Christmas Party Produces Gifts For Many Needy

Kaiser Hall of Concordia Lutheran Church on Pitkin St. was the scene of an unusual Christmas party Saturday evening, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jay R. Stager of 72 Pitkin St.

About 120 guests attending were asked to contribute gifts of canned meats, fruit and vegetables for needy Manchester families. A substantial amount was collected, according to Stager, and was to be turned over today to the town Welfare Department's distribution center at 89 Center St.

During the party, guests saw a 1 1/2-hour multi-media presentation with an ecology theme, entitled, "Our Privileged Planet," by Lester Campbell of Belcher-Town, Mass. The show utilized six slide projectors operated simultaneously and in sequence, plus recorded sound and personal commentary by Campbell, a nationally recognized expert in the media.

Several Christmas selections were presented by the Manchester High School Round Table Singers. The group was led by David Larson, president of the Round Table and the senior class.

Stager is a member of the faculty at Manchester Community College. His wife, Shirley, is co-head of a nursery school in Falcoctville.

A large glass sign in front of the building was also damaged. Laminar made the damage was not permanent.

CBS has an special, an early evening program from the state of the U.S. Army today.

Losers in this jam are the viewers. One interested in what the President's day is like would probably be concerned about the condition of the Army—and there is no way to watch both.

Meanwhile, the Nielsen research organization, whose reports on audience size and composition are the industry's most widely used yardsticks, is taking a week off, as it does four or five times a year.

With Nielsen skipping its audience estimates—and with people presumed to be busy with holiday preparations—the networks find it convenient to skip in various ways. The Bob Hope variety hour on NBC, three Monday night and Christmas Eve.

Documentaries and news department specials frequently attract smaller audiences than do entertainment shows. So inclusion of some this week will not hurt a network's position in the light three-network ratings race currently in progress.

The practice, however, has resulted in an unfortunate pile-up of specials and documentaries tonight.

ABC, for instance, has pre-empted its entire schedule for the night for four specials—a cartoon version of "A Christmas Carol," "The Christmas Countdown" program about the octopus, a documentary on the insect world and a Disney comedy and music hour.

NBC opens its evening with an hour-long report of a day which cameras and John Chancellor spent with President Nixon, followed by the first of its two-part "White Paper" tracing the history of the original Hebrew nation. They are not Jews and refuse to convert. The Interior Ministry is now discouraging such immigrants and said the October arrivals' tourist visas had expired.

Good Concert Provided By MHS Groups

It was a good concert at Bailey Auditorium last evening, as an audience of moderate size turned out for this annual MHS Christmas event. There was a sense of style and verve that has been notably lacking on occasion, and the whole thing went off well.

In addition to Donald Char-lamb, already mentioned, piano accompaniments were provided during the evening by Kathy Newman, Robin Douglas, Cynthia Sterling and Nancy Vinn. All did well, and added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

Things started with a "round" of three trumpets played by Jeff Perrett, Tom Banayia and Tom Neuman. It went off perfectly. It was the best trumpet playing I have heard at MHS in several years and served to open the festivities with a bang. Then the full band was heard in two numbers, during the last of which (Adele's "When Will I See You") the girls voiced their desire to be heard from the rear of the hall.

They took over for a while and sounded well. The group seemed to be a little larger than the hope of the girls, in particular were effective. This is always likely to be the case since boys' voices don't change until later and they're always behind the girls, vocal-wise. The boys' voices were mostly offered Christmas carols, but there were numbers by Bach and Bachyovsky for the more serious minded in the audience. Even the time-worn "Night Before Christmas" was aged to display some style and gaiety that has been lacking for some seasons now.

Solitars with the Round Table Singers were David Larsson, Charles Peltio, and Robert Budge, but I was most impressed with the piano accompaniment by the Round Table Singers. They were joined by some others to form what was designated as the "Advanced Choir." This, too, sounded well. Numbers included words by Norman Douglas and Gustav Holst which were quite sophisticated. This group concluded with Anderson's "Sleigh Ride," which together with "Night Before Christmas" has seen too much service at these concerts and should be retired, at least for a few seasons.

