U.S. Patient Is 'Quite Well'

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
AP Science Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — With the transplanted heart of a housewife sustaining him, Mike Kasperak is reported to be doing "quite well," fully conscious and responsive.

Kasperak, a 54-year-old former steelworker from nearby East Palo Alto, was dying of heart disease Saturday night when Dr. Norman E. Shumway's surgical team at Stanford University School of Medicine operated on him. The doctors cut out his heart and implanted the heart of Virginia White, a 43-year-old Santa Clara woman who died of a stroke two hours before.

By Sunday morning Kasperak was conscious and able to move. Though he couldn't talk because of a tube in his throat helping him to breathe, doctors said he recognized his family.

Shumway said his patient knew he had a donated heart beating in his chest. It was one-third the size of the enlarged one that had been discarded, but it was performing well, Shumway said.

Blood pressure, pulse and body temperature were in a reasonable range, Dr. Donald C. Harrison, a cardiologist, told a news conference at Stanford Medical Center Sunday afternoon. Harrison said the heart output — amount of blood pumped — was 5.3 liters per minute.

"almost normal for a man of Kasperak's size" when measured about 12 hours after the 4½-hour operation. The patient weighs 144 pounds. Mrs. White's weight was 120.

"His cardiogram looked quite good," Dr. Harrison said.

Dr. Shumway said Kasperak was expected to stay in the hospital many months for observation.

"This kind of followup is essential to the well being of the recipient," Dr. Shumway said. "We've reached first base perhaps, but the work is only beginning."

He stressed, "There is no way at this time to term the episode a success." But his and Harrison's elation were evident.

"The critical period lasts as long as the patient lives," Dr. Shumway said, explaining that the body could reject a foreign organ months or even years after it entered the body.

Kasperak is being given drugs to suppress the rejection mechanism. Chronic viral myocarditis, an infection that the steelworker contracted perhaps 10 years ago, had been arrested, the doctors explained. But his heart muscle continued to turn into fibrous tissue and enlarge.

He had suffered chronic heart failure

Cape Town Patient to Sit

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Grootu Schuur Hospital said in a medical bulletin today that Dr. Phillip Blaiberg, the world's third heart transplant patient, "is no longer in the oxygen tent and will be allowed to sit up in bed today with his feet on a chair."

The 58-year-old retired dentist neared what doctors consider to be the beginning of the critical postoperative period — seven days after surgery. However, the bulletin said there were no signs yet that Blaiberg's body was trying to reject the heart of Olive Haupt, 24, who died of a brain hemorrhage.

Haupt's heart was grafted into Blaiberg last Tuesday by Dr. Christian Barnard, who also performed the landmark heart transplant operation last month on Louis Washkansky. Washkansky died of pneumonia 18 days after the operation.

No infection is evident in any of Blaiberg's organs so far, the hospital said. His wife, Ellen, was to see him again today but to guard against infection she was expected to speak to him once more through a glass door.

Mrs. Blaiberg said of her first visit with her husband Sunday: "He was looking too wonderful for words. He joked all the time and was very talkative."

(See Page Three)

She added that he looked as healthy as he had five years ago, before his diseased heart began making him look sickly.

The dentist is now on an ordinary diet, but all his food is prepared on a special cooker and sterile utensils are used, the hospital said.

Barnard sent his congratulations to his classmate from the University of Minnesota, Dr. Norman S. Shumway, who performed the world's fourth heart transplant operation at Stanford University Saturday night.

In an interview with the National Broadcasting Corp. shown Saturday night in the United States, Barnard disclosed that arthritis in his hands may limit or even end his surgical career. He said the arthritis has been with him ever since his days as a student in America in the 1950s.

Although he takes drugs for the condition, he said, "my hands are still swollen." The painful condition is a stimulus to bear down on his surgery now, Barnard said, "because I don't know when I'll be completely stopped from doing surgery as a result of the arthritis."

In Johannesburg, meanwhile, good progress was reported in another pioneering surgical feat, the separation of Siamese twins at the forehead. The twins

LBJ, Eshkol Talk Peace

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol toured the placid LB J Ranch and talked of peace in the Middle East and the world Sunday.

With the Hebrew word "shalom"—peace—Johnson started things off.

"We will try to extend the peace that is in our hearts to all men who are willing to share our partnership of good faith and good purpose," the President said in an airport welcome for Eshkol at Randolph Air Force Base, some 60 miles south of the ranch.

