

Annapolis, St. John's Long-Haired Hippie Students Neighbors of Midshipmen

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Think of Annapolis and the long-haired hippie students at St. John's College exactly come to mind.

Popular imagination reserves this old town for middies, clean-shaven midshipmen, living by the book, at the tradition-laden U.S. Naval Academy. So relatively few outside Annapolis know that across the street from the academy is St. John's College where things run not by the book but by 100 Great Books.

Tradition at St. John's means recalling the king of England, founded the school in 1696. Last month it celebrated its 275th birthday.

Another tradition is scholarship more rigid than at the neighboring academy or perhaps most other undergraduate institutions.

But tradition ends when it comes to the usual academic formula of most colleges. St. John's has no academic departments, majors, textbooks, lectures or examinations.

All students, regardless of academic background or degree, must enter as freshmen. They take the same program: four years of math, language, laboratory science and the 100 Great Books, the heart of a liberal arts degree. There are no electives.

"Our graduates," said Dean Robert W. Goldwin, himself a St. John's alumnus, "get in the best of graduate institutions."

St. John's is small and intends to remain that way. Under existing policy, 400 is the enrollment ceiling. But St. John's opened a 200-acre laboratory science and the 100 Great Books, the heart of a liberal arts degree. There are no electives.

"Don't do anything brilliant," North begged his partner, "Just make your ice-cold contract." It sounded like a very reasonable request, but I suspect that most bridge players would fall into the trap that enticed poor South.

McCoy said a good number of applications have been received for the positions. These include some from persons referred by the State Employment Service and some from Vietnam veterans.

According to the mayor, these jobs are not designed to be stop gap positions but rather positions which may lead to something better.

Among the positions to be filled are public works and police department maintenance, patrolmen, inspectors for the public works department, a position at the sewage treatment plant, an engineering aide, a draftsman and a sanitation.

Stamps In the News

If youth must be served, then certainly the elderly should receive similar attention. Thus we will have a new 8-cent stamped envelope commemorating the White House Conference on Aging to be held in Washington, D.C. at the end of November.

The first day sale of the new embossed envelope will be Nov. 15.

The stamp, an abstract design, is printed on white in the same blue as was used for the White House Conference on Youth envelope. The design features a central hub which symbolizes the conference. From the outer edges, interlocking circles form and converging toward the axis, are lines representing the many states, organizations and individuals coming together to stimulate a new national awareness of the needs and circumstances of older people.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may submit orders to the Postmaster, Washington, D.C. 20013, plainly indicating full name and address (including zip code) with the remittance to cover the cost which is 10 cents for each envelope. The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers White House Conference on Aging Envelope."

Requests must be postmarked no later than Nov. 15.

West Germany has added three new issues to the stamp line, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. One stamp is an addition to Germany's tourist series. It honors the town of Goslar which is illustrated in a line drawing featuring twin church spires nestled among greenery with mountains in the rear. Another stamp marks the 600th anniversary of the death of the famous poet Dante Alighieri. The third is a two-value set in the President Heilmann series to cover the change in charges for postal items to foreign countries. It features a set of the number of individual stamps in the Heilmann series.

Circuit Court Case Backlog In Reduction

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Figures released by the Connecticut Circuit Court show a statewide reduction in the backlog of court cases from June, 1970 to June, 1971, the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council reports.

At the end of fiscal 1970, the CPCC said, 89,619 civil cases were pending. The end of fiscal 1971 had only 77,325, a 20 per cent reduction, still waiting for final court action.

The Sixth Circuit had the longest wait for disposition of nonjury civil cases during the period, with a wait of 46 months. In that circuit, civil matters heard by a jury required an average of 28 months. The Sixth Circuit encompasses New Haven, Bethany and Woodbridge.

In contrast, the Seventh Circuit, which also encompasses New Haven County communities of Cheshire, Hamden, Meriden, North Haven, and Wallingford, had the fastest service. The CPCC said the Seventh Circuit had an average nine-month wait for nonjury cases and four months for those involving a jury.

During the period, 28,000 out of 68,000 dispositions were settled out of court. The longest time for such cases also was in the Sixth Circuit, where it took an average 34 months out-of-court settlement.

The report also shows that 80 per cent of all civil litigation was handled by circuits encompassing only 21 per cent of the state's population. These were the Sixth Circuit; the Second Circuit, or Greater Bridgeport area; the First Circuit, of southern Fairfield County; and the 14th Circuit or Hartford.

Tolland Board of Finance Elects Wolfanger as Chairman

Retired industrialist Howard Wolfanger was elected to his third term as chairman of the Board of Finance at last night's organizational meeting.

Wolfanger also serves as a judge of probate for the Tolland, Willington district. The vote for Wolfanger was three in favor and one abstention, by Democratic member William Swanback.

Newly elected finance board member A. Scott Warner was elected secretary.

The finance board has changed its political composition and now is controlled by the Republicans by a 2-2 margin with an additional member unaffiliated with either party. The board was previously 4-2 Democratic.

The board conducts mostly technical business last night, but did vote to make its activities more available to the public.

Copies of the agendas of the meetings will be sent to the press before the meetings, and all budget presentation sessions with the town's board and commissions will be open to the public.

Meeting nights have been changed to the fourth Tuesday of the month instead of the second as at present.

The finance board members agreed to follow through on their study of increasing the building permit fees, and will call on the Board of Selectmen to institute the necessary action.

The board also went on record in support of the Planning and Zoning Commission's plan to appoint a Citizens Advisory Committee to work on the town's comprehensive plan, although the board was more interested before committing itself to submitting a name for membership on the committee.

The PZC has written all boards and commissions suggesting they name a representative of their boards to serve on the lay committee.

