Two Major Copper Firms 'Won't Yield' to Union

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two major copper producers say they won't yield to union demands for company-wide bargaining, and one of them says the 41-month strike by 60,000 workers could go on indefinitely. The strike, affecting plants in 22 states, has virtually halted domestic copper production.

C. Jay Parkinson, president of the Anaconda Co., told a special federal panel holding hearings Monday said: "There are no on the strike Tuesday. We cannot possibly agree to any company-wide bargaining for many months." He said the firm's money demands would be less than is being demanded of U.S. balance of payments deficit in foreign trade.

Parkinson told the panel in a telegram that Anaconda representatives will appear at the hearings later this week.

Speakers for the biggest of the four struck firms, the Kennecott Copper Corp., were scheduled to appear today.

At Tuesday's session vice president Walter C. Lawson of the Phelps Dodge Corp. said it six months of 1967 between the unions continue "their insistence on company-wide bargaining, and bargaining, we see no prospect but for an indefinite continuance of the strike."

But Joseph P. Molony, vice president of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union and spokesman for the 28 striking unions, said the demands for company-wide bargaining is not unrealistic.

Molony accused the four major copper firms of "cold-blooded efforts to starve our members into submission."

Meanwhile another of the firms, American Smelting & Refining Co., was attempting to resume production in at least one of its plants.

Phelps Dodge spokesmen said settlement of other strike issues including wages, pensions, and health care would be worked out, and that an "organ being stymied by the union's refusal" would be held at the plant today.

In Baltimore, Md., an executive of the unions won't give of the American Smelting and Refining Co. plant there "are being hired every day although they are not working in the plant." He said the firm hasn't changed its plans to get the plant back into operation but he didn't indicate when or how this might be accomplished.

About 100 pickets continued to march in front of the plant gates Tuesday and a tactical police squad remained nearby to prevent any disturbances.

The unions are asking a hike in wages scales from a current range of $2.61 to $2.68 hourly to a range of $3.10 to $4.25 over three years.

The last offer from Phelps Dodge—a wage of $2.89 to $4.09 over three years.

Police Arrests

Two Manchester residents will appear in Circuit Court, 12 on Feb. 8, charged with violating the roaring dog ordinance.

Eleanor Perkins, 58 Bolton St., and Harry A. Sotoman, 14 Hawthorne St., were arrested at 2:15 p.m. yesterday by a patrolman investigating a citizen's complaint.

He impounded the dogs, belonged to both individuals, after they had allegedly snarled down one or more children who were on their way home from school. The dogs were caught on Grand Rd.

Police said complaints had previously been lodged against both animals, thus warranting the arrest.

Paul Krizloff, 47, of Oakland St., will face arraignment on an intoxication charge Feb. 9. He was found clinging to a public utility pole yesterday.

George S. McCollum, 92 Wells St., was arrested yesterday for failure to obey the flashing warning lights on the rear of a school bus.

A patrolman on routine patrol observed McCollum passing the bus, while it was talking on passengers near the Nathan Hale School at 3:15 p.m. McCollum told police he thought he was required to stop only while the bus was letting passengers off.

Columbia Tax Board Will Meet On Feb. 8, 9

The Board of Tax Review will be in session in Yeoman Hall Feb. 8, 9 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Feb. 10 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Anyone with a question pertaining to his property assessment may appear before the board at the times specified. Other members of the board are Walter Wheaton and Herbert Winkler.

Agricultural Meeting
The annual meeting of the Tolland County Agricultural Center will be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the new winterized Activities Building, according to Emily Abern, president of the Center's Board of Trustees.

Miss Carol Hagen of Andover will give a talk, illustrated with slides, on her six-month visit with families in Sweden which was sponsored by the International Farm Youth Exchange Program (IFYE).

The meeting will elect three trustees and give progress reports in addition to approving a change in the bylaws. Refreshments will be served.

Heating System Trouble Closes Bennett for Day

Pupils and teachers at Bennett Junior High School received an unexpected holiday today when classes were canceled because of trouble with the heating system.

The cancellation was decided last night when steam backed up in an underground heat line and forced closing down the main boilers, said School Superintendent William Curtis. However, the heating system was operating normally by mid-morning today, and Curtis said classes would resume tomorrow.

After three hours of pumping steam pressure in the boiler was built up gradually until it was determined that the main building was again receiving heat, Curtis said.

The entire complex of buildings at Bennett Junior High is served by underground lines from a central heating plant on School St.

The apparent break caused the East Side Rec to fill with steam, Curtis said. It was not until after the boilers had been shut down, inspectors of the line revealed that water had penetrated the tile water surround "main" building on the west side of Main St.

The system is more than 50 years old. Funds for a new heating plant are being sought by the school board.

Bolton Extension Given on Abstract

The Board of Assessors has requested and received an extension from the State Tax Commission so that the abstract property value list can be completed by Feb. 22.

Ray Cocconi, chief assessor, said yesterday that the material will be given to the bank tomorrow or the next day, but that the bank has a backlog of material to process, and there will be at least a two-week delay.

Because of this delay, the Board of Tax Review will not meet Feb. 6, 8, and 10 as advertised. The new meeting dates will be published at a later date.