The band was next heard in a poppurrif "musical" from "The Muppet Show." Somebody named Housenrecht made the arrangement which was so much an arrangement as a hush, nevertheless I was happy to hear the band attempt a work of this seriousness and magnitude. It was a little beyond their powers but it went well on the whole. They were also heard in a carol arrangement by the Modern Jazz Quartet.

As is customary, the concert featured the combined choirs of a close, Julia Beadle, Ximera Valarezo, David Frith-

Israeli Court Recalls Blacks

JERUSALEM (AP) - Israel's Supreme Court issued an order today staying the deportation of 20 American "Black Israelis."

The court order called on Minister of Interior David Ben-Gurion to explain within 30 days why the blacks should not be allowed to stay in Israel. They appealed to the high court after receiving deportation orders Sunday.

The blacks arrived in October to visit relatives among the 250,000 Black Americans, most of them from the Chicago area, who began arriving in Israel two years ago and claim they are descendants of the original Hebrew nation. They are not Jews and refuse to convert. The Interior Ministry is now discouraging such immigrants and said the October arrivals' tourist visas had expired.

Britons Surprised By Racial Trouble

By ANTHONY COLLINGS

LONDON (AP) — Gloria Berry tries to find jobs to get black youths off the streets ... extreme insult, or they might call someone 'boy' or 'sun'.

This mixed picture reflects continuing racial trouble in one part of Islington, North London, where moderates are trying to keep tension from boiling over the way it did last year.

It surprised many Britons, and hardened resentful attitudes among some whites and blacks. It spurred new efforts by people like Gloria Berry who fear a U.S.-type racial situation developing.

Mrs. Berry runs the Hercules Club, a meeting place for 100 young black and white immigrants, most of them jobless and poorly educated. The club's activities—from dances to wig-making lessons for girls—are backed by church charities.

A stocky, engaging social worker from Nigeria, Mrs. Berry was called in by the local Community Relations Office as tension was building up last year.

"They used to go to Black House," she said, referring to a new-fashioned rival club considered dangerously militant by various moderates. "I advised them to get away from Black House. Now they are good kids."

"I took 13 kids for a two-week holiday on the Continent," she said. "They were very happy. In London in the summer they get so bored."

The Hercules Club is on a dingy back street over a factory. The high-spirited kids, some of them once in prison or reform school, yell, wrestle and play dominoes down so hard that broken bits fly through the air.

"If we didn't have this club we'd still be out there on street corners, jiving and getting arrested," says Bunny Bailey, 21, a former street tough who works with Mrs. Berry running the club. Bunny, a wiry West Indian with a mustache, served eight days for taking part in last year's clash. He grows his teeth by people like Mrs. Berry to rub his head and get rid of it.

To improve police-immigrant relations Scotland yard in recent years has appointed 21 community liaison officers throughout London and organized seminars where black leaders and police air their problems. It began recruiting black policemen and improved training to help police understand racial questions.

"We are all aware of the way the situation has gone in America," says Daniel Hunt, chief superintendent who is acting head of the Yard's community relations activities. "It is a shining example of how not to do things—the last thing we can afford in this country."

Income in Japan Show Big Jump

TOKYO (AP) — The Economic Planning Agency said today that the per capita income in Japan increased 17.1 per cent in 1970 and placed Japan 15th or 16th among the non-Communist nations of the world.

Japan ranked 17th in per capita income in 1969, the agency said. The government estimated Japan's population in 1970 at 108,647,000.

The per capita income in 1970 totaled 869,705 yen, or $1,583 at the exchange rate then of 360 yen to the dollar.

The currency was revalued in 1969, and a dollar now is worth 306 yen.

Japan's national income to children and girlfriends went to 1944 billion in 1970, an increase of 18.4 per cent over the 1969, the agency said. The government's budget for 1971 is 108,647,000 yen.

Devalued Dollar Will Help State, Says Economist

STORRS (AP) — Devaluation of the dollar should "help Connecticut to a relative extent more than other states," Paul Weiner, a University of Connecticut economist, said Monday.

He said it may create 20,000 to 30,000 jobs in the state within two years.

Devaluation may help Connecticut more, Weiner said, "because Connecticut has a good history of exporting and an advantageous export position."

The devaluation, in effect, will lower the price of American goods sold abroad.

