

Ray Pleads Guilty to King's Murder

Court Gives Him Term Of 99 Years

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray pleaded guilty today to murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and was sentenced to 99 years in the Tennessee State Penitentiary.

"You have pleaded guilty to first degree murder and it is the judgment of the court that you be confined for 99 years in the state penitentiary," Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle intoned at 12:15 p.m.

The entire proceeding, from original guilty plea to setting of the sentence by the jury, lasted less than three and a half hours. A minute before the judge passed sentence, Ray sat quietly in a checked blue sport coat and dark pants as the judge asked the jurors if they still agreed to a state-defense arrangement that Ray plead guilty and accept the sentence.

All 12 raised their right hands in assent.

The judge then thanked the jurors and all others who had helped in the case. He repeated defense and prosecution contentions that there was no evidence of a conspiracy in King's slaying.

Should any such evidence arise, the judge made it clear, the state will prosecute.

Ray said he did not agree with the theory that there was no conspiracy to assassinate King. He did not elaborate. He said, however, "I agree with the stipulation" to plead guilty.

Ray, an escapee from the Missouri State Penitentiary, was arrested in London last June 8, two months and four days after King was killed by a single shot as he stood on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel.

Ray was returned to Memphis in July after lengthy extradition proceedings and since then has been held under extraordinary security precautions in an air-conditioned and TV-monitored cell block of the Shelby County jail.

He has made fewer than a half-dozen court appearances since his return, the first for his arraignment and the remainder as a series of procedural defense motions were argued.

Tennessee law in first-degree-murder cases requires a jury to set a sentence regardless of the plea entered, but a provision of the statute allows jurors who say they can not agree with a recommended sentence to be disqualified.

The law further requires that the prosecution must then prove that King was killed.

Under the rules governing a guilty plea, the attorneys then stipulate that if the case had gone to trial evidence would have been presented to show that Ray was the man who shot King.

King was slain on the night of April 4 while in Memphis to help about 1,300 sanitation workers, most of them Negroes, in a strike against the city government.

"I've never had hopes of anything except . . . to save this man's life," said Ray's lawyer, (See Page Ten)

Interior of the First Congregational Church in Stafford Springs today after a trailer slammed into the stone church. The trailer is visible above the rubble. Broken boxes of coffee cans that spilled from the truck are on top of the pile.

Truck Slams Church In Stafford Springs

By JUNE LINTON
A trailer truck lost its brakes on Rt. 190 in Stafford Springs this morning and barreled into the First Congregational Church in the center of town.

The truck jack-knifed as it struck the stone wall, sending a portion of the trailer into the church. Pews and stained glass windows were destroyed, and the impact cracked the 50-foot steeple.

The pastor of the 90-year-old stone church broke into tears as he inspected the damage.

The driver of the truck was seriously injured, but tragedy was averted, witnesses said, when the driver maneuvered his truck to avoid a group of school children in front of the church.

The church is at the junction of Rt. 190 and Rt. 32.

The driver was identified as Robert Grant, 43, of East Providence, R.I.

Grant suffered three broken neck bones, but he was reported in "relatively good condition" at Windham Community Hospital. A doctor said swift action by an operating room team prevented possible damage to the spinal cord that would have paralyzed him.

Grant was driving a tractor-trailer loaded with cans of coffee. Cans littered the church grounds after the trailer burst open when it struck the church wall.

Stafford Springs police said the truck was heading west on Rt. 190, and as it rolled downhill toward Haymarket Square in the center of town shortly before 9 a.m., the brakes failed. Grant gave warning blasts with his horn and shouted out the cab window.

As the truck entered the center of Stafford Springs, Grant maneuvered it between a bank building and tree and missed the knot of children on the sidewalk by the church.

The truck flattened a two-foot iron fence around the church and slammed into a wall of the stone church. There was no one in the church at the time.

The noise of the impact sounded like an explosion, a man who was a block away said. Dust from the building spread throughout the downtown area.

