BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—A woman guerrilla opened fire on British troops today and was shot down and wounded, military sources reported.

The shooting occurred as the Irish Republican Army began striking back with bombs and bullets in retaliation for the weekend killing of two women by British troops.

The incident, in which one soldier was wounded, underlined what the British say may be a dangerous new phase in Northern Ireland's violence—the increasing deployment of women and girls by the outlawed IRA.

A storm of riot and protest followed the Saturday killings of 19-year-old Dorothy Maguire and her married sister, Mary Meehan, 30, mother of four children.

They were hit by army bullets as they drove with friends through Belfast's Lower Falls district, an IRA stronghold.

The army insisted that two shots had been fired at soldiers from the car, and that troops were justified in firing back.

Associates denied that the sisters had fired. Gerry Fitt, member of Parliament for the area, said he knew the women and they were not involved in IRA affairs.

This morning's Irish News, a Roman Catholic daily, carried death notices, however, identifying Miss Maguire as a staff officer of Cumann Na Bhan, the IRA women's organization.

The notices were signed by "A" and "B" companies of the IRA's 1st Belfast Battalion. Notices like these are the traditional way of announcing IRA casualties.

This morning's shooting came in Belfast's Andersonstown district.

The army said troops searching houses for arms came under fire at several places.

It added: "At Drummond Gardens, soldiers protecting a search party were fired on by

Agnew Offers Main Speech At Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told a Veterans Day ceremony today that the best way to show appreciation to the nation's war heroes is to back President Nixon "in his pursuit of peace."

In contrast with antiwar demonstrations in the nation's capital, Agnew took the occasion of Veterans Day to ask support of Nixon's handling of the Vietnam war.

The vice president said fighting men in Vietnam have had to pay a higher price than veterans of other wars.

"The nearly 5.5 million Americans who have served in our armed services in the Vietnam war, have in my opinion, paid a higher price than usual," Agnew said. "For fighting in an unpopular war, they have had to bear the brunt of its unpopularity."

Agnew also attacked the slaughter of Vietnamese civilians by the Communists, while referring to the slaying of Vietnamese by Americans at My Lai as an aberration.

"We can show the veterans of Vietnam, and the veterans of our earlier wars, no finer appreciation of the contributions they have made to freedom and to our welfare as a nation, than to assist the President in his pursuit of peace and his efforts to make them the last generation of American war veterans."

Brezhnev in France; Given 101-Gun Salute

By STEPHENS BROENING

PARIS (AP)—Leonid I. Brezhnev arrived in Paris today on his first trip to the West since taking over the leadership of the Soviet Communist party in 1964. French security forces stood on alert for anti-Soviet demonstrations.

Brezhnev, successor of Nikita S. Khrushchev as head of the party apparatus, is here to press the French for a friendship treaty and to develop his image as an international statesman.

President Georges Pompidou greeted him at the airport and Brezhnev was given a 101-gun salute, an honor usually reserved for heads of state.

Brezhnev seems to be emerging as the main spokesman of the Soviet Union in its dealings with the West.

Wearing a dark gray suit with a Supreme Soviet badge, Brezhnev smiled, shook hands with Pompidou and then took the salute of the French honor guard.

There were no speeches, but before getting into the official cortege for the presidential palace Brezhnev waved at a group of journalists and said in his deep, gravelly voice, "Privyet"—Greetings.

Thousands of police and other security officials swarmed around Orly Airport and the approach to the capital. Precautions were the greatest in recent memory for the visit of a foreign leader.

A Zionist student organization called on its members to the up telephones of the Soviet Embassy and other Soviet offices to protest Brezhnev's six-day visit.

A tract called on members and sympathizers to keep a continual stream of calls, going to the embassy, consulate, the airline Aeroflot, Intourist, Trans news agency and other offices. Despite the appeal, business calls were being placed normally to the Embassy during the morning.

Jewish organizations also protested the visit to Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin in Canada.

These groups contend the Soviet Union mistreats its Jews.

As Brezhnev was arriving, about 40 Jewish students occupied the offices of the French-Soviet Friendship Association and hung up about 40 posters calling for a demonstration Thursday and demanding the right for Jews to emigrate "massively" to Israel from the Soviet Union.

The Soviet government arranged live television coverage of Brezhnev's departure from Moscow and his arrival in Paris, something that hasn't been done for a Soviet leader since Khrushchev's days. One of Moscow's most popular TV programs was replaced Sunday night with a documentary on Canada.

Border Towns in India Shelled by Pakistani Units

CALCUTTA (AP)—Pakistani forces shelled four border towns in eastern India with mortars, killing at least five persons and injuring 24 others, Indian officials reported today.

They said the fire from the Akhaura area of East Pakistan, about nine miles from the frontier, was the heaviest in recent border attacks.

The report said four persons, including a 2-year-old girl and her mother, were killed and 20 others injured in the attack Sunday night on Agartala in Tripura state. The shelling also cut off electricity and destroyed a number of buildings. Officials feared more bodies might be found as workers cleared away the rubble.

One woman was killed and four persons injured in the nearby town of Kamalpur which officials said was shelled about the same time as Agartala.

To the north in Assam state, two other Indian villages—Dectall and Montall—reportedly were shelled Sunday morning in the Karimganj sector of the border.

Laird Arrives in Europe, Begins Talks on Defenses

BRUSSELS (AP)—Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today began three days of conferences with America's European allies with a warning against cutting their defenses.

Laird, who arrived from Washington Sunday, told newsmen the prospect of negotiations with the Soviet Union on reduction of forces in Europe had incited European parliaments to cut their forces in advance.

He said this would be a grave mistake and "we should have just the opposite attitude."

Laird praised the European Defense Improvement Program, under which the European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization promised last December to

U.N. Nears Vote on Peking; Race Still Neck and Neck

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats said the race was still neck and neck today as the General Assembly neared a vote on whether to oust Nationalist China from the United Nations. Some said it might end in a tie.

The key issue was an American resolution to make the custer an "important question," requiring a two-thirds majority for passage.

"We think we're going to win that vote," said a spokesman for the U.S. delegation. One diplomat friendly to the American cause figured they had a 58-57 or 58-57 advantage with more favorable votes possible.

However, another friendly diplomat calculated the vote at 59-58 against the resolution or a 58-58 tie. Other assessments were that from 58 to 61 delegations were ready to vote against it and only from 56 to 58 were for it.

Should there be a tie, a second vote would be taken within 48 hours. If the tie persisted, the resolution would fall.

Assembly President Adam Malik of Indonesia was said to hope the vote could come late today. But key delegations believed the voting would start Tuesday.

The "important question" resolution was crucial because the Albanian resolution to seat the Chinese Communists, and oust the Nationalists is certain to get a majority in the Assembly but not a two-thirds majority.

The Albanian resolution was entitled to be voted on first because it was submitted first. But the United States had a motion pending to give its resolution priority.

The United States was also pushing a "dual representation" resolution to offer both the Communists and the Nationalists seats in the Assembly and offer the Communists the Chinese seat on the Security Council.

