

Congress Greet Johnson Budget With Cut Demands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, skeptical about increasing spending while the Vietnam war goes on, greeted President Johnson's $168.1 billion budget today with a bipartisan chorus of demands for cutbacks at home.

ment that the proposed 10 per cent income surtax was made necessary by war costs did not generate any immediate new support for raising taxes—at least until some efforts are made to reduce expenditures.

One Reported Shot

7 Taken Hostage In Denver Holdup

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Seven hostages were taken and one was reported shot during a sometimes frantic, sometimes leisurely chase that followed an abortive supermarket holdup in northeast Denver this morning.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said, "If the gold imbalance is as bad as the President said it is on New Year's day, we're going to have to do some pretty extensive cutting."

As for the proposed tax increase, Dirksen said, "We're not even going to talk about that until we cut spending."

Johnson put what he called "selective increases" into the budget for spending on manpower training, model cities, crime control, family planning and health care for mothers and infants, air and water pollution and for educational research.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said he will vote for a tax increase of at least $7 billion—the President asked $10.2 billion—but he urged Johnson to consider raising half the amount by reimposing some luxury taxes.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a colleague of Monroney's on the Senate Appropriations Committee, said "Congress will certainly want to make substantial reductions in the nonmilitary portions of this budget before it will give serious consideration to passing the tax bill the President is relying on to avoid an astronomical deficit."

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee, said Congress will undoubtedly make cuts in the budget. "We have no alternative," he said.

But unlike last year, when he refused to support Johnson's request for a tax increase, he said he is now "committed completely" to the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

"We have to move on both fronts," he said, "increasing revenues and decreasing spending. We can't wait any longer."

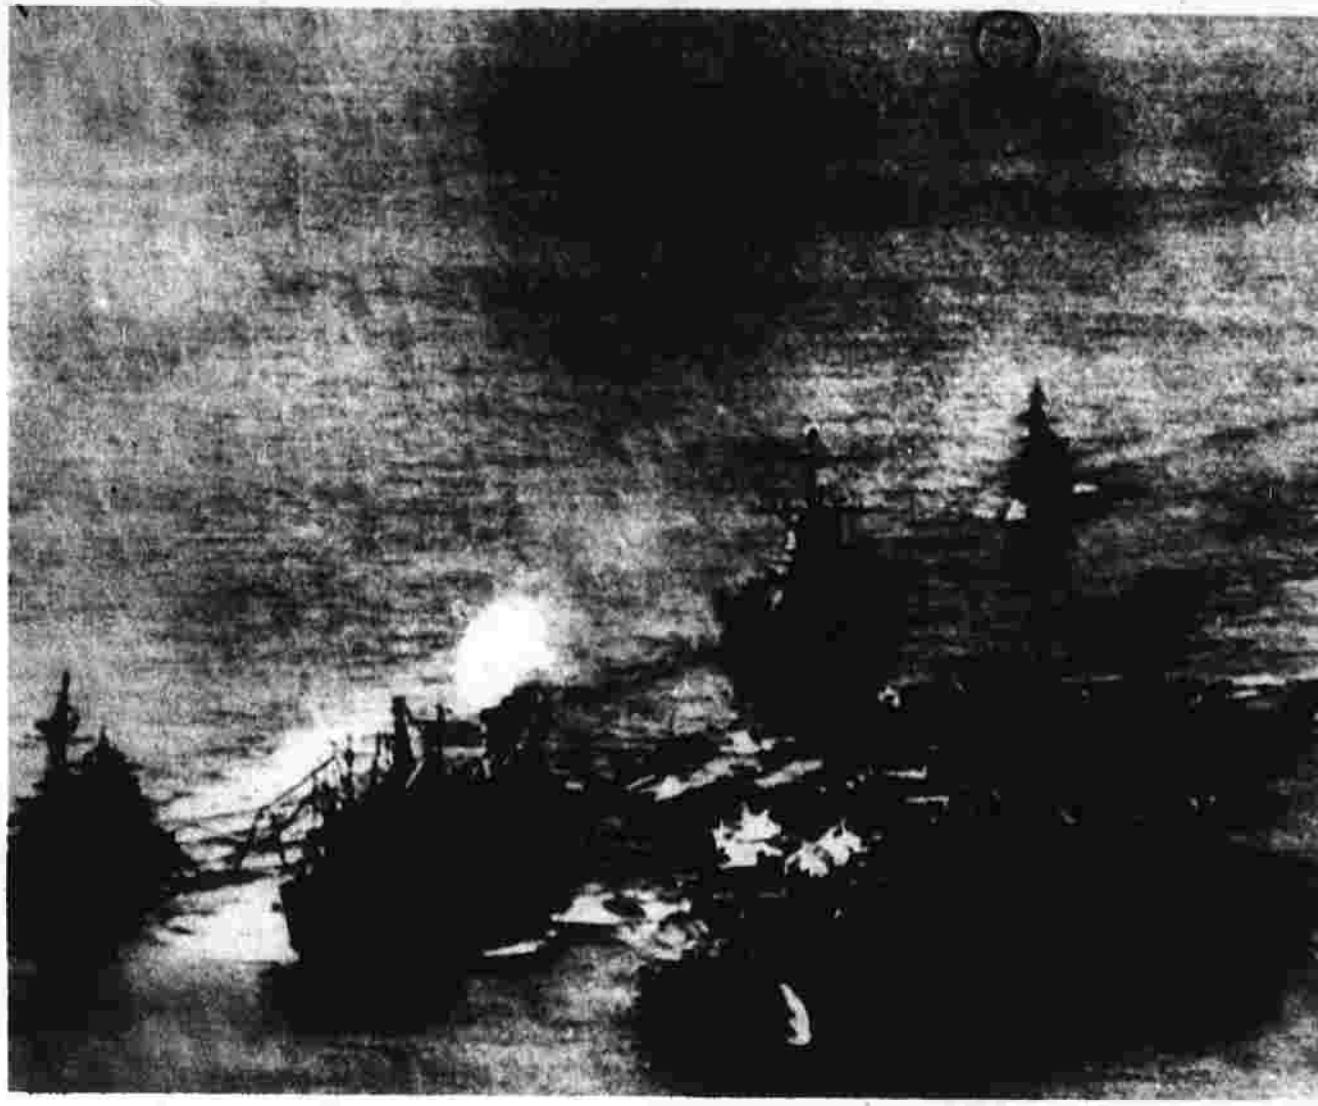

The totals, already disclosed, are high—partly because of a $10.4 billion rise in spending blamed on Vietnam, and partly because of a new-style "unified" budget format which includes outlays of the government-held trust and insurance funds.

