Gen. Eisenhower Deceases at 78

Monday Declared Day of Mourning

Dwight D. Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in World War II of the mightiest armed force ever assembled and former president of the United States, died today.

The announcement of the general's death was made in a somber voice by Brig. Gen. Frederic Hughes Jr., commanding general of Walter Reed Army Hospital who said that Eisenhower had died quietly at 12:25 p.m. EST after a long and heroic struggle, and that he had died peacefully.

He added President Nixon, former President Lyndon B. Johnson and Eisenhower's two brothers had been notified. Nixon meanwhile drove from the White House to the hospital. The White House said he would have a statement, a message to Congress and a proclamation later.

The 78-year-old five-star general, known as "Ike" through out the world, was hit by congestive heart failure March 19 and again last Monday while recuperating from an intestinal operation and pneumonia complications.

With the rugged constitution of a Kansas farm boy, he also readily had battled back seven heart attacks before undergoing surgery for an intestinal obstruction Feb. 28.

Four days after undergoing the high risk surgery, he contracted pneumonia. Doctors successfully combated the pneumonia with antibiotics.

But throughout the February trouble, it was Eisenhower's heart which caused doctors their prime concern.

Doctors made no mention of the congestive heart failure which launched Sputnik 1. The US plane was shot down over Hanoi in the general's 67th birthday "particular" day.

Reporters questioned the hospital and were told of the latest onset of heart trouble.

Eisenhower had been hospitalized since April 29 when a heart attack felled him in California and he was transferred to Walter Reed and there suffered three more heart attacks on Aug. 18.

Since then he had gained vigor, walked short distances, received President Nixon and former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and graced his famous and folksy grin from a hospital window when an Army band, playing "Salute to Eisenhower Week," serenaded him on his birthday Oct. 14.

In the final weeks of the 1960 campaign, Eisenhower made speeches in several big cities for Nixon. The crowds were big and enthusiastic but often the handclapper signs said, "We kill Ike here!"

Four Americans Are Among Those Selected Pope Names 33 Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI named 33 new cardinals today—four of them Americans—enlarging the Sacred College to a record high of 134 members and significantly shifting Roman Catholic Church power from headquarters to the grass roots.

The Americans are Archbishop Terence Cooke of New York, John Dearden of Detroit and John Carberry of St. Louis and Bishop John Wright of Pittsburgh.

Vatican specialists regarded the Pope's selections as a major move to increase the power and prestige of diocesan bishops around the world, and to live developing nations a more prominent place in the highest council of Roman Catholicism.

Archbishop Cooke told newsmen in the United States, "I am aware that this appointment belongs to the people of New York more than to me personally."

The new cardinals come from 19 countries. The four Americans bring the U.S. representation in the college to historic high of 10.

The four from the United States made up the largest group named, except for Italy, which will have eight new cardinals. France will have three, and Spain and Brazil two each. The other 14 nations will have one each.

The new prince of the Roman Catholic Church will be formally elevated to the purple at a secret conclave on April 23.

New Tanks Help GIs Foil Ambush

SAIGON (AP)—More than 200 North Vietnamese armor opened fire too soon or were spotted by tankmen a mile ahead of the 120 trucks of ammunition and food for the 26th Division base camp at Tay Ninh. The first shots were fired at the tanks and armored personnel carriers.

"We got there before they expected us," said one officer. "We had tanks and they were not deep enough. They were still digging in."

The North Vietnamese were about 10 yards off the highway, on both sides of it, behind the tanks of rubber trees. Because of daily convoys, the Americans had cut down the trees and the tanks were on each side of the road.

Within 10 minutes after the ambush began shattering rocket grenades at the 40 tanks and armored personnel carriers leading the convoy. American artillery, bombers and helicopter gunships were in action.

The tanks and personnel carriers returned the enemy fire with cannon and 50-caliber machine guns, while the bombs and gunships raked the enemy's escape routes to the rear. 19, hundreds of North Vietnamese tried to ambush another small convoy Tuesday. That time 65 of the enemy and two Americans were reported killed.

Six-Mill Increase Sought Weiss Asks Record $14,097,276 Budget

By SOL R. COHEN Town Manager Robert Weiss is recommending a record-high $14,097,276 General Fund budget for next year, up $1,986,077, or 15.9 per cent over the current budget.

And, he is recommending a 48-mill tax rate, also record-high, and up 6 mills, or 14.3 per cent, above the current tax rate.

For the Town Fire District, he is recommending a $60,000 budget and a 4.3 mill tax rate. Both are 15 per cent hikes—the budget up $20,000 and the tax rate up a half mill.

The recommended 48 mills for the General Fund and the 4.3 mills for the Town Fire District add up to 52.3 mills. It marks the first time in the town's history that even a proposed tax rate has gone over 50 mills.

To the average property owner, with a home assessed at $11,000, Weiss recommended tax rates would add $27.79 to his annual tax bill. If he lives with in the Town Fire District, and $21 if he lives in the 38th Street District, which levies its own tax for fire protection.

Weiss is recommending a $14,097,276 budget for the Town Water Department, up $7,338 over this year, and a $28,511 budget for the Town Sewer Department, up $2,147. He recommends no change next year in water and sewer rates.

For the Special Downtown Taxing District Fund, Weiss is recommending a $20,000 budget and a 5-mill tax rate. The budget is up $2,000 over the current budget. The tax rate is the same as this year's.

In recommending the $14,097,276 General Fund Budget, Weiss wound up cutting over $2 million from departmental requests.

Over $14 million of that cut was in the Capital Improvement Reserve Fund, where the commission departments had requested $2,010,580 and Weiss allowed $600,000. The $200,000 is still $200,000 above the current appropriation in that account.

