World Returns To Work

VOL. LXXXVII. NO. 72

By PATRICK E. O'Keefe Associated Press Writer

The silent, holy hours of Christmas over, the world went back to work, war and worry today.

American troops in Vietnam, with a hot turkey dinner under their belts, took up their weap-ons for more clashes with the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. As soon as the 24-hour. allied truce ended Christmas night, U.S. warplanes streaked over North Vietnam to attack supply convoys which the U.S. Command said the Communistsrushed south during the cease-

Amid the war in Vietnam, enduring crisis in the Middle East and tension along the frontier in South Korea, Christmas 1967 occasioned prayers for peace from Pope Paul VI and many others.

After celebrating midnight Mass in the Sistine Chapel and two more Masses on Christmas morning, the pontiff spoke from the front balcony of St. Peter's Basilica. Looking tired but with an unfalggin voice, he told a crowd of 20,000:

"Our wish today is united th deed with the renewed wish for peace...Let it now be our prayer for you and for the world, as even in these days our anxiety, our cares and our hopes have centered on peace."

The Pope did not mention Vietnam nor his visit Saturday with President Johnson.

The President celebrated Christmas at the White House with his family. The early-rising Johnson clan exchanged gifts around a five-foot Norway spruce, with a gold cross from Pope Paul going to 6-month-old Patrick Lyndon Nugent, the President's grandson.

In a Christmas radio and television message, Johnson conceded that to say "Merry Christmas" in wartime is not

In Vietnam, Michigan Gov. George Romney, who seeks the GOP nomination to oppose Johnson in next fall's election, shook hands with American troops from Saigon to Da Nang and said over and over, "Merry Christmas, fellows, Christmas."

In the Holy Land, the Israelis were in control of Bethlehem for the first time, and only 9,000 pilgrims braved the rain to celebrate Christmas at the birthplace of Christ-about half the number anticipated.

Bethlehem's Mayor Elias Bandak, a Christian Arab, said of the first Christmas under the Israelis: "Things went smoothly, and I have no complaints." The Wisconsin Democrat, chairman of the joint congressional committee, said it will make public next month a list of defense contractors who "were using government equipment most of the time for their own commercial gain rather than on defense work."

"The government has been losing inestimable millions because of such abuses," Proxmire said in a year-end state-

"The Pentagon initiated action at year's end to stop the shocking misuse of some of the $15 billion worth of government-owned property in the hands of private contractors uncovered in a GAO study requested by the committee," he said.

New regulations were issued by the Pentagon, said Proxmire, to "halt widespread and costly noncompliance with the vital Truth in Negotiations Act, the taxpayer's only defense against blatant overcharges." Another committee investigation, he said, resulted in Pentagon action to improve accuracy of records on the Defense De

N.Y. Train Crashes CHURCHVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Sixteen persons were injured today when 13 cars of a New York Central passenger train left the tracks near this village west of Roches-ter. A cook scalded by hot liquid that spilled in the din-ing-car kitchen was believed the most seriously hurt. The injured were taken to Rochester hospitals. Eleven persons were admitted. Five were discharged. The 15-car train, No. 62, en route from Buffalo to New York City, carried 219 passengers and a crew of eight, a railroad spokesman said. Engineer W. B. It was the second investigation Stennis has announced this month. On Dec. 11 he ordered a full-scale inquiry into American strategic weapons and weapons delivery systems, both aircraft and missiles. Its purpose, he said, would be to compare the U.S. nuclear striking force to that of the Soviet Union.

Stennis' announcement linked the investigation closely to the war in Vietnam. He said he thought both China and the Soviet Union were watching the war carefully, and would start trouble in other parts of the world if they thought they could catch the United States unpre-

If you are going on a south-land vacation, we might cau-tion against too much sun lest your hair becomes dry and straw-like. If this does occur, a good oil treatment is a must. Another problem arising from over-exposure to strong sun-light is the likelihood that hair may streak or color may lift by several shades. Also swim-ming in chlorinated water with-out a cap may be inviting in-teresting, if not disastrous re-sults. Natural blond or olond-tinted hair has been known to turn green under these condi-tions.

E. J. Holl

No one ever did more business in one community over a greater number o years and retained more friendship and espect than E. J. Holl, for more than half a century, a creator, in Manchester, of homes for people. There was an honorable reciprocity between E. J. and his community, in that both helped each other grow, with esults that were pleasant and remunerative to both. He did not like to put his land, or that which came under his management, to cheap use. He built and designed and sold as if he intended to be able to live with his own transactions for a long time to come-and he did. Along with the privilege he exercised of doing business in Manchester, he accepted civic responsibility, and he held to this even after he himself had established himself across the town line, in Bolton, in a setting which could remind him of his native England. The civic contribution he offered was distinguished by a willingness to help as well as to

He was a courteous, reasonable man, who liked the getting together of good fellows in mellow companionship, who appreciated the flowers grown for him, who named his streets after his friends, who remained unbelievably tall and erect and keen and interested far be-The business he did was good for Manchester. He was a good citizen, and a good friend, and an inspiring example of that best in Manchester's vesterday which, logically enough, offers the firm est footing for Manchester's future. It was a good day for Manchester when he came here, a sad day as he leaves.

The Clean Reservoir Scandal The story of corruption now open in New York City may not be the most serious in that city's history, but it already can claim the distinction of having the most fascinating cast of char-

Leading the list is, of course, James L. Marcus, the debonair fellow who married the daughter of a former Connecticut governor, who did the punting for the Lindsay touch football scrums, and who, as Commissioner of Water Supply,. Gas and Electricity in the reform administration of the clean and handsome Mayor John Lindsay, is now alleged to have taken a "kickback" from a contract he himself let.

