Meskill Not 'Intimidated' By Threats

HARTFORD (AP) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said Thursday he will not be "intimidated" by threats of disunion in the cities this summer.

He made the comment when asked about a meeting he had Wednesday with Ben Andrews of Danbury, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Andrews called for continued state funding of summer programs in the inner cities and warned that "this could be a very bad summer" if the program is cut off.

Meskill said he was disappointed by Andrews' comments about the meeting, which he thought "had been a good session."

Meskill indicated that he is exploring ways to get more help to the cities, including a housing program which he could not fund up to $1.9 million.

Andrews said after the meeting that he had no satisfaction from the governor.

"I told the governor that the NAACP this time was not just to stop the explosion," he said. "We are crippled. We can't say to the cities, 'Here's a program or more funds, because there are no programs or funds for the urban crisis.'"

Andrews said he was "not pre-acting long, but summers are a threat or a wedge. But I'm dealing with the reality."

"I went in with nothing and left with nothing," Andrews said. "I went in with nothing and left with nothing."

"At least we have to have a program or more funds, because there are no programs or funds for the urban crisis."

"I feel the possibility of a program or more funds, because there are no programs or funds for the urban crisis."

State House Kills Issue Of Abortion

HARTFORD (AP) — The Connecticut Legislature died Wednesday, shot down in a House acting under threat of a gubernatorial veto.

The roll call vote was 122-28 Wednesday to accept the Public Health and Safety Committee's unfavorable report on the measure liberalizing Connecticut's ancient abortion statute.

Unless a virtually impossible series of reversals occurs, the House action means Connecticut women will have to live with the law that permits abortion only to save their lives.

The vote killing the measure was the most resounding defeat over 19-year-old abortion reform.

Stimular bills were rejected in the House on a 78-59 vote in 1967 and 1969 in 1968.

Republican Gov. Thomas J. Meskill has stated flatly he will veto any major abortion reform bill that gets to his desk.

The Republicans Wednesday got 25-19 against the abortion bill. In 1967 and 1969, GOP representatives voted GOP legislation.

Leading the attack on the bill was John F. Pappadour, D-Meriden, who said nurses in the NAACP this time were not just to stop the explosion.

"We are crippled. We can't say to the cities, 'Here's a program or more funds, because there are no programs or funds for the urban crisis.'"

Pardue Shot In Bridgeport

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—John R. Pardue Jr., on trial for a series of bombings and a bank robbery in Danbury last year was shot today as he attempted a daring escape from the U.S. marshal's office.

Pardue was shot twice by Anthony Dirienzo Jr., the son of the U.S. marshal, Anthony Dirienzo.

Pardue was rushed to a hospital and authorities took his wife into custody. She was found, dressed in a miniskirt and light sweater and carrying the Pardue one-year-old child in a motel parking lot near the federal building.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert C. Zampano immediately declared a mistrial. The hospital did not immediately issue a report on Pardue's condition, but one of his law-down Highway 4 and followed up with a ground attack that drove the paratroopers back. Highway 4 is the supply route between Phnom Penh and Cambodia's eastern port, Kompong Som. It is frequently closed by the highway between Phnom Penh and the coast.

Despite the high American death toll last week, tabulations from the U.S. Command showed that the total American battlefield deaths in the first three months of this year were about 50 per cent less than in the same period last year and 80 per cent less than in the first quarter of 1969.

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Command announced today that 88 Americans were killed in Indochina last week, the highest weekly toll in nine months.

On the battlefield, waves of U.S. planes attacked North Vietnamese forces besieging a South Vietnamese artillery base in the central highlands near the Laotian-Cambodian border.

Thirty-three of the Americans killed last week, or more than a third, died in the Vietnam summer attack March 28 on Fire Base Mary Ann, 50 miles south of Da Nang. The total of 88 dead was 30 more than the toll the week before and the highest since the week of June 21-27, 1970, when 104 Americans were killed.

The U.S. Command also reported 347 Americans wounded last week and 22 American servicemen died from such nonbattle causes as accidents and illness. It said American servicemen crowded with U.S. soldiers and Vietnamese on the Saigon waterfront tonight, killing at least two and injuring about 40.

The South Vietnamese command said 525 of its troops were killed last week and 1,178 were wounded, and the allied commands claimed a total of 3,867 Americans in the capital since March 21.

Heavy fighting was reported a mile north of the base Wednesday, and a South Vietnamese communiqué claimed 200 North Vietnamese were killed, including 220 by U.S. air strikes. The communiqué said 13 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 48 were wounded.

Despite the heavy air strikes, the North Vietnamese gunners shelled the base again before dawn today with 20 rounds of recoilless rifle and mortar shells. No casualties or damage were reported.

Heavy fighting also was reported for the second day around a fire base called Long in the southern central highlands, about 80 miles south of Fire Base G. Saigon headquarters said 80 North Vietnamese were killed, 30 of them by air strikes, while South Vietnamese casualties were one killed and three wounded.

Nixon Announces Pullout Hike

By FRED S. HOFFMAN AP Military Writer. WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon has increased slightly the pace of U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam, ordering another 100,000 men home by Dec. 1.

Appeals to set a date for ending U.S. involvement. The Foreign Office sought to share his faith in the South Vietnamese army.

The new goal will drop the total U.S. troop commitment to about 164,000, well below the peak two years ago.

However, this is unlikely to mollify active critics in Congress who have been pressing for a final U.S. disengagement, perhaps by the end of this year.

Weekly Death Toll Of GIs in Vietnam At Nine-Month High

Nixon Turns Spotlight On Hero's Son

By GARY MICHOS Associated Press Writer. AVELETTA, PA. (AP) — Four-year-old Kevin Taylor stood ramrod straight in his cowboy and Indian pajamas and seemed to be the heart of the national spotlight.

Later, in the living room of his grandparents' home, he flashed an apple-cheeked grin and seemed at ease for a lad who had just been thrust into the national spotlight.

"I saluted President Nixon and he saluted me too," Kevin said matter-of-factly in recounting the story Nixon told a few hours earlier Wednesday night in a television-radio address. "I did it when we went to the White House."

That was last February when the President posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor to a machine-gun tender in an attempt to rescue wounded men.

Nixon had just given the medal to Kevin's mother, Shirley John A. Carver, nee D'Wallingford, who testified before the Judiciary Committee.

The bill he supported would get my thoughts together for the next presentation," Nixon said Wednesday night.

Meskill claimed the governorship has become a "24-hour job" and that the man in living room where his mother and father were seated.

Pullout Hike Announced By Nixon

There are indications from other administration officials that Nixon expects to announce a pullout of American troops from Vietnam to a "readjust force" of about 500,000 advisers and security troops to guard them by the time he goes to the voters again in November 1972.

The President said he was announcing an increase in the withdrawal rate between May 1 and Dec. 1 "because of the increased strength of the South Vietnamese, because of the success of the Cambodian operation; and because of the success of the South Vietnamese operation in Laos."

Critics raised doubts about the fighting qualities of the South Vietnamese army after it cut short its growing campaign against the Ho Chi Minh trail and some of its units retreated out of Laos in apparent disarray.

Other administration officials have said it will take until next fall to assess fully whether the six-week operation was a success in crippling North Vietnamese ability to mount major offensive actions.

