Rochefeller... At a news conference, Nixon said the convention is not locked...

At another point, he said, "I do not believe at this time the delegates are going to turn to a candidate who did not take the primary road."

Nixon likened his position now to that of Sen. Eugene P. McCarthy who won some Democratic primaries...

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller continues his fight for the Republican presidential nomination...

The New York governor flew to St. Louis Monday night, visibly heartened by the reception he received in San Francisco...

Breaking free from the San Francisco crowd, the perspiring and disheveled governor went aboard his plane and declared, "That was terrific."

He had been nearly inundated by thousands of cheering supporters through a Chinatown neighborhood...

It was among the largest and liveliest turnouts for him during his 10-week effort to become the Republican candidate for the more likely to win the November election...

Chaining only four weeks before the GOP National Convention, the incident obviously elevated Rockefeller's spirits...

"I prove what I've been saying all along," Rockefeller told a newsmen. "The people want to see their leaders in this time of national uncertainty and when they do, they respond to them."

Rochefeller is meeting privately today with the avowed fervent Nixon-issuance supporter being "to offer them a choice" at the August convention.

Rochefeller was greeted at the St. Louis airport by about 500 people, who cheered when he told them he had come to choose them "a winning choice."

His itinerary takes him on to Nashville, Tenn., then to Louisville, Ky., tonight. He plans to spend the rest of the week campaigning in New York City, Baltimore and Miami.

Going through the accepted campaign rituals in San Francisco on his 60th birthday, Rockefeller, 58, was the 28th oldest candidate in the history of the United States.

McCarthy has said he would not lead a fourth party effort. He has said his decision on whether to support Humphrey would depend on his fellow Minnesotan's position on Vietnam after the convention.

"It's not really his (McCarthy's) movement," Metcalf said. "It's the movement of the people who are supporting him. We want his name on the banner for the rally, he was showered by hundreds of newspapers thrown from the windows of office buildings."

Reagan... Sacramento, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan brushed aside fresh talk of taking second spot on a Republican ticket led by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"I'm not interested in the vice presidency at all," Reagan told reporters at Sacramento Metropolitan Airport Monday when he and his family arrived after a long weekend in Los Angeles.

Reagan also said he made no attempt to contact Rockefeller during the New York governor's campaign visit to San Francisco Monday and Rockefeller left without reaching Reagan. Rockefeller said he had hoped for a friendly telephone chat.

As Reagan's personal interview ended, he told newsmen, "Well, I'm going home. Maybe he'll be able to get me there. I certainly wouldn't know where to find him."

When asked about the possibility of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket, Rockefeller told reporters, "I'd say this is wide open. I don't think that any combination should be ruled out."

Reagan wouldn't comment on Rockefeller's statement that he was a more serious candidate for the presidential nomination than Reagan will admit. Reagan said he had no serious comment on what his opponent is saying.

He said the number of delegate votes he gets at the convention will show how much strength he has. Questioned about formation of a new Reagan-for-President group in Maine, Reagan said he was honored by such expressions of support.

"How deep this is or how wide spread will be evidenced at the convention," he added. "I have no way of judging."

Asked about a report he would declare himself as a serious candidate several days before the convention starts, Reagan said he was not planning to do so.

companies were cited as examples where bank trust departments had large blocks of stock.

"The implication that important amounts of stock are held by the trust department of a bank is wrong," said a spokesman for the Long Island, N.Y., paper.

He said that the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York at one time did hold stock in trust as an executor but not now.

Morgan Guaranty also was listed in the report as holding large blocks of stock in Trans World Airlines and United Airlines.

"We were interested in influencing competition we obviously would have increased these holdings," said Thomas E. Gates, Morgan chairman.

At 11 p.m. a crowd of about 100 persons gathered in front of the Atlantic Avenue station house where the arrested man was being questioned.

The suspect, identified as James Cunningham, 48, was taken up without incident. Gypsy cars operate largely in the slum sections where many increased taxicab rates to enter or exit the city.

The first attack took place when a parked cab was taken to the street and the driver was halted by 10 Negro men and ordered from his cab which was overturned and set on fire.

Another driver was eating in a restaurant when he was approached by a group of about 10 Negro men who demanded the cab parked outside.

The cab was overturned and set on fire. The source of discontent among the gypsy drivers was believed to be a law which went into effect July 1 requiring them to post a sign outside the outside.

Cabs Burned In New York

A different kind of animal—a shark—makes four species dead in the water. Police arrested a 10-year-old boy yesterday charged him with criminal mischief in connection with the incident.

Gypsy cars are those which are summoned by telephone to take the acrobats and circus to the streets for a circus. The attacks which occurred in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn began at 3:40 p.m.

At 11 p.m. a crowd of about 100 persons gathered in front of the Atlantic Avenue station house where the arrested man was being questioned.

The suspect, identified as James Cunningham, 48, was taken up without incident. Gypsy cars operate largely in the slum sections where many increased taxicab rates to enter or exit the city.

The first attack took place when a parked cab was taken to the street and the driver was halted by 10 Negro men and ordered from his cab which was overturned and set on fire.

Another driver was eating in a restaurant when he was approached by a group of about 10 Negro men who demanded the cab parked outside.

The cab was overturned and set on fire. The source of discontent among the gypsy drivers was believed to be a law which went into effect July 1 requiring them to post a sign outside the outside.