At its meeting Monday night the Public Budget Commission drafted a letter to the Board of Education requesting more information on the renovation plans for the present elementary school. The school board had asked that the PBC set a budget for the renovations, but the PBC said it did not have enough data.

The Board of Finance did not meet last night because a quorum could not be obtained.

PTA Supper
Reservations for the PTA Supper to be held in the elementary school tomorrow, Saturday close tomorrow.

There will be two meetings at 8:30 and at 6:30. Donations are $1.00 for children and under, and $1.50 for adults.

Reservations should be made now since Thomas D. Marston, of the present PTA, has resigned here Jan. 1. Until then, he feared for his life, he said he had heard rumors over the phone.

He also said, however, that he didn't want the bodies had been dug up, and that he thought other bodies would indicate that he and his wife, Mrs. Marston, had been killed. "Nobody would have heard rumors over the phone."

He said that he had been in 1963 that prisoners were killed, buried on the prison grounds and listed on the records as escapes.

Former Prison Supt. Dan D. Stephens said he was aware there was an old prisoner cemetery in the area where the skeletons were found—only one headless, one with the skull bashed in and a third with the legs broken, apparently to get the body into a makeshift, plank casket.

There is a fenced-in cemetery about two miles from the gravesites. Prison officials said 18 prisoners were buried there when they died natural deaths and no one claimed their bodies. The Johnson claimed that all the caretakers, who have served at Cummings were aware of the secret graves.

He said the men he saw buried were "shot down or beaten to death" by "guards and wardens." He said he had seen "quite a few" killed.

"They killed some white ones on Labor Day in 1940," he said. "I'd say about 20."

Prison records show that 38 men escaped from the prison on Sept. 2, 1940, and that one man was killed trying to escape. The records also show that 24 escapees were recaptured quickly and a prison staff member said it was possible that others were recaptured later.

Asked if he'd ever had to fight for his own life, Johnson said, he had paid $2 to a week protection money, but that "Many times I got up in the morning and didn't know if I was coming back."

"Some were buried at night, some were buried in the daytime," he said. "We would quit work and go down and dig a 20 foot trench from the sea. In the hole, we'd put them bodies in, then turn right around and plow the dirt over them."

Vernon Grand List Shows $3.7 Million Hike

An increase equalling slightly over four mills is reflected in the Grand List issued today by assessor Bernard Jay. The net taxable amount is $4,802,996.

The new amount is $3,738,255 over last year's total. Last year's increase over the previous year was over $2 million. One mill brings in $83,900. The list shows 5,348 dwellings valued at $44,833,440 an increase of 153 dwellings over last year and in value, $1,058,419. Motor vehicles totaling 11,974 this year and valued at $3,550,410 reflect an increase in number by 882 and in value, $466,010.

Most of the other items on the list showed a slight increase over last year. For example, the number of horses increased from 37 to 90 and from $4,300 in value to $5,700. Machinery and water power at $1,264,460 dropped about $300,000.

Exemptions total $2,522,818 on this year's list. This includes exemptions for veterans, the blind and those 65 years and over. This past year exemptions increased by $330,305 over last year.

Other figures on the 1967 grand list include: 2,378 barns, sheds, garages, $1,021,890; houses and building lots, $1,599,149; 327 commercial buildings $9,077,869; 29 manufacturing, $1,300,820 and 6,812 acres of land, $1,347,220.

Also, 219 motels, houses, $547,150; 91 heads of cattle, $12,240; poultry, $1,268,780; mechanics and farming tools, $19,250; books on hand, $1,384,780; manufacturing tools, $1,200; cables and conduits, $2,207,640; 283 boats, $80,870 and miscellaneous, $495,270. Also added is the 10 per cent penalty collected on late tax payments which totaled $39,440.

Tax exempt real estate amounted to $11,706,409, an increase of $27,008 over 1966. Some 200 people applied for exemption in the 65 years and over classification.

It is interesting to note that checked back on the Grand List of 50 years ago, 1917, that the horses and mules listed out-numbered the motor vehicles. The list shows 347 horses and

VC Die in Embassy Attack, Offensives Elsewhere Costly

(Continued from Page One) Operations of North Vietnamese regulars in the area below the demilitarized zone led the allies Monday to cancel their own drive in the five northern provinces. Subsequent guerrilla operations against eight cities and five U.S. airfields prompted President Thieu to call off the whole thing Tuesday morning.

At another point a detachment of 25 U.S. military policemen was hit hard in running to relieve a billet that was under heavy attack. The U.S. Command announced seven of the MPs were killed and all the rest were wounded.

own. And now subsequent checking, some of it done by state officials spurred by reports and jealous of the Washington bureaucracy, and some of it by the staff of the weekly newspaper The National Observer, has indicated that much of the supposedly sensational case for the bill may be without basis.

If so, one may ask, what harm does it will do? Will the country be any worse off for having federal inspectors checking on more slaughtering or processing plants? Can meat get too dirty? Is it possible to be too careful about what is being sold to American consumers and put into American diets?

What difference what method was used to get the bill passed if the bill turns out to be a good bill?

