Kentucky Celebrates New Head

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — With the roar of cannon and the peal of church bells, more than 200 bands and floats began a four-hour parade today as Kentucky prepared to inaugurate its first Republican governor in 34 years.

A crowd of as many as 40,000 had been expected, and city police said the early morning influx of visitors to the capital was larger than they had expected.

Actually, Louis B. Nunn took the oath of office at 6:04 p.m. Monday in a brief, quiet ceremony in the Capitol.

At midnight he became the 48th man to serve as chief executive in the state's history.

The early oath-taking is traditional in Kentucky and isn't expected to make much difference to the thousands who are braving the threat of a drizzle today to watch the ceremonial pomp as outgoing Gov. Edward T. Breathitt hands over the reins.

A large wooden platform has been erected in front of the Capitol for the afternoon swearing-in ceremonies.

Nunn, a 48-year-old Glasgow lawyer was elected last month over former Highway Commissioner Henry Ward. He lost to Breathitt by a narrow margin four years ago.

Nunn's Democratic lieutenant governor, Wendell Ford, also was sworn in Monday night, but at a private ceremony at the Frankfort home of a friend.

On his last day in office, Breathitt commuted the death sentences for six men convicted of murder. Two of the men were granted four-year stays for further investigation of their cases, three had sentences commuted to life imprisonment without parole and one was given a three-year stay for psychiatric evaluation.

Breathitt pledged four years ago, "No one will die in the electric chair while I am governor." The legislature rejected his request that the death penalty be reformed from law.

Breathitt also put into effect a tougher strip mining regulation, which prohibits strip mining on any slope steeper than 28 degrees. Breathitt said he signed it on an emergency basis on grounds that stacking spoil material on steep slopes would endanger citizens, especially during winter rains and snowfall.

Percy, Wife Escape Mortar Fire in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, his wife and seven other Americans escaped injury today when Communist mortar and small arms fire erupted in a village near the Illinois Republican made to the devastated village of Dakson.

Some of the five mortar rounds crashed within 15 to 20 feet of the 48-year-old senator, who is a potential Republican presidential candidate, and four men inspecting the village with him, but no one was hit. The group took cover, and Percy got some small scratches on his arms as he crawled behind some wood.

Mrs. Percy had remained in the group's helicopter 75 yards away from the mortar and two crewmen. They flew her to a nearby town and returned with an escort of armed Army choppers to rescue the senator and his companions.

"This is clearer to action than I got in three years of World War II," Percy, a U.S. Navy veteran, told a news conference after he returned to Saigon.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command announced that 71 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars—the equivalent of a battle-ready battalion—were killed in a six-day battle that ended Monday along the narrow coastal plain near the provincial town of Bong Hon.

Allied casualties were 23 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese soldiers killed, and 147 Americans and 71 South Vietnamese wounded.

The battle erupted when two companies of the helicopterborne 1st Air Cavalry Division began a sweep of the scrub land along the coast about 500 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Just to the north a battalion from the South Vietnamese 40th Regiment was pushing south.

Both allied groups ran into Communist troops evidently surprised by the sweep. The 1st Air Cavalry Division began a sweep of the scrub land along the coast about 500 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Just to the north a battalion from the South Vietnamese 40th Regiment was pushing south.

Carmichael's Passport Taken at N.Y. Airport

NEW YORK (AP) — Black high border on treason," he said. He said Carmichael's trip had "dramatized the fact that this country is pretty defenseless to protect itself" against activities of this nature.

A Supreme Court decision on passports earlier this year left the State Department without the power to seek criminal penalties for unauthorized visits to countries to which travel had been restricted.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., manager of the bill, told reporters it was particularly important to act on the bill because it changes the formula for distribution in the current year of grant funds under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

About $1.2 billion of federal money is being made available to school districts over the year under Title I for the present year. It covers aid to improve educational opportunities for children of low-income families.

LBJ Urges More Progress

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today, in dedicating a new junior college, that "the time has come for these Americans who believe in progress to convince the doubters."

Johnson said the quest for educational excellence, abolition of poverty, better health, economic stability and world peace will succeed—"if we stay on the course."

The president, who flew to Johnson City, Tex., headed back to Washington Monday morning after a visit to Johnson City and Miami Beach.

Chaplain At Yale Criticized

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Yale University Chaplain William Sloane Coffin's leadership in the draft resistance movement has evoked a spate of complaints from alumni, some of them calling for his dismissal.

"I am wondering when it is planned to remove the statue of Nathan Hale from the Yale campus," wrote Earl M. Barnum of Naugatuck in a letter to the Yale Alumni Magazine.

"Mr. Coffin should be banished from the faculty or any connection which he has with the university," said H. Ray Paige of Darien. Paige's letter was also published in the December issue of the alumni magazine, which was distributed today.

"In fairness to those of us who still consider ourselves part of Yale and disagree with him," wrote F.H. Claxton of Raleigh, N.C., "he should disassociate himself in his official capacity from the university which exercising his right of protest."

"Behind his religious mantle he seems to be doing all he can to promote the violent, inhuman ideology that is dedicated to the destruction of the principles of the Christian religion to which he, by his title, is supposed to be dedicated," wrote Ralph E. Corban of Gloucester.

"If Coffin chooses to lead young men into disobedience entirely on his own, it would be one thing," wrote James P. Carney of Hamden. "But when he does it as Yale's chaplain he is using Yale's pulpit and Yale's name for purposes Yale does not support."

Pledge Spurs Senate To OK Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration pledge to revise procedures for cutting off funds to segregated schools spurred Senate passage of the $1.2 billion federal aid-to-education bill.

The 717 Senate vote Monday sent the measure to a conference with the House, where further attempts to water down anti-segregation procedures are expected.

Southern senators dropped stalling tactics and permitted the bill to pass on the measure—largest aid-to-education authorization in history—once the pledge arrived in a letter from Secretary John W. Gardner of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Democratic leaders said they hoped a quick conference would be held on it and a compromise

Antipoverty May Secure Less Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-poverty boss Sargent Shriver has congressional authorization to spend $1.6 billion over two years—but his agency may wind up with far less money.

The bill sent Monday to the White House represents the most money ever authorized for the Office of Economic Opportunity, which Shriver heads, and marks the first time Congress has extended the program for more than one year.

But just after House passage of the bill, a House Appropriations subcommittee recommended that only $1.12 billion be provided to foot the anti-poverty bill in the first year, compared with the $1.6 billion authorized.

"That should not daunt us—any," Shriver said.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECE BEALE

SYNOPSIS: On their way to destroy the Pigwidgen, whose curse has put all of the children of the world to sleep, Claus uses one of his four magic gifts to rid a giant. Later Tweeklekins insults a witch who turns him into a donkey.

Chapter Nine
The Snake House Nest
The donkey gazed at Claus from large brown eyes. He rolled his lips back from his big yellow teeth and swung his heavy head.

"So it's you!" sighed Claus. "You made the witch angry and she has bewitched you. Now what are we to do?"

The donkey brayed pitiously. Claus remembered the magic ring the elves had given him. It could be used once to change a creature's shape. Claus slipped the ring on the long tail of the donkey. He twisted the ring three times, saying, "Change to your natural shape."

The donkey vanished. Patrick Tweeklekins snatched the rabbit. The faster he ran the faster the rabbit ran. Claus ran after them both shouting, "Let him go! What does it matter?"

"Perhaps I should have left you as you were," said Claus. "It would have kept you out of trouble. Now we have used both the ring and the arrow and still have not met the Pigwidgen. You must be careful and control your temper."

Tweeklekins promised to be very, very good and they continued on their way. Now it was truly cold. The snow was many feet deep. As they trudged on with their heads bent against the wind they saw a rabbit shivering in a snow drift.

"How could he look," murmured Claus.
"I will warm him under my coat!" said Tweeklekins. He reached for the little creature. The rabbit took one look at the elf and scurried away.

"What gratitude!" exclaimed the elf.
"Never mind," said Claus. "He doesn't know what's good for him."
"I'll show him," growled Tweeklekins. He ran after the

The snakes approached the terrified elf. The faster he ran the faster the rabbit ran. Claus ran after them both shouting, "Let him go! What does it matter?"

Headedly into the deep pit while the rabbit went merrily on his way. They were getting very, very angry.

"I've fallen in some kind of a trap," puffed Tweeklekins. "Here, help me out!"
Claus leaped down but could not reach the elf. He was dragged up a fallen log and dropped one end into the pit. Claus screamed.

"It's not a trap! It's a snake!" Claus peered over the side and saw hundreds of snakes wriggling around the elf. "Climb the log!" shouted Claus.
But Tweeklekins was petrified to move. He stood there staring as if hypnotized. The snakes were annoyed at being overlooked from their long winter sleep. They twisted and writhed until a tight circle around the elf.

Claus pouted on the snakes and the log but they said out of Tweeklekins.

Pentagon to Study Effects Of Service on Poor Youth

By BOB HORTON
AF Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans long-range studies to evaluate social effects of its new project to salvage 100,000 poverty-stricken youth each year for military service.

Since Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced Project 100,000 last year, the services have accepted 45,000 men who would otherwise be rejected for mental or physical reasons.

This year the goal is to reach the full 100,000 annual rate. The services have just received their quotas: Army 70,000; Navy 11,000 and the Air Force and Marines 9,000 each.

These "new standards" men, as they are called, are getting close attention and instruction to help them get through basic training and, in the process, acquire a job skill intended to make them productive later in society.