Peking has said repeatedly that they would have nothing to do with the United Nations as long as the Nationalists remain

Father of Our Country No Liar — But Close-Mouthed on Dentures

By MARGARET SCHERF

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Washington was so close-mouthed about his false teeth he once disguised a dental payment as a hat bill.

Little good it did him.

Dr. Reidar F. Sognnaes, professor of oral biology and anatomy at UCLA, has delved so deeply into Washington's dental problems he was able to report not only about the bill, but also the following in a lecture at the Smithsonian Institution:

Washington suffered his "first obstruction" in 1756 at the age of 23. By 1768 he'd lost all but two teeth and in 1796 he lost his last tooth.

—He paid John Greenwood, "an ivory-turner and instrument maker," $60 for a set of dentures made in 1790. Dr. Sognnaes, making a replica recently, had to pay $100 for the gold plate alone.

—The lower portion of the original set was made of two tusks of elephant ivory while the upper consisted of hippopotamus dentine. Wooden pegs in the dentures "are not incompatible with cherry tree wood."

(The wooden pegs in Dr. Sognnaes' replica do, indeed, come from a cherry tree.)

—Washington's last molar, pulled in 1798, was worn by Greenwood on his watch chain in later years.

—A set of dentures Washington got for his inaugural address in 1793 has a dark stained area which, Dr. Sognnaes said, "Greenwood suspected came from port wine."

Greenwood, he said, suggested the teeth either had been soaked in port wine or the wearer had drunk port wine.

Typhoon Toll in Vietnam: Over 100 Dead or Missing

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—The casualty toll from Typhoon Hester soared to more than 100 dead or missing in South Vietnam today, and the South Vietnamese military command said the five northernmost provinces had been hit by a catastrophe.

Incomplete reports listed 85 South Vietnamese and three American GIs killed, 13 South Vietnamese missing and more than 100 South Vietnamese and 21 Americans injured.

The dead included 33 South Vietnamese aboard a Vietnamese C-47 that crashed into a mountain on the fringe of the storm near Qui Nhon. There was only one survivor.

Tens of thousands were left homeless. Towns and villages were wiped out. Most of the fall crop in the northern provinces was destroyed. Herds of livestock were killed, as much as

Editor Says Soviet Jews Misrepresented

DAVID CALIF (AP)—A Soviet magazine editor says U.S. news media misrepresents the condition of Jews living in the Soviet Union.

What's New With Child and Family Services

Starting on a small scale, Child and Family Services of Connecticut is now placing children in foster family day-care homes. A parent can take his child to a carefully selected family home during the day, and call for the child after work.

This year, the service has added a marked drop in the number of unmarried mothers seeking help. Manchester Director Margaret Parker said more girls are seeking abortions or are keeping their babies, so fewer babies have been put up for adoption.

Community Colleges Get Steele's Strong Support

By JOHN A. JOHNSTON (Herald Reporter)

Robert H. Steele said that he will back any educational legislation before the Congress that provides the greatest benefit for those who need it most. "I assure you that community colleges have my strong support as a representative in Congress," he concluded his address Saturday morning.

Steele's pledge was made in the keynote speech made to the sixth annual conference of representatives from state community college advisory councils. It was held in the auditorium of the Manchester Community College, 410 Main St., campus.

Warning that "in terms of state dollars, 1971-72 is going to be a financially tight year for many public colleges and universities," Steele noted that many observers feel that states have just about reached the end of the letter of higher education support. The colloquy he addressed would seem to be a greater role played by the federal government.

"Tomorrow may mark the beginning of a partial solution to this crisis," the Congressman reported, with the scheduling of Congressional action on the Omnibus Higher Education Act of 1971.

Provisions of the Senate version of the bill, Steele said, among other things would extend existing student aid programs for five years and "authorize $95 million annually for undergraduate facilities grants, with the community and technical colleges receiving 24 to 33 and one-third per cent of a decade, from 600,000 students in 1969 to nearly two million in 1979, there is room and need for greater expansion, Steele commented. He quoted the Charter Commission's estimate of 230,280 more public community colleges by 1980 if all potential students within commuting distance are to be reached.

On the ABC-TV program "Issues and Answers" Sunday, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, said he believes the Pay Board would permit already-negotiated pay hikes for union workers to go into effect retroactively when Phase 1 ends Nov. 13. Woodcock is one of five labor members on the 15-member Pay Board.

Rumfeld agreed the board has the power to allow workers to collect wage increases retroactively, but he would not predict what the tri-partite panel might do.

In New York, The New York Times reported retailers have illegally increased the price of meat as much as 10 cents a pound since the Aug. 15 declaration of a freeze.

Director Expects Balanced Approach In Freeze Decisions

By GAYLORD SHAW (Herald Reporter)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the Cost of Living Council says it "would be an incredible burden" for the Pay Board and Price Commission to rule on every requested salary or price hike during Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic stabilization program.

Instead, says director Donald Rumfeld, he expects the panels to strike a balance between a case-by-case approach and the present all-encompassing wage-price freeze.

Rumfeld stressed in an Associated Press interview that he did not want to preempt any of the board's options.

"We have to recognize that the President created the Pay Board and Price Commission to make the decisions," Rumfeld said. "And I think this is worth understanding. Those who have suggested that things are confusing because there's not a government edict on every aspect of this are wrong. That would involve the Board and the Commission and they would make those kinds of judgments in an orderly way."

Meanwhile, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, called for an outright ban on corporate mergers during Nixon's Phase 2.

Many of the nation's price problems "stem directly from the concentration of economic power in certain industries," Patman said.

Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson predicted that wage and price boards will focus on big industries such as the nation's 50 largest corporations.

Hodgson interviewed on WRC television in Washington Sunday, said he expects the boards to proceed case-by-case with no fixed limits for acceptance of wage-and-price increases.

In his interview, Rumfeld acknowledged that there have been complaints from the business community that businessmen haven't been told precisely how Phase 2 will affect their pricing policies.

"... They will know in good time," Rumfeld said. "The kind of information that the private sector needs to comply with will certainly be forthcoming."

Rumfeld, a former congressman who is retaining his title as counselor to the President while heading the COLC, was asked, "Do you think it would be a lot clearer if a general wage standard were put out rather than developing specific case-by-case standards?"

"If I said yes," he responded, "someone conceivably could take that and go to the Pay Board or Price Commission and say, 'This is what the COLC director thinks.' It is not helpful for the government to seem to preempt options for the board's deliberations."

"A freeze is perfectly clear and simple. It is also unfair—it is inequitable by definition. A case-by-case approach would theoretically be better tailored to personal situations. It would be an incredible burden for the Pay Board and the Price Commission to have to make those kinds of judgments for every single economic activity in this country. Now somewhere in between is where they are going to come out."

On the ABC-TV program "Issues and Answers" Sunday, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, said he believes the Pay Board would permit already-negotiated pay hikes for union workers to go into effect retroactively when Phase 1 ends Nov. 13. Credit Card Profit Bonanza Has Yet to Materialize

By JACK LEVLER AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixty million Americans are using bank credit cards to charge purchases at a rate of about $2 billion a year. But the profit bonanza envisioned by banks is not yet to materialize, and many merchants have become disenchanted.

