WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's unemployment rate held steady at 3.5 per cent in May while employment showed a slower rate of growth which probably reflects a slowdown in the economy, the Labor Department said today.

Total nonfarm payroll employment increased by 80,000, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"Employment growth, rapid in late 1968 and early 1969, has slowed considerably in the past three months," said the bureau's report.

"Monthly payroll employment has slowed considerably in the past three months. Monthly payroll employment increases have averaged 100,000 in the February-May period, in contrast to 325,000 over the September-February period," it said.

Alert Status To Continue For Hartford

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—City Manager Elisha Freedman said Hartford would remain under a state of emergency today, although the curfew had been lifted.

A nighttime curfew Friday and Saturday kept the city quiet, but police said Saturday night fire bombings were reported in the North End, scene of major disturbances for four days last week. Police made numerous arrests Saturday on minor charges, mostly curfew violations.

On Sunday, although no curfew was in effect, the city was reported quiet. The most serious incident was a fire in a city hall which was brought under control within a half hour, and police said the fire did not appear connected with the North End disorders.

Small gold-tipped matches were found in the office of the Republican registrar of voters, and police seized in 25 p.m. fires appeared to have been set by young arsonists.

Investigators said fires were set in 8 to 10 places. In some instances, fire drawers were opened and set ablaze. Voter registration slips were put under some desk telephones and ignited.

Flames destroyed the first-floor registrar's office and one of the municipal rooms in the four-story stone building.

There was also an arson incident in a downtown commercial building on High Street early today.

Officials said eight or nine fires broke out at about 1:35 a.m. in the Sprinkler System. The automatic sprinkler system quickly doused the flames before they could do much damage.

Two squads of police, twice the normal number, will be kept on nighttime duty until the city returns to "normal," Freedman said. State police ended their stand-by alert Sunday.

Spain Closes Access Road To Gibraltar

GIBRALTA R (AP)—Spain sealed off the road to the Rock of Gibraltar at midnight Sunday, locking its 4,600 Spanish workers outside.

Out off from their jobs in the 260-year-old British bastion that guards the entrance to the Mediterranean were most of the peninsula's barbers, cobblers and bakers. Other Spaniards worked in the dockyards, hotels, restaurants and on building projects.

The La Linea customs and police post at the base of the 2 1/2-mile peninsula was closed. The move was part of Gen. Francisco Franco's campaign to cripple the British territory economically and force Britain to return the Rock to Spain, a transfer an overwhelming majority of Gibraltarians oppose.

The Spanish Cabinet ordered the shutdown Friday, giving only 48 hours' notice that the border would be sealed. The order probably will sharply curtail tourist visits. Foreigners can now come only by ship or plane from some country outside Spain.

There were tearful scenes at the La Linea gate Saturday night as workers, shopkeepers and businessmen crossed the border in a slow procession. Buses and cars were crowded in the border town of La Linea de la Concepcion, which exists

Canceled Shows Win Emmy Awards

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Several shows canceled by their networks won Emmys at the 21st Television Academy awards, including "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," "Judd for the Defense" and the "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour."

And Barbara Bain, who has announced she is quitting "Mission: Impossible," claimed her third Emmy with one of the frank acceptance speeches on record.

These were the highlights Sunday night of the annual presentations by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, televised by CBS.

The winners included everyone from Lord Snowden to the Apollo astronauts.

"Get Smart," canceled by NBC, won its second straight award as best comedy series in a row as Don Adams his third as best actor. The spy spoof was picked up by CBS for next season.

Call Police Sooner, Colleges Advised

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential commission said today a small but disturbing minority, resorting to "dramatic tactics of terror" has often induced university authorities to surrender or meet force with force.

But it urged "Americans to reject hasty and simplistic answers" and asked restraint on "those who would punish colleges."

"For colleges, the report said this word: act faster and don't hesitate to call civil police.

The National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, established by President Lyndon B. Johnson after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy a year ago, said "so threatening is the situation... that this commission feels compelled to speak now rather than remain silent until publication of its final report next fall."

The commission is headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and himself president emeritus of Johns Hopkins University.

"Our colleges and universities cannot perform their vital functions in an atmosphere that exalts the struggle for power over the search for truth, the rule of passion over the rule of reason, physical confrontation over rational discourse," the report said.

