Book Review

LAST SUMMER, BY EVAN HENDERSON, DORLAND, $4.95. The idea that the adolescent years bring out an innate cruelty and viciousness of the human animal has been given literary treatment on several occasions...

Hunter has set up on a theme in which the female adolescent is deadlier than the male. The scene is an island summer resort. There are two boys, Peter, the narrator, and David, and a girl named Sandy...

RFK Wins in Nebraska; Marshals 53% of Vote

ence poll, Kennedy led the way. Candidates who have expressed a preference for Kennedy led for 17 delegate spots. McCarthy-plunged candidates led for two. Nine uncommitted delegates who have expressed no preference filled out the list of leaders for Democratic delegation posts.

With 1,844 of the 2,138 precincts counted, this was the vote in the Democratic popularity poll, which is not binding on delegates:

Kennedy 70,045 or 53 per cent; McCarthy 41,871 or 31 per cent; Humphrey 11,766 or 9 per cent; Johnson 7,331 or 6 per cent.

Johnson's rejection of candidacy came too late for his name to be taken off the ballot.

In the Republican count, with 1,831 precincts counted, this was the situation:

Nixon 114,884 or 70 per cent; Reagan 38,766 or 22 per cent; write-in votes for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 8,214 or 8 per cent.

Reagan's name was on the ballot, which automatically lists all potential nominees who do not file demands of candidacy. Rockefeller is a candidate for the nomination, but is not entering any primaries.

Nixon said Reagan had made a good showing in Nebraska, but added that was to be expected because there had been a campaign for the absent Californian.

But the vote polled by Rockefeller—his only declared rival for the Republican nomination—must have been disappointing to the New York Governor, Nixon said.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace had scattered Democratic and Republican ballots and all the votes in a miniature primary staged by his American Independent party. Wallace is waging a third party campaign for the presidency. He got one per cent of the Democratic vote, a smaller share on the Republican ballot.

Kennedy said his campaign had gained impetus while McCarthy's had suffered a setback. He stopped short of claiming his triumph had doomed the McCarthy effort: "I wouldn't urge him to get out, I think that's his personal decision."

But he did suggest that they work together now against Humphrey, the man Kennedy termed his major opponent.

"I think if we could join forces in some way, then we could put the Democratic party in a different direction and therefore the country in a different direction," Kennedy said.

He proposed at one point that they work together in Oregon and California, the states in which they are due to meet next. McCarthy ruled that out, said he would wage his own campaign and improve on his Nebraska showing.

Kennedy left no doubt as to who would be top man in any coalition: "After these primaries I would like to gain greater support in my effort to change the direction of the Democratic party."

With Nebraska in his column, Kennedy said he and McCarthy are campaigning for the same thing—change—while Humphrey represents the old administration.

"I think Vice President Humphrey clearly represents what is the status quo, what is the past," he said.

Johnson announced on March 31 that he would neither seek nor accept renomination.

"I'm obviously going to have a very difficult time in connection with Vice President Humphrey," Kennedy said. He's got a great many delegates.

"He's going to be the major opponent, obviously, and it's a question of whether you're going to give the country and a Democratic party an alternative," he said. "I would hope that perhaps Sen. McCarthy and I could join together and move this country in a different direction. Of course he's going to have to decide what he wishes to do."

McCarthy said he was not about to quit the race, and added it had never been clear to him what Kennedy was talking about when he suggested cooperation.

"We'll go on to Oregon as we've planned and also to California," he said.

"We're in it all the way," McCarthy claimed he ranks about even with Kennedy in Oregon, which holds the next contested primary on May 28. "And our chances in California are even better," he said. That primary is June 4.

"This was not a head-on contest, and Indiana certainly wasn't. Instead," McCarthy said, reiterating his argument that he could do better against Kennedy in a direct, two-man race. "Looking one or two primaries does not make that much difference."

"After each of these encounters we come back with new resolution and new experience and new commitment to the cause," McCarthy told a crowd of youthful supporters in Lincoln. "I think we all ought just to sing tonight and have music, that's the spirit of our campaign and nothing has happened to change the spirit of it."

In Nebraska, Kennedy captured the clear majority which that in much of the farm country good showing," but this should try and ran a dead heat with Kennedy in Lincoln, site of the state university and Nebraska's second city.

Kennedy led by a margin of 10,000 in Douglas County, which includes Omaha, and nearly one-third of the state's Democratic voters.

Humphrey's campaign chairman said the Nebraska outcome was no surprise. The vice president had disavowed the informal write-in movement conducted for him.

Its promoters had never set a vote target, but they clearly had hoped for more than they got. Humphrey came to Omaha Friday night on a Democratic fund raising mission. The vice president became a candidate too late to enter any primaries.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, chairman of Humphrey's national campaign, said they expected to do well in Nebraska. Harris said he had expected to do well in Nebraska. Harris said he had expected to do well in Nebraska.

Reagan, in Hawaii, said his showing was a total surprise. "I don't know anyone who wouldn't be gratified," he said.

He said he had expected no more than 10 per cent of the vote. But he said repeatedly he would not become a candidate for the nomination, and has not changed his decision against campaigning personally in Oregon.

Reagan is running as a favorite son in the California primary. He said he would permit his name to be put in nomination at the Republican National Convention by members of his 1,200 first ballot votes, within 47 miles of the rural farm country.

A random sampling showed of the nomination, on the first ballot at Chicago. "We think that is a conservative estimate for Humphrey," they said.

Republican Nixon said he had expected to do well in Nebraska and organized labor is strong.

And in another precinct half—but surpassed his own estimate. He campaigned here for two days, was hunting votes in Medford, Ore., when the results were tallied.

Nixon said Reagan "made a

Miss Susan C. Dick, a sociologist, at opening of week-long seminar at St. Matthew's on sex and love.

'Kinship Family' Urged at Love Seminar

By BETTE QUARLES
The creation of a "synthetic or foster kinship family" was prescribed last night at the opening of Project Challenge as an antidote to the breakdown of the large family and its former closeness. "The young must be brought into communication with adults," she emphasized.

Over 150 teachers, guidance personnel, social workers, nurses, PTA, and Board of Education members attended the opening meeting of the week-long seminar, co-sponsored by St. Matthew's Church and the United Congregational Church. Some came from as far away as Bloomfield to attend.

The kinship family proposed by Miss Dick would be the nucleus of a community of love. It provides the young with someone to talk to and confide in other than their parents, or other youth. This is of prime importance at the age when the young are trying "to cut their apron strings."

"The young used to have relatives close by, but the increasing dispersal of the family has created a void," Miss Dick stressed the importance of the formation of "partner groups" and "foster communities" in which a young person, perhaps a broken home child, could associate with an adult in whom he feels able to confide.

She urged the inclusion of older persons, of "the silver haired people with the beautiful values that must not be lost," "Too Much Freedom" is the title of the book she is reading.

"The problems of youth today are compounded by too much freedom, exposure to television and Hugh Hefner, and to the dependency of the youth on their peers (other youth) for information regarding sex and love," she stated.

"Youth is not psychologically ready for single dating until his senior year in high school," Miss Dick said. "It is at this point he becomes mature and has passed through the necessary phases of development."

