

Jury's Verdict Unanimous Shaw Acquitted

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A jury's unanimous verdict of innocent today cleared Clay L. Shaw, 55, of a charge of conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

CLAY SHAW

Read to a packed, heavily guarded Criminal District Court 94-100 a.m., the verdict triggered a moment of bedlam. There was an enraptured concerted cheer from the woman spectators.

The 12-man jury rejected both the state case and Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's plea that a conviction would strike a blow at "excessive government power."

"Garrison has a right to his opinion about the government and the Warren Commission," said juror David I. Powe shortly after court adjourned. "But I just don't feel his opinion is enough to convict a man."

Shaw, a 5-foot-4 retired New Orleans businessman with several and a protective circle of deputies as the verdict was read.

"Do you wish the jury polled?" asked Judge Edward A. Huggerly.

Dist. Atty. James L. A. Cook, who headed Garrison's team of prosecutors, slumped low in his chair. He shook his head wearily, side to side.

Powe, a juror who grew a goatee while sequestered during the 34-day trial, said the verdict was unanimous and was reached on the first ballot taken in the bleak little room behind the courtroom.

Deliberation took about 50 minutes. Shaw was cleared two years to the day from the date he was arrested—March 1, 1967.

The state charged Shaw with conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to murder Kennedy, who was slain in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. The Warren Commission named Oswald as the assassin.

Much of the prosecution case concentrated on attacking the commission's conclusion that Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, was alone and unaided in the assassination.

"We were trying to show that the Warren Commission," said Powe. "But I felt two or three times that I didn't know who we were trying—the FBI, the federal government, the Secret Service . . ."

Garrison, up for re-election in six months, was not in the courtroom when the verdict was read. He appeared rarely during the trial, leaving the case to four assistants.

In final arguments, he left the oratory on legal detail and testimony to the assistants—but made an emotional appeal in the final minutes, attacking the Warren Commission.

"The government's handling of the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy was a fraud," he said, "probably the greatest fraud perpetrated in the history of mankind."

The Warren Commission, he said, was a group of "men of high position and prestige sitting on a board and telling you what happened but withholding the evidence . . ."

"You can cause justice to happen in this case for the first time in five years," he concluded, "and if you do that, nothing you have ever done will have been more important."

In summing up, the state said it had proved—with photographs, arithmetic and witnesses—that Kennedy came under fire from three guns, not one.

Two Deaths Said Murder And Suicide

An East Hartford man killed his wife and then committed suicide yesterday afternoon at the couple's home at 53 Wickham Dr. near the Manchester and East Hartford town lines, according to police.

Police say Robert J. Herom, 40, strangled his wife, Faye, 33, then shot her before shooting himself in the chest. The weapon was a .44 magnum rifle.

Police said Herom called his married daughter, Mrs. Roberta Romano, 18, of 728 Oak St., East Hartford, and told her he had just killed her mother and was about to kill himself. Robert Jr., 17, who was visiting at his sister's house when the call came, called East Hartford police at 4:37 p.m.

When police arrived at the Herom's residence, they found Mrs. Herom, lying dead on the kitchen floor. Herom was found dead in an upstairs bedroom. Both had been shot in the chest, police said.

Herom, a native of Maine, had four children, ages 18, 17, 15, and 3, and worked at Pratt and Whitney Aircraft.

Sirhan Fails Try To Plead Guilty

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sirhan

Bishara Sirhan has failed in another volatile try to fire his attorneys, change his plea to guilty and go to the gas chamber for murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. And he's been warned: Any further tantrums and he'll be gagged and strapped to his chair.

"From here on you keep quiet, and if not, I will see to it that you are kept quiet," said Judge Herbert V. Walker after a heated 10-minute exchange with Sirhan.

In the course of his third courtroom outburst of the week, Sirhan said "I plead guilty to murder but ask to be executed."

It began with a commotion at the defense table, the jury being sent from the room, and Sirhan telling the judge:

"I, at this time, sir, withdraw my original plea of not guilty and submit the plea of guilty as charged on all counts." Sirhan had made the same request in chambers Tuesday.

"Stand up," commanded the 69-year-old judge. "Do I understand that you want to plead guilty to murder in the first degree?"

