

Shades of Orson Welles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Phones rang crazily in police and sheriff's offices, anxious callers saying they heard the western United States and Canada had sunk into the sea.

As mystified law enforcement officers listened, about 50 callers described how a great earthquake triggered by the recent Amchitka atomic test had devastated Alaska, Tokyo and the western coast of North America.

Everything from Alaska to Santa Barbara, Calif., was under water, the callers said Sunday.

Most of the callers said they had heard about the disaster on radio. One finally gave the station's call letters.

A check showed that KPCC-FM in suburban Pasadena had just aired a two-hour simulated newscast depicting a disaster caused by the Amchitka test.

Most of the callers had missed an announcement at the start and finish which told listeners it was all fiction. The announcement has been required by the Federal Communications Commission since 1938. Orson Welles' famed radio recreation of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" alarmed the nation.

Partial Ban Voted For Dock Strike

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Labor Subcommittee voted today to authorize a partial 60-day injunction against the West Coast dock strike.

The subcommittee voted 6 to 1 to allow a major part of the strike to continue but to allow a court, upon petition from the attorney general, to halt strikes affecting the shipments of military and agricultural cargoes and shipments to and from Hawaii.

The subcommittee rejected on a 6 to 3 party line vote the emergency strike legislation requested by President Nixon.

The President's proposal would have compelled the workers to return to their jobs while the entire dispute, resulting in a strike now in its 122nd day, is submitted to compulsory arbitration.

All the Democrats on the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., voted for the substitute, which was pleas and all products to and from Hawaii would jeopardize the national health and safety. Thompson told the subcommittee that Harry Bridges, the West Coast longshoremen's leader, was unenthusiastic about the substitute, wishing to continue negotiations.

Thompson said that Bridges reported only two major issues remaining unsettled, the retroactivity date for pay increase and provision for optical care.

Thompson said Bridges said he would continue negotiations at San Francisco through Wednesday and then propose that all unresolved issues as identified by the union and the employers, be submitted to the industry mediator, Sam Kagel, for voluntary binding arbitration.

Thompson said the subcommittee was up against a deadline imposed by the House Rules Committee which proposed to bring the President's bill to the House floor in a meeting scheduled for tomorrow unless the subcommittee acted before then.

Thompson said the administration failed to convince him that the national health and safety required a termination of the entire strike at this time. He said the administration made its case largely on the effect on agriculture and on economic distress in Hawaii.

"This substitute proposal will alleviate all but the most minor part of the economic impact of the strike," Thompson said.

Rep. Dellenback said he considered the partial injunction "completely ineffective to solve the basic issue."

Union and management representatives met through the offered by Thompson, Rep. John D. Dellenback, R-Ore., voted against it and two other Republicans, Reps. John Ashbrook of Ohio and Ogden Reid of New York voted, present.

Thompson estimated his proposal would get 80 per cent of the West Coast cargo moving again.

He said the measure will go to the full House Labor Committee Tuesday and could be passed by the House Wednesday if it agreed to suspend all its rules against acting so quickly.

Under the Thompson substitute, a district court could issue an anti-strike injunction only upon finding that failure to ship military and agricultural sup-

South Viets Batter North

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese forces battled North Vietnamese and Viet Cong today and Sunday at a new year beginning Feb. 15, dozen points from the northern end of the country to the southern tip. It was one of the heaviest periods of action this year, military spokesmen said.

The South Vietnamese command claimed 77 enemy troops killed in the scattered fighting, while 20 South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 55 wounded.

No American casualties were reported in engagements with enemy troops, but the U.S. Command said one GI was killed and five were injured when a shell exploded accidentally inside a 175mm gun at an artillery base near Da Nang. The command said the accident is being investigated.

U.S. forces patrolled to the north and east of Saigon, seeking to ward off attacks during the Tet celebration of the lunar new year beginning Feb. 15. One American patrol was fired on from what appeared to be new bunkers 25 miles northeast of the capital, and American helicopters retaliated with napalm on the enemy position.

The heaviest fighting raged through the mangrove swamps of the U Minh Forest, at the southern end of the Mekong Delta, and on the Ca Mau peninsula to the east. In five clashes in that region, 51 enemy troops and 15 South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and 40 government troops were wounded.