"Youth today has not learned to forego present pleasure for future gain," she stated. "This pushing of youth ahead of its normal built-in cycle, has resulted in problems of premarital sex, of forced marriages, and of high VD rates."

New Shrub Helps Decorate Library Grounds

Ernest Turek, park department superintendent, and three members of the Conservation Committee of the Junior Women's Club admire a Carolina Rhododendron bush that was planted by the Park Department at Mary Cheney Library yesterday morning. The committee of the women's club donated three of these bushes to the library. The three members of the club left to right are Mrs. Stanley Zima of 200 Summit St., Mrs. Bruce Stauffer of 88 Virginia Rd., chairman of the conservation committee, and Mrs. William Johnson of 111 Cambridge St. (Illustration photo by Pinto)

Happy Reflections

A mirror from Your Gift Gallery will provide happy reflections of a wedding or any occasion that calls for a gift. These two quaint pieces are hand crafted of native New England pine and individually hand finished and rubbed to a soft, rich lustre. A brass ring at top is provided for hanging.

"Hired Hand" is the name of the 15 x 19-inch oblong mirror. The octagonal model is 15 x 15 inches. Your gifts will be gift wrapped and delivered within a radius of 30 miles.

Board Accepts Resignations From Several More Teachers

Among the resignations accepted by the Board of Education Monday was that of Mrs. Marie Farr, 8th grade teacher at Nathan Hale School, who will retire in June after a 40-year career in education. The board voted to accept the resignation "with regret," and to send her a letter acknowledging her service, which has been in Manchester.

Hospital Experiments With Gourmet Meals

Manchester Memorial Hospital has created "an adventure in eating" for patients with a new approach to preparing meals and a variety of menu selections, says Ovia Stefano, the hospital's food production manager.

Two months ago the hospital engaged Stefano for the new position. Before that he was employed as food production manager for Slater Food Service at Southern Connecticut College in New Haven. He also worked for four years until 1966 for the Hotel Corp. of America at the Hotel America in Hartford.

In addition to hiring Stefano the hospital engaged the services of three chefs. Executive chef Dennis Klutzer came to the hospital from the Bnabo Food Service, Inc., East Hartford, having previously been employed for two years as a chef at the Avon Country Club. Avon.

Working with Klutzer are chefs Raymond Lemie who came to the hospital from the Terrace Room at Bradley Field where he was a chef and Joseph Lombardi who previously served as food production manager of W. T. Grant Inc. food chain.

"The key factor to the operation," says Klutzer, "is having qualified and knowledgeable trained personnel to prepare the dinners that the hospital is offering."

Manchester hospital has been studying the problem of trying to get patients to eat for recovery, and staff members feel that an extra effort has to be made to make meals appealing to an ill person because generally patients are reluctant to eat, and even more so when they are offered bland and often times standard cafeteria meals, says Stefano.

The hospital now has four-week cycle menus which offer a variety of gourmet, hotel-type meals every day of the week. Some of the new items on the menu are broiled live lobster, file-mignon steak, roast duckling, lobster salad, cornish game hen, beef terrine, shrimp a la Louis and entree fruit salad.

With the trained personnel there has been an improvement in the type of meals offered and in the preparation and handling of the food, says Stefano.

The amusing part, says Stefano, is that it has increased hospital costs only 10 per cent which is not as high as was expected. "It's all in knowing how to use what you have, plus obtaining a variety of foods," he said.

It is a change over from "cafeteria style service to hotel service", explained Stefano, with the giving of greater individual attention and the personal touch to the preparation of patient's meals.

In an effort to create an "image of dining," says Stefano, we no longer offer meals on brown cafeteria type trays. Now meals are being served to patients on bright colored trays with place mats for different holidays and little extras such as Easter bunny baskets which were offered patients at Easter.

As with any new concept, in carrying it through we experienced some hurdles, said Klutzer, but everything has been running smoothly with no problems, and we received numerous compliments from the patients, both verbal and written.

ESTACADA, Ore. (AP)—The Klawans club here is not one to miss a chance to make every penny possible in a fund-raising project. When the club recently staged a breakfast to raise funds, the doors were opened at 3 a.m. The early opening was for the benefit of men who might be going fishing and who wanted an early start.

Stefano explained that the hospital has weekly contracts with special meat companies which enables it to purchase special fat free gravy which were tested in a California Laboratory to determine if special diet patients could be fed these foods.

In connection with this new approach to patient care the hospital is currently involved in experimenting with food for patients who are on special diets.

Klutzer maintains that the most difficult problem is the special diet patient, because his choice of meals is limited. So many free gravy is made has not as usually there was a supervisor from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Klutzer has been experimenting with sucral instead of sugar and fat free gravy which were tested in a California Laboratory to determine if special diet patients could be fed these foods.

The results of the laboratory tests confirmed that the gravy and beads could be served to special diet patients, and Klutzer will prepare these two foods if the doctors and dieticians at the hospital give their approval, said Stefano. How Klutzer's fat free gravy is made has not as usually there was a supervisor from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

After Nebraska. After the results of the Nebraska primary, it appears that Senator Kennedy has now proved the capacity of professional political muscle and unlimited funds...

One easy but careless liberal assumption that was deflated by the Negro educational campaign among the white liberals on the Carleton campus was the assumption that what the Negroes are after is "to become white."

What they told the white liberals was that "their job wasn't to go into the ghetto and carry on 'missionary' work but rather to go into their own suburbs to change the attitude of their own white neighbors."

There, in other words, in the white suburbs, rather than in the ghettos, is the real sickness for white liberals to work on.

No Charity For Stones?

The best thing about the new location for London Bridge is that it is going to be in a wooded desert some 222 miles east of Los Angeles...

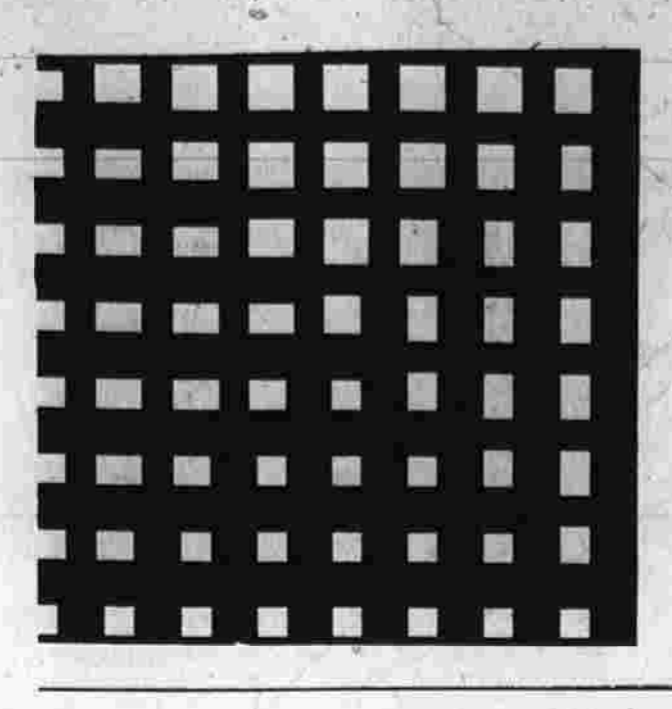

Stones of such connotations do not deserve to become the first great bridge actually and seriously sold to somebody, or to have to go into exile from their native English deserts to the fierce sun of the American desert...

