By STAN BENJAMIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Environment groups prepared a new request today for a court injunction against a planned atomic blast on Amchitka Island, after the government agreed to show the court secret documents on the test.

An environment lawyer said the U.S. District Court would be asked to rule immediately on the groups' still-pending motion for a preliminary injunction.

Meanwhile preparations for the underground detonation of a five-megaton hydrogen warhead continued on remote Amchitka, in the Aleutian Islands. A Justice Department spokesman said the government will not challenge a U.S. Court of Appeals decision Thursday putting the disputed reports into the hands of U.S. District Judge George L. Hart.

He said the material will be cleared of any information affecting national security and turned over to the judge probably later today. That means Hart's courtroom will probably become the arena for a fresh challenge by seven groups of environmentalists on whether the blast should go off at all.

President Nixon authorized the explosion earlier this week in telling the Atomic Energy Commission to go ahead.

Seven conservation groups are seeking to halt the blast, claiming it might cause earthquakes, damage wildlife or allow radioactive materials to leak into the sea.

They say the government suppressed official reports proving their contention of po-

Welfare Unit Busily Mails Checks Out

HARTFORD (AP)—The state Welfare Department is making a "superhuman effort" to mail out revised checks as quickly as possible in accordance with a federal court injunction, Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said today.

By working overtime tonight and Saturday, the department may be able to get most checks in the mail Saturday evening, the governor said.

U.S. District Judge M. Joseph Blumenfeld Thursday ordered the state not to proceed with its plan to mail out new "flat-grant" checks this week, incorporating cuts of 15 per cent and more in aid to families with dependent children.

Coming as it did near the end of the month when the flat-grant checks were just about to be distributed, "the timing of the ruling was most unfortunate," Meskill said.

The governor said the state will "vigorously" press its case for the welfare cuts in the federal courts and is confident of eventual victory. "We know we're right," he said.

If the revised checks based on old formulas are mailed out Saturday night, some recipients should get them on Monday, Nov. 1, Meskill said. However, "I can not guarantee it," he added.

Asked why the Welfare Department did not prepare for the possibility of Blumenfeld's ruling, Meskill said it would have been "very wasteful to have, in effect, two sets of checks ready to go out."

Blumenfeld issued a temporary injunction as requested by several welfare mothers who claimed the state failed to follow federal guidelines in determining the "standard of need" for welfare families.

A hearing will be held later on the welfare mothers' request for a permanent injunction.

Accused Bandit Captured; Held Under $100,000 Bond

By BOB COOPER
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—James L. Cochran, an accused bank robber who led authorities on a week-long chase across 10 states and allegedly took 21 hostages in the process, was held under $100,000 bond today after a brief appearance before a U.S. magistrate.

FBI agents presented Magistrate G. Murray Smith with a telephoned warrant for the arrest of Cochran, who signed a waiver to be returned to St. Louis, where he is accused in the hold-up of a savings and loan association office.

About the same time 10 FBI agents surrounded Cochran at a motel here Thursday night, authorities in Missouri announced they had found the body of Marilyn Oliver, 21, said to be an acquaintance of the fugitive. Authorities said they did not know how she had died.

The decomposed body was covered with sacks when it was discovered in an abandoned farm house near Leslie, Mo.

None of the hostages was harmed.

"He's a tough one and I'd have hated to tangle with him. He looks like he could bend an iron bar," said one FBI agent who helped take the 36-year-old Cochran into custody.

Cochran, who had registered at the motel giving his real name and St. Louis address, had wounds in the left arm and right leg that he is believed to have suffered during an earlier shootout with police.

Red China Set To Take Seat At U.N. Soon

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Red China notified the United Nations today it will send a delegation in the "near future" to take the seat voted it last Monday.

The announcement was made in a cable to U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant from Chi Peng-fei, acting foreign minister of the People's Republic of China.

Chi said the names of the delegation members would be sent later.

After taking note of the General Assembly action in expelling the Nationalist Chinese delegation and giving Peking "its lawful place," Chi said: "I now inform you that the government of the People's Republic of China will send a delegation in the near future to attend the 26th session of the General Assembly of the United Nations. The name list of the delegation will be sent to you later."

The cable was received at U.N. headquarters at 9:20 a.m. EDT and released to the news media shortly after 10 a.m.

Chi made no mention of a message Thant had sent him urging quick action in naming a delegation to the 15-nation Security Council so that this key body could act without delay in the event of a threat to peace.

In his cable, Chi acknowledged receipt of an early message from Thant notifying him of the assembly's Monday night action.

"I have also noted," Chi said, "that you have notified all the bodies and related agencies of the United Nations of this resolution adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations and believe that the above mentioned resolution will be speedily implemented in its entirety."

That was taken to mean that Communist China would fight for the ouster of Nationalist China from all of the related agencies to which it now belongs.

Nationalist China is a member of 13 of them—all except the Food and Agriculture Organization and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Liu Chieh, Nationalist China's longtime U.N. ambassador, said in an interview Friday that his government would fight to stay in these agencies. He noted that "they are all independent" of the United Nations, though they report to it.

Some U.N. diplomats had been concerned about a possible legal tangle if the Security Council met before the arrival of a Peking delegation.

A member of the council said the president for October, Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, planned to call a meeting Saturday morning even if the Chinese had not sent a representative.

The delegate said Sevilla-Sa-

Senate Votes To Urge Cut In U.N. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Critics of the U.N. ouster of Nationalist China won Senate approval today of a proposal urging a reduction in U.S. financial support for the world organization.

The nonbinding amendment by Sen. James L. Buckley, Con.-R-N.Y., urges President Nixon to negotiate a reduction in the percentage of U.N. costs paid by the United States, from 31.5 per cent to 25 per cent.

The amendment was approved by voice vote as the Senate moved toward final passage of a $3.2 billion foreign aid bill.

A proposal to reduce U.S. payments to the United Nations by $101.5 million was soundly defeated by the Senate Thursday night.

An amendment by Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., that would require a percentage reduction in U.S. contributions to United Nations programs was still pending.

Final action on the aid bill was scheduled for tonight.

The way was clear for the bill, saying foreign aid has Senate discarded an antiwar amendment opposed by President Nixon.

In a long series of roll call votes lasting well into Thursday night, the Senate decided, in addition, to retain restrictions on U.S. spending in Cambodia that were written into the bill by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Earlier Thursday Henry Kissinger, the President's top foreign affairs adviser, warned Nixon might veto the entire measure unless the Senate eliminated the Cambodia restrictions and dropped an antiwar provision drafted into the bill by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

The Cooper-Church provision would have limited all funds for the U.S. military in Vietnam.

Postmaster General

Blount Tells Nixon He Is Resigning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Winton M. Blount told President Nixon today he is resigning as postmaster general, clearing the way for his expected bid for an Alabama Senate seat.

At a White House news conference, Blount told of his decision to leave the key government post but said "I have not made up my mind" about running for the Senate seat held by Democrat John J. Sparkman since 1948.

Appearing at the same news conference, Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler relayed Nixon's high praise for Blount's supervision of the post office, which during his tenure has been converted to an independent, semi-autonomous agency called the U.S. Postal Service.

The President, Ziegler said, told Blount at a White House meeting today that he appreciated Blount's "undertaking and accomplishing what many thought was an impossible job."

With the postal reorganization, Blount's position was removed from the Cabinet. His successor will be named by the Postal Service's board of governors.

Blount said his resignation is effective today, and added he would "return to Alabama and make up my mind" about his expected Senate bid. He said he thought "some time around the first of the year would be an appropriate time" to announce his decision, which he said would hinge on "whether there

Major Political Parties Split in England Following Vote to Enter Common Market

By FRED COLEMAN

LONDON (AP)—Parliament's historic vote to take Britain into the European Common Market left both major political parties split today and the outcome of the move into Europe in doubt.

With its vote Thursday night, the House of Commons accepted the principle of Common Market membership on the terms negotiated by the Conservative government, serving notice Britain is prepared to give up some of its centuries-old independence for a role in a united Europe.

