Harrison Outlines Main Street Plan

Phil Harrison, long-time Manchester businessman, paid tribute to the formation of the Main Street Guild and outlined his model block plan for renovating the business district at last night's meeting of the guild at Willie's Steak House.

Harrison referred to the guild as the best thing that has happened to Manchester in the last decade. He said if merchants will generate enthusiasm and a spirit of cooperation, the result can be a vibrant Main Street and a fine shopping area.

The model block plan, first proposed in December of 1971, would result in face-lifting of business, covered shopping areas, improved landscaping and parking areas.

Harrison said that the block being planned is bounded by Main Street, Elm Street, and the Town of Manchester toward the west. He urged businessmen to become members in a true spirit of cooperation. A full-scale membership drive is being planned.

Burt Lyons, publisher of the Herald, commented that planning is under way to improve the Main Street Guild and mall-town area. He said the plan should help to make downtown more attractive. He introduced Duane Edmonds, director of advertising and market research for The Herald, and Bill Simpson, retail advertising in addition to the guild which is a retail business promotion organization.

Jobless, New Nixon Target

Strict Demands Bared By U.S. Peace Delegate

PARIS (AP) — The United States and threatens new military adventures if we do not complete withdrawal of its forces from South Vietnam within a final agreement is signed with North Vietnam in October in secret talks that had been going on in Paris since Aug. 4, 1969.

The Viet Cong responded by calling the Nixon peace plan "a complete agreement in name only." North Vietnamese criticized Nixon for disclosing that his adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, had conducted secret talks in Paris with North Vietnam.

The Communists did not use the word rejection in discussing Nixon's proposal, and the North Vietnamese said they would have further comment on it.

"We would be willing to negotiate on other aspects of the agreement, such as those affecting withdrawals and prisoners, while we continued to negotiate on other aspects of the agreement," said U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter at the 14th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks.

"However, in connection with troop withdrawals, I wish to make it clear that although they could start on the date of the election campaign, the withdrawal of troops would not be totally complete until a final agreement is signed."

Before Porter spoke, South Vietnamese negotiator Phan Dang Lam formally presented the eight-point peace plan which President Nixon made public Tuesday night.

North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy told newsmen as he entered the session that the proposal was "part of his election campaign." He said the "screen" under which he "continues the American war of aggression."

Porter said the eight-point plan was a "major step" toward a final agreement. He said the plan was "a major step" toward a final agreement.

Reports Outlook Bright

Enemy Builds For Push

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. interrogators quote Communist plans for a major offensive against South Vietnam in the next few weeks, according to a report by a U.S. military analyst.

The report, third and last of the major presidential messages to the new session of Congress, announced a strong business expansion in the final quarter of 1971. Real output rose 6 per cent in annual rate, twice the rate of the preceding six months.

Gross national output will rise by nearly 100 billion in 1972, or more than 9 per cent, to a total of $146 trillion, the message said, and two-thirds of the record gain will be real, not just inflation.

"1972 begins on a note of much greater confidence than prevailed 12 or 13 months ago," the President said. "Output is rising at a rate which will boost employment rapidly and ease the unemployment problem. There is every reason to expect a rate of increase to continue."

"We are converting the fear of a general inflation into a growing hope for price stability as we move forward to set a fixed withdrawal date, thus moving decisively to restore strength to its international economic position."

"The outlook is bright, but great problems remain to be done. The unemployment rate down from the 6-per cent level where it was in 1971... "Six per cent unemployment is too much, and I am determined to reduce that number significantly by 1972. The jobs rate rose to 6.1 per cent in December, Nixon said."

Critics Vow Effort On Date for Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., who had predicted a withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam in 1972, said today that he would support a resolution to set a date for the pullout.

Brooke said he would support a resolution to set a date for the pullout. He said he would support a resolution to set a date for the pullout.

Recession Not Likely To Accept

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sure enough, it was a recession after all. The White House says so, two years later.

The report of the Council of Economic Advisors, sent to Congress with President Nixon's economic message, says on page 148: "The United States was in a mild recession."

Administration officials, spoken of a slowdown, a hesitation, and a lag. But still now they had admitted the Nixon administration had ever had a recession.