With the recent announcement of this summer's music programs at Tanglewood, patrons can start planning well in advance, although conveniences may be as much a determining factor as preference.

Lessons For White Liberals. All over this country, in any number of situations involving all kinds of people, there are all too many who are trying to struggle with the implications and effects of the great race issue.

Such a one, clannish by Brahms' might, is bringing to the city of Manchester the 1968 Berkshire Festival to a rousing conclusion. In his five previous summers, as music director, Mr. Leitendorf has ended the season with Tchaikovsky's Fifth, Strauss' "Ein Heldenleben," Act 3 of Wagner and Mendelssohn, Haydn and excerpts from "Die Gotterdammerung" in that order.

These are those of us who congratulate ourselves upon being liberals, in the forefront of the battle for good causes. We are proud that we carry the banner of tolerance high before us; we think of ourselves as at least someone who has been discharging the obligations and responsibilities of a citizen.

Inside Report

WASHINGTON — Although Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's inconclusive victory in the Indiana Presidential primary was barely adequate in most respects, it did prove to the skeptical that he can combine Negro and white ethnic votes.

What was surprising was his record among the traditional ethnic groups that gave George Wallace his remarkable vote in Indiana four years ago. It was the largely Polish St. Adelbert Parish polling place in South Bend, Kennedy received nearly 65 per cent — 241 votes to 86 for McCarthy and 60 for Brannigan.

Parolees Aid Delinquents In California

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON. Parolees who are California employers who need real experts on juvenile delinquency may be able to hire some soon.

They are among the first dozen graduates of the pioneering student aide program that seems to be working wonders at the schools for both the teachers and the taught.

Now all 12 will be available for hire. Suppl. C.A. Tatum wants to hang onto a few of the first graduates for CTA staff assignments within the four towns still graduates in September.

Palmer Anderson, supervisor of education, says, "The untrained kids have come up with some really creative teaching techniques. They motivate the teachers."

They scored high in intelligence, leadership potential and motivation to go straight, get a job after parole and hold it. Their motto of this country, "In God we trust," wasn't just four words. It expressed a fact, a way of life.

Manchester in Days Gone By

Among the unusual mementoes displayed at a program for members of the Manchester Historical Society was a massive plaque of hand-carved oak bearing the coat of arms of Manchester, England.

Now kept at Latta Junior Museum, the plaque is normally relegated to a basement storage area because of its size and the museum's lack of space. But its momentary elevation to prominence at the historical society's program recalled for many residents a proud and exciting chapter in this Manchester's past.

The occasion of its presentation to the town nearly 37 years ago was a visit to these shores by the Hon. George Franks Pitt, Manchester, England, Lord Mayor, his wife, the Lady Mayress Alice Pitt; and a contingent of officials from one of England's, and the world's, great industrial and commercial areas.

The Britten's visit here, on Oct. 13, 1931, came on a blue-ribbon autumn day in a 10-hour whirlwind tour and a round of parades, feasting and speaking which probably unparalleled in our history.

The oak seal of the City of Manchester, England.

The plaque, symbolic of that visit, was presented by Lord Mayor Pitt at afternoon ceremonies before Ninth District school children at Educational Square.

The plaque proper, measuring 23 inches in height by 29 inches in width, was hand-finished by craftsmen of England's Manchester from a single plank of oak said to be between 400 and 600 years old when cut. It is surrounded by an ornate frame, carved also from oak, and the entire piece is in its natural, unvarnished state.

Today the plaque remains as the sole reminder of that visit, whose purpose was to stimulate trade relations between American cities and Manchester—an industrial and cotton center of the nearly 700,000.

Coming as it did during the depths of the Depression years to this leading center of the U.S. silk industry (population: 22,000) the visit by officials from "Mother Manchester" must have appeared like a gem by which the sun shined through the despair of the time.

Oct. 13, 1931, was a time when both optimism and action were needed. It was nearly 13 years after the Great War (to end all wars) and two years after the Great Stock Market Crash of Oct. 29, 1929, which ushered in America's darkest economic era.

President Herbert Hoover, in the third year of his term, was still trying to get things humming again by application of the "trickle-down" theory—supplying indirect government aid to stimulate business, in hopes of increasing prosperity.

And in Manchester, the silk City—not yet the City of Pillsbury Churn—times were also harder than usual.

By 1931, Cheney Brothers, the town's dominant industry, had had to tighten its employe rolls to 3,500—some 1,800 workers fewer than in 1929.

Any wonder, then, that the impending visit by the Lord Mayor and his party would be anticipated with boundless optimism—almost reverence—by this small community, not yet 110 years of age?

New accounts of the day leave little doubt that the town favored the visit to merit the yet 110 years of age.

Brilliant Banquet Given Lord Mayor said the headline emphasized on The Herald's front page for Oct. 14, in noting the climactic event at the Masonic Temple, described as follows:

"Manchester relaxed today contented that its fine traditions"

"Parade, formed at the Depot for the train's arrival from Williamantic, had to march hurriedly to the Center under Marshall Harry B. Bissell when word was phoned to Manchester that the guests of honor had arrived at the wrong connections at Boston.

Because of the mistake, the Lord Mayor's party arrived in Hartford about noon, where they were met by Holl and other members of the reception committee and driven to town through East Hartford and Burnside under a State Police motorcycle escort.

In the meantime, the parade contingents had marched to the Center and been assigned stations for the official greetings.

Monsieur Yves Commandant, British War Veterans of the town, served as the guard of honor and lined the walk of the Municipal Building as an estimated 5,000 on-lookers crowded the lawn and overflowed to the Center Church property and the south side of Center St. to await the arrival.

"At 12:30 the party was seen approaching from the direction of Hartford," reported The Herald. "The huge crowd was alive with excitement, the thousands crowding into a solid mass."

to get a closer view of the arrival of the party."

"Chairman Edward J. Holl was the first to alight, followed by the Lady Mayresses, Alice Pitt, and the Lord Mayor.

"While the visitors were in the Municipal Building donating the official robes of office, Ambassador Paul Lucas of WTIC made final check on the broadcast arrangement.

of completing its tasks in the most commendable manner had been carried out to the letter here yesterday by the reception to the Lord Mayor of Manchester, England, and his civic party.

"Crowded into 10 hours," the account went on, "was celebration enough to provide a week of festivity at the usual pace."

Members of the Lord Mayor's party and the town's committee were tired last night when the last act of greeting had been done, but all were happy and pleased at the great success of the venture.

The banquet "proved to be one of the most distinguished gatherings Manchester has ever hosted to in a great many years."

The Herald—"and some even asserted that it surpassed anything in Manchester's history for brilliancy.

"The number attending just about filled the Masonic Temple banquet hall, 228 plates being served."

The day's visit, like the banquet, had been planned for months and was under the general chairmanship of Edward J. Holl, local real estate developer whose birthplace was in the Manchester district of England.

The arrival of the official party, which has been scheduled for late morning at the railroad depot in North Manchester, seems to have been subject to the only mishap of a day that otherwise appeared as bright as the skies.

"Suspended halfway down his back was the same silver chain, adorned in the same manner, making a beautiful and impressive sight. A feathered, velvet cap rested on the head of the distinguished overseas city official."

