Hebron PZC Gives Report On Year's Work

Approximately 70 divisions of work were approved during the 1970-71 fiscal year, according to the annual report submitted by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Of these 70, most are "building lots" and construction is either underway, completed or contemplated in the next year.

During the year, the report states that business zones, business regulations and the need for a new town plan became a major consideration. The commission also reviewed the first 1971-72 budget for the first phase of a new town plan.

A committee of the business regulations and a review of all existing and potential zoning regulations is being conducted by the town planners.

During the year, the commission also reviewed regulations governing the excavation and removal of earth and the construction of septic tanks in town and they were adopted.

The commission undertook the assignment of street numbers by a subcommittee. This committee hopes to complete its work during this present fiscal year and notify residents of their assigned street numbers.

Overall, the Planning and Zoning Commission held 22 regular meetings, 14 public hearings, one public discussion meeting and an average of two meetings per month for the fiscal year. The commission also held a series of public hearings on the zoning regulations.

The zoning board of appeals voted in executive session last week following a public hearing to grant a variance to Mrs. Mabel Grantham of Basketweaver Rd. to operate an antique and gift shop in the basement of her home.

Mrs. Grantham had explained to the board that she planned to use approximately half of the basement for the shop. She also stated that the shop would have a separate entrance.

Mrs. Grantham was the fact that her house is set back from the road and that she has a circular driveway for easy traffic flow.

In granting the variance, the board made it subject to five stipulations: That there shall be no outside display or storage of merchandise; that the business be conducted in the basement portion of the main residence; also, that there shall be no on-street parking; that there shall be only one sign, no larger than four square feet; and that the variance is not transferable.

The annual meeting of the Manchester Salvation Army, the Church of Christ, the Church of the Nazarene, the Church of God, and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be held Friday evening with supper at 6:30 and the meeting to follow.

Included in the call of the meeting is a change in the by-laws for the fiscal year to begin on January 1st to December 31st.

Members of the church are being asked to either bring food for the dinner or to make a donation to the dinner.

Hebron residents who are interested in attending the town meeting dinner for the Rev. Harry Jenkins, Old Country High Church, Lawrence, Conn. and Lawrence, Conn. were held good; the Ottifelli family, ice cream; and Miss Gladys White, Christmas cards.

Mrs. Francis McCarthy is in charge of a "surprise" table for the youth department. The "Little Miss Muffett," with grab bag gifts in her pockets, will circulate through the rooms.

Mrs. Maj. Lawrence Beadle is general chairman of the Home in Williamette. There will be a social hour from 6 to 7 p.m. prior to the dinner.

Legion To Meet

Tonight will be Boys' and Girls' night at the American Legion Post, with parents and sponsors of delegates especially invited.

Tomorrow night, the post will hold installation of a new group of delegates at 8:30 in conjunction with Veterans night. The evening will start at 6:30 and will feature a chicken supper and auction.

'Funny Girl' Final LTM 1971 Fare

The final offering of the Little Theatre of Manchester's 1971 season will be "Funny Girl," which opens tomorrow and Saturday at East Catholic High School with an 8:30 p.m. curtain. The musical will also play the following Friday and Saturday at the same location.

A great success on Broadway, "Funny Girl" launched Barbra Streisand on her illustrious career. The play concerns the early life of Funny Brice because, but very talented girl. Funny's career took a meteoric rise from obscurity to stardom in the famed Ziegfeld Follies in association with impresario Florenz Ziegfeld.

The story also includes her poignant marriage to the sophisticated gambler Nicky Arnstein. The demanding score, played by a 12-piece orchestra under the direction of Maurice Stelberg, includes such memorable songs as "Don't Rain on My Parade," "Henry Street" and "People." The production features a cast of 12 players with lavish costumes for the showgirls and the traditional white tie and tails for the men.

Director for this musical is Fred T. Blinn III whose name and reputation are familiar in Manchester area theater circles, both as director and actor. His most recent assignment was directing the cast of LTM's "A Thousand Clowns" in the city of Hartford.

Blinn's theatrical interests began in high school days in Manchester. He pursued a B.A. in drama at the University of Connecticut, where he received his MA in drama.

He is a charter member of LTM and also has designed costumes for a recent production of "Carousel."

Choreographers for "Funny Girl" are the expert husband-wife dance team, Beverly and Les Burton, who also supervised the intricate dance routines for "Carousel."

Pola Negri Picture Is Costly One

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge ruled Wednesday that a pharmaceutical company violated the civil rights of Pola Negri, one of the most famous of silent film stars, by using a photograph of her to advertise an anti-asthma medicine.