"Yes, sir, I do," said the 24-year-old Sirhan with determination.

"All right, and what do you want to do about the penalty?" "I will offer no defense whatsoever."

"The question is, what do you want to do about the penalty?" "I will ask to be executed, sir."

Ten feet behind Sirhan in the spectator section sat his mother, 56, with tears streaming from her eyes. Another son, Muir, 21, leaned over her attentively.

Sirhan's lawyers stood aside

Heart Signs Stable

Doctor Says Ike Still 'Very Weak'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remained "very weak" from the pneumonia that has complicated his recovery from surgery and a series of heart attacks. It was announced today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said the 78-year-old Eisenhower "rested well last night but still remains very weak."

They reported "no further progression of the pneumonia" in the base of the five-star general's right lung. And they said his "cardiovascular status remains stable."

The pneumonia, doctors had said Friday, was increasing the strain on Eisenhower's heart. He has a history of seven heart attacks.

Doctors also reported they had removed the tube through Eisenhower's nose into his lungs that had been used to supply him with oxygen. "and he is being given small amounts of liquids by mouth today."

The doctors reported Friday Eisenhower's heart was under "considerable" strain from the pneumonia that apparently developed Thursday night.

A high-ranking Walter Reed officer said the general remains "in a serious condition" and still is in the critical period following Sunday night's surgery to remove an intestinal obstruction.

But he said none of the Eisenhower family has been summoned to the general's bedside although his wife, Mamie, has been staying in an adjacent suite.

The doctors, however, in their late bulletin Friday at Walter Reed General Hospital, said "heart action is being constantly monitored and his cardiac status remained stable throughout the day."

Doctors also said the pneumonia was being "treated vigorously with appropriate antibiotics."

"Gen. Eisenhower's condition remains essentially unchanged. He is resting comfortably," they said.

His position in bed in the third floor presidential suite is being changed frequently to combat the accumulation of fluid in the base of the right lung. A tube through his nose into his lungs is supplying oxygen. Food and medicine are being given intravenously.

President Nixon, due home from his European trip Sunday night, was being kept informed of the condition of the man he served for eight years as vice president.

The Pentagon announced Friday the onset of pneumonia, bringing a jarring halt to the steady stream of encouraging progress reports since Sunday night's emergency surgery to eliminate an intestinal obstruction. His doctors said could have been fatal.

While calling his progress "little short of remarkable" earlier in the week, doctors had also cautioned that the general "will have to be watched especially carefully during the next two weeks."

The Pentagon announced that Eisenhower had spent a restless Thursday night and had trouble breathing, with his condition becoming "generally weaker" by Friday morning.

Some 85 per cent of pneumonia patients recover in this day of sophisticated antibiotics, the

Assad Wins Bloodless Syria Coup

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—

Defense Minister Hafez Assad appeared to have come out on top in a bloodless power struggle in Syria, informed sources said today.

President Nourudin Atassi and Gen. Salah Jadid, until now the real power behind the ruling Baath Socialist party, appear to have lost out, the sources said.

But reports saying the two men have been arrested by Assad were described as "exaggerated." There was no official word on their whereabouts.

Damascus Radio did not report any changes, omitting news of Syria in its morning newscasts.

