Crash May Delay Flight to Moon

By PAUL REICHER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The crash Sunday of a spider-like craft designed to teach pilots how to land on the moon may have been an "unavoidable setback" to America's man-to-the-moon program, a space official said.

The training vehicle, a bug-like craft which darts and hovers in an artificially created one-sixth earth gravity similar to the moon's, crashed after developing wildly uncontrollable twisting and swaying motions.

The pilot, Joseph Algranti, ejected and parachuted to safety. Algranti, a test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was uninjured.

Paul Haney, director of public affairs at the NASA space center, said the crash of the $1.8 million Lunar Landing Training Vehicle—LLTV—may have been "an unavoidable setback" to the lunar landing project, "but to what degree is anybody's guess."

"We'll have to figure the effect on an overall training program," Haney said. "The flight was to have been the last major test before the craft was used for astronaut training."

An accident investigation board, headed by astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., convened shortly after the accident but its report is not expected for some time.

TO NAME CABINET

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon will try to name his cabinet members before national television cameras at 10 p.m. EST. Ron L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced this today and said that Nixon would be accompanied by members of his new cabinet, might take the occasion to also disclose "other major appointments."

Egypt Set To Accept U.N. Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt is reported willing to accept another U.N. force to help safeguard a peace settlement with Israel, diplomatic sources at the United Nations report.

The sources said Egypt's delegate to the United Nations, Mohamed Awad El Kony, included the idea in a seven-point statement he gave to Chief U.S. delegate J.R. Wiggins Thursday.

Egypt accepted a U.N. force after the 1967 Suez invasion, and closing the Gulf of Aqaba, the force prevented Egypt from closing the Gulf of Aqaba, alongside the Sinai desert, to Israeli shipping.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered the force out in 1967 and said Israel couldn't use the gulf, shortly afterward, Israel drove the Egyptians out of Sinai in the six days' war.

The diplomatic sources said Egypt now would accept a new U.N. force to supervise Israel's withdrawal from the peninsula and remain at mutually agreed on places, including the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

El Kony's proposal came in response to a seven-point program U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was said to have outlined a month ago to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmud Elid. The State Department denied the existence of such a program last week.

Meanwhile, the U.N. special envoy for the Middle East, Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, flew back to his headquarters in Cyprus after talks with Jordanian leaders in Amman.

Jordan Premier Bahjat Talhouh told his Parliament that Israel's attitude is preventing progress by Jarring's mission, and that Jordan and Egypt will go no further with Jarring until Israel expresses willingness to

Farm Leader Asks Lifting Of Controls

By DON KENDALL

AP Farm Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) —

Present government farm programs should be dismantled and replaced with devices to help successful farmers move gradually into a market-oriented economy free of federal controls and payments, says Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It should be recognized that the low-income problems in agriculture are of two distinctly different kinds—those of the commercial farmers who receive most of their income from farming, and those of the part-time, subsistence and rural resident farmers," Shuman said.

The latter type, he said, needs a program offering help to become more productive either in agriculture or in some other job.

Shuman's speech was prepared for delivery today at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau.

About 5,000 persons are expected for the meeting, which runs through Thursday.

The Farm Bureau, which represents about 28 million families, has vigorously opposed the farm programs of the Democratic administration.

Shuman said that with a Republican administration the Farm Bureau has won, "for all practical purposes," its long fight to end acreage controls and "government management of farm prices" through existing programs.

"The general public is finally beginning to recognize that a government-planned agriculture is a costly exercise in futility," he said.

A U.S. Marine aims a North Vietnamese bunker while two other Leathernecks back him up amid ruins of a South Vietnamese village in the Bien Dan district. The Marines were advancing through the village while North Vietnamese troops, bunkered and entrenched in ruins and treeless, fought back with mortars and machine guns. The U.S. operation, code named "Meade River", was aimed at the encirclement of several North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units but large units of the enemy evidently slipped through and escaped.

Marines Close Ring, Enemy Toll at 862

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marines closed out their massive cordon operation south of Da Nang today with another flurry of stiff bunker fighting.

At least 862 North Vietnamese soldiers were claimed killed in the 20-day campaign.

Some field reports were still missing, and some senior officers estimated the total enemy losses may approach 1,000 when the final count is made. A hundred North Vietnamese troops were taken prisoner.

Marine casualties for the entire operation, called Meade River, were 95 killed and 504 wounded. Nearly half of the U.S. and enemy casualties were taken in the last five days as the Leathernecks' encirclement shrank to less than a square mile.