"This vehicle is not for hire purposes," said the sign. The sign was torn down and the driver was arrested. The sign was torn down and the driver was arrested.

15 Teachers Join System

Fifteen new teachers were appointed for the coming academic year by Board of Education at last night's meeting. The board also granted one leave of absence and accepted five more resignations.

Those appointed are as follows: Miss Linda E. Farrin of South Bristol, Maine, to teach Grade 1 at Bowers School, $8,150; Miss Grace S. Gortatowski of Atlanta, Ga., to teach kindergarten at Nathan Hale, $8,150; Miss Ruth M. Leeds of Fitchburg, Mass., to teach kindergarten at Lincoln, $9,300.

Also, Mrs. Barbara W. Murphy of Manchester, to teach Grade 4 at Robertson, $6,650; Craig W. Phillips of Manchester, to teach elementary physical education, $6,150; Mrs. Judith Robit of Pittsfield, Mass., to teach Grade 2 at Buckley, $8,300.

Also, Mrs. Janet F. Shepro of Holyoke, Mass., to teach Grade 2 at Buckley, $8,350; Mrs. W. Ward of Vernon, to teach social studies at Iling Junior High, $7,800; Mrs. Mary Ellen Wagner of St. Mary's, Va., to teach math at Bennett Junior High, $9,600.

Also, Mrs. Lorraine Barber of Riverdale, N.Y., to teach Grade 5 at Bentley, $6,850; Miss Janice A. Koebnick of Chelsea, Mass., to teach business education at Manchester High, $6,150; Peter C. Vincenzo of Meriden, to teach physics at Manchester High, $6,350.

Also, William Heller of Manchester, to teach social studies at Bennett, $6,350; and John Ulmer of Nobleboro, Ind., to teach earth science at Iling, $6,150.

The board also appointed Mrs. Patricia M. Hughes of Coventry to become a full-time social worker in the Manchester parochial schools, under provisions of Public Act 461. Her salary was set at $7,800.

The act, passed by the last legislature, makes it mandatory for towns now to provide such services. Costs are 100 per cent reimbursable.

The board accepted resignations from Mrs. Charis Peterson, Grade 1, Robertson School; Mrs. Evelyn Latty, Grade 3, Verplanck; Lawrence Rudd, mentally handicapped class, Keeney St. School; Mrs. Priscilla Ford, Gengras Center pre-school class for the deaf; and Mrs. Valerie Wenner, who had been appointed June 17 to teach business subjects at the high school.

A year's maternity leave of absence was granted to Mrs. Barbara O'Neill, who has been teaching Grade 2 at Verplanck.

Explorer 38 Despun WASHINGTON (AP) — Explorer 38 has stopped spinning in space in preparation to extend antenna booms more than the height of the Empire State Building and begin monitoring mysterious radio signals.

The satellite, spinning at 92 revolutions a minute since it was spun into space July 4, was despun by radio command Monday from the Goddard Space Flight Center near Washington. Weights on wires wound out from the satellite to slow the spin much as a leasiter slows his spin by stretching out his arms. Then the weights and wires were detached and floated into space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said project engineers will check various experiments in the spacecraft during the next six days before deploying the antenna booms.

Then the Radio Astronomy Explorer Satellite, in orbit about 3,640 miles above the earth, will begin monitoring low frequency radio signals from bodies in the Milky Way and galaxies beyond.

Pentagon Announces F101 Deactivation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, accelerating its plans to trim the nation's defenses against bomber attack, has announced two F101 fighter interceptors will be deactivated a year ahead of schedule.

The F101-equipped 44th squadron at Charleston AFB, S.C., scheduled for deactivation in July 1969, and the 84th at Hamilton AFB, Calif., for April 1969, will instead be disbanded this summer, the Pentagon said Monday.

It also announced the F101-equipped 44th squadron at Wurtsmith AFB, Mich., which was to be broken up this summer will remain on active duty and the 48th at Griffiss AFB, N.Y., will be eliminated instead. No reason was given for the change.

United Fund Goal In Town $133,600

The goal for the 1968 Manchester United Appeal has been set at $133,600, an increase of 10 per cent over last year's goal, it was announced last night by William H. Sleith, campaign chairman, and Dr. Charles E. Jacobson Jr., president of the United Fund board of directors.

This amount will be distributed to local agencies as follows: $10,000 to the Manchester Association for Help for Retarded Children; $11,100 to Child and Family Services of Connecticut (name changed this year from Children's Services of Connecticut); $15,000 to the Community Child Guidance Clinic; $9,600 to Homemakers Service; $7,900 to Luis Junior Museum; and $10,000 to the Manchester Public Health Association.

These amounts reflect an increase of slightly more than 10 per cent over the present allocations to these agencies. In addition, local branches of the American Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, Catholic Family Service, Girl Scouts, YWCA, YMCA and the USO, participating agencies of the United Fund of Manchester, will receive financial support amounting to $70,000 through their Hartford headquarters for their work in Manchester. Allotments for these agencies, too, have been increased, by a little less than 10 per cent.

Vernon Houley Accused Of Using Board

Charges of "political abuse" and using the Board of Representatives in an effort to get himself elected to the Senate.

He further charged Houley with "political abuse" and "occasions when Houley has used the Board of Representatives to the press as examples. Democrat Peter Humphrey interjected, "I can't see where any political propaganda is involved here. He is correcting a statement made at a previous Board meeting. All he did here was clarify an issue."