But Nixon raised the operation a plus. Speaking in measured tones and with a large chart behind him, Nixon outlined these conclusions based on what he said was his assessment:

"First, the South Vietnamese demonstrated that without American advisers they could fight effectively against the North Vietnamese who could put in the field.

"Second, the South Vietnamese suffered heavy casualties but, by the most conservative estimates, the casualties suffered by the enemy were far heavier (five to one figures)."

"Third, and very important, the disruption of enemy supply lines and the consumption of ammunition and arms in the battle has been even more damaging to the capability of the North Vietnamese to sustain major offensives in South Vietnam than were the operations in Cambodia 10 months ago."

Capitol Hill reaction was predictable. Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott praised the announcement. "President Nixon has said he will end our involvement in South Vietnam," the Pennsylvania senator said, "and he is doing it."

Pointing to the politically charged nature of the withdrawal by name, Sen. Robert Dole, who also serves as Republican National chairman, said the announcement "has put the monkey right back where it belongs—on the backs of those politically motivated Democrats who would rather be president than right."

Muskie's criticism was typical of a presidential opponent. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said "The people of Southeast Asia can no longer hear this war and neither can the people of the United States."

Calling the speech "disappointing in the extreme," Iowa Democratic Sen. Harold Hughes said Nixon "has chosen to continue those same policies which 75 per cent of the American people have already said they reject."

This was the seventh troop withdrawal announcement made by Nixon since he set in motion U.S. disengagement from the war in June 1969.

It comes about three weeks before the May 1 date when American troops are due to

Idea of God

LONDON (AP) — On the eve of Good Friday a London newspaper, the Daily Sketch, talked to several children about their idea of God.

"He's 1,000 years old," said Nan, 6. "He has lovely golden slippers with nice little bows on the edge and he decides when we are going to be born."

Billy, also 6, said: "He lives up in the sky and he's got a gold throne. Well, it's silver and gold really, but most of all he's kind. And he's got a long beard right down to his tummy and he eats leaves and fishes."

"And He's got a shower like one in our bathroom and when He turns it on it rains all over the place."

Vernon Model Ships On Exhibit At Library

The Rockville Public Library is curating an exhibit of model ships loaned by Daniel Sanders of Hany Lane. Sanders and his wife, Nancy, are members of the Connecticut Marine Model Society.

Most recent completed model made for the Historical Museum of Truro, Mass. is the "Echol" a small white hull in the middle of the 18th century and used in the North Atlantic whaling industry.

Two historic models are the "Essex," first of the wooden navy and the "Congress," a pre-Civil War heavy frigate which was sunk by the "Monitor" before that ship's famous fight with the "Merrimack."

The collection also includes a replica of the framing of a mid-nineteenth century ship designed to twist in the sea with the hull and deck joined together with 3,100 nails.

Other replicas of New England and sea-faring life are brass blocks, flagging irons, sperm whale teeth and the model of a 24-foot schooner.

Another award, offered by the Democratic Women's Club, in June, Sanders will speak to the families of his schoolmates, the Vernon Historical Society about his hobby.

The annual Easter Sunrise Service sponsored by the Rockville Area Clergy Council will be held at 8:15 a.m. on Fox Hill.

The following churches have young people representing on the committee: First Congregational Church of Vernon, United Methodist, St. John's, Tatcolville, Bellington and Union Congregational and United Methodist, Vernon.

Following the service a scrambled egg breakfast will be served at 9 a.m. in the First Congregational.

A Hunger Happening" will take place tonight at 6 o'clock at the Tolland County Agricultural Center, Rt. 30, Vernon.

The "Happening" is being sponsored by Elvort (Ellington-Vernon-Tolland) Walk for Development, Inc. The program, open to the public, will include a film, "Miles to Go," and music and a talk.

Plans are to conduct the Walk for Development on May 8 and 9 in conjunction with an international day being sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee.

The walk, scheduled to cover 20 miles, will begin and end at Henry Park in Rockville.

Volunteers in the walk will be sponsored by businesses or individuals who promise to pay a certain amount for each mile walked. Money collected will be used to buy toys and equipment for the proposed Hockanum Valley Day Care Center and to aid underdeveloped villages in Guatemala.

Sheinwald on Bridge

"EVEN VERY HIGH ODDS ARE NOT A CERTAINTY"

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When only one of the opponents has bid, the odds are rather high that he will have a missing high card. Still, high odds are not a certainty. Favorites don't always win. There's no denying that it pays to go with the odds, but there's no harm in making some provision for the unexpected. After all this sermonizing, let's take a look at the bridge hand that provoked it.

North-South vulnerable. Opening lead — Queen of Spades.

West opened the queen of spades, East signaled encouragement by playing the nine, and South won with the king. South hadn't thought much about the hand, but he expected the king finesse to work. He had bid, and the odds were that East had the king of clubs.

Partner opens with one spade, South led a heart to dummy. West led a heart to dummy and then led the queen of clubs for a 4-5-2; Diamonds, 8-5-4; Clubs, 4-4-2.

What do you say? Answer: Pass. A queen and a king are not enough for a response. If partner had opened with one heart, you would have related to two hearts since then you could count an extra point for the doubleton in spades.

The argument was a welcome diversion for South, who knew that he should have made the contract, vanilla bidding with top trumps. East's bid was the next trick with the ace of spades, and South's king will never win a trick, but dummy's ten of spades will represent a stopper in the suit.

When playing the King of Clubs, he can enter dummy with a heart to try the club finesse. West can lead the king of clubs and South lead a spade, and both are sure of four clubs, two diamonds and three hearts.

This line of play falls only if East has bid on a four-card spade suit without the king of clubs, but this is extremely unlikely since if West had Q-x-x-x, he would have led low instead of the queen.

Animal Lover Dies Under Car

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Charlie Chaffin, a 12-year-old boy who loved animals, was returning home from a movie with his mother and older brother when he saw a car hit a dog in the street. He made his mother stop their car.

Chaffin didn't want to see the dog, who belonged to a neighbor, when another car struck the dog. He died Monday.

"Charlie didn't want to see animals go hungry or get hurt," said a grief-stricken father, Robert Chaffin. "He seemed to have an understanding for animals."

Movie Tycoon Zanuck Resigns

NEW YORK (AP) — Darryl F. Zanuck, the last of the tycoons from Hollywood's golden years, has resigned as chief executive officer of the 20th Century-Fox Film Corp.

The announcement Wednesday following a special meeting of the board of directors, until 1969 when the firm lost $5.8 million. In 1970, Fox reported a loss of $7.4 million and a dissenting stockholders group initiated moves for a proxy battle to control the firm.

The board said that Dennis C. Randall, who had been president since March 18, would have responsibility for all phases of the company's business, except film production. Zanuck, a co-founder of the firm in 1928, left Hollywood in 1956. He returned in mid-1962 to take control of the company and turned its loss of $9 million that year into a $9 million profit in 1965.

Zanuck, 68, will retain his title as chairman of the company and concentrate on film production.

Plans are to conduct the Walk for Development on May 8 and 9 in conjunction with an international day being sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee.

The walk, scheduled to cover 20 miles, will begin and end at Henry Park in Rockville.