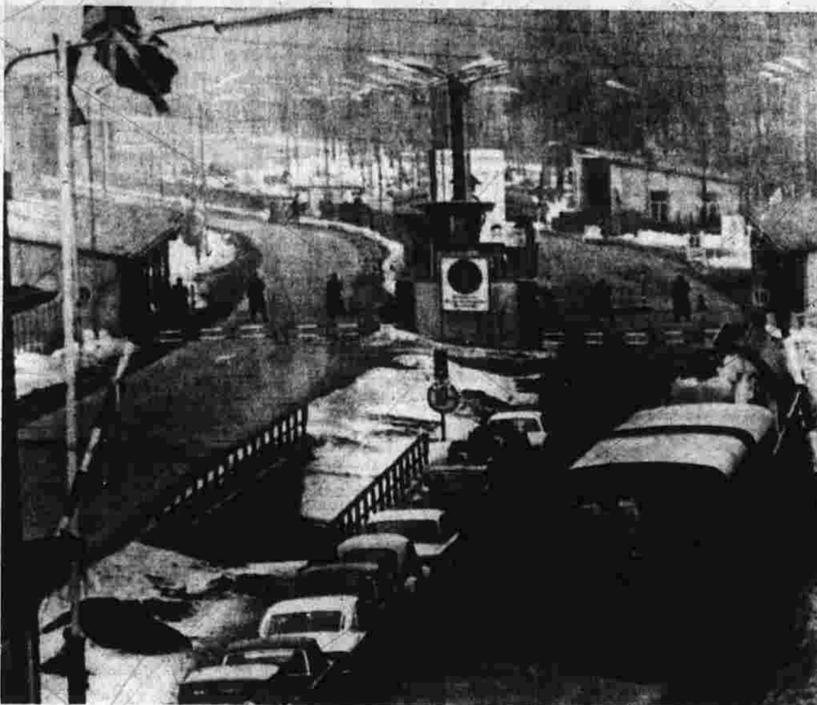

Damascus appeared normal. Syrians were winding up the Moslem, Baath, feasts. Troops were guarding key installations, but this has become normal in Syria since the June 1967 war.

The sources reported no military units were used in the dispute which apparently occurred within the framework of the party of which Assad is a leading member.

There were no reports that

Free Access Affirmed by 'Big Three'

BERLIN (AP)—A two-hour blockade of autobahn traffic by East German soldiers coincided today with reaffirmation from the Western Big Three of their determination to maintain unhindered access between West Berlin and West Germany.

The United States, Britain and France rejected an groundless Soviet charge of West German military activity in the isolated former German capital.

"It is only in the eastern (Communist) sector of Berlin that organized military activity has taken place," the three declared in a joint statement issued through their embassies in Bonn.

"The three governments hope that these Soviet charges are not intended to create international tensions. It is not the desire of the three governments to see such an increase in tension occur."

"The three governments reaffirm their determination to maintain a viable Berlin with free access."

West Berlin's Mayor, Klaus Scholtz, told newsmen he is convinced his city is not threatened by a grave new crisis, but rather is being subjected to a war of nerves. "Below the level of a serious confrontation."

Speaking after meeting with his city government and with U.S., British and French envoys, Scholtz said, however, further "short-term" disturbances like this morning can be expected.

East German soldiers armed with submachine guns blocked the main highway between West Germany and West Berlin at the Helmstedt crossing point from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. Then they reopened it.

The closure followed a Soviet announcement backing "necessary measures to cut short the unlawful militaristic activities" in West Berlin and an accusation from Moscow that Western air links to the isolated city were being used illegally.

It apparently signaled the start of maneuvers by Soviet and East German Warsaw Pact forces. The maneuvers in East Germany have been scheduled to start around the same time as West Germany's March 3 presidential election in West Berlin. They are generally regarded as another Communist harassment tactic to hinder access to West Berlin for the election, which the Soviets and East

President, Ky Meet Tomorrow

Nixon, De Gaulle Confer Privately at Versailles

PARIS (AP)—President

Nixon and President Charles de Gaulle conferred for 90 minutes today in the guarded splendor of the Trianon Palace in suburban Versailles, their second day of talks that Nixon hoped would diminish differences between the United States and France.

Only interpreters were with the two presidents for that session in De Gaulle's palace office. Spokesmen would reveal nothing of what was said, although French spokesman Roger Vature said he assumed the tone and atmosphere were "as cordial as yesterday."

While De Gaulle and Nixon conferred, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced the U.S. President will meet Sunday with Vice-President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam, before he departs for Rome to meet Pope Paul VI.

Thus as Nixon neared the end of his eight-day trip across Western Europe, the war in Southeast Asia was on his agenda.

U.S. policy in Vietnam has been a troublesome issue in relations with De Gaulle. European suspicion that the United States is preoccupied with Vietnam and has not been sufficiently attentive to allies in Europe is one of the problems Nixon set out to ease.

Ziegler said Nixon would see Ky after conferring at the U.S. Embassy with Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks, and with other members of the negotiating team. Ky returned from Saigon Monday.

Nixon had indicated before leaving Washington that, if Lodge thought it appropriate, he would see Ky while in Paris.

