

Talks Promised Soon On N-Weapon Cutback

USSR Ready To Extend Ban Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told signers today of a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons that the Soviet Union is ready to hold international talks on banning underground tests, the last remaining area for the trial explosion of atomic arms.

Kosygin said the talks could extend to the ending of nuclear weapons manufacture and the reduction of nuclear stockpiles. He also proposed discussions on "The limitation and subsequent reduction of means of delivery of strategic weapons."

As Kosygin spoke, the Selsmol Institute at Uppsalu, Sweden, registered a strong "underground explosion" in the Soviet Union north of the Caspian Sea. It rated it at 4.6 on the Richter scale.

Kosygin's brief speech came at the nonproliferation treaty signing ceremony here, sponsored by the United States, London and Washington.

The Soviet premier's proposal to talk about reducing the long-range rockets, bombers and submarines which can deliver nuclear bombs was given added urgency by a report from Communist sources in Moscow that Red China has developed its first intercontinental ballistic missile.

Kosygin said the Soviet government sent a memorandum to other governments with nine proposals for disarmament and peaceful cooperation.

The proposals also included prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons, a proposal the Russians have made many times before.

Kosygin said the Soviet Union had proposed that the 17-nation disarmament committee, which is scheduled to meet in Geneva July 17, take up "as a matter of high priority a draft convention on the prohibition of the use" of nuclear weapons.

Vote Admits Rev. Philpot To Lake Use

A 10-year struggle between the Andover Lake Property Owners Association and the Rev. William Philpot came to an end Saturday night as ALPOA members overwhelmingly agreed to accept the Negro minister as a member.

The Rev. Mr. Philpot, residing today at his New Haven church, said he expected to apply shortly. He said he was pleased the lake organization had decided "to become fully American." Membership entitles him to use of the lake and beach.

The 57 to 2 vote Saturday reflected a compromise between ALPOA and Rev. Mr. Philpot in the wake of a Superior Court decision last December. The decision said the minister did not have to belong to ALPOA to use Andover Lake.

The court found that there was an implied easement when the minister purchased the lake property and cottage in 1933 that gave him the right to use the beach and lake. The minister applied for membership in ALPOA in 1958, but was turned down a total of three times: "A two-thirds vote of the membership was needed to become a member."

The Rev. Mr. Philpot charged ALPOA with racial discrimination and the matter went to court.

When the Hartford County Superior Court ruled for the minister, ALPOA decided to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Out-of-court negotiations, however, began between attorneys for ALPOA and the minister to settle the matter. ALPOA faced the prospect of having the Supreme Court rule in favor of the minister and leaving more uncertain than ever the status of ALPOA membership in it was no longer necessary to use the lake.

Mrs. Olga Prelezo, told newsmen today that she wanted to visit her pilot husband, George, who is being held in a Cuban jail. Prelezo was arrested by Cuban authorities, as a deserter, after his Southwest Airlines plane was hijacked and flown to Havana. (AP Photofax)

Wife Wants to See Pilot Cubans Hold

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The wife of an American airline pilot held prisoner in a Havana jail pleaded in vain today to fly to Cuba for a visit with her husband.

A substitute pilot went to Cuba early today to return the hijacked airliner, leaving behind Mrs. George Prelezo whose husband was forced at gunpoint by a hijacker to land his plane in Havana Saturday.

Prelezo was immediately arrested by the Cuban government for trial on charges of defecting to the United States eight years ago.

The new pilot, Allen Cribbs, was taken to Varadero, Cuba, aboard an empty, chartered airliner that flies routinely each day to Cuba to pick up refugees.

The Southeast Airline DC8 hijacked over Key West, Fla., Saturday by one of its 15 passengers was to be returned to that city by Cribbs later in the day.

A high immigration official in Miami said it had not been determined if it was coincidence that Prelezo was the pilot of the hijacked airliner or if the plane was diverted to Cuba for the purpose of kidnapping him.

Irvin L. Jones Jr., president of Southeast Airlines, said the Cuban government promised safe return of the plane's other occupants and the other two crew members, identified by the airline only as copilot Dave Martin and Stewardess A. Kimball.

Mrs. Prelezo was dry-eyed but bitter over what she considered a lack of action by the U.S. State Department on behalf of her husband.

As for her request to go to Cuba, a spokesman for the airline said today, "She didn't get the permit so she didn't go."

"I have requested to be on that flight" to Cuba, 33-year-old Olga Prelezo said Sunday. Her husband, naturalized as a U.S. citizen last year, was accused by the Cuban government of being a deserter.

"Since they are leaving my husband there, I see no reason for him to be there alone. I want to be there to plead for him, to do any necessary thing to get him back," Mrs. Prelezo said.

"I beg and demand of the U.S. government to be allowed to travel to Cuba so I can be near my husband," she said.