Republican John Daigle suggested that the next time any one brings the ambulance situation up that he come in with something constructive, or not say anything. Chester Rau, another Republican member of the board, charged that he thinks the ambulance corps and the drainage situation at the Vernon Post Office are being used for political football.

Over the weekend the volunteer ambulance workers had issued a statement in which they asked for a retraction of the remark made by Houley and threatened to resign and dissolve the corps if this was not done.

John Shea Named Public Defender For Roy Darwin

Atty. John F. Shea Jr. of Manchester was reappointed today as special public defender for Roy Darwin in Tolland County Superior Court in Rockville.

Shea had filed the motion for reappointment last week and action on the motion was taken today. The reappointment was made by Judge Alva P. Loiselle.

Darwin, who is from Andover, is to be tried on a charge of second degree murder in the slaying five years ago of Hope Roberts of Bolton. Darwin's first conviction was overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court, and Tolland County State's Atty. Robert J. Pigeon last week announced a retrial. Darwin is in the state prison in Somers.

Atty. Shea had been Darwin's private counsel throughout the first trial, but when the Darwin family ran out of funds for an attorney he was appointed as a special public defender.

Today's session of the Superior Court marked Pigeon's first appearance in court as state's attorney. He was appointed last week to replace Joel H. Reed II who retired.

Solar Flare Fouls Radios

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The biggest and brightest solar flare since 1966 fouled up short-wave radio communications around the world Monday, the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center reported.

And, according to the government scientists, there's a better than even chance of further radio trouble from the same flare on Wednesday, with the signs of the sun pointing to more big solar flares in the not-too-distant future.

The sun appeared no larger or brighter than usual to anyone venturing a glance with his naked eye at 1:03 p.m. EDT. But delicate sun-watching instruments here, and at a dozen "flare patrol" stations around the world, recorded a big change.

Scientists saw a large, intense white spot appear on the red mass the sun appears to be when viewed through their glare-filtering instruments. The spot was the flare, caused by an intensification and heating up of the magnetic field around the sun.

Forecaster Karl Kildahl said these changes in the sun's magnetism produce corresponding changes in the magnetic field surrounding the earth. These changes disrupt short-wave radio transmissions.

"By our own short-wave monitoring and transmissions, we can see that we have had a tremendous interruption today," Kildahl said.

Education Board Votes $1,600 To Pay for Remedial Programs

The Board of Education last night voted to transfer up to $1,600 from its regular budget to the summer school remedial program of reading and math for disadvantaged children.

The decision was in reaction to the Board of Directors' 6-3 vote last week declining to accept a $3,000 gift offered by a group of local businessmen to cover the cost of the program on grounds that it would have an undesirable precedent.

The school board took two other unanimous actions related to items the directors had tabled at last Tuesday's session:

1. It voted on a motion by Roger Bagley to withdraw its support for a pre-school physically handicapped class at Keeney St. School it had previously agreed to sponsor.

2. It agreed, upon a motion by Mrs. Anita Murphy, to request that the directors reconsider their tabling action in regard to the pre-school deaf program sponsored by the school board at the Gengras Center in West Hartford, and that the directors further be requested to establish a budget of $19,460 for the coming year.

Of this total, the town would be reimbursed $13,000 in tuition by other participating towns during fiscal 1968, and $4,065 in state grants for its own pupils in 1969.

In regard to the summer remedial program, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Ronald Scott reported that three teachers to staff the classes of small group instruction had been hired in advance of the directors' action declining the gift.

He said it was important to obtain personnel in advance, and that the administration had proceeded on the assumption that the money would be accepted by the directors since the school board had previously voted approval.

Scott said his calculations indicated that the entire summer school budget would end being $1,000 and $1,600 in the remedial instruction were offered.

Part of the deficit for the $3,000 remedial program would be absorbed, he explained, because several proposed enrichment courses had attracted insufficient enrollments and were canceled.

Several board members to remark that the board was now committed to the program and must honor its contracts with the three teachers.

Before N. Charles Boggini moved the vote for the transfer of funds, Dr. Walter Schardt chided the administration, saying, "In the future, let's not hire personnel and commit ourselves until we have the funds."

Chairman John J. Botter said he didn't think the board could identify this early in the year when the funds will come from the school board.

The board had no choice but to continue it since it is now mandatory, according to state law.

Though classes for the pre-school handicapped child also become mandatory in 1969, they are still permissive for another year.

Because of that fact, and in view of the directors' tabling vote, Bagley moved that the board vote not to accept responsibility for the Keeney Cerebral Palsy Association.

Its original vote to take over the class, previously sponsored by the association, was taken March 25 and was worded to be contingent upon the Board of Directors' approval of a budget.

This net cost to the town for the Gengras program has been estimated at $2,335. For the handicapped class, it was set at $2,000.

At the conclusion of last night's complex, often confusing session, School Superintendent Donald Hennigan was directed to communicate the board's actions to Weiss both in writing and in a personal visit, to ensure a clear understanding of those actions.

The directors are slated to discuss the tabled items again at a special meeting July 19.

Why Johnson Stepped Out?

NEW YORK (AP) — Columnist Drew Pearson says in a magazine article that questions by Lynda Bird about why her husband had to go to Vietnam provided "the final clincher" for President Johnson's decision to retire.

