Book Review

MR. JOHNSON AND HIS WORLD, By E. E. Hatfield, Viking Press, Inc.

These ancient readers who delight in picture books—and all the more so if the pictures are well done—will find this little volume an agreeable surprise.

Hatfield has assembled a lively and relevant collection of illustrations which reflect the author's life and times. The pleasure of his company is enhanced by the visual details.

The text is readable and, though it contains nothing unfamiliar to Johnson and his world, it is a welcome addition to the usual collection of picture books. In fact, it is a useful introduction for the uninitiated.

The distinctive qualities of the 19th century are the sense of order, the propriety, its literature, its distrust of emotionalism and its faith in reason. Samuel Johnson, lexicographer, poet, essayist and critic, embodied all these qualities, along with a remarkable breadth of general knowledge.

Style, as always, exemplifies the man, and there are special delights in Johnson's prose. It is sometimes criticized for the polysyllabic solemnities of the 18th century. Johnson's references to a mountain he saw while on tour with Boswell. He called it a "considerable protuberance."

Hatfield has a photograph of it, and the reader instantly realizes that far from being an elegant conceit, Johnson's phrase fits the object perfectly.

Remote as the Age of Johnson is to our time, it is not outside the light of the industrial revolution and the galloping technologies of the 19th and 20th centuries. Shortly before Johnson's death, Lamsard ascended from London to a balloon.

The sailing Johnson's comment is a contemporary cry.

"We now know a method of mounting the air," he said, "and I think we are likely to move more. I had rather now find a machine that can sail an asthma."

THE END OF THE BIG, By Richard Lawley, Doubleday, $5.95.

Edmond Trobe, a middle-aged British civil engineer, returns to London from an unaccountable mission in Geneva to find that appalling things are happening to his personal life and his professional standing.

The job has evaporated and his new assignment is under cover. He is to do something about a secret matter regarding a machine that quietly assassinates Britons who yearn for emotional excitement. As Edmond had done more than his share of this work, he naturally would be on the lookout for incidents of this kind.

Edmond's mission becomes a series of shocks, as his wife and daughter become involved in various dreadful happenings—which are not just coincidental.

In carrying out his new mission, Edmond, disguised as a repairman, pays a visit to Germany and accomplishes a considerable coup. But there are further complications that carry right down to the penultimate page of the novel.

THE GETTYSBURG CAMPAIGN, A Study in Command, By Edwin S. Coddington, Scribner's, $15.

Even ardent Civil War buffs might question the need for another book about Gettysburg. Nevertheless, Coddington has contributed something new and definitive to Gettysburg scholarship. He was well-qualified to write about Gettysburg, who died in 1967, he was head of the history department at Lafayette College, he had devoted 12 years to teaching Civil War and Reconstruction history, he had set 10 years into research specifically for this book.

Coddington studied all the usual sources of information and some that were unusual, as

DUTCH OLD MASTER REVEALS HIS FANS By ALBERT SHEINWOLD

The Netherlands almost won the semifinals in the recent Bridge Olympiad, largely due to the efforts of their star pair, Bob Stevens and Hans Kreyens. Their style, which won them the world pair championship in 1966, is to bounce into a slam on the slightest excuse—and then find a way to make the slam.

Opening lead—three of hearts. In today's hand, taken from one of the early matches of the Olympiad, Stevens and Kreyens bid a slam with only 28 high-card points. Their Kreyens chose the most spectacularly successful way to make his slam.

West gave Kreyens an anxious moment by opening the three of hearts. Declarer had to play low from the dummy, gradually winning with the ten when East could produce only the six of hearts.

Now Kreyens cashed the ace of spades, ruffed a spade, retook a spade, and then led the king of diamonds to ruff another spade, and led to the king of clubs.

When the queen of diamonds dropped, declarer had several ways to make his slam. He could ruff his last spade with the ace of clubs, lead the jack of clubs to the king, and then lead a trump. Or he could ruff with the jack of clubs, draw one round of trumps with the ace and then discard a heart on the jack of diamonds.

But Kreyens found a way that pleased the kibitzers. He ruffed his last spade with dummy's jack of clubs, drew one round of trumps with dummy's ace, and then led the jack of clubs. It would be fatal to ruff with the king of clubs, and lead a heart for East to ruff. Instead, Kreyens led with the king of clubs.