But a year-long battle remains to push the enabling legislation through Parliament, aligning British laws with the rules of the European Economic Community, before Britain can actually join on the target date of Jan. 1, 1973. All signs pointed to cliff hangers on the more controversial terms of entry.

Prime Minister Edward Heath won approval in principle for entry by a vote of 304 to 244 in the Commons with 22 abstentions. The big majority with President Nixon on Saturday and the two leaders expect to issue a joint communique, a document to which the 79-year-old marshal is reported to attach great significance.

Common Market Entry of Britain Seen Having Little U.S. Impact

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ

NEW YORK (AP)—Britain's entry into the European Common Market would have a minimum direct impact on America, but the secondary effects would be considerable.

The House of Commons voted 356 to 244 Thursday night to approve the principle of Britain's membership in the economic bloc. Actual entry in the Common Market would come some 14 months from now and only after approval by other countries in the market and passage of enabling legislation in Britain.

The entry would help American business operating in Europe by enlarging its markets. It may hurt American firms with factories only in this country, but only modestly. And it would not hurt American farmers much because Britain is only a small market for their agricultural exports.

Thus shareholders can expect to benefit while nobody in America would be badly hurt.

Perhaps the most important secondary effect of the British addition to the European economic bloc would be that the bloc would be stronger. A stronger Europe should need less American help, particularly in the defense field.

However, a stronger Europe would be in a better bargaining position when it negotiated trade with America. Also, it would provide stronger competition in the rest of the world, building as many cars as America and producing almost as much steel.

Overall, the change seems favorable for American interests. Indications are that the average tariff Britain charges on goods from America would be reduced about a quarter. Britain's present 10 per cent average duty would come down to the Common Market average of 7 per cent.

However, there may be a loss of sales to Europe as British goods compete with American ones on the continent without having to pay the duty levied on American sales. Business Week magazine has estimated this loss as about $100 million annually, only 1.5 per cent of total U.S. exports to Europe.

American companies with factories in Europe, unlike those manufacturing in the United States, were expecting great things of the British entry.

"Nearly seven out of 10 (American) companies whose European headquarters are in the Common Market believe the British entry will have a favorable impact on their operations," reported Heidrick and Struggles, a Chicago international management consulting firm. The company has just tabulated returns from 168

Tito Restates Self-Reliance

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia today strongly restated his country's independence and the "special character" of the Yugoslav brand of socialism.

Yugoslavia, he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the National Press Club, is "following its own road, refusing to be an object in international relations." He spoke about "the specific character of our road and our firm resolve to persevere along it."

Tito addressed the Press Club on the second day of his official state visit to the United States. He will have a final meeting with President Nixon on Saturday and the two leaders expect to issue a joint communique, a document to which the 79-year-old marshal is reported to attach great significance.

Oscar Controversy Tires Film Star George C. Scott

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I don't seem to get out of hospital," said George C. Scott, a wry grin softening his stern features.

He was in the sixth-floor emergency area of St. Joseph Hospital, filming scenes for "The Name Above the Impression," which ties in the realm of director Fr. Frank Capra. The choice of reading "The Name Above the Impression" was significant, Scott's ambition lies in the realm of directing. He is playing a Los Angeles cop, his last movie was "Hospital," which was financed by the television special "The Andersonville Trial," which was not the well as act in. "I Television Academy."

"That was a tape show, shot in four days," he remarks. "Of course I've done a lot of television-tape shows, but always on the other side of the control booth. Let me tell you, it was a frightening thing to sit down and face those four monitors and start to make a choice and off the screen, and be known to be fed up with the Oscar controversy. But if it goes to the question of whether a hospital seemed like a good place to do it."

His response was surprisingly mild. "Any afterthoughts about the Oscar?"

"Not a single one."

"Where is the Oscar?"

"I haven't the slightest idea. I had requested that it be sent to my daughter, but then she was in the States, or wherever they keep the things."

His guess is correct. Frank McCarthy, producer of "Pat" and the man who received

'Midnight Cowboy' Director Proves Entirely Personable

By PEACE MOFFAT

NEW FEATURES Writer

AP YORK (AP) — Some how one expects to be at least a little intimidated by John Schlesinger. He is, after all, the director who made the Academy Award winning "Midnight Cowboy" and he is the man whose film "Darling" made Julie Christie a star.

But Schlesinger is anything but intimidating. Here for the opening of his latest film, "Sunday Bloody Sunday," he was a friendly, smiling, and entirely personable man. He is always nervous about an opening here," he says. "But the film got excellent reviews in London and it just can't be that different in New York."

And it wasn't "Sunday Bloody Sunday" received good reviews here also, but it's easy to understand why Schlesinger was worried. He's been directing films in London since 1967, and has been working steadily on it since 1969.

"I wondered after the success of 'Cowboy' if I could bring myself to do anything else, since an enormous success brings its own kind of pressure," he recalls. "But you have to continue, and not be afraid to try new things."

Schlesinger says the new film is about love, compromise, not giving in to feelings of helplessness and dealing with problems in a humorous, wry way. And he says his own role in bringing those ideas to the screen was creating the persona for the actors to find the truth of the themes in themselves. "I don't think being a director is a question of commanding," he states quietly. "It's more creating an atmosphere where people feel free."

Five GIs Lost In China Sea

SAIGON (AP) — Five American soldiers are missing and presumed drowned in the South China Sea following a football game on a Vietnamese beach, the U.S. Command announced today.

All were from the Americal Division at Chu Lai, 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

The command said one of the soldiers playing football Thursday apparently went into the water to retrieve the ball, got caught in an undertow and was swept out to sea.

The other players went into the water to rescue him, and eight of them were caught in the undertow.

Two observation helicopters were rushed to the scene in eight minutes, the report continued, and assisted in rescuing four men. Boats and aircraft searched for the other five, and the U.S. Command opened an investigation into the tragedy.

FOUT. PHILOSOPHY INFILTRATES GAME

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

I'm almost ashamed to show today's hand because I don't like the idea of deceiving a trusting soul "for his own good." People have done it to me all my life, ever since my mother urged me to eat my porridge because it would make my hair curly. If they've been doing it to you too, maybe you should study today's hand to see how this foul philosophy has infiltrated the pure domain of bridge.

Mafia Suspects Nabbed in Italy

ROME (AP) — Italian police arrested Frank Coppola, 27, on Thursday night in a raid on his home in Palermo, Sicily, and nine other Mafia suspects in raids elsewhere.

The raids were part of a campaign to wipe out the Mafia, which has been based on more than five clubs.

East thereupon led the ace of clubs. South ruffed, drew trumps and discarded his losing spades on dummy's queen of clubs.

"Came!" Species of protocol. "West shouted. (The hand was played in Paris where the terms of endorsement used by partners vary from those of North America, and West expressed concern that East should have dealt him for his own good by taking the first trick with three of the ace rather than the king of clubs.)

Might Not Work
This would lead West to believe that his partner lacked the king of clubs. When East then led the ace of spades, West would signal discouragingly only if he had opened a singleton club. East would therefore know whether or not to switch back to clubs.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A massive storm is churning up a huge dust cloud over the surface of the planet including the south polar cap.

The Smithsonian said many amateur astronomers report the planet completely obscured by the storm follows.

If the storm follows the pattern of a similar phenomenon in 1968 the cloud could persist for six weeks interfering with the Mariner experiments scheduled to begin Nov. 13, when the vehicle begins its 90-day orbit of the planet.

One experiment should be eminently successful if dust from the storm obscures the surface of Mars.

The Smithsonian said that dust storm was not entirely unexpected since they seem to occur when the Mars orbit carries it closer to the sun once every two earth years, and are best observed when Mars is closest to the earth. Mars came closer to earth this summer than it had since 1924.

Parties Split After Vote On Market

that he can push through the bills that must follow on the strength of his own party alone.

The Conservative Party, led by Harold Wilson, also voted against entry. Many of the Conservative Party also voted against the enabling legislation, even if that means bringing the government down.

Former Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his Labor Party are also committed to fighting these bills all the way. Nearly a third of the Conservatives voted with the government on the enabling legislation. But most of these voters are now expected to return to the party line on the future vote; otherwise the party could be split irreparably.