Police said it took 20 minutes to remove the driver, who was wedged in his seat when the cab was crushed by the force.

The crash sent a pile of stones and splintered wood into the recently-repainted church interior. Pews were buried in the pile. The rest of the church interior, however, remained undamaged.

The pastor, the Rev. Robert Eddy, who began his duties at the church only two months ago, surveyed the damage with members of the board of trustees and a meeting was scheduled later today with insurance adjusters.

The main concern is the condition of the impressive stone steeple. A crack starting at the base runs to the top where a clock continues to keep time.

Police and the trustees fear that the steeple may collapse when the truck is removed, or that damage may be so extensive that steeple will have to be replaced.

The truck was to be unloaded later today in preparation for its removal.

But No Franc 'Emergency' Europe Gold Prices In Continuing Rise

BASEL (AP) — Western Europe's central bankers decided Sunday the French franc's troubles don't constitute an emergency requiring international action but the price of gold continued to rise today on Europe's free markets.

Bullion was selling at $43.75 an ounce in London, 25 cents over Friday's price. Dealers said the demand was normal and the turnover small, indicating the upward movement was caused by the absence of sellers at the lower levels.

The West German domestic price of gold was fixed in Frankfurt at a record $42.14, up from $41.88 Friday.

On the Frankfurt money market, both the dollar and the pound sterling were up. The dollar opened at 4.0130 marks, up from Friday's closing price of 4.0100. Sterling opened at 9.5940 compared to 9.5800 Friday.

After their regular monthly meeting, several of the bankers said the French government has enough gold to cope with the current flow of money beyond its borders.

They also said France has not (See Page Ten)

the buying "did not appear to really hectic."

The Paris free gold market hit another record—the fifth in the past week—at an equivalent of $48.41 an ounce. This was a hike of 10 cents over the Friday close. Volume was moderate and few holders of gold were willing to sell.

Drug Series Starts Today

South Viet Troops Hit By Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of enemy troops ambushed about 300 South Vietnamese paratroopers, killing 30 of the government soldiers and wounding 106 in a two-day battle that was still going on late today, the Saigon government said.

The savage battle was one of five major fights reported in the past 24 hours—at three points near the Cambodian border and to the north and south of Saigon. The dead included 31 Americans and at least 127 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, allied spokesmen said.

The Viet Cong also shelled more than 35 towns and allied bases during the night as the enemy's spring offensive continued in its third week. U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told newsmen as he left Saigon after a four-day visit that the offensive is a "coordinated escalation of the war." But he said it "has not been successful" and the rocket attacks which have been made on Saigon were not significant.

Laird would not reveal the recommendations he is carrying back to President Nixon, except to say that he would request additional funds to strengthen the South Vietnamese armed services. At Da Nang Sunday, he had indicated the amount would be about $70 million.

Astronauts Drift In Final Stages

By HOWARD BENEDET
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Drifting to conserve fuel, and dreaming of home, the Apollo 9 astronauts sped today into the final stages of their space mission.

Air Force Cos. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart had another light schedule of picture taking, navigation checks and resting.

Mission control permitted the crew to sleep until 7:15 a.m. EST, more than two hours later than scheduled.

"The alarm clock went off," said mission control.

"Hello, alarm clock," McDivitt replied.

"We let you sleep a little bit extra," said the ground controller.

"We'll take it," Scott answered. "We don't have any complaints."

The major flight plan event was a firing of the main spacecraft engine to jockey the craft into a more favorable path for scheduled splashdown Thursday.

The astronauts had completed 97 per cent of their flight objectives. The crucial lunar module (LEM) checkout, Schweickart's space walk and the rendezvous of the LEM and command module occurred in the first five days.

They are remaining aloft to prove the reliability of the Apollo command ship for 10 days, the longest period presently planned for man-to-the-moon missions.

As Apollo 9 circled overhead, there was a slight delay in preparations for the next step. Movement of the Saturn 5 rocket and spacecraft for Apollo 10 to a Cape Kennedy launch pad, scheduled today, was postponed 24 hours because of a poor fitting cover that protects the craft during launch—viewed as a minor problem.