Well, for one thing, in the realm of highest principle and highest consideration for the nation's health, the kind of practice is just as poisonous to the nation's political and spiritual health as any unsuspected meat might be to its stomach.

And, for a second thing, the issue concerns the very down to earth issue of rivalry among bureaucracies, and the inevitable instinct of the federal variety to extend and aggrandize itself, all for the better service of the public, of course, but service of the type which is also federal mastery and paganism.

Thirdly, the almost discovery of allegedly unhealthy and unsanitary conditions in the meat industry here is made similar to previous alarms about the automobile industry and the natural gas industry and to subsequent alarms about the fish industry. We have had, perhaps, better of some part of our national awareness to the task of being just a bit wary of the chronic crusaders.

An Answering Concession?

There has, at last, been an interesting and perhaps significant minor shift in the official Washington attitude toward negotiations over Vietnam.

This minor shift on the part of Washington could be taken as a reply to the minor shift which appeared in Hanoi's position on Dec. 29.

Then Hanoi's foreign minister said that negotiations "will" instead of "could" follow an American halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

For the better part of the month of January the Johnson administration, although claiming to be taking the Hanoi statement seriously and subjecting it to all kinds of diplomatic testing and inquiry, acted as if it were, once more, trying to elude a possible Hanoi concession in favor of more application of military force.

But the other day, Washington did offer a kind of response to the Hanoi concession. One assumes it was intended, although it could have been merely a slip of tongue which Washington could not repudiate, once it had been made.

The significant American statement was made by Clark Clifford, Secretary of Defense-designate, in his testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee before it voted to recommend his confirmation in his new post. He was then asked to define what kind of North Vietnamese conduct would be acceptable during a halt of the bombing and the opening of negotiations, and he replied as follows:

"Their military activity will continue in South Vietnam, I assume, until there is a cease-fire agreed upon. I assume that they will continue to support the normal amount of goods, munitions, men to South Vietnam. I assume that we will continue to maintain our forces and support our forces during that period. This statement was subsequently endorsed by the State Department as official Washington policy. And the substance of it has, reportedly, been relayed to Hanoi through diplomatic channels.

The potential significance of this statement is that: it seems to abandon the previous demand of President Johnson and Secretary Rusk that the other side of the war must show that it will do in the way of some comparable deescalation if we agree to deescalate temporarily by halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

