Wall Falls, 5 Firemen Die in Trap

The civilian and one fireman remained in a hospital today, but their conditions were not serious. Joseph Licata, a volunteer fireman from Palisades Park, said "The trapped firemen were just about to enter the building. Then, all of a sudden, the whole place just went 'whoosh' and the flames traveled right down the building from front to back, blowing out the roof and a side wall."

The sole survivor of the hose crew, Henry Dangler Jr., 22, said he was at the end of the hose and farthest from the wall. "We were pumping water through the door to spray the roof from inside," he said. "All of a sudden, I saw a gust of smoke backfire and come out of the building." Dangler said he forced his way out of the door and yelled to the others to get out. The hose and water were cut off as the whole building had collapsed and he was hurled 20 feet.

He helped dig the bodies out of the rubble. The dead firemen, all from Ridgefield, were Gustave Genschow, 43, a tavern owner and 27-year veteran of the department; Dominick Acquafredda, 31, an employee of Lever Bros. in East Hartford; Harry A. Brown, 26, an employee of the New York Daily News; James Edwards, Catherine Jenkins, 418 Spring St.; Mrs. Anne Dorems and daughter, 40 N. Elm St.

Critics Score Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriation Committee moved toward a $28 billion budget cut apparently has satisfied neither Republican critics of the Johnson administration nor Democrats who see a price of a tax increase as a deep spending slash.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-ARK, whose Ways and Means Committee shelved President Johnson's tax cut proposal two weeks ago, declined direct comment on the appropriation committee action. He said he has no plans to reconvene the Ways and Means Committee to consider tax legislation.

PARIS (AP) — "Well, here we are again," Charles de Gaulle told his Cabinet the other day with obvious satisfaction.

At least for the present there seems to be good reason for his contentment.

President de Gaulle's government had just easily survived a fresh attack from the left. It was a victory De Gaulle badly needed.

The immediate issue was the government's social and economic program and the farm problem. The Leftist Federation and the Communist party had wrangled up all their criticism in the form of a parliamentary censure motion. If it had passed, it would have been a severe blow to De Gaulle's internal policies. But it failed by 37 votes, getting only 207 out of a needed 244.

The thin Gaullist majority in Parliament held together and most of that Center bloc after some hesitation refused to go along with the leftist opposition.

A halfhearted appeal by leftists for workers to hold public meetings and draw up petitions in support of the censure motion had little effect when translated into parliamentary action. A left move by Premier Georges Pompidou, indicating he considered "constructive" changes in the government program, gave the Centerists the excuse many of them wanted to sit on their hands at voting time.

Bad news began coming into De Gaulle's Elysee Palace early this year.

First it was the legislative elections in March, when the Gaullists lost a comfortable

CAC Considers Charter Change On Works Fund

The Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC), which it meets Oct. 23, will consider taking a position on a proposed charter change which would require approval by a majority of the town's voters.

The CAC meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Coffee Room.

The Charter Revision Commission has voted the recommendation and now is considering the mechanics of placing it in the charter in a manner to fulfill state statutory requirements.

State statutes permit a town's governing body to appropriate each year for capital improvements, on a voluntary basis. The statute states that any surplus capital improvement funds not spent at the end of any fiscal year must be transferred to a Capital Reserve Fund for Non-Recurring Items.

The charter change for a mandatory one-mill appropriation for capital improvements, on a voluntary basis, had trouble explaining why De Gaulle had interfered in internal affairs of another country.

There were rumblings that an independent group in the Gaullist majority bloc were thinking of walking out behind their leader, Claude Estienne.

After the summer vacation period, when political activity is traditionally at a standstill, the left showed strongly in cantonal elections.

Against this background the Leftist Federation decided that the time had come to give De Gaulle another body blow by initiating the censure motion.

Now the immediate heat seems to be off on the once burning issue of De Gaulle's economic and social reforms. A left move by the Communist and Communist-run labor unions to fight them down, have far faded.

Potentially serious trouble remains on the farms. Farmers have demonstrated spectacularly against what they claim is lack of government action to help them out of an economic squeeze.

But with no new elections to be off on in the immediate future and no further talk of censure motions in Parliament, De Gaulle may be in a position to meet his ministers with a confident "here we are again" for considerable time.

SUSPICIOUS TIMING IS CLUE TO SNARE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If a stranger tried to sell you the Empire State Building you might get suspicious even if you needed a nice large office building to round out your collection. There is time and place for such transactions, and you smell a rat when things seem to be happening at the wrong time.