A small percentage is receiving minor surgery or other medical treatment to correct health problems which otherwise would have made them unfit for military duty.

"I don't want to prejudice the data but we are encouraged by the training results," I. M. Greenberg, director of Project 100,000, said in a Monday interview.

In the next few months the new standards men—they are not identified or singled out, to be watched as they perform their assigned jobs in operating units, some in Vietnam.

Beyond that, the Pentagon is planning a decade of regular reports on new standards men after they leave the service to see what impact the special training had on their performance in society.

Greenberg said the Defense Department is now working out a system of tracking all individual men who are involved in Project 100,000 through the military service units to which all will eventually be attached.

In order to make the long-range evaluation valid, the Pentagon will hire a private firm to follow the social progress of an-

Freighter Set For Vietnam Hit by Fire

SEATTLE (AP) — A fire broke out in the freighter Lone Star while the ship was taking on military cargo for Vietnam at the Seattle Naval Supply Depot Monday night, shooting huge clouds of smoke over parts of the city.

More than a dozen Seattle fire department units and two fireboats fought the blaze in No. 5 hold for more than an hour before it was brought under control.

The captain of the 462-foot Star is Martin Lines Ship, M. C. Carpenter of Port Lauderdale, Fla., said he did not know what cargo was burned. "It is an anomaly to find the tramp load on one truck even if the trumps break bulk."

A supply depot spokesman said the ship was carrying general military cargo, including small arms ammunition, paint, tires, lumber, furniture and post exchange supplies. He said the ammunition was stored in a separate area and was not endangered.

The blaze apparently was caused by sparks from a cutting torch, firemen said. There was no estimate of damage. No one was injured.

School Need in '68: 20 More Classrooms

Vernon

A pupil overflow anticipated for next year will call for 20 additional classrooms, a Board of Education was told by Superintendent Raymond Ramondell last night.

An additional 200 to 300 elementary school pupils is expected for next year, Dr. Ramondell said these figures do not take into consideration, reporters, but they tend to offset themselves.

Ramondell reminded the board that he approved about three years ago before the Board of Representatives and asked for a new school to be completed for September 1967.

The superintendent said the proposed elementary school will be built at Vernon Center will probably not be ready for next September and the town will be in serious trouble.

At the Northeast School there are 19 regular classrooms plus three kindergartens available and 23 will be needed next fall.

At the East School, the 13 rooms available are expected to be sufficient. The enrollment at the Vernon Elementary school will demand 24 classrooms and two teachers for the portable rooms. This is even with transferring 13 pupils to Lake Street and Skinner Road for the end-of-the-year.

New Homes Cited
This coming Fall will see Maple Street School about seven classrooms. There are 23 rooms available and 30 will be needed. At Skinner Rd. 26 rooms will be available. This is one short of what will be needed.

Lake Street school will be minus two of the 22 needed. The new junior high school, opening last year, is the only school which will have one extra room with 17 needed and 58 in the total number needed including 21 regular classrooms.

Dr. Ramondell said there are about 75 building lots in the new Vernon Hills development. Estimating one to one-half children per home, this would mean an additional 113 children, at least, when the homes are built and occupied.

The superintendent also pointed out there are three other new developments with houses only partially completed and filled. The three are on Battle Circle, Pearl Dr. and Center Rd.

Additional staff needs totaling 44 were also pointed out by Dr. Ramondell.

The breakdown is as follows: Maple St., two for grade 1 and one grade 2 and Vernon Elementary, Northeast, Lake St., Skinner Rd., East School, all need one additional.

For the First Trans-Sahara Sand and Land Yacht Rally, an old caravan route with a pre-ner Rd., East School, all need one additional.

Fifty Doctors From Britain Set to Return

LONDON (AP) — Fifty British doctors who joined the brain drain to the United States and Canada have decided to return to Britain, the Health Ministry said today.

They were wooed back by five-man teams of medical experts sent to North America in the fall. The government is paying the fares back for the doctors and their families.

"Some were just plain home-sick," a Health Ministry spokesman said. "Some were unable to adjust to new conditions and others found life in America was not what they expected."

The ministry said another 90 British doctors in North America had expressed interest in coming home.

Barbershop Hair Away From Increasing Prices

HARTFORD (AP) — Barbershop owners and their employees seem to be only a hair or two away from jacking the local price of haircuts by 25 cents.

The owners, members of the Journeymen Barbers Union and the Guild, were scheduled to meet here today in a session which could decide the issue. They comprise the guild portion of the union.

The employees, or journeymen, represented by the same union, met Monday and agreed on a 14 increase in their base weekly salary. The increase would give them $78 a week plus a pay commission on each haircut.

The union has already decided to increase the cost of a game in Miami, Fla., on Christmas Day, the school announced agreement between the two Wednesday.

Interplanetary 'Robot' Set to Rocket into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A robot "interplanetary weatherman" named Pioneer 3 is poised to rocket into orbit around the sun Wednesday.

En route to the solar orbit, a second spacecraft—called TTS for test and training satellite—is to pop off the side of Pioneer's Delta booster rocket and become a satellite of earth.

Tolland

453 More Students Expected Next Year

The Tolland school system will absorb an additional 453 children next year for a 30 per cent increase in school population in one year, according to statistics in the new enumeration report.

The additional children will bring the present enrollment of 1,500 pupils to over the 2,000 mark for the first time. Through twelfth graders attend Rockville High School and are not included in the statistics.

Five years ago, the town had 89 children enrolled in the local schools, next year it will total 2,003, not including any transfer students who will have moved into town since last October.

Next year's school population will have increased about 200 per cent, or two-and-a-half times in five years.

Tolland is running counter to national educational trends, which show a leveling off and a decline in the lower grades, according to statistics in a recent issue of School Management Magazine.

Tolland's enrollment increase comes from the lower grades, and present enumeration figures show a continual increase in the beginning grades of the school system.

The town has been reluctant to institute a program of mass preschool education in accordance with what is required by the 453-student increase.

The town is presently expanding its school population in two directions—by adding one class a year at the high school until all four years have been phased in and by adding kindergarten at the other end.

The new middle school to be built as part of the new school park at the Hicks and Meadowbrook schools complex, would house 150 students in grades 5 through 8 or possibly 4 through 8 if lack of space in the other schools warrants.

Columbia

Hike in Fees Approved for Nurse Visits

The board of directors for the Columbia Public Health Nursing Agency has voted to increase fees for home nursing visits from $3.25 to $4.50, according to a statement from the agency.

The cost analysis for the last fiscal year shows the lower fee does not cover actual expenses. It was noted that specific fees are charged on a sliding scale, depending on ability to pay.

The agency, at its last meeting, voted to support a fee increase should Andover and Hebron wish to join the program.

These two towns are now involved in a pilot program but neither town has made a decision regarding future plans.

The Rev. George Evans, local agency president, was asked about the advantages of a tri-town agency in Columbia.

He pointed out that it would be "a big help financially" and added that by 1969 Columbia would have to provide the supervisory services if no new fee-receivers from the state.

The Rev. Mr. Evans noted that the town now has the services of a state physical therapist and, as a therapist is required by Medicare, "it would be a tremendous cost for Columbia to bear alone," he said.

William Thompson told the board hospital costs are rising and that it seemed to him a consolidated program would provide better care and still require a saving of money for each town.

Arthur Landry, a new member of the board, was named chairman of the finance committee and will be assisted by Russel Spearman.

Woman Dies Of Gas Burns In Queens, N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Morosoff, a 53-year-old woman who set herself afire in a Queens street Monday, died Thursday in Queens General Hospital.

A sister-in-law, Mrs. Magdega Morosoff was quoted by police as saying Miss Morosoff had been dependent over her health for some time and had repeatedly threatened suicide.

The case was the second of its kind in a week. Kenneth D'Elia, 20, set himself afire in front of the United Nations Tuesday and remains in critical condition at Bellevue Hospital here.

MRS. JERRY RAY MAXWELL

Mormon Choir Broadcast To Give 2000th Show

Now he is a member of the church's Council of Twelve Apostles. He also served last year as president of Rotary International.

Despite visiting various foreign countries on both church and Rotary business, Evans has missed only a handful of church broadcasts over the years.

At times, he has delivered his messages from such faraway places as Manchester, England, and Lake Placid, N.Y. On other occasions, he has recorded the network radio's oldest continuous program.

There were 30 stations on that first NBC hookup July 15, 1929. The next year, the program switched to CBS and has been there ever since.

Now, it encompasses 425 radio stations, including many independent stations, 13 television stations, short wave, and the Armed Forces network. There is no sponsor. The stations carry the program for a fee.

Richard Evans, in his 38th year as announcer and speaker on the program, expects the expansion to continue.

One broadcast originated from the New York World's Fair.

In this age of specialization, the Tabernacle broadcast is even more unique because it is unrehearsed.

The choir and organist practice independently. Meanwhile, Evans works on his sermonette, trying to hold 15 to 20 minutes of commentary and inspiration down into a message of about three minutes.

"We don't put the program together until the day of the broadcast," says Evans, who also acts as floor manager, timer and coordinator. "We often improvise on the spot. We know when to whisper in the organist's ear, to tell him what to stretch and what to cut."

Although Evans joined the program only 10 months after it began, he is not the veteran of years. Why has "Music and the Spoken Word" endured?

The music is one reason, says Evans.

The mail and the personal comments of listeners provide even extra impetus to the method in which the show is broadcast.

"We always try to be 'in the know' when it comes to the program," says Evans. "It's easier to do it on tape, but psychologically you miss something."