The 72-year-old Israeli leader said peace was his "central concern," too. Eshkol noted that it was in his area of the world in ancient days that "men first expressed a striving for peace on earth."

"I will never give up hope that this will come to pass. We in our country are working toward this end," Eshkol declared.

And Johnson added his hope that "you find peace which all Americans are proud to seek with you."

Amid the emphasis on peace, the Israelis were expected to make a plea for U.S. arms, including 50 F4 phantom jet planes they say are needed to balance a Soviet buildup of arms to Arab nations.

The 22-hour overnight visit was informal and private, except for the arrival at Randolph, where about 1,000 persons turned out in 37 degree weather and winds gusting up to 23 miles an hour.

President and Mrs. Johnson and Premier and Mrs. Eshkol went by helicopter to the ranch where Johnson wasted no time getting his visitor out to see his acres along the Pedernales River.

He drove one station wagon for a tour amid the oak trees and the pastures where deer and white-faced Hereford graze. Mrs. Johnson, in another station wagon, drove the ladies to tea at the ranch house.

The two leaders posed for photographers and launched their talks in the small yellow and beige-decorated den of the white stone and frame ranch house.

A family dinner, featuring "supreme of pheasant" and rice, was served at two big round tables. Gifts were exchanged and Eshkol invited the

Mideast Fighting Reported

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli jet fighters screamed across the Jordan River today to silence Jordanian artillery which opened up on Israeli settlements in the tense Beisan Valley, an army spokesman announced here.

The planes were called into action after an artillery battle raged across the river for three hours, stopped for half an hour and erupted again when Jordanian artillery began pounding Kfar Ruppin and Hadz Hayyim in the valley, the spokesman added.

The shelling spread southward, he said. Israeli artillery opened up and the planes were called in.

The firing was still continuing.

Percy Believes Nixon Is Favorite of GOP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., says Richard M. Nixon is probably the favorite presidential prospect of Republican professionals but New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would attract more of the independent and Democratic votes needed for a White House drive.

Percy said Sunday Republican officials he knows and worked with Nixon and "for better or for worse, he has been a solid Republican."

But, Percy added, the GOP presidential nominee won't be able to win the White House just with Republican votes.

"I think it is the general consensus now, even among many professional Republicans, that Mr. Rockefeller, if he could hold together the Republican party, would probably have the best chance to attract independents and Democrats," Percy said.

"He has the greatest appeal to them today but that is not what might happen in August at the convention."

As for himself, Percy said again he doesn't plan to be a candidate other than as a favorite son from Illinois.

Percy appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., like Percy an opponent of the administration's Vietnam war policy, said some antiwar senators aren't endorsing his announced presidential candidacy because they expect him to lose.

"I don't think that's the kind of excuse that really stands up very well," he said.

McCarthy plans to enter several Democratic primaries against President Johnson but there have been indications he is unhappy because Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., hasn't expressed support for him.

McCarthy said he doesn't expect antiwar senators up for reelection to get involved in choosing between him and Johnson. But he added that so far as senators who have supported the position I take and who are not running, there is a little bit more of a burden upon them to take a stand. Kennedy is not up for reelection this year. He has opposed Johnson's war policy but also

Pope OKs Resignation Of Cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, the most powerful ultra-conservative in the Roman Catholic Church, has resigned from the central administration and Pope Paul VI has accepted the resignation, the Vatican announced today.

The Pope named Franjo Cardinal Seper of Yugoslavia, 62, to replace the 77-year-old Cardinal Ottaviani as secretary for the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, the former Holy Office and the most powerful single agency in the Vatican Curia, the church's central administration.

The Holy Office was a legacy of the Inquisition. Cardinal Ottaviani once described himself as a policeman who guarded traditional doctrine and theology.

The retirement of Cardinal Ottaviani and his replacement by a prelate from a Communist country that once imprisoned a Catholic cardinal marked a major turning point.

In dramatic fashion it signified the move of the half-billion-member church away from rigid conservatism toward new experiments in modernism and changing relations with Communist countries.

Now nearly blind, the cardinal resigned after years of conflict with liberal prelates pressing for modernization and reform in the church. Pope Paul reportedly wanted Cardinal Ottaviani to quit after he expressed his desire for all prelates over the age of 75 to offer their resignation, but it was said that the cardinal refused.