Prelezo, 38, arrived in Miami June 27, 1960, as the pilot of a regularly scheduled cargo plane from Cuba, his wife said.

and labor upheaval in May, brought an overwhelming response from the middle class. But Pompidou warned that the government still faces "difficulties which are going to be enormous, difficulties that arise from the crisis and which we must now try to overcome."

Student disorders in the Latin Quarter of Paris Saturday and Sunday nights were a reminder of the problems facing the regime.

One of them is reform of the antiquated educational system, promised students after their rebellion in May touched off riots, disorders and three weeks of industrial strikes which paralyzed economic life.

Another major problem is the bill for widespread wage increases granted to end the strikes. The wage hikes also threaten inflation and higher prices which in turn would bring demands for still more in the pay envelopes.

Pompidou and De Gaulle have given no details of their future program to combat these problems. But they did hope that the proportions of the election victory would help restore international confidence in French stability and halt the run on the franc which has been cutting into the government's re-

Lockheed employees line an embankment above the taxiway from the company's test runway as the giant C5A Galaxy taxis toward its parking area followed by a carload of engineers and emergency vehicles. The giant plane had just completed its 90-minute maiden flight over North Georgia.

'World Not Ready'

Giant Plane Passes First Test Flight

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — The successful flight of the world's biggest airplane proves there are practically no limits to construction of bigger planes, says Tom May, president of Lockheed-Georgia Co. But he says the world isn't ready for them.

The C5 Galaxy flew its first test flight Sunday. Although there were minor troubles, the Air Force and Lockheed-Georgia called the flight highly successful.

The C5 is being developed for the Air Force. Basically, it is a military plane, but the design can be changed to make it a commercial airplane.

May said, "we have preliminary plans for airplanes weighing over a million pounds. But it is fairly clear that the world is not quite ready for a commercial airplane of this size."

The C5 will carry 350 troops and all of their equipment. This weighed 497,000 pounds on takeoff but is designed for more than 700,000 pounds.

"We like to talk about a commercial plane similar to the C5 which could carry nearly 1,000 passengers," May said at a news conference, "but the idea of carrying people on the flight deck, and freight in the hold, is extremely attractive to us." May predicted that when the C5 becomes a commercial airplane, it probably will be used first as a freighter.

Future passenger jets will travel at speeds of between 1,500 and 2,000 miles an hour, and May said the relatively slow speed of the C5 would be a handicap in a passenger airplane.

Takeoff speed on the C5 test flight was only 143 miles an hour. Top speed was 230 miles an hour. No effort to reach the maximum of 560 miles an hour was made.

One section of the huge landing gear would not retract, and the plane lost two dust covers from the wheel mounts, which was about like losing the hub caps off an automobile. Lockheed-Georgia spokesmen said both defects were minor.

"Beautifully beautiful," test pilot Leo J. Sullivan radioed the control tower time after time. "We had minimum, minimum problems," Asst. Secretary of the Air Force R. H. Charles hailed the test as a "great day" for the armed services, and the nation. He said the C5 will take "what we need, when we need it, anywhere in the world."

Fifty-eight C5s are scheduled for delivery to the Air Force by 1971 at a cost of $1.8 billion.

MIGs Force Down Liner with GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — An international airport said the airliner carrying 214 U.S. servicemen to Vietnam is being held today on a Soviet island in the Pacific Ocean after being forced to land by MIG fighters.

The chartered DC-8 was on its way to Vietnam from McChord Air Base in Seattle, Wash., Sunday when, the U.S. government said, it strayed off course and was forced to land on Iturup Island, a part of the Kuril chain in the northern Pacific.

The State Department immediately contacted the Soviet embassy in Washington and urged the quick release of the plane, its passengers and the 17 crewmen.

A Japanese Air Force Radar Station said it began tracking the plane at 7:30 p.m. EDT Sunday and warned the pilot he was on a course that would cross the Soviet-held island.

The pilot replied, "We cannot alter our course." Japanese sources said, indicating the plane already was under MIG escort.

The sources said the plane was tracked another five minutes before it disappeared from radar screens at a position about 80 miles south of Iturup Island.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson said in Moscow he was told by Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov the incident is under investigation.

The Pentagon said the pilot of the chartered Seaboard-World Airlines jet, Joseph Tosolini, talked by radio with another American aircraft during the incident.

According to the Pentagon, the pilot of the Seaboard plane reported about 7:20 p.m. that MIG fighters had intercepted him and was forcing him to land at what appeared to be a MIG base on an island.

At 7:39 p.m., the Pentagon said, the Seaboard plane radioed that it had landed without injury to anyone on board and without damage to the plane.

The last transmission was at 7:42 p.m. when the pilot reported he had shut off his engines, the Pentagon said.

The control tower of Tokyo International Airport said the international airport said the airliner reported at 7:17 p.m. "Soviet aircraft are interfering with our flight at 150 degrees east longitude."

