5,000 Anti-Racists 'Invade' Fort Dix

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Some 5,000 demonstrators against the Vietnam war, Army justice and the treatment of racial militants swarmed on this post Sunday in a confrontation with 1,000 military policemen.

The impromptu invasion was finally repulsed with jets of tear gas which drove the racially mixed crowd, many coughing and wheezing, off a field near the base family housing area.

There were no arrests and, except for the effects of the gas, no reported injuries.

"We have made our point," Herb Dryer, a demonstration leader, shouted through a bullhorn to the retreating crowd.

The demonstration brought together members of such varied organizations as the Catholic Peace Fellowship, the Black Panther party, the Puerto Rican Young Lords and students from Princeton, Columbia, New York and other universities in the area.

The demonstration was organized at a coffee house in nearby Wrightstown which has served

Train Hits Car, 6 Children Die

CONNEAUTVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Nine persons, including six children, were killed when an 80-car freight train crashed into their car at a downtown crossing in this small northwestern Pennsylvania community.

Police said the train, a Bessemer & Lake Erie freight was traveling at 45 miles an hour Sunday night when it hit the car and carried it more than 200 feet. All the passengers were thrown from the wreckage.

William H. Thomas, the train's engineer, told police he saw the car stop at the crossing, hesitate and continue. "I believe I hit him right in the center," he said.

Police said Thomas told them he blew the train's whistle three times and rang the engine bell. The signal lights were flashing, witnesses said.

The victims included a 5-month-old boy.

Police said all the dead were from Pennsylvania.

Russia Puts Three Ships Into Orbit at Same Time

Soviet cosmonaut Anatoly Filipchenko snaps picture during state of weightlessness in training session prior to the Sunday launching of his Soyuz 7 spacecraft from the Soviet Union. Filipchenko, 41, is commander of the Soyuz 7 which was sent into space on a joint mission with the Soyuz 6, launched from Russia Saturday. This photo is from the Soviet news agency, Tass.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union sent up a third spaceship today with two veteran cosmonauts aboard, putting three manned spacecraft into orbit at the same time for the first time in history.

Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev were aboard the latest craft rocketed into space, Soyuz 8. It joined Soyuz 6, which was sent up Saturday with two men aboard, and Soyuz 7, which blasted off Sunday with three men aboard.

It is believed that the seven cosmonauts will try to put together a space platform for another space first and one that to some extent would allow the prestige lead which the Apollo moon landing gave the United States.

The Soviet Union has not produced a major first in manned space flight since Alexei Leonov took the first space walk in March 1968. The United States does not plan to put up an orbiting platform until mid-1972.

Shatalov and Yeliseyev took part in the Soviet Union's last manned space mission nine months ago in which crew transferred from one ship to another for the first time.

Despite the widespread expectation of space platform activity, Tass, the Soviet news agency, made no mention of this today in describing the mission of the group flight.

It said a "number of important scientific-technical tasks will be carried out," including "comprehensive simultaneous scientific studies in near-earth space in accordance with an extensive program; testing of the complex system of controlling a simultaneous group flight of three space ships; mutual maneuvering of ships on orbit with the aim of solving a number of problems of developing the piloted space activity."

The planned program of scientific-technical experiments and studies will produce new information about near-earth space and will facilitate the perfection of space technique and its utilization for scientific and economic purposes.

Tass said the men on Soyuz 6 today practiced "visual orientation by stars of the fourth and fifth magnitude, which makes it possible to determine the exact position of the ship during space flight without the use of ground equipment."

It said the Soyuz 7 crew "observed and photographed the surface of the earth, the day and twilight horizons and also practiced methods of autonomous navigation."

Tass also announced that by 3:20 a.m. EDT Soyuz 6 had completed 30 orbits and Soyuz 7 had made 14.

The announcement said Lt. Col. George Sholin and civilian engineer Valery Kubasov remained comfortable aboard Soyuz 6, while Lt. Col. Anatoly Filipchenko, civilian engineer Vladimir Volkov and Lt. Col. Viktor Gorbatko felt well aboard Soyuz 7. All are flying in space for the first time although some have served as backup crews for previous Soyuz missions.

Both Soyuz 6 and 7 sent television broadcasts back to earth Sunday. One cosmonaut explained some of his tasks but said he could not elaborate on others until he returned to earth.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said Soyuz 6 and 7 were orbiting the earth every 88.8

War Protest Support Rises

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Vietnam Moratorium Day demonstration planned in Connecticut for Wednesday attracted support Sunday from a group of businessmen, lawyers and doctors in New Haven and from the Roman Catholic Bishop of Bridgeport.