But the fiscal 1969 spending increase is smaller than this year's rise, and the predicted billion deficit—conditioned on the tax hike—compares with the $19.8 billion "peacetime" record deficit of this year.

The improved fiscal outlook depends largely on enactment of the $10.2 billion tax surcharge, which the House Ways and Means Committee shelved last week for the third time.

The committee said in effect it wants to study the new budget and decide whether the administration is doing its own share to reduce outlays, cut the deficit and resist inflation.

U.S. Again Repels Koreans, Pueblo Diplomacy Goes On

Circled dot is said to be one of two Russian ships following USS Enterprise in Sea of Japan

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U.S. troops drove back North Korean infiltrators along the Korean armistice line again early today as the diplomatic drive to avert war over North Korea's seizure of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo focused on the United Nations.

Shooting occurred along the demilitarized zone or the eighth straight day of shooting. And with the North Koreans giving no ground in the crisis over the Pueblo, the Pentagon said it was strengthening U.S. air power in the Far East with an unspecified number of planes.

A spokesman in Washington brushed aside questions on the type of aircraft and units involved, saying only that their deployment was one of a series of "precautionary measures" taken since North Korea captured the Pueblo and her 83-man crew last Monday.

The Navy froze most requests for discharge from members of Naval Reserve units. This followed President Johnson's call-up of 14,000 Air Reservists Thursday.

South Korea was also increasing its preparedness, announcing that "quick reaction" army units would be stationed along routes frequently used by Red infiltrators from the North. Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun reported at the same time that U.S. authorities have advanced by a month, to the end of February, the completion of delivery of $23 million worth of special counterespionage weapons and equipment.

U.S. officials at the Pentagon refused to comment on reports that the carrier Yorktown had joined the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise off North Korea. The Japanese newspaper Asahi reported that a Soviet destroyer equipped with missiles and another ship were shadowing the Enterprise, while another Soviet destroyer was anchored in the Tsushima Strait between Japan and South Korea.

A U.S. military spokesman said four more North Korean groups failed in attempts to sneak into the South through the 18-mile stretch of frontier guarded by the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division. He said there were no American casualties, and Communists casualties were not known.

At the United Nations, a well placed diplomatic source suggested that while the council might take no specific action on the crisis, its debate and private consultations could lead to a contacts elsewhere and a peaceful settlement.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov met Sunday for the first time since the

Firearm, Gambler Decisions Made

Rulings by U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 7-1 today that the forced registration of gamblers with the federal government violates the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination.

The decision bars prosecution of gamblers who refuse to register on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

Similarly, it bars prosecution of gamblers who refuse to pay a special yearly tax of $50 and to pay 10 per cent excise on wagers received by them.

The "hazards of incrimination" that go with the federal gambling requirements "are not trifling or imaginary," Justice John M. Harlan said.

He said gamblers can expect that registration and payment of tax "will significantly enhance the likelihood of their prosecution for future acts, and that it will readily provide evidence which will facilitate their convictions."

Chief Justice Earl Warren dissented, saying that only by requiring gamblers to "come forward under pain of criminal sanctions and reveal the nature and scope of their activities can Congress confidently expect that revenue derived from that outlawed occupation will be subject to the legitimate reach of the tax laws."

Justice Thurgood Marshall did not take part in the case, presumably because he is a former Justice Department official.

Harlan's decision for the court conflicted with Warren's dissent in a significant way.

Speaking of the registration laws Harlan wrote: "We emphasize that we do not hold that the wagering tax provisions are as such constitutionally impermissible; we hold only that those who properly assert the constitutional privilege as to these provisions may not be criminally punished for failure to comply with their requirements."

However, Warren began his dissent by saying the court had struck down the "statutory scheme." And he said, "by its sweeping declaration that the congressional scheme for enforcing and collecting the taxes imposed on wagers and gamblers is unconstitutional, the court has stripped from Congress the power to make its taxing scheme effective."

Opponents of the gambling registration requirements had argued that they basically violate the privilege against self-incrimination because gamblers have to supply the government with information that is then turned over to federal and state prosecutors.

The majority agreed wholeheartedly. Harlan noted that all states except Nevada have broad prohibitions against gam-

Free on $1,000 Bail Each

Dr. Spock, 4 Others Give Innocent Pleas

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men indicted on charges of counseling young men to avoid the draft all pleaded innocent when arraigned today in U.S. District Court.

All five were released in $1,000 bail each. Under indictment with the 64-year-old pediatrician are the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., 45, chaplain at Yale University; Michael Farber, 23, of Boston, a Harvard University graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author of New York City and Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 33, of Washington, D.C., co-director of the Institute for Policy Studies.

Judge Francis J. W. Ford allowed the defense 30 days to file special motions, and gave the prosecution 20 days after that to file replies.

The defense had asked for 60 days and the prosecution 30 days, but Judge Ford said he thought the case should be tried by spring.

"If I allow all this time for these so-called motions, this case will spring right into summer," he said.

Ford said he would set a trial date after considering motions of both sides.

All five defendants stood for the 10-minute session in a 12th floor courtroom of the Boston federal building.

Only relatives of the defendants and newsmen were allowed into the courtroom. About 50 young men and women waited in the corridor.

Outside the building in Post Office Square a group of about 150 demonstrated peacefully in support of the defendants.

The defendants all wore suits, but Spock, accompanied by his wife, appeared especially sport-

Hunt Goes On For Missing 2 Submarines

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The sea and air search for the missing Israeli submarine Dakar was increased today after an Israeli ship intercepted signals that could have come from one of the sub's radio indicator buoys.

At the other end of the Mediterranean, more than 800 miles away, another rescue task force made underwater soundings as it groped for the French submarine Minerve, which disappeared early Saturday. A total of 121 men are aboard the missing vessels.