Then there is Henry Fried, the chief owner of the contracting firm involved, why the same right is not extended to who looks like a self-made man who the citizen when he is a motorist rather rose, by the sweat of his brow and the expertness of his contract figuring, to be the owner of the largest farm for breeding race horses in the whole state of Pennsylvania. Before he received a little notoriety once before, as a gen tleman who put a New York City councilman on his firm's payroll about the tim ethe Council passed a bill permitting the use of one of his products in the mixing of construction concrete. Mr. Fried had been, by appointment of Governor Averell Harriman, a member of the State Correction Commission which supervises and inspects the New York state prison system.

come into existence at all, one imagines, if it had not been for a real life repreentative of the Mafia, a gentleman named Antonio Corallo, and sometimes called "Tony Ducks," who allegedly told the other actors in the alleged conspiracy what to do.

Then, in the sub-cast, there is one Carl D'Angelo, a lawyer who is the son of Armand D'Angelo, who was Commismioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity under Mayor Robert Wagner, before Marcus came along. Lawyer D'Angelo is a former assistant district attorney in the office of District Attorney Frank Hogan, whom the FBI kept in the dark regarding this investigation. Herbert Itkin, a lawyer specializing in abor relations cases, but currently under indictment for larceny for his role in s mortgage deal, is another distin-

Finally, there is one Daniel J. Motto. allegedly one of the recipients of the pay-off, who is president of a Long Island City local of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers Union, head of the Non-Partisan Labor League in Queens, and a resident of Greenwich, Conn. But perhaps the most tantalizing detail about Mr. Motto is that he is a member of the executive board of the American-Italian Anti-Defamation Council, which campaigns against public identification by law agencies or news media of criminals of Italian birth or ancestry as members of the Mafia.

Such the cast. Why and how could such a thing happen in the reform administration of the clean young Ivy League political hero,

Well, greed and unscrupulousness de not draw many social, racial, or political lines. No administration is ever

But there was one circumstanceglaring in the aftermath, of course, but subject to discovery and alarm in any administration which really took its responsibilities to itself and to the people seriously-which opened the door to the

The circumstance was simply this: Commissioner Marcus possessed the legal authority to let out the contract involved - an $835,000 deal to the Fried firm for cleaning out Jerome Park Reservoir in the Bronx - without first obtaining any public bids or private estimates from anybody else.

The existence, in any government any where, of any such power to spend that much public money without going through the process of competitive bidding is always certain dynamite, even though the individual who holds such authority seems to be a charmer, or have an educated toe on the fields of touch football.

The Location Of The Victory

Units of the Queen's Cobra Regiment from Thailand, newly arrived in South Vietnam, had their first action the other night, and General Westmoreland promptly congratulated them on their

The victory was described, by the Associated Press, in the following lan-"A small bivouac of the Thai Queen's est yet for the recently arrived Thai troops-54 guerrilla bodies were counted and 39 weapons captured. The Thair said they had four dead and eight This was indeed a victory, of the kind we have won many times over in South Vietnam, during the nearly three years of our own direct heavy involvement. But one incidental detail in the news story reached out and grabbed the reader's attention. This action took place "about 15 miles northeast of Saigon." Saigon is the capital of South Vietnam, and the great center of the American military presence in Vietnam. This small piece of military geography sticks like an annoying bur in the side of all those reports from Vietnam which speak of progress both on the military and the pacification fronts.

Why Harass The Motorist?

In the past few years, Connecticut has resisted efforts by various law enforcement agencies to have a "stop and search" law enacted. Those legislator opposed to such a measure have argued that to stop and search a private citi zen on the street merely on the "suspicion" that he is up to no good is a violation of his constitutional rights. Given the principle that the private citizen has the right to go his own way without fear of arbitrary harassment by the police, it is difficult to understand than a pedestrian. In many instances motorists are stopped by police intent upon performing roadside "inspection" of automotive equipment. Sometimes summonses are issued for violations which would not seem to obtain. It is legal, for example, to give a motorist a ticket for having ing in the daytime? Too often, when n defective headlight when he is drivdefects are found, the policeman turns to the motorist himself, poring over his license and registration in an effort to find a technical reason to issue a ticket. The other day, for instance, we read of such a driver being given a summons for violating the optical restriction on Admittedly, stopping automobiles is a driving illegally - while under suspension, while intoxicated, and so on. Police, obylously, should have the authority to stop vehicles when there is a compelling reason to do so, as when a bank has been robbed, or when there is evidence that specific laws have been violated. But there is no need to stop automobiles indiscriminately. A separation of functions is needed We have long felt the need for blanket inspection of automobiles, not conducted at the side of the road by state or local police, but at garages or inspection stations authorized by the state. Official inspection of automobiles at the driver's convenience would eliminate th how well we did the year before, our objectives are essentially the same.

To make A&P a friendly courteous store for you.

To be fair and honest in our pricing and labeling. To sell only quality products we can fully guarantee.

To do everything possible to bring you the most good food for the least amount of money.

To prove we care about you. We think we did pretty well in '67.

We'll be trying even harder in '68. Here's a prediction:

When '68 comes to a close, we still won't be satisfied and we'll try harder in '69 and '79 and '89 and 1999. We don't think we can ever be good enough for you.