Along the eastern end of the demilitarized zone, South Vietnamese marines reported another nine North Vietnamese killed and said one marine was wounded. And in Quang Ngai province south of Da Nang three enemy were slain in a raid, the South Vietnamese Command said.

Two small fights were reported in the central highlands provinces of Kontum and Pleiku, where U.S. officials have been predicting a major north Vietnamese offensive. Enemy forces attacked a village defended by militiamen in Kontum province, and two of the enemy were reported killed and one militiaman was wounded. Two South Vietnamese infantrymen were killed, and three wounded in an engagement in Pleiku Province, while enemy losses were not known.

Three other small fights occurred 20 to 50 miles north of Saigon. Twelve North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were reported killed, while South Vietnamese losses were put at three men killed and 10 wounded.

Field commanders attribute the continuing upsurge in fighting to more active allied patrol-

Ulster Militants Plan Disruption

By COLIN FROST

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—After a huge but peaceful march Sunday in which both marchers and British troops avoided a confrontation, Northern Ireland's militant Catholics made plans today for another demonstration this week which they claim will paralyze the province.

The Civil Rights Association proclaimed D-Day—D for disruption—on Wednesday, six months to the day since the Protestant government began internment suspected members of the Irish Republican Army without trial.

"We are staying tight-lipped about the actual organization," said Rory McShane, a spokesman for the association, "but it will be nonviolent, it will be successful and it will be massive."

More than 20,000 Catholics paraded Sunday in the border town of Newry, but restraint on both sides prevented any repetition of the "bloody Sunday" in Londonderry the week before, when British paratroopers broke up another Catholic march and 13 civilians were killed.

The Newry marchers defied the government ban on parades by both Catholics and Protestants but made no attempt to reach the center of the town where 3,000 British troops waited. And the troops made no attempt to break up the march as long as it stayed away from them.

There were no shots fired, no stones thrown and no barricades stormed. The marchers walked in silence, changed their route at the last minute and retreated to hold a mass meeting near their starting point, protesting the government's internment policy.

Bernadette Devlin, the 24-year-old Catholic member of the British Parliament from Ulster, was one of the leaders of the march and spoke at the meeting. Actress Vanessa Redgrave and Joan Plowright, Sir Laurence Olivier's wife, also walked in the parade.

Police said about 30 leaders of the march would be brought to court for participating, but they disclosed no names.

The peaceful outcome raised speculation in the British press that the time may have come for political initiatives.

Prime Minister Edward Heath's Conservative government was reported to have prepared a new plan for northern Ireland. Both the Conservative Daily Express and the Liberal Guardian suggested the plan might be launched soon.

No details were disclosed, but Heath in a speech Sunday promised leaders of the Catholic minority that if they joined in settlement talks, they would be assured of "a real and meaningful part" in the decisions which shape their future.

There was speculation that the government would propose inclusion of more Catholic representatives in the provincial government, which has been run almost exclusively by Protestants ever since the partition of Ireland. But Catholic political leaders have refused to participate in talks with the British until the internment policy is ended.

Nixon May Ask Tight Gun Law

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration is expected shortly to unveil a proposal to curb cheap handguns, plugging a gaping loophole in the 1968 Gun Control Act but risking the election-year wrath of the gun lobby.

Treasury and Justice Department officials say legislation aimed at eliminating the cheap pistols called "Saturday Night Specials" may be sent to Capitol Hill within two weeks.

If this timetable is met, submission of the bill would come three months later than prom-

"Saturday Night Specials" came from abroad. The Gun Control Act, passed after an assassin killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with a .22-caliber pistol sought to eliminate handgun sales and the import of any weapon which could not qualify as a "sporting arm."

Instead it spawned a new domestic industry which in the past three years has churned out hundreds of thousands of cheap pistols made from imported parts.

Justice and Treasury officials say the administration will propose that both imported and domestic handguns be required to meet safety and quality standards, to be drawn up by the Bureau of Standards, and enforced by the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the Treasury Department.

Such standards, officials believe, will protect the legitimate consumer from unsafe weapons while putting the price of a handgun out of reach of those most likely to misuse it.

Just exactly how many of the 30 million to 60 million pistols in the United States are Saturday Night Specials is impossible to say. But law enforcement officials estimate that 2 million specials were put on the market last year alone.

An Associated Press survey showed that in nearly every major city homicide by firearms, especially pistols, has increased since 1967, in some cases dramatically.