About 30 ships and aircraft scoured an area between Cyprus and Haifa trying to locate the Dakar's indicator buoys, which should have risen to the surface automatically if the submarine was in distress. They quickly pressed their search after the Israeli ship Yaffa said it had monitored signals on the same frequency as buoys.

The submarine, carrying a 69-man crew, vanished Thursday about 120 miles off Cyprus and Israeli officials had said earlier there seemed little hope for her safe return.

The search for the Minerve was concentrated off Toulon,

Allies Call Off Viet Truce

SAIGON (AP) — The allies called off the Tet truce in South Vietnam's northern military sector tonight because of a build-up of a massive North Vietnamese invasion force ready to spring after the ceasefire. The 36-hour standoff began elsewhere in the country, marking the Vietnamese lunar new year.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officials reported the enemy had four or five divisions—40,000 to 50,000 men—along the demilitarized zone and just over the border in Laos. The force included a new enemy unit, the 320th Division, the officials said.

"The threat is serious up there," a senior U.S. spokesman asserted. "It is not militarily logical to let the enemy have 36 hours of resupply and movement while we sit there and get hit. Why should we give the enemy 36 hours time to get into position when they've got three to four divisions there ready to whack us?"

Another senior U.S. officer said: "There are three divisions in the Khe Sanh area, and possibly a fourth. It is something I would label an invasion. It is no longer just infiltration."

Khe Sanh is in the jungled hills of northwest South Vietnam. The U.S. Marines are dug in there in a combat base just below the demilitarized zone.

The truce cancellation announcement also said U.S. air raids would continue during the truce period in North Vietnam's southern panhandle for a distance running about 125 miles north of the demilitarized zone to Vinh on the northern coast.

The U.S. Command has rushed nearly 10,000 Army troops to the five northern provinces—called the 1st Corps area—to back up the Marines spread

End Urged To Strike On Copper

NEW YORK (AP)—Western miners and their families are asking out a harsh existence on union benefits, food stamps and credit as efforts to settle the six-month-old copper industry strike are being intensified.

The strike, called last July 15 by the United Steelworkers of America and 25 other unions, has idled nearly 60,000 workers and cut off more than 90 per cent of the nation's copper production and 35 per cent of the lead and zinc output.

The impact has been heavy, too, on businesses and governments of the big copper producing states—Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Montana and Nevada.

"Food stamps have saved the day," said Mayor Tom Powers of Butte, Mont. "If it wasn't for the stamps, I'd have been dead along with a lot of other small grocers."

The impact has been hardest in small towns of the West, where copper is their only industry. But it has been felt in some Eastern areas, where copper fabricating is concentrated.

"You know a mar is hurting when he comes in and spends his collection of silver dollars on food," said a supermarket manager in Perth Amboy, N.J., where 3,700 refinery workers are on strike.

In nearby Carteret, N.J.,

An Encouraging Society

The sobriety and restraint with which the Johnson administration has tried to govern its conduct with regard to the Pueblo incident is encouraging evidence that, whatever has gone before, the White House has finally come to the realization that there are limits to American power and limits to American privilege.

There were readers of history and students of power politics who could read, from the start of our decision just three years ago to take the war in Vietnam across the border, that we had chosen a dead end road of escalation which could not fall, in the end, to provoke wider response and wider wrath.

But the philosophy of the White House, through these past three years, has been that we could be privileged to do unto others things they could do unto us. Our escalations were virtues; their intolerable vices; our bombs strategic; theirs terrorist; our advances were self-defense; their self-defense aggression.

And we were so fascinated and persuaded by such one-way moral judgments and values that we couldn't be bothered calculating that, in the rough and almost invisible, among the powers and politics, the relationship between pressures and responses has something of the inevitability of a law of physics rather than the free decision of rational and reasoning intelligences.

The Johnson administration, in the past few days, has been having itself a good hard, close up look at the potential ultimate consequences of its once almost casual plunge into the power politics of Vietnam. And the White House, at last, has gone sober. Perhaps it has even begun to realize that the way it has been trying to run the world in the past few years is a terrible, impossible way for twentieth century men and nations to behave, and that, whatever the excuse and justification offered by the civilized conduct of others, it has to be up to somebody, sometime, to try to reach for some law not only higher than that of the jungle, but higher than that of the vigilante.

Perhaps, if we can all get out of this one alive, we will have a White House which will have learned more about responsible world citizenship.

The Pacification Statistics

The latest statistics on the pacification side of the war in Vietnam—sometimes called the vitally important side where it is really being determined whether we are winning anything or not—are discouraging.

By the annual report of Robert W. Komer, the new pacification chief in South Vietnam, the improvement in the pacification situation during the past year has been relatively slight, even though this has quite obviously been the year of heaviest American military operations.

One of the statistics Komer reported was that 67 percent of the South Vietnamese people, or 11,500,000 of its 17,500,000 million population now live in areas which are classified as "secure or reasonably secure areas."

The next statistic is that this, the figure for 1967, represents an increase of 1,300,000 people over the comparable figure for 1966.

This, at first glance, seems more significant than it proves when the next statistic is encountered.

The next statistic says that this figure of 1,300,000 includes about 440,000 people who were evacuated from their own villages by American troops and moved into government resettlement compounds, and includes, as well, more indefinite numbers of people who have come into cities such as Saigon and Da Nang to get out of the way of the war in the countryside.

The net degree of improvement left by our pacification chief's own statistics, then, is so slight as to justify the non-statistical judgments repeatedly rendered by journalists in recent weeks—that 1967 proved to be one more year in which the pacification program failed to make the kind of progress which could tell us we were winning the basic part of the struggle in Vietnam. To the contrary, it is possible that the way we have achieved some of the statistics we do report—the evacuation by force of natives out of their own homes into areas we classify as "secure"—cannot really be classified as pacification in what it does to the minds and hearts and memories of the people involved. It may put them in areas we consider military secure. It does not necessarily put them in sympathy with what we are trying to accomplish in their country.

A Civilization Short Of Breath

Every year, when the good members and guests of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in convention assemble, we may expect to hear of wonders and worries of considerable magnitude.

