Boston Goes Wild Over Red Sox Win

BOSTON (AP)—Firecrackers flashed across Kenmore Square, strangers shook hands and some kissed, and Red Sox fans surged through city streets to celebrate the team's first American League pennant since 1918.

A crowd of about 4,000 began gathering in the square, near the Sox' Fenway Park home, Sunday night shortly after the team defeated Minnesota 6-3 to clinch at least a tie for the pennant.

When word came that California had defeated Detroit 8-5 in the second game of a double-header to eliminate the possibility of a playoff, the frustrations of 21 years were loosed as fans began a revelry that continued into the early hours of today.

The crowd halted traffic in the square and surrounding area.

Boston mounted police were helpless and two raised their fingers in a V-for-victory salute. The crowd clapped and chanted, "We're No. 1! We're No. 1!"

Boston University police were summoned to help disperse the fans, many of them students from the nearby university.

Sixteen members of the Devil's Disciples motorcycle club were arrested for unlawful assembly when they began gathering near the square.

Some 500 of the crowd marched up Commonwealth Avenue, tearing down street signs before dispersing.

UAW Chief Sees Victory For Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Nearly 100,000 United Auto Workers members ended the 28th day of their strike against Ford Motor Co. today with union leaders' assurances they will win their demands.

More than 8,000 of them reacted with cheers and applause at a rally Sunday when UAW President Walter P. Reuther told them, "We will never surrender."

The show of determination, according to some industry sources, may break the deadlock in auto industry labor contract negotiations and open the way toward settlement.

This, at least, had been the prognosis of some industry executives who viewed the rally as a major indicator of the strikers' staying power.

The 66-year-old Reuther returns to the bargaining table at Ford today "to see if we can get things off dead center."

The strike began Sept. 7 after nine weeks of talks had resulted in no agreement on any phase of the contract. Not one paragraph has been written yet.

Reuther repeatedly attacked the industry in general and Ford in particular, accusing them of forcing the union to strike for what he called justice.

He frequently criticized Henry Ford II, board chairman and grandson of the founder of the nation's No. 2 automaker, for declining an invitation to attend the rally to explain why he called the UAW demands "unconscionable."

Ford earned more than $3.9 million in salary, bonuses and dividends last year, and Reuther cracked, "That's as much as

LBJ Facing Opposition In Primary

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Liberal Democrats plan to oppose President Johnson in the 1968 California primary with a national convention delegation pledged to seek peace in Vietnam and racial equality at home.

Strongly critical of the President's war policy, and charging he has failed to help the Negro poor, the 33,000-member California Democratic Council ended a special meeting Sunday with a promise to challenge a pro-Johnson slate of party regulars in next June's election.

"There has to be a drastic change in policy or the national administration will face defeat," said Gerald Hill of San Francisco, president of the 14-year-old organization of grassroots volunteers.

While not carrying the banner of any specific candidate, the delegation's leaders said they would mount a campaign that will provide Californians a chance to express their opinion on the war at the polls.

To the winner will go the political prestige that comes with victory in the nation's most pop-

Jail Head Gets Tough Over Riot

HARTFORD (AP)—State Jail Administrator Harold E. Hegstrom invoked a "get tough" policy today to prevent any further uprisings at the Hartford State Jail.

It took 13 extra guards to quell a bed-burning and window-breaking outbreak by inmates at the jail late Sunday night.

Sheriff Patrick J. Hogan said today the disturbance was stopped a half-hour after it started, and that most of the extra guards were then released from duty.

Another disturbance erupted Saturday night when several fist fights broke out among inmates who watched a rebroadcast of a televised prize fight between Nino Benvenuti and Emile Griffith.

Jail personnel had some difficulty bringing the men back to their cells in the "bull pen" area which houses about 177

McNamara May Back Turks A-Barrier Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara indicated today he may support a Turkish proposal to seed atomic demolition mines along Turkey's frontier with the Soviet Union.

Turkey's Defense Minister Ahmet Popoluglu suggested the plan at the latest NATO nuclear planning meeting in Ankara.

The idea would be to create a sort of atomic barrier along the Turkish-Soviet boundary to thwart any Russian invasion of Turkey.

McNamara, returning from the Ankara meeting today, told newsmen:

Of course, that could not be considered provocative because these atomic demolition charges are placed in the ground—under the ground along the border—and could be used only for de-

Con Thien Front Is New War

EDITORS: Pulitzer Prize-winning Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett has toured the embattled 1st Corps area form its southern provinces to the demilitarized zone where Communist artillery daily pounds U.S. Marine strongpoints. Here is his analytical report on the situation in the northern region of South Vietnam.

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer
CON THIEN, Vietnam (AP)—This shell-battered outpost held by U.S. Marines is becoming a symbol of the new war in the northern region of South Vietnam, a war whose pace and tactics have been determined by North Vietnamese Communists.

For U.S. Marines at Con Thien it looks like a grim fall and winter in the five northern provinces that make up Viet-nam's 1st Corps. They see little—militarily, geographically or climatically—to relieve the somber picture that follows what one senior American official called "a pretty unpleasant summer" in the corps area.