Kissinger's Cloak-Shrouded Hunt for Harmony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Kissinger used five separate routes, each carefully calculated to disguise his destination and purpose, when he commuted regularly to Paris on his secret-peace missions.

Officials said Kissinger's journeys were fewer than five times in the White House knew full details.

But it now appears, Nixon himself almost blew Kissinger's cover before a national television audience, no less when he apparently confused the press and public talks and mentioned an office he later indicated was made secretly.

These are among major points that have emerged since Nixon's Tuesday night address in which he disclosed Kissinger's 10,000-mile search for peace and left the world wondering: How did Henry do it?

Kissinger himself won't divulge precise details of his cover travels because, he told a news conference Wednesday, "We may want to do it again."

He would say only: "We generally flew to American military bases and then transferred once or twice until we wound up... at some little-used airfield near Paris, and then we generally stayed in the hands of French and American officials in Paris who knew what was happening."

Sources would not divulge who chartered the five basic but different routes they said were followed by Kissinger to reach Paris. But one official said, "Richard Nixon was the quarterback—all the way through."

Before each trip, this official added, Kissinger would spend hours with Nixon, preparing the delicate diplomatic confrontations.

While Kissinger was in Paris, this source added, Nixon would "sit and wonder and worry," he said, only when the cover markings, including the jet-and-white color scheme, as belonging to the presidential fleet.

Other times he flew in less-conspicuous government aircraft.

Sometimes he would land at a U.S. air base in Europe, then shift to another plane for the shorter hop to Paris. Other times he would fly directly to French air bases near the capital.

"Usually, he would be accompanied by one or two trusted aides, and usually they would find lodging in out-of-the-way quarters arranged by the French and American officials in Paris who knew what was happening."

VFW Contest Seeks Ideas On Loyalty

The State VFW auxiliary is sponsoring a contest for auxiliary members to define the terms "Americanism" and "Loyalty".

Members are asked to write their personal ideas and feelings in no more than 500 words and submit to Patricia Seabrook, 1 Goldmine Rd., New Milford, state Americanism chairman.

The entries should be written or typed on one side of the paper and postmarked no later than March 1, 1972. The entrant's name, address, phone number and auxiliary number should not be written on a separate sheet of paper.

The entries will be judged on sincerity and originality. Spelling and punctuation will not be a factor.

The top five entries will receive personal awards and will be used, with permission, in Americanism bulletins.

For further information contact Mrs. Eugene Freeman of 818 Center St., the local Americanism chairman.

Sheinwold on Bridge

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
When you're about to cross a busy thoroughfare, look both ways to see what the automobiles are doing. Don't worry about crocodiles; they're less of a threat.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.
Opening lead — Jack of Hearts.

When today's hand was played, declarer went all out to protect himself from a very unusual danger. He ignored a routine threat and got just what he deserved, just like the earliest recorded astronomer who was so busy watching the stars that he fell into a well.

West opened the jack of hearts, and declarer made the mistake of winning immediately with dummy's king. East stepped carefully to the queen.

Declarer next led a low spade from dummy, and East stepped right up with the ace of spades to lead his remaining heart.

That was the end of poor South. West was sure to set up the hearts and was sure to bring the lead with the ace of diamonds in the time to defeat the contract.

Head-Up Play Better
South should hold up the hearts at the first trick. It would be dollars to doughnuts that the opponents continue hearts. Declarer wins in dummy and returns a spade. East can take the heart spades but cannot lead a heart.

Now, what was South worried about when he made the mistake of winning the first trick? He was afraid that East would overtake with the queen of hearts and shift to a diamond.

However, your opponents hammer away at a single suit when defending against no-trump, just as all good players do. Defend yourself against what they will probably do, and don't worry about mere possibilities.

Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, which had retreated in the past six sessions, advanced on a broad front today. Trading was active.

The noon Dow Jones average of 89 industrial stocks was up 8.86, 88.09. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

Analysts attributed the upturn partly to news today that the government's leading economic indicators rose sharply in December. The gain overshadowed a strong advance in the economy in coming months, the government said.

Stock prices rose through glamour, airlines, chemicals, electronics, farm implements, rubber issues, and steel. All other groups were mixed.