Asked what happened, the plane told the control tower: "We are on course and don't know why they are interfering." Five minutes later the airliner radioed: "It looks like we are over Soviet territory."

The Defense Department, in announcing that the plane had been forced to land, said the aircraft, chartered from Seaboard by the Military Airlift Command, had strayed off its course en route to Yokota, Japan.

In New York, headquarters for Seaboard-World, a spokesman for the charter line said the crew had flown the route several times and "we don't see how it could have been done so extraordinary factors."

Seaboard identified the rest of the crew as Henry Treger, copilot; Earl Scott, flight engineer and Lawrence Guernon, navigator.

The plane also carried several in-flight checkers and stewardesses.

The island where the plane landed is part of the Kurile chain, which reaches north from Japan to the Kamchatka Peninsula on the Soviet mainland. The Russians gained control of the islands as part of the settlement of Japanese possessions at the end of World War II.

Several U.S. military planes have been forced to land, particularly by Red China, when it was charged they had violated borders. But there have been no recent incidents of such a nature involving the Soviet Union.

The plane forced down Sunday was on its maiden flight. It had been acquired from Douglas Aircraft Co. June 21.

DARIEN (AP) — "I think my husband is the best navigator in the world, and I can't understand how this could happen," said Mrs. Lawrence Guernon today when questioned about the Soviet seizure of a chartered DC-8 airliner.

Guernon has been a navigator for about 25 years, said his wife, (See Page Twenty-Seven)

Curfew Extended To All Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A curfew virtually sealed off this University of California community during the night after police broke up a mass demonstration, freeing Mayor Walter Johnson from a hostile crowd.

Johnson was pushed and spat upon by some who recognized him after he had gone to the gathering of 1,000 to 1,500 to assess the situation.

It was after his encounter with the crowd at the Civic Center Park about 300 yards from City Hall that the 7 p.m.-to 6 a.m. curfew was extended from a 56-block area to the entire city.

Police arrested 60 to 80 persons on charges ranging from disturbing the peace to looting, resisting arrest and carrying illegal weapons.

There were no reports of injuries during the night but police said 31 demonstrators and 11 officers had been injured on the previous two nights of demonstrations.

The dusk-to-dawn curfew sealed off the community of 120,000 to all except those who could show reason for entering.

Police Chief William Beall said most of those arrested were not from Berkeley and he has no knowledge of students from the University of California at Berkeley were taken into custody.

Police reinforced by 450 state highway patrolmen, with units from nearby cities standing by, broke up a demonstration that had formed at Civic Center just outside the curfew area.

There were no reports of tear gas used, as had been the case in the more violent clashes on Friday and Saturday nights.

Beall said that a number of windows were broken and a few cases of looting were reported after the crowd dispersed.

When this occurred, city officials decided to extend the curfew to cover the entire city, he said.

The city's troubles started Friday night when the Young Socialist Alliance spearheaded a demonstration which it said was, in support of student strikers in France and the rest of Europe and in protest against the Vietnam war and police actions.

Activist Peter Camejo, a former University of California student, said the Saturday rally stemmed from reaction to police clearing the streets after the previous night's demonstration.

Saturday's disturbance was marked by firebombing, rock throwing, window breaking and other vandalism.

Riot-equipped officers moved in with tear gas and cleared the area and arrested 13 persons. The tense situation brought the decision for a curfew, which

Navy Can't Explain

Submarine Contracts Have Identical Price

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has awarded identically priced contracts to two shipyards for six new nuclear attack submarines, each costing about $7 million more than similar subs built in recent years.

While the prices of the contracts are the same—$107.4 million for three submarines from each company—the facts have significantly different terms.

The Navy is at a loss to explain exactly how the identical awards came about but said the different types of contracts would be "mutually beneficial" to both the government and the shipyards.

Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp. and General Dynamics Corp. were signed to build three Sturgeon class nuclear attack submarines in two contracts announced simultaneously as the Navy would buy for the fiscal year ending Sunday at midnight.

Although it wasn't specified in the June 28 announcement, a spokesman said the contract to Ingalls of Pascagoula, Miss., was a "fixed price incentive" award while General Dynamics of Groton, Conn., received merely a letter contract.

This meant, he said, that Ingalls' margin of profit will be higher if it completes the three submarines for $107.4 million or less, than if it exceeds that price.

In the case of General Dynamics, however, the letter contract implies that the $107.4 million is not a fixed cost; rather, "the hope is that we can negotiate a lower price later," the spokesman said.

Pope Wary Of Passion For Changes

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI, expressing disquiet over the "passion for change and novelty" in the Roman Catholic Church, has appealed to believers to abide by church dogma on issues ranging from papal infallibility to original sin.

In his most comprehensive pronouncement on faith, delivered before a large throng in St. Peter's Square Sunday, the pontiff noted unrest in "certain modern quarters" of the church.