Weiss' next largest cut was $22,200 in the school board request. He cut it from a request of $2,000,000 to a recommended $1,977,800, still $1.1 million above the current school budget.

The next largest cut, approximately $90,000, was in the highway department's request, from $200,000 requested to $110,000. Weiss recommended $60,000, still $20,000 above the current appropriation.

He cut $2,000 from the Police Department request, from $28,175 requested to $26,175 recommended, up $10,000 from the current appropriation.

He cut $200 from the Fire Department request. A public hearing on Weiss' tentative budgets will be held April 7 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Washburn School on Broad St.

The Board of Directors will have until May 7 to adopt the tax rates. Failure to do so by then will automatically mean the town will automatically raise the tax rates and tax rates the official budgets and tax rates the official budgets and tax rates.

Suspect Captured Hartford Policeman Dies After Shooting

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A Hartford policeman died this morning hours after he was hit in the chest by a bullet meant for another man.

The victim, Francis X. Fenton, 44, a veteran of 28 years on the force, had undergone surgery at St. Francis Hospital in an attempt to save his life.

Paul "Blackie" Shannon, 29, was arrested two hours after the shooting and charged with assault with intent to murder, aggravated assault and carrying a gun without a permit in connection with the shooting.

Fenton died at 3:45 a.m. Police said they were seeking a warrant to change the charge against Shannon, who was to be arraigned this morning.

Shannon was convicted in October 1968, police said, on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of a man who was the brother of a Hartford policeman.

Shannon was sentenced to 10 years on parole from the sentence imposed for that conviction at the time of the shooting Thursday night.

Police said Fenton was in the Edgewood Restaurant on Elmwood Avenue when Shannon came in and went up to John W. Panaback, the owner, pulled out a gun, and said, "I want you."

Fenton, off-duty and in civilian clothes, then stepped between Shannon and Panaback, police said, and Shannon pulled the trigger of the gun three times before it finally discharged on the fourth try, hitting Fenton in the chest at point blank range.

Tolland Town Gets New Frequency For CD Communications

The town of Tolland has received approval for an additional frequency to be added to the town's communication system, according to Civil Defense director David Cabaniss.

The frequency will be used with the proposed repeater system, included in the proposed CD budget. The repeater would guarantee uninterrupted and interference-free service between the mobile units using the communications system, he explained.

The assignment approval was granted by the federal frequency coordinating government office. The repeater system addition is budgeted at approximately $300.

The town communications system is used by the resident state trooper, constables, the Tolland Volunteer Ambulance Association and by town officials. The base unit is located in the Town Hall.

State To Begin Rebuttal In Sirhan Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state begins its rebuttal in the murder trial of Sirhan Sirhan today without the opportunity to show a movie film of Robert F. Kennedy in the moments before he was mortally wounded.

After the defense rested its case Thursday, Judge Herbert W. Walker ruled the film would be inflammatory and thus depriving the state a vivid way of evoking the memory of Kennedy.

The color film showed Kennedy addressing supporters in the Ambassador Hotel after he won California's Democratic presidential primary last June 4 and ended with him, arms outstretched in victory, saying, "On his way to a few steps into an anteroom, and was shot by Sirhan."

"Here is a young man who just made what he considered a major victory, very happy, very gay, congratulating everybody," the judge said. "The contrast between that and what happened in this court certainly would be injurious to the jury."

Co-prosecutors John E. Howard and David N. Pitts said they wanted to show that Kennedy intended to show that Kennedy that night said nothing about his assassination.

"I submit the jury is entitled to see that picture so they can draw their own inference whether there was or was not any state to trigger Sirhan in that speech," said Howard.

"I recall no evidence that this defendant heard any part or appreciable part of that speech," Judge Walker said in denying the motion.

Since Feb. 28, when the defense presented the first of 9 witnesses, the bulk of testimony has concerned whether Sirhan's mind was too unhinged to be able to "maturely and meaningfully" premeditate Kennedy's murder.

Six psychologists and two psychiatrists testified Sirhan was mentally ill. One called him crazy, another demented.

Dr. Bernard L. Diamond, a University of California psychiatrist who was instrumental in formulating the diminished responsibility defense in California courts, completed his testimony Thursday.

"When I first had personal contact with Sirhan I was prepared for the usual case of a paranoid fanatic who dreams of grand illusions," Diamond said under redirect examination by defense attorney Emile Zola Berman.

"It was not, however, prepared for what I discovered: these striking instances of correspondence course hypnosis, dissociative trance and mystical contagion... and black magic, and that this primitive, psychotic, voodoo thinking of a psychotic could have resulted in the death of Sen. Kennedy that affected the destinies of the world."

Diamond said that while his psychiatric finding—that Sirhan had programmed himself to be an assassin—sounded absurd, it was true.

"To me," Diamond said in winding up his testimony, "this is a script which would never be acceptable in a class B motion picture; and yet these are, I think, the realities of the case of a paranoid fanatic who dreams of grand illusions."

Tolland County Abortion Bill Gets Area Backing

At least 20 persons from Tolland County are expected to appear at Monday's public hearing in the House Capitol in support of House Bill 5490 which would permit therapeutic abortions in limited cases.

Mrs. Alice Jackson Mead of Vernon, area chairman of the Connecticut League for Abortion Law Reform Committee, predicted yesterday that the bill will pass the House.

She described the bill as a "humane bill." It is permissive legislation because it simply allows women to have an abortion in the case of rape or incest, danger to the mental and physical health of the mother or child or the child will be deformed.