In his reply, the Lord Mayor said he was "profoundly touched with the love and gratitude that the American Mancheters have shown toward the Mother Manchester."

Center Church Seeks 'Guards' Rob Three Years' Funds

Center Congregational Church is organizing a "Combined Fund Campaign" for a united budget to cover general operation costs, renovation and debt reduction over a three-year period. The goal of the fund drive is understood to be about a quarter of a million dollars.

Last year the church was forced to undertake emergency repairs on its steeple, the tower, and the eaves of its wooden sanctuary. More than $40,000 was expended for repairs. The job lasted until the cold weather and will be completed this spring when the painting and re-roofing is complete in the church.

The Rev. Joseph R. Swain of Church Fund Raising, Inc., P.O. Box 117, Manchester, is director of the fund drive. He will be assisted by church laymen.

Members of a steering committee include Paul Lewis, chairman; Charles Baxter, vice chairman; William Belmore, John Bowen, Theodore Blakeley II, Raymond Halsted, Willard Hillier Jr., Alan Larkin, Norman Hohenbahl, Dr. Samuel Pond, W. Bruce Spencer, Stacie Wood and the Rev. Kenneth W. Steers, ex officio.

A Loyalty Dinner for all adult members of the parish will be held Thursday, May 23 at 7 p.m. at Flano's Restaurant. Baxter, the initial gifts chairman, and his committee will solicit members of the canvass organization, which will exceed 100, before the dinner.

Robert Franklin, canvass committee chairman, will oversee the work of special gifts, initial gifts and teams. Allan Cone, teams committee chairman, will direct the activities of five divisions and 20 teams.

Division leaders are Raymond Halsted, H. Burton Hookey, Norman Hohenbahl, W. Bruce Spencer and John Steavy.

Alan Larkin will serve as treasurer of the event, and Robert McComb Jr. will be the auditor.

Division captains are William Belmore, Chester Kimball, Stacie Wood, Thayer Brown, William Belmore, Allen Bourn, Eric Hohenbahl, Harry Malmsten, Hayden Griswold, Stephen Turkington, Ernest Aldrich, Earl Bissell, Ernest Cox, and Richard Thomas.

The first meeting of the full canvass committee took place last week. Those participating in the canvass will be trained before the Loyalty Dinner.

Besides emergency alterations and repairs to the church last fall a new study was completed for the Rev. Mr. Steers. A new library-meeting room is being constructed now and is adjacent to the church office. Future plans include painting of the interior rooms of the parish house and the completion of the exterior of the sanctuary building.

Bank in N.Y. Of $198,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Two men wearing uniforms of Wells Fargo armored car guards appeared at the branch of the First National City Bank in Brooklyn out of $198,000 in cash Tuesday.

Police said it worked this way: One of the two phony guards filled out a voucher for a pickup of funds—a standard procedure—and handed it to head teller Alfredo Igitias. He put the money in a large canvas bag and the two "guards" toted it out of the bank.

Three hours later, two bona fide Wells Fargo armored car guards appeared at the branch of the First National City Bank to collect the money.

This caused all-around surprise, and police and the FBI were notified.

It was the second big bank loss in the city within a few days.

Last weekend, burglars drilled through the front of a steel safe and made off with $25,000 from a branch of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. in Manhattan.

Vernon Flag Sprayer Given Nolle

James Burrows, 18, of 64 Prospect St., who was arrested last month for spraying paint on an American flag, had the charges nolle by Judge Max Reicher in Circuit Court 12 yesterday.

Burrows was charged with misuse of the flag, breach of the peace, resisting arrest and refusing to be fingerprinted. He was taken to Norwich State Hospital for observation following his arrest.

The charges were nolle with the understanding that the youth will receive medical treatment.

Ralph H. Meyers, 18, of Roberts Rd., was sentenced to 90 days in state jail on each of two counts of taking a motor vehicle without the owner's permission and 30 days for operating under suspension.

Sentences were ordered to run concurrently and to be suspended after Meyers has served 180 days. He was originally ordered to an indeterminate term at the state reformatory last June.

The request to send him to jail, rather than to the reformatory, was made by his attorney.

Two other Rockville youths pleaded innocent, waived examination and were bound over to Toland County Superior Court on several charges.

Paul Frachnick, 18, of 84 Grove St., and James Pagan, 23, South St., were each charged with two counts of breaking and entering with criminal intent, having over $200 and that of a motor vehicle.

The arrests stemmed from incidents in Vernon and Somers. Charges of speeding were changed to failure to obey state traffic commission signs in the following cases which were disposed of as follows: Glen C. Dow Jr., 33, 227; Ronald Duden, 17, 230; Shirley Parnham, 29, 100; Gaudrean, 27; Joseph Kaminsky, 30, all from Somers; Sean Murray, 27, 28; Joseph J. Zaccaro, 36, Hazardville, 25, and Claudia Adams, Ellington, 30, with 113 omitted and a fine of $15 plus 2 per cent of its steel.

Cancelled

Tomorrow night's Board of Directors' committee session has been cancelled and has been rescheduled for May 22, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., in the town council's office in the Municipal Building.

The cancellation is because of previous commitments by the directors.

and Frank, 18, Somers, 23; Saul Pironone, Springfield, Mass., 23; and John Taylor, 20, Somers, 23.

Other cases disposed of: George W. Cooney, 46, South Windsor, intoxication, $15; Henry F. Glode, 27, Tolland Tpk., Manchester, breaking and entering without permission, nolle; and breach of the peace by assault, $50; Roger D. Gassit, 31, Montauk Dr., branch of peace, nolle; and Larry R. Hyatt, 34, Laurel St., two counts each of breach of peace with 30 days on each suspended, to run concurrently.

Also, Gary W. Johnson, Vernon, unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle, $18; Evelyn L. Martin, 108 W. Main St., failure to drive reasonable distance apart, $20; James L. Pratt, 23, Stafford Springs, unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle, nolle; Joyce W. Badlak, 34 Country Lane, unsafe turn, nolle; and Ernest E. Whipple, 40, Coventry, improper passing, $27.

FREE PORT LAWS
CHICAGO (AP)—In-transit property now is protected by "free port" laws in 36 states from property tax assessment. The net effect is to eliminate double taxation on firms selling imported goods not only with the post-tax law authority, said the free and shipping goods across the country. Without such laws, companies selling and shipping goods across state lines are possible of multistate property taxes. Several states require that goods must be stored in a public facility before the rules apply.

Two Masons Honored for 50 Years' Membership

Two members of Manchester Lodge of Masons last night were presented pins marking 50 years membership in the Masonic fraternity. The presentations were made during the annual inspection by District 9 Deputy Clarence R. Smith of Tolland, here joining Albert F. Knoda. The other 50-year member is Willard J. Horton. Witnessing the presentation are William Reichert, left, master of the lodge; and Edward Gobell of Windsor, right, who is the associate grand marshal for District 9.

Vernon Man, 74, Is Found Dead

VERNON — Louis E. Benton, 74, was found dead at his home early last night by Vernon police. Dr. Francis H. Burke, medical examiner, said death was due to natural causes.

The police started an investigation when informed by neighbors that they had not seen Benton since Friday and they had become concerned. Going to the Benton home, police removed a screen from a window, entered and found his body. He is believed to have been dead since Friday.