The cardinal and his super-secret Holy Office were chief targets of the progressives during the 1962-65 Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The advocates of change won many important victories. They succeeded in ending the index of forbidden books, in winning more open trial procedures for clerics called on the carpet for unorthodox writings, and in changing the name of the Holy Office.

But the fight continued behind the scenes with Cardinal Ottaviani fighting a rearguard action against changes he considered were undermining the church.

The severest blow came last Aug. 18 when the Pope announced a sweeping reorganization of the entire Curia designed

Three U.S. Civilians Killed

VC Seize Provincial Capital

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas seized a provincial capital 21 miles northwest of Saigon and 10 miles from Cambodia's border early today and held it for three hours, killing three American civilians.

The attack on Khem Cuong, capital of Hau Nghia Province, was the second raid by Communist troops on a government center close to Saigon in three days.

A government spokesman said about 700 guerrillas stormed Khem Cuong behind a barrage of several hundred mortar rounds and they "were in the streets."

The three Americans killed were members of the Agency of Civil Operations and Revolutionary Development Support — known asCORDS. Another 15 Americans were wounded. Most of those were reported to be civilians and the others military advisers to the local militia.

One officer said the 3 a.m. attack seemed chiefly aimed at the Americans' compound.

The Viet Cong pulled out at 5:30 a.m. and evaded three battalions of government troops converging on the village from their bivouac areas three to five miles away.

The guerrillas left behind 19 dead comrades and five live ones who were captured, the spokesman said. Two of the captives were wounded.

The spokesman said nine policemen were killed and 10 were wounded, at least four civilians were killed and 16 wounded, and the garrison of some 100 militiamen suffered moderate casualties, meaning they were hit hard. Ten houses also were destroyed.

The guerrillas succeeded in hanging a large Viet Cong flag on the wall of the military advisers' compound, but it was quickly shot away.

Crack, Gurgle

CAMBRIDGE, N. Y. (AP) — John Sherin of Greenwich, N. Y., said he thought the ice on Hedges Lake near this northeastern New York village was thick enough for a landing.

Sherin brought down his single-engine ski-equipped plane onto the ice, then climbed out and walked toward shore. He and his passenger looked back to see the plane sink slowly to its wing-mounts.

The accident happened Saturday and efforts to extricate the craft were unsuccessful because sub-zero temperatures froze the water around the plane.

Sniper Shots Hurt 2 Nuns; Girl, 20, Held

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A young girl who told police she bought a rifle from a downtown gun store Thursday remains in city jail today, charged in the sniper shootings of two Roman Catholic nuns.

One of the victims, Sister Richards, 24, said from her hospital bed Sunday: "It just seems like a dream I should wake up from any moment."

"All of a sudden I felt a stinging sensation. I know I yelled 'I'm hit' and that the firemen pulled me back. Bullets were still coming."

Police said they are still probing for motives in the shootings of Sister Richards and Sister Mary Leonard, 33, who were hit by rifle fire Saturday as they stepped outside their Dominican convent to mail a letter.

Sister Mary Leonard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Buriand of 41 Anthony Rd., New Haven, Conn.

Police arrested without struggle a former mental patient, Janet Marie Lazarus, 20. Detective Charles Phillips said the

Near Logan Airport

61 Injured in Boston Transit Crash

BOSTON (AP) — Sixty-one persons were injured, some seriously, today when one rapid transit train smashed into the rear of another in a tunnel near Logan International Airport. Both trains were jammed with Boston-bound commuters.

No Connecticut residents were among the injured, spokesmen for Massachusetts General and Boston City Hospital reported.

The crash occurred at the east end of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority tunnel under Boston Harbor connecting downtown with East Boston.

Police and firemen were joined by uninjured passengers and newsmen in carrying the injured on stretchers to ambulances waiting at the airport station.

Rescue efforts were hampered by near-zero cold and poor footing due to deep snow.

Forty-two were taken to Massachusetts General Hospital. The only one held for treatment was Harry Pearlman, 67, of Marblehead. He suffered injuries to both knees.

At Boston City Hospital, 19 were treated.

Massachusetts General Hospital said at least 15 were under treatment there. At City Hospital a spokesman said 13 had been admitted.

Some 1,200 passengers, with many standing, were aboard the two four-car trains as the collision occurred.

