

Heavy Air Strikes On North Vietnam Continued by U.S.

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. fighter-bombers made heavy raids today on North Vietnam for the second successive day as more South Vietnamese forces retreated from Laos under heavy enemy attack. Saigon announced that 10,000 men had been pulled back across the border.

Informed sources indicated that scores of planes made the raids and that they were the heaviest against North Vietnam since last November.

The U.S. Command said the American pilots hit surface-to-air missile—SAM—sites, anti-aircraft gun positions and supply depots from the demilitarized zone at the 17th parallel to the 19th parallel, a distance of about 175 miles.

The same categories of targets and in the same area were hit by the American raiders Sunday.

"In determined efforts to protect American lives," the U.S. announcement said, "we have conducted again today limited protective reaction air strikes against missile and anti-aircraft gun sites and related support facilities in North Vietnam, south of the 19th Parallel.

"This protective reaction was in response to attacks on our unarmed reconnaissance aircraft and attacks on aircraft intercepting North Vietnamese supply routes in Laos. There is nothing further to add at this time."

A South Vietnamese spokesman, Lt. Col. Tran Van An, said 12,000 government troops were still in Laos and that they now hold three fire bases.

Field reports said the drive was nearing an end and that the strength actually was below 12,000 troops.

An said the westernmost South Vietnamese units in Laos are now eight miles from the Vietnamese border, more than 17 miles from their point of deepest penetration.

The Saigon command claimed that more than 12,000 Hanoi troops have been killed in the six-week drive to cut the Ho Chi Minh trail network. But the South Vietnamese admitted heavy losses themselves: 1,031 killed, 219 missing and 1,995 wounded, a total of 5,235 casualties, or about 25 percent of the 22,000-man invasion force.

As the South Vietnamese returned to South Vietnam by U.S. helicopter or made their way overland, artillery duels raged across the border and U.S. warplanes exchanged missiles with batteries in North Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese claimed that their marines and U.S. bombers supporting them killed 600 North Vietnamese in a four-day battle around Fire Base Delta in Laos that ended just before dawn today. But 85 of the South Vietnamese marines were killed and 88 wounded.

Heavy attacks also were reported on U.S. infantrymen and armored columns along Highway 9 on the Vietnamese side of the border. Several tanks and armored personnel carriers were knocked out of action by rocket grenades and mines.

The U.S. Command reported one clash between Lang Vei and the Laotian border. A spokesman said two Americans in an armored column were killed

GIs Balk At Command To Advance

By MICHAEL PUTZEL

KHIE SANH, Vietnam (AP)—A commanding general said today he does not plan to take disciplinary action against 53 of his men who refused an order to move forward to secure a damaged helicopter and their commanding officer's armored vehicle.

"I suppose if I went by the book, we could take them out and shoot them for refusing an order in the face of the enemy," said Brig. Gen. John J. Hill, "but they're back in the field, doing their duty. I don't think it should be blown out of proportion."

The commander of the reluctant armored cavalry troop, Capt. Carlos A. Foveida, was relieved of his command. Hill, commanding general of the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Division, said the captain "made an error in tactics" that resulted in his losing control of his unit when he became separated from it.

The men who balked are members of two platoons of Bravo Troop, 1st Squadron, 1st Cavalry, American Division. They are temporarily assigned to Hill's division in the northwest corner of South Vietnam, supporting the South Vietnamese invasion of Laos.

A similar incident occurred in the American Division in August 1969 when an infantry company refused to go forward after five days of heavy casualties on a

Soviets Continue to Bolster Air Defense for Egyptians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has bolstered Egypt's air defenses with about 90 more MIG21 jet interceptors since late last year, U.S. intelligence reports indicate.

The Soviets also have strengthened Egypt's force of SU7 and earlier model MIG fighter bombers which could support ground troops, Pentagon sources said.

According to recent U.S. intelligence reports, the Egyptians have 220 MIG21s, 206 MIG17s and MIG15s, and 120 SU7s.

This compares with an earlier assessment that, as of last December, Egypt's Russian-built air force owned 128 MIG21s, 150 MIG17s and 15s, and 97 SU7s.