Wilson's strategy is to delay and eventually defeat the proposal on this point, forcing a general election. With the Conservative Party in power by 12 per cent in public opinion polls, and the polls showing a majority of voters against joining Europe, Wilson figures he would be returned to office.

He said Thursday night that a future Labor government would not pull out of the market but would not cooperate with it until better terms for participation were negotiated.

Trouble could also come from Health on one of the entry terms still to be negotiated, the question of fishing rights in territorial waters.

Nevertheless the substantial majority in the Commons Thursday night, and an even bigger margin of 481 to 88 in the House of Lords, were a personal triumph for Heath. They showed a decisive effort began in 1961 when he led Britain's first negotiations to join the European Community, and vetoed by President Charles de Gaulle.

President Nixon, West German Chancellor Willy Brandt and other Western European leaders hailed Parliament's action as a historic turning point.

It opened the way to creation of the largest free trade area, a market with a population of 250 million people open to rival the economies of the United States or the Soviet Union. It could lead to a political union that would be a third force in world affairs.

Britain's postwar policy has been based on the twin pillars of its special relationships with the United States and the nations of the Commonwealth. But neither prevented Britain's economic decline and the best political influence since World War II. In a united Europe, Heath believes the country can revitalize its economy and return to a major political role.

"Now we stand ready to enter our first step into a new world, full of new opportunities," he said in a statement after the vote.

Editorial in the conservative Daily Telegraph and the Independent Guardian and the Independent Times all hailed the decision.

Mafia Suspects Nabbed in Italy

ROME (AP) — Italian police arrested Frank Coppola, 27, on Thursday night in a raid on his home in Palermo, Sicily, and nine other Mafia suspects in raids elsewhere.

The raids were part of a campaign to wipe out the Mafia, which has been based on more than five clubs.

East thereupon led the ace of clubs. South ruffed, drew trumps and discarded his losing spades on dummy's queen of clubs.

"Came!" Species of protocol. "West shouted. (The hand was played in Paris where the terms of endorsement used by partners vary from those of North America, and West expressed concern that East should have dealt him for his own good by taking the first trick with three of the ace rather than the king of clubs.)

Might Not Work
This would lead West to believe that his partner lacked the king of clubs. When East then led the ace of spades, West would signal discouragingly only if he had opened a singleton club. East would therefore know whether or not to switch back to clubs.

In the actual hand, West said, West would signal at the second trick with the ten of spades. West would then play the spade continuation with the king, and would then, for lack of anything better, a hit to diamonds.

East's surf would defeat the contract.

Coppola has faced many charges during his long career, including murder and drug-running, but he has served only four years in jail.

Here's What You'd Pay Under Water Merger

By GLENN GAMBER

Town officials have repeatedly claimed that if the proposed purchase of the Manchester Water Co. and consolidation with the town of the Eighth District sewer facilities were to occur, the combined water and sewer bill of both north and south end utility customers would decrease. In addition, officials have said that the $2.25 million bond to purchase the north end water company would be self-recovering from water and sewer revenue.

These claims are based on a report prepared last spring by William O'Neill, director of public works. These claims apply to all town households, except families of five or more in the north end which are serviced both by the Manchester Water Co. and the Eighth District sewer system. There would be a "slight increase" in the total water and sewer bills for these families, O'Neill says.

O'Neill's computations are based on several factors. He assumes that with the normal usage a person uses 50 gallons of water per day. In computing the existing Eighth District sewer charges, he bases his figures on a house with fair water usage of 119,500 assessed at 65 per cent. The Eighth District sewer charge is levied by a 1/4 mill tax.

O'Neill's figures appear in the accompanying chart. The figures for a family of five were computed by The Herald and added to the chart.

At the 50 gallon rate, one person would consume 4,500 gallons of water per quarter or about 610 cubic ft. Fifty quarters is about 6.7 cu. ft. The town bills by cubic feet. The Manchester Water Co. bills by gallons. Both bill quarterly.

Existing town and Manchester Water Co. water rates were used in the computations. The town now charges a minimum of $5.95 a quarter for either a 3/4 or 3/8 inch meter, both conventional domestic meters. The $5.95 minimum allows 1,200 cubic feet of water, the approximate amount used by two people if they each use 50 gallons per day. Town water users are charged an additional 41 cents per 100 cu. ft. up to 10,000 cu. ft.

The Manchester Water Co. charges a basic service charge of $5.75 per quarter for a 3/8 inch meter and $7.50 a quarter for a 1/2 inch meter. O'Neill's figures are based on a 3/8 inch meter charge.

Manchester Water Co. users are not allowed any water for less per person per day, the total water and sewer bill would increase if consolidation occurred.

For a north end family of five, as shown in the chart, there would be a 41% increase in the total bill per quarter. The larger the north end family, the larger the total increase would be, because water usage would get a reduction in their water charges if the proposed

O'Neill says it was decided to have the $2.25 million figure for the voting machine to protect the town against any delays in the payment of the federal and state open space contributions.

O'Neill contends that the density of this area is far less than the area jointly served by the water company and the Eighth District so that 10 per cent of the land included in the water company boundaries is outside the district. However, the area serviced by the Manchester Water Co. is larger than the area covered by the Eighth District. To compute his rate for this, O'Neill deducted 10 per cent of the total estimated revenue, but added the same amount to account for increased revenue from new water company customers since 1969.

The arbitrary 10 per cent deduction could be contested because on a map it appears that substantially more than 10 per cent of the land included in the water company boundaries is outside the district. However, O'Neill contends that the density of this area is far less than the area jointly served by the water company and the Eighth District so that 10 per cent of the land included in the water company boundaries is outside the district.

"Negative Minus"
To the Editor,
Referring to the upcoming referendum concerning the purchase of the Manchester Water Company, those persons sponsoring this action for reasons unknown, have misled the Manchester voter, by distorting the facts to believe that the purchase of the water company would be a "positive plus."

Mr. Nixon is a conservative Republican President who has opened the door to Communist China, who is retiring without victory from the war in Vietnam, who has proposed a fundamental and progressive reform in the nation's welfare system by guaranteeing a minimum income to everybody, and who has reached for a price and wage control system he himself not long ago rejected as unthinkable.

Lord Clark, in his electronic magic lantern tour through history entitled "Civilization," has summed up his reflections on man's progress in the western world by suggesting that "civilized man must feel that he belongs somewhere in space and time...and for this he needs a minimum of stability which was, in Western Europe, first achieved in France under Charlemagne."

The funeral will be tomorrow at 8:15 a.m. at the Dillon Funeral Home, 53 Main St., Hartford, with services at 10:30 a.m. in the parish cemetery, Andover, Mass.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

Thomas T. Adams, 68, of 428 Spring St., died on arrival at Manchester Memorial Hospital this morning. He was the husband of Mrs. Betty M. Adams.

Mr. Adams was born June 13, 1903 in Jackson, Mich., and had lived in Manchester for 32 years. He was field representative for the Airtemp Division of the General Electric Co. and was a veteran of World War II, and a communicant of St. Anne's Church.

Survivors, besides his wife and son, Michael, are a daughter, Miss Sarah Adams, both at home; two brothers, George Adams of Jackson, Mich., and James Adams of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and a sister, Mrs. Katherine Gunnert of Chicago, Ill.

Funeral arrangements are in care of the funeral home.

Friends may call at the John P. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Court Cases

CIRCUIT COURT 12
Manchester Session

Two youths were given jail terms yesterday, after pleading guilty to charges in a burglary at a hardware store.

James J. Curran, 18, of East Hartford, and a bicycle ridden by Kathleen Flanagan, 17, were taken to her own court, with minor injuries.

At Spruce and Birch Sts., yesterday morning at 8:10, a collision involving a Ford and a Buick was reported. The Buick driver, Raymond S. Ames of 428 Hartford Rd., and Frederick T. Connors of 91 Baldon St., were cited.

On Toland Tpk., near the Withers Cross Highway Exit 35, a collision involving a Buick and a Chevrolet was reported. The Buick driver, Steven Palumbo, 56, of Hartford, pleaded guilty to a charge of negligent driving. The Buick was charged on a referendum warrant by Vernon DeLoe.