Pearson writes in the current issue of Look magazine that Johnson and his wife asked Secret Service men to awaken them before Lynda Bird arrived at the White House at 6:30 a.m. after a flight to the West Coast to see her husband, Marine Corps Capt. Charles Robb, off to war.

Pearson says the President confided to a friend: "We didn't want her coming into the White House all alone. So we left word with the Secret Service to notify us 30 minutes in advance."

"We were awake and lying in bed before the Secret Service called. I pulled a pair of britches over my pajamas and we went out to the South Gate to meet her."

"She was pale as a ghost. She talked to me about what a fine boy Chuck was, in the past tense, as if he was never coming back."

And Lynda Bird said: "Daddy, I want to ask you a question. Why do we have to fight over there when so many people were opposed to the war? Why do we have to send 200 boys over there in Chuck's company when there's so much opposition here at home to the war?"

That night, Johnson announced his decision to withdraw from the presidential picture.

Pearson Says Lynda Bird Questioned War in Vietnam

draw, but the President was adamant. Pearson quotes Johnson as having said: "The time is getting short. We've got to get peace in Vietnam. And I think that with me bowing out the other side is more likely to negotiate."

"There's another thing, I'm tired. I'm getting old. All the Johnsons in my family have a record of not living much over the age of 60. I'll be 60 this summer. I've had a heart attack. My health is pretty good. I think my heart is as good as yours. But I'm not sure I could live out another term. And that's not the way I want to end my life."

Aides of Humphrey in Washington said he would have no comment on the magazine article.

Pearson wrote that Johnson told Humphrey he had intended announcing his withdrawal in his Jan. 17 State of the Union address, but mislaid the text. Johnson said he first accused his wife, Lady Bird, of taking the text with her to a beauty parlor, but later discovered the slip of paper near the phone in his White House bedroom, Pearson relates.

Pearson writes that Johnson first wrote out a statement of withdrawal last November and showed it to a few close friends. Six men had sealed the iron paining fence around the White House last year intent on killing Johnson, Pearson says, and 12,000 letters threatening his life had been written.

The columnist says Johnson once confided: "What's the use of being President when the country is divided, when the Congress won't pass a tax bill, when the dollar is in jeopardy, and when the press distorts everything you do?"

"I think I could get re-elected. But the stockholders are dissatisfied. Perhaps we need a new president."

Bolton School Board to Continue In Project ASK Program

The Board of Education voted last night to send a letter to Project ASK stating its intent to participate in the program next year. Robert Jackman, assistant director of the program, attended the meeting last night and explained the purpose of the letter.

There is some question as to the legality of the present contract but project directors wanted to know if Bolton intended to participate in Project ASK next year. Jackman also asked that the school board elect one of their members to serve on a supervisory board to run the program next year if we so desired.

The board decided to indicate in its letter that if such a supervisory board should be set up, it wishes to be included, and that it would elect a representative when the board is formed.

This letter, it was explained, is in no way a financial obligation, to Project ASK. Supt. Joseph Castagna said that the school had been very pleased with Project ASK's program the past school year.

The school board also voted to accept a request to garage the buses at Malross's Bolton Mobil Service Station. Dr. Castagna reported that the plans for school bus routes are coming along very well.

Jim Grunke was appointed to ask the Planning Commission at its next meeting if it would agree to a joint session of the two boards to discuss those items needed to furnish the new elementary school, that should be bonded.

Gleason's Mature Appeal

Ringo, of course, in a mad moment in "A Hard Day's Night." The Beatles film is set for tonight.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Why do people like Ed Sullivan, Lucille Ball, Red Skelton and myself stay on the air year after year?" asked Jackie Gleason.

He supplied his own answer: "Because we appeal to the mature audience."

The globe-shaped comedian was in an analytical mood as he attacked his simple lunch of prime ribs of beef and two bottles of beer. He asked for a tall glass, but all the Paramount commissary could provide was a glass for ice cream sodas. He accepted it uncomplainingly, commenting, "I have drunk beer from every conceivable vessel."

Gleason was at the studio for filming of his second movie in a row, "How to Commit Marriage." He was working solo prior to the return of costar Bob Hope, sidelined at the picture's start because of a recurrence of his eye ailment.

Reflecting on TV longevity, Gleason observed that the way to survive is to appeal to the older folks: "They're always at home, and they'll tune you in because they know they can count on a regular standard of entertainment."

"When we do 'The Honey-mooners,' we get both the kids and the adults. For the variety shows, the audience is mostly adult—unless I put on one of the pop music acts, which I don't like to do.

"I think it's tough to last when you aim at the younger audience only. Take 'Laugh-In.' Don't get me wrong—I think Ran Rowan and Dick Martin have done a terrific job with that show; They've used the 'hellzapoppin' technique to great advantage.

"But how are they going to keep it up; These kids nowadays are so sharp, so quick to catch on, that every-gag, every-gesture registers in their minds. They can repeat all the jokes and they do. But how soon are they going to tire of those things and want something else!"

Gleason himself is planning no innovations for the coming season, although he is aiming for strong names as guest stars. It will be more of the same, and judging from his consistently high ratings, there's no need to change.

The Gleason technique, as he describes it, appears to be even more casual than Dean Martin's. Dino amazed his fellow stars by devoting no more than one day to his variety hour.