To the priests of the world, many of whom "feel that they have been thrust aside by modern social developments," he reaffirmed the importance of clerical celibacy and the priests' role among young people and workers.

The Pope delivered a 3,000-word "Credo of the People of God" and separate 1,500 word messages for priests on the fifth anniversary of his coronation and at the closing ceremony of the Year of Faith. It was greeted by thunderous applause.

"We have wished our profession of faith to be to a high degree complete and explicit, in order that it may respond in a fitting way to the need of light felt by so many faithful souls," the Pope said.

He reaffirmed faith in the concept of original sin as common in all men, the virginity of Mary and her role in the Church's moral life. Jesus Christ as the son of God, the mystery of the Trinity and the oneness of God.

The pontiff cited the importance of baptism, the Roman Catholic Church as the only true church, the need for a church hierarchy, infallibility of the Pope and of bishops as a body under the pontiff, the Mass as a real re-enactment of Christ's death and blood of Jesus and the existence of Paradise, Purgatory and Hell.

School Nurses Name Officers

The ten nurses and three dental hygienists employed by the Manchester Board of Education has formed their own organization and have elected officers to serve for the 1968-69 school year.

The group decided this spring to organize under provisions of State Act 159, and received an informal go-ahead from the board to do so.

The organization will be known as the Manchester Association of School Nurses and Dental Hygienists.

Elected chairman was Mrs. Esther Minor, R.N., staff nurse at Bennett Junior High School and a former five-year member of the Manchester Education Association's negotiating team.

The new group has voted to elect Mrs. Mary O'Brien, registered dental hygienist, secretary; and Mrs. Valerie Boland, R.N., Head Junior High, treasurer.

The reason for organizing was that the group had no representative on the MEA board this past year, and they felt that their interests had been overlooked during salary bargaining sessions.

Spokesmen said in appearance before the board in May and again last month.

In 1960, the population of Detroit was 45,619. Today it is about 1,640,000.

Fish Wiser Than Angler, Warmer Too

By BUREY FARELUTSKY
The Los Angeles Times

Until last month I had never gone fishing. I didn't know what I was missing. Now that I know, I can assure you I will never go again.

The occasion was south Lake Tahoe's annual fishing derby. I had never before been to Lake Tahoe, in the High Sierra straddling the California-Nevada state line. It's very nice if you're a fish, or someone who likes the great outdoors. The fresh air almost killed me. At the first whiff of the stuff, my lungs nearly went into shock. And if that weren't enough, the view consisted of the sparkling lake, tall trees, blue skies and snow-capped mountains. After 10 minutes of that, I was ready to leave. When Grace Allen used to get tickets for running red lights, George would ask, "Didn't you see the light?" and Grace would answer, "Yes, but after you've seen one, you've seen them all." That's the way I feel about tall trees and snow-capped mountains.

But the worst, as usual, was yet to come. At 4:30 in the morning, after two hours of sleep, I got a call notifying me that the derby participants were to meet in the hotel lobby in 30 minutes. For a really depressing way to start a day, you can't beat standing around in a hotel lobby at 5 a.m. with 20 men, all eager to go fishing. They tell their fishing jokes, which must have been ancient when Noah Walton was a mere toddler, and make good-natured fun of each other's fishing prowess. It might be bearable in a high noon, but dawn-house congeniality at first can really get you down.

I piled into several cars and drove out to the pier, where California sport fishing license #99263-3 was bestowed on me. I wonder now that the act has been committed, if there's a law against burning one's fishing license.

By 6, we were divided into groups of two and three, and assigned to power boats. When I discovered mine was named Reel George, I volunteered to stay on shore and watch for tidal waves.

For the first half hour, I amused the other two guys aboard with my clever puns and sonation of a man freezing to death. I started out with a little ice-chattering, proceeded to turn blue and wound up the act by slapping my nose several times. When I came to, they apologized for not applauding. "It would scare away the fish," they said. By then, my teeth had cracked and fallen out, leaving me with a case of chattering gums; it hurt more, but it was quieter, and I'm certain my colleagues appreciated the sacrifice.

Our guide first took us across the lake, where he assured us the fish are always biting. After an hour, we decided if they were biting anything that morning, it was each other. We went to another spot, with the guide's assurance that it was the place where the really big ones hang out. But judging by the way they ignored our bait, they either go there to drink or to pick up dames.

After an hour, I realized I wasn't going to catch a fish. I was going to catch a cold. And once I make up my mind about something, there's no stopping me. Within seconds, I had my cold. It was a whooper. I was ready to go home, but I stuck and placed over my mantle. Then, years later, when people passed to admire it, I was going to say, "but you should have seen the case of pneumonia that got away."