Evans sees no end to the program or to his own participation. He feels "Music and the Spoken Word" will continue "as long as there are hearts that respond to great music and to simple common and concern."

Dick Gregory School Board Shifts To Closed Negotiation Truth Hurts

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Bookly Carmichael and H. Roy Gregory, school board members, were telling the truth, Dick Gregory told the Yale senior class Monday night.

"No matter what you write about them, they never lied," said comedian Gregory yesterday by State Education Commissioner William J. Sanders.

In a sudden reversal of tactics, the Board of Education last night set Wednesday as the date for the first of a projected series of closed negotiating sessions with Manchester teacher representatives to discuss salaries and a contract for next year.

The one's switch from an open to a closed negotiating process, Gregory said, was a "position paper" on negotiating practice released last week by the board of education. Sanders' advisory backed the position taken by the Manchester Education Association, which has been maintaining that opposing points of view can more easily be resolved in private than in the public view.

For two years, the association had unsuccessfully sought closed sessions; and this fall teacher negotiators halted talks after reaching an impasse with the board, contending that the law is silent on how negotiations should be conducted.

Following the cessation of talks, the MEA asked to hold an intensive schedule of talks, Rotter said last night, because the board must take final action on its budget request by the first Monday in February. The request is due in the general manager's hand by Feb. 21, he said.

An original schedule of talks set by the board and the MEA last night's meeting, board chairman John Rotter, later made yesterday the tentative deadline for agreement on contract terms.

Though the MEA has submitted a general list of 17 items it wants to discuss, it has made no specific demands.

Wolfer, present last night, told the board the teachers have their salary request—the major item—ready for discussion.

Rotter's suggestion that the teachers present their package of specific requests publicly at the board's next regular meeting Monday was rejected by Wolfer and MEA President Kenneth Skinner and was not pressed by the rest of the board.

Such a public presentation puts the teachers "on the defensive," said Wolfer. "We've had unfavorable newspaper publicity in the past which we feel has amounted almost to a form of coercion," he added.

The main issue is that we don't want to come into the public session with them-by-item demands and then have them splashed all over the press," Wolfer said.

1.95 'Landlocks' Farmer, Must Settle for $55,400

HARTFORD (AP)—A Burlington farmer, who has had to cross Interstate Route 5 on for several years to reach the nearest town road from his farm house, must settle for $55,400 in damages and no more, says the Connecticut Supreme Court.

The 188-acre dairy farm of Joseph B. Whewell was cut off from North Angellus Road when I-95 was built, although the highway didn't take any of the farmer's land.

Since then, in order to come or go Whewell has had to climb a fence, walk or run across the divided highway, and climb another fence on the other side.

Previously, the farmer, who lived on the property for 30 years before the state announced the I-95 plan, reached the town road on a 16-foot-wide right-of-way across neighboring land.

Whewell waged an unsuccessful attempt to keep state highway surveyors from marking the path of 148 across his right-of-way, later rejecting an offer of $18,000 by the state to compensate for his loss of access to the road.

Split with Clark Remains, Hershey Says in Interview

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey says differences remain between himself and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark over whether youths who disrupt draft processing and military recruiting should be conscripted, The New York Times said today.

According to the newspaper, Hershey said in a telephone interview that he had no intention of rescinding his earlier recommendation to local draft boards to induct youths who carry out these acts.

Last Saturday Clark and Hershey issued a joint statement to the effect that persons who obstructed the draft or military recruiting process would be prosecuted in the courts by the Justice Department and not punished by induction.

Hershey said Monday the "disagreement" between himself and Clark centered on the definition of a case of draft delinquency, The Times said. His letter to the board urged that youths taking part in "illegal" demonstrations be declared delinquent.

Net Pro of Year

BROOKLYNE, Mass. (AP)—Lola Felix of New Haven, Conn., was named tennis pro of 1967 and Susan Gay Kinney of Danbury, Conn., was granted the junior sportsmanship award for girls in selection announced last Monday by the New England Lawn Tennis Association.

The commissioner also urged that parties in the negotiations be informed of the law at each session about areas of agreement reached, and said that board action approving the contract should be carried out in public session.

Gregory, embarked on Thanksgiving-to-Christmas fast in protest of the Vietnam war, declared: "I don't hate America; I don't go for 'Ima.' The constitution is a good piece of paper... It's just that nobody's ever made it work right."

"We don't hate white folks; we hate a system," he said. Gregory, whose weight has slipped to 120 pounds, was given a five-minute standing ovation by the 80 Yale seniors, who had just dined on steak and strawberry parfait.

There had been talk of fasting along with Gregory at the senior dinner, but class secretary Paul Jones, who had first proposed the fast, came out against it after the class council rejected the idea over the weekend.

"The steaks have been ordered and there will be no rebates for unmeten food," Jones said Monday. "Therefore any type of fast will be a destructive protest."

Jones said seniors sympathetic with Gregory's cause should donate money to him instead of letting good food go to waste.

Albertus Magnus Girls Win Right To Wear Slacks

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The girls of Albertus Magnus College in Middletown Monday night by getting the school to scrap a ban on the wearing of slacks in gym classes.

The provincial government, composed of student leaders, faculty and administrators, was instituted for the ban a requirement saying "students are expected to dress in good taste at all times."

Student leaders were successful last Friday in getting the provisional government to adopt a later curfew.

Dennis Franklin, one of the four students in the cooperative government, said the modification of dress requirements was "an important concession" because "they really think people are to be judged by the way they dress."

Students at the Roman Catholic college, who were deliberately disobeyed the dress and curfew rules two weeks ago, a move which resulted in the suspension of 22 student leaders. After a one-day boycott of classes, the administration reluctantly suspended the suspended leaders and agreed to set up the provisional government until a permanent body is created next year.

Everybody As You Were, Please

When, the other night, General Dwight Eisenhower went slightly overboard, perhaps, with his television interview approval of "hot pursuit" into Cambodia, Laos, North Vietnam, or even Communist China, the best answer to him was in his own record as a general and as a President, and that was what many of us thought of, with respect that such a hot American should seem to be slipping away from his own record and his own principles.

None of us, it would be safe to say, expected the Eisenhower ransack with respect to Vietnam in 1967 to be answered by the very individual who is always supposed to have been offering fresh Vietnam advice to President Eisenhower back in 1964, when the latter reined it.

But there it came, from Richard M. Nixon, in an interview on an Oregon General Eisenhower, said his former Vice President, could be called "absolutely right" from the military point of view, but he himself felt that "hot pursuit" would be both diplomatically and politically unwise "at this time."

"Moving into the DMZ with ground forces could run a substantial risk," said Mr. Nixon, "with the possibility of a Vietnam risk that should be carefully weighed."

"I do not question General Eisenhower's military judgment. But the United States should be very cautious about making any move that would be interpreted as widening the war."

"From a political standpoint, I would be very reluctant to take action that would be regarded as an invasion of North Vietnam, Cambodia or Laos."

"I almost hope so. Everybody needs certain points of reference, and even a momentary appearance of Mr. Nixon on the perch of the doves is demoralizing."

For the time being, at least, there is more to be said than to fear the seemingly irreversible tendencies of the right wing movement in West Germany. It cannot help it if it thinks that Hitler's aims are not inevitable and inevitable expressions of the best and truest national character. It cannot refrain from its wishful dream of what the world could have been like if Hitler had never been, and it cannot resist strutting again, with increasing boldness, those chords of memory and sentiment which recall the previous glories of the Reich.

So there is indeed something pitiful, and a little comic, too, in the news that Adolf Hitler's National Democratic party is organizing an adjunct called the "Guard Society Against Opinion Terror" which is, in the German, one of those contemptuous names invented by the party wants to protect itself against the violence of those who wish to attack it because of its opinions. So now the party will have, supposedly, within its limits the new German law on precisely just such organizations in the effort to prevent any revival of Hitlerian institutions.

It is not only proposed to speak, but to speak at some length, for as long as he pleased.

It was not free speech for such as he in this gathering, he, and some of those who supported him asked, where in the world would it be found?

So far, perhaps, so good.

But in the next speaking breath he took, "in claimer of the right of free speech was inevitably, in the context of the evening, also infringing upon the right of some one else to free speech."

If he monopolized the speaking time available for the evening, someone else would have to go without speaking time.

The free speech he claimed for himself was, unfortunately, the suppression of somebody else's speech. If he were vocal for a certain amount of time, someone else had to be silent, in the circumstances, his claim of a right was almost automatically the denial of the same right of others.

All the circumstances contributory to an audience, for an opportunity to expand upon grievances long suffered in compulsory silence, can be easily understood. Human beings do not always after long tangle, eat wisely and moderately.

But unless they do learn some self control and moderation, two things happen. First, they take away from somebody else, even, perhaps, the very people who have brought them to the table. Second, they expose themselves and their cause to the charge that they can be just as greedy and thoughtless, once they get to the table, as any of the elements which once kept them away from it.

As the formal evening opened, the lights in the ballroom dimmed until only a single light was left on the Stars and Stripes standing at one end of the speaker's platform. There with a strong and grand personal voice leading the way, whether to try to go up or to stay down. But, although it must itself never seem to waver, the gathering ministered toward the end, that full-throated allegiance the words are professional engineers and architects.

The singing of the national anthem was followed by the invocation, delivered by the Rev. J. Garland Waggoner, a gentleman who, although now a Connecticut Congregationalist, grew up in the North and had ties, out in Illinois, with the family of the night's guest of honor.