Gleason said that he often reports to his show just in time to have a hair trim and get into costume.

"For 'The Honey-mooners' we might have a one-hour run-through," he added. "Fortunately, I'm a fast study, and so are Art (Carney), Sheila (McRae) and Betty (Keane). We use cue cards only for the songs; it's too tough to learn the lyrics for four songs every show.

"Otherwise I don't use cue cards or Teleprompters. I don't believe in them. Most of the actors on shows nowadays don't talk to each other anymore—they're too busy staring at their lines."

Come September, Gleason will be back in his favorite haunt of Miami Beach and starting a new season. He doesn't miss Hollywood ("Where have all my old buddies gone?") nor New York ("I sometimes wonder how I ever lived there, playing 18 holes every day at Toots Shor's bar.")

He has even solved the need to come here for films: Next January he plans to costar with Lucille Ball in "Diamond Jim Brady," to be filmed in Florida.

Patti Page: On Growing Old

By PATTI PAGE

EDITOR'S NOTE—A woman performing, particularly a singer, who admits to having passed her 30th birthday, is rarer than a passenger pigeon. Patti Page, one of the well-established musical stars, explains frankly that it's not vanity, but self-preservation.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —I'm grateful for this opportunity to thank those of you who saw me on the Ed Sullivan Show, Music Hall and other television series and wrote how pleased you were that I had come out of retirement.

Appreciative as I am, I must make a confession. I did not retire—unless you call seven months on the road in night clubs and recording two albums and eight singles annually retirement.

It was the other way around. TV retired from me—and from such talented female singers as Rosie Clooney, Kay Starr, Jo Stafford, Polly Bergen and, to a lesser extent, Dinah Shore and Peggy Lee. These singers not only dominated the record industry's "charts" in the 1950's but television as well. Most of us had our own TV series. In fact, Dinah and I had our own shows for several seasons.

Then something awful happened. We became 'older girls'.

In an industry where everyone was suddenly competing to appeal to the "youth market," we were guilty of the most serious sin of all—having past our 30th birthdays. It seemed as though the only way to be seen on television, until last year, was to be a long-haired, short-skirted teenie bopper who either gurgled with a guru or went "up, up and away" with the Rolling Stones.

The result, unfortunately, was that a lot of girls in micromini skirts were revealed to have micromini talents as well. Spirited away from the electronic sanctuary of a modern recording studio, and thrust before the TV cameras, they could do little but look sexy as they frugged and bugaloosed and desperately lip-synched their latest "hits."

Others, with marvelous potential, were pushed too far too fast. At a time when they should have been learning how to create that delicate rapport between performer and audience—which distinguishes an adequate club singer from a star—they were being rushed from one TV guest shot to another.

A few of the girls who had big hits turned out to be genuinely talented. They could have done a waltz or rumba and been sensational in this or any other era. Dionne Warwick and Aretha Franklin are two lovely examples.

But two or three performers cannot make all of the guest appearances by girl singers on television. And while my reaction to the Lolita psychology of network variety shows was admittedly personal, it was objective, as well. If I'd lost my voice or been involved in some dreadful scandal, I'd have accepted television's disinterest philosophically. This was different.

I thought, for example, of Kay Starr who, over a span of years had sold millions of records. I couldn't believe that the people who'd purchased those records—and made Kay a star—had suddenly deserted her en masse. The public is more loyal than that. There are quite a few folks past the age of 25 who would like a dash of musical sentiment after dinner as well as "Yeah, Yeah, Yeah."

TV producers have begun to sense this. The teenieboppers still lead the big parade, but we're seeing more and more of the veterans.

Dinah Shore made several guest appearances last season. Viewers also saw more of Peggy Lee. And Ella Fitzgerald—who's the first to admit that miniskirts just don't come in her size—was one of TV's busiest, most ingratiating personalities.

Next year, I suspect, you'll hear even more from us 'older girls.' I have always enjoyed television; I still do.

Playing a Nun Can Be Fattening

NEW YORK (AP)—Actresses love to play nuns. The habits are dramatic and women look marvelous in them.

Marge Redmond, however, isn't all that crazy about the flowing robes and the white, starched headdress. They are, she has found, an effective disguise—too effective, in fact.

"The robes are loose, and they practically invite you to be careless about desserts and raiding the ice box," she reflected. "Nobody can see any extra pounds."

A candidate for an Emmy this season for her work as Sister Jacqueline in ABC's "The Flying Nun," Marge reports sadly that she can walk down any street and shop in any store and

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It happened just as Rowan and Martin predicted: "Laugh-in" is the biggest thing to hit television since the Kefauver crime hearings.

Well, almost. Certainly the Monday night frolic has captured the public's fancy in a manner rarely seen in television. It also captured Emmie, defied Tiny Tim, immortalized beautiful downtown Burbank, loosed a spate of imitative TV and radio commercials and induced everyone from presidential candidates to taxi drivers to say "Sock it to me" and "Here comes the judge."

I must confess I played the Doubting Thomas when I listened to Dan Rowan and Dick Martin glow about the program's chances before it went on the air. There has never been anything like it, they insisted, as have countless stars of other now-forgotten series.

But they were right, and now they are enjoying the results of their success. They are not taking it big; 17 years as a comedy team have made them realists. They can be excused if they enjoy a few "I-told-you-so's."