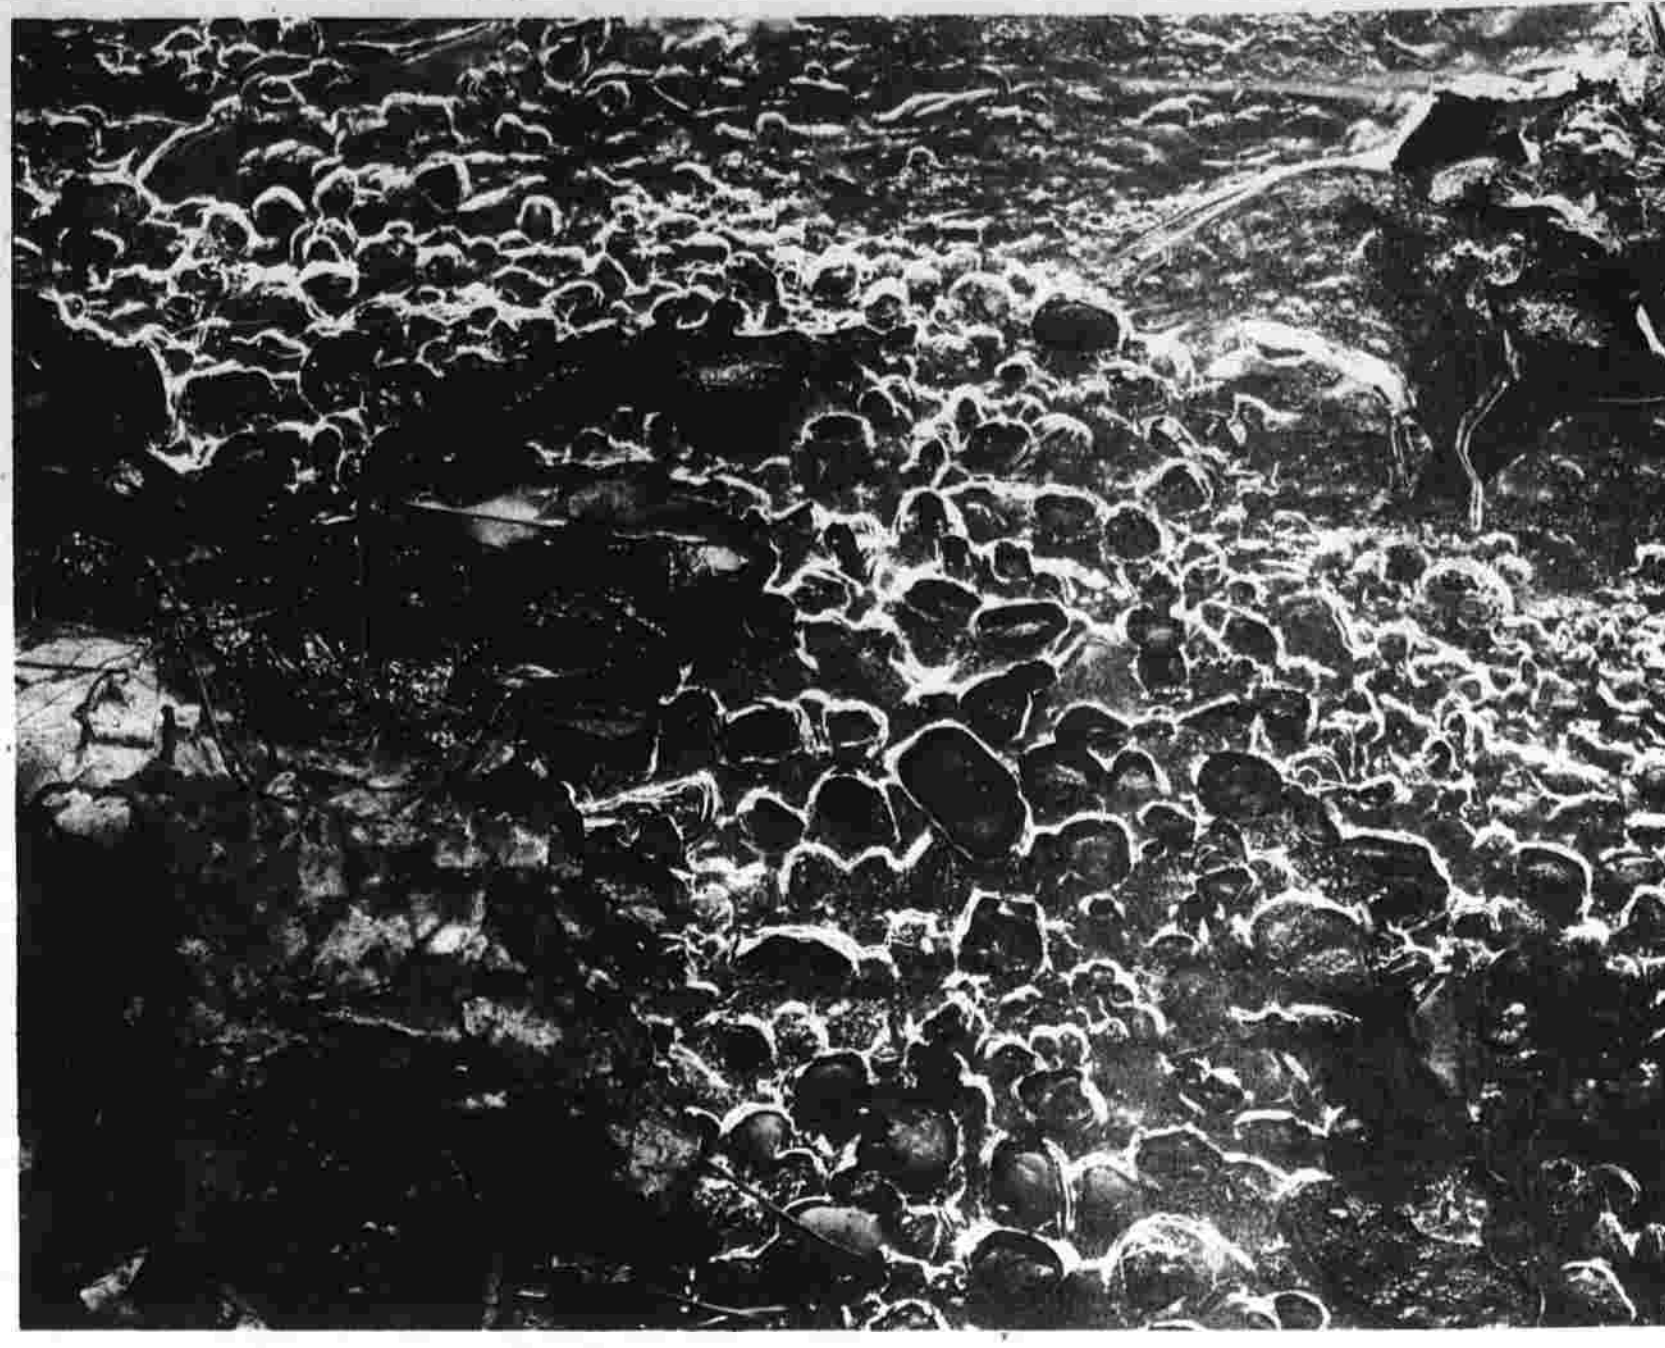

Sometimes, within the limited time of a single lifetime, neither the wonders nor the worries come true. But both seem quite enjoyable, in the context of their first appearance on the scene, and we have found ourselves developing a certain special affection for the prognostications of doom. They, it seems to us, require an ingenuity even more complicated than that which has to go into the preparation of all the positive scientific wonders which are to come. And there is something quite fitting, after all, in an odd sort of way, in having a meeting for the "Advancement of Science" devote so much of its time and brain power to what seems to be the story of the retreat of civilization.

We found particular pleasure, of a gnomish sort, in combining two of the directors of the recent New York meeting.

One expert, Dr. LaMont C. Cole of Columbia University, raised the specter of the day when we would be running out of oxygen because we would have destroyed too much of the green which works creatively through photosynthesis, to produce the oxygen needed for our universe, needed for us if we are to continue to be able to draw breath.

About the most catastrophic possibility Dr. Cole could cite was that of taking the great rain forests of the Amazon Valley and bulldozing and napping them into sites for habitation and industry. This, he seemed to think, would be the kind of progress for civilization which would amount to suicide.

Another scientist at the same gathering, Dr. Barry Commoner of Washington University in St. Louis, threw out his warning from a different angle. He also outlined a threat to our ability to draw breath. But his threat came not from the loss of the rain forests, but from the use of inorganic fertilizers which get into the human system they get converted into nitrate, and nitrate reduces the blood's ability to carry oxygen from the lungs to the body tissues, leading to respiratory failure. Nitrates are also present in our food, through the use of inorganic fertilizers which work their way into the food and when they get into the human system they get converted into nitrate, and nitrate reduces the blood's ability to carry oxygen from the lungs to the body tissues, leading to respiratory failure. Nitrates are also present in our food, through the use of inorganic fertilizers which work their way into the food and when they get into the human system they get converted into nitrate, and nitrate reduces the blood's ability to carry oxygen from the lungs to the body tissues, leading to respiratory failure.

WASHINGTON—If the dangerous chain of events started by the capture of a U.S. Navy spy ship, Pueblo, should lead to outright attack by North Korea across the 38th parallel, responsible U.S. commanders would recommend the use of tactical nuclear weapons by U.S. forces in the south.

Nobody here can know whether the chain of events will in fact over lead that far. Nevertheless, the mere fact that low-yield tactical nuclear weapons are now being privately discussed, rather than massive ground forces, shows how essential the blood's ability to carry oxygen from the lungs to the body tissues, leading to respiratory failure. Nitrates are also present in our food, through the use of inorganic fertilizers which work their way into the food and when they get into the human system they get converted into nitrate, and nitrate reduces the blood's ability to carry oxygen from the lungs to the body tissues, leading to respiratory failure.

