got me where I was were the things I couldn't do when I got there," said the man who built a camera technique and a comedy series into a giant production company, Desilu, and a fortune.

Arnaz, now in his early fifties, has picked up some weight and his hair shows considerably more salt than pepper. After three years in retirement and two developing new shows he was lured back into television as producer and director of NBC's new comedy series, "The Mothers-in-Law," and has even been persuaded to act in one of the episodes.

After directing the first eight episodes, he is sidelined at his beach home at this Pacific Ocean resort recuperating from a freak accident which almost took his life. A veranda on which he was sitting collapsed and threw him against a metal stake, puncturing his side and requiring emergency surgery.

"I got where I didn't want to be because things began parlaying," said Arnaz, lighting a slim cigar and squinting at the ocean through dark glasses.

"We had a little studio and 'I Love Lucy' and then to compete we had to get a larger studio and from there on we had to get out or get bigger. We wound up with three big studios. But by 1962 I decided I didn't want to be Lew Wasserman head of Universal Studios. I wanted to be Willie Wyler a top film director."

But for three years, Desi was neither. But his attention inevitably was caught by a book which he thought would make a good movie. Soon William Paley, chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System, called him, Arnaz said, and asked if he really intended to return to work-outside television.

"No more rat race," Desi told him. "No more wanting things day before yesterday."

"It takes three years to get even in television while losing $5,000 or $10,000 a year," he explained. "I was even then and I didn't know anything about comedy shows with gimmicks where the people take pills or live in bottles. . . Comedy is where you pile one joke on top of another joke and people laugh."

But the result was that Desi Arnaz returned to television, signed by CBS, his old network, to develop shows. And the first venture was based on an idea that had been kicking around Desilu since "I Love Lucy" days.

He first managed to get back Bob Carroll Jr. and Madelyn Davis who had written all 180 original Lucy shows. Eve Arden was added as the star comedienne, and although not Desi's first choice, Kaye Ballard joined her when Arnaz saw her performing in a night club.

Svetlana Interview

Miss Svetlana Alliluyeva, the daughter of Stalin, will be interviewed Monday at 9 p.m. on Channel 24. Miss Alliluyeva has just published "Twenty Letters to a Friend," a recollection of her life in Russia. The interview will be conducted by Paul Niven. The program will be repeated Tuesday at 9:30 p.m.

HALLMARK PREMIERE

Kathleen Widdoes will play opposite John Forsythe in the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" production of "A Bell for Adano" on Nov. 11, opening the 17th season for Hallmark on NBC.

Andrew Wyeth, the popular artist, is the subject of a study by Harry Reasoner Tuesday 10-11 p.m.

A Vintage Year For Variety Shows?

NEW YORK (AP) — This may be a rather poor year for comedies and westerns, but as the television season moves along there are indications it may be a vintage year for variety shows.

Dean Martin's show looks better than ever, Carol Burnett's new hour shows preliminary signs of being a success, the Smothers Brothers continue to amuse. And Wednesday night's "Music Hall" on NBC with Rock Hudson leading the way was a thoroughly delightful hour that gently kidded those 1930 Hollywood supermusicals—while replaying some of the great old tunes.

Hudson, one of the Hollywood stars who made his name in comedies, showed great charm as he sang Maurice Chevalier's "Louise," danced with a whole chorus of little Shirley Temples to "The Good Ship Lollipop," joined in a medley of Oscar-winning songs with Connie Stevens. While his singing voice is hardly in the Mario Lanza class, his warmth and enthusiasm more than made up for that.

Bobby Van had some amusing imitations of the dancing of Fred Astaire and Ray Bolger. There was, of course, a simulation of one of those Busby Berkeley production numbers featuring a huge stage and a large, busy chorus which climaxed so many well-remembered depression-era film spectacles.

NIELSEN REPORT

The top 10 programs in a national Nielsen report covering the week starting Sept. 11 were either broadcasts of feature movies or established television series. Five new programs, however, did get into its top-20 list.

Most popular program of that week, according to the Nielsen projection of choices by 590 homes, were CBS's Friday and Thursday night movies, NBC's "Bonanza," and Saturday night movies, CB's "Family Affair" and "Gomer Pyle," NBC's Tuesday night movies, CBS's "Andy Griffith Show" and "Lucy Show," and ABC's "Bewitched."

New program in the top 20 were ABC's "The Flying Nun," NBC's "High Chaparral," and "The Jerry Lewis Show," CBS's "Carol Burnett Show" and NBC "The Mother-in-Law."

The survey, too early in the season to be conclusive, does suggest that some new shows are already in trouble. At the bottom of the list of more than 80 programs were ABC's "Good Company," "Legend of Custer" and "Off to See the Wizard," and NBC's "Accidental Family."

Postponed

The strike of a technician's union against ABC has forced the postponement of two new game shows scheduled to start Monday, and the temporary replacement of a soap opera.

Because taped shows cannot be made, both "Temptation" and "How's Your Mother-in-Law?" will have their premieres after the strike is over. Reruns of the shows they will replace — "The Honeymoon Race" and "Dateline: Hollywood" — will fill the time periods. Reruns of "The Farmer's Daughter" will take over for "Dark Shadows" the daytime serial.

Winter, Sort of, In 'Peyton Place'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hot noon sun was pushing the thermometer over the 100-degree mark and it was humid. But winter had come to "Peyton Place."

Workmen, some stripped to the waist, were building snowbanks, creating snow drifts, frosting summer-blooming shrubs with white and steaming up the windows of the book shop, the newspaper office and even Dr. Rossi's second floor office.

For the next couple of months, the actors will suffer with perspiration beading through their pancake makeup, stomping around the fake snow in heavy overcoats and galoshes, shivering and rubbing mittened hands.

From the beginning of the program three seasons back, the evening soap opera has matched its outdoor scenes to seasonal change in New England. Currently they are shooting episodes which will be broadcast in December.

The heart of Peyton Place is a permanent outdoor set on the 20th Century-Fox lot. At its center is a little park.

On one side is the studio commissary whose facade also doubles as the entrance to the Peyton Place hospital; on the other are the false-front shops of the town. The trees in the park are fake, and when summer comes on, the workmen attach — one by one — fake leaves. These have been removed now, just as carefully, and the boughs and limbs artfully dusted with finely minced white silicone. The piles of slightly grimy plowed snow at the sides of the road are convincing even under inspection. Their construction starts with rows of heavy paper sacks filled with shredded foam rubber to give them shape. These are covered with excelsior, watered down, and held in place with chicken wire. Then the form is covered with white gypsum plaster. Cotton batting and white sheeting are used to reproduce snow rolls on roofs. Steam on the inside of windows is achieved by sprayed plastic. But not even the studio magicians can simulate steam on the breath of the actors. Everything, from cigarette smoke to spray mists, has been tried, but nothing works. "When you see steam as actors talk," said Everett Chambers, producer of the series, "You know that they are really working cold."