"We are equally disturbed, however, by the distortion of much public reaction to campus unrest," it continued. "Those who would punish colleges and universities by reducing financial support, by passing restrictive legislation, or by political intervention in the affairs of educational institutions, may unwittingly be helping the very radical minority of students whose objective is to destroy our present institutions of higher learning."

The commission has made public a number of studies made for it, but the report on campus violence is the first it has issued as its own.

It asked Americans to distinguish between peaceful protest and violent disruption, between the nonviolent of youth and the terror tactics of the extremists.

"Students are unwilling to accept the gaps between professed ideals and actual performance," the report said. "They see afresh the injustices that remain unremedied. They are not impressed by the dangers that previous generations have overcome and the problems they have solved."

For the report offered these suggestions to the campus community:

—A broad consensus should be achieved among students, faculty and administration concerning the permissible methods of presenting ideas, proposals and grievances and the consequences of going beyond them.

—Students have the right to due process and to participate in the making of decisions that directly affect them, but their right of participation should not be so extensive as to paralyze the disciplinary process itself. Codes for campus conduct should place primary reliance on the power of the institution to maintain order in its own house and on its courage to apply its own punishment when desired.

—Universities should prepare and currently review contingency plans for dealing with campus disorders.

—Most importantly, universities should make known in advance they will not hesitate to call on civil police when circumstances dictate and should review in advance with police officials the degrees of force suitable for particular situations.

—Procedures for campus governance and constructive reform should be developed to permit more rapid and effective decision-making.

The report notes that campus protests are sometimes escalated to the level of force "because legitimate grievances, peacefully urged, have been referred to university committees which were slow to respond."

Collision Probe
Admiral Avoids Quiz On Communications

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP)—Australian Adm. G.J.B. Crabb refused to say today whether he had been any communication difficulties between the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne and the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans before the carrier elicited the destroyer in two.

Crabb was asked by a joint U.S.-Australian board investigating the collision whether communication troubles had arisen on June 8. He said he preferred not to answer the question.

The two ships collided early that morning during maneuvers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization off the coast of South Vietnam. Crabb, commander of the Australian fleet, was aboard the carrier commanding the task force that included the Melbourne and the Evans.

Seventy-four of the Evans' crew members were killed. There were no casualties aboard the carrier.

Crabb told the board he was awakened three minutes before the collision and told the destroyer and the carrier were on "a collision course."

By the time he reached the bridge, he said, the nose of the Evans was directly in front of the Melbourne less than 40 feet away and "moving right to left in my vision."

Within seconds the Melbourne plowed through the Evans. It was a "ghastly sight," Crabb said. "I could see the Evans clearly, vividly. I didn't see any men on the deck of the Evans. That surprised me."

Crabb told the board it was standard procedure in the Australian navy for officers to turn away from a carrier when changing direction.

"It is a basic rule," he said. "I have told my officers I would seek any man who turned in."

The Melbourne narrowly missed ramming another ship three days before she and the carrier collided.

UAW Strikes Plant Making Viet Copters

HURST, Tex. (AP)—Striking United Auto Workers today picketed the Bell Helicopter Co., a major supplier of copters for U.S. forces in Vietnam. About 10,000 workers were involved.

The strike action came after members of UAW Local 218 shouted down a tentative new contract negotiated by union leaders and management. The agreement would have hiked wages by up to 70 cents an hour during a three-year period to a peak of $5.14 in top job classifications.

After the rejection, Bell announced a shutdown at midnight Sunday of 13 plants in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The strike had been set for that hour and picketing began on schedule.

"We didn't think the contract would be rejected," said Leonard Woodcock, UAW international president. "It was not a vote we would have recommended."

Bell's announcement said: "Inasmuch as the cessation of activities normally performed by Local 218 will substantially disrupt the total plant operations, all activities and all departments at all facilities will close at midnight."

Local 218 has 6,500 members. Bell, one of the nation's leading defense contractors, produces the famous "Huey" series of helicopters and others which are used widely in Vietnam.

Bell, a division of Textron Corp., produces the versatile Irigouy series helicopter and the Huey Cobra gunship.