COMPLAINTS
Sometime last night, vandals broke a water gauge in a building under construction at 150 E. Main St. The vandals were charged with criminal damage to property.

Stage I Approval Asked For Apartments and Pit

An application for Stage I approval of apartments off Main St. and one for a borrow pit on the site of the old site around the subjects of public hearings by the Planning and Zoning Commission at 11 a.m. today at the Municipal Building hearing room.

The project is being designed by architect Philip diConcilio and is planned to be compatible with the existing apartment units, Griswold said.

Two single houses fronting on Main St. would remain for the present, he added.

Carl E. Holland et al are applying for a permit to conduct the borrow pit operation on a 41-acre parcel of land off the north side of Toland Tpk. easterly of Globe Lane in a Rural Residence Zone. Main St. would remain for the present, he added.

12-Month School Experiences Are Discussed by Educators

By JUNE LINTON (Herald Reporter)

The idea of having schools open and operating a year-round was the subject of an afternoon session at the conference in East Hartford last night.

The session was attended by 40 educators from 12 different towns and featured a presentation by Dr. Bennett Plokin, superintendent of the Hartford School District.

Dr. Plokin said that the Hartford School District has been operating a year-round program since 1968. The program involves dividing the year into four quarters and the curriculum into quarterly units.

He said that the program has been successful in providing more instructional time for students and in reducing the length of the school year.

Other speakers included Dr. Robert D. Rogers, superintendent of the Meriden School District, and Dr. William C. Brown, superintendent of the Middletown School District.

No significant "facts" other than the resentment in the minds of the people which he said a few of them had visited the schools in question to see the overcrowding in their own schools and the deplorable structural conditions in two of them. They had not.

Then I was told I had no right to be there, because I was a taxpayer. I am a taxpayer so I had a right to be there teacher or not. The irony of that blunder was that I am not a teacher, but perhaps appeared more informed as I did to go to these schools and did, as a member of C.C.B.E. (Concerned Citizens for Better Education).

Injunction Sought On Atomic Blast

Secretary of Defense David Packard said the Pentagon agrees with the Atomic Energy Commission's position on the safe conduct of the Canakkale test which is essential to our national security."

The three-judge Appeals Court panel had denied Thursday a request by the environmental groups for a temporary restraining order.

The seven organizations, led by the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility, feared that the Atomic Energy Commission's use of camp sites and facilities at Manning Park, about 140 miles east of Vancouver, and other environmental damage even though it was to be set off in a closed chamber almost 6,000 feet underground.

Japan and Peru have expressed opposition to the test.

Congress voted last Sept. 22 to bar the detonation before next year unless the president specifically authorized it.

But President Nixon said the Atomic Energy Commission announced the test would be completed within a week.

The AEC said Amchikha's remote location in the Pacific Ocean would prevent any damage to inhabited areas and said there was a "virtually zero" chance of environmental damage.

Thursday's Appeals Court decision sought to untangle administration responsibilities in authorizing the blast, designed to test a warhead for the new Spartan anti-ballistic missile.

On one hand, the court said, the Atomic Energy Commission needed Presidential authorization for the test, which it had received.

On the other hand, it continued, the AEC also had to comply with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), which required the prior preparation of an environmental impact statement on the weighing all aspects of its proposed action.

The government says it weighed all factors and concluded national security made the test necessary.

In denying a temporary restraining order, the Appeals Court said Thursday that the court is concerned solely with the question of legality of the AEC action under NEPA. . . . it is in no position at this juncture to enter a stay order that would interrupt the court into national security matters that lie outside its province."

Monday's hours for administration of the test will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with the town clerk by the Canadian mineoperator and 3 to 5 p.m. with the RCMP Fortuna, made a refusing stop at New West Minister near Vancouver, B.C. before 4 p.m., Rockville.

Thifault Faults Republicans In Possible Marsh Pollution

"Republicans must shoulder the blame for the possible pollution of 'Tolland marsh,'" Democratic First Selectman Charles Thifault charged today. Thifault, replying to a statement made yesterday by Republican Town Chairman Russell Stevenson, said the Republicans alone controlled the town for 22 years.

The first selectman also denounced other charges leveled by Stevenson concerning a pay increase for Thifault which Stevenson said was authorized in the 1971-72 budget. He termed the statement "political bait."

Thifault explained that the increase would not become effective until after Nov. 2 election and that pay hikes were granted to most elected officials, not only those of the town.

Thifault stated that he had been asked by Stevenson to accept the increase because he had been in office for 10 years, but that he had not accepted it because he was a Republican.

Stevenson contended that the increase would not become effective until after the Nov. 2 election, and that pay hikes were granted to most elected officials, not only those of the town.

HARTFORD (AP) — Bory, Connecticut fun-seekers. The advent of standard time early Sunday morning will not mean an extra hour of reveling at your favorite nightspot.

The Liquor Control Commission made that clear in an announcement that closing time is 2 a.m. daylight time, not standard time.

In fact, there were no files of any sort to speak of.

Rec Center, Mobile Vote Unit Asked by Democratic Hopfuls

Establishment of a recreation center for teenage citizens. . . . The primary function of Vernon is to register voters. Chamberlain suggested that the mobile unit be taken to supermarkets, shopping centers and even into some neighborhoods to reach eligible voters. He pointed out that although Connecticut law now requires voter-registration drives to be held in designated places, neighboring states, such as New York, do not. Chamberlain said he supports a change in the law which would enable other than the traditional voter making places. . . . The most important thing to be concerned with is to make sure everyone eligible is made a voter, whether they fall into the 18-20 year-old age group or whether they are senior citizens who have neglected their private life up to this point," Chamberlain added. He advised that if anything else — doing it the best way.

Blount said the town already has much work and expense involved in completing programs already started. He said that the town should not be burdened with a new sewage treatment plant and providing and maintaining an equitable compensation and pension program for all town employees.

Blount said he would like to see the town take on the responsibility of providing a mobile unit to support Democratic mayoral candidate Albert Smith and the entire Democratic ticket. "So that we may continue to face the many problems that lie before us with courage."

Robert Chamberlain Jr., chairman of the town's Democratic Party, said that he had talked with parents of teenagers and it is clear to him there is a significant need for this facility.

Peter Humphrey, candidate for re-election to the commission, said that he was in agreement with Blount's proposal. He said that he was willing to accept the town's obligation to support the program and also have the town bear the cost.

Blount explained that in a suburban town such as Vernon, one of the major obstacles to voter participation is the lack of transportation means to get to the polls.

Blount said that he was willing to walk but rather than it is not safe for anyone to walk which have no sidewalks.

The present Town Center is located on Rt. 20 in what is known as the rural area. Blount explained that a similar unit was built in the town of New Britain.

Blount said that a facility would be within walking distance of the town center.

Little Affect On U.S. Seen By Market

American companies out of 468 stock questionnaires.

The survey showed that about a third of the companies expected sales increases of 10 per cent or more over the next two years. Some are allowed to export goods or labor to each other with a minimum of trouble and expense.

About half said the sales expansion would be more than 5 per cent. Only a quarter of the companies said they planned to expand production facilities in Britain while 40 per cent said they would build additional factories on the European mainland.

In addition to having a larger market, the American companies said they hoped labor supplies would be easier and labor costs lower. British wage scales in general are above those on the continent.

Early estimates that American farm exports to Europe might suffer seem exaggerated. Britain as a market for food products is quite small, taking only $2 billion per year, compared to more than $1 billion to the rest of Western Europe.

Such complete loss of the British market would be unlikely to hurt the American farm much.

In terms of payment balance, British exports should help the U.S. overall. While there may be a loss of up to $100 million in exports, this could be offset by greater profits made by the U.S. firms in the area.

MANILA (AP) — A Philippine constabulary intelligence officer said today he had picked up an American for questioning under a presidential proclamation suspending the Lee Col. Teodoro de Guzman because of suspected subversion.

The U.S. Embassy said it turned over to agents from Manila.