As I slipped easily into delirium, I had visions of myself hooking a white whale with a score to settle. Every half hour or so, I was awakened by the sound of our motor, and of our guide's embarrassed apologies: "I don't know what's going on with those fish today. But this next spot is where I caught 20 mackinaws last week." I asked him to catch me one, size 30.

In 2nd House District Rep. St. Onge Renominated

It is not a reluctant "design," bemoaned Democratic Congressman William St. Onge declared in his acceptance speech at Saturday's Second Congressional District Convention in New London.

St. Onge, who was nominated by acclamation, directed his reluctant dragon comment to the Republican opponent Peter Mariani of Groton, who had made a last minute reassignment to the Republican party.

Mariani subsequently decided to run with the full support of the convention.

"I am proud of my record in Congress and am looking forward to a vigorous campaign and a fourth term in Congress," St. Onge added.

The incumbent congressman received enthusiastic applause from the 220 delegates from 84 towns, during his announcement. He would work for "quick as possible solution to the horrendous Vietnam war" and his vote to eliminate the problems of the "poor in America."

St. Onge urged the formation of a United Nations peace-keeping force in Vietnam, as a possible solution to the present situation.

His proposal to direct efforts to the poor people in America received almost as much enthusiastic response as his Vietnam proposal.

Reminding the delegates that although Eastern Connecticut is largely affluent they have a large number of poor throughout the country, St. Onge declared, "This is not the America we want, not the America we are going to have."

He also touched on the areas of civil rights—"No person must be discriminated against because of his race, religion, creed," and gun legislation—"something must be done about gun control legislation and the high rate of deaths from guns."

"We are in the midst of a serious crisis in education," the congressman declared. "Every young boy and girl is entitled to the best education possible that he wants, and that is the key to the future of our country."

St. Onge vowed to begin his campaign on Labor Day, and to campaign seven days and nights a week. "I am determined to solve our problems," he stated. He expects the House to adjourn in mid-August.

Conventions highlight

Despite his illnesses of the past few years, St. Onge looked and talked more vigorously than most delegates have seen him do previously.

U.S. Starts Fiscal Year On New Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—Armed with higher taxes and a congressional mandate to cut spending, the federal government headed into a new fiscal year today with the prospect of completing the smallest deficit in three or perhaps four years.

The budget deficit in the fiscal year which ended at midnight Sunday ran to about $25 billion by the administration's own estimate—the fourth largest in the history.

President John F. gave the government its deficit-cutting tools last Friday when he signed the 10 per cent income tax increase and accepted at the same time the $8 billion in spending cuts he doesn't want.

Americans will begin paying higher taxes in paychecks without realizing it after July 15.

The tax boost and spending cut could drop the deficit for the new fiscal year to as low as $2.5 billion if present spending estimates remain unchanged, an unlikely prospect.

The government last ran a deficit that low in fiscal 1965 at $1.1 billion. The red ink rose to $2.7 billion in 1966 and to $5.8 billion in the fiscal year which ended one year ago.

The only official word from the administration is that the deficit in the new year should move to well below the $8 billion projected last January.

Spending for the Vietnam war at about $27 billion caused the large deficit in the fiscal year just ended. War costs are now figured at about $24 billion in the new fiscal year.

Only three World War II deficits were higher: all totaled more than $50 billion, with the one in 1949 reaching $74 billion.

In the last fiscal year, total spending is expected to hit between $170 and $175 billion when all the figures are compiled in about three to four weeks. Revenue can be expected to total about $153 billion.

Last January, Johnson figured spending in the new fiscal year at $178 billion but, since then the cost of the war halted another $2.5 billion and Congress ordered the $6 billion cut in non-war costs.

The tax package signed last Friday—which also includes a speed-up in collection of corporate taxes and extension of the 10 per cent excise tax on telephone service and 7 per cent excise on automobiles—will increase tax collections this year by more than $13 billion.

Fiscal 1968 just ended was the eighth straight deficit year. The last surplus came in fiscal 1960 at $213 million.

When Johnson submitted his budget to Congress last January, he envisioned a $18.9 billion deficit in the year just ended and an $8 billion deficit in the new year.

Because of the continuing deficits, the federal debt has jumped to about $350 billion.

Pope Wary Of Passion For Changes

Of the Church, he said: "She is the mystical body of Christ; at the same time a visible society instituted with hierarchical organs and a spiritual community."

Addressing priests of the church, the Pope said: "We know that... among some of the clergy there is unrest, there is uncertainty regarding their ecclesiastical condition."

He appealed to priests to "never doubt the nature of your ministerial priesthood, for it is not a compromise office of service. The priest is a man who does not live for himself, but for others. He is the man of the community."

He said the heads of the church rule for priestly obedience was that priests are called on to devote themselves completely to the service of man.

An estimated 40,000 persons heard the Pope's two-hour oration which ended as the sun was setting over the square.