Re-Evaluation Notices Town property owners will soon be getting the expected notices of evaluation values indicating the new assessment values of their property.

The notices will be sent out later this month, along with a set of dates when the revised assessment may be discussed with representatives of Appraisal Consultants of Connecticut.

Field work on the reassessment has been completed and recorded on property cards. Mathematical and clerical procedures are now nearing completion according to a member of the Board of Assessors.

The assessors backed off from indicating the percentage of growth in the grand list due to the reassessment, but did note the value of land is increasing faster than the value of buildings.

Anniversary Celebration The VFW will observe its 11th anniversary Saturday night with a chicken dinner at the post home, followed by dancing to the music of Rockies Country Western band from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

The chicken supper is to be served at 8 p.m. Tickets are available from the post or auxiliary members of the post or auxiliary.

The third district meeting of the VFW Auxiliary will be held Friday night at Manchester Post 2046, and all delegates are urged to attend according to Tolland

Of Nuptials And Nylons

By SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

The day started off like today did, only instead of clearing up, it got progressively worse, until even the snowflakes were called out.

Our daughter got married exactly three years ago today. We had planned the wedding for March 1, Early November, we had reasoned, would be a fine time for a wedding ceremony and reception—cool, clear and comfortable.

Well, it wasn't clear and comfortable, but it was cool—the weather, that is, not the precocious tempers. Those were hot, or warm, or at least tepid. And, no wonder!

Well—the wedding went off as scheduled, and it was a swinging wedding. Everyone said they had a good time, and from their actions, we believed them.

Sure, a few people couldn't make it, and, sure, a few went home early, but, by and large, everything went off well. Those who stayed through it all saw a moving, a ceremony, a delicious meal, and danced a variety of steps.

On a possible scale of one to four, the wedding would have been rated at four.

... that's what they do about it.

All of which more or less gives the lie to the saying attributed to Mark Twain, that "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

They have a good time. That's what they do about it. One other thing happened recently to remind my wife and me of that memorable and happy wedding day—Three years ago today.

We were on Long Island, attending the wedding of my wife's nephew. He and his mother-in-law, came to the ceremony, recreation, ecology and esthetic values of the ocean. After two years, the oil leasing could proceed during the first half of 1972.

Nelson's proposal was introduced as an amendment to the Marine Protection and Research Act, approved by the Senate Commerce Committee and awaiting Senate floor action.

My wife said it was a pair of nylon stockings. Then, I remembered. We left in our car for our daughter's wedding, we had to stop for a traffic light, two blocks from our home.

My wife took something out of her purse and handed it to the woman in the other car. The woman was her cousin. Later—much later—I found out what it was all about.

It was about a pair of nylon stockings. My wife's cousin had about- "Where can I get a new pair of stockings? Mine are torn."

My wife just happened to have a pair in her purse.

Winter Seen Best Time To Shop for a new House

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures

An unflattering thing happened to a real estate salesman on the way to sell a house.

A young couple backed out because, they said, "one should only buy a house in nice weather."

The salesman had every thing going for him until that thought crossed the young man's mind.

It is true that houses may look a lot prettier in warm weather, but the soundest evaluation may be made in winter.

When a house is on the market in winter the owner is either desperate or security conscious to know his house is good enough to sell.

Here are some thoughts suggested by the real estate man to encourage a house shopper in winter:

Property Boundary Lines: When trees are bare, one can see how houses relate. If houses are packed on small lots, it may be easy to see where the land begins and ends.

Line of demarcation can be observed more easily in winter or fall because a prospective home owner should have no difficulty in establishing the line for a hedge, yard or whatever.

Backyard incident as bushes overgrow boundaries. Long-time owners are likely to take liberty with the land by the community builds up around them. They may build a garage, summer house or barn.

Right on the edge of their property line to see it. The garage can be a major inconvenience. If the adjacent land will be stuck with boom, it may be near the road. If the community has

Vitamin TV Ads Are Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national organization has said the Federal Trade Commission is attacking TV advertising directed toward children.

Action for Children's Television, made up of parents and specialists in children, said: "Vitamin pills are regularly advertised directly through television and no warnings of excessive are mentioned."

Their petition said "children who eat too many vitamin pills strategically placed, you can develop fatigue, vomiting, diarrhea and possibly develop shock and go into a coma."

The organization president, Mrs. Evelyn Sargent, told an FTC hearing Tuesday: "It is terrifying to realize that some drug manufacturers are ready to push dangerous pills on young children who pretend they're harmless. Such manufacturers are little different from pushers of illegal drugs who hope to get young people hooked and dependent on their products."

Christmas Seal Campaign Opens WASHINGTON (AP) — The first 1971 Christmas seals have been presented to Mrs. Richard Nixon for the opening today of the annual fund drive.

With the first lady at a ceremony Tuesday were stinger Dieme Warwick, Christmas Seal music ambassador; Miss Warwick's act-husband, Bill Elliott, and the president John H. Biddle of Huntington, Pa.

The National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association hopes to raise $30.2 million in its 1971 campaign.

Red Fishermen Agree To Lobster Accords

By WILLIS JOHNSON WRESTFORD, Mass. (AP) — Russian negotiators met with officials of a local lobster company in the weathered dockside offices here Tuesday and agreed to reach "an amicable settlement" of the firm's $37,000 damage suit against the Soviet Union.

Joseph A. Gaziano, president of Prelude Corp., made the announcement after a two-hour session with a three-man Russian delegation headed by Semenovitch Babayev, president of the Soviet fishing fleet. He said they met again today to work out final terms.