"At least nine out of 10 guns we confiscate in crimes are the used by administration spokesmen at congressional hearings last fall.

But it will climax an extensive White House effort to privately assure the nation's 40 million legitimate gun owners that it seeks only to prevent crime, and not to infringe on the constitutional right to bear arms.

The term "Saturday Night Special" was coined in the mid-1950s by Detroit police who found that violent crimes, more frequent on Saturday night than any other time, were often committed with cheaply made, small-caliber handguns whose $10-to-$20 price made them easily accessible.

Snow Falls, Stays Awhile

Manchester and surrounding areas got a snowfall yesterday—a keeper for the time being. Except for excitement over the snow itself, there were no major problems.

There were a rash of minor auto accidents between about 2 and 3 p.m., but there were no serious crashes, according to Manchester police reports. State police in the Hartford troop reported "a few fender benders" in the Manchester area.

Reports were the same from police departments in surrounding towns—a number of accidents due to the snow, but none serious.

The Town Highway Department reports that about 2 inches of snow were measured at the town highway garage.

Herman Passanelli, acting highway and sanitation superintendent said that seven town trucks were sent out on sanding routes at about 2 p.m. yesterday. At about 3 a.m. this morning, seven more trucks were sent out and all trucks began both plowing and sanding. The trucks will continue their work until the normal 3:30 quitting time.

A state snowplow was involved in one of Manchester's accidents yesterday afternoon at about 2:15. Police say the plow swerved to avoid a car which slid into the intersection at W. Center and McKee Sts. The plow blade struck another vehicle which in turn struck a third car. Damage to the cars was minor and no charges were lodged.

Local utility companies reported no difficulties as a result of the storm.

Manchester skiers can rejoice. Northview Ski Slops will be open today from 6 to 10 p.m. There will also be coasting in Center Springs Park until five o'clock and skating at all three town skating areas until 10 p.m. Skating begins at three o'clock at Charter Oak Pond and at Center Springs annex, and at 3:30 at Union Pond.

Nixon Signs Reforms For Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon today signed a federal election spending reform bill designed to plug finance reporting loopholes and curb rising campaign costs.

The measure, Nixon said in a statement, "is a realistic and enforceable bill, an important step forward in an area which has been of great public concern."

In his three-paragraph statement, Nixon noted the legislation limits the amount candidates for Congress and president may spend on advertising, and requires full reporting of both the sources and uses of campaign funds.

"By giving the American public full access to the facts of political financing," the President said, "this legislation will guard against campaign abuses and will work to build public confidence in the integrity of the electoral process."

Nixon vetoed in 1970 a bill in-hearings, and trying to get support for such data banks. There are some members of the House who are equally concerned. The Nixon Administration, so far, has written the National Standards Institute that it is taking a "neutral" position on the issue.

There is at the moment, every little assurance that the National Standards Institute won't decide to make the social security number the key index to the computers and the computer systems of the future, so that any department of government or any private company can, in a flash, get instant information about our salaries, our bills, our amusements, and what our neighbors say about our personal habits. And if that ever gets set up as the system for future design, the chances are it will be used.

It may be that one of the greatest battles for freedom in our history is being fought — or not being fought — right here and now.

All A-b-o-r-d!
 If they provide the clothes, can the rest be far behind?

According to a fashion preview staged down in Pennsylvania Station the other day, patrons of the nation's passenger railroads are soon going to be looking at cheifs with billowy white hats, parlor car attendants with turtleneck shirts, doublebreasted red vests and white and blue striped pants, and "passenger service representatives" wearing everything from slit skirts to hot pants above high white boots.

The prospective appearance of such costumes is not only a joy in itself, but an assurance that certain consequences will have to follow.

If there is going to be a chief in a billowy white hat, for instance, there is going to have to be something more than a pre-packaged ham and cheese sandwich for him to prepare.

If there are going to be parlor car attendants with turtlenecks and red vests and blue and white striped pants, there are going to have to be parlor cars, with comfortable places for passengers to sit and sleep.

And if there are going to be a lot of sleek young chicks running around, wearing a lot of classy clothing, that feminine influence and presence is going to insist that the interiors of the trains get a little dusting and vacuuming now and then, just to keep the clothes clean.