Opening lead—four of spades. A feeling for the right time helped West avoid a trap in today's hand. West opened the four of spades. East put up the king, and South won with the ace. After some thought, South returned the deuce of spades.

West's first impulse was to play low in the hope that East had the ten of spades. If West had followed his impulse, South would have ruffed off the first nine tricks, three aces, five diamonds and one heart.

West resisted his impulse because he thought something was afoot about South's timing. Why was South returning a spade instead of getting to work on diamonds?

Obvious Answer

The answer was obvious: The diamond suit was the key. It is almost invariably the answer when a competent defender neglects dummy's long suit and wastes his time on side issues.

West reflected that if the diamonds were already established South was probably trying to steal his king and return to the club suit. West therefore stepped up with the jack of spades and looked for a weak defender the contract in a great hurry.

Since only in clubs could the defenders hope to take four im- mediate tricks, West shifted to the deuce of clubs. East won with the king and returned to eight of clubs, whereupon West took the rest of the suit to defeat the contract.

Town Council Votes to Seek Federal Open Space Grant

The town council last night authorized the town manager to apply for an open space grant from the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Agency for the purchase of 25 acres of land near the new town hall site.

The grant would be 50 per cent of the cost would be paid by the government and an additional 25 per cent would be paid by state agencies. The land would be designated open space and come under the restrictions of the federal regulation as well as the state regulation.

The cost of the land is set at $40,000 or approximately $4,000 per acre. The town manager owns 10.5 acres for the new town hall with some portion of the land mentioned for a central library and a central post office facility, which would be leased back to the federal government on a long term lease arrangement.

Town Manager Terry V. Sprinkel said it would be advantageous to hold this land in the town as open space for use as a buffer zone for the town hall and civic center complex.

The factory—which is what it really used to be, producing cameras—is the "in" people's new private hangout for nightly fun until 4 a.m. Open six weeks, it has left their poster but smaller former rendezvous, The Daisy, seeming like a dull night at the county morgue.

It has had capacity crowds of 1,700. Regulars are Frank and Mia Sinatra, Barbara Streisand, Omar Sharif, Michael Caine, Tony Curtis, Gregory Peck, Johnny Carson released there nightly after his shows during a recent two-week stint in Hollywood.

The three-story steel building with wire-reinforced windows is known as arrow-wood and is located in the visiting crown prince of Las Vegas. Two sisters of the king of Morocco were in the other night.

Two miles away at the once jumping Daisy you could be playing pool, 2 dancing. The quiet, after the racket from hundreds at the factory, is nice.

Fighting back, the previously foodies, three-year-old factory has installed a buffet, with sandwiches, chili, fruit, cheese and homemade pies.

Daisy owner Jack Hanson tells you it's too early to know whether the factory will remain No. 1 with the in set. Singer Bobby Darin wired him from Las Vegas:

"The odds are 8 to 5 on the Daisy."

On the counter was a sign: "We thank you for your purchase, come more often."

In the Soviet Union, where most stores act as if the customer is always wrong, such behavior is almost unheard of. In addition to smiles and help-

Tolland Apartment Houses Needed In Town, Planners Are Told

There is a strong need for apartment houses in Tolland, the Planning and Zoning Commission was told last night. The construction of garden apartments would in no way lower the property values of single family homes in the area, according to appraiser John Rowland. The apartments will help to balance land use and bring tax revenue to the town, he stated.

The concept of industrial development of a town and the construction of garden apartments go hand in hand. Both contribute a net profit to the town from tax dollars and have a favorable economic effect on the town, he said.

Few children live in garden apartments, according to Rowland, who cited statistics showing the range of children per apartment to be in the area of 1.5 to 2.5. School age children amount to less than one-tenth of a child per apartment, he said. The average single family home in Tolland has at least two children.

The proposed site, composed of rolling wooded acreage, for a 120-unit apartment complex, proposed by Sol Lavitt, was termed "ideal for country apartment living, which should find a ready rental market".

The site is located north of Walbridge Hill Rd. in the Country Hills area, near the interchange of the Wilbur Cross Highway and near the Willmaric River. Lavitt will construct a sewerage treatment plant to serve the apartments and would use a community water supply.