Among these are requirements that a hospital approval be obtained, a physician's report be submitted, and a committee of two consulting physicians.

Mrs. Mead also pointed to residency restrictions included in the proposed bill which would limit abortions to persons who have lived in Connecticut for a minimum of four months or to pregnancies which occurred in the state.

Although five of Tolland County's representatives in the legislature support the bill, county support among the general public has been spotty.

State Rep. Robert King of Tolland, Dorothy Miller of Bolton, Gerry Allen of Vernon and Audrey Book of Mansfield have all voiced their support of the bill as has State Sen. Robert Houlton of Vernon, according to Mrs. Mead.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Book were listed among the women legislators co-sponsoring the bill introduced by State Rep. Jean Thornton of Glastonbury.

Although there has been no organized effort in the county to oppose the proposed bill, it was a matter of conscience, not because the church asked them to do so.

Mrs. Mead noted she had available speakers qualified to speak in favor of the abortion law, but was unable to find a forum to support the debate in Tolland County.

Petitions favoring the bill have been circulated throughout Tolland County by Mrs. Mead's group with about 200 signatures obtained. No figures were available on the number of signers of the Connecticut Right to Life petition.

The county group headed by Mrs. Mead was formed about a year ago. Members have attempted to spread support for 10 a.m.

DIVORCES

Divorces were granted last week by Superior Court Judge William F. Barber by: Hazel Parin of Stafford on grounds of intolerable cruelty; Lawrence Parin Jr. of Willington on grounds of intolerable cruelty; Vernon on grounds of intolerable cruelty.

She was granted permission to use her maiden name, Hazel Tibbatts. Lovelle H. Saunders of Vernon from Raymond E. Bowler Jr. on grounds of intolerable cruelty.

She would support the recommendations of the reformed penal code also before the legislature if H.B. 5490 was not approved.

"I would prefer bill 5490 because it is a more complete bill, but any step in the right direction is better than nothing," she stated.

H.B. 5490 as sponsored by Rep. Thornton is similar to the abortion bill passed two years ago in Colorado. The bill, modified after the Model Penal Code drawn up by the American Bar Association, has the support of the American Medical Association.

We all know about taxes. We know that once levied, they are difficult to lift. We know that even when we were still clinging to the idea that a new President might try to eliminate the surtax, or cut it in half.

Yet perhaps we are too understanding, too fatalistic, too generous, too resigned. Perhaps it is time we began insisting, with our own paychecks, that men and nations become capitalists, rather than prisoners, of their own taxes.

In a time when there is so much talk of "options" it is irrevocably true that the only options we can ever really take must be those which spend more money for more wars, more bombs, more space launches, more subsidies, more welfare, more research, more red tape, and higher public salaries?

The present answer to such a question is, of course, a resounding "yes." But need it always be so?

The Great Disenchantment

The "greatest factor in the disenchantment of the Government is that Government has not performed as well as it should have.

Recent reports from Saigon are encouraging because they seem to be putting the cart before the horse, and because they seem to be good signs in the particular diplomatic being suggested toward a possible end of the war in Vietnam.

What President Thieu of South Vietnam has now begun to say in formal public statements, and what he has been saying recently in political discussions with his own political associates, is all in the direction of preparing to be able to accept some agreement at Paris, or in some other neutral meeting between the various parties to the Vietnam war.

To have Saigon's political order moving to get itself into the position and the mood to accept something from Paris is an encouraging reversal of the order of things most of us have been anticipating. What we have all been expecting is the emergence of some American - North Vietnamese agreement at Paris, to be followed by a slow, grinding process of persuading and pressuring Saigon to go along.

Now President Thieu is openly saying he is willing to meet directly and secretly with the Vietcong, and he has refused to do all along, and which is something that has to happen in order to make possible arrangements for a Washington stop hand-out guarantee.

And, of course, he heightens all the speculation about possible progress in possible "secret" negotiations which now seem on the way to becoming the best advertised secret negotiations in all diplomatic history.