But Rep. Thomas J. Meskill, R-Conn., attacked the nationwide moratorium. He complained that the protest will sap the strength of the American negotiating position and thereby "contribute to the continuation of the war."

Gov. John Dempsey urged those who participate in the antiwar demonstrations in the state to be peaceful.

Soon after, backers of the moratorium in New Haven pledged their support to a non-violent approach.

The New Haven group also announced that the Republican and Democratic candidates for mayor, the town chairmen of both parties and the two unsuccessful Democratic mayoral primary candidates have accepted invitations to be official guests at the rally.

The moratorium activities are scheduled to begin Tuesday night and continue through Wednesday, with rallies, class shut-downs, marches and door-to-door canvassing aimed at pressing for a quick end to the war.

In Bridgeport, the Most Rev. Walter Curtis, bishop of Bridgeport, announced he will take part in a Moratorium Day candlelight parade Wednesday night at Sacred Heart University, a Roman Catholic institution.

In a related development, Edward McCallum Jr., president of

Papal Authority Reinforced By Cardinal at Rome Synod

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The first working session of the Roman Catholic synod of bishops opened today with a reinforcement of the strong concept of papal authority held by Pope Paul VI.

Informal sources said the inaugural address by the Vatican Curia's top authority on doctrine, Franjo Cardinal Saper of Yugoslavia, was "almost exclusively a reflection of what Pope Paul VI said on Saturday."

The Pope, opening the synod then, reaffirmed his absolute primacy in the Church but promised a wider role in the Church government for bishops.

Other speakers in the opening session were Julius Cardinal Dopfner of Munich in West Germany and John Cardinal Heenan of London.

Both men, the informants said, expressed hope that the synod would indeed result in a greater exercise of collegiality. Cardinal Dopfner added it would be foolish to try to draw up a precise definition of collegiality this early in the synod.

Race Tension In Military Vexes Resor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley Resor, expressing concern about the state of race relations in the service, said today military commanders must pay more attention to the sensitivities of black soldiers.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Army Association, Resor said the military has to "re-examine our policies and practices in terms of their impact on the soldier as an individual."

"We believe," he said, "that one way to minimize racial tensions in the Army is to make the Army as responsive as it can be to the needs of all its men."

The black soldier "needs to know from his leaders where they stand, whether he can expect help from them, whether they are willing to accept him without asking that he reject his heritage."

The secretary also made it clear he expects officers and noncommissioned officers to be less rigid and to give leeway to the yearnings of both black and white soldiers for some individuality.

Resor added that the black soldier needs a commander who recognizes such slogans as "Black is beautiful" as a gesture of pride, comradeship and solidarity for most Negroes.

"The commander must understand his men before he writes off the spirited ones, who may be potential leaders, as trouble-makers or militants," Resor said.

"On the other hand, he must be firm and ensure that his troops realize that discipline is not discrimination."

While stating the Army led the way in breaking down racial barriers, Resor acknowledged that black soldiers "clearly have difficulties in the Army

U.S. Astronauts Hailed By 150,000 West Berliners

BERLIN (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts came to West Berlin to the cheers of thousands today and visited the Communist wall.

Outside City Hall in John F. Kennedy Square, they were greeted by 20,000 persons. Police said 120,000-150,000 lined the city's streets to cheer them.

Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and their wives flew from the West German capital at Bonn to join their crewman Michael Collins, who arrived a few minutes earlier from Genoa where he had accepted Columbus Day awards for them.

On hand to greet the astronauts were West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuster, the U.S. ambassador to West Germany, Keneth Rush; and the U.S. Berlin commandant, Maj. Gen. Robert C. Ferguson.

Mayor Schuster told the astronauts that they had not come to a moon-like ghost city but to one "that lives and works...one that wants progress" and that they were "among friends...many friends in both East and West Berlin."

The astronauts' activities were being televised live and were sure to draw many viewers in surrounding Communist East Germany.

Armstrong noted that Germany had played a special role in space development through such men as Werner von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center.

After the airport ceremonies, the astronauts mounted an open car along with the mayor for a motocade through the city. Their route included a stop at the Berlin Wall.

The Apollo 11 crew is on an around the world tour that next takes them to London.