Some financial sources estimate that banks lost an aggregate $15 million on their credit card operations in 1970 and that they are likely to go even deeper into the red this year.

Difficulty in generating a profit from the proliferating card business is attributed to customer fraud, theft, default on account payments, mismanagement, collusion by merchants and the high cost of processing records of transactions.

The American Bankers Association reports that 9,111 banks are involved in card operations, accepting bank cards is estimated by industry sources at 900,000. Banks stepped into the credit card arena in 1951 on a local basis. In 1966 the operation became national when Bank of America national was franchising its BankAmericard to other banks throughout the country.

Bank cards are used mainly for retail purchases while cards issued by American Express, Diner's Club and Carte Blanche are used primarily for travel, card-generated business did not question the worth of the association, says, "Many smaller retailers in particular, are questioning the worth of the association, feeling that the benefits to them are few, if any."

"During the recent period of inflation, increasing costs and smaller profit margins convinced many that the bank card issued by American Express, card-generated business did not justify the discount rates used primarily for travel, card-generated income inherent in the program.

Monday, October 25

In the present instance, the assumption that any good can come of fighting for a sharper share of a reduced world economic activity is close to folly; the only real good news for the United States economy would be good news for economic conditions in all the other countries, including those which are our acknowledged rivals.

Father than persuade ourselves that we now see, in bad economic news elsewhere, some opportunity to press for a greater relative advantage for ourselves, we would do better to concentrate on trying to find the medicine which will increase the Gross World Product, and make questions of the relative size of the GNP's inside that total seem superfluous.

Toward Perfect Equality

If a compromise solution of the problem should ever achieve acceptance, one would no longer have to guess how to address an envelope to a lady of uncertain marital status.

Instead of taking a chance on "Miss" or a chance on "Mrs," one would simply write "Ms" in front of the name, and that would do for either the single or the married lady.

This, as one might guess, a suggestion from the women's liberation front. It is noted that men are addressed as "Mr." whether they are married or single. Ladies, it is claimed, are entitled to a similar lack of identification of status.

We would decide, in a minute, to go along with the "Ms" solution if we could imagine some way for it to cure the problem over the telephone as easily as it would cure the problem of the address on a letter.

But there is, that we know of, no pronunciation of "Ms" as there is of "Mr." When we have before us a letter signed "Jane Doe" and we want to write back to "Jane Doe" we can easily type "Ms" in front of the name, and send it through the mails.

But suppose we wish to contact this "Jane Doe" by telephone. Do we, when we establish the connection, ask for "Miss Doe" or for "Mrs. Doe"? Or, if we want to ask for "Ms Doe," how do we pronounce it? In practice, we will probably wind up asking for plain "Jane Doe," which sounds rough and blunt and somewhat to families.

The suggestion is that we all artificially create a pronunciation for "Ms" which would come out sounding like "Miz," a sort of slurring somewhere in between "Miss" and "Mrs."

But somehow "Miz" doesn't quite seem to hit the spot, so far as good sound and good taste are concerned.

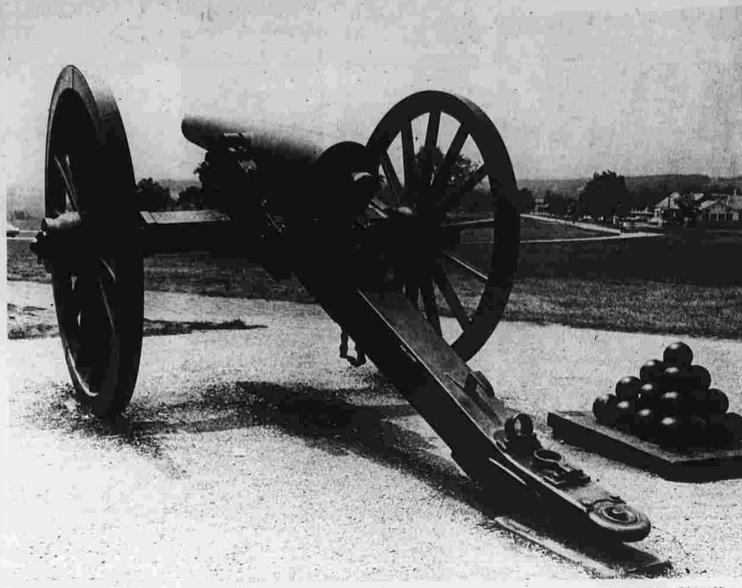

Maybe the ultimate solution should be for the male side of the family to give up its "Mr." so that it could be a brusque word of perfect equality between "John Doe" and "Jane Doe" with nothing to distinguish them as they take their destined evolutionary way toward unisex.

The Wrong Approach

With the concern over welfare tending to polarize within Connecticut, it may be useful to look at the national trend. Just as most people think that the majority of welfare recipients in the state are black, when in fact they are white, the impression of most people is that welfare payments are being reduced throughout the nation, when in fact they are not.

The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, has just completed a survey, requested by Senator Abraham Ribicoff, which shows that aid to families with dependent children was increased this year in 16 states, and cut in six states. There was, however, one change that is significant. In the past, in many states, non-working families with personal income—such as social security—got the same welfare payment as people in welfare families of the same size. The HEW survey showed that benefits under the program of aid to families with dependent children—where families had outside income—were cut in 16 states and raised in ten states.

In about half the states, overall benefits remained unchanged, which reduced the buying power of recipient families in view of the rising cost of living. This, of course, if the key to the present argument in Connecticut is correct, is less skill in arguing that because of unemployment and a high tax burden in the state, welfare payments should be reduced. Other states have taken the position that with unemployment compensation, running cut for many and with inflation a major factor, payments should be raised. Because one out of every ten children in the United States is on welfare, the question is not one that can be lightly dismissed. So while it is permissible to argue that when a state has a surplus it should automatically raise welfare payments, such an approach would be ridiculous. What is needed is a fair payment which allows recipients and their children, to live with as much dignity as possible. This objective can not be obtained by tying the payments to other state deficits or surpluses. MIDDLETOWN PRESS.

Political Parade

WASHINGTON—George McGovern's managers think the press is mistaking the boat on his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. Political reporters, they say, are underestimating McGovern as a candidate. They claim that 2-000 volunteers have enlisted to work for him in the primaries in New Hampshire and Wisconsin, with county-level organizations functioning in two-thirds of the counties in the latter state a full seven months ahead of the primary.

McGovern's Oregon chairman says he has 600 workers in the tri-county Portland area alone, who will conduct a door-to-door canvass for the Senator next month to bring out more supporters.

Even if these claims are slightly exaggerated, there is little doubt that McGovern's field organization in the primary states rivals or exceeds that of any other candidate. But other, more important questions remain to be answered. McGovern may have organized his campaign in the primary states, but he has not yet managed to monopolize the support of the Democratic left.