Staff officers said preliminary intelligence indicated that major portions of four battalions of the North Vietnamese Army's 28th Regiment had been trapped in the cordon following an enemy attack on the district town of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines were being pulled out for operations elsewhere, there was still light sniper fire and some mortar firing from their rear, showing that swept territory had already been infiltrated again by at least token enemy forces.

Nixon, Shriver Talk; Laird Held Sure Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon, who has indicated he will seek early meetings with Western European leaders, has added fuel to the active rumor mill here by conferring nearly two hours with R. Sargent Shriver, ambassador to France.

Meanwhile, the Milwaukee Sentinel said a Nixon aide in Washington confirmed that Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, had agreed to become secretary of defense.

The unidentified aide said Nixon's choice of the Wisconsin congressman was a certainty, the Sentinel reported.

"The only thing that could go wrong would be if he (Nixon) changes his mind at the last minute, and he won't," the aide was quoted as saying.

Laird was not available for comment.

Shriver said he flew to New York from Washington Sunday at Nixon's request to "bring him up to date about things in France."

The brother-in-law of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., indicated he and Nixon didn't discuss a possible Cabinet appointment for Shriver nor even the possibility of his continuing as ambassador to France. However, the fact that the conversation at the President-elect's Fifth Avenue apartment was the longest yet announced by Nixon prompted speculation about Shriver's future.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to stand in the way of trial of Clay L. Shaw on charges of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Shaw, a retired New Orleans businessman, had appealed to the Court for "sanctuary" from Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's impending prosecution. Shaw claimed he was the victim of a concerted pattern of persecution.

In other actions today, the court: —Granted a hearing to ten black militants charged in New York with advocating the overthrow of government through sabotage and assassination.

—Refused a hearing to A. C. Park of Jefferson, Ga., convicted of having hired assassins to kill a prosecutor, Floyd G. Hoard. Park had been sentenced to death in the automobile bomb slaying of Hoard.

—Passed up an opportunity to extend to the states the controversial Mallory ruling, which requires police to take arrested persons before a magistrate without unnecessary delay. The court imposed the ruling on federal authorities in 1967.

—Held unconstitutional a South Carolina law which provides for scholarship grants to students who want to attend private, non-parochial schools.

Only rarely do federal courts act to block state-court prosecutions. The Supreme Court gave no reason for refusing to block Shaw's trial or to give him a hearing.

Shaw, 55, also sought to make the Warren Commission report binding on all courts in the country and to have Louisiana's conspiracy laws declared unconstitutional.

The Warren Commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, declared Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, assassin of Kennedy in November 1963.

Garrison's theory is that Shaw conspired with Oswald and others to murder Kennedy. Shaw said Garrison's prosecution is designed to intimidate those who disagreed with the

U.S. Ships In Black Sea Irk Russia

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Two destroyers of the U.S. 6th Fleet sailed through the Bosporus today for a five-day cruise along Turkey's Black Sea Coast.

The Russians called the American naval visit to their southern doorstep a provocation, a threat to peace and Soviet security, and a violation of the 1936 Montreux Convention.

The 3,500-ton Dyess led the way through the narrow strait between the Sea of Marmara and the Black Sea. Her sister ship the Turner followed about an hour later.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported Sunday that its correspondent had seen the two destroyers pass through the Bosporus and slip "like thieves" into the huddled Black Sea. But the ships anchored in the Sea of Marmara for the night, abiding by the provision of the Montreux Convention that bars transit of the strait after nightfall.

Izvestia claimed that the ships' passage through the Bosporus violated the Montreux Convention regulating use of the strait because the two destroyers were equipped with missiles capable of delivering nuclear weapons and because the convention bars ships of any nation at war.

Turkish and American officials rejected the Soviet charges and said the ships were making a routine visit that was in conformity with the convention.

The Turkish Foreign Ministry said the Russians "had some complaints, but Turkey rejected them since the passage is entirely in conformity with the Montreux Convention." The convention allows non-Black Sea powers to send "light surface vessels" of under 30,000 tons into the Black Sea.

Turkish newspapers viewed the destroyers' visit as a demonstration of American naval strength occasioned by the steady Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean during the past year. The Russians now have about 60 warships in the Mediterranean, a sea where previously the U.S. 6th Fleet was unchallenged.