As inhabitants of the three red-mud hills of Con Thien, the forward-most allied strongpoint in Vietnam, the Marines can be expected to hold a sour view of the situation: The primitive outpost guarding possible invasion routes into South Vietnam has become the lightning rod of the war, attracting savage bombardments from the hidden guns in the enemy sanctuary in North Vietnam across the Ben Hai River border.

The monsoon rains are beginning to drum in, clogging fox holes with mud and making helicopter flights—the only way in—hazardous.

Because it nudges North Vietnam, Con Thien is the easiest target in the country for the northern Communists. They send snipers in nightly to probe the barbed wire defenses. Snipers are active at all times. The Marines say they are not surrounded, but there is no doubt that the enemy is all around.

Senior Marines make little attempt to hide their fear that the necessity of repelling enemy thrusts at the demilitarized zone will destroy the whole concept devised to fight the Communists elsewhere in the large 1st Corps region, a concept determined in more than two years of U.S. Marine commitment to the war.

Already, Marine officers say, painstakingly acquired advantages in key corps areas have been eroded because of the need

The Safe Way

BELEMONT, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Pratt went away two times on weekend trips and each time they returned they found their home burglarized.

They went away this weekend, but, packed all their valuables — $8,000 worth — in suitcase and took it with them.

Sunday, 19-year-old William Valentine of Wakefield brought the suitcase into police headquarters after finding it lying along Route 128 in nearby Lynnfield.

Police said the suitcase apparently had fallen off the Pratts' automobile luggage rack.

Power Firms Charged with High Profits

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Consumer Assembly, an organization which says it represents 60 million Americans, has charged that Connecticut's three largest electric power companies overcharged their customers by more than $6 million in 1966.

The assembly, which has its headquarters in Washington, filed a news release Saturday that nationally 164 power companies combined had overcharged customers more than $618 million in 1966.

The consumer's organization specifically listed the overcharges in Conn. as $2,352,000 by the Connecticut Light & Power Co.; and $1,836,000 by the Hartford Electric Light Co.

The amounts of the alleged overcharges are based on power company income which exceeds six per cent of plant investment. The Consumer Assembly declared that a six per cent profit is "considered fair and reasonable by consumer-minded power experts throughout the country."

This yardstick was rejected in statements issued by UI and CLAP.

U.S. Claims Heavy Toll On Viet Guns

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Command claimed today that B52 bombers have inflicted crippling damage in raids on the demilitarized zone, where North Vietnamese artillerymen now are bombarding U.S. Marines at Con Thien with more words than shells. Headquarters said that seven B52 raids in four days last week touched off 110 secondary explosions, indicating successful bomb hits on ammunition stores and fuel.

The raids, aimed at easing the enemy pressure on the Con Thien Marine base, ignited nine fires, headquarters said.

At the same time, the U.S. Command said the North Vietnamese unloaded mortar shells with propaganda leaflets three times on Con Thien last week. One leaflet said: "Hey, hey, LBJ...how many kids have you killed today?" A second said: "Americans stop bombing innocent women and children. Leave Vietnam to the Vietnamese."

The Communist propaganda attack came after U.S. planes dropped thousands of leaflets on the North Vietnamese side of the border last week, urging civilians to defect to the South to escape the devastation of B52 bombing.

The B52s were up again today, attacking suspected Red positions in North Vietnam, 11 miles northwest of Con Thien and in the demilitarized zone four miles north of the Marine outpost.

Con Thien and nearby Marine posts guarding South Vietnam's northern border received only one round of explosive artillery and two mortar rounds Sunday, U.S. headquarters said.

Since last Wednesday, the Marines at Con Thien have been receiving light, harassing bombardments in contrast to the 500- to 1,000-shell barrages they were taking daily in the preceding weeks.

Elsewhere, there was little ground action reported across South Vietnam. The largest engagement listed by U.S. headquarters was a clash in the central highlands 23 miles southeast of Pleiku City Sunday. Infantrymen of the U.S. Army's 4th Infantry Division reported killing 28 newly equipped North Vietnamese regulars in day-long skirmishes in which the Americans were supported by helicopter gunships, artillery and rapid-firing AC47 Dragonships.

The new enemy equipment suggested that fresh troops were operating in the area. U.S. casualties were one soldier killed and two wounded, headquarters said.

South Vietnamese headquarters said Vietnamese infantrymen killed 22 enemy soldiers Sunday and today near Quang Ngai City, 830 miles northeast of Saigon. The government troops reported their own casualties as light.

Over North Vietnam, Navy fliers from aircraft carriers in the Tonkin Gulf attacked a railroad-highway bridge two miles north of the port city of Cam Pha and about 46 miles northeast of Haiphong Sunday. The

Marshall Sworn In In Brief Ceremony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thurgood Marshall, the first Negro to serve on the Supreme Court, took his seat today as the court convened for a new term, with President Johnson looking on.

Marshall, with his left hand resting on a white leather-covered Bible held by clerk John F. Davis, swore to administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and to the rich.

Brennan Jr. also reached over to extend a smiling welcome. President Johnson watched the brief but impressive ceremony from a front-row seat. He named Marshall to the court last June to succeed retired Justice Tom C. Clark and another retired associate justice, Stanley Reed, sat alongside the President.