Harold Hughes and Birch Bayh have dropped out of the race, but Fred Harris is pushing on McGovern's territory and—far more serious—John Lindsay appears to be moving steadily toward an open candidacy.

Politi taken in widely scattered states from New England to the west coast are turning up surprisingly high approval ratings for Lindsay among Democratic voters.

The support is "soft," perhaps reflecting nothing more than the favorable impression of the handsome mayor leaves with those who have seen him in his many appearances on the late-night TV talk shows. But these polls do show that Lindsay, just three months after his switch of parties, is a potentially powerful Democratic contender in such primary states as New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Florida, Wisconsin and California. His entry, which now seems just a matter of time, would hand McGovern a huge—and perhaps insurmountable—problem.

But McGovern is not the only one whose chances are jeopardized by the large field. Muskie, who has been the favorite in many states, is being challenged by the late-night TV talk shows. But these polls do show that Lindsay, just three months after his switch of parties, is a potentially powerful Democratic contender in such primary states as New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Florida, Wisconsin and California. His entry, which now seems just a matter of time, would hand McGovern a huge—and perhaps insurmountable—problem.

For Deceeny and Godliness

To the Editor,

Needless to say, I am appalled at your newspaper's indifferent attitude in reporting public reaction to the recent opening of a local bookstore. It is indeed a most regrettable fact that Manchester residents and Herald subscribers must purchase Hartford newspapers to read all the facts.

Certainly, it does not require a great deal of consideration to see that this most timely issue, no should it attempt to, when simply reporting the news, as is your responsibility.

I have personally given a great deal of consideration to the effectiveness in picketing this store as many have done this week. I am very much convinced that this action alone is quite worthless but I believe that it is high time that decent folk who have enjoyed the privilege of living in a nation abundantly blessed by Almighty God, should come to their feet, declare their convictions and be counted. Our public school reading requires, our television, our movies and our newspapers have gradually become polluted by those who have no regard for decency and Godliness.

How strange it is that those who insist on the freedom for all to read the full publications, those of us who do feel strongly about the presence of a pornography store in our "City of Village Charm" have made every effort to move through our appointed and elected officials and religious leaders in Manchester and on almost every hand we have gotten a "don't want to be involved" attitude.

After spending some time on the Main St. Thursday evening, I feel much like one who followed after Joshua in the conquest of Jericho—completely mindful of our limited ability but confident that "He is able to do exceedingly and abundantly more than we think or ask."

Editor's Note: The Herald will not help "make" news which merely invites more attention to the supposed danger. It will not join a "crusade" to force the moral standards of some people on other people.

Why We Should Worry

To the Editor,

I view with alarm the growing rhetoric concerning the issue of pornography in the town of Manchester, especially in the light of recent empirical findings. For example, the U.S. Commission on Obscenity and Pornography spent two years on research at a cost of nearly one million dollars to study the influence of pornography on human behavior. Empirical facts led this commission to conclude that explicit sexual materials could not be considered to play a significant role in the causation of delinquent or criminal behavior among youths or adults. Rather, they concluded that much of the "problem" regarding materials which depict explicit sexual activity stems from the inability or reluctance of people in our society to be open and direct in dealing with sexual matters.

Within the past five years, five other nations established similar commissions and arrived at essentially the same conclusions: that there is no evidence that explicit sexual materials are harmful to society and legal restrictions which inhibit freedom of the press and speech should be removed.

There still exists, however, a segment of our society for whom facts are not relevant, who cling to some reason or other, to fears, sociologists in this country interpret the reactions of this group as an attempt to reinforce and relate value systems and behavioral norms which are perceived to be in danger of eroding away. Because a number of people will no longer voluntarily subscribe to the system and conform to the norms, an attempt is made to arouse the community in support of the group's values and impose these on the errant ones. Thus pornography becomes "a lightning rod" which attracts a variety of not very well defined status anxieties, and its control permits the hope of a single, and sovereign, solution to a variety of social ills.

It is in this segment of society, for whom facts are not relevant, that we may find the ingredients of a moral crusade. And as students of history are well aware, moral crusades and political repression often go hand-in-hand. It is precisely for this reason that we should worry about pornography.

Sincerely,
John J. Sullivan

Praxis Candidate

To the Editor,

The Manchester school system is faced with many challenging problems in light of our uncertain economy. One such problem is the changing methods of education. The solution to these problems requires creativity, but an illustration of how in handling new concepts.

Paul Greenberg, Democratic candidate for the Board of Education, will bring these skills to our schools. His background and his desire to work to improve our school system will be a real asset to our town. I urge the voters to vote for Mr. Greenberg and help make the Manchester schools the best they can be.

Very truly yours,
Eileen Packard

Our 'Neglect to Print'

To the Editor,

Recently there was an article in "The Manchester Evening Herald" about the reporting of this article the public is losing their belief in the news. Not only has the Herald been obviously biased in their reporting of the M.P.O.A. activities, but they also neglect to print much of the Manchester news. Some nights you can find an article on Toland but only two read about Manchester. You can read about an incident in Manchester or something about the Miss America Pageant, even days after it was over, yet can't read anything about it at the State Capitol involving our own State Senator O'Day when he was attacked by the welfare protesters.

Then there is the story on the new book store on Main St. The Hartford Courant ran a feature article, but the people in Manchester have to pay for advertisements to fight against it, with no help from the paper. Our methods do not agree, at least let our hearts and voices in affirmation against the forces that are in anger or to destroy, but if it should go no further than your desk, I trust it may be used to challenge your own thinking as to the responsibilities that are ours.

Sincerely,
Alton J. Munroe

"The Record"

To the Editor,

Manchester Government under Republican leadership has provided the town with an administration which was orderly in its methods, effective in its decisions, and efficient in its management.

A record of many accomplishments with a minimal tax increase has been pointed out by our candidates and in our advertising. Our candidates have the ability, the energy, and the experience. I feel their performance has earned your confidence and support for the whole Republican ticket on Nov. 2.

Mr. Adler Dobkin

"The Worst"

To the Editor,

I am another citizen who opposes the selling of smut in Manchester. The people are so stupid that you can't get the public roused to act against such an evil, unless the police arrest the evil exists, which means the evil gets advertised for a short time. ### The Candidates Are Saying—

John Thompson — As a life long resident of Manchester and a graduate of the Manchester school system, I am keenly interested in the future of our schools and the quality of education in our town. I believe firmly in the neighborhood concept of schools. I do not believe in suburban living in a specific area should be allowed to attend his neighborhood school. I feel that constant adjustments have to be made in curriculum to keep pace with our changing demands. These changes or adjustments in curriculum should be approached with caution and should be brought into the system only when their educational value has been proven. Whenever changes occur in curriculum, the teaching staff should be given as much in-service training as possible, so that they fully understand the new program and feel comfortable teaching it.