Volunteers in the walk will be sponsored by businesses or individuals who promise to pay a certain amount for each mile walked. Money collected will be used to buy toys and equipment for the proposed Hockanum Valley Day Care Center and to aid underdeveloped villages in Guatemala.

"EVEN VERY HIGH ODDS ARE NOT A CERTAINTY"

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When only one of the opponents has bid, the odds are rather high that he will have a missing high card. Still, high odds are not a certainty. Favorites don't always win. There's no denying that it pays to go with the odds, but there's no harm in making some provision for the unexpected. After all this sermonizing, let's take a look at the bridge hand that provoked it.

North-South vulnerable. Opening lead — Queen of Spades.

West opened the queen of spades, East signaled encouragement by playing the nine, and South won with the king. South hadn't thought much about the hand, but he expected the king finesse to work. He had bid, and the odds were that East had the king of clubs.

Partner opens with one spade, South led a heart to dummy. West led a heart to dummy and then led the queen of clubs for a 4-5-2; Diamonds, 8-5-4; Clubs, 4-4-2.

What do you say? Answer: Pass. A queen and a king are not enough for a response. If partner had opened with one heart, you would have related to two hearts since then you could count an extra point for the doubleton in spades.

The argument was a welcome diversion for South, who knew that he should have made the contract, vanilla bidding with top trumps. East's bid was the next trick with the ace of spades, and South's king will never win a trick, but dummy's ten of spades will represent a stopper in the suit.

When playing the King of Clubs, he can enter dummy with a heart to try the club finesse. West can lead the king of clubs and South lead a spade, and both are sure of four clubs, two diamonds and three hearts.

$20,950 Low Bid for Work On Crandall's Park Dam

Reconstruction of the Crandall's Park dam will cost the town about $20,950, excluding engineering fees and starting of work over the week-end.

The town of Vernon announced the low bidder for the construction of the dam is G and O Construction Co. of Wetherfield, who submitted the $20,950 bid.

The bids were received last night in time for the bid opening ranging from 0 and 0's low bid to a high of $50,000 submitted by Annulli Construction Co. of Manchester.

Specifications for the project were taken out by 22 construction firms, according to James Thompson of Buck and Buck, consulting engineers for the town. Thompson attended last night's bid opening ceremony along with Thrufall.

Before awarding the contract to G and O Construction Co., Thrufall stated he will check the bid contract submitted with Town Council member Robert King. Reservations may be made by the Board of Selectmen did not attend the meeting.

The first selectman is hoping that construction work on the dam can possibly begin Tuesday.

Other bids received are: Abertis Construction Co. of Tolland, $23,600; Richard Construction Co., $24,800; Della, Bitta, Yasulis Inc., $25,800; Bingham and Ciletti, $35,000.

The town allocated $28,000 for the project at a town meeting held last fall.

Firemen's Report

Five members of the Tolland Volunteer Fire Department's Rescue Squad joined with members of the Wetherfield Department, to provide instruction on extrating techniques to about 20 men attending the Williamsville State Firemen Training School.

The local instructors were Richard Symonds, Ronald Little, Robert Chough, Bruce Cooper and Guy Pelletier.

The department is seeking volunteers to serve as firemen during the day. Anyone interested may call the department's routine number listed in the directory.

Canaan Mt. Power Plan Faces Ecology Warriors

HARTFORD (AP) — The present of a conservation group and Wednesday group will fight the proposed construction of a huge hydroelectric project on Canaan Mountain in the Northwestern corner of Connecticut.

Donald Warner, president of the Berkshire-Litchfield Environmental Conservancy Council, said the council will intervene if Northeast Utilities applies for a permit to build the project.

The power company had earlier said it considers the Canaan Mountain site the "better site" of two sites for the construction of the $27.3 million hydroelectric power plant.

The other main potential site is Shenob Brook in Sheffield, Mass.

The firm said the two-million kilowatt pumped storage project would have a greater environmental impact at Shenob Brook than at Canaan Mountain.

The project is planned to meet an anticipated need for 33.8 million kilowatts of additional electric power between 1980 and the new England area served by Northeast Utilities.

"We're opposed to the entire concept of hydroelectric pumped storage plants, not just this particular project at Canaan Mountain. We believe they're irreversibly ruin the countryside. There are other types of power generation available that don't cause the same amount of damage," Warner said.

State Rep. Frank Ciampi, D-Waterbury, also criticized the power company's decision.

"As we increase our awareness of the harmful effects of ill-considered power plants, we find it increasingly difficult to tolerate arbitrary location decisions made by the utilities," he said.

A bill sponsored by Ciampi would create a council to evaluate power plant plans was given a favorable report Tuesday by the legislature's Environment Committee.

Consumer Unit Names Counsel

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — T.F. Gilroy Daily Thursday was appointed legislative counsel to the Connecticut Consumer Protection Council.

Daly, a Fairfield attorney, is a former deputy state attorney general and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in 1970.

The appointment was announced by Alan Neighbor, president of the association.

Daly succeeded Owen Schweitzer of Hartford.

New P&W Contract

NEW HARTFORD (AP) — The Air Force awarded a $8.5-million supplemental contract to the Pratt & Whitney Division of United Aircraft Co. in East Hartford Wednesday.

The job award is to supplement a previous contract of $70.2 million for development of the engine for the F11 aircraft.

Camp Blaze Fazed Arson

SANTA FEZ, Calif. (AP) — Fire raced through the administration building at the University of California at Santa Cruz early today, destroying about two thirds of the $3 million structure. Authorities said the blaze may have been set.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started near the second floor office of Chancellor Dean McHenry, which was destroyed along with many university records.

The building was involved in flames so fast we felt it had to be set," said David Alisp, a fire captain at the scene.

Punchy Pachyderm

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — This 3,000-pound baby elephant at the Albuquerque Zoo, got in a fight with her roommate. The result was an injured head and a broken leg.

Gene Gonzalez, 38, was preparing to operate on the baby elephant, Tia, after Tia received a deep gash near the base of the neck.

But the elephant, groggy from tranquilizers, pitched forward and pinned him against a wall. Gonzalez suffered a dislocated right knee and a bruised arm.

Both keeper and elephant were reported doing well today.

Lottery Will Pass, Collins Tells GOP

House Minority Leader Francis J. Collins predicted last night that "a lottery bill will be enacted in Connecticut in the next 45 days," and that "it will pass by large margins in both the House and Senate."

Party Plans To Sponsor Four Interns

He declined to predict whether or not the Connecticut Republican Party will be approved this year. "It appears to have wide appeal in the state and in the General Assembly, but I don't want to guess what will happen at this point," he said.

Firemen's Project

Andover Volunteer Fireman Kirk McKinney demonstrates the efficacy of the fire extinguishers being sold by the Fire Department as a service to townspeople and a fund-raising project.

Gaffney Aim GOP Control Of Assembly

J. Brian Gaffney of New Britain, in his first public appearance since being elected Republican state chairman, said in Manchester last night that the party's goal is to win control of the state legislature.

Right To Compete

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A women's liberation organization has won the right for three girls, two aged 10 and the other 11, to compete in the Soap Box Derby in Fayetteville on May 11.

Collins Reappointment

Collins spent some time on the steps of the state following his reappointment to the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Have Vote Power

"This session is unlike previous sessions," he insisted. "Even though we don't have a Republican legislature, we do have a Republican governor."