"I've felt that one of the chief reasons for Connecticut's relatively high per capita income has been our high degree of exporting to other states and other countries," Weiner said.

The increased exporting directly stemming from devaluation should create 20,000 to 30,000 new jobs in the state," he said.

"The time is right for many firms that have been hesitant about exporting," Weiner said, adding that foreign dealing "isn't really that difficult, because there are many agencies that will help you get started, including the Small Business Administration."

Was Dollar Devalue Defeat Or Was it Victory for U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Was the agreement to devalue the American dollar a defeat for the United States, as Moscow claims, or was it a victory, a choice that some people in Washington appear willing to boast?

The answer lies somewhere in a jungle of fact, dogma and opinion that characterizes each position. But if it's ever found the discoverer will soon realize he has the answer to a relatively meaningless question.

Rather than being a war of attrition or a battle of attrition, devaluation must be seen as part of an always changing relationship among nations. The relationship is not static; it is always evolving.

For a while, however, the nation's of the trading world attempted to say that things were really the same, had been since 1944 when the Bretton Woods Agreement was reached, and strength of their currencies contained inflation the day of part of the collection obtained by the late Ethel Traubagen.

They adhered, that is, to a mainly and rarely through revaluations. The U.S. dollar was the peg, the United States got its house Africa and Ball and New England world that was just emerging, however, and there was great in order. The way to restore land neighbors also are being from World War II. The world

Business Mirror

The United States to eliminate inflation from its economy. This sounded logical enough, because it would indeed mean a scuder dollar. But it might also mean recession. Self-lightening means less spending which means fewer jobs which means domestic discontent.

The United States decided to recognize reality. It pulled the recession alternative. It foresees that every household must be allowed the greatest possible choice in selecting its home and environment.

A decent home was defined as: Enough housing to shelter a variety of households; a quality in all housing to promote sound physical and mental health; and a latitude and encouragement for the expansion of identity and individuality in housing.

Outlining the requirements of a healthy environment, Joseph P. Pastie, town engineer, listed well-designed and maintained neighborhoods; proper neighborhood facilities and services; neighborhoods with a plurality of households; neighborhoods accommodating a variety of neighborhoods with in the region and residential de-

Housing Goal Guidelines Adopted by Town Council

Guidelines which should influence decisions as far as housing goals are concerned were adopted by the Town Council last night. They are the same as adopted by the Capitol Region Planning Agency.

The basic goal is "The opportunity of a decent home in a healthy environment for all persons." It was noted that opportunity expresses the key objective that "every household must be allowed the greatest possible choice in selecting its home and environment."

The council also approved some provisions of police officers, as recommended by Chief Edmund Dwyer, Sgt. Herman Fritz will be promoted to lieutenant and John Bundy, Martin Kineman and John Marshall, new regular patrolmen, will be promoted to sergeant. All four officers took exams and their promotions will become effective Jan. 1.

The film stars Gary Glines, Bill Bush and Geoffrey Lewis.

A Test of Character

The opening of presents will have to get off early in the morning, and the Christmas turkey popped in the oven before breakfast...

That paragraph is probably nothing more than a wistful example of the male bravado, and probably bears very little relation to the actual timetable that will be in effect on Christmas Day...

Professional football is about to complete its conquest of the calendar. Christmas Day, was, until last year, the one last sanctity still standing before the onslaught of television football...

This year, through that quick opening in the old Christmas Day line, professional football has stormed through with two of its big play-off games, for hard business cash.

We would have thought it might have been good, even for avid football fans, still to have one day in the year when they would have to give their mind and their attention and their company to something else...

This we would have thought. Whether we, or any other momentarily troubled male addict, will think that way strongly enough to resist the temptation to try to eat Christmas Dinner at the half times, we will not venture to predict.

Shirley MacLaine: Chivalry Not Dead

The typical political speech in this country historically has acquired the assessment of being one-tenth substance and nine-tenths hot air...

We are in a period when politicians and our political institutions are under heavy fire, and so are witnessing a time when the highly-specialized art of turning well-made, but meaningless, phrases is equaled by some new practitioners...

Take Shirley MacLaine, for instance. The actress spoke here the other day at a state senior class dinner, and from all reports, she might have sounded like a parody of the public's view of the typical politician making a typical speech...