A small force of old bombers has remained stable in numbers.

The extent of any Russian buildup of surface-to-air missiles in Egypt in recent months was not available, but as of the end of 1970, U.S. military sources said, the SAM defenses were formidable—360 SA2 launchers and 120 SA3 launchers.

The SA2 is fired at high-flying planes, the SA3 against lower flying attackers.

The increase in Egypt's military power during the months of the cease-fire has included significantly more MIS troop-carrying helicopters and huge artillery pieces as well as other equipment, the sources said.

The new materiel was shipped through the Dardanelles in a stream of ships checked to their Egyptian destinations by U.S. reconnaissance planes. U.S. officials are silent on other means of gathering information on Soviet military shipments.

Meanwhile, the United States has been furnishing Israel more jets, tanks and other military gear under a $500 million appropriation voted by the last Congress.

The breakdown of military hardware being provided to the Israelis under this allotment has not been made public, but the United States has supplied a total of about 150 F4 phantom fighter bombers and A4 Skyhawk fighter bombers.

The remainder of Israel's striking power includes about 225 French-built jets.

There have been reports that Israel's aircraft industry is beginning to turn out small numbers of fighters patterned on French models.

Meanwhile, in New York, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban says he is convinced the Nixon administration will not try to impose on his government a plan to settle the Middle East conflict.

Eban said Sunday that policy differences between the two governments still exist and that neither changed its position during his talks in Washington with administration officials.

He said on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation" program that Israel intends to stick by its tough stance in the current indirect peace talks because he thinks the Arab position on territorial

High Court Allows Connecticut to Aid Parochial Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today allowed Connecticut to extend aid to parochial schools in the state, at least temporarily.

In a 6-3 action the court temporarily stayed an injunction by a federal court in Hartford which blocked the assistance on a finding it is unconstitutional. Some $8 million had been earmarked for 281 schools in Connecticut, 217 of them operated by religious bodies, most of them Roman Catholic. Church officials had said that without the assistance many schools would have to cut down their operations or close.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart, Byron R. White, Thurgood Marshall and Harry A. Blackmun granted the plea for continued aid at least until the Hartford court's ruling is appealed.

Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and John M. Harlan dissented. At the same time the court rejected a move to speed consideration of the appeal.

The high court currently has under advisement three cases testing various forms of federal and state support for parochial school operations.

The three-judge court in Hartford found the Connecticut support system violates the First Amendment's provision separating church from state. The case was started by six Connecticut taxpayers represented by the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union. Later the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People joined the suit.

The civil liberties organization claimed the state aid is "socially destructive" because it supports schools which "inherently discriminate" against blacks and the poor.

The state law gives nonpublic schools a percentage of the salaries of teachers of secular subjects as well as money for textbooks. This amounts to $10 for each elementary student and $16 for each high-school student. Some 82,000 children attend the 283 nonpublic schools.

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—The education superintendent for Catholic schools in the Bridgeport area said Monday he is "very encouraged" by the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that Connecticut may give aid to parochial schools, at least temporarily.

"It is very heartening," said the Rev. Martin B. Hitchcock, school superintendent for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Bridgeport, where officials at five Catholic schools have announced recently that the schools will not open next fall. The school officials have cited a shortage of funds as the reason.

Father Hitchcock declined to comment further on the decision, saying he wanted to see the text and "study it closely."

William J. Sanders, state education commissioner, said in Hartford that he was "pleased that we can move ahead" with extending help to the nonpublic schools.

"This was the intent of the legislature and the intent of the people," Sanders said, noting that his department had supported the program.

Court Grants Hearing On Close Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to hear the dispute over Sen. Vance Hartke's razor-thin election victory over former Rep. Richard L. Roudebush.

Roudebush, a Republican, who lost the Senate race to Democrat Hartke by 4,288 votes, and Indiana's attorney general, Theodore L. Sanders, had been blocked by a federal district court in Indiana in seeking a recount.

The Supreme Court, in a brief order, granted their request for a hearing. This will be held sometime next term.