Police Arrests

An 18-year-old Glastonbury youth was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol Saturday at 10 p.m. after his car hit the curb and stalled on E. Center St.

The youth, Timothy J. Cooney of 189 Manchester Rd. was allegedly observed by a cruiser patrolman driving north on E. Center St. near Oak St. in an erratic manner, weaving back and forth across the center line.

He was released on no cash bond for July 15 court appearance.

Robert S. Donofrio, 21, of 104 South St., Vernon, was charged with breach of peace at 9:40 p.m. Saturday after police received a complaint that a man had caused a disturbance in a hotel's rest room at a town department store. Donofrio was released on no cash bail for July 15 court appearance.

Allan R. Washburn, 22, of Rockville was charged with operating a motorcycle without a license and with operating a motorcycle without mufflers yesterday at 2:35 p.m. after he was stopped by a cruiser patrolman on Center St. He will appear in court July 15.

Harold W. Woods Jr., 23, of 40 Oolcott St. was charged with failure to obey a traffic signal and was issued a written warning for operating a motor vehicle with defective equipment yesterday at 4:39 a.m. after a cruiser patrolman allegedly observed him running through a license and with operating a motor vehicle without mufflers also appear in court July 15.

Greek Regime Not Critical, But Silences Its Critics

By ALFRED FRIENDLY

The Washington Post... as its critics... This is not quite true. Three... there are only about 1500 political prisoners and there is no... of the door.

Fortune and backing about... have been applied selectively... almost entirely to Communists... and their supposed associates...

It is something of a triumph... therefore, that the cabinet... government has succeeded by... such relatively quiet means... in totally quelling any... potentially effective organized... opposition and all public... criticism.

The Greeks being what... they are—the most irrepressibly... visible political conventionalists... on earth—the regime can... not stop them talking politics... in private anymore than it can... stop critics from clapping their... hands.

But it has stopped dead all... talk for publication by... Greeks still inside the country... A reporter's 10-day inquiry... disclosed only two resident Greeks... who have done so and have... remained free.

One is Yankos Papanastasiou... former deputy chairman of the... Bank of Greece. In Brussels... two months ago, answering... questions at a university forum... he said he was "vigorously... opposed to the regime" and favored... the immediate return to... legality and democratic process...

Book in Athens, he will... re-affirm those sentiments on... being asked. They are scarcely... radical, but a proceeding has... already begun that may end in... his removal from his profes-... sional post at the University of... Athens.

The other exception is 34-... year-old press tycoon Christos... Lambrou, a controversial and... colorful man who was a... best against the government... later published in the London... Observer while he was serving... an eight-month stint in jail... The British reporter who got... the statement, Leslie Frier... was expelled from Greece, but... Lambrou continues to live in... Athens, subjected to further... punishment.

The explanation may be that... the dictatorship wants his... cooperation; but he refuses to go... along.

He was hustled into the... presence of Premier George Papan-... astasiou by the government's... famous chief of secret police... Inspector Lambrini. Papan-... astasiou said Lambrou is to be... leave like a good fellow and to... stop embarrassing the government's... meetings with publishers. Lam-... brou replied that he would be... pleased to do so once martial... law was ended, censorship lifted... and appeals permitted in... civil courts.

Then, he added, he would fall... to in attending the regime to... the best of his ability. Nothing... further has been heard of... the matter.

Supporters of the government... such as Savvas Constantinopoulos... a prominent left of extreme... right-wing views, argue that... freedom was granted for argu-... ment and criticism of a propo-... sed new constitution submitted... for consideration six months...

Strike Slows LI Railroad

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike today by maintenance workers of the Long Island Rail Road slowed but failed to halt service on the nation's largest commuter line.

Most morning trains are on time or nearly on time, a railroad spokesman said.

It had been feared that train crews might honor all picket lines set up in one minute past midnight by the 800-member Local 608 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters in a wage dispute. The workers include track men.

The first commuter train scheduled to leave Babylon at 4:04 a.m. failed to move as trainmen refused to cross the union picket lines.

However, train crews began preparing for work and crossing the picket lines.

The line, operated by the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, carries about 30,000 commuters daily.

When the maintenance men, including track workers, went out one minute past midnight in wage dispute, the railroad obtained a restraining order from federal Judge Jack B. Weinstein at his home in Great Neck.

The railroad said the strike was not being undertaken under the Labor Act because all the maintenance and other provisions had been exhausted before the work stoppage was called.

The restraining order was served on several picketers but union officials could not be reached to serve them personally, Irene Dr. Vernon.

Lindsay Declines To Seek Post Kennedy Held

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay says he will not ask Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to appoint him to the Senate seat vacated by the late Robert F. Kennedy.

Lindsay, at ceremonies Sunday opening a vast pocket park in Queens, Queens, said "I have profound respect for the office of mayor and for the people of this city."