At 10:03 a.m., Warren convened the 1967 term, "thankfully," he said, "with a full court."

The chief justice noted Clark's retirement and said "we still feel the loss of his wisdom and companionship."

However, Warren said, the "felicitous reason" for Clark's retirement—the appointment of his son, Ramsey Clark, as U.S. Attorney General, "compels us to forego the regret which we would otherwise have."

And, "happily," the chief justice went on, Marshall had been appointed to succeed Clark.

The new justice stood by as Davis read Marshall's commission. He then took the judicial oath, one of two administered to new justices. Actually, Marshall has been performing high court duties since taking the constitutional oath, an affirmation to support and defend the Constitution, on Sept. 1 from Justice Hugo L. Black.

Within five minutes the ceremony was over and Johnson left the court.

Labor Party Leader Hits Wilson Policies

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP)—Labor party Chairman John Boyd unleashed an attack today on Prime Minister Harold Wilson's economic policies, charging that the government used boxing gloves when dealing with workers and kid gloves with businessmen.

Boyd, one of the leaders of the big Amalgamated Engineering Union, made his charge in a speech opening the Labor party's annual convention.

Boyd expressed the bafflement of the 6,000 delegates over the government's policy of deflation which has sent unemployment soaring to a 27-year peak.

He defended the government's actions in health, housing, education and social security but said it wasn't enough. Wilson had been counting on him to help defend against some criticism within the party.

Workers, Boyd said, were seeing their earnings whittled away by even higher prices and he lashed out at profits of some industrialists.

The ordinary people, Boyd said, "can see sections of society growing richer and richer, with no real effective wider distribution of such wealth as the nation possesses."

The interests of the working class, he continued, must be protected. "This still can be done. In fact, this conference must say to our parliamentary colleagues, 'It must be done.' Wilson was prepared to hit back hard at critics including three former Cabinet ministers—defense Secretary Emanuel Shinwell, President of the Board of Trade Douglas Jay, and Minister of Technology Frank Cousins.

He already had arranged: —For Boyd to rap those "with petty minds who were either incapable or unwilling to understand the problems of others."

—For party managers to get the convention off to a quiet start on its first day with an examination of the more positive aspects of Labor social welfare policies.

—For his chief lieutenants, Foreign Secretary George Brown and Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, to address the conference on the international and economic issues worrying delegates. Wilson himself elected to make a keynote speech Wednesday in which he means to stand firm on his strict recovery program and to rule out any premature economic expansion.

Wilson's strategy, emerged Sunday night at the traditional eve of convention rally which he attended but did not address. Instead Brown, a long-time right-

SAIGON (AP)—The Constituent Assembly of South Vietnam accepted today the legality of the Sept. 3 presidential election and confirmed the victory of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, who will begin his four-year term next month.

In a secret ballot which began barely an hour before the midnight deadline imposed by the election law, the assembly voted to accept the results, which gave Thieu a decisive plurality over 10 civilian candidates.

Although the final vote was not immediately available, the majority necessary for Thieu's confirmation was obtained before the voting was completed.

During the day's debate the assembly accepted six criteria by which the 4.7-million votes cast were to be considered valid. When the criteria were applied to the Sept. 3 election results, Thieu came out with an even bigger winning margin than before.

The criteria whittled Thieu's total of 1.65 million votes down to 1.2 million. But presidential runner-up Truong Dinh Du's vote dropped from 817,000 to 228,000, giving Thieu an even larger margin of victory.

The final vote in the assembly on Thieu's election appeared to be a foregone conclusion.

The six criteria accepted by the assembly in deciding which votes should be considered invalid were:

—Discrepancies between the number of votes specified on tally sheets, that is, erasures that were not initialed.

—Illegal removal of ballot boxes from the polling places.

—Tally sheets from widely separated constituencies written by the same person.

—Intentionally incorrect addition on returns.

—Turning in of tally sheets by the government to the assembly after the Sept. 10 deadline set by the election laws.

Using these criteria the assembly decided to consider as voided the votes from 2,724 of South Vietnam's 6,824 polling places. This was a total of 1,449,647 votes voided even if there was only one irregularity according to the criteria.

The exact totals that Thieu and Du were left with were 1,216,390 for Thieu and 228,000 for Du.

Six of Thieu's civilian opponents in the elections Sept. 3 are demanding that the victory of the military ticket be nullified

Seats Gained By Enemies Of DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—Communists and less radical leftists counted wide gains today in French regional council elections after joining forces in a campaign against President Charles De Gaulle's policies at home. The Communists tripled their seats. Gaullists gained some ground, but the election Sunday showed grassroots dissatisfaction with the government's economic and social reforms, and a well-organized campaign by Communists.

Renewing their electoral alliance with France's Socialist parties, the Communists picked up 119 seats over 1964, raising their total representation in regional councils to 178. Non-Communist leftists won 667 seats, a gain of five.

The voting was the second stage of a two-phase election. In the first vote last Sunday, when an absolute majority was needed for victory, all left-wing parties fielded candidates. In the runoff, the Communists and leftists agreed on single candidates with guaranteed support from both sides.