The company, which runs four ceasing-lobster boats off the Massachusetts coast, claims Soviet trawlers ruined $177,000 worth of its lobster gear by running through baited areas. The suit, which also sought $200,000 in punitive damages, climaxed a series of confrontations between Russian fishermen and American lobstermen last spring and summer.

A company spokesman said it was "horrified" to be the first time the Russians have come and talk directly with us" instead of going through diplomatic channels, Gaziano said.

Babayev, an interpreter, and an American lawyer, Lester Clark of San Francisco, arrived at the Prelude office in the town of $100,000 in a red car driven by Clark's wife.

"Do you speak English?" Babayev, a tall, stout man with close-cropped hair, asked Babayev as he stepped from the Russian. "A little," the white-haired Russian replied, and the two of them climbed to an upstairs office over valid of seawater ripe with the smell of lobster and quahogs.

Babayev said later he's had no statement until after the talks had ended. The Prelude suit last June led to the impounding in San Francisco Bay of the Soviet freighter Buleyman Stalinsky as security against the firm's claim.

The ship, however, was released when a federal judge ruled its seizure illegal. The suit eventually was withdrawn on the stipulation the Russians would negotiate.

The region where the lobster trawlers occurred is 50-75 miles south of Nantucket Island and northeast of the Cape Cod Guard cutter finally was stationed in the region.

The Coast Guard recently announced the drafting of a tent at the Prelude office in the town of $100,000 in a red car driven by Clark's wife.

Copies of the agreement were sent to the Soviet fleet.

Drift Dodger Faces Fight To Regain Citizenship

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Tom Jolley, who renounced his citizenship to avoid the draft and now faces deportation, says there's a chance he may be able to stay in America nondeportation was "reported within 90 days. The case then went to the Supreme Court."

The 37-year-old newspaper reporter is under deportation charges for renouncing his citizenship during a 1967 flight to Canada. His fight to have his citizenship restored suffered a major setback Tuesday when the Supreme Court unanimously refused to hear his case.

Immigration officials said they would begin searching for Jolley to determine whether he would be up to port-of-entry of a country that would accept an immigrant. "Normally a landed immigrant wanted alien in the United States for other than a brief period, the spokesman said. "But there is no specific rule, Jolley said, if they are unable to place me in another country, can draft laws 'conflict with House and Senate dignitaries announced his citizenship and attended the opening Tuesday sent back his card. He then returned to the coun-

The Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Jolley had made an unannounced, unheralded return to the country for into this country" when it upheld in April the U.S. Board of Immigration order that Jolley be deported within 90 days. The case then went to the Supreme Court.

For the past several months Jolley has served as a general assignment reporter for the Tallahassee Democrat. Managing Editor Bill Phillips said Jolley would remain on the news staff.

Peru Police on Guard After Radio, TV Grab

LEMA, Peru (AP) — Helmed police stood guard outside several Lima radio and television stations today following announcement of a telecommunications law giving the military 51 per cent ownership of all Peruvian commercial television stations.

The law, announced Tuesday by Gen. Anibal Meza Cudra, minister of communications and transport, is the latest of a series of reforms ordered by the three-year-old military government aimed at restructuring Peruvian institutions.

Ending months of speculation over the contents of the new law, the government announced that it will purchase 51 per cent of the stock of all the nation's privately owned television stations.

It was not immediately clear whether all commercial radio stations would be subject to 25 per cent government ownership.

Government fiscal inspectors arrived at several of Lima's communications and radio stations to begin the takeover of the new law was announced.

Police stood guard outside buildings housing offices of several stations, banning entry to all persons except station personnel and transport. The stations refused to answer telephone calls.

The Ministry of Communications and Transport will carry out an audit to determine the real value of radio and television station stock for purposes of compensation, the government said.

Charles E. Perry of 5 Thomas Dr., president of the Association of Retired Teachers of Connecticut (ARTC), has written to President Richard Nixon in an appeal to help another retired teacher—Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, whose son John Downey is serving a life sentence in a Massachusetts prison on espionage charges in Communist China.

In his letter, Perry asks Nixon to "assist both your personal and official influence" to secure the release of Downey, who has been in prison for nearly two years. Downey was in a military plane shot down during the Korean War in 1952, and was charged by the Chinese with being a special agent of the Central Intelligence Agency and engaging in espionage. He has been serving time since then.

Perry's letter said the ARTC, by a unanimous vote, directed him to seek Nixon's help to release Downey. "The concern of the more than five thousand retired public school teachers of the state is especially keen because Mrs. Downey is a member of the association," the letter said.

Perry wrote the letter to Nixon "in anticipation of your approaching visit to the Government of Communist China," and says that it is the ARTC's "firm belief that your visit to China offers the most promising opportunity our Government has yet had to press for the freedom of Mr. Downey."

Mrs. Downey, her son William Downey and his wife arrived at the border station between Hong Kong and Red China Oct. 31 to visit Downey.

Young Women Ignite Clothing In Suicide Pact

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Two young women are in critical condition today after setting themselves on fire because, as one explained to police, "Dying is beautiful."

Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Kramy said Anita Louise McQueen, 20, Livonia, and Raelle Weinstein, 28, Skokie, Ill., apparently wrapped themselves in paper, sat cross-legged on the floor and set each other on fire.

Kramy said the two were not residents of Ann Arbor, but had stopped there while traveling. They set themselves on fire in the kitchen of an apartment near the University of Michigan campus, he said.

Officials said an unidentified caller phoned police about the fire, and the call was relayed to the Fire Department.

Firemen broke through a door, threw blankets around the girls and cut off parts of their clothing before taking them to University of Michigan Hospital.

290 Face Court In Drag Race At Stamford

STAMFORD (AP) — Illegal drag races that brought numerous Connecticut and out-of-state cars to the King Department Store parking lot during the summer and fall are now bringing police action.