Police lead Joseph James Bartholomey, 21, from Kent General Hospital, Dover, after he refused treatment for wound suffered in alleged break from Salisbury, Md., jail. (AP Photofax)

Escapee Captured in Motel, Sought in Double Slaying

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Police captured today at a motel here Joseph J. Bartholomey, a county jail escapee from Salisbury, Md., sought in the slayings of a sheriff and a jailer.

Dover City Police positively identified their prisoner as Bartholomey, who faces charges of shooting Samuel Graham, Alameda County sheriff, and Albert L. Kelly, a deputy, during his escape Sunday night.

An extradition hearing was scheduled for later today.

Police said Bartholomey, 21, of Baltimore, Md., was captured at the Capital City Motel following a tip to Delaware State Police.

About two dozen police with riot guns surrounded the motel and demanded the person inside a room come out with his hands raised.

Bartholomey backed out of the door, was frisked, handcuffed and taken to Kent General Hospital in Dover.

A reported on the scene said Bartholomey appeared "emotionally spent." He also had a bullet wound in the back and his right trouser leg was bloodied.

Bartholomey was taken to Dover police headquarters after refusing treatment at the hospital.

Alfred J. Trullitt Jr., Wicomico County state's attorney, said earlier today that warrants had been issued for Bartholomey's arrest on homicide and fugitive charges.

Trullitt said Bartholomey acted as the inmates were returning to their cells from a recreation area.

Graham, 62, was shot in the head and chest. Kelly, also 62, was shot in the head. It was not known where the pistol was obtained.

Police said Bartholomey went from the jail area on the third floor of the county courthouse into the sheriff's residence, which adjoins the jail. The escapee used a stairway to reach the first floor and fled from the court house on foot.

Trullitt said Bartholomey had been arrested about 10 days ago on charges of breaking and entering and was awaiting trial. Bartholomey had been in Salisbury several months, according to Trullitt, but was a Baltimorean who had worked in Ocean City, Md., during the summer resort season.

Police records showed Bartholomey had been arrested and convicted twice in 1965, for larceny and assisting in an auto theft.

North Viet Envoy Calls Ky 'Puppet'

PARIS (AP) — A spokesman for North Vietnam's delegation to the Paris peace talks lashed at South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today, calling him "a puppet, a servant of the United States and a devotee of Hitler."

It was a forerunner of many charges and countercharges expected as the Vietnamese rivals maneuver toward the enlarged peace talks.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese teams set up a strategy sessions later in the day with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance on the American side and Pham Dang Lam and Bul Dlem, the ambassador to Washington, on Saigon's side.

The North Vietnamese blast at Ky came from Hanoi delegation spokesman Bul Nhan and referred to past remarks Ky had made about Hitler in South Vietnam.

Ky denied at the time that he was voicing any admiration for the former Nazi dictator. And in the course of his exuberant arrival here Sunday the jaunty former combat pilot repeatedly stressed he was no puppet of Uncle Sam.

The opening date of the expanded peace talks is still in doubt pending the outcome of another diplomatic dialogue between the United States and North Vietnam.

The shape of the table for the negotiations—of symbolic importance to the South Vietnamese and their rivals, the National Liberation Front—remained at issue after a week of U.S.-North Vietnamese exchanges had thrashed out other details for the first meeting of the delegations.

The Communists demand a square table to match their argument that this will be a four-sided conference in which the Viet Cong's NLF delegation has separate, equal status with the other three.

Ky re-emphasized on his arrival the Saigon-Washington view of the parley as two sided —between the allies and the Communists. He refused to even speak of the NLF, which his government regards as an out-

He'll Be a Marine After Four Attempts

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Younger men than Carl E. Herring join the U.S. Marines. But none so persistent.

After 11 years and four tries he graduates from boot camp today.

"I never dreamed of any other life," says Herring, now 28, who wants to be a drill instructor.

In Temple, Tex., Herring quit school after the sixth grade at 10 years old and worked in a variety store, then in a Dallas cafe until his 17th birthday arrived and he could enlist.

His determination started to get a real test. On a Marine obstacle course Herring broke his knee and was sent home with a medical discharge. He paid for corrective surgery, then flooded the Corps with letters asking for a medical waiver to get back in.

The Marines said yes, on condition Herring pass his physical requirements. In June he re-enlisted. He broke his army July 7. On July 28, the day the cast came off, he was washed out of such a purpose would require a re-orientation and rethinking and expansion of the legal powers and the material resources that organization once established in Korea. In a word, the United Nations would have to be made big enough to handle the crisis in the Near East.