The Communists campaigned hard and the Gaullists little. The Gaullist regime's new social security charges became the key Communist campaign target. They said it hurt the working man most.

De Gaulle's policy of detente with the Soviet Union and his recent trip to Poland were also seen as factors giving the Communists new domestic respectability. Observers noted too the Gaullists' failure to establish a locally rooted organization during their 10 years in power.

With 1,708 of 1,772 districts reporting, the Gaullists gained 67

"THE WAY I HEARD IT"

by John Gruber Puccini's "Tosca" will open the opera season at the Bushnell this Saturday evening, and if you haven't gotten your tickets yet, you'd better do so right away, for it will undoubtedly be a sellout. The cast is good, headed by Gabriella Tucci, with Campora and Colanti in the supporting male roles. In my book at least, "Tosca" and "Turandot" rate as the composer's two finest operas, although "Boheme" and "Butterfly" surpass them in popularity. "Tosca" has one of the most dramatic second act curtain calls in all opera; it goes like this: Driven to despair, Tosca has murdered Scarpia, a villainous and vengeful chief of police in Rome. She goes to a table and calmly washes the blood from her hands, using a napkin and water from a canafe. Next she goes to a mirror and fixes her hair. Then she begins a feverish hunt for a safe-conduct pass which she claspes in the corset of her hand. For a couple of minutes she has said nothing; the suspense is building up. Then, as she puts the paper in the front of her dress she comments, "E avanti un'altra lettera Roma!" or "I'll tremble tutta Roma!" in English, "And before this time, all Rome trembled!" It's spoken rather than sung, and contemptuously spat out. She puts two candles on either side of the corpse and extinguishes the other lights in the room. Then she sees a crucifix on the wall; taking this from its place she places it on the breast of the corpse. As she makes her escape, the lights from a hallway suddenly illuminating her as she opens a door from the room, the melodramatic scene tremulously. The sudden light on almost dark stage, a crash of drums as the door is opened, and the slowly descending curtain are most effective, and long remembered when once seen. I can recall a production at the Bushnell a number of years ago, when the effectiveness was quite lost. As the curtain was going up for the first act, it was discovered that the crucifix had been mislaid, and forgotten, and stagehand was dispatched to get another, post-haste. Like most stagehands, he knew nothing of the plot; he only reasoned that since everything in opera was on a big scale, the crucifix should be also. Accordingly, he begged one from a nearby church, and the size was in keeping with the chapel from whence it came. Hurrying back, he arrived just as the scenery was being placed for Act II. "Did you get it?" asked the stage manager. "Sure, no sweat," he replied.

Tolland Church Sets Noted Film For Sunday

The widely acclaimed motion picture, "The Gospel According to St. Matthew," will be shown Sunday at 10 a. m. at the St. Matthew's Holy Name Society church.

The movie is a production of Pier Paolo Pasolini, the Italian filmmaker who has received several awards.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Holy Name Society will be held at 8 p. m. in the parish center.

The Rev. Paul Mayran of the Immaculate Heart convent will speak and show slides of the retreat program.

Tickets to three shows will be given as door prizes, including the New York Giants-Cleveland Browns game, Oct. 29; UConn vs. UMass, Oct. 14; and UConn vs. Davidson game, Oct. 28.

Romney Set To Report On Rioting

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney, who has warned that internal rebellion could destroy the United States, said today that the rioting in Detroit was "the most serious since the New Detroit Committee on the tour of the nation's slum areas."

Romney, a top contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, said today with civic, business and labor leaders appointed to the committee by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

"I'll give them a running account of the things that I've seen," Romney said.

This group was charged by Cavanagh to begin a massive effort of reconstruction in the wake of the July 28-30 riot that killed 43 persons in Detroit and did an estimated $500 million damage.

After his 19-day, 10,000-mile tour of urban areas, Romney said this summer's rioters had "the tacit support of the bulk of the Negro community."

He said he was more convinced than ever that "unless we reverse course and build a new America, the old America will be destroyed."

Romney said destruction could come "through open rebellion with bullets, cannon and the first drugstore west of the Allegheny Mountains. It was operated from 1780 to 1850 by Dr. Ephraim McDowell, the surgeon who performed the world's first ovariotomy."

Car Collide, Seven Killed

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Two automobiles, miles apart and each filled with children, headed for church services Sunday. Less than an hour later, the autos collided head on and four of the children and three adults were dead.

Netta V. Holdorf, 44, of nearby Lashmeet, and her three children — Evelyn, 11; Teddy Ray, 10, and Glenda Sue, 5 — were killed.

Clarence "Ritzy" Harman, 37, and his wife Josephine, 32, of Princeton, were killed instantly. Their son, John 11, died in a Princeton hospital shortly after the collision.

Five other Harman children were reported in critical condition while a sixth, Linda Harman, 11, was trapped in serious condition. All were reported to have multiple fractures and lacerations and were believed to have internal injuries.

moment the idea that the United States wage a land war in Southeast Asia. The strongest argument the President found himself able to use last Friday night was the same strongest argument he has used before. It was to extol the heroism of the 500,000 men he has now ordered into Vietnam, and to appeal to their countrymen to give them loyal support now they are there.