Football Fans Overheat on Way To Greet Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — Being a football fan isn't all being an armchair quarterback—sometimes it involves being an under-the-hood mechanic. That's what a number of Washington Redskins backers discovered when they tried to welcome the NFL team home Sunday in Kansas City. The single service station at the Dulles Airport in suburban Virginia was jammed with overheat cars just a few of those that made it through an eight-mile-long superhighway traffic jam on the highway serving the airport. Police estimated 13,000 to 20,000 people tried to make it, and only 4,000 to 5,000 got through.

Teacher Seeks To Rejoin Fiance

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Miss Priddle, a Richmond, B.C., school teacher, left no stone unturned during the weekend as she tried to enlist the help of Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin in her Ukrainian fiance's emigration proceedings. Miss Priddle, 28, is engaged to Leonid Kostrovsky, 27, a civil engineer who met in Kiev while touring the Soviet Union. ### Agnew Offers Main Speech At Arlington

(Continued from Page One) end at Camp David, expected back in the capital when the coalition stages a candlelight march on the White House around dusk today. Tuesday's antiwar activities will include a memorial service in front of the White House which will finish with an attempt to prevent Nixon with an eviction notice. "The coalition, which calls its entire project 'Nixon Eviction-Phase I,' staged over the weekend a 'People's grammar' investigating U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia. Witnesses at the mock trial claimed Nixon is not ending the war. The coalition said it has not received a permit for Tuesday's demonstration but will march anyway. It said there is no overt intention to disrupt traffic or create other situations that could lead to violent clashes between police and demonstrators but there would be "militant, nonviolent resistance to this order desiring a permit." On Saturday, the Rev. Carl McIntire and some 2,500 persons marched here urging Nixon to win a military victory in Vietnam. American veterans across the nation celebrated their day today with parades and ceremonies reflecting mixed sentiments toward the switch in the traditional Nov. 11 holiday.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars in Lawton, Okla., marched with other veterans organizations-but reluctantly-VFW Commander John B. Larkins said he hoped the Veterans Day observance could be kept at Nov. 11, the anniversary of the armistice that ended World War I. But he said with FR Bill closed off, the three-day week end declared by Congress created an inevitable holiday in this Army town. Congress switched the date of the observance to the fourth Monday in October as part of a series of holiday date changes to provide three-day weekends. Elsewhere, cities held small celebrations to acknowledge the government change but planned larger affairs for Nov. 11. In Chicago, Marine Legion Post 273, which has sponsored Veterans Day observances since 1919, said it will observe the Nov. 11 date. A Marine squad will fire a volley through the city's busiest intersection as it has every year. The volley will be preceded by a parade. "Oct. 25 has no meaning-it's just a reason for some people to take a long weekend," said Joseph Tausig, co-chairman of the traditional legion observance. Other groups in Chicago concentrated on entertaining hospitalized veterans. The biggest such celebration was at Westside Veterans Administration Hospital where several members of the Chicago Bears, pro wrestlers, local television personalities, old-time boxers, politicians, Playboy bunnies and baseball players joined the event. Replacing the traditional parade was a march of antiwar groups. Vietnam Veterans against the War and Chicago Veterans for Peace, through the Loop to Grant Park for speeches. In Dallas, a ceremony at a Veterans Administration hospital marked the day, but Veterans of World War I said they will hold their own ceremony Nov. 11. Detroit veterans compromised and decided to hold their parade Nov. 7, according to Fred Poole, chairman of the parade committee.

More than 150 holders of the Medal of Honor appeared for the observances in Birmingham, Ala. Gov. George C. Wallace presided at a "World Peace Luncheon" and called for U.S. military superiority "in order that any president of the United States, whoever he might be,

Police pushed everyone back to the sidewalk and the parade continued after a five-minute halt. ### Doctor Slain In Boston Yard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The body of a prominent California gynecologist has been found in a yard in what a police detective described as "the most brutal and macabre" slaying he can remember. Det. Sgt. James Roscoe said Dr. Clarence Benson, 44, chief of staff of Sutter Memorial Hospital in Sacramento, had been beaten to death. He said Benson had been killed either late Friday night or early Saturday. The body was discovered in a yard behind a three-story apartment house.

Police said that the physician's watch and wedding ring were missing and that his wallet, with all money missing, was found at the front of the apartment house. They said he had been killed about 25 feet away at the side of the apartment house and dragged to the yard. His eye glasses and some change were found about 20 feet from the body. Benson arrived in Boston Friday night to attend a conference at Hyannis sponsored by the New England Hospital Assembly.

Man Will Face Escape Charge

A Manchester man who struggled free from an arresting officer at the Main St. Friendly's store Saturday evening turned himself in a few hours later and was charged with breach of peace, and escape from custody.

Officer Lawrence Smith said Steven T. Hansen, 21, of 838 Hartford Rd., was yelling threatening obscenities at a youth, outside the ice cream shop and within hearing of several elderly persons. Smith stopped Hansen from driving his car out of the lot, and placed him under arrest. According to the report, Hansen began to struggle and, despite a spray of mace, escaped into the darkness of Center Springs Park, where he was being held. Officer Smith had Hansen's car taken to Police Headquarters, and Hansen showed up about 11 p.m. to claim the auto. Police charged Hansen and placed him in a cell, but he was released. He is scheduled for court Nov. 8.

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli state radio says Washington has proposed negotiations between the U.N. delegates of Israel and Egypt assisted by the mediation of the State Department's top Middle East expert, Joseph J. Sisco. Sisco suggested the delegates move into the same New York hotel, or adjacent hotels if Egypt objects to housing it. The radio said the U.N. settlement to reopen the Suez Canal, the radio's New York correspondent reported Sunday. Cairo in the past has refused Egyptian foreign ministers because the Israeli and Egyptian ministers would be in New York at that time and could get the negotiations going. The radio's Jerusalem correspondent said the proposal was discussed Sunday by the Israeli cabinet, but no decision was reached. The corresponding Israeli officials declined to comment on the report.

College Joins Proxy Fights To Fulfill Social Duty

MIDDLETOWN (AP) — The trustees decided to adopt the President of Wesleyan University's policy of the proxy fight after Wesleyan says the school will receive a report from a study acknowledging "a social responsibility" for its financial interests. As an example to how the university will acknowledge the college voted its General this responsibility by entering Motors Stock last spring in a corporation proxy fight when, over of a measure designed to companies in which Wesleyan make management accountable holds stock follow policies to the public on the questions of which "appear to conflict with pollution, safety and hiring of minority groups. "The questions of social issues as desirable by the university are far too complicated community."

"For the time being we will consider while they are working most concerned with questions of human rights and dignity, environmental control and technological safety," Campbell announced Saturday. The president added that "it is now the policy of the university that we will participate in such contests (proxy fights) and acknowledge a social responsibility for all of our financial investments."

Tolland Junior Club Women Name Teacher 'Woman of Month'

Mrs. Charles Schatz, a long-time teacher at Meadowbrook School, has been selected as the Tolland Junior Women's Club "Woman of the Month."

Combining her monthly award with the national observance of American Education Week, the Tolland Junior Women's Club has paid tribute both to Mrs. Schatz and to her work especially with the half-grade program at the Meadowbrook School.