We look forward to it, including the bartenders who will be wearing white uniforms and the conductors who will have what is described as a rathish blue uniform with striped shirt, bright red tie, braided cap, and a large leather change pouch hanging from a wide waist belt. The one crucial part of a conductor's attire which hasn't been mentioned in advance publicity is something we will be looking for the first time we travel with one of these conductors, and see what he produces when we ask him what time it is. If it is a big gold turndie we will think the railroads are really on the way back.

Some Hope For Chile
 There is some hope for freedom and democracy in Chile despite its turn to Communism a year ago. President Salvador Allende, after little more than a year in office, confronts growing disillusionment with Communist rule among the people plagued by food shortages, leftwing terrorists, and government seizure of private property.

Overwhelmed by his handpicked candidates for two congressional seats and forced to reshuffle in Allende's cabinet.

One of his key ministers, Jose Toba, a member of Allende's Socialist party, was impeached by the Senate opposition majority. Allende shifted Toba to Defense Minister in an effort to frustrate the impeachment.

As Interior Minister, Toba was in charge of the national police and was accused of tolerating illegal groups representing the revolutionary left extremists. The murder of a farmer by extremists who seized his land and other acts of violence aggravated antagonism to Toba.

Food is in short supply. Domestic production nose-dived after the government expropriated 1,130 private farms and radical terrorists illicitly took over hundreds more. The increasing costs of importing foodstuffs — $120 million for the first half of this year in contrast to $63 million for the same period last year, is a critical drain on foreign currency reserves.

Allende's government claims Chile has $300 million but other sources say the total is less than $200 million, perhaps as little as $12 million, compared to the $475 million in reserves when Allende took office.

A state of emergency was declared in early December, invoking news censorship and permitting arrests without warrant. Housewives rioted over food shortages and the government placed food distribution under control.

In short, Communism has proved a share-the-poverty swindle.

In Chile, as in Russia, Cuba, and China, Communism can keep its grip on a nation only through force and terror.

Much of Chile's freedom has gone down the drain, but if the people have a voice by the time Allende's term comes to a close, they will choose freedom — SCRIPPS LEAGUE OF NEWSWriters.

Waiting For Snoopy
 The precise situation with regard to the possibility that the social security number may soon become the key number by which both government and private organizations accumulate, organize, and exchange information about what once used to be the private lives of Americans is this:

A private, non-governmental organization called the "Computers and Information Processing Committee of the American National Standards Institute" is now deliberating whether to have all our future computers and computer systems based on the prospective use of the social security number.

Once the National Standards Institute decides to recommend this, if it does, the computers and computer systems planned for the future would all be designed to be ready to use the social security number as the universal key, available to everybody with a computer, to the private lives of all Americans.

As the National Standards Institute debates whether to go ahead and create this kind of machinery and this kind of data system, there is nothing, except the troubled debates of its own public conscience, to hold it back.

The reason there are no restraints on the deliberations of the National Standards Institute is that official Washington has not yet decided whether government wants to participate in the big nation-wide gossip box of the future or prevent it from ever being created and keyed to the social security number.

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — Robert Strauss, Democratic National Treasurer, is plotting a last desperate scheme to erase the party's oppressive $9 million 1968 campaign debt in one huge bite: A national fund-raising telethon to be held before this summer's national convention.

With the somewhat skeptical approval of National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien, Strauss's telethon over a national television network will begin late on a Saturday night, continuing into Sunday afternoon for a total of 12 to 14 hours if as much as $5 million in pledged contributions are telephoned in to the political and show business celebrities presiding.

Strauss could probably negotiate with certain creditors to liquidate the entire $9 million debt.

That would be a psychological and financial masterpiece, improving party morale and easing the problems of raising the formidable sums needed for the 1972 campaign. It would also greatly enhance the stature of the O'Brien-Strauss team.

But there is serious doubt whether the telethon, remarkably effective in raising funds for muscular dystrophy and other dread diseases can work for a bankrupt political party. Besides, managers of telethons habitually have trouble actually collecting from donors who have pledged contributions. Strauss hopes to mitigate this by arranging for the donors to telephone their credit card numbers for automatic collection.

If the telethon works, it could end the long frustration for

Conflicts of Interest
 The "Conflict of Interest" charge involving the Municipal Building Committee of the town of Vernon is a shocking matter of considerable concern to me. As an ex-councilor of the town of Vernon, it suggests other areas where less obvious conflict of interest could occur. I am addressing myself to the various Zoning and Planning Commissions of the town of Vernon. Here, in certain instances, I feel are potential possibilities for conflicts of interest. These would not be readily apparent to the average lay person.