The judge's ruling was issued in San Antonio, Tex., and living in San Antonio, Negri is suing the company for $500,000 damages.

Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan ruled in U.S. District Court that the Schering Corp. of Bloomfield, N.J., was liable for damages and ordered Mrs. Negri's suit for $500,000 to go to trial. The trial is to be held in San Antonio, Tex., on Nov. 15.

The suit, still known as "Bella Donna," was filed in 1962. Mrs. Negri and her leading man, Charles Farrell, were featured in the picture. Mrs. Negri admitted Mrs. Negri had since changed considerably.

"This is beside the point," said Mrs. Negri's lawyer, who said the picture was used for commercial exploitation.

UPPERCUT URETHIN IN TWO PARTS
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
If you are a student of boxing, you know the uppercut is a punch delivered upward, especially to the point of the jaw. The idea is to get the opponent's head in orbit, or at the very least to discourage him from continuing the battle. A punch of the same name in bridge has very much the same effect.

St. Mary's Consecrated

By JOHN JOHNSTON (Herald Reporter)

In a service that blended tradition and modernity, St. Mary's Episcopal Church was consecrated last night. The Rt. Rev. J. Warren Hutchens, tenth bishop of the diocese of Connecticut, was consecrator and celebrant of the Feast of the Epiphany.

To mark the solemnity of preparation, the church was dimly lit as the bishop took his position at the door between the narthex and the nave. There he was joined by his chaplain, Canon Douglas W. Kennedy, retired rector of St. James' Church, West Hartford; the Ven. Charles W. Wilding, Archdeacon of Hartford; and the Rev. George F. Nostrand, rector of St. Mary's.

The bishop struck the door three times with his pastoral staff as he commanded, "Open me the gate of righteousness that I may go into them, and give thanks unto the Lord."

Frederick H. Burr Jr. and Clarence Maron, church wardens, admitted him as they answered, "This is the gate of the Lord; the righteous shall enter into it."

The procession moved up the center aisle, the congregation joined in the singing of "Only-begotten, Word of God eternal" and "Christ is made the sure foundation."

The bishop was preceded by the senior, junior, and newly-formed children's choir; visiting clergy; representatives of St. Mary's organizations; Mayor James Farr; and St. Mary's clergy. During the processional, church lights were up by stages until the interior was completely illuminated.

Standing at the foot of the sanctuary, Bishop Hutchens accepted the record of the church's gifts of ornaments and furnishings, including the list of all contributors, from Gordon G. Frogg and John H. Hyde, representatives of the building committee. After this, the bishop moved to the altar, where he rededicated it and everything that is part of the church.

The actual consecration began with the reading of the instruments of donation and endorsement by Winslow Manchester, and their presentation to the bishop by Mrs. Claude Porter and Mrs. Alan Hotchkiss. Bishop Hutchens read the Book of Common Prayer service of consecration, concluding with the prayers of intercession for those who may receive the ministrations of the sacraments in St. Mary's. Archdeacon Wilding read the sentence of consecration.

Bell Toller

At the conclusion of this portion of the service, William Ripponson tolled the bell, whose sound was first heard 15 years ago; a continuous Anglican tradition of Major Lawrence J. Concelebrants were Bishop Beadie and Geoffrey and Gary Hutchens. Mr. Nostrand, and the choir and congregation, accompanied by the trio and Elsie Perret played a festive fanfare; the Rev. Russell Allen, assistant, David Sutfeld read the epistle from the Revelation of St. John; and the Rev. Ronald Jones, Christ Church Cathedral; St. John; and the Rev. Cyril C. Burke, St. Monica's; the Rev. Nelson R. Gracie; the Rev. Edward F. Townsend; the Rev. William C. Harvey, Trinity; Canon Ralph D. Read, St. John's; the Rev. Kingsley land, retired, Trinity.

The offertory anthem was "Thy Church, O God, Her Heart to Thee Opened" by the Junior and senior choirs. During the rite of rededication the choir sang "The Church of St. Mary's, those still living and those who have passed on."

The service concluded with the processional hymn, "Come labor on," and the organ postlude, "Toccata and Fugue in D St. John's, East Hartford; and the Rev. Douglas Theumer, St. Paul's, Williamistic.

The building program for the present church began in 1923 during the rectorship of the Rev. James Stuart Neill, D.D. Planning was slowed by the Depression and other problems until the program was revitalized in 1950 by the rector, the Rev. Alfred Lock Williams, Ground broken July 10, 1952; Bishop Walter H. Gray laid the cornerstone Oct. 23 of the same year; and the church was dedicated Sept. 5, 1956.