Now declarer could ruff the ten of clubs to force out the queen, and then lead the two of trumps to the ace and then the trick of the trick was his.

Japanese Nationals Held Behind Bamboo Curtain

By DON MANNION

The Los Angeles Times TOKYO—At least 12 Japanese citizens are held or detained in Communist China—more than any other nationality—because the Japanese government has made nothing about it beyond making inquiries to the Chinese Red Cross.

The Chinese Red Cross, it will be noted, does not reply and the government is now trying to enlist the aid of nations which have diplomatic relations with Peking, so far without success.

They advised all Japanese in South Vietnam to leave earlier this year when Viet Cong rockets were launched against Saigon, but the government has made no attempt to discourage visitors to Red China. The Communist have secured the Communist regime of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of hostility to

COME TO MY HOUSE

John McFadden, Harvard, Brac, $4.95.

Stevie Finlay, at 11, is concerned more with dreams of the opposite sex than anything else. This comic novel is a lightly veiled depiction of Stevie's callow journey into romance.

The two girls next door create Stevie's problems. He is very moon-eyed about the pretty one, Paula, but she has a slightly different attitude toward him. Paula has a crush on him, but she is not really in love with him. She is in love with a boy named Tom, who is a student at Harvard.

Stevie's family is something of a circus itself. His father, a really good athlete in his youth, is obsessed with the idea that he still is quite a foot-racer. Stevie's 6-year-old brother, called The Monster, can create more trouble than a flock of gremlins. And his grandmother is a doting old girl who meddles in his

June Nurse Report Shows Drop in Medicare Visits

The number of Medicare patients visited by the Rockville Public Health Nurses was recorded during June, according to the report issued by Miss West, Williamson.

A total of 1,344 visits were made during the month of June. Of these, 215 were for the purpose of administering bed care and treatment and 1,029 for health guidance.

The Herald's Vernon Bureau Miss Hoyt said the Medicare patients were fewer since many of those treated had been admitted to hospitals or convalescent homes.

Physical therapy calls also tapered off since some patients receiving the service were re-admitted to hospital.

Physician new babies were visited by the public health nurses and their mothers were examined to collect specimens for the FCU test and to mail to the State Department of Health.

The final immunization clinic of the fiscal year was held at the Elmgrove Auxiliary building, under the direction of Dr. Joseph Kistner.

At the Tolland Well-child Clinic, Dr. John Malone of Manchester examined and immunized 20 babies and young children. He gave seven diphtheria, three smallpox, six measles and six trivalent oral polio vaccines.

Mrs. Mary Dunstinger, staff public health nurse, arranged the appointments for conference and was assisted at the conference by volunteers who weighed and measured the children.

In Ellington, Miss Isabelle Abbott and Miss Helen Hegnan, staff nurses, who work in the schools and the town, completed the testing and follow-up on the teeth of school children.

With the help of the five school health aides, the current status of dental records have been kept up to date and forwarded to the proper schools for the coming year.

Mrs. Betty Cormier, assistant supervisor, held a final meeting with the school health aides and received their re-applications for the coming year. The new schedule of work assignments were distributed.

During June, meetings were held on providing public health nursing services to Bolton. They resulted in a contract agreement and the service was started Aug. 1, bringing the number of towns covered to five.

Miss Hoyt reports that the research committee of the new health and welfare event was given by their Council has met again and is collecting data on local facilities and the lack of them to submit to the hospital.

48th District Girshick Named To School Board

Max Girshick, the Democratic candidate for state representative from the 48th district, has been appointed to the Board of Education.

The appointment was made to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Muriel Humphrey, and was confirmed by the Board of Education.

Girshick has spoken strongly of the importance of public education in his various campaign appearances throughout the district towns of Tolland, Ellington and Somers.

Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to Westover AFB, Miss. The almost 20-year-old graduate of Manchester High School.

MIAMI BEACH—The by-play was brief but cordial when the wives of Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan and Nelson Rockefeller together during a luncheon here Tuesday.

The women shared the head table at a "Fashion, Fame and Fantasy" luncheon given by the Florida host committee to honor Mary Brooks and several former assistant chairmen of the Republican National Committee.