A Power Beyond

"And after he had dismissed the crowds, he went up into the hills by himself to pray." Matthew 15:23.

In the rush and hurry of life today we need to take time for serious contact with a power beyond ourselves which we call God. And we ought not only to spend a brief period of prayer in the morning.

Dr. Frank Laubach in his little book "The Game With Minutes" tells how he offers brief prayers at various moments through out the day, not only for himself but chiefly for those he meets during the course of the day.

If prayer meant so much to Jesus and to Dr. Laubach, then surely it ought to be a part of our life. Let us then turn to God in deep humility for his love and goodness to us, and in prayerful petition for those about us who are our brothers.

Inside Report

Thus, President Johnson's agonizing predicament on how to recover the Pueblo comes into clearer perspective. U.S. ultimatum demanding the return of the Pueblo and its crew requires hard action to enforce the ultimatum in the event of a rejection. That, in turn, would surely be followed by North Korean counteraction, setting up an escalation pattern of dangerous proportion.

That is why the political pressure here early this week was so muted, with none of the usual demands for retribution and revenge. The consequences are far too serious.

This absence of bloodthirsty political demands from Capitol Hill gave Mr. Johnson the time he needed for maneuver, but scarcely removed his ultimate dilemma. If the outrageous seizure of a U.S. ship on the high seas, clearly in international waters, is not allowed for, there will be no limit to the audacity of the North Koreans. But the attempt at atonement could lead into the nuclear shadow.

Top Earning Reported by Diet Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Illinois doctor specializing in treatment of overweight patients has told a Senate committee that he and seven assistants grossed about $1 million in one year.

A California doctor estimated his gross income at about $200,000 a year in other testimony Friday at a Senate antitrust subcommittee hearing on the diet pill industry.

Dr. Louis L. Rubel of Decatur, Ill., said he and his assistants handled 85,000 patient visits in 1966. Rubel said his income tax was more than $50,000, but he did not say how much his income was.

He testified his income included $100,000 a month in commissions from a diet pill company. Dr. Orville J. Davis of San Diego, Calif., said the senators he handled 11,727 office visits last year and estimated his gross income $225,000. His net income after taxes was $92,000.

Davis testified he charged $40 for the patient's initial visit, including $25 for laboratory tests, and $15 for subsequent visits, spending about 5 to 10 minutes with each patient.

Dr. Robert Chambers of Northport, N.Y., urged federal action to curb diet pill makers in their relations with doctors using their products. He also called for legislation to control "such commercialization" as he said had been outlined in the other testimony.