It that seems to be too much to ask, will some one please advance any other solution or formula that has a chance of working, and that will have an Israeli, or some Arab states, or even anybody else?

We fear the world is going to see, and suffer, the consequences of lesser courses of action.

Our Most Challenging Problem

The rising spiral of crime in American life may well be our most challenging problem.

I need not cite the appalling statistical evidence. I need not describe the corrective effects. These facts are all too well known.

I have a feeling we must dig deep into the very nature of American society before we come up with effective solutions.

Our national life bears a long heritage of lawlessness. Violence is deeply bred into our bloodstream.

The nature of our ethnic population mix, with all its intolerance and virility, has produced incessant conflict, injustice, and failure to create the inner personal restraints which help to preserve an orderly society.

An religion has its effective hold on morals, as many elements of society just hammer blows to stability, we saw the breakdown of families, the sometime curse of affluence on family responsibility, the great migration of peoples from one part of the country to another.

Many of them, especially the Southern blacks moving into the urban North, had lost the restraints of their former life and often moved into a new form of poverty and degradation where the possibilities of crime were vastly intensified.

I believe we should think more deeply about these and many other causative factors as we try to awaken American public opinion to the need of a multi-faceted remedial program or programs.

I think we must dig as deep into causes as we possibly can without ignoring of course all the innumerable practical measures of law enforcement, police education, and social justice that we can apply.

I think that those of us who are concerned with the institutions of religion— as I am— should realize that the heavy responsibility we bear. The ultimate answer to the causes of crime is to be found in the human heart and conscience.

The churches must make their social mission relevant to individual human beings in a society which desperately needs, and I believe somewhat yearns, for awakening.

It is fashionable to sneer at the Puritan ethic, which certainly had its limitations and its blind spots, but something rather like the Puritan ethic needs to be re-created in the hearts of men.

Of course, we can do better than reconstruct the past. We can evoke an ethic which goes far beyond the Puritanical. It must affirm the importance of absolute honesty, the horror of violence, the necessity of accepting and implementing social responsibility.

We are at a cryptic moment in history. By this I mean that we could move in one of two directions; up toward a definition and a living of higher and worthier standards, or downward toward more materialism and selfishness.

By this I mean that we could move in one of two directions; up toward a definition and a living of higher and worthier standards, or downward toward more materialism and selfishness.

There is a vast hunger for a better society, with worthier principles and practices. There is a widespread desire to participate more fully and directly in the decisive processes of the time.

The threat to boom up all the old bureaucracies— political, educational, corporate, religious— is almost revolutionary.

I describe this moment as cryptic because it is not sure which direction the movement of the future will take. But I feel sure that a good part of humanity is ready to rise up for some kind of spiritual awakening.

The awakening could come through the channels of established religion, or through an intensified social conscience and a clarification of the terms of theology (i.e., what do we mean by God; what is the significance of the Bible, interpreted spiritually instead of literally; what message does the Christ convey to modern man?).

Or the awakening could come outside the church. Some people say the saints of today are outside the church. If this is true it need not be. I am not prepared to give up on the organized religion.

But whether the awakening comes through the churches or not, the hunger of humanity calls out for spiritual answers. These answers will reaffirm the image and likeness— of this infinite power, will proclaim the brotherhood of all mankind and the total responsibility of each individual person.

This establishment of the identity of man as the precious child of God should drain the possibility of violence out of social action. It should make war impossible. It should make crime impossible. I know I am speaking in idealistic, indeed in transcendental terms. I do not expect any sort of spiritual awakening to mean instant salvation. It will not solve problems overnight.

But I believe our society in the United States requires a movement toward deeper ethical and moral standards than we have ever enjoyed before. I do not think we should hesitate to strive consciously in this direction, however slowly we may progress. I believe the time is ripe to start.

In short, I urge we do not ignore and fall to utilize the consciously religious, the ethical, the moral, the spiritual as we try to deal the deep causes of crime in the hearts of men.

PRINCESS PINE ON A FROSTY MORNING Nature Study by Orlan

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—Vice President Humphrey, now virtually certain to run for the White House in 1972, is being strongly urged to set up a Democratic Advisory Committee to control top priority party policy during the Nixon administration.