Congress Views Vary On Cutback in GI's

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic critics of the Vietnam war are calling President Nixon's troop withdrawal announcement "inadequate, but Republicans in Congress generally see it as at least a step in the right direction.

Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, both unsuccessful candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination last year, said they were disappointed by Nixon's announcement.

"I can't see where it represents any significant shift of American policy," said McGovern. "I'm glad for the withdrawal, but I think we ought to begin taking them all out, and the faster the better."

McCarthy said: "I don't see that this is any significant indication of any program to try and resolve or end the war."

Court Rules Broadcasters Must Permit Time for Reply

Court Curbs Attachments On Salaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Workers have a right to a hearing before part of their salaries can be kept from them to satisfy debts to finance companies, the Supreme Court ruled 7 to 1 today.

The decision, given by Justice William O. Douglas, set a limitation of salaries without a hearing is prohibited by the Constitution. He said it amounts to "a taking of property without that procedural due process that is required by the Fourteenth Amendment."

The decision specifically strikes down a Wisconsin law which the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in a test case. The ruling appears broad enough to collapse similar laws in 19 other states.

Douglas said that under the Wisconsin law, all that it took to begin freezing at least part of a purchaser's salary was the issuance of a summons at the request of the creditor's lawyer.

He said the worker could win the withheld wages back later in court.

But in the meantime, he said, he could be deprived of what he had earned "without any opportunity to be heard and to tender any defense he may have."

The test case came from Milwaukee, where Mrs. Christine Sniadach, 26, had $31.89 of her $65 a week salary as an assembly line worker withheld.

The Family Finance Corp. of Bay View instituted a garnishment action against her and her employer, the Miller Harris Instrument Co., claiming she owed $420 on a promissory note. Mrs. Sniadach went to court claiming the garnishment proceedings failed to satisfy the due process requirement of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Douglas said: "A prejudgment garnishment of the Wisconsin type may as a practical matter drive a wage-earning family to the wall."

Justice Hugo L. Black dissented. In announcing his position from the bench, he said: "This

Laird Praises Plan To Cut Viet Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird declared today President Nixon's decision to pull 25,000 troops out of Vietnam moves the United States "closer to peace."

Arriving from the joint U.S.-Vietnamese meeting at Midway, Laird said: "I believe we return closer to peace and we now have a program moving forward to change the role of United States forces in Vietnam and in Southeast Asia."

The defense chief said he gives South Vietnam a bigger role in the war "will bear fruit" in the coming days.

Laird said a presidential decision on further troop withdrawals will be made in early August.

He said the administration had established three conditions for troop pullout, any one of which would sufficient to justify troop cuts. Those included an agreement with Hanoi for a mutual withdrawal, progress of the South Vietnamese military training and equipping program and a reduction of the violence in Vietnam.

Laird said the initial troop cut was based on U.S. progress in "Vietnamizing the war."

Laird did not identify which unit will be the first to leave the war zone. He said that will be decided Thursday by a joint service task force which is being assigned to prepare for the movement of withdrawing units in early July.

Other sources indicated the withdrawn troops would not return to this country, but would be held in reserve in such areas as Okinawa and Hawaii, from which they could be rushed back to Vietnam in case they should be needed.

The pullout is expected to start with the withdrawal of several combat battalions or support-type forces.

The task force, to convene at the Pacific command in Hawaii, will include representatives of Laird's office and of each of the military services, and air and sea transport specialists.

Laird would not forecast how the North Vietnamese would react to the initial U.S. withdrawal.

"I don't make predictions as to what kind of response there will be," he said.

But Laird contended that the U.S. decision "should be a significant

Nixon and Thieu Declare Harmony

MIDWAY ISLAND (AP)—President Nixon returned to Honolulu for an overnight stay and Thieu flew back to Saigon.

Thieu expressed satisfaction with Nixon's decision to withdraw 25,000 American troops from his country, with all indications pointing to further withdrawals.

He called it "good news for the American people" and declared: "We will do our best from now on to alleviate the burden of the American people."

It seemed evident the American delegation at Midway defused the move would help defuse homefront criticism of Nixon's Vietnam policy.

But Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., said he didn't "see that this is any significant indication of any program to try and resolve or end the war."

And Sen. George S. McGovern, R-Conn., said he was disappointed by Nixon's announcement.