"The best part" was when the water dropped a tray," said another. "Urging her concepts of freedom upon her audience, Miss MacLaine said, 'Only people who are afraid of freedom could tolerate Spiro Agnew for three minutes'..."

Remove The Party Lever: No better case for the complete removal of party levers from the voting machine can be cited than the recent city election in Waterbury...

You-Know-Who Strikes Again: It had to be only a matter of time before you-know-who and his crusaders got around to the needless surgery bit—the easy allegation that 10,000 people die needlessly in this country every year because greedy surgeons operate on them to cut out things that never really needed to be cut out...

Of course such things happen. Of course there have been instances in which unscrupulous malpractice has been actually involved. Of course there have been many other instances in which the necessity of operations has been professionally debatable.

All that has happened is that you-know-who has progressed down the slick, dark road of acknowledged imperfections in our society, fired off another of his motive-pure publicity releases, and knocked himself off another set of headlines.

Medal for Prisoners?

By BRIG. GEN. S.L.A. MARSHALL, Military Affairs Analyst, Los Angeles Times-Washington Post

All along it has been plain as a pikestaff that American hysteria over the wretched plight of the several hundred Americans held prisoner by Hanoi would do more harm than good and might bring on some extraordinary bit of foolishness...

Nothing was to be gained by creating a national tide of emotion over the hard lot of these men. It would open no doors nor would it soften any hearts on the other side. That it would ease their treatment in captivity was highly unlikely.

It needs to be said that our prior experience in fighting Communists made clear that they would be exploited in this very manner. The lessons learned in Korea, it seems, were simply ignored.

A special medal for prisoners of war raises some very awkward questions. The and fate of the POW—any POW—we take and the ones we lose—is to be pitied and lamented.

Not every service man becomes captive against his will. Some are captured because they are in the wrong place at the wrong time. Some are captured because they are in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

This column's tentative refusal to release Lieutenant Governor T. Clark Hull from what he himself whimsically calls his "readmill to oblivion" is based on a number of considerations.

There is, for instance, the whole matter of the state's relationship to that education of higher education and culture known as Yale.

Yale and Connecticut have got along pretty well for nearly 300 years, but lately there have been notes of discord.

There was, during the last state administration, the celebrated occasion when the then Lieutenant Governor Pransnell of Stafford Springs decided to avail himself of his constitutional membership on the Yale Board of Trustees, and presented himself at one of the meetings of that august body.

By the time Yale had recovered from the experience of having its highest deliberations invaded by one of its constitutional ex officio members, Hull, himself a loyal alumnus, had become Lieutenant Governor, which looked like a nice piece of protection for Yale.

But the same election, alas, brought into office another ex officio Yale trustee, namely one Thomas Meakill, and one of the first things Governor Meakill did was dare to issue some public criticism of the public conduct of an individual who, in the natural hierarchy of the state, had always hitherto ranked superior even to governors, the president of Yale.

And, just recently, all that was smoldering between a conservative Governor who is a graduate of Trinity and the liberal enlightenment of the establishment down at New Haven broke out into open flame.

The question now is: Can the talents of Connecticut to come up with a proper state song promptly.

Frequently in the course of crucial Senate sessions—whenever, in fact, he noticed a crowd of any particular size up in the galleries, or saw the television camera aimed at what would stage a pause in the day's proceedings and explain to the lay audience, just what the Senate was doing.

Non-Nuptial Contract Broken, Claims Suitor

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — more than a year to a girl he had dated before he met Miss Wagner while attending college in California, according to his father.

Wilson claims he also kept quiet. But shortly before he was due to pick up the money last month, Wagner went to court, claiming that he was "under great mental duress" when he signed the contract.

Judge William J. Beer of Circuit Court said Monday that he believed a contract not to marry probably would be void, especially since one condition was that Miss Wagner not be told. He added that no court would honor any agreement that either prohibited or encouraged marriage.

He gave attorneys one hour to settle the claim out of court after saying of Wilson: "Any man who is courting a fair lady certainly has to do some clever, didn't want his daughter to marry out of his faith. Will for a Baptist."