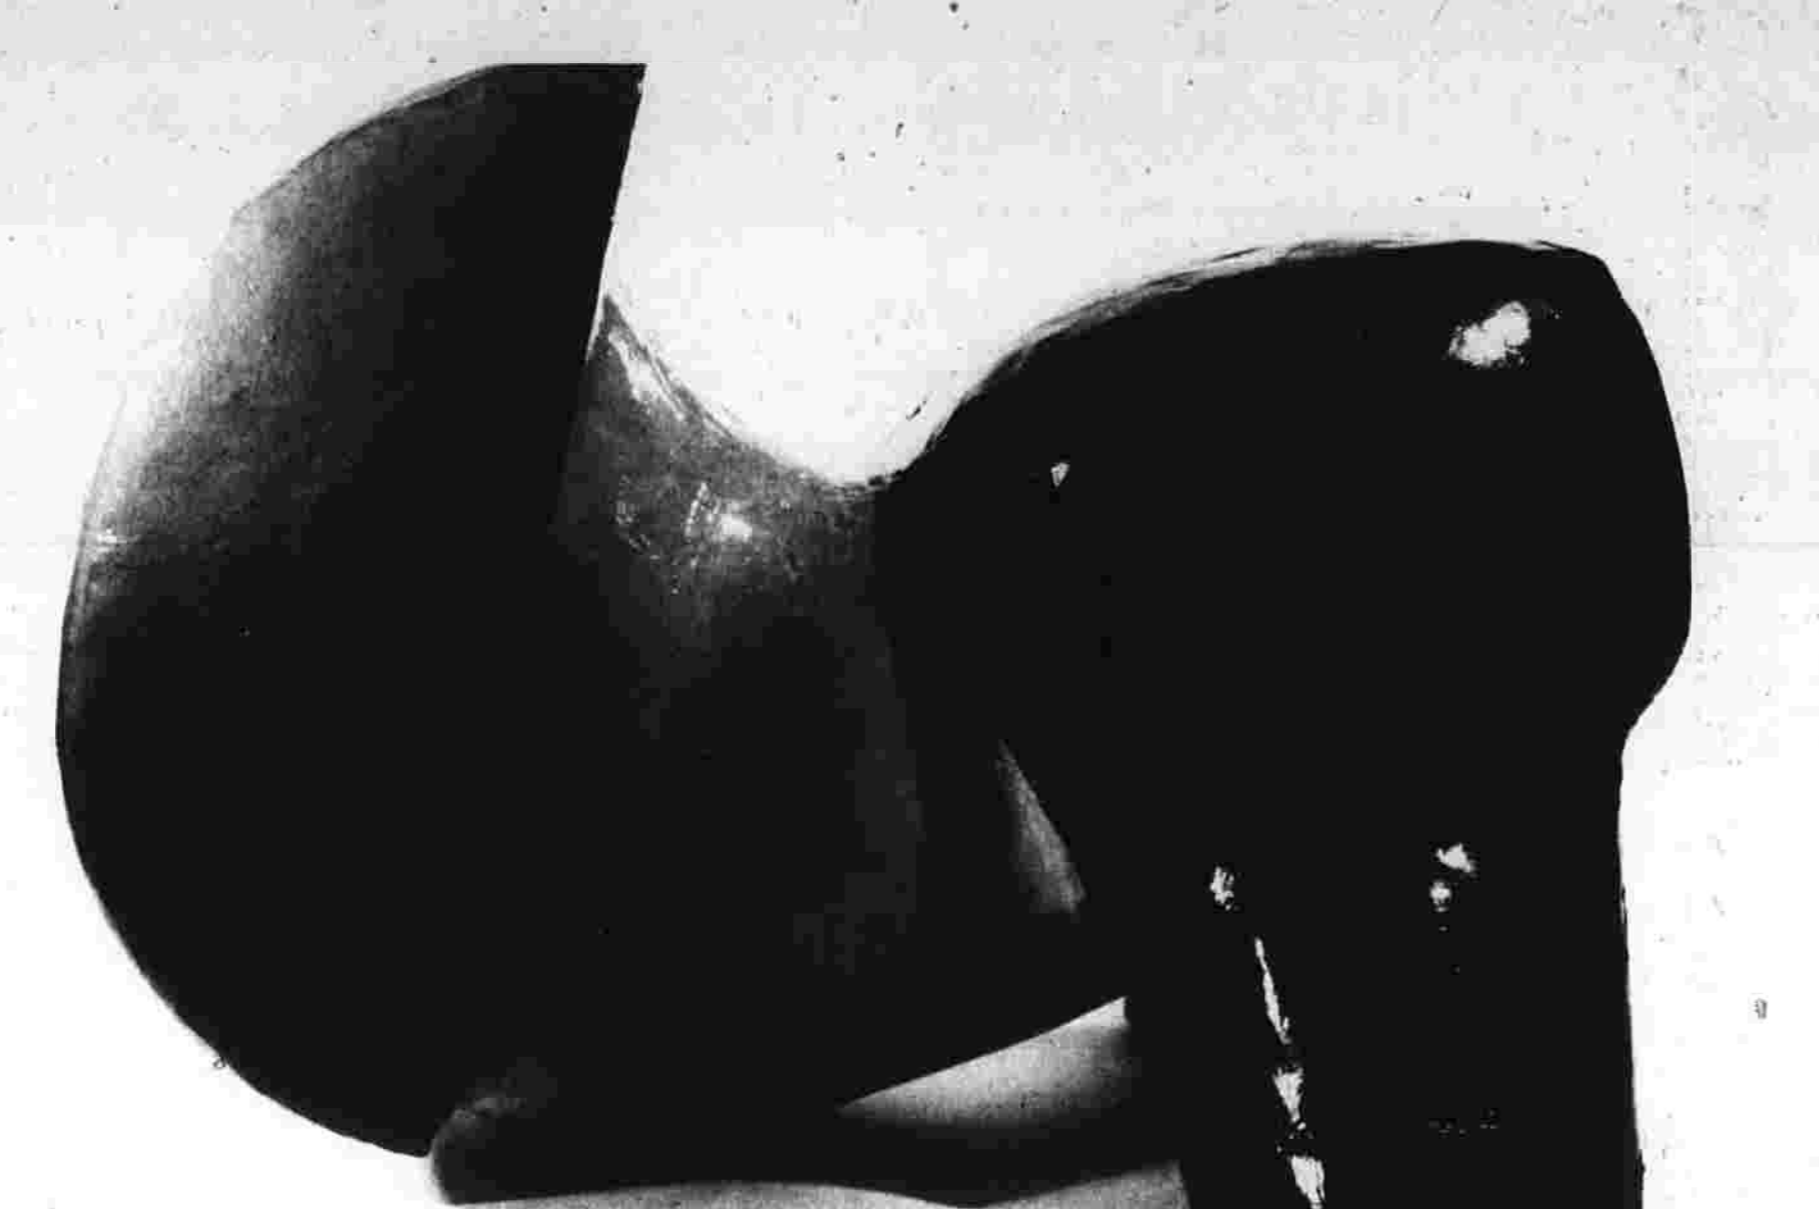

Or, to paraphrase Secretary Rusk's usual hard-nosed analysis, we are now offering to stop part of our halt of the war as we are now waging it without demanding that the enemy halt any part of his war as he is now waging it.

This change of position—if it has not been accompanied by undeciphered hardening not being displayed to the public eye—represents the first instance in what is now three years of intensive fighting in Vietnam in which the United States has seemed to move toward the possibility of negotiation instead of away from it. This seems to be the first time we may have responded to an enemy concession with a possible concession of our own rather than by further hardening and stiffening of our own position. Since for a long time it has seemed true that it will be as much of a problem to get Washington to any peace table as it will be to get Hanoi there, any such possibility of minor reciprocal concession must be considered good news. They are both going to have to wind up at that table, sooner or later. The only question is how much killing will have to be done first.