If the narrowly-defeated Democratic presidential nominee agrees, the committee could become a powerful instrument for making Humphrey more than just a title holder.

By this I mean that we could move in one of two directions; up toward a definition and a living of higher and worthier standards, or downward toward more materialism and selfishness.

Memo Latest Weapon In Skirt Skirmish

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The memo has become the principal weapon in a skirt skirmish raging in Michigan's Capitol.

It started when one disapproving committee clerk circulated a memo among her fellow female legislative employees which said:

"How short is too short?"

"The right length is dictated by your size, age and intelligence. It is measured by good taste, the proper place and occasion. Honestly now, are your legs and knees so truly fetching that they must be exposed to everyone, at all times, anywhere?"

The memo added: "Your skirt is too short if: When you sit there is nothing to tug down, turning around in your chair pulls it high, someone else has to do your filing for you."

The other side was soon heard from. A less disapproving secretary parodied the first memo with a memo of her own.

"The right length," she asserted, "is dictated by your nationality, religion and the shape of your head."

"Your skirt is too long," she added. If: When sitting you look as though you're still standing, when turning in your chair it gets wound up in the seat."

A male then jumped into the fray with a memo inquiring: "Honestly now, is your face so truly fetching that it must be the only thing exposed to everyone, at all times, anywhere?"

In response, probably, to male meddling in this clearly feminine debate, another secretary switched the discussion to beads.

"How long," her memo inquired, "is too long?"

"The right length of beard."

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCREE BEALE

Synopsis: Ding Dong charges his mind about capturing Santa but he tricks him into going to Hipperville so the hippies can see that Santa isn't a square.

CHAPTER 7
HESEKIAH

A TERRIBLE thing happened as soon as Santa left Santa Land.

There was a mishapen old dwarf named Heseekiah whose only interest in life was the invention of a machine to take the place of people.

He had been working on his invention for 400 years but he hadn't gotten any further than the discovery of a powerful salt that could turn people into spinning tops. This was just what Heseekiah wanted while he continued to work on his machine to take the place of people.

Before he turned people into spinning tops Heseekiah thought it would be a good idea to try out his salt on some creatures who were like people but still not exactly people. That is to say, elves and fairies and such folk.

Heseekiah arrived in Santa Land at the very moment Santa and Ding Dong flew off to Hipperville. This was unfortunate for Santa Land because it so happened that Santa knew the one thing that would stop Heseekiah and turn him into a nothing.

With Santa out of the way things were easy for Heseekiah. He opened his satchel and put on gloves and a hood that covered his head with only two tiny slits to see through. He took out a long blow pipe and carefully filled it with three cupsful of salt. The pipe was one of his inventions. It had a round end with tiny holes in the bottom and a long stem to blow through.

Heseekiah sneaked up on Santa's porch and knocked. Mrs. Claus came to the door.

"Goodness!" she cried. "Are you another hippie?"

For answer Heseekiah stuck the stem of the pipe in his mouth and blew. The salt in the bowl showered down on Mrs. Claus.

She threw up her hands in surprise and began to spin in a circle. Heseekiah flung open the door and blew on his pipe with all his might. The salt sprayed over the astonished elves. In two seconds they were tiny tops spinning madly around the unfinished dolls. Heseekiah went to the wagon shop and the sport shop and the electric train shop and the doll-house shop and even to the reindeer stables. Everywhere he went he turned the creatures into spinning tops. Finally there was one left in Santa Land except the wicked Heseekiah.

He put away his pipe and discarded his gloves and hood and boots, being careful that no salt should get on his skin. Then he went to the master tool shop where no one was ever allowed except Santa himself. There Santa kept his finest tools and all his books of instruction on how to make things.

Heseekiah locked and left the door. He said to himself gleefully, "Here I will stay until I have built my machine to take the place of people."

Tolland County Candidate Finances Submitted to State

Tolland County Democrats spent more in the recent election campaign than their Republican counterparts with the exception of Republican State Rep. Robert King of the 48th District.

Democratic State Senator-elect Robert Houlery of Vernon spent $5,264.50 in his successful election bid, compared to $1,600 spent by his Republican opponent Andrew Replogle of Willington.

Houlery's contributions amounted to $4,054.12 with a "Houlery Night" testimonial dinner raising a profit of $1,000.83. He ended the campaign with a $1,875.00 deficit, expected to be made up by a Houlery night celebration tentatively scheduled for January.