Bolton Study Group Proposes Addition to High School

A preliminary meeting of the Bolton Study Group established by the Board of Education to study an addition to the high school was held last week.

Those present expressed the feeling that an addition to the high school should be given top priority in the town's construction program.

It was felt that the facility should provide seating for at least 300 as a cafeteria and should convert into an auditorium.

The group felt that additional storage space should also be included in the plan, as well as at least one music room for both music education and dramatics.

A stage for dramatics and music presentations was also suggested.

William H. Bolton, chairman of the study group, said that the study group will be held until the summer of 1972.

Students will operate the program during free periods and will go to their class or club activities.

Items that will be offered during the first week will be beef, ham and cheese grinders.

Those foods which were popular with the students will be made to order.

More Changes in Works On Social Security Benefits

By EDMOND L. BRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chances are 10 to one that you're involved with Social Security. The program has 42 billion dollars and does close to a $40 billion annual business. There's a good chance also that you will soon be putting more into it or getting more out of it.

That undertaking is the Social Security system, which has grown from an almost timid beginning during the depression of the 1930's into a huge, tax-supported umbrella over more than nine out of 10 persons 65 or older.

Of course, the working people and their employers pay the taxes that hold up the umbrella. Congress, which has added benefits or coverage to the system more than a dozen times since the first Social Security bill was passed in 1935, has done it again.

The benefit increase, raising the income of more than 26 million persons and adding an extra $3.4 billion purchasing power into the still-sluggish economy, is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1971. The recipients will not actually have the cash in hand, however, until June because of the time required to adjust the mammoth computerized payout machinery.

The increased tax bite will be felt only next year and, initially, only by persons earning more than $7,800 a year and their employers. The payroll tax, currently 6.2 per cent each on employer and employee, applies only to earnings up to $7,800. Next year the base goes to $9,000. Later the rate goes up to a top of 4.6 per cent by 1981, but Congress almost certainly will have made more changes by then.

In fact, more changes already are in the works. A better break for widows and for retired persons who continue to earn some money is considered almost certain. And there is much interest in raising the minimum increase, or else a provision for future automatic increases tied to the cost of living.

The 1950 Social Security act provided only for payments to retired workers 65 or older, and only those who had been in commerce or industry. It imposed a 1 per cent tax on earnings up to $3,000. The first benefit payments were to be made in 1961.

But even before the first benefits flowed Congress liberalized the system, providing for payments to aged widows, widowers and children of deceased workers, and moving the first payouts up to 1960. The average payment that year was $22.10 a month for an individual. Recipients totaled 113,000.

By 1970, there were 26,230,000 beneficiaries. The average individual monthly payment now is $131. A 65-year-old wife gets, in addition, 50 per cent of her husband's basic benefit.

Successive changes have extended the coverage of the system, taking in many farm employees, domestics, self-employed professionals such as doctors, clergymen, employees of nonprofit organizations and, on an optional basis, employees of state and local governments.

Now the system embraces nearly 94.5 million workers, more than 6 out of 10 jobs in the country. The only large groups omitted are federal employees, who have their own retirement and health system, and some state and local government workers, similarly covered. Of the persons reaching 65 in 1971, 90 per cent are eligible to receive cash benefits from Social Security.

Besides, broadening the coverage, Congress repeatedly raised benefits—and taxes. In addition, it created whole new components of the system. Thus in 1966 retirement for the first time was provided for workers disabled before reaching pension age. And in 1969, after years of argument, Medicare, the plan under which Social Security pays much of the health care expenses of elderly retirees, came into being.

The family insurance factor of Social Security, the protection guaranteed to wives and children in case of a breadwinner's death, now reaches 95 out of every 100 children under 18 in the country. Social Security says, and is equivalent, to insurance with a face value of more than $1 trillion.

From the start, the financing of Social Security has caused controversies. There was a sentiment for a three-way split of the cost among employers, employees and the general funds of the Treasury. But President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his advisers decided the system had a better chance of being financed. So the payroll tax on worker and employer has been used ever since, with minor general fund infusions to take care of special groups.

Congress and Social Security actuaries alike have insisted that the rates set, and reset from time to time, have produced a sound fund, capable of meeting foreseeable obligations. The price, however, has been steeply mounting payroll taxes, not only paying for current outlays of the system but building levelers—are what—some economic doctors are ordering. Normally the payroll tax is a balance, a restraining factor in the economy. Each year it produces more money than is needed to pay benefits for that year. The surplus goes into trust funds intended to make sure that the system will be able to meet future obligations to its growing number of beneficiaries.

Social Security, obviously, does not keep its surplus in shoeboxes. By law, the funds are invested in government securities. In effect, the government borrows the surplus as fast as it accumulates, paying on each increment an interest rate based on the current cost of borrowing in the open market.

At the end of 1970 the Social Security trust funds totaled $41.6 billion, invested at an average rate of 8.2 per cent. About $2 billion interest for retirement and disability, are expected to earn more than $2 billion interest during the year.

When the President makes up his annual budget, should he let it in with other receipts the yield of the payroll tax and benefits outlays along with other expenditures even though Social Security is, in a real sense, distinct from other government operations? Since midway in the Lyndon B. Johnson administration this has been the case, he has argued over, mainly because the result is to show smaller budget deficits than would have resulted from the old system of separating trust funds operations from the general operating budget.

Economists say the "unified budget" provides the best measure of the government's role in either stimulating or restraining the economy, because it reflects the total amount of money the government takes out of the economy and the total it puts in through spending and grants. But old-line fiscal conservatives like Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee, say that such a budget is deceitful, and dangerously so.

If Social Security piles up a $3.5 billion surplus and the government promptly borrows it, and spends it, Mahon argues, the surplus should not be used to reduce the government's debt. He says, continues to be an obligation the government may have to pay some day, and by recording the transaction in a way that makes the deficit appear smaller, the government puts the public into complacency about continued spending above receipts.

The argument is not likely to end soon. Neither is the unified budget practice. Together they help illustrate the major role Social Security still plays in the national economy.

Two of the six opposed the bill to drop the legal drinking age to 18 in Connecticut. A hearing on lowering the drinking age to 18 in Connecticut drew a scant crowd of 12 Tuesday night. It had been scheduled for the House Hall—where 2,000 or so persons attended a gun law hearing 24 hours earlier.

The liquor session was moved to a smaller room, and six persons testified before the Liquor Control Committee.

Coventry Glass Pickup Proposed By FISH Chief

Thanks to the cooperative efforts of FISH and TRASH (the high school Ecology Club) Coventry residents may soon be able to deposit their used glass bottles at various points around town for recycling at the Daville plant.

The Town Council has received an outline proposal from FISH Coordinator Phillip Arns with the stated purpose of accumulating "as much discarded glass as possible from the Coventry community."

Arns is proposing that locations be established where residents could, on a monthly or bi-monthly basis, drop their bottles. Arns would like to "maintain a dependable glass pickup schedule so as to establish the separation of glass in all other refuse as an everyday practice of the town residents."

Such a program would also eliminate the need to bury glass containers at the town dump. Arns pointed out.

The system could also provide the town's volunteer and service organizations with method of supplementing their revenue while performing a civic function. This would be accomplished by the various organizations taking turns on policing and supervising the drop-off locations, and actually carting the glass off to Daville.