Chambers testified he attended a symposium on obesity in New York two years ago sponsored by the Lanpar Co. of Dallas, Tex., a diet-pill manufacturer.

Chambers said he was appalled when it was stated at the symposium "that we should be making at least $100,000 a year from the Lanpar diet program."

Rubel testified Lanpar pays him a commission on sales to doctors. Davis said the same company pays him $500 and expects for lectures he gives at Lanpar-sponsored symposia.

Dr. Harry Meesebaum of Miami Beach, Fla., said he uses his kitchen to make weight-loss diet pills. He said others who want to lose weight.

Needleman has been summoned to meet with Food and Drug officials, his attorney, L. J. Cushman, told the subcommittee.

"Shocking"
To the Editor:
After reading Mr. Norman Whitney's open forum letter every Manchester resident and voter must be aroused over the latest facts revealed about Hartford's role in Project Concern.

Dr. Orville J. Davis of San Diego, Calif., said the senators he handled 11,727 office visits last year and estimated his gross income $225,000. His net income after taxes was $92,000.

Ban Backyard Incinerators

To the Editor,
I was quite dismayed to read of the lack of action on anti-burning ordinances by the Board of Directors at their last meeting.

According to Town Counsel John Shea Jr., who prepared the drafts, the Board must provide better fire pick-up service before passing an ordinance to ban backyard incinerators.

What about burning trash? There are still many down town residents who consistently burn only trash, but garbage, certainly, Manchester has adequate trash and garbage collection service to enforce a ban on backyard incinerators.

The Capitol Region Planning Agency was recently warned that our area faces a most serious threat by air pollution and that the air along the Connecticut River may be unbreathable by the year 2000.

According to the report by Travellers Research Corporation, home refuse burning contributes 19 per cent of the particulate matter in the air.

Isn't this reason enough to pass a workable ordinance banning backyard incinerators? Leaf-burning is a problem only in the fall, but trash burning is an offensive, unhygienic and unnecessary practice that should be banned.

I urge Mr. Shea to work a little harder on an enforceable ordinance to help make Manchester's air a little cleaner and safer to breathe.

Very truly yours,
Winifred H. Wilson

U.S.-Korean Compromise May Be Answer to Pueblo

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Admin. Smith replied that Pak's statements were "wild" but that it was not the U.S. that was in the wrong. And, since the United States has been concerned about world opinion before it takes any forceful action in Korea, it has been reluctant to take any such action.

In the six days since the North Koreans captured the USS Pueblo, an electronic spy ship, and forced it into Wonsan Harbor with 83 men aboard, the mood in this country seems to have cooled a bit, too.

President Johnson led the cooling, ignoring some of the hawk cries in Congress, he set about trying to get the ship back in a peaceful way, first by appealing to the Russians to intercede, then to the United Nations.

If the cooling keeps on, but the peaceful efforts fail, this country may find it embarrassing to take military action at all without some fresh Korean provocation that arouses American anger all over again.

The possible products of military action would, by themselves, be enough to make Johnson hesitate before trying it. But another factor may be the cloudy condition of the whole episode.

In the first place, there is the unresolved dispute between the United States and North Korea, where the Pueblo was when it was captured.

This country insists it was in international waters, more than 12 miles off the Korean coast. The North Koreans insist it was spying within Korean territorial waters. There is not much doubt the electronic ship was spying, in or out of Korean waters, and that that was its mission.

On Jan. 24, the day after the Pueblo's capture, the North Korean delegate to the military armistice commission in Panmunjom, Korea, Maj. Gen. Chong Kook, told the U.S. delegate, Rear Adm. John V. Smith: "On Jan. 20 he had complained to the Americans that the United States had sent a 'number of armed spy boats' into North Korean waters, along with a group of South Korean fishing boats which were used as a shield.

Despite his complaint on Jan. 20, Pak said, the United States did the same thing on Jan. 21, Jan. 22, Jan. 23 (when the Pueblo was taken) and even the next day, Jan. 24.

Admin. Smith replied that Pak's statements were "wild" but that it was not the U.S. that was in the wrong. And, since the United States has been concerned about world opinion before it takes any forceful action in Korea, it has been reluctant to take any such action.

When he made his accusations on Jan. 24, Pak told the United States all it has to do is admit "military provocation" (with some hesitation before trying it, but sure North Korea "you will not commit such criminal acts."

Judging from the way American emotion has cooled down, the dispute that will be inevitable if the United Nations gets involved, the answer to all this may be some form of American-Korean compromise.

Town Notified Of Injury Suit

Royal A. Isahm Sr. of 156 S. Main St. has notified the Town of Manchester that he will seek damages for alleged injuries and loss of income resulting from a Dec. 29, 1967 sidewalk fall.

Isahm, in an injury notice filed for him in the town clerk's office by Manchester Atty. John J. O'Connor, claims that he fell on an icy sidewalk at Main and Russell Sts.

He states that he sustained a broken tendon and broken blood vessel in his left leg.

Inhaling Balloon Kills Boy, 10, Of New Britain

NEW BRITAIN (AP)—A 10-year-old boy suffocated Sunday after inhaling a small balloon while riding his sled in Washington Park.

Police said Victor Cyrus Jr. had been sledging down a hill with a small yellow balloon in his mouth. They said he was seen rolling from his sled, gasping for air.

A bystander gave the boy mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, but the efforts to revive him failed. He was pronounced dead at New Britain General Hospital.

A medical examiner said the boy apparently checked to death when he breathed the balloon into his upper air passage.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cyrus of 93 Cleveland St.

Tolland $40,000 Contract Awarded For School Athletic Field

The High School Building and Athletic Field Committee awarded the contract for constructing a material for providing athletic fields at the high school to Anderson-Patroas Construction Co., at a bid cost of slightly over $40,000 during its meeting last week.

The athletic field will be prepared to meet the needs for spectator sports including a soccer field, handball courts and a "roughed out" track. The Middle School Building Committee meeting earlier the same night, reviewed the presentation for plans for the new middle school.

Tolland's gross grand list amounts to $22,810, according to statistics released by the Board of Assessors. Deductions of $4,000 were made from this figure for exemptions for the elderly, blind and service members.