Nine Apartments Per Acre

The apartments would be constructed adjacent to the Mt. Vernon apartments, also built by Lavitt in Vernon. Approximately nine apartments per acre would be constructed compared to the average of 16 per acre.

Rowland pointed to the substantial amount of commercially zoned land near the Wilbur Cross Highway interchange which would eventually make shopping readily available in the area.

The economic effect of apartments on a town are extremely favorable, according to Rowland's detailed report to the PZC last night.

"A broad tax-base generating net tax dollars (profit) to the community is necessary," he explained. This includes industrial plants, apartment houses and deluxe type homes.

The attraction of industry to a town, requires the provision of housing for the many junior executives, departmental heads and other employees who can afford the rentals of apartment houses.

Rowland cited a West Hartford study which showed industry returning 76 cents of every tax dollar back to the town as net income. Apartments turned back 26 cents of every dollar as profit.

The income derived by apartments in smaller towns is increased greatly over this amount, according to Rowland, because many of the essential services such as fire protection are provided on a voluntary basis.

Tax Base Expansion

He said the town's tax base would expand considerably not only from the value of the apartments, but also from the cars owned by the tenants and shopping centers which would follow them into the town.

The additional tax base could increase by as much as $2,500,000 if the net expendable dollars increase to the average of neighboring towns.

Rowland disputed the claim that apartment houses of today are the slums of tomorrow. While some low-rent housing and congested areas have grown obsolete, there are many apartment houses 40 years old which are still renting in the $200 per month bracket with long waiting lists, he said.

A study of the occupancy of Vernon apartments units showed only seven vacancies for 584 apartment units.

Apartments such as those proposed by Lavitt provide people "with country living and apartment house conveniences" according to Rowland.

"Tolland is long overdue on the providing of multiple unit dwellings," town counsel Robert King stated last night. King, who sat in on Rowland's report, gave his comments to the PZC later in the evening, often referring to Vernon's experiences.

He advocated the planned development regulations, recommended by Rowland and Atty. Herbert Hamanbury of Vernon, who represents Lavitt.

The planned development regulations give the PZC complete control over the layout of the apartment, even including the landscaping and location of trash barrels.

Approximately 90 per cent of the proposed apartments in Vernon are turned down, King stated.

Condominium Investigation

PZC member Samuel Elstein asked King his opinion of the proposed regulations for multiple unit dwellings on a condominium basis.

Condominium units are owned by those who live in them,

Father and Son Meet Often, But Always in a Courtroom

BATOCINA, Yugoslavia (AP) — Dusan-Duja Mitrovic and his son Milan-Milanko have dragged each other into court 1,327 times and they're still going strong.

The father and son take the situation seriously. They estimate it costs them four million dinars ($2,800 a year, but that's worth every penny).

It all began when they questioned the dividing line between their two plots of land. Now, neither can do without a verdict, whatever the subject.

In fact, they refuse to speak to each other without a third person present at the conversation.

"But we never hire lawyers because we know more than they do," says Dusan-Duja, a vigorous 49-year-old farmer. Both Dusan-Duja and his son keep meticulous files under their beds with the bound sentences, court documents and other legal files gathered in this Serbian village.

Once, Milan-Milanko called for a cease-fire and signed an agreement with his father. The fence dividing the two properties was torn down and the two enjoyed common property—for three days.

A quarrel returned them to court after the agreement was torn up. Father and son argued down to the last keyless lock.

Several court cases later, both accepted a settlement. But the next day, Dusan-Duja sued his son for claiming during the pro-

Bolton Driveway Permit Question Referred Back to Planners

The selectmen discussed the question of issuing driveway permits on unaccepted roads last night and decided to refer the question back to the planning commission.

According to town ordinance, building permits cannot be issued on roads that have not been accepted by the town, and driveway permits cannot be issued either. The zoning board has control over the building permit and one selectman over the driveway permit.

Recently, the planning and zoning commissions were willing to let UAR Housing Corp. ahead and issue before the town's driveway permit. The town's plan to accept roads before they are completed with the stipulation that the town would be responsible for a sufficient bond to insure its completion.

And there has been a suggestion that the final cost until houses are constructed in subdivision because of the age to the road and curbing by heavy equipment.

Suggested Revision
Town council Harold Laws said a suggested revision of the driveway permit was read last night, but the selectmen didn't like it. Basically, it said that if the unaccepted road is not accepted by the planning commission, then a driveway permit could be issued.