Builder Wants MHA To Finish Project

The Manchester Housing Authority's months-old battle to get completion of the Mayfair Gardens project continues, as efforts to iron out the legal entanglements, Atty. Vincent Diana, the MHA chairman, reported last night.

Diana told commissioners at completion by June 10 of last month that the MHA season year.

Though the problems drag on, the project will be formally dedicated at an outdoor ceremony May 15 at 11 a.m.

In other business last night, MHA Executive Director Leon Endovits reported that the Mayfair Gardens project has been approved by the Planning Board and Trust Co. 24 own subcontractors and First National Bank of Boston, Diana said.

The chairman said he categorically refused the monetizing procedure, but that the company officials "view the project as a complete and they will not send any workmen back on the job."

Because of these attachments, the MHA is holding back $113,000 of the $268,000 total contract price, pending settlement of the claims.

Diana said company officials told him they are having difficulty getting release and have secured verbal agreement on a few and want the MHA to agree to immediate "piecemeal" release of funds as the individual claims are settled.

He said the MHA counsel, Atty. Herbert Fernald, advised that the MHA could give individual approval only if the architect certified that the contractor has reached certain performance standards.

A letter seeking that certification was sent to the architect, Diana said, but he refused it and threw the ball back to us."

In another effort to iron out the problems, Diana announced the MHA and the architect will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. with area officials of HUD at HUD's Hartford offices.

Total attachments against the contractor amount to more than the $118,000 holdback by the MHA, Diana pointed out. "We have to try to resolve this thing," he stressed. "There are many small subcontractors who've been left in a lurch."

Joseph Rossetto, assistant contracting officer, reported that little work on the project has been accomplished and that he has not seen the Martinez job Electedors' list totals 23,877, with 9,208 Democrats, 8,678 Democrats and 6,001 unaffiliated.

The Democrats hold a 530 lead in "Regular Electedors" and was originally scheduled for a 17 lead in "Federal Electedors."

Weiss Says Works Plan Only Essential Projects

In the preface to his proposed six-year Capital Improvement Budget, Town Manager Robert Weiss recommends a program for essential improvements in the town, but he says that a program largely servative amount especially made up of road and sidewalk when compared to long improvements, those he calls standing needs of the town.

"unpopular but necessary" in the preface. He said that a specific program would not be worked up until there is some reaction from the board.

"I am recommending a re-orientation of our physical turn to the voters with a less plant count, but a more ambitious program of essential services with a load they could improvements," Weiss says in his preface. He continues, "The town simply cannot meet its interest rates a 'favorable co-

Day Treatment For Disturbed Program Topic

Manchester Auxiliary to Child and Family Services of Connecticut will meet next Wednesday at the Davidson and Leventhal Community Hall at Manchester Shopping Park.

Miss Gloria Bailey, director of the agency's Day Treatment Services program; and George Durham, supervising teacher for the program, will speak on "Day Treatment for Severely Disturbed Children." The program, which is used at the Children's Village in Hartford, is one of the few in the country which has been successful in treating children who are unable to communicate or relate to people.

Miss Bailey, a psychiatric social worker, received her BA degree in education and psychology from Harrington (R.I.) College and her masters degree in social work from the University of Connecticut School of Education. Before joining the agency's staff in 1966, she was a foster care caseworker with the Rhode Island State Welfare Department.

Durham, who has been with the agency since 1968, received his BA degree in education from the University of Michigan and his MA degree from the University of Connecticut State College. He has taught in Oskana, Calif.; Yokohama, Japan; and Zaragoza and Seville, Spain.

A special invitation to attend this meeting has been extended to the Manchester Junior Women's Club, the Glastonbury Auxiliary to Child and Family Services, and members of agencies working with children.

Mrs. Robert Healy is in charge of arrangements for the event. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. William's staff and members of the hospitality committee.

Tree Planters Have a Reason

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The city supervisor of horticulture started getting interested in February from fourth graders who wanted to plant a tree.

The youngsters' arguments convincing. "Trees breathe out oxygen which is what we breathe in," they said.

"You shake your finger when it's hot," chousmate Kelly Piper added in another letter.

"The world would be an unhappy place without trees," said Dickson wrote.

The 8-year-olds from the Westlake school raised $40 from their after-school flower sale and used it to buy and plant a coral tree, famous for its beautiful flowers.

Passover Explained

Passover, which begins on the eve of the 14th day of the Hebrew Month of Nissan and continues for eight days, is a happy and joyous festival. It is also called "Zman Herveenu—Season of our Liberation," since its origin is connected with what may be the most far-reaching event in Jewish history—the liberation from bondage in Egypt about 3,100 years ago.

It was this liberation that led to the Hebrews becoming a self-dependent people; to their receiving of the Torah (Five Books of Moses) and settlement in the land of Israel, then called Canaan. The term "Passover" is explained in the Bible as the Hebrews' escape from the clutches of the Egyptian Pharaoh, because the Lord passed over the homes of the Israelites when He smote the first-born of the Egyptians with the last of the ten plagues. The Hebrew word for Passover is the name given to the Paschal Lamb which was sacrificed to the Lord the night before the Israelites left Egypt.

Passover also commemorates the harvesting of the spring crops. Jewish tradition would make a pilgrimage to the Temple in Jerusalem to offer the first fruits of the season into the Lord. This offering is called the "omer." Because of the season's association with the spirit of spring and rebirth, an integral part of the holiday atmosphere.

The Passover theme, stressing as it does, liberty and freedom, has served as an inspiring example for all peoples engaged in the struggle for freedom. So great is its importance that the episode of the Exodus from Egypt is included in the daily prayers, in the Kiddush (sanctification) for the Sabbath and holidays and is also contained in the first of the Ten Commandments. This emphasis and repetition is purposeful. It attempts to teach, as is stated in the Haggadah (Book of Passover) that in every generation one must look upon himself as if he personally had come forth from Egypt.

In this concept one is made aware that freedom is not acquired at any one specific time. It must be continuously fought for and zealously guarded. The Passover holiday begins with Jews of their humble beginnings as slaves in Egypt, and in so doing gives the Jewish people the world over the hope that they, too, can rise and become free.

Passover services at Temple Beth Shalom will begin tomorrow at 8 p.m. and will continue on Saturday and Sunday services will be at 10 a.m.

Board Accepts Resignations, Earmarks Appropriations

The Board of Directors Tuesday night accepted the resignation of Lyman B. Hoops as chairman and as a member of the Recreation and Leisure Commission, since the resignation of Fred Bilal and Scott Clandanel from the Citizens Advisory Committee. Clandanel was named as successor to Hoops.

Mayor Farr placed Hoops as chairman of the Recreation and Leisure Commission, since the resignation of Fred Bilal and Scott Clandanel from the Citizens Advisory Committee. Clandanel was named as successor to Hoops.

Director Donald Wells said the board approved the resignation of Lyman B. Hoops as chairman and as a member of the Recreation and Leisure Commission, since the resignation of Fred Bilal and Scott Clandanel from the Citizens Advisory Committee. Clandanel was named as successor to Hoops.

Terrorists In Vietnam Set Off Blast

Bien Hoa March 15, the day of the alleged murders, and is now in the Army jail at Long Binh awaiting trial.