"Laugh-in" is simply applying to television some of the things that Marshall McLuhan has been writing about," said Dan Rowan, referring to the author of "The Medium is the Message" and other works on modern media.

"I don't think anyone has really dealt with the impact of the visual medium before. Now you are beginning to see commercials in which the visual is uppermost. But many of the commercials are still using the same tried-and-true method of printing the message on the screen and having an announcer repeat it vocally."

"Right!" said Dick Martin. These two seldom disagree, except in their bickering comedy routines and politics—Dan is a McCarthy man; Dick was for Kennedy.

"It was the same in the TV variety show," continued Rowan, the straight man of the team. "How long could personable hosts go on introducing personable guests? The variety format was carried intact from radio, which in turn had merely adapted the vaudeville technique."

"What we're doing is not entirely new," commented Dick, the blank-faced zany. "Olsen and Johnson did it for years with their 'Hellzapoppin' shows. It's simply throwing gags at the audience with as much speed and shock as possible. You take a series of jokes, throw away the question and just leave the punchlines, and you call it 'cocktail party.'"

"Other variety shows always closed with music. We close with jokes—the joke wall. They're not all great, but they hold the audience's attention, right to the end of the show."

"Some people in television don't realize how brief the attention span of the audience is. While watching other variety shows, you can turn away and just listen for a while. Not 'Laugh-in.' You've got to watch it every minute or you'll miss something. That's why we throw on signs that are on the screen so briefly you can't possibly read them. But you'll be able to read the sign we want you to read."

Now that they have concluded their sensational half-year in TV, the question arises: What can they do next season?

"Naturally we can't play it exactly the same," said Dick.

Playing a Nun Can Be Fattening

the most recognition she gets is a sort of vague "Don't I know you from somewhere?"

And the somewhere, she insists, is not "The Flying Nun," but the commercials. Before Marge got her habit, she was one of Madison Avenue's favorite saleswomen. She was a harassed, housewife who mopped, scrubbed, ironed, shopped and nagged the kids, all to pitch the household product.

No sex kitten of the commercials like Barbara Feldon or Pam Austin who also slipped into television by the same backdoor, Marge played Everywoman so successfully that once she was the star of five commercials of as many different sponsors at one time.

Coventry, England Drops in on Our Coventry

By HOLLY GANTNER

The British have landed, and a happier invasion would be hard to find.

Instead of Paul Revere, the word went out via telephone relay teams last night, and at 10:20, just five minutes behind schedule, three buses carrying 106 people from Coventry, England, arrived for a two-and-a-half week stay in their sister town.

The travelers were met at the high school by more than 80 host families, and for a while pandemonium reigned while hosts looked for guests and vice versa.

But generally it was a very smooth operation, everyone carrying name tags marked with the flag of the appropriate country, and in less than two hours the appropriate number of people involved, the British guests were off for a good night's sleep at the homes of their hosts.

When they arrived, it was 3:20 a.m. British time, so it had been a long day. They took off via charter jet early in our afternoon and landed at Logan Airport in Boston early in the evening.

They were met there by the three charter buses, and eight Coventry, Conn., people drove to their final destination.

None of the travelers looked especially tired, nor really the least bit travel weary, but several did remark on the lateness of the hour (their time).

For residents of both Coventries, it was first meeting, with everyone finally seeing the people who have been writing all these letters back and forth across the Atlantic for many months.

The idea for the trip was formed last summer, when Milton Wilde, principal of Coventry High School here, and B. H. Vickery, housemaster at Clarendon Castle School in Coventry, England, began discussing it in letters.

Committees were soon formed on both sides of the Atlantic, and the trip itself snowballed from about 65 students and a few adult chaperones up to the present 106.

Clarendon Castle is a boys' school, and about 65 of the visitors are students there. The rest are teachers, parents or friends, most of whom are making their visit to America.

While they're here, they'll be in the town of Coventry, Conn., for the next few weeks.

Judge Raps Hershey Book Delays Trial

MANCHESTER SESSION

DETROIT (AP) — A criminal court judge in Detroit sharply rapped a recently published book Monday and agreed to delay the murder trial of a white man charged with slaying a Negro youth accused of molesting a Negro woman during the trial.

Judge Robert Colombo said the book, "The Algiers Motel Incident," published last month, was "designed to deliberately mislead the jury."

Acting on a request from the defense counsel, Colombo agreed to delay the trial of Paul J. Vecchola, 28, of West Hartford, charged with possession of narcotics and conspiracy, pleaded not guilty yesterday and his case was continued to July 18 for a probable cause hearing.

Vecchola is charged in connection with the May 6 burglary of the Manchester Drug Co., 717 Main St., in which a large quantity of drugs and the drug receipts were taken.

Another youth, John W. Murphy, 17, of West Hartford, is charged with breaking and entering with criminal intent and larceny over $2,000 in connection with the break. Murphy is scheduled to appear for a hearing July 25.

The case of Robert P. Migliore, 21, of Hartford, charged with illegal possession of narcotics, was continued to July 15.

The young man arrested by Manchester detectives, Leo Grover and Raymond Mazzone, said a book from the police station, and when they made a routine search they found a package believed to contain narcotics on his person.

The case of Robert J. Klemas, 26, of 485 Adams St., charged with breaking and entering with criminal intent, was continued to July 18 for a hearing on probable cause, after he pleaded not guilty to the charge. A charge of larceny under $15 was added.