Their stop at the Communist wall dividing Berlin, took the astronauts to Bernauer Street, often called "the saddest street in the world." Here they mounted a platform opposite the Church of the Reconciliation which is in the middle of an otherwise cleared death strip.

Armstrong, Collins and Aldrin and their wives started into East Berlin where no West-Berliner may go.

East German border guards watched from towers and from inside the church steeple itself. Five persons have been killed

Families of GI Breadwinners Swell Nation's Welfare Rolls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of servicemen have been forced to put their families on the nation's welfare rolls because their military salaries and allowances can't cope with rising living costs.

From New Jersey to California, an Associated Press study showed, public welfare agencies are supplementing allotment checks from Vietnam, paying the rent for married draftees, or buying groceries for families whose breadwinners serve overseas.

The problem is compounded in many areas by a shortage of on-base quarters for military families. The shortage results in part from a sharp increase in the number of married men in uniform—in the Army's lower ranks, for example, the number of married men has jumped 37 per cent in three years.

The precise number of military families on welfare isn't known—their names are hidden in the bureaucratic mazes of state and local welfare departments.

But Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird recently estimated that 50,000 service families could qualify for public assistance under President Nixon's proposed welfare program.

"Too many families suffer financial hardships, some of whom are forced to go on welfare to survive," said Laird, who—under congressional providing—has ordered a nationwide survey to determine the number of military welfare cases.

The last Pentagon report, made four years ago, disclosed 20,000 military families were receiving some sort of public assistance, and that more than a third of all men—including officers—moonlighted at some time during the year to bolster their incomes.

The Nixon welfare plan, now before Congress, sets $3,200 a year as the poverty level for a family of four. Pentagon figures show that 1.2 million men in the armed forces' lowest three ranks receive less than that amount annually.

The Nixon proposals, however, specifically exclude servicemen from coverage. Poverty in the military, reasons a federal welfare official, should be taken care of under the military pay act, not through welfare.

Using Pentagon figures, the National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition calculates that about 200,000 military families are eligible for the Agriculture Department's food stamp program.

The Defense Department, however, bans use of food stamps in its 315 commissaries.

At an Army base near Washington, a military family service agency put together a sample budget to meet the minimum needs of a corporal with a wife and child. Despite the low prices available in commissaries and post exchange stores, the agency concluded the family "must live below the poverty level in this area."

As a result, it said, the soldier must either moonlight, babysit while his wife works nights, seek help from relatives or turn to welfare.

In a rundown trailer camp in Browns Mills, N.J., for example, a 20-year-old Air Force enlisted man lives with his wife and infant son. They tried getting by on the $68 a month in pay and allowances he earns as an airman first class at nearby McGuire Air Force Base, but couldn't make it.

New Jersey welfare officials figured the family needed $400 a month to live on, so the state gives it a $125 monthly welfare grant.

"The money would be okay if no problems came up, but once in a while you get hit with some bills and you're stuck," said the airman, who pays $115 rent for his shabby four-room trailer.

He says he'd rather live on base, but there's not enough free housing for the lower ranking men. "They tell me it's privilege to live off base," he said.

A few miles away lives a mother and eight children whose father, an Army sergeant, runs an infantry company in Vietnam. He sends

Chicago Cop Says: Erase Gun Data, Urged General

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago's police superintendent, denying he had given confiscated guns to Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner for personal use, said today Turner urged him to destroy records of the transfer when federal investigators started checking.

Turner, who was the Army's provost marshal general at the time, shook his head in denial as Superintendent James B. Conlisk Jr. gave that testimony before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Turner has testified that although he signed receipts stating that he was receiving the weapons for Army use, they actually were given to him for his personal use. He said Conlisk told him the receipt was only a means of clearing police records.

But Conlisk testified today: "I want to stress that at no time in any of the conversations with Gen. Turner did I say, or imply, that the weapons he had selected were for his private use, or for the private use of any other person."

Conlisk said he first learned the guns were not used for an Army Museum when Internal Revenue Service investigators asked to examine police records.

"On at least two occasions subsequent to the first visit by Internal Revenue Service investigators," Conlisk said, "Gen. Turner telephoned me and asked that I order the receipts of the transfer of weapons to him destroyed. I informed Gen. Turner that this would not be

THE WAY I HEARD IT

By John Gruber

A good many Manchester residents journey to Storrs during the winter to attend one or more of the numerous concerts offered at the University of Connecticut. Most of these events are sold on a subscription basis, but a certain percentage of seats is always held back for individual sale.