The selectmen discussed unfortunate occurrences in surrounding areas where developments were not completed.

They decided to ask the planning commission to restudy the question, and suggested that they would agree to accept the change allowing driveway permits on unaccepted roads before the town's driveway permit, and with a sufficient bond.

Members of the insurance advisory board attended the selectmen's meeting to suggest additional insurance coverage. The selectmen approved the coverage, but passed final judgement.

Paul Maneglia, Mrs. Bertha Shinn and Mrs. Eleanor Churchill were reappointed to the church committee.

In the voter-making session five new voters were made, and one was transferred. The parties split the take—three each.

The selectmen were guests of the Italian-American Club for the day.

It was pointed out that there is no place to house administrative personnel presently, and if the rooms are included with the new expansion the cost would not be as great. The hearing will be held in the Regional Board of Education.

Bulletin Board
The fourth grade Junior Girl Scouts will meet tomorrow after school in the auditorium of the elementary school. Mrs. Milton Shaw and Mrs. Julian Neville will be the leaders.

Parents should provide transportation at 4:30 p.m. School children will be at the Douglas Library tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Events in World

LA PAZ (AP) — Bolivia has issued a "final" communique on the death of Ernesto Che Guevara that leaves unrevoked some of the contradictions that have surrounded official reports since the communist leader was shot to death in Cuba.

Documents published Monday by the Argentine newspaper "Claridad" said Guevara's death was due to "multiple bullet wounds in the thorax and limbs." It did not mention the various contradictions of the heart, reported by physicians earlier, although the heart was found to be wounded.

The reported heart wound and government reports that Guevara did not die until the day after his capture led to speculation that he was murdered after his capture by Bolivian troops.

The communique said he died after being wounded but made no mention of the interval between his capture and death.

Stalin in Election
MANILA (AP) — Six persons have been killed and six wounded in pre-election violence in the Philippine Province in the past two days.

Three relatives of a candidate were killed by a mortar shell fired from a fire and three supporters of Cavite Gov. Delino Montano were slain in an ambush.

National constabulary troops reported they were en route to the area.

President Ferdinand Marcos ordered police in a town in the northern Ilocos region to disarm after receiving reports that three policemen were involved in the slaying of a candidate for senator.

Senators, governors and thousands of municipal officials will be elected Nov. 14.

Diver Finds Sub
SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A World War II Japanese submarine, believed one of the midgets that attacked the USS Arizona in Pearl Harbor in 1942, has been found by a diver at the bottom of Disaster Bay, about 40 miles south of Sydney.

The diver, Jim Lester, said the sub's bow appeared to be blown off and several torpedoes exploded. The accident was believed to have occurred in the area of the name Hiti, but a government spokesman said: "We do not know if this is the full name of the submarine."

In the midget raid May 31, 1942, the USS Arizona was hit by a midget submarine. The ship was destroyed by depth charges and a third escaped to sea. It was named after the midget that was shot down by the launchers from mother subs 20 miles off Sydney.

Vandals Active At Two Schools

Over the weekend vandals painted murals on Illing Junior High School building. Police say the murals "TV" and "E.C.H.S." were painted on the west side of the building with spray paint and also on four windows. The murals "99" and "TV" and "E.C.H.S." were painted on three doors in the northwest corner of the building with the same type spray.

Police say apples were splattered over some of the painted windows, and that a small fire had been started in the dry grass by the west side of the building.

Yesterday afternoon police investigated vandalism at Bradford Village School at Woodford Hill. Police say a pane of plexiglass, located on the west side of the building, has been partially burned with matches, and that the rope on the flagpole was also burned.

A fire extinguisher was turned upside down at 4 Pearl St. yesterday about 7:15. The spray went all over the ceiling, walls and floors of the hall-way, and the owner of the building will have to be painted.

Coventry Attorney General Gets Gorris Case

The pollution problem of Coventry Lake, which the town says is caused by the Gorris Oil Co. tanks, has been referred to the state attorney general by the state Water Resources Commission (SWRC).

If the attorney general proceeds and wins, fines of $1,000 for each day pollution is caused could be levied. No prosecution has yet reached this point. It is only a few cases, including Gorris Oil, have been referred to the attorney general according to William Hegner, SWRC spokesman.