Roudebush reached at the Veterans Administration where he has a consultant's job, said: "I'm completely delighted that the Supreme Court has granted this request for a hearing and am quite certain that when all the facts are considered by the court that I will result in the recount that I asked for many months ago."

In other actions today, the court:

—Declined to stop the trial of Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., on bribery and perjury charges.

—Turned down two groups of militant antiwar soldiers who sought the right to distribute radical newspapers and to hold peace meetings on military bases.

Protesters Arrested At Jewish Rally

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rabbi Meir Kahane, militant leader of the Jewish Defense League, told his followers simply: "When the papers say tomorrow that 5,000 Jews were arrested, next week we'll have 5,000 more."

Shortly after his declaration, Kahane became the first of some 650 protesters to be peacefully led away by Washington police Sunday for sitting in a bus intersection in the nation's capital.

Most of those arrested were released after forfeiting $10 collateral.

Some 2,500 persons demonstrated Sunday to protest Soviet treatment of Jews in Russia.

First, they rallied on the Ellipse, a few hundred yards from the White House. Speakers called on President Nixon to end all cultural and diplomatic talks with the Russians until all Jews who want to can leave the Soviet Union.

"We're calling on you, President Nixon, to make a change in U.S. foreign policy," said Kahane, who was among 15 speakers. "No freedom, no talks. If there is freedom, then there will be talks," he said.

Then the demonstrators, under close police scrutiny, marched six blocks to the Soviet Embassy, but got no closer than the 500 feet allowed under District of Columbia law.

Six police motor scooters barricaded the street to the protesters and officials told them to turn down a side street. Instead, Kahane took a bullhorn and told his followers to sit down.

Fifteen minutes later, after several warnings that they would be arrested for obstructing a public highway, police waded in and began making arrests for disorderly conduct.

Kahane had told his followers to offer no resistance when a police officer grabbed them. All

Wives Tell How Time Passes While Their Mates are POWs

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—One day six years ago Navy Lt. Philip Butler kissed his wife and three-day-old daughter goodbye and went to war. For most of those six years he has been a prisoner of the North Vietnamese.

Patsy Crayton had no children and had been married less than a year when her Navy commander husband, Render, was shot down Feb. 7, 1968 and made a North Vietnamese captive.

National Week of Concern for Prisoners of War and Missing in Action is being observed this week for Butler and Crayton and 1,800 other servicemen lost in the war in Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

When Butler was shot down April 20, 1965, no parachute was seen. He was presumed dead.

Then, five weeks later, Karen Butler was watching television one morning when she heard the news report that Hanoi had announced her husband had been captured four days after he crashed.

Telling little Diane wasn't a problem at that point, but Mrs. Butler found the difficulty started very early.

"Even at the age of two she was very aware of the war," Mrs. Butler recalls. "She would sit and watch the news with me. I simply told her her daddy was in Vietnam and helping the Vietnamese people."

"She was satisfied with this until she was about three and we lived across from the family of an Army officer who was in Vietnam, and she played with their little girl."

"Then one day she came in and asked me 'How come if her daddy is in Vietnam and my

Calley Jury Hears Tapes Of Testimony

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP)—The voice of Paul David Meadlo, recounting how he stood at Lt. William Calley's side spraying bullets into groups of terror-stricken My Lai citizens, was heard again by the murder jury weighing Calley's fate.

Meadlo's voice, captured on tape during his dramatic Jan. 11 court appearance, echoed through the nearly empty courtroom, to fill a request by the jury to be refreshed on the testimony of some key prosecution witnesses.

"He said: 'I want them dead. He told me to help him shoot them,'" Meadlo had said in his flat, unemotional voice.

When Meadlo was there in person — after demanding and receiving immunity for his testimony — the courtroom was packed. But few showed up for today's replay in the jury's sixth day of deliberation.

Even Army Prosecutor Capt. Anthony Daniel was not there for the first time. Calley's chief lawyer, George Lattimer, sat in back of the spectator section. Other attorneys for both sides sat at the counsel table.

The tape replay was necessary because the court's two stenographers are far behind in transcribing the four months of

The entire trial was captured on recording tape by the court so that attorneys could have instant access to testimony. Normally, such tapes are not part of the official court record, but when the judge got agreement from both prosecution and defense that their replay would be the quickest way to comply with the jury's request.