The Army spokesman said a grenade exploded in an officers' quarters about 1 a.m. The two dead officers were 1st Lt. Thomas Deliva, of Mechanicville, N.Y., and 2nd Lt. Richard Hagan of Dallas, Tex., the spokesman said. 1st Lt. Peter B. Higgins was wounded in both legs and was taken to Army hospital but later returned to duty.

All three officers along with Smith were assigned to Bravo 1st Battalion, 19th Air Cavalry Division based at Bien Hoa.

The charges were lodged following a lawfully apprehended and assault of a police officer.

The charges were lodged following an Article 32 investigation. The Army's equivalent of civilian grand jury action.

Coast Guard Reservists Defended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration today defended its proposal Wednesday to phase out Coast Guard reservists who would take over port security in time of war despite Navy testimony that no other force would be readily available for the job.

But Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe told a House subcommittee the final decision will be up to Congress and promised to study the Navy testimony with an open mind.

At the same time Volpe conceded he could be faulted for not following Congress' mandate to keep the reserve force above 15,000 men, but said Congress' mandate was not clear.

"I am informed that conditions of general mobilization for conventional warfare or large-scale sabotage in and around our home ports are highly unlikely," Volpe told the House Armed Services subcommittee. If the military did occur, Volpe said, other Coast Guard reservists, Navy reservists and active Navy and Coast Guard personnel all would be available to take over the port security mission.

He acknowledged President Nixon's decision to phase out the Coast Guard Selected Reserve, which is trained for port security, by June 30, 1972, to cut costs was opposed by the Navy, Coast Guard and Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Vice Adm. Dick H. Gulm, deputy chief of Naval Operations for Manover, told the subcommittee earlier the Navy does not have the manpower or expertise to train a force for port security and that it would cost the Navy more than the Coast Guard to do so.

Volpe said when he was informed by the House committee last March 30 that he was not following Congress' mandate to keep the Coast Guard Selected Reserve above 15,000 men he ordered renewal of recruiting to retain that force.

But he said while Congress had authorized a force of not less than 17,500 such reservists, it appropriated money for only 15,000.

Volpe said it was because of this confusion and his knowledge that the President intended to request phasing out the Selected Reserve anyway that he let the force slip below the 15,000 level to just over 13,000.

He said the force has now been restored to 15,000 pending Congress' decision on phasing out the force.

Andover Reading Programs Reviewed On Fifth, Sixth Grade Levels

The Board of Education's Tuesday night meeting, the fifth and sixth grade teachers at the Andover Elementary School presented a review of the reading programs in those grades.

Mrs. Marsha Hilsenrad, fifth grade teacher, said that the class is generally divided into three groups as far as reading is concerned, the average reader, the below average reader, and the above average reader. She stated that although every attempt is made to provide a personal reading program, the three broad categories are used as basic guide-line divisions.

Mrs. Hilsenrad said that when youngsters come into the fifth grade, they begin to expand their vocabularies considerably, study the formation and uses of prefixes, suffixes, syllable work and other word forms. Before they are ready to take on this kind of work they must be comfortable with their reading, and the primary target at the beginning of the year is to motivate the young readers to read.

This can be done in many ways, using games, songs and other methods of instruction.

Because of the coming Earth Week activities, Mrs. Hilsenrad has chosen to read a number of particular stories in the readers which refer in some way to the preservation of nature, conservation and other ecological matters.

Since the school will design a number of posters for Earth Week, Mrs. Hilsenrad is also correlating this portion of the reading with the poster-making program.

In this way, the teachers hope the children have a strong interest in exploring these matters. The youngsters begin first to realize the necessity of knowing how to read in order to find anything out, and then to realize the pleasure of reading itself.

Accumulation of Texts
 She pointed out that over the years, the school has accumulated many different sets of basic readers and a number of books. These, too, are put to good use, for what is outdated and boring to one youngster is stimulating to another. These texts are available for extra reading for the youngsters, and they are used to supplement those found in the current textbooks.

Mrs. Hilsenrad stated that at this level the youngsters must be able to read and understand, have read, interpret ideas, identify details, gain comprehension and be able to express their thoughts. They learn the origin and derivations of words, and how to use them in their present meanings.

One of the learning tools used is the bibliography. This is a list of books, articles, etc., which the teacher uses to supplement the reading materials.

Ceylon Bombs Rebel Havens

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon air force planes bombed insurgents holding out in a Newa of India reported.

In a dispatch from the border, the agency said one of its correspondents talked with a leader of the Bengali independence forces in the area and he said: "The tide has now turned in our favor. We stepped in the bud Pakistan's attempts to send gunboats from China port."

Indian intelligence reports also have said that the East Pakistan forces were shelling naval gunboats in the river ports of the rebellious province.

The Indian news agency said one of the leaders of the East Pakistan forces is Sheik Nasiruddin, a younger brother of Sheik Mujibur Rahman, the Awami League leader reported to have been arrested two weeks ago by the Pakistani army.

"Though I have, Sheik Nasiruddin has proved himself a leader," a fellow officer told the agency.

All India Radio said the army troops from West Pakistan were experiencing logistical problems because of a breakdown in road, rail and river communication.

It said several documents left behind by the rebels were being used to recruit reinforcements.

The Indian radio said East Pakistan officers and soldiers were being withdrawn from naval and merchant ships because they were no longer trusted by their superiors.

The Pakistan government radio broadcast documents it said it had seized from the rebels, including a list of names of persons who had been ordered to carry out operations in the area.

In another broadcast, the radio said that the rebels were being used to recruit reinforcements.

American League Roundup: Short of Plate by One Foot

Carlos Almost May-ed Home Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Carlos May, then again, he may not. Touch home plate that is. The rest of the Chicago White Sox went the way home and they took the route 18 times Wednesday while sweeping the Oakland A's 6-0, 12-4 in the first opening doubleheader in major league history.

Carlos almost May-ed it. He neared 300 of the 300 feet around the bases without the ball into the seats. The last foot proved elusive. So did the plate. Carlos stepped over it and merrily continued on his way to the dugout.

"I knew I missed it," he confessed. "I was too busy shaking hands."

Catcher Gene Tenace spotted the booby-appeal to umpire Jim Odum and Carlos suddenly went from three-run homer to two-run triple.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore edged Washington 3-2, Minnesota blanked Milwaukee 4-0 and California trounced Kansas City 3-0. Boston, Cleveland, Detroit and the New York Yankees were not scheduled.

WHITE SOX — The White Sox, who blazed their way through spring training, got Manager Chuck Tanner off to a sparkling AL debut with their twin win. They beat the Orioles 4-0 deficit in the opener—8al Bando slammed a three-run homer for the A's—while Melton and Walt Williams homering and tied the score in the seventh on center fielder Rick Monday batted the ball.

Jay Johnstone's homer got the Sox started in the nightcap and May's home-triple made it Johnson and Boog Powell and 3-0, Oakland caught up in the fourth but Mike Andrews delved and a two-run tie-breaking whipped the Senators for the double in the fifth and a grand slam by Melton highlighted a five-run sixth.

ORIOLES — SENATORS — The world champion Orioles opened their season on a triumphant note, although they had to wipe out a 2-0 Washington lead, built on RBI singles by Joe Foy and Elliott Maddox. Mechanical breakdowns kept the Orioles from scoring in the first inning—only to pace the Twins.