He spent $5,000.00 in campaign expenses and $366.61 in personal expenses. His campaign costs include the cost of operating Vernon Democratic headquarters including rental of the trailer and telephone used by Vernon Democratic workers. Deficit reports must be filed with the Secretary of State's office every 90 days until the date of the election.

of $7.47 for his three week campaign. Figures were unavailable for campaign expenses of Max Ciroli who died suddenly part way through his election campaign against King.

Successful Republican candidate Mrs. Dorothy Miller spent $283.30 while receiving contributions totaling $675.75, resulting in a surplus of $392.45. Her Democratic opponent Aloysius Ahearn spent $1,138 for his campaign and received $1,189 in contributions. The resulting $51 surplus was donated by the Houlery for Senate campaign.

MacGovern was in the center of the national political spotlight last summer with his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. Senator Abraham Ribicoff served as his campaign manager. The CCD is an alliance of former state-wide supporters of Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy.

Elected Chairman Seymour Lavitt of Vernon has been elected chairman of the statewide Connecticut Regional Planning Agency Council. In addition to his duties as chairman of the Capitol Region Planning Agency.

The statewide planning council is comprised of representatives from the various regional planning agencies throughout the state and was created to improve communications between the planning agencies and the Town Clerks and the Secretary of State's Office, but were mailed out on Dec. 5 within the legal period.

Last minute mailings were reported backlogged in the office Friday, but will be accepted as long as they bear the Dec. 5 postmark.

Elected District Democrat William O'Neill's successful election bid cost $1,820.50 recently balanced by contributions.

His Republican opponent John Pannoneo appointed no campaign treasurer, opting to transfer campaign expenses through the Republican Town Committee.

Local town committee reports of expenditures were not completed Friday. They are required to file reports with both the Town Clerks and the Secretary of State's Office candidates filed within the deadline avoiding a $25 fine for late filing. County candidates whose names were not recorded, but which may be caught in the backlog are 9th District Republican candidate Walter Lanagan of Stafford; and both candidates from the 50th District, (Mansfield) Democrat Audrey Beck and Republican Foster Richards.

Students of the Yeshiva of Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn lower a plain pine coffin containing the remains of seven Torahs into the ground yesterday. The sacred Torahs were burned in a fire on Nov. 27 which destroyed the synagogue, the library and scholarly books of the Yeshiva. The fire, reportedly, was the work of vandals. ### Orthodox Jews Bury Remains Of Seven Torahs

NEW YORK (AP)—"O God, please have defined their Holy Scriptures." The mourners proceeded by five books of Moses—including the Ten Commandments—in at Elmsford, N.Y., where the Torahs, which had been placed in a plain pine coffin, were lowered into the ground by eight students from the yeshiva.

The burial took place in accordance with Orthodox ritual which provides that damaged Holy Scriptures must be buried "with dignity and honor..."

Robert Miller, founder of the yeshiva, or school, told the crowd to remember the words of a martyred rabbi, Chaim Ben Tzvi, who was burned to death by the Nazis.

Miller said that the Torahs had been saved from the Nazis during World War II. The scrolls, which had been in black, gathered before the last of a funeral service outside the Yeshiva of Eastern Parkway.

Miller said he told the crowd, "We pledge here today that the letters and words of our burned Torah scrolls... shall be preserved for all time."

Brown Reaches Agreement on Negro Students

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Brown University officials and boycotting Negro students have reached agreement on instituting school policies to increase the enrollment of black students.

Some 40 Negro male students who walked off campus last Thursday agreed Sunday night to return.

They planned to hold a press conference today. The university proposals announced Thursday night include spending more than $1 million over the next three years to aid black students.

Dr. Ray L. Metzner, president of Brown, said the policy was aimed at achieving, by the earliest possible date, the admission of a number of qualified black students which will reflect the percentage of Negroes in the country's total population—about 11 per cent.

"It has been understood by both sides that this agreement relates to students fully qualified to meet Brown University standards," he added.

The students had asked that 11 per cent of the next freshman class be Negro.

Marines Close Ring, Open Forum Enemy Toll at 862

In a last gasp, the Marines covered a final, small rectangle 200 yards wide and 100 yards deep. The toll for the last battle was 11 enemy soldiers slain, 18 missing killed and 27 wounded.

One North Vietnamese popped out of a bunker pleading to be taken prisoner. A young Marine rushed forward. The North Vietnamese shot the American in the head and killed him. Other Marines finished off the North Vietnamese.