Many were knocked to the floor by the impact and others toppled on them.

Power was shut off quickly after the accident to prevent any injury to passengers who walked out of the tunnel about 100 yards to daylight.

Leo J. Cusick, MBTA general manager, said the first train had stopped in the tunnel, waiting for the train ahead of it to move from Maverick Station, the next stop.

He said the second train was unable to stop and crashed into the rear of the stopped train.

Cusick said the cold temperature and snow conditions were the principal cause of the accident. However, he said a thorough investigation was to be made.

Miss Jennie Cohen of Revere, a bookkeeper, was not injured and said the car she was in "stopped, started, then stopped and started again. The driver seemed to be blowing his horn as a warning . . . then suddenly we stopped again as though we were hitting something."

Two other women, Charlene Campo, 19, and Rena Piccini, 18, both of Revere, gave the same version as Miss Cohen.

Cusick said the operator of the second train "did all he could to stop" his train. The manager said all signals were functioning but the cold and snow made it impossible for the train brakes to grab when they were applied.

Cusick said the second train was skidding along the tracks at about five or six miles per hour when the accident occurred.

He said four pregnant women were among the passengers but was not certain if they were among the injured.

The accident occurred at the height of the commuter rush hour.

Another passenger, Nancy Yakuvian, 21, of Chelsea, said "We were stalled nearly 20 minutes between the Airport and Maverick stations. I heard three

Ohio Train Derails, Hurtles into House

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A freight train derailed in sub-zero weather sent an empty boxcar hurtling into a house early today, killing an off-duty railroad man and injuring his wife and three children.

Their house in the community of Snyderville, six miles west of here, was destroyed in a fire following the crash in 12-below zero weather.

Jason Williams, 47, was killed.

His wife, Frances, 40, was reported in poor condition at a Springfield hospital.

Their children, Brenda Hicks, 17; Karen Hicks, 10, and Kenneth Williams, 9, were treated at the hospital and released.

The wreck blocked a rural road leading through Snyderville and isolated eight families on one side of the track from the other 41 families in the community.

The operator of the other car, 17-year-old Diane Babcock of New Canaan was also in fair condition. A teenage boy riding with her was reported in good condition.

A one-car crash Friday night on Route 80 in Essex resulted in injuries that were fatal to a 28-year-old Guilford man. David Rogers died early Saturday in a Hartford hospital.

Michael McNamara, 41, of Haddam lost his life Saturday in a Middletown and struck a tree.

This is a new course offered by Mrs. Lavinia Brooks, director of the MHS reading center. Individualized instruction and programmed materials are used. Students progress at their own rate and develop reading fluency, speed and comprehension for varied levels of subject matter.

Additional information about available courses may be obtained from the evening school office. Despite poor weather during the registration periods, 200-300 students are expected to enroll in the winter term classes with instruction by about 200 students.

Tolland Committee on Middle School Asks $50,000 for 1st Plans

The Middle School Building Committee will soon report its progress to date and ask the town for about $50,000 to enable it to proceed with the preparation of preliminary plans for the already authorized 1,100-pupil middle school.

The committee agreed at its meeting last week to request the town meeting this month. The $50,000 would be borrowed in anticipation of the sale of bonds for the new school and is a normal procedure.

The committee has still not received the drainage test reports from the State Board of Health for the two suggested areas in the Educational Park.

The architectural firm of Russell, Gibson and Von Dohlen, however, told the committee the drainage conditions at the favored location on the corner of Old Post Rd. and the driveway to Meadowbrook School is very acceptable. The site is a head-on collision Run-ay afternoon near his home on Hye Street in East Windsor.

School Board to Hear Report

The Board of Education, which has not convened since Dec. 18, faces a lengthy agenda for its first meeting of the new year tonight at 8 in the board room at Bennett Junior High School. It is expected that a major portion of the session will be devoted to a report from the personnel-invoice committee on the status of salary-contract negotiations with the teachers.

Several closed bargaining sessions between the committee and teacher representatives have been held during the past two weeks since the board reversal of a long-standing policy favoring open negotiations.

The reversal was taken without an official vote; therefore, board members will be asked tonight to formally adopt a policy for closed sessions.

Spokesmen for both sides in the negotiations were to have issued joint reports of progress made in the closed talks, but little information has been forthcoming—indicating a probable lack of agreement on major items.