Among the most actively traded glimmers were National Cash Register, up 1/2 at 84 1/2 and Control Data, unchanged at 85 1/2. The two companies have agreed on a broad cooperative program that they plan to undertake in the computer field.

Profit taking had trimmed prices in the previous six sessions, during which the Dow industrial average had dropped some 28 points from a post-Thanksgiving high of 97.52.

News prices on the Big Board also included Memorex, up 1 1/2 at 37; International Telephone, up 1/4 at 63 1/2; University Computing, up 1/2 at 22; INA Corp. up 1/4 at 24 1/2; and Inland Steel, up 1/4 at 24 1/2.

Exchange's most-active list also included System, up 1 1/2; Trans World Airline, up 1/4 at 24; and Combustion Equipment, up 1/4 at 24 1/2.

High St. Residents Seek Stairway to Downtown

Residents of the High St. area of Rockville have asked the town to reconstruct the "staircase" which originally saved them walking down a steep hill to the shopping area.

The steps were the property of the former New Haven Railroad. There were two sets divided by a railroad bridge and leading down to Brooklyn St. in the vicinity of the Tober House factory. They were removed more than ten years ago.

Spinetta suggested that the town build the stairway from High St. down to the southwest corner of the Alco parking lot and Alcoa would build the other art Spinetta, project manager of the Alco Development Corp., developers of the new area. Alcoa has indicated it would be more than willing to share the cost of the three times in barbed wire riding. He has won more than $300,000.

Vernon

Stopgap Plans Considered To Ease School Crowding

The Vernon school system will have too many students and not enough space when schools open next fall and the Board of Education has to resolve that problem by its Feb. 8 meeting.

Alternatives suggested by the administrators were proposed last night to the board and parents. The meeting was a combined one of the Middle School PTO and the board. The board failed to come to any decision after listening to the pros and cons of double sessions at the Middle School or of the high school and suggestions concerning the shutting around of some students.

Martin Fagan, principal of the high school said he would favor double sessions, but emphasized he intended this only as a temporary measure until, hopefully, a decision was made at the board at the referendum March 7.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, explained some of the various proposals discussed for alleviating the space situation, temporarily. He said it is necessary to come up with a decision that will meet the educational needs of the students.

Several plans were proposed to continue with single sessions and transfer about 125 students in Grade 6 at the Middle School. This would bring the high school facility to approximately 1,400; Middle School 1,600 and Bykes, 700. He said that redistricting Grade 8 would mean adding two buses at $7,500 each or $14,000.

A second suggestion was to assign Grade 8 and 9 students to Bykes on a half session basis and continue the high school on a single session plan (Grades 10, 11 and 12). This shifting of students would make rooms available at the Middle School for elementary school purposes.

A proposal to have double sessions at the high school for all four classes, would free the Bykes school for use as a Middle School. Extra buses would cost $15,500.

Expanding the various proposals, Dr. Ramsdell said the first plan would not only mean additional transportation cost but would also mean one or two additional teachers may be needed. "It would be crowded," he added.

Electives A Problem
Turning to the second suggestion, double sessions for Grades 8 and 9, the superintendent explained there would not be any problems with the basic education courses but there would

Their Spree Uncovered In Course of Arrests

An arrest of two Hampton youth was found to have several items of clothing, and another, who was apprehended in the Parkade yesterday morning, led police to uncover a theft spree that covered five downtown stores and kings at the Parkade.

Randall B. Baird, 18, was charged with six counts of larceny in the fourth degree, and Donald G. Pike, 17, was charged with five counts of larceny in the fourth degree.

Police arrived at the Parkade after an employee of Kings notified them of two shoplifters. One

DeMolay Plans March 12 Parade

John Mather Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will celebrate DeMolay's 50th anniversary in Connecticut with a parade March 12 starting at 3 p.m. on Main St.

John DiCiccio has been named parade marshal for the Connecticut State DeMolay week parade. William Strickland will be assistant parade marshal; James Clifford, di-visional coordinator; Brian McAwoy, director of transportation; and Dustin Wood, publicity.

The chapter recently won the Connecticut Ritual Competition on the initiative degree, competing against seven other chapters in New Britain. William Strickland, master counselor, presided, and ritual aids were DiCiccio, Charles Strickland, master counselor, and Phillip Smith.