"The principal issue at the conference was whether to negotiate a political compromise which would permit not 25,000 American boys, but 540,000 to come home. From what we have heard so far, there is no indication that President Nixon has won a single major point."

"The choice at Midway was between the Nixon peace plan and the Thieu plan for prolonged war," Gore added. "The Thieu plan seems to have won hands down."

There was no immediate response from three other major Democratic antiwar critics: Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the

Court Rejects Dodd Appeal In Libel Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to revive Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's $5-million libel and invasion of privacy suit against News Pearson and Jack Anderson, Washington newspaper columnists.

Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, claimed two former and two current copies of 1965 and 1966 editions of the "Pearson-Anderson columnists alleged official misconduct by Dodd.

The court made no comment in rejecting Dodd's appeal from dismissal of his suit by federal courts here.

"There is a strong public interest in having the press disseminate to the public information bearing on public questions and people. Limits must, however, be some, the means by which the press can use to get that information."

Last January U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff rejected Dodd's argument that his right to privacy was violated. However, Holtzoff ruled the columnists could be liable for "conversion" of the documents and said there should be a trial for damages.

In February, however, the U.S. Circuit Court ruled the columnists could be held liable for libel but not for invasion of privacy. Dodd then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Earl Warren excused himself from the case and did not give any reason. The ruling said simply: "The chief justice took no part in the consideration or decision of this petition."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court upheld today a government rule requiring broadcasters to give people attacked over the air a chance to reply.

The rule, an outgrowth of the Federal Communications Commission's Fairness Doctrine, was challenged by a group of broadcasters as inhibiting free speech.

The court in a 7-0 decision, rejected this argument and held: "There is no sanction in the First Amendment for unlimited private censorship operating in a medium not open to all."

The decision, given by Justice Byron R. White in two cases, upheld the FCC rule governing political editorials as well as the one concerning "personal attacks."

White said the FCC's application of the Fairness Doctrine and its promulgation of regulations stemming from the doctrine "are both authorized by Congress and enforceable rather than abridge the freedoms of speech and press protected by the First Amendment."

He added: "We hold them valid and constitutional."

Justice William O. Douglas did not participate in the decision. He had not heard oral arguments in the case because of an appendix in operation just three days earlier.

In one case, Red Lion Broadcasting Co., operator of WGCE-AM-FM, Red Lion, Pa., sued when the FCC said it had to supply free air time to Fred Cook, a writer who had been criticized by the Rev. Billy James' broadcast in a "Christian Crusade" program.

In the second case, the Columbia Broadcasting System, the National Broadcasting Co., the Radio Television News Directors Association and eight other operators of radio and television stations attacked both rules.

The U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia had ruled against Red Lion. This judgment was affirmed by the Supreme Court.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago had ruled in favor of the broadcasters. This judgment was reversed by the Supreme Court.

White, tracing the history of federal regulation of the air waves, said: "Without government control, the medium would be of little use because of the cacophony of competing voices, none of which could be clearly and predictably heard."

And, he emphasized, "Licenses to broadcast do not con-nal to the North Vietnamese that the United States is going to maintain its objective" of self-determination for the South Vietnamese by its carefully measured troop reduction.

This move also indicates to the North Vietnamese, Laird said, that the United States "is firm in its resolve to see that the South Vietnamese do take over and are prepared and are capable" of defending themselves.
On Capitol Hill, a newsmen's report, there already are comments by war critics that the 20,000 troop withdrawal is only a token reduction.
To that, Laird said he had hopes to the contrary. He was feeling optimistic that the United States was reaching a turning point in the war and that his hopes and expectations "have been fulfilled by the historic decision of President Nixon to begin Vietnamization of the war in Southeast Asia."
The broad outline for the phased American withdrawal was announced when President Nixon announced that 26,000 men—"a division equivalent"—would be out of Vietnam by August.
The decision was greeted in Washington with some surprise. It was not that the withdrawal was beginning the long-awaited re-escalation but that it was so limited.
One informed officer who was familiar with the various options the administration was studying commented: "That's weird. I've seen numbers of 50,000 and higher. We could have pulled out more."
A civilian in the Defense Department termed the 26,000 "the lower end of the possibilities" and "being prudent."
Pentagon sources noted that the 26,000 means the President probably is authorizing the withdrawal of various small units, not a regular division, as stated.
This Vietnam escalation would take place in much the same way as the buildup which began four years ago: in piecemeal fashion.
The troop level currently stands at 558,000 although he left office President Lyndon B. Johnson gave the Pentagon authority to put as many as 545,000 in Vietnam. In recent months top military officials decided the additional forces were not necessary.
Nixon held out hope that further troop withdrawals, something he promised as a presidential candidate, will be possible in the future.
"During the month of August and at regular intervals thereafter we shall review the situation," Nixon said. "I will announce plans for further re-