U.S. Air Base 45 miles north of Manila. De Guzman said he was arrested at 3 p.m. after 2 1/2 hours in custody. He claimed officers told him that his name was on a list of names from Clark that he had picked up.

Interrogators accused him of such powers as that of a man, apparently Wolf, tele. The constabulary said Wolf is a graduate student at the University of the Philippines College of Agriculture in Los Baños, 35 miles south of Manila. He was picked up in Angeles City which adjoins Clark.

Blount Quits His Post In Washington

While Blount turned aside questions about his political plans, he said he left the post office position and added "I expect I will be involved in public service in one way or another in the future."

Blount said Merrill A. Hayden, who has been his deputy, will take over as acting postmaster general.

Hayden formerly was executive vice president and director of the Sperry Rand Corp. in New York.

Blount seeks the senatorial post, he'll have to run in Alabama next year.

Nixon announced the resignation of Hayden during the week of Oct. 28.

Warren time lost to strikes in the city area in the country now the first nine months of the year, compared to 43.9 million last year, the report said.

Three Ohio Cities Added To High Unemployment List

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Bend and Ferme Hault in Indiana were removed from the list after business picked up in fabricating, machinery and transportation equipment production, the report said.

Wage increases averaged 8.8 per cent a year in major contracts negotiated in the first nine months of the year, down from 8.9 per cent average during the same period last year.

Virtually all the contracts were negotiated before President Nixon announced the steel industry layoffs in August.

Sixty-five of the 150 major city areas in the country now the first nine months of the year, compared to 43.9 million last year, the report said.

Manchester Evening Herald Coventry correspondent, Holly Gantner, Tel. 742-8765.

The candidates report that an overwhelming number of residents felt that the roads were in satisfactory condition or were being improved.

That snow removal was adequate at this time. The negative answers to these questions were from specific areas of town.

Regarding the police department, 60 per cent felt that it should continue to grow in the same proportion as the town.

Twenty-five per cent felt that the town is paying too much for police protection and that the services should be reduced to cut costs.

The Democratic candidates for the school board, Joan Lewis and Robert Walsh, reported also on the education aspects of the questionnaire, saying that all seven of Dr. Donald Hardy's educational programs were supported by the majority of those responding.

The most controversial program was the one proposing a non-graded early childhood program.

Southwest Junior High and Its Site

By JOHN JOHNSTON
(Herald Reporter)

If voters approve a third junior high for Manchester Tuesday, occupancy is planned for the 1974-75 school year and construction would be approximately $1.2 million.

For purposes of orientation on the site plan below, the cross-shaped building at the upper right hand corner is the old Southwest Junior High school, which was designed by the West Hartford architectural firm of Russell, Gibson, and vonHoblen. Site work was done by Maine and landscape architects. The two-level school would be built on land formerly owned by the Walek family and within an area bounded on the south by Garden Grove Dr. and on the west by Keeney St.

The Southwest Junior High School was made part of its 10-year building program by the Board of Education to relieve overcrowded conditions at Belmont Junior High School and Manchester Field School.

At the left of the triangle's base is the auditorium, and at the right, in its own area but connected to the main building, is the proposed pool, which is another Tuesday referendum. Extending northeast from a point near the auditorium would be a large parking area for faculty and visitors during the school day and community use at night and on other occasions. Through traffic between Garden Grove Dr. and Keeney St. has been eliminated.

The pond adjacent to the parking lot would be retained in its present state for school nature and science study. A turn-around at that point would also be a service approach from Keeney St. to the Leland Dr., to the industrial area and kitchen areas, which has been in existence for more than 15 years.

The end of the horizontal part of the pool would have a maximum depth of 3 1/2 feet in at one time when the school reaches capacity.

The large rectangular section at the base of the triangle's right side, near the pool, is the gymnasium. By means of nets or other temporary dividers during the school day, it would be possible to conduct four physical education classes simultaneously.

First floor plans call for the dining area to be located at the apex of the triangle, with adjacent serving facilities. Prepared food would be brought here from the kitchen. Central administration offices and health service units would be situated at the base of the triangle's east side, near the auditorium.

Administrative, guidance, and staff offices for each academic house, plus a large instructional room, would be located appropriately in the center of the second floor.

The philosophy underlying two academic houses is to place each student in a smaller part of a large institution, where he would have a sense of belonging. Generally speaking, "that" would be the traditional classroom type. It would have entrances from both levels of the school and seat 600, or approximately half the student body and faculty.

On the second level, plans call for the library-media center, three mathematics, and two modern language rooms. The last named would be at the apex of the triangle, over the cafeteria. At rooms, the last named would be equidistant from the seventh and eighth grades. Language study for the Manchester is currently limited to ninth grade.

A large portion of the southern area of the second floor would be taken up by eight science laboratory classrooms, four preparatory rooms, and a large learning disabilities center. The latter would be situated between two units of four laboratories each and also provide easy access from each academic house.

Adjacent to the library-media center would be a staff oriented audio-visual room, professional library, and pupil electronic reading center.

The architect's rendering above is a view of the east side of the proposed junior high school, with part of the auditorium in the background at the left.

Floor plans for both floors of the school will appear in tomorrow's Herald.

Prison Guards Warn Deadline On Jobs Passed

HARTFORD (AP) — Union leaders of prison guards in Connecticut say the deadline they set for the state to fill 20 vacant posts has passed and the union will meet Sunday to shape a protest.

Horace Santavenero, president of the guards' union local at the state prison in Somers, said Thursday the union is committed to some form of job action.

The guards, members of a number of local in Council 18 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, threatened some kind of work protest two weeks ago when the union sent a list of demands to Correctional Commissioner John R. Mason.

The guards claim security is weakened because about 20 positions are vacant at prison facilities in Somers, Osborne and Cheshire and in state jails. They said 20 of those openings occurred under Gov. Thomas J. Mesall's administration.

After talks with Mason, union leaders threatened job action unless 20 positions were filled by Wednesday. They say the jobs remain vacant.

"The 20 positions will be a step in the right direction, but we still believe the other 120 are needed desperately," Santavenero said.

"The union leader said the decrease in workforce through attrition and creation of new programs had forced the 'morale of the men down low.'"

"Mesall says he's a law-and-order governor, there are law-and-order institutions, but the people have been getting it is a lot of talk," he said.

Gideon Bible Distribution Called 'Growing Challenge'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Three traveling salesmen, chatting in a hotel lobby, started the idea. Today, 72 years later, it is a worldwide movement of 23,000 men, making the Bible handy for people away from home.

"It's a tremendously growing challenge," says M.A. Henderson, Nashville, Tenn., executive director of Gideon International, made up of business and professional men of various Protestant denominations.

Although the distribution of Bibles has tripled in the last decade, its membership doubled and its budget quadrupled. It recently has been unable to match the expanding need both to replace worn or pilfered books and to stock the fast-increasing new motel rooms.

"Frankly, we just haven't been able to keep up," Henderson said in an interview. "But we're constantly working to get our members to beat the bushes and try to catch up with the huge growth in opportunities."

"It's a never-ending process," said Henderson, 49, Presbyterian, and the Gideons' operational executive for 18 years. But the "spiritual fruits" are great, he added, citing the constant flow of letters from travelers and others, telling of lives enriched by the book left for them to read.

Besides seeking to keep a Bible in every hotel and motel room in the land, the international organization also supplies Bibles in airports, prison cells, physicians' offices, hospitals, to military personnel, teachers and schoolteachers. It also now operates in 87 foreign countries.

Last year, it distributed 7.8 million Bibles and Testaments, plus Authority has voted to cut up 4.3 per cent from last year before, and three times as many as 10 years ago. (The international symbol over the top since its founding passed 100 million in August, a point marked by presenting a copy of the authority, said the President Nixon.

"We have a lot of visitors from Canada each year and distributing Bibles in some diplomatic workers attached to Moslem and Buddhist embassies in New York and Iran, and in a few cases, to Washington who can't read the American grade and high school children.

Four Years' Experience 'Bailey Sees Dangers In Double Sessions'

"If there is any doubt about increasing enrollments, we had better start on the junior high school right away."