The chapter's bowling team has won two divisions of the League with 36 wins and 2 losses. John DiCiccio is team captain; Duane Smith, vice president; Richard Brown, secretary; and Strickland, treasurer. Other team members are Dan Hanson and Dave Brown.

Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, which had retreated in the past six sessions, advanced on a broad front today. Trading was active.

The noon Dow Jones average of 89 industrial stocks was up 8.86, 88.09. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

Analysts attributed the upturn partly to news today that the government's leading economic indicators rose sharply in December. The gain overshadowed a strong advance in the economy in coming months, the government said.

Stock prices rose through glamour, airlines, chemicals, electronics, farm implements, rubber issues, and steel. All other groups were mixed.

Among the most actively traded glimmers were National Cash Register, up 1/2 at 84 1/2 and Control Data, unchanged at 85 1/2. The two companies have agreed on a broad cooperative program that they plan to undertake in the computer field.

Profit taking had trimmed prices in the previous six sessions, during which the Dow industrial average had dropped some 28 points from a post-Thanksgiving high of 97.52.

News prices on the Big Board also included Memorex, up 1 1/2 at 37; International Telephone, up 1/4 at 63 1/2; University Computing, up 1/2 at 22; INA Corp. up 1/4 at 24 1/2; and Inland Steel, up 1/4 at 24 1/2.

Exchange's most-active list also included System, up 1 1/2; Trans World Airline, up 1/4 at 24; and Combustion Equipment, up 1/4 at 24 1/2.

Boys Scout Notes and News

Cub Scout Pack 84 recently held a pack meeting at the Bentley School. William Andrus was the guest speaker. He discussed parachute jumping and showed a film and displayed equipment which is worn by the pack.

The following boys received awards: Kevin DeWitt, 10, 1st Merit badge; Michael Jassow, 5; Art Warrington, 2; Barry Pollard, 3; and Michael Fraser, 2.

More than two million acres of Nova Scotia's total of 15 million acres of area are farmland.

High St. Residents Seek Stairway to Downtown

Residents of the High St. area of Rockville have asked the town to reconstruct the "staircase" which originally saved them walking down a steep hill to the shopping area.

The steps were the property of the former New Haven Railroad. There were two sets divided by a railroad bridge and leading down to Brooklyn St. in the vicinity of the Tober House factory. They were removed more than ten years ago.

Spinetta suggested that the town build the stairway from High St. down to the southwest corner of the Alco parking lot and Alcoa would build the other art Spinetta, project manager of the Alco Development Corp., developers of the new area. Alcoa has indicated it would be more than willing to share the cost of the three times in barbed wire riding. He has won more than $300,000.

Vernon

Stopgap Plans Considered To Ease School Crowding

The Vernon school system will have too many students and not enough space when schools open next fall and the Board of Education has to resolve that problem by its Feb. 8 meeting.

Alternatives suggested by the administrators were proposed last night to the board and parents. The meeting was a combined one of the Middle School PTO and the board. The board failed to come to any decision after listening to the pros and cons of double sessions at the Middle School or of the high school and suggestions concerning the shutting around of some students.

Martin Fagan, principal of the high school said he would favor double sessions, but emphasized he intended this only as a temporary measure until, hopefully, a decision was made at the board at the referendum March 7.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, explained some of the various proposals discussed for alleviating the space situation, temporarily. He said it is necessary to come up with a decision that will meet the educational needs of the students.

Several plans were proposed to continue with single sessions and transfer about 125 students in Grade 6 at the Middle School. This would bring the high school facility to approximately 1,400; Middle School 1,600 and Bykes, 700. He said that redistricting Grade 8 would mean adding two buses at $7,500 each or $14,000.

A second suggestion was to assign Grade 8 and 9 students to Bykes on a half session basis and continue the high school on a single session plan (Grades 10, 11 and 12). This shifting of students would make rooms available at the Middle School for elementary school purposes.

A proposal to have double sessions at the high school for all four classes, would free the Bykes school for use as a Middle School. Extra buses would cost $15,500.

Expanding the various proposals, Dr. Ramsdell said the first plan would not only mean additional transportation cost but would also mean one or two additional teachers may be needed. "It would be crowded," he added.