Police have been studying movies taken during the races by plainclothesmen to verify the license numbers. They estimate that more than 200 arrests will be made this month as a result.

The arrests began Saturday, and police said Tuesday nearly 100 persons had already been taken into custody. Numerous arrest warrants were waiting to be signed by judges in the First Circuit Court.

Among those arrested was Leroy Brevard, 27, of Stamford, whom police charged with inciting to riot and damaging public property.

Police say he hurried articles at police cruisers arriving at the parking lot on Market Street, then tried to incite the crowd to attack the policemen.

Two patrolmen, Lawrence J. Klein and Joseph R. Covello, who were in a patrol car at the time, reported they were injured by beer bottles and stones.

Police said the windshields of a number of cruisers were broken and the exteriors of the vehicles damaged.

In Circuit Court Tuesday, Brevard was released on $2,500 bond. He is scheduled to appear in Superior Court in Bridgeport next month, police said.

Police said cars attending the races came from as far as Washington, Pennsylvania, New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and some from the mid-West.

Arnold and Mrs. Decker Elected By School Board

The Board of Education last night held secret ballot elections and selected James Arnold as chairman and Mrs. C. Decker as vice chairman.

Arnold is presently serving his second full term on the board and Mrs. Decker was elected this month to her first full four-year term after filling a position left vacant by Mrs. Audrey Wask.

Also nominated for the position as chairman were Donald Mercuro and Vernon Peterson, and for vice president, Mercuro.

There was no contest for the position of board secretary and Arnold cast one ballot for Mercuro who was unanimously approved.

The board started the evening with a request for change in policy when a newcomer, David Cohen asked that an additional audience of citizens segment be added to the agenda to enable residents to speak further on items after the board had a turn at considering them.

Cohen commented on the administration's reason on considering the hockey program, even on a club level, when funds are so short.

Superintendent of Schools Charles Warner said more than $700 is allocated due to personnel changes.

Cohen then asked why the program was receiving priority when other programs requested in the year had been turned down because of the lack of funds.

He was assured by Arnold that hockey on a varsity level in the high school is a prime consideration, as the only existing winter sports program is basketball.

The board's rejection of the hockey program on a club level at this year does not mean hockey will not be considered as a possibility next year, it was pointed out.

Cohen also asked that the board review the British primary pilot programs at its next meeting and asked Warner to supply a study evaluating the 6-3-3 school plan.

After the meeting Cohen who during the election campaign favored the construction of a modified gymnasium with the use of modular classrooms to eliminate overcrowding in the high school, said the intent of his request for the 6-3-3 study was so the Board would be in a position to seriously consider implementing this alternative to the problem or to throw it out altogether.

Porno Poser Is Sentenced

MINNEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — A drunk man who pleaded guilty to peeing for pornographic pictures with his 12-year-old stepdaughter was sentenced Tuesday to one year in the Nassau County Jail.

Marcelo Pedrosa, 29, was sentenced in Nassau County Court after he pleaded guilty Sept. 27 to a charge of second-degree attempted sodomy. He could have gotten up to four years.

Pedrosa was one of a group of men and women arrested following a raid on the home of Eugene Abrams in North Bellmore, where a number of young girls allegedly were used in pornographic pictures, including Abrams' 3-year-old daughter.

Abrams, 37, was declared incompetent to stand trial and has been committed to the State Hospital for the Criminally Inmate at Matteawan.

Butterfield's Opens Tomorrow

By WILLIAM COE (Herald Reporter)

Butterfield's, a new family department store, will open tomorrow at the Manchester Parkade with a 10 a.m. ribbon-cutting ceremony.

James P. Butterfield, president of Butterfield's, and John Thompson, the leading vote-getter in last week's election, will assist Mrs. Dorothy Fields, wife of the late A.G. Fields and mother of Eugene Fields, the store's president and owner in cutting the ribbon.

Mayors and dignitaries from several other areas have also been invited to attend.

The store, which will specialize in clothing for men, women and children of all ages, encompasses 70,000 square feet of selling space with approximately 30 separate departments all on one floor.

Among them are departments for sales of shoes, hosiery, gloves, cosmetics, jewelry, infants' and toddlers' wear and a maternity shop. There is also a giftwares department and one for sales of stereo equipment.

Butterfield's will employ a staff of 100 full time and another 100 part time.

The store will accept charge accounts that impose no interest or service charges.

Butterfield's was conceived and owned by Eugene Fields of West Hartford. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and before coming to this area he worked 26 years in the A.G. Fields and Co. department store in Jackson Heights, N.Y., founded by his parents in 1920.

Fields and his wife, Iris, have been planning the Manchester store since February and chose the Parkade site after extensive study of the central Connecticut shopping area and its consumer shopping trends, according to Mrs. Fields. They moved to West Hartford last May.

A former interior decorator, she will serve as Butterfield's director of public relations and customer service.

"We plan to carry all the top nationally advertised brands and our major emphasis will be on service to the customer," Mrs. Fields said. "If we don't have a desired item, we'll get it. We want Butterfield's to reflect a happy shopping experience and be known as a family rug store for the entire family."

Butterfield's is not a chain, she pointed out, and the Manchester store is the family's first venture outside New York. Fields will divide his time between this store and the other in Jackson Heights.

In keeping with its name, Butterfield's basic theme color is a cheerful, "buttery" yellow. Each department throughout the store is individually designed in a different color associated with each type of merchandise.

For example, the electronics section near the main entrance is placed against an "electric blue" background, and in "Sweet Earth," the junior sportswear section, each item is coupled with three-dimensional plexiglass trees representing the seasons of the year.