"I feel very strongly about double sessions, having lived with them for four years (1952-56). Everybody loses, nobody gains."

With even more working mothers today he said, "There would be even less supervision . . . The possibilities for trouble today are tremendous."

"The most astounding and worst thing about them is that studies suffer, and the corollary is that learning suffers."

"Almost at once we noticed a big jump in failures. For years, we had been running about 5 per cent in failures. In one quarter of double sessions, it almost doubled and then stabilized at about 7.45 per cent for four years."

Re: Slow learner being deprived of extra help — "It was difficult to get him to remain after the morning session for this help, and almost impossible to get him to come back late in the afternoon."

Upon moving into the present high school, Bailey said, "Right away we were faced with two alternatives — to ease up on standards or tolerate the increasing failure ratio."

"In a family of several children, one had to get to school at 7 in the morning, and another would get home at 5:30 in the afternoon."

Re: Extracurricular activities — "We organized some in the morning, but this was not satisfactory because they didn't always fit in with the teachers' schedules."

"The town doesn't get full value for its educational dollar," "You save and you don't on plant operations."

"We expected the failure ratio to drop at once, but it remained at about 7 1/2 per cent. It took three years to reduce it to its former level."

"There is not one good thing about double sessions."

British Complete Plan To Aid Victims of Crime

By THOMAS A. HEEDY
LONDON (AP) — Seven years ago British officials, welfare societies and the police decided something had to be done for victims of violent crime.

They asked: How about the 10 or 15 percent of persons perhaps maimed for life, unable to get a job again or to walk or even see?

Out of the discussions grew a compensation program put to Parliament only as "A White Paper." This meant the program would be carried out experimentally until it could prove its worth.

The proof now has been established, says the Home Office. Therefore experts are drafting legislation to put a national legal umbrella over the scheme. It is the only national program of its kind, and will apply and win awards in California, among other states which have carried out a similar plan on a limited basis.

For seven years the Home Office reports 20,000 claims disposed of, with almost 120 million awarded. The average is about $460 but some awards have been large.

A 20-year-old man beaten by two intruders was given $96,000 because he was destined to spend the rest of his life in a wheel chair.

Road Accidents Trigger U.S.-Viet Confrontations

By RICHARD BLYSTONE
QUIN NHON, Vietnam (AP) — Only a bare foot protrudes from the five-foot straw mat at roadside. The faces around the dead woman are hard to read, but the muttering means trouble.

It is another Vietnamese killed by a U.S. military vehicle; another confrontation in the making. The major charge of a small U.S. Army conciliation team tells passing Americans to clear out fast. Cool heads and prudent application of cash will keep this incident from erupting into violence. But it won't be the last.

Confrontations triggered by road accidents throughout Vietnam rose from three in February to 20 in August. As U.S. Army figures show, more than 61 drivers are told they may have to leave from the Viet. More than from a crowd anger by an accident.

Missage involving American drivers kill 20 Vietnamese a month on the average and injure about 80, according to U.S. Army figures. More than three quarters of American-Vietnamese confrontations start that way, a spokesman for the Army's civil-military operations division says.

In the Da Nang area, crowds have held U.S. soldiers and vehicles hostage after accidents. Vietnamese stoned and beat two U.S. soldiers last Sunday and burned their vehicle, which had been in a collision with a motorcycle.

Trying to head off such incidents, the U.S. Command has dozens of quick-reaction teams like the one that sped to the accident scene outside Qui Nhon. They were fewer than a dozen men, including a Vietnam interpreter and two U.S. Army soldiers trained in Vietnamese language and customs. About 100 Vietnamese stood around between the road and the rows of ramshackle houses.

"It definitely was tense for a while," said Sgt. L. C. Lane, U.S. Army. "You are about 100 feet from the crowd when you see the crowd and understand what we were doing."

Cars, motorcycles and huge Army trucks backed up for more than a mile each way even have to be involved in an accident, while the team explained and explained.

To show that the American Army was sorry, they gave the names and U.S. addresses.

Marine Team Visits College

The U.S. Marine Corps officer selection team from Hartford will be at Manchester Community College on Monday to discuss various options of programs available to qualified students.

The Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) program is both the ground and aviation fields. Successful completion of PLC training is culminated with commissioning as a second lieutenant upon graduation from college.

Low school deferments are available to qualified students. The team visiting the campus will be located in the Student Union.

Chaminade Plans Special Music

Guest musicians and a "Musical Gilpinse of Japan" will highlight the program of the Chaminade Musical Club Monday at 8 p.m. in the Federation Room of Center Congregational Church.

The evening will open with a brief business session, and refreshments will be served after the program, which is open to the public.

Miss Jennifer Pratt of New Britain, solo flautist with the Manchester Civic Orchestra; and Mrs. Ralph (Elizabeth) Cowell, pianist with the orchestra, will play a flute duet by Kuhlman.

Miss Pratt received her BA in music from Middlebury (Vt.) College and her MA degree in German from the University of Connecticut. She now teaches German at the Torrington Branch of the University of Connecticut. Mrs. Cowell received her BA degree in home economics from the University of Connecticut.

Democrats Pick Convention Date
Connecticut Democrats have chosen June 1974 as the dates for their 1974 state convention. The Republican session will be a week later, June 25-24. Both conventions will be at the Bushnell Memorial, Hartford.

Because there will be no nominations for U.S. senator, for governor and for other state offices until 1974, the business of the two 1974 state conventions will be limited.

The Democrats, in addition to hearing an address by a keynote speaker and adopting a state platform on which State Senate and House candidates can run, will nominate eight presidential electors and will name 51 delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach in July.

Democratic nominating conventions in the state's six congressional districts will be held June 10.

The Democratic dates for the state party convention, conventions and for primaries will be announced soon.

Forum on WINF
Tonight at 8:30, Radio Station WINF (1330 kh) of Manchester will broadcast the Board of Education candidates for a 90-minute forum Wednesday night at Robertson School.

The "Meet the Candidates" forum was sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Pack 367 Cubs Visit Capitol
Den I. Martin School Club Scout Pack 367 took advantage of the day off from school today by visiting the State Capitol and the State Library.

Accompanied by den mother Mrs. Wayne Martin, the seven boys were given a tour of the State Capitol by State Comptroller Nathan Agostinelli.

They brought sandwiches from home and had lunch in the comptroller's office. Agostinelli supplied the punch.

Future filmstrips will include programs on the Senate, the presidential election, the power crisis, Latin America, and Southeast Asia.

Bennet Club Explores Caves in New Milford

The Backpacking, Camping open, he confessed, "It was not hiking club, organized this year at Bennett Junior High School, made its first jaunt Saturday to New Milford to explore Tones Cave, named because its 25 feet high and about seven 'rooms' were used as hideouts by British sympathizers during the Revolutionary War.

Fifteen of the club's 20 members made the trip. Accompanying the group were Miss Betty Nicholson, guidance counselor; and club advisors, Juan Sanchez, science teacher, and Richard Bennett, social studies teacher.

The caves were first investigated by Sanchez and Bennett before students were allowed to explore. Included in the equipment was 150 feet of climbing rope, and each student was equipped with a flashlight.

"There was some doubt about how the eight girl spelunkers would handle the new experience and react to it. From all reports, they came through like veterans in many areas of the cave. The third student down and the last one out at one point in her account of splurging along tunnels, climbing up, and dropping into caves, she said, "It was standing there soaking wet, but it really didn't matter to me because I was so excited!"

James Hogan, an eighth grader, became something of a hero to his fellows as a result of his daring in exploring a narrow tunnel which I shall never publish in Prall in Vermont and forget." After emerging into the Massachusetts.

Vernon Ribicoff Guest At Democratic Open House

Senator Abraham Ribicoff will be guest at an open house at Vernon Democratic headquarters, on Union St. (opposite the Maple St. School) Sunday starting at 2 p.m.

Abner Brooks, Democratic town chairman, said all voters are urged to come and greet the senator and meet the Democratic candidates for Tuesday's election. There will be music, refreshments and the football game on color television.

The Rockville Rotary Club will sponsor a German-style "Oktoberfest" tomorrow from 1 to 5 p.m. on the Connecticut Golf and Country Club grounds near Vernon Circle.