Electives A Problem
Turning to the second suggestion, double sessions for Grades 8 and 9, the superintendent explained there would not be any problems with the basic education courses but there would

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, which had retreated in the past six sessions, advanced on a broad front today. Trading was active.

The noon Dow Jones average of 89 industrial stocks was up 8.86, 88.09. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

Analysts attributed the upturn partly to news today that the government's leading economic indicators rose sharply in December. The gain overshadowed a strong advance in the economy in coming months, the government said.

Stock prices rose through glamour, airlines, chemicals, electronics, farm implements, rubber issues, and steel. All other groups were mixed.

Jobless, Newest Target Of President's Efforts

"Real compensation per hour of work increased 2.5 percent last year, the highest number in 10 years. In November, it passed 80 million for the first time."

"This is strong medicine, and I do not propose to continue its use," he assured the lawmakers, "but we have taken it in order to give a powerful stimulus."

A forecast that the recent 6 percent gain in real output will continue in 1972, while the year-to-year rise in prices declines to 4 percent, is expected to a rate below 3 percent by the year-end—was made in a report of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, headed by Herbert Stein.

Chairman Stein was among those criticized by congressmen recently for speculating that the public ceiling on wages and salaries might be lifted before the November election. He later explained he might not be needed that long, but would be kept as long as needed.

Today the President's unusually brief 2,300-word message and the council's 260-page report which accompanied it were in agreement on the point that the economy is in a reasonable state of health.

Success will depend on cooperation of the American people, Nixon said, not only in their compliance with the regulations but in a "mutual understanding of the difficulties that all of us—working people, businessmen, consumers, farmers, government officials—encounter in this new and complicated program."

"After three years in which federal purchases of goods and services have hardly shaken a dollar term and have actually declined after allowing for inflation, federal purchases will start rising again."

"Business outlays on new plant and equipment will rise about 9 percent, according to annual surveys of company plans—after sluggish increases in recent years because of investment tax credit for the first time in all of the years in 1971. In all of the years in the figures showed record high last year. Labor productivity—output per hour of work—rose growth, inventory building may

(Continued from Page One) Nang was mentioned as a target, as were refugee camps. In addition to reported concentrations of North Vietnamese troops in position to strike from Laos and Cambodia, it was reported that the enemy command was planning new hard-core Viet Cong leaders throughout South Vietnam to replace ineffective cadres and V. C. stalwarts who had been routed out in government pacification operations.

The most persistent evaluation by U.S. authorities is that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will center their attacks on selected objectives for maximum effect on the American public and the Saigon government.

Four months of the one-year program consisted of classes held at Albert J. Fritze Technical School in Hartford. In the other eight months at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford, and the State Department of Education.

It was also agreed to ask the building inspector for a list of the grievances he received following the public hearing Tuesday evening.

Several residents at the hearing spoke of violations regarding septic systems. Keefe will also be asked to contact those persons who state they have violations that they would like eliminated.

Keefe has further requested to investigate all complaints and report back to the commission at its next meeting.

Subdivisions Also discussed in the executive session was the proposed Garry, Walsh and Diana, a town for John Robinson.

Red Saigon Rejected

"I am somewhat encouraged by the fact that they haven't rejected our proposal at Paris this morning," he said.

"There has been a good deal of investigation, but they haven't rejected it," he said.

The commission had proposed a restriction on the construction of year-round dwellings on small lots. However, it felt that summer residences should be given priority to voters' opinions.

The day-long conference was devoted to "Environmental Education for Everyone" with Marvin Kaib, CBS foreign air analyst, and Dan W. Latta, state commissioner of environmental protection, as the music of Ron Davis's Orchestra.

Anyone wishing tickets may contact Taylor or other members of the ticket committee.

These are open tryouts. Playwrights for the Playwrights and creative prose writers and poets are invited to submit their work.

There are some roles that don't require singing. Directing the production will be John Simon of East St. with the music by Robert S. Sirro.

Also, the extra writers committee wrote explanations about the production but unable to attend the tryouts should contact her.

Health Approval Decried For Small Lots at Lake

(Continued from Page One) being taught by Margaret Griffin. Candle making, string painting, paper mache and sand casting will be included in the arts and crafts program with Doris Schefsch, Donna Draxler and Jackie Allen as teachers.