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Connecticut College students are among the women to be enrolled in an exchange program next fall at Williams College, which announced it will become truly co-educational in the fall of 1971.
The exchange program this year will include 62 women from Vassar, Smith, Mt. Holyoke, Wheaton and Connecticut College. Thirty women spent the second semester at Williams in an exchange program with Vassar during 1968.
Williams trustees decided Saturday to enroll "significant" numbers of women students as regular members of the student body by 1971. The women will expand the size of the 175-year-old college, which now enrolls about 1,380 men.

Down in New York City, the construction of the twin towers to be known as the World Trade Center and to constitute, together, the two tallest buildings in the world, is now well under way, on a schedule which calls for completion in 1973. They will be, then, the dominating feature of the New York skyline — that formidable, magisterial introduction to the wealth and splendor of America. No single architectural achievement in all America will be, we suppose, more dramatic testimony to our love of art and taste for responsible innovation.

For such reasons, we find two of the construction footnotes interesting. The giant beams are being hoisted into place by a team of eight powerful cranes which were built in Australia for $2,000,000 and which were shipped to this site, where they are being used as its construction rises, with a capacity to raise themselves up by 36-foot jumps as the building rises. For the talent they are called kangaroos. We don't know why they are built in Australia rather than closer to the job.

In order to guard against seepage into the site from the nearby Hudson, special techniques had to be employed for building the foundation wall down to bedrock. It developed that an Italian method of the world's tallest building specialists were imported to handle this part of the construction.

With Italian-designed and engineered foundations underneath, and Australian cranes overhead, it is fitting in broadest terms that the world's tallest building display of the world's tallest building specialist even before it opens for business.

Frassinelli's Unbelievable Vote: The sight of a chief executive at loggerheads with a legislative branch — even one dominated by his own party — is not so uncommon anymore, either at the federal or state level. Witness LBJ and the last Congress; Gov. Dempsey and the Legislature.

But when a chief executive finds his own running mate parting company with him on an issue, it suggests either (1) that the quality of leadership that should be exercised is lacking, or (2) that the second man has a misapprehension of or holds views incompatible with the goals of the administration of which he is a part.

Gov. Attilio R. Frassinelli couldn't have placed himself in any more incredible position — since the last election campaign — than he did the other day in casting a tie-breaking vote in the State Senate to defeat an anti-crime wrap-up bill supported by the governor.

Gov. Dempsey's public reaction was that he was "very disappointed" with Frassinelli's vote. We like to think his private reaction was stronger. It had to be assumed that the tie-breaking vote was carefully considered and contained court-accepted safeguards against any and all unwelcome contingencies. To refer to controlled wrap-up as a "Gestapo tactic" strains belief and suggests a phrase rapidly falling into disuse.

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — Republican criticism of Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois will soon escalate from quiet cloakroom conversation to a public rebuke on the floor of the Senate itself.

Now preparing a major speech attacking Dirksen, particularly for his interference in President Nixon's personnel decision for high-level Administration jobs, is freshman Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York.

Goodell was incensed when, in mid-May, Dirksen spent 40 minutes attacking the absent Goodell behind the closed doors of a Senate Republican Policy Committee meeting.

Now Goodell is preparing a reply which, any friends will be the sharpest criticism of Dirksen by a Republican since he became party leader in 1960. Goodell is angry at Dirksen for holding up the appointment of Dr. John Knowles as Assistant Secretary for Health in the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Goodell will also chastise Dirksen's threat to defeat the nomination on the floor of the Senate has the effect of forcing Dirksen to give a small official within the American Medical Association (AMA) a veto power. Goodell is convinced that if Mr. Nixon sends Dr. Knowles's name to the Senate as HEW Secretary Robert Finch wants Dirksen will lose.