The Board of Finance will meet tonight at 7 at the Town Hall. The Planning and Zoning Commission will meet tonight at 8 at the Town Hall, to work on the creation of zoning regulations for multiple family sheds, 47 house and building lots, 245 motor vehicles, 21 horses and 16 cattle.

The Tollanders Square Dance Club will hold a regular club dance Friday at 8 at the Meadbrook School. Pamie Hints will serve as caller with Bob and Judy Smith calling the rounds.

The judging of the genius kit creations highlighted Friday night's Cub Scout meeting. Creations ranging from cowboy wagons to model cars, roundabouts, boats, missiles and robots were exhibited.

Winners of the eight-year-old category were Joseph Kozowski for workmanship on a merry-go-round; David Zablanzky, org. St. Paul Winter Carnival parade float in creating a snow-covered scene as used in carnivals and Barry Johnson for use of materials in producing a robot.

Nine-year-old winners were Christopher White for workmanship on a paddle-wheel river boat; Kerry Wetgold for originality in making an electric paint dry.

48% Seen Liking LBJ Job Handling

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-eight per cent of the public now approves the way President Johnson is doing his job, the Gallup Poll reports.

The report, issued Sunday, said the President's popularity went up 10 per cent since October. The new figure represents the highest mark for Johnson since he registered 62 per cent approval just after the Glassboro conference in June.

In the sampling in which persons were asked simply if they approved of the President's handling of his job, 39 per cent said no and 13 per cent were undecided.

The interviews were completed just prior to Johnson's State of the Union message Jan. 17. The poll attributed the President's rise in popularity to the fact that many seem to think he has shown a more probable candidate in November. At the latest poll, Spain had only 11,000 per cent making progress in the war, as compared with 34 per cent in Europe's third lowest prison rate.

WANTED! MEN - WOMEN

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

I am very much interested. Please send me the FREE (1) A list of U. S. Government positions and salaries; (2) Information on how to qualify for a U. S. Government job.

Stabler at Crossroads Between Grid, Baseball

NEW YORK (AP)—Ken Stabler's multiple talents have caught the attention of Alabama as a tight end in heavy traffic — at the crossroads between professional football and major league baseball.

But the Snake is in no hurry to either or the other.

"I'll just wait and see how things go in the football draft before deciding what to do," the 22-year-old pitcher-quarterback said following his selection by the Houston Astros in baseball's winter free-agent draft last Saturday.

Stabler, who earned the nickname "Snake" with a lightning-quick release as Alabama's passing master in 1966 and 1967, won't have long to wait. He figures to be an early selection Tuesday when the American and National Football leagues conduct their second combine college draft.

SAND TROUBLE—Billy Casper sprays himself with sand as he comes out of trap on third hole. He took a bogey five, but also won top money.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Billy Casper is a man who has been in the spotlight for a long time. He is now something of a prophet.

Last week the two-time U.S. Open champion was asked what score he thought would win the $100,000 Los Angeles open tournament.

"I'll take 27," said Casper. It turned out to be the exact figure—and Casper had it.

Gold Key Fete Slated Tonight

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Three sports figures are to receive Gold Key awards tonight from the Connecticut Sports Writers Alliance for their part in the athletic life of this state.

Several other sports notables will take part in the celebration here at the Park Plaza Hotel when the awards are presented to:

- Johnny Kelley of Groton, the national marathon champion from 1955 to 1963.
- Murray Murdoch of Hamden, former New York Rangers hockey player and former Yale hockey coach.
- Joe Fontana, former Southfield University football and basketball coach who now serves as the school's athletic director.

Stags Invade Texas, Play Top Quintet

Holy Cross and Boston College had their turns. Now Fairfield University gets a chance to improve New England college basketball prestige.

The Stags heralded their arrival in the NHL Toronto was beating Chicago 2-1, Pittsburgh was edging Boston 1-0 and Los Angeles was blanking Philadelphia 2-0. Minnesota nipped Detroit 2-1 in an afternoon game.

Rangers Unbeatable Sunday on Home Ice

NEW YORK (AP)—It's always on Sunday for the New York Rangers. Well, almost always.

What it almost always is for the Rangers is a National Hockey League home run. And it was again Sunday night, 4-0 over the Oakland Seals.

The Rangers led their first Sunday game of the season, 3-2 in Detroit Oct. 15. Since then they have reeled off 11 straight Sabbath triumphs, all at home.

While the Rangers were sealing victory with Boston and sparring Toronto past Chicago and into a three-way tie for second place with Boston and Chicago in the East Division, one point behind the Montreal, Bob Furlong also scored for Toronto.

Yale, UConn and Fairfield Loom Stronger for Stretch

Yale, Connecticut and Fairfield college basketball teams are looking to get in on the action by getting stronger for the season moves toward the end of the year.

Fairfield, 8-5 so far this season, showed against Murphy that it can contend for the top big men anywhere—six-foot-eight Elvin Hayes of Houston, Hayes had 28 points against Elmira Tech, which is the same as his scoring speed the previous weekend when Houston edged UCLA at Madison Square Garden in New York last Friday night.

Still needing one win to qualify for Class AA State tournament, the Manchester High Indians travel to Bristol Tuesday night facing Central High in an OCHL clash. The Eagles, now in second place in the OCHL, boast 2-1 and 82 records.

Also looking to get back to winning ways, the East Catholic High Eagles trek to Springfield Cathedral Tuesday night. The Eagles led to their first loss Friday night when North West Catholic downed the locals for the first time in five years.

Force to Be Reckoned With U.S. Skiers Excel In Alpine Events

WRESTLING COACH—Norm Gerber of Manchester handles variety wrestling at Central Connecticut State College. The former East Catholic High football coach handles the central defense in the fall months. He's a UConn graduate.

MEGEVE, France (AP)—The unrivaled U.S. team has established itself as a force to be reckoned with in the Alpine ski races at the 1968 Winter Olympic Games.

During the past week, American skiers have posted one victory and captured two third-place finishes in the alpine events. Fans of the sport, however, are now 1-0 and still minus the strong performers of Johnny Goodnow and Hans Gola.