Finally, there is some interpretation to the effect that the President's discussion of the possibility of negotiations was, Friday night, in somewhat gentler terms than usual. We find it difficult to make this encouraging interpretation. We think he intended to seem a bit milder to his own people and to the world, but not to Hanoi. We think he did not answer the new highest point of criticism which their President has now abroad, but continued to defy it. It can be proved a false interpretation, and the world is to get something other than the dead-end chance it is now locked into, will be great good news, but surprising.

Frost And Foliage Late

We find we can't remember the first frost of 1967. So we make a guess for normalcy, which would be for a quick surprise flicker of the white fringe across some cornfields and some low flat gardens somewhere in the middle of the month, followed by a stronger thrust early in October.

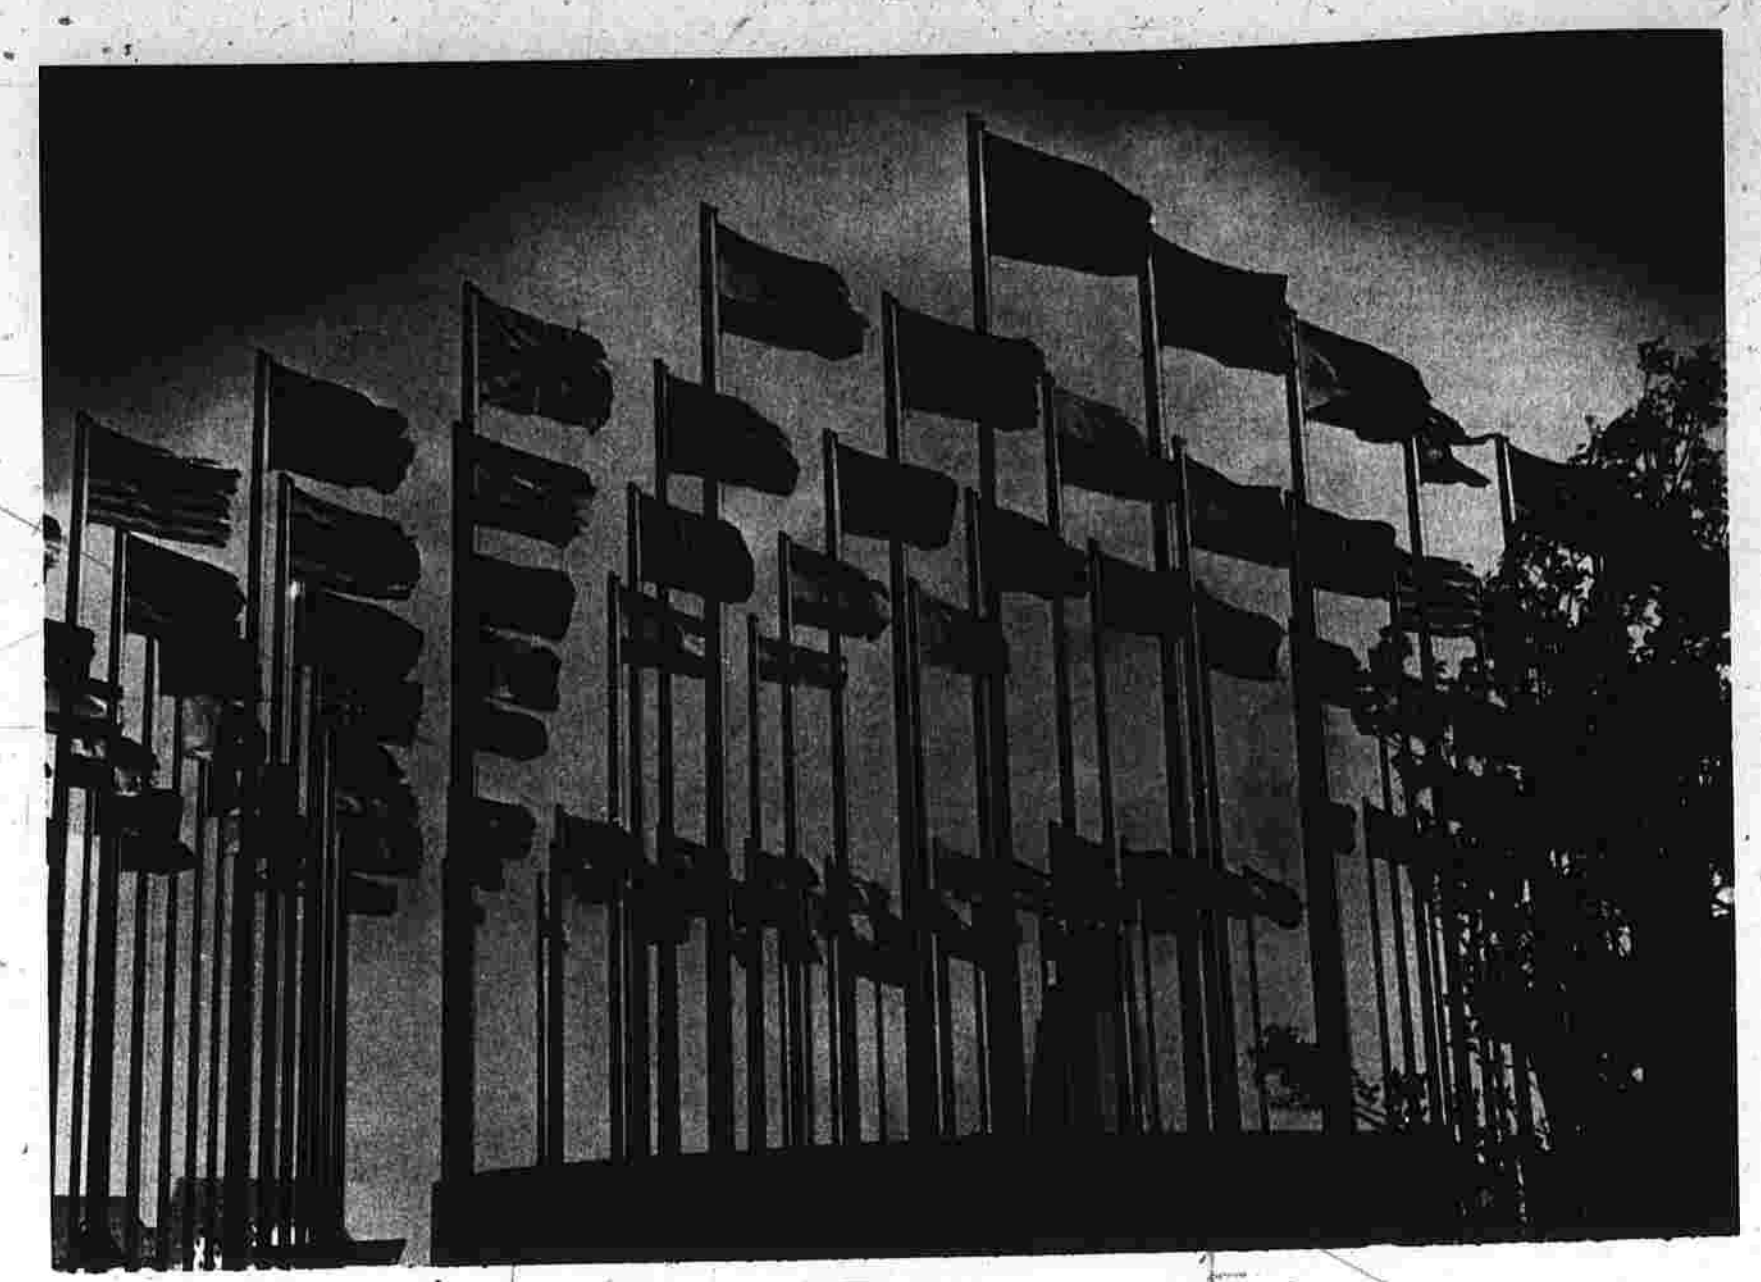

Two years ago, however, the memory is easier. Then our memory attests to a touch of frost on the 29th day of August, which was, for most local observers at least, a life time early. This year, the first frost was, while the memory of it is still fresh, to be found on the morning of Tuesday, Sept. 22, which is about as late as we ever have to wait for the first sign of final release from the responsibilities of summer.

What particularly riled up House leaders was Steiger's charge that "I have been misled by the notion that this is the last bombing of North Vietnam. At the same time, the prime minister of Denmark took essentially the same view and made essentially the same plea to us. And although we are used to having France—as the colonial power we succeeded in Vietnam—as a view critical of our effort there, what France has to say still retains some weight, simply because France not only went through the Vietnam story before we got there, but also went through the even closer parallel of trying to defeat the guerrilla insurrection in Algeria.