Mrs. Schatz has taught in the local schools for over 22 years. A graduate of New Britain Teachers' College, she began her teaching career at the old Snipe Lake School in 1929. She was temporarily retired in 1952 when a new rule prohibited married women from teaching. Once the rule was lifted, in 1953 she returned to "teach" in a school remaining there until it closed. She has been in her present position since September 1962.

Her husband, Charles, serves as building inspector for the town and they have two daughters. The arrival of their first grandchild is anticipated any day.

Mrs. Schatz has taught in the special half-grade program since Principal Donald Parker instituted it at Meadowbrook School six years ago.

Troubled by the plight of repeaters, Parker felt no child could attend school all year and learn anything at all. The half-grade puts the child above his former level but not at a level which makes too few for him and removes the stigma of being "kept back."

The half-grade classes are small, never more than 10 pupils, and emphasize individual help in reading, math and spelling.

The program's goal is to help the child adjust so he may attain better social and academic progress. Most of the children involved are of average intelligence or above, yet are progressing as well as they could, either due to illness, physical handicap, or maturity or poor study habits.

Once these students have achieved and mastered success, Mrs. Schatz explains, they are anxious to strive for more. She usually has each child individually three times a day.

The child's confidence grows from competing with himself, equal ability and the chance to participate in class fully every day, the teacher sees the concentration is on the basic learning areas of reading, math, spelling and penmanship.

Children in the half-grades are moved to the main grades any time before January when they prove themselves capable of working on the higher grade.

If they do not move up during that year, they are usually re-tested at the top of the next grade the following year, according to Mrs. Schatz.

A last minute voter registration session will be held Nov. 1 from 8 till 9 p.m. for residents whose voting rights have matured since the Oct. 9 session.

Flag Donated

Mrs. Dorothy Shorten and Mrs. Eleanor Weston have donated a new flag to the Meadowbrook School to replace one which had become tattered from long use.

According to the flag on behalf of fellow students in the kindergarten, first and second grades forms," said the union. "In fact, papers of new regulations imposed because of new regulations imposed since the commissioner took office."

"How can a successful businessman such as Mr. White exercise efficiency, peak performance, as well as respect when he has degraded and strained the client-social worker relationship?" is the union said.

4-H Night

Tolland's Annual 4-H Achievement Night will be held Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the activity building of the Tolland Agricultural Center on Rt. 30 in Rockville.

A new 4-H club is being formed for nine-and-10-year-olds; further information on the club may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Warren Trent, Gehring Rd.

Casualty Toll In Viet Rises To Over 100

troops at Chu Lai are waiting to return to the United States or for transfer to other units still operating in Vietnam.

The storm damage, overshadowed by the deaths of 100 soldiers, was reported by the South Vietnamese command reported that its families mopping up along the Cambodian border after a month of fighting found a North Vietnamese division headquarters base only four miles west of the Fire Base Pace. The enemy base had been abandoned about three weeks ago, a communiqué said, and air strikes were called in to destroy it.

A spokesman said most of the helicopters were not scheduled to be turned over to the Vietnamese but were to be returned to the United States. He said he had seen no helicopters being sent North since the American Division, which had the heavy equipment, is preparing for disbandment next month.

While the toll had to be estimated, it appeared to be heavy. Enemy losses were reported to be 28 enemy troops killed in two clashes in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon. Eight South Vietnamese soldiers were reported wounded. The Cambodian Command reported that its forces suffered moderate casualties in 24 hours of heavy fighting in Takeo province, about 27 miles south of Phnom Penh. Enemy losses were not known.

SAGONG (AP) — The U.S. command announced today that it has increased its strength in an extremely low level of activity in the northern coastal area extending from Quang Ngai province 200 miles up the demilitarized zone.

President Tran Thien Khanh said several cabinet members toured the stricken region. He said he had a stop in Saigon to map out an assistance program for the larger of the two U.S. military units in the area. He said a preliminary survey indicated at least 11,800 people were in need of civilian relief. Presumably it will come from the United States.

More than 100,000 people were reported in high water, including high water, and may dip as low as 170,000, according to Da Nang, according to relief work.

Thou a number of American troops, including many soldiers, were reported to be in the United States. They were mobilized to rebuild bases and return to normal. The telephone also wrecked a procession center, delaying the return of some of the troops.

While much of the U.S. military units were able to return to their bases, some of the 800 South Korean Marines from flooded areas.

The U.S. command said it had no complete figure on damage to U.S. property, but it reported that 75 per cent of the structures at the Chu Lai combat base were destroyed.

RAWALPINDI (AP) — President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan of Pakistan has asked the United States to pay an immediate visit to India and Pakistan to see if he can arrange a mutual withdrawal of forces from the tension-ridden border.

Wolters said that Vietnamese military facilities were damaged even more.

"Vietnamese facilities at Da Nang air base were 50 per cent damaged, and a navy base also was hard hit. Nearly 500 Vietnamese homes, most of them civilian fishing boats, were lost. Extensive damage was reported to government buildings and to rice, banana and sugar cane crops."

The U.S. command said that the withdrawal of armed forces along with their armor and artillery, either to peace time stations or mutually agreed positions.

The president was said to be replying to a letter from U. Thant that he requested earlier this month, but whose contents were not made public.

In his letter Yahya Khan suggested the withdrawal of forces along with their armor and artillery, either to peace time stations or mutually agreed positions.

The American Division is being disbanded as part of President Nixon's withdrawal program, and most of the

Tolland Candidates List Town Priorities

The appointment of an advisory committee to the Board of Selectmen and the reorganization of the Industrial Development Commission to cover all phases of the town's economic development, are two of the active encouragement of community measures included in the "democratic action plan."

The five-point plan has been developed in detail by the Democratic candidates to combat the problems caused by Tolland's great growth during the past decade.

The Democratic team is headed by First Selectman Charles Thiffault, who is seeking re-election and by lieutenant candidate Charles Regan. Regan is presently secretary of the Zoning Board of Appeals and a member of the Board of Finance.

The Advisory Council as proposed by Thiffault and Regan, would provide the Board of Selectmen with "a greater number of citizen opinions on the problems of the town."

The appointment would be made by the first selectman for two-year terms to coincide with local elections.

The committee should be utilized as a special research or research group to aid the selectmen in making particular studies, mostly of a short range nature, including Demographic, Republican and unaffiliated voters.

Represented on the committee would be a cross section of the town's population in age and in specialized knowledge in particular areas such as government, accounting, engineering, farming, education, etc. interests.

Conservation, business and cultural interests would be represented in the working of the advisory committee, according to the Democrats.

Economic Development — "Diversified economic development of the town must receive major attention from town officials during the next two years," Thiffault and Regan declared.

The present Industrial Development Commission should be restructured to include phases of the economic development of the town, according to the candidates. The committee must develop the town comprehensive plan to realize the maximum potential of the town's resources in attracting commerce and utilizing its aesthetic advantages.