Tainted Evidence?

Being against pure meat it, of course, like being against peace and motherhood, so when, last fall, after hearing lurid tales of filthy conditions in various slaughtering and processing plants around the country, the Congress enacted and President Johnson signed an heroic measure extending federal meat inspection laws to plants hitherto subject only to state regulation, everybody who dared peep anything out loud had to be in favor.

But the stories then cited of conditions reportedly found were so lurid they seemed to have a special odor all their own.

For 1969, The Head-Rest

A civilization which has not been able to muster enough punishment to fight off the six cent attack by obviously never to begin to defend itself against the progressive encroachment of the public and private sources now embarked on the grand crusade for automobile safety.

When, therefore, the federal Department of Transportation follows up its requirement that new automobiles in 1969 be equipped with cross-seat belt-harnesses with the proposal that the head-rest be made mandatory equipment in 1969, the only sane thing to do is to begin to condition ourselves mentally for a long series of submissions.

We are eventually going to be forced into these motorizing stratagems, until we all ride around looking precisely like the crash-dummy models they put into automobiles now while they crash-test the efficiency of the various safety devices.

That this kind of thing, this kind of motorizing, this kind of submission will, in time, turn us all into crippled and twisted deformities much more ugly and much more damaged and much more incapable of normal living than the present product of an automobile accident—this is the kind of rational choice deliberation no longer possible sitting on the floor of the House, the cheer reached in the usual volume and unprecedented duration. A pedestrian was repeatedly interrupted by applause. Congressmen sitting on the floor of the House, sure that they weren't making all the noise, were perplexed.

What they didn't know was that Watson had organized an LBJ caucus Middle and low level White House aides were on the House floor in great number. What's more, they had been given special marching orders.

Just before the speech, the junior aides were corralled in the White House and instructed by Watson. They were instructed to make a highly vocal demonstration for the President when he entered the hall of the House, when he made any point in his speech, and when he left.

What's more, according to one junior aide, Watson warned that his own assistant—Jimmy Jones—would be in the gallery checking to see if there was any cheering going on. The result was a reception transcending Mr. Johnson's current level of popularity on Capitol Hill. The most tepid recommendation was the Smith plan—was magnified to a nearly un-congressional cheer.

A bold plan to minimize the Rockefeller write-in vote in the new Hampshire primary is now being hatched inside Governor George Romney's campaign staff.

Against Governor Nelson Rockefeller's own protest, the scheme is gathering steam, and there are still six weeks before the March 12 primary. The reason to move is worrying Romney's camp so deeply is that most Rockefeller votes would come from Romney, not Richard M. Nixon.

The plan to abort Rockefeller drive would bring Rockefeller himself into the state with in the next two weeks with maximum publicity and invite all known leaders of the write-in to meet with him.

Rockefeller would then make a public appeal not to write in his name on the ballot. His dramatic point: If his New Hampshire backers really trust his judgment enough to want him for President, they surely should accept that same judgment to forego the write-in.

Any serious write-in effort would damage Romney's chance to cut down Nixon in the primary, and hence damage the whole moderate-liberal effort to pick the nominee against President Johnson. Moreover, experienced politicians here believe that the hostility inside the moderate camp resulting from any serious Rockefeller write-in campaign would result in a lower campaign

Comar, Tynan Missed the Point

We're just going to have to take the word of Motor Vehicles Czar, John J. Tynan that the majority of Christmas liquor gifts have been returned by employees of his department. The governor says that he's satisfied and that he'd rather see the gifts than the liquor.

But you'll have to pardon us if we quibble a little over Comar. Tynan's claim that returning the gifts made the donors unhappy because it implied that they had ulterior motives in making the presents.

Does the public believe that the gifts were given in the true spirit of Christmas, or to influence the various employees of the department? When something looks like payola, it is pretty hard to make out that it is a gift of love, especially when the gift comes from persons who are frequently in need of the services performed by government employees.

And wasn't that the impression given by the pictures showing automobile dealers and driving school employees bringing gifts of liquor to the Motor Vehicles Department? It's hard to draw any other conclusion.

Obviously, the governor is well aware of the impression that the pictures in these newspapers will have on the public. The gifts returned, and then he went one step further and ordered that no more gifts be accepted by Motor Vehicles Department.

We're looking forward to the day when this edict is extended to all government employees. There's something repugnant about the notion that a public servant can be influenced by a small gift. And there's something about the type of Christmas giving that cheapens the meaning of the holiday. — WATSBURY REPUBLICAN

 To the Editor,
 What does it mean when you're on the operating table and the surgeon says "whoops?" You immediately take notice.

Likewise, what does it mean when a policeman, while writing out a parking ticket, suddenly says "whoops?"

Who takes notice of that? It is about time the people of Manchester woke up and asked themselves, "Who said 'whoops' and what does 'whoops' mean?"

We have in our midst the finest police department in the country, but as of this date I cannot see where they are being utilized to their fullest.

"For if you love those who love you, what reward have you?" — Matthew 5:46

How long, O man,
 Will it take you to learn
 That embers of anger only burn
 Into devouring flames of hate;
 That revenge sought, will vengeance bring;
 That peace enforced by war
 Can only lead again to war?"