The scene of Nixon's second meeting with De Gaulle was the vast, rambling palace which is a ceremonial country estate of French presidents.

The two men met in an office overlooking the gardens of Versailles. The interpreters were the only other men in the room for 93 minutes.

Then French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville joined them for a second round lasting 25 minutes. That, in turn, gave way to an expanded conference with six advisors joining each president.

The advisors included Secretary of State William P. Rogers and French Foreign Minister Michel Debré.

After a luncheon and a stroll through the Versailles gardens, the expanded talks were to continue until late afternoon.

Nixon drove from Paris in a White House limousine along streets cleared of traffic. There were no big crowds in the city, only a few curious passers-by.

In the Bois de Boulogne, a forested park along the route, uniformed French police stood guard on the deserted roadside and among the trees.

At the gate to the vast palace grounds, a cluster of Versailles townspeople stood watching, and the President saw a familiar sign: "Nixon's the one."

That was his campaign slogan. Security was stringent, with cordons of police, some with watchdogs, patrolling the palace grounds.

De Gaulle met Nixon at the red marble entrance, the two shook hands and entered at once.

Tours of the main Versailles Palace, about a mile away, were suspended for the day.

Nixon was said to feel, after his two hours of talks with De Gaulle Friday night, that the conversations here were off to a "good start." Ziegler, quoting him to that effect, said the first meeting had been in a "frank and cordial atmosphere," and the French spokesman echoed this.

As he left the Quai D'Orsay, Nixon waved cheerfully to a group of American tourists standing across the street behind metal barriers, and they waved back enthusiastically.

De Gaulle met the American President in the famous marble-colored peristyle of the palace, an arched corridor linking the two wings of the Trianon. The weather was cold and overcast as they shook hands cordially and went to the wing of the palace which De Gaulle has set aside for his personal use.

There were large forces of police along Nixon's route, but there were no spectators. Only a few persons were along the streets inside Paris, and in the area of the outer gates of the Trianon a gathering of 60 or 70 persons was on hand to see Nixon arrive.

Nixon regards his sessions with the French leader as the most important phase of the eight-day trip that has taken him to major West European capitals. He wants to close the gap of misunderstanding that has plagued American-French relations in recent years.

Nixon hopes to forge a fresh start with De Gaulle, forgetting the past in which the French leader has called for a lessening of United States involvement in Europe, a diminished role for the North Atlantic Treaty Or-

Apollo 9 Given OK To Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

Doctors pronounced the cold-battered Apollo 9 astronauts "much improved" today and gave the go-ahead to proceed with plans for a Monday launching.

After an extensive medical examination, Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, said that Air Force Col. David R. Scott was "clear" over his cold.

Berry said Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt and civilian Russell L. Schweickart were much better. All three were taken off medication, but McDivitt and Schweickart continued to take Vitamin C and to gargle with hot salt water to relieve their sore throats.

The astronauts were well rested after a good night's sleep. After awakening at 7 a.m., Schweickart and Scott, each jogged a mile and McDivitt worked out in a gymnasium in the crew quarters.

The astronauts were feeling so good they decided to rehearse for a few hours in a spacecraft trainer. Originally they had planned to spend the day relaxing in their quarters.

The doctors said another physical examination was

East German Troops Again Bar Autobahn

German troops have again barred the autobahn at the West Berlin border.

Before the autobahn was closed, travelers arriving in West Berlin, reporting delays on the 110-mile trip from the West German border. They said they saw tanks, trucks and other military equipment moving on the autobahn.

It also was reported that Marshal Ivan I. Yakubovskiy, supreme commander of Warsaw Pact forces, flew to East Berlin Friday to confer with East German President Walter Ulbricht.

West German border officials said the East Germans threw red and white portable tank fences across the autobahn access and exit at Marienborn, opposite the West German checkpoint at Helldorf, at 7 a.m.

They were removed at 9 a.m. and Helldorf officials said that the autobahn would be closed to traffic from the West at 10 a.m.

There were conflicting reports on the situation at the West Berlin end of the autobahn, some saying East German soldiers stopped processing traffic. At 7 a.m., that traffic too was reported moving.