"Needle and knitting will be taught by Lorraine Kreeger, and bath towels by Linda Chamberland. Olivia Patch will be in charge of drama, which will feature plays, puppet shows and pantomime.

"Lucy Samciyk will also teach a more complete knitting course, with children making mittens, alppers, hats and scarves."

Environment The Hebron Education Association sent four representatives to the winter conference of the Connecticut Education Association at the Hartford Hilton Hotel.

Following a cocktail hour at 7:30, there will be a prime rib and beef dinner at 7:30 and a continental breakfast at midnight. Bidding will begin at 9 o'clock for the first to receive a license.

There were reports, however, that Rep. John A. "Tony" Michalek, who promoted a state lottery unsuccessfully for a decade, might be the first agent.

The licensing is to be done with appropriate fanfare at the Hartford Hilton Hotel, 100 Chestnut St., by the Hartford Electric Light Co. headquarters in Wetherfield Rd.

The first tickets are to go on sale Feb. 19 and the first drawing is set for Feb. 24.

In Mrs. McCumber's class children cannot learn from textbooks, Mrs. Rosina parent that her community program be continued. Another parent, parent spoke for expanding the program, she stressed the importance of learning disability program. These were the only comments in a community for special items.

The workshop, the sixth and last in a series, was scheduled by the personnel and finance committees of the Board of Education, to hear comments on the 1972-1973 budget proposed by Dr. Donald Hennigan, superintendent of schools. The committee will review comments made at the workshops when it prepares a budget recommendation for the board.

When Dr. Hennigan was asked what he thought of the board's budget, he said that he couldn't answer her because the committee and the board haven't started revisions on the proposed budget. Then he added, "The dollar figure is small enough so it shouldn't be a problem. When we start something like this, we should continue to be realistic."

When Dr. Hennigan was asked if the money for the program funded by a 400 million grant from the state he said that about the actual cost would be paid by the state.

Mrs. Rita Levine, treasurer of the program, said that the children in the class take a Children with Learning Disabilities grocery store where they find items on a list, make the purchases, and return to class with the change. Each has a billfold for the money. The grant pays for the transportation and for that level.

Critics Vow New Efforts On Pullout

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, while praising an expansion of outlays by Nixon's initiative as "a long step forward," emphasized he still plans to offer at the proper time his amendment calling for total U.S. withdrawal in six months if American prisoners are freed.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., drew sharp Republican criticism when he told a virtually deserted Senate last Wednesday that the Nixon proposal is "totally unrealistic."

On both sides of the aisle, indications were that senators who have backed the previous Mansfield amendments, which passed the Senate but were vetoed by the House, will support future moves.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said in a statement that Nixon's plan lacks a precise date, which Humphrey said must be included in the bill.

The Mansfield amendment which I have consistently supported and which the majority of the Senate and the American public has accepted.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By VIVIAN F. FERGURON

A few years ago, I was invited to dinner at Rhea Stewart's. (Rhea writes fashion columns for the Herald). She served the pot roast with a pale gravy. "It's made with beer," she said. I found it most delicious enough to go for a second helping.

Since then, I have learned that there is nothing new about beer cooking. There are record recipes dating back to the Middle Ages which include beer. It can be used as a marinade, for basting or flavor, as a moistening agent. It can be used in baking breads and cakes and as all or part of the liquid in using packaged mixes.

Britain, Belgium and Germany are considered "the beer three," when it comes to cooking with beer. From Britain, we have Welsh Rarebit, a rich and mild cheese flavored with beer. The Germans make beer soup and cook sausages in beer. (You are probably aware of a large nationwide chain in this country which cooks its ham dogs in beer). The Belgians make carbonades flamandes—a beef stew.

ANDY MIKASUS

Recently, I met a young man with a wide collection of recipes for utilizing beer. Andy Mikasus, his wife Carolyn, and daughter Julie 2 1/2, moved to Manchester about two months ago. Andy is state director for United States Brewers Association, Inc. He was born in Chicago, attended North Illinois University where he majored in marketing. Upon graduating, he became the Northern Illinois representative for the Breweries Association.

Andy's job is primarily one of liaison. He promotes the beer industry through self-regulating programs which also serve the public interest. The field director has a many-faceted job. Working primarily through wholesalers, he also keeps retailers educated concerning sound business practices, provides them with up-to-date state regulations and promotes drives against the sale of malt beverages to minors.