Los Angeles' Steve Garvey opened with a follow-the-leader affair as Steve Evers topped the 50-day feature. At the Waterford Speed Bowl, a non-association track Jerry Glanville won the 20-lap main event and the 100-lap sprint. He holds the one lap record at 87.444 mph or 20.6 seconds. Maynard Troyer, who flipped at Daytona International Speedway during the running of the 500, is back on the racing circuit again. Troyer driving a Ford, finished 20th last Sunday in the Atlanta 500. He received serious head injuries in the 800 accident. From NASCAR headquarters in Daytona Beach, Fla., President Bill France has sent out word that all circuit competitors, from hobby class to grand national, will have the approved window screen on the drivers' side, effective May 1.

Flood Loses Court Fight, No Surprise

BALTIMORE (AP) — Curt Flood didn't make any progress in his $1.1 million suit against the owners of the Philadelphia Phillies, but he earned another $11.1 million by going against the Baltimore Orioles.

Just before taking the field against the Orioles, the $100,000-a-year outfielder said he learned he had lost another battle in his antitrust suit.

"We anticipated that," Flood said of a decision by a three-judge U.S. circuit court of appeals in New York which upheld an earlier dismissal of Flood's claims by Federal Judge Irving B. Cooper.

"We knew that no lower court would overturn the Supreme Court decision," Flood said.

Flood claims he was forced into "peonage" by baseball's reserve clause system, but the written appellate decision by Judge Henry J. Friendly said Flood "retains the option not to play baseball at all."

"We readily acknowledge that plaintiff is caught in a reserve clause system, but the written appellate decision by Judge Henry J. Friendly said Flood "retains the option not to play baseball at all."

National League Baseball Roundup

ALOU STAYS IN SHAPE ON BENCH, RESPONDS WHEN CALLED TO PLAY — NEW YORK (AP) — Just because Jesus Alou is sitting on a bench, it doesn't mean he's sitting still.

"I try to stay in shape, who knows what will happen," says the Houston Astros' outfielder who's in an unaccustomed reserve role this season.

It happened Wednesday night for Alou against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The St. Louis Cardinals crushed the Chicago Cubs 14-3 and San Francisco dumped San Diego 7-3 in the other National League games Wednesday. The grounds postponed the Montreal-NY contest.

Dick Dietz, Ken Henderson and Willie Mays unloaded homers and Gaylord Perry after Jim Wynn sprained his back while at bat. The new corner delivered three singles off Dodger ace Tom Seaver, and delivered two in the fourth and single in a six-run sixth for St. Louis.

Southpaw Steve Carlton, a 19-year-old rookie, checked out of a Red rally in the sixth with one out and a man on base. Billy Williams got Chicago's leadoff with a two-run shot in the eighth.

RSox Sport Victory Smiles Starting Long Road Trip

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, still sporting victory smiles, moved into Cleveland today for the start of a nine-game trip which also will include visits to Washington and Detroit.

The Red Sox, who launched their season with a 5-1 victory at home against the New York Yankees Thursday, named right-hander Tommy Seaver to open the three-game series with the Indians.

Cleveland, bombed 8-2 by the opener against Detroit, had Sudden Sam McDowell waiting for fire-balling southpaw, had a 20-12 record last season.

Boston Manager Eddie Kaeko hoped that Seibert would continue to pitch the way he did in pre-season exhibition games. The veteran hurler, who had a 15-4 record, capped an excellent spring with a run-going victory over the Yankees last week-end.

The Cubs have been practicing regularly for three weeks and hope to improve on last year's 6-8 record. The Cubs are in a problem. Impressive data has been Whitey Jenkins behind the plate. The former Boston Red Sox High School player possesses a fine arm and should be one of the Cubs' mainstays at the bat.

The rest of the infield looks like this: Ron Stominsky Tom Trasko in the outfield.

World Swim Record Set By Female

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — There isn't much of a race of only 13 swimmers in the world's longest swimming race. The 100-yard butterfly, by breaking the record of 57.4 set just a week before by her teammate, Alice Jones, 18, with a clocking of 57.4. That was in the Wednesday afternoon qualifying.

It was no fluke because Deena came back in the finals with a 57.4 time.

In both races, Miss Jones was second, timed in 57.7 and a final 57.8.

The listed record of 58.5 set by Sharon Rodden in 1965, was one of the oldest in the AAU books.

Deena, who has been swimming since she was 10, does not have the short course which is the 25-yard pool at Washington State University. The current meeting is the National AAU men's and women's Short Course Swimming Championships.

The youngster started off in her favorite event, the 100-yard butterfly, by breaking the record of 57.4 set just a week before by her teammate, Alice Jones, 18, with a clocking of 57.4. That was in the Wednesday afternoon qualifying.

1 Veterans Back, Tribe Hopes High

By DEAN YOST

Talk at Manchester High School is that the 1971 Indians' baseball team will be state champs. Doing a little crystal ball gazing, they may not be wrong. Veteran Coach Harold Parks has 11 lettermen returning from last year's 6-8 club.

Veteran outfielder Jim Jackson is questionable with Jackson and Fred Ellis strong candidates for All-American honors. Ellis is hobbling around on crutches as a result of trying to block a foul ball during practice. It is reported that he'll be ready for the Tribe's season opener Friday, April 16 against Bristol Eastern, away.

Also on the injury list is centerfielder Roger Dalbar and flashy outfielder may need an operation on his ankles after an accident during a soccer match last fall.

The pitching staff is comprised of four strong hurlers. Brad Steiner and hard-throwing Jim Blanton loom to be the two most wins with the Tribe. Al Noke also seeing some mound duty.

First base position is wide open with two junior left handers battling for the sack along with Steiner. Al Rodenas, up from the junior varsity, and Don Day, Commissioner Jack Delp's transfer student from East Catholic, are prime candidates.

The 6-foot-9 center also was named to the All-Star team in the process and New York's Rick Barry being the only player from the east as at March, with Noke covering shortstop and Belesano year's squad.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING DEPT. HOURS
8 A.M. to 4:30 P.M.

COPY CLOSING TIME FOR CLASSIFIED ADVT.
4:30 P.M. DAY BEFORE PUBLICATION
Deadline for Saturday and Monday is 1:30 p.m. Friday

PLEASE READ YOUR AD

Classified or "Want Ads" are taken over the phone as a convenience. The advertiser should read his ad the FIRST DAY IT APPEARS and REPORT ERRORS IN WRITING TO THE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT. If the advertiser does not correct or qualified insertion for any advertisement and then only to the extent of a "make good" insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by "make good" insertion.

Pardue Remains On Critical List After Shooting

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—John R. Pardue Jr., shot down in a desperate attempt to escape from federal lockup, remained in critical condition Friday at a Bridgeport hospital nearly 24 hours after emergency surgery.

Pardue was shot by three men who fired from about seven feet by a young guard as he leaved a heavy caliber, sawed-off rifle at a marshal who is the guard's father... A hospital spokesman said his condition early Friday remained critical and the prognosis guarded—the same report was issued after a long Thursday afternoon operation.