Can anyone tell me how a builder or a realtor can objectively serve as a member of a Zoning Commission or a Board of Appeals? It is a matter of public record that members of the Very truly yours, Charles H. Brown

Because of the controversial nature of the subject matter in the above articles, I wonder, as a church member, if the views expressed in them need with the full approval of the Council membership.

The fact that the opinions expressed are under the name of the Council might easily lead many readers to assume that the views set forth are theirs.

for Goodell's seat on the Conservative Party ticket. Buckley was elected.

Colson's Dec. 27 letter was indignant. While conceding obvious "policy differences" between Mathias and presidential Nixon, the implication that Mathias or any other Republican liberal was being considered by the White House was "a complete fabrication and totally without foundation."

Colson's letter to Mathias should bury, at least for the present, any fears by Republican liberals that Mr. Nixon would countenance a repeat of the 1970 Charley Goodell phenomenon. Mathias himself is not up for re-election until 1974.

A footnote: Despite their Free-identical primary campaigns against Mr. Nixon, the House Republican Campaign Committee will give maverick Republican Rep. Paul (Pete) McCloskey of California and an Ashbrook of Ohio "exactly the same treatment and support" that all other Republican incumbents will receive if they run for re-election to the House.

What's behind Volkswagen's new low price?

The Best Warranty This Side of a Rolls-Royce. You can't put a price on the warranty you get with a Volkswagen. You see, a Volkswagen warranty runs twice as long as anybody else's small car warranty. And only one car, the Rolls-Royce, has one better. Here's how ours works: All you do is mention the car according to the Volkswagen maintenance schedule. If any factory parts found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, except normal wear and tear on service items only U.S. or Canadian VW dealer will repair or replace it free of charge. See your dealer for details.

More Than 5,000 Inspections Per Car

The story behind our warranty starts at the factory. Where 1,104 oil-picking inspectors have one job, and one job only: To find something wrong with a Volkswagen before that Volkswagen finds its way out of the factory. Every one of the more than 5,000 parts that go into a VW is carefully examined. Some of them get the once-over two or three times if one of our inspectors is unhappy with only one of the parts, the whole car gets pulled off the line. Sometimes we pull as many as 225 VW's a day. But it's worth it. We pick the lemons. You get the plums.

The Most Advanced Service System in the World

No other car maker anywhere can offer you Med-Car, Volkswagen's ultrasonic Electronic Diagnosis. It's designed to spot problems in your Volkswagen when they're at the minor adjustment stage. Long before they can do any real damage to your car or your wallet. Every one of our dealers has VW Diagnosis. And you get the first four check-ups free with a new VW.

The Highest Resale Value

Based on what's happened in the past, no other economy car on the road holds its value after 3 or 4 years as well as a Volkswagen. So, if you're thinking about buying a new car, think about what it's going to be worth when it's an old car. Because when the time comes to part company with your VW, you won't be left holding the bag. Unless that's what you carry your money in.

The Most Highly Developed Car Ever Built

Economy cars come and go. Volkswagen's just keep going. One reason is our 1600cc aluminum-magnesium engine. It's rear-mounted for better traction on slick roads. And it's air-cooled for better performance in heat waves or cold spells. The underside of the Beetle has a steel, sealed bottom to protect its vital parts. The outside of the Volkswagen carries 13 pounds of paint. The body of the car is put together so precisely that it's practically airtight in all more than 2,200 changes and advances have gone into today's Beetle. And most of them were designed to make the car run better and last longer. Not just look different. No other car maker has put so much time and so many advances and changes into one car. You see, there's more to a Volkswagen than meets the eye.

Farmers Get Help

CARACAS—A broad program of agricultural development has been launched in Venezuela to raise living standards and increase the output of 68,000 low-income rural families. Over $18 million will be channeled into farming improvements, agricultural research and extension services, irrigation, roads, grain-storage facilities, farm credit and technical training.