"Every Cotton Picking Minute" To the Editor, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome the new Recreation Director, Mr. Mel Spilard, and to wish him success in his new position.

I will personally be happy to assist him in anyway possible, especially in the recreation area, and I would like to ask the town's people, not only to welcome Mr. Spilard, but to please give him every courtesy and cooperation. It isn't easy for a stranger to move into new surroundings, and a new position, so I do hope that everyone will be patient, and understanding. I am most confident that the new director will bring to town new ideas, and programs that will benefit everyone.

At this time I must mention the "team" of recreation personnel who so often do most of the work, but most always remain in the background. To take over as acting director of Senior Citizens isn't the easiest thing to do, but because of this group, combining their efforts, we succeeded as a team.

Good administration is always the key to success, and the recreation department has been most fortunate to have two lovely ladies, with recreation experience to handle this phase of the department. Mrs. Robert Skinner, and Mrs. Edward Adams certainly had their work cut out for them, and believe me words cannot express my gratitude for their help and excellent job they have done, later, but we are what we would be.

We are only those, and only those, who care for what we trust to all. We only can recommend ourselves by the example of our behavior. Kenneth W. Steers, Associate Minister, Center Congregational Church

Spiderwort

Spiders are not just insects, they are also arachnids. The stances, the gestures, the unrecognition lesser feelings convey to the other what we are at the moment. And we seek subtly to manipulate, to direct, to control and cunningly influence and change all for and to our view more unconsciously than consciously. And so we bend the church.

The outsider receives not the message of God, not so long as in the church that source of integrity and knows the strangest of confessions.

What do they want of me? Will they capture my mind and restrict my freedom and mold me into what I am now not and do not want to be? So one reads the outsider.

And yet the outsider, too, would manipulate the church for needs — but Treasury officials just weren't listening. By now however, they know that a tax bill limited to Mr. Nixon's request for extension of the 7 per cent investment credit, is dead unless the right sweetener is found.

Only in openness and directness can the church be of help to itself. And only as we in the church and of the church live by this openness and this innocence will the outsider come to see that we are not religious con men or in reality manipulators, but we are what we would be.

We are only those, and only those, who care for what we trust to all. We only can recommend ourselves by the example of our behavior. Kenneth W. Steers, Associate Minister, Center Congregational Church

Bolton School Show Shines Till Blackout

When the lights went out to the end of the "Bolton School Show" in the Bolton high school gym Friday night, since Dave Norris began, "I guess that's what happens when you cut the budget like that."

Actually, the audience was never in the dark because the military lights switched on immediately. Inside the dimmed gym, the only immediate indication of a storm was the flicker of lightning visible through an unshuttered ceiling bubble. Later, the sound of rain drumming on the roof blended with Karen Hill's contralto voice.

The '69 edition revealed a slight trend toward more sophisticated humor and a tremendous amount of talent, developing in the lower grades, and well-demonstrated in the upper grades.

Tolland Improved Communications Aim of Citizens' Group

A new bi-partisan citizens Board of Finance that the education system would be directly responsible for the $500,000 that it should have been credited to the Board of Education, according to a statement issued by the group's president Vincent Lamo.

The group last week withdrew its petition for a new town meeting to restore $100,000 to the education budget, but Lamo announced plans for a permanent organization. An organizational meeting will be held June 12 in the Hicks school cafeteria.

Lamo said the group remains concerned with cuts in new personnel, teacher aides, textbook and teaching supplies and restoration of reading and guidance. "These cuts cannot be tolerated another year if we are to sustain the education program we are developing in Tolland," he stated.

The returns on our petition show that a great number of Tolland residents want to have their voice in determining the course of action our town will take in the future," Lamo added.

He further stated, "It is the committee's wish to go on reconstruction as being opposed to the indiscriminate budget cutting power exhibited by the Board of Finance."

"Accordingly," Lamo added, "the committee is now in the process of organizing on more formal lines in order to be more effective media of communication between all town boards and the taxpayers."

Among the areas which the TCFA wishes to support and develop are: the need of town-teachers and the development of a town center; fire department, planning, conservation, town zoning and planning; charter revision and budget development as well as education.