At home abroad, in the last week, criticism of the American performance in Vietnam reached new heights of intensity and the voice of the so-called doves seemed to be heard more clearly than ever. At this time when, by obvious White House hopes and calculations, the doves should all have been gathered into one quiet cove somewhere off in a corner while the President enjoyed a "consensus" in support of the inevitability and the righteousness of his own position.

In this situation, at the end of the week, an embattled President took to the public platform with a prepared defense of his own position, in which he had the privilege of trying to explain in his text the best possible phrasing for the best possible arguments he could make. Yet the speech at San Antonio did not even begin to answer the criticism in confidence or repel the wave of criticism, or satisfy the tide of appeal which has produced the moment in which the President felt he had to defend himself.

UNITED NATIONS PAVILION. An Expo With Regional Flair.

Inside Report

Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—Senior members of the House, exceedingly edgy about even justified criticism of Congress from outside observers, have been in a white heat the past week over some clearly unjustified attacks by one of their own members.

This anger has been particularly sharp because the critical Congressman is a freshman Republican with nine months' experience on Capitol Hill. Representative Sam Steiger, 38, a clean-cut conservative from Arizona.

His performance on the nationally syndicated Joe Pyne interview show made him chief of cloakroom gossip all week, subjected him to tongue-lashings from his own party leadership and nearly prompted a hearing by the newly-formed House Ethics Committee.