Bavarian beer, knochwurst, sauerkraut, hot dogs and soda will be available. "The Oktoberfest" is a German-style band, will entertain throughout the afternoon. Priscilla Ann Doyle, Vernon Miss Connecticut, will also appear during the afternoon.

A bake sale will also be conducted by the "Rotary Annex," the wives of the Rotary Club members.

Proceeds from the event will be used to finance community service projects sponsored by the Rotary Club. An admission charge will be made per family.

Ensemble Performers The small ensemble group of the Vernon Charter Middle School band will perform tomorrow at the Connecticut State Education Commission to be held in Bridgeport.

School Lunches The following lunches will be served in the Vernon Schools next week. Schools will be closed Tuesday, election day.

Monday: Ravioli with meat sauce, tossed salad, bread and butter, apple crisp.

Wednesday: Chicken cutlet, cranberry sauce, parsley potatoes, bread and butter, chocolate pudding with marshmallow topping.

Thursday: Roast beef on rice, carrots, roll and butter, mixed fruit.

Friday: Baked fish, tartar sauce, mashed potato, peas, corn bread and butter, jelly with topping.

School Plans The preliminary plans for the proposed expansion of the Rockville High School have been made available at the Rockville Public Library and the Police Station.

Mayor Frank McCoy urges all townspeople to take advantage of the opportunity to view these plans prior to the public hearing which will be held Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the Vernon Center Middle School.

South Windsor Candidate Views Citizen's Role In Government

A three-point program to increase participation by South Windsor citizens in town government has been proposed by Republican Councilwoman Mrs. Jane Romeyn.

According to Mrs. Romeyn the Town Council should revise its rules to encourage greater public participation and information at a meeting two years ago, at her suggestion. She said this has resulted in better attendance.

In addition to changes already made, she proposed: 1. That the various groups participating in the Community Development Action Plan (CDAP) continue in a more informal capacity as an advisory group in review of final recommendations, including establishing priorities and suggesting specific methods of implementation and funding.

2. Continuing the program of information and action on state legislative proposals initiated by the present council with an appointed member to act as liaison for the council.

3. Improve and expand the program of orientation of newly elected and appointed officials and to seek ways to encourage more people to accept appointed positions which would reduce the time required to fill vacancies.

First Selectman Charles Thifault Introduces Ted Kreines of Greater Hartford Process

Greater Hartford Process, the planners of a new community somewhere in the Capitol Region came to Tolland last night to explain their ecological approach to development based on the capabilities of land.

They were greeted by about 50 interested townspeople, and some out-of-towners who did not speak under the ground rules laid out by mutual agreement between Planner Ted Kreines and First Selectman Charles Thifault.

Local interest was serious, but mixed with curiosity. No panic was evident, as it had been reported to have occurred in other towns, particularly Ellington.

In fact, Ellington appears to have done itself some harm by its reaction to Greater Hartford's work, losing the opportunity for citizen input in the land studies upon which the regional development plan will be based.

The central portion of last night's meeting was an informal discussion with local residents attending given the opportunity to designate the final landmarks on Greater Hartford's maps.

These landmarks included the town's center, the historic landmarks and in many cases unique scenic areas.

When the residents mapping these areas were finished a large area of town had been outlined on the map.

Kreines, a former resident of the town, has met with 14 other towns in the region, always privately with town officials in presentations before groups of three to 12 people.

"Tonight's presentation is extremely out of the ordinary," he told the board members and residents attending.

Describing his job as one in which he collects and in turn gives out information, Kreines explained how the planning company maps out its information and action on state legislative proposals initiated by the present council with an appointed member to act as liaison for the council.

Eight Complete Rifle Course

Eight members of John Mathewson's Rifle Club were awarded certificates for passing the National Rifle Association training course.

The high-ranking trio has not been publicly since Sept. 10, shortly before signs of a possible upheaval in the leadership appeared.

According to recent intelligence reports, the crisis appears still unresolved. Intelligence officials say the Chinese are difficult to confirm, called the situation "murky" as yet.

China-watchers have speculated that a power struggle was triggered by the reported illness of Marshal Lin Biao, Communist China's defense minister and designated successor.

The military leadership is critically important because senior PLA officers play a dominant role in the party and government officials often can be measured by the reported ill-effects they get or don't get in office.

Military Purge in Peking Reported by U.S. Analysts

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence analysts say there are increasing indications of a military purge in Peking.

Reports from what were described as secret sources, presumably inside mainland China, claim that Huang Yongsheng, chief of staff of the People's Liberation Army (PLA), has been purged.

The same undercover sources reported that Red Chinese Air Force commander Wu Fabin and Navy political commissar Luo Ting had been sent away for "re-education," the American analysts said.

Drugs Thefts Suspect Held

WINDSOR (AP) — A 35-year-old Windsor man was arrested Thursday and charged with robbing drug stores in Windsor and West Hartford.

Crig J. Wadsworth was charged with second-degree robbery, second-degree larceny and possession of heroin and cocaine, police said.

The charges were made in connection with robberies Tuesday night at the Oakwood Pharmacy in West Hartford and the Eastern Pharmacy in Windsor, witnesses at the scene of both robberies identified Wadsworth from police photographs, according to Windsor police.

About 160 and narcotics were taken from the Windsor drug store. At the West Hartford store, police said, the robber told the druggist he had a pistol in his pocket, but didn't show it. When the druggist gave the money, the robber allegedly said he wanted only narcotics.

Police said the robber had a plastic container in which the drugs were placed. The container, police said, contained morphine and other drugs.

Business Mirror Defeat of IRA in Ulster Seen Economic Necessity

By DONALD FORBES
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Commerce Minister Roy Bradford believes that the swift defeat of the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland is becoming an economic imperative as well as a political one.

Bradford has warned feuding Roman Catholics and Protestants in this province: "We could face bankruptcy in a matter of weeks."

While other members of the government believe Bradford was exaggerating, they are worried by the decline in foreign investment in Northern Ireland and the damage to business in central Belfast because of the IRA's terror campaign.

Tourist revenue has been falling since the trouble erupted in 1968. Economic chaos throughout the foundations of Ulster's Protestant-based government is one of the objectives of the IRA, which is pledged to reunite Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic to the south by force and ballot.

Government officials put the bill of Northern Ireland's economic havoc at $20 million up to the end of last year from August 1969. And the 1971 crop of bombings and destruction could add at least another $36 million to that figure.

Northern Ireland is a province which has traditionally borne chronic unemployment. Because of Britain's economic stagnation and the IRA's policy of economic disruption, one man in 10 is already unemployed and the statistics go from bad to worse.

Nowhere is the effectiveness of the terrorist campaign more evident than in the center of Belfast. Big department stores—the equal of plush shops across Europe—are doing up to 40 per cent less business and are laying off staff.

The government now fears a wave of bankruptcies affecting even the prestige Belfast stores. Already, the 70-bed room Grand Central Hotel, one of the city's best for a century, has closed for good because

The Women Will Vote In Switzerland

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — For the first time women vote for parliament in this weekend's election.

Some 3.6 million Swiss, including 1.9 million women, are eligible to choose 200 deputies to the National Council or lower house of parliament.

The campaign has stressed domestic issues, ranging from high prices to low birth rates.

No major changes are expected in the country's middle-of-the-road pattern of politics.

Under an agreement worked out by the four largest parties 14 years ago, each has a share in the seven-member Cabinet that roughly reflects the popular vote. This "magic formula 2-2-1" allows two seats each to Socialists, Liberals and Christian Democrats, and one to the centrist farmers, tradesmen's and Citizens party.

In the present house these four parties control four-fifths of the seats.

The government's term of office is renewed more or less automatically after every election, although it requires formal approval by the new parliament. Ministers remain in office until they choose to retire, normally at least eight years.

One element of uncertainty is two new political groupings set on invading parliament with a "Switzerland first" platform

Are You Tired of Tax Increases?
Well, Remember The Following
Facts on Election Day, Nov. 2nd.

REPUBLICANS increased your Taxes 10.7 Mills during their 5 years in office since 1967.