"Because we are bi-partisan, we welcome all Tolland residents who have any concerns or suggestions," Lamo explained.

The official Soviet news agency said the number of troops in Vietnam was "only a drop in the sea." It said the withdrawal did not mean a de-escalation of U.S. military activity in Vietnam or the start of American troop withdrawals.

Current Quotes

"I have decided to order the immediate redeployment from Vietnam of a division equivalent of approximately 25,000 men. This troop replacement will be completed by the end of August." -President Nixon at a Midway Island meeting with South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu.

"If this fact had been acknowledged, I am glad for the withdrawal but I think we ought to begin taking them all out, and the faster the better." -Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

"We know that the friendship between Israel and the United States is something that has been constant throughout the years; it doesn't change between one administration and the next." -Premier Golda Meir of Israel.

"There must be an understanding of our objectives in Latin America by the people and the Congress, and there must be an organization to get things done." -Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at a meeting with Latin-American town who shortened last week by civil disorder.

"I have a desire to play my own brand of music rather than that of others, no matter how much I appreciate their music." -Guitarist Brian Auger, explaining his resignation from the British Rolling Stones pop group.

"We will not be bound by the legal restrictions of town meetings," he maintained. "Instead our group will allow all people to contribute their ideas on various issues."

Dart's Sold To Knudsen

Dart's Dairy of 215 E. Center St. has been sold to Knudsen Bros. Dairy Inc. of East Hartford. The sale was effected last Monday.

George Dart of South St., North Coventry, started the dairy with his father in 1924. It now has nine home delivery routes, numerous coin milk dispensers in the area, a plant on E. Center St., and a milk contract with the Manchester Board of Education.

Dart informed his customers of the sale in a letter last week. He said his dairy has yielded itself on quality service and products. But it has found it hard to meet the demand for milk so quickly as every expense has gone up.

Dart said the merger with Knudsen will ensure the same quality. Knudsen is a much larger dairy with a larger plant. It is also an independent firm. The customers are mainly in Manchester, Bolton, Coventry, Vernon, and South Windsor. Glenn Gilbre of 123 Barry Rd., the manager of the East Hartford plant, said Dart's dairy has always been devoted to service will be maintained from there, he said.

Dart himself will still with the firm. In fact, he was unavailable for comment on the sale. He is now filling in for one of his drivers.

He has a vacation," Gibbs said, commenting on the strain of Dart went through this winter maintaining the quality he has always had in his dairy. About the time delivery milk became scarce, Gibbs said it is unprofitable to drive and service about changes such as the present. The sale makes Dart-Milk Co. of 215 Center St. the last dealer based in Manchester. It is owned and run by Clifford H. Keeney, and has six routes serving Manchester, Glastonbury, Marlborough and East Hampton.

The couple was married June 8, 1919 at Center Congregational Church in Manchester by the late Rev. Charles Hanselgrave, and lived in Manchester most of their married life. They moved to Coventry four years ago. They have a son, Arthur E. Freeburg of Bolton; and three daughters, Mrs. Tedford, and Mrs. Dorothy Chapline, and Mrs. Edward Reid, both of Manchester. Another daughter,

Chairman Quits Parking Board
Joseph L. Czerwinski, chairman of the Manchester Parking Authority for the past 4 1/2 years, has resigned his membership, effective June 15.

In his letter of resignation, Czerwinski cites the increasing responsibilities in his personal and business life as the reason for his action.

Day To Remember, Mickey Mantle Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees called it a day to remember. The fans called it Mickey Mantle Day.

It was Mantle's 36th birthday, and the Yankees celebrated by honoring Mantle with a 15-minute standing ovation between games of a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium.

Mantle, who has played 17 seasons for the Yankees, was 36 years old today.

Mauch Kicks Up, Expos Snap Skein

DETROIT (AP)—Tiger pitchers led the American League in complete games last season with 36.

Mauch, long-suffering coach of the National League expansion club, stationed himself on the coaching line for the first time this season Sunday.

"I thought it would help, I'd coach both first and third base at the same time."

Mauch's 1961 Philadelphia Phillies won the National League pennant.

"I decided I'd try it while I was driving home last night," said Mauch.