What particularly riled up House leaders was Steiger's charge that "I have been misled by the notion that this is the last bombing of North Vietnam. At the same time, the prime minister of Denmark took essentially the same view and made essentially the same plea to us. to meet Communist pressure at the DMZ. Marxins say Communist reasoning is obvious. "In the broadest sense, the enemy purpose is to draw U.S. forces away from the main thrust of the war—the destruction of the Communist guerrilla infrastructure. But right now we are in a stalemate at the DMZ. This is a new war, one officer said.

The Con Thien outpost commander, Lt. Col. Gordon Cook, 38, of Syracuse, N.Y., commented, "This could turn into something like the Korean War. I would compare this at most to Korea's Bunker Hill, a sort of combat outpost, only we are bigger than in Korea."

Marine officers point out that the high casualty figures reported from the DMZ are taken not only at Con Thien, but also among the maneuver battalions. They also concede that for the first time in the Vietnam war, American casualties are against those suffered by the enemy may be on a 1-1 ratio.

There is no way to determine the extent of enemy casualties, a senior Marine said. We believe he is suffering at least as many as us, and maybe more."

Reagan Sees Mood Shift In Nation

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, back home after a four-day speaking tour of three states, says he detects that America's political mood is changing. But he gives it a second thought.

Reagan returned Sunday following GOP fund-raising speeches in Columbia, S.C., and Milwaukee, Wis., and an address at his alma mater, Eureka College in Eureka, Ill. In his talks, the first-term governor strongly criticized the Johnson administration's handling of riots, government spending and the war in Vietnam.

Reagan is scheduled to begin another speaking tour in mid-October. He will make his first stop in Kansas, New York City, Chicago, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Houston and Dallas, Tex. A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By BILL LENNON. A little boy was asked to spell the word "strait." He spelled it correctly and the teacher then asked him to explain what it meant. Without hesitation, the lad said, "When you take a shot without ginger ale or soda." The story may appear cute at first thought. But let's give it a second thought.

Authorities know alcoholism is a disease. But what causes it? Opinions vary on why and when the sickness starts. Perhaps the lady definition gives us a clue—for some can start at an early age through a wrong concept; through an acceptance of what children see in home and social patterns of conduct? Isn't it likely the Bible gives us a further clue? "Thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children: and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house." (Deut. 6: 6, 7)

We are certainly no authority on alcoholism, one way or the other. But don't you think this thought is worth thinking about?

Country Music Jamboree Produces $500 Donation

The Newington Hospital for the Crippled Children will receive a $500 donation as the result of a highly successful jamboree of old-time country music held Saturday at the Elks Grounds in East Hartford... The event—the First Annual Connecticut Jamboree—was sponsored by two Manchester men, "Fiddlin' Ray" Strickland and "Guitar Pickin'" and Singin' Chickie' Anderson, who served as performers and announcers during the marathon, held from 1 p.m. to midnight... In all, some 22 acts performed and, in addition, to country fiddlers, guitar strummers, and Eastern, Slim Coats' Cowboy singing acts, Hank Post, well-known promoter, led a square dance exhibition... Despite the chill Saturday evening, several hundred persons were in attendance, and the two Manchester sponsors said they plan to make the jamboree an annual event... Proceeds will be donated to a worthy cause each year, and next year Mansfield State Training School will benefit... Helping to announce the various acts Saturday, as well as performing, were Tex Pappas and Wayne Bryant, both of WEST Radio of West Hartford, which specializes in country music... Anderson-Little Panel Talk Is Held on Recreation

At last week's League of Women Voters meeting held in the club room of the Elementary school, a sizeable turnout of members heard and participated in a panel discussion on recreation for Andover townpeople... The panel, with Mrs. Susan R. Loeas as chairman, was made up of William Breadthart for the Planning and Zoning Commission, Mrs. Gordon MacDonald for the Andover Community Club, Eugene Schumann representing the Recreation Commission, Mrs. J. T. Hohmann for the Conservation Commission and Lawrence Moo, at large participant... Results of the two-hour plus dialogue seemed to be that the Porters land on the Hop River at the foot of Long Hill, of about five acres would be given to the town soon for use as a baseball field and other recreation. A more definite program of just what was needed for a good recreation program in the town was indicated in the talk... Comments indicated that there would be good possibilities for nature trails and hiking and other recreation in the 70-acre tract back of the school, now owned by the town... Much of the discussion centered on the possibility of small, neighborhood recreation and open-space areas, especially in new developments... William Breadthart stated that the Planning Commission encouraged this idea, but that other facilities must be voluntary on the part of the developer... Cluster development, using less space for the buildings and thus releasing more space for a park and such, is encouraged... It was brought out that the town owns about 188 acres of land other than school land made up of the 70-acre tract mentioned, about 80 acres in the Pleasant Area, 18 acres in the extreme northeast corner of the town on Bear Swamp Rd., and about 90 acres on the brook near Merritt Valley and Lake Rds. It was suggested that it might be well for the town to make it mandatory that any town-owned land be not sold until referral has been made to the commissions in town who have the responsibility of recommending uses of land for various purposes... Talk for Parents... The numerous members in Andover of the Eltern Parent-Teacher-Student Association are looking forward to next Wednesday's meeting at which Dr. Hilda Standish, well-known family life educator, will speak on "Bad Education, Whose Responsibility?"... Dr. Standish appeared at Rham four years ago and there have been numerous requests for a return engagement... The speaker is a graduate of Wellesley College and received an M.D. degree from Cornell Medical College... Her extensive experience includes medical missionary service in China and Director of Maternal Health Clinic in Hartford... In recent years she has lectured widely on sex education to young people, premarital groups, and parents... She is a member of many medical, social welfare, and educational groups... She is the wife of E. Myles Standish, M.D., and they are the parents of two girls and three boys... Manchester Evening Herald Andover correspondent, Lawrence Moo, tel. 742-8788.