The SWRC report, decided on yesterday, includes information on the attempt by the company to solve its pollution problem. Hegner said that Joseph Gorris, owner of the tanks, had been given two extensions to comply with an "abate pollution" order, issued last spring by the SWRC. The report stated that the tanks were a "definite source of pollution" to the lake.

The tanks are located in an area where natural drainage conditions carry possible seepage right into the lake.

All files concerning the case will be turned over to the state attorney general. Whether the case will be heard in court, since Gorris has purchased land on Stonehouse Rd. in Coventry, is in question.

The SWRC, working with the Industrial Development Board of Blocton, has been studying the problem for several months and has suggested that Gorris relocate in an "abate pollution" zone.

Gorris has claimed that the areas, primarily in the extreme southern end of town, would be too far from the lake to be a suitable area for his tanks. The Stonehouse Rd. property is presently zoned residential (RU-40), and the change hearing will consider a change to industrial, according to Gorris' application request.

Gorris applied for the zone change early in August and the SWRC had 90 days in which to call a hearing. Prior to Gorris' request for change of zone, a

Sharing their substance with other less fortunate in America and in countries abroad seems to be the keynote of the First Congregational Church in October.

Manager-of-Year Honors for Williams

Easily Tops Poll, Eddie Stanky Next

NEW YORK (AP)—Former journeyman ballplayer who took over the lowly Boston Red Sox from a one-time great second baseman and directed them to the top of the American League, was an overwhelming choice today as the circuit's Manager-of-the-Year for 1967.

Williams replaced Billy Herman as manager of the Kansas City Athletics, as the Boston skipper after the club had finished ninth for the second straight season.

The 36-year-old St. Louis native was brought up from Toronto of the International League where he accumulated his only two years of managerial experience. He guided Boston to a pennant victory with two consecutive triumphs over Minnesota on the regular season.

Williams' resignation leaves only three baseball men in the A's front office handling player personnel. They are Eddie Robinson, administrative assistant for the minors; Ray Swallow, administrative assistant for scouting; and Art Parrack, assistant farm director.

Finley Asks Permission To Move A's

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, will go before a meeting of American League owners Wednesday seeking permission to shift the franchise to Oakland, Calif.

Under Williams, who played every position except catcher and pitcher for six big league teams starting in 1951, Finley told The Associated Press: "The only thing I'm sure of is one vote and that's my own. I still need six more."

Finley, who last month notified Kansas City officials that he did not intend to exercise his option on Municipal Stadium, had had the idea of moving to Seattle.

However, last week Finley announced Oakland was his choice, adding that Seattle "does not presently have the facilities for major league sports but the Pacific Northwest is a great area and will be wonderful for baseball in the future."

As for Wednesday's meeting on Finley's request to move, one source said "although the A's drew well in Kansas City, there's no question they will do better in a new area with a new stadium. I'm sure Charlie will have all the facts and that surveys have been made."

"As to his chances of getting approval? Well, let's just say it was a better chance than he did when he wanted to move to Louisville a couple of years ago."

Finley has announced that he has sold the Athletics to a group of investors led by John H. Johnson, Jr., who has agreed to purchase the team for $10 million.

$100,000 Bracket Unitas Tops Gridders With Newest Pact

BALTIMORE (AP)—A few years ago, quarterback John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts predicted that within five years someone in the National Football League would be drawing an annual salary of $100,000.

Typically, a player who makes more money during the off-season than for playing football income that will be his NFL record, "it won't be mine."

Unitas, who played every position except catcher and pitcher for six big league teams starting in 1951, Finley told The Associated Press: "The only thing I'm sure of is one vote and that's my own. I still need six more."

Unitas signed for about $75,000, which was the highest salary in the league at that time. He is now in his 12th NFL season. Unitas reached agreement with club owner Carroll Rosenbloom on the monetary value of the new contract during the training season. The additional time was used to work out ways of easing the tax bite.

BOSTON (AP)—Suffolk Downs announced today installation of a new heating system in the grandstand and other improvements in preparation for the 60-date harness race meeting which begins Saturday night.

Notre Dame Drops Out of Top 10

NEW YORK (AP)—The luck of the Irish faded completely today when Notre Dame dropped from the list of ranking college football teams while Southern California held a solid lead in The Associated Press weekly poll. Tennessee and Wyoming made their first appearances in the Top Ten.

Notre Dame, favored to repeat as national champion, tumbled all the way out as a result of its 24-7 setback by Southern California Saturday. The Irish were fifth a week ago.