"I decided to quit the dugout for the third base coach's box."

Petrocelli Feared As Homer Threat

BOSTON (AP)—Who would have thought back in April that Rico Petrocelli would be one of the most feared sluggers in the American League this season?

Not many people, to be sure, but Boston Red Sox Manager Dick Williams and coach Bobby Doerr were in that minority.

Petrocelli got off to an explosive start, but he had to do was read the averages to know he'd been 238, 228, 239 and 234 hitter in his first four major league seasons.

He had made three home runs, including one on a home run that landed in the bleachers, and he had hit 10 home runs in 1968.

Williams and Doerr were in that minority.

Williams and Doerr were in that minority.

Petrocelli's 19th homer established a major league high for him, surpassing the 18 he hit in 1966. And with the season only one-third over, he looks as a serious threat to the league record for a shortstop, set by Jim Blevins, also with the Red Sox, in 1964.

Williams said he thinks he is "hitting the high pitch a little better this year," but otherwise had no ready explanation for his sudden eminence as a slugger.

Good Pitching, Not Mantle Inspired Yanks at Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—Good pitching, not Mickey Mantle Day, inspired the New York Yankees to play like the Yankees of old.

And it also served as an inspiration for the new Seattle Pilots to play like the Pilots of old.

With key former great Yankees and the largest crowd in the major this season—40,000—both teams won their first game since the season began.

The Yankees won't be a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and 11-2 Sunday.

But Manager Ralph Houk dismisses any thought that Mantle's presence had anything to do with the twin victories that soured the Yankees to 300 for the first time since May 1.

Three-game losing streak and Baltimore's five-game winning streak.

YANKEES WHITE SOX—Lombard, 6-0, looking more like the Yankees of old. He hit three home runs and drove in four runs.

RED SOX ROYALS—Lombard, 6-0, looking more like the Yankees of old. He hit three home runs and drove in four runs.

Record Catch 'Picture Bowler' in Classic Cathy Dyak To Risk New England Crown

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—A North Adams, Mass., fisherman has landed a 30-pound cod, the largest ever caught in the town.

The fisherman, who is a member of the local fishing club, caught the cod while fishing in the harbor.

Defending women's New England All-Star champion Cathy Dyak of Manchester is termed the "picture bowler" among the women. While she exhibits rhythmic coordination in her delivery, Cathy has the records to support her ability.

Mrs. Dyak will be a women's favorite at Family Bowls, Waterbury, Conn., June 14-16, to win the All-England title.

Rex Mays Classic Won by Pollard

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Starting from the back of the pack after a 15-car smashup on the first lap, Art Pollard won the 150-mile Rex Mays Memorial Classic Sunday with a record average speed of 112.12 miles an hour.

The crash forced 11 entries out of the running. Two more returned to the track after being deroofed extensive repairs.

The sixth-grade graduate was a member of the soccer team, and a soloist in musical performance by the school's students. He participated in a tour earlier this year of the western United States, a tour of South American cities last year, and in a recording session with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra for RCA Victor. The record album, "Elijah," will be released in October.

Last year Chilson was chosen to sing in Benjamin Britten's opera, "The Golden Vanity." It was the first U.S. performance of the English opera. He will continue his musical and academic training at the world-famous school in September. Previously a student at Highland Park School in Manchester, he participated in the townwide Youth Choir, which took first honors in a state competition. He sang in the Concordia Lutheran Church children's choir, and was a soloist with the South United Methodist Church's Youth Fellowship Choir.

Kidnaping was coined as a word in the late 17th century when there was a practice of tearing children and shipping them to servitude on plantations in the American colonies.

The record album, "Elijah," will be released in October.

Last year Chilson was chosen to sing in Benjamin Britten's opera, "The Golden Vanity." It was the first U.S. performance of the English opera. He will continue his musical and academic training at the world-famous school in September. Previously a student at Highland Park School in Manchester, he participated in the townwide Youth Choir, which took first honors in a state competition. He sang in the Concordia Lutheran Church children's choir, and was a soloist with the South United Methodist Church's Youth Fellowship Choir.

Kidnaping was coined as a word in the late 17th century when there was a practice of tearing children and shipping them to servitude on plantations in the American colonies.