Weekend Crashes Kill 3 in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. At least three persons died in traffic accidents during the weekend in Connecticut. A New Britain man was killed Sunday when the car in which he was a passenger crashed through a retaining fence on Interstate 91 in North Haven and went down an embankment. State Police say 43-year-old Roland A. Rouleau was thrown from the car and was dead at the scene. The driver of the car, 22-year-old Edward Dumond of New Britain, was not seriously injured, according to police. Police said the car was headed northbound at the time of the accident Sunday morning. South Windsor Buffer Areas Proposed By Zoning Unit

The Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the town hall...

The proposed buffer change "except for driveways giving access to public streets, all buildings, driveways and parking areas shall, in addition to the required setbacks, provide for a landscaped buffer area along any property line abutting any residential zone."

It will be necessary that the buffer be not less than 15 feet in width and be planted with evergreens in two rows, not more than 15 feet apart along each row, staggered to provide maximum screening and using trees not less than five feet in height at the time of planting.

According to the zoning commission, an additional buffer width or area of more mature planting may also be required by the zoning commission to provide the protection of adjoining residential or rural uses.

SCSC Students Offered Loans NEW HAVEN (AP) - Students at Southern Connecticut State College have set aside $10,000 of their extra-curricular activities fund to offset recently increased tuition charges with short-term loans to financially pressed students.

Public Records Judgment Lines O'Connor, Coates and Smith Associates, Hartford, against the Connecticut State Dental Association recommend the use of fluoride dentifrices, particularly for children. Additionally, fluoride can be applied directly on children's teeth at periodic intervals. Many school districts provide fluoridated water for school children. None of these alternate uses of fluoride is as effective as fluoridation of community water supplies, however.

Good Care Stressed During Dental Week Tooth decay will not be totally eliminated, at least in the foreseeable future, according to Dr. Howard Koff of Manchester, co-chairman of Children's Dental Health Week, which is being observed this week, and sponsored by the Connecticut State Dental Association.

However, it can be prevented in large part even today, according to Dr. Koff. If you take advantage of proven public health measures, professional treatment, and complete home care, you can effectively prevent tooth decay. Dr. Koff indicated that one of the well-established and most effective ways of preventing tooth decay is the use of fluoridated water. Today, more than 92 million people in the nation drink fluoridated water. In Connecticut, fluoride water is available in 100 percent of the population. The experience of these communities that do not have fluoridated water has demonstrated that fluoridation reduces the incidence of decay in children by as much as 60 percent. Its benefits are lifelong.

Fluorides are being used in other ways to prevent decay, especially for people in communities that do not have fluoridated water. Dr. Koff said that the sealant material which is always present in the mouth is always present in the mouth for as long as a year. Because the sealant protects only the chewing surfaces of the teeth, we must still rely on fluoride dentifrices, particularly for children. Additionally, fluoride can be applied directly on children's teeth at periodic intervals. Many school districts provide fluoridated water for school children. None of these alternate uses of fluoride is as effective as fluoridation of community water supplies, however.

Arnd Schenk Scores Olympic Speed Skating

SAPORO, Japan (AP) — Arnd Schenk says he plans to defend all three of his Olympic speed skating medals at the 1974 Winter Games at Denver, Colo., in 1974. "That is, I'll start stowing down 'losing, I might think again," Schenk's gold medal was one of the Flying Dutchman added to his collection of silver and bronze medals from the 1968 Winter Games at Innsbruck, Austria. He was the first time a triple jumper in the 5,000-meter race, finishing fourth in the 1,500-meter race, and breaking the Olympic mark of 15:28.6 but falling short of his own world record of 15:31.10.

"But my coach was holding my fingers to tell me how many seconds I had over Verkerk and my main task was to beat him," Schenk said. "Verkerk had finished so strongly that I knew I had to keep my lines to win. I concentrated on that and for a couple of months later and won the 1970 world championship. With Verkerk getting the silver, the bronze went to Sten Stensen of Norway with 15:37.66.

On March 6, Schenk had placed 10th in the 5,000-meter race, but he had a double triumph in the downhill, one of the Games' most glamorous events. "I really hoped to win the gold medal here and I've worked for years to achieve this," said the 23-year-old Norwegian. "I thought I might set a world record." Schenk said after breaking the Olympic mark of 15:28.6 but falling short of his own world record of 15:31.10.

Lundback, a 24-year-old electrician, led the 15-kilometer race-country from the start and won it in 42:23.4—a quite an accomplishment for someone who happened to be the last man to be selected to Sweden's Olympic team. He beat the Soviet Union's Fyodor Simachenko, a close friend, who was timed in 42:00.84, and Ivar Formo of Norway, who took the bronze with 42:06.28.