Pardue's pretty wife, Nancy, was in custody under $200,000 bond, charged with aiding and abetting attempted escape. Authorities said she smuggled the gun into the three-story lock-up of the Federal Building.

It was, authorities said, her second bid to help her 26-year-old husband shoot his way to freedom. She was free on $50,000 bond for allegedly trying to smuggle a .45 caliber pistol to him during Holy Week last year.

Mrs. Pardue was found shortly after the Thursday shooting in a car parked by a motel a block away from the court. She said she was afraid "he was going to wipe us all out."

"I just had to stop him," said Anthony DiStasio III, a University of New Haven student who works as a part-time guard for the government.

Shortly after the visit between Pardue and his wife ended, Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal Anthony DiStasio III said he was afraid that Pardue, armed with a sawed-off rifle allegedly slipped to him earlier in his cell by his wife, would take his father, Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal Anthony DiStasio Jr., as a hostage.

Young DiStasio fired five shots at Pardue as he fled in his truck Thursday morning. Pardue, who did not fire a shot, was reported in critical condition at a Bridgeport hospital Friday.

Pardue, 28, was on trial in federal court here in connection with a bank robbery and series of bomb blasts in Danbury last year. The escape attempt occurred as he was being led to the courtroom, and the judge declared a mistrial after the shooting.

DiStasio said he was in the cellblock with his father and two other officers when Pardue made his bid for freedom.

He said he was in the process of opening a door leading to the stairwell through which Pardue would go to the courtroom when he heard Pardue say, "Freeze."

"Although I never knew him to kid before, this time I thought he was serious," DiStasio said.

Two committees were considering the proposal, which is backed by insurance interests and opposed by the legal profession. They voted unanimously in joint session Thursday to set up a one-year study of the plan.

The sponsor of the no-fault insurance bill promptly vowed to seek enough votes to pry the legislation out of committee and subject it to floor action.

Sen. Joseph I. Lieberman, D-New Haven, predicted his bill would pass—save Connecticut residents $40 million in insurance premiums.

Warning Renewed On Candy Eggs

HARTFORD (AP)—Chocolate Easter eggs containing metal shavings are being sold throughout Connecticut and should not be eaten, State Summer Protection Commissioner Barbara Dunn said Thursday.

The problem is even more severe than indicated in earlier warnings about the eggs, Mrs. Dunn said after she had some of the candy tested at the state laboratory in New Haven.

The earlier warning had cited chocolate eggs wrapped in foil and sold in one pound plastic bags. The eggs containing metal shavings, according to the original warning, were sold only in this kind of package and were labeled "made in Belgium."

They were imported by the Frankford Candy and Chocolate Co. of Philadelphia.

This information was incomplete, Mrs. Dunn said after learning the result of state testing.

She said she found contaminants also being sold in other kinds of containers and warned against them. The commissioner also notified federal health officials of the danger.

The chocolate eggs with metal shavings were in a package with other kinds of chocolate. The box was marked "Bunnies of Oz." One of the eggs was in this 5 1/2 ounce box, Mrs. Dunn said.

Tests so far indicate only the eggs wrapped with metal shavings were found to contain lead. The shavings-shaped chocolates tested proved safe. But the warning against the eggs should be extended beyond those sold in the packages mentioned in the original notice, she said.

"I don't care how it's packed or wrapped," Mrs. Dunn said. "They should not be eaten or sold."

Mrs. Dunn said it is impossible to determine if the eggs are being sold in the state.

White House and the Senate's top Republican have split publicly on whether President Nixon has indicated a target date for withdrawal from Vietnam.

Sen. Joseph P. Kamp, R-Iowa, said he would support a bill to force Nixon to announce a date for withdrawal from Vietnam.

Politburo Ratifies Brezhnev As Chief; Kosygin Demoted

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev was confirmed in the Soviet Union's top job as chief of the Politburo Friday, while Premier Alexei N. Kosygin was demoted to second place.

Soviet Lineup Second Man In Comeback

MOSCOW (AP)—President Nikolai V. Podgorny, who emerged today as the second man in the Soviet power lineup, was an advocate of more consumer goods production when the idea was not popular, a supporter of Nikita Khrushchev's de-Stalinization drive, while Brezhnev is a strong proponent of a return to the old ways.

Podgorny, whose name in Russian means "at the bottom of the mountain," displaced Premier Alexei N. Kosygin in the very definite impression of the party congress.

Podgorny, who was in the top leadership line in 1966, was elected third, behind Brezhnev.

No-Fault To Be Given Year's Study

HARTFORD (AP)—"No-fault" auto insurance will be studied this year but barring major and unlikely reversal, it will not become law.

Two committees were considering the proposal, which is backed by insurance interests and opposed by the legal profession. They voted unanimously in joint session Thursday to set up a one-year study of the plan.

The sponsor of the no-fault insurance bill promptly vowed to seek enough votes to pry the legislation out of committee and subject it to floor action.

Sen. Joseph I. Lieberman, D-New Haven, predicted his bill would pass—save Connecticut residents $40 million in insurance premiums.

The White House reacted initially to Scott's comments with a reference to the President's speech, in which he rejected setting a fixed terminal date.

Ziegler told reporters "I think it would be incorrect to say at this time that the President has a specific date that he feels this plan (U.S. withdrawal) will be completed."

The Pennsylvania Republican made clear his belief that Nixon spoke in a different view in the briefing.

Byrd, who along with House Speaker Carl Albert was one of the two Democrats at the briefing, conveyed a similar impression.

"He (Nixon) did not state a definite date," the West Virginia Democrat said, "but I had the very definite impression."

Insurgents Seen Routing Ceylon Police

Editor's Note: The following dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Ceylon was telephoned to London, but the censor interrupted the call and refused to connect it again.

By MORE ROSENBLUM. COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A short curfew was ordered throughout Ceylon today as some sources estimated insurgent battling the government outmaneuvered the police.

Small, outlying police posts were reported being abandoned as officers fled to larger encampments.

Reliable information was difficult to obtain, but some estimates put the number of insurgents as high as 80,000. The government's security forces total 25,000 men.

Other reports suggested the rebels had 100,000 sympathizers among Ceylon's 13 million people.

Prime Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike prepared a radio appeal "as a woman and a mother" for parents to persuade their sons not to join the rebellion, which is led by an organization of militant Marxist students.

The government said it was extending the curfew to 6 a.m. curfew because Friday was a public holiday. However, informed sources said it was a curfew because Friday was a public holiday.

Penn Central Railroad Says 'Conspiracy' Led to Bankruptcy Court

Specifically, the defendants were accused of: Manipulating their control and power over Penn Central investments, and particularly the rich pension funds.

Manipulating their control and power over favorable relationships which the railroad had with various banks because of large loans made by Penn Central and deposits maintained in the banks.

Exploiting information and knowledge about Penn Central affairs, by virtue of their insider status, for their own private purposes and for the benefit of Penn Central resources for their personal gain.

Their actions resulted in huge financial losses and drove the railroad into reorganization under the federal bankruptcy law.

The giant transportation firm seeks recovery of millions of dollars lost through the "unlawful conspiracy and conduct." No dollar amount was spelled out.

Named in the action were: David C. Bevan, Glenview, Pa., former chairman of the Penn Central finance committee.

William R. Gerstnecker, Philadelphia, former Penn Central treasurer.