Starting in 1944, St. Mary's congregations worshipped in schools and churches in Union Village at the North End and the Center. In 1952, the former church, now used for church Thomas Fletcher, St. Mark's, school and other activities, was erected on Church St. The first service was held there on Easter Sunday, 1953.

The first five rectors were appointed by bishops. They were the Rev. William Corby, 1844-1848; Pres. Jackson of Trinity College, 1850-1852; the Rev. H. Betts, and the Rev. H. R. Whitlock, 1855-1876.

Since then, rectors have been elected by the parish. They were the Rev. Beverly Warner, 1876-1884; the Rev. James La Roche, 1884-1889; the Rev. Edward Huntington Coley, 1889-1893; the Rev. Vandals Smash Whitton Windows

Police have expressed concern about the growing number of vandalism acts in the North End near the rededicated area.

Last night, 22 panes of glass were broken at Whitton Memorial Library by rock-throwing vandals. Police Capt. Joseph Barker says vandals in the library have broken almost 200 panes of glass in the last few weeks. He said police will intensify patrols of the area, because of reported beer-drinking parties among youths congregating near the Community Y.

Other buildings in the area, especially new ones under construction, have also been subjected to various vandalism acts.

Pair Caught On Roof Of Fabric Shop

Police caught two Manchester youths this morning hiding on the roof of the Fabric Shop located on Hartford Rd.

The two, Stephen Dault, 19, of 126 Walker St. and Stephen H. Hadden, 20, of 40 Dorset St., were both charged with criminal attempt to commit burglary in the third degree, and possession of burglary tools. Both were held overnight and were scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 1 session in Manchester this afternoon.

Driven to the police by an alarm, Officers John McCalland and Robert O'Connell investigated the premises, which appeared to be secure, police said.

The owner, Archie D'Amato, of 118 Keeney St., was notified and an inside inspection revealed a broken window on the second floor. The two youths were found hiding on the roof below the window.

Nothing was missing, police said, as the store was apparently never entered.

O'Connell said a prybar was found on the broken window and one of the accused carried a flashlight.

The two were arrested at gunpoint, were transported, handcuffed, to headquarters.

$2.5 Million Profit Seen For Lottery

HARTFORD (AP) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said today he expects the state lottery to bring in enough money to pay its operating costs and still pay $2.5 million into the state's general fund by next July 1.

"I feel we will do that well," said the governor at his morning news conference.

The Gaming Commission has been allocated $2,100,000 by the Finance Advisory Committee to pay the expenses of the state's new gambling enterprise, including race tracks and off-track betting during the current fiscal year.

No money had been appropriated by the legislature for recognition from the state of Grange for outstanding service in the duties of the office of lottery.

Mrs. Van Deusen recently had been represented with an award from the National Grange Association, also honoring her for her outstanding performance in the duties of lecturer. Another honor bestowed on a local grange member was the State Grange's selection of Mrs. Margaret Yeomans, past over-seer and newly elected chaplain of the local group, as "Granger of the Year" in Andover.

Manchester Evening Herald Andover correspondent, Anna Frisina, Tel. 743-8447.

Among the studies to be undertaken by the task force are the recommendations of the Capitol Region Planning Agency, the recommendations of the plan and in its short-range and long-range transportation plans; the recommendations in a professional report made for the CROCOG under a federal grant by the Alan M. The task force will meet Nov. 17 at 2 p.m. in the offices of Greater Hartford Process Inc.

Lending Rate Reduced By Major Banks

at Bank, Northern Trust and Harris Trust cut their prime rates to 9 1/2 per cent today, while Continental National Chicago said it was lowering the rate to 9 1/2 per cent, effective Friday. Several smaller banks across the country also lowered their prime rates to 9 1/2 per cent.
"The continuing downward trend in money market rates over the past two weeks makes a further reduction in the prime rate appropriate to keep in line with short-term interest rates generally," Chase said in announcing the cut.
The prime rate, which is the interest commercial banks charge their most credit-worthy corporate customers, was lowered two weeks ago to 9 1/2 per cent from 10 per cent where it had stood since June 1969. It had been lowered from 10 1/2 per cent in June 1969 to 10 per cent in August 1969.
The prime rate is considered financially significant because other bank loan rates are scaled upward from it.