Wilson has been married. Wagner returned to court and

40 Rescued From Tanker Blaze at Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The tanker MV Calypso lay burning off the coast of Cuba early today but its 40-man crew was reported safe after an American merchantman hurried to the scene.

The Coast Guard said the 48-foot MV Green Port rushed to the burning tanker shortly after the Calypso's captain radioed a distress call Monday night.

The captain of the molasses-laden tanker said fire had erupted in the vessel's engine room and stern. Minutes later he reported "the whole ship is ablaze," the Coast Guard said.

The fire began while the Calypso was steaming along the shallow Old Bahama Channel some 14 miles north of the Cuban lake of Cayo Coco.

The cause of the fire was not immediately known.

A Coast Guard officer said Cuban authorities were informed of the distress call and indicated to the State Department that they would launch "their own rescue effort."

However, no Cuban rescue vessels were seen during the height of the emergency.

A Coast Guard plane dispatched to the scene reported several lifeboats floating beside the 500-foot Calypso and the New York-based Green Port radioed back that it had taken 40 crewmen aboard.

The other crewmen remained aboard the burning tanker but a Coast Guard spokesman said, "Everybody's alive. There's no injuries."

The Coast Guard cutter Diligence was expected to arrive at the scene this afternoon. The cutter carried fire fighting equipment, a spokesman said.

Many Groups in Coalition For Passage of No-Fault

HARTFORD (AP) — Two state senators, backed up by insurance and consumer groups, Monday established a coalition to campaign for passage of no-fault auto insurance legislation by the Connecticut General Assembly next year.

Sen. Joseph Lieberman, D-New Haven, who unsuccessfully backed no-fault legislation this year, predicted it will be "a very different battle" next year.

The real fight will be whether the present system should be changed, but Lieberman said, "I don't think it will be a 'bread and butter' issue among his colleagues in the legal profession, many of whom have a 'bread and butter' interest in retaining the present system. However, he said there is a growing groundswell of support for reform even among attorneys.

Man Suing Snow And Christmas

CINCINNATI (AP) — Richard Christmas and Charles Snow are defendants in a suit in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court.

Thomas Taylor filed the suit Monday, asking that a partnership among him, Christmas and Snow be dissolved. He said that the two have denied him access to books of a service station they own.

The coalition is behind a plan under which every driver would have to buy insurance and everyone who was hurt in an accident would receive compensation, whether or not he was at fault.

People would retain the right to sue for damages for medical expenses, lost wages and other economic losses for $2,000. They would not be allowed to sue for "pain and suffering" damages, however, unless their medical expenses (not counting X-rays) totaled at least $1,000.

The groups in the coalition are the Automobile Club of Hartford, the Connecticut Motor Club, the Connecticut Association of Independent Insur-

A Coast Guard officer said Cuban authorities were informed of the distress call and indicated to the State Department that they would launch "their own rescue effort."

However, no Cuban rescue vessels were seen during the height of the emergency.

A Coast Guard plane dispatched to the scene reported several lifeboats floating beside the 500-foot Calypso and the New York-based Green Port radioed back that it had taken 40 crewmen aboard.

The other crewmen remained aboard the burning tanker but a Coast Guard spokesman said, "Everybody's alive. There's no injuries."

The Coast Guard cutter Diligence was expected to arrive at the scene this afternoon. The cutter carried fire fighting equipment, a spokesman said.

"Disgusted With Greep"

To the Editor:

I am thoroughly disgusted with a group of citizens attempting to tell me what I may or may not do. I am not a porno enthusiast but I feel my rights are invaded.

The Citizens against Pornography cannot see the forest for the trees.

While they are concerned about the Mafia controlling what they believe is obscenity, I am not sure they are concerned about the Mafia controlling the distribution and sale of narcotics in Connecticut.

If they have read any articles beside Readers Digest they would have realized that I am not a porno enthusiast but I feel my rights are invaded.

I presume that a large number of the Citizens against Pornography are children between the ages of 16 to 20. Do you know what you children are doing tonight and where they are? I doubt it very much.

It is not the 1954 year old group in the main who are smashing windows, vandalizing cars, stealing decorations put out by people who only wish to beautify this season nor is it the adults from 24 on. Perhaps your

AN OPEN DOOR DISCUSSION:

What are we doing about it?