There is a series of major concerts, held in Jorgenson auditorium, and two series of chamber music events, held in Von der Meulen Hall. Jorgenson auditorium has a reputation for its acoustically magnificent music of the extremely few auditors in recent years that can make that claim.

There is a good aggregation of British orchestras, do not rehearse as much as do those in America on the continent. In addition, it is quite custom.

Thieves Take Load Of Tainted Meat

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Thieves who took a truck containing over 36,000 pounds of imported canned meat also have a load of potential trouble if they try to eat some of it.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Friday that the entire truckload of canned ham, canned corned beef, and cases of ground beef and "picnic" hams had failed to pass USDA inspection and were to be returned to Yugoslavia.

Tolland 70 Voters Registered Saturday

Announce Engagements

Seventy new voters were registered during Saturday's day long registration session at the town hall. Democrats maintained their lead over the Republicans in party registration with 30 voters registering Democratic and 40 Republican. Unaffiliated registration topped both, however, with 18.

Hunger Show' Demonstrators Get Headaches

Smith-Allard

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Headaches were the main complaint after the first full day of fasting by more than 100 demonstrators vowing to "sample starvation" for a week and "experience what the world is coming to with overpopulation."

The demonstrators Saturday went behind high plastic walls in an 80-by-120 foot enclosure equipped with toilet facilities and food—but no food. Most slumbered Sunday night in sleeping bags they had brought to what they called "Hunger camp."

Director of Beef Boycott
Backs Meeting on Prices

The county coordinator of For Lower Prices, P.L.P., urged all housewives to attend a meeting on Thursday sponsored by the Tolland County Extension Service and concerned with inflation.

Mrs. Mary L. Stone of Vernon has been the area leader of a local boycott on beef which is being held in connection with the statewide boycott organized by Mrs. Catherine DiQuattro of Shelton. Locally the movement against high beef prices started a week late but will continue until Oct. 22, according to Mrs. Stone.

Teachers' Curriculum Day
Scheduled for Thursday

Curriculum Day for teachers will be held in the Vernon School system Thursday. Students will be dismissed after the morning session and the teacher meetings will start at 1:15 p.m. at the various schools.

Papal Authority Reinforced
By Cardinal at Rome Synod

He was said to have urged more study of the concept by all the bishops.

The liberal forces arguing for more of a share by bishops in church decisions look to Belgium's Leo Joseph Cardinal Ruess for leadership.

Cardinal Suenens, in an interview with a French magazine for Catholics last spring, he declared that the Pope's right to act without consulting bishops outside the Roman Curia was no longer valid.

Demonstration
On Dry Materials

A particular approach for the art club will be in a demonstration of dried natural materials at the meeting of the Art Association tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Rockville Public Library.

She admits that at the moment beef prices are low but feels that this is related to the opening of a new food store in the area than to the results of any boycott.

Defended by Abner Brooks

Defending the Democratic candidate for mayor, Seymour Lavitt, Democrats representative Abner Brooks today asked Republican mayor candidate Frank McCoy to research the facts before making statements.

Brooks referred to a statement made by McCoy that there is no morale problem in any of the town departments.

Opening Weeks at CHS
Called 'the Best Ever'

This year's opening and the first few weeks of classes above up as "the best ever," according to Coventry High School Principal Milton Wide, who added that he is "very pleased with the attitude and the spirit of cooperation on the part of both students and staff" at his school.

Wide said he had expected some confusion over the new rotating class schedule but this was minimal, and even those who had expressed dissatisfaction over the change earlier accepted it contributing to a smooth school opening.

Under the new scheduling system, which Wide described as a "seven-period schedule in a six-period day," classes now meet four instead of five times a week, and for longer periods than before.

Several new courses have been added to the curriculum, all very well received, Wide said. They include journalism, speech, drama, Spanish and the twice-per-week activity period.

Drug Program

The second drug abuse program in the tri-town area will be held Wednesday at 8:30 at the Ellington High School.

The program is a panel discussion by local persons exposed to the drug situation and includes Dr. Kenneth J. Kristian, Rockville physician; Marshall Pruss, teacher at Sykes School in Vernon; and Senator Congregational Church of Vernon, Rev. Randall Farara.

The program is co-sponsored by the Vernon, Tolland and Ellington Junior Women's Clubs. There is no charge for admittance to the program which is open to the public. Parents of children of all ages are urged to attend.