"I have no intention of asking for the appointment now or for the future. If offered to, I will give it every consideration," Lindsay added.

Mrs. Dodd, who was admitted to the hospital last week after complaining of chest pains, left the hospital Saturday. The hospital withheld the exact nature of her illness.

Mrs. Dodd at Home

WESTFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The wife of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Mrs. Dodd, has been released from Westfield Hospital.

Gets Master's

Dr. John Brownstone, medical director of the outpatient Mental Health Center at Manchester Memorial Hospital, was awarded a master's degree in public health with honors at Yale University last month.

Dr. Brownstone came to MMHC in mid-April to head the newly opened Mental Health Center. He is currently treating 60 patients per week. The Center is the first of its kind in Manchester.

Hebron Canoe Race Set July 4th

The Amston Lake Improvement Association is sponsoring the National Olympic Canoe Regatta on July 4 at Amston Lake at 2 p.m.

Mrs. William Murphy of Columbia will be the supervisor of the regatta. The two-hour program will be an introduction and demonstration of Olympic class racing craft to motor area residents.

Craft that will be demonstrated will be kayak and Canadian racing canoes. The will be an open regatta for anyone wishing to race Olympic type craft.

National champions who will participate in the show include members of the Waterford Canoe Club, Columbia Canoe Club, Boston Canoe Club, Onota, N.Y. Canoe Club, and the Ledyard Canoe Club of Dartmouth College.

There will be no awards to the participants. Mrs. Murphy said, "The Canoe Club members participate because they like to paddle."

According to Thomas Francis, Improvement Association president, interest has been indicated by many lake residents in the formation of a canoe club. The regatta on Thursday will be viewed from the beach area on the Amston side of the lake according to Francis.

The association will also hold its annual Fourth of July parade at the lake. Anyone wishing to participate or who is interested in playing an instrument in the band section, is requested to contact Mrs. Gloria Felch at Thomas Francis.

Little League Game The Little League will close its season with an All-Star Game on July 4 at Little League Field beginning at 2 p.m.

The boys will hold an Awards picnic on July 5.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Patricia Ann Gagnon to William James Linn, both of Manchester, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. Gagnon of 186 Parker St.

Her fiancé is a son of Nelson W. Linn of Lee, Mass.

Miss Gagnon is a 1965 graduate of East Catholic High School and a 1968 graduate of St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing. She is a member of the Ladies of St. James, and is employed at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford.

Her fiancé is a 1965 graduate of Manchester High School and recently completed two years of active duty with the U.S. Navy, including two tours of duty in Vietnam. He is employed at Klock Corp.

A spring 1969 wedding is planned.

Pipe Band Scores Canada Victory

Manchester Pipe Band is off to a good start in competition for the season, with a first place victory in Canada over the weekend. The competition was at Ormatown, Quebec, near Montreal.

More than 20,000 persons were at the Ormatown games. It was reported.

The Manchester Killies took first place in Grade 2. Finishing second was the City of Montreal Pipe Band, and third was the Third Royal Canadian Air Force, 40th Squadron Reserve Band of Toronto.

On Thursday, the band will participate in the Round Hill Games at Stamford, an annual Fourth of July event.

The band is looking forward to other summer competitions, the most important being on Aug. 3 at Maxville, Ontario, near Ottawa, when it defends its North American championship won last year.

Charles Murdoch is pipe major; Peter Buchanan, drum sergeant; and William Taylor, drum major.

Band officers are Les Cameron, president; Gordon McGowan, vice president; Jack Jones, secretary; and Aubrey McMillen, treasurer.

A telephone did not grace the desk of a United States President until the Hoover Administration in 1929, the National Geographic says. The first presidential phone call, however, was placed in 1877 when Rutherford B. Hayes and Alexander Graham Bell spoke through 13 miles of wire in Rhode Island.

Day Full of Stanky for Ball Player Easy to Take After Week in Army

NEW YORK (AP)—A day full of Eddie Stanky is easy to take for a ballplayer who has just had a week full of sergeants.

Tommy John and Tom McCraw, spring from National Guard duty by weekend passes to spend Sunday with Stanky and the White Sox, led Chicago to a 12-0 romp over Detroit.

John pitched a five-hitter for his seventh straight victory and McCraw shamed three hits including a home run and scored twice.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, New York trimmed Oakland 4-2, California edged Washington 4-4, Cleveland topped Detroit 7-5 in 10 1/2

ings, and Baltimore dropped Minnesota 4-4.

WHITE SOX—McCraw and John, both members of an Indiana Air National Guard unit, are halfway through their annual two-week tour of duty at Alpena, Mich. They flew to Detroit for Sunday's game, and the White Sox, led Chicago to a 12-0 romp over Detroit.