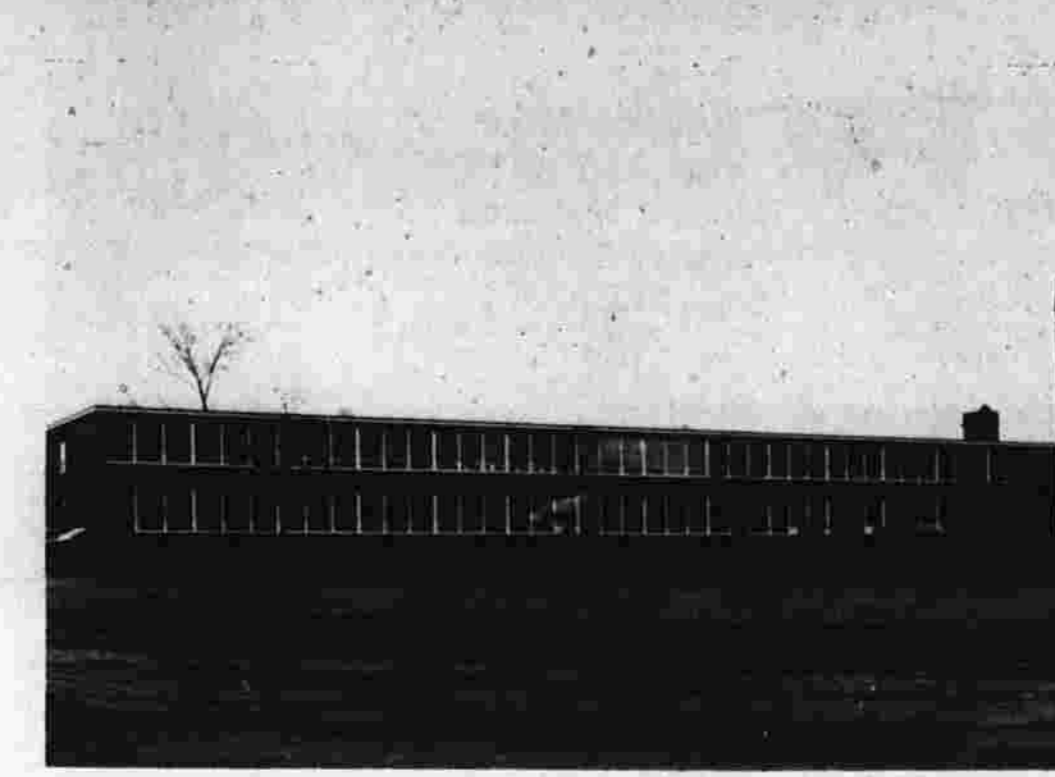

So far as the battlefield itself is concerned, it seems another good time to try to move out front and start pulling again.

But the enemy, for the past month, has been putting on a sustained display of guerrilla operations in the very heart of the territory we are supposed to control, and this has been a display, with considerable success against many of our military installations, and some brutal success against hapless civilians, which has cooled down that previous anticipation of our military leadership that we were about to score some kind of recognizable victory on the terrain.

This post-November round of mutual effort to prove something to each other has resulted in new statements for both sides, and the one conclusive result it has given both the enemy and us is another terrible toll of lives that need not have been lost, if the idea of still "winning" the war had not slipped its way around the original recognition of statements which led to the creation of the Paris talks.

Could not the military statements now be accepted again, tacitly, and by both sides, so that they could begin to retrain their arms while political preparations for peace make progress in Saigon and those "secret" talks which seem to be referred to in every other official utterance have a chance to make some secret gains?

Cynical Certainties It is not unexpected news, not to us cynical burden-bearers, that President Nixon now finds himself required to ask for a continuation of President Johnson's special 10 per cent income surtax.

EAST CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — The Mafia-controlled ANR Leasing Co. of New York City continued to receive government loans under the Small Business Administration's (SBA) supervision even after that agency had been advised by the FBI that gangsters were running the company.

Quite apart from $460,000 in direct SBA loans to ANR Leasing that were uncovered by the FBI, the company received an additional $160,000 in indirect SBA loans furnished through a quasi-governmental investment company. What's more, $60,000 of that amount was loaned after the FBI sent its secret report to the SBA.

This suggests, at the least, massive administrative inefficiency inside the SBA. Beyond that, it shows the need for a thorough investigation of the SBA's New York regional office, headed by Charles E. Kriger, suspended from the post last fall but recently reinstated at the urging of the powerful Rep. John J. Rooney of Brooklyn.

Yet, the Republican administration now controlling the SBA has shown a surprising reluctance to attack the Mafia loans. Both Republican members of Congress and conscientious civil servants inside the SBA are amazed that Hillary Sandvo, President Nixon's new Small Business Administrator, has not suspended Kriger.

An we reported last week, there is reasonable doubt in the mind of such men as the FBI and the SBA in connection with the loan totaling $460,000 made to ANR Leasing in 1966 by the SBA in conjunction with the Royal National Bank of New York. Two separate SBA officials have indicated their belief that an FBI check in 1965 failed to reveal that the company's officers included Thomas McKeever, a convicted loan racketeer and truck thief, and that the company is controlled by John Mastello, Sr., a Mafia soldier and exceptionally vicious loan shark.

The ANR loans were uncovered quite by accident in a routine audit of the company's books. The audit, which was conducted by the Small Business Administration, revealed that the company had received $460,000 in loans from the SBA under a 10-year-old Federal program, The Royal Bank's SBC.

Small wonder, writes Mr. Drucker, "that these programs did not work, that we were about to score some kind of recognizable victory on the terrain. This post-November round of mutual effort to prove something to each other has resulted in new statements for both sides, and the one conclusive result it has given both the enemy and us is another terrible toll of lives that need not have been lost, if the idea of still 'winning' the war had not slipped its way around the original recognition of statements which led to the creation of the Paris talks.

"Lacking Competent Teachers"

The Executive Board of the Manchester Green School PTA wishes it to be known that it feels the budget (1968-1970) should be restored. We feel that it most assuredly was not executive.

Can anyone put a price tag on good education? It is a known fact that Manchester is losing and will continue to lose competent teachers because our pay scale is not in keeping with the rest of the state. Our children will gain a second-rate education at best, if this is allowed to continue.

What did you feel today? Well, I felt pretty good when I got started this morning, had a good night's sleep - felt pretty good. I was looking forward to go to school, to see the children, to do a couple of things didn't go so well and that made me unhappy. There were moments when I felt angry, when someone else got upset. I felt lonely once, and almost sad. Did you say anything? Did you feel anyone else's feelings?

Good education is the concern of every person in this town. Please, join with us in showing your concern by voting it - loud and clear. Sincerely, The Executive Board Manchester Green School

Editor's Note: First, why not stop trying to "educate" either ourselves or our children into really believing "our pay scale is not in keeping with the rest of the state?"

Only Principals May Deny Bus to Students, Board Says

The Board of Education Wednesday night revised its school bus regulations to make clear that school principals are the only people who have the authority to deny transportation to a student who is misbehaved.

The revisions are a result of disagreement between the board and the bus contractors as to who had the authority to discipline students who misbehave on the bus.