Later today a spokesman said that the West German side of the autobahn was closed to traffic from the West at 10 a.m.

Helldorf border officials also reported other major highways to be closed to traffic from the West at 10 a.m.

"We have one report," the spokesman said, "that there is a 100-mile column of tanks and trucks near the Berlin Ring." An spokesman reported that another traveler reported 300 East German and Soviet tanks in the area vicinity.

"We do not know where," the spokesman added, "but it appears that at least some tanks are being held up on route. Reports that they were being held up to that he was viewed of the autobahn and had to sit in a field for hours while military equipment was moved."

The East Germans already have barred West German presidential electors and members of the West German armed forces from surface travel through East Germany to West Berlin. Western officials had expected the maneuvers would further hamper road access.

But they also voiced the fear that the maneuvers would result in an even graver crisis if the Soviet and East German officials in large-scale aerial formations near or in the air corridor to West Berlin, either the Soviet Union or East Germany has indicated whether aircraft will be used.

The Western allies who administer West Berlin under the 1948 agreements—the United States, Britain and France—are committed to keeping these routes open to West Berlin. Communists control surface access to the city. The allies refused to let the Soviets shut down the city as part of West Germany which the Soviets disapproved.

On Friday the Soviet Union officially charged that West Germany was "secretly transporting military goods from West Berlin to the city."

They also are being used for other purposes.

Vernon State Grants Available For Area Health Service

The Town of Vernon sponsors in schools, rising hospital costs, sophisticated equipment all were cited as affecting costs. In 1967, the population of Vernon at that time was 22,460.

If these health services had been organized under a district health council, with a full-time director matching funds on a per capita basis, would have been obtained from the state. This aids up to a strong argument for organizing a district health council and is exactly what the Hookan Valley Health and Human Services Council is trying to do.

Dr. Franklin Foote of the State Health Department outlined the picture at a meeting held Thursday night by the council. He said that state grants would be available for all of the health services rendered under the supervision of a council as long as they are part of a unified integrated program.

The council voted at Thursday's meeting to approve hiring Dr. Theodore Goldstein of the University of Connecticut School of Social Work to make up a questionnaire and to evaluate it with the purpose of sampling the opinion of area professional persons as well as the general population.

Town May Again Delay Proposal To Join C-DAP

Although the Board of Directors agenda Tuesday night includes consideration again of a proposal for a C-DAP (Community Development Action Plan) application, the board, reportedly, will table the item and will schedule it for a special meeting.

The directors, in discussing the proposal Feb. 12, balked at the $200,000 state grant for a two-year study of the town's existing and anticipated resources and needs, in all areas of development. It would culminate in a massive, Comprehensive Plan, spelling out priorities over a five-year period.

Although most of the town's agencies, both governmental and private, would be involved in C-DAP, under the present proposal most of the study and planning would be done by outside consultants.

"His proposal recommends expenditures totaling $127,000 for the consultants, under the town's Research Corp. down for the bulk of it.

Also on Tuesday night, the board will consider giving its approval to the construction of traffic signals at two locations on E. Middle Turnpike — at the corner of Brookfield St., to protect Manchester High school students; and at Princeton Walker St., to protect children walking to and from Bowers School.

In other business, the board will consider:

1. Settling a $2,250 claim for Mrs. Arlene Carvey of 17 Garden Dr., and another for the same amount for Joseph V. Gatto of 60 Durant St., both stemming from 1967 sidewalk falls. Mrs. Carvey fell on Main St. and Gatto fell on W. Middle Turnpike. Each filed a suit for $7,500.
2. Adopting a resolution concerning the issuance of bonds to finance the bond issues approved at the Nov. 5 referendum. The resolution would designate a paying agent, would authorize temporary borrowing, and would authorize the director, using for bids for the bond sale.
3. Allocating an additional $3,000 for improvements at Manchester's new old slope. The

New and familiar faces on television this week are: Right, Rita Gam appears in her first daytime series, NBC's "Hidden Faces," 1:30-2 p.m. weekdays; below, Lana Wood on CBS' "The Wild Wild West" Friday, 7:30-8:30 p.m. and Gene Tierney on ABC's "The FBI," Sunday 8-9 p.m.