The Democrats recommend consideration of cluster zoning in the undeveloped areas of the industrial park, providing green spaces and wooded areas for the enjoyment of employees of the industries located here as well as providing the most attractive facilities possible for the industry.

The greensites also cut down on the industrial appearance of the site, and sound buffers and pollution protection from the nearby highway.

Particular attention should be given to the development of proposed water and sewer lines to serve the industrial park, both in cooperation with the town plan and with the city, completely by the Capitol Region Planning Agency, they said.

All town boards must respect the confidential nature of industrial and economic development activities when paying the way for new industry and business development, they added.

As part of the town's new economic development policy, the Democrats advocated the location of a commuter-based bus service located in Tolland and serving adjoining towns.

Commuter parking lots would be created at Exit 96 and 98 of the Wilbur Cross Highway and could be instituted at Vernon Circle.

This would relieve traffic congestion and parking burdens on the city of Hartford as well as

'Spiritual Void' Brings Billy Graham to Rome

ROME (AP) — The Rev. Billy Graham, the American evangelist, said today a "spiritual void" in Rome made this center of Roman Catholicism ripe for one of his Christian crusades.

At a news conference here, Graham said he had long been invited by Rome area Protestant churches to come to preach and had come to develop plans for a rally in 1972.

However he said he had not been in touch with Vatican officials, and had not sought an audience with Pope Paul VI.

Asked what Catholics might think of his preaching in the Vatican's backyard, the evangelist replied: "In my work, it is tremendous changes are coming with Pope John XXIII. For the first time Catholic people all over the world feel free to come to my crusades."

"When it came out that I was going to Rome, I received many letters from Catholics, including priests, saying they would like to see me."

McCarthy Letter Puts Him in Race

By WASHINGTON POST

ST. PAUL — Eugene J. McCarthy has written a letter to supporters that is tantamount to a formal announcement of his candidacy for president.

"I'm enlarging my staff and intend to establish very soon a formal campaign committee," McCarthy said in the letter, which is to be mailed on Tuesday.

The letter says one key concern "is in an active and positive effort to secure convention delegates with views similar to ours," and it adds:

"This will require involvement in politics in nonprimary states, in those states that have quasi-primaries and those states that have full and open primaries," the former Minnesota senator said.

A source said the letter will be mailed to several hundred thousand 1968 supporters and is expected under settlement entered last year in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia.

Killian explained that the brass mill tube and pipe suit is in Kennedy D. and Juliette M. Martin J. and Louise L. Carroll, property on Ferry Rd. Killian said that the state is seeking recovery from major national corporations.

The damages — on behalf of the state, its municipalities and its citizens — result from violations of antitrust laws.

Undeclared Windsor Eagles, 21-8

By MARC RICK

Dismal was the only way to describe the East Catholic attack Saturday after it was handed a 21-8 drubbing by Windsor.

Led by the heroics of scrambling Sam Tanna the Warriors rolled by their fifth straight victory. A fine effort was turned in by quarterback Steve Rhodes tossed three touchdown passes.

The Warriors drew first blood when Rhodes threw a 30 yard TD aerial to Jon Sanberg after he had eluded numerous would-be tacklers.

Rich Parent's ten run for a two-point conversion and an 8-0 lead.

Tanna again turned the trick in the third period as he found Steve Rhodes for an 18 yard pass. The TD aerial culminated in a two-point conversion which started at the Eagle 37.

The final score for Windsor came with less than four minutes to play on a Tanna to Thoren completion of 13 yards.

The Patriots were forced to punt the game out of reach.

The only score for the local game in the third stanza when Joe Drusolowski connected with Norm Yeater on a 21 yard touchdown pass.

Then again the speedster took a Wiggins handoff, going around the end, and blew by the defense on a 70 yard run, before collapsing in the end zone. The point after was wide but Manchester won its first game by 40-20 margin.

The cigar-smoking coach of Manchester, Wiggins commented, "I can't help but be pleased with their performance when we score more points in one game than we did in all of last season total that we would win."

Looking at the statistics, Manchester called 66 plays, covered 325 yards on the ground, 66 in the air for a total of 411 yards. Rhodes was the game's leading ball carrier with 106 yards. Fleishman ran for 125 yards. Wiggins was 48 in the air for 57 yards with Paul Fryor going 1-2 for nine yards. In the first half of play Manchester had 242 total yards, 185 of which were on the ground. MHS had 15 first downs. Rhodes had 15 first downs. Rhodes had 15 first downs.

Tribe's Offense Explodes, Rhodes, Fleishman Excel

By DEAN YOST

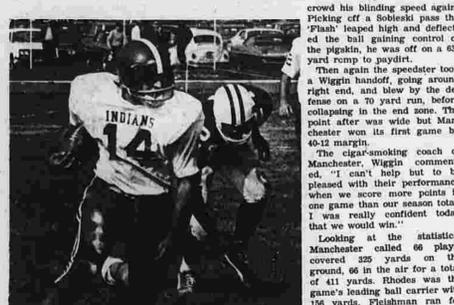

"We got the fever. We can't be stopped," was the familiar chant heard Saturday afternoon by the Manchester High cheerleaders as the stumbling Tribe football team got tracked to defeat Maloney High of Meriden at Memorial Field, 42-12, before 1,200 fans.

The victory was Manchester's first in five outings and the loss put the Spartans at the 0-4 mark in the OCHL.

The way Manchester's opening series of downs started it appeared like it was going to be another one of those afternoon fumbles. The opening kickoff, Tribe quarterback John Wiggins directed the offense down to the Maloney 20 but was forced to punt on fourth down.

Breaking through the line, Maloney's Steve Jantach blocked the punt and recovered the ball on Manchester's 42.

From this point Spartan signalcaller Karl Sobieski reeled off nine plays that covered 42 yards. Wiggins was 10 for 125 yards. Rhodes was 48 in the air for 57 yards with Paul Fryor going 1-2 for nine yards. In the first half of play Manchester had 242 total yards, 185 of which were on the ground. MHS had 15 first downs. Rhodes had 15 first downs.

Maloney called one less play than the winners. But their overall stats were 185 total yards on 30 rushing and 70 passing. Fullback Jerry Johnson ran for 106 yards. Quarterback Steve Jantach was 10 for 106 yards and completed 10 of 17 passes.

Play was a little ragged in the third period, but Sobieski's speed carried the Tribe to a 21-8 victory. Rhodes was 15 for 106 yards and completed 10 of 17 passes.

Dolphins' End Sweeps Upend Slumping Jets

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've never seen two players closer than these guys," Miami Coach Don Euhlis said, nodding toward Larry Conka and Jim Kwik. "They really complement each other tremendously."

They were pretty close Sunday as the Dolphins' offense and through New York for 137 yards and Kwik piled up just 16 yards. The Dolphins' perfect ground assault was the only one to pummel the Jets 30-14.

It was the second time in this National Football League season that the two running backs had piled up more than 100 yards apiece and, in each case, by the margin of a pro career-high.