How long, O man,
 Will it take you to turn
 From your present way of death,
 And see that God is Love;
 That Love is the key to a peaceful life;
 That democracy and freedom cannot stand
 Until love rules in the hearts of men?"

Rep. Donald (Buz) Lukens, the fiery Republican from Ohio who is regarded as an upstart by the party's House leadership, enhanced that image last week when he took off in private against House Republican leader Gerald Ford.

Although freshmen Congressmen are supposed to be seen and not heard, Lukens is a former national president of the Young Republicans and a conservative of national importance. He boldly complained against Ford's arrangements for the Republican State of the Union rebuttal last Tuesday (Jan. 23).

Lukens told Ford that no Ohioan had been put on the program and that he wasn't even going to be in the gallery.

A footnote: Lukens was scarcely alone in his criticism, though most of it was on broad grounds. Republican politicians around the country applauded the program as a minor disaster, reeking of Washington's parochialism and badly needing a few Governors. The outstanding performance of Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee was an exception in that he otherwise dull hour.

Friendship Lodge Masons Canada-Bound This Year

Friendship Lodge of Masons at a dinner Saturday evening took a vote to send its members on a year-long pilgrimage to its annual pilgrimage to the Masonic Temple in St. Catharines, Ont., Can., and to be conferred upon a Friendship Lodge candidate in that city. It will be a weekend trip, Friday through Sunday May 17-19.

The lodge instituted these trips two years ago with a visit to the George Washington memorial at Alexandria, Va. Last May, it again went to Virginia, this time to Williamsburg.

Harold V. Hubbard, master of Friendship Lodge, has named its master, Frederick M. Gail, as general chairman for the trip, and Gail indicates that two bus loads of Masons and their wives will go to Canada.

There are some reservations open, Gail says but expects they will be filled soon.

Last October, when Friendship Lodge held its annual ball, among its guests were John J. Osborne, master of St. George's Lodge, accompanied by Fred Collard, a past master and past district officer.

The itinerary has been announced for the trip, and the buses will leave from Friendship Lodge headquarters on E. Middle Street at 7 a.m. May 17. Schedule stops have been arranged on the trip for dining at the New York Trayon.

Accommodations in St. Catharines, which is about 20 miles north of Niagara Falls, have been arranged at the Hotel Leeward. Friday evening, Friendship Lodge will dine together at the Masonic Temple, 20 Cambridge St., and Gaal, Hebron Rd., Bolton.

Avery told police that Morgan began at 8 Saturday morning, had turned him over when he was a lunch stop early afternoon.

The host lodge will entertain three times with a chunk of iron.

Subversive Control Board Active Again After 2 Years

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board may be coming back to life after two dormant years, nourished by a law some senators had hoped would put it out of business.

The board scheduled its first hearing in two years for Monday in New York to explore the U.S. attorney general's contention that the W.E.B. DuBois Club of America is a Communist front, dominated and controlled by the Communist party.

The DuBois organization asked for a delay in the hearing until Feb. 28 and it is expected to be granted.

There is a 28 per cent budget boost of $11,000 for the board in the spending program President Johnson has sent Congress, and it carries this explanation: "Increase will permit implementation of legislation enacted on Dec. 14, 1967."

That legislation provided the five-member agency with new Communist-spotting duties to supplement functions ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The board, 17 years old, was set up to identify and register Communists. But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in recent Senate debate on its future the agency "failed to register single Communist in its six-year history."

The bill, empowering the board to hold hearings and declare groups to be Communist dominated or controlled, was proposed by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and to the Senate without hearings. Proxmire and a bloc of Senate liberals held it for a week, then won adoption of an amendment requiring the agency to do something or expire.

It cleared Congress with a requirement that the board hold at least one hearing in the next year, and institute at least one proceeding for a hearing on the controversial law.

The controversy surrounding the board's want list included charges it didn't accomplish anything. Last year, President Johnson appointed Simon P. McHugh, husband of a former Johnson secretary, as a board member, with a $26,000 salary.

Let's talk about budgets!

Budgeting is tough these days. It seems that every time you turn around the cost of something is going up. The economists tell us it's to be expected. Maybe so, but it sure makes running a home difficult.

We wish we could tell you that A&P has the answer to all your difficulties, but we can't...no store can. We can tell you this:

There is one guaranteed way to cut your food bill without sacrificing quality; buy A&P's own brands. Hold it...don't scoff...we're serious. We don't have our own private national brands just to have low prices. If it isn't a quality product, it can't carry the A&P Seal. Take A&P Brand Canned or Frozen Vegetables for example. They're GRADE "A"...you can't buy better.

If you buy A&P Brands, we guarantee you'll reduce your total food bill. We also guarantee every A&P product you buy...unconditionally.

Viet Cong Intended To Die at Embassy

Dunker lives five blocks from the embassy. Minutes after the attack, he was told the Viet Cong had penetrated the embassy grounds. He was whisked to a secret spot under maximum security.

At the embassy, Harper fired a test burst from his Beretta and backed into the corner of the lobby, looking out through the steel grille in the broken window.