Apollo 10, commanded by Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford, is scheduled to orbit the moon with a lunar module in May—paving the way for a landing by two members of the Apollo 11 crew in July.

Riad Given Tribute Of Hero by Egypt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egyptians paid tribute today to their army chief of staff, Gen. Abdel Monem Riad, fatally wounded by an Israeli shell Sunday, then staged a demonstration, chanting, "We need arms for revenge."

President Gamal Abdel Nasser and hundreds of thousands of people joined in making it a hero's funeral for Riad.

"With blood and souls we avenge your death," the crowd shouted as the procession, one of the biggest in Egypt's history, moved through the streets of Cairo.

Representatives of the Palestinian Al Fatah organization took part in the funeral march. Some carried placards which read "blood of martyrs shall not be wasted."

U.N. observers blamed Egypt for the start of the artillery duel Saturday. They reported to U.N. headquarters that they observed the Egyptians firing from one to 32 minutes before the Israelis opened up along the blocked waterway.

Israeli shells hit Egypt's oil refinery at Suez for the fourth time since the 1967 war, and the Israelis said a petrochemical plant and oil storage tanks were still burning today. Egypt said three tanks were set afire.

Israel said one of its Piper Cubs was shot down, three Israelis including the pilot were killed and 14 were wounded.

Egypt said three of its men were killed and 13 wounded and a MIG jet. Israel said the MIG pilot was captured. Egypt also claimed its forces brought down an Israeli Mystere jet, but Israel denied this.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahran said Riad had flown by helicopter to Jamalin Sunday and was observing the artillery duel with a group of officers when the shell landed close to him. Others in the group were only slightly injured, but the 50-year-old general died shortly after he was taken to the Jamalin hospital.

Riad was Egypt's second-ranking soldier after the defense minister, Gen. Mo- (See Page Ten)

Utah Miner Rescued, Resting in Hospital

LARK, Utah (AP) — Tough, grizzled William "Buck" Jones relaxed in a hospital bed today, freed from the tiny cell of rock that held him captive deep in a Utah mountain for eight days.

Jones, 61-year-old father of 11, was brought to safety Sunday night by rescuers who had tunneled tediously through 25 feet of rock to his cubicle.

After an emotional reunion with his big family at the mine entrance, Jones was whisked 20 miles to a Salt Lake City hospital for examination and rest. He looked weary, but obviously was in high spirits.

"I want a shower!" he shouted. "I think I need it." The echo rang down the hospital corridor. He got a bath instead. Then he shaved himself, had a dinner of ham and eggs and watched a television replay of his rescue.

A hospital spokesman said there would be no immediate interviews.

It was a tearful, joyful scene when the tunnel train carrying Jones to safety reached the surface after a 4 1/2-mile ride from the shaft in which he was trapped by a cave-in March 1.

A cheer went up from more than 300 persons crowding the tunnel opening, including Jones' entire family. Her eyes glistening, Mrs. Jones cried, "Buck, I love you." His children shouted, "Hi, dad!"

"Hello, mother," the weary, bearded Jones said to his wife. (See Page Thirteen)

Defense Gets To Examine In 'Buggings'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criminal defendants whose conversations or "practices" were bugged by federal agents have a right to examine government transcripts and logs, the Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today.

This includes government records relating to national security matters. The Justice Department has argued strenuously against such action.

The point of the examination by defense attorneys is to determine if prosecution was built on illegal eavesdropping.

The government already had conceded its obligation to disclose illegal bugging if the bugging helped the prosecution. But it maintained this examination should be done by a federal judge—not by the defendant's lawyers.

The Court, in an opinion by Justice Byron R. White, a former Justice Department official, disagreed. He said if the bugging hearings "are to be more than a formality and petitions (defendants) not left en-

Use of Drugs Spreads Wide And Parents Grow Anxious

Parents are growing increasingly worried, or even downright panicky, about the use of drugs by their teenagers...