Mr. Benton was born Sept. 8, 1893 in Vernon, son of Daniel and Frank Ella Rounds Benton, and had lived in Vernon all of his life. Before he retired he was employed for many years as a linotype operator at William H. Lockwood and Son, Hartford, and in the U. S. Army Veterans of World War I.

Survivors include a daughter, Lester Benton of South Willington, and a sister, Mrs. Martin M. Reiske of Rockville.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Ladd Funeral Home, 19 Ellington Ave., Rockville. The Rev. William E. Conklin, pastor of Rockville Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery.

There will be no calling hours. The family suggests that those wishing to do so make memorial contributions to the Heart Fund.

The ousted teachers, said: "The community group in Brownsville has taken an action that is beyond the law. It will, of course, support the Board of Education and the superintendent in what they ask for police assistance."

Earlier, Albert Shanker, president of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, had charged the mayor with failing to back the teachers.

Rhody McCoy, a Negro who heads the local governing board of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville School Demonstration District, declared: "The community is resolved that it will control its schools. Nothing else matters at this point."

The district is one of three set up by the Board of Education and financed by the Ford Foundation. The eight schools have a combined enrollment of 6,000 pupils, mostly Negroes. The majority of their 500 teachers are white.

In firing the 19 educators—including one Negro—the local board did not make public any specific charges or file formal complaints in accordance with the standard procedure in the school system.

The dispute is the latest clash in a continuing battle over decentralization of the 1.1-million-pupil public school system—the largest in the nation.

If the city breaks up its school system into about 15 autonomous or semi-autonomous districts it would qualify for an added $100 million in state school aid.

The Board of Education opposed the decentralization plan while Lindsay is attempting to get the state legislature to pass a strong decentralization measure.

Although the dismissals involved educators at six schools, J.H.S. 271 has emerged as the symbol of the controversy as the local board wages a struggle for power with the Board of Education.

Lindsay referred to that struggle in his statement backing the teachers. He called on the board of education for greater understanding of the cause of the deep community frustrations that have led to the present situation."

Seventy Congressmen Hear 'Poor' Demands

Javits said estimates of the cost of the massive anti-poverty efforts sought by the campaign ranged as high as $30 billion, but stressed that this was little more than imprecise and uncertain speculation.

Among those also attending the meeting, congressional staff members said, were Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Fred T. Harris, D-Okla., and Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., said those attending the meeting would continue to be the "poor people's campaign."

He said, "The great rank and file of congressmen and senators from whom we must get votes were totally absent."

Hawkins, a Negro, said, "A majority of the congressmen today would be opposed to the march if the vote could be taken on that point."

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and the joint House-Senate committee was being created to meet with campaign leaders on a weekly basis.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he hoped it would not be necessary to "rush home" in order for Congress to meet what he called long neglected needs.

Lower Draft Calls Announced by U.S.

The Pentagon announced that the projection of manpower attrition from the Army normally is subject to some margin of error.

Draft inductions are calculated to fill the gap between voluntary enlistments and projected manpower needs.

The Army has relied heavily on the draft, the Marines have drawn on it occasionally. The U.S. Air Force manages to fill its needs by voluntary enlistments.

The monthly draft calls for 1968 so far:

January	34,000
February	23,000
March	11,000
April	45,000
May	45,000
June	20,000
July	15,000

Settlement of the affairs of South Vietnam by its own people.

Eventual reunification of North and South by peaceful means.

Respect for the military agreements of the 1954 Geneva accords.

Harrison accused the North of aggression in the South—a charge which a Northern spokesman told newsmen was "defamatory—no new elements, in a sense favorable to peace."

He accused the United States of clinging to aggressive intentions, distorting facts and trying to deceive world opinion.

Harrison said: "The many violations of the Geneva accords, one stands out in its callousness and disregard for the innocent men, women and children who wish to live their lives in peace in the South—that is the relentless and ruthless acts of terror by North Vietnam and by its agents in the South against the civilian population."

"At this very moment, terror attacks directed against the innocent civilians of Saigon are taking place."

Harrison said introduction of regular North Vietnamese army units preceded introduction of U.S. troops and the South Vietnam campaign against the North, both in 1960.

"As regards to the situation in Laos, the responsibility for its deterioration falls clearly on the shoulders of Hanoi," Harrison declared. "The North Vietnamese did not observe their obligations under the 1962 agreements and it seems clear that they never intended to."

Education Board to Return $25,000 Surplus to Town

The Board of Education last night voted to return the amount of $25,000 to the town at the end of the school year.

The surplus is a result of the school system budget in 1967-68, which was $1,000,000 less than the amount of the town's contribution.

The board approved the payment of bills totaling $1,161,144 as reported by Superintendent Charles W. Warner.

Schools in South Windsor will be closed on May 31, 1968.

The drive, of which Danny Thomas is national chairman, is being conducted this month throughout the country. A party for workers in the Hartford area will be held at the Bushnell Memorial in Hartford after the conclusion of the drive.

Vandals Wreck Print Shop, Owners Offer $100 Reward

A $100 reward has been offered by Mrs. Peter Camposo, owner of the Camposo Printing Co., 8 S. Main St., for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the vandals responsible for breaking into her establishment between Saturday night and Tuesday morning.

Police said the building was entered through a smashed front window and the vandals then proceeded to ransack the place, scattering paper stock all over the floor, along with the company's records, sets of metal type and other items.

The Alford Printing Company, 878 W. Middle Type, was also broken into last night, with thieves gaining entry by smashing a window on the East side.

Estimates of up to $100,000 have been made to restore the shop to its proper order, which includes the replacement of damaged stock such as chipped lead type and reams of paper.

Once inside they pried open two vending machines, taking an undetermined amount of change and attempted to open two more without success.

They then proceeded to ransack the contents of desks and filing cabinets on the floor and taking change from several of the drawers.

Coventry Rescuers Find Boys in Woods

Two three-year-old boys who wandered off into the woods Tuesday afternoon were found by rescuers in Coventry.

The boys were found in the woods near the intersection of Routes 88 and 202, about 1.5 miles from the town center.

The search was started by Police Chief Eugene Maynard and the police were later joined by the Eagleville and the North Coventry fire departments.

The boys had wandered about a quarter of a mile down a wooded path toward Twin Hills Rd. They were both frightened, scratched and mosquito bitten, but otherwise unharmed.

Sex Life of Elderly Is Book Subject

By KAY HARTLEY Associated Press Writer MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The wags said "Sex and the Senior Citizen" would be the silliest book ever written...

"We didn't want people to think we were just writing a sex book," explained Mrs. Revy Whyte.

"It's amazing the things these people told us," she said. "They told us things they wouldn't tell their children."

Mrs. Wilker, 40, a local newspaper columnist, and Mrs. Peg Savage, 60-year-old city editor of the Miami Beach Reporter, said they interviewed over 1,000 elderly during a 10-year period.

"We showed up at the senior citizens centers so often that people thought we were out to pick up a nice sugar daddy at first," said Mrs. Grey, a divorcee with one child.

One section of the book contains interviews with members of the Medicare set who decided it was cheaper to live in an institution than get remarried.

Meyer and Jennie, for instance, were awakened by a telephone call one night. It was Jennie's daughter, calling from the airport, and on her way to visit mama.