Rockets fired from across the road, tore four jagged holes in the concrete lattice-work facade of the building. Bullets pelted the scalloped portico.

One Marine guard in the embassy fell dead and seven others, including Harper, were wounded, the sergeant only lightly. Two Vietnamese embassy drivers were cut down by bullets.

In his two-story frame house 50 feet from the embassy, Jacobson casually talked over the telephone to his friends and supporters.

Phone lines to the guards in the embassy were cut but he knew that one Marine was wounded seriously and needed weapons fire poured out at evacuation, that one was dead, Healey and his buddies, they said that the handful of civilians working late in the upstairs floors were still safe.

The Viet Cong, meanwhile, searched in darkness for another entrance to the building. The cherrywood doors of the main entrance, although battered by rockets and grenades, held fast. One part of the Viet Cong force was trying to hold off the American relief troops with grenades and small arms fire while the other part looked for a good place to plant explosives.

Pfc. Paul Healey of Holbrook, Mass., called from his U.S. military police patrol, was crawling up near the outer wall. He lost one buddy killed, then another, and he was pinned down.

Other military police had sealed an apartment house opposite the embassy and the heavy fire into the embassy garden cut down some of the supports.

Capt. Robert O'Brien, 38, of Mansfield, Mass., commander of a fresh U.S. Marine guard unit, decided a counterattack in the darkness would be too costly.

By radio, he asked those inside the embassy if they could hold out until dawn. They said they would try.

But the wounded Marine needed immediate evacuation. A helicopter was called to land on the helipad on the embassy roof.

At 5:30 a.m. its bright floodlights picked out the pad but the Viet Cong drove it away with a fusillade from the ground.

Fifteen miles away a battalion sault in the most unusual circumstances of the war, but too late for the kill. Moving down through the six-story structure, the paratroopers found no resistance.

Jacobson had been waiting quietly and his house was the final building in the compound checked out by the relief forces.

Healey entered the ground floor and was nearly killed when a guerrilla in black pajamas stepped from a bathroom and fired at him.

The military policemen called for tear gas to drive the guerrillas

Mayor Explains Idea for Rec Complex

Calling it "a dream which can become a reality," Mayor Nathan Agostinelli last night unveiled a proposal developed by him and Director William Schaller, for a year-round, indoor-outdoor recreation center on about 100 acres of the former Globe Hollow land.

The proposed site is in the 118-acre tract, east of Kenney St. and west of S. Main St., set aside for Manchester Community College use.

Agostinelli estimated that the status of the 4.6 acres needed for the site is about $200,000, and that the outdoor facilities might add about $400,000 to the cost.

Willimantic Lieutenant Suspended

WILLIMANTIC AP — A 27-year veteran of the Willimantic police force was under suspension today in connection with the death of a visiting Norwich youth.

Mayor Stanley Koboska suspended Lt. Edmund Haddad Tuesday for alleged "failure to act in the best interest and welfare of the public" regarding Thomas Fellows.

Thomas E. Fellows Jr., 16, collapsed at the home of a cousin on Jan. 16 and was pronounced dead at Windham Community Memorial Hospital. A medical examiner said Fellows died of pneumonia with complications.

His uncle, Robert Neff, was said to have called the police station for aid at about 2 p.m. but was told by Haddad that no cruisers were available and that the police department could not help.

Neff said it was some 17 minutes before he was able to reach a doctor who dispatched an ambulance for Fellows.

The city charter says cruisers may transport only walking cases in need of medical help. Koboska said of the suspension Tuesday that there "were other incidents" but that he had not decided "when and how to present them."

The Common Council will set date for a formal hearing when it is formally notified of the suspension.

Haddad joined the force March 11, 1941, and was promoted to lieutenant Nov. 8, 1965.

Explosion Kills 6 in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH AP — An explosion that rocked the business district of suburban Ingram and shook homes a half mile away left six persons dead, two missing and 17 injured.

Workers at the scene said one man was thrown 90 feet across railroad tracks. Three were hurled against an iron fence 20 feet away by the explosion Tuesday.

What had been a flow of five business shops was leveled almost to the street.

The buildings exploded while a 12-man Equitable Gas Co. crew was ripping up sidewalk outside looking for a gas leak. Five of the dead were Equitable workers.

"Who knows what triggered the explosion?" said a gas company spokesman. "Actually, the real cause probably will never be known."

The men were working on a low-pressure, four-inch main. The gas into the buildings was shut off.

A passer-by, whose car was covered with debris, said the explosion occurred just as gas company worker started up a jackhammer.

Frank Sulzer, 23, of McKees Rocks, said: "It moved my car four or five feet sideways, then the building came down on my car. I ducked down in the seat and said a prayer. I figured that more would be coming down, and I just stayed there."

Joe Muck, a volunteer fireman who lives nearby, was one of the first to the scene. He rushed to the man who was blown across the railroad tracks.

"I wept blood away from his eyes so he could see," said Muck.

"He kept asking me how did I get here... How did I get here?" I told him that's okay, we'll tell you later. I think he died in the hospital later."