The children's clothing section is decorated with larger-than-life-size zoo animals, and all goods are displayed in

Drive Saturday For Glass, Paper

The Conservation Commission and the Church Women United will sponsor a glass and paper collection Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Municipal Building parking lot.

Mrs. Theresa Paris, recycling chairman of the Conservation Commission, said Mrs. Cynthia Strop of Church Women United will be chairman for the day.

For the last several months the commission, in cooperation with various organizations which have provided workers, has sponsored glass drives to get rid of litter, to make the town's landfill last longer, and to raise money for the Case St. Fund.

Almost $2,000 of the $2,237 in the fund was raised from the sale of glass and paper for recycling, Mrs. Paris said. The balance was donated from various sources.

At the same time, invited guests were arriving for a 5 to 8 p.m. cocktail party and pre-view of the 70,000 square foot department store, Manchester's newest and one of its largest retail establishments.

Some 1,200 persons attended from throughout Central Connecticut and New York as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fields, whose new Manchester store is their first outside New York.

"It represents the realization of a long-held dream of ours to build a young, exciting new store in this part of Connecticut where we formerly came to relax on weekends," said Fields.

Those invited to the VIP pre-view included business and civic leaders from all walks of life, everything in line, everything in place in time for Mrs. Fields. She made all the arrangements for the event, for business luncheon and 10 a.m. ribbon-cutting party was an informal at-

The children's clothing section is decorated with larger-than-life-size zoo animals, and all goods are displayed in cages. In the men's and boy's clothing sections, display racks are of dark-stained wood fashioned to resemble packing crates.

Rough-sawn ends of old railroad ties jutting from the wall at varying depths are lighted to form a dramatic backdrop for the boots and shoes in the women's footwear department.

Original wall murals and rainbow-colored wheels on suspended ceilings trace a path through the entire store.

The interior design was executed by Stuart Roberts Associates of New York; all displays and fixtures were done by Kohn Display and Woodworking Co. of Hartford.

Norman Gerber of 46 Cornwall Dr., who has 20 years of retailing experience, will be store manager.

Butterfield's plans to open Mondays through Saturdays 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The store has announced that it will present $100 gift certificates to any babies born at Manchester Memorial Hospital tomorrow, its opening day. Mothers will receive a gift of flowers.

Guests Enjoy Hospitality Of Owners

As a searchlight played in dark skies outside Butterfield's last evening, workmen on ladders erected the store's huge signature sign by the main entrance in last-minute preparation for tomorrow's opening.

At the same time, invited guests were arriving for a 5 to 8 p.m. cocktail party and preview of the 70,000 square foot department store, Manchester's newest and one of its largest retail establishments.

Some 1,200 persons attended from throughout Central Connecticut and New York as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fields, whose new Manchester store is their first outside New York.

"It represents the realization of a long-held dream of ours to build a young, exciting new store in this part of Connecticut where we formerly came to relax on weekends," said Fields.

Those invited to the VIP preview included business and civic leaders from all walks of area community life, noted Mrs. Fields. She made all the arrangements for the event.

There were no speeches and the party was an informal affair, designed to let the guests mingle and browse in the many different departments. Liquid refreshments, cocktail sandwiches and petite fours were served from several different stations throughout the building.

During the party, commentators conducted interviews with the guests, which were aired live over WHPF Radio.

As they chatted, the partygoers appeared universally impressed by the results and spoke of the store in terms like "warm and exciting" and "strikingly different."

Stuart Roberts, the designer, noted that he had sought a warm effect. "I wanted it to be a 'people place,'" he said.

Area residents observed among the guests included Manchester Mayor and Mrs. James Farr, Vernon Mayor and Mrs. Frank McCoy, Manchester Police Chief and Mrs. James Reardon, Louis Apter of Regal Men's Shop, Atty. and Mrs. John Rottner, Michael Dworkin who is president of the Parkade Merchants Association, and Richard Rutwell, vice president of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co.

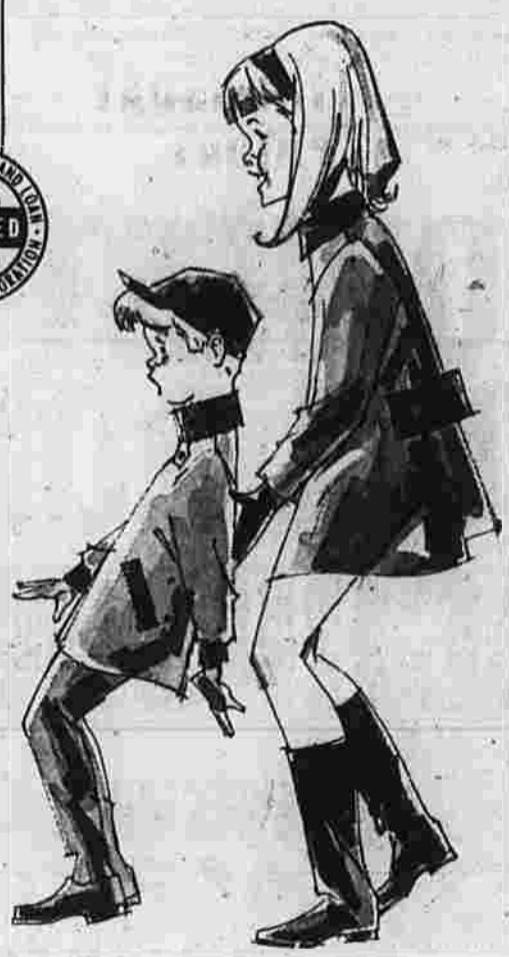

Though workmen frantically continued preparation inside the store almost to the 6 p.m. deadline, everything appeared complete in time for the preview.