"And don't forget your teeth. They're in the bathroom in the 'The Herring' job."

The authors dispute claims that marriage after 70 or 75 is solely for companionship.

"Sex is a very important factor," said Mrs. Grey. "And sometimes they get divorced on the grounds of frigidity and adultery."

The authors claim those living together are discreet and their friends are tolerant.

"They feel it could happen to me," said Mrs. Wilker, who once ran for the Miami City Council on a senior citizens ticket.

"The book, which lists widows and widowers here to catch second mates as well as how to hold one, is not academic, but the authors say it could be used as a basis for a scientific study."

"I have 1,000 index cards with sex habits of people in the 70s and even 80s," said Mrs. Wilker. "A doctor is welcome to my files to do a scientific study."

Saddlemaker Recalls Real Use of Guns CAWICER CITY, Kan. (AP) Clifford Coad, 81, saddlemaker and one-time deputy U.S. marshal in his northern Kansas area, says the cowboy had many reasons for carrying a gun.

"It was at Woodston," Coad said, "that I was a deputy U.S. marshal. In those days I always carried a revolver, but it was mostly because of the 'ornery' rougher cattle we raised."

"If one got too saasy, it was sent up to the chuck wagon."

Coad is at work in his shop daily. His saddles are marked by an unusual length and depth which allow the rider's weight to be distributed over a wider area on the horse's back.

"Coad's shop is distinguished by a number of old saddles, one made by a John J. Jeny at Hutchinson, Va., more than 120 years ago; a number of U.S. Cavalry remount saddles; and his pride, a Texas Ranger saddle used by famed Ranger Zao Taylor.

The Ranger saddle was an uncomfortable affair, Coad said. It came equipped with a bare hickory-covered saddle tree with stirrups hung from straps suspended from the tree. There were no skirts on the saddle and the seat was a small leather pad.

"They just laid it across the saddle. If they were left-handed, the musket pointed right, and right-handed to the left."

Vernon CofC Names Panel to Study Ways to Control Solicitation

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of its president, Donald Morrison, has authorized a study to determine the best way to control solicitation in the town.

The board also heard a report from Ralph Lipman, chairman of the current membership drive. Lipman had contacted his committee to at least 40 new memberships and an additional $2,000 in dues.

we care how many ribs in a pork loin rib portion?

We think there should be seven. Not four, five or six. How can you tell how many ribs you're getting? It's easy. With your fingers, you can feel and count the rib bones in the package.

Next time you're buying a Pork Loin Rib Portion, check it. If you can't count one, two, three, four, five, six, seven ribs, you're missing select meat. You're not getting the best value for your meat dollar.

Seven-Rib Pork Loin Portions are just one example of the full value A&P meats offer.

We think that caring like this about fair portions has helped make A&P America's largest meat retailer.

When you think about it, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Drug Helps Addicts Kick Heroin Use

By RUDY ABRAMSON The Los Angeles Times WASHINGTON — A Rockefeller University physical said he has returned 700 hard-core heroin addicts to useful lives by using another drug which blocks their desire for heroin and makes them immune to its effects if they do take it.

These patients are now employed, supporting their families, and are able to walk by the narcotics pushers with money in their pockets," Dr. Vincent P. Dole told a symposium at the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

In addition to the 700 patients now under treatment, Dole said he has a waiting list of 600 addicts. Physicians in a dozen other medical centers are also trying the treatment under which patients are given a daily dose of a drug called methadone.

Methadone is itself classified as a narcotic. But the dose level being used "does not produce euphoria, or tranquility, or any other heroin-like sensation," Dole said. Nevertheless, Dole said, the Federal Bureau of Narcotics has not approved clinical use of methadone, and even told his pharmacist not to fill prescriptions he had given addicts for it.

He conceded at a news conference that methadone has the potential for abuse, but he said it produces a narcotic effect only when it is taken irregularly and in large amounts. In his treatment program, Dole has started addicts off on methadone when they are hospitalized. When they are able to leave the hospital, they continue taking the drug each morning with fruit juice.

It has the effect of blocking an addict's desire for heroin-induced euphoria, he said. Patients who have taken heroin while taking methadone, he said, received no noticeable effect.

A large number of our patients with histories of intractable addiction have stopped the use of heroin without taking even a single test dose after coming on the methadone program," he said. "Some of these patients, prior to treatment, had been unable to remain for as long as a week in the community without relapsing to heroin."

About 10 per cent of the patients in Dole's program have been dropped because of other nearby all of these returned to heroin addiction, he said. Almost 100 per cent of the patients who have stayed in his program have stayed away from heroin, Dole said.

Dole estimated that about 1,000 "patient years" of experience have been accumulated with methadone. He said this is sufficient experience to consider the drug a form of an experiment.

He recommended that it use now become more widely available, beginning with hospitals and medical centers.

Methadone has been a relatively well-known drug for two decades. It has been used at the addiction research center at Lexington, Ky., to help withdraw addicts from narcotics, but the center has not used it to keep patients free of addiction.

Dr. William R. Martin of the Addiction Research Center said there are reservations about methadone because "I don't think we know the long-term consequences."

Dole said his first 500 patients have been on methadone for periods ranging from a year to four and a half years. The treatment cost is about $5 per day.

Mail Order Lingerie Is A Business

By AP NEWSFEATURES If it weren't for a stroke suffered 10 years ago, Mrs. Van Davis Odell of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., wouldn't be the successful businesswoman she is today.

One of the big problems of her illness was the usually simple operation of dressing. Mrs. Odell discovered that one good hand wasn't enough to fasten herself into her bra, girdle or garter belt. Then she learned that no garments existed that were designed specifically to make life easier for the nation's 11 million handicapped women.

VC Attack Green Beret Camp Site

(Continued from Page One) Forces camp, near the Laotian border and about 300 miles to the north, which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces abandoned Sunday under attack by an estimated 5,000 North Vietnamese troops.

VC Attack Green Beret Camp Site

One attack was made when commencing Martha Raye was visiting the camp last year. She was whisked out by helicopter and was not hurt. Government sources reported today that at least 180 South Vietnamese troops and members of their families were killed during the North Vietnameses seizure of the Khan Duc Special Forces camp.

Two companies of Viet Cong troops have been reported holed up in caves on the mountain side for several years. The attack Monday was the heaviest since the camp was built in 1964, the U.S. Command said. One attack was made when commencing Martha Raye was visiting the camp last year. Three Viet Cong-infested villages four miles west of Saigon. It said anyone going out of doors risks being shot. The South Vietnamese government released two Viet Cong prisoners from a prison camp in return for the Viet Cong's release of two American servicemen on Jan. 23. The two Americans, both Puerto Ricans, were Marine Capt. Jose Agosto Santos, 22, of Aguas Buenas, captured May 14, 1967, and Army Pfc. Luis Ortiz, 23, of Rio Piedras, captured Dec. 24, 1966. The government of G. Dinh Province, which surrounds the capital, announced that a 24-San Juan suburb, captured Dec. 24, 1966, remains in effect in that area.

$2 Million Budget Approved; Tax Rate Rises by Five Mills

Those attending last night's annual town meeting approved the proposed budget of $2,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1968, a five-mill increase over the present $1-million rate.