When you lump all air-pollutant sources together, the generation of electricity accounts for an estimated 15 percent of the total in this area — far less than transportation — but more than refuse disposal or space heating. But, we don't take any comfort from the fact that our industry is not the area's worst air-polluter. In some categories, we contribute far too much to the problem. We're responsible for about 15 percent of the particles emitted to the air, approximately 35 percent of the nitrogen oxides, and about 30 percent of the sulfur dioxide.

What Else Are We Doing?

One new oil-fired generating unit is under construction in the Northeast Utilities system at this time, and another was completed last summer. Both these units incorporate high smokestacks which will appreciably reduce ground-level concentrations of pollutants, an space is provided for the installation of sulfur dioxide removal devices when research makes such equipment available.

As these and other modern generating facilities are completed, we can eliminate the emissions from some of our older, less efficient generating units by taking them out of service. For example, the State Street plant in Springfield was retired last fall and we plan to retire eight more old units in four Connecticut plants over the next two years. We'll all breathe a sigh of relief when these smoky old-timers are gone.

What About Cost?

The things we have been talking about obviously cost money — a lot of money — and there's no escaping the fact you are paying more for electricity to offset these increased expenses. As an example, the more expensive low-sulfur oil required to meet new environmental standards will add $14,000,000 to our 1972 fuel bill. Other expenses, such as maintaining a professional environmental staff and sponsoring research projects, must be continued to speed the progress of pollution control.

What About The Future?

A factor worth considering is that while electric generation itself is getting cleaner, electricity also helps clean up other sources of pollution. For example, it supplies the power needed for sewage treatment for recycling solid wastes and running air- and water-quality-control equipment.

What About The Future?

This is one of a series of subjects covered in our Open Door Discussions. While a great deal has already been accomplished in air-pollution control, many problems are yet to be solved. As knowledge is gained and technology improves, our priorities and policies will shift. As is the case with any complex issue, there are many points of view. We have presented ours. Your comments and questions are welcome and would be helpful to us in evaluating our program. Write to: Public Information Department, P.O. Box 270, Hartford, Conn. 06101.

A MODERN PHARMACY

James F. D'Amato
D.D.S./R.N.

Most widely prescribed drugs have two names: the brand name, given to it by its packager or manufacturer, and the so-called generic name, which identifies the chemical compound no matter who manufactures or markets it. . . . In most cases, the generic name drug (which must meet the standards set either by the United States Pharmacopoeia or the National Formulary) sells for less than its brand name equivalent. . . . We are aware of the fact that if doctors make every effort to prescribe generically, a patient would realize a savings of five per cent.

Many physicians, however, do prefer to prescribe some drugs by brand name because they place special confidence in the products of particular manufacturers. . . . It is important to seek reliable pharmaceutical assistance. You will find excellent service awaiting you at CHEVON PHARMACY, 280 E. Center St., Vernon, Conn. Open 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Prescription delivery. Open 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Special Luncheon Specials served daily at Postman.

Tolland High School Staff Plans New Courses

Students at Tolland High school would present a school-wide program of religious education, according to a plan approved by the Board of Education. The program would include a variety of courses, including a comparative study of the world's religions, a course in the history of the Christian church, and a course in the history of the Jewish people. The program would be implemented over a period of several years, and would be designed to provide students with a better understanding of the world's religions and the role of religion in society.

The Art Department is requesting the addition of a non-mathematical physics course to be integrated along with the present physics course. As part of the department's annual attempt to provide a high student interest subject each year, the department is also asking the board to drop marine biology in favor of offering psychology. Expenses for the psychology course could be minimized by using paperback texts and library resource materials, the proposal notes.

Partial Returns Show Small Rise In Tax Income

HARTFORD (AP) — Despite the major tax increases this year, the latest report from the state tax department shows an increase of less than 7 per cent in collections for the past five months. The figures are not complete, however, since the sales tax their money-making activities revenue for October and November are not included. Also, the boost in the sales tax from 6 per cent to 6.5 per cent did not go into effect until Sept. 1, 1970. Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., topped the speech-making money list at $4,331. He was followed by Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., at $4,105, Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, at $4,022, and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., at $37,600. No statistics were available for their 1970 attendance period last year.