At first, it looked like there would be no words exchanged among the candidates' wives, but then as Mrs. Nixon was leaving, she said to Mrs. Rockefeller, "I am certain there would be widespread indignation if the name of my husband, John F. Kennedy, were to be used in connection with this event."

"Thank you very much," was the only reply. As Mrs. Rockefeller left, she stopped to deliver the same message to Nancy Reagan.

Each of the wives was mobbed by autograph seekers and each received a big ovation, with Mrs. Nixon getting the biggest.

The Nixon and Rockefeller families were there too, with Barbara and Susan Eisenhower sitting at a table next to Gov. Rockefeller's daughters, Ann Pierson and Mrs. William Bradford Huie.

Julie Nixon said she had heard her father was considering a trip to Russia, but added, "I can't really believe he'll go." If he did go, she definitely wanted to go along. "I've always wanted to go to the Soviet Union, and mother is delighted about it."

Mrs. Strawbridge said she was visiting the women of the Ohio and Pennsylvania delegations on her husband's behalf. Ann Pierson said all the family was here and picking in "hot Uncle John's" Rockman Rockefeller, her brother, and his wife were coming in Tuesday.

After the luncheon she had presented a fashion show and singer Anita Bryant sang LBJ's favorite song, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

'Name' Plans Censured by NAACP Head

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—Plans to name a one-block street in a housing project for the Rev. Martin Luther King have been denounced by the president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Common Council announced its plans Monday night to name the street in honor of Dr. King, the Rev. Charles R. Gordon, sent a letter Tuesday to Mayor Hugh C. Curran, saying he was "amazed" by the council action and that he considered it "an insult to the memory of Dr. King."

But the head of the Bridgeport-Stratford NAACP, the Rev. Charles R. Gordon, sent a letter Tuesday to Mayor Hugh C. Curran, saying he was "amazed" by the council action and that he considered it "an insult to the memory of Dr. King."

He said many persons in the black community "are not only offended but have indicated that they intend to react in a negative way to this act which is consistent with a national pattern of 'crum' throwing' where members of minority groups are concerned."

Negro Exodus From South Showing Dip

By DAVID HOFFMAN
The Washington Post
WASHINGTON — The long exodus of Negroes out of the rural South and into larger northern cities lost its momentum between 1966 and 1968, according to a report submitted Wednesday to President Johnson.

Compiled by the Census Bureau and the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the report noted that the number of Negroes dwelling in downtown metropolitan areas has increased "slightly and sharply" since the 1960s.

"However," it continued, "between 1969 and 1968 the increase stopped, and there is some evidence to indicate an actual decline—constituting a sharp change in recent trends."

In 1968, there were 12.1 million Negroes living in the central core of U. S. cities. But at the beginning of 1969, according to the report, their number had dropped to 11.5 million—a decrease of 0.2 per cent.

The consensus of social scientists, both private and government, has been that the urban Negro population will continue to increase, numerically and as a percentage of total city population.

Attempting to explain what may be the reversal of a 30-year-old trend, the report noted the number of Negroes leaving the South has been decreasing sharply in recent years. It also offered evidence the number of Negroes living in the suburbs has increased—from 17 million in 1966 to 18.2 million in 1968—although their percentage representation remains constant at five per cent.

In the last year, about 1 million nonwhite men above the poverty level (approximately $3,400 dollars annual income for a family of four), and 27 per cent of all nonwhite families had incomes in excess of $4,000 dollars (the national median income), up from 23 per cent in 1966.

After getting the report, President Johnson said: "It indicates that our society is on the move and that Black Americans are successfully gaining a better life for themselves and their children."

The chief executive also said the report "indicates those who say 'Negroes are moving ahead too fast.' Today, in the year 1968—more than a century after the Emancipation Proclamation—the average Negro family in America is earning only 80 per cent as much as the average White family."

Help Each Child To Help Himself

By DOMITRY RECH
The Washington Post
It is important to start early to teach your child how to get along on his own.

Use the remaining summer days to develop skills and attitudes that will help youngsters to function more independently and that will carry over to the schoolroom.

A pre-schooler can learn to make his own bed, take his own bath, wash his hair, set his alarm clock and wake up to it, make his own breakfast, make lunch, help with the dishes and water the lawn.