Prices Show Decline For Last Month

and wood products, gasoline, residual fuel, electric power, textiles, rubber and plastic products, the bureau said.
On a seasonally adjusted basis, wholesale prices for industrial commodities declined 0.3 per cent, farm products and processed foods and seeds rose 1.4 per cent and consumer finished goods were up 0.6 per cent.
Wholesale prices of American-made cars increased 1.6 per cent in October, the bureau said. But it said this did not necessarily violate the freeze because September prices were entirely for 1971 model cars while October prices are for 1972 models.
The 0.1 per cent decline follows a seasonally adjusted drop of 0.4 per cent for September, the first full month after the President's freeze announcement Aug. 15. However, prices paid by consumers rose on the average in September. Consumer figures for October will be available later this month.
The bureau said October's wholesale decline is largely attributable to commodities subject to the provisions of the President's stabilization action.
The bureau said prices of raw agricultural products and imported items rose. Raw agricultural products do not have price ceilings imposed under the freeze, and prices of imported items are legally allowed to rise by the exact amount of extra import duty and currency exchange rate changes brought about by the President's new economic policy.
The decline in the wholesale index brings it to 134.4 per cent of the 1967 level, 3.1 per cent above a year earlier.

The Hostess Didn't Tell Them in Advance

How would you react to the unsuspecting announcement that it's your 26th wedding anniversary? Especially when it's made at an election party at the American Legion Home, and the voting results haven't exactly made it a spirited celebration. But your hostess, Vivian Ferguson, is one of the Republicans elected to the Town Board of Directors. And after admonishing her constituents that they had hard work ahead of them, she tells them the night will wind up on a happy note because "it's Lil and Jack Hunter's anniversary. That's GOP town chairman N. Adler Dobkin in right front."

Young Folk To Sponsor 'Superstar'

A light show and pantomime-dance interpretation of the recording, "Jesus Christ, Superstar," will be presented tomorrow at 8 p.m. at South United Methodist Church, sponsored by several youth groups.

The Rev. Arnold Westwood of the Unitarian Universalist Society, who made the arrangements to have the Natick High School students perform the show, said it will be presented as though it were happening now.

The players will wear contemporary clothes of young people, such as blue jeans, sweat-shirts and leather jackets. The dance and its special lighting effects were developed by the Natick group of junior and senior high school students.

The 30-member interdenominational group was organized for the show.

The Rev. Mr. Westwood pointed out that the rock opera was written for young people and that the interpretation by Natick young people has been meaningful to audiences all over New England because it reflects the youth culture. The group played last week to a standing-room-only audience in Longmeadow, Mass., he said.

A Coventry artist, Gary Corrigan, designed a stencil for posters displayed in town. Sponsoring groups will serve a supper to the Natick young people in South Church before the show. Sponsors include youth groups from the Unitarian-Universalist Society; Center Congregational, Second Congregational, Assumption and North United Methodist churches in Manchester; and St. George's Episcopal and the United Methodist churches in Bolton.

Tickets are available from members of the youth groups and at the Drug Advisory Center. They will also be sold at the door.

The banana was once called the "Apple Paradox" and sometimes "Adam's Fig." Mythical story tells us that the serpent who tempted Eve in the Garden of Eden, or Paradise, hid in a bunch of bananas. Some say banana leaves were the first articles of clothing and not fig leaves.

The banana is a native of the East Indies. It requires a hot, damp climate with soil, and now is cultivated in all tropical countries. Only one stalk of banana grows on a plant. The small end of the fruit points upward when growing and not down as we sometimes see them hanging in the grocery store.

Bananas are not allowed to ripen on the plant. They are almost always picked green. In areas where the banana is common, the natives use the fruit much as we would potatoes. They are fried, boiled and are a staple in the diet of many poor people.

Originally, the name banana was applied to those varieties which are consumed near Plantains were the banana is common. Today, there is not as much differentiation. In India, for example, all varieties are called plantains.

Almost all our bananas come from Central and South America. The fruit is sensitive to cool temperatures and does not like a climate too dry or too wet. The ideal temperature for ripening is 80-90 degrees.

While commercial growers cultivate the banana with great care, it does not, as a native food, require much attention. They are said to be more than 300 varieties of bananas in many areas. If you have traveled in tropical climates, you may have seen the tiny lady finger bananas. I have even tried a red banana which I see once in awhile in some of our Manchester "markets".

Banana bunches are cut into "hands" and packed into crates for shipment to grocery stores and produce stores. A true "hand" is made up from 10-12 bananas. Since the general public seldom buys that many at one time, they are broken up into smaller quantities.

Many say that the banana should not be eaten until it is deep yellow, speckled with brown spots. Of course, it is more easily digested at this ripe stage. I can one time ever, who likes a banana best while the skin is only yellow and not spotted.

Bananas can be dried in the same manner as figs. In fact, they are sometimes referred to as banana figs when dried. The bananas are placed whole, usually on wooden trays, and left in the hot sun, covered with cheese cloth, for about two weeks. They are brought in at night and turned from time to time. They turn a dark brown and shrink to about a third of their normal size. They can then be eaten as is or cut into pieces for puddings and cakes.