Johnny Cash Gets Own Show

"The Johnny Cash Show," a one-hour contemporary variety series starring the recording and concert star, will begin telecast in May as a summer replacement on ABC.

"The Johnny Cash Show"

brings to four the number of prime time hours ABC will devote to fresh variety programming this summer—Dick Cavett will star in a new series of three one-hour programs each week which makes its debut this spring. The network also is negotiating for a possible fifth one-hour program for this summer.

In addition to Mr. Cash, the program will feature a variety of performers who represent the current moods of country, folk and pop music.

'Get Smart' May Get Child

NEW YORK (AP)—Early last week, NBC's tentative fall schedule was prematurely leaked and the word went out that "Get Smart," along with six other shows would be dropped.

Later in the week CBS's tentative fall schedule was leaked, and it appeared that reports of the impending demise of "Get Smart" were exaggerated. It will move to CBS in September and, along with another surviving situation comedy, replace "The Wild, Wild West" on Friday night.

Now that CBS has taken over "Get Smart," plans are afoot to do something dramatic early next season to call attention to the show in its new channel. The first project is to have agent

Smart and spouse, Agent 99, become parents. Present plans call for twins.

Over the years, TV series makers have learned there are two sure-fire ways to improve the ratings of a situation comedy: A marriage and child-birth.

During this past season, triplets were produced in two series, "Petticoat Junction" and "My Three Sons." While the birth of three children has not tripled any shows ratings, some Nielsen-watchers have concluded that the initial decline in the popularity of NBC's "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" coincided with the date the babies came to "My Three Sons," its CBS competition.

CBS expects to move around a number of its returning programs, and the only shows it now expects to drop are "Wild, Wild West," "Gentle Ben," "The Jonathan Winters Show" and "The Queen and I" a mid-winter replacement. "Gomer Pyle" also departs but only because star Jim Nabors will have an hour variety show in Winters old time spot.

Although a number of NBC shows have, in the past moved to ABC, it is not often that CBS accepts a show established by a rival network. The last one was "My Three Sons," which had several seasons on ABC.

Cancellations on the two networks total 12. ABC is yet to be heard from. It is expected to have a larger turnover than the other two major networks.

NBC has decided to drop "Star Trek," "The Jerry Lewis Show," "The Mothers-in-law," and "My Friend Tony," a mid-season replacement.

New shows on CBS's planning board include a new situation comedy with John Forsyth, another with Dan Dailey and a medical series with James Daly.

NBC will have a new Andy Williams variety hour, Debbie Reynolds and Bill Crosby situation comedies, a series about young hopefuls in Hollywood and three separate series shown weekly on a rotating basis under the umbrella title of the "Now People."

Bridging The Gap

NEW YORK (NEA) — Steve Lawrence says the trouble with the generation gap is that it isn't large enough. If you agree with him, and a lot do, don't let it deter you from watching a new ABC series, "The Generation Gap," a game show which matches the knowledge of over-30s about the younger generation with the latter's knowledge of "olden days."

It's in the hands of a new network personality named Dennis Wholey who, at 30, says he represents the gap. He wears an Edwardian suit and a forward hair comb which will make the kids think he's one of them.

He's a native of Rhode Island and a big celebrity in Cincinnati, where he conducts a daily talk show he wanted to call "The Wholey Hour," but they thought it would offend the Catholics.

He went to Catholic University, where he did manage to use the title for a radio show, until a priest heard it one day.

Dennis will continue his Cincinnati show, with the Generation Gap taping on weekends to start. Later, when they begin taping on Thursday, Dennis will tape his Cincinnati show ahead.

This show, provides him with the national exposure that he hopes will lead to a network talk show.

"Some day," he says, "I want to direct Shakespeare. Macbeth, I guess. It's the one I know best."

'Spoon River' Set April 21

"Spoon River," the dramatized version of the Edgar Lee Masters classic "Spoon River Anthology," starring Jason Robards, Charles Aidman, Joyce Van Patten and Jennifer West, will be presented as an hour drama April 21 from 10 to 11 p.m.

Aidman and Miss Van Patten were members of the cast of the original Broadway production of "Spoon River," one of the critical hits of the 1963-64 New York theater season. It has been directed for television by Aidman, who did the adaptation of the Masters book and staged the Broadway production.