Teachers' salary requests for next year have not been made public to date. Salaries comprise about 87 per cent of the total Board of Education budget.

The schools are operating this year on a budget of $6,200,000. The board will also face a decision whether to hear the third teacher grievance to be submitted this year.

According to School Superintendent William Curtis, five teachers at Keeney St. School filed a request for a board hearing after he rejected their grievance at Level II.

Curtis said the teachers, who have not been identified, want a board ruling on their request to be released from classroom assignments when special teaching (art, music, physical education) is working with their classes.

The teachers are said to feel they could use such periods more effectively for planning other classroom activities.

In other business, the board is expected to discuss faculty recent consensus to balance the budget.

Cars Greatest Casualties

Area Temperatures Plunge

Some automobiles steamed right along this morning with no trouble, but others, like the one at right, needed a little boost. Russell Hathaway of Bourne Buick was just one of the many service station men swamped with calls for help. (Herald photos by Bucevich and Pinto)

Manuel Service Station calls were being taken by the book-keeper, who said that the station's service trucks haven't stopped rolling since dawn. Most of the calls there were for starting cars. Service was backed up about two hours there.

Don Wulfs of Don Wills Garage said that he closed up at 9 last night and that, when he returned for work at 6 this morning, he heard the phone ringing even before he had the door open.

He said that he was four hours behind on towing and a couple of hours behind on battery-trouble calls.

Wulfs said that he has seen it worse but that he couldn't remember when.

Fuel dealers too had their trucks out in full force delivering oil today and their service trucks were busy answering calls for furnace and burner troubles.

The continuous running of furnaces put a crimp in time-deliveries and many homeowners ran out of fuel oil.

Plumbing and heating contractors in the Manchester area were kept hopping, trying to keep up with emergency calls.

Blaze Kills 13 Persons in Brooklyn

NEW YORK (AP)—Flames raced through a Brooklyn tenement in the pre-dawn hours today, forcing scores of persons to flee in below-zero cold and leaving 13 dead. All but one member of two families perished.

Dead in the city's worst fire since 46 died aboard an aircraft carrier in 1960 were Mrs. Modesta Diaz and her five children, aged 3 months to 9 years; Francisco and Juanita Mojica and their four children, aged 4 to 9 years, and 58-year-old Victoria Moreno, the grandmother of the Mojica children.

Francisco Diaz, 29, the only surviving member of his family, was watching television with his children when he saw smoke flowing under the door of his second-floor apartment. In minutes the building was engulfed in flames, he said.

Firemen snuffed the five-alarm fire in 4½ hours before getting it under control. Flames were fueled by paper cartons on the first floor of the five-story building.

In late morning, firemen continued to sift through the wreckage of the apartment, but many thought no more bodies would be found.

When he saw the smoke, Diaz said, he ran upstairs to the top floor to get his children.

Doctors said he was suffering from a severe pre-existing liver disease.

His condition became critical Monday when he began to bleed from the stomach and intestines. Blood transfusions and other measures appeared to have stopped the bleeding, which his doctors attributed to a severe pre-existing liver disease.

VC Pounce on Platoon, Landed in Enemy Area

HAIGON (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas pounced on a platoon of about 40 U.S. infantrymen as they landed by chance Monday in a Communist bivouac area, triggering a 10-hour battle 19 miles south of Saigon.

In the third big clash within 25 miles of Saigon since Saturday, 17 Americans and at least 27 guerrillas were killed and 27 Americans wounded, the U.S. Command said. American commanders had not known it was the bivouac area of an estimated 400 guerrillas.

The American platoon suffered heavy casualties but managed to hold on until a company of reinforcements arrived by helicopter and laid down heavy fire as the enemy massed for an all-out assault.

Helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers swarmed overhead to help the small band of Americans. At 2:45 p.m., a company of troop-carrying choppers deflected the guerrilla guns and swept in with a company of reinforced men.

The 9th Division command moved two more companies in at dusk and by midnight units of all three battalions of the division's 3rd Brigade were maneuvering through the marshes and rice paddies.

The guerrillas fought until 11:40 p.m., the U.S. Command said, then faded away through the canals and paddies.

Brig. Gen. William R. Desobry worked for 2½ years as a senior American adviser in the Mekong Delta today and said the Viet Cong there are "going down steadily. Pacification has taken hold. There has been significant success."