At high schools and colleges, arrests for possession of marijuana and other drugs are increasing...

Drug use is unquestionably becoming a way of life for an untold number of teenagers...

What causes or stimulates drug use? Many parents are baffled or alarmed because the drug scene is changing so rapidly...

Parents are wrong, for example, if they argue that marijuana is a "narcotic" or that it is physically addictive...

State Penalties Stiff For Drug, Narcotic Use

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Psychological problem rather than a criminal one, heavy fines and prison sentences up to 25 years are provided in Connecticut for violation of state laws governing the use, possession and sale of drugs and narcotics...

For sale of "narcotic drugs" which include marijuana, cocaine, heroin, morphine, etc., the penalty for first offenders is 5 to 10 years and up to $5,000...

For sale of "controlled drugs" including amphetamine, barbiturate, etc., the first offense carries penalties of up to two years and $1,000...

Feel Usually Vanquishes Think

There was a great round of comparative analysis... The only way to end among, said Matter, is to get the facts, get on target, go to Jersey, and exploit all the factors.

One of the rationalists present knewed of this: "When Matter says we have to explore the factories in New Jersey because they stink, and indeed they do stink, it's not the factories which stink it's the system."

But Matter would not be trapped. The problem would be the same, he said, under any other ideological system. "I say," he insisted, "it's because they're factories."

That was the fun. As for the usefulness of the debate, that is established not merely by the lack of any conclusive verdict on the part of the debaters themselves or their audience, but by the whole sum of past human experience.

The rationalists in the debate, like the self-styled rationalists in life, are the great purveyors of the problem. It is not, for all to hear and follow, that they believe in the processes of reason, and that they follow such processes to each of their own actual decisions, opinions, actions, and non-actions.

But there is news for them, if they have not realized it for themselves. The only time the verdict of their reasoning does ever rule their decision and their action is when it happens to coincide with those visceral impulses which come from deep in the gut.

It is the rare human decision or action which is not, no matter what appears to be the case, the result of the individual's "feels" rather than that of how he "thinks."

The head proposes, but the heart decides. The intellectual process hands down a tentative conclusion. But something rising up out of the entrails tips the argument its own way and the mind's function left for reason, for the "think" part of the deal, is that of trying to rationalize the irrational action.

Strong Reaction The vociferous opposition to Governor Dempsey's tax proposals at a hearing before the Assembly's Finance Committee was not unexpected. The decibel count from the general public's outcry would have undoubtedly been much higher had not the weather kept many away from the State Capitol.

But the most valid criticism of the proposals was leveled by the high-level job crisis become some three weeks ago that Peter Flanagan was abruptly summoned back from his New York investment banker's job and quietly put to work in the White House to try to bring order out of chaos.

It may be some time before Flanagan, a veteran Nixon insider, gets back to Wall Street. After seven weeks of the Nixon administration, sub-Cabinet posts, key jobs in independent agencies, and seats on regulatory agencies are either vacant or still held by Democratic holdovers. Nor is there much hope for quick improvement.

The harshest scolding for the man is Harry Flemming, the young Virginia Republican serving as Mr. Nixon's personal aide. But Flemming is particularly the victim of horrid misadventure. He was in charge of the transition period when Flanagan was in charge. Whoever is to blame, the problem is turning a nasty fever into a political wound and a policy crisis. The interminable delay in naming an Assistant Secretary of State for Latin America (Charles Meyer, vice president of Sears, has finally been picked for the job) has inhibited handling of the explosive Peruvian question. Even worse, the top economic jobs at the State Department, Treasury's international affairs post, and the chief trade negotiator's job are all vacant, depriving the country of coherent policy-making in international economic matters.

Elsewhere, the Flanagan-Flemming team has barely touched the independent office. The highly political Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) remains headed by LBJ holdovers. John Hannah, named to head the Agency for International Development (AID), has been given no new appointments to help him. None of all perhaps is the situation in the regulatory agencies, where President Nixon has made little effort to impose control. Republican Congressmen simply cannot fathom why John Crocker, an active Texas Democrat and LBJ crony, has been permitted to stay on as chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board. In fact, Flemming has scarcely begun preliminary work toward naming Republicans to the regulatory agencies.