"I feel we can do this against anybody. Kick and add the opening minutes of the second quarter, then put them ahead for good, clinching a 34-yard drive with a 37-yard scoring strike to Paul Warfield."

Coast Guard and Trinity In Saturday's Headliner

Coast Guard, Trinity, Bridgeport and Central Connecticut are continuing to build winning records during the final half of the football season, but the University of Connecticut's Yale remains unscathed.

Yale is out of the running for the Ivy League crown as a result of Saturday's 21-0 loss to Cornell. Southern Connecticut, Western and Western Connecticut also are further down in the losers' bracket because of weekend losses.

"This sweeps killed us," dejected Coach Herb Ewbank sighed after the Jets' record slipped to 2-4.

France, Russia Set Declaration Of Political Ties

PARIS (AP) — France and the Soviet Union have agreed to a declaration of principles to govern their future political relations, informed sources said today. The declaration will be signed Saturday at the end of the official visit by the Soviet Communist party chief, Leonid I. Brezhnev. It is the result of a compromise between Brezhnev and President Georges Pompidou.

Kosygin Arrives In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived in Cuba from Toronto, Canada, shortly after noon today and was greeted by huge crowds of cheering Cubans and a 21-gun salute. Kosygin, making his second visit to the Communist island in four years, was met at Jose Marti International Airport in Havana by what Cuban radio described as a "delegation representing the party and the government."

Rackley Case Two Panthers Plead Guilty To Conspiracy To Murder

NEW HAVEN (AP)—London Williams and Horry Hille, the last two Black Panthers to face a Connecticut judge in an alleged plot to murder another Panther more than two years ago pleaded guilty today to reduced charges of conspiracy to murder. Their pleas all but closed the books on a spectacular series of accusations, demonstrations and trials that included a murder trial last spring for Black Panther Chairman Bobby Seale, Williams, 27, and Hille, 20, were originally charged with the capital crimes of aiding and abetting the murder of Alex Rackley, a New York City Panther.

Top Court Lets Plan on Busing Stand in Pontiac

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today its ruling on a massive busing plan for a school district near Pontiac, Mich., and a black college near Petersburg, Va. Rejected a challenge to the tentatively promoted segregation. The plan and the ruling, U.S. District Judge Damon J. Keith of Detroit, had been appealed to the court by school officials with the argument that whatever segregation exists in the industrial city 25 miles northwest of Detroit is a result of housing patterns. While Keith charged the school board with locating new schools and arranging busing routes in such a way as to perpetuate segregation, the officials told the court in the petition filed Aug. 26 that they tried to reduce racial imbalance even amidst shifting population.

British Soldiers, Snipers Battle Across Irish Border

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops battled IRA guerrillas across the Irish border today and in the backstreets of Belfast. Two deaths elsewhere brought Northern Ireland's two-year toll to 135. One of the dead was found gagged and bound and shot through the head, apparently the victim of an "execution" in England, two former crew members of the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth 2, both Irishmen, were charged with having 37 hand grenades aboard the ship. Six suitcases full of arms for the IRA were found last week in Cork, Ireland, after the ship called there. In Dublin, a 23-year-old Irish girl was shot by British and British police in connection with three tons of Czechoslovakian arms captured at Amsterdam airport sidestepped questions about arms smuggling. Brunette Maria Maguire said she and IRA official David O'Connell, also wanted by Dutch police, "were just seeing the sights and enjoying our selves."

Many World Capitals Back Seating of Peking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Nations today rejected a resolution for the seating of Red China in the United Nations, a move that drew the support of 76 nations. The resolution, which would have expelled the Nationalist Chinese government from the U.N., was defeated by a vote of 59 to 55, with 15 abstentions. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 76 to 33, with 17 abstentions. The assembly recognized representatives of the People's Republic of China as "the only legitimate representative of China" to the United Nations and expelling "forthwith the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek." Earlier in the night the assembly voted 59 to 55, with 15 abstentions, to reject a U.S. resolution to make expulsion of the Nationalists an "important question" requiring a two-thirds majority for adoption. Among the U.S. allies who voted against the U.S. resolution were Britain, Canada, Denmark, France, Norway and Pakistan. Belgium and Italy abstained. As it turned out the Albanian resolution got more than a two-thirds majority. Its adoption killed a rival U.S. resolution to provide "dual representation" for both the Communists and the Nationalists, a situation Peking said repeatedly it would not accept. The first reactions came from Asia. Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan said the U.N. decision in the long run will benefit Japan. He told parliament his government will "continue positive efforts" to normalize relations with Peking. Foreign Minister Takao Kudo told the same session the Japanese people will not be proud of their government which has kept faith with Nationalist China. Japan said it would support the U.S. resolution in the assembly, while admitting Red China and giving it the Chinese seat on the Security Council. In the Philippines, President Ferdinand E. Marcos said Red China "could provide a constructive and effective leadership" if it entered the United Nations "with a conciliatory and cooperative attitude." He pledged to retain "fruitful and friendly relations with Nationalist China." Deputy Foreign Minister Sang Rittikachorn of Thailand told reporters in Bangkok that (See Page Three)

Tanzanians Jump Assembly Vote on Peking Brought Jigs of Joy to U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A feeling of relief seemed to sweep the crowd. Supporters of the two sides walked about the crowded hall, holding strategy sessions on the Tunisian delegate to try to get a vote. He failed. The Albanian side knew victory was near at 9:45 p.m. when it defeated the U.S. move to require a two-thirds majority for the expulsion of Taiwan. But it took another 15 hours of arguing over procedure and amendments to reach the decision. Outside the hall, delegates mingled about in crowded quarters in a rare show of warmth. A feeling of relief seemed to sweep the crowd. Only the tall American appeared prominently stung by the decision. "The United Nations has become a farce — some nations behaved as in a circus," said Foreign Minister Chow Shu-kai of Nationalist China as he led his delegation out of the General Assembly Monday night. The Nationalists walked out in protest. (See Page Four)

Rogers Hits Expulsion Of Nationalists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today the expulsion of Nationalist China from the United Nations was a regrettable act that could adversely affect the future of the world body. The secretary told newsmen the Nixon administration will, however, respect the majority decision of the United Nations in expelling the government on Taiwan. Rogers said "This administration deeply regrets the expulsion of the Republic of China and thinks the precedent is a most unfortunate one and will have adverse effects in the future." He expressed hope, however, that the United Nations would be able to deal with the situation. Rogers said he would like to see the United Nations "take a more active role in the world."

Fight Shapes Up in Senate Over Bid to Cut Aid to U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fight to slash America's money to the United Nations for expelling Taiwan was shaping in the Senate today with more advance votes lined up against it than for it. Sen. James L. Buckley, Conservative, announced immediately after the 76-33 U.N. expulsion vote Monday night that he is co-sponsoring legislation for a "major reduction" of the U.S. financial contribution. An effort to tack the fund out of the foreign aid bill before the Senate in the next two weeks is a possibility, his office said. Buckley said this will do no more than reflect a major downgrading of the U.N.'s role in the eyes of most Americans. Buckley said (See Page Eight)