At the 15-kilometer race, Schenk skated in the last of the 12 skaters. In 1968, he had placed 10th in the 5,000-meter race, but he had a double triumph in the downhill, one of the Games' most glamorous events. "I really hoped to win the gold medal here and I've worked for years to achieve this," said the 23-year-old Norwegian. "I thought I might set a world record." Two Skeins On Ice End

NEW YORK (AP) — The final score of Sunday night's National Hockey League game between the Boston Bruins and Buffalo Sabres was 8-2, just about as expected. Only thing was, it wasn't.

That was surprising, to say the least, since the East Division-leading Bruins were 13 games and the cellar-dwelling Sabres hadn't won in seven.

It was the most goals in Buffalo's two-year expansion history and the most against the Bruins since that season at Montreal last November when they scored 13 goals in a 13-1 rout. The Sabres pumped 37 shots at Boston's goal, but the Bruins' defense held them off.

U.S. Hockey Team Upsets Czechs, 5-1

SAPORO, Japan (AP) — The United States hockey team's spectacular goaltending with three goals outburst in the second period, carried the Americans to a 5-1 upset of second-ranked Czechoslovakia Monday night in Class A Olympic hockey.

The victory was the first in two Class A games for the United States. The Czechs scored their lone goal in the first period, but the Americans scored three goals in the second period, including a 2-0 run in the final 10 minutes.

Temperatures Flare in Sneeke, Jeanne Irish Set Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Minnesota's first 100-degree day at home since the bloody fight with Ohio State.

UCLA, the country's No. 1 team, broke away from Southern California in the race for the Pacific championship by whipping the Trojans 65-60.

UCLA crushed Southern Cal behind a Bruin bomb squad, led as usual, by center Bill Walton. He threw in 22 points and field goals.

"I knew Westphal wouldn't be able to stop them," Walton said. "But we weren't going to be fooled by that. They don't have a chance to win unless you know they have some fine players, some very fine players, and we know that."

Pace-Setters In Duckpin Tournaments

By EARL YOST
Pace-Setters in last week's 10 qualifying rounds for the annual Town Men's and Women's Duckpin Bowling Tournaments at the Holiday Lanes were Bill Sheekey and Jeanne Irish.

Sheekey paced a field of 69 men in the three-day, six-game tourney with a final 840 total. Mrs. Irish, returning to the competitive tourney after a winning bow over illness, topped 22 women with a 758 total.

BOSTON (AP) — John Havlicek, the hustling captain of the Boston Celtics, is closing in on Bob Cousy's club scoring record—but he couldn't quite reach it.

"The only thing I'm interested in is winning," Havlicek said. "I've been in the first half, including 18 in the second period, in helping Boston to a 128-123 victory in a 128-123 decision over the Seattle SuperSonics before 7,240 fans at the Garden."

BULLS' FORWARD SETS CLUB MARK
Walker's Attack Bombarbs Royals

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's not good for a team to have one player doing all the scoring," said Art Walker.

Walker, in his 10,093rd game, tied a career high of 36 points with teammate Hal Greener in the 1,009th game, tying a career high of 36 points.

Schranz Explosion Charged as Unfair

BOSTON (AP) — New England skiers competing in the Winter Olympics in Japan felt the expulsion of a skier for professionalism charges brought by Avery Brundage most unfair.

"You can't single out one guy in a situation like that," said Dan Zelenka of Brattleboro, Vt., who was even more blunt in talking about the Olympic Committee.

Rangers Blow Lead And Settle for Tie

NEW YORK (AP) — Hockey on the rocks leaves a bad taste in Emile Francis' mouth and he doesn't mind letting his boss know about it.

"I've seen better ice on roads in Saskatchewan," Francis said.

"Laying the foundation is the most important thing and even 24 hours is no guarantee you'll get a good sheet of ice. It's a long time to get that kind of ice."

Directors To Authorize Charter Revision Group

The Board of Directors will probably authorize the appointment of a Charter Revision Commission tomorrow night when it meets to act on the monthly agenda on which public hearings were conducted last week.

The board has twice tabled the item, once to allow time for both political parties to seek out qualified members for that commission, and again last week so that the board will not have to hold a special meeting to appoint members to that commission.