Rev. Waggoner's invocation set the tone and atmosphere, never less than most invocation ever to follow. We program this location in full:

"Here we pause to acknowledge that as the giver and sustainer of life and the light of the sun, we are indebted to you for our many blessings and to ask thy guidance in all that we do."

"As we gather here, we are mindful of the deep debt of gratitude and the brightest stars of our troubled world, and we earnestly pray for peace and good will among men."

"We thank thee, O God, as we solemnly recall that infamous treachery of yesterday when we underestimate, play down or ignore the enormity of evil that is in the world in ourselves as well as in others. But never let us lose sight of the greatness and the goodness that also is in the world."

Engineer Group To Inquire into Ives Resignation

HARTFORD (AP) — The Connecticut Society of Professional Engineers (CSPE) is planning an "inquiry" into the resignation of the society's president, Howard Ives, state highway commissioner.

The CSPE study, confirmed Monday by Glendon R. Mayo, president, will center on charges by Ives of "unethical" or "unprofessional" conduct of some members of the society. Ives had declined to identify the CSPE members involved in his protest resignation.

However, it is possible that recent criticism by the Greater Hartford Flood Commission of highway department work on flood-control projects is linked with the resignation. The flood commission director, Fred Smith, is a member of the CSPE.

Mayo said that Ives' resignation has not yet been accepted. Ives' reasons for resigning were not disclosed. Ives' resignation would terminate his membership in the society of more than three years' duration.

The CSPE board of directors is expected to consider the "inquiry" proposal before it is held, setting the guidelines for the study.

Washington (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said a move now being made by Republican leaders to line up behind a single contender for the GOP presidential nomination could rupture their unity.

He said the governors are "doing the only good thing they could do" to preserve unity by concentrating on potential campaign issues rather than getting involved in endorsing someone for the nomination.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee, also a Romney supporter, said the GOP governors will be a powerful factor in the selection of a nominee.

"They will have a great deal of influence with the various delegations," Chafee said. "I think it was obvious right from the beginning that you weren't going to have unanimity on a candidate," said Gov. Dan L. Evans of Washington.

The Democratic congressman criticized the board's selection of a candidate, saying it was "a mistake and sacrificed their influence on the presidential nomination by failing to agree on a candidate during their meeting last week in Palm Beach, Fla."

"You mean like the Republicans in Congress?" the New York governor said. "Have the Republicans in Congress taken a position on a candidate?"

Laird acknowledged the party's House leadership was not picking one man to back. He said it's for the 1968 election, not the first time since his move, the Order of Ratibow for Grist.

Rockefeller Against Backing Contender

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said a move now being made by Republican leaders to line up behind a single contender for the GOP presidential nomination could rupture their unity.

He said the governors are "doing the only good thing they could do" to preserve unity by concentrating on potential campaign issues rather than getting involved in endorsing someone for the nomination.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee, also a Romney supporter, said the GOP governors will be a powerful factor in the selection of a nominee.

"They will have a great deal of influence with the various delegations," Chafee said. "I think it was obvious right from the beginning that you weren't going to have unanimity on a candidate," said Gov. Dan L. Evans of Washington.

The Democratic congressman criticized the board's selection of a candidate, saying it was "a mistake and sacrificed their influence on the presidential nomination by failing to agree on a candidate during their meeting last week in Palm Beach, Fla."

"You mean like the Republicans in Congress?" the New York governor said. "Have the Republicans in Congress taken a position on a candidate?"

Laird acknowledged the party's House leadership was not picking one man to back. He said it's for the 1968 election, not the first time since his move, the Order of Ratibow for Grist.

Pvt. Wither, a 1963 graduate of Manchester High School, recently completed a course in mechanics at P.T. Knox, Ky. No date has been announced for the wedding.

The company, which employs approximately 500 persons, is expected to be located in Danbury, with Meriden its headquarters.

The name of the company is known to Town Manager Robert P. Wither, but a never revealed to town directors or to town developers. The former were consulted for a possible likely location in Manchester.

Nobel Prize Winner Large Birth Control Plan Proposed by Dr. Shockley

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Dr. William Bradford Shockley, who shared a Nobel Prize in 1956 for helping to develop the transistor, has proposed a sweeping birth control plan that includes temporary sterilization of all women and government approval before each baby.

The Stanford University physicist explained his plan in a lecture at McMaster University Monday night and also accused "inverted liberals" of blocking research into inherited intelligence differences between Negroes and whites.

The chief points of Shockley's birth control plan are these: The public would first of all vote on the rate of population growth it wants. The Census Bureau would determine how many children each couple could have in keeping with the predetermined growth rate and certificates would be issued to them.

All girls would be temporarily sterilized by time capsule contraceptives. When a woman and her husband wanted children, they would have the time capsule removed by a public health agency on turning in one of their certificates. After the child was born, the contraceptive capsule would be reinstated.

Couples not wishing children or wishing less than they were entitled to could sell their surplus certificates on the open market. Under this system, Shockley said, "only people who want and can afford children will have them."

The physicist also made a plea for research into racial differences. He urged eugenic studies related to the relative intelligence of Negroes and Caucasians.

"Let's ask the questions, do the necessary research and the statistics, discuss them widely," Shockley said, "then either we will evaporate or plans for action will be developed."

Shockley produced statistics based on draft board tests today and during World War I which, he claimed, show the median intelligence of Negroes is below the median of whites during that war and still is.

He said research into inherited intelligence differences between Negroes and whites. He help solve social problems. He suggested that if intelligence capabilities of Negroes and whites are indeed low, then efforts to provide better schools and welfare programs for them can only lead to frustration.

Being true does not mean that eugenic studies are not conducted. He said that eugenic studies were conducted in a University of Wisconsin antiwar demonstration in October. Some had heard and lost their minds.

Asked if anything she had read might influence her about the case, Mrs. Webb said she told the defense attorney, however, that the defendants themselves could be an influence upon her.

"What do you mean by that?" she replied, "My husband," she replied, "is a barber."

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

NEW YORK — One factor explaining the excitement over the well-out fundraising dinner for Senator Jacob Javits last night was the presence of Richard M. Nixon as one of Javits' honor guests.

The trouble is, of course, that a good many people thought the things were pitifully comic—much too comic to survive or ever amount to anything real—back in 1963. It is noticed that Mr. von Thun has picked up the same theme which was formed this new guard, a habit of talking about "common bond" as an essential element of the greatness of the German people, an emphasis which was once the prelude to the eventual spilling, in various ways, of a lot of other kinds of blood.

The Middle East remains one of those delicate crisis areas where any move toward a relaxation of tensions there is bound to attract immediate and hopeful attention. At the same time any move which might be hastily construed as hostile by either Israelis or Arabs could lose the fragile thread restraining surfaces so explosively close to the surface there.

The role of peacemaker has not been convincingly demonstrated by the United Nations. Not has confidence in a workable and peaceable solution been aggravated differences between the principal parties involved been strengthened by other intermediaries.

Against this background, the 45-minute meeting between U.S. Senator Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and King Hussein of Jordan in Amman this week is of a prominence and an importance of unique significance—and of fresh encouragement. What takes this out of the realm of ordinary diplomatic intercession is the fact of dramatic confrontation between Jew and Arab, not alone in the interests of peoples concerned but in behalf of world security as well.

What may come of Ribicoff's mission to Amman is anyone's guess at the moment—but wishfully on the optimistic side the American ambassador is not designated envoy for Israel. Hussein has yet to speak with the approval of all Arab states. New York's Senator Jacob Javits is not likely to meet with Egyptian Nasser, although that would be an unexpected turn as Sen. Ribicoff's going to Jordan.

Perhaps the most encouragement which can be read into the Ribicoff-Hussein meeting is that someone is trying, and trying hard by whatever honest means, to bring a necessary era of peace to the Middle East. — NEW HAVEN REGISTER

Practice Flight But Real Smiles

Since Christmas is all of two weeks away, it seemed only appropriate to land by the practice tree at the Ellington Ridge Country Club over the weekend.

The modern Santa was there for the club's annual Christmas party for members' children. After hopping a golf cart to the clubhouse, Santa found himself surrounded by about 100 of them, distributed boxes of candy and heard rush orders for presents. A party in the clubhouse followed.

was Mrs. Charles Chisholm, assisted by Mrs. Thomas McCusker, Mrs. Harry McMahon, Mrs. Waldron Flanagan, Mrs. Thomas Ferguson and Mrs. Joseph Howard.

It was the first time Santa had dropped into the party by helicopter. Santa, by the way, is sometimes known as Charles Chisholm. (Herald photo by Pin-

Moscow Circus Business Is Reportedly Excellent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The circus has come to town, but it's different from any circus folk have seen here, being to have seen here, being to have seen here.

On its second U.S. tour, the Moscow Circus is doing excellent business, thus gladdening the capitalist heart of Morris Chalfen. He is the veteran Minneapolis-based showman who became sponsor of the Moscow Circus' American visits through a happy booking accident.

It seems that one of Chalfen's "Holiday on Ice" shows was appearing in a Paris pavilion that the Russians sorely needed for one of their own presentations. An East-West accord was reached, Chalfen agreed to remove his troupe in exchange for an American tour by the circus, which had long been sought by other entertainment importers.

"But then I had to please the State Department and the unions here," he explains. "To carry out the cultural exchange idea, and to provide jobs for American performers, I had to send a circus to Russia. I lose money on it; but I make it back on the fabulous business the Moscow Circus does in this country."