The school lunch menu for next week is as follows: Monday, hamburger, baked potato, carrot, raisin, milk, custard, oatmeal and relish; Tuesday, beef, potato, carrot, raisin, milk, custard, oatmeal and relish; Wednesday, breaded chicken with cream gravy, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, fresh carrots, butternut squash, pudding, bread and butter, milk; Thursday, pizza with meat and cheese, buttered peas, cream, bread and butter, milk; Friday, pizza with meat and cheese, buttered peas, cream, bread and butter, milk.

Today in History Today is Friday, March 28, the 87th day of 1968. There are 282 days left in the year. Most young people in school today will be in the prime of their lives in the year 2000 and poor equipped to make the adjustments, decisions and judgments those times will require. Most of the facts they worked hard to learn will be irrelevant. They will need skills which will enable them to cope with fantastically rapid change. They will need self-confidence to determine their own values regarding their lives and the world in face of such rapid change. Unless they have learned how to develop their own individual potential and have developed the mental and emotional flexibility to apply their own abilities successfully to the changing world, they will be dependent on society.

Allen Dresser Finds Schools Have Changed But Not Pupils

By BARBARA RICHMOND

While others may shake their heads and complain about the children of today, Allen Dresser, assistant superintendent of schools, sees little change in the students of today and those he taught over 40 years ago when he first came to Vernon.

Dresser, who came to work for the local Board of Education in March 1927 as head of the high school science department and head of the evening school, will be retiring at the end of this school year.

Obviously enjoying reminiscing, Dresser said he started out teaching in the Portland high school. He taught all of the math and science classes on a salary of $1,200 a year.

He felt a loyalty to teach in the Massachusetts school system and he received a recommendation at Amherst College which at that time was tuition-free. It was offered $200 a year to teach in Rockville. He was paid $2,100 a year for his first job as well as the night school one.

Comparing the methods of hiring a teacher then and the way it is done now, Dresser said the two men who headed the school system then, Herbert Cough, superintendent, and Philip Howe, principal of the high school, an entire day with him in Portland. He then had come to Rockville to meet with some of the members of the Board of Education.

Today, Dresser noted, teachers are lucky if they get in one short interview before they are hired because of the ever-increasing need for more teachers.

He noted as a thrilling experience being able to come in to a job where he only had to teach one subject and then when he recalled that during the Depression the Board of Education had to tell each of the teachers they would have to take a $300 cut in their salaries.

He recalled the Maxwell family of Rockville with leaving the local people in jobs so at least the taxes were paid and the teachers got the pay they were promised. This was not the case in many other towns. The Maxwell owned the large mill in town and kept them in part of the operation all during the Depression, Dresser said.

Books Handed Down Reflecting on how much has to be spent on textbooks today and how they are kept up to date, Dresser recalled that 40 years ago each child had to buy his own textbooks. They were handed down in families from child to child. He said, with a chuckle, "we didn't dare change any of the courses or change the writh of the paragraphs on us."

At that time there were eight schools in town, most of them were just one or two-room buildings. The town population in 1927 was 1,161. There were 32 elementary grade schools today and 16 high school teachers. The town's student population is expected to reach the 7,000 mark and there are hundreds of teachers in the system, both regular and special.

Allen Dresser, retiring assistant superintendent.

Pope Paul Addresses Atheism Study Group

Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI told a group of atheists surveying atheism in the world the Roman Catholic Church is willing to listen to the views of nonbelievers, but he urged that his voice also be heard.

"We, too, are nonbelievers," the Pope said in a 35-minute audience yesterday. "We do not believe that the development of modern thought... leads of necessity to the denial of God... We do not believe that science and belief in God are antithetical terms."

The Pope spoke at the close of the first symposium of the culture of "unbelief" sponsored by the Vatican Secretariat for Non-Believers and the University of California at Berkeley. The symposium, the pontiff told 25 participants of the conference, "because we wish to understand again the idea of God from the degradation into which it has fallen with many men of our time..."

During the week-long symposium the word "God" was used infrequently. Some of the participants described themselves as agnostics or men of no religion. After his talk, the Pope, dressed in a white cassock, went around the room speaking and shaking hands with the sociologists and theologians who sat in high-backed leather chairs in the consistorial hall.

Among the first the Pope shook hands with was black-haired Harvey Cox, professor at Harvard Divinity School and author of the book "The Secular City." The book calls a new freedom where men can choose to accept or reject religious ideas independent of family and other such influences.

Cox says Pope Paul apparently has understood his book to mean a rejection of the supernatural. The Pope smiled and said, "We are fighting against you, but we read you with great interest. 'I'm happy to be here,' Cox replied.

The Harvard professor said afterward: "What could I say? All my prepared speeches went down the drain." The Pope called the encounter between him and the secular sociologists a "dramatic and symbolic moment."

"This is not the usual meeting of friendly persons," he said. "It is rather the encounter of diverse cultures and differing thoughts. We say this with humility."

"We know that here before us are men of high intellect and deep study... It is always our desire to listen to those voices which express the thinking of the times, as it is ever our desire that our own voice should be heard."

That papal voice, Pope Paul said, "holds within itself the seriousness of the truth, and the yearning to communicate the message of hope and life."

Although the symposium was organized to discuss atheism, the word atheism itself rarely came up. "It's out of vogue," said the Rev. Herie Carrier, rector of the pontifical Gregorian University and a participant in the symposium "The Culture of Unbelief."

Independent Postal Service One Year Old

By BILL SANBING Associated Press Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The nation's only private postal service is a year old and growing rapidly, its owners report.