Woven throughout the drama are a group of mod folk songs, sung by Hal Lynch and Nami Caryl Hirschhorn.

Marlo Thomas Gets The Wolf Whistles

NEW YORK (AP) — A beautiful young brunette strides along a Manhattan street, evoking a wolf whistle from an admiring male. The girl continues on her way, glowing inwardly. "That was for ME."

The girl was "That Girl" — Marlo Thomas, star of the ABC television series. The reason for her satisfaction was not the usual one of appreciating male attention.

"The wolf whistle was for me — Marlo Thomas," she remarked, "not for Ann Marie — 'That Girl.' With my bangs off my forehead and my hair pulled back, nobody recognizes me from the television series. Sometimes if I'm in a store and the salesgirl listens to my voice, she'll say, 'Aren't you 'That Girl?'"

"Otherwise I'm free to go anywhere in New York and be myself. It's wonderful."

The search for identity has engaged Marlo Thomas for most of her recent years. As the eldest daughter of comedian Danny Thomas, she began her career in the shade of her famous sire. She learned the acting trade in road companies of "Under the Yum Yum Tree" and the London production of "Barefoot in the Park." Then she scored as "That Girl," earning an Emmy in the process.

Now she is seeking to escape permanent identification as the better-skater heroine of "That Girl."

Between the third and fourth seasons of the series, Marlo is making a movie, her first. The title is "Jenny," and her costar is Alan Alda, who scored impressively in "Paper Lion." The plot is not the kind you would ordinarily find on television.

Marlo plays a single girl who is six months pregnant and abandoned by her onetime lover. Alda is a young man who seeks to avoid the draft. A marriage of convenience ensues, and — inevitably in the movies — they fall in love.

"I've had other film offers before, and I really regret missing only one — 'Barefoot in the Park,'" Marlo said. "I'm sorry that I couldn't do it because of the series. But many of the others have since been made with other actresses, and I'm not at all sorry to have missed them."

"What delights me so about 'Jenny' is that I can get away from Ann Marie. She isn't me, and that's the reason I resisted efforts to change the name of the series to 'The Marlo Thomas Show.'"

"The network people took surveys which showed that Marlo Thomas had more recognition among the general public than 'That Girl.' They wanted to change the title, but I wouldn't go along with it. I didn't want people to think that the character I play was really me. After all, the series will come to an end some day. But I hope to go on acting."

"Jenny" is rehearsing for two weeks, then will shoot for 10. Marlo is luxuriating in the relative leisure of a feature film. In television she rehearses one day and shoots the half-hour comedy in three days.

"In television you only have time for your first instinct about a scene," she observed. "In a feature you have a chance to study a scene from all angles before you do it. Television could be so much better if we only had time."

In Daytime, Soaps Reign

NEW YORK (AP) — The big day-time trend these days is toward soap-operas while the once popular game and panel shows seem to be fighting a losing battle. In the most recent Nielsen report on day-time programs, six of the top 10 are soaps, three are reruns of nighttime comedy shows and just one — is a game show of sorts. Most popular daytime program remains CBS's long-playing "As the World Turns," followed by its "Search for Tomorrow" and NBC's "Another World" — all washboard weepers. Then come reruns on CBS on "The Andy Griffith Show," "The Dick Van Dyke Show" and "Beverly Hillsbillies." Also in the elite group are CBS's "Love is a Many Splendored Thing" and "Edge of Night" in a tie, and NBC's "Days of our Lives" and ABC's "Newlywed Game" in a tie.

These top rated shows have same rating compared to the evening programs. Each is seen by an estimated 10 to 15 percent of the nation's TV homes while a hot evening show like "Laugh-In" gets into well over 30 percent.

The Top Shows

In the most recent Nielsen ratings, for the two week period ending Feb. 9, the new CBS "Glen Campbell Hour" ranked ninth in the top 10 list. NBC's "Laugh-In" was as usual in first place, followed by CBS's "Gomer Pyle" and the network's special program with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Rex Harrison stars in the movie, "The Agony and The Ecstasy," Sunday 9-11:30 p.m. on ABC.