The American circus has enjoyed an enthusiastic reception in Russia, Chalfen said. Then why does it lose money? Because American labor costs are much higher than those of the Russian performers, he explained. Also, prices are lower — $2.80 to 90 cents vs. $5 to $1.50

State Delays Bid Opening

The State Highway Department has postponed to Dec. 21 the opening of construction bids for the first of three sections of Rt. 6 through Manchester. The openings had been advertised for yesterday.

A department spokesman explained that the postponement was due to a conflict with relocation of utilities and was made to give bidders a chance to study additional information.

The first section of Rt. 6 is a one-mile, three-lane section from a point, three-tenths of a mile northeast of Spencer St., east to a point one-tenth of a mile east of Prospect St.

Construction bids were advertised yesterday for the third section of the new road, from Spring St. to Bolton Center Rd., Bolton. Those bids will be opened Jan. 15 at 2 p.m. in the department's Hartford office, at 170 Douglas St.

Construction bids for the middle section, from Prospect St. to Spring St., will be advertised early next year.

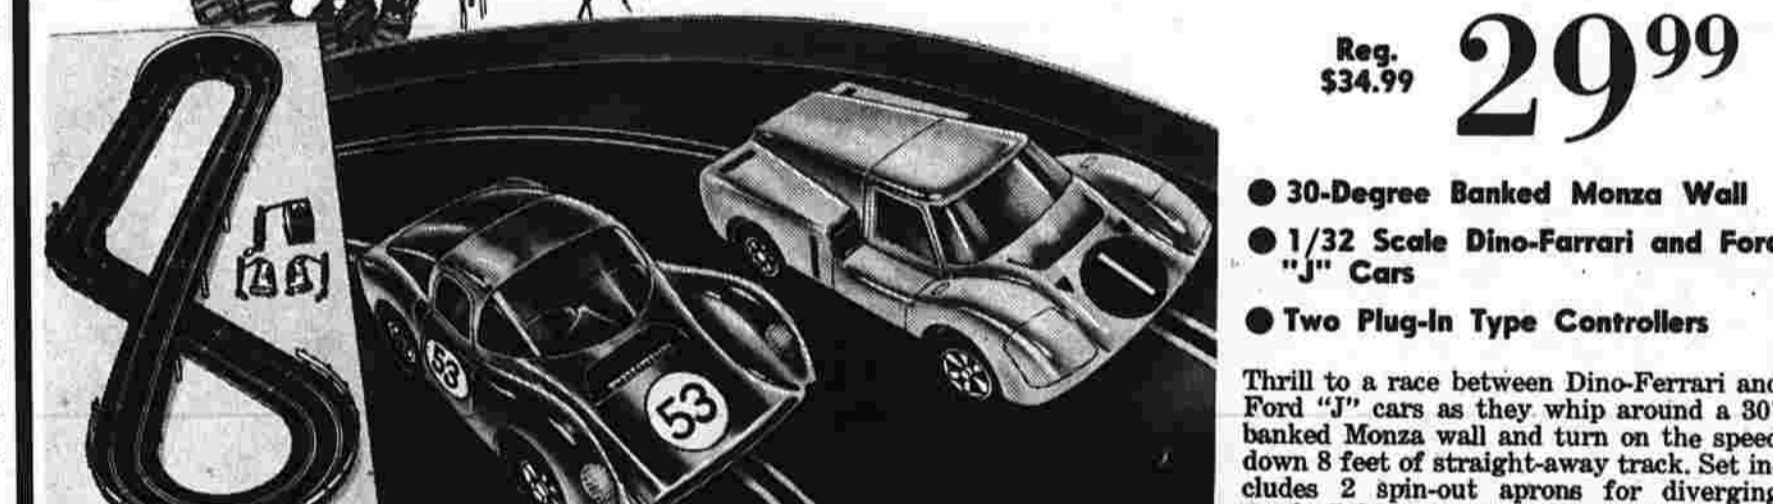

The entire relocated Rt. 6 will run south of Hartford Rd., Charter Oak St., Highland St.

Construction of the new road is being advertised in two sections, one from Prospect St. to Spring St., and another from Spring St. to Bolton Center Rd. The state's present timetable holds true, the entire Rt. 6 through Manchester should be open to traffic about June 1970, he said.

Youth Released From Detention In Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) — Stephen Zipper, 23, of Bayside, N.Y., was arrested in the Soviet Union on charges of smuggling narcotics but released as an act of official mercy after six weeks of detention, the youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda reported today.

The U.S. Embassy said the young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zipper of Bayside.

An embassy spokesman said Zipper was arrested Sept. 17 in the central Asian city of Tashkent during a stopover while on a flight home from India.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry notified the embassy of the arrest five days later. On Nov. 3 it said Zipper would be released immediately if he would leave the country. He left Moscow Nov. 8 by plane for Paris and New York.

The newspaper said Zipper was caught with more than 15 pounds of hashish in his possession.

A spokesman said the embassy had maintained silence on the case at the request of Zipper and his parents.

The embassy said his parents live at 23-20 Bell Blvd., Bayside. Zipper is the first American known to have been jailed in the Soviet Union since Earl Ray, Wortham Jr. and Craddock M. Gilmore Jr. were arrested for currency violations Oct. 11 1966.

They were convicted in Leningrad last December and fined.

Congress Appears Certain To OK Spending, Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears certain to OK a measure to raise postal rates and pay for federal agencies to cut rates for third-class mail would rise from 2.85 cents to 3.5 cents in July 1969. But a 3.8-cent rate would apply to the first 200,000 pieces mailed in any month.

The House voted 886 to 26 for a measure to slash spending 34.1 billion this fiscal year, sending the administration-boosted bill to the Senate where speedy acceptance is predicted.

The House sent to the Senate on a 326-42 vote a measure that would raise the salaries of postal workers 6 percent and of other federal workers 4.5 percent. The bill also provides for additional pay hikes on July 1 next year and July 1, 1969 at an eventual annual cost of $2.7 billion.

The pay bill includes proposed increases in postal rates. The bill also provides for a 20 percent surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he anticipated no difficulties in speeding the spending cut measure to the White House, which called for the slashes as part of a proposal that would raise first-class stamps from 5 to 6 cents and air mail stamps from 8 to 10 cents.

Before agreeing on the $4.1 billion figure the House rejected 218 to 188 a GOP proposal for Second-class rates, which cover newspapers and magazines, would jump next year from 1 cent to 1.1 cent under the minimum rate, then to 1.2 cents in 1969 and 1.3 cents in 1970.

School Board Asks Finance Panel To Restore $12,000 Budget Cut

In an unprecedented move, the Board of Education voted at its meeting last night to ask the Board of Finance to restore the $12,000 cut in its budget for next year. The largest portion of a board meeting that lasted to nearly midnight was devoted to a discussion of the budget. The recommendation for restoration was made by Dr. Joseph Castagna, superintendent of schools. He went over a portion of the budget that was not fully committed, showing where small amounts could be saved. It is absolutely necessary, he said, that the budget be already "stripped" of bare and bone dry. Chairman Harold Smith went over the list of possible cut areas also. Mrs. Virginia Butterfield and Robert Treat abstained from the restoration of the cut, three voting in favor, two abstaining. Two members, Dana Hanson and Rigby Graham were not present at the meeting. Voting in favor were the chairman, William Grunke and Mrs. Claire Warfel. Mrs. Virginia Butterfield and Robert Treat abstained. Board of Finance Chairman Roy Peckham and liaison member Charles Treat were present at the meeting and took part in the discussion. The finance board will probably hold a special meeting next month to discuss the request, which must go before the town.

Three-Point Program At the public hearing in January the town is to hear about a three-point building program, starting with the elementary school to be ready for January 1969. Peckham said that since the renovation of the present elementary school into a middle school is requested for the fall of 1970, this will also have a "terrible impact" on the town. Board of Education members decided that the $500,000 estimated by the architect for the middle school renovation should be made more specific. The average Daily Membership grant, which is about $2,000 more than anticipated, Peckham said that he would ask the staff to work on educational specifications so that the estimate could be based on what will be needed. These are to be ready for the public hearing, which has now been moved up to around Jan. 15. Budget Cuts Proposed Dr. Castagna said that in 1967-68 the amount budgeted for textbooks was $25 per pupil; this year it was $20.00. Chairman Smith said that the budget was "hoisted," that the board had poured over it when it was being prepared, and that even if they "chastize" themselves, they would come to the same conclusions. Mrs. Butterfield mentioned "unbudgeted items," a portable science lab and $200 for an answering service (to get substitute teachers). She was told that the lab came under "science equipment." Her point, she said, was that the board should ask the finance board before making these expenditures. Charles Treat of the finance board spoke up to tell Dr. Castagna that the budget argument "has nothing to do with you," that it is a result of a "misunderstanding" that he thinks the town supports good education. He said that the Board of Education should have gone to the town immediately and asked for the restoration of the cut. (Treat was not a member of the finance board until fall.) He also suggested that the board wait until the end of the fiscal year before asking for restoration at this point. U.S. Seen As Top in Ocean Tap

U.S. Seen As Top in Ocean Tap (Continued from Page One) hopes may produce an ocean treaty similar to the treaties covering Antarctica and outer space, Wenk said. Some government officials and several members of Congress may believe the exploitation of "ocean space" is more vital than the race to the moon. Among them is Chairman Alton S. Lee, D-N.C., of the House subcommittee on oceanography. But he acknowledged: "I don't think we'd ever be able to generate the great spontaneous interest in the ocean space program. But there is a far greater possibility for immediate beneficial returns from the sea beds than from outer space." But Wenk said this country's ocean program need not wait to move ahead in cooperative, international endeavors. The Agency for International Development is expected to announce within a month a program involving the United States and an as yet unnamed nation to get more food from the sea by mapping areas where fish are likely to be plentiful and constructing a pilot plant for recovery of fish protein.