The 150 persons attending the meeting heard Town Council Deducting estimated revenue of $697,000 and estimated expenditures of $1,400,000, a total of $1,703,000 is left to be raised by taxation, according to Finance Board Chairman Howard Wolfanger explained during the annual town meeting and the passage of the budget without public comment. In a marked departure from the annual town meetings experienced by the town in the past, particularly last year, about 1,500 people attended the annual town meeting, with discussion going on until the small hours of the morning.

The Boys League Opening Ceremonies Sunday afternoon will feature not only a parade but also a "bumble bee" parade. The parade will start at 10:30 a.m. and will conclude at 1:30 p.m. The parade will be held on the route from the town hall to the Hills Park field, where the opening ceremonies will be held.

The opening game between last year's league champs the Cardinals and the second place Indians will begin at 2:30. The Tolland Boys League Auxiliary will sell hot dogs and soda, candy and chips for the opening day during game through the season. Boys League officials extended their gratitude to Donald Crawford and Stan Johnson for their assistance in arranging the parade.

Tomorrow's Project Challenge will be devoted to all local projects. The program will begin at 7 p.m. in St. Matthew's Parish Center, with a discussion of the "Physical Nature of Man and Woman," followed by supper and recreation.

The annual parade will be held at 1 p.m. starting at St. Matthew's Parking lot and down Tolland Green and Old Post Rd. to the Hills Park field, where the opening ceremonies will be held.

Firemen Buy Pickup Truck

Enlarged facilities at the Volunteer Fire Department indicated a need for a new vehicle for town protection and the department is now the proud owner of a four-wheel drive power wagon. The new truck will replace the pickup truck donated by Mr. Edwin St. Hills two years ago.

The truck has an electronic alarm which can be switched to a 100 watt amplifier public address system. The two-way radio and warning lights were transferred from the old service truck. John Sullivan, civil defense director, donated a heavy duty hook from an old radio truck so the large emergency generator can be transported. The old fire truck, which was donated to the town, will be used by the dog warden, according to selection.

The Rev. James Williamson, deacon assistant at St. Columba's Catholic Church in Norwich, will say a special Mass at St. Columba's Church tonight at 7 p.m. Father Williamson is a nephew of Mrs. Harry Chalmers of Old William Rd. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beckwith of Norwich. Father Williamson served as the deacon of the Mass.

Delinquent Tax Mrs. Ermilia Lowman, tax collector, says there are 50 automobile taxes which are delinquent and must be paid before the car owner can renew his registration. Mrs. Lowman reports that a total of $67,943 have been paid, amounting to some 86 per cent of the total. Delinquent taxes are subject to a penalty of one half of one per cent per month on the unpaid balance.

MRS. WILLIAM HARRY CRAFT

Miss Donna Jean Linderson and William Henry Craft, both of Coventry, exchanged vows Saturday morning at the Second Congregational Church, North Coventry.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Linderson Jr. of Waterfront Park. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Craft of Mark Dr.

The Rev. Robert Bechtold of First Congregational Church, assisted by the Rev. James Ameling of North Branford, performed the double-ring ceremony. Mr. Craft, a graduate of the University of Connecticut, and Mrs. Linderson were a powder blue dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with a blue tie.

A reception for 100 was held at the Franco-American Club, West Hartford. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bridesmaids and groomsmen.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of white lace, fashioned with empire bodice, jabot sleeves trimmed with red tulle, a long train and chapel-length train. Her bouffant veil of all silk was arranged from a floral cluster and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

Miss Darlene A. Linderson of Coventry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a full-length yellow chiffon gown designed with empire bodice, short puffed sleeves and a line skirt. She wore a floral cluster headpiece with veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pamela Linderson, sister of the bride; Miss Carol Craft, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Cheryl Feuerman and Miss Kathleen Cooper, all of Coventry.

They were blue chiffon and white green chiffon gowns styled to match the honor attendants' and floral clusters. The bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

Miss Christina Mearley of Coventry was flower girl. She wore a yellow chiffon dress, and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

The couple will live in Kanana City, Mo., where they are students at the Kansas City Art Institute.

I Think I'm Finally in the Groove' Yaz on Batting Tear

BOSTON (AP)—A tremendous surge has finally carried Carl Yastrzemski over the .300 mark for the first time since opening day and the slugging Boston Red Sox left fielder intends to stay there.

Yastrzemski's hit—a double—was the first of his perfect 3-for-3 night led the Red Sox to a 5-1 inning victory over the Washington Senators Tuesday night.

End of Line for Yaz as He Hits for Lengthy Coaching Career of Both Rival Instructors

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Today's Harvard-Yale baseball game marks the end of line for the lengthy coaching careers of both rival instructors.

The retirement of Eban Allen who has led the Ells for the past 25 seasons, was announced Tuesday night to be effective after today's game.

Dark, Hunter Exit Early But Endings Are Perfect

NEW YORK (AP)—Oakland pitcher Catfish Hunter and Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark were far from perfect Tuesday night.

Dark was thrown out by umpire Bill Valentine for protesting two called balls as the sliding Indians beat the New York Yankees 4-2 for their fifth straight victory and 11th in the last 12 games.

Each Notch Fourth Win In National

NEW YORK (AP)—Nolan Ryan and Ron Reed are having the time of their young lives, throwing smoke past National League hitters.

Old pro Don Drysdale is throwing smoke for survival. Ryan, the New York Mets rookie sensation, and Reed, Atlanta's first-year flash, each slipped to his fourth victory of the season Tuesday night.

Little League's Open Sunday

Little League baseball season gets underway Sunday afternoon with three doubleheaders in each of the three circuits.

Unhappy on the sidelines is Bill Brainard, popular local umpire for more than 30 years.

Unusual Clubhouse Visit by Met Owner

NEW YORK (AP)—Nolan Ryan set a New York Mets strikeout record, but for a couple of minutes he was regaled by the club owner, Mrs. Joan Payson, who made baseball history of a sort.

Moments after the Mets had registered a 2-2 victory over Cincinnati Reds Tuesday night—Ryan striking out 14 batters—they trooped happily back into the clubhouse to find a woman!

Purse Snatched From Woman Walking Tracks

A Manchester woman was assaulted by a purse snatcher while she was walking to work along the railroad tracks near Little St. yesterday afternoon. Police said the woman, who remains unidentified, was walking the tracks along the three-quarter-of-a-mile distance from her residence in the Laurel St. area, to work in the vicinity of Middle Types as she does every day, when she observed a man running toward her along the tracks.

When the man reached her, he snatched her in the jaw, knocking her off her feet and fled with the woman's purse containing an undetermined amount of cash, assorted credit cards and personal papers.

The incident occurred at approximately 2:08 p.m.

Police Arrests

James J. Pignetti, 17, of 31 Branch Dr., East Hartford, was charged with operating a motor driven cycle without a proper license yesterday at 9:25 p.m. He also received written warnings for driving with excessive speed and for failure to use a protective eye covering. He will appear in Manchester Circuit Court 12 May 27.

James J. Perkins, 20, of 17 Summit St., was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a defective muffler system yesterday at 8:50 p.m. and will appear in court May 27.