Butterfield's opens officially for business tomorrow with a 10 a.m. ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Business Mirror Consumers Find Guarantee Can Be Misleading Word

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The "guarantee" was emblematic upon the package, awash in erratic watermarks. The printing was fine and legible, except that the word "guarantee" was repeated numerous times in big bold type.

The company guarantee, it said, to replace any malfunctioning parts due to errors in manufacture, provided the malfunction occurred within one year of the purchase date and provided the purchaser paid all packaging and postage costs as well as all labor charges in connection with the repair.

The product was an inexpensive clock that anybody with common sense would hesitate to return to the factory. They would be even less inclined to do so when they realized they were to pay all costs. Some guarantee.

More accurately, the statement should have been called a limitation, its intent and effect being to limit the manufacturer's responsibility to live up to his obligations.

Rather than assuring the buyer of quality, it not too subtly encouraged him to buy an inferior product and then to send good money after bad—to postage and repair and postage when the product should be dumped.

Nevertheless, the device has been influenced to one degree or another by the implied assurance of a guarantee that the manufacturer would stand behind his product.

Compare that guarantee with this, which is found on a highly popular brand of lawn-care product:

"If for any reason you are not satisfied with results after using this product, you are entitled to get your money back simply send us evidence of purchase and we will mail you a refund check promptly."

Note: No fancy language, no necessity to return the product, no limitations. In fact, the guarantee is little more than a simple, direct statement unaccompanied by watermarks, exclamation marks or heraldic hysteria.

Understandably, not all guarantees can be so simply stated. To back a five-room cottage with this material costs nearly $2,000, but the roof will last 70 years.

Man, 27, Killed In Pizza House

HARTFORD (AP) — Raymond Easterling, 27, of Hartford, was fatally shot Tuesday night at the Albany Pizza House, of which he was co-owner.

Police said the shooting occurred about 9:40 p.m. They said Easterling was seated in the restaurant, at 515 Albany Ave., with two other co-owners when two other men entered. Easterling became embroiled in an argument with them, police said, and asked them to leave.

Police said Easterling took out a gun and, for an unclear reason, pointed it at one of the other co-owners. Meanwhile, the other co-owners, concerned for his own life and that of the other, unarmed, co-owner, who was his brother, took down a shotgun and after Easterling failed to drop the weapon — fired. Easterling was hit in the neck.

The victim was pronounced dead at St. Francis Hospital. No charges have been filed in the case.

Stanley, Livingston Put Europe's Eye On Dark Continent

By LYNN HEINERLING
Associated Press Writer

One hundred years ago today a 20-year-old reporter of the New York Herald stepped under a mango tree in the stifling equatorial heat of Africa and shook hands with an emaciated, sun-withered white man in a faded blue cap, red sweater and patent leather shoes.

"Dr. Livingstone, I presume," said the 66-year-old Scottish missionary-explorer, raising his cap.

Henry Morton Stanley, the reporter, had found Dr. David Livingstone. The explorer had not been seen by a white man for five years, and many in Britain thought he was dead.

The little caravan took place beside Lake Tanganyika, now a part of Tanzania. It was Nov. 10, 1871, according to an entry in Stanley's diary.

Stanley had done more than pull off a dramatic journalistic coup. He focused European attention on a continent which had been little more than a source of slaves, a repository of ivory and tropical woods and the scene of ably little coastal trading stations.

The Ujiji adventure and Stanley's subsequent explorations inspired European governments to investigate the rich mineral deposits of Africa and stake out their claims.

Stanley and Livingston, with other explorers, showed that Africa could be settled and colonized.

The scramble for Africa was on and by 1900 its colonial map was almost complete.

King Leopold II of the Belgians led the scramble. He hired Stanley in 1879 to explore the Congo River again and stake out what later became Belgium's huge, rich and backward colony. The civilization Leopold promised came very slowly and still has not arrived in many areas of the country now called Zaire.

Leopold's huge into Africa alerted other European powers. Chancellor Bismarck of Germany called the Congress of Berlin in 1884 to work out spheres of influence. Germany declared protectorates over South-West Africa, Cameroon and Tanganyika in 1884. Britain took Kenya and Uganda under her wing. With Cecil Rhodes, the empire builder, at work in southern Africa, British colonialists were talking about a Cape to Cairo highway by 1900.

Italy took over Somaliland in 1889. France, already installed in North Africa, moved into the interior in 1890 and dreamed of a colony stretching from Atlantic to Indian Oceans. It was not to be.

Africa quickly acquired a neat and orderly look on maps. But inside these plausible boundary lines, poverty and malnutrition, ignorance, disease and unrest were to persist. They still abound in many areas.

Boundaries drawn for trade and exploitation purposes paid little heed to ethnic realities. Tribes were divided, linguistic units split. Friends and enemies were locked up together.

A century after the little scene at Ujiji, Africa has seen it all—tribal kingdoms and tribal wars, the plumed hats and rifles of the colonialists, flags going up, then coming down. The Africans have seen some 40 new flags go up. They have their

As Others See Us

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON (AP) — American was paralyzingly in some foreign editorials last week and one proposal was that some of its ailments may take years to cure.

The Economist, the British weekly specializing in world affairs, wrote: "It cannot be ruled out that the trouble in America goes so deep that the Americans may be incapable of running a coherent foreign policy for years to come."

"It is possible that the United States, which has been the first country to now the first country to face the consequences of the fact that widespread prosperity universalizes the revolution of individualism."

"If that is the explanation of what is happening to America, the place could be almost ungovernable for a very long time; it could be living through the first onset of the war of all against all."