Notes from the Black Book

Basketball Schedule Oddities: Cheney Tech's first four basketball games this season — all defeats — were played on enemy courts. On the other hand, East Catholic High's first five starts this winter will be at home. The Eagles will play four games on college campuses, two at Central Connecticut in New Britain and two at the University of Hartford. Opposition at each site will be provided by arch-rival schools, South Catholic and Northwest Catholic. . . . Ernie Pupper, former Manchester High gridder, arrived home last week after 14 months in Vietnam where he won the bronze star. Pupper, winner of the coveted Thom McAn football lineman award while at Manchester High in 1968, served as a radio operator with the army. Pupper has received his discharge. . . . Jim Dyer, former UConn soccer player and a teacher in the Tolland area high school system, guided East Catholic High's informal soccer team to a 5-1-1 win, last, tied record this fall. The last four starts were against varsity foes. Cliff Demers, East director of athletics, reported 30 boys were tested for the first time ever at the school and the sport will be included on the regular schedule next year. The Eagles' basketball lack is a practice and playing field. Demers hopes that before next fall a regular field can be secured. Dyer helped the Williams Soccer Club win the Connecticut final of the National Amateur Cup. The Eagles' coach handled the goalkeeping. . . . Maloney High in Meriden is looking for a new varsity football coach to replace John Shubel who resigned last year. . . . Twice at the start of the first two home games of East Catholic High's basketball games this season the National Anthem record went haywire. The students and fans look over and completed the song, which added that little personal touch and made followers of both teams feel much closer to one another. Personally, I would rather join the crowd singing the National Anthem than hear it on a scratchy or broken record.

Short Stuff

Just Wondering: Did the Baltimore Colts go all out against New England's Patriots in their 21-17 loss? And what was Detroit Lion Coach Joe Schmidt thinking about when he had his team go about parking again in San Francisco with the ball on the 10n-40 yard line and a 27-24 lead and over 11 minutes left to play? The Colts have been in the Cleveland Browns in the complicated NFL playoffs. Had the Colts won, they would have been in the playoffs. Chiefs, a team figured to be considerably stronger than the Browns. . . . DeWitt's blunder enabled the deep come from behind to win and secure a berth in the post-season scramble. A Leon success and the deep come from behind to receive his copy every week with all names spelled correctly and printed in the newspaper. How do you figure the New England Patriots? The club provided three of the major upset victories in the American Football Conference and Baltimore. The Jim Plunkett-led Patriots may well be the team of the future. . . . On the other hand, the Colts and Giants look deadlier than last week's newspaper.

Lee's New Ambition, Play, in Masters

RANCHO LA COSTA, Trevino, who failed to qualify near, too many speeches," he said. Trevino said he also is looking forward to the defense of golf tournament, now has a new ambition — to win it. He told West Coast reporters and sportscasters who had gathered for his press conference that he would like to win the Masters in 1972. But that capturing the Masters is his big goal. Trevino, winner of the U.S. and Canadian opens plus three other tournaments this year, spoke by telephone to the writers gathered at La Costa Country Club Monday night from his home in El Paso, Tex. on his tournament play with his family there before returning the going ways in the non-golf activities in 1972. This year has been "too many distractions," he said.

Ed Marinaro Eats Crow After 'Humorous' Remarks

BOSTON (AP) — Ed Marinaro, who finished second in the running for the Heisman Trophy, says the remark he made Sunday night in Rochester, N.Y., "I ripped the guts of Luce," was a "joke." Marinaro said he was getting "a little bit of a laugh" from the remark. Marinaro said he was getting "a little bit of a laugh" from the remark. # Touchdown Run Biggest of Career

Watson Hero In Liberty Bowl Game

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee fullback Curt Watson says his 17-yard touchdown run against Arkansas Monday night in the Liberty Bowl was the biggest of his career. The run, with only 1:25 left, gave the 6th-ranked Vols a 14-13 victory over 16th-ranked Arkansas in the 11th annual post-season classic before a national television audience. Watson, who entered the game in the second quarter, scored a touchdown with a 17-yard run from the right side of the field, outmaneuvering the Razorback defender at the 5 for the touchdown. Watson kicked his 62nd consecutive extra point after Watson's touchdown to provide the victory margin. Tennessee, which finished the season 10-2, was trailing 7-10 at the time Watson scored. Watson recovered a fumble by Arkansas' tailback Jim Maxwell and then ran back into the right side of the field, outmaneuvering the Razorback defender at the 5 for the touchdown. Watson kicked his 62nd consecutive extra point after Watson's touchdown to provide the victory margin.