Staid Old Boston Flips Its Lid over First Pennant in 21 Years Red Sox Team of Destiny in World Series

BOSTON (AP)—Thanks to Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Lonborg, staid old Boston has flipped its lid over the Boston Red Sox's first pennant in 21 years and the World Series opening Wednesday with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dick Williams, the Cardinals manager who won a flag in a cool Sunday evening before first year, picked Jose Santiago, a Kansas City castoff from Puerto Rico to oppose the Cards' Bob Gibson in the opener at Fenway Wednesday afternoon.

He also named Lonborg to pitch the second game Thursday in Boston. Lee Stange, who would have faced the Tigers today if a player had been named, was shut out to bullpen "we're No. 1" and "we want Yast."

Sunday night, three hours after the Red Sox beat Boston at Fenway Park, the Sox were in the lead in the 19th inning yesterday, which as it turned out, gave the Boston Red Sox their first American League pennant in 21 years.

Most Red Sox players took their caps, which were lifted from their heads by the fans, and the players didn't seem to win, has this writer ever experienced the thrill and chill of the moment when the Sox players were in the clubhouse, when the Sox players were in the clubhouse, when the Sox players were in the clubhouse.

When the fans started to cheer, the Sox players were in the clubhouse, when the Sox players were in the clubhouse, when the Sox players were in the clubhouse.

White Lonborg was spinning his seven-hitter (two hits through seven innings), Yastrzemski was coming through at bat and in the field.

After Yast made an error in the third inning that cost a run and left Boston trailing 2-0, he smashed a two-run single with the bases loaded in the five-run sixth inning. In the eighth, he threw to second base down Tom Allison, trying to stretch a single into a double with what would have been the tying run.

One of Thrills of Lifetime
FENWAY PARK.—You had to be there to believe it.

It's hard to put into words the reaction when shortstop Rico Petrocelli grabbed pinch hitter Rich Rollins for a lazy pop fly for the final out in the ninth inning yesterday, which as it turned out, gave the Boston Red Sox their first American League pennant in 21 years.

ANOTHER SERIES.—Displaying his World Series ring won as a Yankee, Elston Howard will add another as a member of the Red Sox this season.

Yastrzemski's Great Defensive Play Which Cut Down Allison Was Vital

By EARL YOST
FENWAY PARK, Boston.—It was Carl Yastrzemski's finest hour yesterday as he paced the Boston Red Sox to the American League pennant.

The "graybeard" among the Sox players at the ripe old age of 27, had a perfect day at the plate, with four base hits, a double, two runs scored in and one run scored in the 5-3 decision over the Minnesota Twins.

Alvin Dark 'Never Quit' Claims Yaz

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Alvin Dark was named manager of the Cleveland Indians today by General Manager Gabe Paul, replacing Tom Yawkey.

In announcing the appointment at a news conference, Paul said he considered him "one of the best managers in the game."

When the 45-year-old Dark became available after being thrown to second base down Tom Allison, trying to stretch a single into a double with what would have been the tying run.

Eagles' Top Midget Play

All alone in first place in the Midget Football League standings today are the Eagles following their 20-6 decision over the Patriots in a battle of undefeated clubs last Saturday night at Mt. Rebel.

The Sox may have lost a player in the early games of the series. Jerry Adair, the second baseman, was injured on the left side, a injury that required surgery in the eighth while completing a double play.

Adair, however, insisted he would be able to play.

Platt Stages Rally To Upset Indians

By BARRY COWLES
Suffering their first defeat of the season the Manchester High Indians lost to Platt High, 3-4-1 Saturday night at Ceppa Field in Meriden. Manchester led at halftime but seemed to "fall apart at the seams" in the second half before a cheering crowd of 1,800.

The weather was ideal with a brisk wind out of the southwest and temperatures around the 50-55 degree mark.

"Maybe this is what they need to prove that they are not as great as they think they are," expressed down-hearted Coach Dave Wiggins of Manchester after the trouncing.

Late Windsor Score Sinks East Catholic

By RICH DYER
Old nemesis Windsor High converted a talented offense and go-for-broke East Catholic High into victory Saturday, edging the Eagles, 12-6 at Windsor. It was the first defeat of the young season for Windsor in its opener.

Caught in a 6-6 tie after each club had scored twice, Windsor broke the tie with a 50-yard punt that landed in the end zone. A rush for the extras was thwarted.

Lacy brought East back into the game seconds later when he returned Windsor's kickoff for a thrilling, 70-yard touchdown pass to Ray Carvey.