Meadlo, 22, is from Terra Haute, Ind. He lost a foot when he accidentally tripped a booby trap at the end of the March 16, 1968, assault on My Lai. The jury obviously is split over the firing of a murder weapon charged to Calley.

For the lieutenant, sweating out the verdict that would accuse Calley of having killed 17 civilians, the jury heard the testimony of the court reporter, and the court reporter's testimony of what he heard on the tapes.

It took two hours to replay Meadlo's testimony and the jury heard the testimony of the court reporter, and the court reporter's testimony of what he heard on the tapes.

On the child incident, there was no testimony that Calley actually killed the child and that that child alone that was in the room at the time of the shooting.

At the time, Meadlo was a sergeant and was in charge of the guard post. He was the first man who said that he saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground.

Meadlo was crying while he shot and gazed into the rifle. "I got emotionally upset," Meadlo said. "But I still believe I was carrying out an order."

Meadlo also said that he saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground. "I saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground," Meadlo said.

SET A CHILD FREE... GIVE TO EASTER SEALS

The government charges that the lieutenant killed at least 17 civilians. The jury, under instructions to acquit on that count if there is reasonable doubt that the killings were at that exact place, asked to rehear the testimony of witnesses concerning the incident.

The readings today, by court reporters, were of the eighth of those testimonies. One witness was Paul David Meadlo, a former Indiana farmer, who said the lieutenant berated him for not having "taken care" of the trail group.

"He said, 'I want them dead,'" Meadlo testified Jan. 11 when he closed out the prosecution's case. "He told me to help him shoot them."

Q. What did you do?
A. I helped him shoot. Q. How many magazines did Calley use?
A. Four or five.

Q. What happened to the people?
A. I couldn't tell if they were mortally wounded or not. They were taken to the hospital.

Meadlo also said that later, at the time of the shooting, he saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground. "I saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground," Meadlo said.

Meadlo also said that he saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground. "I saw Calley firing a rifle at a man who was lying on the ground," Meadlo said.

PZC Begins Work Tonight On First CUD Application

The controversial application by developers Sol Lavitt and James McCarthy for a change to CUD Zone of their 70-acre tract of Keeney St. is slated for consideration at a business meeting of the Planning and Zoning Commission tonight at 7:30 in the Municipal Building.

When the developers' plans were presented at the public hearing before the commission, March 1, more than 400 persons turned out, with a large majority speaking in opposition to the proposed change.

Under town regulations, the PZC has 60 days (in this case until April 21) to deliberate before taking action on proposals before it.

The developers hope to create an entire "small village" type of community on their acreage off the west side of Keeney St. with an ultimate estimated population of about 6,000.

The CUD concept—said to be the first of its kind in this area—was designed to permit all residential and use certain kinds of businesses and industry to exist together in the same lot.

The CUD regulation was adopted in December, and Lavitt and McCarthy are applying for a change of zone is the first to come before the commission.

Their land off the west side of Keeney St. comprises the Fox Grove Golf Course and acreage from the former Dartmouth Farm, 300 units, 4.2 land Drs. and east of the 107

Some 40 acres would be devoted to a par 3 golf course to replace, approximately 5 acres to a petting zoo and recreation area, 4.5 acres to conservation land, 1.5 acres to a development of 1,200 dwelling units, a section of stores to serve the area, and primary, secondary and tertiary roads would take about 25 acres.

Crime Fight Aid Sought By State

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut is shopping in Washington for $5 million in aid with a newly prepared plan for improving law enforcement throughout the state.

The 1,000-page plan contains proposals for 80 separate state and local programs in nine general areas including organized crime, crimes on the street, drug abuse, juvenile crime and prison programs.

It was presented Friday for consideration to the U.S. Department of Justice by the state's Planning Committee on Criminal Administration.

If approved, the plan would go into effect in Connecticut with the help of $5 million in federal funds, $37 million going to local agencies and $1.8 million to the state government.