Dots and Daashes

Dave Wiggin, successful Manchester High varsity football coach, stays in shape during the off-season by officiating basketball games. Dave's son, John, who plays basketball for Manchester High's squad the past three years, is reported interested in Trinity College, a regular field can be secured. Dyer helped the Williams Soccer Club win the Connecticut final of the National Amateur Cup. The Eagles' coach handled the goalkeeping. . . . Maloney High in Meriden is looking for a new varsity football coach to replace John Shubel who resigned last year. . . . ## UConn's Home

Columbia University's Coach Jack Bohan directed his Lions in two basketball games at the home of the team in recent years, but when he brings his Lions to the UConn arena, he faces the team of the future. . . . On the other hand, the Colts and Giants look deadlier than last week's newspaper.

Jets Rehire Vet Ewbank Another Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Weeb Ewbank, still smiling after two straight injury-plagued seasons, will be back as coach and general manager of the New York Jets next year. Ewbank and Jets president Phil Irian made it official Monday when they signed a two-year contract. Ewbank said he was pleased to be back after the Jets had finished with a 4-8 mark in 1970. Engaged

The engagement of Miss Laura Louise Wallace of Enfield, formerly of Manchester, to Michael Wayne Sweeney of Agawan, Mass. has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William John Wallace Sr., 3 Missile Dr., Enfield.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney of Riverside, R.I. Miss Wallace attended Manchester schools and is a senior at Enfield High School. She is employed with the Columbus Services International at Bradley International Airport.

Mr. Sweeney is a 1966 graduate of East Providence (R.I.) High School and served two and a half years in Vietnam. He is employed as a customer service agent for Allegheny Airlines at Bradley International Airport. The wedding is planned for Jan. 15, 1972.

Police Patrol Added For Town Center

An additional police patrol district in the center of Manchester, to deal with rising incidences of crime will become effective Jan. 2, and will bring the total cruiser-patrolled districts to six.

The new district, which will encompass the center area of Manchester, will be manned 24 hours-a-day by one cruiser. Two walking beats will be maintained in the center, according to Police Chief James Reardon.

The police budget contains funds for the additional cruiser, and for the four patrolmen who were hired six months ago to provide extra manpower for the district. The district will relieve strains on four districts surrounding the center, especially the Parkade District which has seen the largest increase in activity.

Roughly, then, the six districts consist of four large ones at each corner of Manchester, one in the Parkade Area, and the new one in the area of the Center.

Pollution Tops Steele Poll

Controls on pollution, crime and drugs received the highest priority by residents of Connecticut's Second Congressional District, according to Republican Congressman Robert H. Steele, who recently conducted a public opinion poll.

The political pulse-taking questionnaire was sent out to more than 180,000 constituents and the widest margin of approval was for legislation to outlaw disposable beverage bottles and cans. The stub-the-can measure now before Congress was supported by a 76 per cent to 23 per cent spread, with only one per cent undecided.

The closest tally, 51-47-2 per cent gave similar support for establishment of a government-run national health insurance program. In listing five areas that should receive the highest priority in funding and federal action, Steele's constituents rated the issues this way: Pollution, crime, jobs, drugs, and welfare reform.

Bus to P&WA Using New Road

Barstow Transportation of Dayville, Conn., which operates commuter buses from the Putnam area to Pratt & Whitney Division of United Aircraft Corp. in East Hartford, has applied to the state Public Utilities Commission for authority to use the recently opened segment of Interstate 84 in Manchester.

The PUC has scheduled a public hearing for Jan. 7 on the application which, if granted, would take the Barstow buses off Manchester streets and route them on the new expressway from Bolton Notch to Silver Lane.

Barstow already has temporary authority to use I-84, and the company is now seeking permanent approval.

Barstow is only permitted to run the buses for aircraft commuters from eastern Connecticut—the buses do not stop in the Manchester area, which is served by the Connecticut Co.