Rusk Tells Panel He Won't Talk On War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has written the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that he will not testify before it publicly on Vietnam war policy.

The committee is entitled to hear his views on those questions, Rusk wrote. "But because of the extreme sensitivity of these matters, I am convinced that they should be fully discussed only in executive sessions."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said the committee member and Vietnam policy critic, released Rusk's letter Monday. It was written last Friday. U.S. Army positions about 30 miles south of the capital.

But Rusk's letter said, "Any testimony before the committee would necessarily deal with our military operations and planning, as well as the most delicate relations with other governments."

Percy, Wife Undeveloped Country Target of Legislation Viet Attack

(Continued from Page One) The thought of an attack on the village five or six times, Percy said, "there seemed to be no sign of life so we took the chopper in."

The attack broke just as Percy was emerging from one of the bunkers in which many of the Montagnard tribesmen were trapped in the Viet Cong laid Dec. 8.

The vice president said many new cities "could undoubtedly be built on the sites of existing towns, and indeed that is happening today where local governments have taken the initiative."

John Lenz reported from the center outpost of Gio Linh, that the Marines and South Vietnamese forces are maneuvering preparation for the building of the barbed wire and electronic "McNamara Wall" along the DMZ.

On Monday Marines on foot and in amphibious tractors pushed a North Vietnamese force and touched off a 10-hour battle northeast of Gio Linh and a mile and a half south of the DMZ.

Marine headquarters said the Marines pulled back at nightfall. Twenty Marines were wounded, but only seven required hospitalization, a spokesman said.

Marine headquarters at Da Nang reported that North Vietnamese guerrillas claimed they had killed a Marine and destroyed a tank and a truck.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE

Green Class Overload Leads to Funds Bid

Seeking alternatives to what to do about overload of Green School, the Board of Education last night voted unanimously to bid for funds.

The bid would be for $25,000 to $30,000 a month in basic pay would rise to $2,118 a month while a previous pay would go up from $1,900 to $2,000 a month.

The board's decision to seek more funds came at a meeting of the Board of Directors.

Superintendent Curtis wanted that the operating budget is increased by $25,000 to $30,000 a month.

As part of its vote to seek funds, the Board also directed the administration to make a plan guaranteeing that approved conditions at the Green School will not be repeated next year.

The estimated cost of providing the 14 teachers with the remainder of the year was set by the administration at $5,000.

Under the first alternative, the Board would increase the salary of the library and cafeteria and the auditorium stage to make temporary substitutes.

The second alternative envisioned by the board would be to increase the salary of the 14 teachers by $1,000 a year.

The effect on enrollment was a major factor in the rejection of that plan.

Curriculum and the more than 40 parents present that the board had not been aware of the enrollment.

He said additional teaching personnel would be requested in the budget, but were cut out when the board's approval of the 1968 budget was known.

Curtis said the board usually has a meeting every year, created when teachers retiring at the top of the salary

New Film Goes Embracing Comedies by W.C. Fields

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That notorious opponent of the establishment, W.C. Fields, appears to be the latest screen immortal to be embraced by the new generation of film goers.

It's still not certain whether the rediscovery of Fields was entirely spontaneous or was inspired by the alert salaried hand of Universal Pictures.

Such films as "Bank Dick," "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," "My Little Chickadee" and "Never Give a Sucker An Even Break" have been playing in two New York Theaters and two in Los Angeles.

Apparently collegiates do have an affinity for Fields. What is the source of his appeal, aside from the fact that he was a very funny man?

That seems to be an important factor in film merchandising nowadays: to capitalize on the youthful revolt against those who hold the power.

It is true that the Fields comedies pictured him at odds with the suburbs. He was the master of the shell game, a man who would sell a talking dog in a million, only to have the dog refuse to talk afterward.

3 Variance Bids Granted By Zoning Board of Appeals

The zoning board of appeals has granted three petitions, denied two and approved one request in part at a recent hearing.

Granted by the appeals board was the petition of Carlo Prosio, 56 Ash Rd., Wapping, for a variance to allow construction of a dwelling closer to the front line than permitted zoning premises known as lot 48, Grace Rd., Wapping. This is an A-40 zone.

Also granted was the petition of Dynamic Controls, 8 Nutmeg Rd., South Windsor, for a temporary and conditional permit to allow the parking and use of a trailer on their premises. This is an A-1 zone. The variance was granted for a three month period.

The petition of Andrew Reardon, Edwin Reardon and Robert Starr, Jr., c/o Ed. A. Lassman, 37 Lewis St., Hartford, for a variance to allow a lot with less than the required frontage and square footage on premises at 787 North King St., Wapping, was also granted. The property is in an A-40 zone.

Denied by the ZBA was the request of Pasquale J. Salami, trustee c/o Edwin A. Lassman, 37 Lewis St., Hartford, for a variance to allow a new car dealership and a state hearing for approval of dealership at 1700 Ellington Rd.

The variance was requested for the rear of the property and in an A-40 zone. The petition of Dr. Robert V. Williams, 1785 Ellington Rd., Wapping, for a variance to allow a temporary and conditional permit to allow three signs not in accordance with zoning regulations on premises at 1785, 1787 and 1789 Ellington Rd., Wapping was ruled on as follows:

A sign will be permitted at 1787 Ellington Rd.; denied at 1789 Ellington Rd. with the provision that it be located on a position with a maximum of 50 feet from the southwest corner of Ellington Rd. and Buckland Rd. and be a four-foot by eight-foot sign.

Congregation Votes 288-74 To Keep Branford Pastor

BRANFORD (AP) — A resolution asking the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Hangan had been voted on by members of the church and that they pledged support of the minister in defense of his right of conscience.

The Rev. Mr. Hangan had disclosed to the congregation his support of Yale Divinity School students who were in their draft cards and had intended to do the same himself.

Archibald Marshall, another supporter of the minister's position, said the controversy could not be resolved by a vote. He would not do so, and that he believed his support to student protesters was more important than actually turning in his card.

Indict 2 Students In Bank Holdup
NEW HAVEN (AP) — Two college students suspected of making off with $4,000 in a burglary of a New York bank last Thanksgiving weekend, have been indicted here by a federal grand jury.

The pair, who appeared in U.S. District Court on Monday, are Theodore C. Kennedy III, 21, of Norwich, and Samuel Bernthal, 20, of Great Neck, L.I. Both are students at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The two were arrested Dec. 2 after a large quantity of money was allegedly found on the property of Kennedy's aunt next to his home.

Police said that Kennedy's lawyer later led them to another part of the property where more money was found. The total amount discovered in Great Neck comes within $1,971 of the amount reported missing from the "Manasse branch of the Connecticut Bank & Trust Co., where Kennedy worked last summer.

U.N.C.L.E. Leaves TV, Who Was Assassin?

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Was it the saturation of the market by the supremely diabolical plot by the agency of evil, "Thrash"? Or was it merely the agency of the ratings that killed "The Man from U.N.C.L.E."?

Robert Vaughn, who has been shown in the title role of the MGM-TV series, says he is not sure. "I think we would have at least lasted out this season," he says.

Lung Obstructions Put Burden on Heart

By LOUDON KELLY — A common feature in all cases of the disease, said Dr. Morgan, a vibrant blue-eyed man with a receding hairline, is an over-all reduction in the capacity of the small blood vessels. This leads to increased resistance to the pulmonary blood flow and an abnormally high pressure in the artery leading from the right side of the heart to the lungs.

Dr. Morgan said even in persons having chronic lung disease, cor pulmonale usually normal, but because of the increased resistance to the pulmonary blood flow, a severe lack of oxygen in the blood and a failure to expel carbon dioxide from the body.

Maire Fatally Shot

GENEVA (AP) — Edouard Maitre, chief of Italian Diplomatic Corps in Geneva, was shot and critically wounded at Port-au-Prince, Haiti, today.

Maitre was the chief of Duvalier's notorious secret police.

Joseph suggested that the shooting might have been engineered by Duvalier himself because of a raid on the Port-au-Prince branch of the Bank of Canada Nov. 7. He explained that the bank, which got away with $77,800, were armed with machine guns, and the Ton Tom are the only Haitians who have been known to use machine guns.

Joseph said the black glasses worn by the gunman also were identical to those issued to the security police.

Soviet Planes Blamed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Hales by Soviet-made jet fighters on Royalist troop positions in Yemen are blamed by a Royalist spokesman for checking a drive on the Republican capital of Sana'a.

Mohammed ben Ibrahim, the Royalist information minister, did not give the number of planes raising his side's troops but previous reports have said the Russians delivered 24 planes to the Republicans.

Although the Republicans say the planes are all piloted by Yemenis, Ibrahim charged that the Royalists have found the body of a Russian pilot with Russian language papers.

The civil war in Yemen, raging off and on since 1962 when the army overthrew the monarch, Imam Mohammed al-Radh, has flared up again in the past week with the withdrawal of the thousands of Egyptian troops fighting on the Republican side.

The Royalists admitted Monday that their drive to take Sana'a has bogged down, and a Royalist official in Beirut retracted the claim that Royalists had seized the military airport outside the Yemeni capital.

British Medical Scare

LONDON (AP) — British medical authorities touched off a scare today when they said a 15-year-old juvenile offender had been in contact with persons who died from a mysterious disease carried by vervet monkeys.