The only conference action Tuesday night, for area school boys, is in the OCHS as Bolton High entertains Portland High. Bolton is 4-4 while Portland is 7-1 to remain in second place in conference standings.

Goslin and Cuyler Elected to Shrine

HANDBALL CHAMP—The Homenet held the Highways May Friday night, 16-2. Mike Hoyt (7) and Frank Philo (4) were high scorers for the winners. For the Highway, Dave Ferguson and John Samko scored all the points.

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's Hall of Fame was further enriched by the enrollment of two clutch-hitting outfielders who bowed out of the game 30 long years ago.

Leon "Goose" Goslin and the late Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler were elected to the hall last Tuesday by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

"It's a marvelous thing. I appreciate it very much," said Goslin, who died in 1958 at the age of 59, having led the American League in home runs in 1921 and 1922 and in 1924.

New England Represented On Ski Team

MEGEVE, France (AP)—Four New Englanders headed by Billy Kidd of Snow, Vt., are on the Alpine squad of seven men and seven girls who will represent the United States in the 1968 Olympic Winter Games.

Kidd, an Olympic silver medalist in 1964, will be entered in all three events—the downhill, slalom and giant slalom.

The other New Englanders on the squad are Rick Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., in the men's downhill; and Rosie Fortin of Warren, N.H., and Suzanne Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., both in the women's slalom and giant slalom.

Celtics Insist This Is Year To Regain Title 76ers Still Lead by Two Games

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics insist this is the year to regain the National Basketball Association title from Philadelphia, but Coach Alex Hanum says the 76ers is out of the playoffs.

The Celtics led by as much as eight points in the first half and were in front 62-41 at the intermission, but fell behind 84-78 in the fourth quarter.

Suddenly Boston broke loose, outscoring the 76ers 15-1 in the fourth period.

In other NBA games, New York edged San Francisco 125-120, Los Angeles topped St. Louis 128-113 in Miami Beach, and Seattle thumped Baltimore 135-126 in Tacoma, Wash.

Rupp Nears Coaching Record All-Time Win Mark Nears Reach of Baron

NEW YORK (AP)—Adolph Rupp, the legendary "Man in the Brown Suit," goes after a record-breaking victory tonight, vowing unconcern over the record but the same old Rupp.

The 67-year-old Rupp coached his first game in 1928, and he has coached for 40 years. He has won 1,215 games and lost 673.

The victory was the 771st for Rupp—all in a 38-year career.

"I'll be in the hall of fame," Rupp said after his victory. "I'll be in the hall of fame."

Crowning Touch By Young Skier 56 Shooters Out, Gil Pepin Tops

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—For most of weekend Winter World Student Games U.S. competitors usually were also-rans, but on the final two days the skiers took over and the U.S. showing turned from dismal to brilliant.

Scott Pyles, a 20-year-old Western State College, Colo. student, put the crowning touch on the U.S. achievement on the final day Sunday by winning the downhill race.

Pyles finished down the 3,100-meter course in 2 minutes, 15.90 seconds, 1.26 faster than silver medalist Gunther Scheuer of West Germany.

Ladies Day on Ice Popular at Arena 6 Shooters Out, Gil Pepin Tops

Ladies Day was initiated at the Hartford Arena in Windsor Tuesday morning and was very enthusiastically received with the large group of Manchester women in attendance.

Under the professional instruction of Edward O'Flaherty of Holyoke, they learned to skate and found it is not so hard once you know the how.

Many had never skated before and had not skated in years and all agreed it was the perfect way to exercise.

Women Good Horsekeepers As Well as Housekeepers

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeature Sports Writer

Women not only make good housekeepers; they also make good horsekeepers.

Last summer the D&H Stable in Ocala, Fla., hired 20 women in their early 20s as "hot walkers," a detail that means walking a thoroughbred for 15 to 20 minutes until the horse cools down after a morning workout.

Hemenway Hero In Mat Triumph

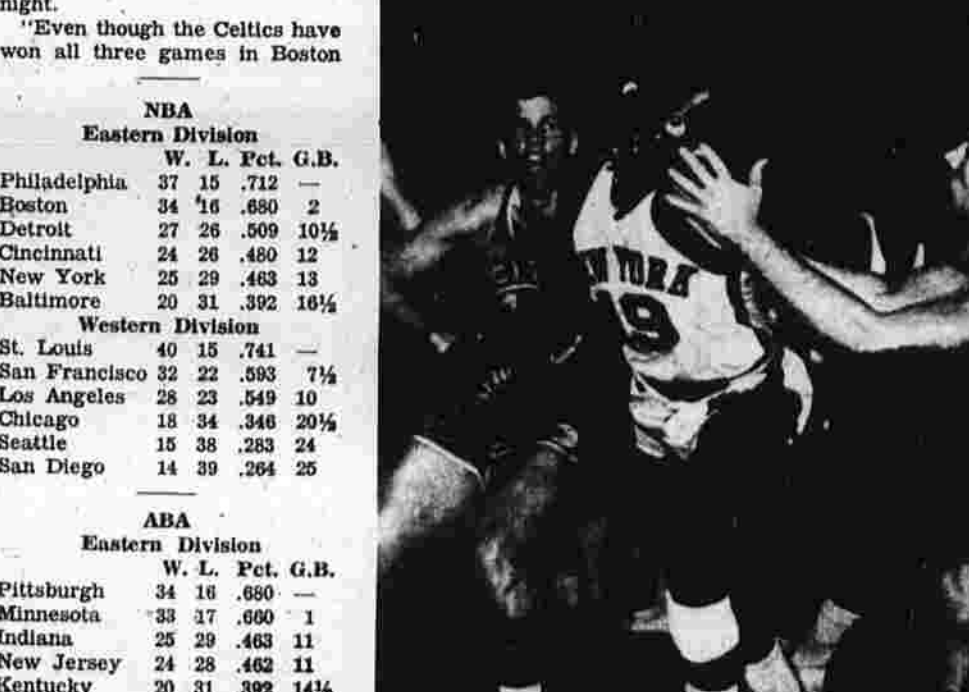

Winning their third match of the season, the Manchester High wrestlers downed Hall High grapplers, 25-20 last Friday.

The Indiana now stand 2-11 with a win in the United-Amherst competition.