DEMOCRATS held your Taxes to a mere 0.6 Mill increase during their entire 4 years in office from 1963-1967.

We can do it better for less!

- Vote DEMOCRATIC - on Nov. 2nd

On May 10, 1971 in an advertisement taken in the Manchester Herald, the minority Democratic Directors protested the 1971-72 Republican budget developed in "SECRET SESSIONS" without minority consultation. Since May 10, Governor McNellie reduced Manchester's share of the State funds from $200,000 to $150,000. With other economies in this projected budget it is clear that NO TAX INCREASE IS NEEDED in the most recent Town Budget. The May 10th advertisement is reprinted below:

Democratic Budget Statement "No Tax Increase Needed"

- 1. Our budget would include a 5% pay increase for Town employees and a 3% increase to executive and administrative staff members. Our budget would not provide for any additional personnel except in the Police and Fire Departments.
- 2. Our budget would include an appropriation for the Board of Education in the amount recommended by the Town Manager.
- 3. Our budget would include all of the major items recommended by the Town Manager in the capital improvement program.
- 4. Our figures show that the increase in the Grand List, money from the projected increase in State Aid and the lesser amount appropriated for the capital improvement fund, plus large reductions in department requests, compared to that of last year, makes the Democratic hold-line budget mathematically and economically feasible.

Rising Maine Property Taxes Inspire Income Tax Opponents

By DAVE SWEARINGEN
AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — If the state income tax is raised by 10 per cent, the state income tax would be the highest in the Northeast, according to a study released Thursday by the public administration bureau and Maine Municipal Association.

The study says the present personal income tax has the least impact in per capita and personal income terms. It is 112 higher than the national average. Specifically, Maine's property tax burden is equivalent to 173 per cent of the national average.

The study showed that the 50 states in 1968, the year the income tax was raised, had an average of 14th in per capita income tax, 15th in personal income tax and 16th in property tax.

On the other hand, the study says that the income tax is the most important source of revenue for the state. It is the only tax that is not levied on property.

OLD CODGERS' COGNATIONS

O.C. just received the following letter. Many of the nicknames "A Friend" lists sound very familiar to O.C. but he is not able now to identify their owners. A few he can and will enclose them in parentheses, Main St. Sometimes Gossie Rogers (Charlie) caught for Wee Willie.

Who for instance knows the origin of "Zip" or "Bun"? Most of us know the identity of these two gentlemen, but who knows the origin of why "Zip" or "Bun" was applied to them.

Just to interest or possibly activate some of your readers I am going to list a few "knicks" that were well known in my day and suggest they write it their names and the origin of the monikers.

Here are the names: Blondie, Mush (Al Gressel), Cuckoo (Tom Keating), Tucker, Duffer (John Martin), Granite (William Aspinwall), Ducky (John May), Beak, Pinkie, Yump (Johnson), Bulldog, Yellow (Bob Chambers), Dolle (Arthur Keating), Mull (McCarthy), Corry (Behanfield), Yena, Gub-bie, Dorlie (George Davidson), Speed, Pop (Edgar).

Question 2, which is to be voted upon November 2nd, provides for a new elementary school to be built in the northeast section of Manchester. Reasons exist for the voters to consider:

- 1. The area has grown substantially in the past few years.
- 2. The Manchester Green School, of wood frame construction, is over fifty years old. It is in a heavily commercialized section, in the midst of dense traffic, and on a small site. The school cannot accommodate the 300 students who live in the district. Over the years many have had to be moved back and forth to other schools, a practice which still continues. It is no longer suitable as a school. It should be replaced. There is no way to accommodate the school's 300 pupils without additional classrooms. This deficiency can be remedied by the proposed Northeast Elementary School.

State laws require communities to provide special programs for children with learning disabilities. Some programs have been started in Manchester. Hundreds of our children can qualify for special programs as required by law. Many of these are the future dropouts if we cannot give them the help they need now. It should be noted that the State sets limits on class size. In many cases the maximum is set at eight or ten children. It can readily be seen what happens each time we turn a classroom, housing 25-30 pupils over to one of these programs. These needs are on the increase. The proposed new Northeast Elementary School will contain facilities for several groups and will furnish important help in meeting this great need. This is a matter which is important not just for the northeast area parents but for the parents of each elementary school child in Manchester.

What about programs for the non-handicapped children who make up the vast majority of our school population? We have learned a valuable lesson — that for schools to be truly economical and useful over the long run they must be designed to provide flexibility. As we discover more and more about how children learn we find that there is no one best way for all children. If we are to meet the needs of each child we must have materials and facilities that lend themselves to a variety of techniques. We cannot serve each child best as long as the building has undue influence over what can or cannot be done educationally within its walls.

The need for a new elementary school in the northeast part of town is urgent and it exists now. It will not be completed before two or three years. The hardships that are being experienced now by some of our children will intensify. This new school has implications for parents all over Manchester. It should not be viewed as a matter of concern only to those who live in the northeastern part of town.

Very truly yours,
ISIDOR WOLF, Principal

WHY REPLACE GREEN SCHOOL

STATE OF CONNECTICUT STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION Box 2219 - HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT 06115 Tel. 566-3094

To: Dr. Donald J. Hennigan Superintendent of Schools Manchester, Connecticut
From: Ernest Sibley, Jr., Architect School Construction Economy Service Bureau of School Buildings
Subject: School Plant Evaluation Green Elementary School Manchester, Connecticut

On April 13, 1970, an examination was made of the Manchester Elementary School, to evaluate its continued use as an educational facility in the Manchester school system.

The original building, located on the north side of East Middle Turnpike, was built in 1921, with an addition constructed in 1924.

The site, including the building area, is about 3 1/4 acres in size, with limited usable area for organized play, bus loading or parking.

At the present time, the building houses approximately 300 pupils in grades kindergarten through 6. Of necessity, classrooms are self-contained, since there are no specialized facilities for music, arts and crafts.

Day to day maintenance of the building appears to be excellent, within the severe limitations imposed by old and deteriorating finishing materials and mechanical systems.

All things considered, we strongly recommend that immediate steps be taken to provide a new, modern school on an adequate site to serve the Green area, and abandon the existing building as a school facility as soon as reasonably possible.

Church Changes Subtle
Father Barry Tells Group

By ALICE EVANS
(Herald Reporter)

Changes in the Catholic Church and his work with the Metropolitan Marriage Tribunal were discussed last night by the Rev. Thomas Barry, former assistant pastor of St. James Church, at the Combined Catholic Mothers Circle annual banquet at Willie's Steak House.

Calling the changes "subtle and complex," he spoke of the great nostalgia for the days when the church used incense, the guardian angel watched as one crossed a street, there was fasting on Fridays, nuns wore long skirts, and priests didn't get married.

He spoke of the 60s as the decade of iconoclasm, noting the changes in ecumenism, education, and our national foreign policy. Contrasting that era with the 70s, he said, "The spiritual life which was outmoded in the 60s when people were more concerned with social issues, has had a new flowering in the 70s as people realize that, without a personal spiritual life, there is no sort of Christianity."

A new facet of the trend to involve the laity in a more intimate participation in the church, he said, was the recommendation of the Canon Law Society that lay people have some say in the naming of a bishop. That body suggested that the people should be polled as to what type of a person they wanted as bishop, and what qualifications they believed the new bishop should have.

Explaining the function of the Metropolitan Tribunal, Father Barry said that it handles marriages ending or which have ended in divorce, and is not a marriage counseling service. In the effort to make annulments more available, new rules have been set up, according to Father Barry, where the tribunal must process a case eight months after the case has begun.

He also spoke of the concern of the bishops with teen-age marriages which ended in divorce shortly after the ceremony, and voiced the belief that "only mature people can stand the stress and strain of married life."

Mrs. William Adams, chairman of the Combined Catholic Mothers Circle, welcomed the more than 100 guests and introduced Father Barry. The Rev. Joseph Vujs of St. James Church, chaplain of the organization, gave the blessing. Also seated at the head table were Timothy Rohan, banquet chairman, and Mrs. Paul Kishman, co-chairman.