Atty. David Weinstein, one of the 30 persons who drafted the plan, said, "Many recommended action programs do not deal exclusively with upgrading the existing criminal justice system. They are aimed at other aspects of public and private agencies and systems that more adequately handle problems."

The planning committee was directed by Superior Court Judge Harold M. Mulvey and retired State Justice Samuel Melitta.

Stanley To Move Some Operations Into Vermont

SHAFTSBURY, Vt. (AP) — At a time when many Vermont firms are announcing production cutbacks and layoffs, Stanley Works Inc., parent company of the Stanley Tool division here, has announced plans for a $12 million expansion here.

The program will create more than 100 jobs and take about three years to implement fully, spokesmen said today. Biggest part of the expansion will be construction of a $3.8 million plant addition, scheduled for completion next September.

Part of the expansion will be to accommodate transfer of certain production tasks from Stanley's plant in New Britain, Conn., spokesmen said. The remainder would be to accommodate a general company-wide production increase.

The error said the governor would receive $78,000 annually. It was found and corrected before the report was approved by the legislature.

The governor's salary is being increased next year from $22,000 annually to $26,000.

"I believe the Arab mind is in a state of flux and that the evolution of their thinking has not reached its conclusion," he said. "You don't try to bring this thing to a head until thinking has further evolved."

Eban repeated the Israeli refusal to give up them at the Jerusalem and the Golan Heights—territories it occupied in the 1967 war.

The Israeli official recalled that a United Nations peace-keeping force was taken out of the Middle East just before the 1967 war at the request of Egyptian President Nasser, despite earlier promises that it would not be removed unilaterally.

George Bush, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press" that the United States would insist that no peacekeeping force could be removed without its approval.

Eban said an outside force would sacrifice its nation's long-term interests for short-term harmony between Arabs and Israelis.

He said his visit to the United States and his talks with Rogers and Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger had strengthened respect between the two governments for each other's position.

Eban praised President Nixon and the United States for helping to bring Israel to a balance of power in the Middle East.

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Officials have lowered to 256 the number of persons believed dead or missing in an Andean avalanche disaster that inundated a tiny mountain mining camp.

Mining company officials also said Sunday they have cut off access to the Yanahuarina, into which the landslide fell Thursday, sending a wall of water over the camp at Chungar, Peru.

Geologists had warned that a peak above Chungar, could tumble into the lake at any moment, Interior Minister Antonio said sufficient aid had been sent to the stricken area.

Articles, as well as aid, were placed the death toll between 400 and 600.

ROME (AP) — Four persons were known dead and police with dogs were searching for three more bodies today after a weekend of massive snowslides in the Italian mountains.

Highways and mountain passes were blocked across a 300-mile arc from the Italian Riviera to the Dolomites. Hundreds of tourists and skiers were isolated.

Police accompanied by dogs dug into a huge snow mass 200 feet up Mt. Arpone, looking for which injured nine of their companions at a construction camp near Sana, the French frontier.

Another big snowslide smashed into one wing of a ski resort hotel at Escosello, northeast of Lake Como and killed two persons Saturday.

Two others were killed by a landslide which swept their car off a mountain road inland from Imperia on the Riviera.

Salary Mishap

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A report from the New Mexico Senate-House Conference Committee Sunday gave Gov. Bruce King a production increase.

The error said the governor would receive $78,000 annually. It was found and corrected before the report was approved by the legislature.

The governor's salary is being increased next year from $22,000 annually to $26,000.

U.S. Planes Continue Raids on North Vietnam

Two more U.S. helicopters also were downed in Laos today, with two crewmen killed and the other rescued.

Two South Vietnamese infantry battalions hurrying to the border ran into strong North Vietnamese forces south of Highway 9 and suffered 23 men killed and 80 wounded, field reports said. A South Vietnamese spokesman said 245 North Vietnamese troops killed.

Low clouds, fog and enemy artillery slowed down U.S. helicopters trying to lift South Vietnamese forces from Phnom Penh. There were still stragglers to be picked up south of Highway 9. Most of the South Vietnamese paratrooper division was pulled out along Route 9 but four battalions were moving eastward along the highway with an armored column and remnants of the 2nd Airborne Division.