In Only Four Years To The Editor, A lot can happen in four years — the "Party" (Democratic) can find a couple of seats — our President can be elected and serve a full term — we can see a son through college — a daughter through high school; we can possibly get a couple of raises from the boss. We might, (with a little luck), change the color of a home-made car trailer with the color "Tan."

For several years I registered a home-made car trailer with the color "Tan." Then, in 1963 I DID IT! Proudly what I did wrong I haven't been able to decipher, but — I did it!

I rebuilt the trailer and painted it "Green." I drove to the Motor Vehicles Dept. in Waterbury and filled out a new registration card, color — "Green." For the remainder of 1963 all went reasonably well. Then came February 1964 and with it my renewal registration application — color "Tan." I composed a brief note explaining that the color had been changed to "Green" and the Motor Vehicle Dept. please comply.

The reply was received by me and we rolled merrily through 1964 with a "Green" trailer registered "Tan." February 1967 brought another renewal application — color "Tan." I surrendered! I painted the trailer "TAN" to match the registration and once again God was in His holy mountain.

Last week I received my renewal application for 1968 — Color "GREEN!" Up to the attic for a bit of modification — "I'll ever find out what's all about I'm going to pop somebody in the mouth." Last week I received my renewal application for 1968 — Color "GREEN!"

South Windsor SWEA Asks Smaller Classes For New Grouping System

The South Windsor Education Association has asked for smaller classes as part of its contract with the Board of Education. In a statement from Larry Brown, chairman of SWEA's negotiating team, and Dr. Bogli, president of SWEA, the group of new extra-curricular activities, $2,285 for department heads, and $22,045 for major medical, life insurance, Blue Cross and CMS coverage.

The new grouping system called for grouping all students on the same grade level in classrooms according to ability for a particular subject. Brown and Bogli claim that under this system, more teachers are needed, particularly in the groups which contain slower learners.

SWEA has requested that "when the class size of any grade level in a school district is reduced, it will have the effect of relieving the financial burden on the district. When there are extra teachers but not enough for a half-class, SWEA is asking for a teacher aide."

Brown and Bogli went on to say that in order to attract a teacher aide, the district must provide a salary which is at least another half-class above the standards negotiated. Another teacher aide is needed to provide secondary learning materials to students and must pay a salary which is at least another half-class above the standards negotiated.

At the present time, Brown and Bogli feel that South Windsor does have a quality system, but that proposed cuts in next year's budget are endangering the quality. If quality is not maintained, they say, "those who are educated by the system lose—the children."

There will be a public hearing at 8 tonight at the high school for the purpose of allowing the Board of Education to hear the desires of the citizens with regard to the proposed school budget for next year.

At the present time the Board about $58,000 apart in their salary negotiations. Since both parties refuse to change their offers, SWEA has requested the Commissioner of Education to provide mediation services in the area.

Verplank PTA Hears of Hope

Dr. A. Elmer Dikson will speak on his experience and the work of the medical mission ship S. S. HOPE, at a meeting of the Verplank PTA in the school auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m. A business meeting at 7:30 will precede Dr. Dikson's talk. The program is open to the public.

A member of the medical advisory board of Project HOPE, Dr. Dikson has served three years as a staff member when the ship visited Nicaragua, Colombia, and Ceylon. Converted from the Navy medical ship U. S. S. Comstock in 1958, the HOPE is staffed by 60 doctors and nurses, and operates on a $7 million budget annually, all contributed by the public. In many undeveloped countries, the personnel have treated 100,000 people, performed 4,600 operations, and treated 8,400 doctors and nurses.

Krajewski Seventh in Town To Die in Vietnam Action

Army Spc. 4 Donald Krajewski, 23, of 437 E. Main St., died in Vietnam action in Vietnam on March 12, 1969. He was the seventh in his family to die in Vietnam action. He was killed in action Feb. 28 in Vietnam when the enemy attacked his camp near Chu Lai. His parents were notified by the Vietnam Department yesterday.