From dried banana, a flour can be made. It is easily digested and can be used in feeding invalids and children. It also has a high nutritional value and smells good although it is pale grey in color. The flour can be made into a breakfast cereal by adding milk or water, then serving with cream.

An after-dinner drink is made from ripe bananas. Called Creme de Banane, it is a sweet yellow liqueur.

Bananas are in demand and are available all year. At Highland Park Market, they are purchased by the hundreds of pounds.

"In recent years, we have been carrying a greater variety of specialty fruits and vegetables," Jack Devanney, the owner said. "The public wants a selection — things like pomgranates, persimmons and Belgian endive.

"All of our bananas come to us prepacked in plastic bags." We went into the back room which was quite cool. The bananas come in heavy-duty cardboard containers. Cards were being wrapped and marking produce. Colorful guards for decorative purposes were being placed in small containers.

I asked Jack whether he thought the public was more turned to food variety than in

South Windsor Arts Committee Lists Programs

The newly formed Cultural Arts Committee has drawn up a tentative list of programs designed to expand cultural opportunities to town students.

Story-telling for kindergarten through fourth grade and dance participation in the performances of the Trudy Kauffman troupe for first and second graders are two possibilities.

The committee is also considering Hart Opera Theater performances for third and fourth graders at the high school, and trips to the Bushnell in Hartford so that Grades 5-8 may attend the Hartford Symphony Orchestra's Young People Concerts.

The fifth grades may also be afforded the opportunity to hear the Greater Hartford Youth Chorus; sixth grades, a Hart Opera Theater presentation of "Romeo from the Firstes"; a children's opera narrated in English; seventh graders, a youth ballet team; and the eighth graders Mimika, a pantomime trio performing the "Lieutenant de Bille."

Grades 9-12 would see "Home of the Brave" performed by the Hartford Stage Company at the high school.

The chairman of the committee, Mrs. Edith Yonan, said she believes the total program should be financed at a convenience to every family and that no child will be denied participation in the program with the aid of a scholarship.

Co-chairman of the committee, Mrs. Edith Yonan, said she believes the total program should be financed at a convenience to every family and that no child will be denied participation in the program with the aid of a scholarship.

Baseball League
An organizational meeting of the Stoneage Basketball League (age 30 or older) will be held to elect the public relations room of the Town Hall at 8 p.m. All teams interested in entering the league are asked to have a representative present. League games will be played Thursday evening at the South Windsor High School.

"A Walk Thru the Meadows" will take place Sunday at 2 p.m. Mrs. Louise Evans, chairman of the South Windsor Conservation Committee, said that members of the commission will be present and everyone is invited to accompany the conservationists. The group will meet at the corner of Main St. and Newberry Rd.

This walk was canceled last month because of inclement weather. Those participating are asked to wear warm clothing and appropriate footwear for hiking through the marshes.

| HI, NEIGHBOR! | |
| Many years ago when the world was flat and no one ever heard of our Glorious Emporium, people went long distances by ship to shop and got pirated in the process. This is not necessary in the present age, because our weird merchandise is available at a wide assortment of goods from railroads, trucking and insurance companies, bankruptcies, mail order houses and closeouts at prices below what dealers pay. And since my wife found out that it's as much fun taking money as spending it, she has pressed me to devote less time to golf and more time to business. So, taking an extra fifteen minutes from the golf course, I have compiled the following list of items which will be offered this weekend: | |
| 1. Insurance stock (slightly damp) of high grade Brentwood molded ware — canister sets, washers, bathrrom accessories, etc. at about half store prices. | |
| 2. Boys' (some men's) rubber shoe packs at $3.99 pair. | |
| 3. A large assortment of Glenoit Fake Fur Rugs in several sizes and colors at $1.75, $2.30, $2.75 and $3.25. | |
| 4. Wearer aluminum ware in single pieces and sets at about 40% off regular retail prices. | |
| 5. Office desks and secretary swivel chairs, snow shovels and trailer stoves, carpet remanants and mattresses, toys and games, records and tapes, stereo and children's wear, doors and shutters, glassware and pottery, plus hundreds of items I can't even remember. | |
| So come visit this weekend and enjoy our free delicious coffee and "no pressure" atmosphere. Everything is sold with a real no-hassle, no-money-back guarantee for your satisfaction. My wife says "Don't forget your wallet." | |
| REMEMBER OUR EXHAUSTING HOURS: FRIDAYS 10 to 9 and SATURDAYS 10 to 5. WE REST A LOT. | |