The Independent Postal System of America, which carries third-class mail primarily for commercial customers, has franchises in 81 cities and will soon grant 20 more, says Vice President Orville DeClair.

The IPISA, now operating in Vancouver, B.C., and plans to expand its Canadian services in that province. "A lot of people thought we were nuts when we started," said Thomas Murray, president of IPISA, who came to the United States from Ireland in 1960.

That Murray would have an impact on his new country became clear very soon. He got a job as a room clerk in a Detroit hotel in 1960 and five years later Detroit proclaimed "Tom Murray Day" in recognition of his climb to director of the same hotel.

"The Post Office Department has been crying for years that inter-class mail is what's bogging them down. They even call it 'junk mail.' We have told them, 'Well take this off your hands.' And we'll make a profit."

The IPISA rate is $25 per 1,000 pieces. The U.S. Post Office rate is $36 per 1,000 pieces. On March 14-16 the company held its first national convention here.

Murray reported that most of his business so far has come from large chain stores but that the company hopes to get into first- and second-class mail delivery, too.

IPISA said it would soon be functioning in San Diego, Calif., Buffalo, N.Y., Huntville, Ala., and Sioux City, Iowa.

Agreements also have been reached for franchises in Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., Mobile, Ala., and all of Florida, Murray reported.

DeClair said more than 2,000 persons are now on the firm's payroll. Each franchise holder is responsible for his own labor and payroll.

In Canada, Murray said, his company—known there as Independent Postal System of Canada—has meetings of the government. However, in this country there is no litigation at the moment.

Coventry School Set Good Friday; Lake Road Program Studied

The effects of those February snow storms still linger, and Coventry school children will miss their full school day because of all the snow days they had off during the almost-blizzard of '68. The schools will operate on April 1 on a half-day schedule, following Board of Education action last night. The schools will make up the extra snow-affected school day on the school day after the snow day. The school will be closed on Friday, March 28, and the school will be closed on Saturday, March 29.

The problem of roads in the lake development dates back to World War II, when what were once a multitude of summer cottages, suddenly became permanent housing, because of lack of housing in the area for all the war workers at United Aircraft. The problem was the same. One of the C-DAP committee members who has been working on the problem is Michael Worgan, who had not been notified of the meeting.

Apparently, wires have gotten crossed on communications, with some C-DAP members not notified of previous meetings, explaining his absence last night.

Representatives of the lake associations were in attendance last night also, to discuss their plans for a concrete program over the maintenance of these roads within a period of several years.

Scheduled by First Selectman Michael Pese for 8 p.m., the meeting finally convened at 8:15 after the lake representatives were kept waiting the hour and a quarter for Pese, who had been delayed in arriving.

When the meeting finally did get started, the lake representatives heard that Pese had not only a plan which would, hopefully, see the form lake roads within a period of several years, but also a concrete program over the maintenance of these roads within a period of several years.

According to Pese last night, the lake representatives, and now all that remains is Pese's opinion, plus perhaps town meeting approval and the other technicalities.

The proposal, as put forth by the lake representatives, is that the town provide not less than $10,000, nor more than $20,000 annually, to be divided among the associations on a basis relative to the tax assessments involved within the particular associations.

Under the proposal, the town would furnish sand, gravel and required right-of-way, curbs and drainage as required, sealers, labor and uniform street signs. Work would be subject to approval of the town engineer and his presented to the town would be a mandate to pay up to the allocated amount for that year.

Peace more or less guaranteed some report within a week and will set up a meeting when Rappe has submitted some opinion on the proposal.

Over at the town hall last night, it was odd Thursday and not a regular meeting night for the Board of Selectmen, but several things came up for discussion. One of the C-DAP committee members who has been working on the problem is Michael Worgan, who had not been notified of the meeting.

Around the Grapefruit League

Earl Yost

HERALD SPORTS EDITOR
Best of the Mets,
Hodges Field Boss

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—This is the best team in the eight-year history of the New York Mets.

That's the opinion expressed by Manager Gil Hodges just before he sent his 1969 edition out to play in Florida's Grapefruit League.

"We're more settled, more mature," the former star first baseman with the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers reported.

"We're doing more things right than a year ago. We made a lot of mistakes a year ago but we feel that we have corrected most of them."

All we have to do on a March morning is take a trip up to Huguenot-Stengel Field to see how much harder the Mets work under Hodges than they did during the reign of Casey Stengel and Wes Westrum.

Hodges is now in his second campaign as field boss after five years with the Washington Senators in a like post. Fundamentally, he stressed from A to Z the training camp with Hodges in command and the squabbling with the press.

"There's not many spots open on our pitching staff," Hodges added. "A most pleasing situation. Pitching is one spot where the club has depth, especially among what we call 'A' pitchers."

"I was disappointed last year when we finished as far back as we did," Hodges said. "I thought we would have done better."

"We fell down offensively at four positions last year, center-field, rightfield, shortstop and first base," Hodges continued.

"We'll have to get bigger hit and run productions from these hit positions. I think that we will. Tommie Agee has looked great both at bat and in the field this spring. He's been hitting much better. Bud Harrelson was hampered by injuries last year and this year I'll probably platoon Ed Kranepool, Art Shamsky and Ed Charles. Agee was cut after five years with the Washington Senators in a like post.

"Our guys are now throwing to the right base, taking that extra base when they should," Hodges pointed out.

"This spring the Mets and hitting and scoring runs. What's the reason? This question I asked Hodges. "Confidence and experience," he shot back.

"It's been very encouraging this spring. I just hope that it continues."

Improved Pitching—Most managers claim that it has been the last five years since the Mets have had a pitching staff. If true, the Mets are now the only team in the league to have a pitching staff.