Another police officer, Robert Paille, has been free on similar bond.

"I don't want the press to cover this case any further than what happens in the courtroom," Colombo said, "and anybody in the future who takes it upon themselves to enter into any out-of-court statements in connection with this case is being subjected to the penalties of contempt of court."

Asst. Wayne County Prosecutor Avery Weisman, who is handling the case against the accused officers, declined to comment on the trial, citing Colombo's contempt threat as his reason.

Colombo said he had not read the book, but called its reviews "highly prejudicial and inflammatory in nature."

"I think it's an outrage," Colombo declared. "I'm going to refer this entire thing to the American Bar Association Committee on Free Press and Fair Trial. I'm going to refer it also to the Civil Liberties Committee of the state bar."

He said there seems to be a "deliberate design" in the case to prevent what he considers a fair and impartial trial.

August is charged in the slaying of Aubrey Pollard, 19, who was found dead at the Algiers Motel July 26 last year during the riot that took the lives of 6 others.

Paille is charged with the murder of Fred Temple, 18, No. 427 W. Middle Tpke., charged with assault with intent to commit rape, and rape, were continued July 15. He is out on two $500 bonds posted by Carl Cooper, 17.

In the first case, Hodges was charged in connection with the attempted rape of a 20-year-old Manchester housewife on Spencer St. June 8.

The second charge is in connection with the recent rape of a Coventry girl.

The case of James Haven, 21, of 55 Clinton St., charged with aggravated assault and proper passing, David W. Moe, 18, of Andover, and Leonard F. Monroe, 22, of Bolton, were continued July 22.

Cases disposed of include: Barry H. Barton, 31, of East Hartford arrested in Toland, speeding, $20; Patricia A. Clark of Bolton, failure to grant one half the highway, $30; Vincent J. Duro, 29, of Norwich, arrested in Andover, failure to drive in the established lane, $20.

Also, Richard W. Drum, 21, of Willimantic, arrested in Coventry, speeding, $20; John A. Frazer, 17, of 176 Oakland St., illegal U-turn, $40; James Ironfield, 22, of East Hartford, arrested in Manchester, and Richard L. McCabe, 29, of 84 School St.; failure to wear headgear on a motorcycle, both nolle; John T. McHugh, 67, of Vernon, proper passing, $20; David W. Moe, 18, of Andover, and Leonard F. Monroe, 22, of Bolton, following too closely, $30 and an automobile accident, $30, respectively.

12th Circuit Court Cases

MANCHESTER SESSION

PAUL J. VECCHOLA, 28, of West Hartford, charged with possession of narcotics and conspiracy, pleaded not guilty yesterday and his case was continued to July 18 for a probable cause hearing.

Vecchola is charged in connection with the May 6 burglary of the Manchester Drug Co., 717 Main St., in which a large quantity of drugs and the drug receipts were taken.

Another youth, John W. Murphy, 17, of West Hartford, is charged with breaking and entering with criminal intent and larceny over $2,000 in connection with the break. Murphy is scheduled to appear for a hearing July 25.

The case of Robert P. Migliore, 21, of Hartford, charged with illegal possession of narcotics, was continued to July 15.

The young man arrested by Manchester detectives, Leo Grover and Raymond Mazzone, said a book from the police station, and when they made a routine search they found a package believed to contain narcotics on his person.

The case of Robert J. Klemas, 26, of 485 Adams St., charged with breaking and entering with criminal intent, was continued to July 18 for a hearing on probable cause, after he pleaded not guilty to the charge. A charge of larceny under $15 was added.

Another police officer, Robert Paille, has been free on similar bond.

"I don't want the press to cover this case any further than what happens in the courtroom," Colombo said, "and anybody in the future who takes it upon themselves to enter into any out-of-court statements in connection with this case is being subjected to the penalties of contempt of court."

Asst. Wayne County Prosecutor Avery Weisman, who is handling the case against the accused officers, declined to comment on the trial, citing Colombo's contempt threat as his reason.

Colombo said he had not read the book, but called its reviews "highly prejudicial and inflammatory in nature."

"I think it's an outrage," Colombo declared. "I'm going to refer this entire thing to the American Bar Association Committee on Free Press and Fair Trial. I'm going to refer it also to the Civil Liberties Committee of the state bar."

He said there seems to be a "deliberate design" in the case to prevent what he considers a fair and impartial trial.

August is charged in the slaying of Aubrey Pollard, 19, who was found dead at the Algiers Motel July 26 last year during the riot that took the lives of 6 others.

Paille is charged with the murder of Fred Temple, 18, No. 427 W. Middle Tpke., charged with assault with intent to commit rape, and rape, were continued July 15. He is out on two $500 bonds posted by Carl Cooper, 17.

In the first case, Hodges was charged in connection with the attempted rape of a 20-year-old Manchester housewife on Spencer St. June 8.

The second charge is in connection with the recent rape of a Coventry girl.

The case of James Haven, 21, of 55 Clinton St., charged with aggravated assault and proper passing, David W. Moe, 18, of Andover, and Leonard F. Monroe, 22, of Bolton, were continued July 22.

Cases disposed of include: Barry H. Barton, 31, of East Hartford arrested in Toland, speeding, $20; Patricia A. Clark of Bolton, failure to grant one half the highway, $30; Vincent J. Duro, 29, of Norwich, arrested in Andover, failure to drive in the established lane, $20.