Your job as a parent-teacher is to show how to do it step-by-step, to encourage, to praise and then to step back and let the child take over. Don't expect quick miracles. It will take a lot more time and patience to teach a child to do things for himself than to do the work for him.

Older children who haven't been expected to assume responsibilities may balk at chores. It might be helpful for parents to list the jobs they must do each day, like it or not. Boys can learn to do minor carpentry repairs about the house; girls can wash, iron and mend their own clothes.

Children need help in coping with the outside world. An 8-year-old can learn how to take a bus, instead of being chauffeured by mom, to where he wants to go. Elementary graduates can practice making telephone calls to get information about movies to see or places to visit.

Encourage activities that promote a child's making his own decisions and doing things on his own. Summer is a good time for a child to learn how to do the planning for a party, or for his own out-of-town travel. Delegating responsibility involves a letting-go.

Out and You're On, On and You're Out

NEW YORK (AP) — It was out and you're on and you're out. Any fan knows that's no way to play baseball. The Baltimore Orioles knew that.

Tony Oliva led off the sixth inning for Minnesota Tuesday night and struck out. But Orioles catcher Andy Eichenbauer failed to handle the third strike and Oliva reached first. One out later, Bob Allison homered and Minnesota had a 5-0 lead.

The Orioles then fought back to trail by only 5-4 with one out in the sixth. They stepped back after Larry Hanes, who lashed the ball to right field and ended up on second base. But he failed to touch first and was out.

Ron Ferronico retired the next batter and the second-place Orioles were beaten 5-4 to fall 4½ games behind the American League-leading Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers edged Cleveland 3-1 in 11 innings on Dick Tracy's sacrifice and Jose Cardenal's single. Detroit tied the eighth when Don Wert homered off starter Luis Tiant.

The Tigers took a 5-2 lead in the suspended game by scoring four runs in the sixth, two of them coming on Al Kaline's pinch double with the bases loaded.

In other American League action, Boston trounced the Chicago White Sox 7-2, 2½-inning.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Atlanta Braves fumbled the ball and Don Drysdale couldn't pick it up.

The Braves committed four errors in the first inning Tuesday night on the way to a 4-3 loss to Chicago that gave the Cubs undisputed possession of second place in the National League.

Drysdale bobbed Marry Willie's home-rod roller in the ninth inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates added two more runs for a 4-1 victory over the struggling Los Angeles Dodgers' ace, Cincinnati's Jim Maloney.

Maloney stopped the Pirates with a two-run single.

Bill Mazeroski and Jerry May singled with one out and moved Cardinals to a five-hit, three-run victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

First baseman Ron Fairly then fielded pinch hitter Marry Jim's grounder but failed to make a play after bunting and throwing home.

That tied the bases and set the stage for the decisive ninth inning by Drysdale, who has lost in his last four decisions for a 12-10 season mark.

Maloney's 8-4 and 1-1 record is tied for the best in the National League.

The Reds nursed a 1-0 lead until the eighth inning at St. Louis when the Cardinals scored three runs.

St. Louis' Steve Carlton pitched a 1-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Carlton's 10-5 record is tied for the best in the National League.

The Cardinals' lead in the National League is 1½ games over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cardinals' lead in the National League is 1½ games over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Stamp of Approval Old Man Showed 'Em Something, Griffith Halts Harris Win Streak

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "They wrote that to do was show up and bugalo and he'd win. I guess the Old Man showed 'em something."

Emile Griffith was shouting in his dressing room at the Spectrum after winning a 10-5 decision over previously unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris. He referred to prefight stories he had read which wrote him of an old man about to be de-voiced by the 23-year-old minor-league Harris of Philadelphia.

When it was over, however, Griffith, who lost his middleweight title last March to Nino Benvenuti of Italy, may have put himself up for a return bout with the Italian.

Griffith's co-manager, Gil Cheney said, "Benvenuti must fight Emile if he wants to fight for money, or else he'll fight for peanuts."

Cheney said Griffith has an offer to fight Lester in San Francisco.

There was no doubt from the start as to the winner. Griffith reached the 23-year-old Harris early with short left jab and left-right combination which enabled him to build up a comfortable margin through the first six rounds.