He is the seventh Manchester serviceman to lose his life in hostile action in Vietnam. The young soldier was born March 12, 1945 in Manchester, and attended Nathan Hale High School and Bannet Junior High School. He is a 1967 graduate of Manchester High School.

He was employed at Pratt and Whitney Division of United Aircraft Corp., East Hartford, before entering the Army in May 1965. He completed the basic training at Ft. Dix, N.J., and a field artillery course at Ft. Belknap, Okla. He had been serving with the 181st Artillery in Vietnam since October 1968.

Survivors, besides his parents, include his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Krajewski of Manchester; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. Grace of Bristol, Australia; a sister, Miss Annmarie Krajewski at home; two brothers, Stanley J. Krajewski, at home, and David Krajewski, of East Hartford; and a niece.

The W. P. Quish Funeral Home, 219 E. Main St., is in charge of arrangements, which are inconspicuous.

John R. Fogarty, 71, of 19 High St. died suddenly this morning at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Fogarty was born Jan. 9, 1897 in Hallowell, Me., son of Michael and Margaret Connors. He was employed as a truck driver for the Manchester Board of Education. He was an Army veteran of World War I, and was a member of the American Legion and the Holy Name Society of St. James' Church.

Survivors include a son, John W. Fogarty, of Farmington, and five grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., with a Mass of 11 a.m. at St. James' Church. Burial will be in St. James' Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

asked for help under emergency arrangements to help countries with money troubles.

However, the present uncertainty about the franc will not be resolved until the French government and the company's labor unions settle their differences over wages. The unions have called a 24-hour general strike in protest.

The unions are seeking a 12 per cent wage increase. The government is resisting such a large boost would make French exports so expensive the value of the franc would have to be lowered so French business could compete in international markets.

A record-breaking rise in the price of gold on the free market was reported yesterday by the central bank. The price of gold rose to $148.31 an ounce in Paris Friday. The rise was caused not only by fears about the franc but by the decision of the central bank to sell its gold stocks on the free market.

The Nixon administration, which has been committed to the official price of gold at $35, would like to see the free market price rise to $100. It would like to see the free market price rise to $100. It would like to see the free market price rise to $100.

Wanna Buy a Town? Full Price $7,000

PODUNK CENTER, Iowa (AP) The whole town of Podunk Center is for sale for a grand total of $7,000.

The town consists of 40 acres in south central Iowa, and has a gas station, grocery store and cafe—all under one roof—and all are for sale.

The town is on any road map, is too small for the post office, but it has a telephone number, but its mayor, Homer Weeks, advertises it in the town because Burns recalled that August had forced him to close it down last year.

The town's population reached a peak of 21 in the 1920s when four families lived there.

Navy Plane Crash Kills Husband of Town Woman

Navy Plane Crash Kills Husband of Town Woman. The mid-air crash of two Navy A-4A Intruder jets Friday claimed the life of a Navy pilot who was the husband of a former Manchester resident.

He is Navy Lt. J. G. Thomas P. Larkin, 25, of Virginia Beach, Va., husband of the former Linda Holmwood, of 114 Center Manor Rd. Lt. Larkin was one of three men killed in the crash. A fourth was injured.

Navy officials are investigating the crash which occurred in clear skies, with a 4,000-foot ceiling, scattered clouds, and a 15-mile visibility.

Both pilots were killed, along with one of the bombardier-navigators. The other bombardier-navigator ejected from the plane and was slightly injured.

The planes crashed in a field and caused no injury to persons on the ground.

Lt. Larkin was born in Gloucester, Mass., and attended Gloucester High School and New England College. He graduated from Boston College, where he was a hockey star, in 1966.

School Budget $9,980 Higher, Error Made

School Budget $9,980 Higher, Error Made. The school budget has increased to $1,069,708 from the $1,059,728 approved by the Board of Education on Feb. 20.