The disease has caused seven deaths and 30 cases of acute illness in West Germany and Yugoslavia.

Three of the boy's relatives in West Germany were said to have died from above in dark water.

Events in Capital

Replicates to Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has replied sharply to a Soviet warning against extending the Vietnam war into Cambodia.

The cause of peace, said the department's press officer, Robert J. McCloskey, would be "better served if those who expressed concern would use their influence in bringing the conflict to the negotiating table."

The Soviet news agency Tass charged the U.S. military command with calling for a blockade of the Cambodian coast or an invasion of Cambodia and neighboring Laos.

The State Department said the United States has many "supposed fiscal irregularities" in Cambodia and Laos.

But he said an offer to provide material and financial support to the International Control Commission to permit a closer watch on the Cambodia-Vietnam border is still outstanding.

Huk Guerrilla Killed

MANILA (AP) — A Philippine rifle commander with a $5,000 price on his head was killed late Monday night by Philippine counter-stabular troops north of Manila, press reports said today.

The dispatches said Pedro Juan, "Commander Dalusong," was killed in a clash in a forest near the town of Marikina.

Four of Dalusong's aides escaped, but troops were hunting them with help from two light planes.

Dalusong's death came during a massive constabulary drive to wipe out the Huk guerrilla forces roaming along the boundaries of Tarlac and Pangasinan provinces. The drive was triggered two weeks ago by a Huk ambush which killed seven members of a battalion combat team.

Jordanian Skirmish

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian forces fired briefly with machine guns and rifles Monday night on the Betan valley kibbutz of Kfar Kippur, the Israeli Army said today.

The spokesman also reported no injuries, unexplained antipersonnel mine in a field near Ashdot Yaakov farther north. It was believed to have been laid during a terrorist raid on the kibbutz three weeks ago.

The backs of full-grown fish are dark so they cannot be seen from above in dark water.

Congress Likely Recalled For Try at Lost Influence

WASHINGTON (AP) — What ever the final record of the 90th Congress, it is most likely to be remembered for trying to recapture influence and authority previous congresses have lost to the executive branch.

By ordering substantial cuts in spending before it will even consider President Johnson's request for a tax increase, Congress has told the administration it wants a larger voice in controlling the growth of the federal government.

By transferring control of important education and anti-poverty programs from the federal bureaucracy to state and local governments it has called for a centralization of authority in executive agencies in Washington.

Also under challenge is the President's authority to send U.S. forces into overseas combat without congressional approval. A resolution calling on the President to get such approval is awaiting Senate debate.

The committee is entitled to know my views on these questions. But because of the extreme sensitivity of these matters, I am convinced that they should be fully discussed only in executive sessions.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in a letter reportedly written to Senator Albert Gore, D-Tenn., explained why Rusk has declined to participate in public on Vietnam war policy before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Girouard Indicted In Holdup

A federal grand jury in Hartford yesterday indicted a Manchester couple in the armed robbery of a Wapping bank branch last month.

Indicted on a total of five counts were Frederick J. Girouard, 24, and Mary Menard, 21. The couple are to be put to plea at U.S. District Court in Hartford next Monday.

Girouard is convalescing at Boston City Hospital where he has been since he was shot in the hand and abdomen in a gunfight with FBI agents.

Mrs. Menard was arrested with Girouard. The government claims she conspired with him and later assisted him by driving the getaway car.

The robbery took place Nov. 16 at the Sullivan Plaza branch of the South Windsor Branch of the Trust Co. A total of $25,000 in cash was taken in the holdup.

Court authorities said today that if Girouard is not well enough to leave the hospital by Monday, Mrs. Menard will be put to plea alone.

Club Hears Talk On Yule Trees

"Nothing is as beautiful as a Christmas tree with its living lights," Mrs. Dagmar Peterson of Newtonville, Mass. said today to about 175 members of the Women's Club of Manchester at a Christmas dinner-meeting at the Manchester Country Club.

The speaker's topic was "The Meaning of Christmas," she announced after a social time and dinner.

Litigated candles were the "living lights" which Mrs. Peterson referred to. She mentioned that while candles were no longer allowed to be lighted on Christmas trees, because of the fire hazards involved, she remembered them well as a child and said that "electric lights could never live up to the beauty of the flickering candles."

In speaking of Christmas customs referred to, she mentioned that it was during the reign of Queen Victoria that fir trees were first brought into the homes.

She suggested that some of the ornaments on the tree should be of a personal nature with sentimental value to members of the family. "This would," she said, "make the Christmas tree a meaningful part of Christmas as well as a thing of beauty."

After describing Christmas customs in many parts of the world and from the past to the present, Mrs. Peterson closed her talk by asking her audience to "this year, put a light in the window to invite the Christ Child in to your home."

During her talk she decorated a small tree with ornaments which, she said, were a traditional part of her family's Christmas.

Club members brought Christmas ornaments which were judged for awards. The centerpieces of Mrs. Pauline Hagan of 46 Chester Dr., Mrs. Thomas Blanchard of 106 Francis Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gouffon of 106 Elgin St. were chosen by the judges as the most attractive and most original.

Mrs. Hagan created a pyramid of small, frosted fruits in a pedestal container, styled like the dolls Robbin wreaths

Jarring Arrives In Beirut For Talk with Arabs

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Gunnar Jarring, U.N. peace-maker for the Middle East, arrived in Beirut today for his first talks with Arab leaders at a new headquarters in Cyprus.

Foreign Minister George Hakim, fresh from consultations with his Arab counterparts in Cairo, was due to hold his first meeting with Jarring later.

Arab foreign ministers in Cairo decided that a summit meeting at Rabat, Morocco, Jan. 17 will not discuss the U.N. Security Council resolution that sent the Swedish diplomat to the Middle East.

Hakim will brief Jarring on the Cairo meeting and point out a unified stand on a Middle East settlement with Israel, Beirut newspapers reported.

The official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said Jarring will hold exploratory talks in Beirut from Dec. 15 to 17, Friday and in Cairo Monday.

In Paris, the Army Ministry said it knew nothing about the reported shipment of two Mirage fighter-bombers to Lebanon in spite of the embargo France says it has imposed on Middle East arms shipments.

The shipment was reported Monday in the Israeli newspaper Maariv.

The paper quoted Lebanese sources as saying the planes, part of a group of 12 ordered a year ago, had been delivered because "Lebanon did not take an active part in the June war."

At the United Nations, Laurence Michelmore, high commissioner of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine, reported that Jordanian officials say Arabs from Israeli-occupied territories are entering Jordan at the rate of 200 to 300 a day.

Michelmore told the U.N. Special Political Committee that his agency now estimates there are 270,000 refugees eligible for rationing in Gaza and another 270,000 on the west bank of the Jordan River. Israeli figures for the two areas total only 400,000, he said, adding that the difference in figures could not be "defined with any degree of certainty."

Vietnam Casualty

EAST KILLINGLY (AP) — Marine Capt. Sidney Barber was killed by explosive fragments while on patrol in Vietnam, his family has learned.

LBJ to Stop At Plant in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — President Johnson is stopping in New Orleans for a visit to NASA's Michoud rocket assembly plant today on his way back to Washington from Texas, the space agency announced.

The President was to arrive at New Orleans International Airport about 2 p.m. (EST) government sources said, and go by helicopter to the Michoud Assembly Facility on the east-ern outskirts of the city.

Dr. Werner von Braun of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., NASA Administrator James E. Webb and astronaut Walter Shriver and Walter Cunningham also will visit the sprawling assembly plant to address and meet all Michoud employees and their families.

The information office at Michoud said further details of the President's visit would be given later.

The quickly planned visit by President Johnson apparently caught city and state officials by surprise.

Democratic Gov. John McKeithen, in New Orleans for an oil meeting, said he would remain in the city to meet the President, but was unaware the visit was definite.

Sailor Buried In Unusual Ceremonies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The sun was setting at Cypress Lawn Cemetery as a Navy bugler blew taps. The sorcerer waved his magician's wand. The Navy honor guard fired a volley over the casket.

Thus Edward D. Olsen, a Navy machinist's mate, his class was buried.

"To the earth whence he came and where he lived, not to any heavenly realm," said the priest of St. Anthon, founder of the First Saticum Church of San Francisco.

Olsen, 26, was killed in a traffic accident last Friday. His widow, Christine, asked as the next of kin for the Saticum funeral.

They had joined LaVey's church six months ago, she said, and although they hadn't talked much about death, he had said "this would be the only way. He believed in this church."

LaVey, dressed in black sorcerer's costume, with shaved head and a Mephistophelean beard, said this was his first funeral. He previously has conducted one baptism and one marriage which later broke up.

"It was amazing how well the service worked with the Navy," he said. It could have been something out of medieval times.

"We did not consign him (Olsen) to the devil," LaVey said. "Satan was mentioned throughout the service as the embodiment of life."

Earlier, LaVey had conducted funeral services at a funeral home, assisted by two priestesses and eight male acolytes.

Olsen's body, dressed in his Navy blues and wearing his Good Conduct Medal, was in a casket with the Stars and Stripes draped over its lower half. Below that was the pent-

Fire Damages Walls Of Spruce St. House

Fire last night did extensive damage to interior walls of front rooms in a house at 94 Spruce St. The house is a large duplex and the Herman Levi family living on the opposite side, had to spend the night with friends.

The side where the fire occurred was unoccupied. Some work of remodeling it was being done in the kitchen. The house is one of four in the area owned by Floyd Forde of 86 Foster St.