A North Vietnamese leader against a dead tree and it collapsed. Inside the hollow trunk a North Vietnamese warlord officer who surrendered, saying he was a communist.

"We gave them the coup de grace this morning," said Lt. J. W. Peterson, commander of the 20th Marine Regiment, who reported the operation that was launched after intelligence reports placed as many as 1,000 North Vietnamese troops plus scores of Communist political agents in the hamlets and villages dotting the area. It is in effect a spoiling action aimed at countering military and political threats to the area.

Allied troops have stepped up their efforts to crush the emergency Communist political apparatus. The South Vietnamese army party is known to be creating a guerrilla government across the South Vietnamese frontier in anticipation of an end to the war.

The operation, named Operation Bluebird because two of the rivers form a "Y," was launched last Friday.

It is centered on the Van Co Dong and Van Co Tay rivers, which have not been reported regularly by the Navy. The river area is about 40 miles long and 10 miles wide.

U.S. headquarters said casualties and damage were light. A report from Long Binh said three American soldiers were killed and six were wounded there when about 11 rocket rounds slammed into the area.

UConn Undergrads Repeat Request for Moratorium

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—Undergraduates at the University of Connecticut have reaffirmed their request for a moratorium on recruitment on campus by defense-related companies.

The Faculty Senate endorsed Babbidge's stand at a meeting Sunday by a vote of 89-10 with 5 abstentions.

The Graduate Council, meeting later Sunday, endorsed present university recruitment policies, but called for an investigation and a graduate student referendum on the subject.

Only the undergraduate student Senate called for a moratorium.

By a 28-1 vote with 2 abstentions, the undergraduate leaders said on-campus recruitment should stop immediately and not start until at least March. Their previous request Wednesday had been that the moratorium should last until recruitment policy "acceptable to all groups" is implemented.

Babbidge agreed with the dissenters that placement policy should be reconsidered and said the elective bodies on campus should do the job.

"I believe that the reconsideration of our placement policy that is called for must be undertaken in whatever circumstances within the law our cities

St. Louis College Probes Actions of Campus Cops

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Washing-incident, Elliot said. University officials open a hearing today into the alleged mistreatment of a Negro student by campus police that triggered a "lock-in" by Negro students and a sympathy strike by white students.

About 200 students, most of them white, voted Sunday night to set aside their own demands for student power and educational reform until the issue involving graduate student Elbert Walton is settled.

Four of five officers who allegedly mistreated Walton have been returned to their duty on order to prepare a defense. Chancellor Thomas H. Elliot said Sunday night. If the university disciplines the officers, they will lose their pay as of last Thursday, the day of the hearing.

Understand, I have nothing against labor unions. In the right place they are an excellent media for handling and solving employee problems, but I don't think Florence Nightingale had any such ideas for her proteges when she conceived the idea of nurses caring for the sick and aged.

A business executive for over thirty years I well know the personnel problems that I face. My office said "griping" who of us doesn't? But we have always managed to solve them on a friendly basis. Wouldn't it be "Utopia" if, on Friday night at 5 p.m. Manchester Memorial Hospital closed its doors and stay that way until 8 a.m. on Monday, and the same for every day of the week?

It doesn't happen that way. The sick are still there to be taken care of and it is the nurse's duty to take care of them.

Through the grapevine I have heard that the few disident nurses involved are unhappy because they have to work on a weekend on a holiday, or they can't always have a particular day off that is requested, etc. etc.

It is unfortunate that the new administrator of Manchester Memorial Hospital has not yet been appointed and that the problems are sufficient seeing that the patients are being attended properly, fed properly, rooms kept clean—and plus all this, a new addition to the hospital which takes many hours of time and planning, to say nothing of the parking problem with which the Hospital is faced at the present time.

In conclusion, in my various visits to the Hospital, both as a patient and as a visitor, I can honestly say that I have never seen any of the nurses dragging their feet, or sitting on their hands and chain on her foot. Ladies, the Hospital needs your able assistance, but if you are not satisfied, no one is keeping you there. The front door is always open, both as an entrance and an exit. I always manage to find my way out when I am in there. No one is making you stay there.

Think it over. Keep Manchester Memorial Hospital a good cross demonstration against the are ill, and for us to coalesce and come back and visit, and for all the employees to work in, not only the nursing staff, but all the employees. Really now, can't you see your problems with your own superiors? The future is up to all of you. Good luck.