Lyons Scores Win In First Open Try

WEST HARTFORD (AP) — The winner of the Connecticut Open in his first venture in state competition is an amateur, 25-year-old Denny Lyons of the Burning Tree Club in Greenwich.

With a seven-under-par 208, he led the field Tuesday at the West Hartford Country Club. It was a 54-hole tournament, and Lyons had two straight two-under-par 70 rounds after an opening 69.

Lyons, who had just won the 24th championship of the Connecticut Golf Association.

The win was his third straight golf championship. Denny is the son of the pro at Burning Tree, Tony Lyons.

Trailing the young Lyons was Jim Grant, a rookie pro from West Hartford who had 212, making him the top money for professionals.

Turned In Finest Performance of Season Lonborg Got Red Sox Thinking Hopefully of Another Pennant

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Lonborg isn't getting to win a second straight Cy Young Award for pitching excellence but he got Red Sox hopefuls thinking of another pennant.

It has happened since Lonborg clinched the pennant on the final day of the 1967 season and the Red Sox have had a pair of victories.

Lonborg has worked in rotation in his last seven games. He has no decision and in another he went six innings, allowing one hit and one run but walking eight.

Lonborg followed that with a 6-1 victory over California when he went seven innings, allowing seven hits and one run while walking two.

Lonborg is the White Sox, Lonborg turned in his finest performance of the year. He yielded two runs and eight hits but most of the hits were bloops. He didn't walk a man and led the game with a 7-2 lead for a pitch batter.

"It was most encouraging," said manager Dick Williams. "He didn't walk anyone and could have gone the distance but we decided against it."

Lonborg, a 22-game winner last year, said, "My arm tightened up a little after that hit in the fourth inning when we scored three runs. I probably could have done all the way with the lead we had but I didn't want to take any chance of missing my next start."

Lonborg insisted he is playing well and despite suffering from a "high baseball official" report the franchise would be shifted to either Milwaukee or Buffalo.

Collins Celebrates In Mets' Triumph

HOUSTON (AP) — The New York Mets celebrated Kevin Collins' birthday two days late.

Collins, the Mets' third baseman, slammed a three-run homer in the ninth inning Tuesday night to break a 1-1 tie and gave the New Yorkers a 4-1 victory over the Houston Astros.

The 26-year-old Collins, who turned 27 on Tuesday, had a 1-0 record in his first six innings.

Collins' first major league home run was played in only his 450th game and it was the first of his career.

Oakland Seals Change Owners

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals of the National Hockey League, in trouble on the ice and at the gate last season, have undergone changes of ownership and the new owners hope will improve their performance in both areas.

Patric Palmer of Chicago and John O'Neill Jr. of Miami, Fla., two of the team's owners, have announced Tuesday.

The three partners are already seal owners of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team and also have an interest in the Atlanta Braves of baseball, the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League and the Atlanta Chiefs of the North American Soccer League.

Previously the Seals had nearly 50 stockholders from various clubs and this led to management problems so great that the club nearly moved to Vancouver, Canada.

Only the opposition of NHL owners prevented this.

Palmer, O'Neill and Gillett say they are committed to staying in Oakland.

Earlier, the Seals appointed a new head coach, Fred Glover, and made two multi-player deals, one with the Montreal Canadiens, obtaining Norm Ferguson and Stan Fuller from the Stanley Cup winners and another with Detroit.

Montreal Denies Reports City Will Lose Franchise

CHICAGO (AP) — WGN broadcasting, which carries Chicago Cubs baseball games on radio and television, said Tuesday night it had learned Montreal will lose its National League baseball franchise because of financial difficulties.

WGN, broadcasting over its 12 radio stations and one television outlet, said it was not available for comment on the WGN report.

WGN said Montreal will lose the franchise because the city is unable to raise $5 million to finance a dome for its stadium.

Montreal and San Diego were awarded franchises in an expansion move last spring and the Montreal choice came as a big surprise to baseball.

Phil Heading For Eastern League Flag

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Reading Phillies can almost taste the flavor of an Eastern League pennant. And no wonder. They had another sweet victory Tuesday night when they beat the Reading Phillies 4-1.

The league-leading Phillies turned back the runaway Pittsfield Red Sox, 4-1, with a 1-0 lead in the ninth inning. The dramatic victory boosted the Phillies' lead to 5½ games.