"Pitching is one department that the Mets have a little extra something strong, young and winning arms in Jerry Rouseman, Tom Seaver, Nolan Ryan and Jim McAndrew, the same lool. 'St. Louis' looks to be the best team in all baseball."

Amazing Mets—The Mets, in seven previous National League seasons, have been 10th, the last five times after managed ninth place finishes the other two years.

Thanks to expansion the Mets won't be 10th, or ninth this season in their division and may not finish as low as sixth.

The Mets' chances of winning their division are 100 to 1. After all the St. Louis Cards are in the same lool. 'St. Louis' looks to be the best team in all baseball."

Tony Conigliaro Slams First Homer Since Injury

NEW YORK (AP)—After two consecutive opponents, the St. Louis Cardinals have gone into the rehabilitation business, and rehab training is any indication, they may profit with another National League champion.

The Cardinals acquired Vito Fiume, Joe Torre and Bob Johnson during the winter and spring and all three are paying dividends for their new lease on life.

40 victory over the New York Yankees in an exhibition game. Tony Conigliaro also continued his rehabilitation with his first home run since his injury in Aug. 1967, and he helped the Red Sox to a 4-3 triumph over Cincinnati.

In other games, Atlanta stopped red-hot Baltimore 7-1. The New York Yankees nipped Minnesota 2-1. Washington tripled and singled, and Atlanta, tripled and singled. And Johnson, an out-of-control utility man also gotten from Atlanta, drove in another run with a single after delivering a single and a double in an 8-3 squad victory over the Mets' B team in the morning.

Steve Carlton pitched seven shutout innings for the Cardinals after teammate Nelson Briles went seven innings in the 12th inning last night in Philadelphia's winning run against Detroit and Steve Blass went seven good innings for Pittsburgh to stomp over Cincinnati.

Oakland scored unearned runs in the seventh and eighth innings to top California, Rookie Tom Griffin, Howie Reed and Fred Gladding combined on a three-hitter to send Houston past the Royals. Larry Haney drove in five runs with a single and a homer for Seattle while San Francisco scored five runs in the eighth inning to beat the Cubs.

Where Are the New Mantles, Mays? Phenoms Missing On Training Scene

By EARL YOST
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Brunch room for members of the news media and club officials and all kinds of baseball people at beautiful Al Lang Field in this West Coast Florida city is located under the first base grandstand.

Here not only is a light lunch available but also it's usually good conversation time with some of the major league players. Mays, Warren Giles, Bowie Kuhn, Joe Cronin, to name a few.

"This is the first time that I can recall," Mantle, mumbled over a soft drink, "that there hasn't been one or two phenoms in the Florida camps. Usually there is a guy or two on every club that draw race notices and a lot of press."

Defense, Pitching, Speed Tell The White Sox Story

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—In all probability this is the last time around for Al Lopez as a big league manager. The softspoken pop-pular veteran came out of semi-retirement last July to take over the Chicago White Sox from Eddie Stanky. After finishing out the season he agreed to stay on one more year.

"We'll just play it by ear about the future," said the 60-year-old Lopez, whose home is in nearby Tampa. "I'm pretty sure this will be the last. I'd like to get the ball club back in contention."

"The White Sox always were built around pitching, defense and speed. I hope to build them up again. We signed last year's first baseman, Dick McAuliffe in August, when his first season and had to settle for a second year contract. "It looks like my left shoulder is going to be all right," said Lopez, who is 6-1 and weighs 175. "I hope to be in the big league for a while."

Red Sox Line-Up a Pitcher's Dream

Yastrzemski Eyes AL Batting Title
WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP)—Carl Yastrzemski, the Boston Red Sox three-time American League batting champion, has some bad news for rival pitchers.

Yastrz is ripping the ball in Grapefruit League exhibition games in the same fashion that powered the Red Sox to the pennant in 1967.

"I feel exceptionally strong," he said the other day. "I'm waiting on the ball and feel very quick. It's the best I've ever felt."

Nation, World Mourn Eisenhower's Passing

100 Foreign Leaders Expected at Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP)—Millions mourned the passing of Dwight D. Eisenhower today as the beginning of a majestic final tribute before a train carries him slowly home to the Kansas plains.

Private services for the family were planned in a cloistered chapel of the Washington National Cathedral as a personal prelude to the ceremonial farewell that will last five days.

Eisenhower, who led history's mightiest Army to victory in Europe in World War II and his nation through eight years of shaky but unbroken peace, died Friday after an epic 11-month struggle against heart disease.

As tribute to the 79-year-old former president poured in from the palaces and parliaments of the world, it was the mayor of Gettysburg, Pa., who perhaps said it for all:

"Although I was expecting it, it still caused great sadness," said William G. Weaver. President Nixon, whom Eisenhower lived to see in the White House, went into the seclusion of his Camp David, Md., retreat in 1966—the only Republican in this country to win successive terms—Eisenhower, with his warm smile and simple world, brought reassuring confidence to a nation beset with war, crisis and won as just the place in the hearts of millions.

Broken by his first heart attack in 1955, Eisenhower survived that and eventually six more before congestive heart failure ended his iron strength and he died peacefully at 12:58 p.m. Friday.

"For me, I see disappear with such sadness a great companion in my life and a friend as well as a great leader," said De Gaulle, also 78.

"A giant of our age is gone," said Lyndon B. Johnson, now one of two surviving ex-presidents. The other, Harry S. Truman, now 84 and in frail health, said despite his political feuds with Eisenhower after World War II, "We were comrades in arms and I cannot forget his services to his country and world civilization."