The dead Equitable employees were Edward Boyer, 22, of Mount Oliver; Andrew Hanna, 39, of Imperial; William Mullooly, 37, of South Township; Robert Kuzemko, 33, of Carnegie; and Herbert Snyder, 52, of Bridgeville.

An unidentified woman also perished.

The blast ripped apart a beauty shop, a tailor shop, two real estate offices and a cleaning shop. There were apartments on the second floors of the two-story frame buildings.

Mrs. Samuel Simpson who lives nearby said: "It sounded like a bomb. I looked out and saw people and debris every where. There was flaming debris everywhere."

About 400 pupils were evacuated from a grade school two blocks away.

Circle to Hear Talks on Israel

Two members of Manchester Hadaash will give an illustrated talk on Israel at a meeting of the Mizpah-Spencer Circle Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Reception Hall of South Methodist Church.

They are Mrs. Walter Heiman of 22 Coburn Rd. and Mrs. Robert Karns of 61 Plymouth Lane. Their program on Israel will include old Jerusalem with its Walling Wall, the East Bank, and the country's agricultural development and other accomplishments in recent years as well as the Six-Day War. The event is open to all interested persons, and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Heiman, originally from Boston, Mass., is a graduate of Simmons College, Boston. She has lived in Manchester for the past three years and is vice president of Manchester Hadaash. She was in Israel in 1961 and 1966.

Mrs. Karns, a graduate of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., has lived in Manchester for 10 years. She is chairman of the tourism committee of Hadaash, and has recently returned from Israel.

Kathleen Dooley Pageant Finalist

Miss Kathleen Dooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dooley of 284 Avery St., Wapping, is among six area girls picked as a finalist in the search for Miss Pageant to be completed this weekend at the State Armory in Hartford.

Miss Dooley, 17, is a senior at East Catholic High School. The contest, based on beauty, poise and talent, will start at 9 p.m. after an all-day car show Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Her name was mistakenly omitted from a list of five area finalists printed in yesterday's Herald.

REVISED 'SOLOMON' NEW YORK (AP) — An extensively revised version of the Israeli musical "King Solomon and the Cobbler" is to be presented on Broadway in April.

The sponsors said that a brand new score is being coupled to an altered book. The new version is entitled "Solomon-Solomon."

The original was performed during Montreal's Expo 67.

Boys Get Lawyer in Hair Riff

NORWALK, Conn. AP — Boys suspended from Brien McMahon high school for letting their hair hang over their eyes, ears or collars have enlisted the aid of the Civil Liberties Union.

Burt Weinstein, a substitute lawyer from the Fairfield County ACLU chapter, said Tuesday he has agreed to represent in court four of the boys at first and probably more later.

Most of the 23 students suspended from school for the length of their hair defied a "cut-your-hair" order. A dozen, cut their hair and returned to school Tuesday.

Weinstein said he would first ask the School Board to allow the students to return unshorn to classes while the dispute is worked out. If that didn't work, he said, he would seek a court order restraining the board from carrying out the suspensions until the matter is decided legally.

The School Board's ban, Weinstein said, "violated such constitutional guarantees as the Ninth Amendment, ensuring the right of privacy."

Weinstein said he hoped the board would agree to let the students back to their classrooms while the matter is settled because it could take a week to get such a restraining order.

It would be better, he said, "if the kids are not made to matter while the abstract question is being tested out."

About 10 parents of students suspended for wearing their hair long appeared Tuesday night at a School Board meeting but were not allowed to discuss their position.

Some students picketed the school Tuesday, carrying such signs as "Does Society Hang by a Hair?" and "Jesus, Shakespeare, Washington and Lincoln were long hair. Who should we look up to?"

But many sided with Principal Luther A. Howard, who visited every classroom Monday, deadline for lock-upping, and suspended 23 boys whose hair covered their eyes, ears or collars. The school has 1,700 pupils.

Clinton S. Adams Named to UofH's Scholar Program

Clinton S. Adams of 2304 Ellington Rd. is one of four University of Hartford students chosen for UofH's new University Scholar Program. The program for exceptionally promising students will be introduced for the spring semester.

Announcement of the choices was made by David D. Komisar, dean of faculties.

Adams, 21, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey P. Adams, is a senior and a piano major at Hart College of Music.

In the pilot program, to be broadened next fall, the four undergraduate students will undertake academic projects in which each has a special interest. The students — each chosen with faculty approval — will be relieved, for the most part, of traditional credit and course requirements. Classroom work will be replaced by tutorial relationships with a master professor.

Adams will undertake a study of the keyboard works of Bartok, the Hungarian composer, culminating in a year-end recital at Hart College. He is a student of Raymond Hanson, professor of piano at Hart College. Prof. Hanson will supervise his work.

A 1964 graduate of South Windsor High School, Adams took his first piano lesson from his mother, who now has her own group of pupils. He was a runner-up in the 1962 and 1964 Astoria Life & Casualty Music Scholarship competitions.

In 1964, Adams won a $100 "young artist" award given by the Eastern Connecticut Symphony Orchestra. That spring he performed in New London with the orchestra in two concert.

Others chosen for the University Scholar Program are Miss Lynda M. Johnson of West Hartford; Miss Helma G. Phillips of Tolland; and William C. Guenther of Hartford.