Dave Watkins slammed a two-run double to cap a three-run ninth inning to bring Reading back after two outs.

In other games Tuesday night, York blanked Elmira 1-0 and Binghamton and Waterbury split a pair. The Triplets won the first game, 1-0, and the Indians, the second, 1-0.

Pittsfield's Dick Baney, seeking his fifth straight victory, led the Red Sox to a 4-1 win over the Phillies.

Reading's Pat Skarabek broke the spell with a triple to lead off the first and second innings and it wasn't until the fourth inning that Baney cracked a homer with Don Simonson on base to tie the game. Then in the last of the seventh, with one out, Gibbs smashed a circuit blow and scored the winning run. Simonson added two hits as did Mark Foster. For the losers, Joe Caspouso had three hits and Joe Twaronite cracked two.

ALBANY BASEBALL

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — The Birmingham Barons of the Southern League are second with 76.

The annual American Bowling Congress championship will be held in Madison, Wis., in 1969. Any male bowler with an ABC membership card is eligible to compete.

There have been 21 perfect games in the ABC history. Two of them came in the 1968 event in Cincinnati.

Site of the 1969 ABC bowling tournament will be the new circular Dues County Memorial Coliseum on beautiful Lake Monona. The coliseum, under construction, is the state capital building at Madison.

The American Bowling Congress has served the nation's male bowlers since 1906.

Purchase's football schedule lists Notre Dame as its second rival for each of the next four seasons.

In mid-June the New York Mets completed their best road trip in their seven-year history. They won seven of nine games.

Until this season the New York Mets were unable to win more than three games in any one of seven campaigns in Los Angeles. This spring the Mets won four of five games played in Dodger Stadium.

South Windsor Plays Sunday

Pairings have been announced for the American Legion baseball tournament first round which begins Saturday. Games will get underway at 10:30 with Bristol and West Hartford slated to start the action. They will be followed by Middletown against either Stratford or Bridgeport.

Starting at 5:30, Stamford or New Canaan faces Sharon to be followed by South Windsor against Norwich. Cocon Fort's Blinn's club posted a 16-5 record to take the Zone Eight title. All games will be played at Muzzy Field in Bristol.

Directors Get Petition On Noise at Drive-ins

Manchester policemen are spending entirely too much time at drive-ins, when they should be doing more important police work, said Police Chief James Reardon last night.

Reardon, speaking after the Board of Directors had accepted a petition from 150 neighbors of the Main St. Burger Chef Restaurant, decried noises and nuisances in the vicinity of the town's drive-ins. "The problems in Manchester are not nearly as tough as they are in other areas town," he said, appealing to the directors for stronger enforcement of the out-of-control, that the congregants at the Burger Chef, after hours, are tamed in on the police, radio-wave length, and disperse when they hear a complaint. "The nuisances are all over town, and not merely at the Burger Chef. No wonder the community at large in the country is plagued with riots and chaos. Let's stop it here at the beginning—stop it while it's still only a spark and before it becomes a flame," Reardon said that his men check all drive-ins, once or twice every hour, and that, when responding to a complaint call, find things in order on the parking lots. "But those measures are only stop gaps," he said, appealing to the directors for stronger enforcement of the out-of-control, that the con-

Nixon Picks Agnew As Running Mate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, winner of the Republican presidential nomination, today picked Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland as his running mate.

Nixon made the announcement in a brief news conference at 12:45 p.m. He said some 100 party leaders had been consulted.

The selection of Agnew, a one-time supporter of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, was a major surprise. The Maryland governor delivered the nomination speech for Nixon last night.

Nixon opened his news conference saying the deliberations "have been very thorough on what we think is a tremendously important decision."

Agnew was elected governor of Maryland in 1966 after a term as county executive of Baltimore County, which surrounds the city of Baltimore.

He attracted considerable Democratic support in the heavy Democratic vote in the state.

Not quite six weeks later, Rockefeller went before another news conference, this time in Albany, N.Y., and declared that he had changed his mind—he now would pursue the nomination with "all my heart."

Rockefeller had been besieged by a wide variety of influential Republicans across the nation, including several governors, to declare his candidacy.

He poured millions of dollars—the latest estimate is $5 million, but rivals believe the figure is much higher—into a dazzling advertising campaign, a heavily staffed campaign head-