Community involvement is greatly stressed. Andy is a member of both the Beautification and Public Affairs Committees of the local Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of the Hartford Kiwanis. The brewing industry concerns itself with the prevention of drinking and driving, and the promotion of safe drinking. While interviewing Andy, I received a large box of brochures which will be distributed through the Chamber's Beautification Committee.

A new nationwide program is now under way. Called "Pitch-In," it combines a schedule of national and local advertising against littering. A kit is available which I am passing along to the Manchester Conservation Commission offering decals, litterbags, bumper stickers and the like. "Pitch-In" carries the dual meaning of pitching in and helping as well as pitching the litter into a container.

Andy is a neatly attired young man with a ready smile. He is involved with his work, likes to do it and is not the type to do anything but "soft-sell." He and his wife have a wellkept, attractively decorated apartment at 107D Sycamore Lane.

When the Mikasus' entertain, they often serve foods which utilize beer. Andy likes to cook too. The Breweries Association has a wide list of recipes from which to choose, including a beer scotch, beer meatballs, beer curried shrimp and chesapeake. Andy suggests serving cheese popovers at the same time as the marinated mushrooms. The sharp cheese enhances the subtle vegetable.

Beer Marinated Mushrooms
1 lb. raw small white mushrooms, stems removed.
1/2 cup olive or salad oil
1/4 cup beer
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed
1/4 teaspoon salad herbs, crushed
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 large clove garlic, cut into small pieces

Combine all ingredients except mushrooms. Pour over mushrooms and coat well. Allow to stand at room temperature about two hours. Store in refrigerator. Provide toothpicks when serving. Marinade may be used as dip for other fresh vegetables—carrot sticks, etc.

The recipe is a good one. I taste-tested it. I am one who can always detect the instant one-though-it's-confess that I

Columbia Democrats To Choose Nominees

The Democratic Town Committee will meet tomorrow to choose a list of nominees for the committee.

Carl Swartz, chairman, said the committee must now be selected by a caucus.

Members of the committee will nominate persons it wants to present to the caucus. Under state party rules, Democratic town committees can no longer be "self-perpetuating."

Also on the agenda is the selection of a date for the caucus and a discussion of the campaign results.

Girl Scouts of all ages in the Columbia-Lebanon area may still join the Scout, Bowling League and Saturday morning at the Will Bowling Center. The league will continue until the spring.

The bowling center's bus arrives at the Lebanon Community Center parking lot at 9 a.m. and at St. Columba's Church at 9:15 a.m.

The fee provides three games, bowling shoes, basic instruction and awards at the conclusion of the program.

Adults who wish to chaperone may board the bus at the designated areas.

Realtors President Carlton Hubbins of Lake Rd. was installed as president of the Manchester Board of Realtors at a recent meeting.

Hubbins, whose offices are at 180 Center St., has owned his agency since 1962.

He is a past president of the board and was active in organizing the Multiple Listing Service. He is also a member of the Greater Hartford and Greater Vernon Boards of Realtors and their multiple listing services, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Connecticut Association of Real Estate Boards.

Hockey victory Columbia defeated a Sturbridge team 3-1 in a hockey game played at the University of Connecticut last week.

WETHERSFIELD (AP) would broaden the state's House Speaker William R. Rachford, D-Danbury, an early supporter of a personal income tax in Connecticut, said Wednesday night he expected a moderate rise in the 9 1/2 percent sales tax to emerge from the upcoming legislative session.

"I think a 7 per cent sales tax is a likelihood this year," Rachford told a gathering of Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalistic society. He added he would support a one-half percent increase in the sales tax if presented in a tax package he could accept.

Both Rachford and Republican Lt. Gov. T. Clark Hull, who also addressed the group, Rachford said, "I do not believe the chance of an income tax being passed this year is that dead."

Turning to other prospects prevailing in the legislature and constitutionality of the Environment Committee would give favorable reports to a policy called "Environmental Protection Act" bill and a measure that

Tolland Stoppag Rooms, Additions Sought for Middle School

Both immediate and long-range solutions to severe space problems at the Tolland Middle School were presented by school officials to the Board of Finance Tuesday night.