Military sources acknowledged that the South Vietnamese drive into southern Laos, which began Feb. 6, is in its withdrawal phase. They said the North Vietnamese now are "making every effort to interfere with the withdrawal."

The sources refused to predict the long-range impact of the operation on the enemy. Caution assessments included a claim that the operation has "succeeded in disrupting vital portions of the enemy's logistical system," as well as inflicting heavy losses.

North Vietnamese guns firing from caves and mountains in Laos poured more than 100 rockets into a South Vietnamese command post along the border in the past 72 hours, Brian Faulkner, who has given a clear indication of willingness to sign a peace treaty with the United States, said on a radio broadcast from London, to right long-standing complaints by British officials of discrimination in housing and jobs, was rated an "old choice" by voters.

The challenge came from William Craig, former home affairs minister, who said he would lead the ruling Unionist parliamentary party for fighting two pre-election promises.

Even though Craig, the darling of the Protestant militia who want gun-toting police and British troops to move into Roman Catholic districts of harboring Irish Republican Army terrorists, was nominated he can't vote for himself in the Union party caucus which will choose the next prime minister Tuesday.

Faulkner, 50, had been expected to be the lone candidate to succeed James Chichester-Clark. Faulkner lost to Chichester-Clark by one vote in 1969.

One in Accident Leaves Hospital

A Manchester Memorial Hospital spokesman said this morning that Elizabeth Bauman, 22, of Storm remains in critical condition from injuries suffered in a head-on crash Wednesday night.

Her husband, Gary Bauman, 22, driver of one of the cars, was released from the hospital Saturday.

The accident happened on Vermont Avenue when the Bauman car and one driven by Richard A. Roy, 20, of Taicoville collided head-on. Police have declined further details, but say the accident is still under investigation.

Roy, and a passenger in his car, Walter Leary, 19, also of Taicoville, are still in hospital.

Bill Would End Interstate Facts

HARTFORD (AP) — There will be a public hearing at the State Capitol Tuesday to discuss 11 bills sponsored by Senate Minority leader Allen A. Ives, R-Rose, which would end Connecticut's involvement in a variety of interstate compact.

Ives says the state pays $434,000 a year to belong to the multistate groups compared to $25,000 to belong to one.

The GOP leader in the Senate said Saturday he would ask at the hearing why, for example, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers could not take over duties carried out by the Connecticut River Flood Control Compact, the Thames River Valley Flood Control Compact and the New England River Basin Compact.

Other agreements that will be discussed, Ives said, are the New England Regional Commission, the Northeastern Interstate Forest Fire Protection Compact, the New England Compact on Radiological Health Protection, the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Compact and the New England Higher Education Compact.

Survey Backs Meskill Effort

HARTFORD (AP) — There are twice as many people in Connecticut who approve of the job done so far by Gov. Thomas J. Meskill as there are residents who disapprove, according to a poll published Sunday by the Hartford Times.

The telephone survey was conducted March 10 to 14. The newspaper reports 48 per cent of those questioned approved of the governor's performance, 23 per cent disapproved and 29 per cent withheld any judgment.

The poll was conducted for the Times by the Becker Research Corp. of Boston. The 500 persons questioned were 21 years old or older.

Doubleheader Slated at Astrodom, UCLA Battles Powerful Jayhawks

NEW YORK (AP) — UCLA, the No. 1 team in college basketball, plays at the Astrodom in Houston Thursday night for the first time in three years. That, coupled with a bid for a fifth straight national championship.

It was the Astrodom on Jan. 20, 1968 that the Bruins' 47-game winning streak was snapped by the Houston Cougars 71-60 before an all-time paid basketball crowd of 52,693.

UCLA is only defying the odds this season and it kept the Bruins from breaking San Francisco's all-time record of a winning streak of 60 in a row since they won 41 straight after the occasion for UCLA's return to the Astrodom is the semifinals of the NCAA championship tournament. The Bruins play the Kansas Jayhawks and the Villanova Wildcats take on the Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky.