Thieves Take Mower Parts, Bowling Gear

Reports of two minor thefts were received by Manchester police yesterday. A power lawn mower, valued at $50 was stripped of most of its parts Monday evening while stored in the back yard of Burton Treadler, 118 Oakland St. A bowling ball, bag, and a pair of bowling shoes were taken from the back seat of a car owned by Mrs. Walter Pagan, 45 Kane Rd. yesterday evening. The car was parked in the Pagan's driveway when the theft occurred. A witness saw some boys loitering around the car, worth about $35 were taken.

State News Deaths Of Sisters Probed

GLASTONBURY (AP) — Police continued their investigation today into the deaths of two small girls whose aunt found their bodies in two bathrooms in their home.

Coroner Irving A. Aronson was awaiting results of autopsies on the bodies of the two, Lynn Ferrari, 5, and Lisa Ferrari, 6. They were found early Wednesday.

Their mother, Mrs. Paul Ferrari, 38, was found wandering around the house in a dazed condition, police said.

She was taken to Hartford Hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to Norwich State Hospital.

A neighbor told police Lynn visited her late mother and said her mother complained that her neck and the top of her head ached.

At about 8 a.m. Wednesday, Mrs. Ferrari phoned her mother, police said.

The mother, who turned the phone over to another daughter, who went to the Ferrari home, found the bodies, and called police.

Early Class Dismissals NEW HAVEN (AP) — Early dismissals from classes were ordered by the state education department Friday for pupils at Lee High School in the effort to prevent racial disturbances.

School officials decided on a 1 p.m. dismissal for the remainder of the week, following a disturbance at the school Tuesday.

The classes were cut short Wednesday to eliminate the lunch period and prevent a recurrence of the Tuesday incident in which five young people were slightly injured and one youth was arrested. The incident Tuesday occurred during the lunch period.

State Funds Ruling HARTFORD (AP) — State funds can't be used to pay for a summer Negro voter registration drive sponsored by a local antipolity agency, it has been ruled.

State Atty. Gen. Robert K. Kilian made the ruling Wednesday.

The program was designed "to locate and register a minimum of 100 new Negro voters," using 50 youths between the ages of 16 and 20 and another 20 young people between the ages of 21 and 26 as recruiters over a 10-week period.

Kilian declared: "A project whose stated objective is to limit its scope to one racial group and to recruit only one racial group is not a public program and consequently would not constitute an attack on poverty and consequently would not be eligible for the state's financial assistance."

Crash Kills Teen FARMINGTON (AP) — A car swerved off Mountain Road and crashed into a telephone pole Wednesday night, taking the life of one teen-ager and injuring another.

Dead was Frank Andri Jr., 17, of Farmington. Seriously hurt in the mishap was George Brydon, 15, of Unionville.

Woman Editor Dies WESTPORT (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Choate Darnon, former women's news editor of the New York Times, is dead at 61.

Mrs. Darnon, who held the women's editor post at the Times from 1941 to 1945, died Tuesday night of cancer at the Westport Manor Convalescent Home.

After leaving the Times, she was a co-founder, president and secretary of the Women's National News Service, where she served until 1964. She was editor of Parade magazine in 1964-65.

Welfare Probe Set HARTFORD (AP) — Charges against the Welfare Department made by Hartford and Waterbury welfare workers will be investigated by state Welfare Commissioner Bernard Shapiro.

He announced his investigation Wednesday.

"I am deeply concerned about all our welfare recipients," said Shapiro, "and will investigate any and all complaints."

The complaints alleged neglectful day care workers, arbitrary rents for substandard housing, lack of Spanish-speaking case workers and a poor quality of case workers.

Tornadoes Belt Midsection of Nation

At dusk scattering homes like dominoes. Arkansas State Police reported 10 dead at the little town of Oil Trough, a community of 236 residents, which, eyewitnesses said was virtually destroyed. Three died at Mountain Home and two were killed at Tucker, Man, all within 100 miles of Jonesboro.

The trail of tornadoes — the Weather Bureau reported more than 30 in a nine-state area from Kansas to Ohio — erupted as a strong cold front clashed with warm, humid temperatures in the mid 80s.

Only an hour later a twister whipped into Oelwein, a miller he mainly aimed at world opinion. But the question of military operations in the area of the zone is critical.

The North Vietnamese have been reported to have entire divisions in that area, operating in the mountainous terrain of North Vietnam's territory. In effect, the United States has maintained for years that its own bombardments into and across the zone and its ground operations there were restricted by North Vietnamese troops at or into the South.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman proposed to Thuy Wednesday that the United States and North Vietnam agree on joint measures to revive the demilitarized zone as a buffer. He said this could be done as "one of the prime steps toward peace in Vietnam."

Police said three bodies had been recovered from the wreckage. The heaviest fighting was around Kontum City where an allied force reported 25 North Vietnamese killed in five hours of action Wednesday during clashes from the canal-banked Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. And today there were reports of more fighting in the Central Highlands on three sides of Kontum, a key provincial capital, and near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country.

The Communist command appeared to be trying to keep up the military pressure by strengthening its bargaining position in the Paris peace talks. It sent troops storming at American and Australian positions and South Vietnamese outposts.

Gold Prices Set New High In London

LONDON (AP) — Gold pushed to a new high of $41.25 an ounce in London today, but most hoarders were simply reeling to sell. They were gambling on a continued steady rise in the price of the metal.

The price on the Paris bullion market shot up to $41.40. "Trading was so restricted that the market was almost nonexistent and the discount continued anything like a gold rush for a time," said Sen. Jacob K. Javits, D-N.Y., said private speculation ranged as high as $40 billion.

Abstractly said he was encouraged and added Congress should not delay action.

"We hope that Congress would see it to move even before all of our poor people are pushed by the extreme price drop of 26 points to $2,387 that began recovering without any help from the Bank would begin 'probably within a few days' of England's reserves.

Near Khe Sanh, North Vietnamese troops fought U.S. Marines from bunkers for 7 1/2 hours. The heaviest fighting was around Kontum City where an allied force reported 25 North Vietnamese killed in five hours of action Wednesday during clashes from the canal-banked Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. And today there were reports of more fighting in the Central Highlands on three sides of Kontum, a key provincial capital, and near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country.

The Communist command appeared to be trying to keep up the military pressure by strengthening its bargaining position in the Paris peace talks. It sent troops storming at American and Australian positions and South Vietnamese outposts.

Two Big Quakes Slam Japan Coast

TOKYO (AP) — Two massive earthquakes, striking 10 hours apart, leveled the waters Pacific and jolted 600 miles of Japan's eastern seaboard today.

The first quake, in midmorning, killed at least 25 persons and caused tidal waves and widespread damage.

The second, of similar size and from the same direction at sea, was recorded in Tokyo at 7:42 p.m.

There was no immediate report of casualties from the second shock, but the Central Meteorological Agency said magnitude of the quake at its epicenter was 7.8, above the seven-point scale used in Japan. It was the strongest quake since the Sept. 1, 1923, tremor that left much of Tokyo and Yokohama in ruins.

The five lives averaged four to five feet, but damage was reduced because they came at low tide.

However, numerous homes and buildings were destroyed, either by the quake or fires that followed it. Hundreds of homes were flooded to floor level or above. Roads were impassable and many bridges collapsed.

Police said three bodies had been recovered from the wreckage. The heaviest fighting was around Kontum City where an allied force reported 25 North Vietnamese killed in five hours of action Wednesday during clashes from the canal-banked Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone.