"The rest of us had better while we wait for the same catastrophe to hit us in our turn."

The Washington correspondent of the London Evening News, William Davis, wrote that "Americans have always had a great need for affection and approval. They never grow tired of hearing that their country is the greatest, the richest, the most powerful, the most enviable in the world."

"This pride in world leadership prompted the United with States to lend billions of dollars to other foreign countries, which can get the other way."

"The Washington Secretaries pull the staples out of the nonsensical carding it."

Tolland County Superior Court Guilty Plea Is Entered In Assault to Kill Case

Robert L. LaPoint changed his plea yesterday to guilty in the beating of 16-year-old Susan Leach last spring.

The Rockville girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weiss of 27 Spring St., was found strangled on a Saturday morning last April unconscious and in serious condition lying in a thicket wooded area near a field off Abbott Rd. in Ellington.

LaPoint, who is 19 and lives at 71 Glenstone Dr., Vernon had originally been charged and pleaded innocent to assault with intent to murder which carries a maximum sentence of 30 years. His guilty plea yesterday was to a charge which sounds much the same, assault with intent to kill, but carries just the maximum sentence.

LaPoint was arrested on a bench warrant four months after the assault when the girl identified him as the boy she recognized but could not name at the time of the assault which allegedly took place after she accepted a ride on a motorcycle with him, according to police.

The case was continued for sentencing on Dec. 15 after a pre-sentence investigation.

Probation Revoked

Richard S. Gosney, 24, of Elizabeth St., Rockville, yesterday was ordered to serve a prison sentence of two to four years after probation was revoked.

Gosney pleaded guilty in February to a series of local house-breaks which included five accounts of burglary, four counts of breaking and entering a dwelling in the daytime, one count of larceny between $200 and $2,000 and possession of marijuana.

Some related counts were not stipulated at the time for trial.

He was sentenced March 2 to the two to four years in prison but this was suspended and he was ordered to serve a prison sentence of two to four years in the drug treatment center at the Norwich State Hospital, in custody of the commissioner of mental health. The court was told at the time that Gosney's He is to be sentenced Dec. 7.

School Board and Directors Take Oath Together Monday

Four members of the Board of Education whose terms begin this month will be sworn in Monday evening at the same time and place and the oath of office is administered to the new Board of Directors. The dual ceremony is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Bowers School on Princeton St.

Edward Tomkiele, town clerk, will swear in the new officials.

Harry Hammer, deputy secretary of state, will be the guest speaker. The Rev. Joseph Vujs of St. James Church will offer an invocation and a prayer.

The benediction will be delivered by the Rev. Winthrop Nelson Jr., copastor of Center Congregational Church.

The decision to swear in both the Board of Education and Board of Directors members simultaneously was made last month at a caucus of the Democratic Town Committee.

Ted Cummings, Democratic town chairman, says the joint installation is designed to symbolize that both boards will be working together over the next two years.

The Board of Directors Monday night will elect a chairman, an acting chairman, and a secretary, as well as approve rules of order for the board.

The chairman will be town mayor and the acting chairman the deputy mayor.

Comments from Democratic party sources immediately after the election indicate that John Thompson, high vote getter in last week's election will be chairman and Pascal Prignano, second high vote getter, will be acting chairman. Incumbent Democratic Director Anthony Pietrantonio will be acting chairman. Incumbent Democratic Director Anthony Pietrantonio will be acting chairman. Incumbent Democratic Director Anthony Pietrantonio will be acting chairman.

Other Democratic directors who will be sworn in that night will be John Tan, and incumbent William PittsGerald and Jon Norris.

Republican members who will be sworn in are all incumbents. They are Mayor James Farr, Deputy Mayor William Diana and Mrs. Vivian Ferguson.

There could be some rules changes in the office. Director Anthony Pietrantonio has long been an advocate of holding two board meetings a month, one for public comments on agenda items, and one for action on the agenda.

After being sworn in, the Board of Education will adjourn to another room in the school to elect a chairman, a secretary, and appoint committees, according to Democrat Allan Thomas, high vote getter when he was re-elected to the board. No one is saying who the new chairman will be. Although Thomas was high vote getter in this election, Dr. Walter Schardt topped all candidates two years ago when he was elected to a three-year term. He has one year remaining in his term, but did not run for re-election.

Another factor which might enter into the selection of the chairman is the length of time Sheldon Schaeffer has served on the board. He is in his fourth

Tolland Thifault Silent on Rumors He'll Resign Minority Post

Two-thirds of the newly elected Board of Selectmen held their first meeting since the election before a full house of spectators, conducting their business matter-of-factly and adjourning by 8:25.

The big unspoken question of the evening, however, was whether they were pro or con.

A three-member Jury Committee consisting of two Republicans and a Democrat was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Bin Jandro and Purague Flynn, Republicans, and Mrs. Edith Knight, Democrat.

Letters will be sent to the two town committees for recommendations for appointment for three alternates to the Planning and Zoning Commission, with replies due within two weeks.

Also to be referred to the town committees is the appointment of a representative to the Capital Region Planning Agency representing the Board of Selectmen. The term of John Campbell who presently holds the post expires Nov. 23 and Campbell has moved out of town.

Reads Unacceptable

The reads installed in the Tolland Towne subdivision are unacceptable to the town, according to an inspection report submitted by consulting engineer James Thompson of Buck and Buck.

Thompson's report was read last night by Stotemer, citing poorly rolled and compacted road base, improper grading, cracks in the pavement and other faulty conditions.

If the paving is not corrected by the end of the paving season, the town will not assume any liability for plowing the roads this winter.