UCLA, Kansas and Western Kentucky had to rally to win their quarter-final games last Saturday. Villanova, to the surprise of virtually everyone, edged a 90-87 win over previously unbeaten Penn, which had won 23 straight.

UCLA wiped out an 11-point deficit in the second half to beat Long Beach State 57-55 on four free throws by Sidney Wicks in the last 20 seconds. Kansas, also down by 11 at one point, rallied to defeat Drake 73-71 and Western Kentucky came from 14 points back to trip Ohio State 71-68 in overtime.

Steve Chubin paced the Bics with 26 points, while Bellamy had 24 points for Delaware.

Season Over, Celtics Win Last Start

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics have completed their season on an encouraging note, winning their last four games and posting a three-point goal as time ran out to end the overtime.

The Celtics, who used their five starters almost all the way, John Bricker scored 33 for the Celtics, including a three-point goal as time ran out to end the overtime.

Reds' Power Play Topples Kings

PROVIDENCE (AP) — Rookie Randy Rota snuffed a 3-3 tie with his third goal in the third period lifting the Providence Reds to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Kings.

The Reds took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Neil Nicholson and Rota. But the Kings rallied and grabbed a 3-2 lead in the second period on three consecutive goals by Doug Volmar before Providence goalie Garry Gavitt.

Martin Hopes to Give Club Leadership

LAKELAND, Fla. — The first look at the room and you would think you were in the locker room of just any present day college squad.

There's definitely more spirit and enthusiasm on this year's Tiger team.

The departed Smith was from the old school of managers, and was content to sit back and take things easy. As a result the club hit the skids after winning the 1968 season.

Running Game

"Every manager has his own way of doing things, and I believe in a strong line of communications between the manager and the players on the field."

"I'm not over-enthusiastic, but I'm not over-cautious either. I'm just a manager who wants to win."

Talks Bare Fruit

It felt it was most important for me to talk with the guys to find out how they felt about the team and what suggestions they had for improvement. I feel it's important for the guys to sit across from me, not in uniform, and talk man to man, and not in the manager's office with baseball uniforms on. I did this better and I felt that I got to know a lot of little things that I'm making more money now."

Stengel System

"I've patterned my managerial career after Casey Stengel. I'm the same type manager that I was as a player, aggressive. The skipper reports."

Home Ice Takes Toll of Rangers, Bruins

NEW YORK (AP) — The Bruins' home ice advantage was a major factor in their 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Flyers.

The Bruins had a 3-0 lead in the first period, but the Flyers rallied to tie the game in the second period.

Hustle Presents Problem For Angels' Alex Johnson

ALICE JOHNSON, the American League batting king last season, is off to a bad start this spring and it has nothing to do with his hitting.

Rather, it is Johnson's hustle that presents the problem, and it already reportedly has cost the morose outfielder eight home runs.

Fittest Man Playing Golf Plans Future

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player, declaring "I'm the fittest man playing golf today," plans to battle it out with the world's best for another 11 years; then hang up his cleats.

"I'm just coming into my peak now," he said after winning a sudden death playoff with young Hal Underwood for the $25,000 first prize in the Greater Jacksonville Open Saturday.

Camp Outlook: Red Sox Sox' Pitching Depth Remains Big Problem

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Eddie Kasko believes all the Boston Red Sox are back where they belong — with one exception.

Lost? Manager Tom Yonke's mass shuffle of players and a shuffle intended to resemble the Red Sox's pitching staff.

Archery Champ Killed

PROVIDENCE (AP) — England archery champion Vivian Robinson Jr., 30, of New Bedford, Mass., was killed Saturday in a four-car accident on Thurston Avenue.

Robinson was on the route from Manchester, Conn. where he practiced weekends, to his home in New Bedford.

Lt. Calley Defense Hits Jury's Habits

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL Associated Press Writer FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William Calley's defense attorney complained bitterly today that his client's murder jury is "conducting business as usual" and dragging out their deliberations in the seventh day.

His complaint was prompted by newspaper reports that the six officers on the jury had requested a week's supply of fresh laundry and that arrangements be made for their paychecks, due March 31.

At this point, the judge said he will not set hours for the jury because "I would rather see the verdict in this case be a well thought verdict."