John pitched a five-hitter for his seventh straight victory and McCraw shamed three hits including a home run and scored twice.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, New York trimmed Oakland 4-2, California edged Washington 4-4, Cleveland topped Detroit 7-5 in 10 1/2

ings, and Baltimore dropped Minnesota 4-4.

WHITE SOX—McCraw and John, both members of an Indiana Air National Guard unit, are halfway through their annual two-week tour of duty at Alpena, Mich. They flew to Detroit for Sunday's game, and the White Sox, led Chicago to a 12-0 romp over Detroit.

John pitched a five-hitter for his seventh straight victory and McCraw shamed three hits including a home run and scored twice.

Drysdale vs. Gibson Blank Throwers Paired Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There has been much debate about the drabness of useless innings and low-scoring baseball games. Yet more than 97,000 are expected to flock to Dodger Stadium tonight to pay to see two pitchers try to blank each other.

Duke Sims Too Much For Slumping Bosox

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox spent plenty of time last winter trying to lure Duke Sims away from the Cleveland Indians. Talks continued up until the trading deadline June 15.

Although tempted, the Indians held to their demands. So Sims still is with the Tribe as one of the team's most valuable, as well as versatile, players.

Sims had two singles and a pair of walks in his first four appearances at the plate against the Red Sox Sunday. In his fifth trip, he broke a 3-3 tie with a homer and the Indians won the game 4-3.

Repeat All-Star Selection Five-Straight Wins Achieved by Seaver

HOUSTON (AP)—The New York Mets' Tom Seaver, who has pitched five straight victories, says all he wants now is "a decent winning record for the All-Star Game."

Drysdale Picked for Seventh Time

CINCINNATI (AP)—If an All-Star game experience means anything, National League pitchers should have a decided edge over their American League rivals when they meet in Cincinnati on July 9.

Manager Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals picked the eight pitchers Saturday for the National League. All right-handers, have been selected in previous years—seven years for Los Angeles' Don Drysdale, six years for San Francisco's Jim Marshall, four years for St. Louis' Bob Gibson and two years for New York's Tom Seaver.

White Learns How to Hit, Yanks Happy with Move

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy White got a shot after an injury to Joe Pepitone and poor start by Tom Terrill, as Bill Robinson and Steve Whitaker. He hasn't disappointed with a 2-0 victory over the Yankees and Steve Whitaker.

Swings Like Dad—Six-year-old Mike Yastrzemski swings from the heels after getting first-hand advice from his father, Carl. It was all part of the annual Father and Son game at Fenway Park in Boston yesterday.

South Windsor Nips Legion, Locals Play Away Tonight

Thriving on hot, humid weather, South Windsor's American Legion baseball team notched a pair of triumphs yesterday afternoon at home in a unique double-header. Last inning relief was necessary in both games, played in 94 degree temperature.

The home team ripped Gloucester, 4-1, and then turned the tables on Manchester, 9-1, in a seven inning marathon.

Trailing 5-0 coming down to their last at bats, just as they did in the first game, Coach

Porter Eberly's crew staged a winning rally.

With one out, two singles and a walk loaded the bases. Eberly set the stage for Joe Krysa's base hit that sent two batters scampering across the plate for a well-earned 9-3 decision.

Sports Slate Check for $22,000 Eases the Sweat

Monday—Lenox vs. Herald, Noho; Savings vs. Seabest, Bob-Case's vs. Eberly, Koenig vs. Keeney; Sportsman vs. Buckland at 4, Noho.

Tuesday—A.C. Club vs. Gumber, Noho; Army & Navy vs. Annapolis, Robertson; Wymara vs. Methuall at 4, Noho.

Wednesday—Pat Center vs. Tates, Noho; South Enders vs. Cough, Robertson; Albert's vs. Walnut, Keeney.

Oakland (AP)—A check for $22,000 made Oakland's Dave Stockton forget all about the oppressive heat.

The hot weather bothered him a few hours and dazed Stockton last Sunday after he won the Cleveland Open Golf Tournament, his first tour triumph of the year.

The 26-year-old Californian staggered home with a one-over par 72, his worst round of the "72-hole event" after earlier rounds of 68, 68 and 67. But his 72 total was two strokes better than rookie Bob Dickson of Tulsa, Okla. and eight strokes under par.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) Both sides are taking up their positions and the reason is plain—three U.S. amateurs are in the last 16 of the Wimbledon tennis tournament, a championship which only two Australian amateurs have been knocked out of.

That's the reason Donald DAVIS plays in London this Wednesday. One of the Davis Cup tennis items they will argue will be U.S. Davis Cup tennis, which is the world's greatest tennis tournament, which can't they play for years, the United States appears to be a serious threat to break Australia's stranglehold on the Cup.

U.S. Squad Will Be Strong In Olympic Track Events

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The United States will send a strong men's track and field team to the Olympic Games in Mexico City this fall. But the claim can hardly be substantiated by the performances in the two-day Olympic Trials.