Also, Richard W. Drum, 21, of Willimantic, arrested in Coventry, speeding, $20; John A. Frazer, 17, of 176 Oakland St., illegal U-turn, $40; James Ironfield, 22, of East Hartford, arrested in Manchester, and Richard L. McCabe, 29, of 84 School St.; failure to wear headgear on a motorcycle, both nolle; John T. McHugh, 67, of Vernon, proper passing, $20; David W. Moe, 18, of Andover, and Leonard F. Couple Notified Of House Break

A Manchester couple vacationing in Ekaborn, Mich., were notified by a neighbor, who first discovered the break yesterday and reported it to police.

Immediately Mrs. Donahue asked the neighbor to check on the metal box that houses the family bank books and valuables. The box is missing.

Police said the possibility of other missing items could not be resolved until the Donahues return from their trip.

The thieves gained entrance to the home by first breaking out a cellar window then breaking a chain lock on the door leading from the cellar to the first floor rooms.

Investigators find an expensive stopwatch in the bushes at the side of the residence.

TRIUMPH and TRAGEDY The Story of the KENNEDYS

The Kennedys have had it all. From hunger in Ireland to realization, three generations later, of the American Dream. Wealth. Position. Power. And they have seen the dream become nightmare.

The violence done them by fate is cruel enough. But the violence done them by the dark side of the human mind has appalled the nation and the world.

The story of this American family, what has been given it and what has been taken from it, is as fantastic as it is frightening.

Once before The Associated Press has chronicled a shocking tragedy of this afflicted family in "The Torch Is Passed," one of the largest selling books of all time, and the classic account of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Now, in a time of national shock and sympathy, the AP is producing another book on this fated family.

memoir of one of the most shocking personal and public tragedies of American history.

To reserve your copy, send only $3 now to "Triumph and Tragedy" in care of this newspaper. The book will be mailed to you just as soon as it is available.

BOY SCOUT Notes and News

Pack 83 held an Olympic Day recently at Mt. Nebo. Participating in the event were William Corrin, David Corrin, Michael Demers, Wesley Fedorak, Jonathan Head, David Marti, Dale Matthews, Christopher Merisotis, Stephen McCloud, William Moran.

Also, Charles Glade, Thomas Grakowsky, Robert Reault, and Joseph Sawyer. Richard Munroe and Stephen Kos would have participated but were injured in an automobile accident.

About 50 members of the Pack attended a roller skating party at the Carousel, Avon, Mass. The trip was arranged by Daniel Almeida.

STILL DOING HIS PART EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (AP)—Magistrate Michael A. Campana has retired from the parish he founded 35 years ago, but he is far from finished with his career of helping people.

The 62-year-old priest plans to "become what he calls a 'salesman,'" selling his conviction that "all boys need a home."

As a result of his feeling that "all boys need a home," Campana has established Hoosier Town, a residence for homeless boys in Schererville, Ind. Over the years he has provided a major time between the town and his duties as pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic parish.

Now he will travel over the country, urging people to start more boys' towns.

Be greedy...save!

Sounds like a pretty strong statement, doesn't it? But being greedy isn't necessarily being selfish. Actually, it's just being smart... especially when it's coupled with ambition and a Hartford National savings account. We recognize, as well as anyone, that it's not the easiest thing in the world to save money. Especially these days. That's precisely why our savings accounts are designed with you in mind. You put in the money and we do all the work. And we pay you interest for that privilege.

That's why we have 2 kinds of savings accounts. We know one of them has to be right for you. That's precisely why we pay 4% interest on regular savings and 5% (minimum deposit

$1,000) on Preferred Savings—the highest rates any commercial bank can pay. That's why we have 39 offices where you can make deposits. That's why your money earns interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal.

So open a savings account at Hartford National. Let us help you be a little greedy... you've earned it.

Thuy Says U.S. Spreads False Hopes of Peace

Spock Given Two Years, Will Appeal

PARIS (AP)—Ambassador Kuan Thuy, pressing for a quick end to all U.S. attacks on North Vietnam, accused American authorities of having "spread rumors" of progress in the Paris peace talks to serve their own political purposes.

Spock and His Wife Enter Court

Thuy, denying progress, told U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman that the search going on here for a way toward peace in Vietnam would fall unless the United States halts all attacks on the North at once. In case of such a failure, he argued, the United States would "bear the full and entire responsibility."

Harriman contradicted Thuy. He told newsmen: "I still maintain there are straws in the wind despite what he says." He said Thuy's remarks were known to him. "You know what the American people and the American government would do if they were to rebuff their stated interest in the peace talks. The same was true in Asia after the Pacific war."

Tydings to Press For Gun Licenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., said today that he would introduce legislation to act today on firearms registration and licensing legislation he will carry the fight directly to the Senate.

He said in effect the United States would not abandon South Vietnam by withdrawing its forces while the forces of North Vietnam remained there. He decried "most complacent reaction" to the situation.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, scoffing at polls and counting on delegates in conferring with Ohio Republican leaders in a bid to enhance his already commanding position in the race for the presidential nomination.

How Polls Are Taken

By BRIAN SULLIVAN Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The poll-taker will have a map with an X on it, telling him where to start asking who should be president. But if the X is at a corner house, he'll skip it. The owner is likely to have a little more money than the rest and he might bias the poll.