The Trojans, unbeaten in five games, collected 38 first-place votes and 432 points in the balloting by 25 national college sports writers and broadcasters.

Purdue held second place with seven votes for the top position and 389 points on a basis of 10 first-place votes, nine for second and one for third.

Colorado climbed two places from third to eighth. The Houston Cougars, idle last weekend, advanced to ninth place in a triumph over Maryland while Alabama moved up one place to sixth. The Crimson Tide defeated Vanderbilt 35-21 for a 3-0-1 mark.

Tennessee, beaten by UCLA after its 190 setback by Kansas, No. 7 spot after defeating Georgia and Wyoming in that order.

Key CCIL Game Here Saturday 'Walking Wounded' Ready for Maloney

The "Walking Wounded," better known as the Manchester High Indians, will prepare this week to meet one of the toughest teams in the CCIL as they host Maloney High of Meriden at Memorial Field Saturday at 1:30. This will be the Indians' second home game of the season.

The two teams are presently tied for second place in the league topped only by Platt High (6-0-1) of Meriden.

The Indians have a 3-4-0 record for the season, beaten by Platt for their only loss. Maloney stands at 3-1-0 with a 4-1 overall record. This could be one of the most interesting games of the season and also a decisive factor as to how the teams will finish.

The Red and White is nursing a few injuries, nothing serious, that a few days rest should cure, and is hoping to come back strong and keep the offense performing as it did so well last week. Here against Bristol Central they looked the best they have all season.

This will be the mid-season marker for both teams with the downhill slide to close the season up coming. However, the ride down isn't going to be easy as the locals still have some tough clubs to face.

Barring any serious injuries, the Indians stand to finish in a scheduled 10-round fight against up-set-minded Tony Doyle.

Howling Cage Pro Hagen Leads Dallas Five

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Old pro Cliff Hagen and a group of former college and professional basketball players in Dallas and Texas, more noted as the football state of the country.

Hagen, who has spent more than 20 of his 35 years on various basketball courts, came out of retirement Monday night. He led the Dallas Chaparrals to a 120-125 victory over the Anaheim Amigos in the American Basketball Association game here after a crowd of 3,300.

Hagen retired in 1966 as an active player with St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association after scoring three weeks ago, a nervous and scared rookie.

"I just wasn't sure of myself," he said. "I was real nervous—but I guess that's to be expected. I wasn't sure I could do it. I didn't have confidence in myself."

Now six, says the pressure has lessened and his confidence soared with each game. Although the Stealers have lost all three, he's conceded a good chance to keep his job even when Bill Nelson comes off the injured reserve list.

"Every game I feel less pressure and more confidence in knowing what I can do," he says. "I feel I've done an adequate job, but I still got a lot to learn."

Nix, the only first-year quarterback playing regularly in the National Football League, was an instant hit with the Stealers fans by doing well most of the things that gave Nelson trouble.

When he plays the way he avoids being thrown for losses, scrambling in trouble, throwing in the pressure, or out of bounds if necessary. And each week he is in bounding.

Nelson was dumped nine times in two games and it was the Stealers again. It would lead the league in quarterback losses. But since Nelson has been out, a sudden surge has been noted in tremendous displays of top-notch machinery campaigning on the lightning-fast Thompson oval.

With most other tracks in the Northeast closed for the season, a sudden surge has been noted in tremendous displays of top-notch machinery campaigning on the lightning-fast Thompson oval.

No All-German Culture? Socialists Fail to Convince

By HUBERT J. BERG BERLIN (AP) - For the East German Communists, there officially is no such thing as an All-German culture.

The great German poet Goethe and Schiller, for example, he buried in Weimar, once the center of a German culture that traveled the western world.

Both were born in what now is West Germany but they are revered as national heroes in the East.

In addition, there is a deeply imbedded feeling among the people of East Germany for the Western classic traditions in literature, music and art.

The Communist government, in its attempt to split its people, is continuing a policy of denying the existence of a common cultural heritage.

The deputy culture minister, Horst Brach, demanded earlier this year that no more money be spent on the restoration of the Dresden Opera, 300 years old this year, in but one manifestation.

The Communist government, in its attempt to split its people, is continuing a policy of denying the existence of a common cultural heritage.

Both East and West German poet Wolf Bierman, 31, the most famous Communist poet, was arrested in 1952 for writing poems that were critical of the Communist regime.