According to James Forde, father of the owner, the fire apparently started in the cellar and in the electrical wiring. By the time the fire was put out, it had burned a hole in the floor on the first floor, had spread through the rafters to the second floor and did damage also in the attic.

Firemen had to chop a hole in the outside wall to get to the fire.

The Levi's mother, father and three children, spent the night at 240 Hackmatack St.

The Conti boy and Mrs. Skrupka both suffered multiple injuries.

Mark McDougall Jr., an eight-year-old passenger in the other vehicle, a converted hearse, suffered a broken left leg but is reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

There was a family of six in the hearse. Besides Mark there was John A. McDougall Jr., 31, the driver, his wife, Evelyn, and their other three or five hours later, Mr. Levi said.

The fire broke out about 10 p.m., and firemen stayed at the scene until 1:30 in the morning.

William Mason, chief of the Town Fire Department, said he did not know what the cause of the fire was, and would not even speculate as to cause. He said he would look into the matter today, since last night, "in the dark, with the water coming down all around, it's kind of hard to tell what started it."

Mason said.

PLEDGES FIND WINNERS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two students pledging a University of Miami fraternity set out on an initiation scavenger hunt Monday to bring in $50,000 worth of losing tickets from Tropical Park race track.

When the pledges of Zeta Beta Tau brought in the pile of paste-boards thrown away by losing railbirds, they found $20,000 worth of winners. They plan to be at the payout window today to pick up the money.

JUST A REMINDER

Two nights later, Coach John Fink of Indiana got a phone call from the college's armory.

"Coach," the voice said, "This is Harry Gonso. Remember me?"

It's Always the Men Who Like Model Trains

By WILLIAM G. HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Engineers are planning to relocate an entire railroad station house, tracks and treatment in the hills east of Oakland. The engineers operate foot-high miniature locomotives. The Redwood Railroad is a scaled-down version with a half-mile of track in parallel loops. One set of tracks is elevated so the engineer can dangle his legs comfortably from aboard a tender or flatcar as he strokes the engine and works the throttle. Another loop of wider, heavier tracks at ground level accommodates larger models. The engineers, serious hobbyists, build meticulously accurate models of famous old steam engines. A typical locomotive may be about one foot high, five feet long and weigh some 200 pounds. It can cost up to $20,000 or more.

The railroad and the engineers belong to the Golden Gate Live Steamers Inc. Built in 1933, the club has some 100 members today. The Redwood has outgrown its present location park location. Club members have accepted an invitation to move to Hilden Park, 10 miles to the north, but they've worked out so timetable yet.

Accidents are rare and usually minor on the Redwood line. "If a man uses judgment, takes care of his equipment and pays attention to what he's doing, he won't have any problems," says Harry Dixon of Castro Valley, charter member of the club.

Dixon once had his own 170-foot-long Dixie Short Line Railroad in his garden. Now he loads his Dixie Belle locomotive into the family station wagon and takes it to the Redwood tracks for Sunday runs.

"I'm having someone else handle the controls. I go along behind on a flatcar, and I've got a hand brake so I can control the operation of the train," Dixon says. "If I see he's getting to get into trouble, I can always brake him down. That's my responsibility; it's my train and I have to watch out for it."

His children, she said, is a claim against the club, burned

Soviets Refuse To Talk About Navy Deserters

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet officials refused to say today what has become of the four U.S. Navy deserters who spent three weeks in Moscow protesting the American war effort in Vietnam.

The Moscow hotel where the four youths had been staying said Monday they left several days earlier. They could not be located at other Moscow hotels. A spokesman would not say whether they were still in the Soviet Union.

"If they want to make any statement about themselves, they will make it," he said. The sailors said when they arrived last month from Japan that they hoped to go to a neutral country to work against the United States in Vietnam. They deserted from the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Japan, and a Japanese antiwar committee helped them slip out to the Soviet Union.

The four sailors are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Michael Barilla, 20, Catonsville, Md.; Craig W. Anderson, 20, San Jose, Calif.; and Michael Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

The U.S. Embassy said it had no information on the sailors. It had tried earlier to contact them but was rebuffed by Soviet officials who said the youths did not want to talk with Embassy representatives.

Dixon, a retired toolmaker, is secretary of the worldwide Brotherhood of Live Steamers. Joining the brotherhood "involves no money," Dixon says. His job is unpaid but he loves it, corresponding with railroad fans all over the world. He estimates that the brotherhood has well over 1,000 members in the United States alone.

Dixon years to operate a full-size engine just once. "I've been in the cab," he says, "but I've never been invited to handle the controls. I'd like to."

NEW YORK (AP) — Three interdenominational magazines all have Baptist editors—Kyle Haasiders of Christian Century, Carl F. H. Henry of Christianity Today, and Kenneth L. Wilson of Christian Herald.

Most of the engines use clean-burning Welsh steam coal or bituminous anthracite, but a few burn oil. Once a woman visitor, unfamiliar with the habits of coal-burning locomotives, stood too close to the track—but not for long.

Her children, she said, is a claim against the club, burned

Earthquake Toll Now 115 in India

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The earthquake toll in southwest India rose to 115 today as search parties fanned out to isolated hamlets in the Western Ghats mountains. There were estimates as many as 200 may have died.

More than 1,600 injured persons were seeking treatment. Hospitals in Karad Sangli and Satara, the towns closest to the disaster area, were unable to take more patients.

The quake rocked the Koyana river area 150 miles southeast of Bombay before dawn Monday. Many were killed when houses built of granite blocks collapsed on them as they slept. Only a few tin sheds were reported left standing in Koyana, a town of 10,000 near the Koyana Dam. The dam, one of the largest hydroelectric projects in India, apparently was not damaged.

Indian records list eight major quakes in the past 200 years, but most were in the "unstable" northern region along the base of the Himalayas. The worst quake on record was in Calcutta on Oct. 11, 1937, when 800,000 people were killed.

The quake broke and helped them slip out to the Soviet Union. Among the dead were M. P. Barask, executive engineer of the dam, and his wife. Mild earth tremors were felt again early today in Poona and Bombay but there was no report of additional damage.

Hal Boyle Finding Gift For Wife In An Ordeal

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals for a husband is finding out what to give his wife for Christmas.

The rest of the year the average housewife is only too apt to be expurgating her wants. She wants the house painted or she wants the family to have a color television set or she wants a new gas-stated refrigerator or she wants a fur coat or she wants a new electric dishwasher. But will she play music or she wants to take a vacation in Hawaii.

But at the approach of yuletide wives suddenly elect to be more mysterious as to their demands and wishes. They turn into coy martyrs.

"And what do you want Santa Claus to bring you, dear?" asks the husband, after blanching at the three-page list of presents their children have drawn up as the bare requirements for their continued existence.

"Oh, nothing—nothing at all," replies the wife. "What do you mean—nothing? You know darn well I'm going to get you something for Christmas. What would the kids think if I didn't? What would the neighbors say?"

"Well, I really don't want any thing at all. Whatever you get, if you really feel you have to get me something, don't get me anything that is foolish and expensive."

So, if you're the husband, you start using the kids as intermediaries in the matter. "Find out if your mother wants a bottle of perfume," Back comes their report: "Mama don't want no perfume. She says she'd just as soon go on using that after shave lotion you won on a punchboard."

"How about a nice big electric blanket?" "Mama says our electric bills are already too high."

"Well, she loves music. See if she'd like to have a collection of Mozart recordings."

"Mama says to tell you that if you spend more time in the house you'd know that our photograph hasn't been working for at least four months."

You begin to get exasperated. "Ask your mother," you tell the kids innocently. "Whether she'd like a one-man plastic submarine. I can get one for $150.00 that's a bargain."

"Oh, boy, Pop, that's a great idea!" the kids yell, overcome by the thought that their mother will be the first one in the block to own her own submarine. But they later report back dutifully: "Mom don't want no submarine. She says you know that she can't swim and that, besides, it gives her claustrophobia even to hang clothes in the closet, let alone going for a ride in a submarine."

Finally you give up on the kids and take your problem to a neighbor. "Of course your wife said not to buy her something that was silly and expensive," he says with a superior air. "Of course she said she wanted something practical. So did my wife."

"But the last thing my wife wants for Christmas is anything that's practical. I'm buying my wife a silk evening gown, beaded with rhinestones, hand-painted by a noted artist who once shook hands with F. Lee."

So, on the last shopping day before Christmas, you dash to the department store. They don't have any rhinestone-studded silk evening gowns. F. Lee grabs you.

"But we do have—marked down to $17.49 from $90—a lovely housewife made of genuine African ostrich feathers," says the salesman. "It's the only one we have left in stock."

"How many did you have to start with?" "Two," says the honest salesman. "I just bought the other one for my own wife. Couldn't figure out what else to give her."

"Wrap it up. I'll take it with me."

Well, Christmas morning your wife knalls down and cries when she sees her ostrich-feathered housewife.

"It's the one thing in life I've always wanted," she says, then adds reproachfully: "But you shouldn't have—it looks so terribly expensive."

Along about February when you ask why she isn't wearing it, she answers: "It was beautiful but awfully impractical. I exchanged it for a hair dryer and a new set of dishes."

PROTESTANT APPELLANT INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A Christian (Disciples of Christ) observer to the recent Catholic lay congress in Rome, James F. Whitehead, reports that Catholic lay people "lean strongly toward individual freedom on many issues"—including birth control, mixed marriages and religious education of children of mixed marriages.