Elia Kazan, where Truman had lived as president, was prepared for possible use of the two former chief executives during the funeral.

Through all the praise for Eisenhower ran the common refrain: "He was a man of peace."

Washington (AP)—which he crusaded—the freedom of men and the peaceful alliance of nations—are still worthy goals of free people."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said this week: "He was a strong and practical supporter of the United Nations, and he is remembered especially for his initiative in promoting international cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Eisenhower unified the free world's efforts to end World War II and recognized that the Cold War of our nation's greatest peacemakers.

"Though trained as a warrior," Humphrey said, "he was one of our nation's greatest peacemakers."

Flags Lowered Dempsey Leads State Tribute

Shortly before 1 p.m. Friday American flags in Connecticut were lowered to half staff as the state mourned the death of Dwight David Eisenhower.

To those Connecticut residents who knew the former President personally, and to those who had seen and honored him during his visits to the state, his passing was particularly poignant.

Gov. John Dempsey led the tributes to the World War II hero and two-term President, calling Eisenhower "a great soldier, a distinguished President and above all, a citizen whose every act showed his deep devotion to America and humanity."

Mende Akorn, a Buffalo lawyer who served as Republican National Chairman under Eisenhower from 1967 to 1969 called him "one of the most beloved, most admired and most respected Americans of our times. His contributions to our country as soldier and as president are never to be measured in words."

Purmer Gov. John D. Lodge of Westport commended Eisenhower for his leadership in the fight against communism and his extraordinary ability to get things done. "As the leader of people together—which was one of the great secrets of leadership," Lodge said.

Lodge served as ambassador to Spain under Eisenhower from 1953 to 1957 and was Eisenhower's personal secretary in 1962 presidential campaign.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., said, "As the leader of a massive military campaign against the Soviet Union, Eisenhower served the country and the cause of freedom with uncommon dedication and courage."

"That I was the one who got struck," he burst in to protest, recalling his lunar flight last Christmas.

Allies Lose Three Planes In 10 Fights

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. and government forces fought 10 battles across South Vietnam—one the closest to Saigon since the Viet Cong launched their spring offensive—and three American aircraft were shot down, military spokesmen said today.

The fighting left 261 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese dead at the cost of seven Americans and 10 South Vietnamese killed and 74 American and 20 government soldiers wounded.

One of the downed aircraft was an F-4 Phantom II fighter-bomber, hit by ground fire Thursday near the coastal city of Qui Nhon. The crewmen were rescued unharmed. The plane was the 301st fixed-wing aircraft lost over South Vietnam.

The other two were helicopters, one lost in a 20-hour firefight only six miles northeast of Saigon, the closest fighting to the capital in the five-week-old offensive.

Spokesmen said an observation helicopter from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division was shot by a gunship while reconnoitering the eastern edge of Saigon Friday by people living in cities when Viet Cong gunners opened up with machine guns.

The observation craft, which was later salvaged, was then hit by a gunship as it attempted to land. The gunship was destroyed and a crewman was killed.

The downing of the 1st Division, patrolling the same area, sought out the enemy and clashed with about 20 Viet Cong soldiers. They reported killing 10.

Chemicals Suspect As Cause of Cancer

By ALTON BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The reason many cancer victims—perhaps up to 80 per cent—are stricken could be chemicals they eat, breathe or otherwise live with, a scientist said today.

And if that is true, Dr. Ernest R. Epstein said, then most cancers someday could be prevented.

Epstein described delicate new methods to test whether common or unusual, yet unsuspected chemicals are or might be culprits in human cancer or in other health troubles.

Epstein, a research associate at Children's Cancer Research Foundation in Boston, told an American Cancer Society seminar for science writers that the suspect chemicals include pollutants in air and water, food, combustion products, smoking, drugs, pesticides and herbicides.

He said it is an approach to detect potential chemical hazards, Dr. Epstein said. In one method to detect potential chemical hazards, Dr. Epstein said. In one method to detect potential chemical hazards, Dr. Epstein said.

U.N. Debates Continue on Jordan Raid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council began a third day of security today on Israel's air raid against Jordan, trying to finish before Big Four talks on the Middle East expected to start next week.

Diplomatic sources said Soviet, U.S., British and French U.N. ambassadors would meet in New York Thursday to start talks on how to settle the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

But in Cairo, the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said Egypt has already rejected a U.S. proposal for peace submitted to the other three powers in preparation for the meeting.

The newspaper said Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad told U.N. peace envoy Gunnar V. Jarring the U.S. proposal did not conform with a Security Council resolution on peace passed in 1967. Al-Ahram did not elaborate.

The U.S. plan is understood to have called for the Arabs and Israel to reach a voluntary, contractual peace agreement.

The Security Council is considering the plan, which is expected to continue for several months at the countries' initiative. The plan is understood to have called for the Arabs and Israel to reach a voluntary, contractual peace agreement.

Funeral Service on Monday Riderless Horse To Follow Caisson to Capitol Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP)—For Eisenhower's body is borne to the 1944, the day Eisenhower led the fourth time in five years a Capitol will give way Monday to liek forces invaded Normandy.

Three hours after he died, his body was taken from the White House to the private funeral home escorted by two motorcycle policemen and a military police car bearing entailed representatives of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

It was taken from the private funeral home today without ceremony to Washington National Cathedral, which sits on the highest point of land on the northwest quadrant.

Eisenhower was a Presbyterian and although the Cathedral is Episcopal it contains the tomb of another Presbyterian president—Woodrow Wilson—and is a capital landmark.

The plan for ceremonies in Washington were laid out with military precision by the Army and approved by Eisenhower himself in 1968.