The $10,000 difference, however, was due to a clerical error in the original budget. The entire increase is included in the supplemental budget.

The budget to be presented at a joint meeting of the Board of Education and Board of Selectmen tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building calls for an addition of $25 for principal and supervisor, $400 for principal and supervisor, $100 for audio-visual personnel, and a decrease of $50 for the occupational coordinator.

The $10,000 originally budgeted for guidance personnel, Pines explained, did not include the extra work the consultants are required to work following the close of the school year; consequently, $1,000 has been added to the revised budget.

In lower photo, charred walls and ceiling in second floor bedroom are grim reminders of a potential tragedy. Fireman throws burning objects through broken window or air conditioner. (Herald photos by Pinto).

The fire was discovered by a neighbor at about 10:30 p.m. on Sunday. Firemen arrived within minutes and worked for about an hour to contain the fire. The fire was extinguished at about 11:30 p.m.

The fire started in the second floor bedroom. The fire spread to the living room and the kitchen. The fire was contained in the second floor bedroom.

The fire was caused by a faulty air conditioner. The air conditioner was found to be the cause of the fire.

not to do any unnecessary maneuvering with their control jets because they were already low on fuel.

"We're budgeting them at 30 pounds a day," reported flight director Eugene Kranz. "We're running a little behind because of the extra weight of the extra equipment that we added to the spacecraft during the rendezvous time we were in space."

"So we're starting to watch that real close," he said.

Kranz said he wanted to see Apollo 9 had enough fuel to perform a backup maneuver in case the main approach came within eight miles of the moon.

"There also will be some communications problems," he added. "We have learned much about docking with the LEEM. In addition, we used significantly more fuel on the command module during the rendezvous than we anticipated."

Youth Prevails in Town Duckpin Tournaments, Cochrane and Rolane Score Victories

By EARL YOST
Youth prevailed yesterday afternoon in the finals of both divisions of the 1969 Men's and Women's Town Duckpin Bowling Tournaments at the Holiday Lanes.

Gaining the winner's circle was the first time in the Women's Division was just turned 20-year-old Rolane Irish. Several hundred viewed the annual events which marked the straight year that the popular annual events were staged at the Holiday Lanes.

Highlighting again after a lapse of one year to the Men's Division is 20-year-old George Cochran.

GEORGE COCHRAN—Wearing the broadest smile is Rolane Irish, who defeated defending champion Kitty Sibrins for town bowling title.

Both Cochran and Irish were also the leading qualifiers in this year's play. Cochrane's six-game total of 822 placed 69 small pinners while Irish totaled 736 for her six games to win the title with a second covered town title with a convincing four to one game edge over Burt Cloughsey.

Mia Irish needed six games to win the crown from the head of defending champion Kitty Sibrins, four games to the winning margin.

Eliminations, quarterfinals and semifinals for the men were all staged Saturday, all best of five game sets.

Third place money went to Joe Cataldi, who as a 17-year-old, won the title in 1966 while playing for the Holiday Lanes.

All quarterfinal and semifinal matches were won in three straight games.

Irish boasts a 115 average in three leagues, Eastern Connecticut, All-Ireland and winning the championship play. Rolane Irish and father, qualified for the championship play. Rolane Irish, 20, won a trophy.

Third place honors went to Agnes Cloughsey, wife of Burt Cloughsey. Mrs. Cloughsey bested Mrs. Rossetto's work average of 121.4 in her losing effort.

Nipmanhood Reaches Class Semifinals, Lindham, Plays Tomorrow Night

By TOM BARRETT
Man of the hour Pete Quish availed in East Catholic's winning basket with three seconds remaining to give the Eagles a 68-66 decision over Windham in the quarterfinal consolation Saturday night at Central Connecticut State University.

Quish stepped up to the charity line and added two East Catholic points on a tense one and one shot. Rich LaVecchia followed by popping in a long outside shot to quickly tie the score again, with Tim Kearns and Wally Young trading hoops to deadlock both squads at 66-66.