Dog Complaint

A formal letter of complaint has been filed by Joseph Duval of New Rd. against his neighbor Linwood White regarding White's housing eight dogs on his property located in a Residential A zone.

The complaint has been referred to town council for a ruling after investigations revealed that White holds a kennel license for the dogs. Certification of the zoning regulations have been investigated by Zoning Enforcement Officer Charles Schut.

Duval claims the dogs' barking is disturbing.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Dozing Driver

Too little sleep, like too much liquor, can turn even the mildest motorist into a deadly menace.

The law states with the proposition that no one should be blamed for what he does while unconscious, blame rests on free will missed—and the sleeping person is not using free will at all.

But one court after another has nonetheless imposed liability on the dozing driver. They find him negligent not for what he does while asleep but for dozing, while still awake, the telltale signs that sleep was coming.

"It is true," said one court, "that (the driver) can not ordinarily fix the precise moment when he lapses into unconsciousness. But it is not true that ordinarily sleep comes unheralded. It lies within his own control to keep awake or cause drowsing."

Background factors, contributing to the danger, are also taken into account. One driver had been at the wheel continuously for 18 hours; another was exhausted from overwork; a third had kept going after twice almost "fading out." In each case, when the driver dozed off, he was held liable for the results.

Suppose it is the passenger, not the driver, who falls asleep. Does the law frown on that too? Occasionally the passenger does have a duty to stay awake—when he has some special reason to think that the driver needs watching. But as a rule he may nap at will, putting his trust in the driver to take care.

Could he collect damages from the woman on the theory that her falling asleep was an act of negligence? A court said no, because a passenger could scarcely be expected to anticipate such a freakish accident just from falling asleep.

Bing Knighted In Chilly Rite

LONDON (AP) — Rudolf Bing was knighted yesterday by Queen Elizabeth II and emerged shivering from Buckingham Palace, saying: "That place is certainly not over-heated."

The 69-year-old general manager of the New York Metropolitan Opera paused briefly outside the palace on a bright chilly day. He proudly displayed the regalia of Knight Commander of the British Empire with its blue and gold cross worn around the neck with a rose-pink ribbon and its accompanying silver star. Earlier Bing, who was born in Austria, but holds British citizenship, knelt before the queen who touched him on both shoulders with a ceremonial sword saying "arise, sir Rudolf."

"The queen graciously spoke to me and asked if I had come over to London, from New York, especially for the investiture and I told her I had," he said.

Buckingham Palace said the knighthood was bestowed for Bing's services to British-American relations. Bing is returning to New York today to work on a new production of Wagner's opera, Tristan and Isolde. Born in Vienna, Bing came to Britain in 1905. For 14 years he was general manager of the Glyndebourne Opera, and from 1947 to 1949 he was also general administrator of the Edinburgh International Festival. In 1960 he succeeded Edward Johnson at the Metropolitan Opera.

Play To Be Filmed HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — "Moon Men" is an adaptation from Paul Zindel's Pulitzer prize-winning play, will be filmed next spring for 20th Century Fox. Paul Newman will produce and also direct his wife, Joanne Woodward, in the starring role of a 40-year-old divorcee struggling to raise two teen-age daughters in a troubled world. Alvin Sargent has written the screenplay.

Hebron Board of Finance Fails To Meet Figure for Land

Despite town meeting action last month approving the purchase of the Gross-Deane property on Rte. 311 and Greycliff Rds. at a price of $30,000 the Board of Finance Monday evening voted to appropriate only $40,000 for the purchase.

The selection had requested the Board of Finance to come up with a method of financing the $30,000. However, finance members stressed that no appropriation had yet been voted in spite of town meeting action.

In fact, newly elected Chairman Richard Grant said "As far as I am concerned this town meeting was a waste of time."

All members were in agreement that unless the Board of Finance recommended a method to be appropriated, the town has no power to approve any appropriation. Town Council Street Kalom verified this.

New Town Meeting Harry Worth questioned whether the board should approve the $30,000 for the town again to decide at a town meeting.

Grant and Howard Porter felt strongly that the $30,000 was too high a price for the property. Porter said he had assessed last year at a top dollar value of $1,000 an acre, and that he would have offered a lower price and see if it would accept it.

As was the case last June when the board failed to pass a motion approving any appropriation for the purchase, the four motions were brought before the group last night before any action was taken.

Porter, who has consistently maintained that $30,000 was too high for the property proposed that the board approve $30,000. This motion failed to pass.

With then proposed $42,000, which was also defeated. After considerable discussion, member Ken Ellis proposed the original motion of $30,000 which the chairman ruled out of order.

With felt that since three town boards, the Board of Selectmen, the Recreation Commission and the Conservation Commission, had taken action on this land four times and a town meeting decided that it wanted it, "we have to appropriate some money and we have to go to a town meeting."

He made the motion for the $40,000 which was passed 3 to 1 with Worth, Ellis and Dennis Totten in favor and Porter against.

First Selectman Aaron Reed, who is out of town, could not be reached for comment. However, it has been through his efforts in the past that brought the proposed purchase to town meeting action.

Against Action However, Second Selectman Robert Dixon, who is also chairman of the Recreation Commission, spoke strongly against the action.

Dixon said he "thought that the town of Hebron has a town meeting government and selectman type of government and I was a little disappointed that the Board of Finance has seen fit to overrule the townpeople, as the Board of Selectmen and the Conservation and Recreation Commission."

"I hope," he added, "this is not an indication of the type of government we are going to have in the next two years."

Dixon reminded the townspeople that they "elected Dick Grant and they have to live with him for the next two years. He has operated this way in the past and he is showing that this is the way he is going to act for the next two years."

Dixon concluded that the "town will be in for a very interesting and controversial two years."