Dr. Kenneth MacKenzie, superintendent of schools, and James Cornish, school board chairman, outlined the overcrowded conditions and lack of teaching facilities at the school which is presently operating at peak capacity and which will be even more overcrowded next year.

The immediate solution presented to the space problem is the school in September to purchase three temporary classrooms at an estimated cost of $48,000. The share of the cost for all three classrooms would be $22,000, according to Dr. MacKenzie. The balance would be picked up by the state as a lump sum reimbursement grant.

Looking to the future, the school superintendent foresees the eventual use of the temporary classrooms in a conversion to badly needed administration space, for which state funding would also be available.

The longer range solution, in conjunction with the temporary classrooms, is the construction of an addition to the Middle School containing a gym, industrial arts, home economics and other specialized facilities.

At the time the school was built, the town did not have sufficient bonding capacity to build the school. The finance board members endorsed Dr. MacKenzie's proposal for a school construction study committee to evaluate the

U.S. Casualty List 2 Dead, 30 Wounded

SAIGON (AP) — Two American combat roles in South Vietnam. The U.S. Command also said two Americans were wounded in air operations over Laos during the week, but neither required hospital treatment.

The allied commands have now reported these total casualties for the war:

American—48,839 killed in action, 302,469 wounded, 13,091 dead from nonhostile causes. 8 on U.S. Vietnam—138,802 killed in action, 300,892 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—702,487 killed.

The South Vietnamese command reported 238 of its troops killed and 824 wounded last week. The number of wounded was the highest in 14 weeks, while the number killed was 94 less than the previous week.

Four more Americans died last week from nonhostile causes.

The South Vietnamese command reported 978 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed the week before the claim was 1,084.

Enemy casualty figures in the past were reported by both the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands, but the U.S. command announced today it is suspending its report of these figures.

Inform sources indicated this was due to the declining teaching staff, requiring them to travel between the two schools and lose classroom teaching time.

Double sessions as another alternative were not favored at all by the superintendent, who termed it "part time schooling." He added that the school had just gotten off double sessions a year ago and the situation did not please parents or the school system. Discipline problems existed on the school buses returning pupils home after dark during the late fall and early winter months, he said.

The temporary classrooms would be placed next to the Middle School entrance between Hicks School and the Middle School on a level portion of land.

Elementary school enrollment has stabilized, Dr. MacKenzie told the board, providing the building boom. The space problems now hitting the Middle School will funnel up to the high school.

Superintendent warned that two possible large developments may be constructed, one on an 80-acre plot of land and another on a 1,000-acre plot. He is meeting with representatives of both groups next week.

Loosened Plank Kills H.S. Girl

HARTFORD (AP) — A loose plank in a hallway at the Mill Street Hospital killed a 15-year-old girl Tuesday afternoon when she fell from a second-story window.

The girl, a senior at Weaver High School due to graduate in June, was leaving the school's main entrance when the board, done for one year however, would necessitate spending out all three stories from a second and eighth grade fold onto her.

"We cannot postpone providing additional classrooms any longer," Dr. MacKenzie told the finance board. The fifth and sixth grades are held in classrooms with inadequate ventilation, the industrial arts program is making more than 100 sq. ft. of space for the students at the other schools, unless eighth grade students are transferred to the high school. This could only be done for one year however, and would necessitate spending out all three stories from a second and eighth grade fold onto her.

Barry Tells Of Law On Pornography

"We're not seeing in any particular individual," Atty. David Barry, Manchester town counsel, said last night while explaining a bill he drafted which would stiffen the state's anti-obscenity laws.

Barry, speaking to the Democratic Club of Manchester, emphasized that he was interested only in the legal aspects of obscenity, and had drafted the bill at the direction of the town's Board of Directors.

House Bill 6096, "An Act Concerning the Definition Concerning Obscenity," now in the General Assembly's judiciary committee. Hearings were held Jan. 10, and the committee is expected to act on the bill at an executive session next Monday.

Barry told Democratic Club members that the bill would make a relatively simple change in the state's existing law by eliminating one of three tests for obscenity.

The existing law, part of the state's 1971 Penal Code, specifies that obscene material must be shown to have a prurient appeal must be to prurient, shameful or morbid interest.
